LAND TEST CASE TO BE RUSHED ALONG

Litigation in the riverbed suits involving the North Fork in Gray and Wheeler counties was considered Saturday in Fort Worth by counsel for the defendants in the state's test suit which has grown out of the Small land bill validating titles.

Assistant Attorney-General Charles W. Trueheart is handling the test case and defense counsel are attempting to reach an agreement with him on procedure and plans to expedite the case. Trueheart has prepared an amended petition, to which the defendants are planning to offer a general demurrer before District Judge George Calhoun at Austin. Should Judge Calhoun rule on the demurrer, as he is expected to do, the way would be opened for a direct appeal to the supreme court.

The defense, in addition to regard for the Small bill, will plead validity of title on the additional fact of the physical nature of the North Fork and its lack of true navigability. It will be argued that the state has no cause for action because the stream, and similar streams, carry water on consequence only under flood conditions. This action would stand even though the Small bill should be declared unconstitutional, and the defendants are taking no chances.

Colquitt Named in Neff's Place

WASHINGTON, April 16. (P)—Oscar B. Colquitt, former governor of Texas, and a Hoover Democrat, was nominated today by President Hoover to be a member of the railroad board of mediation, succeeding Pat Neff, also a former governor of Texas, whose term has expired.

In naming Colquitt, the president turned aside a recommendation that he reappoint former Governor Pat Neff, whose nomination by President Coolidge last session met considerable opposition.

Scouting Club Has Outdoor Session

Fifteen members of the Scouting club composed of those who took the adult Boy Scout leadership training course sponsored by the Adobe Walls council, held an outdoor meeting on the banks of the Red river at the Mel Davis ranch last night. Supper was cooked over an open fire, each member preparing his own meal.

Games were played before the business meeting was called to order by Scoutmaster George E. Wolfe. It was decided to sponsor a field day among the local Boy Scout troops. A committee composed of the three scoutmasters of local troops, J. D. Sackett, F. D. Hill and Aaron Meek, and Frank Perry and Paul Shepherd will work out details of the meet. An American flag will be awarded the troop making the most points.

The Scouting club will also give each of the Pampa Boy Scout troops a troop flag as its part in helping the Boy Scout movement in Pampa.

The newly organized club will hold meeting once a month, at which plans for assisting Boy Scout work in Pampa will be discussed.

FARM RELIEF AND TARIFF CHANGES ARE ADVOCATED IN PRESIDENTIAL PAPER

Scores of Problems Confront Agriculture Says Chief Executive—Protection From Foreign Menace Urged

OPPOSITION TO FEE METHOD IS EXPRESSED IN MESSAGE

Specific Plans Avoided—Administrative Changes in Assessing Duties Are Held Important

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—President Hoover, in a message of unusual brevity and directness, recommended to Congress today the creation of a federal farm board with authority and resources to remedy recurring cause of depression in the agricultural industry and a limited revision of the tariff with a reorganization of the tariff commission.

In addition he proposed in this, his first state paper, the completion of legislation initiated at the last session for the suspension of the national origins clause of the immigration act, the taking of the 1930 census, and the reapportionment of congressional representation.

WASHINGTON, April 16. (P)—Here is the full text of President Hoover's message to the special session of congress.

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES: I have called this special session of congress to redeem two pledges given in the last election—farm relief and limited changes in the tariff.

The difficulties of the agricultural industry arise out of a multitude of causes. A heavy indebtedness was inherited by the industry from the deflation processes of 1920. Disorderly and wasteful methods of marketing have developed. The growing specialization in the industry has for years been increasing the proportion of products that now leave the farm end, in consequence, prices have been unduly depressed by congested marketing at the harvest or by the occasional climatic surpluses. Railway rates have necessarily increased. There has been a growth of competition in the world markets from countries that enjoy cheaper labor or more nearly virgin soils. There was a great expansion of production from our marginal lands during the war, and upon these profitable enterprise under normal conditions can not be maintained. Meanwhile their continued output tends to aggravate the situation. Local taxes have doubled and in some cases tripled. Work animals have been steadily replaced by mechanical appliances, thereby decreasing the consumption of farm products. There are many other contributing causes.

