

MISSOURI NOTABLES DIE IN CRASH

Needs of Pampa Territory Basis of Argument in Final Railroad Pleas

"That's gold in these here prairies."

Certain opponents and enemies of Clint Small are claiming that he does not have the support of West Texas and the Panhandle as he asserts and as he is known in this section to possess.

All the contradictory evidence of erroneous anti-Small propaganda that can be gathered and demonstrated will be valuable. One way to show that the Panhandle supports Senator Small wholeheartedly is to attend the rally in Amarillo Friday evening. The purpose of this rally is to assemble the farmers, bankers, merchants, and others in Amarillo for the wheat meeting, and to have them give unmistakable evidence of their political affiliation.

The wheat sessions under the direction of Secretary Hyde and Alexander Legg of the Farm Board will end at 4 p. m. The rally for Mr. Small will take place at 7:30 p. m. This will enable those attending the wheat meeting also to show their appreciation and support for the Wellington senator. Pampa and Gray county should be well represented at both sessions.

Senator Small will not attend the Amarillo rally, but prominent speakers will talk in his behalf. Unless it becomes impossible for him to do so, he will speak in Pampa at an All-Panhandle rally about July 18. That date is approximately one week before election day, and interest in the man and the campaign will be exceptionally keen.

In a telegram yesterday to Judge Newton P. Willis, president of the Pampa Small-for-Governor club, Lee Satterwhite, campaign manager for Mr. Small, said: "It is possible that Senator Small can make Pampa Friday night, July 18. Will let you know as soon as I can confer with him."

The attitude of the Pampa club is that the people of the Panhandle will delight to honor Mr. Small in a final rally. The purpose of the event would not be primarily to gain votes for him in this section. It is desired that no other section shall get the idea that Mr. Small is actually needed up here. He would not be asked to make a long speech. And while his presence may be needed elsewhere late in the campaign, it is pointed out that he could come to Pampa in an airplane and return quickly to his Fort Worth headquarters office. Details of the plans will be announced in a few days.

Political badges are numerous, but one to a person is usually sufficient. There is room on the shirt front or lapel for a tag. Pampa residents who will throng the streets on election day, July 26, will be tagged by members of the Pampa Library association. The tags will be given in return for small donations—no large—to the support of the public library.

The library has more than a thousand patrons. Most of these during the summer months are children. They are not asked to pay for the privilege of using the books and periodicals. The only support the institution has for upkeep, purchase of books, payment of the librarian is through public donations. The library must have funds at once or close. Thus the tag day plan. A thousand tags, representing that many donations, will be a lifesaver for the very necessary institution. Do your bit, however little or big. Every bit helps, and two bits even more!

DECISION TO END BATTLES OVER PROJECT

Chas. Cook Speaks in I. C. C. Hearing Yesterday

ROCK ISLAND IN OPPOSITION

Immediate Ruling Is Likely, Belief Here

WASHINGTON, July 10. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today was considering reasons advanced for and against extension of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad 110 miles north from Childress, a permit for which had been asked by the Burlington system.

At a hearing yesterday speakers included J. H. Barwise of Fort Worth, representing the Burlington and the Denver; C. C. Cook of Pampa; C. A. Williams of Childress; Albert Reed of Dallas, representing Amarillo and Wellington; D. B. Foy of Wichita Falls; W. D. Lawrence, assistant attorney general of Texas, representing the Texas railroad commission; W. F. Peter, general counsel for the Rock Island railroad; Lee F. English of the Santa Fe railroad, and H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo, also representing the Santa Fe.

The Interstate Commerce Commission in a divided opinion recently authorized extension of the Rock Island from Shamrock to Quanah and a Frisco extension from Vernon to Seymour. The Frisco was authorized to purchase the Gulf, Texas and Western and to use the Rock Island to Quanah. The Rock Island was permitted to use the Frisco to Jackboro and both lines from there were to enter Dallas and Fort Worth by the Rock Island. The Santa Fe would build from Heaton to LeFors.

