NEW EXTRACT GIVES LIFE IN 48 HOURS

Dying Man Is Made to Appear As If Well

COLD SPRINGS HARBOR, N. Y., Dec. 5. (AP)—Restoration of a man from death's door to apparently perfect health in 48 hours was revealed today at the biological laboratory.

The man saved, a patient at the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., had Addison's disease.

At the clinic a purified hormone was injected directly into the veins of a farmer 39 years old by Dr. Leonard G. Roundtree and Dr. Carl H. Greene.

"Before its use," they reported, "the patient was exceedingly weak, bedridden, depressed, nauseated, losing weight, and showed evidence of falling circulation. Within 48 hours he had taken a new lease of life, his appetite was excellent, his strength was greatly improved and he appeared to be in perfect health."

ADDISON'S disease, due to failure of man's adrenal glands, has been reported in the past in medical literature as invariably fatal.

The hormone used was an extract of the cortex of the adrenal glands of cattle, obtained in the past few weeks in unusually pure form by Dr. W. W. Swingle and Dr. J. J. Pittner of the biological laboratory and of Princeton university.

"Hot Dog" Joke May Be Funnier Still

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Maybe Emmet Phillips, owner of a "hot dog" business, will be among those who laugh last and best.

Folks laughed when he told them he was going to drill for oil that seeped through the floor of his hot dog stand. It also houses a gasoline station.

"Em," they said, "your oil tanks are leaking," and a geologist agreed. Phillips called in another geologist and began to drill. The first efforts resulted in nothing but a hole 75 feet deep.

Last night, however, Phillips telephoned a Chicago newspaper that a gas well blew out near his hot dog stand and that natural gas was issuing therefrom at the rate of 100,000 cubic feet a day, he said, "where there's gas there's sure to be oil—maybe."

Anyway, his hot dog business is booming.

Anyways, his hot dog business is booming.

CONGRESS IS ASKED TO BE VERY CAREFUL

Chamber Head Says "Sensitive Time" Is Here

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—A business prayer was recorded today against any extended discussion in congress which might upset the equilibrium of this "sensitive time."

It was placed before President Hoover by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the President's business survey conference.

Barnes told the chief executive that business welcomed evidence that both Mr. Hoover and the party leaders in congress "seemed determined to put the emphasis of legislation on the necessary appropriation for public administration, and to provide emergency measures to increase employment."

But he coupled it with the hope that no protracted discussion of measures, though worthy in themselves, be allowed to bring the threat of an extra session. He commended the "high degree of statesmanship and party leadership" shown by recent events.

Business was not having a smoother course in congress, however. Yesterday Senator Norris, chairman of the judiciary committee, urged a department of justice investigation of the steel companies which have announced an increase of more than $1 a ton in prices. He scented possible violation of the anti-trust laws.

Farm Board Sees No Magic

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT GIVEN TO CONGRESS

Wheat Outlook Not Bright for Next Few Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—The farm board reported to congress today that agriculture, to achieve a par with industry must adjust production to consumption and perfect a self-controlled, economic system of distribution.

The first annual report of the board contained the views, along with a summary of the past year's studies, accomplishments and experiments.

Out of its own experience with wheat and cotton the board was able to tell the legislators that stabilization operations, without the backing of adjusted production, have a limited field.

The board members pointed to the results of their own stabilization efforts as an indication of some of the "difficulties and hazards" involved.

Particularly they said, did the failure of cotton producers to curtail acreage substantially in 1930, lead to defeat of stabilization measures.

As for wheat, the board said it had concluded the world outlook would remain gloomy through 1937 with the general price trend downward.

"The board could see no hope," it said, "for arresting such a movement or preventing its serious consequences to American wheat farmers by cooperative marketing as such, by stabilization measures of the type already employed, or through adopting any of the proposed measures designed to dispose of the surplus abroad at prices below domestic levels."

Tear Gas Halts Communist March on Congress

A staff cameraman for NEA Service and Pampa Daily News who wedged his way into the midst of the fighting and was almost overcome by tear gas for his pains, snapped this striking action picture of the Communist riot in front of the capitol at Washington. The thick smoke from exploding tear gas bombs, backed up by flailing night-sticks in the hands of husky policemen, broke up an attempt by several hundred Reds to stage a great demonstration and force their way into the halls of Congress to demand certain legislation. This picture shows a hot moment in the melee, with clouds of tear gas swirling about policemen and civilians.

SLOGAN WILL BE USED FOR REST OF TIME

Campaign Will Last During Next Week

"We're going over with a day's wage," is the slogan adopted by the general committee of the Community Chest in a meeting held this morning. It was also decided to continue the drive through next week, or until the quota of $15,000 is raised. A total of $7,200 had been raised at noon today.

According to the new plan, which was suggested by a driller who gave a day's wages to the chest, every contributor will be urged to give an amount of money equal to a day's wage, or a day's income. It is believed that this system will equalize contributions in a highly satisfactory manner. Both rich and poor will be urged to give a day's wage. The slogan is now being printed on stickers.

In explaining his system of giving to the chest, the driller said, "Shore, I make plenty of money and I give a day's wages to the chest, too. I tell you what—I just wish some of these big shots who own the land when I'm drilling would give a day's wages."

Those persons who have already contributed amounts below their daily income are asked to raise their donation. Business firms who have already contributed 100 per cent on the daily wage plan include the Rose Motor company, Rex theatre, and Piggy-Wiggly.

A meeting of the general committee of the Community Chest will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce hall. George Briggs announced today.

Every member is urged to be present as new plans will be discussed.

After analyzing the functions of a Community Chest and studying the local situation, C. W. Holt of the Adams hotel went down to Chest headquarters this morning and increased his subscription 100 per cent.

"When I gave my first donation, I never realized just what the Chest intends to do in this community. Well, the spirit of sharing instead of mere giving just got hold of me," he explained.

C. B. Akers, publicity director for the Chest, hopes that many who have already contributed, who feel they have not given enough, will duplicate Mr. Holt's action.

It was reported this morning that the Baker school had gone 100 per cent for the Community Chest drive. All teachers and the janitor have contributed.

SPORTSMAN SUCCEUMS

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Richard A. Cochran, wealthy social re-tiree, sportsman and business executive, was found dead today, apparently of heart disease, in the hallway of his Madison avenue apartment.

Mr. Cochran, noted for his extensive string of race horses, was formerly president of Alexander Smith & Son, Yonkers carpet manufacturers, and was an official of a number of other concerns.

Mr. Cochran's wife, formerly Mabel H. Taylor, obtained a divorce in Paris in 1927. They had three children, Jean, Clifford Jr. and Drayton.

The state meeting will last two days and out of it is expected to come a new constitution. Dr. Paul W. Horn of Texas Technological college will help entertain the boys, and there will be special banquets.

They were accompanied by Z. H. Munday and Prof. Thurman Harris.

Cups and Ribbons for Rabbit Show Placed on Display by Association

Chief Is Host To Tire Group

Chief Alex Schneider was host to 22 members of the volunteer fire department at a venison dinner in the Schneider hotel last night. Following the dinner, the firemen adjourned to the fire hall for the regular meeting.

Mr. Schneider praised the boys for their prompt appearance at the Barnard building fire the other night. Mr. Schneider pointed out that the Pampa firemen have never failed to be loyal and prompt.

