Senator Threatens to Resign After Tilt With Love

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—A Texas "blue law" written into the statute books in 1871 before motion picture shows were established in the state, was amended today by the house so that they may be operated on the Sabbath through 1934 regulation. Final vote of the measure was 70-36.

Opponents, sensing that they faced defeat, attempted to adjourn shortly before the ballot was taken in the hope of marshaling strength before the bill could be again brought up. This move was blocked by a thunderous chorus of "noes."

Under the bill, city councils will be clothed with power to regulate Sunday shows regardless of the population of the locality in which they are situated. Under present laws, Sunday theatres are prohibited.

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—Faced with the threatened resignation of Senator Eugene Miller of Weatherford, chairman of the committee on criminal jurisprudence, the senate today backed up on its action a few minutes earlier to force the committee to report a bill.

Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, had reoffered a resolution to force the committee to report on the Graves house bill amending the Dean law. The senate passed the resolution by a vote of 12 to 10.

Miller rose to a question of personal privilege immediately and protested vehemently.

"If the senate sustains Love in this 'standstill play,' I here and now tender my resignation," he declared warmly.

A few minutes later Senator Tom Poillard of Tyler moved to reconsider. Poillard pointed out that Miller had promised to try to hold a meeting of the committee today. The motion to reconsider carried and the resolution was tabled by a viva voce vote.

LINDBERGH AND FIANCEE PLAN AIRPLANE FLIGHT MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27. (P)—An air excursion over Mexico City possibly as far as the nearby twin volcanoes, with his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, is planned by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

After two days in the romance-laden atmosphere of sleepy old Cuernavaca, the aviator was back today in this capital, within easy reach of Valbuena flying field and his plane.

Sometimes before the termination of his visit here, it is understood, the plane, the four passenger city of Wichita, will be trundled from its hangar for the trip of the engaged pair.

HOMICIDE CHARGE PLACED AFTER ACCIDENT

W. W. Brown was released yesterday on $500 bond on a charge of negligent homicide growing out of the death of I. S. Reddick, who was killed when run down by a car driven by Mr. Brown. Mr. Reddick died while on the way to a hospital in a Malone ambulance.

Mrs. Reddick was also injured in the same accident. According to a report from the McKean & Connor hospital, this morning, Mrs. Reddick was resting comfortably today. Her injuries included a broken leg and head and facial injuries.

Coroner C. E. Cary conducted a preliminary investigation into the accident yesterday and decided to hold Brown for the grand jury.

Reddick was killed when run down on South Cuyler street about 11:30 Monday night. He was with Mrs. Reddick when the accident occurred. Mr. Brown gated the lights on an approaching car blinded him and he was unable to see the couple who were walking south.

Data on Murders in Chicago Points to Capone Gang

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (P)—An attempt to rifle the state's attorney's private file of gang massacre evidence was revealed today.

The knob of the door leading to the office of John A. Swanson, state's attorney, was removed, and the lock pried open. Chris Kiesling, private secretary to Swanson, made the discovery. Whether important papers were removed was not indicated.

The office was ransacked a few hours after police had broadcast a general order for the arrest of 17 men in connection with the Valentine's day gang murders.

The murder investigation, to all outward appearances, was standing still. Twenty-four hours after the list of 17 men had been made public, none had been arrested. All theories save one apparently had been dropped. Police were concentrating on the belief that followers of Al Capone were responsible for the assassination.

Rifle Club Has 83 Charter Members

There are 83 charter members in the Pampa Rifle association organized last week. P. O. Sanders said this morning when closing the charter membership list preparatory to sending it to the National Rifle association. There are some who have registered, but have failed to send a remittance, which must be in the hands of George E. Wolfe by tomorrow night.

Shooting pits will be built on the Ralph Arnold ranch four miles west of here.

Woodward Measure Would Ask Bond of Well Drillers

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—A public hearing on the Woodward senate bill requiring the bonding of oil drillers is to be held tonight before the house judiciary committee.

Albert S. Leach of Fort Worth, said today that the bill, which had been passed by the senate, would ruin the small driller.

Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, author of the measure, asserted that its purpose was to stop irresponsible drilling.

The bill would require the filing of a bond sufficient to cover all expense for labor before drilling could be started, Woodward said. Under present conditions some drillers depend on the sale of leases to pay for the labor and the laborers go unpaid if the leases are not disposed of, Woodward continued.

HEALTH POOR, PHYSICIAN SAYS

Voice Breaks as He Tells of Life as Orphan

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—Attorneys for large oil companies, in addition to the governor, attorney-general and university regents, pleaded with J. T. Robison, land commissioner, to postpone sale of mineral leases in public lands advertised for sale in January. Robison told the joint legislative committee investigating his office today.

R. L. Batts, a regent and an attorney for the Gulf Production company, was the first to approach him asking postponement, he said.

General Jacob F. Wolters, attorney for the Texas company, asked him not to let the sale go on, using the same argument made by Batts, Robison testified.

He also received a letter from Wallace E. Pratt of the Humble Oil company, asking a postponement, and a communication from C. D. Neff, who said he represented the independent producers, Robison stated.

Neff suggested that the sale be postponed until the independent producers could get the blue sky law amended, Robison said.

Dr. Joe S. Wooten of Austin, told of having been called to San Antonio in the autumn of 1925 to attend Commissioner Robison, who was stricken seriously ill in West Texas and started towards home when it was decided a major surgical operation was imperative. This was performed in San Antonio.

Dr. Wooten said Mr. Robison had never "back to normal condition" since the operation, and that he had "more energy than physical strength."

As Mr. Robison told of his father leaving to join the confederacy when he was a child, "and never came back," his voice broke and tears filled his eyes. He said he was left an orphan when 13 years old. He told of his struggles to obtain an education. He said he would be 68 years old next September.

Third of Lenten Talks to Be Given Here on Friday

On Friday evening at Holy Souls church, the third of a series of Lenten sermons will be delivered by the Rev. F. H. Hillen, vice-rector of St. George's college, Amarillo. The preacher, in his opening sermon, dwelt on the subject of "Indulgences and the Necessity of Penance." The second sermon treated with the Catholic doctrine concerning "Purgatory and Confession."

