Rear-End Collision Is on Elevated Line in New York

COASTING DOWN GRADE CAUSE

Motorman Realizes the Danger Too Late to Stop

NEW YORK, April 29. (P)—A steel train and a wooden one, jammed with between 2,000 and 3,000 office workers collided on the elevated structure just above the Yankee stadium today, killing three persons and injuring two score, half of them seriously.

A fire and panic followed the crash and for more than an hour police and firemen fought with frenzied men and women scrambling each other in a wild scramble for safety.

The accident, a rear-end collision occurred at the 167th street station, where the subway trains emerge from their underground tunnels and run on the same overhead tracks as the elevated trains.

The wooden train was an "L" train and the steel one a subway train. The wooden train had halted on signal to permit a subway train ahead of it to clear the station. The steel train came around a curve and coasted down a grade, the motorman realizing the situation too late to avoid a crash.

Those killed were J. Cullen, motorman of the subway train, William J. Schultz, a 17-year-old student, and an unidentified passenger. The fire broke out in the rear car of the elevated train.

About half the injured were hurt in the scramble to get out of the wrecked trains and were allowed to go home after being treated by ambulance, surgeons and at hospitals. Twenty persons, however, suffered fractures, ranging from arms and legs to spines and skulls and were taken to hospitals for emergency treatment.

For hours after the collision, even after the wreckage had been cleared away and traffic resumed, hundreds of persons strolled the Highbridge police station seeking news of relatives or friends they believed might have been on one of the trains.

Transport Firm Leases Land for Emergency Airport

Pampa will be known as a good airport city by June 15, when the Transcontinental Air Transport field will be completed. The T. A. T. has leased a quarter section of land from Mrs. E. McPeck and will establish a landing field and beacon lights.

The land leased by the air association is four miles north of Pampa on Highway 33. It is the northeast quarter of section 98, block 3.

The establishment of the field here will place Pampa on the direct line of travel between Los Angeles and New York. Charles Lindbergh is technical adviser of the T. A. T. company and will probably be here when the field is dedicated.

INCOME TAX IS ONE SUGGESTION

Five Appointments Go to Senate for Approval

AUSTIN, April 29. (P)—Governor Moody today added revenue and taxation and public utilities to the subjects submitted to the legislature.

A large number of bills are expected to be offered under these including a series of measures reorganizing the system of taxation and abolishing the ad valorem tax, by Representative T. N. Mauritz of Ganado. Among the number is an income tax.

The governor suggested control and regulation of public utilities through establishment of a utility commission. The governor is understood to have agreed to a bill sponsored by the City Attorneys' association which gives cities the right to regulate prices of utilities with final appeal to the state commission.

AUSTIN, April 29. (P)—Governor Dan Moody today submitted five appointees for confirmation by the senate.

TROOPS GIVE UP IN DESPAIR CALLES SAYS

Reports Rebellion in Sonora Now Near Conclusion

GENERAL ALMADA WANTS IN U. S. A.

Escobar Reported to Be Ready to Cross Border

NOGALES, Ariz., April 29. (P)—The surrender of 500 Mexican rebel troops under Col. Miguel Guerrero, together with 18 machine guns, one 75 millimeter French gun and several hundred thousand rounds of ammunition, was reported here today by federal authorities. The surrender occurred last night at Ortiz, Sonora, it was claimed.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 29. (P)—Gen. Hector Ignacia Almada, Mexican rebel commander, applied at the United States immigration office today for admittance. Almada was an exile under orders from the Mexican government at the outbreak of the revolution and had returned to Mexico to aid the rebel cause.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 29. (P)—The sudden departure of Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the Mexican insurgents from his Nogales, Sonora, headquarters was looked upon here today as a sign that the end of the revolution was near.

Escobar left hurriedly last night. Gen. Francisco Borquez, rebel spokesman, declared Escobar had gone to lead rebel troops against the federals advancing through Pulpito and Carretas passes on the Sonora-Chihuahua border. Rumors were current, however, that he had determined to take an airplane to Cananea and fly either to El Paso, Texas, or Douglas, Ariz., to surrender to United States officials.

MEXICO CITY, April 29. (P)—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, Mexican minister of war, today considered the revolt in Sonora at an end and the last Mexican state cleared of organized resistance to the central government.

In a message to President Portes Gil he said: "It is my honor to report with satisfaction that in my opinion the rebellion in Sonora has terminated as the principal traitors continue their flight northward unaccompanied by material support."