The general result has been that our agricultural industry has not kept pace in prosperity or standards of living with other lines of industry.

Problem of Method There being no disagreement as to the need of farm relief, the problem before us becomes one of method by which relief may be most successfully brought about. Because of the multitude of causes and because agriculture is not one industry but a score of industries, we are confronted not with a single problem alone but with a number of problems. Therefore there is no single plan or principle that can be generally applied. Some of the forces working to the detriment of agriculture can be greatly mitigated by improving our waterway transportation; some of them by readjustment of the tariff; some by better understanding and adjustment of production needs; and some by improvement of methods of marketing.

An effective tariff upon agricultural products, that will compensate the farmer's higher costs and higher standards of living, has a dual purpose. Such a tariff not only protects the farmer in our domestic market but it also stimulates him to diversify his crops and to grow products that he lessens his dependence upon export-could not otherwise produce, and thus to foreign markets. The great expansion

INDICATIONS POINT TO LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PRESS MEETING HERE—ENTERTAINMENT ANNOUNCED

Much Loot Is Obtained Here in Two Robberies

Unknown persons entered the Atlas Supply company's warehouse on South Cuyler street last night and stole between $700 and $800 worth of supplies. A large car or truck was used to haul the loot away county officers said this morning.

Entrance to the large warehouse was made by prying open a side door. A vehicle was backed up to the front door on South Cuyler street and the loot placed in sacks and loaded from the front platform. A resident living next to the warehouse declared this morning that he had not heard any undue noise during the night although the vehicle had been backed to his front door before being parked beside the loading rack.

Oil equipment stacked inside the door had been knocked down and must have made considerable noise, warehouse men say.

Most of the stolen merchandise was valued for oilfield equipment. The office at Stark & McMillen grain elevator was entered last night, but nothing was stolen. Friday night the same place was entered and a pair of shoes, a leather coat, and rifle were stolen. Entrance was gained by removing a pane of glass from a side window.

Hearing of testimony started this morning and will probably last through today and part of tomorrow.

HOLCOMBE IS TO TRY RACE HE DECLARES

Announces Plans After Seeing Successor Take Office

WAS HEAD OF CITY 4 TIMES

Defers Giving Platform to Later Date in Campaign

HOUSTON, April 16. (P)—Oscar F. Holcombe, four times mayor of Houston, today dramatically announced his candidacy for governor in the 1930 democratic primary.

The former mayor made a brief announcement speech just after administering the oath of office to his successor, Walter E. Monteith.

"I now assume the role of a private citizen and I want to say to you, Judge Monteith, that I hope the next time I am addressed as a public official it will be as governor, for I now announce my candidacy for the high office of governor of the great state of Texas," Holcombe said, and walked out.

Houston's first entry in the gubernatorial derby was at the helm of city affairs for eight years. He was defeated for re-nomination in December by Monteith.

In a more complete announcement to representatives of the press, Holcombe said he would base his campaign on his record as Houston's mayor and "the constructive views I shall present."

"I believe the people of Texas want the same constructive policies applied to the state government which my administration has applied to the growth and development of Houston," he said.

Mr. Holcombe asserted he would await the proper time to outline his platform. He stressed the need of co-operation between the governor and the legislature and asserted he believed he could obtain that co-operation.

Mayor Holcombe was born in Alabama and came to Texas when he was 3 years old, the family settling in San Antonio. When he was 8 years old his father died, leaving him and a younger brother, with the widowed mother not in the best of financial circumstances. By selling papers and other work, he managed to finish the seventh grade in school. While he was employed in a planing mill he studied engineering and later went into the contracting business. He was a contractor, comparatively unknown until the campaign at the time he was first elected mayor.

AMARILLO MEN ADD TO CLAIMS OF PUEBLO FINDS

ABILENE, April 16. (P)—Reporting their discovery of another prehistoric city in the Texas Panhandle, Floyd Studer and John L. McGarrity, Amarillo, archaeology students, today declared the "buried village," claimed yesterday to have been discovered by a group of McMurry college professors and students, had been "charted time and again by eminent archaeologists."

