ROUTED REBS PUSHED BACK

RELENTLESS PUNISHMENT INFLICTED ON INSURGENTS

MADRID, March 23 (AP)—The government pressed its pursuit of Gen. Emilio Mola's insurgent army today against the strategic supply centers of Jadraque and Almadrones, 53 miles northeast of Madrid, to smash Mola's attempt to reorganize his routed forces.

Picked squadrons of government bombers harassed the insurgent rear guard positions, where insurgent commanders were speeding their effort to unify their disorganized forces.

The government's virtually unopposed advance, six days after the defeat of the main body of the insurgent assault army, placed the capital's defenders within striking distance of the positions held by the enemy at the outset of their fifth drive against Madrid.

The vital positions at Almadrones and Jadraque, were all that stood in the way of the government sweep of upper Guadalajara province.

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Great Britain pressed an independent investigation today of reported Italian assaults on Spanish insurgents as a direct violation of the ban against intervention in the bloody civil conflict.

The continued reports that Italian troops have landed in great numbers in Spain since the control agreement went into effect were investigated separately by the British in an effort to avoid clogging the agenda of the non-intervention committee.

French official sources in Paris said the French and British foreign offices were in close contact, apparently convinced that Premier Mussolini's unexpected return yesterday from a visit to Libya was connected with the insurgent defeat north-west of Madrid.

The defenders of Madrid have charged that captured insurgents disclosed the backbone of the fifth assault against the Spanish capital on the Guadalajara front was three divisions of Italians.

Officials in Rome scouted the idea of any political significance in the duce's return.

The protest of the Valencia government that it would not consent to the patrol of its coasts by Italy and Germany held first place on the agenda for today's meeting of the committee.

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Italy's Great Britain today in reply to urgent queries concerning the reported landing of Italian troops in Spain that the contingent which disembarked at Cadiz March 5 was made up only of volunteer doctors and nurses. No Italian troops have landed in Spain, the reply stated flatly. It was pointed out that foreign medical workers do not come under the ban of volunteers effected by 27 nations, in an accord of neutrality, last Feb. 20.

Authorized sources said Great Britain was satisfied with the answer on this point.

PARIS, March 23 (AP)—French Senators, disturbed over reports of Italian troops fighting on the insurgent side of the Spanish civil war, sent a delegation to Ponce, Minister Yvon Delbos today to inform him the European non-intervention agreement must be clarified "quickly and with the greatest delicacy."

CHRYSLER-LEWIS TALK ARRANGED

Moley Opposes Court Plan Of The President

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Raymond Moley, once close to the White House, told the Senate Judiciary committee today that President Roosevelt's court bill would "inevitably" weaken the "authority and prestige" of the Supreme Court.

Moley read a long prepared statement in which he contended that the measure would "abandon" the "American method" of seeking social and economic changes. He urged a constitutional amendment.

Friends of the Roosevelt court enlargement plan, led by Senator Neely (D., W. Va.), quickly seized upon Moley's former statement in cross-examining him.

Under Neely's questioning, Moley contended the Supreme Court was "part of the policy making instrumentalities" of the government and "ought to pay attention to the political thought of the people as expressed at the polls."

Although Moley spoke as an advocate of the President's objectives, he said in response to one of Neely's questions that he believed "most of the objectives" had already been achieved.

When Neely mentioned wage and hour legislation, Moley contended that would require a constitutional amendment.

After the West Virginia Senator had repeatedly asked what amendments Moley would advocate, the witness finally replied:

"First, an amendment like that suggested by Senator Borah, to free the states from the restrictions of the due process clause.

"Second, an extension of government's commerce power—and I am not sure that is very popular.

"Third, a requirement that more than a bare majority of the court concur in declaring a federal law unconstitutional.

"Fourth, compulsory retirement of justices at some fixed age, say 70, 72 or 75.

"I don't think you could solve your problem by any one of these methods. You would have to consider all four."

JAYCEES WILL STRESS FARM PROGRAM HERE

CLOSE COOPERATION IS SOUGHT BETWEEN CITY, COUNTRY

An extensive program to bring farmers, stockmen and their city cousins into closer relationship through the common denominator of interest in each other's problems is being planned by the agricultural committee of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by Dick Hughes, president of the Jaycees.

"Here in this rich agricultural community," Mr. Hughes stated, "our problems are the problems of the farmer and his problem, by the same token, become ours."

It is the plan of the committee to hold meetings of interest to farmers and stockmen at which there will be an exchange of ideas.

"Probably a comparatively few Pampans know just what is being done in an agricultural way in Gray and surrounding counties," Mr. Hughes stated. "It is our hope in these meetings to get speakers from the farms here to tell us of their work and of the problems with which they are confronted.

"The same thing holds true with the stockmen. We are going to invite them to sit in with us. We'll learn their accomplishments and become better acquainted with our neighbors. The city limits of Pampa have nothing to do with the relationship that should exist between country and city dwellers.

"Agriculture is one of our biggest industries. If there is something we can do to help the farmers and stockmen we want them to know that the facilities of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce at their disposal.

"Only by frequent get-together meetings such as are being planned can we hope to attain this end."

James Collins, president of the Board of City Development, is cooperating with the Junior body on the program. Agriculture committees of the two groups will work together on the plans.

During April special emphasis will be placed on the agricultural theme at all Junior Chamber of Commerce meetings, according to Clarence Kennedy, general program chairman.

At the final meeting of the month on Tuesday, April 27, a night session will be held for growers and stockmen, Mr. Kennedy stated.

April meetings will be arranged by the agricultural committee which is composed of James Hatfield, W. T. Fraser, Marvin Lewis, Robert Knox and Tex De Weese, chairman.

JUDGE MURRAH SHOWS LENIENCY TO YOUTH

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23 (AP)—The youngest federal judge in the nation faced a 15-year old defendant.

"I was just 15 years old when I came to the state," 33-year old Judge A. P. Murrah told a farm boy charged with violating the state's child labor law. "I went to school and you can too. Now you have a clean record. Go back to school and make a man of yourself."

Placed with the youth on probation was his mother, Mrs. Louisa Long Shire, told Judge Murrah she was a risker to educate her children but admitted under questioning her son had not been in school since last October. He fined her $100.

'MASKED TERROR' OF CHICAGO IS KILLED

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—Two policemen shot and killed the "Masked Terror" of the Chicago Lawn district early today.

The slain man was identified by Miss Ann Weiner, daughter of a rabbi, as the masked gunman who attacked her early Sunday morning after robbing her escort.

Police Captain William Collins said he was confident the slain man also was the person who shot and killed without warning Mrs. Mary Irwin, wife of a policeman, as she was walking with her daughter two weeks ago.

Model Homes Are 'Shot in the Arm' Says FHA Speaker

Lumbermen and contractors of Pampa last night were informed that building of model homes was stimulating the building trade in several other cities when R. E. Sikes of the Fort Worth office of the Federal Housing Administration spoke to lumbermen, contractors, architects, law firm company representatives and a group of interested citizens in the city hall.

The official told contractors that title one of the National Housing Act, that pertaining to remodeling and repairing, would be no more after April 1 unless congress saw fit to renew the section of the act. He further stated that title two, the building and purchasing of homes, had become a permanent governmental agency.

Postoffice Here Designated as an Examining Point

Pampa's postoffice soon will be designated as a general examination point where all civil service examinations will be conducted, according to a letter received here today from E. H. Jennings, district manager of the United States Civil Service district, with offices in New Orleans.

Mr. Jennings' letter read in part: "The Pampa postoffice shortly will be designated as a general examination point, that is to say, all of the examinations announced by the civil service commission, which are not local in character, will be conducted in your city."

Date of the first examination here has not been set but it will probably be within the next month when suitable furniture can be installed and office changes in the building made.

Examinations for stenographers and typists will not be possible here until Mr. Jennings or one of his deputies have visited Pampa, and given special instructions to examiners. That will be sometime in May, according to the communication.

