PRICE FIVE CENTS

SOONER GOVERNOR IS ON TRIAL INTENSE EXCITEMENT PREVALENT IN MEXICO CITY THAT ROBISON WROTE CHECKS ON LAND FUND, IS CLAIM

HIS RIGHT TO DO SO NOW IS BIG QUESTION

EXPENSES WERE ASSERTED HEAVY

Representative Petsch Is Pressing Inquiry Today

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (P)—J. T. Robison, land commissioner, issued checks drawn in favor of members of his family on the special account representing the 1-cent-an-acre fund for revaluation of state lands...

Pressed by Representative Petsch to state the amounts of some of these checks, Anthony said his "memory was probably faulty after a year or two" but said he could recollect cashing one for $40 to $50 payable to Robert, son of the commissioner...

He said he cashed many checks drawn on the account over the window for Robison.

"What did you think about Mr. Robison's practice with reference to drawing on this account?" Petsch asked Anthony.

"I thought he was getting himself into—," Anthony started to answer before E. F. Smith, representing Robison, stopped him.

"Great scott! There ought to be a limit somewhere," Smith complained, and Petsch withdrew his question.

"Do you know that this account owed him money for funds he had expended in West Texas while on business in connection with revaluing the lands?" was the only question asked by Smith on cross-examination.

Anthony said he did not know. "Expenses Heavy"

L. W. Carroll, formerly assistant cashier of the bank, now vice-president of the University bank, said he had cashed many checks on the fund for Robison and remembered the land commissioner remarking that he had to take the money since "expenses were heavy traveling around reappraising land."

Photostatic copies of the account opened by Robison as "special" in the Texas Bank & Trust company on April 30, 1925, in which it was claimed he deposited the funds derived from the 1-cent-per-acre assessment against the land owners for revaluation expenses, was introduced in evidence.

Petsch said the evidence would bear on the statement of Robison before the committee that a large number of the refund checks had been returned to him, endorsed by the payees, and that he had drawn on the special fund believing that the state had no interest, financial or otherwise, in the amounts presented by the returned checks.

Woman's Endurance Flight Record Is Regained by Miss Bobby Trout

10:10:30 o'clock this morning in MINES FIELD, Los Angeles, Feb. 11. (P)—Miss Bobby Trout, Los Angeles girl aviator, landed here at her Golden Eagle monoplane, setting a new world's endurance flight for women, of 16 hours and 52 minutes.

Together with her endurance record, the pretty flier had brought down two other marks, the night flying record and the distance flight mark for women.

Miss Trout took off at 5:10:45 p. m., yesterday with the intention of remaining aloft 20 hours.

Fire Sunday at City Bakery Is Being Probed

Fire of unknown origin caused considerable damage to the City Bakery on North Cuyler street about 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

Damage amounting to more than $1,000 was done by fire, smoke and water, the greatest damage being from the smoke. The fire, which started at the rear of the building between the large bake oven and a storage box, was first discovered by a cook in the B & C cafe and by city officers.

Owners of the bakery praised members of the fire department this morning for the careful way they handled the situation, despite being handicapped by dense volumes of smoke. Water damage was slight.

Fire Marshal J. I. Downs is having an investigation made in an effort to determine the cause of the fire.

LINDBERGH, ON WAY BACK HOME, STOPS IN BELIZE

BELIZE, British Honduras, Feb. 11. (P)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, homeward bound from his inaugural Panama air-mail flight arrived here today at 11:50 a. m., eastern standard time, from Managua, Nicaragua, where he had spent the night.

Former Mobeetie Man to Be Buried There

The body of Blake Lee, 81 years old, was taken overland in a Malone Funeral company hearse to Mobeetie this morning for interment there this afternoon.

Mr. Lee died at his home in White Deer Saturday following an extended illness. He had been a resident of White Deer for a few months, moving there from Mobeetie where he had made his home since 1923.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Lee is survived by four daughters and four sons.

—AND A FROWN NEW YORK (P)—A committee of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, reporting on the "present unsettled condition of the home," deploras companionate marriages, easy divorces, clergymen who marry divorced persons and runaway couples without due caution, and low wage scales which force mothers into industry.

The Russell Sage foundation has found that there are 57 "marriage market towns" in 29 states.

King George Said to Weigh Mere 112 Pounds at Present

BOGNOR, England, Feb. 11. (P)—Some of those about Craigwell house have passed a story around indicating that King George's illness may have reduced his weight to 112 pounds.

It is said he was quite cheerful and jollied those who carried him from his room at Buckingham palace to the ambulance that brought him to Bognor Saturday. He told them he hoped they would not find him too heavy. When the chief bearer said they had been practicing with a man weighing 170 pounds the king laughed and said he weighed only 112 pounds.

BOMB FOUND NEAR OFFICE OF CANDIDATE

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES RAILS

Near Riots Are Part of Events When Toral Buried

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11. (P)—The greatest excitement Mexico City has known since the assassination of President-Elect Alvaro Obregon prevailed today.

Police guards were doubled because of dynamiting of the train on which President Emilio Portes Gil was returning here yesterday, and because of discovery shortly after midnight of an unexploded bomb in the campaign headquarters of Aaron Saenz, presidential candidate.

Saenz is governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, the candidate of the National Revolutionary party for the presidency, and a son-in-law of ex-president Calles.

President Portes Gil arrived here today aboard a special train which had been the object of a bomb attack in the state of Guanajuato, between the stations of Comonfort and Rincon.