The Amarillo men said the McMurry college find "truly is a village" in comparison with the remnants of the prehistoric city they said they had discovered on the Canadian river in the Panhandle area. They did not describe their discovery or its locations in detail but said it had an agricultural area of several hundred acres and "flint mines" that covered 100 acres. Little excavation work had been done because of prohibitive cost.

The McMurry group said the buried village was uncovered on the Canadian above Plemons, and perhaps was a thousand years old. Dr. W. C. Holdren, history professor and head of the party, said he believed it belonged to the pre-Pueblo culture of western Indian civilization.

JUSTICE DENIES CHARGE OKLAHOMA CITY, April 16. (P)—Justice J. W. Clark of the Oklahoma Supreme Court pleaded not guilty today before the senate court of impeachment to five of 11 impeachment articles voted against him by the house of representatives. He entered demurrers to the remaining six.

"It's Like This"

THE EDITOR'S MAIL is full of appeals for this and that project. Both sides of many issues are presented. Every form of tract, letter, and picture may be found in a week's run of mail.

Here is the Amarillo Board of City Development with a letter addressed to all newspapers of the Panhandle. The Board says it is making an effort to have the Palo Duro canyon set aside as a state or national park.

That is a worthy project and one that has interested many communities for several years. Nearly every nook and branch of the Palo Duro is familiar to the writer, and thousands have marveled at the tremendous parting of the level plains into miles and miles of canyons.

AND HERE IS A TRACT entitled "Fair Play for the Filipinos". It is proposed in Congress to raise the tariff wall against the Philippines, and this action has provoked a storm of resentment on the islands.

It may be fortunate for the Filipinos that Col. Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state lately their governor-general, has become familiar with trade conditions in the dependency. Recently Col. Stimson, in pledging a policy of fair play toward the islands, added that this policy "includes a continuation of free trade."

There is much truth in the claims that "We have no more moral right to thrust the 'wards of the nation' outside our tariff wall and slam the iron gates in their faces than we have to do the same to the citizens of Alaska or Texas or any other state or territory under the American flag."

"EARLY DISCOVERY, early recovery" is the title of a communication from the Texas Public Health Association. This is the slogan of the early diagnosis campaign being conducted this month all over the nation by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies.

the child becomes infected. But we must expend our view of tuberculosis to include the possibility of the very early stage of the disease in children—we must discover it in the antecedent condition during childhood before it becomes pulmonary tuberculosis at all.

It is urged that everyone have a thorough physical examination at least once each year, whether they need it or not. Early indications of tuberculosis are that one tires easily, loses weight, has poor digestion and cannot get rid of a cough.

R. B. WALTHALL, chairman of the state board of control, says "it would be a fine thing if the people all over Texas would go to the trouble to get in touch with the state senators and representatives before they leave home for the purpose of urging them to make sufficient appropriation for the next two years to take care of the eleemosynary institutions of this state and to enlarge them to such an extent as to do away with the customary long waiting lists for admittance into the tuberculosis sanitarium, the feeble-minded institution, the epileptic hospital, the orphan home, and the state hospitals for the insane. It would not require very much additional money to do this. How members of the legislature can find it in their hearts to deny the actual need of the suffering unfortunates is more than I have been able to understand."

Texas has seventeen eleemosynary institutions. Their budgets have been cut deeply already by the board of control. By the time the legislature gets through cutting there is usually little left for expansion. The unfortunates cannot plead their case, and the other institutions have been getting the better of the appropriations. Texas needs more revenue, and the state needs to uncover a lot of taxable resources that are studiously hidden. It is imperative that the eleemosynary institutions be expanded to care for the demands of an increasing population.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON — Leaders of American education will soon have before them a summary showing the extent to which university professors have been subsidized by the propaganda agencies of public utilities interests and the extent to which these professors have prostituted themselves in disseminating misleading information. Requests from the American Political Science Association and from members of the American Association of University Professors have caused the publication of this resume by the National Popular Government League. It is a lengthy pamphlet entitled "The Challenge of the Power Investigators to American Educators" and is being sent to all members of the American Political Science Association and several other organizations of educators as well as to all prominent college presidents.

