Both new and old county officers will qualify for their various offices Jan. 1, 1931, Irv E. Duncan, county judge, announced this morning. Immediately following their induction into office, they will begin discharge of their official duties.

It had been previously announced that they would be qualified on Jan. 3, but because some of the newly-elected officers desired to begin their duties on Jan. 1, Judge Duncan decided to hold the ceremonies on New Year's day. Notice of the change in date was sent to all incumbents and new officers today.

The inauguration will be held in the commissioners court room in the courthouse at 9 o'clock. To qualify each of the officers is required to submit a bond which must be approved by the commissioners. They will then take the oath of office. Judge Duncan will be in charge.

Christian Church Is Incorporated

Directors of the First Christian church of Pampa regard that institution as a business, and so they had it incorporated for 30 years. The charter was received recently by Judge Irv E. Duncan. The belief that every church should be incorporated is held by Judge Duncan. One of the privileges incorporation affords is to "buy and be sued."

Directors of the "corporation" are Judge Duncan, G. L. Thomas, H. L. Ledford, W. H. Cobb, E. D. Kennedy, Roy Williams, W. G. Kinser, E. F. Sunkel, O. A. Davis, J. G. Gantz, C. E. Hutchins, H. E. Marshall, C. W. Bryson, R. E. Kinser, and F. W. O'Malley.

Mrs. H. C. Cottrell returned Saturday afternoon from Duncan, Okla., where she has been during the holidays. She was accompanied from Muskogee on her return to Pampa by her husband, who is night sergeant of the police department. Mrs. Cottrell made the trip by automobile.

AMARILLO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Amarillo is today voting on the extension of the city limits. The polls opened on schedule after a hectic day Sunday in which the courts were called upon to permit the voters to have their say. Mrs. Anne Summers, owner of the Summers addition to Amarillo which is included in the extension plan, late Sunday obtained a writ of injunction to prevent the city from extending its limits. The city officials and election judges were served and restrained from opening the polls. Mayor Ernest O. Thompson, in company with corporation counsel, immediately went to Childress and in extraordinary session Sunday night they presented the city's case and Judge Fries at 2 o'clock Monday morning declared his court without jurisdiction in the matter and ruled that his temporary order was invalid. A lengthy opinion was handed down by the jurist.

PARIS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Marshal Joffre, fighting a losing battle with death, sank into a state of extreme weakness today and his physicians issued a bulletin at 3 o'clock describing his condition as most grave. A few minutes before the bulletin was issued, General Leade, chief of staff under the marshal, visited his old leader and reported that the hero of the Marne was sinking slowly. The five doctors who have been at the patient's side day and night since Saturday, held out little hope that the marshal could live through the day.

CHILDRESS MEN DROWN

CHILDRESS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Dr. M. L. Gibson, 40, and Jack B. Billingsley, 26, were drowned late yesterday in Lake Childress, six miles west of here, when the boat from which they were hunting collapsed. Gibson, the third member of the party, was a swimmer. Gibson and Billingsley wore heavy boots and hunting clothes which were believed to have made it impossible for them to swim 100 yards to shore. King said the three had rowed to the middle of the lake to recover a duck shot down by one of the hunters. As one of them leaned over the boat, the duck, he upset the boat and all three men were thrown in the water.

(AP)—Selection of a jury to try Clyde Thompson on a sanity plea, entered in an effort to prevent his electrocution for the slaying of Lucian Shock, was made in Judge Elzo Been's court today. Of 100 veniremen summoned, only 45 answered present and 10 of these were excused. Indications were this entire day would be consumed in selection of a jury. Thompson's father filed an affidavit alleging that his son became insane since his conviction and since he was given the death penalty.

Deputy Sheriff John Reynolds said in another room were 10 500-gallon galvanized containers, filled with rye mash and connected to the still by an elaborate system of pipes. The two rooms containing the still and equipment had been made airtight, Reynolds said, and a person in an adjoining room could not detect the odor.

With the Hoovers at Christmas

Although Christmas at the White House was a quiet family affair, with the cares of state temporarily sidetracked, the nation claimed a part of the time of the Hoover family before the day was over. The above picture shows Mrs. Hoover, assisted by Santa Claus, distributing baskets of gifts to poor children through the Central Union Mission, which took care of 1500 youngsters.

And here are two of the Hoover grandchildren, Peggy Ann and Herbert Hoover III (both in the center), shown on the front porch of the White House receiving a Christmas card from the children of Washington, presented by Kitty Murray and Harry Helme.

Of this amount $9,500 was in cash and the balance in pledges. James Kennedy of Panhandle visited friends in Pampa today.

(AP)—A man sent to the state hospital for the insane from Blackwell in 1923 and recently released was held for investigation here today in connection with the slaying of two Oklahoma teachers, sisters, as they were returning yesterday to their schools after a Christmas visit to their home at Blackwell. Lyman Constant, about 35, was arrested here late yesterday as officers of Central and Northern Oklahoma spread a net for suspects in the brutal slayings. The bodies of the victims, Jexie Griffith, 35, and Jesse Griffith, 34, were found near the highway a short distance south of Tonkawa. They had been shot to death. The elder sister's car had been stolen, but was found abandoned later. The women's purses were found, unopened, in the car. Bruce Potter, Kay county attorney.

Among the articles taken were a brown mink cape valued at $1,500, linens, bedspreads, Indian blankets, silverware, women's apparel (new), a revolver, and an assortment of the family's Christmas gifts. Williams Had Gone to Pastor to Get Help FORT ARTHUR, Dec. 29. (AP)—Robert L. Williams, 18, sophomore of the University of Texas, today was placed under $10,000 bond to appear before the grand jury on charges of murder growing out of the death by shooting here Saturday of his sweetheart, Elizabeth Johnson, 17-year-old Sunday school worker and high school girl. Williams waived preliminary hearing.

