Chattanooga Evens Series With Beaumont

SPORTS ON PARADE

By Curtis Bishop

Young Kid Whittington will be out for revenge this evening when he steps in against Jack Kirkland, blonde Waco scrapper. Kirkland won a decision over White less than a year ago and is out to repeat his win tonight. In their previous encounter the Waco man had carried a weight advantage of nearly ten pounds, but for this evening's bill will be forced to weigh in at 145 pounds. Whittington will weigh around 142.

Next week it is planned to send Kirkland against Bobby Clark, Sweetwater flash. Clark has built up quite a reputation around Nolan county, and is confident that he can whip anything on two feet in Big Spring.

The Tuffy Jackson, who will meet Glenn Holcomb on tonight's card, has seen previous experience in a tussle arena. Jackson, a hard-hitting heavyweight, was one of the several years ago.

Brony Cross' outburst against local school officials, a portion of which was reported in this column yesterday, had a source of discussion among such individuals as D. H. Reid, George Gentry, and Obie Bristow, and needlessly to say the local school moguls are not exactly pleased with the tirade. Friendly alleges, among other things that Big Spring is subsidizing athletes this season. That is a very broad statement. It is too broad a statement to make with out being able to furnish proof. The athletes Mr. Cross refers to cannot be anyone other than Leo Hare and Weldon Woods. The transfer of the two youths to Big Spring was entirely their own idea, and their presence here, though of course they were certainly welcome, was neither sought nor arranged for by school authorities. Neither of the two youths mentioned can boast of previous experience. One of them, Woods, will graduate this season and will probably never be classed as a high school regular.

Several school officials in District 7 have been notified by the Big Spring school officials that they are being investigated for the source of information for the charges made by Brony Cross. It should be known that Big Spring might be kept from winning the district title this year.

The contention that local men are pushing the investigation of such athletes as Woods and Sheridan of Sweetwater is certainly untrue. Likewise did Big Spring officials make a study of the case of George Deiker, an Angelo fall-back. However, Big Spring school authorities voted instantly in favor of giving Deiker a clean bill of health in the committee meeting last Saturday.

A local school official was designated by the district committee along with Super B. H. McClary of Sweetwater to represent the schools for the discussion of the Sheridan Woods affair. This evidence was made openly. If the two Mustang stars are declared ineligible it will be because the attitude of citizens of that city towards the Sweetwater Boosters affiliated that organization with the high school team.

Big Spring is not present without a checker champion. The players possessing the best claim to that title passed away yesterday afternoon as a result of an automobile accident Tuesday. W. O. Tanshill, 75 years of age, was the individual.

Old Anderson, the barber, and Ed Currie will probably head the list of champions.

L. C. Tinsley, whose "riding" tactics earned him the hatred of every opposing team in the city baseball league, is coming home from the front with the information that the Athletic League is not going to tough this year.

Ralegh Mims and Luther Glover, backfield stars of the Steers some two or three years ago, are candidates for the freshman team at McMurtry this year. Buster Bell and Snippy Smith are holding down the regular positions for the Indians with Bell slated to be a candidate for all-conference laurels this fall. Smith is the handy man for McMurtry's team, playing guard, tackle, center, and fullback.

Former Texas League Hurler Holds Exports

Alex McCall Pitches Four-Hit Ball To Win Second Series Game

BAFFLING CURVES Series Now Stands Even With Each Team Having One Victory

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer
BEAUMONT—Alex McCall, who several years ago was ousted from the Texas league because of a sore arm, took his former ailing salary wing to the mound Wednesday and pitched a baffling five to a five to nothing victory over Beaumont. The win squared the Dixie series at one-all, Beaumont having won the first game.

McCall mixed a baffling low curve with blazing speed to check Beaumont with four hits, no two coming in the same inning. Beaumont never got a man to third. In the first series game Clyde Barfoot beat Beaumont to four hits and, if anything, McCall's pitching Wednesday was superior.

Five Hits for Tennesseans

Lazy Goldstein hurled against the Lookouts and went the route. He allowed five hits and clicked with the fireworks exploded. Reese walked. Reese and sent Bolton to third. Bolton hit a made-to-order double play grounder to Newsome which the Beaumont shortstop let roll through his legs for an error. Reese went to third and Bolton stopped at first. Cecil Travis, the third sacker for Chattanooga, banded a double which Goldstein walked to.

Reese and sent Bolton to third. Pitching instead ball, Goldstein walked Boss to load the bases. Wilburn filed out to short, the runners holding their bases. McCall sent Bolton across the plate with a hot liner at Goldstein, who batted the ball down and recovered in time to nab McCall at first. Kingdon slipped a single to score Travis and the Boss with runs that smashed the Exports fighting spirit. Goldstein retired the side minus further scoring.