His message detailed unconditional surrender of two groups of rebel soldiers, totaling 1,000 men yesterday, and described disintegration of the rebel troops as they found retreat at almost every point blocked by federal soldiers.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, April 29. (P)—Gen. Fausto Topete, commander of Mexican rebel forces on the west coast, arrived here today by automobile from Hermosillo, Sonora. He was accompanied by Odolfo Ibarra Seldner, attorney, and Dr. Francisco Arrfola, chief surgeon of the rebel army.

"It's Like This"

THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT has taken the attitude that the officials of the special road district have been too independent, and that state aid henceforth must be with the strict understanding that all contracts will be let by the state.

Contracts already let are frowned upon, and state aid is refused in connection with them. In other words, the state commissioners claim they could have obtained lower bids. They quoted comparative figures, using types of paving they approve which do not include patented paving, such as the vibrolithic.

Two big factors are apparent. One is that it will save the district thousands of dollars to meet the suggestions of the state department. The other is that the admitted difficulties which have arisen resulted as much because of the state's inactivity as through the missteps of the department.

The district has waited a year for the coming of the state highway engineer. The adamant attitude of the state highway department on routing which Pampa did not wish resulted in a feeling that if immediate paving were done the district would have to do it. This paving was started in good faith, but now the state department suggests that the district make an awful mess of things and asserts that the district must suffer the penalty of not getting state aid on work already done.

But however this may turn out to be, the fact remains that the commissioners must take whatever steps will get the most paving for the $400,000 the people voted. The willingness of the state to compromise is indicated by the announcement that the highway north out of Pampa will be retained. It will be well to cultivate this concession, for with the same kind of state cooperation that Carson county has received Gray will make fast progress in her paving work.

IS MARION TALLEY, by "quitting" the stage, only working a high pressure stunt to gain publicity for a lucrative comeback? It is being said, and not without some excuse, for successful performers do not as a rule give up careers on "hunches". Like the sales that are always "the last" but never end, some performers quit as often as by so doing they can get extra press notices. Schu-Mann-Heink admits that her farewell tours are so successful that she can with difficulty yield to her sincere decision to retire.

And while the spirit of criticism is in the air, Marion may expect plenty of suggestions that her hunch was not out of the clear sky.

FOR THOSE WHO find baseball a necessary part of their daily conversation, it may be of interest to suggest that few sports comparisons are as interesting as those of The Babe and of The Rajah at this moment.

Ruth is not popular merely because he is a fence-buster. Perhaps he has IT in sports circles. But The Rajah has based his pulling power only upon ability. He is indifferent to crowds, friendly or hostile. He was no idol at St. Louis, nor in New York or Boston, but rough and ready Chicago seems to have liked his mood. He is the power in the revamped Cubs, and popular in spite of himself.

Frigidity is passable only coupled with great ability, which Rogers Hornsby admittedly has. Perhaps his cool concentration appeals to the Chicago temperament at least his extra base hits do. But he can never rival the more human Babe or like players.

WASHINGTON—It may or may not be news that the soft collar industry and the stiff collar industry are engaged in a large propaganda war for the privilege of clothing the national neck.

Once upon a time nearly all males wore starched collars, and the soft collars were so wrinkly and sloppy that the well-dressed man simply wasn't having any. But soft collars or semi-soft collars were developed which looked very well and were still comfortable and these began to have a very large sale.

The people who make starched collars finally began to fight back with intensive national propaganda to the effect that the snappy, well-groomed man still wore starched collars and that soft collars were still abhorred in the best circles. Apparently the other collar interests are now launching counter propaganda to offset all that.

The war has lately been centering on the neck of President Herbert Hoover. The president has always worn very high stiff collars and the hard collar publicists were quick to seize upon that fact and exploit it. Recently, however, the soft collar enthusiasts got busy. Thus one reads that Hoover has set a splendid example to all men who are slaves to fashionable customs; that he "wears a soft shirt and a soft turned down collar in preference to the boiler-plate casings dictated by hoary precedent."

Inquiry around the White House develops the fact that the president wears a shirt with soft collar attached while tossing the old medicine ball each morning, but at all other times he sticks to starch. The starched collar industry is willing to admit that soft collars will sometimes do for sports.

Speaking of the daily session of the Hoover "medicine ball cabinet" recalls the recent widely published story to the effect that other members of that body were rather resentful of the fact that Justice Harlan Fiske Stone was throwing the ball altogether too hard. Justice Stone, the complaint was, ought to use a little more discretion.

One hears, however, that the feeling about Justice Stone's powerful heaves was not shared by President Hoover or by more than one of the other heavers. It appears that the only complaining sufferer was a distinguished newspaper man of great prestige but very slender build. When Justice Stone, in his unrestrained and exuberant enthusiasm, hurled the big sphere at this "cabinet" member it was almost a case of an irresistible force meeting an all too movable object.