The volume is based upon exhibits and testimony before the Federal Trade Commission during its continuing investigation of certain educators in furtherance of "power trust" propaganda. Judson King, director of the National Popular Government League, has named the professors whom he considers the worst offenders and has presented the evidence connecting them with an alleged vast plot to educate Americans to a belief in the virtues of private public utility ownership. The pamphlet is elaborated from a speech which King made at the political science body's last convention in Chicago.

"Here is the proof," King says, "that this is not a sporadic thing or a temporary phase, but a deliberate plot by the National Electric Light Association to control education in universities and public schools in every respect that would suit their purpose."

TWINKLES

The University of Wisconsin will offer a course for prospective firemen. And this will add to the reputation of colleges for turning out lazy students.

While we are honoring old-timers, it looks as if we will have to dig quite a bit to get at the bottom of the subject.

It's harder on parents to be raised by modern children, which probably explains why the after of four sets of twins committed suicide.

Well, Congress is sworn in and the at is probably not far off.

WEATHER IS KING AS MAJOR LEAGUE SEASON OPENS

Many Games Are Postponed by Rain or Wet Diamonds

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—The opening baseball game of the season, scheduled for today between Philadelphia and Washington in the American league, was postponed on account of rain.

At Philadelphia—New York, postponed, rain.

NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—Boston Red Sox vs. New York Yankees postponed, rain.

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Spring weather was forecast for six of the eight cities. King Baseball was to come on after taking a back seat October.

Pittsburgh and Chicago to clash at Chicago in the one of the National league's schedule, the outlook was somewhat chilly, weather. At Cincinnati, the Reds and St. Louis Cardinals, National league champions, expected fair and somewhat warmer weather.

All the other cities, two in the National and four in the American league, have been warned to expect anything but favorable conditions.

Assuming that all eight games will be played, an outpouring of more than 200,000 fans is expected.

Fifty thousand of these should pile into the Yankee stadium to see whether Miller Huggins' world champion New York Yankees still pack their punch. The Boston Red Sox, an improved but hardly dangerous crew, are to furnish the opposition to Huggins'

Attendance of fifty thousand is a certainty at Chicago where, with Rogers Hornsby at second and a National league pennant fond expectation, will bat one of their foremost rivals, generous Pirates of Donie Bush, small and St. Louis should perform some 30,000. President is to help 25,000 other fans.

Walter Johnson's "dark horse" sensation Senators when they take the field for an engagement with Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, manager to finish second behind the Yankees in the American league.

25,000 may watch Detroit and Cleveland at Cleveland and 10,000 attend the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns encounter at St. Louis.

Large crowds are expected at the opening of the National league games at Philadelphia and Boston. Brooklyn's Dodgers meet the Braves at Philadelphia, while the Phils are seeing what they can do with the powerful New York Giants at Philadelphia.

John A. Heydler, president of the National league, has decided to watch the Phils-Giants clash, while President Barnard of the American league is watching the Senators and Athletics. Although the Yankees are strong favorites to take their fourth consecutive American league championship, Heydler indicates the champions will be split by at least four clubs—Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis and St. Paul. In the National league, the Giants and Cubs will be the principal factors in the pennant race but that Pittsburgh and St. Louis, alternate league champions during the last four years, will provide a bit of opposition and have an excellent chance to win.

Bandits Blamed in Death of Adventist

HONGKAI, April 16. (AP)—American consular and missionary authorities today to piece out the story of the last days of Herbert K. Smith, seventh-day adventist of Zionville, Ind., killed by Chinese in southwest Kweichow.

A telegram dated Kweichow, Kweichow, by way of Hankow and dated April 12 arrived here last night verifying the previous reports of the missionary's death. It was signed by the American seventh day adventist representative of Kweichow, and said: "Just received wire from Hwangtsaopa Smith then killed."

M. C. Warren of Chico, California, a seventh day adventist representative, who recently saw Smith at Kweichow, said Smith, who was just 25 years old, had started a three-week walking evangelizing tour of southwest Kweichow province. Hwangtsaopa was eight days walk from Wweiyang. Warren said bandits had overrun the province and he believed Smith had met his death at their hands. Smith's wife and child had been left at Kweichow and were believed to be safe.

