Entertainment Featured in Program This Afternoon

Panhandle editors, looking prosperous and disporting themselves with customary joviality, took possession of Pampa interest this morning and commanded all the greetings and good wishes the city was able to bestow.

Registration early this afternoon passed the half-hundred mark, and other editors, publishers, and salesmen allied to the printing business are expected to arrive before noon tomorrow.

Delegates and visitors were guests of the Pampa Rotary and Lions clubs at a luncheon at the Adams Hotel Coffee shop at noon. Seventy-five members and guests were served a chicken dinner.

In order not to interfere with the schedule for the afternoon, the program was dispensed with. Toastmaster Charles C. Cook welcomed the delegates on behalf of the clubs and made announcements.

After the president, Deskings Wells of Wellington, had called the meeting to order, the assembly rose to sing "America," with A. T. Castleberry of Borger leading. The Rev. James Todd, Jr., pastor of the First Christian church, pronounced the invocation.

F. M. Gwin, city manager, made the welcome address, expressing Pampa's appreciation of the honor of entertaining the association. The response was made by Homer Steen of Floydada.

Following these courtesies, committee appointments were announced by the president, as follows:

Resolutions: Seth B. Thomas of Hereford, T. A. Landers of McLean, Olin E. Hinkle of Pampa.

Auditing: Harry Koch of Quanah, A. T. Castleberry of Borger, Bob Brashears of Borger.

Memorial: Russell Clark of Memphis, Percy Bone of Shamrock, J. D. Merriman of Panhandle.

Prizes For Golf

George W. Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, made announcements of the entertainment program for the two-day meeting. He invited all golf-playing editors to a tournament at the Pampa Country club, beginning at 4 o'clock, under the management of W. H. Curry. Five prizes were offered by local merchants, "Enough that even the dubs can win," he said.

A tea for the ladies at Mrs. I. B. Hughey's home was announced for 3 o'clock. Other entertainment scheduled for the afternoon was a drive to the oil fields, which was to be conducted by the Board of City Development.

"Tack" Will Speak

Mr. Briggs announced a change in the time of the banquet at the Schneider hotel this evening from 7:30 o'clock (See CONVENTION, Page 6)

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Cloudy tonight, preceded by thundershowers this afternoon or tonight in East portion; probably fair Saturday. AND A SMILE NEW YORK (P)—Bachelors now must find some other excuse. Social leaders have decreed that debutante dances next season shall start at 10 p. m., and end by 3 a. m., instead of running from midnight to dawn. This is expected, will give eligible young men of affairs a chance to sleep.

S-H-R-D-L-U AND E-T-A-O-I-N

Erasmus Tack of Amarillo is coming tonight, but we are unable to present a picture of him. T. E. assures us that Tack has not been photographed since he has been large enough to resist. It seems he never attends a day meeting for fear some camera man will snap him. Genius is like that. If Mary Garden had only sung in daytime Tack wouldn't have heard her and everyone's idea of what the concert was worth to him would have not deteriorated.

The News staff 3-Rs man figures that Tack owes Panhandle citizens $15,999 for having confiscated the value that they thought they got out of the opera.

No, the headline writer isn't hay-wire—yet. Ask any press delegate what the caption means.

Representative Clyde Warwick of Canyon's News doesn't have to mingle with mere editors—he will leave tomorrow morning for Austin. Says Clyde: "I certainly regret to write that I shall be unable to be with you Friday and Saturday for the meeting of the Panhandle Press association. It grieves me more than I am able to express to you to break a record of attendance which I believe is the best in the association."

"I first attended the association at McLean in the spring of 1911 when it was revived after missing a few annual meetings. I have missed just one meeting since that time, and that was in 1919 when I was overseas and did not get to go to Vernon. Let some of the other members put up that record to shoot at."

Hats off to John Casey. He is the only man who responded to the editor's plea for an advance copy of his speech.

Tomorrow's "souvenir" luncheon promises something different—as well as utilitarian—and it is expected that the delegates will open their packages with all the anticipation of a small boy on Christmas morning.

Prof. Casey up and declares that those who do not take their home papers lose many dollars because they miss important items on taxpaying, voting, public meetings, and the like. In other words, it's not merely what the reader gets when he subscribes, but what he loses if he doesn't, that counts. The professor is not among strangers. When he was at Missouri U. a few years ago he had to put up with such students at Phillip R. Pond, Ben Reno, and Olin E. Hinkle, now all on the staff of the Pampa Daily News.

The first traveling representative to report to The News as having arrived for the press meeting was C. D. Knight of the Intertype corporation. Knight used to be at Eastland; therefore is a smart man like George Briggs, who came here from there, and who brought him around.

J. D. Merriman, manager of the Panhandle Herald, was the first out-of-town publisher to "drop in." But it was only a homecoming for J. D.—he lived here for several months before going to the neighboring city.

"I just can't fathom the growth of Pampa," said Seth B. Holman of the Hereford Brand when he called on The News this morning. Mr. Holman was last in Pampa about 1913, and the present city is entirely beyond his expectations.

Local Boys Fined on Theft Charges

One youth was fined $72 in justice court this morning for his part in theft of several tires Tuesday night. A juvenile already under a suspended sentence was held over for the action of a higher court. The third member of the gang was fined $18 for concealing stolen property.

COUNTY LEADS PANHANDLE IN NEW ACTIVITY

Bowers and Lefors in Best Trend of Field

RANK WILDCATS IN 4 SECTIONS

Operators' Faulkner Is Soon to Strike New Pay

Gray county's spring drilling activities have taken the lead in the Panhandle along with the sensational increase in daily production, which has placed the home county in the fore.

