AMERICANS FLEE AS BOMBS BLAST SHANGHAI

Mattern Hunts Missing Soviet Fliers

TEXAN SPANS ICE FLOES IN ARCTIC WASTES

BULLETIN WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Soviet embassy announced today that the government radio station at Irkutsk, Siberia, had picked up signals of a weak and irregularly working transmitter, believed to be the emergency radio set of Sigismund Levanevsky, missing Soviet flier.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 16 (AP)—Jimmy Mattern, noted American aviator, left at dawn today in his speedy, twin-motored monoplane to search the Arctic wastes for six missing Russian fliers.

Mattern arrived only last night after a record-breaking non-stop flight from Oakland, Calif., to join in the search for Sigismund Levanevsky, Soviet sea pilot, and his five companions.

The American flier said he would traverse the 148th meridian in quest of a clue to the fate of the Russians who disappeared Friday on a 4,000-mile flight from Moscow to Fairbanks.

Mattern, who completed the hazardous 2,600 mile flight from Oakland in 13 hours and 35 minutes, conferred at once with Joe Crosson, Alaska's famed mercy flier, and representatives of the Russian government.

Once Rescued Mattern A successful search by Mattern would mean payment in full of a debt incurred by him in 1933 when Levanevsky and a co-pilot rescued the American when he was forced down in Siberia and crashed, fracturing an ankle.

The first day's flight will take him over the ice floes of the Arctic where the four-motored Russian plane may have been forced down. He said he would return to Fairbanks tonight without attempting to land en route and if the first survey is in vain will be ready to continue his search as long as hope remains.

"Hank" Jones, Mattern's mechanic, will accompany him in his rescue mission. Clear weather was reported over most of the route the mercy plane will fly today.

Coordinate Rescue Attempts Meantime, attempts will be made to coordinate the aerial search over the polar cap by establishing contact with Russian rescue planes flying from Moscow.

Crosson, who has directed the search for the last three days, said today that if the Russian plane landed in Alaska a systematic search should find it.

"A rescue in the arctic regions would be much more difficult," he said. Somewhere between here and the North pole, 1,400 miles away, pilot Sigismund Levanevsky, one of the Soviet's ace airmen, and five companions disappeared Friday on a 4,000 mile flight to Fairbanks, from Moscow.

In 1933, Levanevsky flew into the wastes of Siberia to rescue Mattern, who crashed on an attempted world flight and nearly died before aid reached him.

Searchers saw in Mattern's arrival possibilities of a new aerial rescue drama of the arctic because the American's plane is one of the few here capable of long distance flying.

MANY ENJOY OUTING OF FOREIGN WAR VETS Many guests enjoyed the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars picnic east of Miami yesterday, attended by about 75 persons. Members took basket lunches and the post provided refreshments and ice cream.

Although eating was the most enjoyable and most successful portion of the outing, those present also enjoyed softball, horse shoes and bingo.

The regular meeting of the V. F. W. will be tomorrow night in the American Legion hut on West Paster avenue at 8 o'clock. Commander and Mrs. H. P. Lusby and family returned last night from a vacation trip to California and he will preside at the meeting.

I HEARD --- The boys at the radio station frantically inquiring for Rep. Eugene Worley "minutes" before he was scheduled to make a talk on the forthcoming amendment election. Gene showed up with a couple of minutes to spare. He was accused of thinking he was down in Austin where things usually get under way late.

Leads 6 Lost Soviet Fliers

Lean, wiry Sigismund Levanevsky, Russia's "Lindbergh," is the leader of the Soviet transpolar fliers, still lost today in the Arctic wastes of Alaska. Search, led by Texas' Jimmy Mattern, was going ahead this afternoon for Levanevsky and five companions, believed down somewhere in Alaska, in their four-motored monoplane. The fliers had steered a sub-arctic course from Moscow and were headed for Oakland, California.

FRANCO'S ARMY DRIVES FEDERAL SOLDIERS BACK

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Border, Aug. 16 (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's troops pushed into the northern manufacturing city of Reinos today in a terrific battle with retreating government troops, said insurgent advisers received here.

Franco's men, heading for the northern port of Santander, were said to have fought their way into Reinos only after fierce house-to-house battling in the suburbs.

As the government soldiers retired from the city they pumped heavy machine gun and rifle fire into the advancing insurgents, an account from insurgent sources in Iran, just across the border, declared.

Franco's airplanes made a wide swing over government lines from Castro-Urdiales, on the coast east of Santander, to the Burgos-Santander highway, which runs south from Santander.

The "dropped great quantities of bombs." In their "victorious advance" toward Reinos, the insurgents reported capture of an "entire battalion" and said five other government battalions fled.

Some 40 miles north-northwest lies Santander, the government's last great stronghold on the north coast toward which Franco's men are headed.

Franco's soldiers occupied dozens of small villages along the road from Aguilar de Campo as they pushed northward to the heights close to Reinos. They said more than 1,000 prisoners were taken.

Although the government admitted the loss of several villages, close to Reinos, it said there was trouble within Franco's own ranks at Aguilar de Campo. A government outpost reported hearing heavy firing and the explosion of hand grenades in the insurgent lines.

Texas Convict Slain By Arkansas Officers

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 16 (AP)—Police raiders in a fusillade of shots here last night killed a man fugitive accused of two slayings and four robberies. A woman who gave her name as Florine Reynolds, was arrested after Lamb was slain. A man booked as Carl Harrison, 24, was taken into custody at Benton a few hours before the raid here.

Assistant Superintendent Robert LaPollette of the state police headed the raiding party which surrounded a house a short distance from the Hot Springs business district where Lamb and the woman registered about a week ago as "Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds."

LaPollette said that the officers crept toward the building, Lamb made a move for a gun. The officers opened fire, killing the Texan instantly. The woman escaped the gunfire.

The officers found nine rifles and shotguns, a pistol and a sack filled with ammunition in Lamb's room.

UNCLE SAM IS DRAFTING PLAN ON CROP LOANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Government machinery is ready to make loans to farmers on cotton, corn, wheat or any other crop, agriculture department officials said today, as soon as President Roosevelt or Secretary Wallace says "go ahead."

They said experiences gained in three seasons of cotton loans and two of corn loans would speed action whenever terms and conditions of the program are determined. Winter wheat growers were warned to keep in mind the crop control program which was the other end of the bargain between Mr. Roosevelt and farm state senators.

Advice on Wheat The agricultural adjustment administration said not more than 80 percent of the "base acreage" should be planted for harvest in 1938. The advice was given now, officials said, because winter wheat will be in the ground before congress can enact farm legislation.

The President agreed at a conference with southern senators to make cotton loans, but enacted a promise that general farm legislation would be the first order of business when congress convenes again.

The senate promptly passed a resolution binding itself to this program. Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee, predicted the house would approve it by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Agriculture department officials said they expected the loans to be ordered formally soon after the house acts.

Farm bloc senators said the program would be aimed at assuring farmers 12 cents a pound for their cotton.

Senators who talked with the President said loan programs also would be worked out for corn, hogs, wheat, and the other major commodities if prices drop as has the cotton market.

Girl, 17, Kills Stepfather in Family Row

WHARTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—A quarrel between a 17-year-old girl and her stepfather over her visit to town in the family automobile today had led to the death by gunshot of the stepfather, Jack Watkins, 40, an oil well driller.

The girl, Mozelle McDaniel, was quoted by Deputy Sheriff Carl Siebrecht as slaying her stepfather came to Wharton to return her home, and told her he would punish her.

The officer said members of the family informed him Watkins had told the girl to return home early and that he went to get her when she failed to return.

After the girl and Watkins returned home, Siebrecht said, she obtained a 22 rifle. Sixteen shots were fired, eleven of which struck Watkins. He died en route to a hospital. The girl was held here, but no charge had been filed.