Bond was immediately made. It was signed by C. T. Baker, E. F. Baker, J. C. Zeck and W. S. Martin. Representing Williams in Justice T. A. Butler's court was Paul Williams, his brother, an attorney of Dallas. The boy's father, Rev. S. W. Williams, sat at his side in the courtroom, with his arm flung about the boy's shoulder. Sunday the father, pastor of an Austin, Texas, Methodist church and formerly pastor of South Methodist church here, after 20 years of addressing solace and spiritual comfort from his pulpit to his congregations, took the parental task of comforting his accused son in the city jail.

Williams is the nephew of R. L. Williams of Oklahoma City, a federal judge. Gun in Wall Pocket While no evidence was presented at the hearing, friends of Williams told newspapermen the gun with which Miss Johnson met her death had been placed by Williams in the wall pocket of his sedan.

When Williams returned to the car which had been parked by the First Methodist church South here, after an attempt to see the pastor, Rev. Glenn Flinn, and prevail upon him to intercede and effect a reconciliation, the girl was found slumped forward in the front seat. The gun, its chamber fired, was found on the floor of the car in the back.

It developed today on questioning of Sheriff C. W. Covington by newspapermen that Williams spent last night in the home of E. F. Baker, automobile dealer here, prominent member of the First Methodist church, South.

BEAUMONT, Dec. 29. (AP)—Lack of witnesses who might have corroborated his story, Robert L. Williams, 18, University of Texas sophomore and son of an Austin Methodist minister, faced a charge of murder today at a preliminary hearing before Justice T. A. Butler at Fort Arthur, in the slaying Saturday of the youth's estranged sweetheart, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, 16, in Fort Arthur.

Formal complaint charging him with the murder was filed yesterday by B. T. McWhorter, assistant county attorney. The complaint was signed by Andrew Johnson, uncle of the girl, on the belief he said that certain circumstances indicated "premeditated murder."

Williams continued last night to deny that he shot Miss Johnson, holding to the story told shortly after his arrest. He claimed to have asked her to go with him to see Rev. Glenn Flinn, Methodist pastor in Fort Arthur, in an attempt to reconcile a lover's quarrel between them. He said he objected to the attentions which a married man who was separated from his wife was paying to Miss Johnson.

The youth said he went to the

Thief Enjoys Bath at Residence of Harley Sadler—Steals Much

SWEETWATER, Dec. 29. (AP)—Burglars who took time out to enjoy the luxury of a bath and a beautiful meal from an electric refrigerator looted the home of Harley Sadler, West Texas showman, of goods valued at $5,000 Friday or Saturday night. Sadler, who lives here, discovered the loss when he returned Sunday morning after a week's theatrical engagement at San Angelo. Breaking a glass of a rear door to force entrance, the thieves systematically looted the home. Among the articles taken were a brown mink cape valued at $1,500, linens, bedspreads, Indian blankets, silverware, women's apparel (new), a revolver, and an assortment of the family's Christmas gifts. The showman was busy for his Christmas dinner, returning to San Angelo for the night.

"Cities Do Not Happen; They Are Built," Pampa Likewis.

Pampa will enter the new year as the brightest spot in the whitest spot of good business in the nation. That is really something mighty fine, and worth some thought.

Pampa's good condition is not the result of governmental aid or relief. Indeed, prosperity is not a gift of government and is not within the realm of legislation alone. It is something which springs from wise action on the part of citizens themselves.

Pampa is soon to be the beneficiary of a new period of prosperity—that which will come from recovery of the nation at large. For as good as this community is now, it will improve with the country as a whole. National prosperity is just as certain as the rising sun, for orders being held back for various reasons during the last two years will choke industry when turned loose. It seems inevitable that there shall be periods of commercial and industrial fear.

Pampa has learned that she can be prosperous without the magic of legislation; she should realize that she cannot look to any magic in the future to make her civically healthy and commercially wise. Her future is in her own hands. The same forces which brought the Denver railroad, reared the brick office buildings, and established the local industries are those which must be depended upon in the future.

Development from within will encourage development from without. Pampa must seek industries, but should not be deluded about the necessity or advisability of buying them outright. There are cities in Texas, and Fort Worth is an example, which have seen purchased industries close down while others which came voluntarily because of easily recognizable advantages are prosperous.

"Cities do not happen; they are built."

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (NEA)—Uncle George W. Norris, Republican senator from Nebraska, is unquestionably the most painful thorn in the side of this unhappy administration.

And the Grand Old Party apparently is never going to get rid of that frightful jinx which clutches the high executive post of its national committee.

The Nye committee investigating senatorial campaign funds has found out that much. It certainly was a very large surprise when Executive Director Robert H. Lucas of the Republican National Committee had to admit that he had gone to unprecedented lengths in an attempt to help the Ku Klux Klan and the power interests defeat Norris, the Republican candidate chosen in Republican primaries, and elect his Democratic opponent, former Senator Hitchcock.

Previously it had appeared that Lucas would be made national chairman, succeeding Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio. Now it appears that someone will have to be found to succeed Lucas.

The history of President Hoover's personal choices to head the national committee seem to demonstrate what a remarkably hardy institution the G. O. P. is to survive and thrive despite such political leadership. His best friends no longer credit Hoover with a shred of political acumen. First there was National Chairman Hubert Work, personal choice for the campaign, whose resignation was demanded in the midst of the 1928 fight by some of Hoover's strongest supporters. Work was finally eased out and in came the never-to-be-forgotten Claudius Huston, who flopped as a leader when he was revealed as the hero of certain lobbying-financial transactions which made his ejection a vital necessity.

The next chairman was Fess. No one hailed Fess as a "master mind," as they had Huston. He was just a symbol of the ultimate in conservative Republicanism, personally upright and devoted to Hoover. The only trouble with Fess was that he refused to be a mere symbol. He sought to become the party spokesman and, in a post-election statement promising that the Republicans would be the dry party in 1932, precipitated an internal wet-dry row featured by several demands for his resignation. That resignation has been anticipated; no one had expected Fess to lead the big presidential fight in 1932!