The chief and the boys stayed at the Barnard fire from 2 a. m. until 6. Chief Schneider has been a recipient of much praise for the effective manner he used in keeping the blaze confined to the one building. The department also did not allow the flames to get a headway in the cafe and barber shop.

Motions for new trials were filed with the court this morning by Henry Akins and Dutch Payne, convicted recently on charges of possessing intoxicating liquor. Fred Myers, indicted jointly with Akins and Payne was acquitted. The motions were presented by Newton P. Willis, who was attorney for Myers.

Both Akins and Payne allege that the liquor which officers found them bottling in Myers' house belonged to a T. C. Farlow who intended to use it for medical purposes only. The petition states that the beer was not intoxicating but was home-brew. Farlow was suffering from tuberculosis and was ordered to drink home-brew, it was stated.

The men said they were bottling the beer "purely for the accommodation" of Farlow.

MURDERER IS HANGED

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Dec. 5. (AP)—Alfred Bess and George Davis, convicted of the murder of Clifford Gray, Sacramento grocery clerk, during a holdup, Nov. 18, 1929, were hanged here today.

FRATERNITY MAY BE DISCIPLINED

AUSTIN, Dec. 5. (AP)—Whether Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity as a group, had any responsibility in the death from alcohol poisoning last Friday of Mrs. Mildred Woodruff was in the hands of the faculty committee on social organization today.

The committee concluded its deliberations last night and adjourned until Monday when another meeting will be held and the committee's action decided upon.

Mr. Woodruff, San Antonio widow, died after a drinking party in the basement of the house. Two students have been expelled from the university for their connection with the affair.

J. Homer Hayes is expected to return today from a business trip to Phoenix, Ariz.

Dallas Leader Boosts Atwell

DALLAS, Dec. 5. (AP)—George S. Atkinson, republican state commit-tee man from Dallas, and other republican leaders here yesterday re-peated their efforts to have Federal District Judge William Hawley Atwell appointed on the fifth circuit court of appeals. They said they considered that a department of justice memorandum to the President recalling that Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls last year had publicly advocated repeal of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution, offset his chances of appointment.

Atkinson telegraphed E. B. Cresser, national committeeman, who had endorsed Bullington, asking him to recommend Judge Atwell in case Bullington was definitely eliminated.

Lubbock Backs Harvester Eleven

Lubbock is hoping that Pampa will win the Harvester-Ranger game this afternoon.

This assurance was received in a letter yesterday by George Briggs from A. B. Davis of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Wrote Mr. Davis: "Hurrah for the Pampa team. Here's hoping that they come out on top. You bet there are a lot of people in Lubbock who will want to listen in to the broadcast over KGRB covering the Ranger-Pampa game."

Mr. Davis stated that he had advertised the broadcast throughout the Lubbock country.

Mrs. O'Loughlin Has Collapse on Witness Stand

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 5. (AP)—Collapse of Pearl O'Loughlin on the witness stand last night brought to an abrupt end her trial on a charge of murdering her 10-year-old step-daughter.

With the jury excluded from the courtroom, Mrs. O'Loughlin was called to testify of her treatment while in custody of police following the finding of the girl's body in a city park lake.

"She is taking the stand for no other purpose than to show treatment accorded her after her arrest," Defense Counsel John M. Keating said. "I am placing her on the stand with the understanding her testimony can in no way be used before the jury."

Mrs. O'Loughlin's appearance followed that of Albert T. Clark, chief of detectives, and other police officials called by the court in an attempt to determine admissibility of the proposed testimony of the man who investigated the crime.

While the defense claimed all statements made by Mrs. O'Loughlin were obtained by threats, Clark had testified they were voluntary.

Leo O'Loughlin, father of the slain child, testified against his wife yesterday, saying she had threatened suicide and the slaying of her own son, and that he based his suspicion of his wife on these facts.

Legion Head to Sweep Streets; Contest Result

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 5. (AP)—Moody Nicholson, state commander of the American Legion and minister of Frederick, must turn "white wings" at Altus for a day.

The Altus post of the legion won a membership contest with Frederick. Members of the losing post must sweep the streets of the victorious town. Altus post officials said a broom of back breaking shortness would be provided for the state commander.

Chas. Sharp of Kansas City, former Pampa contractor, is visiting here. Mr. Sharp took a prominent part in local affairs while a resident of this city.

Houston Store Is Held Up Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Two men walked into the Louis Leiberer men's clothing store today and escaped with between $25 and $30 from a safe after slugging a clerk, H. M. Koehler, with the butt of a pistol. Another safe, which had not been opened, contained about $1,100.

Koehler told detectives the men entered and inquired about the purchase of boots. He said he stooped to a lower shelf to get a pair when one of the men hit him over the head with a pistol.

Insane Convicts Still at Large

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Search for seven maniac-convicts who fled from the state hospital for the criminally insane at Matteawan after overpowering guards was intensified today.

City police, state troopers and sheriff's forces were scouring New York and patrolling the 60-mile roadway from Beacon, N. Y.

Special guards watched the convict's former homes here, in Brooklyn, on Long Island and in Rochester, and plainclothes men sought them in their known haunts.

Two of the fugitives were sentenced for slayings, one for arson, one for assault, two for burglary and one for violating a parole.

Frank Vanderkuylen, who was committed for killing his bigamous wife with acid, appeared twice in the city yesterday. He called at his first wife's apartment several hours after the escape, but was refused admittance, and talked to a priest in the rectory of a church a short time later.

SHOOTING AND ROBBERY COME AT SAME TIME

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 5. (AP)—Burglars awaited tragedy last night to rob the Hoffman hotel.

George Hoffman, the proprietor, accompanied by a friend, William Bright, went out to hunt for Mrs. Herman, police said. They found her in company with a man known only as "Scotty." A quarrel in the street in front of the hotel came to a climax. Scotty shot Herman and his wife. Then he fled.

While employees and guests ministered to the wounded couple, burglars entered the hotel office and looted the safe.

Aviator Is Found Dead in Plane

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 5. (AP)—The body of William M. Griffin, aviator, today was on the way to Hamilton, Ont., his former home, for burial.

Griffin, who in recent years had lived in Berea, Ohio, was killed Nov. 24, after he had taken off in his plane from Buffalo for Cleveland. His body was found yesterday in a wooded section of the Chautauque county hills. The flyer had been blown from his course along Lake Erie by a severe wind and snowstorm.

Fox hunters came upon the wreckage buried under two feet of snow. The body of the pilot had been frozen stiff. In the forehead there was a deep gash. A coroner said death probably was instantaneous.

Business Man Makes Strong Statement

ROBT. A. STRATE

Robt. A. Strate, prominent business man, owner and general manager of the Bakery Equipment Co., Oklahoma City, makes the following statement regarding the recent recovery of his health:

"I suffered 20 years with a bad case of stomach trouble and any man ever had. It was impossible for me to enjoy a meal without suffering. I was literally run down. Five bottles of Sargon made me feel like a new man. I have gained 16 pounds and have as much strength and vitality as I had 20 years ago. I have never found anything to equal Sargon Soft Mass Pills. They regulated me perfectly.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 5. (AP)—Addressing a meeting of the C. R. O. M. Mexican Labor federation, last night, Luis Morones, labor leader, declared that now was no time for Mexico to try to pay its foreign debt. He attacked the Montes de Oca-Lamont agreement on the Mexican debt and demanded that the government make public its full text so that the people could see for themselves its "grave errors."