While expressing no opposition to the Rock Island-Frisco and Santa Fe programs, Judge Barwise said the Burlington should be allowed to enter the Pampa territory. Lawrence spoke for granting all applications, and Reed argued against the Burlington plan, while Rock Island and Santa Fe representatives opposed the Burlington application.

Rock Island Project Delayed But Is Pending

The Pampa Board of City Development, the Childress Chamber of Commerce, and associated interests today awaited the outcome of the final pleas in behalf of the Burlington system's application for a railroad from Childress to Pampa. The date of the I. C. C.'s final decision is uncertain, but in view of the fact that the Rock Island's building permit from Quanah to Shamrock is held up, a ruling within

Abilene Youth Is Rescued From Caving Well

BUCKEYE, Ariz., July 10. (AP)—Paul Simon was alive today as the result of a three-hour battle waged for his life yesterday by half the population of this town. The young man, reported to be a student at Simmons university, Abilene, Texas, crouched at the bottom of a 22-foot well, buried under eight feet of rocks and dirt, for three hours before he finally was taken out. After breathing through small air passages in the debris which caved in on him while cleaning out the well, he collapsed when taken from the hole.

BOBBY JONES LEADS FIELD IN NATIONAL GOLF

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minneapolis, Minn., July 10. (AP)—Under a boiling hot sun, Bobby Jones shot a 71, one under par, for the first round of the national open golf championship and assumed the lead in defense of his crown. Bobby was out in 34 and back in 37. Jones, playing magnificently except for inability to get down more than two fair sized putts, made par look ridiculously easy as he battled his way through a gallery of 5,000 spectators and in heat that sent the thermometer soaring over the 100 mark in the sun.

The champion, on the heels of Horton Smith, finished with a score that gave him a one stroke margin over the young professional ace. Smith's 72 put him in temporary second place with Harry Cooper of Chicago, and George Smith, another Chicago professional. Bobby's card:

SPEAKING NOW BITTER

STERLING HIT HARD BY HIS MAIN RIVALS

Standard Oil Gives Him Backing, Says Mayfield

HIGHWAY PLAN IS UNDER FIRE

Small Is Given Great Reception at Tyler

By the Associated Press
Candidates for governor were keeping the political trails hot over Texas Thursday, denouncing each other and in particular Ross S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the highway commission, and his proposed $350,000,000 state road bond issue.

Just two weeks remained in which they might expound their arguments before the deluge of oratory would be stopped by the solemn scratching of pencils in voting booths.

Some were calling names of their opponents and some were not. Leut.-Gov. Barry Miller was among the group refraining from mentioning his opponents. However, in a speech last night at San Angelo, he did go so far as to say he was not running for governor "on the last presidential election" and didn't "give two whoops for Tammany hall."

"I want to do something for the people of Texas," he said, suggesting the unemployment problem as something in which a governor of Texas might take a hand.

Miller planned to speak at Springtown at 2:30 p. m. today.

Candidates Mingle
San Antonio, and in particular, a hotel lobby there, yesterday contained for a time potential causes for political combustion in the persons of former Governor James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson, Senator Thomas B. Love, and Earle B. Mayfield. The four mingled in the lobby a short time with their local supporters grouped around them.

Each spoke at mass meetings and over the radio during a one-day period.

Senator Love told his audience he would use the full force of the state to enforce the laws—"in Bexar county or any other county." He reaffirmed his intention of bolting in the event Mrs. Ferguson was the Democratic nominee this year. He was booked for four speeches today at Denton, with one tonight at the College of Industrial Arts.

Mayfield centered his fire on the candidacy of Sterling, in a radio address, and a speech before a mass meeting last night. He said he saw "the sinister hand of Standard Oil and big finance" behind the Sterling candidacy, as well as behind the prison relocation proposal and

Butcher's Daughter Wins King's Cup

No wonder Miss Winifred Brown is smiling, she won the King's Cup for the 750-mile air race around Great Britain, landing first in a field of 88 competitors. The 26-year-old daughter of a Manchester butcher piloted her Avro Avian at a 102-mile clip after starting in fourteenth place with a two-and-a-half hour handicap. The first woman ever to win the King's Cup, she bested such famous competitors as Waghorn, winner of the Schneider Cup, and Orlebar, holder of the world's speed record.

