

Voters Checked In Election Contest

Non-Rendition Of Property First Issue

43 Of 80 Listed As Not Being On The Tax Rolls

A tedious task of checking voters' names against property rendition lists got underway in 70th district court Thursday morning, after Judge Cecil C. Collings called for hearing the case of Ted O. Groehl and others, contesting outcome of the Sept. 9 Big Spring Independent school district tax-bond referendum.

Groehl, with 17 other citizens, had filed the contest petition, questioning the validity of 102 votes, on the basis of (a) non-rendition of property in the district; (b) non-payment of poll taxes; (c) non-residence in the district and (d) failure to obtain exemption certificate for the current year.

By agreement of counsel, Jas. L. Sullivan representing the contesters and County Attorney George Thomas for the contestees, names of some challenged voters were checked against the school district tax rolls, and were entered into the trial record either as having rendered property or not having rendered property.

The school roll was used as the basis, and Mrs. F. M. Purser, school tax official, was summoned to assist the attorneys in making the check.

Before the noon recess, names of 80 voters had been checked, and 43 were declared by agreement, as not having rendered property for district tax purposes.

In addition, Sullivan and Thomas informed the court that 14 others were to be examined more closely before an agreement was reached, since some of these involved questions as to "trade name", estate ownership, or errors in initials or spelling.

First Hike Granted Under Rent Control

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Housing Expediter Frank R. Creodon, acting for the first time under the new rent control law, today approved a five per cent rent increase for the Louisville, Ky., area.

Creodon also ordered continuation of existing controls and rent ceilings in four other areas and approved removal of rent controls in Lawrence county, S. D., with the exception of the city of Spearfish.

In each case, Creodon acted on recommendations of local rent advisory boards set up under the rent control extension act which became effective last July 1.

Creodon approved local board recommendations to continue controls in Charleston, W. Va.; Duluth-Superior, Wis., area, St. Petersburg, Fla.; and New Castle, Ind.

The flat five per cent increase in the Louisville area applies throughout Jefferson county, Ky. This and the decontrol action in Lawrence county, S. D., are effective immediately.

He emphasized that landlords and tenants who have entered into voluntary written lease agreements providing increases in accordance with provisions of the rent control law are not subject to the raises authorized today.

He was referring to the provision of the law which permits rent increases up to 15 per cent in exchange for leases running through 1948.

The law also provided for creation of local rent advisory boards which may recommend rent increases or removal of rent ceilings.

Meanwhile, near Pampa, approximately 140 miles north, lightning set fire to a 50,000-barrel oil tank of the Standish Oil Company. The flames began to consume an estimated $92,000 worth of oil. The fire started during a violent electric storm in the Pampa vicinity.

At Winters, approximately 80 miles northeast of San Angelo, a three-inch rain disrupted telephone service. Rain fell in widely scattered areas.

An east by northeast wind, rolling back clouds of San Antonio in southwest Texas, made mercury retreat from a high of 92 degrees to 72 degrees within an hour. But only a trace of rain fell.

Organizations Give Support To Food Plan

Shutdown Seen For Nation's Distilleries

Millions of Americans who are joining in support of President Truman's food conservation program scratched poultry and eggs off their menus today.

Today was the first eggless and poultryless Thursday since Truman's request for full support of all citizens in the campaign to save food and although surveys indicated that the nation's first meatless Tuesday received only token observance, more widespread cooperation was predicted today.

Most restaurants as well as many housewives said the notice for a meatless Tuesday was too short and their menus had been planned.

Leaders in three major farm organizations—the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the National Council of Farm Cooperatives—have promised Mr. Truman "100 per cent cooperation" in the campaign to conserve grain supplies.

In Washington there were predictions that the nation's distilleries would shut down for 60 days, beginning about Oct. 25 as requested by President Truman in a move designed to save some 10,000,000 bushels of grain for Europe.

Charles Luckman, chairman of the citizens food committee, who predicted the shutdown after conferring with officials of the liquor industry, said the food conservation program was "getting the wholehearted support of the overwhelming majority of Americans."

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said the nation's distillers had agreed to make available for export all grain they hold or have contracted to purchase.

Meanwhile, there was no encouraging news for consumers as prices climbed at most of the country's primary food markets yesterday.

There were advances in live hogs at most of the major markets, including Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha, Indianapolis and Sioux City, Ia.

There also were gains in prices in grains at Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis; in butter and egg futures at Chicago; wholesale butters in New York; wholesale eggs in Chicago, and wheat flour in the New York metropolitan area.

Small declines were reported in wholesale butter and poultry at Chicago and wholesale butter in Seattle.

Truman Food Plan Ignored in Texas

The Egg and I didn't part company in Texas today, the first poultry-less Thursday under President Truman's food conservation plan.

Restaurants contacted in a spot survey said they didn't know what would happen to chicken dinners later in the day, but as for breakfast—most people ate eggs as usual.

In Fort Worth, one restaurant served fried mush as a possible substitute, but few people responded. Other cafes there served eggs if customers ordered them—and customers did.

Two Dallas restaurants specialize in fried chicken—Youngbloods and Leslie's—said they were staying open today.

The manager of Leslie's said most chicken places would be open today. He said they were awaiting the outcome of the State Restaurant Association meeting in Austin later today.

British Sale Of Gold Rumored

LONDON, Oct. 9. (AP)—An authoritative government source indicated today that Britain—dipping further into her dwindling financial reserves—had sold another $120,000,000 worth of gold to the United States in exchange for dollars.

The informant said he understood that formal confirmation of reports of such a sale had been withheld pending final decision on a new public relations policy governing official disclosure of such transactions.

Britain sold $800,000,000 in gold to the United States early last month in her first dip into her gold reserve. Before that sale the reserve had been reported officially to total about $2,400,000,000.

U. S. Appears Victor In Balkan Dispute

Accusation Sought Against Red Orbit

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 9. (AP)—The United States, apparently certain of victory in its fight for a United Nations "watchdog" commission in the Balkans, made plain today its intention to press for U. N. condemnation of three Soviet satellites accused of responsibility for Greece's border troubles.

An American spokesman declared that U. S. delegation would deviate from its position only if the three accused nations—Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria—officially agreed to cooperate with the border commission, which was approved by the U. N.'s 57-nation political commission late yesterday by a 34 to 6 vote.

The spokesman added that the three nations had made it evident they had no intention of complying—an assertion to which Bulgarian delegate Boris Athanasov gave weight by telling interviewers:

"They (the U. S.) have the majority and can keep voting resolutions. They can decide this way is black if they want to. This is a maneuver. It is railroading a proposal. It is a horse trade and we refuse to take part in it."

The vote on the Greek border watch came as the political committee balloted clause by clause on United States' proposals for preserving peace in the Balkans. The committee's decisions will go to the assembly for final approval after it completes action on the U. S. proposals, but this was generally regarded as little more than a formality inasmuch as the committee is composed of representatives of the same 87 nations which make up the assembly.

Russia, which has demanded that the U. N. find Greece to blame for the border conflict, cannot veto the proposals in the assembly because the veto applies only in the 11-nation security council.

In yesterday's vote on the border watch commission, Russia was supported in the opposition only by white Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, Yugoslavia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Complaints filed immediately after the simultaneous arrests 35 miles apart in New Mexico accused George Welling Thompson, 38, formerly of Greenwood, Mo., of taking matter from both the Army's Sandia Base here and the atom laboratory; and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 29, formerly of Union City, N. J., of stealing half a dozen Los Alamos pictures.

The two were identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as former army photographers at Los Alamos, where the first atom bomb was assembled. After his discharge Thompson was a civil service employe for a time at Sandia.

Arraigned in Santa Fe, Thompson pleaded guilty to the Los Alamos thefts but denied taking any photos from the base here. Paporello's hearing in Albuquerque was continued until next Monday, allowing him time to engage counsel.

Bonds of both were fixed at $10,000. Thompson was held in the Santa Fe city jail, where the FBI said a doctor attended him for nervous indigestion shortly after his arrest. Paporello was lodged in the county jail here. His attorney said he expected to arrange bond today.

Ignoring a welter of rumors—including one published report that the Sandia base is building huge caverns for atomic war defense—the war department has stated only that the $10,000,000 installation is the principal field unit of its special weapons project. Spokesmen have said all construction and operations are restricted data.

Spotted Rains Dot County, Some Damage Results To Cotton

Rains spotted Howard county Wednesday afternoon, settling dust in most areas and pouring out substantial showers in others.

There were reports of peeping of hail west of here, and in the vicinity of Hartwells as much as an inch and a half fell. Varying damage resulted to cotton from Knott eastward to Luther where rains varied sharply in intensity. Cotton harvest was halted generally early Thursday but the sun dried out many fields where rains were light.

Precipitation measured .12 of an inch at the weather bureau at the airport.

DeWitt Shive, north of Coabams, was estimated to have lost upwards of 40 bales when around three inches fell in a limited area. Thad Hale suffered some though not extensive damage. Hale fell near Rickland and between Moore and Knott where around two inches came in a narrow area.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Death of 56-year-old Joseph A. Padway, general counsel of the American Federation of Labor, threw the AFL convention into stunned grief today and delayed a prospective showdown over John L. Lewis' refusal to sign a non-communist oath.

