Mexican President Has Contrary Ideas On Booze

MADISON, Wis., April 17. (P)—By a vote of 66 to 33, the assembly today passed a bill to repeal the state prohibition enforcement law. The measure has yet to go to the senate.

The action of the lower house was in response to the overwhelming vote of the people in a referendum April 2, for abolition of the law.

No difficulty was anticipated in passing the measure by a majority of the assembly in favor of repeal. The attitude of Governor Kohler is not known.

MEXICAN PRESIDENT TO FIGHT 'DEMON RUM'

MEXICO CITY, April 17. (P)—President Emilio Portes Gil, moved today to rid his nation of "demon rum."

A tremendous educational program designed to wean Mexicans from whiskey bottles and pulque cups, will be set in motion at once. The advantages of water and milk, much of which in Mexico is obtained from goats, will be taught the people.

The president does not contemplate prohibition in any sense; there will be no enforcement of obligatory abstinence. State and city governments, agrarian and labor organizations, and civic bodies throughout the country merely were brought in a statement to start an anti-drink campaign.

The chief points on the program suggested by the president were refusal by city and state governments to sanction new "vice centers," not even to replace those closed, requirement of one hour a week in all public schools to lectures on the rum evil, and development of sports to take Mexicans' minds off of vice.

Schools Need Help of Business Men Rotarians Told

The influence of business men is one of the biggest factors in keeping boys in school, according to speakers at the Rotary luncheon at the Methodist church today. Odus Mitchell was chairman of the program, on which Scott Barcus and R. B. Fisher made talks. "The boy is often influenced by the opportunity to make money at a job which looks big at the time but which has no future," said Mr. Fisher in his discussion.

Visiting Rotarians were Bill Smith, Joe Farley, D. M. Warren and Cliff Braly; other guests included R. B. Fisher, Cash Stripliss and Allen Wilbanks.

Mrs. Shirley Cox and children of Mobeetie are visiting with Mrs. Cox parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reid.

Amarillo Guarantors Will Refuse to Pay Opera Firm in Full

AMARILLO, April 17. (P)—If Mary Garden and her Chicago Civic Opera company ever collect the $16,000 they claim due them for a performance here they will have to take the matter to court.

Sixteen Amarillo business men who signed a guarantee to bring the company here will not pay the money. They are convinced, after reading what editor Gene Howe wrote, that the opera company's performance here wasn't all it was cracked up to be. Figuratively speaking, they believe they were taken for a ride.

"We intend to show Amarillo has ceased to be a Toonerville and is populated by intelligent folks who know opera," declared Mayor Ernest Thompson, one of the guarantors. "We dare the company to bring suit."

Meantime, it was reported a lawyer for the opera company had registered at a hotel here. His coming was believed to have been inspired by a refusal of the guarantors to honor a draft for $16,000.

The present determined stand of the Panhandle folk had its inception in a series of fiery editorials by Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe. His remarks anent the opera company's performance drew down the wrath of members of several of the city's musical organizations and brought a threatened boycott to his paper.

CHICAGO, April 17. (P)—Directors of the Chicago Civic Opera company disclosed today that a scene deleted from the opera "Thais" in its production at Amarillo, Texas, a month ago had been cut in every performance since 1916. This was their answer to the challenge of the Amarillo guarantors to sue for the amount unpaid on the guarantee for the Amarillo presentation.

PANHANDLE EDITORS DECLARE THEY WILL BE PRESENT WHEN CONVENTION OPENS FRIDAY

With the assurance that Gene Howe, known as Erasmus Tack of the Amarillo Globe-News, will speak here at the B. C. D. banquet at the New Schmeider hotel Friday evening, the program for the Panhandle Press association convention is practically complete.

Entertainment features are being arranged by George Briggs and Paul Shepherd of the Board of City Development. The convention sessions will be held at the First Methodist church, where the Friendship class also will serve the luncheon Saturday for the Nunn-Warren Publishing company, which is giving it.

Roston Phillips will be in charge of the motor tours of the oil fields, to be made Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Joe Taylor, "State Press," of the Dallas News will be unable to attend, he has written J. D. Sugg, secretary of the association. Nearly all of the Panhandle editors have written that they will be present. The convention will open at 10 o'clock Friday morning and will be concluded Saturday afternoon.

NEW YORK BANDITS HOLD UP MESSENGER AND GET $38,000

NEW YORK, April 17. (P)—A band of robbers in an automobile today held up and shot a policeman and a bank messenger guarding a payroll and escaped with $38,000.

The holdup took place in the downtown west side. The robbers sped up beside the payroll car and shot Patrolman Joseph Clancy, and the messenger, John McKane. Clancy was seriously wounded, but McKane was hurt only slightly.

The money was in several bags and was being taken to the Bell Telephone laboratories.

Vote of Thanks Given Retiring Officer at Meeting

NEW BUDGET IS GIVEN APPROVAL

Re-Elections Are Made at Panhandle by Council

The resignation of E. D. McIver who for the last year has been executive of the Adobe Walls council of the Boy Scout movement, was received and accepted by the executive board of the council last night at a meeting in Panhandle. Mr. McIver's resignation was accepted with a rising vote of thanks for the services he has rendered during his term as executive of the council.

The retiring officer stated that he was resigning to enter business for himself and that he believed he could render a greater service as a supporter of the movement. He said that he desired to give his family more of his time than has been possible in the past.

Mr. McIver came to this territory as executive of the newly organized Adobe Walls council one year ago. Since that time additional Scout troops have been organized in Pampa, Panhandle, Borger, Canadian, White Deer and Miami. A leadership training school has been conducted in Pampa, Canadian, Panhandle and Borger.

