Last night the Cosden Ollers, the trongest club in West Texas mateur basketball last season and strengthened by the acquisition of three former high school players, ran up against George Brown's basketeers, district champions for two consecutive years nd top-heavy favorites to repeat. It was expected to be more just an ordinary game, for between the Refinerymen and the, schoolboys has always existed a rivalry, and their games in other years have been closely contested.

The Bovines captured last year's clash by a score of 30 to 21, but the Ollers were without the services of their star for-ward, Blondy Steelman, for the game. This season the Red and White Cosdenites, with a starting lineup composed en-tirely of veterans of high school and college teams who stand at least six feet in their socks, believe they had a combination that would sweep ev-erything before it. The Steers, Spike Henninger had said, would be just a gentle breeze.

The proposed amendment will in effect restore the state to the former "local option" status, except for the saloon restriction.

The amendment, as proposed, de-fines beverages of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content as intoxicating. This leaves regulation of beer sales to the legislature. The provision that there shall be no saloons is made in a section call-ing for sales only in packages of one quart to one gallon, not to be consumed in whole or in part on the premises. An expection is made to permit the sale and consumption with meals at hotels.

It was pointed out in discussion that it will be necessary to change that it will be necessary to change the wording in some manner to see that the anti saloon section is made to extend also to beer, all members appearing to make the saloon ban complete.