Meanwhile, as if there wasn't enough trouble to be had from the national chairmanship, Hoover and the party heads created the new post of executive director for Lucas, then commissioner of internal revenue. Lucas was supposed to supply the brains so long and sadly lacking in party direction; to do the real effective work for which Fess wasn't fitted. He was another "personal choice" and there really must have been something extraordinary about him for, after "careful study" of November election results, he announced that they signified nothing other than a vindication of the Hoover administration.

Now Lucas, in the eyes of many, proves himself just another party liability. No one need waste tears on the

Much Jewelry Is Taken In Pullman

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—About $200,000 in jewelry, lost aboard a Pullman car, was taken in a Pullman compartment, a night club and a theatre, engaged the attention of police today.

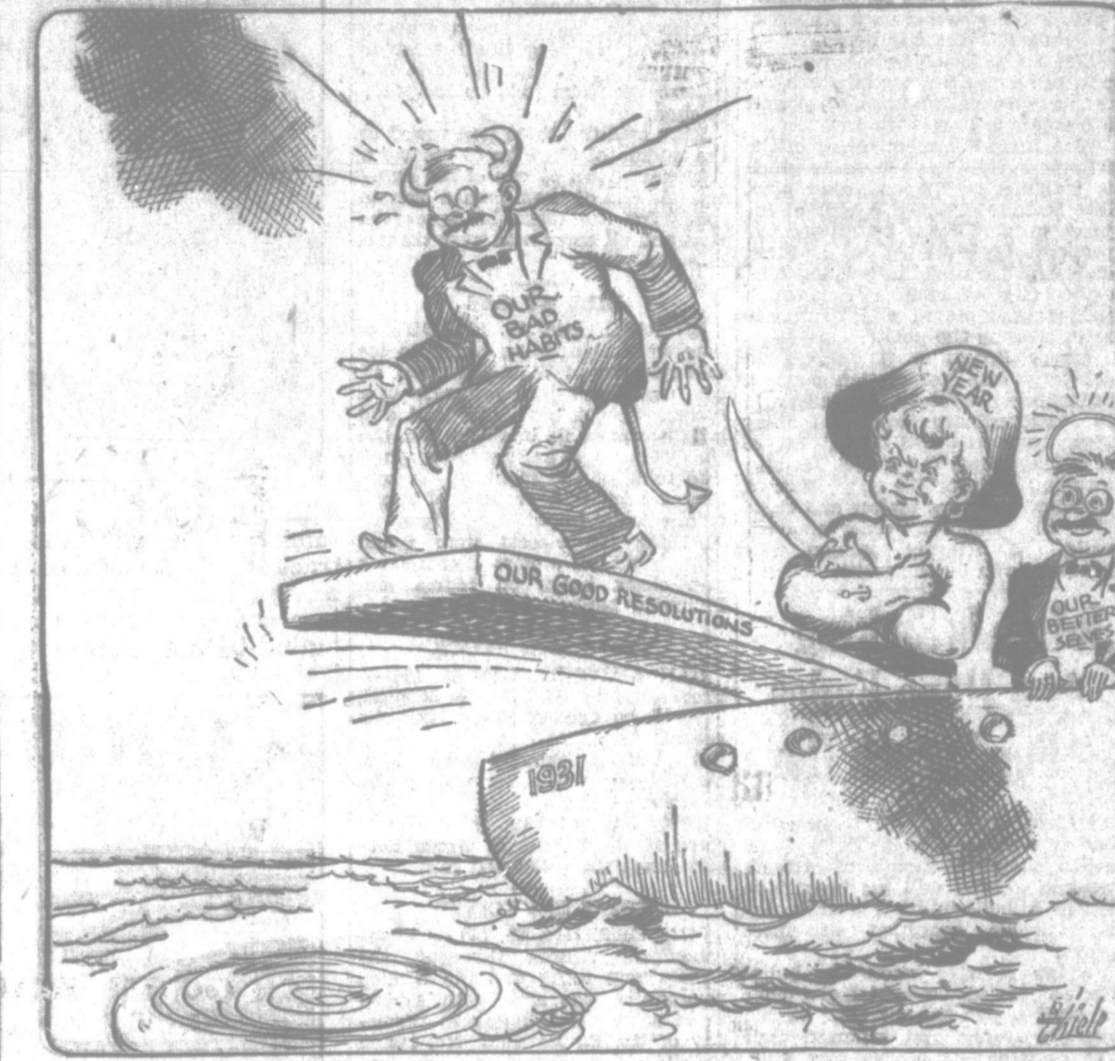

Mrs. Edgar F. Luckenbach, wife of the steamship owner, reported that gems valued at between $170,000 and $200,000 were stolen from her on a recent trip to Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Marie de Floris of Park Avenue society reported the loss of $15,500 in jewels on a night life year. "Texas" Gurran said that her $3,500 men's bag disappeared at the Ethel Barrymore theatre Saturday night.

Mrs. Luckenbach is believed to have been followed when she boarded a train at the Pennsylvania terminal on Dec. 19.

A string of pearls valued at $100,000 and a pearl necklace valued at $20,000 were among the loot. Mrs. Luckenbach is the former Andrea Marie Fenwick of Toronto, Ont., and Mr. Luckenbach's second wife.

For the third time in four years, a long-distance call was made between Pampa and Guelph, Ont., Friday night, a distance of 2,000 miles, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hoare conversed with Mr. Hoare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hoare. To get the call through required about 20 minutes.

IN SPITE OF BUSINESS DEPRESSION

Despite the business depression an unprecedented increase in the national membership of the Girl Scouts was recorded during 1930, according to figures given out by Miss Josephine Schain, national director of the organization, 670 Lexington avenue, New York.

The membership increase during the year was approximately 42,000, it was stated, or 20 per cent more than the increase of 35,000 estimated for the year 1929 under the expansion contemplated in the Girl Scout five-year development plan.

More than six per cent of the actual increase were leaders. An analysis of the gains in leaders indicates that 43 per cent of the young women who joined the organization in 1930 are graduates of colleges and high schools.