The Lookouts added another run in the eighth when Gill, first up doubled and scored on infield outs by Reese and Bolton.

The Lookouts were better in the ninth Wednesday. They had seven runners stranded Tuesday, they had only four Wednesday. Beaumont had five stranded.

Rally Nipped

The Exports threatened a rally in the ninth when Pete Fox singled to start the inning but Henry Greer, whose home run won the first game, hit into a double play.

The Exports committed two errors against perfect baseball for Chattanooga. Newsome's miscue proved a costly bubble, four runs following.

Both sides continued to flash brilliant fielding.

Fred Tauby, Beaumont center fielder, was carried from the field in the first inning when he tried to make a fast turn going after Bonowitz triple and again injured a knee that kept him out of the Beaumont lineup two weeks of the regular season. Pete Fox, who won the Texas league batting crown this year, returned to the Beaumont lineup for the first time in seven weeks, leaving Tauby. Fox has been out with an injured leg.

The series will be resumed Friday at Chattanooga where the next three games will be played. An estimated crowd of 7,000 saw the Lookouts win Wednesday.

Hornsby Ignored as Cubs Vote Division of Money in Coming World's Series

CHICAGO—Rogers Hornsby was the "forgotten man" of the Cub clubhouse Wednesday.

He was ignored by his former mates as they voted to divide the spoils among 23 players and four attaches of the team. Twenty players, including Coaches Charlie O'Leary and "Red" Corriden, will receive full shares.

Mark Koenig, who came to the Cubs in August, comeback bent, was voted a half share along with the traveling secretary, Bob Lewis and trainer, "Doc" O'Connell.

Arrivals will receive quarter-shares. Although the "Rays" left the Cubs within striking distance of the pennant—in second place—when he was dismissed, it was not surprising that he was ignored in the world series cut that may break all records this year because of the crowd drawing possibilities at New York and Chicago. His salary, estimated at $4,000 a year will be paid in full with deductions to pay some of the players from whom he borrowed money.

World series fever gripped Chicago today. Carpenters went to work on the temporary bleachers at Wrigley Field, final details were worked out for a big celebration parade from Wrigley Field and through the downtown district today, and there was a sudden spurt in demands for tickets. The Cubs went through the motions of a baseball game against Pittsburgh's Pirates but lost without the slightest regret before a crowd of 5,000 spectators, with Manager Grimm and Elwood English on the bench and the other regulars playing only as much as they dared.

Plans also were completed for the invasion of New York for the opening of the series a week from today. The new National league champions will depart for the big adventure Monday noon, arriving in New York Tuesday morning. A workout will be held in Yankee stadium that afternoon. Guy Bush was regarded as Manager Grimm's certain starting pitcher.

Foxx Smashes Homer No. 54

PHILADELPHIA—Merritt "Sugar" Cain checked the bats of the New York Yankees, including Babe Ruth, Wednesday and the Athletics pounded out an 8 to 4 victory over the American league champions.

The A's whalloped three timely home runs, including Jimmy Foxx' 54th of the season and Al Simmons

Jack Kirkland Ready For Go With The Kid

Blonde Jack Kirkland, successful in weighing in at the 145 pound limit imposed for his bout with Kid Whittington, stood ready to make his first appearance on the Casino headline Thursday night and promises a tough fight for the Wellington battler, who has yet to be defeated on a local card.

Kirkland was three pounds below the limit at noon today and carried only a few ounces advantage over Whittington.

A correction in one of the preliminary events will send Sam Gold Phoenix, Ariz., weight 150 pounds, against Casey Jones, local scrapper in a three round go.

Kirkland will carry a slight advantage over Whittington in pro-fight forecasts. The Waco youth is the harder hitter, and will have the knowledge that he has beaten Whittington.

On the other hand Ray Simmons figure to get revenge, and is confident that he can knock out first at the Casino clean of defeats. Whittington has fought three times, won handily twice and in his third start out fought Red McInty.

Glenn Holcomb, the hard-hitting heavyweight, will smile at the chance to try out his haymakers on a new and more formidable opponent, quite a few of Tuffy Jackson's following are expected to be on hand for his return to local boxing arenas.

In other fights Alabama Cagun contests Pug Herff and Bud Holland crosses with Burtie Full. A bout for the Black Knight may be announced from the ringside.

The show, Manager Lex James, announces, will start promptly at 8:30 p. m., rain or shine.

