Revolutionary Heads Retaliate With New Ruling

MEXICO CITY, April 8. (P)—Dispatches to Excelsior from Aguas Calientes state General Calles, federal commander-in-chief, has passed through that place en route to Matamoros to direct the west coast Sinclair-Sonora campaign of the government forces against the rebels.

DEL RIO, April 8. (P)—Reports of an impending attack by rebels on the border village of Villa Acuna, opposite Del Rio, meet with conflicting views on the border here.

Luis Puga, Mexican consul general, said the revolutionists would have to travel 500 miles through a great desert where there is no food or water in order to reach the border here. In addition they would have to force their way past a federal garrison at Sabinas, 50 miles south of Villa Acuna, as well as loyal troops at other points. Adolfo Gutierrez, editor of La Popular, a Spanish language newspaper here, and who sympathizes with the rebels, said the states of Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, and Tamaulipas will be in active revolt within three days and that all border towns are to be attacked. He declared Villa Acuna would be attacked by 300 men under General Dosilio Hernandez.

BOGALES, Ariz., April 8. (P)—Mexican revolutionary leaders tightened up immigration rules here today, barring all Americans without passports. The move admittedly was in retaliation for an order by United States immigration authorities denying rebel officers permission to enter this country. Heretofore Americans have been admitted into Mexican territory merely by identifying themselves as citizens of the United States.

AUSTIN, April 8. (P)—Governor Dan Moody did not give permission for the Mexican officers interned at El Paso to come across Texas for reentry into Mexico at Eagle Pass, he said here today.

The United States government invariably asks Texas permission for troops of another nation to pass through this state, even in the case of a soldier of another country to fly his plane across the state, Governor Moody said.

"As far as I am concerned, I am opposed to armed troops of any other nation passing on Texas soil. Before I would give my permission for them to pass they would have to be disarmed and guarded by troops of either the regular army or the Texas militia.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; cooler in east portion tonight, with frost probable in the Panhandle; warmer in north and west portions Tuesday.

—AND A SMILE

NEW YORK—The alarm clock ought to be abolished alongside with morning sitting-up exercises and cold showers, in the belief of Dr. Jesse Williams, professor of physical education at Teachers' college, Columbia university; the way to get up on time is to go to bed early; the way to keep fit is to walk four miles daily, golf, swim, play tennis or ride horseback.

Dry Chief Freed From Prison

Released from prison after serving 53 days of a 60-day sentence imposed by the Indiana supreme court for contempt, Dr. E. S. Shumaker, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Indiana, was greeted by many friends. His sentence in the Indiana State Prison Farm at Putnamville was shortened seven days for good behavior. Shumaker is shown in the inset and at the top as he left the prison doors with his wife beside him. Below is a group of dry workers that gathered to meet him.

STATE INSPECTOR DECLARES GRAY COUNTY SCHOOLS VERY GOOD—APPROVES HESSEY PLAN

Gray county's rural schools are among the best in the state, J. C. Griffin, state supervisor of rural schools, declared Saturday after he had visited 12 rural schools. Mr. Griffin is making a survey of all schools in this district and to date has found Gray county's system to be much superior to any he has visited. He made his visits Friday in company with County Supt. John B. Hessey.

In a report to State Supt. S. M. N. Marrs, the inspector said that Gray county's equipment in rural schools was excellent and that the teachers were the best obtainable. He also recommended that McClelland school be granted $326 additional at state aid; Huntsman school $268, and Grandview school $690 to carry on teaching to the end of the school year. Those schools had applied for additional aid to finish the term. When informed that teachers employed in rural schools next year would have to present a health certificate, Mr. Griffin said he was pleased that the step had been taken. He informed the state superintendent, and advised that letters be sent to every county in the state recommending that step be taken. "I was surprised that such a standard of efficiency existed in the Panhandle," Mr. Griffin told Supt. Hessey. "In another year Gray county will be one of the ranking counties of the state."

Members of the Boy Scout adult leadership class, which has been perfected into a permanent organization with two troops used for a model, will attend the banquet. George E. Wolfe is scoutmaster of the new troop. Scott Barcus is senior patrol leader and Harry E. Hoare is scribe.

Mrs. A. W. Yell and Mrs. Robert McCoy of White Deer are business visitors in the city today.

CARPENTERS' UNION PROTESTS PUBLICATION BY MAGAZINE OF ERRONEOUS FACTS ABOUT PAMPA

A strongly worded letter to the American Railway Journal, which recently published a news article describing Pampa as the small town it was three or four years ago, has been prepared for submission to the magazine by a committee from the Carpenters' local. The body of the letter follows:

"We, a committee of three, have been appointed by Carpenters' local 1141 of Pampa, Texas, to give some facts about the real size, conditions, population, etc. of the City of Pampa.