Adding to the Sabbath excitement were demonstrations accompanying the funeral of General Obregon's assassin Jose de Leon Toral, who was executed Saturday. Of 34 persons arrested, 20 were women. Three persons were killed and 30 were wounded.

The bombing of President Portes Gil's train took place as the locomotive passed over a bridge in the wilderness in the eastern part of the state of Guanajuato, between Comonfort and Rincon, south of San Luis Potosi.

The locomotive was partly destroyed and two coaches back of it were thrown from the tracks. The fireman in the locomotive was killed. The pilot train which preceded the presidential special passed over the bridge unscathed.

Mexico City police had their hands full at the funeral of Toral. A motor hearse carried his body to the Spanish cemetery on the outskirts of the city. As it passed through the streets a crowd fell in behind with occasional women breaking through police lines to grab a flower from the hearse.

There were frequent clashes between with a hose, the police, and crowds of mourners, many of whom threw stones to emphasize their feelings.

ROMAN TREATY IS SIGNED FOR KING AND POPE

ROME, Feb. 11. (P)—Treaties bringing to an end the 60-year-old Roman question were signed by representatives of the pope and the king of Italy at 12:17 p. m., today.

Shortly afterward an official communique was posted declaring the Roman question had been settled and the agreement between Vatican and Italian government signed.

The signatories were gathered for the ceremony in the papal council hall of the Lateran palace.

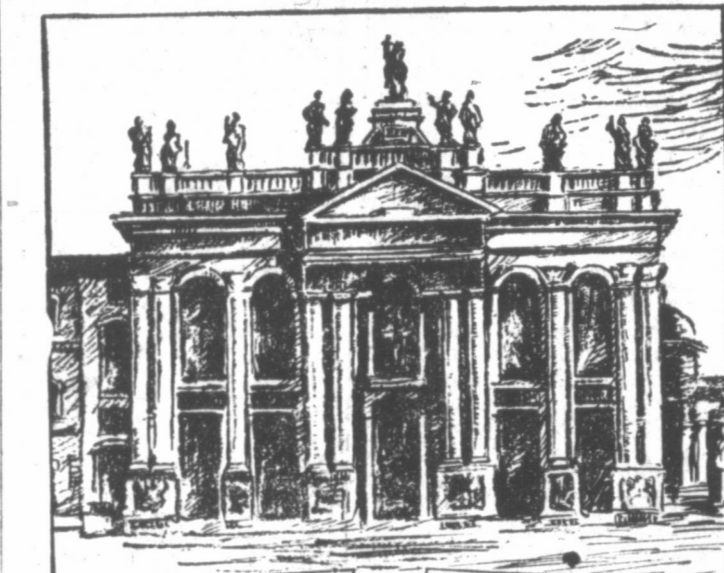

The treaties, written in Italian, were read aloud. There followed a solemn and dramatic moment when Cardinal Gasparri signed the documents with a quill pen mounted in gold. Premier Mussolini then took the pen and signed.

JUDGMENT DELAYED LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11. (P)—Passing of sentence upon Former District Attorney Asa Keyes, Ben Getzoff and Ed H. Rosenberg, convicted last week of a conspiracy to give and receive bribes, was delayed until Thursday when the trio appeared in superior court here today, because of the absence of Presiding Judge E. H. Butler.

Italy and Vatican Make Peace

The historic church of St. John Lateran, the "mother church" of Christianity, shown above, was chosen as the place for the signing of the treaty agreement between the Vatican and the Italian government, by which the Vatican is recognized as a sovereign state for the first time since 1870. Below are Cardinal Gasparri (left), papal secretary of state, and Premier Mussolini, chosen to sign the historic document.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR PERSONS OF ALL AGES WILL BE GIVEN AT OPENING OF PAMPA LIBRARY

The formal opening of the public library tomorrow evening will be featured by a program to be presented in the auditorium of the Methodist church at 8 o'clock, followed by inspection of the library on the second floor, and a social hour in the church basement. Members of the Pampa Library association, who are hosts and hostesses, cordially invite all Pampa to be present on this important occasion. A trophy will be given the club or organization affiliated with the association which has the largest percentage of its membership present.

Entertainment for All Inasmuch as the opening of the library is an event of equal interest to the men, women and children of the community, the program has been planned to include entertainment for all. It will comprise short talks by prominent citizens, musical numbers, and skits. There will be no admission charge. However, a free will offering will be taken for the library. Members of the association request that everyone make as generous a gift as possible, in order that the library may be made one of the city's effective institutions and one in which the citizenship may feel just pride.

The Rev. James Todd, president, suggests that those who have a volume of two to donate bring them to the reading room during the visiting hour Tuesday evening. Such a "show" for the library not only would appreciably increase the present supply of books, but would give each person an opportunity to make a more personal sort of gift to the institution than money alone could be. Those who prefer to have their books delivered to the library may call Mrs. Lee Ledrick, telephone No. 68, and she or some member of her committee will call at the home.

Classes Are Given Many books, including some of the latest scientific studies, fiction, and poetry, have been donated in the last

Dog Catcher Has Been Kept Busy—36 Animals Die

Thirty-six stray canines have "bit the dust," Chief J. I. Downs stated this morning, and there are that many more to pass to "dog heaven" tomorrow or the next day.

Although the weather has been cold, Lee Mullins, dog-catcher, has been busy and has corralled more than 50 stray dogs. By stray dogs is meant dogs running the streets of Pampa without licenses and therefore without owners, for every dog owner in Texas is supposed to buy a tag for his animal.