An Unpleasant Subject
All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. But this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as red, itchy eyes, loss of flesh, loss of appetite, itching nose and fingers, their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from Fathene Drug Company. —Adv.

Nine convicts entered her newest "salon" near Park avenue last night and made merry around a soda bar. About midnight they announced themselves as federal prohibition agents.

Miss Livingstone and eight employees were arrested. Some 400 top-hatted and silk-gowned guests were invited to continue their revelry elsewhere. Assorted liquors to the value of $1,200 found a new home.

Describing the salon as "the 58th street country club," Miss Livingstone said Lady Mendel, the former Elsie De Wolf, had called it the most beautiful in the world.

She identified herself on the police blotter as Miss Isabelle Livingstone, 56, an author.

DINNER — Veal stew with dumplings, baked squash, apple and celery salad, butterscotch pie, milk, coffee.

mutton, pork, ham, fresh and salted fish bring infinite variety to the one-time peblian stew. Unusual flavoring and seasoning, colorful garnishing and inviting serving will make any stew attractive enough to please the most fastidious taste.

A Feast From Plain Fare
Dumplings add interest to all stews, but especially to veal. Lamb stew gains much from canned peas. A stew made from remnants of cold roasts is made savory by a combination of onions, canned tomatoes and macaroni. Carrots provide color when other means of garnishing and vegetables, will satisfy the hungry hunter or football player.

A brown stew is assured if the meat is cut in cubes, rolled in flour and quickly browned in melted fat before simmering. Gentle simmering for two hours or longer insures perfect tenderness in the meat. Careful trimming of excess fat and gentle simmering is essential. If bone is included in the cut it should be removed before serving.

The liquid can be thickened or not as preferred. If thickened, the vegetables should be skimmed out to prevent crushing while the thickening is being stirred into the liquid. One tablespoon flour stirred to a smooth paste with a little cold water will thicken two cups of liquid.

Nation Looks to Parties to Get Together on Relief Measures

Co-operation of political parties in a concerted effort to accomplish something worthwhile in the form of unemployment and farm relief is logically expected by this nation.

It is granted that there will be grudging support lagging compromises, and excused get-togethers, but these will not be greatly criticized if progress is at last made. It is pointed out that procrastination on the part of Mr. Hoover has delayed many moves of this moment. If so, let the blame fall upon him, but this is the time for Congress to act, and act quickly.

There will be no Democratic move to prolong the slowed business conditions for political profit—the leaders of the party are too wise and too public spirited for that. Nevertheless, there are movements intended to discredit every form of relief attempted. There is a middle ground between governmental meddling and paternal socialism and real relief.

The Texas Co-operative News, published by the Texas Cotton Co-operative association, said in a recent issue:

"A fund of $100,000 is being raised to retard the co-operatives by discrediting the Federal Farm Board and its activities. Much of this fund has already been raised, from cotton exchanges, cotton brokers, merchants, shippers, and others who are feeling the effect of the 'shoe pinching' when growers take some measure of their marketing program into their own hands. Similar sums, it is said, will be raised by grain and livestock interests and other commodity dealers who would like to see the Federal Farm Board and the agricultural marketing act scrapped and the former 'perfect system' of handling farm commodities returned.

"... This money will be spent to discredit, destroy, or scrap the first real, concerted, and result-bearing effort that has been made to give the producers some audible voice into the selling of their products. This fact alone should arouse the producers of America as never before to take a firm stand, to object strenuously to such interference, and to back the Federal Farm Board and its commodity co-operative associations with their moral support and the support of their commodities in the channels of co-operative marketing."

It is not necessary to agree with the methods of the Farm Board to realize that scrapping of the government agency would be a radical step back toward the former unsatisfactory way of handling farm surpluses.

WASHINGTON.—The significance of the new conciliatory attitude of administration Republicans in Congress is that they had a splendid chance to be as dumb as politicians ordinarily are supposed to be—and deliberately neglected the opportunity. It is quite true that no one had to be especially foxy to perceive the advantages of capitulation, but the attitude of sweet reasonableness suddenly displayed by Chairman Bert Snell of the House Rules Committee and Floor Leader Jim Watson of the Senate had not been commonly expected.

There is also the sound thought that the supposed will of the voters, as expressed in November's elections, will be partially effective in this short session even though the newly elected Congress does not sit for another year. For it is the realistic specter of that next Congress which now promises to persuade the Republican House machine to permit 435 representatives to vote on the Norris Muscle Shoals bill, the lame duck amendment, the Wagner unemployment bill and other legislation supported by Republican progressives.

Mr. Hoover and other regular Republicans would be just as happy—perhaps happier—if the Seventy-second Congress never met at all. The thought of calling it into special session before its time, with its anti-administration majorities, is indescribably abhorrent. A combination of Senate insurgents and Democrats presumably could force such a session, so from that standpoint alone a willingness to allow certain legislation to come to a vote in the House might seem a small price to pay.

With the setup as is and as is to be, the anticipated backdown of the Longworth-Snell-Tilson triumvirate seems a highly strategic retreat from every point of view.

In the present lame duck House, the administration Republicans have a large actual majority—about 100 seats. In the next House they will at best have a bare paper majority which will be worthless insofar as legislative control is concerned and the Senate will be even more uncontrollable than it is now.

Obviously, if there is any legislation which the administration wants to influence, now is the time rather than in the next regular or special session. For one thing, it is now able to exert persuasive pressure on the lame ducks, many of whom would appreciate appointive federal jobs. And whereas it might be able to pass or defeat measures in accordance with its desires now, that possibility will be non-existent when Congress meets.

Snell believes that a House majority favors the Norris Muscle Shoals bill for government operation, and the same is probably true as to some which now seem likely to be voted there is little to be gained by there is something to be lost. The now of exacting compromises there will be later.

Another point is that it will to override presidential vetoes in the next, both because of the and the fact that the session

Mayor to Take Own Medicine in Assessment Suit

TEXARKANA, Dec. 5. (P)—Mayor L. S. Kennedy of Texarkana, whose activity in generally increasing assessments of property for taxation has made him a storm center for several months, will face trial in Bowie county district court during the week of Dec. 8 on two charges of failing to render personal property for taxation. The city executive has been under $500 bond on each case since the indictments were returned on Nov. 3.

The charges against Kennedy are misdemeanors, punishable by fines of $20 to $1,000 in each case in event of conviction. One of the indictments concerns assessments for the city and the other for the county. The bills are based on the ownership by the mayor of a shoe store on Jan. 1, 1930, in time for rendering property for taxation. The state alleges that the property was not rendered by the city executive. The store was burned on Jan. 2, the stock and fixtures being badly damaged. The mayor is alleged by the state to have collected $20,000 insurance as a result of fire damage and to have had the store fixtures returned to him. The state contends that he should pay taxes on a $20,000 valuation.

Immediately after his indictments, Mayor Kennedy issued a statement in which he charged the action was the result of his political enemies' work. "A member of the grand jury who owes several thousand dollars of back taxes has made open threats that he was going to get an indictment against me for something if it could be done," the mayor's statement said.