Little Hudkins Beats Big Man

LOS ANGELES, April 16. (AP)—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wildcat" has disproved the old ring theory that "a good big man is better than a good little man."

The middleweight from the middle-west stepped out of his class here last night to administer a beating to Armand Emanuel, San Francisco heavyweight. Hudkins entered the ring at 168 1/2 pounds, ten pounds over his normal weight to meet the 175-pounder from the bay city.

Joe Bailey Buried Beside First Wife

GAINESVILLE, April 16. (AP)—Joe Bailey sleeps today on a little knoll overlooking the Texas city he chose as his home when he "went west" from his native state of Mississippi year ago. Amid a tremendous outpouring of old friends, Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States senator from Texas and one of the most interesting personalities ever to appear on the stage of Texas politics, was laid to rest yesterday near the scenes of his first political triumphs.

The statesman was interred beside the body of his first wife, on a plot he had owned for many years. As the funeral cortege left the railroad station, floral tokens were dropped from an airplane overhead, a last mark of respect from those in the senator's old home town.

Woman Led to Silver's Capture

HOUSTON, April 16. (AP)—A woman was the undoing of Bob Silver, young bandit who, with four other convicts, sawed out of the tubercular ward of the Wynne state prison farm.

Silver, whose death sentence for participation in the holdup-killing of Roscoe Wilson, Fort Worth moving picture house manager, was commuted less than a hour before he was to begin a march to the electric chair, was recaptured here last night by officers who followed a woman.

His companions in the break, three of whom, like him, were charged with robbery by firearms for holding up a young college couple near the prison farm and commandeering their automobile to complete their getaway Friday night, already had been caught.

Trailing Miss Parlee King, 26, after a chance tip from an unnamed man had led to the hypothesis that she was going to the youth, the police arrested Silver when he and Carl Lawder, an Oklahoma ex-convict, entered Miss King's automobile on a street 20 blocks from the business district.

The woman and Lawder were charged with aiding an escaped prisoner.

Fans on Edge as Texas League Is About to Oper

DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—Eight baseball clubs were keyed to a high pitch and thousands of fans on edge today as last minute preparations were made for the opening of the Texas league season tomorrow.

While few of the managers or club owners would venture predictions as to certain victory in the long pennant chase, forecasts of hard fights and play would give fans good return on their ticket investments were common.

After a one-day rest, Shreveport today put in a few training licks for the opening game with Wichita Falls. Brown and Tobin were the scheduled battery for the Sports.

Plans for opening day celebrations have been completed at Shreveport, Beaumont, Dallas and San Antonio, where the fans will get their first glimpse of the athletes in action in a league game.

New uniforms, a new park at Beaumont and a new name for the San Antonio players, who are Bears no longer but Indians, are among the new things for fans to think about outside of teams, managers and games.

Hurlers for the opening day have been tentatively decided and announced although several managers said the choice was between two of their hurlers.

Two Charlies were to face each other on the mound at Dallas, where Jackie Atz and his Fort Worth Katz were to renew the ancient warfare. Sullivan was the probable choice of the Atzmen, and Barnabee was slated for Steer hill.

Dick Whitworth was a cowtown second possibility with Dickie Schuman in the same role for Dallas. The Wichita Falls Spudders were due in Shreveport tonight to tackle the Sports. Milt Steingrafe or George Payne were the selections of J. Alvin Gardner's crew, and the battery of Brown and Tobin was announced today for the Sports.

The Texas league champions from Houston have either Paul Wachtel or Ad Lindsey for mound duty in their game at Beaumont against the Explorers. Newman or Hanson was to work for the Shippers.

Waco's Cubs will work behind either Lefty Stein or Earl Caldwell in their game at San Antonio. Either Messenger or Shea will do hill duty for the Indians.

Pyle's Troubles Being Ironed Out

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, April 16. (AP)—Performers in C. C. Pyle's bunton derby saw the last of their troubles in Ohio waning in today's trip to Richmond, Ind.

