YOUNG DALLAS MARAUDER IS SHOT AND ARRESTED COUNTY JUDGE OUTLINES PROGRAM OF ECONOMY FOR 1929

JURY EXPENSE REDUCTION IS ONE OF PLANS

SAYS BRIDGE IS TOO SHORT

Asks That Basement of Courthouse Be Full

An outline of procedure to effect an economical administration was prepared for submission to the county commissioners today by County Judge Ivy E. Duncan.

The recommendations follow:
To the honorable commissioners court of Gray county:

Since taking over the office of county judge on the first of the year, I beg to advise that I have made some inquiries and some investigation of county affairs, and I submit for your consideration at the first regular term of this honorable court the following:

I suggest that this court recommend to the district judges of this county that they use economical discretion in the number of jurors they summon for jury duty, as well as the method of handling their juries. I mean by that this: if the regular panel can be cut from fifty to 36, do so, though it may require extra talesmen to be summoned, or a new panel every week, and once a trial commences to dismiss the remaining jurors for at least a period of 48 hours or longer. Each juror costs the county $3 per day, and fifty jurors cost $150 per day. If the court's business can be transacted with 36 jurors, it would save the county $42 per day. Likewise, if a jury trial commences today and lasts over tomorrow and into the next day, if the jurors in the case do not have to report on the second or third day of the trial, the county will be saved this $3 for each juror. Last year, ending August 31, jurors cost the county $6,394.10, and it stands a fair chance for this to be doubled this year.

I suggest that we have an audit made of the affairs of Gray county for the year 1928, and publish: same as directed by law. If you think this cannot be done at this time, I will suggest that we reduce the totals as set out in Pickett's audit, ending August 31, 1928, and have the same published.

I am advised that the basement under the courthouse does not extend under the entire building. If true, I think by all means that this should be done at this time.

The bridge east of LeFors across the Red river lacks about 400 feet of spanning the entire river bed. This should in my judgement should be extended rather than be filled in with dirt.

I find that all officers that require deputies are paying their salaries out of their fees of office except the sheriff's department. This is proper under articles 3889 and 6692, which provide respectively as follows:
"Each officer named in this chapter

Grand Jury Investigates Series of Brutal Killings

DALLAS, Jan. 14. (P)—Immediate investigation by the Dallas county grand jury into a series of robberies, shootings and sluggings, charged against William (Dagger) Pruett, 23, who was wounded twice in a gun fight with detectives before he was captured yesterday, was ordered today by District attorney William McCraw.

Only one charge, that of robbing the Swiss Avenue pharmacy of $238 on Jan. 3, had been filed against Pruett, but several persons were reported to have identified him as the perpetrator of a series of robberies.

DALLAS, Jan. 14. (P)—William (Dagger) Pruett, 23, lay on a jail bed with two bullets in his body today while officers, who shot it out with him in a southeast Dallas cottage last night with two of their force receiving slight wounds, prepared to question him about a string of robberies, shootings and sluggings which for days have plagued the city.

Pruett, cornered in the attic of the home of an uncle, started firing when Police Commissioner Clarence Parker, Detective Captain Leonard Pack, and Detective Will Fritz entered to arrest him. A bullet hit Fritz in the arm, two others skinned his cheek, and a fourth slug from the attic grazed Captain Pack's head.

The commissioner called for reinforcements. Six automobile loads of policemen, including a machine gun squad, reached the house about the time Pruett was surrendering. He gave up only after being shot twice and having a hunk of his gun knocked off by a bullet from Fritz's pistol.

M. D. Chapman identified Pruett as the man who held him up, forcing him into an automobile and taking his overcoat. Three other holdups on the same night police had laid to the robber of Chapman.

James Walker, negro, declared Pruett looked like the man who fatally shot William Mann, 17-year-old high school boy, and wounded slightly Mildred Drennan, Mann's companion, in an effort to commandeer the Mann automobile on a downtown street Sunday night Jan. 6.

Building Permit for Courthouse Is Largest in History of City— Big Shipment of Steel Consigned

The largest building permit ever to be taken out in Pampa was purchased Saturday afternoon by H. L. Case Construction company, for the new Gray county courthouse. Although not charged for, the permit was issued by the city of Pampa.

The amount of the permit was $258,000 and was made out to Gray county and signed by the contractor. A portion of the excavation work has been completed and work will continue as the weather permits, Art Janney, in charge of construction, announces. He says $34,000 worth of steel has been shipped and should arrive here soon.

Gray county's courthouse will be of white brick, four stories high. It will be of latest design and equipped with the most modern conveniences obtainable. The contractor is a local man having been located here for several years.