Representatives from Pampa, Panhandle and Borger met in Panhandle last night to elect officers and prepare a budget for this year.

With the exception of treasurer, all old officers of the council were re-elected. J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle was re-elected president of the council. Other officers re-elected were W. L. Roberts of Borger, first vice-president; T. E. Rose of Pampa, second vice-president; M. K. Brown of Pampa, national council representative, and Scott Barcus of Pampa, scout executive. Phil Spidy of Borger was elected treasurer to replace Bob McCoy of White Deer. Vice-presidents from Canadian, Miami and White Deer will be elected by local committees.

The budget for the year was set at $5,500. It was made out on the basis of a three town council, but Canadian, Miami and White Deer will be asked to become active in the council again this year.

A committee composed of L. R. Roberts of Borger, Tom W. Brabham of Pampa, and Ira L. Carpenter of Panhandle, was appointed to secure a new executive to replace E. D. McIver. Those attending the meeting from Pampa were Tom E. Rose, Scott Barcus, George E. Wolfe and Tom W. Brabham.

Damage Suit in Hands of Jury

The damage suit of R. L. Parker against the City of Pampa went to the jury at 12:35 today. Parker is suing the city for $1,500. He claimed to have received injuries in an automobile when the car in which he and three others were riding overturned on South Barnes street last year.

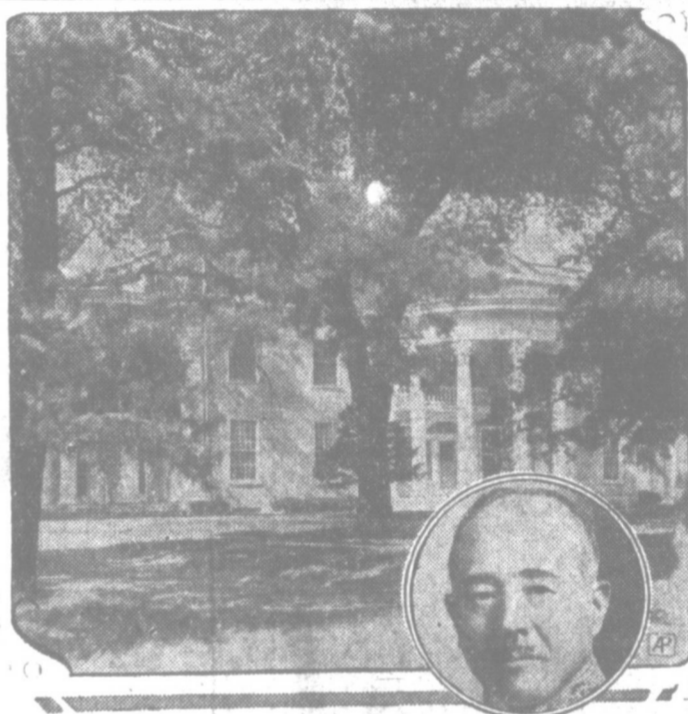

Parker claimed that the city was negligent in leaving a culvert open. Miss Mickey Todd was killed in the accident.

The title suit styled W. L. Haines, et al against W. M. Spangler, et al, was called for hearing this afternoon.

CHEESE IS STOLEN

Some person in Pampa is apparently fond of cheese. Last night a box car on a Santa Fe siding was entered and all that was taken was a five-pound package of cheese. Two other packages were opened but nothing but the cheese was taken. Entry was by prying open the door of the car.

JAPAN'S AMBASSADOR TO PLANT TREE AS ARBOR DAY KEYNOTE

Katsujii Debuchi (inset), Japanese ambassador, will plant a cherry tree on the University of Missouri campus May 5. J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska City, Neb., in 1872 originated the idea of setting aside a day for tree planting. His home (above) has been converted into the principal structure in a state park.

WASHINGTON, April 17. (P)—This spring's Arbor day army of tree planters is informally led by Katsujii Debuchi, the Japanese ambassador to the United States.

He will plant a cherry tree on the campus of the University of Missouri May 5. After the ceremony, Dean Walter Williams of the school of journalism of the university will present him a certificate which will formally make him a member of the American Tree association. Tree planting over the country is expected to be stimulated by the event.

When the prince of Wales planted a tree in Central park, New York city officials of the association, interest was heightened in reforestation problems.

New ideas for Arbor day observances are being advanced this planting season, and the idea of setting out whole streets in the same kind of trees is being taken up.

The Mercer County Parents and Teachers' association of New Jersey is planting 49 Oriental Planes, a type of sycamore, along a road. There is a tree for each organization in the association.

First Banquet of Chamber May Be Held on May 6

May 6 has been set as a tentative date of the first of a series of banquets to be given by the Pampa Board of City Development and the Chamber of Commerce for its members. The banquets will be held at the Schneider hotel.

At the first meeting, A. B. Davis of Lubbock, manager of the Lubbock Board of City Development, is expected to be here and make the talk of the evening.

FOOTBALL RULING DEVISED

AMARILLO, April 17. (P)—A rule whereby inelegibility of a high school football player in district one would disqualify the player but not throw out games in which the player had participated, has been adopted by superintendents of the district. A schedule was adopted giving Amarillo five out of six games at home. Vernon will be the Sandies only out-of-town game. Superintendents met yesterday at Quanah.

PRECEDENT IS FOUND TO BE IN HIS FAVOR

Renomination Often Has Not Been Made in Cabinet

ONE POINT IS STILL DISPUTED

Connection in Business Challenged by McKellar

WASHINGTON, April 17. (P)—The senate judiciary committee after deciding today that Andrew W. Mellon had a right to remain in the Hoover cabinet without his nomination being resubmitted deferred until Friday a determination of whether his business connections would bar him.