NINE HUNDRED CARLOADS OF WHEAT SHIPPED FROM CITY AND NEARBY POINTS THIS SEASON

Approximately 900 cars of 1930 wheat have been shipped from five railroad points in the Pampa territory, a thorough survey made today revealed. Wheat being held in elevators and in graneries was variously estimated as being between 25 and 75 per cent of the crop.

Car lot shipments were distributed as follows: Pampa 351, Kingsmill 184, Hoover 112, Heaton 89, Laketon 180. The total number shipped from Kingsmill, Hoover, Heaton, and Laketon was 545 cars. As a car of wheat averages about 1,500 bushels, it is estimated that the 900 cars shipped from this territory contained 1,350,000 bushels. The Laketon shipments in previous years have not been included in the Pampa territory yield. The harvest is generally finished.

About one-third of the wheat harvested in the Kingsmill community is being held, while Hoover grain dealers estimated that one-fourth of the crop is in storage in graneries and elevators in that neighborhood. The average yield at Hoover was 15 bushels per acre, with some fields made as high as 20 bushels per acre. At Kingsmill, the yield ranged from 16 to 20 bushels.

Some of the growers are still cutting wheat at Heaton but dealers estimated that 90 per cent of the crop had been harvested. The average yield was placed at 16 bushels. It was believed that 75 per cent of the total crop in that section is now in storage in graneries and in elevators; about 35 per cent of the crop in graneries, and 50 per cent in elevators.

The harvest is practically over in the Laketon district. About one or two loads are coming in a day. The average yield was placed at 18 bushels per acre. About 30 per cent is being held in storage while 70 per cent of the crop was shipped out. The land on which the 1930 crop grew is being prepared for another crop, and very few farmers are planning to plant now. (See WHEAT, page 8.)

KIDNAPING TOLD BY GIRL UPON RETURN

How the youth who was known locally as "Bob" Carter forced her at the point of a gun to elope with him in an automobile he is charged with stealing from E. C. Newman a farmer living northwest of the city, was told today by Nada Doss, 17-year-old Pampa girl, who yesterday returned to the home of her brother, M. C. Doss.

Miss Doss and Carter left June 30 and had been the objects of an intensive search conducted by the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion and by officers through out the Southwest.

Miss Doss said she escaped from Carter at Tulsa after he had held up and robbed two men there. Carter disappeared but did not take the car which belongs to Mr. Newman. Officers are now searching for the youth. They have three warrants for his arrest. The girl's brother brought her and the Newman car back to Pampa yesterday.

Tulsa officers telegraphed Mr. Doss, July 2, that they had found his sister and the car and that the boy had escaped, but the telegram was sent to Groom and was not received by Mr. Doss until Tuesday of this week. He left for Tulsa as soon as he received the message.

The night they left Pampa, Miss Doss said, Carter threatened to shoot her with the pistol he had taken from Newman's trunk. She said he repeatedly threatened her until they got to Tulsa.

Miss Doss was staying at the home of Jack Stout when she disappeared with Carter. About three weeks before the abduction, Mr. Newman gave Carter, a hitch-hiker about 21 years old, a ride while en route to Colorado. Carter accompanied his benefactor back to Pampa, where he was given employment. Carter was described as being of sturdy build and about 5 feet and 10 inches tall.

ON VACATION TRIP
Manager C. B. Akers of the local Griffith Amusement company theatres, accompanied by Mrs. Akers and little Shirley Ann, left last night for Denver, where they will spend a vacation period and where Mr. Akers will attend the Lions International convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buzbee have as their house guests this week the following relatives: Mrs. W. D. Bragins and two children of Dallas, Mrs. C. M. Clark of Paris, Texas, Jack Buzbee of Dallas, Mrs. T. E. Carter, Miss Emma Jo Carter, and Miss Mary Ruth Carter of Greenville.

Negro Gold Star Mothers Protest Segregation and Small Streamer

NEW YORK, July 10. (AP)—Sixty negro gold star mothers will sail on the liner American Merchant Saturday to visit the graves of their sons in France, but a spokesman said today that "many of them will sail unhappily because of inferior boat and hotel accommodations and discrimination made in segregating them."