George P. Woodhouse, local building contractor, has taken out a permit to erect a $3,000 brick veneer house in the Crawford addition. Mr. Woodhouse will be in charge of construction.

John L. Peake of the Peake & Landreth Construction company, has taken out a permit to build a $4,000 home.

All Efforts Fail to Save Life of Surgeon's Grandson

TEMPLE, Jan. 14. (P)—Preston A. Childers, Jr., died here yesterday after a week's illness despite heroic efforts by his grandfather, Dr. A. C. Scott, noted surgeon, to save his life.

An oxygen inhalation tent dispatched from New York by airplane was delayed when heavy snows in Ohio and Missouri forced the pilot to abandon the trip and transfer the apparatus to a train. It reached here after the boy's death.

Deadlock on Treaty Looks Sure Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (P)—An ominous deadlock, unyielding to White House concern, gripped more tightly the Kellogg anti-war treaty in the senate today, threatening both the pact and the cruiser construction bill.

Fortified with a "round Robin petition" bearing 24 signatures, the Republican-Democratic group demanding an interpretation of the treaty in connection with American adherence decided in a Sabbath day conference to hold their ground against efforts to limit debate.

This decision was reached despite stubborn opposition to the proposal for an interpretation by President Coolidge who called in on Saturday night Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, one of the sponsors of the petition.

Unconcerned by the round Robin petition for the interpretative report by the foreign relations committee on the treaty, Chairman Borah of the committee, prepared today to renew his request for limitation of debate on the treaty.

Officers' Slayer Believed Caught

MARSHALL, Jan. 14. (P)—Accused of having slain Alex Brown, a Joplin, Mo., detective, and escaped in the officer's automobile, William C. Miller, 26, was arrested here yesterday after an exciting pursuit through the business section.

When officers, who recognized the slain detective's automobile, attempted to collar him, Miller broke away and ran across the square. A bullet from an officer's pistol struck him in the arm, but he raced a dozen blocks before he surrendered.

Miller was alleged to have shot Brown when the latter attempted to arrest him on a charge of forgery.

IS SECOND OF NEW PRODUCERS

Ray and McSpadden
No. 1 Chapman Taps
Lower Pay

The LeFors area is the second in Gray county to come to the front in the last week. The Texas company's No. 7, Saunders, in the southwest corner of the west half of the southeast quarter of section 4, block B-2, A. C. H. & B. survey, was drilled into pay yesterday and is making between 1,200 and 1,500 barrels of oil.

The Bowers-McGee pool last week was in the limelight when the Gulf Production company brought in its No. A-6, Bowers in section 29, block B-2, for 1,200 barrels. The Skelly Oil company is drilling an offset on top of the pay.

The Saunders No. 7, hole is bottomed in granite wash formation at 2,661 feet. Ten million feet of gas is flowing the well. First indication of big pay was picked up Saturday afternoon while drilling ahead at 2,655 feet.

This is the second well in the LeFors pool to pick up the high pay. The Gulf Production company's No. 1 Saunders in section 3 of the same block came in last week for 400 barrels.

Before leaving for Amarillo this morning, George Ray announced that the Ray and McSpadden No. 1 Chapman in section 50, block A-9, blew in yesterday and looked good for 800 barrels. The well was drilled in some time ago and was making 200 barrels a day but when deepened blew in for a good producer. The exact depth of the well could not be learned.

Wife of Hobby Dies at Houston

HOUSTON, Jan. 14. (P)—Mrs. W. P. Hobby, wife of former Governor W. P. Hobby, president of the Houston Post-Dispatch and the Beaumont Enterprise, died at her home here at 1 a. m., Monday.

As first lady of Texas during the administration of Governor Hobby from 1917 until 1921, she presided over social functions at the state mansion.

Formerly Miss Willie Cooper of Beaumont, daughter of Samuel Bronson Cooper, who was congressman from the Beaumont district for 20 years, she married Mr. Hobby on May 15, 1915, when he was lieutenant-governor.

T. D. Hobart returned yesterday from Austin where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association. Mr. Hobart is first vice-president of the association. The committee in its resolution passed a resolution favoring landowners in the State's request to reclaim riverbeds and leased land, Mr. Hobart says.

Homer Deaton underwent an appendectomy at the McKean & Connor clinic hospital yesterday.

Miss Betty Lee, a dancer and singer with the Lillian Murry company, was admitted to a local hospital this morning for treatment for a throat disorder.