Up to the present, only 117 tags have been issued by Chief Downs and his officers. Last year 253 tags were purchased and then less than half the dogs in the city were tagged, according to the chief's estimate.

Several local citizens have claimed their canines from the pound. The owners paid for a tag and had their dogs vaccinated. Tags cost $3 for male dogs and $5 for females. The charge for vaccinating is $2 this year.

INCOMPETENCY IS CHOSEN FOR FIRST CHARGE

New Law Firms Added to Defense by Johnston

PROSECUTION WINS A POINT

First Testimony About Pardoning of Dewey Crosshwaite

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11. (P)—The house of representatives board of managers, which is prosecuting Governor Henry S. Johnston in his impeachment trial before the senate court, decided today to try him first on the charge of incompetency, the last of 11 articles preferred against him. Johnston's attorney made no objection.

The governor's trial opened today before the senate court of impeachment. Prior to the convening of the court, it was announced the law firm of Everest, Dudley, and Brewer of Oklahoma City, and David A. Kline, also of Oklahoma City, had been added to counsel for Johnston.

The suspended governor sat with his counsel in the center of the senate chamber, at the same table with the house managers. Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston, sat in the back row of the balcony.

Enemies Win Till OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11. (P)—Prosecutors of Governor Henry S. Johnston won their point in the first roll call vote of the senate court of impeachment, which started his trial today on 11 charges.

By a vote of 29 to 14, the senate overruled defense objections to testimony purporting to reveal a conspiracy between Johnston and J. R. Armstrong, an advisor.

The first testimony related to the pardoning of Dewey Crosshwaite, convicted murderer and fugitive from justice, although the senate was trying Johnston on a charge of general incompetency and the pardon matter is included in a separate article alleging corruption.

R. G. Lovejoy, brother of Thelma Lovejoy, for whose murder Crosshwaite was convicted about ten years ago, repeated testimony he gave to the house investigating committee several weeks ago. Charles W. Mason, chief justice of the state supreme court, who is presiding over the trial, overruled objection of Johnston's counsel to Lovejoy's account of the slaying.

The roll call came when Lovejoy was called upon to repeat a conversation he said he had with Armstrong after he had protested to Johnston because of the pardon, granted last December.

"Code of Ethics" for Oil Men Is Subject of Meeting in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 11. (P)—Leaders in the petroleum industry met here today to discuss adoption of a "code of ethics" through which it is sought to eliminate methods of competition considered unfair or "otherwise bad."

The code, formulated by the American Petroleum Institute, was made the subject of a public hearing and discussion presided over by Edgar McCulloch, member of the federal trade commission.

M. Markham Flannery, director of trade practices of the federal trade commission, explained that the oil industry had appealed to the commission in December for assistance in eliminating the practices frowned upon by the code.

"It is purely a voluntary movement on the part of the oil men," he said, "to eliminate by common agreement practices which are largely outside the pale of the law."

"It's Like This—"

CIVIC DISCUSSION is always in good form; in fact, it should not be abridged under any circumstances. Pampa is at a stage when general talk about needs and opportunities has an especially big place in city-building activities.

Two factors, moreover, are especially to be desired. One of these is crystallization upon a few worthy plans and agreement in their execution. In other words, all talk and no work acts as a deterrent rather than an encouragement.

Another point is that activities of this year should be coordinated and woven into the civic fabric of the city we visualize. That is why it will be of much interest and probably considerable profit to have a city planning engineer spend a day or more in looking over our progress today and forming a mind's picture of what can be tomorrow.

One thing we have not heard-discussed very much is the municipal water tank, or tower, located almost exactly in the center of the city. This is not, to the eye of the stranger nor to that of the citizen who contemplates it, a pleasing sight.

Why not, in the development of the water system, move this tank to a position more in keeping with the usual location of such things in cities? We doubt that this tank is large enough adequately to serve the city in the near future.

The city is occupying a block and one-half of what could be very valuable business property—meaning the Albert square and the half block immediately to the south. A city hall mounted upon a miniature city park is visualized on the square, but what about the property to the south?

DINNER PAILS appear to many to be the most necessary thing in the formation of a city with every type of business permanent city. Some city boosters always come back to this one idea, regardless of that which may be under discussion.

It is true that producers are essential to stability. Merchants and professional men serve other people, without whom and without whose payroll the former cannot prosper.

and individual except producers.

Several pertinent remarks suggest themselves. At the outset, it should be said that Pampa has, as a trade asset, payrolls well above those of the average city of this size in the state.

Of course, we need more industries and should be untiring in trying to get them. Industries, however, cannot be brought here by mere word of mouth, nor even by donation of free sites.

The farm is a factory—and we need more such. A study of how cities grow will reveal that development from within must usually precede that from without.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—Everyone likes the Hon. Henry Prather Fletcher, close friend of President-elect Hoover.

Fletcher has a reputation for knowing Latin America and for being liked by Latin Americans. He also knows his Europe and his Asia, too, for that matter.

But the outstanding thing about his personality is a remarkable faculty for not making any enemies. He is a natural-born diplomat and always seems to have had friends in the right places.

When Hoover takes office Fletcher will be serving under his sixth president. How does he fit with Hoover? Well, the president-elect decided that he was the one man whom he wanted to direct the diplomatic arrangements on the Hoover good will tour.

Fletcher is the original "career man" in the foreign service. Roosevelt, under whom he had served in Cuba, with the Rough Riders, launched him into diplomacy and he has since been going under his own momentum without being even temporarily halted by changes of administration.