The three major religious denominations, Catholic, Jewish and Protestant, are proportionately well represented.

Many Visit Camps That the girls themselves are actively using the expanding and improved program is indicated by the figures on camping for 1930. An increase of nearly 7,000 girls was registered during the year in the number who annually spend all or part of their summers in Girl Scout camps. A total of 539 camps were operated during 1930, an increase of 116 over 1929.

A new supply depot to distribute uniforms and equipment manufactured for the exclusive use of Girl Scouts had to be opened in December on the Pacific coast to meet the increased demands for service.

To consolidate past gains while continuing to grow and to maintain and improve standards are the tasks facing the Girl Scout organization in 1931.

A three-weeks conference of leaders opens on Jan. 5 in Summerville, S. C. Here will be announced and explained a recently adopted program policy for national Girl Scout training schools and camps throughout the country.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

An erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, company or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor. It is not the intention of this newspaper to injure any individual, firm or corporation, and corrections will be made, when warranted, as promptly as was the wrongfully published reference or article.

"Cities Do Not Happen; They Are Built," Pampa Likewise.

Pampa will enter the new year as the brightest spot in the whitest spot of good business in the nation. That is really something mighty fine, and worth some thought.

Pampa's good condition is not the result of governmental aid or relief. Indeed, prosperity is not a gift of government and is not within the realm of legislation alone. It is something which springs from wise action on the part of citizens themselves.

Pampa is soon to be the beneficiary of a new period of prosperity—that which will come from recovery of the nation at large. For as good as this community is now, it will improve with the country as a whole. National prosperity is just as certain as the rising sun, for orders being held back for various reasons during the last two years will choke industry when turned loose. It seems inevitable that there shall be periods of commercial and industrial fear.

Pampa has learned that she can be prosperous without the magic of legislation; she should realize that she cannot look to any magic in the future to make her civically healthy and commercially wise. Her future is in her own hands. The same forces which brought the Denver railroad, reared the brick office buildings, and established the local industries are those which must be depended upon in the future.

Development from within will encourage development from without. Pampa must seek industries, but should not be deluded about the necessity or advisability of buying them outright. There are cities in Texas, and Fort Worth is an example, which have seen purchased industries close down while others which came voluntarily because of easily recognizable advantages are prosperous.

"Cities do not happen; they are built."

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (NEA)—Uncle George W. Norris, Republican senator from Nebraska, is unquestionably the most painful thorn in the side of this unhappy administration.

And the Grand Old Party apparently is never going to get rid of that frightful jinx which clutches the high executive post of its national committee.

The Nye committee investigating senatorial campaign funds has found out that much. It certainly was a very large surprise when Executive Director Robert H. Lucas of the Republican National Committee had to admit that he had gone to unprecedented lengths in an attempt to help the Ku Klux Klan and the power interests defeat Norris, the Republican candidate chosen in Republican primaries, and elect his Democratic opponent, former Senator Hitchcock.

Previously it had appeared that Lucas would be made national chairman, succeeding Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio. Now it appears that someone will have to be found to succeed Lucas.

The history of President Hoover's personal choices to head the national committee seem to demonstrate what a remarkably hardy institution the G. O. P. is to survive and thrive despite such political leadership. His best friends no longer credit Hoover with a shred of political acumen. First there was National Chairman Hubert Work, personal choice for the campaign, whose resignation was demanded in the midst of the 1928 fight by some of Hoover's strongest supporters. Work was finally eased out and in came the never-to-be-forgotten Claudius Huston, who flopped as a leader when he was revealed as the hero of certain lobbying-financial transactions which made his ejection a vital necessity.

The next chairman was Fess. No one hailed Fess as a "master mind," as they had Huston. He was just a symbol of the ultimate in conservative Republicanism, personally upright and devoted to Hoover. The only trouble with Fess was that he refused to be a mere symbol. He sought to become the party spokesman and, in a post-election statement promising that the Republicans would be the dry party in 1932, precipitated an internal wet-dry row featured by several demands for his resignation. That resignation has been anticipated; no one had expected Fess to lead the big presidential fight in 1932!

Meanwhile, as if there wasn't enough trouble to be had from the national chairmanship, Hoover and the party heads created the new post of executive director for Lucas, then commissioner of internal revenue. Lucas was supposed to supply the brains so long and sadly lacking in party direction; to do the real effective work for which Fess wasn't fitted. He was another "personal choice" and there really must have been something extraordinary about him for, after "careful study" of November election results, he announced that they signified nothing other than a vindication of the Hoover administration.

Now Lucas, in the eyes of many, proves himself just another party liability. No one need waste tears on the

Much Jewelry Is

Taken in Pullman

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—About $200,000 in jewelry, lost, stolen or taken in a Pullman compartment, a night club and a theatre, engaged the attention of police today.

Mrs. Edgar F. Luckenbach, wife of the steamship owner, reported that gems valued at between $170,000 and $200,000 were stolen from her on a recent trip to Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Marie de Curtis of Park Avenue society reported the loss of $12,500 in jewels on a night life tour. "Texas" Guinan said that her $3,500 watch bag disappeared at the Ethel Barrymore theatre Saturday night.

Mrs. Luckenbach is believed to incurably insurgent Norris or defend his brand of Republicanism to realize that:

1. Lucas worked in the dark to pay for and circulate Ku Klux Klan propaganda of the type with which no politician of standing could afford to associate himself publicly.

2. As directing head of the party, in repudiation of official party policy, he secretly fought a candidate duly nominated in a primary by Republican voters and sought the election of a Democrat.

3. He thus further alienated the progressive Republicans in the party and created a demand among them for his own resignation.

have been followed when she boarded a train at the Pennsylvania terminal on Dec. 18.

A string of pearls valued at $180,000 and a pearl necklace valued at $20,000 were among the loot. Mrs. Luckenbach is the former Andrea Marie Fenwick of Toronto, Ont., and Mr. Luckenbach's second wife.