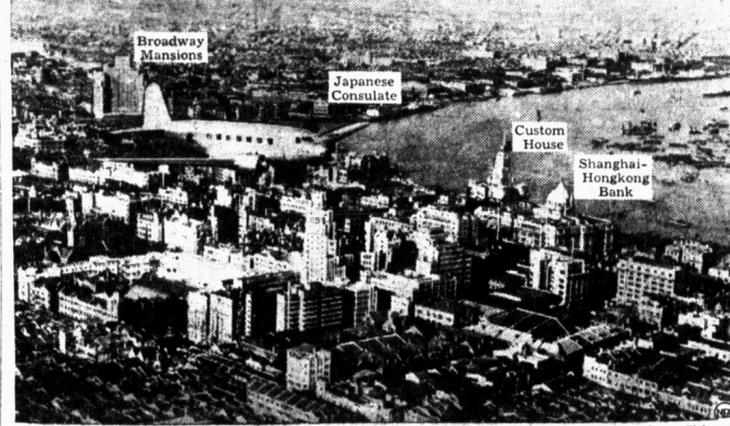

II DIE IN CRASH

CAMPOS, Brazil, Aug. 16 (AP)—Eleven persons, including two women, were killed and 10 were injured yesterday in a crash between police and fascist "greenshirts."

LaPollette said Lamb was wanted at Huntsville, Texas, on a charge of murder and robbery and had escaped jail at Fort Worth, Texas, where he was held on a charge of murder and three charges of robbery with firearms. The state police officer said a department of justice bulletin warned officers to "shoot to kill" if they had trouble arresting the fugitive.

LaPollette said Harrison was arrested because he had been seen in company with Lamb at Hot Springs. No charge was filed against the Benton man.

Where Chinese Bombs Fell In Shanghai

In the accompanying photograph is shown the Japanese consulate in Shanghai, China, where Chinese bombs rained from the air today. The photo also gives a general view of the city and the Whangpoo river front. It is in this city that 50,000 foreigners, including 4,000 Americans are in peril today. Threat of a blockade of the Whangpoo, shown curving at the right, increased fear that evacuation of nationals, now jamming the Broadway Mansions, and other waterfront hotels, might be impeded.

Judiciary Committee Okays Sen. Black's Nomination to Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee approved the supreme court nomination of Senator Black (D-Ala) in a hotly-fought session today, but opposition to his confirmation immediately developed on the senate floor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee approved today the supreme court nomination of Senator Black (D-Ala). Voting down all proposals for delay, the overwhelming Democratic majority of the committee agreed to report the liberal Alabama's nomination favorably and at once.

Democratic leaders planned to call the nomination up in the Senate tomorrow for confirmation. Republicans already, however, had served notice they would urge its reconsideration for hearing, foreshadowing, at least, a bitter debate over the appointment.

The committee turned down requests for general hearings on the nomination, and refused also to delay action long enough to permit Black to appear and be questioned on his views about judicial review.

The committee voted 13 to 4 to approve Black's nomination after two and a half hours of debate. Senator Neely (D-W Va.) chairman of the subcommittee which first considered the nomination, said the argument was chiefly over "constitutional questions."

Just before the committee met Senator Burg (D-Neb) had announced he would demand that Black be questioned about his qualifications for the court post.

Two powerful influences were working in favor of swift approval: senatorial courtesy and the stampede for adjournment of Congress this week.

Democratic Leader Barkley forecasted quick confirmation tomorrow, and said he expected only a few hours debate.

STORK RATES FIRST CHOICE OVER DEATH

HALE CENTER, Aug. 16 (AP)—A Hale Center doctor, who asks his name be withheld, reports this as a true occurrence last week: Answering a call to a farm home where the stork was expected, he said his nurse experienced a delay when their car became stuck. They halted the first passing motorist.

"Sorry, buddy, I'm in a hurry," said the driver. "I'm going to get a dead man." He was chauffeuring a hearse.

The doctor quickly explained his mission, and the hearse driver said: "Well, the dead can wait, but the stork can't," so he assisted the doctor in pulling the car from the ditch.

Details of the accident were not learned other than that two cars met on a highway south of Waco. Extent of injuries to other passengers was not told.

JAP HEADQUARTERS SHELLED BY CHINESE PLANES; BATTLES RAGE ALONG 15-MILE CITY WAR FRONT

SHANGHAI, Aug. 16 (AP)—American women and children passed safely through shellfire today and began an officially ordered exodus from stricken Shanghai.

The first of the hundreds who must leave this city of war within the next few days were sped through the heart of Chinese-Japanese air, land and sea battle along the Whangpoo river—on their way to safety abroad.

Shell fragments tore the decks and roofs of the tender which carried 200 Americans—many of them refugees—to the homebound liner President Taft, waiting off the Whangpoo's mouth.

City Is Surrounded Shanghai was surrounded by the 15-mile front of the Chinese-Japanese war, which raged through its fourth day here, and United States authorities ordered all their women and children out.

Three hundred and fifty more are to leave tomorrow for Manila on the Dollar liner President McKinley. A like number will go Wednesday on the President Jefferson.

The big liner President Hoover, bringing United States Marine reinforcements from Manila, can carry about 1,000 American refugees from Shanghai about the end of the week. The Red Cross at Manila is preparing for their reception.

As a massed fleet of 32 Chinese warplanes brought the conflict to the heart of Shanghai again this morning, Americans began packing for flight and concentrating at designated safety points. Officials then decided the evacuation was imperative.

U. S. Marines Land One hundred additional United States Marines and sailors were landed from the flagship Augusta to augment the 1,050 Marines already patrolling Shanghai's international settlement and to cover the evacuation.

Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, ordered two American destroyers to steam at top speed from Tsingtao to Shanghai, possibly to the program.

The motorcade will be welcomed here by the Good-will committee of the local C. C., and escorted to the front of the theater, where the proceedings will be broadcast over radio station KPDN. Frank Gulberson is head of the reception committee.

A Pampa delegation will be sent to the celebration, which honors Perryton's 18th birthday, and several other groups are planning to attend.

Costumes for Skiing

FOR those who can't take their skiing or leave it alone, there's sand skiing in the summer time. And if the sand is white enough, it's pretty hard, except for the temperature, to tell whether it is sand or snow drift you scoot over. Young actresses summering at Cape Cod, Mass., find it an amusing summer diversion, in which the costume can suit your fancy. Jane Barnes (left) wears linen culottes and a trim blouse. Dorothy Stone (center) whisks about in white linen slacks and a pale blue blouse with navy tie. Terry Foy (right) looks attractive in a peasant dirndl with authentic Tyrolean belt and embroidered hat.

Texas Extension Service Workers Meet Next Month

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16—Cancellation of the annual farmers short course, to have been held Aug. 16-19, at Texas A. & M. College, also brought postponement of the semi-annual conference of Texas Extension Service workers until the week of Sept. 6. Extension Director H. H. Williamson said the September meeting probably will replace both the summer and mid-winter gathering of the 475 county agricultural and home demonstration agents this year.

The short course was cancelled on recommendation of the state health officer who said that concentration of such a large group of boys and girls might contribute to a spread of infantile paralysis in the state.

Competition to determine Texas 4-H club representatives in national judging contest, to have been held during the short course, probably will be held here in late September. L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent, said. He indicated only contests in which considerable interest had been shown would be held and that some might be dropped. In view of interest in the Texas cotton improvement movement, the cotton classing contest may be held, even though it is not a national contest. Mr. Johnson said. A total of 436 boys had entered the various contests and it is expected around 380 will participate in the contests here in September.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Sandwiches are getting swelled heads. They are trying to become three-course dinners all in one bite. Just isn't decent. Sandwiches had a simple origin—they were invented to eat between busy moments, to hold the appetite until better times. But nowadays lunch counter chefs pile slice of bread upon slice of this and that, then keep repeating until a mountain of confusion frightens the hungry appetite to death. Let's get back to more simple ways. This is the picnic season, the season of simple parties on lawn or porch. Keep it simple and pleasant. Leave skyscraper building to engineers; make sandwiches that are dainty and pleasing and don't strive to pierce the skyline.

Chicken Celery Sandwich
(12 of them)
Two cups chopped cooked chicken, 1-3 cup chopped tender celery, 1-2 teaspoon minced onion, 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, salt, pepper, 24 thin slices bread.
Mix ingredients. Butter bread. Combine.