C. C. Moore, who was seriously ill with pneumonia for several days, will leave the McKean & Connor hospital tomorrow.

Marshal Foch Is Ill With Heart Attack Today

PARIS, Jan. 14. (P)—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies in the World war, was taken seriously ill today with heart trouble.

The marshal caught a very bad cold at the Armistice day celebration, it settled into bronchitis and interfered with his breathing.

Apparently he had recovered fully from that affection but the strain of the illness told on him and he suffered a severe heart attack.

Three doctors were called into consultation today. It was said that a bulletin would be issued late this afternoon.

GRAY COUNTY, under a bill to be introduced this week, would be included in that large list of counties which are empowered to prohibit stock from running at large.

WESTERN UNION announces that, effective January 14, its 50-word night letter service will be extended overseas to its offices in London, Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol, Bradford, Manchester, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Southampton, Dundee, Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Belfast.

The practical use of this service may be seen when it is stated that 50 words may be sent from Pampa to the points mentioned for $3.50.

Communication is very necessary in this age of worldwide commerce. Formerly, when cables alone were used for transmission of messages between continents, rates per word were so high as to forbid their use except for the most important news and business.

The "Royal Jazz" is what they call the dance palace, probably more out of deference to the 400 or more British inhabitants of Antofagasta than to score or two Americans there.

The air is full of words, and the cables can carry four or five messages each way at the same time.

JIM CROW laws of the state have not been interpreted as they apply to motor buses. Evidences of a move to press for an interpretation are seen in a petition from a number of negroes asking that the Railroad Commission require all drivers to transport negroes in their cars.

This question came up in Pampa not long ago. A woman reared in the South started to take a bus but rebelled when she noted a negro woman in the car.

No doubt a ruling will be made soon covering such cases. Difficulties are apparent on account of the small size of the buses and the fact that not enough negroes travel in this manner to make separate bus lines possible.

The same question, with even more complications, will arise in air travel. Old rulings are hard to apply as innovations develop.

Leadership

"Strong leadership plus natural assets build our cities", says the Pampa News. Right. Towns without leaders get no place and remain of no consequence because no one has gumption to pull the place out of the hole.

And when a town is bogged down by its own puddles, it has mighty little chance to become anything but a poor excuse and a failure at that. Pulling this way and that way and tother way only causes the mud to become muddier and the bog bogger.

The natural assets are very frequently never discovered because of selfish desire to grab the whole works and the refusal to do anything unless each individual has a big return for the money.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON - Chile and prohibition are far apart, but in Antofagasta, Chile, northern port of 30,000 inhabitants, they have one or two wrinkles vaguely suggestive of its operation in some parts of the United States.

Out at Luna Park, the local amusement resort, an ordinance says drinks can't be served after midnight. So, quite in the fashion of a restaurant speakeasy in our own fair land, they serve whiskey in cups with a teapot in the center of the table to camouflage it.

An English school has quit studying about wars. In other words, we suppose they have eliminated history from the course of study.

Uncle Sam evidently thinks the peace-making business is crowded, for he insists on making reservations.

is unmistakably American.

Forms of prohibition exist around the mines and nitrate fields, theoretical total prohibition at the former, but only theoretical. The poor rote population has been inclined to go in for heavy drinking, resulting in sadly inefficient Mondays.

The new government has undertaken both to improve the lot of the rote and restrict his drinking, being responsible in co-operation with American copper companies for curbing drunkenness at the mines. And although many consider Chilean wines the best in the world, a law limiting extension of wine-producing lands was passed as long as 1922.

Antofagasta, a few hundred miles down Chile's 2700-mile Pacific coast line, is the export and import point for a large radius of nitrate and copper territory.

Within Antofagasta, one observes hexagonal revolving street lights, with illuminated ads for cigars, Buick cars, liquor and cigarettes.

CHILE is making rapid progress in producing her own necessities. The government is developing domestic industries as rapidly as possible. Chileans have begun to make their own leather, their own woolen clothing and their own canned goods.

Chile also wants to smelt her own ore. There is a project for a 30 per cent tax on copper ore, which would hit the American companies, and which may or may not be adopted.

The government is now subsidizing a big new steel plant at Corral, using electric power for smelting, for she has no good coke coal.

An association says an egg is "fresh" until it is 21 days old. And after that some of them are chicks.

Several New York dairies are delivering their milk in waxed-paper cartons. Milkmen, however, will think up some new kind of noise to replace the tinkling bottles.

TWINKLES

This Republican Mr. Holmes of Amarillo is rather popular, but in recommending him for the governorship of Alaska his Democratic friends seem to be consigning him to a climate of little appeal to the average Republican of this state.