Jayhawkers' Coach

A veteran in southwest football circles, Coach Elmer Brown again will direct the University of Kansas eleven this year. (Associated Press Photo)

Brown southpaw, tightened up after a bad start Wednesday and St. Louis came from behind to beat the Indians 4-3. The defeat cost Cleveland its last mathematical chance for third place and closed the inter-club series with the tribe victors in 16 out of 22 contests.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Cotton Picking And Ginning Make Good Advances For Week

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Cotton picking and ginning made a "generally good advance" throughout the cotton belt last week, except in those portions where rain delayed picking locally, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported Wednesday.

In the western cotton belt, progress was said to have been rather unsatisfactory in many sections, but in central and eastern districts the bureau reported fair to good advances.

The bureau reported there was little prospect for a top crop in Texas. There were reports of some deterioration, especially in the central and northeastern districts of the state.

In Oklahoma, cotton progress was reported as poor and conditions varied from poor to fairly good.

Way commission Wednesday took under advisement the request of gulf coast counties for a highway designation between Camp Palacios and Galveston. Surveys to determine cost were ordered.

Report Farmer's Strike Crops Out In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—A report that farmers were picketing highways near Lukon, 18 miles west of here, was received Wednesday afternoon at Farmers' Union headquarters as officials of the state holiday association went into session to issue a formal call for the farm strike in Oklahoma.

RUMORS SAY ACTRESS CONSIDERS DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Rumors circulated widely in the film center Wednesday that Marion Nixon, actress, and Edward Hillman, Jr., millionaire polo player, contemplate a divorce. Friends reported they had separated, and although at Fox Studios, where Miss Nixon is playing, officials admitted there had been many reports of a separation and divorce, they quoted the actress as saying there was "nothing to it."

Thief Gets Purse Of Social Register; Yields Him Only $1.85

FORT WORTH, Texas (UP)—thief, with visions of wealth and possibly a yacht cruise to Cuba, "lifted" the purses of three of this city's social registerites during a swanky bridge party Wednesday night.

One purse yielded $2.50, another $2, and the third 55 cents.

Donaldson's Body To Arrive Thursday

The body of G. L. Donaldson, fatally stabbed Saturday night near Kent, will arrive Thursday night on a Texas & Pacific train from Pecos.

A sister, Merle Donaldson, was located Wednesday in Denver, Colorado, and is due to arrive here Thursday evening. Funeral arrangements will be completed on her arrival. A half brother, F. D. Williams, resides here.

Colonel Houston, Aged Relative Of Sam Houston, Continues To Grow Weak

HOUSTON (UP)—Col. Andrew Jackson Houston, 78, so not General S. M. Houston, reported in a weakened condition at a hospital Thursday where for more than two weeks he has been sinking after an appendicitis operation.

Corns All Gone Big and Small Radox Took Them Roots and All

In England they have a sensible way to get rid of corns in just a few days—a joyous invigorating foot bath every night for 3 or 4 nights—then lift out the corn—out to stay.

Ask Collins Bros. or any drugstore for a package of Radox, 2 sizes 45c and 85c. Hard corns—soft corns—callouses—hard skin on heels and toes—it's all the same to Radox—you'll have new, strong, flawless feet a week from now—ask for Radox and enjoy walking—dan. g. adv.

Pilot Faces 20 Year Term For Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Charles A. Merritt, expert transport pilot and trim business man at New Orleans before his arrest, faces a 20 year sentence in the state penitentiary.

A district court jury disregarded his alibi that Merritt was in Dallas the day three years ago when three bandits held up an American-Pirar National bank messenger at the busy downtown street intersection and robbed him of $75,000. The jury deliberated but 20 minutes before returning a guilty verdict on the robbery charge.

A Million Goes Begging: IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE in these days of economic stress that $1,000,000 in deposits in closed banks in Toledo, O., would fail to respond to repeated invitations of "Beasie" to come and get your money.

Officials of the state banking department re straightening out the affairs of several defunct banks and calling on depositors to come and get certain percentages of their money that are now ready to be repaid.

Rep. R. M. Hubbard of New Boston, one of the authors of the composite tax relief county-reimbursement bill, said the county and road districts for money raised on the state highways, he said.