Orange-Watercress Sandwiches
(12 very dainty surprises)
One cup chopped fresh from the water watercress, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1-2 teaspoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons drained orange pulp, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 24 slices white bread.
If possible, remove orange meat in perfect tiny sections. Mix watercress, onion juice, onion, mayonnaise. Stand for 1-2 hour. Add orange pulp. Spread between thin slices of buttered bread.

Ham Delight Sandwiches
(Enough for 6)
One cup minced cooked ham, 1-2 cup cottage cheese, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley, 2 tablespoons salad dressing, 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice.
Mix together thoroughly ham, cottage cheese, parsley, salad dressing and lemon juice. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Peanut Butter and Chili Sauce Sandwiches
(Enough for 6)
Twelve slices bread, 6 tablespoons peanut butter, 4 tablespoons finely chopped celery, 4 tablespoons chili sauce.
Mix peanut butter and celery and spread on 6 slices of buttered bread. Cover with chili sauce. Top with remaining slices of bread.

Romantic Ideas of Aviatrix Beinhorn

Ely Beinhorn looks forward eagerly to new thrills on arrival at Bernd Rosemeyer.

By MARIAN YOUNG
NEW YORK—Don't marry your opposite. If you should, you're more apt to be bored than happy. That's the romantic credo preached by Ely Beinhorn, Germany's most acclaimed sportswoman and pilot. She followed it herself when she became the wife of dashing Bernd Rosemeyer, ace Nazi auto racer; she puts it into practice every time he risks his life in thrill-seeking loving crowds, for she's more likely to be found in the pit than in the grandstand.

Even the thought of being married to some Johnny-Sit-by-the-Fire makes her shudder. "Opposites may attract, but it's men and women who like to do the same things or similar things that make marriage a success," the vivacious, alert aviatrix insists.

Miss Beinhorn believes that there should be plenty of fun in any marriage. And how, she asks, could any couple have fun if one always wanted to do something the other didn't enjoy? Inveterate readers should marry inveterate readers, adventurous people team up with daredevils, and so on.

Listening to Miss Beinhorn's vibrant voice (she speaks almost perfect English), watching her sparkling eyes, you immediately form an opinion that here is one German woman whose adventurous spirit isn't likely to be submerged.

Marriage Is No Obstacle
Full of the joy of living, interested in everything and everybody, she has continued during one year of marriage to Daredevil Rosemeyer to do pretty daring stunts herself. Just two weeks after the wedding she made a two-continent race in one day, flying from Berlin to Athens to Cairo and back, over Paris, to Germany.

Born and brought up in Berlin, the attractive, youthful flyer took to the air eight years ago right after hearing a trans-Atlantic pilot discuss airplanes and modern aeronautics.

Husband Followed Her Footsteps
"Now he was a dummy, none-to-impressive figure of a man," Miss Beinhorn laughed. "I decided that if he could learn to fly, I could. So I learned. And I love it."

Mr. Rosemeyer made up his mind to learn to fly, too, soon after they were married. He got a pilot's license recently.

"Now the trouble begins," Ely Beinhorn said, laughing again. "He won't sit in a co-pilot's seat, and neither will I. So we are going to have a second airplane in the family."

The famous aviatrix is, however, just as interested in her husband's auto racing as he now is in flying. She accompanies him to every track, partly because she enjoys sitting in the pit during tryouts and actual races, partly because he thinks she brings him luck. The only race he has lost since their marriage was the one she did not attend, due to illness. So she accompanied him to America to avoid jinxing him in the Vanderbilt Cup race. "We are fatalists, you know. So each of us does less worrying about the other than most people think," she explains her willingness to watch him in his hazardous attacks on speed records.

Sturdily built, with interesting, capable looking hands and smooth skin which the sun has turned a warm, golden toast brown, Miss Beinhorn wears no makeup and no nail polish. Her blonde hair is clipped short and waved softly backward to expose a wide brow and perfectly shaped ears. Her gray eyes are kindly, merry ones. Dressed simply in a green sports dress, brown shoes, blond hose, she sat quietly in her chair, made not one nervous gesture during the interview.

During the days before the Vanderbilt Cup race, Miss Beinhorn went to the Roosevelt Raceway every morning, bright and early, and did the official clocking job for the qualifying trials. She's an expert at this, never makes an error, likes to see the cars whiz by, doesn't complain if she misses a meal while clocking, did not let a desire to shop in Fifth Avenue stores lure her away from the speedway for a single hour. Miss Beinhorn estimated the number of women flyers in Germany to be about 50.

"It costs a good deal to learn to fly over there. Furthermore, only a few can afford planes of their own."

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

With profile hats, feather boas and other Gay Nineties fashions becoming important for fall, the "Dresden China look" will be the thing to strive to attain. The complexion of fashionables will have a crisp pink and white, freshly-scrubbed appearance. Daring collures and obvious makeup are out.

Apply cosmetics as carefully as an artist puts color on his picture. Rouge must harmonize with your natural blood tones. And it won't be difficult to find a flattering shade because the majority of cosmetics manufacturers are talking about rich red tones rather than orange and rust ones. Scarlet and royal red lipsticks are to be important. Lip warmers will reign supreme. Get rid of the sun-tanned, hardy perennial look you have cultivated since June. Go in for bath oils, masks, rich cream and hand lotions again. Substitute heavy perfumes for the light, single flower odors you have liked all summer.

Pay special attention to your hands, elbows, shoulders. Do you use hand lotion frequently, cuticle cream about three nights a week? Don't wear chipped, cracked nail polish. If you haven't had time to put on a fresh coat, remove all the polish and simply buff off your nails. Lacquer is smart, of course, but only when it is in perfect order.

Hot oil manicures are an excellent idea. When you have removed old polish and whisked nails into shape with an emery board, soak fingertips in warm olive oil instead of soapy water. Or, if you like, dip pieces of cotton in the warm oil and wrap one of these around each finger. Leave the cotton bandages on for ten minutes, then finish the manicure in the regular manner.

Spending for Satisfaction

A MAN'S dollars are no better than his desires; for the purpose of dollars is to satisfy desires. Wisely spent, each dollar buys a dollar's worth of satisfaction.

How to buy the most satisfaction with a given amount of money is a very personal problem. Whether two sticks of chewing gum, or a morning paper, is the best buy for two cents, depends on a lot of things. Five hundred dollars will buy a motorboat or an automobile. Which will give the greatest amount of satisfaction for five hundred dollars? It all depends. Circumstances and tastes will dictate the answer.

Money is spent wisely or foolishly, depending upon the spender's ability to interpret his real wants and the way to satisfy them. Anything that helps him make wise selections is a valuable service. Advertising is such a service. Through the display of goods in show windows and many other forms of advertising, dealers furnish endless information on how to satisfy human desires. We live in a perpetual World's Fair.

There was a time when the average man had little choice in spending his income. He had to spend it for necessities, for hardly enough goods were produced to permit everyone to live at a subsistence level, and the average family's share was small. Now that we produce great quantities of goods above the subsistence level, there is more income for the average person and opportunity for choice in satisfying desires above subsistence wants. Through the medium of advertising, industry displays its numerous articles of comfort and culture.

Nearly every wage earner and housewife has the privilege of deciding what to buy besides necessities. There is always the interesting question as to what things will give the greatest satisfaction for the money. Real satisfaction cannot be defined by rigid specifications. The intrinsic value of a product is no more important than the mental pleasure it gives the buyer. It is the job of business men to tell people why their merchandise will give satisfaction. In advertising the merits of their goods, they try to tell a complete story. Besides describing physical characteristics, advertising is intended to picture the satisfaction to be expected by the consumer.

In deciding upon the purchase of an automobile, a suit of clothes, and even a home, the average man or woman thinks of many things that are not in the specifications. Personal prejudices and human emotions all have a part. This is as it should be, or at least as it always will be, unless the human race is to be made over completely.