Walter White, acting secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, voicing dissatisfaction of the negro mothers, said that 55 of those who expected to sail had cancelled their reservations and sent a protest to President Hoover against their segregation from other groups. Colonel Alexander E. Williams of the war department, said the Ameri-

PLANE FALLS AFTER BLAST HIGH IN AIR

Fatal Accident Is at Aransas Pass, Texas

SHIP PLUNGES LONG DISTANCE

Noted Kansas City Lawyer Among Victims

ARANSAS PASS, July 10. (AP)—Five men, all from Kansas City, Mo., were killed when an airplane crashed four miles from here today. The dead: Murat Boyle, Raymond Watson, Eugene Lynn, Roy Dellano, Gene Babber.

A wing to the plane was seen to give way and the craft crashed to the ground shortly afterwards, witnesses said.

Babber was piloting the plane. A sixth man, S. H. Durks, also of Kansas City, who flew here with the party, was not in the plane at the time of the accident, having stayed at the port to fish a while longer.

KANSAS CITY, July 10. (AP)—Murata Boyle, killed when an airplane crashed near Aransas Pass, Texas, today, was president of the Missouri State Bar association and a member of the firm of Hogsett & Boyle, insurance attorneys.

The others killed were also prominent. Raymond Watson, attorney, was the son of I. W. Watson of the law firm of Watson, Gage, and East. Roy J. DeLano was a prominent realtor of Kansas City.

The plane belonged to W. M. Cross of Kansas City, who was not in the party. It was a five-passenger Lockheed monoplane. There was an explosion aboard at a height of about 10,000 feet, according to those who saw the descent. The plane did not catch fire, however.

The crash occurred about 10 miles from the Port Aransas airport, where it fell off.

The plane fell from such an altitude that the bodies of the victims were pushed into the ground.

Eugene M. Lynn was an accountant, president of the Kansas City Golf association and club champion at Mission Hills here.

Central Baptist Church To Build In Near Future

Members of the Central Baptist church are making plans for the construction of a church building to be located at the corner of Francis and Starkweather. An architect is making sketches and plans to be submitted to the church, and it is expected that excavation on the site will begin within the next two weeks, according to the Rev. D. H. Truhitte, pastor of the Central Baptist church, who was pastor of the First Baptist church in Pampa for two and one-half years, and who has recently returned, having been called to Pampa from Weslaco, where he was in charge of the denomination in that city.

An annex to the church, now occupied by the Malone funeral home and the First Baptist church were built under the direction of Rev. Truhitte. Rev. Truhitte announces that a series of services will be held at the high school auditorium from July 20 to August 3, conducted by W. D. Upshaw, ex-congressman from Georgia, and ministers of all denominations are invited to cooperate. Mr. Upshaw has been vice president of the Southern Baptist convention for three years, and is a forceful speaker. He is no stranger in Pampa, having made an address at the Methodist church here on Mother's Day, last May.

NEW ERA OF BUSINESS RELATIONS

K. M. Renner, professor at Texas Tech who has been heard here several times, is assisting in the formation of a poultry co-operative marketing organization in Lubbock county.

Addressing 25 farmers of one community recently, he declared that the age of the individual in marketing such commodities is largely past. Organization competes with organization, not individual with individual.

To many this destruction of individuality may seem a calamity, but actually it is inevitable and in many respects beneficial. Distributors of farm produce buy in large quantities—larger than the individual growers can provide.

This is an age of organization. Whatever one thinks of individual initiative, he cannot escape the inevitable development and its consequences. Similar problems have arisen in every age and adjustments have been made accordingly.

It is similarly true in international affairs. Giant companies—Royal Dutch Shell in petroleum, the British would-be monopoly in rubber, for instance—must be combated by similarly large concerns of this country.

The mental factors in modern business are more important than ever, and it takes brains to compete with brains.

ANOTHER BIG PARADE

The best statement on advertising we have seen recently came from Roger W. Babson in a letter addressed to Curges Dorrance, president of Dorrance, Sullivan & Co., which we herewith reproduce from that company's interesting house organ Trends & Indications.

