"It's Like This—"

ANNOYANCE of little things is no less aggravating than of big ones. Excess land, left by inaccurate surveys causes the litigation—or rather, makes it possible—in the Hutchinson county cases.

And up in New York two strips of land, one less than 13 inches wide and the other 14 inches wide, are blocking the construction of a $2,500,000 building.

The most interesting case of this kind, however, has been deliberately conceived down at Houston. It appears that an owner of vacant property between the city proper and a restricted sub-division refused to give half the width of a street proposed to be opened.

Then the owner of the adjoining property, who had offered his half the street free of cost to the city, became angry. He offered the entire street out of his property, but provided that there should be left—to be owned by him—a strip one foot wide between the street and the property of the man who was unwilling to cooperate in the project.

Now the speculator has no frontage along the new street, and his property has greatly deteriorated because of the fact. The irate neighbor proposes to erect a high board fence on the narrow strip.

The speculator took the matter before the courts, but belief prevails that there is nothing he can do about it by that method of procedure.

The proceedings may be termed drastic, but there are many instances where citizens would like similarly to rap the speculators who has no interest in anything but his own profits.

LIFE PLANS continue to be presented by the great and near-great. Here is one by Adolph Lewisohn, copper magnate, who disagrees with Henry Ford:

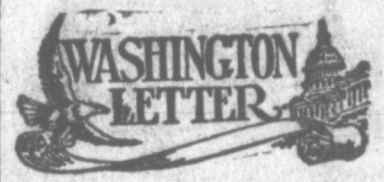

- Work and earn. Make a budget. Record expenditures. Have a bank account. Carry life insurance. Own your own home. Make a will. Invest in safe securities. Pay bills promptly. Share with others.

JUSTICE is for the rich in this country, believes a reader. He points to the cases where ordinary, poverty-stricken criminals—habitual in character—have been given life terms, while the rich bootleggers and other offenders won out in the courts or obtained paroles within a few years.

cause a woman, the mother of ten children, was given a life sentence for persistent selling of liquor to support her brood. He points to instances of richer bootleggers whose cases were carried to appellate courts and won on technicalities.

Ignoring the principle of life imprisonment for four felony convictions, we may discuss the other phases as typical examples in law. It is true—lamentably true—that considerable funds are necessary to have the best hearings before the courts. It takes much money to hire attorneys, to gather defense testimony and assemble witnesses, and to appeal jury decisions. Those of means may use every resource of legal procedure, while ordinary folk must usually stop where their assets give out.

If the purpose of the appeal is to make the decisions of justice more accurate, why not make it possible for every criminal case to be ruled upon in appellate courts? Perhaps those who make a study of legal reform can suggest a plan.

WASHINGTON—Many tales of very serious political messes caused by fool official wives are always rife in Washington. Sometimes the wives, knowing what is expected of them, like to kid the deep-dish politicians and worry them with their chatter.

Mrs. Borah from Idaho, who has been in Washington life nearly a quarter of a century and who, as wife of "the senator from Idaho" is always more or less in the public eye, is often invited out for the express purpose of telling things, is as wary as any of them.

Talk of Borah being selected for the chair of secretary of state by Hoover was in the air about the time she was invited to a dinner out west. The question was innocently brought up, but the whole table laid down its knives and forks to listen to her answer. A guest present reports that the host, an astute politician and a close friend of the Borahs, nearly had apoplexy when Mrs. Borah began:

"You can't understand what a delicate question this is to talk about. But I feel that tonight I am among friends. I am simply going to tell you all in confidence that this cabinet seat has been offered to Mr. Borah—"

The host turned purple and almost upset his ice water. But Mrs. Borah went on:

"Offered him by everybody in Washington except Mr. Hoover."

Washington can't get over the fact that President Coolidge was nearly five minutes late in descending the grand stairway to the strains of "Hail to the Chief!" at a recent White House reception. Coolidge's punctuality which, they say, has almost done away with the need for a government time piece, is slipping a little in these last days of his reign.