Advertisers try to harmonize their advertising with the normal feelings of their public, not to reform them. Good advertising must therefore contain more than mere catalog specifications. An effective advertising message must appeal to the heart as well as to the brain, for people were made that way and do not want to be changed.

Advertising helps business only because it serves the public. It guides consumer dollars into channels that will bring the greatest return in human satisfaction.

RE-WRITING THE WAGNER ACT

President Roosevelt slaps the C. I. O. with a cryptic Shakespearean utterance. Secretary of Labor Perkins executes an emphatic about-face renouncing sitdown strikes and labor violence.

What underlies this belated shift? The answer can be put in one word—politics. The administration went into the Lewis partnership because it thought this was a political asset.

There is not the slightest doubt where majority public opinion stands. It demands fair play for labor, industry and the public. It is significant that the two polls of natural opinion which proved most accurate in the last presidential election show a strong drift of sentiment against the C. I. O. and an emphatic belief in the desirability of imposing legal responsibilities upon labor unions.

Since public opinion has already rewritten the New Deal labor attitude, it logically follows that it can only be a matter of time before congress gets around to the formality of rewriting the Wagner Act. Senator Vandenberg, continuing his recent performances of being two jumps ahead of the New Dealers in reading the public mind, is already on record with some admirably sound and fair suggestions.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Back in the elegant eighties the Congressional Record was just about compulsory reading for advanced students in elocution.

Today oldtime readers of the record from Bangor to Bisbee lament the languishing of an oratorical art which formerly flourished in the halls of congress. The national legislature still boasts punch-packing and stylish phrase-makers but almost vanished is the grandiloquence that went with frock-coated M. C.'s.

Those who like their rhetoric resonant and rhythmic fear Arizona's Senator Henry Fountain Ashbury may be the last of the oratorical Mohicans. Fortunately the former cowpuncher, who won his spurs years ago as one of the greatest word-wranglers of all time, shows no sign at 62 of doing a philological fade-out.

New York's Senator Roscoe Conkling was a forensic flash of the 19th century but some of the Ashurst enthusiasts will tell you that much of Conkling's stuff was lumpy compared with the sparkling syntax of the courtly 6-foot Arizona.

As an Ashurst classic they cite his defense of the donkey as the emblem of the Democratic party—a serio-comic discourse delivered by the senator in 1890 when the Republican was a robust symbol of G. O. P. supremacy. An excerpt:

"He is a sure-footed, trustworthy creature of epicurean taste and gargantuan appetite; but his appetite, happily enough, may be satisfied by a nibble at a desert cactus and he is then ready for another long and lonely journey."

"He is the personification of the sublime virtues of moderation, forbearance and rigid economy. From the vibrant chords of his throat come zigzag bars of music as thrilling as the midnight minstrel of the nightingale."

"The donkey must not be abandoned for upon his back the Democratic hosts ascend the steep activity of speech, he is the pons asinorum over which they march to victory."

Conkling's specialty was the production of a medley of metaphors in an organ-toned voice. In summing up a slander case for an orphan client, he enojed:

"I have sisters, and I would rather that clouds should fall upon their coffins than that one of them should be robbed of that priceless reputation without which a woman is a casket without a jewel, a ship without a rudder and a helpless wreck on fortune's lonely shore."

Grandiose grammar by Conkling on the laying of the Atlantic cable: "That is a great wedding day when hemispheres are married and lightning is the language in which they are betrothed."

Tex's Topics

This is being written (again) on Saturday night. Nothing has been said here lately about the last minutes on earth of a dying Saturday night. It is only a few minutes until midnight, and then Saturday will gasp its last breath and pass on to the place where Saturday nights go. Here in the office still comes the monotonous click of the teletype machines and the clasp-trap of the composing room where printers are scurrying about to get the "baby to bed".

Midnight in a Sunday morning newspaper office must be something akin to the shelling of Shanghai by Jap naval guns. It's a noisy place and, still, it's very quiet. Which doesn't make sense. Saturday night usually is accident night, which reminds us that:

"Two young men and a girl, aged 17 and 19, were killed instantly late last night returning from a dance, when their car crashed into a tree at a high rate of speed. The fourth member of the party is in a critical condition in a local hospital." This news-item, differing only in minor details, has appeared a thousand times, and in papers in every state of the Union. It reflects one of the most tragic phases of the automobile accident problem—the reckless drivers in their teens and early twenties. Out for a good time, they careen about the highways and by-ways—and at regular intervals death follows in their tracks.

Immature minds regard it as an act of enviable bravado to "see what the old bus will do." In many cases the cars they drive should have been sent to the junk pile long ago—brakes are gone, lights are bad, steering mechanisms are faulty, and tires are down to the fabric, ready for blowouts.

The larger part of the blame for accidents that kill and maim young people must be put squarely on the shoulders of their parents. The fathers and mothers who permit their children to endanger their lives with reckless driving, or are too lazy to find out the true state of affairs, are, to put it kindly, derelict in duty. Even worse are the parents who, when their children are arrested for dangerous driving practices, move heaven and earth to have them freed without punishment—thus, in effect, telling them to go out and do it again. But youth itself, in the form of the young girls who go riding with their boy friends, can be of the greatest assistance in reducing this toll by bestowing a bit of praise and showing admiration for the driver and simply refusing to ride with the reckless one—make safe driving the price of a date and watch the boy friend slow down.

Various sections of the country like to commemorate events that accompanied the development and growth of state and nation—races, frontier day celebrations, pageants, state fairs and world fairs keep history alive. An event of this kind will take place in Escanaba, Michigan, on August 13 to 15, where the World's Championship Log Rolling Tournament will be staged. In the old days, the annual log drive on rushing rivers was a great event in many communities. Today the steam locomotive and the motor truck carry millions of feet and logs to the mills in a much less exciting and romantic manner. The mythical hero, Paul Bunyan, could not roll logs with Satan on a freight car as he is reputed to have done in the rivers of the North Woods country. So, revival of the log rolling contest at Escanaba keeps alive the traditions and the sports that developed around a great industry as it furnished the lumber to build the homes in the cities and on the farms of the North country and the Middle West.

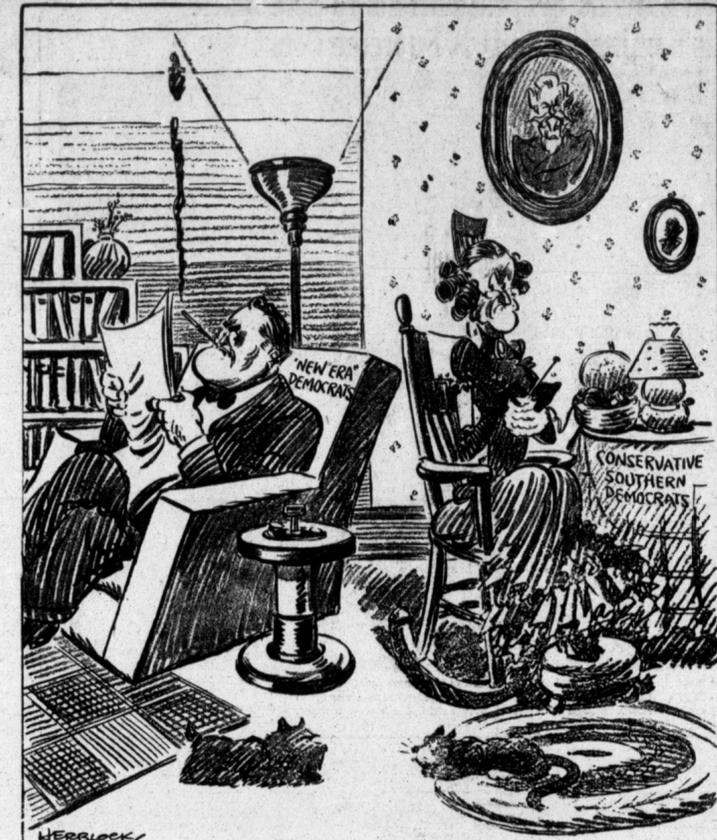

That patented device, which provides perfume in the theater appropriate to the film, might be a little hard on the customers in some of the pictures. The Chicago quack who could tell a "bad liver" just by a footstep, shouldn't have had trouble diagnosing the situation when police walked into his office. Strikers had to picket New York automatons. You can't sit down on a coffee spigot. The case of the New York state woman, who found a table leg sprouting branches, will discourage apartment dwellers who can't coax ivy to grow in a six-foot window box. The Japanese attitude in China is a little reminiscent of woman shopper in a bargain basement on sale day.