County Donates Fund To Help Finance Lake Lobby

County commissioners yesterday voted to pay $220 to the Panhandle Water Conservation Association as the first installment on the $800 quota allotted to Gray county.

The money is a part of $100,000 set up by Panhandle counties to be used as a fund for the purpose of securing government aid in water and soil conservation measures throughout the area.

Commissioners in discussing the matter voted to give whole-hearted support to the general Panhandle-wide movement in that direction.

The commission also approved the bond of Toll Moore as justice of the peace at McLean. Mr. Moore recently was appointed to succeed the late J. F. Hensley.

Authorization was given to County Attorney Joe Gordon to collect back interest on principal on county school lands sold in 1907 to buyers in Gaines and Dawson counties in West Texas. The county soon will begin foreclosure suits against probably several hundred buyers of the land who have become delinquent in their payments. More than 17,000 acres of land were included in the original sale which was made to one man and later sold off in countless sub-divided tracts.

Commissioners yesterday also voted a salary of $125 a month for a deputy constable in precinct No. 2, in which Otis Hendrix is constable. Originally a salary of only $25 a month for a part-time constable was set up. The commissioners decided to make the post a full-time job.

At the regular commissioners' court meeting yesterday the First National Bank of Pampa was approved as a depository for county funds and the county treasurer was authorized to enter into an agreement.

COMMISSION TO ISSUE NO MARCH GAS ORDER

AUSTIN, March 23 (AP)—The railroad commission for the first time in several years will issue no gas proration order this month because of a Supreme Court decision holding invalid certain ratable taking regulations under the gas conservation law.

A hearing has been set for April 3 to take testimony on which to base a new order but probably will be postponed to permit operators to gather more evidence as to conditions in the gas fields.

The Supreme Court ruling was made several weeks ago in the Consolidated Gas Utilities and the Texas Natural Gas company cases.

GOVERNOR DECIDES TO 'UPHOLD PUBLIC AUTHORITY'

DETROIT, March 23 (AP)—Governor Frank Murphy announced today that he expected Walter P. Chrysler and John L. Lewis to confer with him tomorrow at Lansing in an attempt to avert "extreme and costly measures with possible unfortunate consequences" in the Chrysler corporation strike.

The governor indicated he had assurance both men would accept his telegraphed invitations.

His announcement heightened hopes for a peaceable solution of strife that has grown more ominous daily.

In identical telegrams to the chairman of the Chrysler corporation board issued to the militant chief of the committee for industrial organization, the governor declared that the state would "employ all necessary and available means to uphold public authority."

His reference was to the writs of attachment issued by Circuit Judge Allan Campbell last Friday for the arrest of 6,000 strikers occupying eight Chrysler plants in defiance of a court jurisdiction. He said it was "expected" that Sheriff Thomas C. Wilcox, of Wayne county, would "request assistance of state authorities in execution of the writs."

"While respecting rights of workers and seeking to advance their proper interests by lawful means," the telegram said, "state government cannot forsake its responsibility."

"In view of large interests at stake, and desirability of ascertaining whether adjustment is possible before taking extreme and costly measures with possible unfortunate consequences, I am requesting that you confer with me."

The UAW, meanwhile, was preparing for a "show of strength" to be held in downtown Detroit under a compromise agreement with Mayor Frank Couzens. The mayor's consent, that the meeting should

COL. HOUSE ADVOCATES HEAVILY ARMED PEACE

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23 (AP)—Col. E. M. House, advisor to the Wilson administration, in a signed article written for the April issue of the American Legion monthly declared "America can have peace if it is strong enough to command peace in the event of another great war."

Pointing out that in 1914 the nations of Europe "almost impatiently" awaited war, the diplomat finds the situation today "even more threatening."

Col. House said "had the United States possessed an armed force commensurate with our wealth, resource and population, prior to 1914, we might not only have avoided involvement in the conflict, but we might even have prevented the World War from taking place."

I Saw . . .

A 20-inch brightly-colored, red, white and black snake, brought to the NEWS in a fruit jar by George H. Neef, West Alcock street, that was causing a lot of argument today. Some say the snake is a coral, one of the most poisonous of American reptiles and rare in this section, and others say it is a harmless garter snake. "Dan" McGrew, the mayor of Kingmill, opined it was a garter snake. Mrs. Frances Alexander's biology class is inspecting it this afternoon. Mr. Neef found the snake hibernating about a foot and a half below the earth while working on a gas line near the Shell gasoline plant in Skelltown. The snake was rigid when discovered and was picked up with a pair of tongs. Mr. Neef said the longest a coral snake grows is about 24 inches.

CLASS ENJOYS BOOK REVIEW

Guests Present the Fidelis Class Program

A review of the amusing "Around the World in Eleven Years," travel book written by three children who have accompanied their parents to many countries, was presented by Mrs. Raymond Harrah, program guest of First Baptist Fidelis class at the home of Miss Aline Macy last evening.

Misses Marjorie Coker, Donnie Lee Stroope, Liwelyn Shelby, and Rowena Wasson were assisting hostesses for the class entertainment.

Another guest was Mrs. F. L. Elliott of Albany, former Pampaian who is visiting here. She sang a solo and accompanied group songs. Miss Louelle Cunningham and Mrs. T. F. Morton gave readings. Old-time songs with gestures, were led by Misses Katherine Simmons, Vida Cox, and Jerry Mitchell.

Miss Morton, teacher, was surprised with a gift, a blue pottery flower bowl and candle holder.

Others present were Misses Bertha Edwards, Hildred Brake, Joan Moore, Louise Anderson, Louise Melaise, Zenobia McFarlin, Johnnie Davis, for anemia, with you maybe some day soon, or else you give him a position of trust for a while. It depends entirely on your study of the boy and the best way to handle him.

At home he comes in with a flourish and in two minutes has awakened the baby, knocked the milk bottles down the steps and choked on a purloined apple.

He's in "high," you see, and he kicks in the world before him. Animal spirits, surprise, steam, thumping his nose at restriction.

He knows he's being bad, and he's ready for all comers. He'd just like a good calling down first rate, so he can sass back.

It's too bad to disappoint your boy, but the very best disciplining he could have at the moment is silence on your part. It will cut under, when words or smacks won't. Cold water on such ambition usually kills it.

Our overly-ambitious Billy may get out and fight a chum, or call a policeman names, but gradually he will deflate. He may come in as meek as Moses at 5 o'clock and pick up the milk bottles as he arrives.

If he gets too cocky, he needs some trimming, for such days can't become a habit; but if we know our man, we'll find that there are times for sensible advice and warnings (never threats) that are best given when he is in a receptive mood and listening—the psychological moment, so-called, when impressions sink in.

Otherwise he builds a wall, antagonistic to suggestion. He's up on top of it, too, with snowballs in his hand. Best to wait until he comes down off his perch and hasn't any thing to throw.

"Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil," has its place in child raising, many times over. To be deaf, blind and dumb are, at times, the gauge of a wise parent.

YOUR CHILDREN

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. When judging growing children there are times to see things and times to be blind.

You can forgive a lot in children. For instance, Billy comes in with a light of mischief in his eyes. He has his moods, as we all do, and on occasion the spirit of Loki, the joker-god, gets into him.

Peel your eyes and stop your tongue at such a time, because Billy is going to have his fun, and work off his surplus urges in some way. At this time he will become argumentative and unreasonable, if he is caught. Arguments with children are futile because they see one way and we see another. Usually we lose, unless we resort to the prerogatives of superior age and add force to reason.

But back to Billy. In school, he winks at the kids. He's trying to get a rise out of you. You go right on putting sentences on the blackboard and say evenly, "Good morning, William."

Just Looking For Trouble. After that he settles in his seat, but he bangs the inkwell lid up and down and drops some books. You go right on as though nothing had happened. Billy has his days, and this is one. He is due for a little confab, with you maybe some day soon, or else you give him a position of trust for a while. It depends entirely on your study of the boy and the best way to handle him.