Craftily and probably with malice aforethought, this newspaperman tipped off correspondents covering the White House that all was not well with the "cabinet" because Justice Stone didn't appear to know his own strength. It is now understood that the judicial conscience has been more or less stricken and that the

The remaining $196.55 was divided equally among the five associations of the city, to be used as their executive committee chose. CHURCHES

NINE HUNDRED PERSONS IN BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Yesterday was a significant time for the Baptists of Pampa. The opening of the new church building was in itself a noteworthy event. About 900 persons attended the services at the morning hour, but the large auditorium easily could have accommodated 700 others. At least 800 persons were in the evening preaching service. The congregation included a number of visitors.

Dr. W. Y. Pond, superintendent of evangelism for Texas Baptists, is leading the church in a special evangelistic campaign, which began yesterday and will continue two weeks.

Dr. Pond captivated the interest of his audience the first day. His ease on the platform and his earnest vital messages made every person an attentive and concerned auditor. The church received 29 new members during the first day of the festival, and several persons made professions of faith who did not apply for membership.

Dr. Pond was a real man before he began to preach; how he is both a real man and a real preacher. Formerly a railroad engineer, he has prepared a "railroad sermon," the theme of which is "A Wide Gauge Train on a Narrow Gauge Track." He intends to preach this sermon tonight. Those having heard this sermon at other places where Dr. Pond has preached are of one accord in saying that it is a masterpiece. A male quartet will sing "Life's Railway to Heaven" in connection with the service this evening.

The booster choir will meet at 7:15 p. m. for practice. All children 12 years of age or younger are invited to be at this meeting. The Boosters will sing at the evening services each day. The orchestra plays for each of these services. A hearty welcome awaits everyone at all meetings.

AMARILLO ENDEAVORERS PRESENT FINE PROGRAM

The world theme of Christian Endeavor, "Crusading With Christ," was used. The delegation was headed by the Panhandle district president, Miss Bertha Lea Wood, and the program was in charge of Miss Hattie Mae Wood, treasurer of the Texas Christian Endeavor Union.

Those in the squadron included Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Fowkes, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Geozelphor, Mrs. Josephine Hancock, Miss Frances Shea, Miss Fern Shea, Miss Gertrude Taylor, Miss Carmea Woolly, Miss Marie Hill, Miss Hattie Mae Wood, Miss Bertha Lea Wood, Miss Mary Lee Fuqua, Miss Helen Strite, Miss Estella Hayden, Miss Gertrude Gifford, Miss Ruth Willmering, Miss Gertrude Pinnering, Miss Thomas Bean and Woodson Hancock, W. Assistant Treasurer Nominated

WASHINGTON, April 29. (P)—George O. Barnes, of Pennsylvania, was nominated today as assistant treasurer of the United States.

Railroad Men of Fort Worth Shoot Each Other Sunday

FORT WORTH, April 28. (P)—Investigation of a shooting last night at the International-Great Northern railway yards, which resulted in James Bowman, section foreman of Penelope being seriously injured and Sam D. Henry, night yardmaster here, receiving a wound in his left arm, was started today.

Railroad employees said the difficulty between the two men probably was the outgrowth of Bowman's recent transfer from here to Penelope. He is said to have blamed Henry and others for the transfer.

When Bowman entered the outer office occupied by Henry, his pistol was drawn, according to latter's statement to police. He rushed into the inner office and aimed the door. While he held his pistol against the door, five bullets pierced the panels, one striking him in the arm. Henry got his pistol, an automatic, and fired.

Explosion on Ship Takes 17 Lives

MANILA, April 29. (P)—Seventeen members of the crew of the Inter-Island steamer Viking were missing today and apparently had perished in an explosion of the vessel's cargo of gasoline after it had caught fire in the Visayan sea midway between the islands of Masbate and Cebu.

Texas May Cede Land to Arkansas

TEXARKANA, April 29. (P)—In an effort to open state line avenue to unobstructed traffic and to maintain a postoffice here in Texas and half in Arkansas, Texas may be asked to cede about one-half block of Texas land to the state of Arkansas.

The avenue runs through the heart of the business district. At the postoffice, it makes a slight detour around the building. With the postoffice interruption, along with five other streets converging near the federal property, traffic problems along the thoroughfare have been causing officials perturbation.

China's Army Might Reach 50 Millions

GENEVA, April 29. (P)—Nationalist China painted a picture of 50,000,000 Chinese soldiers under arms at one time for the preparatory commission on disarmament today. Certain that its proposal for abolition of conscription would be rejected, the youthful Nanking government conjured up the spectre of conscription applied to China.