Their experiences during the last few days included attachment by a New York automobile company of the motor caravan, cold weather made worse by rain, and evidences of lack of interest in Pyle's great assemblage of acting talent.

Seth Gonzales, of Raton, New Mexico, quit after the run here from Columbus because he said he "didn't feel like running any more."

Pyle said he expected to clear up financial matters and secure release of his cars.

Pete Gavuzzi, the bearded Southampton, England, pavement polisher faced the 63-mile run into Indiana with nearly an hour's jump on the field.

The runners in reaching Springfield completed 672.8 miles of their 3,400 mile center to the coast.

NORTON CHANGES MIND NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—After a career of only three weeks as a professional tennis player, Brian Norton of Texas once ranked among the first 10 amateurs, has applied for reinstatement as an amateur. Norton played in only one professional tournament, defeating Vincent Richards in the final at Palm Beach three weeks ago. He turned over the money he received for winning to Holcombe Ward, chairman of the amateur rule committee, when he made his application for reinstatement. A decision is expected in a few days.

MISS GUGGENHEIM MARRIES NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—The New York World said today Natalie Guggenheim, 18, and only daughter of Edmond A. Guggenheim, wealthy copper magnate, was married last Friday to Thomas M. Gorman, 27-year-old real estate broker and son of a railroad freight agent.

HOOKS AND SLIDES MAKES YOU OLD THOUGH

It seems to be the policy of Miller Huggins to prepare for the worst and be prepared for it. In other words, to always be pessimistic about the terrible things that are going to happen and get ready for them.

His ball club is respected so highly by the other managers in the league not only because of the power of the first-string performers but by the strength of his reserve force.

Other managers should have the same kind of emergency material, but other managers are not as gloomy as Huggins. They expect to get a fair split of the breaks, but Huggins goes against him.

WHERE ARE THE PITCHERS? Babe Ruth figures that the Yankees have more reserve strength than any club in baseball.

There are three fine outfield substitutes in Paschal, Byrd and Durst and three capable utility infielders in Burns, Robertson and Lary, if you will agree that Lary is not a bust.

Because he is a $125,000 ball player who was beaten out of his job by Durocher, it might be reasoned that Lary is a failure. The Babe, however, says that in another year Lary will be a great player because he is potentially a great player and has not had his spirit broken.

Ruth also thinks that Byrd is destined to be a great outfielder and that is a nice compliment from Ruth. Because "Commander" Byrd (he would be called that!) is being groomed to take the Babe's place.

Ruth took great pains to tutor Byrd in the training camp, and, strange to say, so did Bob Meusel.

The Babe always has been particularly solicitous about the welfare of rookie players, but the quiet and stolid Meusel never has been very active in furthering anyone's advancement—even his own.

WHERE'LL HE FIGHT? As a result of all the quarreling about the contract of Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, it is likely

Ruth Engaged as Season Begins

NEW YORK, April 16. (AP)—George Herman (Babe) Ruth was in the Yankee lineup for the opening game of the season today with a license to marry Mrs. Claire Hodgson, former actress and a widow. The home run king had made the date of the ceremony a matter of speculation by fixing it vaguely for "some day this week."

The license was obtained yesterday at the New York municipal building. The Babe appeared at the bureau accompanied by Mrs. Hodgson and another woman.

Clark Michael J. Cruise who issued the license offered to marry the famous ball player and Mrs. Hodgson at once, but Ruth declined, reminding Cruise the baseball season "opens tomorrow."

Mrs. Hodgson gave her age as 28. She said she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Merritt and was born in Jefferson, Ga. She said her first husband, Frank Hodgson, was dead. She has a daughter, Julia.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE, stenographer at the Judson Hotel, has her fox fur snatched from her in a crowd, but STEPHEN ARMSTRONG catches the thief and returns the scarf.

He found a message in his room. He was asked to call the Judson Hotel.

Both Mildred and Stephen were absorbed in the play. Neither paid any attention to the newcomers. Mildred was leaning forward in her seat, the better to see around the rather large and bushy head of the man in front of her.

It was a startled expression that suddenly flared over Mildred's features that brought him around to see what had caught her eye. He found himself looking into Pamela's faintly smiling face.