At home he comes in with a flourish and in two minutes has awakened the baby, knocked the milk bottles down the steps and choked on a purloined apple.

He's in "high," you see, and he kicks in the world before him. Animal spirits, surprise, steam, thumping his nose at restriction.

He knows he's being bad, and he's ready for all comers. He'd just like a good calling down first rate, so he can sass back.

It's too bad to disappoint your boy, but the very best disciplining he could have at the moment is silence on your part. It will cut under, when words or smacks won't. Cold water on such ambition usually kills it.

Our overly-ambitious Billy may get out and fight a chum, or call a policeman names, but gradually he will deflate. He may come in as meek as Moses at 5 o'clock and pick up the milk bottles as he arrives.

If he gets too cocky, he needs some trimming, for such days can't become a habit; but if we know our man, we'll find that there are times for sensible advice and warnings (never threats) that are best given when he is in a receptive mood and listening—the psychological moment, so-called, when impressions sink in.

Otherwise he builds a wall, antagonistic to suggestion. He's up on top of it, too, with snowballs in his hand. Best to wait until he comes down off his perch and hasn't any thing to throw.

"Hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil," has its place in child raising, many times over. To be deaf, blind and dumb are, at times, the gauge of a wise parent.

Chapter XXIV Daphne was very calm about it. "I'm sorry that you do," she said, "but I'm a little surprised. And while I dislike quotations, you might remember that one about sauce for the goose."

"This is no time to be gay," Jennifer said. "We're going to have a showdown."

"Don't be vulgar, Jennifer. What on earth do you mean by a showdown? It's all on the table. There's nothing you don't know—or have guessed—about it. Mr. Herzberg offered me the part and I've accepted it. You've always known that I was interested in the theater and you've always said a girl should take her chance when it was offered to her."

"Sisters don't do that, to each other," Jennifer retorted. "At least not a sister who has always protested her 'great love and desire is to do what is best' for her dear little sister. Oh, it's despicable of you!"

"Jennifer, you've cut yourself a slice of your own cake and it doesn't taste good, does it?" Jennifer stared back at her wordlessly.

"For the first time you're learning what it is to see another person take what she wants. And isn't it fair?"

"Yes, that's the word," Daphne said calmly. "Don't I get anything?" "You've got everything."

"Thanks for the compliment. I was going to point out to you that it's about time I had a bit of glamour in my life. It's not too late, I'm beginning to discover. I lived in a furnished room and earned my keep so that you could stay in an expensive school. When you got out, I did everything I could to give you a good start. You didn't show up too well so I'm the worst that's turned."

"I never asked for any favors, did I?"

"Only a few," Daphne said politely. "On the other hand, you gave none. Suppose you look at it this way: Granting that I've used your tactics and my poor sportsmanship—I know it is—it's the one way of showing you that the girl who uses poor sportsmanship doesn't always win. Granting that, isn't it a fair exchange?"

"I don't know what you mean." "I'm going to tell you what I mean. You know that I loved Larry. You knew that he loved me. You knew that we had quarreled but you should have known that lovers quarrels can be patched up. Yet, deliberately, when I was away, you took him away from me."

Jennifer started to speak but Daphne went on: "All right, it's a fair exchange; you'll have Larry and I'll have the theater. And if this is to be the lesson I mean it to be, you'll be a better wife to Larry. You'll try and see his point of view. You'll remember that you lost something because you didn't know how to play squarely. Maybe it'll make you the kind of a girl I tried to make of you. That's all."

Daphne whirled out of the room. Jennifer sighed at her. "Daphne... are you doing this just to teach me a lesson. Because if you are..."

Daphne was very cool, keeping a firm hold on herself. She answered "Not at all."

After that, for the remainder of the week the two girls avoided each other. If Jennifer pretended to be asleep when Daphne rose in the morning, it was no different from Daphne's pretense of the same thing at night.

But Daphne had little need to pretend many of those nights. Rehearsals to be given at the tense speed and concentration that was necessary if the play was to open on the date Gordon Herzberg intended, proved a soul-fatiguing task. Daphne left the house before 10 in the morning and often did not return until 2 or 3 in the next morning.

The week-end was just another series of rehearsing days for her. What she was thinking was something that even Anne, her confident, didn't know.

Jennifer spoke to her only when it was necessary and then in monosyllables. But Jennifer took to giving her strange glances and more than once she came into the room they shared and stood silently staring for a moment as though there was something she wanted to say.

Daphne had to keep her mind from thoughts of Jennifer. A new quiet, a strained haunting in Jennifer's eyes smote her and more than once she was tempted to ask Jennifer to talk to her.

"Then, thinking of Jennifer and Larry, she was firm again and put her pity out of her heart.

Five days before the play was to open, she found Jennifer in tears. Jennifer hadn't cried even when she was a baby.

"What is it, Jennifer?" she asked gently.

Jennifer wiped her tears away on her sleeve; an incredibly childish gesture.

"Nothing," she said proudly and walked into the bath.

Daphne got up and followed her. "I suppose you think this is easy for me?"

"I'm sure I don't know, but if it makes you any more satisfied, you'll be glad to know that you're breaking my heart."

"Have you really got one?" Daphne said.

"Yes, it seems that I have. It was all in the theater until..." She put her hands over her face and her shoulders shook.

"All of it couldn't have been there, Larry," Daphne reminded her.

"There isn't Larry... and there... there never was. He wasn't in love with you all the time, I did. She gulped and went on again. "After you went away and I called Tuck and he said he wouldn't come over because you told him he couldn't be the last straw. You

PASS OFFENSE ENABLES FOES TO WIN GAME

ON WHOLE, HARVESTERS OUTPLAY STRONG OPPONENTS

Ex-Harvesters still in school shed out another close victory over the Harvesters of 1937 yesterday afternoon when they slipped across a touchdown in the closing minutes of play for an 18 to 14 victory.

Demonstrating that they have fight and fire, the Harvesters overcame a 14 point lead garnered by the exes in the first quarter when they jumped the strong wind in their back. The exes scored after about five minutes of furious play in which the Harvesters were twice backed under the shadow of the goal posts where they held. A fumble gave the exes the ball on the three extra point when Showers crashed over. He failed to add the extra point.

A 30-yard pass just before the close of the first quarter gave the exes their other touchdown. Showers shot a 25-yard heave to Ayer who jumped the remaining distance for the touchdown. Again Showers failed to add the extra point.

Fumbles and a couple of dropped passes in the open coat the Harvesters touchdowns in the second quarter when they had the exes on the run most of the time. Near the half the Harvesters dropped a couple of exes behind the line of scrimmage and then swarmed "Tessy" Reynolds under when he tried to sneak the ball out from behind the goal line for two points.

With the wind still in their back in the third stanza, the Mitchellmen played sparkling football. Although balked on two scoring attempts, the light Harvesters came back to score. Wear crashing through for the final five yards after Graham, Smith and Heiskell had shown their stuff. Graham failed to convert.

Just before losing the wind advantage, the Harvesters slipped across another 6 points when "Admiral" Dewey slipped and sizzled seven yards for a counter. Again Graham failed to add the extra point.

After being held three times on the 10-yard line, Showers shot a bullet pass over the center of the line to Ayer who fell across the goal line by inches for the final counter. The Harvesters had pushed the exes back to their 10-yard line at the final whistle.

Pass Defense Weak With the exception of a pass defense, the Harvesters showed up exceptionally well against their more experienced opponents. Coaches have not had time to work on the aerial defense and as a result, two of the exes' touchdowns were the result of passes from the trusty hand of Showers into the open arms of Ayer.

With Cox out of the game for the rest of the spring training period, Melvin Turner was conscripted for the end position and after learning plays from diagrams, proceeded to enter his name in the list of promising wingmen. Reynolds at the other end of the line played a bang-up game, especially on defense.