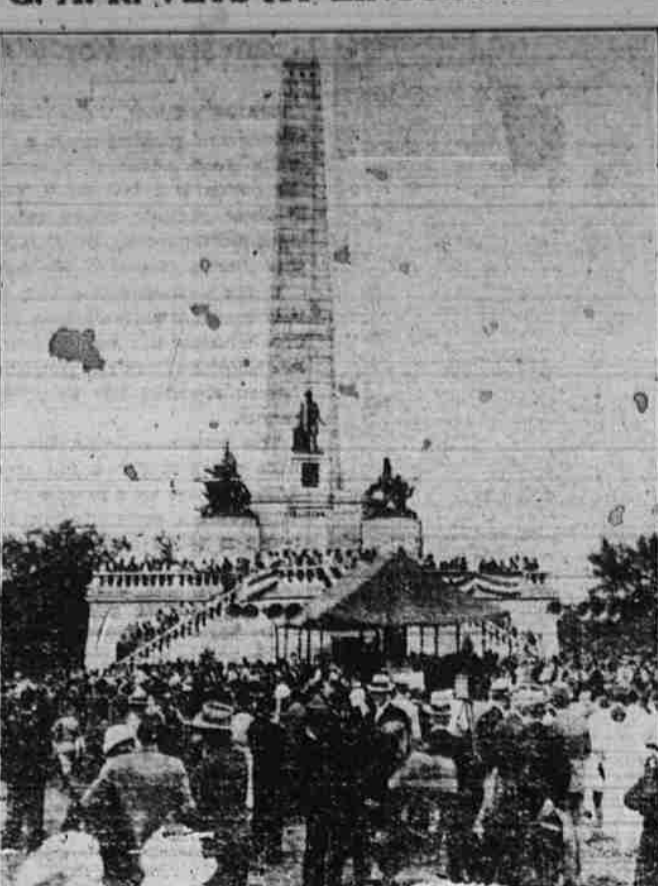

Unless these deposits are claimed by the time liquidation of the banks is completed, the money will be placed in the state treasury.

But one can't escape the conclusion that if the depositors wait over the crucial question—when does a legislator's term end?

His view will have such retiring members as Rep. Phil Sanders from continuing their work on legislative committees from the general election until the date the new legislature convenes Jan. 10.

Until they take the oath, they can't function as members and only this officer can administer the oath.

Many pro-Fox house members named to replace them. Rep. Graves' interpretation of the law, unless overruled, stood as a definite block to the assembling of a self-starting session of the legislators to be elected in November.

Reps Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the house appropriations committee, was defeated for re-election this year because he sponsored a "fox hunters' bill" that made his former constituents mad.

A Huge Increase In Miles Flown By U. S. Planes

Government figures just released show that there was an increase of 4,000,000 miles in flights of American operated airlines during the six months of the year in comparison with the same months of 1932. The 364 planes in scheduled service on American operated lines flew a total of 2,958,414 miles, according to the report of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce in the six months period and there was an increase of 5,000 passengers during that time over the January-July traffic of 1931.

Colorado Has Large Squad

Coach Cantrill Says It Is Best Team In History Of School. By CURTIS BISHOP. This is the second of a series of articles dealing with District Three clubs. "Big" Jim Cantrill, Colorado's star stands ready for his first appearance in Class A company this season. Blessed with the largest squad he has ever had, with thirteen of them veterans of the 1930 and 1931 teams, the former T. C. U. star does not mind admitting that he has one of the best teams in school history, and that his Wolves will be a door-knocker for no one this year.

At the helm of a high school team for the first time since his resignation in 1929 Cantrill finds himself with a squad of 28 men, with all of them due to see action during the pending campaign. He has veterans for every position, with Captain Exie Stagner due to be one of the outstanding wingmen in this district. Around "Lefty" Shelton, a south-side pitcher, Cantrill hopes to build up an aerial circus equal to the best of competing with District 3 teams on even terms. Running in the backfield will also be P. J. Harris, eligible for competition after a great year in 1930. Morrison, Lorry and a raft of new material. Stagner, all-around athlete, will handle one wing department with Jack Cox, a veteran, favored to

"FRECKLES" OF "OUR GANG" COMEDIES, WITH GENTRY BROS. SHOWING HERE SEPTEMBER 26

Hundreds of residents of Big Spring will remember the good old days when the whole town turned out every time Gentry Brothers Dog and Pony show came to town. It was back in the days of the opening circus when there was a thrill in watching circus parades and gatherings beneath the big top.

The time has changed a heap since then, but the Gentry shows go on and on. For 16 years H. B. Gentry lived a retired life down on his Florida farm. So many people urged him to bring the "Gentry Show" back that after a year of preparation he did so last year.

Mr. Gentry has said, "I love the smell of the sawdust, the cheering crowds and I am happy to know that the people love my trained animal show. When I first came this way in overland wagons 22 years ago it was quite different than it is today."

As an added feature attraction with the Gentry Brothers Famous Shows is "Freckles," (Hoo) Ray, the original red-headed freckle-faced boy of "Our Gang" comedy.

Two performances will be given at 3:45 and 8 p. m., and the show grounds are at West Third and Bell streets.