For the third time in four years, a long distance call was made between Pampa and Guelph, Ont., Friday night, a distance of 2,000 miles, when Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hoare conversed with Mr. Hoare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hoare. To get the call through required about 20 minutes.

ONE HUNDRED COUPLES IS GOAL FOR NEW YEAR DANCE

Two Brides, One Groom Among Returning Instructors In Schools Here

W. Function Will Be Given Tuesday Evening; Proceeds To Be Used to Enlarge Scholarship Fund

One hundred couples is the goal for the New Year dance to be given Tuesday evening under the sponsorship of the American Association of Women and the College of Education. The function will be given in the ballroom of the Grand Hotel, and dancing will be in progress between the hours of 8 and 12.

Part of the entertainment to be given is a scholarship fund-raising party, a part of which is a worthy high school graduate-year-for-work-in-college contest, of which is available for all. The scholarship for this contest is presented at school commencement exercises.

To raise $500 for the scholarship fund, an entertainment will be given each season of this kind for the purpose. This fall an elaborate carnival ball was given in the high school auditorium, and the proceeds were used for the purpose. The entertainment probably will be a bridge tournament, Mrs. J. E. Leonard said.

Part of the dance tickets is being sold, and invitations are being sent through the following: Mrs. T. E. Simmons, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. C. S. Boswell, Arthur Teed, and Mrs. A. L. Stinson. Mrs. Paul Kasishke, in charge of the committee, is out of town. The orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY HOLLYCE SELLERS

"But it's such a little party—"

Many people are glad to have their 14-table bridge parties printed in the News-Post office when they entertain with only two or three tables. They think that the public would not be interested, though the little parties have as definite a place in the society of the city as small bolts have in a large car. They are indispensable, and the guests, as well as the general public enjoy reading these little events just as they enjoy the larger ones.

Often the smaller parties can actually be made more attractive and enjoyable than those given on a larger scale. The guests are more at ease with half a dozen friends than they are with a score or more—especially if these are very close friends. They may talk freer and "make themselves at home" without fear of making a "wrong impression." They may wear last year's frock without feeling out of place. They may discuss a favorite recipe without appearing to be a "flew brown." And they will not feel embarrassed if they make low score after playing for high.

With very little effort or expense a small party can be made a great deal more complete than the larger one. The woman in the average size family will have plenty of dishes, glassware, and silver at her disposal in entertaining only a few friends. There will be plenty of chairs in the home without borrowing or renting more.

And best of all, an original touch can be achieved by painting tallies and score pads by hand and by making appropriate favors for the refreshment plates, which would be next to impossible in giving a large function.

No fatigue should result for the hostess planning for a smaller party. Imagine painting 100 or more tallies and score pads. But making enough for two or three tables—what's different? The task will not become monotonous, and the party will be relaxation for the hostess as well as for the guests.

So don't be ashamed of the little parties. Give them for the pleasure that is in them and not to return social obligations. They're fun, and they're fun for you, no matter how small it is.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Dec. 28, was "Christian Science."

Psalm 46:4 furnished the golden text: "There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most high."

Included in the service were the following passages from the Bible: "And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb... And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely"—Revelation 22:1, 17.

The lesson-sermon also included the following citations from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, (page 547): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained... It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Practically the entire force of Pampa's teachers, school officials, and pupils is happily at work today after many holiday visits. Superintendent E. B. Fisher said this morning. Because of the heavy snow, many of the teachers were delayed until late last night, but everything was running smoothly this morning, and only one teacher, Miss Esther Thompson of Junior high, was reported absent because of illness.

Included in the group of returning teachers are two brides, Mrs. Robert E. Kolmer of Woodrow Wilson school, who, before her marriage on Christmas morning was Miss Mildred Stewart; and Mrs. Clifford Whitmore of Central high school, who was Miss Fannie Florence Sims before her marriage on Sunday morning, Dec. 14. HACK WILSON OF CHICAGO TAKES MANY BATTING HONORS

Harvesters Plan Colorado Trip Immediately After Coming Exams

SLUGGER IN HIGH PLACE OF FIGURES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs, leading slugger of the National league last season, gets attention in the official percentages and other miscellaneous reports of the National League Year, issued today.
Wilson, going to bat 555 times, hit for 423 bases and compiled slugging average of .723. His nearest rivals were Chuck Klein of Philadelphia and Babe Herman of Brooklyn, who had slugging marks of .687 and .676 respectively. Wilson batted in 190 runs to eclipse the former league record of 159 he set the year before. He drew 105 bases on balls and struck out 94 times to top the league in both respects.
Another league record fell when 17 players had 100 or more runs batted in. The old mark was 14; Wilson accomplished the feat for the fifth successive year while Benny Jim Bottomley of St. Louis, after doing it for six years straight, fell three short of the 100 mark.
In the club marks, Chicago made the best slugging percentage, .461, and had the most bases on balls, 543, and the most strikeouts, 633. St. Louis batted in 942 runs to establish another new league record. The former mark of 933 was made by the Cubs the year before.
The New York Giants proved themselves the best road club in the league by winning 41 games and losing 59 away from home but three games made better records when performing on their home fields. The St. Louis Cardinals led in this respect by winning 53 contests and losing only 24 at Sportsmen's park. Brooklyn participated in the greatest number of shutout games during the year, 22, and won 13 of them to top that list as well. Cincinnati was held scoreless 10 times.