"We note by your journal some statements that were true of this place five years ago, but which are entirely erroneous as to present conditions.

"Pampa, Texas, is now the county seat of Gray county, with a population of over 12,000 in the immediate vicinity. We have a school attendance of over 2,100, in four ward schools, high school, and fine new brick auditorium.

"We lead the world in production of carbon black.

"Gray county leads the Panhandle in production of oil, being over 30,000 barrels.

"And about the gas 'soon coming to this town.' We have had gas in any quantity for several years. Your much talked of Kansas City gas line originates here. We have eight casinghead gasoline plants working night and day. This place is IN the oil fields and, on the map, also on the main line of the Santa Fe and the Clinton and Oklahoma Western which is just finishing its new line.

"Pampa's shipping of hard wheat is largest in the United States from a single railroad.

"We have local unions here with an enrollment of over 600 members.

"We have noted carefully your statements about our conditions here, also noted the advertisements solicited under the word of 'labor.' Now, as you have given anything except the facts as they existed at the date of your publication, we demand that you get the facts as they are and publish them and give the people who paid for the advertising in your paper a fair deal."

Committee: F. Henry, J. A. Warren, Jas. W. Boren.

Three Jurors Are Chosen in Trial of Jeff Guthrie

At noon today three jurors had been selected for the trial of Jeff D. Guthrie, city officer, charged with murder in 31st district court. Fourteen talesmen had been examined when court recessed for dinner. A special venire of 75 men reported this morning. Guthrie is charged with the fatal shooting of Grover B. Landers, South Pampa cafe man, last fall. He has secured the firm of Cook, Smith, McLynn, and Teed to defend him. A jury will probably be chosen this afternoon and the trial may be started in a night session.

Will Attend Dinner Honoring Clint Small

Many local citizens will drive to Wellington Wednesday evening to attend a banquet honoring Senator C. C. Small. The senator distinguished himself in his first legislative term by having the Small land bill, validating patents on Panhandle land, passed over Gov. Dan Moody's veto. Senator Small addressed the Lions club here last Thursday afternoon on legislative needs of the Panhandle. He was also a guest at the Panhandle-Plains Historical society banquet in Canyon Friday night.

Mrs. P. O. Sanders spent Sunday in Amarillo. Mrs. Otto Studer and Mrs. John Studer went to Amarillo Saturday.

Huge Aviation Firm Is Being Formed

NEW YORK, April 8. (P)—Wall Street heard today that the organization of a new $140,000,000 aviation accessory corporation to unite the aviation interests of several large companies was to be announced soon. It will take the form of a holding company which will own the Bendix corporation, Stromberg Carburator company of America, Scintilla Magneto company and a new corporation now being formed to take over developments of Delco Remy, a General Motors subsidiary making aircraft appliances.

The nucleus of the proposed organization, it is understood, will be the Bendix corporation. General Motors will hold 25 percent of the new company's stock. The undertaking will involve no public financing, as it is proposed to acquire the individual units through an exchange of stock.

Cutaway Chevrolet Chassis Is Coming

A cutaway chassis of the new Chevrolet Six, showing all moving parts, will be on display at the Culberson-Smalling showrooms tomorrow afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock. "It's Like This"

ROUGH STREETS are not conducive to good will, either of local citizens or visitors.

Pampa's unpaved streets are rough. No verification is needed. Unworked streets soon become hard as flint after a rain, and the bumps almost require dynamite for their removal.

There are reasons for all things, of course, but this does not lessen the disagreeableness of rough streets and the desirability of removing those reasons.

Conditions of some of the main thoroughfares have been all too reminiscent lately of the boom day period. If the city needs more grading equipment it should be purchased; well kept streets are primary assets, to come before some of the other refinements that have been mentioned.

GOVERNOR MOODY felt impelled to kill the law which would have required permission of county commissioners to miss a town of more than 200 inhabitants in the construction of a state highway.

It was, in some respects, a "local" measure. It grew out of the arbitrary action of the state highway department in missing or going around small towns. It represented the dissatisfaction of the people affected.

The state highway department opposed it of course, because it would have hampered their policy of building straight between control points, irrespective of towns missed. Governor Moody vetoed the bill in the full knowledge that it would, as one Austin writer termed it, draw opposition from "the forks of the creeks". We suppose that Pampa, near the North Fork, answers the general proposition.

Moody at least acted consistently in killing the bill. He is an advocate of the statewide bond issue, and should the state take over all construction of paving on designated roads, or routes to be designated, it would be irksome to have to ask permission from county commissioners as to routes. The bill in question may not have been the best way to convey the idea and obtain the redress desired, but it certainly was the answer to the prayer of many small communities.