A total 45 tests being sunk in Gray county. Of that number, the pool which last fall was thought to have been abandoned is in the lead. The Bowers pool made a great stride in activities after the bringing in of the Operators Oil company's 7,300-barrel test. The other field ranking with the Bowers-McGee in the LeFors pool, where active drilling has been resumed.

The Bowers pool has 10 tests on the way down. The LeFors area has the same number. The McConnell pool and the newly discovered Finley-Brown pool, midway between the Bowers-McGee and the LeFors pools have seven each. The South Wilcox section has four holes in the making as the result of the bringing in of the Wilcox Oil & Gas company's 700-barrel producer. In the Chapman pool, in the southeastern part of the county, three tests are being sunk. Four rank wildcat tests are being drilled in various unproved sections.

One of the wildcats is south of Kingsmill. It is north of the old Empire Gas & Fuel company's No. 1 Dauer, in section 236, block B-2, south of the granite ridge. One is north of McLean, two miles. Another wildcat is in section 84, block B-2, south of the Bowers-McGee pool. The fourth wildcat is in section 22, block B-2.

Drilling wells of greatest interest include: The Operators Oil company's No. 1 Faulkner, in section 30, block B-2, is drilling ahead at 2,300 feet. This test is an offset to the discovery well of the new territory which hit the pay at 2,875 feet.

The Texas company's No. 1 Faulkner, in section 29, block B-2, is drilling at 1,900 feet. This is also an offset to the new producer.

Phillips Petroleum company's north offset to the discovery well is drilling at 2,900 feet. It is in section 31, block B-2.

The Texas company's No. 5 Bowers, in section 89, block B-2, is going ahead at 2,200 feet.

The Texas company's No. 1 Saunders, in the J. G. Eustice survey, in the LeFors area, is drilling ahead at 2,500 feet after striking the gas.

The McElroy-Shamrock's No. 1 McConnell, in section 174, block 3, struck the big gas and is fishing at 3,050 feet.

First pay in the Texas company's No. 10 Saunders, in the southeast corner of the west half of the J. G. Eustice survey, was encountered late yesterday afternoon and the first 14 hours the test flowed 232 barrels of high gravity oil. The pay was found from 2,650 to 2,654 feet. There was very little gas with the pay. Officials say that there was barely enough gas to flow the well. The test will be drilled deeper in an effort to find increased pay with enough gas to flow the well natural.

PROF. CASEY ASSERTS COUNTRY PRESS IS IMPROVING BUT SEES NECESSITY FOR MORE IDEALISM

That country newspaper making—a proving and increasing in extent and business, game and profession—is impower was declared today by Prof. John H. Casey, newspaper specialist of the University of Oklahoma, in his address to the Panhandle Press association. He added that the chief need of the country press is for a little more idealism "as seasoning for the business efficiency that is so rapidly being introduced."

Hunkapillar Is Re-Elected Head of School Trustees

C. T. Hunkapillar was re-elected president of the board of Pampa Independent School district at a regular meeting of that body last night. Mr. Hunkapillar was returned to the board in an election two weeks ago. J. M. Daugherty also was re-elected. Miss Clarice Fuller of Clarendon, a graduate of Clarendon college and Canyon Teachers college, was elected to the grade school.

Nicholas Sells His Local Property

Dr. W. F. Nicholas, local dentist, has dispensed with all his local residential property for land north of Hereford. The transfer involved approximately $30,000. The doctor says he is not leaving Pampa and that he will purchase another home here. Part of the property sold included the Pampa Daily News model home on North Frost street which Dr. Nicholas purchased shortly after it was completed. Newton Blackwood, superintendent of the Champlin Refining company here, is the new owner of the Nicholas property. Ray Barnard, Dr. Nicholas' son-in-law will take charge of the property near Hereford. Mrs. Earl Stuckey and daughter, Ruth Nathales, and W. A. Stuckey left today for a short visit in Wichita Falls.

FALLS UNDER TRAIN WHILE TRYING "HOP"

Amputation Necessary at Pampa Hospital Last Night

HITCH HIKE AT TRAGIC ENDING

White Deer Farmer Is Praised for Fast First Aid

A Joplin, Mo., youth, Ralph Frizzell, hitch-hiking to El Paso after leaving home because he was expelled from high school for cutting classes, suffered the loss of his left leg early last night while attempting to "hop" on a westbound freight train just east of White Deer. His leg was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary.

Young Frizzell, just 15 years old, probably owes his life to the aid of W. W. Evans, farmer, living near White Deer, who found the lad just after the accident and rushed him to the Pampa hospital.

The boy left home earlier in the week with fellow students who likewise were expelled, but became separated from them and they were to have been reunited at the Amarillo post office today. His father, Harry Frizzell, of 2101 Murphy street, Joplin, Mo., is expected to arrive today.

His first thought after the accident was how to save the leg so that he might play football next fall. The hope was in vain, however, for amputation just below the left knee was inevitable.

At the hospital it was learned today that the boy was resting well and bearing the strain with fortitude. He said that he did not exactly run away from home, but that his parents wished him not to leave.

The farmer-war veteran, applied first-aid before placing the injured youth in his car and starting for Pampa.

Local Man Will Bring Plane Here

I. VanNattan, local man, is expected to arrive here from Tulsa this afternoon with a new Spartan biplane which will be used for transport and training purposes. The plane will come out of the Spartan factory at Tulsa.

The local pilot has been in Tulsa for the last four weeks taking out his transport pilot's license. Mr. VanNattan is an experienced flier, with several hundred hours in the air. He has been a resident of Pampa for the last two years.

The Spartan plane was demonstrated here last year and was judged one of the best manufactured. It is specially adapted for instruction work.