The ambassador is now virtually 55 years old. He was born into comparatively luxurious surroundings at Greencastle, Pa., and always has had pleasant relations with the important Republican politicians of Pennsylvania.

He was 25 years old and had just begun practice of law when he joined up with Roosevelt's Rough Riders. He came to Washington when the corps was supposed to be filled up and 50 or 60 applicants were being turned down every day.

"I've heard what you told the other 49," he said, "and there is some way for me to get over the bars. I want you to show me a possibility and I'll make it a reality."

"Well," replied Roosevelt, "here's the only man I have enlisted lately." And he showed Fletcher a personal request on someone's behalf signed by President McKinley.

Fletcher rushed to see Senator Matt Quay, the powerful Pennsylvania boss. Quay offered him a captaincy in some other outfit. Fletcher insisted that he would rather be a private in the Rough Riders.

The unit had gone as far as Tampa and Fletcher had no horse and gun. He took it up with Roosevelt, who replied that he wouldn't need any horse but really should have a gun.

After the war in Cuba was over Fletcher served in the Philippines, earning a lieutenant's rank. Not long after Roosevelt became president, he was made second secretary of the legation at Peking.

The Wilson election in 1912 found him minister to Chile. The very general assumption

TWINKLES

The way Old Sol smiles when he returns after a blizzard would almost indicate he gets a lot of fun out of the procedure.

This country can give excuses for some mighty bad remarks, but there is no cause for hibernating with them as they do in some parts of this country.

Personally, we never expect to read "the great American novel," because it will either be so anonymous as to setting as to be unintelligible or half the Chambers of Commerce of the nation will be kicking because their communities are not represented.

In The Right Channel

Farmers of Floyd County, who have given evidence of their interest in the cream market during the past week, have also given evidence that they in large numbers have definitely concluded the dairy business is a good one to make a permanent part of the farming program.

The business of getting more money for their cream through the offering of a product of better quality, and through any other form of barter that is fair to themselves and consuming public, is part and parcel of the job of developing the industry.

was that he wouldn't be there very long, as President Taft had elevated him and his affiliations were Republicans. By this time he was a good friend of Boies Penrose, successor to Quay, as boss of Pennsylvania.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—A leap, figuratively speaking, almost directly from the back of Tom Mix's faithful horse Tory into an opportunity for stardom in her own right has given young Sally Blane a goodly share of the spotlight that beams on Hollywood's "comers."

Sally, like her sister, Loretta Young, has been named one of the "Wampas club" "baby stars" of 1929—an honor coveted by every struggling young bid in screenland, for it means that the lucky 13 are regarded by the association of studio publicity men as the most promising of the year's crop of feminine screen material.

Neither of the sisters is "sitting on top of the world" out here at present. Nor are they sitting anywhere, in fact—they're climbing, which in "Hollywood" is more healthful.

Loretta recently was made a featured player for First National.

BIGGER AND BETTER

Sally, after little more than two years on the screen, having a few parts as a child, has won the first long-term contract offered by the revolutionized FBO organization, which, renouncing the westerns and nickelodeon melodramas that were its principal output, has announced a schedule of bigger, better and loftier movies.

strengthened by its alliance with Radio Corporation of America, the Radio-Keith-Orpheum theatres and the National Broadcasting company.

Sally laughs as she tells how, at the age of 19, she forsook her intention to be a teacher of domestic science—for "lunching at the Montmartre" as a means of being found for the movies is the subject of much Hollywood humor. But with her, as with a few others, it really happened.

AN ALGER STORY

She was with Joan Crawford, now shining for M-G-M, and she was seen by Wesley Ruggles, Universal director. He sought an introduction, and offered her a part in the "Collegians" series. Her work in this led to a contract with Paramount, during which she played a number of featured roles, and was lent to other companies, including FBO, where she worked with M-G-M.

One of her big ambitions as she enters on the new contract, she says, is to leave ingenue roles and essay others more exacting in dramatic ability. But Sally is far from temperamental on this point, or any other—she is a believer in the time-tested creed that every part she plays can teach her something new. And she wants to know all there is to learn about this business of being an actress.

Ruins of Home Where Ten Perished in Fire

Ten persons, two of them small children, were burned to death when fire destroyed the one-story frame house of Peter Sines, miner, near Buchanan, W. Va. All were in their beds and apparently had been overcome by smoke. Sines' son-in-law, Roy Gibson, was the only one of eleven in the house to escape and he was severely burned. Gibson's wife and baby son and Sines, his wife and six children, died in the flames.

Talks To Parents

HELPING MOTHER
By ALICE PEALE

When first the toddler comes into the kitchen to watch mother cook and bake and sweep and wash dishes he is fascinated by her occupations and instinctively wants to help. Of course he is a nuisance, and many mothers make the mistake of sending him away or of making him feel that he is unwelcome.

Years later these same mothers wonder why Helen can't even fry an egg and why Henry is so awkward about the house that he spills or breaks everything he lays hands on. They complain that their children are selfish and unco-operative, that they expect to have everything done for them.

This is the price paid in the home in which the child's first efforts to be helpful were discouraged because they happened to be inconvenient.

The child whose first association with household tasks is one of child revolt has thereby fixed in his mind an unpleasant connection between housework and disapproval. Later, when he is called on to do his share, the old connection holds and he can never perform his chores as anything but a dreary duty. But the youngster whose first associations with housework were happy ones is likely to feel in the homely tasks the satisfaction of responsibilities well met.

The little one who wants to help with the dishes should be given a towel and allowed to dry the less breakable things. When mother bakes he should have a corner of the board to work on and a piece of dough which he can roll and pat into a little pan and put into the oven beside mother's big pipe. In a hundred little ways he can be given the joy of feeling that he is contributing his share of work in the home.