WASHINGTON, April 17. (P)—The senate judiciary committee in special session today concluded that Andrew W. Mellon could carry on in the Hoover cabinet as secretary of treasury without renomination.

More than 100 precedents were found of cabinet officers who had continued in office from one administration to another without having their nominations again referred to the senate for confirmation.

Considerable discussion arose, however, as to the second phase of the resolution of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, questioning the right of Mellon to hold office in the face of an old statute forbidding the secretary of the treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.

The question also was raised over Mr. Mellon's connections with the Overholt Distillery corporation, of which he was at one time a stockholder. There is an old statute forbidding a revenue officer to be engaged in the whisky business.

North Gray Is Being Prepared for Paving by Stuckey

Rough grade on North Gray street was started yesterday by the Stuckey Construction company after the grade had been completed on West Frost street.

Grading work is being rushed so that paving operations may be started soon. It is planned to have most of the grade completed before paving is started so that when good weather prevails there will be no delays in the work. Five and six-inch vibrolithic concrete will be the type of paving used in the third program of 27 blocks. One block on East Francis street has been completed.

Pampa Covered At One Cost

With Pampa business conditions ideal for the spring sales drive, you can employ dominating space economically, for you need only one advertising medium to do the job in this city.

One of America's greatest chain store executives has said that where one newspaper covers two-thirds of a community, it ALONE, is capable of delivering the sales message to the whole community.

But, here in Pampa, The Daily News has been covering this community thoroughly and giving advertisers remarkable results. The coverage is far beyond that mentioned by the executive.

Ask the advertising department for information about the service The Daily News can give you in selling merchandise in the Pampa trade territory.

"It's Like This—"

Dictates of authorities, so-called, in matters pertaining to science change quite as often as those pertaining to styles. For instance, a few years ago there were those who believed that no liquids, or beverages, should be taken at meals. It was believed that action of the salivary glands was hindered by liquids.

Later scientists probed into the stomach to determine the exact reactions, and beverages at meals were restored to favor.

It comes as rather a pleasant shock to learn that at last an authoritative decision has been handed down regarding the alleged advantages to be derived from a morning routine of waking to an alarm clock, indulging in brisk setting-up exercises, and taking a cold plunge.

The fact is, Dr. Williams declares, that strenuous exercises are distinctly harmful, morning calisthenics being of benefit, in his opinion, only to the "physical illiterates", a phrase which he uses to describe those who know of no better way to get their exercises than to turn on the radio and go through a set of violent contortions.

What, then, is the proper procedure for arising? Dr. Williams advises one to "start the day leisurely and have some noise about what we do." That sounds much easier than the ideas of the average physical culture "expert".

Recent advice also is that the noise of an alarm clock, jarring the sensibilities into action, is harmful. Others tell us that sleep is unsound if noises are continually beating upon the ear, even though sleep appears satisfactory. But it is more jarring to be late to the office and catch static from the boss.

For aviation travel, dress as for a rail trip, advises a fashion critic. That sounds as if air transportation were becoming standardized and bereft of its romantic aspects, which encouraged use of sports costumes, headgear, and heavy clothing.

Aviation is bringing into use as rapidly as possible facilities for providing the ordinary comforts of air travel. It is logical, therefore, to dress no differently when preparing for a trip by plane. Conditions of the weather will govern, just as in rail or automobile travel.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — One may reasonably suspect, without being able to prove, that President Hoover whispered something in Secretary of State Stimson's ear concerning the decision about the social status of Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann.

Certainly the president would have handled the thing in no other way. He has never indicated that he took the rules and regulations of the Washington social racket very seriously, but has a distinct horror of anything that might make his administration appear ridiculous.

When all the diplomats in town began to hold serious meetings in an attempt to decide or find out where the vice president's sister ought to be seated at dinner, the question became more than of enough public interest to merit presidential attention.

An Embarrassing Job
The State Department is now relieved of an embarrassing job not only as to the Curtis-Gann case, but in future complications.

The State Department had passed the buck before, but never abandoned its willingness to arrange seating lists for Washington hostesses. But momentous questions have remained unsettled, such as whether the supreme court outranks the diplomatic corps and whether a cabinet wife is as socially important as a senator's wife.

Once at a judiciary reception at the White House the justices learned that the corps was to march in line before them and simple refused to come, though the reception was for them. One time later, when the judges were parked in front of the diplomats at memorial exercises in the Capitol, the dean of the corps protested to President Wilson. Now, at such functions, they are placed side by side and hostesses don't invite them to the same parties.

The cabinet and senate wives have worked out a semi-compromise whereby the former make the first calls, but with their husbands precede the senators and their wives at dinner.

These are the main items in the Washington precedence system which remain unsettled but there have been many bitter precedence struggles in the past, some of which required years for solution, dating back more than 100 years.

The vice president precedes everyone at all times, except the president; he is regarded as the personal social representative of the president at many functions. Curtis will usually be found going into dinner on the arm of his hostess while Mrs. Gann will commonly be on the arm of the host.

Have you noted that it is getting popular for the contracting parties to meet in Pampa for their weddings. It may be a good omen, for of the divorces being granted not many have grown out of local knot-tying.

Dawes didn't have much luck reforming the senate, and it is doubtful if he will have any more success if he tries to change the habits of the English.

TWINKLES

Strawberries are signs of spring—somewhere else.

Judging from the rival claims the enthusiasts are making about old fossils and ruins, it looks as if it is about time to throw up entrenchments and dig in for the summer.

Our idea of a real archaeologist is one who is willing to spend his vacation digging for bones, with the sun doing 100 degrees or more in the shade.