One has a hunch that the slip-horn tooter in that "show band" that hit town Saturday was a bit angry with his fellows. At least, he sounded a bit sour on the world. One of our boyhood ambitions was to be a tuba player. Second choice was a piccolo, with the flute running a poor third. Later we learned to play a phonograph and, now do right well on the radio. Archer Fullington will return tomorrow from a vacation in the Colorado mountains. All of which will put us back in circulation Wednesday. And that will be dandy.

News item: "Most of Europe's statesmen left on vacations Aug. 1." Saving the world isn't so important in hot weather. A case for the public welfare guardians: the railroad yard brakeman who threatened to take a switch by his mischievous son. An engineer who predicts 37 million cars by 1960, maps the highway of that date—with dugouts for pedestrians, maybe? Wonder what the first "norther" will do to Pampa's peeping-toe shoes, halo hats and net gloves? The Senate okay's a 10-cent loan on cotton. But the farmer can hardly get relief workers to pick it for that.

Did you know that: The word "and" is used 46,271 times in the Bible. More than 44,000 thunderstorms occur throughout the world each day. Goldfish belong to the Chinese carp family. In Chile, wild potatoes grow about as big as hazel nuts.

HOME SWEET HOME

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I used to know a Scottish girl who was tall and a little on the angular side who wanted very much to become an actress. She got a job in a stock company and devoted most of her time to a passionate study of Shakespeare and the rest of it to talking incessantly about the theater.

Occasionally she took long walks, and I would see her swinging along the pavements, in low-heeled oxfords and tweed skirts, unmindful of the rain and probably unaware that she was sopping wet. She never heeded the weather. The thing I remember most is that almost always her stockings were wrinkled. She really never cared about clothes, and if the talk wasn't about drama she wasn't interested either.

Yesterday I saw her again for the first time in six years. She was lunching in a theatrical hotel in the West Forties, and such a change! I have even forgot her name, but that doesn't matter: when she went to Hollywood and became a star she got a new name, Jean Muir now.

P. S. Her stockings are no longer wrinkled.

Ergo, one of the better insurance salesmen in New York, a slick fellow with a smooth line of patter, has a raise, and he deserves it. Several years ago one of the policy holders called up the head of this insurance company and announced: "The premium is $800, and I think I'll let it slide."

"That's all right," the insurance head told him. They chattered for a few minutes and then hung up. Summoning his ace salesman, he explained the situation and sent him over to salvage the retiring client. It took the young fellow about five minutes to make the policy change his mind.

But, next year the same thing happened. He wasn't going to keep paying $800 a year for that policy. He didn't need the policy anyway. Again the salesman with shrewd arguments, prevailed. This little episode was repeated once each season for five years.

Last week the owner of the policy again got his friend, the insurance chief, on the phone. "Joe," he growled, "I'm dropping that policy, and don't send that same young man over here to talk me out of it, either!"

"Wouldn't think of it," placated his pal. But a half hour later the young man sauntered into the client's office. Yeah, he sauntered right out again. Put he had that check for $800 with him. Is it a wonder his boss gave him a raise?

The Shakespeare rash has broken out all over the radio broadcasting studios. Two fair-haired ladies who run elevators in the Columbia building have been dubbed Rosencranth and Guildenstern.

How's Your Health?

Edited by Dr. LAGO GALDSTON for New York Academy of Medicine

CARBUNCLE CAUTION The term carbuncle describes the condition it names. For carbuncles, meaning in Latin a small coal, was formerly applied to various spots of a red or fiery color (a small glowing coal) such as sapphires, rubies or garnets.

Medically the term carbuncle describes a local inflammation affecting the skin and underlying tissue. The process is usually circumscribed. It appears like a bunched group of boils.

The immediate cause of carbuncle is some pus-producing organism, usually of the staphylococcus variety, which has gained entrance into the deeper layers of the skin and has taken a foothold. Important, too, are the predisposing causes, including general debility, foci of infection, diabetes, disease of the kidneys.

Every individual who suffers from a carbuncle therefore requires not only expert treatment for this painful and dangerous condition, but also a thorough medical examination to discover what predisposing constitutional factors may exist.

Men are more liable to carbuncles than women; those in the later years of life are more susceptible than the young. The most common sites for carbuncles are the neck, back, shoulders, buttocks, face and abdominal walls. The most dangerous carbuncles are those developed on the scalp and face, particularly those on the upper lip and cheek.

The most valuable counsel is to give the lay person on carbuncles is to leave them strictly alone. Don't handle them, puncture them, squeeze them or treat them roughly in any manner whatsoever.

As an emergency treatment, remove all pressure—by clothes—from the carbuncle and the surrounding skin. Keep the parts involved at absolute rest, even if that implies putting the patient to bed. Call a doctor promptly, especially if there are signs of fever, chills or prostration (great weakness).

The carbuncle is not a condition that may be safely treated by "home remedies."

FINO BODIES OF TWO WHO DROWNED IN LAKE

TYLER, Aug. 16 (AP)—The bodies of Johnnie E. Beckham, 29, of Tyler, and A. A. Jackson, about 33, Athens, highway employe, had been recovered today from Trinidad Lake where they drowned late yesterday.

They were brothers-in-law and frequently fished together. The bodies were found arm-in-arm in 9 feet of water by Jackson's brother, John, of Athens, and a searching party.

Beckham was a brother of Bazel Beckham of Austin, executive secretary of the state commission for the blind.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Frank Lloyd's production of "Wells Fargo" covers a lot of American history, from 1844 to 1870 and incidentally traces the story of transcontinental communication and transportation. So it was interesting, with Joe McCrea playing the pony express rider, to have Frank Lloyd's daughter Alma visit her father on the set, wearing an orchid that had left Honolulu the day before.

The lady in crinolines to whom McCrea makes love in this picture is Mrs. McCrea or Frances Dee. It is their first film together since "The Silver Cord," in which they met and fell in love. And now all they have to do to make their love scenes convincing is to act the way they always do.

Used to be a hesitancy in casting husband and wife as romancers in the same picture, but now the casters grant that audiences have grown up enough to admit marriage might be romantic. At least Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone are together in enough pictures, and maybe Dick Powell and Joan Blondell, who used to romance on the screen before they were married, will again be considered the type for each other.

Sleep Spoilers Cecil B. DeMille's press agents, past and present, are like a religious order, figuratively salivating at mention of the old master's name. Barrett C. Keisling, these many years a DeMille alumnus, is still devout. Barrett's written a school textbook, "Talking Pictures," designed for use in the 3,000 schools of the country that had movie courses last year. He estimates that 6,000 schools are giving courses now. McGill U. in Canada is first to learn about talkies from Keisling.

Directors get their sleep spoiled by the funny things. A sign posted one night recently was given copy for a banner, "This harem is unfair to organized labor." He called up David Butler to check. This was a gag for the "All Baba" picture, but how was a painter to know, not having read the script?

Actors Never Know Painters are not the only workers who labor on films without knowing what and why. Extras answer calls to certain directors' sets, or to certain stages, and even while they're working they often don't know the name of the picture. And many of the actor who can't tell you what his next picture will be, although you can tell him.

Mary Boland's new home in Beverly Hills will be ready by Thanksgiving. They still make quite a few silent pictures in Tulkietown, Metro leading off with 30 a year.

ELDERLY NEGRO HELD FOR GUARD'S MURDER

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Shep Harris, 66-year-old negro, was in jail here today charged with murder in the slaying of Sgt. J. Wheeler, 47, Darrington state prison farm guard whose bullet-riddled body had been found on a roadside yesterday at dawn.