STEPHEN failed entirely to get the double meaning behind Pamela's words. He looked past her as she spoke and recognized Huck.

He believed she had placed her job in jeopardy, and somehow he felt responsible. Of course, he should have known that Miss Judson would not want to be entertained with one of her father's employes. No doubt her displeasure had inspired what she said to Mildred, but Mildred's fiery comeback had surprised him.

AMARILLO WOMAN DECLARES SHE OWES PRESENT GOOD HEALTH TO ORGATONE; GAINS ELEVEN POUNDS.

"For more than two years before I began taking Orgatone, I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," said Mrs. E. R. Pigg, who resides at 2403 Sanborn Avenue, Amarillo, Texas, recently.

"When I began taking Orgatone," Mrs. Pigg continued, "my system seemed to be all run-down. My back would sometimes hurt me so I could hardly stand up. I had trouble with gas pains and would try everything I could hear of for these troubles, but kept on suffering just the same. My strength and general health was leaving me all the time. I felt tired and worn out from one day's end to the other, and was hardly able to attend to my household duties.

"But it is all different now since I began taking Orgatone. It is really wonderful the way it has built me up. Why, do you know I have already gained eleven pounds in weight on only three bottles, and am strong enough to do my own housework with ease. I can get around now without those aches or pains and actually feel better than I have in years. It is certainly wonderful to feel well like I do now all the time and I am glad to have the privilege of making this statement because I believe it will be the cause of others getting relief."

to in order that we may not undermine the freedom of our farmers and of our people as a whole by bureaucratic and governmental domination and interference. We must not undermine initiative. There should be no fee or tax imposed upon the farmer. No governmental agency should engage in the buying and selling and price fixing of products, for such courses can lead only to bureaucracy and domination. Government funds should not be loaned for facilities duplicated where other services of credit and facilities are available at reasonable rates. No activities should be set in motion that will result in increasing the surplus production, as such will defeat any plans of relief.

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Senator Brookhart of Iowa, one of President Hoover's most ardent campaigners last fall, declared today the executive had taken "an entirely inconsistent" position in his message to congress with respect to agricultural products that have a surplus.

The most aggressive movement in all agriculture has been the upbuilding of the farmer's own marketing organizations, which now embrace nearly two million farmers in membership and annually distribute nearly $2,500,000,000 worth of farm products. These organizations have acquired experience in virtually every branch of their industry, and furnish a substantial basis upon which to build further organization. Not all these marketing organizations are farmer-owned nor farmer-controlled. In order to strengthen and not to undermine them, all proposals for governmental assistance should originate with such organizations and be the result of their application. Moreover by such bases of organization the government will be removed from engaging in the business of agriculture.

Extended Process
The difficulties of agriculture can not be cured in a day; they can not all be cured by legislation; they can not be cured by the federal government alone. But farmers and their organizations can be assisted to overcome these inequalities. Every effort of this character is an experiment, and we shall find from our experience the way to further advance. We must betterment for the farmer so as to furnish guidance as to need in production, to devise methods for elimination of unprofitable marginal lands and their adaption to other uses; to develop industrial by-products and to survey a score of other fields of helpfulness.

Conservé Initiative
Certain safeguards must naturally surround these activities and the instrumentalities that are created. Certain vital principles must be adhered make a start. With the creation of a great instrumentality of this character, of a strength and importance equal to that of those which we have created for transportation and banking, we give immediate assurance of the determined purpose of the government to meet the difficulties of which we are now aware, and to create an agency through which constructive action for the future will be assured.

In this treatment of this problem we recognize the responsibility of the people as a whole, and we shall lay the foundation for a new day in agriculture, from which we shall preserve to the great value of its individuality and strengthen our whole national fabric.

Tariff Was Wise

In considering the tariff for other industries than agriculture, we find that there have been economic shifts necessitating a readjustment of some of the tariff schedules. Seven years of experience under the tariff bill enacted in 1922 have demonstrated the wisdom of congress in the enactment of that measure. On the whole it has worked well. In the main our wages have been maintained at high levels; our exports and imports have steadily increased; with some exceptions our manufacturing industries have been prosperous. Nevertheless, economic changes have taken place during that time, which have placed certain domestic products at a disadvantage and new industries have come into being, all of which creates the necessity for some limited changes in the schedules and in the administrative clauses of the laws as written in 1922.