"Because 1930 is a census year it is interesting to speculate what the census statistics will tell us about 'Advertising as a Force in American Business.' Merely for the purpose of illustration let us project the trend of former years and assume that the 1930 data will indicate that the United States as a market is increasing 7,000 new customers per day.

"Every day 7,000 customers to whom your goods are absolutely unknown! Every day 7,000 people with whom you must start all over again, and tell them your story and teach them to use your products! It has always seemed to me that this is the greatest argument in the world for ceaseless advertising. You are not addressing a stationary audience, a fixed assembly, but you are talking to a passing procession. The parade flows by you at the rate of 7,000 a day, over two and one-half million a year, and to each new rank your advertising is real news.

"Therefore, although advertising is measurable by statistics it is essentially not static but dynamic. Figures show that a period of good business is marked by enlarged advertising and that a period of poor business marked by curtailed advertising.

"Business is closely similar to a tri-motored airplane; one of the engines is advertising; another is the mere motive force of primitive needs. When you kill the advertising engine, the business craft can neither speed nor climb."

SHERLOCK'S GREATEST MYSTERY

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle often complained because the public spoke of him only as the creator of Sherlock Holmes. He wanted to be known as a scientist, or as anything but the great writer of detective stories he was.

Sir Arthur looked forward to death, as do many spiritualists, as an opportunity for further experimentation. Naturally he felt that the public he had held so long with the power of his keen imagination and trenchant pen should be interested in his theories as to the probable results of his test.

Science some day may uphold Sir Arthur's beliefs by solving the mysteries of the hereafter. He may be given a niche in history as the unrecognized prophet of great scientific truths. But for the present, he will be remembered chiefly as the possessor of a mind that searched constantly for new and difficult mysteries for solution, and that finally came to dwell almost wholly upon death because it is the most baffling mystery of all.

Sir Arthur was likely an ardent spiritualist for exactly the same reason that he was a great writer of detective stories. The mystery of death too deep for Sherlock to solve, the master tackled it himself. He found it increasingly fascinating. Admirers of the great Holmes in every country in the world will hope that he solves it satisfactorily.—Tulsa Tribune.

Gasoline Goes to 5 Cents in "War"

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10, AP.—Gasoline retailed as low as 5 cents a gallon, including a 3-cent state tax, as the price cutting war was waged on the Pacific Coast today.

The price reached the 5-cent level in Fresno yesterday. One large distributing company in Tacoma which had been selling at 7 1/2 cents retail planned to shade that quotation by 1 cent a gallon. Another firm announced a wholesale price of 4 1/2 cents in Tacoma.

The lowest retail price in Los Angeles was 8 1/2 cents, including the 3-cent tax. Seattle motorists were paying 9 1/2 to 11 cents, including a 3-cent tax. Portland retail prices ranged from 10 to 13 1/2 cents, including a 4-cent tax. Quotations in San Francisco ranged from 10 to 14 cents, including tax.

Independent dealers in San Francisco have asked Governor Young to aid in having gasoline distributors classified as public utilities operating under regulation by the state railroad commission.

ASK PAVING BIDS

Bids to widen South Cuyler street from Brown to Albert will be advertised as soon as possible, it was decided at a meeting of the city commissioners Tuesday. The street will be widened eight feet on each side and curbs and gutters will be built. An order to pave the alley in block 23 also passed.

The seven and three-tenths mile strip of newly graded dirt road on Highway 33 west of Pampa was opened today.

The Spirit of Progress Guides Montgomery Ward & Co.

The Spirit of Progress is a famous statue on the original Montgomery Ward & Co. Building, Michigan Boulevard, Chicago. For generations it has been a symbol of leadership and inspiration for this great world-wide organization.

Starting as the original mail order house and now operating the world's largest general merchandise chain, we continue to strive to realize the ideals of leadership which our symbol represents 18,000,000 people will see this announcement in more than 650 of the nation's leading newspapers this morning. You are personally interested in this important message and will be well repaid for the time you take to read every word.

Leadership demands action. A great deal has been said and written about unemployment and poor business. You read much about the reduced purchasing power of the average citizen—but what about his paying power?