RANDALL COUNTY farmers reversed the usual order of procedure Saturday night when they met in Canyon and entertained the business men of the town.

It is a good idea. The modern farmer is articulate. He is a business man, who is not only able to raise the component parts of bread but is able to sit at the tables of business and ask for bread, and butter too.

Being always talked about, legislated about, extolled, befriended, and sometimes betrayed is not a dignified profession. The modern farmer, particularly in this section, deserves to be recognized as a business man, and to be heard as a business man.

Why cannot the farmers band together and state their own case? Why can't they bring their problems down to local examples? They can.

Everyone is willing to help the farmer—providing the help is limited to advice. Should the farmer do the asking, he would ask for something more concrete. It would be closer home. Diversification, with its attendant advantages and difficulties, would take on a different light.

The farmer is forever being "helped" and entertained. It is just as logical for him to do some of the entertaining and to define help without the quotation marks.

We suspect business men would achieve better relations and better trade openings if they had opportunities for talking with and hearing farmers as a group.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON — Dr. Juan Bautista Sacasa, new minister from Nicaragua, has come here in pursuance of his old hobby, crusading for happier relations between the United States and countries of Central America.

That was how he happened to enter politics; that was what indirectly elevated him to the constitutional presidency of Nicaragua. Long before Hoover was heard of, Sacasa was heard of, Sacasa was carrying the goodwill torch around in his own country, despite what seemed to be the efforts of recurrent landing parties of American marines to shoot it from his hands.

Dr. Sacasa is a physician. He has what might be called an excellent bedside manner which will do him no harm as a diplomat.

He graduated from the Columbia University Medical School in New York and was an interne at Columbus Hospital. He acquired an admiration for the United States along with the conviction that it was nowhere near as anxious to grab territory and oppress small nations as some Nicaraguans believed.

Lectured His Patients Promulgation of that idea among other physicians and among his patients became his hobby after he returned to practice in Nicaragua. A man on the operating table, just before the anaesthetic, could never be sure that he wouldn't first have to listen to a goodwill lecture by Dr. Sacasa.

So great was his fame for that sort of thing that, while American marines were in Nicaragua, in 1919 he was chosen by a coalition of parties to go with Salvador Calderon Ramirez to Washington, explain Nicaraguan conditions to the Wilson government and seek moral support for a fair election in 1920. Wilson sent a commissioner to observe the election and the commissioner found that about 30,000 fraudulent votes had been cast to elect the Conservative candidate. But, thanks to the convenient death of President Diego Chamorro in 1923 and another marine intervention, there were fair elections in 1924 and 1928 which elected Liberal candidates.

Marines Kept Him Out Sacasa, as everyone knows, became constitutional president through his vice-presidency upon the abdication of President Solorzano after the Chamorro coup d'etat. He was kept from office by American marines, but his gallant fight against the Chamorro-Dias government obtained for Nicaragua a few million dollars' worth of free advertising and finally resulted in a victory for Sacasa's ideas and ideals. And now here he is.

He turns out to be a tall, slender, graceful man, just short of six feet, with hair half gray and with all the Latin American's sense of humor. His air of distinction is well placed, for he was the foremost physician in Nicaragua, head of the national medical faculty and dean of the Medical School at the University of Leon. He is very happy in the triumph of his party and of justice in Nicaragua.

In an interview, Dr. Sacasa noted with satisfaction the tendency, especially in Central America, to get away from revolutions. He pointed to the recent failures of rebels in Mexico and in Guatemala.

"The spirit of the Nicaraguan people is now directed toward the blessings of peace," he said, "and the rest of Central America is very quiet. The people have learned what sufferings are brought on by revolutions and they won't stand for being used as pawns merely to satisfy political ambitions. The spirit of liberty is as strong as ever, or stronger, but it cannot be prostituted to force unless there is real oppression."

Aviators were not the only fliers Saturday. The wind boosted even the 198-pound Troy Stalls high over the pole vault bar, and it for a time looked as if they would have to stop the event for lack of longer poles.

New York society folk are conducting "mbre sleep" campaigns. Some of them go to church.

TWINKLES

Back on the job. Twink was frankly busy during the P. T. A. convention and school meet, although he can't remember that he did much in particular. Anyway, it was a good convention and we believe the visitors were made to feel their welcome.

This country wants no aggressive war with Mexico. Any other neighbor which bombed our cities and sniped our citizens, intentionally or unintentionally, would be entered and subdued in short order. But you don't go to war with bandits, although it may become necessary to chase one faction or the other, or both, away from the border.