In the interest of "hot" news, why haven't the tabloids financed a come-back by General Sandino?

Mr. Kellogg may want world peace, but it looks as if he may have opened another political war in this country.

Campaign promises are irksome. Just as Mr. Hoover is preparing to enjoy being president, he is called upon to convene a special session and think up something to do for the farmers. His relief must not be advice, for the farmers have had too much of that and not many of them will take it anyway.

Doctors do not live as long as lawyers, and yet we commonly say there is justice in this country.

BARBS

Little girls who stay up half the night practicing scales on the piano ought to go far.

A Massachusetts woman sued her husband for divorce because he knocked out several of her teeth and refused to pay her dentist's bill. Men who won't pay their doctor or dentist bills aren't much good.

Busy men have too much on their hands to be handling people with gloves.

The Long Island musician who had two wives wasn't so much on harmony.

The increased building of war vessels since the signing of the Kellogg peace pact doesn't mean anything. Jack Dempsey retired and he says he's going into training just the same.

FLYING COURSE STARTS PORT WORTH, Jan. 14. Actual flying and instruction in meteorology, aerodynamics, airport construction, and management will be given.

MacDonald Smith Wins Golf Title to Repeat Victory

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 14. (AP)—MacDonald Smith, who was reared not far from St. Andrews course, famous Scottish stronghold of golf, has written with his iron and wood a page in western golfing records of which the wearers of the plaid may well be proud.

The tall Scot, one of the Carnoustie Smiths, yesterday won the $10,000 Los Angeles open, after as mighty a golfing battle as the West ever has seen. It was a repetition of his victory in Los Angeles a year ago, and was registered in even more sensational fashion. He came out first in a field of many star golfers.

Smith came from behind at his never-faltering pace to wipe out a seven-stroke lead that Tommy Armour, Washington, D. C., another doughty Scot, had accumulated in two phenomenal rounds. The first-place winner received $3,500. When Smith rapped his final putt down the cup on the 18th green of the Riviera course as darkness fell, he had completed four rounds with cards of 71-71-70-73-285. Par on the course is 71.

Through the four rounds this veteran campaigner of the fairways played every lie with cool deliberation, never displaying golf that could be called phenomenal, but always steady.

Standing out in bold relief was the tragic figure of Armour who started his final 36 holes yesterday morning with the championship within his reach. He was six strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, and seven ahead of Smith. But as the day progressed he saw his lead dwindled stroke by stroke as Smith kept his unruffled gait.

Darkness forced Armour to "pick up" on the 18th tee, with 284 strokes up to that point. He, together with a dozen others who saw the pall of night block out chances of finishing, will complete his final hole this afternoon. A par four on the last hole would give Armour cards of 68-67-76-77-288 for second place, which was worth $1,750.

Leo Diegel, national professional champion, was staging a "garçon" finish as darkness intervened yesterday, and it appeared that he might lose out Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., for third-place money, ($875). Horton Smith's 71-75-72-76-294 left him in second place last night, but Armour apparently had him beaten, and Diegel was going strong.

Diegel left off play on the 16th with a 63 for that distance. Par on the remaining two holes, a five on the 17th and a four on the 18th would give him cards of 77-69-74-72-292.

LONDON, Jan. 14. (AP)—A battle in the courts between General Bramwell Booth and those who seek to oust him from command of the Salvation Army was forecast by practically all of this morning's newspapers. At the same time a dispatch to the Daily Herald from Sunbury said that two high officers had been summarily suspended by the Anti-Booth party.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF CLINTON-OKLAHOMA-WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY OF TEXAS: You are hereby notified that the Board of Directors have called a meeting of the stockholders to be held in the City of Wichita Falls, County of Wichita, State of Texas, at the principal office of the Company, on the 15th day of March, 1929, between the hours of 2 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock p. m., to consider and act upon a proposition to authorize the execution by the Company of a mortgage on all of its railroad properties now owned or hereafter acquired, to secure bonds to be hereafter issued in series, so much of such bonds as may be necessary, not exceeding Two Million Four Hundred Thousand Dollars, to be used in paying or exchange for the present indebtedness of the Company, other bonds to be issued to be used for the acquisition, construction or extension of railroads, additions and betterments to such railroads and properties now or hereafter owned, and for other lawful corporate purposes; each series of bonds to be issued to mature at such time and provide for the payment of such lawful rate of interest, to be taxfree or not taxfree, to be convertible or not convertible into shares of capital stock, as may be determined by the Board of Directors, and to contain such other terms and conditions as may be determined or prescribed by said Board; and such mortgage to contain such terms and conditions as may be prescribed or authorized by the stockholders at said proposed meeting.