Announcement that China might be obliged to revert from its present volunteer system to conscription was solemnly made to the preparatory commission by Gen. Tsiang Tso-Ping, who said: "We honestly hoped our idea for abolition of conscription would be accepted, deeming it the most effective means of achieving real disarmament. We now reserve the liberty of changing our attitude on this question."

News!

An alert newsboy, on a day when news was dull and sales were few, turned to the advertising pages for inspiration.

"Read about the big department store sale," he shouted. "Fine quality suits at $22. Beautiful furniture on sale. New shipment of neckties just received."

His stock of papers was sold out very quickly. The case is, of course, exceptional. But it points to the fact that advertising is news—and important news. It is the news of daily life, the news that comes closest to you and those about you. It is news of the furniture you sit in, the books you read, the bonds you buy, the automobile you use, the flashlight, talking machine and food product that give you satisfaction. News that is essential to you, because whether you purchase a piano or a pin, you want the best your money can buy.

—and you can always be sure you are getting the newest and best when you read the advertisements.

THE ADVERTISEMENTS CONTAIN

"APPAREL FOR WOMEN"

BRUSHING UP SPORTS By Laufer

If baseball pitchers were figured like race horses, some players would tell you that Guy T. Bush, elongated right-hander of the Chicago Cubs, is on the verge of stardom. Winning twenty ball games in one season has come to be quite an achievement for a pitcher in these days of slugging from the hip, but judging from his steady improvement since coming to the Bears, the tall Mississippian is due to break into that select class of hurlers no later than this summer. His last year's record of winning 15 and losing 6 can be summed up in race track parlance as "knocking at the door" and, with the increased batting power the Cubs have amassed since last year to help him, he should win 2 games in a breeze this season. Bush's first start this year, when he blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, allowing only three hits, has added an even stronger tint to Manager Joe McCarthy's rosy outlook in the pennant chase. Bush was born in Aberdeen, Miss., in 1903 and came to the Cubs in 1924 from the Greenville club in the Cotton States League. After being farmed out for one year to the Wichita, Texas League, club, Guy has been earning more than his keep from the chewing gum coffers ever since. But pitching isn't Guy's only accomplishment. He is said to be the unofficial rummy champion of the National League.

HENRY L. FARRELL

Evans Hopes for Best Perhaps it is a bit early in the season to be praising young ball players but here's a tool for that young Wes Ferrell who is with the Indians. Incidentally, he's a brother of Rick Ferrell, another classy youngster who is with the Browns. During the opening home engagement of the Indians against the Detroit and Chicago clubs, young Ferrell was called upon three times to do some relief hurling. And, as a relief man, he offered a brand of pitching that practically earned him the right to start a game in a very near future. Ferrell received credit for two victories in the three games he worked. He pitched two innings one day and five the next day against the Tigers and allowed the Tigers only five hits in those seven frames. Against the White Sox, he gave up one hit in two innings. It isn't exactly the matter of runs and hits that impresses about Ferrell. He has a very good fast ball, a good curve, and plenty of control. And looking at him standing out there on the mound, you get the idea that somehow or other being in the big leagues is just another place to pitch baseball to him. It may be a good idea to make note of this Ferrell. He may prove a dud, but he certainly looks the real goods now.

Was He Fired? Another young player who is getting a lot of sweet notices already is Roy Watwood, playing an outfield post with the White Sox. Billy Evans, the business manager of the Indians, looks at Watwood and sees "an exact double for Joe Jackson at the plate." Bill had a chance to get Watwood last season. The kid was hitting around .400 when he was recommended to the Indians. Evans sent a scout down there and the scout okayed him and reported that the club wanted three grand for him. "He's not worth that much dough," said the scout, "but he's a buy at $2,500." Well, Watwood couldn't be bought for $2500. The kid was sold to Shreveport of the Texas league in mid-season and then sold for $20,000 to the White Sox at the end of the season.

McGraw Likes Him John McGraw, who manages the Giants, also missed a chance to get Watwood and failed, but it doesn't keep the Giants' boss from saying plenty about the youngster. McGraw's team played the White Sox a number of exhibition games this season. "He's the most natural hitter I've seen in years," he claims. "We never could get him out. He's a bit rough as a fielder yet, but he certainly can hit."