Sheriff Norfleet Hill said the negro confessed, blaming his action on an argument over driving a truck to Houston in which Wheeler was riding. The sheriff said Harris told him Wheeler had engaged him to drive him to Houston near Arcola after the guard's automobile had been damaged in an accident.

Hill said the negro confessed he knocked Wheeler down twice, grabbed the guard's gun and then shot him three or four times.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

The years of residence and study that Lyle Saxon spent in the south and southwest stood him well in writing his latest book, "Children of Strangers" (Houghton Mifflin; $2.50). It is another of his favorite settings, slow, sleepy Louisiana, entirely familiar to Louisianian Saxon.

In the early days when New Orleans was an exuberant, lusty seaport town, with a name for wickedness, and Louisiana was a tropical, malarious garden of half cultivated wilderness, white men far outnumbered white women. By a natural sequence thereto, it followed that planters, suffering from pleasant wealth and less pleasant loneliness would take mulatto mistresses. The children of these unions were given some degree of legitimacy in many cases by becoming heirs to the property of their fathers.

Thus there appeared a strange caste of slave-owning landholders, who, in spite of their mixed blood, were as wealthy and as cultured as the white gentilefolk with whom they could never associate.

The Civil War changed all this. With the rest of the south it impoverished this demi-caste. But mindful of their ancestry, the members struggled and contrived to live by their traditions and retain the land which now alone distinguished them from the freed slaves.

The background of "Children of Strangers" is a settlement of these quadroons and octoroons that adjoins a large plantation. Unable to mingle with the white people, holding aloof from the Negroes, these mulattoes cling to their small farms and occasional heirlooms, keeping alive the old customs and the half-French dialect.

The tragedy of these children of strangers is developed through the character of Fannie, a beautiful young quadroon girl. In her worship of white blood, she sells all her possessions, even her land, that her son by a white father may be educated and live as a white man in the north. Outcast from her own people for committing their most grievous sin—selling inherited land—she is at last welcomed by the kindly Negroes.

The rhythmic dialect of the Negro which now alone distinguished them from the freed slaves, she is at last welcomed by the kindly Negroes. The rhythmic dialect of the Negro which now alone distinguished them from the freed slaves, she is at last welcomed by the kindly Negroes.

ELDERLY NEGRO HELD FOR GUARD'S MURDER

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Shep Harris, 66-year-old negro, was in jail here today charged with murder in the slaying of Sgt. J. Wheeler, 47, Darrington state prison farm guard whose bullet-riddled body had been found on a roadside yesterday at dawn.

Sheriff Norfleet Hill said the negro confessed, blaming his action on an argument over driving a truck to Houston in which Wheeler was riding. The sheriff said Harris told him Wheeler had engaged him to drive him to Houston near Arcola after the guard's automobile had been damaged in an accident.

Hill said the negro confessed he knocked Wheeler down twice, grabbed the guard's gun and then shot him three or four times.

They were brothers-in-law and frequently fished together. The bodies were found arm-in-arm in 9 feet of water by Jackson's brother, John, of Athens, and a searching party.

Beckham was a brother of Bazel Beckham of Austin, executive secretary of the state commission for the blind.

HUTTON LEADS OILERS TO 12-INNING VICTORY OVER BLACKFACES 5-3

SECOND GAME OF SERIES TO BE IN BORGER

Harvey Hutton pitched and hit the Pampa Oilers to a 5 to 3 victory over the Huber Blackfaces of Borger in 12 innings yesterday afternoon in Amarillo. It was the first game of a series to decide the Panhandle championship.

Second game will be in Borger tonight with the third meeting here on Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock at Road Runner park.

Although nicked for nine hits, Hutton kept them well scattered. The big fellow bagged a single in the first half of the ninth, went to third on a single and an out, and scored the tying run when Hale hit a long fly. In the twelfth Hutton came up with a screaming double into the cars scoring two runs and giving the Oilers a jump in the series.

They've Come Through

Jim Turner, left, and Lou Fette show how they hold the ball in throwing it past National League hitters. Turner, 31, and Fette, 30, in their first trials in the majors have this season won more than half of the victories scored by the Boston Bees. Scouts are taking a second look at older pitchers in the minors as a result.

Roughsters Set For 'Rassle Go'

Both teams were slightly weakened for the game. The Oilers had Sam Daley on second base and the "former" pitcher was in the big middle of two successful double plays and picked up a grass cutter for a nice out at first. Beason was ill and unable to play which sent McLary to shortstop. Sam Sealing was visiting his parents in Hale Center.

Borger Scored First. Hack Wilson was absent from the Huber lineup. He is in the Wichita, Kas., National tournament. Manager Storey has changed his lineup, sending Spencer to center, Bash to short and himself on third.

Borger opened with a run in the second but saw it disappear as the Oilers sent two across in the third. Another run in the sixth and one in the eighth tied things up and then the Oilers sent two across in the ninth to knot things up. Borger threatened in the tenth and eleventh but Hutton bore down as his backers made several sparkling plays. Then came the twelfth and the Oilers sent Manager Fred Brickell was uncertain who would take the mound tonight. Dale Mills is still unable to take his turn on the mound. He was spiked in the scrap at Denver and the heel wound has not healed sufficiently to let him hurl.

Pitchers Uncertain. Drefs may be the choice for tonight with Daley and Stewart also ready. Manager Storey will have Eubanks, Chody, Coburn and Hadley ready for the mop-up, if there is in the Wichita tournament.

Play in the series to decide a Panhandle champion will move to Pampa on Wednesday night. The team winning five games will be crowned Panhandle champions and will be given a large trophy, it is hoped.

Score by Innings:

BORGER . . . 010 001 010 000-3 14 2

TENNIS IN SPOTLIGHT WITH THREE TOURNEYS

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—Stand aside you golfers and you baseball and light fans, tennis is the big sport on the national program this week.

Today America's Wightman cup team, six of the best women players in the country, will report at Forest Hills to prepare for its defense of the trophy against England, the West Wise Tennis Club's big stadium Friday and Saturday.

At the same time most of the other top-flight women players begin the Essex Country club invitation tournament at Manchester, Mass., and a field of 90 men, including nearly every high ranking star in American and nine invaders from three foreign countries, start the annual Newport Casino invitation event. The lesser lights, both men and women, who seldom make the headlines, come up to the big event of their season, the National Public Parks championships at Pittsburgh.

FINALS IN SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT SET FOR TUESDAY NIGHT HERE

Texaco Firechiefs of Amarillo and Rig Service Station of Borger will meet in the final game of the Panhandle District Softball tournament here tomorrow. It will be the final game unless the Borgans upset the dope bucket and down the favored Chiefs.

The old bucket has been given a rough mauling during the tournament but it can stand one more, guardians believe. First it was Taylor Grocery of Amarillo that kicked the bucket around by defeating King Oil and Skelly. Then Phillips went down and out. Dancier bumped off King Oil and the surprising team beat Dancier and strolled unmolested into the finals.

Preceding the Firechief-Rig game tomorrow night, the ladies of Pampa and Canadian will do battle. Each has won a game by a one-run margin, one of them going two extra innings. Opening game will be at 8:15 o'clock with location yet to be designate. Teams have asked tournament officials to move the finals to Road Runner park where lights are better.

Amarillo's Firechiefs went through the tournament undefeated. Only twice were they pressed, once by King Oil and when they beat Rig Service of Borger.

Frankie Parker Beaten by Riggs

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—Bobby Riggs, 19-year-old Californian, yesterday took Frankie Parker, No. 2 man for the United States in the challenge round matches with Great Britain, in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 7-5, to win the singles title in the finals of the Eastern grass courts championship.

Alice Marble, the United States' No. 1 woman player, defeated in the women's singles final Saturday by Tatjana Jedrejewska, teamed with Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Payban, of Boston, yesterday to defeat Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn, of Austin, Tex., and Carolyn Babcock, of Los Angeles, 9-7, 6-1, for the women's doubles title.

Riggs has won three straight tournaments, at Seabright, Southampton and Rye.