But his afternoon nap goes on with the changelessness of the laws of the Medes and Persians. It begins every day at 3, and most any old kink or queenk can wait till the snooze is over if they've tried to get in without an engagement. Which explains why President Coolidge in a swan song recently made public called himself "the healthiest man who has ever left the presidency".

Several dozen newspaper wives about Washington are going to be mad as proverbial wet hens if their husbands don't wear the top hats and dress suits especially purchased for their trip on The Maryland. When the official word came out that it would probably be impossible for newspapermen to gain entrance to Latin holy of holies in the crass and crude habiliments of their trade and that they must at least be provided with topers. Many of the scribes scoffed, but their wives insisted on following the instructions.

At least three wives sent the dress suits and toppers by air mail after their husbands had refused to tote them. Each reports that the cost was around $7. Now word seeps through in the first mail from the good ship Maryland that the reporters have rushed in sans-toppers where angels would fear to tread without 'em, and that they're getting by beautifully.

It seems that a reporter just won't wear 'em, and even Latin America has had to accept his neat but not gaudy attire as no international insult. Their trimmings are waiting them at home!

Those reporters who write about "pretty Miss So-and-So" who was slain or kidnaped ought to coordinate their work better with the photographers, whose work shows very homely faces in many such instances.

Over at Roswell, it is reported, a shower of playing cards came from a hotel window as a New Year's resolution took form. And here in Pampa a few bottles did likewise—but they were empty.

When this re-fueling gets popular, maybe we will see filling stations on wheels going to the rescue of stranded motorists.

Despite the desperate attempts being made by almost every citizen to have a good story in stock, remarkably few one hears would stand reproduction in cold type.

Face lifting is getting popular, and we'd like to recommend that some pessimistic souls have the corners of the mouths lifted.

A man whose latest bank statement is painful to him wants a calendar pad that has "blank days 'til Christmas" from July forward every day. He might sell the idea to a savings bank.

A scientist has returned from Central America with the tale of a tree in Guatemala that gives milk. That's nothing. Farmers here are getting it out of wells for years.

A New York woman is asking for a divorce because her husband refuses to fire his stenographer. Maybe there's a reason on his side, however. The girl may be able to spell.

An unprecedented number of plays failed in New York this year. People are getting tired of the theater; you can't even pick up any new profanity there any more.

Chorus girls are too old at 25 to meet the strenuous demands of modern dancing, says a London trainer of chorines. Maybe they are, but who ever heard of a chorus girl who was 25?

Pampa Social News

BY MISS WILLETTE COLE PHONE 666

Social Calendar

FRIDAY
 Mrs. C. E. McHenry will entertain the Blue Bonnet Bridge club at her home. She has announced the game for 2 o'clock.
 Mrs. Roger McConnell will entertain the Night Owl Bridge club at her country home. The game is announced for 8 o'clock.
 Club Mayfair will not meet this week, as the hostess, Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell, is ill. She expects to entertain the club next Friday afternoon.
 The regular meeting of the Lamar Parent-Teacher association has been postponed because of much illness among the members and the inadvisability of assemblies. The meeting will be held later in the month, when it is hoped that a larger attendance of parents and patrons will be possible, the president, Mrs. Clyde Atteberry, said.
 The Order of the Eastern Star will meet at 7 o'clock.

SATURDAY
 The A. A. U. W. and Pampa College club will not meet for their regular luncheon, the meeting having been postponed until February.

H. W. Johns Honored With Birthday Party Wednesday Evening

Honoring her husband on his birthday anniversary, Mrs. H. W. Johns entertained Wednesday evening with a dinner bridge for 25 guests. The house was lighted with red and white candles, the holders of which were tied with bows of green tulle, and white tapers in brass candelabra centered the dining table. A three course dinner was served, after which bridge was played at six tables. Appointments for the game featured decoration in the red, green, and white combination.