"The woman of Samaria" Jesus speaks. The fires of racial enmity flare in the other's eyes. In a moment all barriers are burned away. "The Prince of Preachers is speaking. It is the parable of the old well. The woman listens. It is a language she can understand. He is speaking of wells, deep, flowing, eternal wells. Wells of life. Wells within! She is looking down into the depths. The water beneath is no longer dark. It is golden, glowing, sparkling, shimmering. It is the well of life; Her soul cries out for it. 'Give me to drink.' Jesus speaks again, he is talking about sin. Will she pay the price? The decision is made. Within her soul a mighty transformation. The sense of peace, the throbbing of life eternal; Tonight to every thirsting soul Jesus says come. He is standing now by the old well of salvation. If any man thirst let him come!"

Scout Meeting Here Sept. 26

Planning to inaugurate the national Boy Scout campaign in the Buffalo Trail Area, to enroll one out of every four boys in the country, with the ultimate aim of having one out of every four male citizens scout-trained, a meeting of the executive committee had been called for Big Spring next Monday evening.

The meeting was called by Charles E. Panko, of Sweetwater, president of the council and was announced Tuesday morning by A. C. Williamson of Sweetwater, area executive.

Mr. Williamson is just back from Mineral Wells, where he attended a regional meeting of scout leaders from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

National leaders who attended the Mineral Wells meeting included E. Ulmer Goodman, director of the division of programs; Stanley A. Harris, director inter-racial activities; and O. H. Benson, director of rural scouting and the founder of the 4-H Club movement in this country.

New Oil Well Near Blackwell May Be Commercial Producer

SWEETWATER—George Luke, geologist on the Blackwell Oil and Gas Company's test southwest of Blackwell, says that the new well did not pick up its show of oil Tuesday from the same sand as found in the Mid-Kansas No. 1 Lackey well, which made a show in April, 1929, at 3,750 feet.

Luke drilled the Lackey well and has been with the Mid-Kansas for years. He drilled in the No. 1 Yates in Pecos county, which was the discovery well in the Yates field, the greatest oil pool in west Texas and one of the largest on the North American continent.

He says the No. 1 C. J. Henry, the present Blackwell test, is going to make a well. He is not convinced that there is enough gas to make this well a natural producer, but believes it will make plenty of oil on the pump.

He does not join with some geologists in believing that the Henry well is 200 feet low on the structure found in the Lackey test—because he thinks it is an entirely different structure and may or may not be an edge well.

Some geologists at the well Tuesday reasoned that the well was so much lower than the Lackey test that it would have to be on the edge of the structure and would undoubtedly have less oil than the Lackey, which was never completed as a producer.

Luke thinks it is a new structure and a new sand and knows it is a new grade of oil. The Lackey well was 42 gravity—the Lackey test was 38. He reasons that the Lackey well was the fluke—not the Henry well.

Horticultural experts warn that if apple growers are to get the maximum return on their crop they will not fall to take proper care against bruising during harvesting and packing.

CHAPTER II

Dudley wintors tapped the cork tip of his cigar on the arm of his chair and smiled. He had just delivered himself of an order and he was expecting it to be taken with some weight. The person to whom this mandate had been directed was curled up in a deep chair, gazing meditatively out the nearest window.

"Don't be antique, Dud! Engaged men don't rush around dishing their views on what to do in this age," Dona Delo turned impatiently and pursed her lips in a most tantalizing manner.

Wintors arose and strode across the room. He bent over the chair and scowled at its occupant in a mock fit of anger. "Want me to drag you out of that chair by your hair, woman?" He bent over and tried to steal a kiss but Dona evaded his lips and pushed him aside.

"Pull your cave in after you," she retorted. "I have things on my mind."

Dudley straightened and a defiant frown clouded his handsome face. His mouth dropped a little at the corners when he frowned and Dona fancied he could readily put.

"You're thinking about that snuff out, blackie," she should be listening to me. Dudley could not help but sneeze the thought in his mind. "The way he vanished shows it's the best of you."

Dona uncured and let her little heels click on the floor. "He certainly took a great deal of pains not to make himself unpleasant." Her eyes showed that she had not liked that remark of Dudley's.

Sensing a quarrel, the young man skinned and changed his tactics. "After all, why worry about this fellow Black? He was plainly a one-day visitor to the city and already punching cows back in the hills hundreds of miles away. He drew Dona down among the cushions and pinched her arm. "Mr. Black is a true knight and I shall thank him for saving you when you find him."