OKLAHOMA YOUTH WINS SKEET SHOOT HONORS

DALLAS, Aug. 16 (AP)—G. C. Parker, Jr., 15, today carried major honors of the Pan American skeet shoot with him to his Tulsa, Okla., home.

Competing against veteran marksmen in the two-day affair which ended yesterday, the youth shattered 199 out of 200 targets to win the feature event and scored 99x100 for the junior championship.

Second place in the 200 target event went to McVea Higginbotham of Mer Rouge, La., who broke 198. Billy Clayton of Calvin, Okla., won the shootoff for third after tying with Roy Cherry of Dallas with 197.

The class A event in the 200-target feature was won by M. R. Wooley of Longview, Tex., with second honors going to John Lawhorn of Tyler, Tex., and third to B. Duget, also of Tyler. Each had 189x200 and settled it with a shoot-off.

In the class B shootoff, Paul Weeks of Shreveport, La., bested Landon Cullum of Texarkana, Tex., and B. Johnson of Atlanta, Tex., who finished in that order. Each had 182.

Worm Slowly Turning in the Big Leagues

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Did you ever see a worm turning? They're doing it all over the place these days. Washington's wallowing Senators are breezing along on an eight-game winning streak. Pittsburgh's pathetic Pirates are plodding back toward third place in the National League. And Cincinnati's collapsible Reds have just made the high-and-mighty Chicago Cubs holder "uncle."

But for the championship of the Society of Turning Worms, and for the classiest job of upsetting the applecart since Mrs. O'Leary's cow made things red hot at Chicago, we give you Connie Mack's collegiate collection of Athletics.

They're either a brave band of youngsters, or they've been fooling every one—including themselves—for a long time. Every other outfit in the league falls apart at mere mention of the Yankees and their big war clubs, and suffers from a combination of D. T.'s and paralysis of the winning column at the first sign of their approach.

But Connie Mack's crew, staggering alone in the league cellar, looked them in the eye over the week-end, didn't think much of the view, and proceeded to take three straight over Murderer's Row.

Young Edgar Smith, who had been training all season for his first straight victory, completed the sweep of the series with a seven-hit yesterday, and climaxed a feat that hasn't been duplicated since May, 1934. Not since then, when the Cleveland Indians accomplished it, has any club swept a three-game series from the Yanks.

The breaks made it easy for the A's yesterday. Joe DIMaggio committed two errors that set up three unearned runs for the Quaker City combination. But despite the breaks, and disregarding the possibility that the current Yankee slump is a let-down from the team's recent tough series, the A's go down in the books as the greatest little surprises of the season.

Despite the victory, however, the Yankees maintained their top-sided, year-long lead in the pennant chase, since the second-place Detroit Tigers kicked away a six-run lead, and lost, 9-7, to the Browns.

Over in the National League meantime, the 11x-loaded Chicago Cubs were walloped thoroughly and all over the lot by the Reds and lost a doubleheader, 13-6 and 9-8.

As a result, their league lead was cut to four games—shortest in two weeks—as the second-place Giants turned back a late rally by the Phillies to register a 5-3 decision for their third straight win.

Washington belted the Red Sox twice, 9-3 and 8-3, to climb to fifth place and drop the Bostonians into fourth. The White Sox advanced to third and shoved the Indians down to sixth by trouncing Cleveland, 5 to 4 and 3 to 2, in a bargain bill.

Paul Waner found St. Louis pitching easy meat and the Pirates picked up a twin bill, 8-4 and 4-0, to make it three straight over the Cards. The Brooklynians and the Boston Bees battled through two acts of a comedy of errors, and split, the Dodgers winning the opener, 7-5, and Danny MacFayden tossing a three-hitter for a 9-1 Boston win in the nightcap.

Others on the favored list included John Van Ryn of Austin, Tex., and John McDiarmid of Princeton, N. J.

TEXAS GRIDSTERS PREPARING TO TOPPLE AMARILLO SQUAD

By HAROLD RATLIFF
DALLAS, Aug. 16 (AP)—Crews of the head that wears the crown of monarchy—or football—and the Texas Interscholastic League's gridiron march to the wars next month with that fact uppermost in mind, all aimed at knocking the high and mighty Amarillo Sandstorm from a pedestal occupied for three years.

Close critics say the opportunity is good and that if Amarillo comes back for another title—even a district crown, it will be a major upset of the 19-year history of the league. Coaches and sport writers predict only five of the 1937 district champions will repeat and that few of these are anywhere near certain, but they do pick Corpus Christi either to advance to the finals or to fall before a team with strength to compare with the best in league annuals.

Coach Rocky Rundell of Robstown, a district opponent of Corpus Christi, is quoted as saying he will give his best team in the history of Robstown but that he does not think the Cotton Pickers can beat Corpus.

Howard Lynch bewails the fact that 17 of his 23 lettermen at Amarillo depart and says Pampa will be strong and Borger good in the District One race. J. F. Hilliard, who coached Kerrville to the finals last season and goes to Plainview this year, says Amarillo has a good chance to repeat as district champion with its fine system, built over a period of years, due to furnish capable boys to fill the holes left by departure of practically every regular.

Kerrville, Hilliard says, lost practically all regulars and its reserve strength is low. Added to its worries is the recent ruling of ineligibility of a season today and prepared to retire voluntarily for the rest of the major league schedule. The Cardinals' office announced his decision unexpectedly last night.

Port Arthur has seven lettermen, only one of whom is eligible under a ruling made by the district committee that eligibility at Port Arthur, a 12-grade school, must begin in the eighth instead of ninth grade as heretofore. Port Arthur has announced it will continue as in the past. Beaumont has an experienced team for the District Fourteen race. Bobby Cannon, Edinburg coach, picks Harlingen to take the title in District 16 pointing to a strong line and two star backs in Brady and Driscoll but adding that all teams will be stronger than last season.

"You're FINANCIALLY embarrassed! Wh'dya think I am?"

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 17 (AP)—Lieut.-Gov. Walter P. Woodul received a mild shock recently while visiting the Pleasant Valley school near Ralston, Okla., where he taught when 15 years old.

"I found that one of my pupils is a grandfather," he said. "I didn't realize until then how long it had been since I was there and how old I was getting."

Otherwise Woodul was cheered. "Most of the boys had done pretty well," he said. "One had just bought another 150 acres and I didn't find one in jail."

Time recently alters the perspective, the lieutenant-governor observed. "The hills I had remembered as regular mountains," he said, "were just rough country."

About the only thing changed in the school building was the blackboards "which had been moved from one end of the main room to the other."

A few minutes later Woodul was discussing Texas' financial condition and advocating balancing the budget, or taking steps in that direction.

"Did you teach how budgets should be balanced?" someone asked. Woodul grinned.

"We didn't think of such things in those days," he said.

One thing that was taught, he said, was history, including Oklahoma's history.

"And take it from me," he said, "that is a subject hard to learn and hard to teach. Oklahoma history is full of names and places such as no other state's history can duplicate. That's because of the Indian influence."

It was suggested that Woodul had not reported the full details of his 24-hour visit to Oklahoma, which he made primarily in order that Senator Claude M. Isbell of Rockwall, president pro tempore of the Senate, could act as governor.

A press correspondent threatened to write to Oklahoma and "get the facts."

"Go ahead," rejoined Woodul. "I have a clean record at Pleasant Valley, same as I have here."

The Lieutenant-Governor said he took care in Oklahoma, and a few days later at Dalhart, not to "make any mistakes."

Near Dalhart he visited ceremonies at the old XYZ ranch.

"At Dalhart," he said, "I didn't order any lunch lamb chops."

He expressed some "regret" that newspaper memories said he would receive about $32 a day for the period he served as governor.

"That is the daily rate of pay for the governor under the constitutional amendment adopted last year. At that time the salary was boosted from $4,000 to $12,000."

"You see," Woodul explained, "my wife didn't know about the $32 rate. She thought I would receive $11. Now look at the mess I'm in."

By WILLIAM E. KEYS
AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—The newest expansion of state government service will root in the district administration setup the State Health Department is planning to make effective in September.