Our brave rifle club enthusiasts are making great claims about their ability to down Panhandle jackrabbits in short order. We will admit that we know more about the jackrabbits than we do the abilities of the men in question—and bet on the rabbits.

Have you noted that it is getting popular for the contracting parties to meet in Pampa for their weddings. It may be a good omen, for of the divorces being granted not many have grown out of local knot-tying.

Now Feels Finest in Twenty Years Declares Porter

"Sargon was a God-send to me, and I bless the day I first bought it; I feel like a new man for the way it worked in my case was marvelous," said J. F. Porter, of Keller, Texas. Mr. Porter is seventy three years old and has been a deacon in the Missionary Baptist church for fifty-two years. He is also a Mason.

"I suffered day and night for the past three years and had been told I had an ulcerated stomach, I thought I had cancer of the stomach, and had tried all sorts of treatments and spent sums of money trying to get well. My gall bladder gave me serious trouble and pain. A most severe pain would strike me about two or three o'clock in the morning and would continue for hours. My entire system was out of order. I was so constipated that I had to take some laxative almost every night.

"I put off buying Sargon for weeks because I knew there were so many bogus medicines on the market, but read so many endorsements for it from good people in Fort Worth that I bought some, and it has worked wonderfully for me. I would not believe such results could be accomplished unless I had had the experience myself. Those terrible pains are gone and I sleep the whole night through. My stomach is right now and I eat what I please. I am strong and full of life and feel twenty years younger. My gall bladder doesn't bother me; my liver is active, and I am no longer constipated. "I feel it is my duty to my fellowman to tell how Sargon has benefited me." Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fartere Drug Co.; and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co.—Adv.

ATLANTIC COAST STREWN WITH STORM WRECKAGE

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—The Atlantic coast from Maine to Virginia was strewn with wreckage today, piled up under the battering of a northeast storm. While wind and waves sank small craft, demolishing shipping and damaged shore structures along the coast, there was heavy snow in western New York and Pennsylvania.

In New York harbor a tug and two barges were sunk. Six liners were held outside the harbor waiting for the weather to moderate. The tide in the harbor rose to within a foot of the top of the battery wall and was close to the record.

The wind reached a velocity of 50 miles along the Maine coast.

NEUVO LAREDO TRAFFIC DEMORALIZED BY EDICT

LAREDO, April 17. (AP)—Traffic moved slowly today as motor owners continued their demonstration against an increased automobile license tax.

Of the 700 motor vehicles in Nuevo Laredo, only 11 had been licensed last night. Business was at a standstill, with more than 400 merchants closing their doors in sympathy with the movement. Saloons, cafes and drug store remained open.

The new motor tax prescribed by Governor Castellanos doubles the cost for service car drivers and is four times that formerly charged for all other machines.

STEER-PANTHER CLASH WILL FEATURE TEXAS OPENING

Civic Rivalry to Swell Crowds at Initial Conflict

DALLAS, April 17. (P)—Eight ball clubs, trained to a fine point, faced each other in four Texas cities today for the twenty-eighth renewal of the Texas league pennant marathon.

Dallas, San Antonio, Shreveport, and Beaumont played host to opening day crowds, the latter in a new $75,000 plant. Competition was keen for the President J. Doak Roberts cup, which goes to the city with the greatest inaugural day attendance. Houston won it last year.

Interest in North Texas was centered on the clash at Dallas between the Steers and the Fort Worth Panthers. Inter-city rivalry was expected to swell attendance.

Wichita Falls, runner-up last year and picked by a majority of critics to win the flag now held by Houston, was at Shreveport for an opening against Art Phelan's Sports, "dark horses" of the campaign. Manager Galloway of the Spuds starts the season with two-thirds of last year's powerful club.

The Houston Buffs, with only four survivors from the great 1928 outfit, but hopeful of reinforcements from the parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals, will help the hopeful Beaumont Exporters christen their new park. Manager Claude Robertson has assembled an improved team at Beaumont and fans of that city envisage a fight for the pennant. Frank Snyder, burly Buff pilot, is saying little and saying wood.

Del Pratt's Waco Cubs will test the strength of the rebuilt and renamed San Antonio Indians in the latter city. Few critics have picked either team to finish in the first division, but Pratt has issued warning that this club will make the Scriveners "eat their words."

Mrs. A. Sullivan of Amarillo Tells Trouble

HUSBAND HAS SUFFERED FOR TWELVE YEARS—COULD FIND NO RELIEF UNTIL HE TRIED ORGATONE.

"Orgatone has done my husband more real good and built up his general health better than anything else he has ever taken," said Mrs. Albert Sullivan, wife of a well known former employe of the City Service company for five years and residing at 705 North Lincoln street, Amarillo, Texas, the other day.

"My husband had been in poor health for about twelve years," continued Mrs. Sullivan, "and for the past three or four years has been troubled with his kidneys a great deal. His appetite was very poor and it looked like everything he would eat would sour on his stomach and form gas and cause him to feel miserable, and he finally got so rundown in health that at times he was not even able to do light work. He just seemed to suffer with dizzy headaches and fainting spells and finally had to give up his job entirely and was confined to the house. His kidneys certainly gave him a lot of trouble and he certainly suffered if ever a man did, while he doctored and used everything he could think of. Nothing he took helped him a bit until he started taking Orgatone."