Padway was fatally stricken midway in a long and violent attack on the Taft-Hartley act on the convention platform yesterday. He died less than eight hours later in Stanford hospital, shocking the 700 delegates and AFL leaders who had cheered his remarks without knowing he had sustained a stroke on the speaker's platform.

FBI AT WORK

Two More Men Held In Atom Theft Case

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 9. (AP)—Federal agents who have been probing thefts of confidential matter from the Los Alamos atomic project nabbed two more suspects yesterday—and at the same time revealed the investigation also has covered a highly secret weapons project outside Albuquerque.

Complaints filed immediately after the simultaneous arrests 35 miles apart in New Mexico accused George Welling Thompson, 38, formerly of Greenwood, Mo., of taking matter from both the Army's Sandia Base here and the atom laboratory; and Ernest Lawrence Paporello, 29, formerly of Union City, N. J., of stealing half a dozen Los Alamos pictures.

The two were identified by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as former army photographers at Los Alamos, where the first atom bomb was assembled. After his discharge Thompson was a civil service employe for a time at Sandia.

Typhoon Hits Tiny Iwo Jima

GUAM, Oct. 9. (AP)—A devastating tropical typhoon which "sat down" on tiny Iwo Jima leveled some buildings and left others little more than twisted steel and wood, a faint radio message picked up by the Coast Guard station here reported today.

The message, heard this afternoon, was the first communication from the volcanic island 800 miles north of Guam in more than seven hours.

It contained no word of how some 300 Army, Air Force and Coast Guard men and their dependents fared in the lashing storm.

The typhoon brought sustained winds of 130 miles an hour, with gusts up to 160 miles, the message said. It reported a large quonset hut and one barracks building completely leveled and said damage to others was severe.

Water damage was described as great.

U. S. Rocket Planes Crash Through Sonic Barriers

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9. (AP)—American robot rocket planes have crashed the sonic barrier at blistering speeds in the neighborhood of 1,700 miles an hour, a high government official revealed today.

The flights have been carried on for months from a lonely island off the Virginia coast, where the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) has a small experiment station.

This disclosure of American progress in the field of supersonic flight—which is flight faster than the speed of sound—was prompted by publication Wednesday of accounts from England of the 900-mile-an-hour flight of pilotless rocket craft.

As in the English experiments, the American rocket ships are launched at high altitude from a fast-flying bomber. Their controls are pre-set to send them diving into the sea after a flight of 20 to 30 miles. Telemetering devices installed in the robot automatically transmit pertinent data to observers aloft and on the ground. Radar also is used to track the rocket plane throughout its brief but sensational flight.

"It will not be many months before we have a piloted aircraft break through the sonic barrier (750 miles an hour at 30,000 feet), although he will be flying a turbo-jet plane with a rocket boost," the government spokesman said.

It was revealed that great progress had been made in recent months in perfecting controls for the supersonic aircraft, whose wings are so sharply swept back that they resemble a "V".

Today's disclosures coincided with, but were not a part of, the first annual inspection by military and civilian engineers of the NACA's flight propulsion research laboratory at the edge of the Cleveland municipal airport.

This $50,000,000 government research plant, which Detroit sought in 1940, has been operating at a constantly accelerating pace for five years. It now has a staff of more than 2,000 technicians.

NEW WEAPON

Naval Men Predict Guided Missile Ship

WASHINGTON—Navy officers agree that the firing of a German V-2 from the deck of the 45,000-ton carrier Midway was a demonstration of a sea-going launching site, rather than a new role for the flat-tops.

They believed it extremely unlikely that carriers of the future will be expected to fire big rockets and launch airplanes too. Special guided missile ships will be the thing in their opinion. In announcing the test the Navy said it "will mark the beginning of a new era in naval weapons."

A carrier is not a combatant ship in itself but rather a floating garage for a swarm of fighting planes. It can protect itself somewhat with anti-aircraft guns but is not designed for hammer-and-tongs battle.

Two ships under construction, the 45,000-ton battleship Kentucky and the 27,500-ton large cruiser Hawaii, are being converted into guided missile ships.

The catch is that nobody knows what a guided missile ship should be, and work is proceeding very slowly while Navy planners test out theories and ideas.

Best bet at present is that they will be fast, able to take the pounding of a battleship, have provisions against atom bomb blasts and, of course, fire big rockets and controlled missiles.

Meanwhile, the stock of captured V-2s is dwindling and the Navy is looking forward to experimenting with its brand-new rocket, the Neptune, slated for testing next June.

Advance publicity on the American-made rocket predicts it will soar 235 miles into the air, twice as far as the V-2 has gone in New Mexico altitude tests. Experts believe the 235-mile figure may be exceeded considerably when the Neptune is finally tried out. Presumably it might be capable of 500 miles in a horizontal direction.

About as long as the V-2 (46 feet), the Neptune is still slimmer. Over 7,000 of its fully loaded weight of 11,410 pounds is taken up by fuel. It is scheduled to carry one ton of instruments (or explosive) in its nose.

The Navy regards it as the largest practical rocket for shipboard use and from it expects to learn enough to design actual war rockets for the Kentucky and Hawaii.

Years will pass, according to the best naval opinion, before perfection of the truly long-range rocket, complete with an atomic bomb for a warhead.

Light Plane Globe Circles Land At Shanghai Airfield

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9. (AP)—Two Americans on a round-the-world flight in light planes landed at Shanghai's Lungwhu airfield today after covering the 500-mile stretch from Amoy in less than eight hours.

The fliers, George Truman of Los Angeles and Clifford V. Evans of Washington, D. C., bucked 40-mile-an-hour headwinds all the way.

They said that when they left Hong Kong last Sunday, they were told they would face headwinds of no more than 20 miles an hour. A few hours later, their small plane ran into 80-mile headwinds which forced them to land at Amoy.

The global flight started at Teterboro, N. J., Aug. 10.

HAZARDS LISTED

Board Is Fighting Fire In Farm Areas

NEW YORK—Fires on farms in the United States are killing an average of 3,500 persons every year, injuring thousands of others, and destroying $90,000,000 worth of farm property, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

"Thousands of tons of foodstuffs, worth tens of millions of dollars, are lost in fires which level barns, granaries, mills, elevators and warehouses," the underwriters report.

Attributing nearly all farm fires to faulty building construction and lack of knowledge, the board's technicians have prepared a booklet on fire hazards in rural areas to promote fire prevention on farms.

"Unlike urban areas where fire protection and water supplies are adequate, farms often face total destruction when fire strikes," the engineers point out. "When fire destroys a farm, the loss of farm equipment, livestock and personal property often throws such an economic burden upon a family that they can not regain their financial independence."

Although fire insurance may cover the dollar value of physical losses the underwriters emphasize the cost of time and labor to rebuild, which they find "is usually far in excess of the value destroyed."

One out of every four fires on farms is classified as originating from an "unknown" cause. Engineers are convinced, however, that a large percentage of such "mystery" fires, which destroy the evidence of their origin, can be attributed to spontaneous ignition.

Four basic rules for action are suggested:

1. Remove all persons from the building. Don't try to save valuables or pets. If you're trapped on upper floors close the door of the room first, then make a rope from sheets or blankets, tie one end securely and slide to safety. Only as a last resort should you throw a mattress to the ground and jump. Use stairways only after taking great precautions. If the door of the room is hot to touch, do not open it because superheated toxic gases may asphyxiate you. When venturing into hallways, cover face with wet cloth and crawl along the floor.

2. Telephone the alarm or send someone to summon aid. Fire department numbers should be memorized by each member of the family and also posted near the telephone.

3. After learning the location and extent of the fire, begin fighting it with any available equipment.

4. Protect other buildings and remove livestock from barns.

"In recent years," the underwriters observe, "the majority of states have authorized fire-fighting services in rural areas." However, they emphasize:

"Fire prevention is also an individual responsibility."

U. S. Winds-Up Foreign Farm Worker Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—The government is winding up its program for supplying United States farmers with foreign workers.

Recruitment of farm workers in Mexico, the West Indies and Canada by the government already has ceased, and approximately 40,000 foreign agricultural laborers in this country under Federal contract must be returned to their homes by December 31, an agricultural department official said Wednesday.

The official told a reporter that the department has no exact information on the extent of private recruitment of Mexican farm labor, but said there are indications that "some of this is being done."

The future of private recruitment of Mexican labor for use in this country on farms is not clear. Questioned concerning reports that Mexican government policies will block such action, department of justice sources said only that "conferees" on the matter are being held by immigration officials and representatives of Mexico.

Of the 40,000 foreign farm workers now in the United States, 24,000 are Mexican, 9,000 West Indians and the remainder Canadians. At this time last year about 65,000 foreign laborers were in the United States under the Federal program.