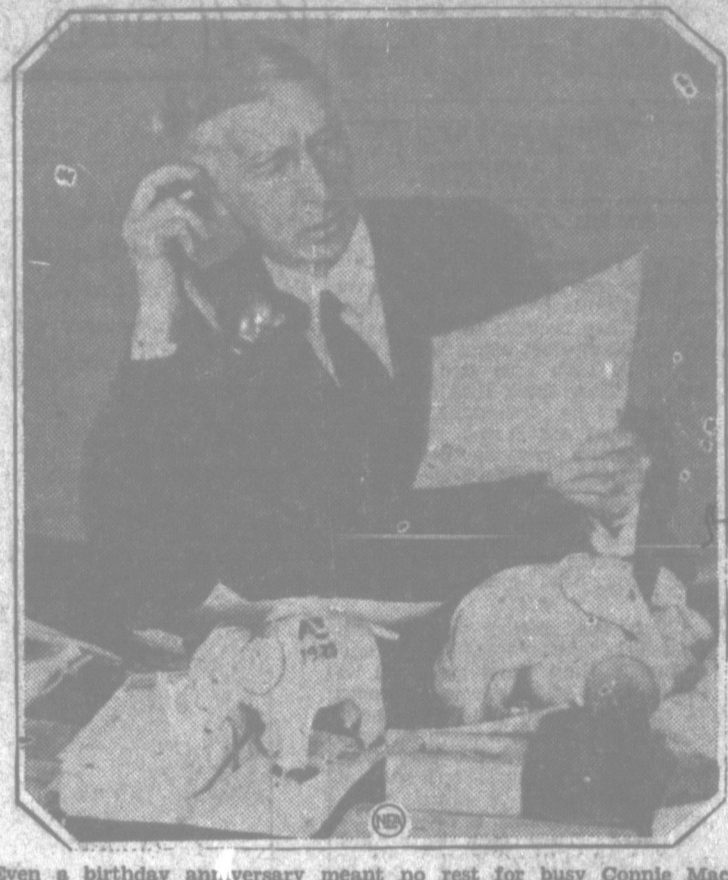

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

FINE ELEVENS SOON READY FOR BIG TILT

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 29. (AP)—Two of the country's leading football teams—Washington State and Alabama—swept into the home stretch of a fast, waning grid season today and settled down to final preparation for the sixteenth annual Tournament of Roses game here New Year's day.
Many roads led to the battle site, the Rose Bowl, in its picturesque arroyo seco setting. The Crimson tide will step into top form by the easy stages of light workouts. The Cougars from the Northwest face hard seasons today and tomorrow, with the crowning drill Wednesday expected to be light.
Coach Orin "Bebe" Hollingbery is satisfied with the physical and mental status of his Washington State army. Coach Wallace Wade is convinced his Alabama have learned their football well, but isn't so sure that they will be in top form.
What betting that has taken place favors Alabama.
Chances are that the contest will attract a maximum crowd of 85,000. The advance sale, however, had reached almost 60,000 Saturday.

Connie Mack—68 Years Old

Even a birthday anniversary meant no rest for busy Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. For here you see him—68 years old now—as he appeared at his office in Shibe Park answering hundreds of congratulatory telegrams and telephone messages. Between times, he autographed baseballs for the poor children of Philadelphia.

REPLIES OF SCHOOL ARE AWAITED NOW

If answers to telegraphic challenges are possible, the Tampa Harvesters will leave soon after the semester examinations on a tour of Colorado. They plan to play a week's schedule and possibly swing back through Oklahoma on the return trip.
The next local game will be with the Canyon Eagles here Friday evening. It will be remembered that the Eagles eliminated Tampa in the district meet last year, although the locals had won a previous practice game with Canyon here. The same group of youngsters from the Eagle team of this season.
Coach Odus Mitchell has been working the Harvesters into a semi-holiday of a machine during the holidays. He believes that their showing Friday will be an improvement over the uncertain form they displayed before the holidays.

SOUTHERN TO CONSIDER SIX CLUB CIRCUIT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 29. (AP)—Directors of the Southern Baseball association were held into a secret meeting here today to decide whether to reduce their circuit from eight to six clubs.
Tom Watkins, Memphis club owner, suggested the move as a means of eliminating clubs so called "weak starters."
The circumstances which led to the suggestion, were these:
The Little Rock club has the alternative of playing on a makeshift field, transferring to another city, or of ceasing to operate. The city school board owns the old field and has decided to use it for its own purposes.
Jimmy Hamilton's Mobile franchise, voided by Knoxville by the association directors after an exceedingly poor season, came bouncing back when Knoxville was unable to finance it because of a bank failure.

JOSE SANTO BOXES ITALIAN ON THURSDAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Jose Santo, 269-pound Portuguese behemoth, battles Roberto Roberti, Italian heavyweight, in Boston Thursday afternoon.
Madison Square Garden's Friday night show brings together Mateo Oca, Spanish heavyweight, and Pierre Charles of Belgium. The winner may be matched with Max Baer, California youngster who made a hit on his first appearance in a New York recently.
A featherweight duel between Eddie Shea of Chicago and Andy Martin of Boston heads a card at St. Louis Friday.
Leo Lomax, veteran light heavyweight from Aberdeen, Wash., takes on Charley Belanger of Winnipeg in a 10-rounder at Portland, Ore., Thursday.
Baxter Calmes, promising young light heavyweight from Wichita, Kans., steps into major competition in the Chicago coliseum tomorrow, meeting Jerry de Barbaux, Belgium puncher, in an eight-round bout. Two of the best of the younger crop of bantamweights, Phil Tobias of New York and George Nae, South Bend, Ind., collide in another eight-rounder.

The New Ball
Freak deliveries are suggested at once by the disclosure that the big league teams in spring training will experiment with a different kind of baseball from that which the present generation of diamond athletes has been using.
The new ball will have a seam, it is said, made of thread that is twice as heavy as that used in the old apple, and the horsehide covering will be twice as thick. The heavy thread will provide a ridge around the ball at the seam, offering a better grip for pitchers and offering wind resistance that may result in some queer curves. Certainly with a ball like that, it will be easier for a hurler to toss a twister.
The Old "Dippy-De"
Dave Danforth's way with a ball is recalled immediately. Dave had a way of lifting the cover at the seam, using his thumbnail, which he used to file to a sharp point, to doctor the spheroid. The ball, with a raised spot along the seam, as thrown by Danforth, used to perform after the manner of Frank Merriwell's best foilers.
The ball with a raised seam is made to order also for knuckle-ball flingers. Metu like Rommel of the Athletics throw a ball that does not spin as it travels toward the plate. The pitcher gambles on an imperfection in the surface of the ball to produce a curve or variation in the path of the pellet. With a ridge all the way around the ball at the seam, a ball propelled without a spin goes through old gyrations. Baseball men used to call it "the old dippy-de" and while such a ball has a way of floating right past the batter.