Woman Who Had to Fight Litigation Single-Handed Dies

SAN ANGELO, April 19. (AP)—The long battle of a gnarled pioneer Texas woman, who rose from a lowly state to be an oil millionaire despite handicaps of semi-blindness and lack of an academic education, is ended.

Mrs. W. A. Monroe Smith, 75, who to retain and develop her vast Pecos county oil holdings fought single-handed through years of litigation, some of it brought by sons and daughters seeking to have her declared mentally incompetent, died here yesterday. Old age was the primary cause of death.

With a picturesque and homely philosophy she turned back lawyers in many a courtroom. Once, in a federal court case, she submitted the basket of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and could not name the boundaries of certain states, but confounded the opposition by asking from the stand: "Is this a school lesson or a lawsuit?"

Buffaloes Are Starting Strongly in Revamped Form

By The Associated Press
Advances worrying done by scribes over the way Manager Snyder of Houston had been 'let down' by the parent St. Louis Cardinals and left to shift for himself appears to have been misdirected.

Two days of the 1929 flag race have passed and the Buffaloes are disputing themselves much like the outfit that walked off with the 1928 melon. Their "disrupted" hurling staff has subjugated the Beaumont batting order twice in a row and today the Bisons share with Waco the honor of being the only undefeated clubs in the circuit.

Schellberg, new addition to the champions' mound corps, set the exporters down with eight scattered hits yesterday while his mates bunched eight off Christian for a 3 to 1 decision. Included in the Buff blows was a homer by Snyder, himself, his second in as many days. Pepper Martin, whose homer in the tenth inning of Wednesday's game defeated the Exporters, rapped two doubles and a single.

Waco retained a perfect standing with another close decision over San Antonio, putting over a run in the tenth to win, 7 to 6. The Tribe again made a valiant stand, staging a four-run rally off Lefty Stein in the last of the ninth to tie the count. Stein rapped a homer to help his own cause along.

In another extra-inning melee the Port Worth Cats started their home season off right by winning a corking battle from the Dallas Steers, 3 to 2, in 13 frames. Harrington's double after Utsum's scratch single put over the winning tally. Whitey Glazner and Jimmie Walkup went the route.

Wichita Falls evened its series with Shreveport by hopping on three hurlers for 14 hits and a 9 to 1 verdict. Stapleton, the Spudders new first baseman, led the assault with two doubles and a single.

Two more cities will have their official openings today, Beaumont supplying opposition for the big doings at Houston, and San Antonio playing Waco in the Cubs' back yard. Dallas tackles Port Worth again in the latter city and Wichita Falls plays Shreveport for the third day.

Panhandle Golf Team Is Coming for Sunday Tourney

The Pampa Country club will be at home to 12 members of the Panhandle Golf club Sunday afternoon in a return match. The Pampa boys took the Panhandlers to a 10-to-4 defeat in Panhandle last Sunday. Play will start at 1:30.

At the same time every member of the local club is ordered to be ready to "tee-off" on a match to determine the ranking of local players. An engraved medal numbered from 1 to 15 will be awarded the 15 members with the lowest medal scores. Those who fail to come within the numbers may challenge the holders of any number from 10 to 15. The holder must defend his medal once every two weeks, and if the challenger wins the match he will be the holder of the medal.

The holder of medal No. 1 may be challenged by holders of numbers 2, 3, 4 and 5. Any medal holder may challenge a man within five numbers of him.

Keen rivalry is expected and the men making the best scores will make up the Pampa Country club golf team to enter and play in all tournaments during the season.

At the present time the club has 64 members.

Pladner Loses in Final Appearance

PARIS, April 19. (AP)—Emile (Spider) Pladner, regarded in some quarters as the uncrowned flyweight champion of the world, has turned his back on the 112-pounders with a defeat for his closing bow.

Pladner, one of the hardest punchers in French ring history, lost on a foul in the seventh round of his 15-round match with Frankie Genaro of New York here yesterday in what he himself termed his final appearance as a flyweight.

The Frenchman in a previous bout had knocked out Genaro, National Boxing association champion, in a round, outpointed Issy Schwartz, New York state boxing commission nominee for the title, and stopped Johnny Hill, European 112-pound title-holder.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

One of the greatest readers of the newspapers is Jack Sharkey, the Boston fighter who aspires to succeed to the throne vacated by another great reader of the newspapers, Gene Tunney.

Sharkey is interested in the first page but he is more interested in the sport pages and he is violently interested when the sport pages carry even a few lines handling him a rap.

Sharkey is such an enthusiastic reader of the papers that he has a mental ledger in which there are marked on one side the experts who have panned him and on the other side those who have been at least fair in writing about him.

He admits that the side with the raps charged against him is much heavier than the other side with the friendly pieces credited to him.

Gene Kept Book, Too.

Tunney was much the same way. He had the writers tabulated and he always took advantage of any opportunity to tell a critical writer that he had read his piece. He would then proceed in an oratorical way to convince his critic that his piece of literature was all wet.

Sharkey has a slightly different way of presenting a defense for himself. He wants to sock the fellow who criticized him right on the jaw. And if Sharkey ever is recognized as the world's champion there will be a lot of experts who will have a tough time approaching the regal presence.

What Can They Do?
I have been asked many times how good.

the big guys of the sport world react to publicity. And I always have answered that on one of them I ever have met has protested in any way against fair criticism that was well meant. You can't blame them if they get mad when some writer takes an unjust crack at them.

Kearns Took Care of It

Dempsey, in spite of his numerous statements to the contrary, was a great reader of the sport pages. But I do not know of any instance in which he said anything to a critic. Jack Kearns took care of that and he took care of it plenty.