Christian Church Plans Educational Training Courses

Carrying out the idea of a complete program of religious training, the First Christian church has announced a spring schedule of educational services.

Prior to the opening of training work, however, the Rev. A. G. Smith of Enid, Okla., will come here for a series of services to begin April 24 and last through April 28. Rev. Smith served the Central church at Enid 12 years, and has been in evangelistic work three years. He will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Hanna of Enid, who will be in charge of the music.

A religious leadership training school for the entire Panhandle district will begin February 24, and last through March 1. Charles Marion Ross of Fort Worth, superintendent of religious training for the Christian church in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, will be dean of this school. He will be assisted by at least two other visiting faculty members.

Invitations to attend this school are being sent all churches of the Panhandle. The local church will furnish lodging and breakfasts for all visitors.

A summer vacation school to last six weeks is also a plan of the minister, the Rev. James Todd, Jr.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HERBERT C. PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—There's an old proverb that some seek fame, while others have fame thrust upon them.

Into this latter class has come of late the first Mexican-American United States senator—Octaviano Larrazolo, elected last November to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Jones of New Mexico.

Senator Larrazolo stepped into the spotlight unintentionally—and a cigar was responsible.

Since the days of Senator "Pitchfork" Benn Tillman of South Carolina there has been an ironclad rule forbidding members to smoke on the floor of the senate during sessions.

But how was the new senator to know this?

ONE LITTLE SMOKE

A cigaret with the gentleman from New Mexico is a thing to indulge in whenever one feels the urge. Therefore, the other day while listening to a debate he calmly lit one, leaned back in his chair and serenely smoked it down to the stump. Still unconcerned, he flipped it in a nearby cuspidor.

Worshippers of senate etiquette sat there aghast. They tried to attract Senator Larrazolo's attention, but in vain. It was a tense moment while that cigaret was being pulled down. However, none of his colleagues was bold enough to tell him that he was out of order.

But it is a safe bet that the senator will not be guilty of this offense again. No doubt a polite hint from his colleagues was forthcoming immediately.

THAT FAMOUS REMARK

All of which recalls the famous remark made by the late Vice-President Marshall in his capacity as president of the senate. It has since become a stock expression.

A distinguished senator had been speaking at some length. In one burst of oratory after another he had been telling his colleagues what was wrong with the country and declaring that the nation's only salvation was this and that.

The vice-president took it all in. After the senator had concluded and taken his seat he arose and remarked drily:

"What this country really needs is a good 5-cent cigar."

There are some senators, however, who are not affected by the anti-bacco rule. These are the ones who enjoy the weed in a different manner. Care has been exercised to see that cuspidors are at convenient ranges for these gentlemen.

EUROPE IS SNOWBOUND IN NORTHERN COUNTRIES

LONDON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Ice and snow stretched today in a bleak white blanket across Europe from Scandinavia to the Balkans.

Some towns faced food and fuel shortages. Ice was piled high in rivers. In the Baltic 140 ships of various sizes were held tight in an ice crush.

In Jugoslavia the Moslem town of Gradsko, near Sarajevo, was dug out of the snow after being buried for nine days. Food and fuel was gone for many of the 3,000 inhabitants were delirious.

BIRD-BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—House changes in the bill for the establishment of migratory-bird-refugees were accepted by the senate today and the measure was sent to President Coolidge.

MRS BREINING IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. W. A. Breining proved to be both charming and individual as hostess Thursday afternoon in her home to members of the Idle-a-While bridge club. The house was decorated with profusion of hearts, and the valentine note prevailed in tallies and favors, as well as in the delicious salad course served at the conclusion of the game. Mrs. L. F. Keough received high score and Mrs. Ralph Ogden second high.

At the end of the playing little Gilbert Blake, entered dressed as a Western Union messenger, and delivered a valentine message to each of the following: Mrs. Ira Varnardall, Mrs. Ralph Ogden, Mrs. Joe Garlay, Mrs. Howard Blake, Mrs. A. Carpenter, Mrs. Van Winkle, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. W. R. Combs, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. George Thut, Mrs. L. F. Keough, Mrs. J. Harris, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Parker, and Miss Birdie Short.

Menus of the Day

By Mrs. Alexander George

WHEN COOKING CAULIFLOWER

When preparing cauliflower for cooking, cut off the outside leaves and cut out the core. Leave the cauliflower whole and soak, head down, for 30 minutes in salted cold water, using 1 teaspoon of salt for each quart of water. The soaking will draw out any insects. The food may then be steamed and served whole with butter or cream sauce.

OYSTERS CREOLE, SERVING FOUR

1 pint small oysters, 1-2 cup diced cooked celery, 1-4 cup chili sauce, 2 cups milk, 1 cup crumbs, 4 tablespoons butter, melted, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, well beaten.

Mix the crumbs, butter, salt, pepper, chili sauce and egg. Sprinkle some in the bottom of a shallow, well buttered, baking dish—Add a layer of oysters, the dish, alternating the layers of and celery. Add some crumbs. Fill crumbs, oysters and celery. Add the milk. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve in the dish in which baked.

CREAMED CHEESE ON BUTTERED TOAST FOR SIX

6 squares buttered hot toast, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1-2 cup finely cut cheese, 1 egg, well beaten.

Melt the butter and add the flour. Mix well and add the milk and cook until a creamy sauce forms. Stir frequently to prevent lumping. Add the salt, paprika and cheese and stir well mixed. Add the egg. Cook for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Serve at once, poured over the toast.