Navy Abandons Three Centers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) said today the Navy is abandoning three of its war-time naval training centers. Five will remain for possible future use. Dworshak did not name the Texas and Oklahoma stations, nor those being retained. Dworshak said the chief of the Navy personnel branch told him the three stations are being given up primarily because they are too far removed from population centers. At Farragut, he said, the Navy is retaining 48 acres for its experimental field station. The remainder has been turned over to the War Assets Administration for disposal but WAA told Dworshak that the former hospital area which is under a five-year lease to the Farragut college and technical institute, will be preserved for possible future use by the government. IN BERLIN

Veterinary Dentist Grinds Molars Of U. S. Army's Steeds

Newsfeatures BERLIN—The army's horses in Berlin are having their teeth looked after by Germany's leading horse dentist. Dr. Erwin Becker, inventor of mobile "dental chair" for horses and modern equipment for filling and smoothing down horses' teeth, headed a special horse hospital in the Wehrmacht during the war. He has invented an apparatus which permits him to get at horse's teeth and repair them with as much ease as his colleagues enjoy attacking human molars. He is working at present as veterinary for the horse platoon of the 16th Constabulary Squadron in Berlin. Horses are peculiarly free of tooth decay, only about two per cent of them suffering from caries, the veterinary says. On the other hand, about 97 per cent have tooth deformities, which hinder their chewing, cause mouth sores and make life uncomfortable for them. "If horses could cry, no farmer would ever get a good night's sleep," Dr. Becker says. "Because of the way they chew, horses wear off their teeth unevenly and develop long, sharp corners on the outside of their molars which lacerate the skin. Dr. Becker said the first instrument for holding the mouth of a horse open was invented by an Arab, Abu Bekr. His own metal halter goes on the horse's head as smoothly as the leather article. Then, with a screw arrangement, the horse's jaws widened to the point necessary for Dr. Becker to operate within the mouth with his drilling instruments.

The carbundum wheel which does the grinding is about the diameter of a half dollar. A small stream of water plays over the horse's teeth as Becker grinds down the sharp edges. With an arrangement of pulleys and cranks, the veterinary's assistants can raise the horse's head gently to any position desired. The nerves in horse teeth are very deep and the enamel very thick so that the horse feels very little, Dr. Becker says. After having its teeth ground down, a horse feels much better without eating so much, the veterinary says. He figures that he could save 4,200 calories a day in food per horse by his treatment—more than twice as many calories as the average German receives daily in his official rations.

Calculating on the pre-war horse population of Germany—about 3,000,000—Becker figured he could save a million tons of oats and a million tons of hay yearly if all the horses could receive one of his treatments.

Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a small amount of gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morose, touchy, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, and sleeplessness. To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent stimulating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up normal, weak, watery blood to nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-eating and other ailments. In contact with gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help digest food for body strength and health. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Buy bottles of SSS Tonic today. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By Leatrice Ross

A trek downtown the past day or two is reminiscent of a period last spring when junior college students went about in western apparel. We believed then we could not bear such appearances a second time, but since "Round-Up" week began Wednesday at the high school, we have found ourselves walking along behind levitating shirts with no afterthoughts. Old face back home for good: Gil Barnett, who Saturday came home with his freedom from the paratroops. Gil was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C. . . . Bob Williams, former Big Spring, spent the weekend here from Tahoka where he now lives. . . . R. H. Weaver was in Dallas this weekend for the TU-North Carolina game.

LOST 36 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcetrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrate. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two table-spoonful a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Barcetrate—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Here is what Mrs. D. W. Baer, 1823 20th St., Galveston, Texas, says about Barcetrate, "It is your privilege to know the fine results I obtained from your wonderful product—Barcetrate. I weighed 208 pounds when I commenced to take it. I now weigh 172, a loss of 36 pounds, and best of all I feel fine; have good healthy flesh—no flabby skin after reducing." You can get Barcetrate from any drugist in Texas.

Local Reaction To Food Plan Is Hard To Figure

It was virtually impossible to determine this morning whether the first "poultry-less" Thursday would be accorded notable support in Big Spring, although there were some who predicted that housewives would go along with the suggestion.

R. E. Smith Is Head Of Good Neighbor Board

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (AP)—R. E. Smith of Houston, chairman of the Good Neighbor commission through recent months of stormy criticism, today was again chairman of the re-organized group.

He was unanimously re-elected yesterday at the first meeting of commission members appointed last month by Gov. Beasler H. Jester. Jester had re-appointed only three former members to the new nine-member commission when terms of all old commissioners expired in September.

Smith said no action has been taken on appointing an executive secretary to replace Mrs. Pauline R. Kibbe, who resigned in August with a critical attack on administration and commission policy. He said further applications for the post are being encouraged.

Appointment of six new consultants to the commission were announced: They are Chris Fox, chamber of commerce manager, El Paso; Dr. Charles E. Hackett, University of Texas director of the institute of Latin-American studies; Dr. Paul Quillan, Methodist minister, Houston; Arthur C. Gonzalez, Del Rio; Mrs. Alice Rentfro, Brownsville; and County Judge Manuel J. Raymond, Laredo.

In 1791, cotton grown in the United States totaled only 138,325 pounds, but two years after the introduction of Eli Whitney's cotton gin in 1793, production was 6,276,081 pounds; in 1800 it was 17,789,800 pounds and in 1820, 127,860,152 pounds.

IN WASHINGTON

Regan Says He Will Protect West Texas Water Resources

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Protection of water resources of west Texas irrigation farmers is high on the list of things to which Rep. Ken Regan of Midland says he intends to devote his attention in Congress.

Paying his first visit to the capital since his election to succeed Ewing Thomason of El Paso, who left Congress to become a Federal judge, Regan outlined to a reporter his interest in water utilization along the Pecos river and Rio Grande.

He pointed out that after more than a decade of planning for the Pecos, the Red Bluff dam near the New Mexico line was built in the middle 1930s. Then a resident of Pecos and a member of the Texas legislature, he had spent three months in Washington in getting Federal funds for the structure.

"Everything then went along fine for years," he said. "The trouble now is the proposal of New Mexico interests to build a new dam and to rehabilitate the dam at Fort Sumner. I am against the building of any more dams on the Pecos until there has been a definite and equitable division of water between Texas and New Mexico."

Conferences were held recently at El Paso between Texas and New Mexico officials in an effort to reach an agreement on the matter, he said, but no final decision has been reached.

"You can be sure I'll fight against any upstream program that will deprive the people of west Texas of water rights which they have enjoyed for years and to which they are entitled," he added.

A somewhat similar situation exists in regard to the Rio Grande, he continued, asserting that a proposed long range program calls for construction of three dams on its upper reaches in New Mexico at a total estimated cost of $100,000,000.

"This watershed feeds the reservoir behind Elephant Butte dam, in New Mexico on the Rio Grande above El Paso," he observed. "All the water that reaches Elephant Butte already is fully utilized, by farmers in that part of New Mexico as well as farther down the river in Texas. I am against building any dams that will endanger the water rights of farmers who already have lands under irrigated cultivation."

The proponents of the three New Mexico dams at first suggested that they contain hydroelectric generating machinery and that this power be marketed in Amarillo, 300 miles away.

Describing this proposal as "Foolish because Amarillo has abundant cheap power in natural gas fields" in the Texas Panhandle, Reagan continued:

"They then changed their plans and proposed only that the dams be built so that hydroelectric equipment could be installed later if and when it was justified.

"But with or without the power feature, I am against spending $100,000,000, or $5,000,000 for any dams on the Rio Grande to impound water for new irrigated acreage at the expense of farmers who already have lands under cultivation."

Lavon Reservoir Construction Set

WYLLIE, Oct. 9. (AP)—Col. Bernard L. Robinson of Galveston, district army engineer, said that contracts would be awarded Nov. 7 for construction of the initial earthen embankment of the $12,000,000 Lavon reservoir on the east fork of the Trinity river.

Robinson, who will direct the construction of the dam, said work would probably start by mid-December.

The embankment, he said, will extend nearly two miles across the valley of the East Fork and Pilot Grove Creek, immediately above the confluence of the two streams. The site of the dam is on the 2,600-acre cotton and stock farm of R. E. Alexander of Dallas. It is situated three miles northeast of here.

Robinson, Congressman Sam Rayburn and Col. Henry Hutchings, Jr., Army division engineer of Dallas, were guests of honor of the Lavon Tri-county Reservoir association at a barbecue on the site.

John Walter, founder of the Times of London, earlier was a member of Lloyd's, over-speculated and failed.

EXPERTS SAY

Cities Of Future Will Sprawl As They Shrink In Population

NEW YORK—U. S. cities had better make up their minds they will continue to lose population and may eventually have about half as many residents as they have today, says the Tax Institute in its quarterly publication Tax Policy.

The institute, a national organization for the study of tax problems, pictures the city of the future not only as having less people, but as being somewhat larger in area. Transport facilities are likely to take up far more space than at present and the institute believes there should be spacious public buildings; plazas; shopping, art, education, and religious centers; parks and parkways.