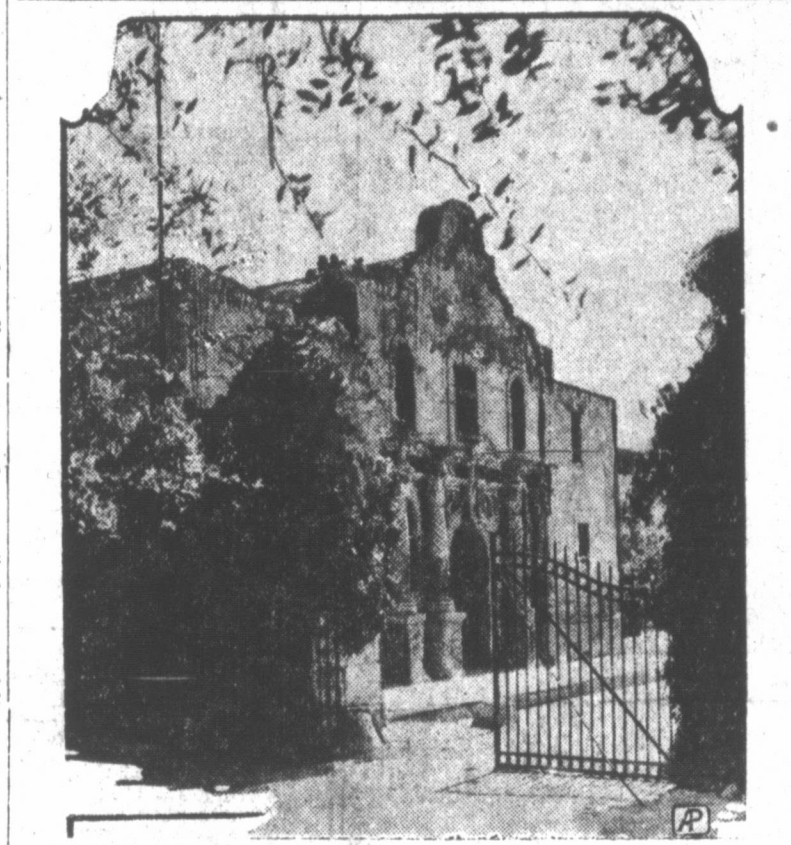

The discourse of tomorrow evening will be on the temporal power of the pope. Subjects for succeeding Friday evenings during Lent will be as follows: "Celibacy of the Clergy," "Matrimony," "Externals of the Catholic Church," "The Blessed Virgin," "Mass," and "Holy Eucharist."

Services are held at 7:30 in the evening, opening with the ceremony of the Way of the Cross and closing with the Benediction.

A question box has been placed in the entrance of the church, in which may be deposited the questions of those seeking information as to the correct teaching concerning Catholic beliefs and practices. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend the services. Any individual may place questions in the question box.

CITADELS OF COMMERCE TOWER OVER THE ALAMO

The Alamo at San Antonio, Texas is the "Thermopylae" of the western hemisphere. There 200 Texans died in the Texas war for independence, after they had held back a large Mexican force for 13 days. The fortress, once a church, now serves as a museum.

APPEALS COURT NOT LENIENT IN LATE DECISIONS

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—Henry Helms, given death in Eastland county for his part in the robbery of the Cisco National bank on December 23, 1927, lost his appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals today. The verdict was affirmed.

Helms was indicted for robbery of A. Spears, and it was alleged he obtained $12,400. Spears was an officer of the bank. Two police officers were killed during the robbery, and Helms and Marshall Ratliff, now under death and life imprisonment sentences in two cases brought against him in connection with the robbery, were wounded.

The court refused an application to file a second motion for rehearing by Harry J. Leahy of Mathis under sentence of death for murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, also of Mathis. Leahy is now in the death cell at Huntsville. His execution date has been set for April 12.

Cases of Tim Ingram and B. A. Ingram, Eastland county, each sentenced to ten years for robbery of D. L. Allen, were affirmed. The indictment alleged that Allen was assaulted with firearms and $53 taken from his person.

town until Travis' 200 men were driven to the Alamo for refuge.

Travis assembled his men and, declaring he never would surrender, drew a line in front of him and requested all who would stay with him to step across the line. All but one walked across the line. The exception was Col. James Bowie, who, because of illness with pneumonia, ordered the soldiers to carry him across, and he fought until all his ammunition was exhausted.

After a 13-day siege the Mexicans broke into the fort March 6, 1836. They slew every defender.

No man knows where the ashes of the defenders rest. Santa Anna had the bodies burned on two great pyres. When Texans recaptured the town, they buried the remains, but the exact spot is not known. A tablet has been erected on the approximate location.

Miss Ruth Williams is seriously ill and is a patient in the Pampa hospital.

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—Continued wrangling over what Judge J. D. Moore's charge to the jury should contain halted action of record today in the criminal trial of Congressman-Elect Augustus J. McCloskey. Inability to decide upon what the charge should contain and a bill of exceptions to the unsatisfactory portions had continued since yesterday until about noon today when the court recessed until 2 p. m.

Donley County to Get Wildcat Test

A location for one of the wildest wildcats in the Panhandle oil field has been made by Beaudoin et al of Los Angeles. The test will be drilled in the northeast corner of section 22, block E, D. & P. survey, in Donley county, on the W. J. Ball land.

The test will be drilled 17 miles southeast of nearest production in Gray county, which is in section 50, block 25, in the southeastern part of the county. The location is about four miles south of Alnored, or two miles south of the Gray county line.

A geological survey of the territory has shown pronounced oil bearing indications. Another test in the same county will be made by the Marine Oil company in the center of the southwest quarter of section 5, block G, of the G. C. & S. F. survey.

William J. Donovan Is Not to Accept Position

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (P)—William D. Mitchell, solicitor general of the United States, has been selected by President-elect Hoover to be attorney-general in his cabinet, and simultaneously with this development today friends of William J. Donovan said he would not occupy any federal office after March 4.