Several months ago, the general increase in tax assessments made by a tax equalization board appointed by Kennedy, resulted in a storm of protests. After several mass meetings, a citizens' committee of sixteen was named to investigate city expenditures and to cooperate with the city council in a program of economy.

Shortly afterwards, circulars were distributed throughout the city demanding Mayor Kennedy's resignation. The circulars charged that the city executive had failed to assess his shoe store and that he went before the tax board and had a $3,000 assessment made after charges had been made publicly about his alleged failure to assess the $30,000 stock of his shoe store.

Costly "Salon" Is Raided by Agents

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (P)—For the third time in recent months, Bello Livingstone is involved with the law.

Nine boulevardiers in flawless evening clothes entered her newest "salon" near Park avenue last night and made merry around a soda bar. About midnight they announced themselves as federal prohibition agents.

Miss Livingstone and eight employees were arrested. Some 400 top-hatted and silk-gowned guests were invited to continue their revelry elsewhere. Assorted liquors to the value of $1,200 found a new home.

Describing the salon as "the 58th street country club," Miss Livingstone said Lady Mendel, the former Elsie De Wolf, had called it the most beautiful in the world.

She identified herself on the police blotter as Miss Isabelle Livingstone, 58, an author.

MENU for the FAMILY

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

When a stew is carefully and properly made it is one of the most satisfying and nourishing foods that can be served to a hungry family. Cheap cuts of meat can be used to great advantage and the finished dish is both economical and appetizing.

The success of a stew depends on the careful seasoning and cooking of the meat and vegetables. Greater skill and cleverness are required to prepare a delicious stew than to broil an expensive steak. The steak might be dubbed "fool-proof," for only the most villainous cooking could ruin it, while stewing meat must be treated with discrimination to make it popular.

Nowadays all sorts of meats are used for stews. Beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork, ham, fresh and salted fish bring infinite variety to the one-time plebeian stew. Unusual flavoring and seasoning, colorful garnishing and inviting serving will make any stew attractive enough to please the most fastidious taste.

A Feast From Plain Fare Dumplings add interest to all stews, but especially to veal. Lamb stew gains much from canned peas. A stew made from remnants of cold roasts is made savory by a combination of onions, canned tomatoes and macaroni. Carrots provide color when other means of garnishing

Woman Is Given 5-Year Sentence

HILLSBORO, Dec. 5. (P)—Mrs. Bessie Russell was given five years in the penitentiary for murder in connection with the slaying of her husband, C. V. Russell, by a jury here late last night. Russell was fatally wounded at Abbot, near here, where he was working as a telegraph lineman. He died a week after he had been shot. Mrs. Russell testified that he had threatened her life the day before the shooting and often had abused her.

are not at hand. A few mushrooms give the final touch to any stew that makes a real feast out of plain fare.

The rule for vegetable cookery holds good in stews. Do not overcook the vegetables. Add them just long enough before serving to allow them to cook tender. Since the vegetables are cooked with the meat there is no waste of valuable mineral salts. The liquid in which both the meat and vegetables are cooked is served with the stew.

Beef, veal or lamb make delicious stews suitable for all members of a family. The liquid with sifted vegetables can be given to even the youngest person at the table. The stew proper, in all its glory of meat and vegetables, will satisfy the hungry hunter or football player.

A brown stew is assured if the meat is cut in cubes, rolled in flour and quickly browned in melted fat before simmering. Gentle simmering for two hours or longer insures perfect tenderness, in the meat. Careful trimming of excess fat and grease is essential. If bone is included in the cut it should be removed before serving.

This liquid can be thickened or not as preferred. If thickened, the vegetables should be skimmed out to prevent crushing while the thickening is being stirred into the liquid. One tablespoon flour stirred to a smooth paste with a little cold water will thicken two cups of liquid.

Insane Convicts Still at Large

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (P)—Search for seven maniac-convicts who fled from the state hospital for the criminally insane at Matteawan after overpowering guards was intensified today.

City police, state troopers and sheriff's forces were scouring New York and patrolling the 60-mile roadway from Beacon, N. Y.

Special guards watched the convict's former homes here, in Brooklyn, on Long Island and in Rochester, and plainclothes men sought them in their known haunts.

Two of their fugitives were sentenced for slaying, one for arson, one for assault, two for burglary and one for violating a parole. Frank Vanderkuylen, who was committed for killing his bigamous wife with acid, appeared twice in the city yesterday. He called at his first wife's apartment several hours after the escape, but was refused admittance, and talked to a priest in the rectory of a church a short time later.

Aviator Is Found Dead in Plane

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 5. (P)—The body of William M. Griffin, aviator, today was on the way to Hamilton, Ont., his former home, for burial.

Griffin, who in recent years had lived in Beres, Ohio, was killed Nov. 24, after he had taken off in his plane from Buffalo for Cleveland. His body was found yesterday in the wreckage of his plane in a wooded section of the Chautauque county hills. The flyer had been blown from his course along Lake Erie by a severe wind and snowstorm.

Fox hunters came upon the wreckage buried under two feet of snow. The body of the pilot had been frozen stiff. In the forehead there was a deep gash. A coroner said death probably was instantaneous.

COACHES EXPECT HARD BATTLE IN RANGER-PAMPA TILT

BULLDOGS IN READINESS FOR FINALE

A warm sun rose in the east this morning to provide an almost perfect day for the final football game of the season.

Ranger's Bulldogs arrived this morning from Amarillo, where they spent the night. They were quartered in the Hotel Davis here.

Coach Dick Curtis of Ranger said that his bus was waterbound at Quanah and he had to take a train there. After the game today the Bulldogs will go to Amarillo, where the bus will be driven.

The Ranger mentor was not certain of his line-up, but he said his boys were in good condition. They expected a battle, but felt confident of winning. Coach Odus Mitchell had a similar statement.

Asked about the Amarillo-Breckenridge game tomorrow, Coach Curtis predicted that the score would be close. While he was inclined to favor the Bucks of his own district, he realized that two games in the past week had weakened the Breckenridge boys considerably.

Ranger will have two full teams here for battle at 2:30 o'clock. A big crowd was expected, and a bigger one will be at radio all over the West Texas area as KQRS puts the game on the air through the local remote control studio. Sam Feenberg will be at the mike.

Many stores were to close for the contest.

ROSE BEATS "BIG" LARSEN

Long and lanky Swede Larsen of Wisconsin was no match for Jack Rose last night at the Pla-Mor, and the Shreveporter won in two straight falls.

Rose took the first in 22 minutes with a toe hold and a headlock, and the second with a body slam in 20 minutes.

The big Swede got a headlock that Jack broke by butting. The Swede then proceeded to demonstrate some of the rough and tumble wrestling he learned in the lumber camps of Wisconsin, but was powerless to break away from Jack's toe hold and headlock.

The second fall was made in two minutes less than the first, Rose winning with a body slam.

In the semi-final, Jack Fisher won over Rob Roy in 12:12 minutes, using a split Fisher "sweat" wrestler, not far beyond his prime, and a former champ, just-fitted out of a toe hold, was given the knee by Roy, and came out of an armlock with the split.

Perryton Will Have Good "5"

PERRYTON, Dec. 5. (Special)—Close to 50 boys started training this week for basketball under the direction of Coach E. E. Shupe, and it now looks as though the Rangers might have a pretty strong aggregation.