Land in cities of the future is likely to be a drug on the market unless appropriated for such purposes and in any case there is likely to be considerable reduction in land values, the institute suggests. Detached dwellings with grass plots may well return to currently congested areas.

Suggesting that traffic congestion is one of the major problems, the institute denounces current reasoning which insists that "If we improve traffic conditions, it will encourage more people to start commuting and that will intensify urban blight and also result in further traffic congestion."

So, the institute says, we have people advocating or at least implying that we mustn't make it easier for city dwellers to have cars and use them, that we should discourage suburban development, and that we should try to bait the outgoing population back into the city.

A period of confusion is likely to prevail while the present cities are converted to their future status, but the institute predicts a greater stability for urban land values once the process is complete.

Surveying present trends, it deduces a picture of the typical future city. As a political and physical entity it would be much less clearly defined than the present city. It would merge gradually into the countryside.

Although resident populations might be only half as numerous as at present, there would be three other classes of population which would be increasingly important. There would be the semi-residents who would often leave the city for week-ends and at other times. There would be a sharp increase in the number of commuters and there would be a heavy increase in "contact populations" who would work and live outside the city but who would make frequent trips to the metropolitan area.

The city of the future will be a "fluid city." "It will be the hub of a great regional community, or community of communities."

Suggestions for a new type of metropolitan government embracing the central city, satellite cities,

Ten Injured In Auto Crash

HILLSBORO, Oct. 9. (AP)—A three-way traffic accident 12 miles from here last night left ten persons injured, none critically.

Six of the injured were Hillsboro school boys returning to their homes after a day at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.

They were Joseph Donsett, 18; Robert Hunt, 19; Charles Arnold, 16; Kenneth Jacobs, 16; Billy Vaughn, 16, and Billy Siddons, 17. Sheriff Ralph Allen of Hillsboro said an oil transport truck was in collision with two cars, the first crash causing the second.

The driver of the truck was listed as R. E. Stosson of Dallas.

Three Negroes, occupants of one of the cars, were injured. They were Albert Carter, 18, and G. C. Gengard, 18, both of Millford, and Mahalia Wallace, 15, of Italy, Tex.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Tell You're Getting Old

Doc Walters gave me this formula: It's a sure-fire sign you're getting old when you resent other people having a good time.

And the Doc means it hasn't much to do with age. There are old folks in our town who get a big kick out of seeing other people enjoy themselves—seems to keep them young in spirit, with a twinkle in their eyes!

And there are some others who resent the young folks going fishing; who feel that community games and dances are just a waste of time; or who criticize temperate people for enjoying a mellow glass of beer with friends.

They're often well-intentioned folks, too. But from where I sit, the minute we criticize our neighbors for enjoying wholesome pleasures—like a game of horseshoes, a glass of beer, or an afternoon's fishing—it's a sure sign we're growing old (in spirit anyway) no matter what our age is.

Flight School Controversy Is Near Solution

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (U-A) News between the state approval agency and operators of flight training schools for G. I.'s was in the process of settlement today. Operators who had been demanding that control of regulations determining their qualifications for federal tuition funds be taken away from the approval agency, consented to join with Director Chas.

Kuhel Succeeds Os Bluege As Manager Of Senators

New Straw Boss Gets Year Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Joe Kuhel, who used to be a fancy fielding first baseman for the Washington Senators, was named manager of the club today.

Kuhel, 41, succeeds Ossie Bluege, who made head of the Senators' farm system.

President Clark Griffith did not disclose any terms of the contract with Kuhel except that it is for one year.

Kuhel has had four months experience as a manager. Last May 28 he took over the fifth place Hot Springs, Ark., team in the six-team class C Cotton States League.

The Senators' new pilot was noted as one of the fanciest fielding first basemen in the game while with the Chicago White Sox and Senators.

He enjoyed one of his biggest seasons in 1945 when he hit .285 for the Senators.

After finishing in fourth place in 1946, the Senators floundered in seventh place the past season.

Gladewater Lands Lone Star Club

TYLER, Oct. 9. (AP)—Gladewater will replace Jacksonville in the Lone Star league next year, it was indicated here today, after Jacksonville had forfeited its opportunity to retain its franchise.

Pat Wilson, owner of the Jacksonville club, said he would move to Gladewater next week to begin preparations for the 1948 season.

He said Gladewater had promised to build a new ball park and had taken a 10-day option on the franchise.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

LeRoy McGuirk, one wrestling champion (junior heavy-weight) who is recognized by all commissions and parties, dropped into our village Wednesday for a brief visit and, liking what he saw, expressed a desire to return here when his time-table would permit.

The clean-cut Oklahoman—he headquarters in Tulsa—had heard about Big Spring long before he called. It seems he had read Shine Phillips' casual biography of a prairie town and had long wanted to meet the druggist-author and see the community which had inspired Phillips' book.

LeRoy is one of those persons who is every inch the champion. He has probably risked his crown more than any king in any sport in the world but has managed to hold onto it for nearly a decade. Normally, he goes into the ring about twice a month and, more times than not, he puts the prize on the line. His list of title defenses would make Joe Louis' boxing record pale in comparison.

McGuirk is one athlete who could retire to the house slippers and pipe and never have to worry about the future. But he exacts a healthy annual income from the game and figures he's in his prime and is good for several years at the top. He's 34, not old for a grappler, especially one who keeps in trim.

The champion learned the wrestling game at Oklahoma A&M college under Ed Gallagher, considered by many to be the greatest wrestling coach of them all, and turned pro immediately after the Olympics in 1932. He was chosen as an alternate on the US Olympic squad that year but was never called.

McGuirk played freshman football under Lynn Waldorf, the astute mentor who is now becoming a wonder man for the University of California. He quit to devote his full time to the ring sport.

The Tulsa would probably be booked here if the size of the local grapple arena could be enlarged. The AC at the present time will seat but about 600 fans and the promoter, Patrick O'Dowdy, could not meet the expenses with that kind of a house.

At any rate, McGuirk has expressed a willingness to show his wares here any time the proper arrangements could be made.

Billy Womack, the Big Spring boy, is playing football with Abilene Christian college and not at Sul Ross, as this column chronicled recently.

Womack, a star passer, performed for the Alpine Lobos in 1946 but decided to pitch camp with Tonto Coleman and Company this fall. He's helping Tonto to a grand season.

Dr. M. H. Bennett, who quit the game of polo some time ago because of misery in the back, is thinking about returning to the ring. Doc has his designs set on re-organizing the Big Spring polo team.

One of the equine enthusiasts who may try out for the team is Pinky Roden.

Five-sixths of the world supply of jute, from which burlap and sacking cloth are woven, comes from Bengal.

Ping Pong Meet Is Completed

Nancy Blivings and Martha Johnson teamed to win the doubles honors in the Girl Scout ping pong tournament underway at the YMCA.

They capped the title by turning back Anne Crocker and Barbara Dehlinger in the finals. Singles competition begins Monday, Arab Phillips, one of the directors of the program, announced.

Twenty-four teams consisting of 193 girls have been organized for a volleyball tournament which now is underway. Three groups have been established, largely on the basis of playing ability.

In group No. 1, consisting of eight teams in the eighth grade, Peggy King's team leads by reason of a victory over one headed by Sandra Swartz.

In group No. 2, composed of four teams from the high school girls volleyball activity, Virginia Costello's team has emerged on top, defeating one captained by Patty Miller. In the third group, which includes 12 teams of girls not otherwise placed, Jerry Bankston's team has seized the lead.

Durocher May Land Old Job

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Leo Durocher flew back to the West Coast today leaving behind the impression that he was in the good graces of his boss, Branch Rickey, and that his chances of regaining his old job as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers were better than fair.

Boarding a plane at LaGuardia Airport for Los Angeles last night, Durocher, whose season-long suspension ended with the last outpour of the World Series, was his old wise-cracking, loquacious self. Jocular and smiling as he and Laraine Day, his film actress wife, waited for the take-off, Durocher revealed that he had a three and a half hour conference with the Dodger president and was "very happy with the result."

"Obviously, I can't tell you what went on, and any statement will have to come from Mr. Rickey," Durocher told reporters who came to see him off. He admitted that the job situation was discussed.

The strongest clue that Leo may already have been re-hired or will be soon came from Miss Day who jokingly told one of the reporters that she was considering purchasing a book on "how to speak Spanish in 10 easy lessons." The Dodgers are considering an offer to train in the Dominican Republic.

"I'm making no bones about it," he added, "I want very much to manage the Dodgers next year. In fact, I repeat an earlier statement, I want to be with the Dodgers until the day I die. But that is up to Mr. Rickey. The entire matter now is in his hands."

Rickey could not be reached for comment.

Durocher was suspended by Commissioner A. B. Chandler on the eve of the 1947 major league season for "conduct unbecoming a major league manager," following charges brought by Larry MacPhail, retired president of the New York Yankees.

Attendance Up In Grid Loops

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—The two-year-old All-America football conference appears to be a husky, vigorous youngster and the venerable National league also is robust in its 28th season if attendance figures to date are any criterion.