 At the conclusion of the playing, attractive favors were awarded for combination scores. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coffee held high score, while Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McConnell held second high. Other favors were given Mrs. R. A. Webb and Dr. H. H. Hicks for top cut and Mrs. Ivy Duncan and Sam Fenberg, low cut.
 As this delightful affair was Mr. John's first birthday party, and as toys are an inevitable part of every first birthday party, the guests presented Mr. Johns with a quantity of brightly-colored playthings.
 The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. August A. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fenberg, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Webb, Judge and Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coffee, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McConnell, and Miss Sydney Smith.

Club Pla-Mor Is Entertained by Mrs. J. R. Browne

Mrs. J. Raymond Browne was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of Club Pla-Mor. Two prettily appointed tables were arranged for the players who were: Mrs. R. H. Lane, Mrs. F. D. Gonsaulus, and Mrs. Roy Dyson, special guests, and Mrs. Roy Kilgore, Mrs. Claude Lard, Mrs. E. W. Etter, and Mrs. Browne, club members. High score was made by Mrs. Kilgore, and low, by Mrs. Lard. Each received a favor.
 A snooty business session was held during which the members decided to meet on Thursday afternoon, instead of on Wednesday, as formerly. Refreshments were served in two dainty courses.

Mrs. Floyd A. Smith Elected President of Altar Society

The annual election of officers of the Altar society of Holy Souls church was held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Floyd A. Smith was elected president; Mrs. R. H. Lane, vice-president, and Mrs. A. B. Zahn, secretary-treasurer. They succeed Mrs. A. B. Zahn, president; Mrs. H. G. Myers, vice-president, and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, secretary-treasurer.
 The year's financial report was made and an account was given of the work done during the past 12 months. A minor detail of the business session was the decision to hold the semi-monthly meetings of the society in the homes of the members for the coming six months, instead of in the church sanctuary, as formerly.
 The purpose of the Altar society is to maintain the altar and equipment of the church and to support any movement of the church. Charities and mission work are also included in the regular activities of the organization.
 During 1928 the society of Holy Souls paid for the furniture and equipment of the new church, raising funds through ice cream socials, waffle suppers, a calendar contest and apron and food sales.
 Welfare work included the maintenance of one needy family during the entire year and assistance to other families. Many baskets of food and clothing were sent to the poor at Christmas time. Mrs. A. B. Zahn, president of the society during the past year, represents the Catholic church on the executive board of the Pampa Welfare association. Members and officers of the society gave invaluable assistance in selling Pampa's quota of memberships in the Red Cross annual roll call.
 The Altar society, now a year and a half old, has 30 active members. They meet on alternate Wednesday afternoons for business sessions or study. Once a month they hear a lecture from the Rev. Father Joseph Wondery, pastor, on the externals of the church.