It is reliably reported that Pampa folk are considerably more arming than they were before the tri-motored creation came to town. At least many are airing their minds on the subject.

As a rule we oppose the encroachment of government into purely private business, but if the government wants to go into wholesale fingerprinting business we will offer no opposition.

Every child ought to be fingerprinted and his birth registered. The action pays, and lack of registration may result in abuse of technicalities, approaching the land law activities in extent.

Plagues are not all in the past centuries. We will have 80 days of reports on Pyle's bunions, aches and pains.

On His Birthday McGraw Confident of His Proteges

NEW YORK, April 8. (AP)—John McGraw is convinced his New York Giants are improved and will be in the thick of the National League pennant struggle. McGraw, who celebrated his 55th birthday at Memphis yesterday, believes the Giants have their best chance in some years to make away with the league pennant. He thinks the Cubs are the most improved of the league's rivals, and St. Louis and Pittsburgh will make trouble.

Brooklyn's gift for hitting into double plays still is with them much to Wilbert Robinson's disgust. The Robins outthrew Cleveland and got most of the breaks as well at New Orleans yesterday, but they hit into four double plays and bowed to the Indians, 5 to 1.

Baseball fans will kill Babe Ruth with kindness yet. Sixteen thousand persons at Oklahoma City yesterday saw the Yankee down Oklahoma City 13 to 5 in a game called at the end of the eighth inning. In this frame the crowd eager to get as close to Ruth as possible, swarmed out on the field and nearly mobbed the big fellow. The game was called, but it took Ruth some minutes to get out of the field. As Ruth sought to force his way through the mob, some body started a cushion-throwing barrage. Finally with the aid of police and a taxi-cab driver, the Babe got back to his hotel with no more damage than a torn baseball suit.

Artie Nehf has joined the Cubs' physically fit coterie. He proved to Manager Joe McCarthy he is ready for the championship campaign yesterday by holding Houston to two singles in four innings of hurling. Aided by homers by Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson the Cubs walked away with the game 12 to 3.

MICHIGAN IS FAVORED IN BIG TEN BASEBALL

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—With Michigan a heavy favorite to retain the championship, the Big Ten baseball campaign breaks forth with a four-game card this week.

Indiana and Ohio state officials opened the hostilities Thursday, the Hoosiers upsetting the Buckeyes, 4 to 2, at Columbus.

Returning with its 1928 championship team intact, except for Bennie Oosterbaan, Michigan seems to be the standard of the race. The Wolverines are on their training trip now.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

The 1905 world champion of women tennis players has ambitions of wearing the same title again this summer. It was in 1905 that May Sutton, then a 16-year-old girl, went to England and won the women's world title on the tennis courts. Today the same girl, married for a number of years and with four children of her own, will be entered in the Wimbledon tournament—and her goal is the 1929 championship. It will be one of the greatest comebacks in all athletic history if Mrs. Bundy places high at the finish. And those who have watched her game in various California tournaments in recent months claim she is still a wizard with the racket. Accompanying Mrs. Bundy on this jaunt to England is her 13-year-old daughter, Dorothy. She has won numerous junior tournaments on the Pacific coast and will play in many of the handicap tournaments in England while her mother is competing in the big meets.

Overhead Game of Athens' Giants Was Never Solved

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—A team of young giants from Athens, Texas, with a distinctly futuristic style of play, today held the most cherished prize of high school basketball, the national interscholastic championship.

The title fell to the Texans Saturday night as they capped a spectacular week's campaign in the University of Chicago's eleventh annual tournament by a 25 to 21 decision over Oklahoma City.

Coaches and critics of basketball, who watched the Texans' march to the crown, were intrigued in its style of play, which they termed futuristic in pattern. Averaging approximately six feet two inches each, the Texans played a peculiar overhead game, which none of their opponents could solve.

This game with its high passes aimed at leaping mates is difficult, and the percentage of errors is high. For that reason, the champions were superior throughout offensively. Too, they covered rebounds of the basket with hawklike tenacity, tipping many of them back for field goals. On defense, too, they excelled. Their weight gave them more chances at being fouled and consequently more free throws, while they employed three or four men for defense purposes around their own goal.

Third place in the tournament, which attracted 40 teams from 33 states, went to the most picturesque team in the competition, Joist, Colorado. This team from a mountain village of 90 people was shoved out of the championship running by Classen high in the semifinals, but came back to win third place by defeating Jackson, Michigan, 21 to 17, after making a brilliant rally in the last period.