An unofficial survey shows that the All-America circuit, nearing the halfway point in its 1947 schedule, may welcome its 1,000,000th customer Sunday. The National league, with play only two weeks old, appears heading towards an all-time attendance record.

Before the 1947 season opened both of the league's commissioners, Bert Bell of the National football league and J. H. Ingram of the All-America, announced 2,000,000 spectators as the goal.

In 22 games, the All-America is swinging along at 40,776 average with 87,064 in attendance.

In 11 games this season the National league has attracted 346,241 clients, an average of 31,476.

Brown Leading Ackerly Scorer

ACKERLY, Oct. 9. —Billy Brown leads the Ackerly football Eagles in scoring with a total of 28 points, followed by Dwain Williams, 25 and Gerald Rogers 19.

In all, the Flock has tallied 90 points and limited the opposition to 13 while chalking up three victories.

Coach K. Baggett's sextet plays Sterling City at Sterling in a non-conference contest Friday night.

France has 1,300,000 motor vehicles registered—less than 4 percent of the total U. S. registration. England has 2,500,000 motor vehicles.

TORNADOES READY

Odds To Shorten On Friday Game If Steer Backs Out

If Backs Harold Berry and Gordon Madison are not ready to function for the Big Spring football Steers against Lamesa Friday night—and all indications point to their sitting this one out—their positions, and responsibilities, will be checked to Charles Seydler and Dickie Cloud, respectively.

Both will be handicapped by lack of experience, although Cloud saw his share of action in the Cisco game and performed admirably.

Seydler is aggressive and could fill Berry's shoes in time but that precious commodity is fast running out. Madison's work on defense would undoubtedly be missed.

Outside of Berry and Madison, the local troops are in fair physical trim. Donald Hale, who played a whale of a game against the Odessa Broncs, came up with a few bruises as result of the outing but will probably be in shape to go the entire 48 minutes against Lamesa.

Coach Pat Murphy's worries still center around a woeful lack of reserves. Durable linemen like Ike Robb, Eddie Houser, Delmar Turner and Jim Bill Little must be prepared to play all the way. Of the reserves, only Arliss Davis, Jerry Houser, Sam Thurman and Harold Van Pelt have seen much action.

Lamesa brings a team to town thirsting for victory. The Tornadoes won here two years ago, 6-0, only to have the Steers reverse the proceedings, and the score, last fall in Lamesa. In three starts to date, the Tornadoes have been held to a tie by Class A Kermit and lost by overwhelming scores to Plainview and Brownfield.

They were idle last week for a special reason. Coach Jim Neill wanted that extra week to prime them for Big Spring and the opening game of their 3AA conference campaign.

Armed Can Become Top Money Winner

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Calumet Farm's Armed and Oscar E. Breault's With Pleasure resume an old feud today when they match strides in the $25,000 Synonym mile at Belmont Park.

Only two horses were slated to contest the issue with the golden gelding, Nelson Seabra's South American, Enseno, a surprise entry, completing the trio. With three starters, the Synonym victor would get $18,600, enough to boost Armed's total to $761,500 and displace Styms as the world's money-winning champion.

Yearlings Clash With Lakeview

Jim McWhorter and his Big Spring football Yearlings go shopping for their first victory of the 1947 season this afternoon, meeting the Lakeview Junior high team at Steer stadium. Game time was to be 3 p. m.

The Yearlings have dropped games to Odessa and San Angelo. However, they figure to do much better against the Papooses. Amos Jones, Weydell Stasey and Harold Rusk, holdovers from the 1946 squad, led the Yearlings into action along with Bobby Wheeler, Howard Washburn and Melvin Byers.

Sterling Faces Ackerly Friday In Exhibition

STERLING CITY, Oct. 9. —Two of the strongest six-man football teams in West Texas clash here Friday night when George Tiller's Sterling City Eagles square away with Ken Baggett's Ackerly Eagles of Dawson county.

The Sterling clan share the lead in District Seven standings this year and hold a victory over the Panhandle powerhouse, Whiteface. Ackerly is unbeaten and untied, having trimmed Sparenburg, 19-0; Loop, 47-0; and Klondike, 27-8.

Only Sterling loss was at the hands of Coahoma's smartly coached Bulldogs. On that occasion, Jackie Tweedie, the Eagles' all-conference back, was injured and saw only part-time service.

Against Rankin's Red Devils last week, Tweedie teamed up with Harold Baker to lead the Eagles to a 16-0 victory. Tweedie crossed the goal line on a 30-yard dash while Baker dashed across from the eight.

Sterling scored another touchdown which was called back because of a holding penalty. Rankin never moved inside the Sterling 20-yard line.

A large crowd is expected to attend the Friday night contest, which gets underway at 8 o'clock. Sterling will play its next conference game with Courtney on the latter's home field, meeting the Martin county contingent at 3 p. m. Friday, Oct. 17.

JOHN COOLIDGE

Former President's Son Makes Good On His Own -- In Business

HARTFORD, Conn. Oct. 9. (AP)—John Coolidge at 41 is just where he's wanted to be almost from the day he left the glamor of the White House—strictly on his own. It could have been otherwise for the son of the late President Calvin Coolidge. But he wanted to avoid being the "boss' son," he said as he told with characteristic Coolidge shyness why he was living the quiet life of a small business executive.

There was an echo of his father's famous "I-do-not-choose-to-run" statement in his own explanation of what he is rather than what he might have been.

John's father-in-law, former Gov. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, was head of the big Trumbull Electric Manufacturing Company in Plainville back in 1928 when young Coolidge, then fresh out of Amherst College, was casting about for a career.

"I knew I could get a job in Trumbull Electric," he recalled. "But I chose railroading because I wanted to see if I could go on my own."

That's the way he felt then, just before the Coolidges moved out of the White House. That's the way John Coolidge feels today.

"I want to prove to myself that I can get along without being pushed—without being the boss' son," he said.

Coolidge, "just plain folks" to his neighbors in suburban Farmington, worked for the New Haven railroad for 12 years before he quit his job as traveling agent to become his own boss. Now he heads a Hartford business forms manufacturing company (The Connecticut Manifold Forms Company) which employs 22 person.

Both at his office and at his home, where his companions are his wife, the former Florence Trumbull, and their two children, Cynthia, 13, and Lydia, 8, he lives the quiet life of the typical business man.

He mows his own lawn and does other odd jobs about the red brick colonial house he moved into last April after living in a converted stable because of the housing shortage.

The family's favorite vacation spot is the Coolidge farm in Plymouth, Vt., now owned by his mother. There, he says, the youngsters like to ride the hay wagon and help drive the cows from pasture. He often stays at his desk until 6 p. m., the last to leave the plant. When interviewed at his office, he was in his shirt sleeves finishing a nine-hour day.

Waste From Fire Cited For Lions

Capital losses from fires have more than doubled in the past five years and this year the nation may hit a loss of $700 million, Frank B. Campbell told the Lions Club in a fire prevention week talk Wednesday noon at the Settles.

In this day of shortages, a home destroyed by fire is equivalent to loss of two homes, he said. Moreover, it means labor and materials for replacement rather than increasing capital gain.

Human carelessness is the arch-enemy of a good fire record he said, recounting that 90 per cent of home fires result from bad habits or bad construction. By far the biggest percentage of fires result from carelessness with matches and smoking, while children playing with matches and storing of inflammable cleaning fluids run neck and neck for second place. Faulty wiring and improper use of electrical devices also rank high.

He lauded the people of Big Spring for a record which showed only $3,384 loss during the first eight months of the year. The people and the fire department, working together, he said, constitute an unbeatable team.

Edith Gay, accompanied by Helen Duley, favored with two selections and Campbell led the club in an impromptu song. Harold P. Steck presided.

Houston Housewives Organize Against High Living Costs

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—A group of Houston housewives, fed up with the high cost of living, laid plans today to do something about the situation.

The women forced the "committee against the high cost of living" and announced plans to appear before the city council for permission to place booths on downtown streets so they can obtain thousands of signatures urging President Truman to roll prices back to the June, 1946, level and re-instate the O.P.A.

The group hopes the movement will become nationwide, with the pressure so great on the President he will be forced to call a special session of Congress.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A move has been started to establish diagnostic cancer clinics throughout the state in memory of the late Mayor F. H. La Guardia, who died of cancer of the pancreas. A bill will be introduced in the next session of the legislature calling for an education-

Seafood On The Grill For Outdoor Picnics

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
ASSOC. PRESS FOOD EDITOR

THERE'S no reason why your outdoor picnics should cease this fall just because the price of meat is beyond your budget for a party. Almost anything tastes better cooked over coals—and fish is no exception. If you live where fresh fish is not available, try using some of the quick-frozen fillets.

An outdoor fireplace party is one of the nicest ways to entertain anybody, but teen-agers love this informal entertaining best of all. Be sure to have the proper equipment handy, in particular remembering that outdoor eating is likely to be messy. Follow the line of famous fish restaurants and provide big bibs to catch all spills (and to wipe hands on, too.) The best way I've found to achieve a really useful bib for this purpose is to use Irish linen dish towels of generous size. Cut a circle at one end to fit the neck and bind with bias binding which extends beyond the neck to make a flat. Now for the food! A lobster is, of course, the most luxurious sea food you can serve. And it's wonderful cooked this way.