O'Grady, a letter man from Shamrock and Morris from Oklahoma are both showing up well, and a number from last year's second team are looking good. Shupe will have to build an entirely new team from second and third string men and the new men who have entered school, as the entire first team of last year graduated.

A part of the schedule has been filled, but Shupe is eager to get more games. Here is a list of games already scheduled: Booker, slide and boys, here Dec. 12; Farnsworth boys and girls, here Dec. 17; the boys' first and second teams go to Liberal Dec. 19, and the girls play Higgins here on that date; Jan. 2, girls and boys play a double-header in Spearman; Jan. 30, Follet and girls come here for a double-header; Feb. 6, Liberal boys' first and second teams play here; Feb. 13, Spearman boys and girls come here for a return engagement. Efforts are being made to schedule games with Shattuck, Canadian, Dalhart, Borger and other good teams of this section.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS

Lions and Christians

The practice of feeding Christians to the lions has been discontinued, but we haven't rid ourselves of the idea. The football "setup" or "breather" carries out the plan perfectly, according to George Trevor, in a recent "Outlook and Independent."

"Yarmouth university," he writes, "has a man-killing schedule, calling for four or five games against top-notch rivals. Naturally it wants two or three 'breathers'."

"It knows that many so-called little teams are little only in name and student enrollment; that they are loaded for bear with tramp athletes and semi-pros. Naturally Yarmouth steers clear of these power-packed trouble makers when searching for easy marks. It avoids the rough little archduces and dates up Marmaduke college, away upstate."

"I've got you a swell breather," says Yarmouth's graduate manager to Coach "Pop" Brawler. "You can take these guinea pigs in a stroke, give your five elevens a brisk workout, and point for Princevard the week after." This suits Pop fine. An 80-point walk-over won't hurt his reputation.

"How does the proposition appeal to little Marmaduke? It sounds like money in the bank. The Marmaduke manager's vanity is flattered by the fact that mighty Yarmouth has deigned to notice his tiny school."

"We'll be steam-rolled, of course," he muses, "but the publicity will be worth a good shelling. Our kids will get a kick out of playing in the Yarmouth bowl, and think of the sports page advertising for little Marmaduke. Then there's the money angle. Our rickety wooden stands need a coat of paint and Yarmouth guarantees us a nice cut of the gate. Besides, the experience of meeting a top-ranking eleven will give our fellows lots of seasoning."

Vermont is cited as an example in the flesh. Last year Vermont played New York U. and Yale on successive Saturdays. They learned football to the tune of 77 to 0 in the first game and 8 to 0 in the second.

"On the Monday after the Yale game," Trevor writes, "the Vermont coach, a United States army officer, sent me his casualty list. It began 'one concussion of the brain—serious; one concussion—light'; and continued for two typewritten pages, listing such relatively minor hurts as dislocated knees, pulled tendons, cracked ribs, sprained ankles, muscle strains and broken collar bones."

Trevor has struck upon one of the worst evils in intercollegiate football. There is this difference between the modern butcheries and those of Nero's day, however: The Christians of modern college football go out of their way to be eaten by the lions.

And if a man wants to stick his head into a lion's mouth, it would be to provide only temporary relief to a man who has been arrested. Maybe there head into a lion's mouth, it would be to provide only temporary relief to a man who has been arrested. Maybe there

Dutch Shell Would Increase Price of Crude

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—The Royal Dutch Shell group, world's largest producers of crude oil, is launching a campaign to bolster crude oil prices, along with producers in two other basic industries, copper and steel.

"The great copper and steel industries have taken the initial step, to bring about an improvement in their position. Why not oil?" asked Richard Airey, one of the leading officials of the Royal Dutch Shell in the United States, in a statement to the Associated Press today.

"It is the firm opinion of the Royal Dutch Shell group," he continued, "that the producers who have made possible the great curtailment of production already accomplished, and the need for still further curtailment, should be compensated by higher prices, and not penalized by a reduction.

"It has been said we have put out feelers for a joint price raise. This is not correct. We have made known our opinion through the press and the danger we fear that the curtailment program will be upset by the small producer being brought to the edge of ruin and being compelled to increase production to live.

"Trade advisers show that the consumption of gasoline is declining; therefore, crude oil production and refinery runs should be further curtailed.

"We are following the United States movement by curtailing in Venezuela, where Nov. 1 our production was 192,500 barrels daily and is now 156,000 barrels daily."

Frederick Godber, director of the Royal Dutch Shell group, on the eve of his return to London after a survey of the oil industry in the United States, predicted "ruination of thousands of oil producers and excessive waste of capital and oil" unless a definite program of production curtailment is adopted.

"The oil industry seems to have arrived at the crossroads and finds no indication which road to take," Mr. Godber said. "Only two remedies are evident. One is to relax the old law of supply and demand. The other, and only alternative, is to adopt a definite production curtailment plan, to be followed by stable conditions and rational prices which will enable the producer to live. The next thing in importance to that is to stop unnecessary drilling."

"Restricting output on the supply and demand basis will not help conditions if the price of crude oil must be lowered," he added. "Low prices of crude can mean only one thing—ruination of thousands of producers and excessive waste of capital and basic material. While both producers and marketers will have to be satisfied with less margin of profit, the consumer has a vital interest in curtailment because, in the long run, it must mean efficiency in service and reasonable prices."

Baseball Peace Seems Possible

MONTREAL, Dec. 5. (AP)—A definite move towards peace between major leagues and the big minors appeared imminent today as the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues entered upon its closing stages.

Observers of the bitter fight over the draft question between the two groups expected the next chapter in the controversy would be written at New York next week at the joint major league meeting. That it would be a step in the direction of peace seemed clear enough here although no one was willing to say on what basis a possible compromise might be reached.

First indication that the situation had completely changed and left the rival factions in a position to get together came when the three class AA leagues, the International and Pacific Coast and American association, announced appointment of a standing committee of nine, three from each league, empowered to act at any time the National and American leagues should wish to discuss the draft.

This action, coming less than 24 hours after what appeared to be a wide open split between the two groups, was of particular significance. No representative of the minor league group was willing to say what had led to appointment of the committee but it was observed that some major league club owners had indicated that they were opposed to a war with the minors and that there seemed to be no reason why a compromise should not be reached.

The minors' action left them fully prepared to enter into any negotiations that may be desired by the majors. It was emphasized, however, that the first move would have to come from the majors.

Bartell On His Way

The fact that Barney Dreyfus traded Bartell to a tall-end club helps to confirm that rumor about an argument between the Pirate boss and the shortstop over the subject of transportation to the Pacific Coast, where Bartell lives. It seems to be one of Mr. Dreyfus' habits to trade men to the cellar when they argue with him about money.

Last year, after a salary difference, Barney sent Burtleigh Grimes to the Braves, and it appeared for a time that Grimes had been submerged. The Braves, however, sent

AUSTIN, Dec. 5. (AP)—Coach Clyde Littlefield saw five members of his Southwest conference champion football squad pass out of collegiate competition today, but with 20 men left and virtually every gap filled, he had little to worry over.

There may be some difficulty in finding a man of the dependable qualities of Captain Dexter Shelley, one of the 25 awarded letters by the athletic council last night.