Big Brown and Coshov were starting tackles with Solomon and New getting their chance to show up about as well as the starters. Nelson and Mathews, starting guards, were assisted by Watts and Flemming. Harding and Parish worked at centers with Parish looking exceptionally good.

Tackling Improves Graham, Smith, Williams and Dewey made up the starting backfield with Wear, Carr, Heiskell, and Dunaway tackling. The backs showed better ball carrying ability and their relaying was greatly improved. Starting exes were Maxey and Ayer, ends; Roy Jones and John-

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 23 (AP)—So what about this Feller feller? Well, he's one of the nicest kids you ever saw and he's got one of the hardest hit ones you ever saw. . . . At 19, he'll collect about $30,000 for his first season with the Indians—$10,000 salary plus another $20,000 for endorsements, radio appearances, etc. . . . He's still a baseball gamble, but if you want to buy him you'd better pay $250,000 on the line. . . . Alva Bradley, president of the Indians, is considering having the lad's right arm insured for $10,000 or so.

Feller keeps up with his studies while training. . . . They've dug up a private tutor for him and he goes through his academic paces each afternoon. . . . In May he'll go back to Iowa to receive his high school diploma. . . . He's the No. 1 guy around town for the New Orleans kids who pack the bleachers every time he pitches.

There was a story going the rounds that the Cleveland front office wanted to make a Sunday pitcher out of Feller. . . . That is, work him only on Sundays and jam the parks around the American league until his box office value slumped. . . . It didn't take Manager Steve O'Connell to realize that one. . . . He considers Feller a sure bet to win 20 or more games and will use him as often as is consistent. . . . Last time he worked, Feller fanned five of six batters to face him and said he'd have got the last man out had he had a little more resin on the ball.

PIRATES MAY WRECK HOPES OF NATIONALS

'PIE' TRAYNOR SAYS HE IS SATISFIED WITH PITCHERS

(Note: This is another of a series dealing with prospects of major league baseball teams.)

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 23 (AP)—Pie Traynor says he is satisfied with a seasoned outfit that was a headache for every club except the New York Giants last year, stand a fair chance of scuttling the pennant hopes of other National league contenders.

Manager Harold J. Traynor, the "Pie" of baseball hit batsmen, looked over his camp in training today and proclaimed it the best he has had since he took over the Buccaneer ship.

"We've got a lefthander now, Ed Brandt," said Traynor. "We lost out last year because our righthanders couldn't stop the Giants. We dropped nine out of eleven to them in the polo grounds. That cost us the championship. I believe Brandt will help us a lot."

Traynor believes Fred Lucas, Bill Swift and Jimmie Hamilton will perform as dependably as last year, when they turned in 45 wins, that Mace Brown will do better than the 10 victories he pitched last year, and that Cy Blanton will regain the prowess he displayed in 1935.

Veteran White Hoyt is still a capable relief hurler, and the addition of Brandt completes the mound staff.

The Pirate infield, with the exception of second base, seems set, with Gus Suhr at first, Pete Young and Leo Stanley being hit out for second, Arky Vaughn at short and hefty Bill Brubaker at third.

The outfield shapes up as one of the best in the circuit, what with last year's combination of the two Waners, Paul and Lloyd, and Woody Jensen.

The catching will be in the hands of last year's regulars, Al Todd and Tommy Padden, and Aubrey Epps from Scranton will be given a chance to fill in.

14-YEAR OLD GIRLS MARRIED IN KENTUCKY SNEEDVILLE, Tenn., March 23 (AP)—Young exes Tennessee mountain girls apparently are set on proving "love will find a way" regardless of law-makers.

The January marriage of 9-year-old Eunice Winstead to Charlie Johns, 23, stirred wide criticism and brought a new statute setting 16 as the marriage age minimum but that didn't prevent the wedding of 14-year-old Dollie Livesay, mountain neighbor of Eunice.

It was learned today that Dollie and James Brewer, handsome 23-year-old hillside farmer, were married a week ago in Middlesboro, Ky., the state line being less than 10 miles from the isolated homes of the Livesays and the Winsteads.

NEW BUILDING TO BE FINEST SAYS TRUSTEE

HEATING SYSTEM BOILER WILL BE FAR AWAY BY WILLIAM T. RIVES. NEW LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Cheers from lusty-voiced youngsters fairly split the London school building last Thursday morning as the students planned a victorious invasion of Henderson, Texas, to win the county scholastic meet.

Less than six hours later the building was split—this time literally—by a lethal blast which killed 455 children and teachers.

The spirit which had impelled the school to win the 1936 meet is the spirit which will carry New London far beyond any civic attainments reached before, says the Rev. R. L. Jackson, Methodist preacher.

"This year the London school district did not win the district meet as had been planned," he said. "The children who were to bring back medals were buried the next day. The spirit that was silenced by the grim reaper is but for the time, London will come back bigger and greater."

Mr. Jackson who went from home to home continuously to console parents he thought would be pros- trated, was astounded by the stoic determination to comfort neighbors instead of expressing self-pity.

"As soon as a family had buried their dead they came back to the church to help comfort and console others. This was in dozens of cases."

Mr. Jackson said the school trustees were planning, although nothing definite had been done, to build a bigger, more elaborate school than the pretentious institution torn asunder.

"One trustee," he said, "remarked the building would be the greatest money could buy, the safest human beings can construct—but with the heating system boiler so far away you can hardly see it."

ANOTHER DROUGHT WOULD NOT SURPRISE EXPERTS WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Government weather experts said today they would not be surprised if another drought burns part of the country this year.

They avoid making long-time definite predictions and explained the year may bring ample moisture for crops. Past records, however, indicate the climate is in a dry phase with mild winters.

J. B. Kincher, chief of the climate and crop division, said climatologists have been unable to foretell the exact time of periodic rainfall depressions.

He added, however, that the recent droughts may be expected periodically in climates such as this, and the future doubtless will see repetitions. More optimistic was Kincher's assertion that "when the present drought definitely comes to an end, there will be a period of years with comparatively heavy rainfall, and little will be heard about dust storms and the like."

Training Camp News

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Southpaw pitching trouble was first on the trouble list today at the Detroit Tiger camp. One of the best rookie bats, Clyde Hatler, was wild and ineffective in the 6 to 2 loss to Boston's Bees yesterday.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Observers who watched Washington beat Boston, 4 to 1, said today it looks as if the playing days of Joe Cronin are ended. He yielded third base to Pinky Higgins, and now is being tested for second base by a rookie from the West Coast, Bobby Doerr.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Winter Haven merchants have declared a half-holiday Wednesday when the Phillies play Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers at Denison field.

MEXICO CITY—Connie Mack revamped his Philadelphia Athletics' batting order for exhibition games with major and minor league rivals. He said the catcher, either Frank Hayes or Earl Brucker, will hit No. 6 instead of eighth.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—Kept idle by a snowstorm yesterday, the Pittsburgh Pirates returned to the practice field today.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Joe DiMaggio began the sternest test of a ballplayer's worth in the big time, "the second year," with a pair of hits in his first game with the Yankees and a firm resolve to use a lighter bat as the season progresses.

GULFPORT, Miss.—Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons may pitch the Giants' opening game of the season against the Brooklyn Dodgers according to Col. Bill Terry.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Geo. Jeffcoat and Jim Peterson, Dodger hurlers, are exchanging trade secrets. Jeffcoat is teaching Peterson a few things about curves in exchange for some advice on card tricks from the magician-pitcher.

LOCKHART, Tex.—Two teams of Browns, the Hornsby's and the Bottomleys, meet today in an exhibition game.

LEESBURG, Fla.—The Cards league with another "relative" today, the Rochester club of the International league.

SARASOTA, Fla.—The Cincinnati Reds came here today to meet the Red Sox.

NEW ORLEANS — Pitchers Mel Harder, Johnny Allen and Earl Whitehill are expected to see their first real action of the spring training season against the New Orleans Pelicans Thursday.