FLYWEIGHT BATTLE SET TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 14. (AP)—The 10-round bout, between "Frenchie" Belanger and Izzy Schwartz, flyweights, scheduled for next Wednesday night and later postponed, is to be held during the week of January 21. Belanger, Canadian flyweight champion, was attacked by influenza a few days ago but now is well again. He will start training again. Schwartz is recognized in New York state as flyweight champion of the world.

MANAGER OF THE TIMBER LEAGUE TO TRY 10-MAN IDEA ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 12. (AP)—Managers of the Timber league, composed of baseball clubs in Southwestern Washington, voted here yesterday to give the 10-man team idea a trial this coming season.

The 10-man team advocated by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, is designed to permit a batting lineup excluding the pitcher.

"Big Train" to Inspire Senators Next Season

By PAUL N. SEXTON Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—If sentiment can win baseball games, the Washington Senators will start the 1929 playing season with a big lead over the other American league entries.

This is because in selecting Walter Johnson to replace Bucky Harris, who goes to Detroit, Clark Griffith has touched a soft spot in the hearts of thousands of capital fans.

The return of the "Big Train" for twenty years the hurling ace of the Senators, after a brief absence as manager of the Newark club, has undoubtedly bolstered the morale of the Griffith cast.

Aside from this, however, the Senators have other reasons for their pre-season confidence, chief of which is the promise of a revamped infield, a more effective outer defense and some promising new pitching material from the minors.

The acquisition of Buddy Myer, brought back from Boston in a deal that cost Griffith five players, is expected to brace the inner wall effectively. Johnson believes that with Myer at third, Ossie Bluege can be switched to short where he played when he first entered the big show.

The perennial Joe Judge will again decorate first base, and Johnson has the choice of at least three newcomers to plug the gap at second left by Harris' departure. They are Joe Cronin, Kansas City graduate, John Stewart, recalled from Birmingham, and Jack Hays, who has seen service here before.

The belief of "Goose" Goslin, leading hitter of the league last season, that his throwing arm has returned to form is one of the main factors in Johnson's hope for a more efficient outfield. Goslin's inability to get away long throws from left field cost Washington more than one game last year.

Sam West who had a fielding average last year of .996, will again be in center, with either Sam Rice or Emilie Barnes in right.

Garland Braxton, most effective pitcher of the league last year, will head the mound staff, supported by Sam Jones, Fred Marberry, Irving Hadley, Bob Burke and Lloyd Brown, in addition to some talent from the minors. Weaver from Chattanooga, Cantrell from Baltimore, Campbell from St. Paul, Hopkins from Montreal, and Lisksa from Minneapolis look like the most promising of the new material.

Lisksa is a 20-year-old youngster who led the American association in 1928 with twenty wins and four defeats. Griffith got him for a reported outlay of $20,000.

Ruel, Tate, and Kenna, holdovers, augmented by Bolton and Bool, a pair from the Piedmont league and the Southern association, will handle the backstopping duties.

Pitchers Are Alike, to Goslin, Leading Batter of American CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Right or left hand pitching looked alike to Leon Goslin, Washington outfielder, in his successful drive for the American League batting championship last year where Heinie Manush of St. Louis who finished just a point back of the Goose, was slightly less effective as against right handers.

Goslin's official record was 376 against left hand pitchers and 380 against right. Manush, on the other hand, banged the ball at a 388 rating when batting against pitchers but hit 374 at the right hand offerings.

Babe Ruth was under .300 against left handers, the figure being .296. There were 15 games pitched by southpaws in which the Babe was unable to hit safely at all. Right handers were not so intricate, and he hit them for .331.

Al Simmons among the right hand batsmen, slammed southpaws to the tune of 420, but the Athletics' outfielder was a mere 335 man against right siders. Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees was another who could succeed at bat if all pitching was from the first base side of the box, his figure being .417, but he was not even a .300 hitter against right hand curves and speedballs.

Jimmy Fox of the Athletics, like Goslin, was vicious against any kind of throwing.

Full Basketball Slate Provided in Week's Schedules

Basketball offerings for this week start with a game with Panhandle Tuesday evening. Coach Otello Herr of the neighbor city is training his men strenuously for this game, knowing that the locals have hit their stride and will be hard to tame on the home floor.

The Harvesters will go to Shamrock Wednesday night to meet the Irish. A scheduled game with Shamrock was recently postponed on account of bad weather, and advance dope on the opposition is lacking.