Firpo was very sensitive about pieces in the paper that made him a clown. He fought in Omaha and a Chicago writer called him a big piece of cheese. Later the same writer appeared at the training camp in Atlanta City where the Bull was getting ready to fight Dempsey. The Bull saw the writer and asked his staff to request the writer to leave the camp. "I will not salute him. He called me a cheese," Firpo said.

Gordon Now Like New Man Since He Has Taken Sargon

"Words cannot express the good I derived from 'Sargon,' recently declared B. H. Gordon, Southwestern Representative of Dodd Mead and company, one of the largest school book publishing houses in America.

"I was in a terrible run-down condition and suffered constantly from stomach trouble. My kidneys gave me so much trouble I had to get up eight or ten times every night. I was underweight and had no little strength. I could attend to no business at all that required physical exertion. Treatments and medicine consistently failed to help me.

"I talked with several people who had taken Sargon. They were so enthusiastic over the medicine I decided to try it. I was greatly surprised by the actual results. I am like a new person. I am no longer troubled with my kidneys, and I sleep like a child. I relish my meals and everything agrees with me. I have gained ten pounds and attend to my duty now without tiring.

"Sargon is wonderful and I would tell everybody in the world about it if I could."
 Mr. Gordon maintains offices in the Outer Bldg., San Antonio. He is one of the foremost authorities on educational matters in the Southwest. Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fudner Drug Co., and in McLean from Ervin Drug Co. —ADV.

Harvester May Take Canyon Meet From Sandstorm

Gray county's 52 entrants in the first district interscholastic meet in Canyon today and tomorrow are part of representatives from 20 Panhandle counties taking part in the annual event. Many of the Pampa students left this morning. The rest will leave tomorrow morning and will return tomorrow night.

Amerille's defending track team will be assaulted by every school in the district. The Pampa Harvesters are the favorites to rest the crown from the Golden Sandstorm. Archie Walstad, Pampa track star, and Troy Sialla, field sensation, are expected to lead the field in several events. Both went to the State meet in Austin last year.

The athletic meet will be held under the direction of W. E. L. ...

Woman Champ Is Bossed by Husband

CHICAGO, April 19.—The boss of Beach Van Husen Warren's household is Helen Pilkey, former American women's track champion and world's record holder in the hurdles.

One word from Mr. Warren announced her retirement from athletics. "It is his wish that I do not compete again," Helen smilingly explained. "So I'm quitting for good."

She is a Chicago girl and 21 years old.

Yankee Opener Featured by Usual Number of Frills

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Whatever the fate of the Yankees in their fourth quest for the pennant, American league pitchers are due to spend many anxious afternoons trying to circumvent Babe Ruth.

Using a new stance at the plate with his left foot swung back almost out of the batter's box, the big bantano opened his 1929 campaign with a home run in his first attempt yesterday and so started the Yankees toward a 7 to 3 triumph over the Red Sox in the first game at the Yankee stadium.

Cold weather kept the crowd down to 35,000 but a good half of these mobbed the home run king in a friendly to 8 o'clock. Gene Howe, famous "Tack" of the Amarillo News-Globe, he announced as the speaker of the evening.

The Nunn-Warren Publishing company will give a souvenir banquet at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow, in the basement of the Methodist church.

All persons wearing convention badges are privileged to attend the Rex theatre as guests of the management at any time during the meeting,
Mr. Briggs announced.

The president's annual address was the high point of interest in the morning session. Mr. Wells spoke briefly.
Houston Man Talks
Upon completing his remarks, the president invited Arthur Lefevre, Jr., editor of the Texaco Star, Houston, and a visitor to the Panhandle meeting to speak.

Mr. Lefevre opened his short talk by endorsing Mr. Wells' attitude toward the right and duty of the newspaper editor to operate his business as a profit. He told the editors they not only should manage their own businesses for profit, but that they should become actively interested in furthering legislation to their rightful advantage.

Explaining that he "concentrated his enthusiasms" and had a working interest in only one organization, Mr Lefevre took the occasion to urge all editors of the Panhandle Press association who have not become members, to do so at once, and to urge all members of the Texas Press association to send pictures and historical data for the "Golden Jubilee Edition" which is now under preparation. This book, which records the history of the journalistic profession in the state from its beginning, will likely be the only publication of its sort in Texas for a period of fifty years, Mr. Lefevre said, and every editor in the state should share in it.

J. C. Estlack of Clarendon, owner and editor of the Donley County Leader, which began publication less than two months ago, joined the Panhandle Press association this morning. His was the only new membership received today.

Registrations up to noon included

WHEAT STILL LOWER
CHICAGO, April 19. (AP)—General selling carried wheat values downward today to below any level heretofore reached this season. Beneficial rains west and southwest, as well as heavy supplies with harvest only about two months off, were among the chief reasons given.
Opening 5-8 to 2 7-8c lower, wheat prices later showed something of a rally Corn and oats were also weak, corn starting at 1c decline to 1-8c advance and subsequently continuing to average lower. Provisions held steady.

Federal Armies Preparing to Close in on Revolvers

NOGALES, Ariz., April 16. (AP)— An engagement in which several soldiers and a rebel lieutenant-colonel were killed occurred at 7
a. m., at Sasabe, Sonora, federales here announced. Eighty rebels were holding the border city, but were surprised and driven out after a sharp engagement by federal troops.

MEXICO CITY, April 16. (AP)—Two large federal armies were being gathered today on opposite sides of the state of Sonora for the last phase of General Calles' campaign to suppress the rebellion.