AMARILLO SANDIES COMING HERE FOR GAME TONIGHT

Harvester's Will Have Hard Time Stopping Guests

The Golden Sandies of Amarillo will take the floor in Central gymnasium as favorites of the dopsters tonight, but probably not a single local fan is without hope that the Harvesters will hit a winning stride on their home court.

The Sandies nosed out the locals last week, but it is apt to be a different story tonight. Amarillo sport writers agree that the Pampa offense is to be feared, and that if a defense against the Sandstorm scoring machine can be devised it may go hard with the visitors.

Ordinarily the Amarillo cage outfits are not feared by the best teams of this section, but this year is an exception. They have taken several defeats, but in recent games have shown much improvement.

The game tonight is scheduled to begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Porkers Certain to Hold Title in Southwest Loop

(By the Associated Press)

Although they fell before the inspired play of Texas university, 36 to 25, Saturday night at Austin, their first defeat in almost two seasons of play, the Arkansas university Porkers were back in the Ozark hills today with their fourth straight Southwest conference cage title practically assured.

All they have to do now to sew up the flag is win their remaining games with Rice Institute and the Texas Aggies, which they are favored to do. If the Razorbacks should drop one of the quartet, however, and Texas should clean up the five contests still on its schedule, the race would end in a deadlock, each with 10 wins and two losses.

While the Texas supporters were verging on hysterics at Austin, the Southern Methodist university quintet was "stalling" out a 26-to-20 win over the Rice Owls at Houston, and Texas Christian university was climbing out of the cellar by downing Baylor university, 38 to 21, at Waco. The "stalling," or delayed passing game employed by the Mustangs in their last three encounters is said to outdo anything previously seen in the conference. Several spectators were said to have drowsed openly while the Ponies kept the sphere out of play Saturday night.

The Aggies will get a dose of it Monday night when they entertain the Methodists at College Station. Third place in the conference standing will be at stake. Thursday night the Mustangs take on the Baylor Bears at Dallas. Rice goes to Fayetteville for two jousts with the Razorbacks Friday and Saturday nights, and Texas plays the Aggies Saturday night at College Station.

CONGRESS RESTS EASY WITH BIG ISSUES SETTLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Members of congress are confident they have the legislative program well in hand. Enough progress has been made on appropriation measures to practically assure the passage of all of them before March 4 and the senate has Boulder Dam, the Kellogg treaty, and the cruiser bill out of the way.

On the senate program today was the Caraway bill to regulate trading on cotton and grain futures, and the house had before it affairs of the District of Columbia. The senate also had the Heflin resolution, asking that the federal reserve board propose legislation to meet the speculative situation on the exchanges, in the offering. It seemed likely that the Caraway bill, already shelved once, would be laid aside while the resolution was taken up, although its sponsor, Senator Caraway of Arkansas, had served notice he wants his measure passed on before the week is over.

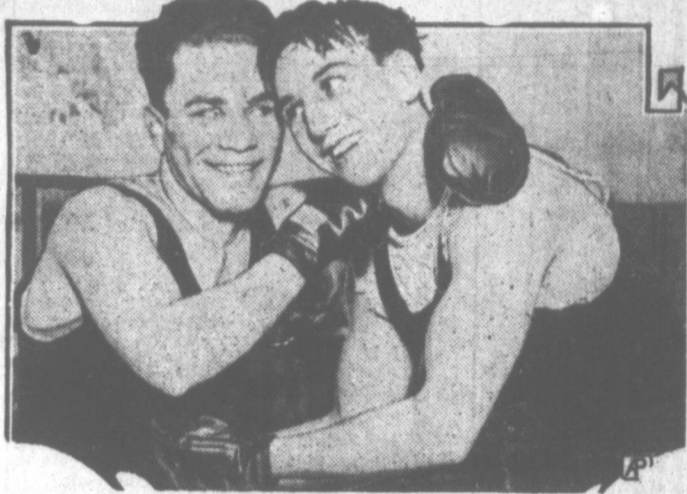

Before the week is out the senate is expected to pass on the Walsh report censuring the departments of the interior and justice for their part in the renewal of the contract for Salt Creek royalty oil to the Sinclair interests. The senate public lands committee voted Senator Walsh down in committee on this question and he has taken the matter to the senate. Dr. Hubert Work, former secretary of the interior, and William J. Donovan, assistant attorney-general and a cabinet possibility, are censured in the Walsh report.

The house tomorrow is expected to take up the last of the nine appropriation measures, the legislative supply bill and Wednesday both houses meet in joint session to count the electoral vote.

Frank Hill underwent a tonsillectomy Saturday night at a local hospital.

Daily News want-ads bring results.

Ghetto Pals Try For Ring Crowns

"You can't keep good fighters down", says Jackie Fields, welterweight, to Eddie Shea, featherweight. They are title contenders.

CHICAGO (AP)—From the streets of Chicago's Ghetto two boyhood pals, Eddie Shea and Jackie Fields, have boxed their way to within striking distances of the world's featherweight and welterweight titles.

Ten years ago, when the pair attended school together, they were known as Eddie Donofio and Jackie Finkelstein. Both decided to make a living by boxing. Jackie left Chicago when he was 12; Eddie stayed. Shea, now a contender for the featherweight crown, helps support 16 brothers and sisters with his earnings. Fields, one of five children, also assists his family.

During recent workouts in Chicago, Shea and Fields met for the first time in eight years.