PASADENA — Manager Dykes gave the Chicago White Sox a tongue lashing for slovenly fielding in two games against Las Angeles.

AVALON—The Chicago Cubs, according to Manager Grimm, are going to go after exhibition game victories with the same zest as in the regular season.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Tired by a 50-mile bus ride from Orlando, the Red Sox came back to Sarasota today to play their first exhibition on the home grounds, against the Cincinnati Reds.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The Boston Bees had only an hour's drill today, partly because they were tired after a nine-inning exhibition game yesterday and partly as a reward because they beat the Tigers, 6 to 2.

Flying Duchess of England Is Hunted LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Emergency workers in the Fenlands turned from their struggle with a flood today to hunt for Britain's "Flying Duchess," the 71-year-old Duchess of Bedford, in the fear she had crashed on some watery field.

It was believed she might have mistaken land covered with several feet of water for a smooth, dry landing place yesterday while flying solo from Weburn on what was intended as a short jaunt.

The titled aviatrix took up flying when she was 62 and has flown many thousands of miles.

Story Of Man Who Caught Bob Feller

By FRED WILLIAMS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Once I was a catcher in the old Marble valley league in Vermont. I thought I was good and that a pitcher could not serve them up too hot. But I faced this young Bob Feller. There had been a lot of trumpeting about his prowess, but I didn't believe it. Now I am sadder but wiser because I have first-hand information.

Behind a catcher's mask, chest protector, shin guards and the nerve of a greenhorn I stood before this pitcher over what appeared to me the shortest 60 feet imaginable.

After he had pitched one warm-up ball look on the appearance of an opposing guard on a football team. I questioned the distance. Bob assured me he had paced it off, reared back, raised a very large foot and turned the first one loose.

It was easy. I made what I thought was a very snappy stop and smirked at a group of Cleveland's Indians, who insultingly had inquired why the chest protector and the shin guards.

The net pitches came in with a little more speed, but nothing unusual, and I was beginning to wonder why this so-so hurler had caused all the puffing by writers and pondering by Judge Landis when Bob said: "This will be fast on the outside."

This was understatement of the rankiest sort. Instead of the ordinary baseball, something that appeared the size of a golf ball came hurtling down that very short 60 feet. I caught it, unfortunately. First there was the shock, then the sting, and then 65 porcupines marched up my left arm, across my shoulder and back down again. The ball disappeared.

"It's in the mitt," young Mr. Feller said kindly.

There were a few more like this, but it didn't matter. After that first one nothing mattered.

"Now we'll try a curve," Bob said.

This displayed a lack of geometrical learning on his part. It wasn't a curve. It was a right angle.

It started out like the fast ball and in the fleeting second I thought he had changed his mind. That appeared. Just before it reached the plate it made a right oblique and dropped three feet. The fact I stopped it at all is proof that the mind may be weak, but the reflex motions strong.

"Well try that again," Bob said. "I didn't like it."

I told him that made it unannounced—I didn't like it either. This time it didn't drop, just that sharp off-slant ahead of the plate. I made a nice catch off the back-stop.

My hand had taken on the rosate hue of a balled lobster by this time and I vaguely recalled all pitchers had a slow ball in their repertoire.

"Don't you have a change of pace?" I asked.

"Yes," Bob replied. "Do you want me to throw my fast one?"

This was too much of enough and with profound sympathy for American league batsmen — and Cleveland catcher — I turned the equipment back to Frankie Pytko of the Indians, who is a good catcher, too.

Teachers' Duties in Hall Are Stricter

In a recent faculty meeting the teachers were informed that the hall duty begins at 8 o'clock and lasts until 8:30 in the mornings. The noon duty begins at 12 and lasts until 8:30 in the mornings. Those who want to study must go to rooms 207, 208, or the library. The students are not to go to other rooms except upon request of the teachers in charge of that room.

Miss Zenobia McFarlin, head of the commercial department, has asked that students not be allowed to go type except upon the request of a teacher.

Students are not to go to their lockers at all between classes unless the case seems very urgent.

The library assistants are asked not to let pupils eat ice cream in the library.

If the teachers find that it is impossible to be on duty in the halls at their assigned periods, they are asked to make arrangements with someone to take their place.

Guerillas Given Sweaters in Assembly

Last Wednesday morning the Guerilla football team was presented their hard won sweaters. The members of the team were in part Marc Mitscher, Harold Witsy, Elmer Waslinger, Louis Robinson, Oliver Coshaw, Melvin Watkins, and Denver Hubert. The presentation was made by Coach Bob Curry.

Oliver Coshaw was elected as last year's honorary captain. Preceding the giving of the sweaters, Principal L. L. Stone presented Rev. W. C. House, who in turn addressed the student body.

JUNIORS START REHEARSAL FOR ANNUAL PLAY

Humor, Philosophy Predominate in Story

The cast for the junior play has been chosen and rehearsals are under way, according to Kenneth Carmer, director of dramatics.

For more than two and a half years a series of mountain sketches called "Moonlight and Honeyuckle" dealing with the feud between Bevins and Gaddis families has been a weekly feature on the radio. Lulu Vallmer, remembered for her fine moving drama, "Sun Up," wrote the series, and here condensed it into a three-act play.

Humor, philosophy, comedy, and romance fill the story of Clemm Betts who strives and eventually succeeds in bringing harmony in to the hostile valley below Lonesome Mountain. Although in love with Annie Bevins, he learns that she cares more for Buck of the rival family of Gaddis, he immediately lends his aid to this Romeo and Juliet romance of the backwoods. The Bevins and Gaddis families have been feuding for a good many years. Neither of them know just what it's all about but it's a good fight and they haven't any intention of dropping it. Clem insists that his heart is dead and that he has buried it many times since after the trial of Peg-Leg Gaddis, who is charged with disturbing public worship when he rode a mule into church and "shot up" the wedding of his son.

Out of 87 tryouts the following were selected: Clem Betts, Mattie Brown; Buck Gaddis, Don Taylor; Pa Betts, John Henry Nelson; Piny Hyatt, Bernie Adcock; Cracker Gaddis, Alberteen Schulkey; Pink Freeze, Hugh Anderson; Annie Bevins, Jeanette Cole; Peg-Leg Gaddis, Travis Gee; Tom Bevins, Bill James; The Peddler, Dick Kennedy; Gypsy Carter, Doris Cupp; Judge Bill Hawks, Chester Hunkapillar.

Proceeds from the play will be used to pay for the junior-senior banquet which will be given early in May.

One Cast To Be Chosen From Six Tryout Groups

Tryouts for the all school one-act play were started last Wednesday. At the first tryouts six casts were chosen.

Another tryout will be Thursday of this week and the number of casts will be cut to three.

The first Tuesday after Easter vacation two of the casts will be chosen to continue until about ten days before the play is to be given, which is to be April 17. Only one cast will rehearse the last ten days. The cast is chosen by the individuals, not the cast.

Each of these casts is to have a students director. These directors will be given their cast Thursday afternoon.

Those trying for directors are Mary Douglas, Arvo Goddard, Mickey Ledrick, Sarah Pafford, and Edith Milton. Others have not yet been named.

Mr. Carmer, the dramatic instructor, will direct the play.

Mildred Tolbert To Enter Baylor

Mildred Tolbert, graduate of the class of '36, who is now attending Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) at Denton plans to enter nurses training at Baylor University school of nursing in Dallas next fall.

In a recent letter to Mrs. Hol Wagner she told of having heard Mrs. Roosevelt address the student body.

"We heard Mrs. Roosevelt day before yesterday. She spoke on problems of youth. It was very thrilling to see her. Will Durant spoke last night. They certainly give us good talks and speakers here." Of the college she wrote, "This is a good school, and I am glad I came here."

She also commented on the beautiful spring—"not a bit of dust—just new leaves and blossoms everywhere." She will be home for the spring vacation.