The attorney-generalship at one time was expected to go to Donovan, who was represented today as being annoyed by the opposition raised against him for this post by certain dry forces and others. He was said to feel he was being looked upon by these forces not as an individual whose capacity for organization and administration were to be taken into account.

Mr. Donovan is returning as soon as possible to Santa Fe, New Mexico, to wind up his activities as chairman of the Boulder Dam commission and as commissioner on the Rio Grande commission. On the 4th of March he will retire to the practice of law and sever his connection with the government.

With the elimination of Donovan for the war secretaryship, the names of James M. Good of Iowa, was brought forward as a possible choice. Mr. Good was Mr. Hoover's western campaign manager.

"It's Like This"

SMUG SATISFACTION, enforced by the not incorrect statement that Pampa has been an unusually clean oil town, is not going to remove from this city the cancerous hand of crime that inevitably fastens itself upon every center of oil activity.

If we have been satisfied in the past with the kind of city we have had and now have, how about continuing that standard of oil field law enforcement indefinitely? The answer lies chiefly with the people, who get results according to their wishes.

There is lawlessness in Pampa—not of violence, it is true, but nevertheless to an extent that would not be tolerated in many Panhandle cities where oil development has not reached. Gambling and vice we may have with us always, but the degree can be determined. When these evils are not watched their talons reach out to tempt the young and the weak willed. At that time the danger is not merely because gambling and vice exist, but because they aggressively reach out for more business.

We believe it is time for the officers, the prosecuting attorneys, the grand juries, to sound the death knell of these evils, or at least to reduce their practice to the strictest minimum.

Even a casual survey of conditions in Pampa, or most any other city of its size, reveals room for improvement. Think it over.

MORE LIBERAL search and seizure laws, and penalties not so strict for first offenses are advocated rather strongly in the legislature.

The first proposal is necessary if officers are to be without embarrassment in many instances where evidences of guilt are apparent. The sanctity of the home is not threatened as much by the entrance of an officer seeking evidence as by conditions which make it difficult for that officer to rid a neighborhood of offenders. We have too much liberty when homes nearby become havens of the lawless.

The second proposition has the support of some people of all factions, likewise the opposition of sections of these same factions. Some strong supporters of prohibition wish heavier penalties, not lighter ones. Others, noting the reluctance of some juries to find a man guilty if it means a penitentiary sentence, propose lighter punishment for the first offense and stronger penalties for successive violations.

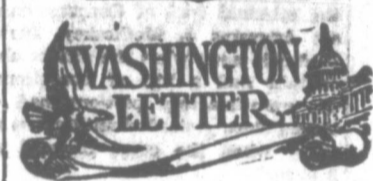

There is something to the argument, but the whole scheme is defeated if the highly profitable bootlegging business is enabled to protect its henchmen through payment of lighter fines, or if the violators are willing to take the risk of drawing a lighter sentence. There are hundreds of persons who are tempted by the lucrative prospects, but whom the stiff penalties discourage. Without teeth in the prohibition laws, there will be a rush into lawlessness—a condition that must be avoided if possible. While few claim that prohibition enforcement is even remotely airtight, tampering with the law is dangerous if it is weakened.

THE TARIFF, football of political maneuvers for generations is doing an about-face every few years. There are a few stand-patters of the old school who fight the tariff, for revenue or protection, or both. Any Congressman will tell you, however, that industrial and agricultural America, having attained high standards of living and of business conduct, fear any invasion of foreign products.

The manufacturers who use easily importable products of course want a low tariff barrier on their raw materials. The shoe manufacturer wants a low duty on South American hides and a high duty on shoes, the finished products of those hides. And thus it goes throughout the list of industries.

But can we afford to continue the principle of protection into every business, maintaining an artificial policy of trade? Retaliation abroad against the products we must sell to be prosperous will be costly. Political manipulation of trade is likely to come nearer causing a panic in this country in the next decade than any other factor. Never was there a greater need for the skill of economists, rather than of lawmakers, in the handling of the foreign trade problem.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—Calvin Coolidge goes out of office and the feature stories about him say he is a changed Calvin, but it is difficult to see just wherein he is altered.

As a matter of fact he seems to be just about the same Calvin who moved into the White House in 1923. He has had more effect on the presidency, if anything, than the presidency has had on Calvin. He is just as sour, just as jolly, just as timid, just as brave, just as happy, just as glum, just as selfish, just as self-sacrificing, just as materialistic, just as idealistic, as he ever was.

And only five or six years older.

He has taken his job seriously, up to the last moment, pursuing the appallingly even tenor of his ways without speeding up or slowing down.

Not too much significance should be attached to the fact that he took a walk in February without his overcoat. Such an escapade is nothing new in the life of Calvin Coolidge. Only a short time after he became president he enjoyed in all its ecstatic hilarity the experience of watching a girl turn flapjacks in the window of a local restaurant. Undoubtedly he derived more genuine pleasure than if the girl had merely been turning flapjacks.

They do say that the "great change" in Calvin Coolidge was really first noticed by the acutely observant when he donned cowboy clothes presented to him by Boy Scouts in South Dakota. That meant, one reads, that he had decided to hold office no more and was setting about to emancipate himself from the repressive requirements of complete dignity.

All sorts of explanations have been offered for the president's most unusual conduct upon that occasion, especially the one that he was trying to make a hit with the west. No one has ever suggested that it was merely a kindly gesture designed to please the Boy Scouts. Calvin Coolidge has been known to do that sort of thing, but the country roared with laughter.

Neither does the fact that Mr. Coolidge was observed shooting at things around Thanksgiving and Christmas time signify that the retiring president was then or is now planning to embark on a course of what might be called comparative whoopee. Given a gun and some clay pigeons, who wouldn't?

In the expiring session of the Seventieth Congress, he accepted his defeats just as passively and silently as he did at the beginning of his administration. He was never the man to make a stirring, uncompromising fight against an unruly Congress. Calvin Coolidge never rebelled against his fate and when his pet measures were ignored, his appointments defeated or his vetoes overridden, that was that.