Charcoal Broiled Lobster
Have the butcher prepare your lobster for broiling at the very last minute, if you possibly can. If not, be brave and slit them open yourself, being sure to remove the stomach sac in the head and the black intestinal vein from stomach to tail. Preserve the green liver and coral roe. They're the best part of a lobster, in this writer's opinion.

Flatten the lobster, shell side down, on your grill. Brush the split side generously with butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt. Turn, broiling with shell side up for 10 to 12 minutes. Broil with shell side down approximately 10 minutes.

Lobsters need something to zip up their rather bland flavor. Of course they're served with melted butter or margarine. This may be sharpened by the addition of lemon or lime juice. Or perhaps you'd like to try adding finely chopped dill pickle or dill pickle relish. Dill has an affinity for shell fish and the pickle adds the desired sharpness to the sauce.

Charcoal Broiled Codfish Fillets
6 fillets of cod or other fish
1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine
Salt and pepper

Brush fillets with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in a closely wired hand grill, or on the grids of a closely-spaced broiler. Cook over glowing coals, turning slowly, approximately 5 minutes to each side. Serve with tartar sauce.

1 cup mayonnaise
4 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles
1 tablespoon chopped capers
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon finely chopped onions or chives
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
Chill mayonnaise thoroughly. Combine all ingredients just before serving.

Broiled Fish Steaks
Have steaks of cod, halibut, salmon, or what you will, cut at least an inch thick. Broil in the same way you do fish fillets, allowing approximately 8 minutes for each side. And here's a good spicy sauce to go with them:

Spicy Sauce
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons catsup
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon liquor from sweet pickles
1 clove garlic, cut in half
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/4 cup chopped sweet pickles
Combine all ingredients, except pickles, in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water. Stir constantly 2 minutes until fat is melted and mixture thickens. Take from fire. Remove garlic. Add pickles.

Beef With Herbs

1 1-2 pounds beef (round, chuck or flank)
2 tablespoons fat
1-2 teaspoon chopped garlic
1-2 pound mushrooms, sliced.
1 teaspoon tomato paste.
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet.
2 teaspoons flour
1 1-2 cups stock.
Salt.
Freshly ground black pepper.
1 teaspoon thyme.
1-2 teaspoon oregano.
1 bay leaf.
Cut beef into cubes and brown in hot fat. Remove meat from pan and add 2 tablespoons more of fat. Add garlic and mushrooms and cook for 3 minutes. Add tomato paste, kitchen bouquet and flour. Stir in stock. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper. Add thyme, oregano and bay leaf.
Return meat to pan and cover. Simmer slowly for one hour or until tender.

Fried Soft Shell Crabs

4 large or eight small soft crabs.
1 egg
2 tablespoons cold water.
Crumbs
Seasonings
Cooking fat
Tartar Sauce
Remove apron (pointed section under body) from soft shell crabs, then lift up soft points of the shell and discard portions adhering thereto. With a sharp knife cut off entire front portion of the body (about one half inch back). This removes entire viscera. All that is left, shell included, is good to eat. Wash. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Beat egg with cold water. Dip crabs in crumbs, then into beaten egg and again into crumbs. Fry in deep fat at 360 degrees. Crabs will rise to the top and should be turned while frying. When brown on both sides, lift out, drain and serve on a hot platter with Tartar Sauce.

Distribution Plans Made For Returned Dead From Overseas

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9. (U)—Plans for receiving and distributing to next of kin the first bodies of World War II dead from Pacific and European areas were being made today for this area by the Army graves registration service. Col. T. H. Ramsey, commanding officer of the Mira Loma quarter-master depot—distribution center for this area—said in some cases it will be as long as three weeks before delivery of bodies can be made to relatives after the ships arrive at San Francisco and New York. He said such delays will be governed by distances and the number of rail transfer points and that the more lengthy delays may be expected in Arizona and New Mexico.

Mexican Policies Block Farm Labor

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9. (U)—New policies of the Mexican government are blocking specific requests for importation of Mexican laborers to help in harvesting United States crops, says the U. S. immigration service here.

A spokesman for W. A. Carmichael, district director for the immigration service, said Mexico has forbidden further recruitment of labor for contract work in this country and there are no indications that the order will be changed.

The immigration spokesman said several requests for Mexican workers are on file.

Arroyo Colorado Gets Improvements

HARLINGEN, Oct. 9. (U)—Construction of the long-planned project of making Arroyo Colorado a navigable stream as far inland as Harlingen was under way today. Government dredges were biting into shallow Laguna Madre east of here.

The project will link the Arroyo with the intracoastal canal in Laguna Madre. The canal now is being completed between Corpus Christi and Port Isabel.

Taxes May Cut Into Profit From Yankees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (U)—Federal taxes may take as much as $450,000 of the $2,000,000 for which Larry MacPhail sold his one-third share of the New York Yankee baseball club.

Tax experts said Wednesday that estimate appears justified on the basis of unofficial reports that MacPhail bought his interest in the club for $200,000 on Jan. 25, 1945 and sold it for ten times as much last week.

Farmers Are Recognizing Need For Rebuilding Land Fertility

The need for soil management measures which will build up the fertility of the land and add organic matter to the soil is being recognized more and more by farmers cooperating with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, Frank Loveless, district supervisor, reported last week.

With more than 5,000 acres of crop residues from small grain stubble added to the soil this summer, district cooperators are taking steps to restore the organic matter needed by the soil to prevent crusting and baking, stop blowing and increase the water intake and water holding capacity of the soil. Improved methods of plowing the small grain stubble using chisel type plows and shallow plowing with one-way plows left the straw litter on or near the surface of the soil for maximum benefits to the land, Loveless said.

In addition to the crop residues, more than 7,000 acres of winter cover crops including Abruzzi rye and hairy vetch, Austrian and Dixie Wonder peas, Hubam and Madrid sweet clover and alfalfa are planned when suitable moisture for planting is available. These crops will improve the fertility of the soil by adding nitrogen and organic matter and provide a growing cover for protection of the land during the spring blowing season.

"The soil is like a bank account," Dick Thompson, cooperator with the district 4 miles north of Big Spring, states. "You keep on checking on it year after year without putting anything back and you will soon be in the red."

Tom Spencer, who lives just south of the Gay Hill school, says he thought his land would not wear out until he put in an area of new ground. Feed on the new land grew off better, maturing two or three weeks earlier and produced more grain and bundles than on land which had been in cultivation for a number of years, Spencer reports.

Reports on soils tests made by the SCS laboratory in Fort Worth show a need of from four to eight times as much organic matter in the soil as is present. For most efficient use of moisture and sustained high yields.

Good soil management is included in the coordinated soil and water conservation program being planned and applied by cooperators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

The supervisors of the North Concho River Soil Conservation District have planned a ranch field tour on the W. J. "Bill" Currie ranch at Garden City for Thursday, October 9, at 2:00 p. m. Included in the tour will be a study of range improvement resulting from range conservation measures. Those attending the tour will also see some of the improved irrigated pastures at Garden City. Ranchers in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District are invited to make the tour of the Currie ranch and irrigated pastures.

C. W. Creighton and Frank Loveless planted native grass last week on land retired from cultivation. Creighton seeded Little bluestem, yellow bluestem, blue grama, sand lovegrass, Lehmann's lovegrass and Buffalo grass on about 10 acres on his ranch four miles west of Big Spring. Loveless also planted these grasses on 8 acres of his farm in the Coahoma Soil Conservation group. The grass seedings were made with the help of the SCS to get a good cover of grass on land best suited for pasture.

Thad Hale, also of the Coahoma conservation group, planted 400 pounds of alfalfa seed on his farm 5 miles northeast of Coahoma. The alfalfa crop will be used for hay and grazing to furnish a high protein feed for his livestock. Hale said. The crop will also build up the land by adding nitrogen and organic matter to the soil.

Monroe Johnson plans to plant alfalfa in a waterway on his farm in the Centerpoint Conservation group. In addition to grazing furnished by the crop of alfalfa Johnson says the cover on the land will protect the soil from washing.

Terrace construction is under way this week on farm land of E. T. O'Daniel ten miles northeast of Coahoma. O'Daniel will build about three miles of terraces to district specifications of 24 feet base width and 15 inches settled height to hold all the rain that falls on his fields and prevent washing. S. L. Lockhart, district cooperator in the Vealmoor conservation group completed 2 1/2 miles of terraces last week on his farm 4 miles east of Vealmoor. Lockhart also began construction of a 1,000 yard stock tank to furnish more water for his livestock.

Consumer Ultimately Pays Costs

The Interstate Commerce Commission has granted the nation's railroads permission to levy an emergency 10-per cent increase in freight rates, pending a decision on the railroads' application for a permanent 27 per cent increase.