Mildred was elected to the National Honor Society in her junior year. She was especially active in journalistic work, having served on the staff of both the school paper and the annual. She was a member of the pep squad and also the tennis squad.

Many New Books Put Into Library

Miss Latimer has made a list of the newest books in the library. Among the popular ones are Barretts of Wimpole Street, Desier; As the Earth Turns, Carroll; Rich Land, Poor Land, Chase; Martin Johnson, Lion Hunter, Green; Canterbury Tales, Hill, tr.; Makers of Chemistry, Holmyard; From Galileo to Cosmic Rays, Lemaitre, and Everybody's Pepsy, Morehead, ed.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL OF US

The home economics department certainly should be given a vote of thanks for bringing to Pampa High school the magnificent art collection last week. The collection was wide in scope and appeal. There were pictures for every taste. Works by Italian, French, Dutch, Flemish, Spanish, English and American artists thru different periods.

Did you visit the gallery? If you did not you missed a great cultural treat. It would be impossible to see the originals of most of these pictures without journeying to the art galleries of foreign lands. Very few of them are privately owned, due to their prohibitive price. This exhibit was in the reach of the entire student body for the nominal price of 10c. Did you enjoy these copies of the world's masterpieces or did you spend your allowance seeing a "movie"?

We certainly owe the home economics department not only a vote of thanks but our gratitude and hundred per cent support for making possible for our pleasure this extraordinary collection of art treasures.

WHICH IS CORRECT?

Has the name of the Guerillas been changed through the course of years? In looking through a 1929 annual it was discovered that the team was originally called the GUERRILLAS which means "men-of-war." Since that time someone changed the spelling and when they did the meaning was changed also, for the GORILLAS mean "ape-men."

An editorial was written about this earlier in the year, but apparently it passed unnoticed for when the sweaters were handed out last week they had the name GORILLA on them.

All this past season the NEWS and the Little Harvester have used what was meant to be the meaning in the first place, GUERRILLAS—men-of-war.

What is your opinion? Which shall they be called in future years?

CLUB FUND FOR SCHOLARSHIP IS AIDED BY STYLE SHOW AT LA NORA THEATER

Pre-Easter Parade of Fashion to Benefit Club

A style show showing all of Pampa's Easter finery was given Friday night at the LaNora theater. The fund will go to the A. A. U. W. to benefit some girl graduate attend college next year. The winner will be known until the last month of school.

Home Ec. Club Views Art Exhibit

Miss Roy Riley, Junior High art teacher, spoke to the Future Homemakers of Texas in the art exhibit room on the 150 pictures that were on exhibit there. The group was entertained also by Patsy Cason with several clever songs and readings.

After reports from the secretary, Betty Shrock, and the treasurer, Jeanette Cole, the group selected "In Ourselves Our Future Lies" as a slogan. "Hohe Ec. Home Ec. full of pep, you bet we've got it by the peck, Home Ec." was chosen as the club yell.

Following the program refreshments of hot rolls, salad, and lemonade were served.

Editor's note: The Little Harvester is publishing a series of faculty sketches. This concludes the English faculty. Next week look for the physical education faculty series.

Our Faculty

According to Mrs. Ruth P. Midyette, instructor in English and Journalism at Pampa high school, most journalists attribute their success to meeting the deadline, than to any other one thing. When Mrs. Midyette gives an assignment to one of the reporters on the Little Harvester she insists that the stories be at her desk on time, because she says, "What is news today may not be news tomorrow."

Before engaging in teaching, Mrs. Midyette was active in newspaper and publicity work. Her experience included positions on the staffs of the Georgia-American, Atlanta Ga., the Muskogee Phoenix, Muskogee, Okla., the Elgin Courier, Elgin, Ill., and her own newspaper, the Inter-City News, Kansas City, Mo. She was fashion copy writer for R. H. Macy, New York City; McManus Bros., Elizabeth, N. J., and the E. W. Winkelman Co., Port Huron, Mich. Before coming to the Pampa high school faculty she was teaching journalism and directing publicity for the University School of Adult Education at the University of Florida, and previous to that instructor of journalism at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kas.

Mrs. Midyette was educated at Christian and Stephens college, and the University of Missouri and Columbia university, New York City. She holds three degrees—a bachelor in journalism, a bachelor in science, and a master's degree in journalism. She is working on her Ph. D. at present.

She is an Episcopalian and a Democrat, a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary society for journalism women, charter member of Gamma Alpha Chi, national honorary advertising sorority for women, Daughter of the American Revolution, League of Women Voters and American Association of University Women.

Traveling is this teacher's recreation. She has traveled extensively over the U. S., Mexico, Canada, Europe, Central America, and the Orient. She says she can't save money because the minute her foot gets to itching she consults steamship folders and railroad timetables and never can resist their allure.

Collecting first editions and antique jewelry is this instructor's hobby. She likes to dance, golf, ride horseback, play bridge, sail a boat, cook and make petite point.

When asked if she liked Texas she exclaimed, "The place simply fascinates me. You should see the cowboy boots I had made to take back home, to remind me of the many happy days here. 'I've always heard so much about Texas hospitality,' she continued, "and since I'm from Missouri, I've been gorgeously shown."

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

CAUTIOUS. Mining share buying has been traced to interests close to the industry. It is believed that the price of copper must move higher. As for lead and zinc, they too are expected to move higher. It means larger revenues, which in turn spell increased dividends. One informant stated that the industry points to the best earnings for 1937 since 1929. In that year copper was priced at 22 cents a pound.

But conservative interests aren't so wild in their enthusiasm. They know that foreign production is increasing at great pace. That the war-torn nations can't absorb it all and a supply and demand situation will rule later on, which will bring about lower price levels for the metals. That's why they aren't adding to present holdings although they are "riding with the tide."

SULPHUR. Inflation continues to be the topic of discussion in speculative circles. It accounts for the sharp price advance in the oil, mining, steel and machinery shares. Investors are always looking for so-called sleepers. The latest issues to attract their attention are the sulphurs. It is being noted that 1936 earnings of corporations in that industry made favorable reading. Higher sulphur taxes are expected to be offset by price increases.

Professional traders believe that sulphur shares are far behind the rest of the speculative list. That is why they are assuming risk positions.

NEW ISSUE. The Granby Consolidated Mining, Shelling & Power Company is to offer to stockholders a new issue of $750,000 five per cent debentures due 1942. The bonds will carry convertible privileges. Each holder of 40 shares of common will be given the right to subscribe to a $100 bond. The issue will be convertible into common stock at the rate of $10 a share up to 1939; $12 a share up to 1941, and at $14 a share during 1942.

The proceeds will be used to complete a new power plant at the company's Copper Mountain mine. The balance will be used to put the company into capacity production. It was officially learned that the company can operate at a profit as high as the price of copper remains above 10 cents a pound.

FACTS. Mesta Machine operated at a profit all through the depression years. Rising raw material and labor costs will reduce corporate profits for the balance of the year—earnings will not be given the gains so much as increased sales volume. Deere & Company is celebrating its 100th birthday. Banking interests say that low bond yields will force money into financing of new construction work—that President Roosevelt's aim. Goodyear Tire & Rubber leads the world in the sale of rubber heels. Walworth—makers of valves, fittings, tools, etc.—exports to all nations of the world. United Kingdom's war preparedness program will cost $30 per capita of its population. Navy program of the U. S.—exclusive of the marines and air force—will cost $4.50 per capita.

ADDING. Baking company officials inform Financial Whirligig that despite indicated higher flour costs for the first half-year, earnings will run above those of last year. They say it's sweets rather than bread which makes profits. Increased salary levels mean larger sales of these items. The baking industry has traditionally prospered when costs are high. That's why insiders have been adding to baking share holdings.

DISCOUNTED. As the automobile trailer became popular, dope sheets spread tips on how many would be manufactured this year. One went so far as to predict an output of 1,000,000 before the end of 1937. Another stated: "Within 20 years half the population will be touring the country in them." A leading banking institution made a check for some of its investing clients. It found that the dope sheets were spreading wild news. The bank estimated that possible trailer production this year would reach 350,000 units.