Despite the unemployment, the present average weekly payroll of America is estimated at $840,000,000. In addition, the registered savings accounts total over twenty-seven billion dollars and are steadily increasing. Yes, there is ample paying power. But we believe that general business will improve only when the buying public are satisfied that prices to them (and that means to you) reflect the new low commodity levels.

In our judgment, commodity prices are scraping bottom today. We do not say that there will not be some further declines, but broadly speaking, current prices are the lowest in years, in some cases the lowest in 15 to 20 years.

Leadership Demands Action

Montgomery Ward & Co. is placing orders for millions of dollars worth of merchandise at these new low commodity levels. There are 120,000,000 American people to be fed, clothed, sheltered and entertained; and regardless of unemployment, poor export business, low agricultural prices, etc., the requirements of the American nation total a huge sum.

New Fall Prices Now

For many years it has been the custom of Montgomery Ward & Co. to make Fall prices effective when our Fall and Winter Catalogue is distributed, about September 1st.

Months ago we cut prices. During the past 60 days there have been further declines in the cost prices of many items of merchandise—and all these low prices we are making effective at once—so that as far as Montgomery Ward & Co. customers are concerned, they need not wait for lower prices. Ward's prices are down NOW to the new commodity levels.

How Do You Judge a Low Price?

Only by the dependable quality you receive.

There is nothing cheap about Montgomery Ward & Co. merchandise. We have never sacrificed quality to make low prices, and despite the surprising savings that are possible on thousands of different articles which we sell through our catalogues and Retail Stores, you can buy from us with complete confidence.

There is a good deal in the papers now about the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. They used more than 7,000 articles selected from our regular stocks and they used them under conditions where quality and dependability meant life itself. Their verdict was radioed to us in March from Dunedin, New Zealand, "Satisfactory in all respects."

Our method of doing business can be stated in one phrase—"You Must Be Satisfied"

The goods you buy from us must be "satisfactory in all respects." Leadership demands action. In making our Fall prices effective now, we are doing something definite to establish public confidence in new price levels and we are taking this constructive step to stimulate the use of your buying power.

For years we have recognized the conveniences and advantage of the Time Payment method. We are selling annually many millions of dollars of goods on Easy Payments. Basically the American Public is honest, meets its just obligations. On that belief we have never hesitated to sell on time. Over a period of many years, our experience has been thoroughly satisfactory and our bad debt losses negligible.

Now, for the first time in the history of American merchandising, a national institution offers this Time Payment opportunity

Beginning today and continuing until September 15, Montgomery Ward & Co. will sell you any merchandise shown in its catalogues or Retail Stores (excepting groceries) on the Easy Payment Plan, provided your order totals $25 or more

We have begun the mailing of 10,000,000 announcements to our customer list, giving full details. Visit the Ward Store in your neighborhood for complete information. We know this offer will bring us additional business. It will make us new friends. It will acquaint great numbers of people with the dependable quality and the low prices that are the foundation of our business.

We consider it a constructive move (one of the very few that have been made thus far) to stimulate consumer buying. Even a small upturn in demand will start orders to factories, wheels turning, unemployment lessening and a resultant upward trend to our general business structure and prosperity.

Many will praise us for this move, some will criticize us. I hope that other institutions, large and small, will follow with their constructive plans to persuade the public to use its paying power. In his first daily newspaper article, of July 1st, Calvin Coolidge said,

"My countrymen, it is time to stop criticizing and quarreling and begin sympathizing and helping."

Prices based on the new low commodity levels, quality goods of absolute dependability, our policy of "You must be Satisfied" and now this great 60-day Easy Payment opportunity. Surely these combine to bring you economy, convenience and satisfaction in your buying.

Yours sincerely,

George B. Green

GULF GUNS AND MAGNOLIAS PLAY IN AMARILLO TODAY

OPPOSITION IS STRONGEST OF TOURNAMENT

Represented by the Gulf Guns and the Magnolias, Pampa is making a strong bid for the baseball championship of the Panhandle at Amarillo this afternoon.