It would seem to me that the test of necessity for revision is in the main whether there has been a substantial slackening of activity in an industry during the past few years, and a consequent decrease of employment due to insurmountable competition in the products of that industry. It is not as if we were setting up a new basis of protective duties. We did that seven years ago. What we need to remedy now is whether substantial loss of employment may have resulted from shifts since that time.

No Discrimination

No discrimination against any foreign industry is involved in equalizing the difference in costs of production at home and abroad and thus taking from our foreign producers the advantages they derive from paying lower wages to labor. Indeed, such equalization is not only a measure of social justice at home, but by the lift it gives to our standards of living we increase the demand for those goods from abroad that we do not ourselves produce. In a large sense we have learned that the cheapening of the toller decreases rather than promotes permanent prosperity because it reduces the consuming power of the people.

In determining changes in our tariff we must not fail to take into account the broad interests of the country as a whole, and such interests include our trade relations with other countries. It is obviously unwise protection which sacrifices a greater amount of employment in exports to gain a less amount of employment from imports.

Need Reorganization

I am impressed with the fact that we need important revision in some of the administrative phases of the tariff. The tariff commission should be reorganized and placed upon a basis of higher salaries in order that we may at all times command men of the broadest attainments. Seven years of experience have proved the principle of flexible tariff to be practical, and in the long view a most important principle to maintain. However, the basis upon which the tariff commission makes its recommendations to the president for administrative changes in the rates of duty should be made more automatic and more comprehensive, to the end that the time required for determination by the tariff commission shall be greatly shortened. The formula can be found that will insure rapid and accurate determination of needed changes in rates. With such strengthening of the commission and of its basis for action many secondary changes in tariff can well be left to action by the commission, which at the same time will give complete security to industry for the future.

Undervaluations Seen

Furthermore, considerable weaknesses on the administrative side of the tariff have developed, especially in the valuations for assessments of duty. There are cases of undervaluations that are difficult to discover without access to the books of foreign manufacturers, which they are reluctant to offer. This has become also a great source of friction abroad. There is increasing shipment of goods on consignment, particularly by foreign shippers to concerns that they control in the United States, and this practice makes valuations difficult to determine. I believe it is desirable to furnish to the treasury a sounder basis for valuation in these and other cases.

Certain matters of emergency legislation that were partially completed in the last session, such as the decennial census, the reapportionment of congressional representation, and the suspension of the national origins clause of the immigration act of 1924, together with some minor administrative authorizations, I understand that these measures can be reundertaken without unduly extending the session. I recommend their consummation as being in the public interest.

Ten—Two and Four Are Magic Words in Mysterious New Club

Prominent Doctor Says Drinks Will Be on Him in Club Doesn't Enroll Best Citizenship, Not Excepting Sheriff, Ministers and County Attorney

Following closely the story published yesterday regarding rumors of a "drinking club" being organized here comes information through underground channels that the "pass-word" has leaked out. From where or whom the information comes cannot be learned, but it is passing from lip to lip with amazing rapidity. Those "in the know" are seen to wink wisely as fellow conspirators and whisper "ten, two, four."

Conjectures as to the meaning of the words are rife. Some hazard the guess that it is merely a set of arbitrary numbers like the combination of a safe, which are to be whispered at the iron-barred door as the "open sesame" to the club. Others contend that the numbers when added together total sixteen and that sixteen is a hotel room or street number of the club headquarters.

Whatever is the significance of the "pass-word," it will undoubtedly have to be changed, if non-members are to be prevented from taking advantage of it. Too much wise talk seems to have already made it pretty much public property.

A man by the name of D. I. Spenser was found today who admits a direct connection with the "prominent Doctor" who is said to be the organizer. Spenser is firm in the belief that under the unique plan, the club can be operated without interference from the law. He promised that full details of the proposed plan will be forthcoming within the next few days.—Advertisement.