Bunion Route Is Over Mountains

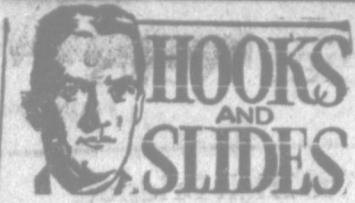

HANCOCK, Md., April 8. (AP)—C. Pyle's bunions have ups and downs this week. Beginning with today's trek to Cumberland, they must climb the Appalachian mountains to Uniontown Pa., which they will reach tomorrow.

Ed Gardner, dusky runner from Seattle, yesterday closed up the gap which separated him from John Salo, Passaic N. J., policeman by winning the lap from Frederick here to approach to within 21 minutes of the plodding policeman. Salo held to his narrow margin on total elapsed time by finishing second in the Frederick-Hancock lap.

Peter Gavuzzi of England held to third place, two hours behind Gardner with Arthur Newton, of South Africa coming up fourth, one hour further down the line, placing third in yesterday's lap.

Four more of the entries dropped by the wayside yesterday. The Belgian brothers, Karl and Jual Cools, Thomas B. Ellis of Hamilton, Ontario, and Martin Johansen, of Rockford, Ill., failed to start from Frederick.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

HENRY L. FARRELL When Frank Flournoy was making matches for Tex Rickard in the old Garden in New York, he received a telephone call from Jimmy Dougherty, the celebrated Baron of Liverpool, Pa. Dougherty among other things that he does for his own amusement, handles a string of boxers including George Godfrey, colored and considerable of a heavyweight fighter.

"Frank do men a favor, will you?" Dougherty said over the phone. "I'm taking a couple of my little fellows to the coast and I can't afford to take that Godfrey along. Get him some kind of a match. I don't care so much about the dough. Just get him enough to pay his grocery bills until I get back."

He Ain't No Man Within a few days Godfrey reported to Flournoy. "Here I am ready to go." was his simple and direct way of wishing himself upon the matchmaker.

"Mr. Jimmy says you are gettin' me a tough match and that I got to train."

DID YOU KNOW THAT— One of the Cornell football players received an offer to endorse a cigarette. He asked Romeyn Berry, graduate manager if acceptance would make him a pro. Berry said it wouldn't.

And he wanted to know what Mr. Berry would suggest. Berry said "Well Red Grange would take the dough. Lindbergh wouldn't." And the young man didn't take the dough. He didn't smoke anyway. Jack Sharkey, doing a hitch in vaudeville, refused to put any paint on his face. And he offered to slug a photographer who asked him to pose in front of a dressing table. The Athletics are burnt up about all the trips they had to make to play exhibition games. They said for five straight days they had to jump in a bus at six in the morning. And ride 150 miles to play punks. And had to live on hot dogs and pop.

I promised him I would do plenty of training. Flournoy tried to match him with some of the New York colored boys but they wouldn't even listen to him.

"That Godfrey ain't no man," they said. He's a big animal.

So Flournoy had to send out to Ohio for the celebrated artist, Tut Jackson. Tut took the match and Flournoy put Godfrey in training. He didn't need to be in such swell shape for Jackson, but Flournoy figured it was up to him to keep Gawge's grocery bills down.

No Running; Just Walking Godfrey had been around about ten days and had been drawing ten dollars a day for room and rations when Flournoy asked him if he was doing road work.

"Yas, sah, Mr. Frank," he answered. "Where?" Flournoy wanted to know. "In the park, Central Park, Mr. Frank," he replied. "Where in the park? Around the reservoir?" Flournoy asked. "Yas, sah. Right around the reservoir every morning."

"How many times do you run around the reservoir, George?" "I didn't say nothing about running Mr. Frank. I walks twice every morning before I eats. And it makes me plenty."

Spudders Show Up Well But Lose Most Exhibitions

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—The Wichita Falls Spudders began five days of routine training today. They embark next week-end on their final exhibition series. Games are scheduled at Wichita Falls Saturday and Sunday with Fort Worth to wind up the exhibition program.

Although the Spudders lost three games to the Chicago White Sox, fans saw their team play some good baseball. Outfielder Red Bennett's hitting and fielding featured in nearly every game and excellent pitching was turned in by George Payne, Mill Steen-grate, and Cy Smith.

The Houston Buffs were supposed to be "ripped" yesterday because Dutch Hoffman, catcher, was badly cut by Grimm's spikes Saturday as the Pirate first sacker slid into the plate. However, if the Buffs were nursing a grudge because they thought the spiking intentional they didn't show it. The Buffs had no trouble in winning, 12 to 3. Rose, Wachtel, and Webb, the three Buffalo hurlers issued 13 passes.