Panhandle's tournament will be entered by Coach Odus Mitchell's outfit Friday and Saturday.

Coach L. K. Maxey's girls' team is scheduled to play the Shamrock girls here Friday night. Miami girls will play a return game here January 25, and Borger girls will invade central's court January 26.

Orchid by Eleanor Farley NEA FICTION COPY RIGHT - 1926 BY NEA SERVICE INC. ASHTORETH, unfortunately, had no illusions about her mother. She was furtively ashamed of Maizie, and had come to lie about her. Pretexting that she was captured and educated, and a fine lady. Now, for the first time, she was about to tell the truth. Not the entire truth. But enough to save her pride, if the great and famous Hollis Hart should ever mean more to her than millionaires usually mean to their stenographers. Hollis was patting her hand sympathetically, and she was encouraged to continue. "Speaking of my father," she said, "I have read that there are three kinds of inheritance. "Yes?" Hollis seemed interested. "It's a long time since I've studied the laws of inheritance, I'm afraid I've forgotten all about them." "Well, there's 'blended' inheritance," Ashtoreth told him, "where the child bears the marks of composite ancestry. That sounds like a book," she explained, "because I memorized it." "Prepotent" inheritance, where one parent, or remoter ancestor, is supposed to be most effective in stamping the offspring. "And 'exclusive' inheritance, where the character of the child is definitely that of one ancestor." She paused, well pleased with her little bit of erudition. "And which inheritance," inquired Hollis politely, "is yours?" "Oh, mine is 'exclusive,'" Ashtoreth declared. "I inherited solely from my father." "Indeed?" Hollis stroked her hand absently. "You know I had an idea you were very like your mother. I remember of your telling me how she had named you for the moon goddess of old Egypt, because of her interest in the religions of pagan people. You told me that she was rather a student of antiquities." Ashtoreth flushed and was glad of the dark because the man beside her could not see the tell-tale color flooding her pale cheeks. "Well, naturally, father was christened. I don't know that mother is exactly a student. It was really a most unusual thing—the way I happened to be christened. Would you like me to tell you about it?" "I certainly would," he asserted. "But let me get you a pillow first. I want to assure you're quite comfortable." "Oh, but I am," she assured him. "She loved his small attentions. "Then you must let me get some more cigarettes," he said. "I'm never a good listener unless I can smoke." HE went into the drawing-room, and was back in a moment. As he stood reflected in the doorway he struck a match and bent his head to the flame. She reflected, as a hundred thousand women had done before her—that no man is quite so handsome as when his face is half-lighted in the flare of a match. Hollis Hart, considering his age (he must have been all of 50), was an extraordinarily handsome person. Ashtoreth liked, particularly, the gray hair at his temples. It was quite distinctive, she told herself. As, indeed, it was. "Well," she said, "once upon a time a lady had a dream. The lady was my mother. And I was three weeks old, the night she dreamed it. "I've heard my father tell about it a hundred times. He was sound asleep, and mother was lying on her back, with her arms flung across his chest. There was moonlight on her face. And her hair was spread across the pillow like a golden veil. "Carthage," she said. "When Dido was queen. And Cleopatra. And Judith of Tyre." "Daddy woke up, and laughed. Then, bending above her, he drew away, horrified. For mother's eyes were staring—the dreadful, unseeing eyes of the somnambulist. And her voice was strangely pitched, and foreign. "She woke with a dreadful start. And closed her eyes, and passed her hand across them. "Daddy took her in his arms, and tried to laugh, and comfort her. She seemed so frightened. But she drew away from him, and began to talk. "They were coming across the desert," she said. "Great caravans, like ships in moonlight. Elephants and apes and peacocks. Broilers, rugs and precious stones. And men . . . marching . . . marching . . . "Well, naturally, father was scared to death. You see if you knew mother—you simply couldn't imagine her talking like that—like a book, I mean. Then she began raving about reincarnation. She said she had lived before—in Egypt. And that she had worshipped the sun, and the moon. And lived in a temple, and danced before strange gods. "Of course daddy told her it was all a dream—the funniest kind of a nightmare. But mother kept on insisting the strangest things. She said she had been a princess. And the Prince of Thrace wooed her in her marble palace. "While she was talking like that, I woke up, and began to cry. And daddy took me out of my crib and heaved my bottle, and brought me in to mother. "And all of a sudden, she said, 'I shall call her Ashtoreth.' "Well, father said you could have knocked him over with a feather, because—though he knew a lot about antiquity—he had never imagined that mother knew anything about it. "Ashtoreth!" he cried. "What for?" "For the moon," said mother, as calmly as anything. "Then she took me in her arms, and began to sing. I've forgotten the exact words. I suppose daddy had forgotten them himself. But they went something like this— "Ashtoreth! put her head back, and crooned softly: "Goddess, Thou givest Love— Clemon cloaked, radiant Love, Passion's Mate, Golden Love— Love—Love without end." Hollis Hart sat up straight in his long tropical chair. "Ashtoreth!" he cried. "Stop it, dear! You make my blood run cold!" (To Be Continued) Hollis Hart christens Ashtoreth Orchid. And tells her—in the next chapter—why she reminds him of that flower.