"We had been reading about Orgatone and how so many people right here in Amarillo had gotten relief by taking it, so my husband decided to try it, too, and he hadn't taken over one bottle of it until he could notice that his appetite was picking up and that he wasn't troubled so much with sour stomach and gas, so he kept on taking it until now he is feeling entirely like a different person. He is never dizzy any more and has been greatly relieved of his headaches and those pains in his back. Orgatone certainly has given by husband strength, too, and he sleeps well at night now and his kidneys don't give him as much trouble as before taking first bottle of Orgatone and it just looks like he is showing more and more improvement every day. I am glad to speak a good word for Orgatone, because it has certainly done my husband a great amount of good."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret medicine but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Pampa, exclusively by City Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Other agents are City Drug Co., Berger.—(adv.)

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

Perhaps a wind at his back did help Claude Bracey, young Rice Institute sprinter, run the 100 in 9.4 seconds at a recent relay meet in Texas. Of course, this time won't be recognized as a world record for the short sprint, but it is convincing proof that the Texan must be considered one of the greatest sprinters of all times.

It was just a year ago that Bracey came into national prominence when he stepped off the 100 in 9.5 seconds. The wise ones said—"Yeah, the wind helped him."

Rice officials, however, laughed at that. They broadcast to the world that their athlete was no flash and that he would show that he could click in the 100 any time he started. And they sent Bracey to the intercollegiate at Chicago to put on a convincing act and he won the 100 in the remarkable fast time of 9.6 seconds to lead Hester of Michigan, Simpson of Ohio State and a number of other speedy ones to the tape.

Bracey's first two important races came on successive days this session. In his first he was clocked in 9.4 seconds; in his second 9.5. The first is a record, the second equals the current unofficial record.

It looks like he is the boy to watch in the big meets this year. Rice plans on sending its phenomenal sprinter to all important relays and championship meets and it will be a great battle when Bracey, Borah of Southern California, Simpson of Ohio State and other noted sprinters in college circles get together on the starting line.

Delayed Opening of Baseball to Be Attempted Today

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Eight rain-drenched teams in the eastern half of the major leagues prepared for a delayed opening today as western contenders presented a battle array for the second skirmish on that portion of the baseball front. Teams of the seaboard were still beset by cold and the threat of rain.

The Pirates, the Cardinals, the Indians, and the Browns turned back their opposition in the four opening battles yesterday, with the gayest picture unveiled in Chicago. Some 70,000 fans stormed the Wrigley citadel for a first peek at the Cubs, and about 50,000 of these gained admission to see the Pirates win, 4 to 3.

At Cincinnati, Grover Cleveland Alexander started his nineteenth National league campaign by turning back the Reds with five hits to win, 5 to 2. Red Lucas also held the champions to five blows, but some of these were bunched in the opening round for two runs and Chick Hafey hit for all the bases with one aboard in the sixth.

The Indians rallied through late innings, to win from the Tigers, 5 to 4, in 11 rounds as 15,000 Cleveland fans watched. Earl Averill became one of the few major leaguers to make his bow with a home run by driving one of Whitehill's shoots over the right field fence in the opening inning. Charlie Gehring cleared the same barrier two innings later.

Only a few St. Louis clients braved the elements for the opening of the Browns, who defeated the White Sox, 3 to 1, thanks to Sammy Gray's fine work in the box. Alphonse Thomas took the beating on behalf of the White Sox.

Prospects in the east today were that only the hardest and most experienced marchers would be able to withstand the rigors of the customary trudge to the various flagpoles and back. President Hoover stood ready to toss out the first ball for the Senators and the ambitious Athletics at Washington, and Mayor Jimmy Walker was prepared to perform the same task at the Yankee stadium, where the champions of the world awaited the Red Sox.

John McGraw was eager to get at the Phillies at Baker bowl, and the Braves and the Robins were willing to gamble against the piercing cold of a Boston mist, driven inland from the sea.

Second Group of Athletes Sailing to Foreign Shores

NEW YORK, April 17. (P)—The United States sends its second detachment of athletic talent to Europe aboard the Aquitania tonight, 24 hours after the arrival of the American Ryder cup squad at Plymouth, England.

Aboard the Aquitania will be Helen Wills and her tennis racquets, and Olenna Collett and her golf clubs.

Miss Wills is returning to scenes of past triumphs; Miss Collett, after three previous failures, is going to England for another shot at the British women's golf championship.

Miss Collett, the present American champion, plans to go direct from Southampton to St. Andrews, where the British women's titular play begins on May 13.

Miss Wills, national women's champion and holder of the Wimbledon and French titles as well, will defend her British and French titles and participate in matches against French, Dutch, and German teams.

WANT STREBLING FIGHT

NEW YORK, April 17. (P)—If all goes well, the opening gun in the Dempsey-Fugazy outdoor boxing campaign will be fired at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, with W. L. (Young) Stribling, Southern heavyweight, and K. O. Christner of Akron as the principals. Dempsey is attempting to get the boys to sign on the dotted line.

Berlenbach Will Be Wrestler Again

NEW YORK, April 17. (P)—Now the fistic trial is barred to him, Paul Berlenbach is going back to his first love—wrestling.

The former light heavyweight boxing champion, who smashed his way to the top of the division and back to the preliminary class, hopes to gain a license as a professional wrestler. Berlenbach was an amateur wrestler of note and member of the Olympic team before fisticuffs found him. He is only 28 years old. He won the 175-pound boxing title from Mike McTigue in 1925, losing it to Jack Delaney in 1926.

Babe Ruth Has Simple Wedding

NEW YORK, April 17. (P)—Babe Ruth and Mrs. Claire Hodgson, former actress, were married today at a nuptial mass in St. Gregory's Roman Catholic church.

The ceremony was at 5:55 a. m., 35 minutes ahead of the time announced last night.

The church was well filled, and a crowd stood about the entrance in a drizzle of rain to see the famous ball player and his bride.