The fate of a number of young ball players on the Fort Worth roster hangs in the balance today as the first cut was planned. President Will Stripling, Manager Jake Atz and Jack Zeller met to decide who's who and why. It is expected most of the young Cats will go to Evansville in the Three-Eye League, Fort Smith, in the Western association, Phoenix in the Arizona state league and some club in the Lone Star or West Texas league.

Lengthy batting sessions headlined this week's training for Beaumont which looked none too impressive with the stick in their week-end games with the Dr. Peppers, semi-pro club from Galveston. The Exporters went the first hit Saturday, 4 to 6, with five hits, and took Sunday's game, 5 to 2, with eight hits, but most of the blows were scratch singles.

Nine Waco players have felt the edge of Manager Del Prat's axe which cut deep into the Cubs for the third time this week-end. Eight men were made free agents, and the ninth, Rusty Sixelton left hand hurler who captained the Baylor university nine last year, was farmed out to Vicksburg. The Cubs today prepared for games with Fort Worth Wednesday and Thursday.

Having whipped the Luling Oilers at Luling yesterday, 12 to 1, the San Antonio Indians took a day's rest because of a muddy field today, and Tuesday, they will go to San Marcos to meet Southwest Texas State Teachers' college. Pat Shea pitched the nine-inning route Sunday and yielded four hits.

Misses Fannie Florence and Nettie Sims spent the week-end at their home in Clarendon. Miss Mary Schell was their guest.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, Pampa Daily News,
 In your issue of April 1 you complained of jail conditions, and knowing you wish to be fair, and believing you were misled, I wish to remove the stigma placed on the county bastille and on its inmates.
 Not knowing your definition of "rough neck," I am not in a position to say whether or not there is or has been one of those persons confined in the Gray county jail during the last two weeks.
 We have had men who were merely held for "investigation," men whose guilt has not been proven; men who may possibly be wanted in other places and whose fear of the law appeared to have been as great as that of many others who have come here, who have not been incarcerated.
 The claim is made that "prisoners placed in jail for one day or a few days or perhaps over night, have appeared in justice court much the worse for wear," and because of that, or those facts, prisoners are accused of using "kangaroo" court measures.
 The truth of the matter, "It's Like This—": Some "prominent citizens with a falling of occasionally imbibing too freely" start on their occasional imbibing stunts. They have "no fear of" or "respect for" the law. And the more prominent they are the less fear or respect they have, not only for the law, but for the officers who enforce the law, and all other persons not so prominent.

Everybody comes in contact with is subject to drunken abuse and, in many instances, assaults are made on inoffensive persons. The sheriff and his deputies have far more trouble with and receive more abuse from the "prominent" citizens imbibing "too occasionally" than with all other classes of offenders combined.

The Gray county jail with its lack sanitary facilities and crowded conditions, is one of the cleanest places in the county and no other jail in Texas under the same set of circumstances can compare with it. And the "kangaroo court" with supplies furnished by the sheriff and his jailer are responsible.

Cleanliness is demanded of everyone incarcerated. That rule is enforced to protect the health of all. When it is broken it is always by "citizens with the falling of imbibing too freely," "It's Like This—": x x x Then the kangaroo court is called and the offenders are subjected to a sobering bath. Sometimes the offenders use threats and attempt to whip their way through; then they are stopped by one man, not by the kangaroo court. And the "penalty" imposed is not nearly as bad as that which would be administered among any class of human beings for like actions.

We know you, Mr. Editor, nor none of your readers would like to be subjected to drunken abuse and other annoyance. You would not wait until the blow landed to find out whether threats were real or not, would you? Go ahead and ride the overcrowded state of affairs at the jail. We are for you if you can enlarge the place ten times its present size in order that ventilation and circulation of pure air may be had and a place so men can exercise and digest their food. If you can do this we can find a place where we can segregate the prominent citizens x x x.

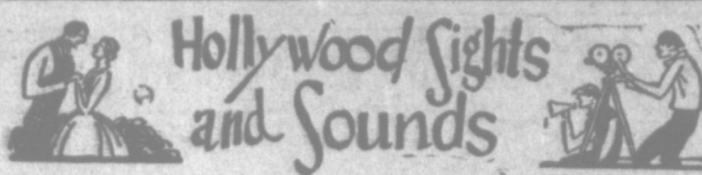

Sincerely yours,
 G. W. BOYD, On behalf of prisoners.

HOLLYWOOD—Many movie actors who boast "long-term" contracts go about with an air of trepidation as the end of each half-year approaches. If the producing company does not see fit, as a result of the player's work during the six months, to renew its option on his services for another period, then the actor loses that sense of security, born of the certainty of a weekly check, that goes with a contract player's position.

The free-lance player, on the other hand, works from picture to picture seldom certain that there will be a more or less lengthy "rest" between jobs.