Your correspondent found that no more than 100,000 would be manufactured this year. Conservative stock buying interests are of the opinion that trailer manufacturing company shares have over-discounted the industry's prospects.

IMPROVED. Passenger traffic on domestic air lines is running well ahead of last year this time. Even though the public's confidence was a bit upset in January by a number of fatalities, the month's figures ran 10.5 per cent ahead of 1936. February results were considerably better. With flying conditions improving, passenger air line executives look for continued betterment over the coming months.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

Aviation shares being bought by speculative interests who insist pending and booked "war orders" will increase corporate earnings. . . . United States Smelting being tipped as a "neglected" mining issue—S. E. C. had better be on guard. . . . Lo-rillard Tobacco retained for income. . . . Despite overhanging trade price uncertainties liquor shares receiving speculative attention. . . . Home-stake Mining's liberal dividend policy to continue. . . . National Rubber Machinery benefits from greater tire production. . . . Speculation switching from motors into rails accounts for activity in these sections of the list. . . . Canada Dry Ginger Ale is the country's largest manufacturer of ginger ale.

Baltimore & Ohio preferred gets preference in conservative quarters—speculative interests active in common shares. . . . Canadian stock buyers like Dome Mines as a long-pull purchase. . . . General Bronze's new management should increase company's sales. . . . For first quarter Hazel Atlas Glass will show about $1.30 a share. . . . Dope sheets continue to list Savage Arms as a low-priced speculative war issue. . . . At current price levels Starrett Company adequately appraises prospects. . . . And, that experienced traders are worried about the spreading labor difficulties—plant shut-downs reduce current quarter's earnings.

LETTER HINTS NAZI RUPTURE WITH VATICAN

BERLIN, March 22 (AP)—Rupture of Germany's relations with the Vatican was hinted today after a strong papal letter to Catholic congregations accused the Nazi regime of violating the German-Vatican concordat and encouraging anti-Christian movements.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's newspaper "Voelkischer Beobachter," in an editorial interpreted as an answer to the papal letter from Pope Pius XI, implied the Vatican concordat might be cancelled by the Reich.

"At the conclusion of the concordat, the state could not know how the church would later interpret its provisions," said the newspaper, declaring "even an agreement with the Holy See has not sacrosanct, unchangeable and eternal value."

The holy father's letter, read Sunday to astonished church-goers, brought into the open the Nazi-Church conflict which the 1933 concordat sought to pacify.

Pope Pius declared in his letter he signed the concordat "despite grave misgivings, because we believed it to be in the best interests of the church and the German people."

"If its terms were not kept that is not the fault of the church. The other side made unfair interpretation of the concordat, evaded its provisions, undermined its contents and finally more or less openly violated its stipulations," said the pope.

Full rights to continue religious instruction of Catholic youth were promised the church in the concordat, while civic education was delegated to the state which pledged uniform education laws. The church agreed to ban political pronouncements by Catholic churchmen.

Better Be Safe

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles on safety written by high school journalism students in connection with the Kiwanis club's safety campaign.)

BY DOROTHY DAVIS.

Have you ever day-dreamed while your hands continued to do some task? If you have, you are familiar with the existence of your sub-conscious mind. This mind is a necessity, but it can also be dangerous.

Say, for instance, you leave your home en route to your place of business, or on some errand, and are traveling a route grown familiar with usage. If you begin to think of the party last night, or the good breakfast you ate in your new home, you are leaving only your sub-conscious mind at the wheel of your car. This means you see only blurred visions of what is going on around you moving car, and you can be aroused from your reverie only by something startling you, such as the appearance of a pedestrian in front of you, or a car stopped, a railroad train across a crossing and numerous other things. When your sub-conscious or reflex mind finally startles you awake, it is often too late to prevent a serious accident. You have dreamed too long; and may continue to.

Perhaps this is the reason motorists so often voice the complaint that they "didn't see" until it was right in front; where could it have come from? It was probably coming down the street, and not flying through the air, while all the time the motorist was thinking what a good mattress that new one is. The strange part about the accidents in which the driver of one car says, "I didn't see" is that they are perfectly truthful about it, they didn't see. Their conscious mind didn't register the danger approaching.

So let's remember the next time we are enjoying a drive and thinking to keep our mind on what we are doing now that it would be if we had an accident, to say nothing of the loss of property or life that might result.

Let's keep alert!

LOVES 'MY BENITO.'
PARIS, March 22 (AP)—Mme. Madeleine la Ferriere, dark-eyed beauty who police said admitted she shot Count Charles de Chambrun because he thwarted her love for Premier Mussolini of Italy, was granted today a week's respite from an intensive police probe of the attack. She testified to her friendship for "My Benito" during a three-hour session yesterday.

QUIZZING OF CHIEF JUSTICE IS SUGGESTED

SENATOR WOULD LIKE TO ASK HUGHES QUESTIONS

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Democratic opponents of the Roosevelt judiciary bill said today there was slight chance of agreement among them on a substitute constitutional amendment, unless the proposed enlargement of the Supreme Court is abandoned.

The weeks-old dispute raged on with the appearance at the Senate hearings of Raymond Moley, erstwhile member of the President's "brain trust" who advocates broadening of federal powers by constitutional change.

Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.), one of the few members of the judiciary committee still uncommitted on the administration bill, conferred with Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) and other opponents on the possibility of union behind a specific amendment.

Senator Bailey (D., N. C.) said he would oppose amendments such as suggested by Wheeler and O'Mahoney, which he believes "tend to curb the court or interfere with its functions."

Wheeler's amendment would empower Congress to override a Supreme Court decision by a two-thirds vote. O'Mahoney's would require a two-thirds vote by the court to invalidate a law.

Some Roosevelt supporters appeared willing to link legislation with amendments, if that would strengthen their position but gave no encouragement to talk about resorting to amendment alone.

Whether any supporters of the legislation would attempt to obtain direct testimony from Chief Justice Hughes or other justices was a matter of speculation.

Senator Dietrich (D., Ill.) indicated yesterday he wanted an opportunity to question Mr. Hughes about his letter on the bill, but declined to say today whether he would press the matter.

Backed by Justice Van Devanter and Brandeis, the chief justice wrote: "An increase in the number of justices, apart from any question of policy, which I do not discuss, would not promote the efficiency of the court."

The only living former justice—John Hessin Clarke of San Diego, Calif.—declared in a radio address last night that the bill was "plainly within" congressional powers.

He emphasized that he was considering in his speech only the question of constitutionality.

Secretary Wallace, addressing the Virginia Farm Bureau at Richmond, called some Supreme Court decisions a "barrier to necessary safeguards for agriculture, labor and industry."

MOTORISTS URGED TO FURNISH INFORMATION TO HIGHWAY SURVEY

With approximately 10,200 vehicles affected by the registration law, car owners of Gray County have returned only 123 of the post cards that were handed to them at the time they paid their 1937 automobile license fees at the office of F. E. Leech, county tax assessor and collector. Car owners of Gray county have failed to respond to pleas of the Highway Planning Survey to provide information on which the highway programs of the future will be based, a tabulation of returns received Wednesday disclosed.

The number of car owners sending in information on cards received when they registered their vehicles is insufficient to provide an accurate picture of the road needs of this county.

The information which is being collected will be used by the highway department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in planning the future construction and maintenance of roads and highways in this county and in this section of the state.

Local motorists should be sufficiently interested in improving the road system of this county to ask for those cards at the time they pay their license fees and should fill in the cards and mail them, because information collected by the highway planning survey will be used in designating federal funds which soon will be spent on improving secondary road systems of Texas.

The cards on which this information is being collected are self-addressed and require no postage. The Highway Department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads have gone to considerable trouble in order to offer highway users the opportunity of helping to plan their own roads.