ART SHIRES IN JAIL FOR DRUNKENNESS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 29. (AP) Police said today Arthur "The Great" Shires, former big league baseball player, boxer and creator of sorts, was lodged in the jail on charges of drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons.
The erstwhile major league whose recent marriage in Los Angeles to Miss Elizabeth Greenbaum of Chicago was accompanied by Shires' announcement he had succumbed to movie offers, virtually insisted on being arrested, police said.
Shires, police reports stated, after riding about Hollywood several hours, entered the police station early today and began a typical "whataman" monologue.
His discourse on what the films had gained by his entrance to the motion picture field was interrupted by Desk Sergeant Towne's suggestion that Shires go home and sleep. "Whataman," the sergeant said, refused to leave his room—what was the sergeant's desk?
"I've got rights as a citizen, haven't I?" Sergeant Towne said. "The Great" Shires insisted. "Try and put me out."
The sergeant did not try. A search was said to have revealed Shires possessed a pair of brass knuckles. A felony charge of carrying concealed weapons prevented the former Washington first baseman from being released on bail without a hearing before a magistrate.
The hearing was set for today with Shires' bride and friends sending for his release.
Shires' last act before leaving the Hollywood jail for central police station in Los Angeles was the burning of the mattress in his cell.

Gate Less Than Expenses as Two Elevens Play

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Less than 2,000 spectators turned out to watch a picked football team from southern colleges defeat a similar northern aggregation at Ebbets field yesterday, 7-0. The gate was less than expenses.
The gridiron was covered with snow and ice in the third period George Davidson, University of Georgia quarterback, punted on his 90-yard line to Holland, Tulsane, for a gain of 37 yards; slipped off tackle 13 yards; and passed to Jim Wagner, North Carolina back, who ran the rest of the way to a touchdown. Davidson kicked the point.

Football Stars Flying To Texas

DALLAS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Five Southwest football stars were winging their way eastward from California today, having called upon the fastest mode of travel to get them here in time to participate in the Dixie classic against the Midwest all stars on New Year's day.
Joe Uley, president of the Dixie classic, received word that Jake Wilson of Baylor, Noble Aakins of Texas Christian, Boyce Koch of West at San Francisco Saturday, Paradeux, who played with a West-South team against the Rockne Ramblers at Los Angeles the same day, remained over to fly back with his Southwest companions.
All of the five except Paradeux played with the victorious West eleven in a 10-6 victory over the West at San Francisco Saturday. Paradeux, who played with a West-South team against the Rockne Ramblers at Los Angeles the same day, remained over to fly back with his Southwest companions.

BIG SQUAD OF MUSTANGS TO ARRIVE FOR ALL-STAR TILT—CHICAGO BEARS ARE SIGNED

Football greats and former greats were to arrive in Tampa for the Community chest, in addition to some other percentage being worked out. It is a nearly game primarily, although the necessary expenses of the players must be deducted.
The Pampa squad will work out here, according to announcements Saturday, until Thursday morning. The Amarillo Tilt, headed by Pinky Alsbrook, former A. & M. star, is already practicing hard for the game. The Amarillo all-stars included Joel Hunt, Regis Mathews, Bob Clark, and Watson Logan, the latter the all-conference tackle from Canyon Teachers college.

Just when it looked as though things were peaceful and under good control, the Chicago Stadium broke loose with conversation about offering Max Schmeling $500,000—not pesos, yen or gulikers, but dollars—for a title match with Young Stribling.
Of course, no one in the boxing business in 1931, least of all the Chicago Stadium, has the slightest idea of paying that much currency to Der Maxie or anybody else for fighting the whole crop of heavyweight contenders on the same night. It is not being done under existing box-office conditions.
Nevertheless, Chicago may take the main go of the new year's heavyweight program right out of the laps of the New York fight weary unless a compromise program is agreed upon in the Big Town. There is no enthusiasm whatever for a return match between Schmeling and the erratic sailor Jack Sharkey, however much Jack may be entitled to a chance to redeem himself. He already has missed too many of these chances to suit the cash customers.
Stribling, by his performance within the past year in beating Garner, Von Fozal, Scott and Griffiths, has at least won his way to the semi-finals of any heavyweight contest. It seems likely the agile Georgian will have an opportunity to fight his way into the final.

The resignation of Noel Workman, former Ohio State backfield star, as Iowa State's head coach, followed one of the longest hard-luck campaigns on record. Iowa State dropped 14 consecutive games in two seasons, a record among major colleges. The team's last victory was over Grinnell in the opening contest of the 1929 season and it hasn't had a "break" since.
Despite good material, including a real star this year in Capt. Maynard Spear at tackle, Iowa State failed to break its jinx. If it wasn't an injury, it was a long run by the opposition that kept victory out of the team's grasp. Games were lost by the closest of margins but lost, anyway, and a shake-up became inevitable at the end of a season in which the boys failed to win a single game.

New York university's "Daily News" can't see any cause for an outcry against football. It regards gridiron success as a symptom of the times, failure as the cause of criticism.