Near the northeastern corner of Sonora, at Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, Gen. Juan Andres Almazan, organized a column of 10,000 men for the trek through dangerous Pulpito Pass into Sonora for an attack at the rebels' rear.

Country Press Improving Much Declares Casey

Country newspapers are getting better all the time, they are serving their communities better, serving their communities better than ever before, and their owners are being more generally respected in their home communities as they become more prosperous and more self-respecting partly because of their prosperity.

Furthermore, country newspapers, even the most circumscribed of the country press—the weeklies—are holding their own, and some, numerically, as the latest available figures, from the new N. W. Ayer's 1928 Newspaper Annual and Directory reveals.

During the last year, in spite of consolidations, etc., in the United States and territories, weekly newspapers increased in number 284, while dailies show a net loss of five. There are now reported to be 11,435 weekly newspapers, 2,267 dailies, 58 tri-weeklies and 416 semi-weeklies. Tri-weeklies also showed a net loss of 5 and semi-weeklies a net loss of 22.

Another way of putting it is that weekly newspapers showed greater numerical gains than all other classes of newspapers and periodical publications combined. With a total recorded population of 21,897 publications and a total net gain of 413 publications for the year, weekly newspapers added up 68 percent of that increase. Does that look as if the country press were passing out of the picture in America?

It is also worth noting that at the same time other weekly publications than newspapers, numbering 1,772, netted a loss of 40. Next to weekly newspapers, monthly publications showed the greatest strength with 139 over the figures of a year ago. These statistics, by no instance include Canadian publications.

Further food for thought is to be found in the report by sections. We learn from the same source that 135 of 284 recorded net gain of weekly newspapers are reported from Pacific slope states. New England and the Southern states next, with weekly newspapers just a little more than holding their own in the so-called Western states of Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, and Wyoming.

Country Press Important When it was pointed out that we have only about 600 daily newspapers with circulation of more than 10,000 copies each, as compared to our 11,435 weeklies plus some 1,600 country dailies with circulations of fewer than 10,000 copies, the citizen, voter, reader, and advertiser find it not so hard to realize, in comparison, what a great influence is exerted in this country by the weekly and daily country press.

Country newspapers used to be run by editors for political and personal reasons primarily, and they were notorious for a sort of vitriolic editorial of which this one from a Missouri weekly of a few years ago may serve as a fair sample:

"Another eleventh hour canard circulated by some half-worn, half-snake, loathsome and contemptible creature, who would make even Sodom blush in shame, was that a half-interest in this newspaper had been sold to a party who had not even been in the office. The sole object of such a report was the trying to tear down, seeking to belittle, endeavoring to beslime, and undertaking to becloud the entire affair (a recent circulation contest.) Such creatures are merely one whose mouths suck the life-blood, whose minds are the winding sheets and whose bodies are the graves in which all honor and truth and good deeds are forever buried. We had rather be a dog and whine, yes, we would choose to be a wolf and snarl than to be such a narrow, rotten, marauding skunk."

Now Real Business The new style country weekly is first of all a business enterprise and the publisher today is a business man. I frankly like the new mode. And yet, even as we "point with pride" to the happy change from the vindictive press of yesterday, I also incline to "view with alarm" this swing towards business first, newspapering in its best sense is more than a business.

It partakes of three-fold nature. It is a business, a game, and a profession. The old-timers thought of it as a game. The present generation of suc-

a breed of newspaper owners take charge of things who forget that there really are such things as a public trust, and ideals. That newspapers, which are said to be, actually have souls and characters to maintain can not be entirely lost sight of, even by aggressive owners of newspapers who consider themselves business men. Good government and a community's morals are something even more important than immediate or excessive financial returns from a newspaper property. We need just a little more idealism in our country press today as seasoning for the business efficiency that is so rapidly being introduced.

Figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce indicates the country press to be gaining ground, to be "filling the greatest demand," and to be "the best read and consequently the most influential newspaper." The influential newspaper is a good advertising medium every time.

"Close to People" A national magazine, through a recent investigation, found that "the country press lives close to the people" and that because the publisher feels a personal responsibility for everything that goes into his columns, his readers believe in the ads as well as in the other things that he allows to be printed.

The newspaper serves the community more than it serves the man who publishes it, as a general proposition. The time is probably not far off when everywhere businessmen will feel a personal interest in the local newspaper's welfare. The fact is, a community can not make progress without it.

How true it is that "a town is known by the paper it prints." Reading one's home town paper should get the idea that his town is a hustling, pushing, ambitious and prosperous town.

"I used to think," said a small town Pacific Coast publisher, "that my paper was my own. It isn't, only partially. Mostly it's the community's. It's mine to pay the bills for, and to work for way into the night and to sweat for. But what it prints belongs to my readers. I am just selecting it for them."

Community Has Debt If it is true that the editor has an obligation, it is equally true that the community owes a debt of gratitude to the local paper for its championship of every good and worthy cause. It is only when there is a mutual recognition of the interdependence that actually exists between them that a community's local newspaper owner go forward hand and hand to the accomplishment of better and better things for the community as a whole.

Most newspaper editors are public spirited. But it must be remembered by those of the community in a position to patronize the newspapers and their printing plants that even newspapers cannot live on air alone. And it must be remembered by newspaper publishers that the community expects sincere and honest guidance in matters of the public welfare. The publisher who supports an unworthy candidate for mayor of the town merely because that man will throw the printing contracts to the newspaper does not deserve the confidence of the people of the community.

Group Ownership No Evil Says Wells in Talk to Editors—Profits Declared Essential to Independence and Power

Seeing no evil in chain ownership, but asserting that responsibility for local control should continue to be vested in individual editors and managers, President H. Deskins Wells in his address to the press convention this morning declared the trend toward group control is the most outstanding one of the time.