Members of W. M. U. Hold Meetings or Visit the Sick

Circles 1, 2 and 3 of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union held meetings Wednesday afternoon for business sessions or missionary programs. Circle No. 4, however, postponed its scheduled meeting, and the afternoon was spent in visiting the sick members of the group.
 A Scripture lesson and a chapter from "Today's Supreme Challenge to America" were studied by members of Circle No. 1, who met in the home of Mrs. D. R. Henry.
 Mrs. Ray R. Hungate led the devotional at the meeting if Circle No. 2, reading the twenty-first chapter of Revelations. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. R. M. Mitchell presided in the business meeting, in the course of which the members were urged to visit the sick of the city. A new study course, "A New Day in the Country Church," was selected, and Mrs. McAllister was named as leader. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. M. M. Rutherford, where a social hour was enjoyed after the adjournment of the business session.
 Mrs. J. E. Wehrung was hostess to members of Circle No. 3, entertaining at her new home on North Somerville. Plans for the coming year's work were discussed, and the yearbook committee reported that definite programs are almost complete.
 Mrs. Wehrung, having moved to the north side of the city, will become a member of Circle No. 1. The meeting of Wednesday afternoon was her last with Circle No. 3.
 Mrs. Q. N. Lewis is recuperating satisfactorily, after undergoing a major operation at the Pampa hospital a few days ago.
 George Walstad, Jr., left yesterday afternoon for St. Paul, after spending the holidays with his parents. He is a student in the University of Minnesota.
 Miss Cleo Olive visited friends in Miami Tuesday.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lyons and little daughter, and Jack Allison, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison, returned home Wednesday from a vacation visit in Denver.
 W. L. Maddox, an influenza patient in the Pampa hospital, is much improved today.
 L. C. Lard, an engineer with the Fleck Construction company, who was admitted to the hospital yesterday with influenza, is reported to be much improved today.
 Mrs. F. J. Osborne of Groom returned home yesterday, after being in the Pampa hospital two weeks.
 Dr. W. B. Wild has been admitted to the Pampa hospital. He is suffering an attack of influenza.
 Miss Moleta LeFors, who is a student in the University of Oklahoma, left last night for Norman, after spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Emma LeFors, and other relatives in the city. Miss LeFors is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and will live in the chapter house, the remainder of the school year.
 C. P. Buckler is suffering from an attack of influenza.
 Mr. and Mrs. Guy Manning and daughters, Christine and Helen Jeanne, returned yesterday from holiday visits in Fort Worth, Waco, and other points in Texas.
 Miss Mary McCartney of Clayton, N. M., is the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. James Todd, Jr. She arrived this morning.
 Clifford Braly of Panhandle was a business visitor in Pampa yesterday.
 George A. Wallis and Joe Olmar of Amarillo were business visitors here yesterday.

THAT NEW SPIRIT!

OLD THOUGHTS THAT ARE FEEBLE MUST DIE

Old thoughts that live and grow stronger as each year closes and the new one begins will never die.
 The thing for each of us to do is to think these thoughts more every day and to live them.
"SOLE OWNER" IS READY TO HELP YOU AND WILL HELP EVERY DAY OF THE NEW YEAR.

That fine resolve of yours, as the old year just closed was born, died because it got feeble. Another New Year is here again and the time to say again "I will"—and then do it.
 Good thoughts—old thoughts must be made new again by a new resolve—a new purpose and an everyday doing of the resolve.

SCRAMBLED EGGS AND HAM, SERVING FOUR (Leftover meat may be used)

3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon finely chopped onion (this may be omitted), 4 eggs, well beaten, 4 tablespoons milk, 1-2 cup chopped cooked ham, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 4 bars of hot buttered toast.

Place the butter in a frying pan and when hot, add the onions and cook slowly for 1 minute. Mix the eggs, milk, ham, salt and paprika. Blend well and slowly pour into the hot butter mixture. Cook slowly and stir constantly until a creamery mixture forms. Pour at once over the toast bars which have been arranged on a platter. Garnish with parsley. Serve at once.

GRAHAM GEMS, TEN (Leftovers may be sliced and toasted)

1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup Graham flour, 1-4 cup molasses, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2-3 cup sour milk, 2 tablespoons fat, melted.

Mix all the ingredients and beat for 2 minutes. Half fill well-greased muffin pan and bake for 15 minutes in a moderate oven.

Prune Roll
2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 egg, 1-2 cup milk.

Mix the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in the fat with a knife, and still mixing with the knife, add the egg and milk. When a soft dough forms, place upon a well floured paper or board and pat out until the dough is 1-4 inch thick. Add the prune mixture.

Prune Mixture

1 cup seeded cooked prunes, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 4 tablespoons orange juice, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix the sugar and flour. Blend well and add the rest of the ingredients. Cook over a moderate fire, stirring constantly until the filling thickens. Cool. Spread on the dough mixture and roll up like a jelly roll. Place on a greased pan and bake in a moderate

PAN-AMERICAN MEETING HAILED AS SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—Beginning under auspicious circumstances, the Pan-American conference on conciliation and arbitration seems to have more than fulfilled its mission.