At the last he was neither more thrifty nor more careless than when he began. He still talked economy and still ignored the fact that the country wasn't getting it in the way it thought it was.

His taste in appointments never improved or deteriorated. The appointments were both good and bad up to the last moment.

Now it is understood that Mr. Coolidge will write articles, which is just what he did while he was vice president. He is a little older and much wealthier than when he succeeded Warren G. Harding. But otherwise he is our own Cal, uncontaminated and unaffected by experience in the world's biggest job.

TWINKLES

Lindbergh's romance seems to be dead now that the Mexican's have accepted it as a settled proposition. In other words, Cupid killed it.

The Welfare Society is out of funds, so don't bet too heavily on the outcome of tonight's fight.

We can quarrel about navigable streams, but division of the water is not the problem here it is in much of West Texas.

Today's simile: As mad as a small town about to lose its college under a consolidation plan.

Come hither spring. Since our lads have not been coveting in the chilling breezes this basketball season, they are not in condition to enjoy the kind of fresh air we have been having lately—a la byds.

There is one disadvantage to having a young city; you can't have a 30-year-old horned toad in a courthouse just barely started.

By the way, what are we going to seal up in the courthouse corner stone? It's too bad there won't be room to seal up all the dead beats that just will infest every city of this size.

The mayor of Bath, who died recently, crossed the Atlantic 120 times. Must have been trying to cross once without spending any time at the rail.

It takes a heap o' living in a car to make it go straight home, and you see some of the worst looking wrecks where only the select vacationers are supposed to go.

Miss Edna Biard Becomes Bride of Walter L. Herndon

A social event of importance was the marriage, last evening, of Miss Edna Biard and Mr. Walter L. Herndon. The Rev. Merrill, pastor of the Church of Christ, performed the ring ceremony in his home at 8 o'clock, in the presence of Miss Carmen Hawkins, a niece of the bridegroom, and Mr. William Biard, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a beautiful ensemble of navy blue flat crepe, with matching accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Biard, pioneer citizens of the county. She was graduated from Central high school last year. Her picture appeared in the beauty section of the 1928 Harvester.

Mr. Herndon likewise is a member of a pioneer family. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Herndon, prominent ranch owners of the Panhandle. He is associated with his father in the ranching business.

Mr. and Mrs. Herndon left immediately after the wedding for Lubbock and southern points. They will be at home in Pampa after March 3.

El Progreso Club Complete Study of Dorsey Psychology

A third program and the last on George A. Dorsey's "Why We Behave Like Human Beings" was given yesterday at the meeting of El Progreso club. Mrs. Dave Pope very ably directed the program. Roll call was answered with mention of the current event.

Mrs. T. D. Hobart gave a discourse on psychoses and psycho-analysis, quoting many outstanding authorities on the subject. Mrs. W. M. Craven talked on intelligence tests and stressed the fallibility and patent unfairness of the average test. Two related topics, "What Constitutes Socially Minded Behavior," and "Possibilities of Growth into a More Ideal State of Society," were presented by Mrs. J. M. McDonald. The authors style was analyzed by Mrs. R. R. House in a thoughtful critical review.

A general discussion followed the program. That Dorsey places far too much stress on the importance of the biological and too little on the aesthetic side of existence, was the consensus of opinion among those who had read the lengthy treatise.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. John V. Andrews, where a delightful social hour was enjoyed at the conclusion of the program.

Col. Stewart Claims He Has Majority of Standard Votes

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (AP)—Colonel Robert W. Stewart today was claiming support of the majority of stockholders of the Standard Oil company of Indiana while the Rockefeller faction which seeks to remove him from the chairmanship of the company laid claims to a majority of the votes.

Before departing for Chicago after attending a meeting of the board of directors of the National City bank, Colonel Stewart said:

"The progress of the fight is satisfactory. I have already received the support of a majority of the stockholders—in fact a large majority. Our total of votes is increasing each day. This fight is to determine whether the wishes of a few investors at stockholders are to triumph against the most pronounced opposition of the company's employees, who, after all, make the company. The employees and the company's consuming public want the present management and its policies continued."

KIDNAPED BOY ON WAY BACK TO LOS ANGELES

ROSWELL, N. M., Feb. 27. (AP)—His big kidnaping adventure ended, 11-year-old Richard (Dickie) Grant, who had been missing from Los Angeles since three days before Christmas, today was bound for home and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Grant.

The lad, accompanied by two California officers and Harry Palmer, charged with his kidnaping, left here for Los Angeles.

TEXAS PLAYER SOLD

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Frank Gibson, a catcher and last year manager of the San Antonio Bears, was sold today to the New York Giants. Gibson, when displaced as manager by Billy Alexander, requested to be sent back to the majors.

WOULD ABANDON ROAD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Trinity Valley and Northern railway asked the interstate commerce commission today for permission to abandon 12 miles of line from Fullerton, Texas, to Lumm, Texas. Timber, which the line was built to remove, has been cut, the application said.

DAILY DILENTE THOUGHT

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist

Lent is a holy season, which has its climax in "Holy Week."

What does it mean to be holy? There are many people for whom the word has no meaning at all, or who shrink from the word as suggestive of some strange, unusual, or artificial attitude toward life. They do not associate holiness with practically common sense, or with red-blooded strength, or with ordinary human tastes and feelings.

But why not? Holiness is not some strange and weird thing. It is a relationship. Lent is a holy season because of its relation to the earthly life of Jesus. Holy Week commemorates the holiness of the final week of his humanity in suffering and the glory of his divinity in the completeness of his sacrificial love.

Lent emphasize the nearness of Jesus to human life, and not his strangeness or remoteness. It was his love, his purpose, that made him holy. He was fully human; the sanctimonious people of his day misjudged him and hated him because they did not understand his sort of holiness.

To be "holy" in the true sense is to be human as Jesus was human; to love as he loved; and to accept the love that he gives. Holiness does not limit, but enlarges, our lives. To be holiness is to have our lives rightly guided and directed—related to the plan of the great Architect who controls human destinies in love.

Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. A. B. Zahn returned yesterday from two-week visits in Oklahoma. Mrs. Boyd spent the time with relatives in Chickasha, while Mrs. Zahn visited in Oklahoma City.

A tried and true method of getting rid of mothers-in-law is advanced by clever, good-looking Uncle Billy in The Old Family Album.

Did you ever notice how much Mrs. Bundy looks like her husband? Take a look in The Old Family Album.

JACK SHARKEY IS EASY FAVORITE ON EVE OF BATTLE

But Stribling Is Hope of Dixie in Big Fight Tonight

The Pampa Daily News fight party will begin tonight soon after 8 o'clock, when direct leased wire will bring the blow-by-blow account of the Sharkey-Stribling battle. The fight service by Associated Press observers will be megaphoned as fast as received. Rain or shine, static or no static. The News will have the ringside account free for whoever care to listen.

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor. MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—Fightdom, rich in the traditions of daring promotion and unusual drama, dedicates a new and spectacular out-post today, if the weather be fair. Amid scenes and surroundings that are a strange contrast to the old days when prize fighting was a fugitive game in the South, the wealthy and fashionable, the great and the near great of business and politics, of the pleasure grounds and the sports world, have gathered here for the 10-round heavyweight match tonight between Young Stribling and Jack Sharkey.

Sentiment for Stribling
In one of the greatest fistic shows and the most spectacular sports events the Old South has ever known, Stribling, pride of Georgia and the pugilistic hope of Dixie, will box Sharkey, the hard-hitting Boston sailor, for the right to battle for the crown that Gene Tunney has laid aside. To the winner may go the chance to meet the promoter of this remarkable affair, Jack Dempsey, for recognition as the heavyweight champion of the world.

Sharkey is the favorite to win. The betting odds early today wavered around 6 to 5 and 7 to 5 in his favor. The expert consensus likewise favors the chances of the rugged sailor, but the lean son of Georgia is the sentimental favorite in the biggest test he has ever faced before the "home folks." Close to 35,000 spectators, the capacity of the miniature edition of Boyle's 30 acres in Flamingo park, will see the youthful ring craft and wallop.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—The morning of the Sharkey-Stribling fight dawned clear, with little wind, and wit his bright sun shining over the rough pine seats of the Flamingo Park arena. The temperature was about 73 at 7 a. m., Eastern Standard time.

of Stribling pitted against the rugged defense and counter attack of the Bostonian. Millions more will hear the details of the fray over a nationwide hook-up of nearly 60 broadcasting stations, the greatest ever arranged for a fight and a remarkable evidence of widespread interest in a match that has itself no championship significance.

Profit to Be $100,000
The promoters estimate that the "gate," at prices of $5 to $25, will be close to $400,000. When the box office opened for its last day's business today, there was nearly $350,000 in actual cash in hand, sufficient not only to pay Sharkey $100,000 and Stribling a 30 per cent "cut" of about $50,000, but also enough to assure the Madison Square Garden corporation a profit of about $100,000.

This is the fruition of the last fistic dream of Tex Rickard, whose daring fortunes carried him on from Goldfield to Reno, Toledo, New York, Jersey City, Philadelphia, and Chicago. It will seem somewhat strange at the ringside tonight without Tex. for the first time since big fights became hobbies of wealth and society.

Stribling's stock slumped a trifle when it became known he had injured a rib and possibly also his right hand, in a training session just a week before the fight. But his father-manager, "Pa" Stribling, his physician, and his concluding workouts testify to the Georgian's readiness to put forth his best, without handicap.

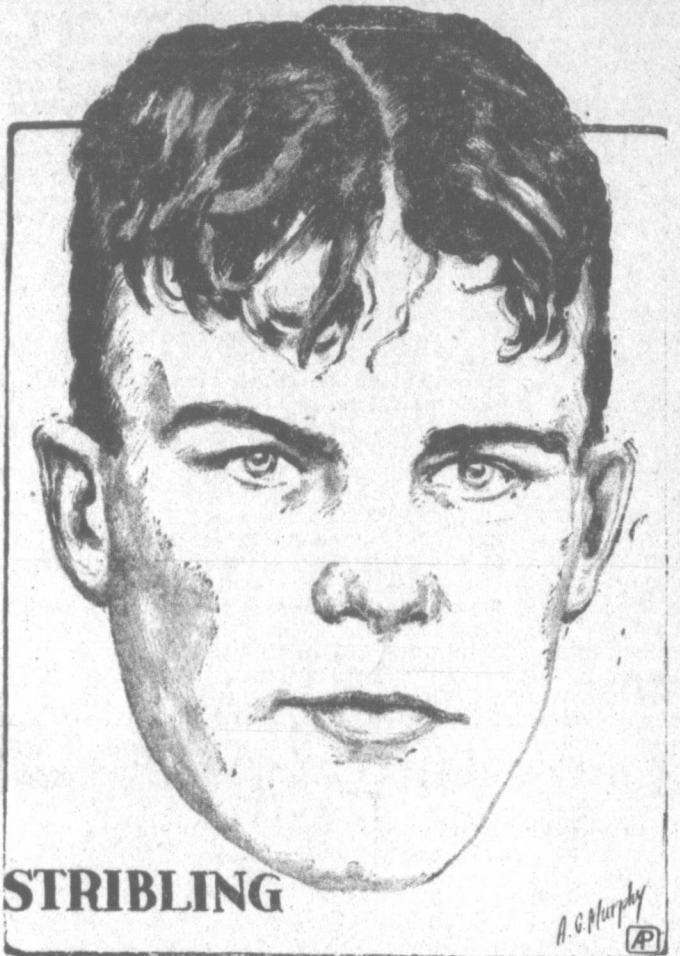

The facts of battle, already fairly well ballyhooed, are that the big show starts at 7:45 Eastern Standard time, with an array of seven preliminary bouts as well as a battle royal involving 12 negroes. The main go is for 10 rounds to an official referee's decision. The rules of New York state athletic commission also will govern the contest. In event of rain the whole program will be put over to Thursday night.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

SOME SAD NEWS
More pronounced hooks and slides and less distance—that is what golfers can expect of the new and lighter golf ball that may be adopted soon by the United States Golf association.