shall first, out of the fees of his office, pay the salaries of his deputies and assistants" and out of commissions allowed the tax collector or sheriff's department for collecting the registration fees on automobiles and other motor vehicles." "Such compensation shall be used exclusively to pay salaries of deputies, etc." I believe you are now allowing five deputy sheriff's a salary. If such fees are sufficient to pay such deputies their salaries, then the county is not required to pay them. The sheriff is allowing three deputies in the precinct in which he lives, and one in each remaining precinct of the county, which in this case would be three more, or a total of six.

I also beg to advise that I have examined all accounts filed up to and including the 11th of this month. You will not find from my itemized report of the same that in some instances I have reduced some and disallowed others. All accounts before being accepted or approved should be itemized and sworn to.

Respectfully submitted

County Judge

Appended to this report is a supplementary note:

Mr. Hesse, county superintendent, advises me that much of the interest on the note given Gray county for its school lands in Gaines and Dawson counties is past due, and also that some of this land has recently been sold for taxes.

I suggest that you instruct the county attorney to investigate this, and if he finds any interest in arrears to collect same, or institute foreclosure proceedings; also, to attempt to redeem any land that has been sold for taxes. I also examined this note and find that it is written with typewriter and has faded from age until it is difficult to read. I would suggest that you have the county clerk make a certified copy of this note, witnessed by two witnesses, who have carefully compared it with the original note, and file such copy in the archives of Gray county, together with their certification of this fact.

I would also suggest that you look into the matter of establishing a poor farm for Gray county.

January 12 First Birthday Anniversary of Twentieth Century Club, Which is Already One of Foremost Women's Groups

Saturday was the first anniversary of the Twentieth Century club. Members of the club, particularly those among them who are charter members, doubtless paused to consider with satisfaction the achievements of the club in its first year. For in that short period, the Twentieth Century club has become one of the most important and influential women's groups in the city, and it may be said truly that the club's activities have squared with Pampa's aspirations.

Self culture, with special attention to literature and civic improvement are the two main objectives toward which the club directs its efforts. Organized on January 12, 1928, as the City Civic club, the body shortly afterward adopted a course of study to be carried with the program of civic work. The name was changed to the Twentieth Century club and the original membership of 14 was raised to 20.

Foremost among the club's civic projects was its part in initiating work toward building a free public library for Pampa. With the A. A. U. A. and College club, the Twentieth Century club sponsored the movement and secured the co-operation of other study clubs, service clubs, and civic organizations in instituting the Pampa Library association.

The club sponsored also a tree planting campaign, which resulted in the planting of trees at the Baker school, and aroused a greater interest in beautification of home grounds. Co-operating with other groups, the club had a share in a clean-up campaign and in raising funds for the library. It conducted a milk-drinking campaign in the grade schools and supplied speakers and instructors. A large quantity of equipment for the Girl Scout troop was donated by the club.

It is the plan of the Twentieth Century club to place pictures in every school room in the city and to hang the Moral Code for School Children in each of the grade rooms.

Programs for the semi-monthly meetings offer variety and timely instruction. Early in the year before the two great party conventions had been held, the club had an afternoon's study in "Presidential Possibilities." International relations and disarmament have been studied. The world's 12 greatest paintings, Robert Brownings' "Andrea Del Sarto, the lives of noted women, and the Psalms, have furnished material for other interesting programs.

Mrs. W. A. Bratton is president of Twentieth Century.

HIGHEST BLAZE ENDANGERS WOOLWORTH SIGHTSEERS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (P)—Six sightseers, one a young woman, were marooned in the observation tower of the Woolworth building for 10 minutes yesterday, their escape cut off by the highest blaze the New York fire department was ever called upon to fight.

The fire was at the level of the 55th floor, apparently caused by a short circuit in electric wires in the elevator shaft. Firemen who had to climb from the 47th floor quickly put out the blaze after three of the men and Miss Margaret Shields of Bay City, Mich., made a dash down a stairway through the smoke and flames to the safety of the 54th floor.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown returned Saturday afternoon from a three weeks visit in Havana, Cuba, with Mr. Brown's brother, who has been a resident of Cuba for 10 years.