That is why Guy Oliver is in a class by himself in Hollywood.

Technically this veteran character actor is a free-lancer and has no option renewals to fret over. But he nevertheless is always certain of employment and has been the last 12 years.

His only contract is a handshake, exchanged with Jesse L. Lasky, now vice-president in charge of production at Paramount, 12 year ago.

FEW HOME PRODUCTS

"Made in Hollywood" is the figurative stamp on most of the movies shown in the United States, but the same label apparently cannot be applied to the stars who play in them. Hollywood-born headliners are comparatively few, as shown in a canvass of the stars and featured players under contract to one large studio here.

Oakalosa, Iowa, Olathe, Kas., Paris British Guiana, and Hungaria are among the birthplaces of the company's contract players. Sixteen are American born, eight are from foreign countries. But there is not a native Californian on the list!

SIGNS OF PROGRESS

The unsung heroes of the talkies, the sound technicians, soon may be confronted with a new problem—that of remembering the names of all the devices, attachments and mechanical whatnots coming from the laboratories to aid in their battle on extraneous squeaks, squawks and groans in recording.

Said one to another as they tolled over the recording equipment preparatory to shooting a scene:
 "Give me the gadget that goes over the whatyoumaycallit."

Mrs. Milton Bradley returned to her home in Abilene after a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ferguson.

G. C. Youngman was able to leave the McKean & Connor hospital Saturday.

Miss Ida Hill and H. D. Jones were married at 11 o'clock this morning. The Rev. D. W. Trullitt, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony at his office.

Kenneth Hall of Tullis, a patient in Pampa hospital, is recovering satisfactorily from an injury suffered more than two weeks ago.

Earl Vernon, accident patient at Pampa hospital, is recovering satisfactorily from his injuries.

CHICAGO STORM DAMAGE $50,000 IN ONE MINUTE

CHICAGO, April 8. (AP)—A storm of tornadoic character, lasting less than a minute and whirling along a 100-foot path, did $50,000 damage in Chicago's south shore district last night.

Roofs were ripped from buildings, trees were uprooted and several garages were blown down.

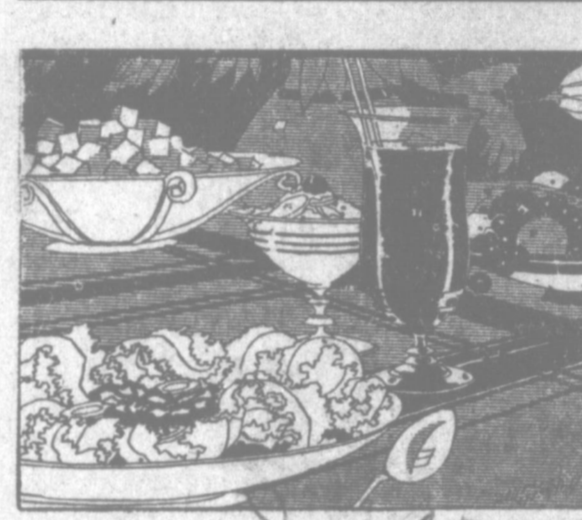

Mrs. Adalbert Barnham described the storm as "an unearthly shrieking." Homes were shaken and windows shattered.

FILIPINOS ARE ARRESTED FOR REVOLUTIONARY PLANS

MANILA, April 8. (AP)—Sixteen Filipinos were under arrest today charged with planning a "grand revolutionary army" to overthrow the present government and substitute an independent administration.

Police, however, say the scheme was not serious in its intent, and it probably would have gone little farther than the swindling of a number of natives into purchasing officers' commission in the "revolution."

Moody Has Fears For Measures He Plans to Submit

By R. W. BAREY Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 8. (AP)—There is considerable speculation around the capitol among legislators here as members of the house appropriations committee and others who drop in on business as to what the special session will accomplish in addition to passing money bills.

That Governor Moody has misgivings as to the attitude of the law-makers toward his program, when they return two weeks from today, is indicated by his disposition to withhold the appropriation bills until after action has been taken on his civil service, penitentiary concentration, and other proposals.

The appropriation bills will be ready for submission immediately upon convening the legislature. The senate bills have been ready since early in the regular session, and the house committee is now working on its measures. The senate is inclined to adopt the board of control budget, while the house is whittling the board's recommendations. The differences probably will necessitate a free conference committee.

The governor is anxious to submit a civil service bill that will meet with the approval of the lawmakers as well as a penitentiary concentration plan. The civil service bill was defeated by the house during the regular session and the penitentiary reorganization measure was lost in free conference.