The new ball weighs 1.55 ounces and is 1.58 inches in diameter. The present sphere weighs 1.62 ounces and is 1.62 inches in diameter.

Experiments with this new ball have been going along for the past three years. Though the experiments are not completed, it is generally believed that manufacturers will be turning out the new product before long.

A FEW FIGURES
The New York Telegram recently made experiments with the two balls to see what difference existed. The experts used a pressure of 60 pounds to the square inch at the club-head to estimate differences in distances obtained. And here's the yardage of different clubs with both balls:

Club	Old Ball	New Ball	Loss
Driver	230	207	23
Brassie	220	198	22
Spoon	200	190	10
Driving Iron	190	171	19
Mid-iron	180	162	18
Mid-mashie	160	144	16
Mashie	150	135	15
Mash-nib	125	113	12
Niblick	75	65	10

'RAH FOR COLLEGIANS

It is interesting to observe that few players other than college products step into the majors and make good right from the start.

Occasionally one who is not from the campus bobs up as Walter Johnson and George Uhle did years ago to gallop to success within a few days, but such cases among the non-collegians are few and far between.

The record books are filled with many instances of collegians who stepped in without much preliminary work and established themselves as major leaguers.

Frankie Frisch stepped in as a regular right from Fordham. Sisler came along from Michigan. Joe Sewell from Alabama. And Plank and Bender and Collins and many others hit the high spots without much delay.

NO STAR OVERNIGHT
On the other hand, Tris Speaker, when given his first trial with the Red Sox, was shunted back to the minors. Ty Cobb wasn't very impressive when he joined the Tigers. In fact, after having him a few weeks, they tried to trade him to another club, but no one would take him.

Rogers Hornsby never caused any great rumpus by his play the first few weeks with the Cardinals. It took much work to bring him around and to lift that lowly batting average of .246.

It took Rube Marquard almost three years before he finally arrived. And the list could be extended to great length.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Ray Schaak was pro tem manager of the Giants until Jawn got to San Antonio. . . and he made the fella's practice on Sunday for the first time in years. . . and told Shanty Hogan his act was good in vaudeville. . . but it was time to quit acting now. . . They say, Maxie Schmeling is sure to

George Wilson, the Lafayette back, graduates this year with the honor of being on the dean's list for excellence in scholarship. . . Pete Grandison, Birmingham, Ala., pro, made his fourth hole-in-one recently. . . it was his second on the same hole. . . ### Boss Wrigley Meets Some of His Cubs

When William Wrigley, Jr. owner of the Chicago Cubs, arrived at Catalina Island, Calif., where the club does its spring training, he found a lot of new faces. Strangers on his ball club would never do, so he enlisted Manager Joe McCarthy's aid and went right down the line meeting the newcomers and telling the old-timers hello. Wrigley, in golf knickers, is shown here, with Manager McCarthy at his elbow.

McGraw Ordering Heavy Practice at San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 27. (AP)—With John McGraw himself on the job, the New York Giants are in for work and lots of it.

The "Little Napoleon" has ordered two practice sessions a day from now on, from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 4.

Yesterday, the regulars, pounding out 13 hits, beat the Rookies, 5 to 2.

At Clearwater, Fla., the annual struggle between the pitchers and the batters already has begun so far as the Brooklyn Robins are concerned. Some of the more ambitious additions to "Uncle" Wilbert Robinson's flock laid into the offerings of the eight pitchers in the camp with so much vigor during their second workout yesterday that the harassed hurlers tried to put something on the ball.

At Fort Myers, Fla., a dozen of the so-called regulars of the Athletics have tickets for the Sharkey-Stribling fracas at Miami Beach tonight, so Manager Mack told them to forget baseball today. Only the rookies remained in camp and most of them are pitchers.

Manager Lena Blackburne will have a party of 42 White Sox players, writers, photographers, and club officials with him tomorrow when he departs for the Dallas training camp for the first limbering up work of the season. Eleven players will be with the party when it leaves Chicago, and others will join en route.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Nationals, from the training camp at Tampa, Fla., has sent word to Jack Hayes, infielder, that he will either sign a contract at the terms offered him or will not play ball this season. Griffith said he had made Hayes, considered the leading candidate for the second base position vacated by Bucky Harris, his last offer.

Donie Bush evidently means to handle the Pittsburgh Pirate 1929 edition differently than last season. The arrival at Paso Robles, Calif., of Fred Fussell, rangly lefthander yesterday showed the diminutive mentor to be not so easy. Fussell, three days late, though signed early, was lucky to escape a fine, Bush told him, and may yet if he doesn't round into shape the same time the other batterymen do.

Fight Notes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27. (AP)—The front rows of the Flamingo Park ring side tonight will look much like the same section in Madison Square Garden, except that soft shirts, white trousers, and panamas will replace the formal dress of most of the famous "Six Hundred" millionaires and their friends.

Babe Ruth, who likes his fights almost as much as his home runs, made a flying trip from the Yankee's camp at St. Petersburg for the bout. There is hardly a major or minor league camp in Florida that hasn't its representatives in the fistic crowd.

The largest bet so far reported on the fight was one of $5,800 to $5.00 on Sharkey to win, the result of a difference between a wealthy Chicago backer of Sharkey and a rich Atlanta brother of Stribling.

The biggest assembly of newspapermen since the Dempsey-Carpenter fight in Jersey City in 1921 has collected for this fracas. A total of 485 requests for press accommodations was recorded, as compared with about six hundred for the Jersey City fight which set the record. The total is 62 more than for the last Dempsey-Tunney fight. However, only 196 will be accommodated in the actual ringside press section, where approximately forty-five telegraph wires have been installed to carry the details to all parts of the country.

Florida heads the list of press ticket holders, with 62 while the big city list shows New York with 32, Boston 18, Chicago 16, Kansas City 10, St. Louis 10, Cleveland 14, Atlanta 12, Philadelphia 16, Buffalo 2, Salt Lake City 3, San Francisco 1, Havana 4, Toronto and Montreal 1 each.