This emergency hike is calculated to return the carriers around $700 million per year. Whether they get any or all of the requested additional 17 per cent remains to be seen, but that they will get all of it seems to be highly doubtful. That would approach two billion dollars increase over current operating revenues. Costs have been rising sharply for the carriers, as for most everyone else, but it is doubtful that they could justify the full 27 per cent before the ICC when the water is squeezed out.

However, the granting of the emergency increase and the possibility that it would be made permanent in the same or greater degree, should remind the consumer that the bill generally gets back to him. So the factors which have contributed to cost increases, including wage hikes, must be taken into account. They must be paid, and everyone who consumes does the paying, for virtually everything we require has some transportation charges figured into it.

Defense Not Always The Best

One of the difficulties of our foreign policy is that it is constantly a product of the defensive.

A case in point is the situation in Korea. Not long ago the Russians proposed a joint withdrawal of Soviet and American troops. For propaganda purposes, at least, this was a smooth Russian stroke, for Russia has been hard at work laying the foundation for quickly converting Korea into a Russian satellite once ending of occupation created a suitable vacuum.

It was Col. Gen. Shtikov who said that "only when Soviet and American forces withdraw from Korea can the Koreans have the possibility of establishing their own government without the assistance and participation of the Allied powers." What he did not make clear is whether Russia considers herself a member of the "allied" powers. During the war the term did not apply to Russia, rather to all save Russia. The term "united" was used to include Russia.

But even if he did consider Russia an allied power, his words were empty because on the heels of his announcement the communist dominated government of the north sent out directives to agents in both north and south Korea on how to effect a communist coup. So, with its plans laid, Russia could well afford to "retire," the U.S. cannot, and it is made to look bad by its refusal. This brings up the point: Perhaps one of the great difficulties without policy is that it is negative and hence defensive. When on the defensive, bungling is more costly than on the offensive. Were our policy more positive in regards to developing democratic leadership within occupied or even semi-friendly nations, we might find ourselves in the position to make withdrawal proposals.

Storm Over Anti-Red Ruling

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The storm over the I-swear-I'm-not-a-communist part of the new labor law has quieted down. But it may not be ended.

The new law, the Taft-Hartley Act, is carried out by the five-man National Labor Relations Board and its general counsel, Robert Denham.

Any union which wants the law's protection and help from the board must do certain things laid down by the law. One of them is this:

An oath that they're not communists must be taken by the "officers of any national or international labor organization of which it is an affiliate or constituent union." (The quoted matter is from the law.)

What does that mean? Exactly what union officers have to take the non-communist oath? Denham said it meant this:

1. The officers of any local union seeking the law's protection and the officers of the national union of which the local is a part.

2. And the officers of the AFL and CIO, the big organizations made up of more than 140 unions, must also take the oath.

That ruling of Denham's created a storm among labor leaders. Yesterday the labor board overruled Denham by announcing: "The AFL and CIO officers don't have to take the oath. It must be taken only by the officers of local and national unions."

Denham bowed to the board and said he'd accept as final its decision overruling him.

Because of Denham's ruling, which remained the rule until yesterday when the board stepped in, this had happened: Not one of the 140 unions with 19,000,000 in the AFL and CIO was under the board's protection because—

None of the AFL or CIO officers had taken the oath so no local or national AFL or CIO union could get help from the board.

So it would seem, at first glance, that the board's ruling and Denham's willingness to go along with the board make the law's path smoother.

There is still a problem for the officers of the AFL and it's due to this:

There are about 1,400 "federal locals," unions which don't belong to any national unions but are tied in directly with AFL.

Can they get the board's protection if their officers swear they're not communists? Or, since they're tied in directly with the AFL, will the AFL officers have to swear anyway before those "federal locals" can get board help?

Denham and the board may have to decide that one.

There's another point. The board said it didn't think that Congress, when it passed the law, meant to force AFL and CIO officers to swear.

But Congress, when it returns in January, may think otherwise and want to change the act and say clearly that AFL and CIO leaders must swear.

Affairs of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Russia Holds Food Advantage

As communism intensifies its drive for world revolution we find Russia holding the whip hand at the outset in the European struggle, in that the Moscovites and their satellites possess the great bulk of the continent's current food resources, whereas the democracies of the western area are suffering grave privation, including actual hunger.

That's the way dame nature divided things up this year—good crops on the whole in eastern Europe, and bad ones in most parts of the west. So fortune has handed the Bolsheviks a mighty weapon with which to persuade, or to compel, distressed peoples to knuckle under.

When folk are hungry, and especially when they see their children hungry, they will do most anything to secure food. Among the particularly vulnerable countries are Italy, Austria, Germany and France.

Bolshevism's heaviest initial assault is expected to be made in Europe, and in the case of hard-hit Italy there is fear that the Bolsheviks may resort to revolution. Short of that, strikes and disorders are anticipated in an effort to achieve by force what can't be accomplished by moral suasion. Britain, although badly hit by the economic depression, is rather outside the range of Moscow's big guns.

Another field of direct action will be Asia, especially in China and Korea. The big question of the moment in that area is whether the Chinese communists will get material Russian aid in their civil war with the Chinese nationalist government. The Chinese government long has maintained that the Russians are aiding the Chinese Reds in the battle for the great and rich territory of Manchuria. Moscow would give much to have a puppet state wedged into the northern flank of China.

Meantime in America, and in other countries throughout the western hemisphere, we may look for an intensification of fifth-column and spy activities. Reds will continue to incite trouble between labor and employer, while fellow travelers will spread the word that all is well.

The U. S. state department yesterday said it is a "vital target" for spies, and announced a set of security principles calculated to make certain that no department employee constitutes a security risk. Classified as security risks are members of the Communist, Nazi and Fascist parties. Also named as a security risk is anyone who has close association with persons believed to be members of such parties.

Mickey Mouse Makes A Comeback

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Twenty years ago the most famous rodent in the world was born.

On a trainride from New York to Los Angeles it popped into the mind of a 26-year-old Chicago boy who had been a commercial artist and a drawer of movie cartoons. The rodent went forth in the world and became famous as Michel Souris in France, El Miquelito Raton in Latin America, Mikki Kuchi in Japan, Topolino in Italy and Mikki Mouse in Russia.

In the U. S. he was known as Mickey Mouse.

Mickey was cradled in Walt Disney's garage studio and in October 1, 1928, made his public debut at the Colony theater in New York. The drama was called "Steamboat Willie" and compared to modern-day cartoons it would appear like adolescent drawings.

But Mickey became a sensation.

In February, 1934, he burst into color in "Band Concert," and never returned to the old black-and-white.

But then Mickey's career suffered a decline. Critics said the Mick had lost his touch, had become a has-been. He was eclipsed by newer stars in the Disney roster—Donald Duck, Pluto, Dippy Dog and others.

Finally, Mickey accomplished the thing that most film stars find impossible—the comeback. He was starred in the "Sorcerer's Apprentice" sequence of Fantasia in 1940. The old touch was acclaimed and Mickey was back in the chips again.

He is now appearing in his first postwar film, "Fun and Fancy Free" and next week his anniversary will be celebrated in a style befitting his position. Five hundred children of Hollywood notables and others will attend a part and preview in his honor.

Only one question remains. Whatever became of Minnie Mouse?

GAS USERS WARNED
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Householders were advised by Health Commissioner Israel Weinstein to check their gas connections for possible leaks which might have been overlooked during the summer when windows were kept open. He pointed out that small leakages might cause mild symptoms of gas poisoning such as headaches, drowsiness and nausea.

Mrs. Jackson said she had collected 1,300 cardboard tags from individual tea bags in the 48 states, Canada, Alaska and Bermuda.

Little Brown Church

NASHUA, Ia. (AP)—The "Little Brown Church in the Vale," made famous by a song written before it was built, has undergone a $4,000 face-lifting.

Workmen have repaired its square brown belfry and redecorated the interior with wallpaper from an older day.

The historic small church in its pleasant rustic setting draws 30,000 to 40,000 visitors each year and has become the Midwest's favorite wedding place.

"I'm inclined to think our marriages last longer and fewer end in divorce," said the Rev. F. L. Hanscom, who has married more than 5,000 couples since coming to the church in 1940 as its 26th pastor.

"The people who come here are serious and don't enter matrimony lightly."

The small neat church once served the religious needs of old Bradford, a town of 600 two miles from here. The town died after it was passed by a railroad in 1868, but a song has kept the church alive.

Attracted by the beauty of the site upon which the church was later built, William S. Pitts, a young visitor from Wisconsin wrote his moving hymn, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" in 1857. He put his manuscript away and it was forgotten.

In 1859 the Bradford residents decided to build a church and in 1864 it was completed. Pitts, who had returned to the town as singing teacher, was asked to sing a solo at the dedication ceremony and obliged with his own song written seven years before. It was the first time it had been sung in public and caught on quickly. A Chicago musical publishing firm spread its fame.

"Soon after its publication the church at Bradford which had been pained brown (for want of money to buy better paint, some say) became known as 'The Little Brown Church in the Vale,'" Pitts wrote later.

"My hope is that it will stand for a thousand years and call the old man and his descendants to worship."