Few and Far Between Watwood is from Alabama Poly, I think the only player in the big leagues from that school other than Grant, of the Indians. This is his second year in professional baseball. And he may get there some day. At the plate, he does stand like Jackson. He may not get the reputation as a batter that Jackson enjoyed before he was ejected from baseball, but the resemblance is there and he gives promise of being a great hitter. He acts like a ball player and he's ambitious. And he may get there some day. Many baseball experts think so now.

Pavement Athletes Now in Missouri CONWAY, Mo., April 29. (AP)—Plodding through Missouri, Charlie Pyle's pavement pounders turned today toward Springfield, where they expected the warmest reception along the route. It was a case of starting for home for Jesse Dalsell. He lives in Springfield. In two days the boy has risen from eighteenth place to fourteenth. While the runners stopped in Conway last night the show troupe went on to Springfield, giving two performances there at Convention hall. Pete Gavuzzi, still is protecting a two-hour lead. Cabot Nine Takes Opener of City Industrial League as McCoy's Slow Ball Puzzles Shell Baseball Hopes McCoy slow-balled the Cabot nine to a win over Shell Petroleum yesterday afternoon in the opening game of the Pampa Industrial baseball league. It was a pitchers' battle between McCoy of Cabot and Edwards and Bullock of Shell. There was very little hitting. Cabot getting only five safe blows and Shell four. Mitchell and Sullivan were the big noises for Cabot. They got four of their team's blows, one a triple by Mitchell. Pitcher McCoy got the other safety. Johnnie Munn got two of Shell's hits and Goodwin and Clayton got the other hits. Fielding was tight, there only being two errors and both of them made by Shell. Munn let a roller go through his legs and Wisdom dropped a fly ball in the sun. Several spectacular plays had fans believing mid-summer was here. Wisdom in right for Shell pulled the prize catch of the day when he stabbed a line-drive over first that was labeled for extra bases. The second game between Magnolia and Gulf was forfeited to Magnolia when the Gulf manager failed to field a team. Tomorrow night the second game of the league will be played with Gulf and Cabot on the field. Magnolia and Shell are scheduled to play Wednesday night. Games will be called at 6 o'clock.

Little Fighting on Week's Program

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—There's a lull in the cauliflower industry this week. Most of what activity there is comes tonight. At Philadelphia, Benny Bass, featherweight, returns to the ring after a month's lay-off to tangle in a 10-round match with Johnny Farr of Cleveland. Perhaps the best bout of the week will fall to Detroit fans. Ray Miller, who cuts 'em down with a left hook, meets Billy Petrolle, Fargo express, in a bout set for 10 rounds Wednesday night. Miller's stock as the leading lightweight contender took something of a drop when he was beaten on points by welterweight Jimmy McLarnin some time ago. He may get back into winning form against Petrolle. Miss Mary Stocking and Miss Madge Davis of Glarendon were guests this week-end of Miss Anna Esta Goerner and Miss Willette Cole, Haggard apartments. Daily News want-ads bring results.

Spudders, Sports Release Power to Take Twin Bills

A belated drive by the Wichita Falls Spudders and Shreveport Sports for the top of the Texas league pennant scramble marked the week-end warfare in President J. Dock Roberts' circuit. Any hope of the power of the two clubs was dispelled when they scored doubleheaders with Dallas and Fort Worth. Shreveport, admittedly feared by every manager in the league, climbed 1.00 a tie with Houston for second place, three games behind the leading Waco Cubs, by trimming Fort Worth, 3 to 2, and 7 to 6, in two heated struggles in the Louisiana city. The Spudders, behind steady pitching, downed the Steers, 4 to 1, and 4 to 0, in their double setto at Wichita Falls. The twin killing left Galloway's sluggers knocking at the door of the first division. Waco's spectacular winning streak finally was snapped when the Beaumont Exporters bombarded three pitchers, including Virgil Cheeves, for a 17-to-4 victory in the first game of their double bill at Waco. Eight homers enlivened the conflict. The Cubs salvaged a 5-to-4 decision in the second tilt to forestall any gossip that they have shot both barrels and are ready to quit playing rough. Pat Newman's San Antonio Indians proved something or other to the homefolks by dividing their bargain bill with Houston Buffs, driving Jim Lindsey from the mound to win the first, 9 to 2, and then falling victim to Foreman's slants to drop the second, 8 to 1. Subway Andy Messenger, who won the first game, apparently is the only member of the Indians' staff capable of holding his own. Wetzal, Indian gardener, continues to waltz the sphere at a lively clip, despite the lethargy of his mates. Summed up, events of the week-end would indicate two things, namely, that Jake Ats will have to perform a miracle of some kind if he pushes his Fort Worth Cats up into the first division this season, and that the veteran pitching staff assembled at Dallas to pitch the Steers to a pennant will find the going exceedingly tough. Joe Martina and Whitey Glazner, mainsprings of the bovine staff, were taken over the bumps by the Spudders Monday. Martina allowed only four knocks, but two of them were bunched where they hurt. Outside of the Wichita Falls Spudders' hopping over to Dallas for a resumption of their series today, all of the clubs stay put, with Houston at San Antonio, Beaumont at Waco, and Fort Worth at Shreveport. Mrs. D. L. Harris of Dublin will spend two weeks here with her son, John Lee Harris, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church. She arrived Saturday evening with Mr. Harris, who drove to Dublin to bring her here. During her visit she will be a guest in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Truhitte, with whom her son makes his home.