President Wells' address follows, in part:

"Five years on a weekly paper have convinced me that I am only a beginner in newspaper work, and it is with a certain humility that I undertake to speak seriously before editors whose experiences are much richer and whose judgments are much sounder than my own.

"We have gathered this morning to mingle in common fellowship, discuss the change and progress that has come to our business in recent months, and to learn how we may make our papers better.

"The significant change that has come to weekly papers in the Pamphlet during the recent months is the ever-increasing number that have passed from independent to group ownership. I see in this movement no evil, but this change does bring forth one insistent demand. This is that editors be editors in fact as well as in title, that the responsibility of the newspapers' contribution to its community be placed upon their shoulders, and that final authority of the kind and character of news rest with the editor in charge.

"A like authority, moderated only by proper accounting methods, should be granted the business manager in the handling of advertising, and his recommendations on equipment and supplies should be given careful consideration. It is only with this complete independence of the editor and comparative independence of the business manager that a chain newspaper can maintain that personality which is essential to the development of community esteem, public service, and private profit.

"These principles are being practiced faithfully, I believe, but I mention them because they must be kept in mind at all times if our profession is to continue to advance.

"The matter of making our papers better is one which I believe is of vital concern to all of us. To some a better paper may mean greater profits and to others a greater contribution to the welfare of the people your paper serves. To me it seems that these ends are inseparable. I have no sympathy for the paper which is not zealous in the performance of its duty, and I have no patience with the publisher who thinks he can render a worthwhile service when his business is not profitable.

"Charles H. Dennis says that the successful newspaper must meet the following requirements: Service, independence, courage, honesty, accuracy, enterprise, sound judgment, human interest, liberality, and open-mindedness. This seems a fair test, but profit making is essential to independence and service, and it is a blood brother of enterprise and sound judgment. Profits are the roots and financial strength in the trunk of the newspaper tree, whose fruits are used to advance the culture, prosperity, and progress of our communities.

Amarillo Boy's Last Act Is To Write Mother

HUNTSVILLE, April 19. (AP)—The fear that drove Robert Blake to pace his cell like a caged animal during the past several days left him early today as he went to the electric chair to pay with his life for murder.

Blake walked to the death chamber erect. As he stepped into the room, a faint smile played over his face. He nodded to several of the spectators and walked straight to the chair and sat down.

Then he leaned back in the chair and shut his eyes. His head dropped over to one side and his body relaxed as guards hurriedly fumbled with the straps that bound him.

The switch was thrown at 12:15. At 12:24 a. m. Dr. E. L. Angler, prison physician, pronounced him dead.

Blake's last hours were spent writing a letter to his mother. When Captain Allen went to his cell last night to read the death warrant to him, Blake was writing. He looked up impatiently as Allen entered and asked: "Do I have to listen to that? I'm writing a letter to mother, and I want to finish it."

Allen told him it was necessary, and Blake walked around his cell nervously, chewing on a cigar. When Allen finished reading, Blake shook hands with all the guards.

Blake was the youngest man to die in the Texas electric chair. He was but 23 and was sentenced to death for the slaying of Fred Connor, Tulsa automobile salesman.

Carson County Audit Shows Excess Fees Collected by Most Officials

PANHANDLE, April 19 (Special)—That one reason why Carson county's general fund is greatly overdrawn is that county officials have overcharged their fees and drawn their ex-officio salaries at the same time is given in the audit report of A. N. Cornell of Amarillo, just accepted by the commissioners court.

"Some officials charge fees that they assume they can define for themselves what they will charge," said the report, "and there are many cases on the fee records of the various courts in which the fees are either unpaid or if they have been paid the record is not marked. Compare the legally defined fees in any court of your county and you will find that the practice of extortion is rampant."

The matter of excess fees is important for the tremendous amount of money retained by ex-officio officials which should have been paid to the county. Under the law no ex-officio salary is legal if the maximum fee is collected.

The auditor's report reveals that the county clerk, county attorney, tax collector, assessor, and sheriff collected maximum fees and drew their ex-officio salaries at the same time. In several instances the officers collected more fees than the maximums allowed by law. They therefore owe the county the excess fees and also the amounts of their ex-officio salaries. The amounts range from $200 to $4,000. Several deputies were illegally paid.

The auditor's recommendations were sweeping, and citations of erroneously distributed money were numerous.

"Major Mack" to Speak Tonight at Gray Courthouse

Major R. W. McFleming, "Major Mack," a one-armed war veteran and native of Ireland, will speak tonight at the court house and next Tuesday evening at the American Legion Hall.

A representative of the Christian Crusaders, Major Mack has recently established a sanitarium mission at Borger, where he is now located.

He has been traveling over the world since the war, and bears recommendations from many well known persons. He was in the Canadian army during the war, and his left arm was torn away by shrapnel.

Amarilloans to Be "Good Sports" and Pay Opera

AMARILLO, April 19 (AP)—Amarillo business men have decided to be good sports and give the Chicago Civic Opera company its "pound of flesh," but they still are not convinced the opera company gave them both barrels of "This" here a month ago.

"The remaining $2,500 which we owe under terms of our guarantee to the Chicago company is too trivial to argue over," said Mayor Ernest Thompson, who previously had dared the company to sue him and 16 other guarantors. "We will pay it, regardless of whether we made a bad deal."

Decision of the business men to pay off apparently closes a controversy which began after the opera company played a one-night stand here. Editor Gene Howe of the Globe-News, one of the guarantors and an opera enthusiast, started it with a withering blast against Mary Garden and her troupe, charging the local performance of "This" was bob-tailed and the principals saved their voices, if any.