Fight Results

CHICAGO—Tony Caonzieri, New York, outpointed Ignacio Fernandez, Philippine Islands, (10). Sailor Fay Kosky, San Francisco, and Eddie Shea, Chicago, drew, (10). Earl Mastro, Chicago, outpointed Willie Michel, Belgium (10).

INDIANAPOLIS—Chuck Wiggins, knocked out George Gemas, Philadelphia, (3). Jock Garry, Columbus, O., knocked out Billy Myers, Indianapolis, (3). Matt Burman, Indianapolis, knocked out Jack Anderson, Paducah, Ky., (1). Bud DeHaven, Paris, Ill., outpointed Charles Shine, Indianapolis, (6).

MINNEAPOLIS—Dick Daniels, Minneapolis, knocked out Mike Mandell, St. Paul, (2). Herman Ratzlaff, Minot, N. D., outpointed Roy Michaelson, Minneapolis, (8). Jack Kearns, Omaha, knocked out Bud Glover, Minneapolis, (1).

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Freddie Mueller, Buffalo, won on a foul from Louis Kid Kaplan, Meriden, (8).
HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Charles Nashert, Oklahoma City, knocked out Grover Mallini, New Orleans, (8).

Teams of Junior High Add Wins to Local Record

Pampa Junior high's basketball boys, known as the Little Harvesters, are making a record as winners.

They lost to the Panhandle Pee Wees by three points, 10 to 7, but on February 22 they played the Miami Junior high team and won, 21-4. The scoring by points follows: McDuffie, 1; Powell, 1; Colgrove, 4; Owens, 2 and captain, 6; Stevens, 6, 1, and Adair, 1, 2.

Yesterday afternoon on the home court the boys turned the tide of victory into their camp by defeating the Panhandle Junior high basketballers, 13-6. The scoring by points: McDuffie, 1; Adair, 1, 1; Colgrove, 2; Owens, 2; Stevens, 2; Powell, 1, and Heard, 1.

The team will play the Panhandle Pee Wees at Panhandle tomorrow at 6 o'clock.

The Pampa Junior high school girls won over the Panhandle girls here yesterday afternoon, 20 to 17.

This was the first inter-city game for these teams. Several of the girls who are playing basketball for the first time are showing much promise. A return game will be played at Panhandle tomorrow evening.

Only Lindbergh Got More Publicity in Short Time Than Eastland Horned Toad—Briggs Had Part in Publicity

A West Texas newspaper man is acclaimed as the writer of the outstanding newspaper story of the United States in 1928.

Editor & Publisher, journalistic publication, states in an article that fills almost an entire page:

"A young newspaper man in a West Texas oil town developed and 'put over' the greatest feature news story of 1928. 'Boycott House of Eastland, Texas, is the man who started Rip, the Texas horned frog, on the road to fame."

"Just a few words as to House, the man who proved that big news may break anywhere."

"He was reared in Memphis and educated in the high school there; he got his training on the Commercial Appeal. Before he was fully grown, he undertook to run a weekly paper in Arkansas

House had never heard the tradition but made a non-committal answer, sensing the fact that a news story might be back of it.

"Well continued Wood, 'that theory is going to be proved or disproved when they open the cornerstone of this court house. More than 30 years ago when the cornerstone was laid, I was the county clerk. I brought a horned frog to scene that day. I was a member of the band which had a prominent and busy part in the program and so I had no opportunity to place my frog in the cornerstone, but it was safely deposited by other hands."

The article then tells how that night House sent out a story based on the conversation, the national publicity that the story received and then the opening of the cornerstone in the presence of hundreds of people who had watched as a chain fastened to a truck tore down a jagged wall eight feet higher from the Editor and Publisher account.

"While the tugging at the wall was in progress," said House, "it suddenly occurred to me that to write articles about the possibility of keeping alive a food and water for three decades was all very well but that when, in the cold sunlight of this workaday world, that pretty theory was tested by the unsealing of the cornerstone, said frog—if not completely resolved back to the dust, would at least be a withered King Tut mummy—and the hundreds of people present, a large percentage of

THIS HAS HAPPENED

When RUTH LESTER, secretary, finds the dead body of her employer, "HANDSOME HARRY" BORDEN, sprawled on the floor beneath the window of his private office, she runs at once to the office of her fiancé, JACK HAYWARD. His office is just across the narrow hallway from Borden's.

Finding Jack out, Ruth searches for his pistol, which he had purchased at the same time he bought an identical weapon for her to keep in her desk. His gun is gone!

Petified with fear, she recalls Jack's incriminating behavior of the past Saturday and his angry threat against Borden.

When Jack returns, he accompanies Ruth to Borden's suite and while he phones for the police, Ruth hurries to close the private window in the private office, fearing Jack shot Borden across the hallway. The window is already closed! Ruth tells DETECTIVE MCMANN of Borden's two Saturday morning visitors: RITA DUBOIS, night club dancer, and MISS BORDEN, his wife and mother of his two children, who called for her monthly alimony check. Mrs. Borden comes to during the questioning and McMann accuses her of the murder, but she denies the charge. McMann suddenly asks Ruth to look in the desk for his gun. It is gone! They footprints of a pigeon in dried blood on the window ledge and on the floor near the body indicate the window was open when Borden was shot. Ruth's fear for Jack grows but McMann indicates Ruth is the murderer of BORDEN, the elevator operator's testimony makes things look black for Ruth when McMann suddenly asks her to look in the desk for his gun. ### House Passes Bill to Prevent Taking Roads From Cities

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—The house last night passed the Fin-Woodall bill preventing the state highway department from removing arteries of travel from towns of over 300 in population without consent of the county commissioners' court after rejecting a committee amendment specifying that the course of the road could be changed, but a passable road should be maintained in the town.

Proponents of the committee substitute contended that the state would be deprived of federal aid if the highway department was not allowed some discretion in determining what routes should be followed.

This statement met with a response from Representative W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi that "if the highway department won't tell the federal government how it is going to spend the money, we ought to get a new highway department."