Health officials hope to reach a greater portion of Texas population by this method and the current plan is to select six cities as headquarters for as many administrative units. Each will have a director, a sanitary engineer, a food, drug and milk inspector, two sanitarians and a clerk. Scores of cities are receptive and the health department is studying offers of free rent and utilities for the cities. The Board of Health probably will meet late in August and lay out final plans.

Friends of Public Health in the Legislature had hoped for a more extensive service and the six-district plan, authorized at the last general session, was a compromise. They wanted 12 districts but when the bill had run the Legislature gauntlet it provided $97,500 annually for the next two years and limited the setup to six districts. Now they are hopeful benefits possible under the plan will justify a greater expansion in future years. Texas is far down the list of State in public health expenditures and few counties have organized health units. Authorities believe at least some phase of public health service will touch every resident of the State when the new plan begins functioning.

Still another new service, financed partially by State funds, will come into being in September. It is the teachers' retirement fund, authorized by constitutional amendment, to which the State will contribute an estimated $500,000 annually to match contributions of teachers who are required to pay 5 percent of their annual salary up to $180.

A board for administering the fund, composed of laymen and educators, is headed by Claude Teer, chairman of the Board of Control. Members are outlining plans for the new service financed by an initial appropriation of $25,000. Where the State will derive its annual share for matching teachers' contributions is a problem for the forthcoming special session of the legislature.

DELAY OF YEAR IS URGED FOR FARM TENANCY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The House appropriations committee recommended today that the start of the administration's farm tenancy program be postponed a year.

The agriculture departments request for $20,000,000 to inaugurate the program, authorized earlier in the session, was not written into the third deficiency appropriation bill reported today.

Advanced as one of the major pieces of farm legislation of the second Roosevelt term, the tenancy act authorized $10,000,000 this year for liberal loans to worthy tenants for purchase of farms and $10,000,000 for retirement of submarginal lands.

The committee, in a report accompanying the bill, said: "On the basis of the evidence presented and a consideration of the entire problem involved in farm tenancy, there is no emergency presented for the inclusion of the item at this time."

It said also plans of the agriculture department for administration of the program had not "battered." "For these and budgetary reasons," it added, "the committee feels that further consideration of the matter should be postponed until the regular bill of the next session by which time a clearer approach to the administration of the act can be worked out by the department."

At hearings on the measure, Milo Perkins, assistant resettlement administrator, told the House appropriations committee that if the funds were provided most of the money would be used where the tenancy rate was the highest.

"The Texas allotment would be $920,000. Mississippi would come second with $643,153, and Georgia third with $637,540."

BEHRMANS BACK AFTER TRIP TO STYLE MARTS

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Behrman, of Behrman's store, returned yesterday from a three weeks' buying trip in Fort Worth, Chicago, and New York.

They reported the purchase of many new fashions in ladies' ready-to-wear. Included are costume and coat suits, evening dresses, and many other dresses in varied price ranges.

"Fur trimmed costume suits and short tailored coat suits in all colors are to be the most popular thing in the fall styles," Mr. Behrman stated.

Wearing of the fez in Turkey has been forbidden since Mustafa Kemal Pasha came into power.

Heads American Forces in China

As developments in the Sino-Japanese crisis approached a climax in a general conflict, Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, United States Navy, above, steamed at full speed in his flagship, the cruiser "Augusta," down the coast from Tsingtao, to assume command of the American naval and marine forces in the Shanghai trouble zone.

Race Committee Fights Rangers

SARATOGA SPRING, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP)—Ringers, so-called "last vice of the American turf," came under the scrutiny of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners today.

Edwin J. Brown of Seattle, Wash., association president, in an address prepared for the opening session of the organization's three-day summer meeting, urged adoption of a rule requiring owners to present the registration papers of all their horses to the racing secretary at each meeting.

"In this way," Brown said, "we racing commissioners can successfully cope with the practice of running horses under names other than their own, the last vice of the American turf."

Brown pointed to the four-year-old association's war on the doping of horses and declared that the use of narcotics to stimulate the runners had been "practically eliminated."

seemed to center on Footing, densely populated industrial center just across the narrow Whangpoo from Shanghai.

Artillery Moves In Chinese infantry and artillery had moved in there to blast at the Japanese warships on the river. Japanese planes bombed the district thoroughly in the late afternoon, while throngs watched from Shanghai rooftops across the river.

When it became too dark for bombing the planes withdrew but big guns on Japanese warships off Woonung, 10 miles away, took up the bombardment.

The United States gunboat Sacramento and the French cruiser La-Motte Picquet lay in the river just off the Footing battle zone. The French boat loosed a smoke screen to protect the two. A Japanese destroyer pointed toward the Footing shore to exchange point blank fire with Chinese guns.

War Carried Inland The Japanese airfleets carried the war hundreds of miles inland for the third successive day, bombing Chinese military centers, Nanking reported two Japanese planes were brought down and a third damaged when six bombing planes raided the Chungking airbase, 25 miles south of the Chinese capital.

Shortly after the Japanese attacked at dawn with all their forces on land, sea and in the air, the Chinese air fleet struck in counter-attack. Thirty planes suddenly appeared over the Japanese headquarters and began raining bombs.

A Japanese attack squadron rose from its airdrome to the east to give combat and out of the west 13 Chinese planes suddenly joined in. After a brisk battle high above the city the Chinese planes withdrew.

They circled wide and then, changing direction, returned to blast at the Japanese-inhabited Hongkew district of the international settlement and the warships lining the Whangpoo river. Japanese reported that a number of Japanese citizens and several foreigners were killed and many injured when a Chinese bomb struck East Broadway in the vicinity of Jongkew creek.

A squadron of seven light Chinese bombers registered direct hits on the Japanese consular police station, seriously injuring two Japanese officials.

for congressional action before adjournment on legislation giving the agriculture department authority to promote a water conservation program in the southwestern "dust bowl."

Chairman Jones (D., Tex.) said the agriculture committee would call up in the House today a bill sponsored by the Texan which would authorize the secretary of agriculture to construct ponds, reservoirs, wells, check-dams, pumping stations and other facilities in that area.

He said the legislation followed recommendations made by President Roosevelt's great plains committee in a message to Congress early in the session.

The bill has been approved by M. L. Wilson, assistant secretary of agriculture.

Sponsors said that $10,000,000 in federal relief funds probably would be made available to the agriculture department for a water storage and utilization program if the bill was enacted into law.

"It is generally recognized," Jones said, "that the chief step that could be taken in the problem of the great plains and the arid and semi-arid areas of the country is the conservation and proper use of the water that is available. In practically all of the affected areas, sufficient moisture falls, if properly conserved and utilized, to serve all practical purposes during normal years."

TEXAS GOVERNOR SOLD ON MEXICAN 'SIESTA'

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred, home again after a vacation trip to Mexico, signed today and said the Mexican custom of siesta was a "mighty fine thing."

He showed little interest in talk of a special session of the legislature this fall, except to observe he didn't want one while it was "so hot," and also avoided discussion of taxation, governmental economies and related subjects expected to come up at such a session.

"I haven't even thought about a session," he said. "I just rested and enjoyed a vacation. We couldn't have had a more royal time. Mexico is a wonderful country."

TWO MEN KILLED IN CORPUS IN SHOOTING

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 16 (AP)—Marion Lemeul Dickey, 43, half owner of the Cozy Inn, and Ivan Yarbrough, 27, were killed early this morning in a mysterious shooting affray which happened back of the inn.

Dickey was shot to death when he left his trailer car after a man had awakened him and said the inn was being robbed. Yarbrough's body, a bullet wound through the chest, was found approximately 100 feet away an hour later.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—Stocks groped in the dark in today's market and only a handful of specialties managed to find higher ground.

U. S. Steel suffered an early sinking spell and, at the worst, was down more than 2 points. Other leaders took their cue from this top-notch and declines of as much as a point or so were widely distributed at the close.

Continued confusion in the congressional legislative program, and revival of doubts early adjournment is likely, tended to restrain buying forces to some extent.