Mary Garden replied, in person, and several of her remarks were unbecomingly pillory. She not only denied the performance had been curtailed, but implied Mr. Howe was seeking publicity.

County Clerk Charles L. Upham of Panhandle was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. H. L. Laughter and son Elmer of Wilcox, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Laughter and Mrs. Brown are cousins.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic—Comfort for God's people.

Scripture lesson—Isaiah 40:1-11.

1. Comfort ye, comfort ye My people your God.

2. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem; and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she hath received of Jehovah's hand double for all her sins.

3. The voice of one that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of Jehovah; make level in the desert a highway for our God.

4. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the uneven shall be made level, and the rough places a plain:

5. And the glory of Jehovah shall be spoken of.

6. The voice of one saying, Cry, And one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field.

7. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the breath of Jehovah bloweth upon it; surely the people is grass.

8. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

9. O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee upon a high mountain; O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength, lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, your God!

10. Behold, the Lord Jehovah will come as a mighty One, and His arms will rule for Him: Behold, His reward is with Him, and His recompense before Him.

11. He will feed His flock like a shepherd, He will gather the lambs in His arm, and carry them in His bosom, and will gently lead those that have their young.

Time: About B. C. 700; those who ascribe this chapter to "the second Isaiah" date it between B. C. 550 and B. C. 500.

Place: According to common belief, this chapter was written in Jerusalem; according to the belief of many modern critics in Babylonia.

Golden Text: As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you.—Isaiah 66:13.

Introduction

"A passage of such moving beauty (Isaiah 40), of such eloquence, of such glowing magic in words, that one stands awe-stricken at its melody. Few passages of Holy Scripture have been so honored among men of later days. Handel's Messiah has wedded to them strains of music of almost unearthly beauty, and many who have seldom read them have heard them pealed out from a great organ or winger upon the magic of the human voice."

The fortieth chapter of Isaiah is one of the most magnificent passages in this superb book. It is one of the most eloquent, wise, and inspiring pieces of writing in all literature. It has a wonderful message for the Jewish people, its message to the people of our day and our land is equally noble and uplifting.

God's Comfort

We like to call the Holy Spirit the Comforter, because comfort is one of the most appealing words in our language, and the divine power that can bring it must be the very fullness of God. It is a word of the broadest significance, is comfort. Not simply the speaking of soothing words to the disappointed child, or words of hope to one bereft; in a larger sense it is putting strength into weak hearts—"strengthening aid." The English word "comfort" is a joining of the two Latin words meaning "with" and "strength." We understand the name Comforter, as applied to the Spirit, as meaning, The Strength-with-us, or Our Strength. And effective comfort must always have strength back of it. "True comfort is the consolation, relief, rest, peace, strength God gives in work, need, stress, trial, suffering and suspense."

Comfort Promised

"The promise and assurance of God's comfort in all the fullness of that word's meaning, are remarkably voiced in this fortieth chapter of Isaiah. It is one of the great, outstanding chapters of the Bible; one of the supreme masterpieces of religious literature. That the prophet was able thus to magnify God at a time when many of his countrymen were finding it difficult to keep the faith at all is evidence of his thorough inspiration. His thought and language take on an added sense of inspiration for us Christians, so plainly is he prophetic of our Christ."

Good Shepherd Foretold

"This Lord who comes, an almighty monarch (v. 10), is at the same time a gentle, tender-hearted Shepherd. Love distinguishes Him, as well as power. The chapter is taken as Messianic by all four evangelists, and how applicable is third word (ver. 11) to the Jesus Who could claim, "All authority

"Conquest" opens at the Rex theatre today, and will last through Saturday. Anticipating the tremendous interest which is focused upon polar exploration flights, Warner Bros. have produced a lavish talking picture special with the aerial conquest of the Antarctic as its central theme.

"Conquest" is the title of the production, with Monte Blue in the starring role; H. B. Warner featured, Lois Wilson in the leading feminine part and Edmund Breese and Tully Marshall prominently cast.

"Conquest" actually details two attempts to master the baffling Antarctic, its plot exposing the perils of the sub-zero zone, and its effect upon the mental fibre of the daring adventurers who seek to conquer it.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE, a newspaper editor at the Judson Hotel, has her fox fur snatched from her in a crowd, but STEPHEN ALM TAGE catches the thief and returns the scarf. He asks to take her home. Not wishing to seem ungrateful, she invites him to dinner.

from a department store basement, but their defects were hardly noticeable. Once when Mildred opened the door from the kitchen and let in a whiff of their cooking dinner, Connie jumped up and stormed out into the domain that saw little of her. "Do we have to have cabbage?" she cried in exasperation. "I can't stand it!" She went over to the stove and lifted the lid from a steaming pot. "Pig knuckles!" Her voice was filled with horror.

MILDRED pretended not to see Stephen and hurried away before he could reach her desk. She did not want to talk to him. It wasn't her job she was worrying about, either. She had made up her mind to forget him and was finding it the most difficult thing she'd ever undertaken. She remained out of sight until he was gone. Seeing her disappear in the direction of the side entrance, he assumed that she was leaving for the day. He quickly followed after, but Mildred had disappeared. There was a turn that hid her from view. Just beyond was a flower shop. She stepped inside and hid behind a palm until Stephen had passed on his way to the street. Then she hurried back to meet Harold.

"I'll show you the family album," Mildred said. Harold pretended to faint. "There's something wrong about Huck Connor. I wish you wouldn't have anything to do with him, Harold." "Look here," Harold answered impatiently. "I get enough preaching from Pamela and dad when he's at home. Be a good fellow, Mildred, and drop it."