Mustangs Will Meet Sooners in Practice Affair

DALLAS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Fourteen Southern Methodist university basketball players, led by Coach Jimmy St. Clair, planned to leave today for Norman, Okla., to begin their final week of pre-season warming up in a pair of games with the University of Oklahoma Sooners Wednesday and Thursday nights. They will play their first Southwest conference game here Jan. 9 against the Rice Institute Owls of Houston.

key climbed into the ring to second Ernie Blosef, there to exchange some earnest blows with Max Baer. There was no move to include Sharkey in the preliminary introductions, but the crowd yelled for him anyway and forced the big Boston sailor to take a few bows. Sharkey looked a little abashed at first, remembering previous reactions, but finally was convinced the greeting was genuine.
Although outmanned over the 10-round route by Schaaf, Baer made a strong impression. The young Nebraska, who has punched his way to prominence in California rings, bears a striking resemblance to Jack Dempsey in general fighting style and mannerisms.
He weaves in, head bobbing and covered by his elbows, the way old Manassas Mauler did. He lets fly with long rights of left hooks much after the Dempsey manner. Max has an easy, many movements in the ring, but he has yet to manifest the stamina that carried Dempsey along so far. Acting on the old Dempsey theory of "taking two to give one," Max made the mistake of over-estimating his power of punch-punching.

Junior Tennis Meet In Progress

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Sixteen junior tennis players and 22 boys under the 15-year age limit were among the players in the national junior and boys' indoor tennis championships.
The juniors, survivors of a field of 144, open their fifth round matches.
William Jacobs of Baltimore and the University of Pittsburgh, who has lost only four games in winning three matches, plays George A. Harris Jr. of Brown. Kendall H. Oram of Nashville, Tenn., No. 5, faces William Lurie of City college of New York.
The contestants in the boys' tournament enter the third round. Among the survivors is Irving Blum of Baltimore.

Football Captain To Marry Again

LONG BEACH, Calif., Dec. 29. (AP)—Tony E. Tindal, captain of the 1930 Stanford university football team, proposes to marry Wanda Waden today for the second time. You see we were married in Tijuana last Jan. 30, but have kept it a secret.
The second wedding, Tindal said, was sacred upon after Los Angeles county courts attacked the legality of Mexican marriages.
The young couple decided to keep the marriage secret until after the football season because the publicity thought it might affect his status as a team member.

Break for Grimes

A spitball pitcher could perform unacceptably with a raised-seam spheroid. In theory a spitball is not unlike a knuckleball, except that the spitter travels faster and its break is sharper. But then, there are only a few spitball flingers left—Mitchell of the Giants, Faber of the White Sox and Grimes of the Cardinals. The story of the last world series might have been different if Burleigh Grimes had been throwing a ball with a ridge along its seam. Spectators would have been privileged to see a repetition of Ed Walsh's four-pronged projectile.
The major leaguers in recent convulse assembled also decided to tell the umpires to use the same ball longer than has been the rule.
Last year and in the preceding seasons, balls that were only a trifle soiled were tossed back to the bench and used until for play. During the year to come, with a soiled ball to work with, it is not unreasonable to expect something like the old "dippy-de" to come back to the game.

With one side of the ball very dirty and the other side white, batters find it hard to bring into focus. How far pitchers will be allowed to carry their soiling of the ball, however, remains to be seen.

Coach Luc Wray. Of course this is not the first, but the cases of rebellion before now have been restricted mostly to individuals. Here was a whole team "walking out" as you might say.
The result was disastrous for the coach. Penn finally announced that the captain's resignation would have charge of the team's direction. It is hard to judge how widely the feelings of the Penn players are shared by the men of other schools. Time only will tell.
Meanwhile, the men of Notre Dame seem very well satisfied with the order of things at their own

North Dakota Capitol Burns

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 29.—North Dakota's government was without a home today and many valuable state and historical documents had been destroyed as a result of fire which burned the capitol.

Once the pride of the Dakotas, the four-story brick structure which dated from the pioneer territorial days of nearly half a century ago was burned yesterday almost on the eve of the convening of the state legislature which was to have considered a proposal for a new building. Defective wiring was believed by state officials to have been the cause.

With most of its records destroyed, state business was thrown into confusion. Officials endeavored to arrange temporary offices and a meeting place for the legislature.

These producers will lose their principal market until Jan. 1 when the Prairie Oil and Gas company of Independence, Kans., ceases to be a purchaser of crude oil. The Prairie company has offered the use of its pipelines for transmission of the oil to other agencies.

The committee headed by R. M. Young, president of the Carter Oil company and its subsidiary, the Oklahoma Pipeline company, was appointed by E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum institute.

Boundary Will Be Court Issue

AUSTIN, Dec. 29.—Litigation may be necessary to determine the Texas-Arkansas boundary along Red river near Texarkana, it developed today.

The attorney general's department received a letter from Hal L. Norwood, attorney general of Arkansas, saying he was continuing his investigation of the matter and if he found Texas' claims justified, would make his report to local county attorneys.

The fact that he had not as yet agreed with the contention of Texas authorities led Rice Tilley, acting attorney general, to forecast possible litigation.

The strip in controversy lies between the Red river and Cutoff lake, Texas claiming the strip. While of little value now, it was pointed out that mineral resources might be discovered on it.

The controversy arose when Texas as hunters were arrested for violating Arkansas game regulations.

STOCKS RECOVER

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The stock market recovered today from the sinking spell of late last week, and worked moderately higher.

With tax selling apparently about completed, shorts hurried to cover, and advances of a point or two were numerous by midday. Auburn shot up 5 points and tobacco and utilities were conspicuously strong.

Trading was moderately active. Shares gaining about 2 points included American Can, Allied Chemical, Macy, Vanadium, Liggett & Myers B, and the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit issues.

U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Union Carbide, Loews, American Water Works, North American, American Tobacco B, Reynolds Tobacco B, Atchafalaya and Baltimore & Ohio advanced a point or more.

Call money renewed at 2 1/2 per cent, to which level it had been advanced late last week.

PROPOSED STEEL MERGER IS DENIED BY JUDGE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Dec. 29.—The proposed billion-dollar merger of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company was denied by Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins today when he granted minority stockholders an injunction restraining the combination.

Judge Jenkins handed down his decision six months from the inception of one of the bitterest legal fights in corporate history, a struggle of millions that was carried out first with proxies and then with lawsuits. Forces marshalled by Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier, went into court with charges of fraud after a spectacular battle for proxies.