The other seniors were Peterson and Vining, ends, whose pieces were capably taken in games this season by Price and Dubose; Perkins, half, who had to compete all season with the brilliant young Harrison Stafford; and Nick Gatours, center, who gave way to Walker Howie.

Election of next year's captain was the last item on the 1936 football program. Williams Elkins, who guided the destinies of this year's team and Maurice "Dutch" Baumgarten, lineman, were outstanding contenders.

Besides the seniors named, letters were awarded as follows:
Baumgarten, Braley, Brown, Craig, Doell, Elkins, Emerson, Hodges, Howie, Tyson and Weaver, all second year men and Blanton, Clewis, Cook, Dubose, Koy, Moody, Price, Sparks, Stafford, first year men. Otto Ramsey earned a manager's letter. Cross country letters went to Schiller, Johnson, Storm, Blakeney, Bowen, Deacon and Cole.

him to the Cardinals, and Burtleigh cashed in.

Glenn Wright was punished by being sent to Brooklyn, but a year later he turned around and made the team that almost won the National League flag. Kiki Guyler was traded to the Cubs, then a fourth place team. The outlook wasn't so bright for either Grimes, Wright, or Bartell, but the baseball fates smiled on all three after Barney sent 'em down the river.

NOTRE DAME NEARS SCENE OF BIG TILT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5. (AP)—As Notre Dame's rough, tough team neared Los Angeles today their Saturday opponents, the powerful University of Southern California eleven, ran away. The Californians were in full flight, but not from their adversaries on the football field. They fled from their friends and well wishers.

Long before Coach Knute Rukens led his Indiana stayaways out of Tucson, Ariz., on the last lap of their long trail, Coach Howard Jones slipped his Trojans out of their stronghold and away to a hotel in an unidentified city. However, announcement that final practice of the home team will be held on a Pasadena field gave a hint as to the city in which Jones and his men sought sanctuary from handshakers and back slappers.

Whether the Notre Dame wonder team would round out its second successive season without a defeat rested on the lap of the football gods and the mighty men of Troy.

As the Notre Dame players sped toward the battleground, their heads were filled with "trick stuff." Rukens' famous strategy, Southern California is not so crafty but Coach Jones believes in power with a capital "P."

With the climax game a full day away the railbirds thought the struggle might develop into a battle of giants employing vastly different tactics should the commanders from their conning towers on the bench elect to pit cunning against brawn, the resulting maneuver may be as interesting as the 85,000 prospective customers expect.

The field tomorrow afternoon will be cluttered up with great backs, there being no lack of ball carriers and interferers on either team. And the blocking backs of Rukens and Jones will know they have been in a game when it is over. Each coach believes that a maul on the ground will not contribute much to his team's defense and the order is "knock 'em all down."

The spectre of injury haunted each squad. Larry Mullins, South Pasadena boy, anxious to show the home folk that he can hold his own with the Trojan band, may be thwarted by hurts from taking his place in the Notre Dame backfield. Ralph Wilcox, Southern California end, may play a while, but will not be up to par as a result of a November injury.

Old man percentage will be playing with the Trojans and Notre Dame's best defensive wizard may be necessary to block him out of the play. The South Benders have won 23 straight games and by the law of averages are due to lose.

Troop of the four games between Notre Dame and Southern California have been won by Notre Dame, each by a single point. This one may be as close either way.

Some Families Not Interested in Religious Work

HOUSTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—The initial report of a city-wide religious census here revealed that 34 families of 2,780 called upon were "not interested in religion."

Of those "interested" it was reported that two prospective church members were found in each home. A prospective member, in the census identification, was one who either had belonged to some church elsewhere and had not joined here, or one who attended or preferred a church, but never had joined.

Only one person out of three of those canvassed attended Sunday school, and 1,443 families had no church members.

Much Mexican Gold Smuggled

LAREDO, Dec. 5. (AP)—The sum of 72,000,000 pesos Mexican gold has passed through the port of Laredo since 1925, it developed when investigation at Laredo was made in connection with the report from Mexico that more than 8,000,000 pesos Mexican gold had been smuggled out of Mexico through Laredo during the past seven months.

A large amount of this Mexican gold, it was reported, went to United States banks, while other shipments went elsewhere. It was also stated that there were no United States laws to prevent the entry of Mexican gold at an American port of entry when such gold was properly declared and entered through the customs house, as it was considered and treated in the same manner as other merchandise.

A party in a position to speak authoritatively stated that the cause for the smuggling of Mexican gold out of Mexico was due to the low rate of exchange offered by Mexican banks. Mexican gold is usually worth around 49.85 in New York, while the Banco de Mexico pays around 45.

The high discount charged by banks of Mexico when American exchange is purchased with Mexican gold in Mexico naturally detrimental to American exporters, it was stated, since it has the effect of raising the value of American merchandise.

VETERAN CLERK RETIRES

Wrong Use of Injunction Flayed

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Use of the injunction as an instrument of "offensive or even vindictive attacks" was flayed in a judgment handed down by the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals.

The case involved was one appealed from Willacy county where the estate of Mrs. Henrietta M. King had sought an injunction to invalidate a $100,000 school bond issue. Representatives of the estate alleged that the Willacy county school trustees had unlawfully altered independent school district boundaries and had not give proper notice of the bond election.

When a demurrer, filed by the school district in a lower court was sustained, the King estate appealed. In affirming the decision of the lower court, the fourth court said: "The merciful remedy of the writ of injunction is rapidly degenerating into an instrument of offensive and even vindictive attack upon opponents."

At the beginning of the year, China had 127 cotton mills equipped with 3,969,522 spinning spindles and 231,684 twisting spindles and 29,322 weaving looms.

Great Britain imported 3,408,212 dozen pairs of cotton hosiery in the first nine months of 1930.

Wears Stripes to Earn His Way

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Henry Rodriguez, a student at Main Avenue high school here, wanted to earn some Christmas money and went to school in the stripes of a felon, handcuffed, although it was not in the bargain.

Rodriguez was advertising a picture for a San Antonio theatre. In order to do the job right he donned the striped suit of a convict and wore the peaked "braceros" of a prisoner.

He reckoned without the key to the cuffs. There was one key. The manager of the theatre had the key. When Henry was ready to call it a day he sought the manager. It was a vain hunt.

After a long, fruitless search Henry went home and to bed. The next day he gave his schoolmates a shock when he appeared for class in his unusual garb. School teachers joined in the search for the theatre man, for Henry's attire was creating very much the situation in the school room as did Mary's Little Lamb. But the theatre manager could not be reached. The handicuffs eventually were filed off in the vocational workshop of the school.

Many Men Fed Are Non-Residents

HOUSTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Hereafter anybody who appears at the restaurant of Charles Eberly here for a free meal must present credentials from the city unemployment committee.

In 10 days Eberly said he fed more than 1,200 persons, and a check of his registration book showed only 95 were residents.

"The purpose of our offer," he explained, "was to relieve Houston men who were out of work and unable to buy food. We can't afford to feed a lot of out-of-town men who are here and keep coming back for more."

WINTER POLO POPULAR

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 5. (AP)—Seven teams have signed to take part in the Fort Brown winter polo tournament starting Dec. 7. Teams include two Mexican cavalry teams from Reynosa and Monterrey, Fort Sam Houston team from San Antonio, the Polo and Riding club contingent from Houston, and squads from Corpus Christi, Harlingen and Fort Brown.