Two Pampa Boys Win Second Place for Central High

Troy Stalls and Archie Walstad, local high school track and field stars, placed Pampa high school in second place in the Great Plains invitation track and field meet for colleges and high schools in Canyon Saturday. The two local entries gave Pampa 15 points. Lubbock won the division with 19-13 points. The mighty Stalls put the shot 41:5 1/2 for an easy first place. He pole vaulted 11 feet to win that event. The fleet Walstad ran the low hurdles in 26.3 seconds to surprise the other entrants in that event. The two winners were the only Pampers men who took part for the Harvesters.

Texas Battlers Very Promising

most promising fighters the Southwest has turned out in recent years are running up a string of victories in Chicago rings. Clyde Chastain, sensational puncher from Dallas, who scales 147 pounds, and Tony Herrera of Fort Worth, a 130-pounder, have made impressive showings. Chastain won his last two fights in decisive manner and if he continues to battle as he has in the past he will make trouble for the boys in the welterweight division. He stopped Jack Horner of St. Louis in five rounds and later handed out a severe lacing to Bobby Travey of Buffalo. Herrera leaped into the limelight when he beat Armando Santiago, a terrific puncher from Cuba. He displayed one of the fastest lefts seen here in years. Eddie Nemo of St. Paul was his next victim, a knockout in the fourth round.

British Hope to Take Open Title

LONDON, April 29. (AP)—English golfdom expects every man to do his duty in the British open at Muirfield, starting next Monday. After watching Americans grab off their prize golf trophy for five years in a row, Englishmen have concluded the time has come for the worm to turn. There are definite signs that a turn for the better has taken place in English golf. The British victory over Hagen's Americans in the Ryder cup

GOLF GOAT LETTERS

One of these days some bright individual may invent a Stop-and-Go traffic system for golf courses which will keep golfers moving through the fairways with consideration and respect for the rest of their foursome. Something is needed, in many cases to inform a golfer when he may move on to his next shot. This smiling young man, after hitting a peach of a shot, has started blithely down the fairway without regard to where the rest of his foursome may be. It doesn't often happen on the tee, but down the fairway you'll find many golfers ignoring their partners and walking out in front. Such action is thoughtless and bothersome to other golfers. It is highly dangerous. It is also a mental hazard to hit a shot with one of your partners 50 yards out in front waiting for you, to shoot. Keep your position on the fairways and respect your partner's honor—on the tee or off! Don't walk on the green until your partners have shot on to the green, and particularly don't walk out in front of them or you'll get a ball in the middle of the back some day from a hot-tempered golfer who purposely won't yell "Fore". series, concluded Saturday, has filled Englishmen with confidence that some native-born golfer will win the open this year. Not even the presence of an American contingent of 22 can do more than slightly diminish that confidence. The Ryder cup victory has brought forth a volume of editorial comment, revealing not only gratification over the success but relief that the monotony of American victories at last has been broken through and proof given that British golf is far from dead.