Horton Smith Is New Commander of Golfing Army

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 11. (AP)—Horton Smith, 21-year-old Joplin, Mo. professional, today was in at least temporary command of the golfing army touring the South by virtue of his victory yesterday in the greater Pensacola open tournament.

Smith clicked off a 274, 10 strokes under par for the 72 holes and five strokes better than the score of "Wild Bill" Melhorn, next in line. In third place came Gene Sarazen, New York, with 282 and Henry Cotton, British pro, was fourth with 283. Bobby Cruickshank, Al Espinosa and Tommy Armour were in the next section with 284's.

Al Espinosa, Chicago, and Bobby Cruickshank, purchase, New York, expected to leave today for New York where they will sail for England to enter the British open.

Cubs Nearly Ready to Start Training to Catalina Island

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (AP)—With prospects for a National league championship the brightest since 1918, the advance guard of the Cubs' baseball team will shove off for their spring training camp at Catalina Island, Calif., Thursday.

Twenty-five players and officials will be with the first party, while the others will leave February 26. Rogers Hornsby, whose bat is expected to give the Cubs a pennant winning punch, may be among the early birds.

J. D. Merriman of Panhandle spent the week-end here with Mrs. Merriman and Jimmie Jr.

L. N. Brashears of Panhandle was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Tilden's Record Sure to Remain Untouched Decade

By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—It will be a long time, at least a decade before any tennis player can hope to match the ranking record of William Tilden, II.

Reinstated in time to gain the No. 1 position on the American list for the ninth consecutive year, Tilden not only established a new national mark, but a world's record as well. Tennis has produced a long list of stars from Sears and Renshaw, down through Lawford the Dohertys, Brookes, Wilding, Larned McLoughlin, and other fore-runners of the modern generation, but none can match this mark of Big Bill's. Larned topped the United States list eight times, but they were not consecutive.

Rene Lesoste, the solemn young Frenchman, started a winning streak when he succeeded to Tilden's American singles title in 1926, but he allowed his crown to pass to the hands of his countryman, Henri Cochet, without defense last year.

The two young Frenchmen, combined in team play, may outdo the great record of Tilden and Johnston, who were the main factors in seven successive Davis cup victories for the United States from 1920 to 1926. Cochet and Lacosta wrested this trophy from the United States in 1927, successfully defended it last summer in Paris with the loss of only one match and look invincible for some time to come.

Helen Wills, who will be 24 this year, now has headed the American women's ranking five times in six years and gained undisputed recognition as the world's champion for two straight years. She has three more years to go before equalling the mark of Mrs. Molla Malory, who was No. 1 on the American list eight times including the year of 1917, when no official ranking was issued.

Whether his sensational streak of golf on the winter route from California to Florida heralds his approach to National title honors, "Wild Bill" Melhorn never will have a better chance to become the American opening than he did over Oakmont's terrifying terrain in 1927.

Wild Bill, after being apparently out of the running, had one of the wildest of his wild spees at the start of his

BLAZING the SPORTS TRAIL

By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

No other single tennis event of 1923 was so significant to the game's new era or so interesting to the public at large as the rise of 17-year-old Helen Wills of California to the national women's championship.

There was some feeling that Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the seven times champion, had come close to the end of her reign. Her defeat in the finale was not so unexpected as was the margin by which Miss Wills won at 6-2, 6-1, in something like 33 minutes at the newly opened Forest Hills stadium.

Even more astonishing, to the experts, was the masculine-like power, of the California girl's game, the smashing strokes that marked a distinct turn in the game and which, after five years have put Miss Wills upon a plane now generally regarded as higher than that once occupied by Suzanne Lenglen. Mrs. Mallory was a hard hitter but never approached the all-around power of Miss Wills' game.

It is one of the competitive misfortunes of tennis that no conclusive test ever was had of the respective abilities of Lenglen and Wills, the two outstanding stars produced in feminine ranks over the past decade. The French star won their only engagement in a hard-fought match but in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6, on the Riviera in 1926, but this was just before the American became ill with appendicitis. Lenglen was at her best at that time but Miss Wills had not yet reached the heights she attained in the seasons of 1927 and 1928.

It is of which she breezed through without meeting a single defeat in competition at home or abroad. In fact she lost only one tournament set in women's competition in the past two years, that to Gwyneth Sterry of England at Wimbledon in 1927.

The poised young women who now rule her tennis kingdom was just a serious-faced and somewhat nervous but determined girl five years ago when she sprang to national fame. Only the last year before, 1922, she had won the girl's championship. She was not considered yet well enough equipped to threaten the long and formidable reign of Mrs. Mallory but she was nevertheless homebred hope.

It was not that any of the more enthusiastic tennis devotee here any ill-will toward Mrs. Mallory but it was no secret that those in power yearned to hand the big championship trophy to a product of American courts after so long a period of domination by the sturdy and gallant sportswoman from Norway.

Miss Wills was well guided in her swift and dramatic rise to the top. To her father's patient teaching, she ascribes her early development in that ... The Brooklyns only raised him one grand. ... Which made his pay only 21 grands a year. ... Der Herr Schmelling has been offered $7,500 a week to do 15 weeks of vaudeville in Germany. ... And he wants to do it. ... Strange! ... The Brooklyns denied they asked waivers on Dave Bancroft, their $20,000-a-year substitute.

... Tack Hardwick, the Harvard football wow of a number of years ago, is now vice-president and chairman of the board of the rich Boston Garden.

... The expert who saw Jim Braddock almost knock out Tom Heeney when Heeney was training for the Tunney fight, should have written the piece for his paper. ... It would have been a good piece for his paper.