"Dad will locate him when he gets back," Dona flashed moodily. "Your Dad must be out for big game on this trip." Dudley sat, staring himself upon the arm of her chair. He sent a thin spiral of smoke ceilingward before he continued. "He had his rifle and one of those portable cannons commonly known as six guns out on his desk and all-gold up."

The girl stirred and straightened. This was news to her. She had been so busy checking upon the whereabouts of a certain Stanley Black that she had forgotten all about her father's trip to Three Rivers. "Guns?" she echoed.

"Sure. A young arsenal and whole pile of cartridges. He had all the accessories, too. A sleeping bag and a pile of regular western paralytic pherzals." Dudley was glad he had struck upon a topic that had no fire in it.

"Where did you see him?" Dona demanded uneasily. She had not expected her father to return to the rough country. He had promised he was through with the dangerous end of the timber business. Her anxiety was aroused at once and she caught herself wondering where Stanley Black could be if he were at hand she knew he would be able to tell her what to do.

"I stepped in upon him at three office when I was looking for you."

He told me all about the man hunt you're on."

Dona looked at Dudley appraisingly. She saw a slender young man of athletic type. Square shoulders, fine head and dark eyes. At held a lurking flicker of amusement. Then she saw the mouth with its tendency to droop a bit at the corners. Dudley Wintors was plainly capable but not accustomed to being called upon for any kind of action demanding effort.

"Why don't you go up to Three Rivers and talk Dad out of this wild idea, whatever it is?" She put the question to test the first thought that came into her head.

Dudley grinned and inhaled deeply. He let the smoke trickle out of his mouth before he answered. "Aw, D, he'll make it by himself. I never shot a bear in my life."

"But he's not after bear. He's after a man," Dona spoke earnestly. "You could talk him into coming back, giving up the whole thing."

"A man?" Dudley halted the spiral of smoke abruptly. "You're crazy, D."

"You don't know Dad? He comes from a family of hard fighters. Honestly, Dud, this is serious." Dona caught the young man's hand impulsively. "Can't you see we have to stop him from doing some harm?" She grasped and gripped his hand tightly.

Dudley crushed his cigaret in the ashtray and lit another. "You don't need to get into hunting clothes and lumberjack boots and trail off to shoot a man. He has plenty of lumberjacks to do his fighting for him. Why didn't he call up one of his men at Three Rivers?"

"That's it. Dad would not hire anyone. He'd do it himself. When was a little girl up in the camps used to jump into bed and cover my head when he went off on one of his mad fighting trips. That's a man of living with him shortened mother's days." Dona stood up and caught Dudley by the arms.

"You see, we have to do something," Dudley stared at her for a full minute before he spoke. "I'd likely make him mad and he'd tell me to go home and play golf, but I'd do anything for you, D." He pulled her closer to him. "If I drag your Dad back from Three Rivers without his having killed anybody what will be my reward? His lips were eagerly near to hers now.

Dona smiled up at him. "What would you ask?" she jarried.

"You ask me that?" He pulled her against him. "What have I been asking for the past three months?"

Dona pushed him away. "You'll have to make a lot of preparations. She was smiling now. Dudley had come through with more credit than she had expected and she was ashamed of the thoughts that had been lurking in the back of her mind.

"Your answer first, my little lady." He caught and held her tightly.

"Whatever you ask, but you must get father to give up this wild idea of shooting someone." Playfully she shoved him away as he tried to gather her slender shoulders in a close embrace. "Your reward, sir. Knight, must wait upon your success."

Dudley shook her lightly and released her. "You are a hard taskmaster, Princess." He bowed with a wide sweep of his arm. "But your knight rides forth at dawn to do your bidding."

"At dawn and in my roadster. I am going to Three Rivers with you, sir."

"No you don't! This may be a case of hog-tying your fond parent and shipping him back to jail. This is a man's job and I refuse to allow the future Mrs. Wintors to be involved in it. You will sit right here in my office, and every morning or afternoon he will deliver a report on the progress at Three Rivers." Dudley patted his chest and struck a heroic attitude that was gravely comical.

Standing before her in his faultlessly tailored suit, his hair combed back smoothly and his tie knotted with careless perfection, Dudley Wintors looked more capable of braving the dangers of a rough mission. Dona was certain however that he had the strength to handle the job.

"Just the same I'm going. I'll stay at the company hotel and be perfectly safe and I may be able to help. Don't you want those where you can see me every day?" She arose and moved nearer with her face upturned.

"You go, lady," Dudley grinned. Secretly he was glad she was going. If she stayed she might locate this stranger, Black, and that was far from his desire. He was a little nervous and a great deal jealous of the dashing comman who had rescued Dona. Of course it had been his own luck to be playing golf at the precise hour when she had been kidnapped and the luck of a stranger to be standing on the sidewalk to see what happened.