Dash Men Must Run Hundred in 9.4 for Record

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—From 1906 to 1927, the record books show the 100-yard dash has been reeled off in 9.3-5 seconds exactly ten times, with Charley Paddock's name listed six times among the five sprinters who share this world's record. Yet in a few hours last Saturday this mark was equaled no less than five times—five times in a single day, where the best sprinters in the world for more than a score of years have been able to get only ten such performances on the books. And the score probably would have been higher if the mud at Des Moines hadn't slowed up Claude Bracey, the Texas cyclone, and kept him from sharing the day's sprint honors with Frank Wykoff, Charley Borah, and George Simpson. It is a strange situation which now finds the United States with four of the fastest sprinters in the world, less than a year after the Yankee dashmen failed so dismally in their quest for Olympic championship laurels. Percy Williams, the Canadian youth, beat the world's best at Amsterdam, yet at no stage of his career has the Vancouver flash touched the times credited this spring to the new American "Big Four." Bracey, under favorable conditions at Austin and Dallas, turned in 9.4 and 9.5 for the century. Simpson, on one afternoon at Columbus, ran the "100" in 9.5 and the "220" in 20.6 seconds, equalling the world's record. He did 9.6 Saturday at Philadelphia while Borah and Wykoff each were doing it twice at Fresno. The mark of 9.5 for the "100" is the American record, on the books to the credit of Paddock, but it is not recognized internationally because of the ban put on tenth second watches by the I. A. A. F. In other words it will be necessary for some sprinter to do 9.2-5 seconds without leaving the slightest room for argument, before a new world's record for the "100" is officially chalked up. At the pace they have been going this spring, any one of them "Big Four" may reach this figure under conditions satisfactory to the record keepers. It might be accomplished in the national I.A.A.F. games at Chicago in June, when Bracey, Simpson and Borah probably will toe the marks together, or in the national A. A. U. championships at Denver in July, with Wykoff added to the field.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for a Supreme Court of nine members, and for continuous session of that Court.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Sections 2 and 3 of Article 5 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Article 5, Section 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, any five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five shall be necessary to a decision of a case; in other matters, until otherwise provided by Law, the jurisdiction of the Court shall be exercised under such regulations and orders as the Court by a majority vote may prescribe. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election, a citizen of the United States and of this State and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years, and shall have been a practicing lawyer or a judge of a court, or such lawyer and judge together at least seven years. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State at a general election, shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their term of office under the present Constitution, and until their successors are elected and qualified. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate."

"Article 5, Section 3. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in cases of which the Court of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction under such restrictions and regulations as the Legislature may prescribe. RICH GIRL POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES. THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE meets STEPHEN ARMITAGE when he rescues her from a thief who had snatched it in a crowd. Their friendship grows until MILDRED JOHNSON, daughter of Mildred's employer, tries to lure him away from her. Then HUCK CONNOR becomes infatuated with Pamela and she amuses herself by playing with both men. Pamela's mother, HAROLD, is in love with Mildred but suspects that she cares more for Stephen than for him. He begs her to go with him and she consents, hoping to keep him from Huck's gangster crowd. When Mildred's mother has a serious accident Harold does everything possible to help them. Stephen hears of the accident and comes to call, feeling regret over his long absence. He makes an engagement with Mildred but MILDRED'S employer tries to keep her from marrying her brother. She is married. Stephen defends her and Pamela is furious. She calls her father and he is MILDRED'S discharged. Harold stands by her and sends another message to his father asking him to reinstate the girl, but to no avail. He offers to help her and MILDRED accepts on condition that he will tell her why he fears Huck. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX MILDRED made her condition to Harold with purposeful unexpectedness. She wanted to take him off his guard, to catch him unawares. It was more or less a guess that he was in fear of Huck Connor, but she hoped to surprise the truth from him. And she very nearly succeeded. Harold sat back in his chair as though he had been forcibly pushed there. His lips went white and his eyes took on an expression that almost made Mildred regret her words. But she did not try to retract them. She was certain of her surprise now. It was Huck Connor who was at the bottom of the terrible change that had come over Harold in the past few weeks. "He leaned over and picked up a glass of water. A few drops spilled on the tablecloth. Mildred waited for him to speak. "You're too clever," he said finally, putting the glass away from his lips. "No," Mildred said quickly, softly. "I guess I've been terribly stupid trying to pry into your affairs like this, Harold. But I can't see you going on, looking worse and worse, probably getting deeper into something that's ruining you, without saying a word. You know I felt idle curiosity. I want to help you." Harold nodded. "Yes, I know that," he said, "but I wish you would forget about it. It can't do any good for you to know what's happened. It will come out all right. No need to worry." MILDRED knew that he was talking to bolster up his own courage. She sighed deeply. Her courage needed bolstering, too. So much that in the days that followed she came near forgetting Harold's mysterious troubles. She had pursued one will-o'-the-wisp position after another without getting any, until she began seriously to worry. And back of the fatigue of daily battle with subway crowds, elevator jams, long waits on hard office chairs and disheartening requests to leave her name and address, was the dull ache of longing for sight of a certain beloved face. The merry brown eyes and cheery smile that belonged to Stephen Armitage haunted her. She told herself she was a fool for giving him a thought, but it didn't matter what she told herself. She was of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: "Section 5. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive as compensation for his services an annual salary of Ten Thousand Dollars and no more, and shall have the use and occupation of the Governor's Mansion, fixtures and furniture; provided that this amendment shall not become effective until the third Tuesday in January, 1931."