SENATE WOULD HAVE SCHOOL TO TRAIN SAILORS

AUSTIN, Feb. 27. (P)—The senate last night held its first aftersupper session of the week, considering in the main local bills and matters to which opposition was negligible.

The Cousins bill which would create a school for seamen in some Texas port was passed finally. The bill, offered by Senator W. R. Cousins of Beaumont, would appropriate $75,000 annually to give maritime training to Texas boys between the ages of 16 and 20 years.

A new court of civil appeals was allowed in the district of Senator Joe M. Moore of Greenville, despite the opposition of several senators.

The highlight of argument was suggested by Senator Tom Deberry of Bogota in opposition to the Holbrook bill regulating civil engineering. Deberry criticized his colleagues for following up their platform pledges of fewer boards by creating a number of new ones. After Senator W. D. McFarlane of Graham, also had expressed opposition, Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston laid the bill on the table subject to call.

The Patton bill asking that the state highway department take over the old San Antonio road from Pendleton on the Sabary to Presidio was passed finally.

The senate also ratified the contract extending the lease of the Texas state railroad 18 years. The road, located between Rusk and Palestine, is leased to the Southern Pacific line.

Two joint resolutions, one providing for a 120 day session of the legislature, and the other placing the county judge, attorney, and sheriff on a salary instead of fee basis, were engrossed.

Sensors Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, Tom Pollard, Tyler; Clint Small, Wellington; Walter Woodall, Houston, and W. A. Williamson, San Antonio, were named senate members of the joint committee of 16 to investigate the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle boundary situation. The resolution provided Lieutenant-Governor Barry Miller also should be a member of the committee.

The Wirtz political party bill, which would give the state Democratic executive committee power to banish Hoover Democrats from the party, was passed finally yesterday by the senate by a vote of 16 to 8 after two days of discussion.

Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin, author of the bill, asserted he believed the committee should prescribe only the Hoover leaders and not the rank and file of the forces which did not support the democratic presidential nominee.

San Antonio Jail Break Frustrated

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 27. (P)—Orders that all visitors to prisoners in the city jail must submit to a search were issued by Chief of Police Owen Kilday today after discovery last night of preparations for a jail delivery and the finding of 15 or 20 saw blades in a cell.

A youthful prisoner, arrested for investigation in connection with a bank robbery, tipped off Jailer A. Vidal that peculiar noises could be heard at night in the cell in which he was held. Rupterto Trevino, escaped convict, arrested here Monday night and four other prisoners, occupied the cell with him. Police Captain Dave Cruz and Geo. Price, turnkey, made an investigation and found the saw blades. Three bars had been sawed through.

AVIATOR IS HELD

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 27. (P)—Harold E. Quay, 29, who said he was an aviator, is held here by police on charges of issuing two worthless checks for $60. Police said he admitted he escaped from the Huntsville, Tex., prison last November 15, while serving a five year term for robbery from Houston. He gave aliases of Frank Fay and Robinson.

Mayor Thompson Has Majority of New Aldermen

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (P)—A bloodless election returned control of the city council to Mayor Thompson yesterday.

Extraordinary police precautions were credited with having preserved polling peace, even in the twentieth ward, from which one of the aldermanic candidates fled under police guard the day before the election. There were less than two dozen arrests, and these for minor infractions.

Half a dozen wards hummed with reports of plots to steal ballot boxes. Police met these reports by sending machine gun squads to watch over the voting.

Morris Eller, "boss" of the "bloody twentieth," himself was the object of the only gesture of violence—a stone hurled through his office of city collector at the city hall. Police were not sure but that even this was accidental rather than malicious.

The "Thompson aldermen"—those who have constantly aligned themselves in support of the mayor's program—retained a comfortable control of the council, 33 of them being re-elected for another two-year term.

Hoover Expected to Stress Prohibition in Inaugural Speech

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (P)—President-Elect Hoover in his inaugural address next Monday is expected to discuss the principal issues in the campaign in which he won an entrance to the White House.

Among these was law enforcement involving the prohibition and other statutes, the subject upon which he touched in a number of his speeches. His opinion as thus expressed was that the purpose of the eighteenth amendment was to protect the American homes; that he wished it to succeed and that a sacred obligation was imposed upon the president to secure its honest enforcement and to eliminate the abuses which have grown around it.

Farm relief was another of the outstanding issues, and the president-elect is expected to go into this at some length, but to give a more expanded exposition of his views in his message to the special session of the new congress which he plans now to call for mid-April.

The tariff was a subject upon which Mr. Hoover laid much stress and which also is to be considered during the spring and summer session of congress. He is known to favor revision of duties in many schedules, including those applying to a number of agricultural products as well as some industrial products, but is opposed to any general rewriting of the 1922 act.

Congressmen Are Turning Thoughts to Special Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (P)—Six days and the Seventieth congress will be history and already congressional leaders are occupied by the question marks of the next session—farm relief and tariff revision.

Both the senate and the house, however, had measures confronting them today that promised to drive away for a time the questions of what to do for the farmer and how much tightening to do on the tariff laws. Both houses were faced by a problem that keeps coming before congress in one guise or another—prohibition.

In the house, this problem took the form of the Jones bill which would increase at the discretion of the judges the penalty for first violations of the dry laws. The measure passed the senate after a rousing debate, principally between Reed of Missouri, and Borah of Idaho. If it passes the house and is signed by the president, a person who violates the Volstead act for the first time may be given a sentence of five years in prison, or a $10,000 fine, or both. Prevalent opinion was that it had a good chance of being approved by the house. This was tempered by the knowledge that it would be strenuously opposed in some quarters.

Marshal Foch Is But Little Better

PARIS, Feb. 27. (P)—Marshal Foch, fighting what his doctors believe is a losing battle with death, staged a slight rally this morning and showed some improvement over his condition last night.

A bulletin issued by his doctors said there was a slight amelioration in the pulmonary symptoms and a reduction in both temperature and pulse.

The physicians considered their patient gravely ill, however, and at the termination of their consultation refused to make any predictions.