"You'd better toddle home now and get ready. We'll have to start early." Dona patted his cheek and escaped before he could catch her. "This is one morning when I'll have something to get up for." Dudley smiled as he moved toward the door. After picking up his hat from the chair into which he had tossed it he faced her. "It would be fitting and proper for me to search until I find a murderous weapon like the one your Dad was using. I suppose." He grinned as he slid his hat firmly over his smooth hair.

"It would not. You are to prevent shooting—not to help or do any yourself." Dona spoke severely and earnestly.

"No danger of me shooting anyone! I'm no plainsman. Gunning is out of my line. If there is any knight I'll have to use my fists or a club." He opened the door. "Got one for a good night?"

Dona slipped forward and placed a swift kiss on his lips, then turned to the stairs and ran.

Dudley Wintors walked down the white stairs, his hand on the door knob as though the hard stare had been common with him. He solved the steeper chauffeur in the car at the curb and shouted happily. "Step on her Tom! We're headed home."

PA'S SON-IN-LAW

"OH BOY, DID GOOD OLD MAJOR DENIGUE COME TO OUR RESCUE OR NOT? HUH? SAY, I'LL BET THAT POLICE CAPTAIN WILL WORRY PLenty ABOUT WHAT HE'S GONNA GET FOR PINCHIN' ME FRIENDS OF THE PRESIDENT!"

"H-H-NOW WE ALL SAME LEAVE THIS TOWN PLITTY QUICK, YEP?"

"LEAVE? I SHOULD SAY NOT! YOU FORGET WE'VE GOT WORK T' DO HERE—BEFORE WE CAN LEAVE SNUBBVILLE, WE GOTTA GET THAT YOUNG LADY'S SWEETIE, JERRY JIMMIE'S OUTA JAIL. I PROMISED HER I WOULD!"

"THEY WERE T' BE MARRIED THIS WEEK AN' SOME OLD GOOT BY TH' NAME O' SQUIG'S HAD HIM PINCHED FOR SWIPIN' MISS SQUIG'S JEWELRY! AFTER TALKIN' TO TH' YOUNG FELLA IN JAIL, I DON'T BELIEVE HE DID IT, BUT—HOW'D I GONNA PROVE HE DIDN'T!"

"COME ON—TH' FIRST THING T' DO IS T' HUNT UP A GOOD LAWYER AND GET HIM T' FIND OUT ALL TH' DETAILS OF TH' CASE FOR US! TH' JEWELRY TH' DOUGH FOUND BURIED BACK THERE IN TH' WOODS, IS TH' STOLEN STUFF, BEYOND A DOUBT, BUT—WHO BURIED IT THERE?"

"MISSY FELLA WHO SWIPED!"

DIANA DANE

"GEE—NO JOB AGAIN TODAY. I JUST CAN'T GO ON LIKE THIS! NO MONEY AND NO FOOD!"

"THEY SAY IT'S ALWAYS DARKEST JUST BEFORE THE DAWN, ANGUS. BUT I CAN'T SEE ANY DAWN AHEAD OF US!"

"OH—THERE'S THE MILK ACROSS THE HALL, WHERE THE FOLKS ARE AWAY, OUT OF TEN BOTTLES, DON'T THINK THEY'D MISS ONE. DO YOU, ANGUS?"

"OH! WHY—IT'S GONE! SOME DIRTY SNEAK—THEIF STOLE IT!!"

SCORCHY SMITH

"IT IS VERY QUEER, ROSA THAT WAGS DON'T LIKE THIS SCORCHY SMITH YET YOU INSIST TO COME AND WATCH!"

"I MAY NOT CARE FOR SUGAR HE BUT YOU KNOW VERY WELL THAT I AM ALWAYS INTERESTED IN THE FLYING!!"

"SI SENOR AT LA JOLLA"

"PRONOUNCED LA HOY YA"

HOMER HOOPEE

"WHERE IS THE SENOR HOOPEE? IS HE NOT GOING TO RIO PICO WITH US?"

"NO! WHILE THEY'RE FIGHTIN' HE'S GONNA TRY TO GET IN AND RESCUE THE WHITE QUEEN OF THEM ZACATOS."

"QUE LASTIMA—QUE LASTIMA! HE IS TOO BRAVE HOMBRE! HE'S NOT FEAR TO GO BUT HE'AVR WILL WE SE HEEM AGAIN!!"

"MY JOB RIGHT NOW IS TO GET THE WOMEN OUT AND IT LOOKS LIKE WE'RE GONNA MAKE IT! WE'VE BEEN GOING FOR OVER AN HOUR AND NOBODY CHASIN' US YET!!"