This is the largest polo tournament ever attempted in the Lower Rio Grande valley.

ATTEND MEETING OF KEY BANKERS GROUP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Barling unexpected developments William N. Doak may be able to take office as secretary of labor Monday or Thursday of next week.

His nomination gained approval of the senate labor committee yesterday. The senate did not act upon it before recessing for the week-end because Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, insisted upon the usual procedure under which reports must lie over for a day. But Couzens said he had no objection to nomination of the Virginian and no other senator indicated opposition. The American Federation of Labor withdrew its objection to Doak right after his name was sent to the senate.

Confirmation Monday appeared probable.

The long week-end recess was taken finally to permit committees to work on the more than 200 nominations the president has submitted for approval. Couzens called an executive session of the Interstate Commerce committee today to study appointees for the new power commission while Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, called his group to meet tomorrow to consider the six members of the new tariff commission.

Frank McNinch of Charlotte, North Carolina, nominated to the power commission, was the one who appeared to be receiving the closest study by the senators. Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, said he sought to establish whether McNinch was in fact a Democrat. He said, however, he would support him if he had voted the straight Democratic ticket at the last election. This, he was given to understand, was the case.

Pipeline Work Is Holding Up Well In Oil Industry

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 5. (AP)—Pipeline construction, furnishing perhaps the brightest feature of the industrial year, goes steadily ahead as winter comes.

Work is being speeded on eight major projects, including gasoline, natural gas and crude oil carriers, which, upon completion, will have added 7,900 miles to the underground transportation system.

Based upon estimates of the building companies, the 1930 construction program represents an investment of $200,000,000.

Several of the lines will be in operation in January, the builders have announced.

From the offices of the Great Lakes Pipeline company at Ponca City came word that gasolines would be shipped to Kansas City through its new line not later than Jan. 1. The company's complete system, reaching from the Oklahoma refineries of the Barnsdall corporation and the Continental Oil company and totalling 1,440 miles, is expected to be in service next June. Barnsdall and Continental jointly organized the pipeline concern to provide for transmission of their gasoline to retail marketing territories.

The Phillips Pipeline company, a subsidiary of the Phillips Petroleum company, expects completion of its 740-mile gasoline line, extending from Borger, Texas, to St. Louis by way of Wichita, Kansas, with a branch to Kansas City, Mo., before Jan. 1.

A long crude oil carrier, the Gulf Pipeline company's 900-mile line from Glenpool, near Tulsa, to near Spencerville, Ohio, is nearing completion. Through this line and that of the Buckeye Pipeline company, the Gulf Oil corporation will supply refineries at Cincinnati, Toledo and Pittsburgh.

Rapid progress has been made on the Ajax Pipeline company's double crude oil line from Glenpool to Woodriver, Ill., which will contain 624 miles of pipe. Company officials say the system will be in operation by Jan. 1. The Ajax line is owned by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Pure Oil company.

These long natural gas pipelines will reach from the Texas Panhandle to points in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana, Kentucky and Minnesota.

The Continental Construction company, in which are associated the Cities Service company, the Insub Interest, Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Shell Oil company, Phillips Petroleum company, Producer and Refiner's corporation, Texas company and the Columbian Carbon company, is building a 1,000-mile line from the Panhandle gas fields to Chicago, passing through Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa. The cost is estimated at $100,000,000.

A 1,100-mile gas carrier, originating at Borger, Texas, and terminating at Indianapolis, with an extension into Kentucky, is a project of the Missouri, Kansas, Pipeline company. The line has been completed from Borger into Kansas and construction work is well along in Kansas, Missouri, and Indiana.

The Missouri Valley Pipeline company expects to complete 950 miles of gas line from the Texas Panhandle through Kansas into Nebraska and Iowa before the end of 1930. Most of the work so far has been in Texas, Oklahoma, Iowa, and Nebraska. Plans call for an extension later from Fort Dodge, Iowa, to Minneapolis.

In the south the Southern Natural Gas corporation is adding 710 miles of extension to its trunk system running east from the Monroe, La., gas field to Birmingham and Atlanta.

Attorney General Wades In Lake

TEXARKANA, Ark., Dec. 5. (AP)—Attorney General Norwood of Arkansas and Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt of Texas spent yesterday afternoon wading in boats along banks of a "cut-off" lake at the Applewhite Hunting club, 32 miles northwest of here, seeking to determine whether the land is in Texas or Arkansas.

Norwood said he had reached no conclusion but would write a formal opinion later. Bobbitt left last night for Washington, after asserting there was no doubt in his mind but the tract is in Texas. The dispute arose because of meanderings of Red river. Doubt was expressed that the expense of a test case in the United States supreme court would be justified by the hunting license fees involved.

Poincare Expected to Form Cabinet

PARIS, Dec. 5. (AP)—All France looked today to Raymond Poincare, "saviour of the franc," to emerge from retirement and once more assume the government's leadership, left vacant with resignation of Premier Andre Tardieu and his cabinet.

The Tardieu government was defeated in the senate and censured for the conduct of the government during the current financial scandals, 147 to 139.

Whatever the desires of those talking to the president for a ministry headed by another, it appeared that the answer to the crisis lay in M. Poincare.

The veteran statesman's own attitude was believed to have changed somewhat with defeat of his friend and disciple, M. Tardieu.

Just prior to the vote he told friends in the senate lobby: "If my name is put forward to assume formation of a new ministry, should one be necessary, I shall show my doctors' certificates that it is impossible for me to resume office at the present time. I consider that it would be a public calamity if the government is overthrown and I shall be the first to advise M. Doumergue to recall M. Tardieu."

Other names suggested for a possible invitation presented apparently insurmountable obstacles. Prominent among them was that of Aristide Briand, foreign minister in the Tardieu cabinet, but opposition to him has grown of late and success would be doubtful. Others were Henri Cheron and Pierre Laval, Poincare's close friend.

London Fog Is Unusually Thick

LONDON, Dec. 5. (AP)—One of the thickest fogs in years covered the Thames estuary today, completely halting shipping. Among the boats at a standstill were the American merchant, the Gunader Aurania, the Orient liner Orvieto, and passenger steamers of the Thames-Dunkirk service.

Many persons bound for the continent and others awaiting friends on incoming liners at Tilbury had to take hotel accommodations last night on the shore.

The fog was thick in some other parts of England, but London, usually one of the worst fog areas in the country, escaped the very severe conditions although during the night the mist was thick enough to interfere with suburban railway traffic and to encourage motor car thieves who stole 30 automobiles within an hour. This was believed to freshen up raids on jewelers and other shop-keepers and police patrols in the shopping districts were reinforced.

FEDERAL PLANS STARTED

SEGUIN, Dec. 5. (AP)—Notices requesting bids covering preliminary work in construction of a federal building and postoffice here have been posted. Construction of the building is expected to begin some time in January.

VEGETABLES SHIPPED

LAREDO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Ninety-one carloads of diversified winter vegetables had been shipped from the Laredo district up to Dec. 1. The heaviest movement was of spinach, broccoli and mixed vegetables.