Although Ruth made no announcement, friends said no wedding trip was planned, and the home run hitter would be in uniform with the Yankees today.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lowell, old friends of both. There was no music.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—One of the most unusual of recently completed films is "Hearts in Dixie," a musical screen drama in which practically all the players are negroes.

It is full of negro music and gaiety, but it is not a comedy. Negroes sing and dance and laugh all through the picture, yet the story itself is full of pathos. Some of the most poignant scenes are enacted against a background of merry-making.

The tale is simple enough. Nappus, an old negro, lives frugally on his little southern farm with his little son, Chinquapin, his daughter, Chloe, her baby and her shiftless husband, Chloe and the baby die of swamp fever, while the husband is making up his mind what to do, and a voodoo woman and well-meaning neighbors are trying to shoo away death.

Nappus dimly senses that ignorance is the root of this tragedy. Chinquapin is all he has left now, and he determines that ignorance must not claim his mtoe. He sells the farm and makes a pauper of himself to send the lad away to school. This sacrifice leaves him penniless and alone.

Such an essentially tragic story would have been difficult, if not impossible, to unfold on the silent screen in such a way as to keep the audience interested through seven reels; particularly an audience none to enthusiastic about such innovations as an all-negro cast. But half of "Hearts in Dixie" is the liveliest kind of singing and dancing—the sort that has made negro entertainers popular the world over. The result is a unique picture in which all the merry-making has pathos in the background, and much of the tragedy is

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED: MILDRED LAWRENCE, stenographer of the Justice Hotel, has her fox fur snatched from her in a crowd, but STEPHEN ARMITAGE catches the thief and returns the scarf. He asks to take her home. Not wishing to seem ungrateful, she invites him to dinner.
The evening is spoiled when PAMELA HUDSON, daughter of Mildred's employer, phones her to return to duty. Stephen accompanies her to the hotel where Pamela recognizes him as the salesman who had sold her a cap. She snubs Mildred and tries to lure Stephen away by pretending she wants to buy another cap from him. Then Pamela meets HUCK CONNOR, who tells her he is a broker from Chicago.
Mildred thinks Stephen is forgetting her since the wealthy girl is paying for his attention. She invites her to the theater and she accepts, not knowing that Pamela and Huck are to be there. Stephen did not know they were coming either until they arrived, and he feels responsible when Pamela treats Mildred snobbishly. He is also suspicious of Huck and objects to having Pamela trust him too far. This Mildred thinks is jealousy and she says a word or two comes up between them.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IX: STEPHEN made a mistake when he suspected that Huck would ask Pamela to a night club. Huck was too well known at all of these places to risk it.
He didn't want his world to find out that he was interested in the girl. It would leak out soon, of course, but he intended to put through his plans before anyone started interfering, and that would mean before Pamela's father returned from abroad.
As his car moved through the traffic and Pamela sat back with unconcealed impatience, Huck let his eyes feast upon her. He made no attempt to mask them. Pamela was watching the sea of faces that moved by, some of them turned with frank curiosity toward her and her companion.
A sudden slowing of the car when a pedestrian darted unexpectedly in front of it threw them closer together. Pamela drew quickly away. She was uneasy. The quiet force of Huck's personality was beginning to disturb her. She remembered that Harold had warned her she had been unable to learn anything at all concerning the man.
"WELL, I'm no Little Red Riding Hood," she told herself scornfully, but she was not sorry to arrive home. She started to say good night as soon as they entered the lobby, but Huck pleaded for a dance in the grill.
"I'm tired," Pamela said shortly, but there was nothing in her appearance to bear her out in her excuse. She was radiant, perhaps still flushed a trifle with anger. It was simply unthinkable that a little nobody stenographer should have the power to disturb her!
Huck had guessed at her feelings toward him and was quick to suggest that if he could get up a party, he would take them all to the new midnight revue that had opened the previous week and was already a sensation.
He smiled inwardly over her immediate interest in the invitation. "But it's simply impossible to get tickets," she said hopefully.
"I'll get them," Huck promised, "but not more than six, please. Your brother might like to go if we can locate him," he added cunningly.
"I'll ask if he's come in," Pamela responded and hurried over to the desk. Harold would have been so pleased, if he did, that she'd been out with Huck, but she knew he'd been disappointed about tickets for the revue. She counted on that to drag him along and prevent him from making trouble for her.

She learned that Harold was in his room. "I'll get him," she said to Huck. "Be down in a minute."
She found Harold drinking orange juice and bicarbonate of soda. He looked all in.
"Whatever the matter with you?" she snapped. "Loss again? It doesn't take that gang up there long to clean you out? I should think you'd take up ping pong or knitting afghans instead of playing poker."
"Whatever the matter with you?" she snapped. "Loss again? It doesn't take that gang up there long to clean you out? I should think you'd take up ping pong or knitting afghans instead of playing poker."
"Harold regarded him enviously. "My luck is rotten," he said gloomily.
and found no one wished to speak to him.
Harold, too, was succumbing to Huck's campaign to win his confidence. There was absolutely nothing about the fellow that was offensive, so far as he could observe.
"Great time," he said to Huck when they left the place, and in his voice was admiration for a man of power.
Another thing in Huck's favor in Harold's eyes was the fact that Huck hadn't once made a remark that could be construed as a lead to a person he intended to victimize. Harold called Mildred's warning "imagination," when he thought of it later that night.
Huck had come up to Harold's room for a nightcap and Harold had introduced Wall Street into the conversation. Huck had not appeared interested in the subject.
"Pamela tells me you're a broker," Harold said finally and carelessly. "To be frank with you, I've retired and only take a flyer now and then for the pleasure. You see, I had a run of luck in Chicago, and when I got enough I quit."
"I don't see how you could," Harold remarked. "I like to gamble and I can't quit it."
"Wall, old man, it was doctor's orders with me. Too exciting."
Harold looked concerned. "Oh, I see. That's too bad."
Huck smiled as one afflicted trying to make an effort to be cheerful.
"I thought so too until I found that I could get a kick out of playing the ponies," he said lightly. "I'm pretty lucky at it, and it isn't such a strain."
Harold regarded him enviously. "My luck is rotten," he said gloomily. Then a brighter expression passed over his countenance. "But I haven't tried the ponies," he added hopefully.
And that night when Huck left Harold's room he did not go to his own, as he had said. Instead he took a taxicab to an address in the West Forties.