In addition to drafting an arbitration treaty and a conciliation pact, the purpose for which it met, the conference found time to work out a means of settling the Paraguayan-Bolivian controversy.

There was applause yesterday when Eligio Ayala, Paraguayan delegate, and Diez de Medina for Bolivia, signed a conciliation protocol. The two countries agreed to let a mediation tribunal of nine judges decide who was to blame for recent border battles.

Thomas Clayton, Jr., who is a student in Trinity university, left Wednesday afternoon for Waxahachie.

Morris Levine is making a business visit of several days in Vernon.

Revere Schmelzer of the Gordon stores is seriously ill with influenza.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE REX

She breaks into the movies and she breaks up the audiences.

That, in brief, is what Marion Davies accomplishes in "Show People," which opened today at the Rex Theatre.

Such a picture has never before come out of Hollywood. It is the movies gently and sometimes uproariously laughing at themselves.

Davies is magnificently funny. The story is the romance of a girl who comes to the film city, enters pictures by the comedy route, becomes a dramatic star and nearly loses everything because her success goes to her head, and is saved at last by the machinations of Williams Haines and by her own sense of humor. But that isn't the half of it.

It is Davies herself that gets the laughs. She is sorrowful, pathetic, mock tragic, but above all humorous. The episode where she enters the comedy studio for the first time had the audience standing on their seats and nearly on their heads with laughter. So did the wild climax where she at last learns to laugh at herself.

Haines as the slapstick comedian shares honors with Miss Davies and earns them.

over for 20 minutes. Cut in 1-2-inch slices and serve warm.

FOR THE YOUNG COOK

Learn several ways of preparing "leftovers." Soups, salads, souffles and creamed or scalloped dishes are suggested for fish, vegetables and meat. Hash, pie, patties, souffles, salad, sandwich mixtures, loaves and soups are advised for leftover meat, fowl or fish.

Guiding Your Child

THE CHILD'S SUNDAY

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Many mothers testify that Monday is a bad day. The nursery school teacher records it as her experience that on Mondays the children are more difficult to handle than on any other day. They are far more likely to be cross, disobedient, fussy about their food, quarrelsome and generally to give evidence of being under tension.

The reason for blue Monday is that Sunday has usually been a day of special strain and excitement and of broken routine.

On Sunday the men of the family are home. There is more conversation and friction of personalities than on other days. The radio and phonograph are played in the morning hours. Breakfast is later than usual. There is perhaps the rush of getting to church or Sunday school. Occasionally even a 4-year-old is made to sit still through a whole church service.

When he is sent to a Sunday school class his experience is frequently unwholesome. The atmosphere of restraint, the matters discussed may be highly unsuitable and unduly impressive to the little child. The only proper sort of Sunday school is one conducted by a trained kindergarten.

The institution of the family Sunday automobile ride is another harmful experience for a child less than five years old. The hours of sitting still and of watching the swiftly passing scene are exhausting to him. His afternoon nap is interfered with. If he does go to sleep for a few minutes, his slumbers, cramped on the car seat, can hardly be of the refreshing, relaxed variety his body needs.

The young child should be left at home even if this means that some grown-up must sacrifice his afternoon's diversion. He should be given his nap at the usual time, under the usual conditions, and should spend the rest of the afternoon out of doors with his own familiar toys away from extra sociability.

If there are guests for supper the child should have his meal alone, so that he may eat quietly before going to bed at an hour which may be if anything a little earlier than the usual one.

MR. TAYLOR COMPLIMENTED

W. A. Taylor, retired county commissioner of this precinct, was surprised by his road crew Tuesday night, when they called to express their appreciation of the good relations existing between them and the "boss". They had bought a big box of cigars to give the commissioner in token of their esteem. The road men included B. C. Laprade, Bush Haggard, Claude Potter, and C. A. Laprade. They have been retained by the new commissioner, Lewis O. Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baird of Miami were business visitors in Pampa yesterday.