Alsop Is Freed of Murder Charge

DALLAS, Dec. 5. (AP)—John Alsop, former Fort Worth policeman, was freed today of murder charges in connection with the fatal shooting of George Terrell, negro, during an attempted holdup of the First State bank of Polytechnic, last April. A jury in district court here acquitted him last night.

State's attorneys had contended the robbery attempt upon the bank, in which Terrell and Will Tate, another negro, were killed, was "framed" for the purpose of obtaining a $5,000 reward offered by the Texas Bankers association for each dead bank robber.

The jurors said the complexity of issues in the case, especially defense evidence that showed the state's star witness, A. P. Hoyt, had been served beer in the Tarrant county jail before he made a signed statement on the bank robbery attempt and alleged frame-up, was the cause for the acquittal.

Preparations were made to take Alsop back to the Tarrant county jail at Fort Worth, where he must remain pending outcome of an appeal from a 20-year sentence imposed upon him for the alleged murder of Tate in the same holdup.

Argentina's first hydro-electric power station was constructed in 1898.

MARRIAGE NO DRAWBACK

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Married women will not be discriminated against in the hiring of city employees, Mayor C. H. Chambers has declared in answer to a request from the San Antonio Building Trades council that married women be released from the city payroll.

Mayor Chambers declared that his office would show no discrimination against the women employees, but where the city employed both a husband and his wife the least efficient one would be released.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
CELIA MITCHELL, 17, leaves Baltimore where she has lived with her coarseness mother, MARGARET ROGERS, to join her wealthy father, JOHN MITCHELL, in New York. The parents are divorced and Mrs. Rogers is a widow following a second marriage.

BARNEY SHIELDS, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl. Mitchell asks EVELYN PARSONS, beautiful widow, to introduce his daughter to other young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections. She soon becomes jealous of the girl and schemes to get rid of her by encouraging a romance between Celia and TOD JORDAN, fascinating but of dubious character.

Although Mitchell forbids Celia to see Jordan she goes about with the young man frequently. LINDY DUNCAN, a girl of Celia's age, becomes her loyal friend. Shields comes to New York to work for a photographic service and meets Celia. She tells him she has lost her heart to Jordan.

Realization that it is really Shields she loves comes to Celia when the young man is imprisoned in a burning building. He escapes unhurt except for a broken arm. Shields calls to Celia has no opportunity to talk to him privately. Mrs. Parsons, who pretends to be friendly to Shields, goes to see Mitchell at his office.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLV

The man looked as though he had been struck. "Celia?" he cried. "What's happened? What's the matter?"

Evelyn Parsons met his gaze unflinchingly. "It's going to be—difficult to tell you," she said. "I only learned it this morning. As soon as I could I came."

Mitchell seemed to be stunned. Apparently he did not hear her words. "Good God!" he cried. "She's not injured?"

Evelyn shook her head. "Celia has not been hurt. Nothing has happened. Nothing—yet!"

The man's answer was a blank stare. "May I sit down?" Mrs. Parsons asked quietly. "I'll try to tell you as quickly as possible."

She took the chair Mitchell pushed forward and sank into it gratefully. Then she leaned forward, hands clasped together, and let her deep blue eyes rest on his. "I learned today," she said slowly,

He crossed the office, turned and strode back. "Tell me what you heard over again!" he exclaimed. "You're right." Mrs. Parsons repeated the story. There were a few sly allusions to the ingratitude of a young girl who could impose upon the trust and kindness of such a father. Constantly Evelyn repeated that she herself did not want to believe the evidence. She had loved Celia like a daughter. That was why she could not look on and let the girl ruin her life.

"What I can't understand," Evelyn said in her soft voice, "is why she shouldn't have brought the young man to the apartment and introduced him instead of meeting him in a park! You know I've done everything to encourage her confidence. Of course if it's something she met through Jordan that might explain it. Celia knows I was aware you had forbidden her to see him. Oh, I do hope it's nothing dreadful!"

Mitchell clapped his hand down on the desk. "If Celia's broken her word to me," he declared darkly, "she's going to pay for it. I gave her warning!"

Evelyn touched a dainty handkerchief to her eyes. "But you mustn't be hard on her," she begged. "She does seem to be such a sweet child. After all, I'm sure she can't have meant any wrong."

Craftily she shot a quick glance at Mitchell and then added, "perhaps Celia's not to blame. Do you think possibly it might be—her mother's influence?"

"What do you mean by that?" Mrs. Parsons's eyes were downcast. "I—know her mother's story, John. I was only wondering if it's true that 'blood will tell.' Celia is her daughter as well as yours, you know."

When she glanced up she saw that John Mitchell had sunk back in his chair. He looked like a man in torment. Evelyn remained silent, but suddenly Mitchell aroused himself.

"Did you speak to Celia about this?" he asked. "Oh, no! I thought that would be your place, John."

"Perhaps it's not so bad as it looks. There may be some explanation. I'll come with you now and ask her—"

Mrs. Parsons interrupted. "You've said the very thing I hope," she said, "that there is an explanation. But it seems to me there's a better way to be sure. Celia said she would meet this man at 3:15 at Central Park Plaza. If you could arrange to be there you'd soon learn the truth. Since you've told me what a dangerous character Jordan is, I can't help worrying for fear this may be an accomplice."

"Don't you think you should go yourself?" Mitchell nodded in agreement. "You're right." "Then I'll leave you now. You're a busy man, I know, and I must be on my way."

But before Evelyn rose she put a hand on the man's arm. "The child is dear to me," she said softly. "Very dear. But, John, it means even more to me to understand what you're suffering. Oh, I do pray Celia hasn't proven unworthy of you! I do hope she hasn't harmed the Mitchell name! You see, I couldn't bear to have it happen again. I couldn't bear to have your heart broken!"

really going to be another exploration trip, she said. "Oh, you're not going to the park today?" Mrs. Parsons inquired coolly. "No, I—well, perhaps later," the girl floundered. She was flushing painfully, but Evelyn let the subject rest.

By 2:30 Celia was out of the building. It was one of those sunny, leisurely September afternoons. The air was cool enough to be agreeable, but it lacked the tang and crispness of later fall. She chose a circuitous route because she had several minutes to waste. Her color was high and she was aware of a pleasurable excitement. A shop window gave back her reflection and Celia discovered that she had been smiling. Immediately her face sobered, but she could not quiet the singing of her heart. Over and over again it was singing: "Barney Shields. Barney. I love you!"

She glanced at her wrist watch. Three o'clock, and she had abundant time to spare. Celia crossed Fifth avenue and took up her stand near the Plaza. There was plenty of action and color to keep the time from dragging. Children with nursemaids. Two elderly men talking. A woman with a handsome Harlequin dance on a leash. Young men and groups of girls. Motor cars flashing by, and a high-topped green bus.

She saw Barney coming toward her. He was early, too! Celia's pulse beat more rapidly. "Sorry you had to wait," Shields greeted her.

"That's all right, Barney, I didn't mind a bit." The girl's smile was glorious. Barney's face brightened.

"Want to walk?" he asked. She nodded and they turned into the park. Shields matched the rhythm of her footsteps, and for a few moments they walked silently. Then Celia glanced happily into the young man's face.

"I've been wanting to talk to you, Barney, she said softly. "Been wanting to talk to you, too."

It was then that John Mitchell interrupted. (To Be Continued)