Here Is the Essay Which Took First Place in State Contest

An essay written by Vivian Vickers, Pampa high school girl, on "Why Should I Vote," which received first place in the state in a contest conducted by the General Federation of Women's clubs, will represent Texas in the national contest in which there are prizes of $500 for high school students and $500 for under-graduate college students, offered by John Hays Hammond, chairman of the department of active citizenship, National Civic Federation, through the Federation of Women's clubs.

Because of its excellent treatment of a subject which is awakening the interest of youth throughout the nation, as well as because of the honor reflected upon the local girl and her school, the essay is printed below:

"WHY I SHOULD VOTE?"

"Aw, why should I vote?" growls a loafer as he resumes his game of dominoes.

"My! It's almost night, and I declare, but I don't see how I can find time to go to town. One vote won't make or break the election, so why should I risk burning this roast to vote for some one I've never seen?" So the housewife excuses herself, while her husband goes to the golf links to get some fresh air.

"Why should I vote?" I ask myself. "America is free and is leading the world. She does not need me, and I am in no danger while we are not fighting. Certainly! I'm patriotic. Did not I work for days on that Fourth of July program?" But even as I say them, I realize that these statements are only excuses, to be used now and be discarded at will.

When I hear people excusing themselves from voting and when I think of the petty excuses I have often given for refusing to take an active part in my government, I always resolve that when I'm old enough to vote, I shall try to use my privilege intelligently.

Voting is a heritage to all American citizens. It is the business of choosing our officers and our laws. The right to vote is mine only as a result of long and weary years of struggle and bloodshed. If this right could give me ten thousand dollars, I would certainly use it. How many people at one time would have willingly given up all their wealth for such a privilege!

But with every privilege comes a responsibility. The best way in which I can show my appreciation for a privilege is by using it. As a citizen of America, I am given the right to help govern a great country; and, as a good citizen of that country, I should do my part as well as I expect my neighbor to do his.

Sometimes I think that America is a rich man's country, that all officers are cheaters, and that the majority of the people do not rule. I learn from statistics that in 1896 the percent of people who used their right to vote was 80. Then I read how this has been reduced to 73, 66, 62, and finally down, in 1924, to hardly 50 per cent! For that 50 per cent of "slacker voters"—I hear that registration and poll tax and rush at the polls have kept them from voting. We, as American people, boast that our ancestors fought the "mistress of the seas" for the same privilege!

If I dislike my government, I should either go to another country or I should help to make this one better. "Silence gives consent." If I do not vote against what I dislike, my countrymen will naturally suppose that I am in favor of it; for I cannot be neutral. I must either use my right to vote or I shall eventually lose it; for Daniel Webster says:

"God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it."

When my teacher asks me to criticize one of Shakespeare's works, I invariably answer, "Why should I be able to judge Shakespeare as a writer?" If I cannot judge what so great a writer as Shakespeare has said, I should certainly not try to judge what such politicians as George Washington, Daniel Webster, Abraham Lincoln, and Elihu Root have said; or Henry van Dyke, as he says the following: "The final result of a true education is not a selfish scholar, nor a scornful critic of the universe, but an intelligent and faithful citizen who is determined to put all his powers at the service of his country and of mankind."

If I try to vote intelligently, the effect upon myself and others is sure to be good. To be able to vote intelligently I must study the affairs of the world. I must understand the bills to be passed, the people to be elected, and the citizens of other countries. If I get nothing else from all this study, I shall, at least, comprehend to some extent the character study which is so essential to every occupation. Then perhaps I can influence one other person enough to make him want to vote. One vote, and yet, if each person of the 50 per cent that does vote would only get one more vote, what a government we would have!

And, on the other hand, if I learn to be an intelligent voter, I shall be a better citizen at home and in my whole community. I shall be better at home because I shall appreciate what I have; and I can appreciate fully these blessings only by knowing that I can have all that is nearest and dearest to me only through the protection of the law which my vote helps to make. If I learn to appreciate this fact, I shall surely not be a loafer and a burden to my community.

What I am at home I shall be everywhere. If I am a good citizen of my community, I shall also be a good citizen of my state; and, instead of breaking down my government, I shall help to make it an ideal one. My state will then become influential and set an example for other communities and other states.

In the third place, I shall be a good citizen of America. To be this is and should be my ambition; for citizen includes everyone in America regardless of his religion, home, or occupation. As an American voter, I shall not only serve my country but I shall also enjoy myself as much as Whittier does in his "The Poor Voter on Election Day":

"Today, alike are great and small,
"The nameless and the known;
"My palace is the people's hall,
"My ballot box my throne."