He was happy that his song and the church had become "wedded and known as one and the same" and in 1916 came here at the age of 87 from Brooklyn, N. Y., for a reunion ceremony attended also by the Rev. J. K. Nutting, 84, the first pastor.

Since the turn of the century the old church, still wearing its coat of dull brown, has gradually become more popular with romantic couples—the Midwest's equivalent of Manhattan's "Little Church Around the Corner."

Food And Theatres

NEW YORK — The increase in food prices is said to have an effect on theater attendance, and theatrical folk are having discussions on how to offset such an unemployment reaction.

At the International Theater the other night Alfred Drake, Edith Atwater, Henry Jaffe, Bela Lugosi and Onslow Stevens conducted a round-table on the problem.

After years of semi-annual decorative changes by fashionable designer Franklyn Hughes, the Monte Carlo, tasteful East Side club, will have a radical face-lifting according to another famous designer's plans. Russell Patterson being the latest to stick his artistic mitts into a complete interior juggling. The old entrance will be closed up entirely and a new one will be elaborately carved into the corner of the building at 54th St. and Madison Ave. There'll be an oval-shaped lobby, topped by a gold-leaf ceiling and walls highlighted by some of Patterson's own pastels.

A massive television screen which the management boasts is to be the largest ever installed in a public place, will be located behind the bar, with individual loudspeakers at every table and along the bar which can be snapped off or adjusted to various volumes by the patrons.

Individual telephone connections at each table will make things handy for Hollywood-style executives.

of any in the nation, the other insisting his kisser is one of the "ten most interesting faces in America."

Kate Smith delighted because governors of eleven states have thus far jumped on her bandwagon and have designated a "Grandmothers' Day."

Allyn McLerie and John Buller, graduates of the musical comedy ballets, have joined their toe talents to become a dance team and started right off at the top with an engagement at the Hotel Pierre's plush Cotillion Room.

A note from the municipal daddies to Howard Hughes' advertising geniuses noting that Jane Russell's torso was a little more so in the ads than had been agreed upon before the picture was permitted to open here, was enough to startle the film hustlers into a quick about-face or maybe an about-figure. . . The ads next day were in dignified script, almost as if Hughes was inviting the public to attend a tea party.

Rod E. Geiger, the ex-GI who hit the jackpot when he imported from Italy the prize-winning documentary, "Open City," is plowing his film-gotten gains right back into production of more movies. . . He has signed Louise Rainer to play the starring role of Annunziata in the celluloid version of Pietro Donato's "Christ in Concrete," which will be filmed against Manhattan's skyscraper backgrounds and in England for location sequences. . . Geiger, 31, already has big plans, his next film slated to be Berthold Brecht's "Galileo," with Charles Laughton.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Control Urged For Inflation

WASHINGTON.—Edwin Nourse, chairman of the council of economic advisers, is quite a cautious man. It is his job, as defined by an act of Congress, to advise the President on the economic state of the nation, in order to avoid depression. As such, he makes monthly reports, and last week presented a full dress report to the entire cabinet.

According to word leaking out of the cabinet meeting, Nourse, for the first time, was categorical and definite that something should be done about the danger of inflation—or the results might be serious indeed. He had warned of this before, but last week he laid it on the line.

Nourse did not recommend any one concrete course to stop inflation, but threw out several alternatives, among them using the laws already passed by Congress to regulate inflation.

Attorney General Tom Clark promptly spoke up to inform the cabinet that a battery of legal powers already existed for meeting the crisis. He promised to study them and report on which could be dusted off and used effectively.

President Truman suggested an investigation of the Chicago grain market which has traded 8,000,000,000 bushels of wheat, despite the fact that the total U. S. wheat crop is only 1,500,000,000. Truman urged Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to put the heat on the speculators, and it is certain that Anderson will ask Congress for additional powers to crack down on the Chicago grain market.

LITTLE EVA
Big Jim Farley, whose heart sometimes runs away with his head, has offered his services to a representative of the Argentine government to clean up Evita Peron's reputation in the U. S. A.

The Argentines have been quite upset by the bad press the First Lady of Argentina got here as a result of her recent trip to Europe. So her presidential husband sent Dr. Irwin Wassermann, Argentine industrial tycoon and close friend, to New York to see what could be done.

Wassermann discussed the matter rather freely in New York's plush night spots—El Morocco and 21—where he was to be found nightly. Finally, he was taken to Farley, who offered to take on the job of "explaining" Evita's position to American publishers, church leaders and other mouliders of public opinion.

Wassermann, incidentally, has been throwing money around New York cafes in a manner which recalls the lush days of prohibition. Head-waiters say he is the freest spender and biggest tipper they have seen in years.

LEADERS COOPERATE
Farmers proverbially are supposed to be lukewarm about sending food to Europe. But two farm leaders who visited Truman lately have been just the opposite. One was Albert Goss, master of the National Grange; the other, James Patton, president of the Farmers union. Both urged the President to take an even more vigorous stand to save food for Europe.

Patton, a big rocky mountain farmer who wears a black patch over one eye, with the jaunty air of a buccaner, gave this blunt advice:

"We shouldn't wait till the prairie fire completely consumes us. I suggest you call Congress together and meet the problem head-on. While I am going to support your voluntary citizens food committee, I'm afraid we are going to need a lot more than that. We're going to need selective rationing, price control and increased production—especially production to break the bottleneck of steel."

The President, however, demurred a such drastic action. He seemed a bit bruised and weary of his many battles with Congress, and complained to Patton that no other Chief Executive in years has had so many difficulties in Capitol Hill.

Now that Congress has decided to run with the ball, Truman indicated, he is in turn going to let them run. Having put the situation squarely before congressional leaders, the President said, it is now up to them to act.

Farm Leader Patton also urged the President to make a frank statement on foreign policy, explaining to the American public how close we may be to World War III.

"If war is imminent," Patton boomed, "We ought to stop talking about universal military training and mobilize everyone. We ought to prepare for war and decentralize our cities."

But Truman shook his head. "If we have universal military training," he said, "The Russians will quiet down."

INSIDE TE KREMLIN
The Russian people still are being rationed, despite the fact that last year the Soviet cultivated 10,000,000 more acres than before the war. . . actually, Russia, is now stockpiling wheat, an emergency. . . intelligence from Russia: The Red Army is building large underground airbases and munition dumps, some of them in the extreme eastern end of Siberia, not far from Alaska. . . U. S. military men aren't worried over the big Italian battleships being given to the Russians, even though it may be loaned to Tito and stationed in the Adriatic. Battleships aren't worth much these days. . . despite this admission, the U. S. Navy is still going ahead with construction of two enormous new battleships which will carry no 'big guns. The Navy now finally admits that a battleship can't get near enough another vessel to shoot it, so the only guns to be carried by the new battleships will be anti-aircraft, to fire at attacking airplanes.

TEXAS TODAY—Jack Rutledge
Mrs. O. E. Oliver of Amarillo lost nothing but a hunk of hair, but she's irritated, too. Some time ago she was taking a nap on her couch in the living room. She awoke and thought her slumbers had been undisturbed. But when she combed her hair, she noticed a bald spot, about the size of a quarter, on her head.

It had been clipped by some Jack-the-Snipper so closely—apparently by a razor—that nothing showed but a five o'clock shadow.

Texas Today—Jack Rutledge

Husbands Are Not So Important

To the ladies:
A lot of women will tell you that there are more important things in this world than husbands.

A Negro pastor in Texarkana was moved to west Texas. His wife worked as a maid. Naturally, her employer was worried until the maid said:

"No, Mam, I ain't with the reverend no more. He wanted me to sell my house and move out there with him, but I told him, no siree. I figured it would be a heap easier to get a new husband here than a new house in west Texas."

And Wilbur Smith, acting as toastmaster at a Texarkana luncheon, told of the widow of a Negro policeman, killed in Georgia. The pension board paid the grieving widow a neat sum.

At the funeral, a neighbor asked the weeping widow: "Mrs. Jones, what you gonna do with all that money?"

The tearful widow whispered: "After I gets over my weeping period—I'm gonna find myself another policeman."

THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH
New York's Mayor O'Dwyer has been badgering President Truman regarding reports that the administration was wavering on Palestine. . . Ed Flynn, boss of the Bronx, also reminded Truman that Woodrow Wilson first laid down the policy of a Jewish homeland, and since Britain has carved six Arab states out of the Near East, there is no reason why the Jews can't have one. . . Truman will have given assurance that he will stand pat in favor of the U. N. plan to divide Palestine between the Arabs and the Jews. For a time, some of his diplomats were wavering. . . American Jews soon may be given an opportunity to enlist in a volunteer police force under the United Nations to keep peace in Palestine. . . Incidentally, some "fighting" Irish have already enlisted in the Jewish underground army.

TULSA, Okla. (U.P.)—Elmer Adams, county attorney, decided he'd head everything when a welder said he could collect pay immediately for his last five days work if his boss would just fire him. The boss replied that the employe had quit and that employe who left the job on their own accord had to wait until regular pay day for wages due.