California cradle of tennis that has turned out Bill Johnston, Helen Jacobs and so many other stars. The finishing touches, however were applied by the generous tutoring of Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman. Herself a former national champion, wife of a tennis executive born strategist and teacher, Mrs. Wightman recognized the remarkable possibilities in Miss Wills' game and sought to develop them. How well she succeeded was quickly evident.

Back In Majors

The St. Louis Cards had Heinie Schuble two years ago but found him lacking in experience to play shortstop regularly. After a year in the minors, Schuble is back in the majors, this time with Detroit. He hopes to fill the shoes of Jackie Tavener, sent to Cleveland in the Uhlre trade.

Eight Clubs for Lone Star Loop Seem Possible

DALLAS, Feb. 11. (AP)—The withdrawal of one new and one old member of the Lone Star league has made it seem certain that the circuit will function as a six-club organization this year.

At a meeting of the league here yesterday Ardmore, elected to membership in January, withdrew, and Mexia, a member for the last two years was not represented. League leaders had planned to expand the league to an eight-club circuit.

Sherman is understood to be ready to take over the Mexia franchise, should Mexia decide definitely to drop out and league directors have been authorized to confer with Lufkin or Greenville, in case Mexia stays, in an effort to admit Sherman and one other city to make it an eight-club league.

Palestine, Corsicans, Texarkana, Tyler and Paris are certain to have places on the schedule this season.

fourth and last round. He came to the turn in 32, five under par on a course whose terrors were too much for Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, and a flock of other stars. He needed only a 36, one over par, on the last nine to beat the mark at which Harry Cooper and Tommy Armour tied. Melhorn took a disastrous seven on the 621 yard twelfth hole and quickly passed from the picture, finishing with 304.

NIGHT PROWLER IS IDENTIFIED SUNDAY

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11. (AP)—Alvin E. Merritt, 25, yesterday was identified by 14 women as the man who terrorized and attacked them during the last few weeks.

Taken in custody yesterday, Merritt was shown to a score or more of women victims of a night prowler who had preyed on women in a prominent residential district. One woman fainted after naming him as the man who attacked her.

Borger's First Peace Officer Is Accident Victim

BORGER, Feb. 11. (P)—Joe Hutson, 38, Borger's first peace officer, is dead from a bullet fired accidentally from the gun of a brother officer.

Hutson was wounded Sunday when Tom Hughes dropped his pistol on the floor at police headquarters. The impact fired the gun and the bullet struck Hughes in the ankle, breaking two bones, before ricocheting from the cement floor to strike Hutson. It ranged through Hutson's thigh, and the chief died from loss of blood.

Stewart Charged With Concealing Trust Deposits

24—STEWART CHARGED NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (P)—Concealment of bonds by Colonel Robert W. Stewart is stressed in a 71-page letter sent to stockholders of the Standard Oil company of Indiana today by Winthrop W. Aldrich, of the proxy committee, headed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The document includes excerpts from testimony before the senate committee which investigated the Teapot Dome scandal and quotations from the opinion of the Supreme Court in which the purpose of the Continental Trust company was declared to have been illegitimate.

The letter sets forth in detail the connection of Colonel Stewart with the Continental company and charges he concealed from the directors of the Standard of Indiana for six years that part of the profits which had been turned over to him in the form of Liberty bonds "which he knew as early as November, 1921, belonged either to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company or the Standard Oil company of Indiana."

It goes on to say that Stewart "instead of disclosing this fact to his board of directors and turning over the bonds, immediately created a secret trust making a subordinate employee of the company trustee, and did not himself keep nor did he require the trustee to keep, any record whatever of the transaction except the trust agreement."

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (P)—Col. Robert W. Stewart, through his personal attorney, last night pronounced as "nothing short of a cowardly and dastardly libel" statements made public in New York proposing Colonel Stewart's reelection to the Standard Oil company of Indiana's board of directors.

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 11. (P)—Slight damage to the bean crop in low areas was reported today, but otherwise loss in the Rio Grande valley due to weather conditions was held negligible. A ten-mile and hour wind and a low dew point prevented frost and material damage in the valley. Field crops were irrigated yesterday to lower the danger and smudge pots were unnecessary.

HUG WON'T TESTIFY

Miller Huggins, the small manager of the Yankees, is too big a fellow to be caught in the middle of one of the revived arguments about the greatest ball club of all times and the greatest players of history.

THE DOUGH ALWAYS TELLS

But little Huggins would not be put on the stool to testify against his ball player. He found a crafty way of expressing himself.

YANKS WERE GOOD THEN

"I think the Yankees," the Hug said, "were the greatest ball club I ever saw when they were in that tough series against the Athletics last season. But that doesn't make them the greatest ball club of all times because you have to judge a ball club over a whole season's time or two or three seasons."

GOOD FOR TWENTY YEARS

Talking about his Babe, Huggins expressed the opinion that his big fellow ought to have three or four more good years left.

The true purpose of a budget Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat—for house furnishings, books and what not. Here is the way to get the most for your money. Keep a budget. Decide what you can afford to spend for each item, and hold yourself within this amount. Then—to get the most for your budget money read advertisements carefully. The advertisements you read tell you what is newest and best. They give you the latest ideas and improvements. They help you to get more from each dollar you have apportioned in your budget—and so live better and dress better with the same income. The true purpose of a budget is to enable you to spend wisely—and only by careful reading of advertising can you hope to accomplish this result. Read advertising regularly. It points the way to better living