Death of Wife Shock to Ruth; Dentist Sought

WATERTOWN, Mass., Jan. 14. (P)—Babe Ruth, home run king, today mourned his wife, while police sought for questioning Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, in whose home here Mrs. Ruth, known to neighbors for the last year and a half as Mrs. Helen Kinder, was burned to death last Friday night.

The New York Yankee star arrived in Boston from New York City yesterday just in time to halt the burial of the supposed Mrs. Kinder, for whom a death certificate had been issued on information supplied by the dentist.

While State Detective Edward P. O'Neil, who investigated the fire at the instance of District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex county, declared that there was no evidence that a crime had been committed, the district attorney ordered an autopsy performed and a search instituted for Kinder.

Ruth Issues Statements
Ruth was prostrated by grief when he arrived in Boston. From his hotel suite he gave a brief statement to newspapermen:

"My wife and I have not lived together for the last three years. During that time I have seldom met her. I have done all that I can to comply with her wishes. Her death is a great shock to me, that is all I can say now."

But Ruth, through his friend and legal adviser, John P. Feney of Boston, immediately took steps to see that a new certificate was issued that the dead woman might be buried as Mrs. Ruth rather than as Mrs. Kinder.

Feney and members of Mrs. Ruth's family decided to go to Wellesley, where the Babe's nine-year-old daughter Dorothy is a student in a private academy, and break the news of her mother's death.

Discovery that the supposed dentist's wife was Mrs. Ruth came with the publication last week of a picture found in the house. A friend of the Ruths identified it. Mrs. Ruth's sisters, the Misses Catherine and Nora Woodford of South Boston, were summoned and established identification.

Kinder Missing to Come
Kinder, who was attending a boxing exhibition last Friday night when the house caught fire, was paged at the show and returned to identify the dead woman as his wife and to make funeral arrangements. His whereabouts since then constituted a mystery today.

The dentist's father, William F. Kinder, Jr., said they believed the couple had been married in Montreal about two years ago.

Ruth first met Helen Woodford shortly after he became a member of the Boston Red Sox in 1915. The girl had been a waitress and was employed at the time in a back bay restaurant near the ball park.

Late in 1915 or early in 1916 they were married and in September 1922, they announced that 16 months previously a daughter had been born, but they had decided not to announce it earlier. That the path of their marital life had not been a smooth one in the past few years has been generally known to their friends.

Killing of Russian Was for Revenge

MOSCOW, Jan. 14. (P)—Tass, Soviet news agency, said today that a Russian named Kolenberg, age 24, had been named for the murder of General Jacob Alexandrovitch Salschoff, a high officer in the Soviet war commissary, yesterday.

Police announced that the man had confessed, saying that he killed the general to avenge his brother who was executed at Nikolaiiev by the general's orders in 1920. Kolenberg, who was only 15 years old at the date of the execution, witnessed the gruesome scene and swore vengeance personally.

Diplomatic Corps Will Be Favored by Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (P)—Many shifts in the American diplomatic corps during the Hoover administration are forecast by those who profess to have an understanding of the general viewpoint of the next president on the conduct of foreign relations.

In the opinion of some of Mr. Hoover's friends, career men who have shown more than the average ability will be given recognition in the realignment of the corps. Steps also will be taken to encourage the younger men who would make diplomacy their life work and to make it possible for them to attain to the higher posts the personal cost of the maintenance of which now constitutes a bar to most of them.

There is little doubt that Latin-America will furnish the main field for aspiring career men while Herbert Hoover is in the White House. A cardinal point of his foreign policy will be the fostering of relations with the republics to the South since his good-will tour it is evident that he regards this a front line of American diplomacy.

Bitter Cold Is Felt in Midwest

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (P)—All that had gone before was as nothing compared to the bitter cold that held Middle and Northwest America in a sub-zero hug over the week-end.

No relief of consequence is in sight before Wednesday, and the weather bureau was not prepared to say if the cold would be dissipated even then.

One of the low thermometer readings of the week-end was at Duluth, where a minus 34 was the coldest the Minnesota City at the head of Lake Superior has had in 11 years. Green Bay, Wis., was another frigid spot with 20 below, while temperatures throughout the middlewest with hardly an exception skated under the cipher mark yesterday and last night.

The elder brother, Francis, 18, was lying on the ground practicing with a rifle when the accident occurred.