Houston Officers Are Harassed by Wave of Banditry

HOUSTON, April 17. (AP)—One police officer was in a hospital, two automobiles were wrecked, detectives were fired upon by one of their own number and confusion reigned in the police department as a result of bandit depredations last night.

Five robberies were committed within an hour and a half, causing police to believe two bandits were operating.

The "phantom" bandit, credited with holding up more than a dozen stores in Houston in the last two weeks, was almost captured during a gun fight. The bandit's car was wrecked, and he escaped by plunging into underbrush.

At the same time another bandit appeared and brought the total holdup to five for the night.

Landry Ferry, 37, was at a hospital with serious injuries as the result of an automobile crash while chasing a bandit. Ferry's companion, F. L. Murray, was bruised.

"Your Credit Is Good"

NEW YORKER AT LARGE

By RICHARD G. MASSACK
NEW YORK—Cigar chewing traders in stocks who resent woman's invasion of their Wall street precincts should visit a brokerage office in fashionable fifty-third street, just off Fifth avenue.

There the would find the tables turned, in a manner of speaking, against them. They would be quickly bounced, as this reporter was, by the scornful looks of a score of women, furred and bejeweled, who hold the place against masculine intrusion.

The only thing manly about the place is the dress of the woman manager, who politely but firmly refused to be interviewed. Even the employees who mark quotations on the board are blue smocked girls.

This branch office of a downtown brokerage house, so far as I can discover, is the only one exclusively for women speculators, although a half-dozen or more houses have customers reserved for feminine traders. There, in upholstered chairs, they sit and smoke till tea-time, watching more or less silently the figures on the board or on the tape as it comes from the ticker.

BIG TRADERS
From one of the customers it was learned that those who buy and sell in the Fifty-third street office are almost all wealthy matrons or business women. She told of several large profits made by women and also of losses. A dressmaker whose creations are worn on Park avenue is said to have traded in stocks to the extent of a million dollars or more. Recently she took a heavy loss and now is trying to get it back.

Brokers who have separate rooms for women customers are watching them closely to determine just how successful they are. One has become convinced that his is a paying proposition and therefore is preparing to turn over a whole floor to women. He has a number of regular customers, some of whom trade in commodities as well as stocks. His best customer among the women bought 200 bales of cotton some time ago and gradually increased her holdings to 2,000 bales, which she recently sold at a profit of more than $15,000.

FINNISH COLONY
Harlem usually is thought of as a negro community, but within its boundaries are white colonies representing among other nationalities, the Russian, Estonian and Finn. The Finns, in particular are concentrated in ten blocks above 120th street, more than 10,000 living there. Thursday night finds their restaurants and dance halls overflowing with domestic servants from mid-town who have the afternoon and evening "off."

Paavo Nurmi seldom visits the Finnish settlement, preferring seclusion in the Bronx, but the other Finnish track star, Willie Ritola, may be seen almost any evening in one of the several cafes.

The Finns also have their own theatre where "Hamlet" and other classics are given in their native tongue. The present star is Linnala, an actor who has been in this country only a few weeks.

"Blunderbuss" Case Under Way—One Conviction Results

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Cases against three of the persons charged with printing and circulating obscene literature in the form of the "Blunderbuss" distributed on the University of Texas campus on April 1, were postponed until next week today. Frank W. Cook, printing shop owner, was convicted on the same charge yesterday. Found guilty after less than 10 minutes deliberation by the jury, Cook was given the maximum fine of $100.

Cases are pending against Horace Walker, Jefferson, former university student; Henry Smith, a student, and Leland Tidwell, pressman for the print shop.

Prosecuting attorneys granted immunity to Ben Morrison, 17, high school student, and Clyde Woolsey, 19, employee of the print shop, state's witnesses.

The Blunderbuss printed the notorious Missouri university questionnaire in which questions on sex subjects were contained. The questionnaire was sent for scientific purposes to a number of Missouri university students and resulted in the dismissal of three University of Missouri instructors.

Wilcox Well Is Making 125 Barrels

After a shot of 40 quarts the Wilcox Oil & Gas company's No. 31, Coombs-Worley, in the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 31, block 3, is good for 125 barrels a day. The test was drilled to a total depth of 3,160 feet. A shot was placed from 3,046 to 3,074 feet and increased pay encountered without gas.

The test is swabbing and cleaning but no additional gas has been encountered to flow the well. Pay is coming from a hard granite wash formation.

The bringing in of this well will necessitate the Skelly Oil company's drilling a south offset in section 90, block B-2, on the William Jackson land.

The same company's No. 4 Coombs, in section 60, block 3, is flowing 500 barrels a day from 2,970 feet.

In the McConnell pool the McIlroy and Shamrock company's No. 1 McConnell, in the northeast corner of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 174, block 3, struck the first gas yesterday at 3,050 feet. A flow of 8,000,000 feet was encountered. The test is drilling ahead today.