Just as citizens were long ago given the right to vote, car owners are now being given a similar right and should take advantage of their opportunity. It is to the advantage of each county to return at least as high a percentage of these post cards to the highway department as are returned by its neighboring counties.

be held at 5:45 p. m., instead of 5, and in a different location, was subject to approval by the city council. The council refused yesterday to grant a permit for the demonstration.

The union's estimate of the number expected at the meeting ranged from 60,000 to 200,000. The avowed purpose was to "defend the right to strike" by protesting police evictions of sit-down strikers in small, non-automotive plants.

While the union deferred its threatened call of a city-wide automotive strike as a more formidable protest against those evictions, city officials announced there would be no further interference with "peaceful" strikers. Several raids avowedly were based upon information that non-employees were among the strikers.

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—John L. Lewis formally accepted today the invitation of Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan to confer with Walter P. Chrysler tomorrow in the governor's office in Lansing, Mich., about the Chrysler Motor company sit-down strike.

Lewis dispatched the following telegram to Murphy: "Your message suggests that I confer under duress. Nevertheless and notwithstanding I agree to be present."

Lewis declined to discuss either Murphy's invitation or his reply any further.

Murphy's invitation warned Lewis that the sit-down strikers would be evicted with the governor's help unless a settlement could be arranged speedily.

WING OVER CLUB WILL MEET ON WEDNESDAY
Second meeting of the newly organized Pampa Wing Over club will be at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the city courtroom in the basement of the city hall. President George Christopher will preside.

New members will be welcomed at the meeting. The club is open to anyone interested in the advancement of aviation in Pampa.

Discussion of a suitable air port for Pampa will be continued and a committee will probably be appointed to meet with other interested organizations. President Christopher said today.

TEACHER EGGED
CINCINNATI, O., March 23 (AP)—Scores of children threw eggs, vegetables and rocks at Frank F. Candioto, their citizenship teacher, last night in protest against establishment of a playground in a section not favored by the children. Police momentarily stopped the bombardment, but it was renewed after they left, Candioto said. He added that he would not prosecute, but would ask Police to prevent a repetition of the disorder at the next meeting of the class. "They were just kids, so all I could do was take it," he observed.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Stocks got a toe-hold on recovery in today's market. Led by steel, rails, oils, mines and utilities, many issues rallied fractions to 3 or more points in dealings which were exceptionally slow after a fast opening. Ford, General Motors and Chrysler, which at Detroit was unlikely, coupled with announcement Walter P. Chrysler and C. L. Clegg, Jr. of the Chrysler Motor company tomorrow on the deadlock in the Chrysler labor controversy, tended to bolster Wall Street sentiment.

U. S. government securities and corporate bonds did better. Shares well on top most of the session included U. S. Steel, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil, U. S. Oil, Texas Corp., Amoco, Consolidated Edison, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth and Allied Chemical.

WILL INSPECT EVERY SCHOOL IN OIL FIELD

DANGEROUS GAS LEAK IS FOUND AT CARLISLE

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
NEW LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Rigid inspection of every rural school in the vast East Texas oil field area was the expected aftermath today of the London school explosion that experts agreed was caused by accumulated gas.

School doors were shut as safety experts began a search for conditions similar to the one which caused the death of 455 here.

Not panic, but extreme caution pervaded the area especially after Gordon C. Hawley, chief engineer of the state's fire insurance department, told a military court of inquiry here yesterday he had located another school in the vicinity endangered by escaping gas.

"A test a few hours ago," Hawley told the investigators, "at the Carlisle school near here showed gas was escaping underneath the place at the rate of 720 cubic feet a day, all of which makes this occasion all the more ominous."

His statement electrified the courtroom and preceded by a few minutes Dr. E. P. Schoch's statement, which all signs pointed indubitably to an accumulation of gas under the basement floor as the cause of the tragedy.

Dr. Schoch, University of Texas chemical engineering professor and for years an explosion authority, said he could not positively say what ignited the gas.

Engineer L. B. Newsum of the state fire insurance department said he aided in discovering the Carlisle school leak.

"If a superficial inspection gives results like that," he said, "what will a general inspection give? This is just an average school."

Urges Safety Laws
The military board did not make public an opinion on its findings and will not do so unless specifically requested by Governor James V. Allred.

Hawley said that in his opinion "This tragedy would not have happened if certain regulatory measures had been taken." He urged legislation that would include a state electric law, a state boiler safety code, a state exit code and other general safety measures.

He added: "And give the State authority to make 'em behave."
Legislation had already started at Austin, where a bill requiring malcolorizing of gas so that any escaping could be easily detected, was introduced under suspension of rules.

While investigators ended their hearing, the last of the dead were buried.

Martial Law Lifted
Martial law was automatically lifted as Dr. Schoch concluded his lengthy opinion and the court adjourned.

Dr. Schoch said in summing up his findings that "the whole building went up; the basement was destroyed and bodies were found on the earth."

Two possible theories for ignition of the blast advanced by Dr. Schoch, included the "throwing" of a light switch and possible sparks from electric equipment. Definite origin of the explosion was not given, but the professor said "it could have been on any one of the 72 radiators."

Dr. Schoch said he had concluded definitely the explosion did not occur in the walls.

"I wouldn't get deeply nervous about the use of gas; gas is a great blessing and a great convenience. Gas can serve man very willingly and very ably, just as dynamite can serve him ably and willingly."

Tests Being Made
Dr. Schoch said tests now being conducted by Bureau of Mines experts would show beyond doubt whether there is "ever so slight a leakage of gas from the ground below."

"The hasty evidence, or the evidence that we have tried to obtain, so far indicates that there is no such leakage. Still I believe we should wait the outcome of these tests."

Judson Wyche, school board member, was dismissed by the court when he broke during testimony. He had been asked to describe what he saw when he reached the blast scene. "I didn't go in. They told me my little girl—"

He halted. The court excused him.

He reported that the school was doing standard work in all departments and highly commended Supt. J. W. Dillard and his faculty for the fine spirit and grade of work they were doing. He also expressed satisfaction of the fine spirit and atmosphere about the school.

Hitler Forgives Dr. Hanfstaengl

BERLIN, March 23 (AP)—Germany sent a man to Switzerland today to tell Dr. Ernest (Putzi) Hanfstaengl, in effect: "Come home, all is forgiven."

(The Harvard educated Hanfstaengl, reported sent to Spain in February on a secret mission for Adolf Hitler, was in Zurich, Switzerland, at a Zurich hotel last week.)

He can live in Germany unmolested, he will be told, and will even have "a scientific task" assigned to him.

(Dr. Hanfstaengl apparently has been out of favor with Herr Hitler for some time.)

TWO BUILDINGS TO BE ABANDONED AT A. & M.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23 (AP)—State officials took action to forestall the possibility of an Oklahoma New London disaster with the result that today saw abandonment of two buildings at Oklahoma A. M. college ordered and plans to inspect buildings at the capital.

An emergency session of the state board of agriculture ordered the music and arts building at the history and English building at the Stillwater school vacated after State Fire Marshall W. C. Theimer had condemned them as menaces because of their rundown condition.

The buildings were used by 600 students. Board President Joe C. Scott said temporary quarters would be sought.

Scott declared the board "could never justify itself" if the buildings collapsed, killing anyone "in the face of these warnings from the fire marshal." Theimer also has called for a statewide school inspection.

The lower legislative House passed a resolution authorizing Speaker J. T. Daniel to employ an engineer to inspect the capitol and other state buildings.

PAMPANS ATTEND BLAST VICTIM'S LAST RITES

Many Pampans attended funeral services Sunday afternoon in First Christian church, Wichita Falls, for Zana Jo Curry, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Curry, who lost her life in the explosion of the New London school last week.

The Currys were residents of the Dixon Creek camp west of Pampa until moving to East Texas about three years ago. Before moving to Pampa, they resided at Skellytown.

Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. B.