Prevalent opinion is the civil service bill will never pass the senate, even though it should get through the house. Governor Moody is especially anxious to place state employees under the merit system and expressed keen disappointment when the regular session killed his bill.

Regulation of public utilities and fixing priority rights of takers of water from the public streams are two important subjects which are reasonably certain to be presented.

PAMPA TUESDAY APRIL 16

RICH GIRL - POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Mildred Lawrence

Pamela took advantage of her sister. Mildred had a foreboding of what was to come.

"But I've only just got home," Stephen heard her say. "I was delayed and I can't possibly go out again tonight. Can't you get somebody else?"

Evidently the person at the other end of the wire had plenty to say. It must have been convincing, too, for after a while Mildred agreed.

She came back to Stephen in a little flush of temper. He thought it must be coming to her.

"I've got to go down to the hotel this evening," she said apologetically. Stephen rose. "May I go with you?" he asked.

"Oh, not before dinner," she assured him. "There's plenty of time."

"Dinner's ready now," her mother called from the dining room. "Why don't you tell that pain in the neck to go to blazes..."

"Connie!"

"PAMELA wants me to be at the door in the reception room tonight," Mildred explained to her mother. "The Junior dance. They don't want anyone to crash it."

"But what can you do?" her mother questioned. "I know by sight all those who are invited," Mildred said.

"In, but not of, our best society," Connie sniffed. "Well, it's too bad she couldn't have let you know before the last minute."

"Oh, Pamela never thinks of anything before the last minute," Mildred said good naturedly. She didn't want Stephen thinking they were caty. But if he just knew Pamela!

"Are you talking about Pamela Judson?" he asked and Mildred felt as though he had read her mind. "Say, I know her. Sold her a car last fall. She saw a model in the show window that she liked. Walked right in and signed her check and then asked how much."

"Yes, she's just rolling in father's money," Connie remarked sarcastically. "I'll say she's rolling in a lot of it when she takes that sight out," Stephen said. "A four-speed baby, too."

"What... at?" Mrs. Lawrence gasped. "Er... I mean the car, Mrs. Lawrence. It takes some driving to handle four speeds."

Mildred got up to carry out their plates and bring in the dessert. Pamela wanted her early—there was always a lot Pamela wanted other people to do for her. Not that serving Pamela was any part of Mildred's duties, but she had begun that way to be obliging. Now she had a feeling that if she refused, her place at the hotel would not be secure. So long as Pamela did not carry her demands too far Mildred was willing to accede to them.

But tonight she was slightly resentful. Stephen Armitage was good company. Her resentment prevented her from hurrying, but after they finished their coffee she said they must go. "At the hotel, when she was saying good night to Stephen in the lobby, she saw his name go past her face and his smile suddenly broadened in delighted surprise. Mildred turned. Coming toward them, with a wave of jeweled arms and flying silver feet was a honey-haired girl in a red tulle evening gown. Pamela's unexpected calls and sudden demands upon Mildred's time were bitterly resented by Connie, who considered that

Evangelism Is Being Stressed in Christian Church

The First Christian church has launched upon a year of evangelism, and within the last month twenty have been added to the membership of the local church, most of these being by baptism. The minister, James Todd, Jr., made the following statements:

"For the last year and a half attention has been given to the planning of and erection of the first unit of the new building, which is devoted to educational work entirely. Then after entering the building we have spent much time in working out an adequate religious educational program. A board of education has been elected to perfect a five-year educational program. We are well pleased with the progress that has been made in this department of the church, and now for this year we plan to devote our energies largely to evangelism.

"The meeting to begin April 28th conducted by Evangelist A. G. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. O. Fred Hanna of Enid, Okla., is a part of this evangelistic program. We made particular effort to arrange the date so that it would not conflict with the special evangelistic effort of any other church in the city. The meeting will continue three weeks and with the two large audiences of yesterday and the increasing interest the year for evangelism is getting a splendid start."

Aged Minister Is Charged With Killing His Wife

TERRELL, April 8. (AP)—The story of how Miss Nora Simpson fought for her life and saved it by wresting an axe from her aged father was told at a preliminary hearing for the Rev. J. F. Roberts here today before G. W. Sherrock, justice of the peace, on charges of killing his wife, Mrs. Sallie Roberts, 71.

Mrs. Roberts was hacked to death with an axe today at the Roberts' home here. One blow cut her jugular vein, and the other cut a deep gash in the back of her neck.

She had been caring for her husband, who two months ago was stricken with paralysis. Today he became violent, according to testimony at the trial. An axe was obtained in the back yard, and the killing followed.

Neighbors heard the screams of the daughter when she wrested the axe from her father, and officers were called.

Simpson said it was possible that a sanity hearing would be granted in the near future.