And later, when Harold left his plate practically untouched, she felt correct in her conclusion. It wasn't, however, distaste for the food that spoiled their guest's appetite. He wasn't hungry. Mildred understood, and stopped her mother from urging him to eat, but she did not protest when a third cup of coffee was urged upon Harold and he did not decline. Connie stayed to entertain Harold while Mildred helped her mother with the dishes. Then she reluctantly went off to the lecture she was attending with some school friends.

Amarillo Smelter Man Now Endorses It

H. L. HEFLEY SAYS ORGATONE ENDS HIS TROUBLES OF THREE YEARS' STANDING.

"I suffered for three years with rheumatism, kidney, and a chronic liver trouble, and spent hundreds of dollars for different kinds of medicine, trying to get well, but it only took two bottles of Orgatone, to straighten me out and make me feel like a different man," said H. L. Hefley, residing at 118 McMaster's street, Amarillo, Texas, a man well known in this section where he has been employed at a local smelter for several years.

"It's an actual fact," he continued. "I was hardly ever free from rheumatism and was so full of misery most of the time I couldn't rest or sleep at night to amount to anything on account of my kidneys. The main trouble seemed to be in my joints and the awful pains were due, I think, to the condition of my liver. I couldn't eat to do any good and had to be very careful about the little that I managed to force down or I would have hours of suffering afterwards. I kept getting worse all the time and had just about given up all hope of ever getting anything to relieve me.

"But two bottles of Orgatone have done me so much good I haven't had an ache or pain since I finished taking them, and honestly, I don't feel like the same person. I have a good appetite and I can eat anything I want and it all agrees with me, too. I have gained back all of my lost strength, sleep like a log at night and when I get up in the morning I am full of energy and attend to my work without a bit of trouble.

"My wife was so pleased with the results that I had gotten with Orgatone that she bought some for herself. We know just what it will do and feel satisfied that there isn't another medicine in the world just as good."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment and is sold in Pampa, exclusively by the City Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

FANFARE TO ACCOMPANY BOY MONARCH'S FORMAL ASSUMPTION OF DUTIES

Michael, the boy king of Rumania, will assume his royal duties formally at a great celebration May 10. Queen Marie (upper right) is the boy's grandmother, and his mother is Princess Helen (lower right).

BUCHAREST (AP)—The formal assumption of his royal duties May 10 by Michael, Rumania's boy king, will be marked by many solemn ceremonies of historical significance. Dressed in the simple national costume, King Michael, the world's youngest sovereign, will speak to his people from the throne of Rumania's first king, Michael the brave. This imposing celebration is to take place on the tenth anniversary of the foundation of greater Rumania.

After the conclusion of elaborate palace festivities in which the entire cabinet, the regency council, governmental chiefs, the highest officials of the army and the church and members of the diplomatic corps will participate, Michael will ride in state to the parliament, accompanied by his mother, Princess Helen.

In the parliamentary chamber, the royal child formally will open a special session of the national legislature to solemnize the reunion of all Rumanians under one flag.

To give the ceremonies a permanent and enduring character, the government will begin on that day the erection of a great national memorial cathedral at Bucharest. Michael will lay the cornerstone.

The juvenile sovereign also will dedicate three equestrian statues to royal predecessors; to Prince Alexander Cusa, to King Carol I and to the late King Ferdinand.

Queen Marie, Michael's grandmother, to whose ardent patriotism the creation of greater Rumania generally is attributed, will take a prominent part in the jubilee ceremonies, which will last a fortnight.

During the ceremonies, Rumania's popular aviator, Captain Burdulul, will begin an attempted nonstop flight from Alba Julia, the cradle of Rumanian independence, to Rio de Janeiro, carrying a message of fraternal greeting to Rumania's Latin brothers and sisters in South America.

To participate in the popular rejoicing over the annexation of Transylvania, 100,000 peasants, dressed in the picturesque costumes, will make a pilgrimage afoot of Alba Julia.

New Rumanian postage stamps and currency will be issued to signalize the national rejoicings. A new Rumanian decoration to be known as "The Order of King Ferdinand I" will be created. It will constitute Rumania's congressional medal and will be awarded only to those who rendered the nation most conspicuous service.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crossman have returned from their wedding trip to Lubbock, Plainview and other South Plains cities, and are at home in Vicars Addition. Their marriage was solemnized last Sunday at the parsonage of the First Christian church, with the Rev. James Todd officiating.

Panhandle Lawyer Invents Pump That Saves Much Cost

A combination hydraulic "ram" and water pump which, it is claimed, will cut the operating cost of almost all types of pumps 80 per cent, has been invented by A. L. Shirley, Panhandle attorney. It has been pronounced sound by the bureau of standards, pump manufacturers, and engineers throughout the country, Mr. Shirley says.

The designs and drawings have been filed in the patent office at Washington. They have been examined and found not to infringe upon any similar water elevating devices.

The hydraulic "ram" is a water-lifting device that utilizes energy in water which is created by sudden stoppage of a flowing stream thereby raising part of the water to a considerable height above the stream itself. Mr. Shirley says.

More specifically a "ram" is a booster pump to elevate water. In forcing water 300 feet high it is only pumped 30 feet, the hydraulic ram forces it the rest of the way. This results in a 90 per cent power saving.

Mr. Shirley has many offers for his invention but has refused. Dr. J. V. McCallister, associated with Mr. Shirley in his venture, has one of the new pumps on display at the Duniagan Tool & Supply company's warehouse on South Cuyler street.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church will give a chicken dinner at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, in the basement of the church. Plates will be $1. For reservations call Mrs. B. C. Fahy, 673-J. Only 50 people can be served, and reservations should be placed not later than Wednesday night.