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

HEH! HEH! PRETTY GOOD! PRETTY GOOD!

I HEARD A STORY TO-DAY ABOUT A SCOTCHMAN WHO WALKED INTO A DAIRY AND ASKED FOR HALF A POUND OF BUTTER WRAPPED IN TO-DAY'S PAPER

WELL, I MAY BE AWFULLY DUMB BUT I DON'T SEE ANY POINT TO THAT

YOU DON'T GET IT?

NO, I DON'T

DID YOU EVER GET A CHANCE HEAR THAT THE SCOTCHMAN NEVER THREW MONEY AROUND RECKLESSLY? WELL, THIS SCOTCHMAN WANTED TO SAVE THE PRICE OF A NEWSPAPER, NOW DO YOU SEE IT?

IS THAT ALL THERE IS TO IT? WELL, I THINK IT'S PERFECTLY SILLY!

'Grand Hotel' Opens 3 Day Stand At Ritz

'Grand Hotel,' as screened today at the Ritz theatre, is a distinct triumph of the talkies. The completed product, viewed as a whole, is bigger than its amazing cast, story directorial effort and production. It is quite the most artistic and worthy offering the screen has known since the advent of talkies, if not inclusive of the silent days.

If for only the cast, boasting such stars as Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Jean Crawford, Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone, and Jean Hersholt, the picture of the famous Viceroy Baum play would have much to commend it as an outstanding picture.

Sets Unusually Lavish

But, in addition to the magnificent characterizations, it has the superb mounting of imposing sets, splendid photography and admirable direction by Edmund Goulding. Goulding, missed nothing in his consuming desire to bring 'Grand Hotel' to the screen as a vividly symbolic human document.

The film version cannot be called a mere copy of the stage play. It is vastly more than that, in fact, it is a combination of the original novel and the best that the theatre piece afforded. It moves swiftly and permits an unlimited scope of action, yet it never goes outside the hotel in which the entire story is unfolded.

No one can afford to miss this great film. It will stand, in this reviewer's opinion, alone for many seasons.

The picture will be shown again Friday and Saturday at the following hours:

First show 2 p. m.
Second show 4 p. m.
Third show 6 p. m.
Fourth show 8 p. m.

Dancer Marries To Avoid Filing Of Statutory Charges

PASSAIC, N. J. (UP)—A pretty blonde dancer was an involuntary bride Wednesday, forced to marry her sweetheart or face a statutory charge.

The girl, Ruth Ann Pennybacker, argued firmly in favor of free love before Police Judge Connant, but to no avail. "But why not?" she demanded. "Why can't I live my life in the way I want to?"

"Because you can't," retorted Judge Connant. "It is shameful, disgraceful."

"Very well," she told the judge. "I'll marry him, but I'll leave him as soon as the ceremony is over."

But the judge refused to consent to that with the curt remark: "If you marry this man you must promise to cleave to him. Do you understand that?"

"All right," sighed the girl. "I'll marry him and I'll cleave."

Then Miss Pennybacker unwillingly became the bride of Calvin Friel, with Judge Connant officiating.

Testimony Supporting Proration In East Texas Is Presented

HOUSTON (UP)—Testimony supporting the railroad commission's oil proration program in East Texas was offered Wednesday in federal court, where three judges heard the suits of independent operators for injunctions against the state.

The commission opened its defense after the plaintiffs had spent two days introducing expert testimony of geologists and petroleum engineers who described production problems in the field and the relationship of water encroachment to them.

Assistant Attorney General Maurice Cheek called E. O. Bueck, petroleum engineer, as the first witness. His testimony was in support of the commission's contention that production in the field is controlled by "water-head drive."

MARID, (UP)—The Graf Zeppelin passed over Madrid at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday for the first time on its commercial flight schedule to South America. The ship was on route to Friedrichshafen from Pernambuco.

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (UP)—Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau, making a leisurely airplane flight around the world with three companions, arrived here Wednesday at 12:32 p. m. from Nanyoa.

New York Advertising Club Wants Congress to Convene

NEW YORK—Grover A. Whalen, president of the Advertising Club of New York, declared Tuesday night that advertising men and labor officials who recently sponsored a seven-point program for business recovery will request a special session of Congress this fall to further the plan.

Whalen outlined the plan at a meeting of the League of Advertising Women of New York and asked the members' support. He said the program will be considered further at a conference of labor and industrial leaders next month, after which the request for a special session will be made.

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Troops were sent to Reforma, in the state of Tabasco, Wednesday to suppress a small, local movement against the state government, according to dispatches to the newspaper Universal.