This test is an offset to the Southern Petroleum Exploration company's well in the same section which is flowing 700 barrels a day.

Sedgwick County Wells Are Erratic

WICHITA, Kas., April 17. (AP)—Three producing wells, one believed to be a pool opener, and two dry holes were added to the Sedgwick county oil field record in the past 24 hours. While No. 3 Smyser, in the SE of 86-24-1 west, was topping the sand at 3,380 feet, No. 4 Smyser, a west offset, had a hole full of water at 3,625 feet. No. 2 Emrich, in the SW SE of 6-26-1 east, filled with oil after the Simpson Dolomite was topped at 3,368 feet.

Estimated good for 1,000 barrels, and expected to open a new pool northwest of here, the Shell company's No. 1 Lygrisse was brought in at 3,362 feet. It is located in the NW of 15-26-2 east. The county's other dry well was the Betty Brown company's No. 1 Davis, in the NE NW of 5-26-1 east, which had a hole full of water at 3,474 feet.

Texas Oil Notes

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—With the finding of oil in the W. A. Moncrief No. 1 J. S. Todd, 18 miles southeast of the Powell field, another oil pool loomed in Crockett county. The well, estimated at 25 to 75 barrels daily, topped pay at 1,363-69 feet.

The Humble Oil & Refining and Valley Oil corporation's No. 1 Miller, in the Raccoon bend district, Austin county, has been completed at 1,847 feet with an initial flow of 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The Superior Oil company's No. 3 Reynolds, in the Antonio Rodriguez survey, Haskell county, has been brought in for 160 barrels daily. Sand was topped at 1,744 feet.

SLICK IS INCORPORATING HIS NEW OIL COMPANY

NEW YORK, April 17. (AP)—Thomas B. Slick, called the "Wildcatter King" of the oil fields, has filed incorporation papers for his own company to be known as the Tom Slick Oil company.

A month ago Slick sold his Mid-Continent oil holdings to the Prairie Oil & Gas company for $30,000,000.

Slick, who is 46 years old, began his career in the oil fields as a mule driver, tool dresser and driller.

Hoover's Plan on Tariff Commission Puzzle to Leaders

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—President Hoover seems to have put congressional leaders in a quandary by some of his recommendations affecting the tariff commission.

They are at a loss to understand precisely what he had in mind when he wrote in his first message that the commission should be reorganized. They will seek amplification.

Interpreting the language of the chief executive in its most literal sense, some leaders said there would have to be legislation abolishing the present commission and setting up a new one under a wholly different plan of operation than that laid down in the tariff act of 1922.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, republican house leader, said he was confident Mr. Hoover wanted a commission of men of the broadest attainments who would arrive at speedy conclusions on tariff rate changes and whose recommendations would command the confidence of the country.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee suggested the present act might be amended to increase salaries which would attract the highest class of men.

"Business in Pampa has become better rather than worse, as predicted by some," Mr. Gordon says. "Our annual dollar sale was far greater than last year and our regular business is steadily increasing. I predict a great summer's business for Pampa this year."

Soviet Plan for Dismantling Is Not Well Received

GENEVA, April 17. (AP)—The Soviet plan for reducing world armaments, presented to the preparatory disarmament commission by Maxim Litvinoff, vice commissar for foreign affairs, got a chilly reception today.

Even Germany which has protested she has been disarmed by treaty and other nations are not living up to their promises to lessen their own armaments, felt it was unwise to endorse the Russian idea of agreeing now upon figures of reduction.

Count Von Bernstorff thought this would be left to a later conference. At the same time, he gave approval of the principles of the Russian plan.

Japan, Chile, and France rejected the Soviet project as impracticable because they contended it failed to take into consideration realities.

Death Sentences Are to Stand

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Three death sentences and one life imprisonment case were disposed of when applications for rehearing were denied by the court of criminal appeals today.

Margarito Silva, San Patricio county, under life sentence for the murder of Mariana Luha, lost his motion for rehearing.

Leah Bailey, convicted in Ward county for the murder of Dan Horn and given life imprisonment, was granted a new trial, the court finding error in the trial court's charge on self-defense.

The court affirmed the conviction carrying 49 years against T. E. Kelley, Wood county, for robbery by assault with firearms upon Mary E. Shearer.

Queer Sign Language Being Learned by Pledges of "Club"

Any Man Who Needs a Drink Can Get It by Giving High Signs at Proper Time and Place, Says Doctor Organizer of Social Club Here

The great mystery seems to be unfolding. It now seems that in addition to the alleged password (Ten-Two-Four) the most intimate of the club's secrets have not been so carefully guarded. Certain young "rakes" of the city who seem to be "in the know" were seen yesterday practicing weird signs. At times both hands are raised with the thumbs at right angles and pressed against the ears; the four fingers of both hands then being wiggled vigorously. At other times a single hand with two fingers upraised is the sign. Still another gesture is one hand with four fingers raised.

Whether this has to do with the alleged "pass-word" is not known, but evidently there is a connection, since the number of fingers raised at various times coincides with the numbers 10, 2 and 4.

It was freely admitted by D. I. Spenser, self-confessed lieutenant of the "Prominent Doctor" organizer that these indeed are the signs of the club and that used at the proper time and place will purchase a drink. Spenser contends that the club will not suffer because the secret signs have leaked out, inasmuch as it will require a badge and membership card for admittance to the club. Bona-fide members will merely use the signs as a signal of distress and as a matter of social recognition between members.

Spenser also intimated that the prominent Doctor himself may be present for the opening of the club and referred to it as a "lid lifting." (Not a Morrie) Advertisement.