Two of the strongest teams in the tournament are matched against the Pampa clubs. A game between the Memphis Owls and the Magnolias began at 2 o'clock. The Guns and the Tacks will take the diamond at the conclusion of the first game. Memphis, the undisputed champion of the South Panhandle, has suffered only one defeat this year, and then at the hand of the Turkey club which had picked the best players in five teams. The score was 1 to 0.

The tournament opened with the Tacks and Memphis as the favorites, although the Magnolias and Guns were confident of winning their opening clashes. Amarillo fans were trusting Emmer Gober to deliver the championship to them as he did to Pampans in the last two years. His "batting order" is formidable, and indicates that he had plenty of "backing."

The Gulf Guns learned a lot in the game last Sunday with Magnolia. For one thing, they have been developing team-work this week, and their pitcher, Lefty Graham, has become acclimated. The Guns are planning on providing the biggest upset of the tournament by defeating the Tacks this afternoon.

The following Magnolias and Guns left at 9 o'clock this morning for Amarillo:

Magnolias—Pitchers: Homer Blankenship, Tracy Barnell, Fred Melton; catchers: Fred Bozeman and Holt Barver; fielders: Royal Lyman, Herman Kozelski, Odus Mitchell, Connor Robinson, Jimmy Baldwin, Forrest Bacus, Robert Taylor, Isam Lister, Johnny Wright, Leo Shriver, Micky McKnight; Roy Bourland, manager, and A. G. Post, general manager.

Recruit Figures In Game Which Magnolia Wins

Erratic pitching of one "Curley" Young, Coltexo recruit, almost won but finally lost a game for the Le-Fors team at Magnolia park yesterday. The score was Magnolia 11, Coltexo 7. Young went into the game at the seventh and the score was five to three. He hadn't warmed up sufficiently and he walked four men and allowed a hit which resulted in three runs.

It looked bad for Coltexo until Young partially gained control of his ball and struck out three men in a row. In subsequent innings he struck out three more. He has the fastest ball seen in these parts this year. Young led a rally in the eighth by knocking a one-base hit. He was put out at second but his team-mates chased around the bases four times. The Coltexans got 10 hits and made six errors, while Magnolia hit 13 times and made five errors. The game was played loosely, minus enthusiasm. Coltexo's short-stop, Baldwin, and star pitcher, Ross, were not in the game. A new-comer, Richardson, occupied the Magnolia mound.

Farr pitched the first seven innings for Coltexo and struck out six. Richardson walked one and struck out two. Coltexo's regular catcher, Flynn, was also not in the game.

CINCINNATI IS BAD MEDICINE FOR CHICAGO

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are struggling deep in the second division of the National league, but when the Chicago Cubs, champions last season and contenders for this year's title, come along the Reds step out and play some first division baseball.

The Reds knocked the Cubs clear out of first place in the last few days by winning four games in a row and made it a record of seven victories over Chicago in eleven games played. There seemed to be every reason why Cincinnati should lose the final clash yesterday but they had the champions coming from behind all the way and finally put a over a run in the tenth inning to gain a 4 to 3 victory. The Reds were out, 11-10, and seven of them fanned against Charley Root's pitching, but still they had enough punch to squeeze over the odd run.

The defeat dropped the Cubs two full games into second place as Brooklyn took both games of a doubleheader from the Boston Braves. With Dazzy Vance pitching superlative ball, striking out nine while he allowed only three hits, the Robins took the first game 8 to 0. The Braves put up a better battle in the second and it required a home run with the bases full by Del Bissonette to give Brooklyn a 6-4 decision.

The steadily advancing St. Louis Cardinals picked up another game on the New York Giants and now are only a half game back of third place as the result of their 7 to 6 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates while New York dropped another to Philadelphia by a 5-4 count. The Cardinals began taking their poultry census before the final score was hatched and the Phillies jumped on Hubbell as he let up a trifle and won out with two runs in the ninth inning. The Cards added a single to the group scoring as each team tallied three-run bursts, and that odd counter brought the victory.

The American league celebrated the end of Washington's long winning streak, which came at the hands of the Boston Red Sox in the second game of a double header, but the Senators still gained a half game on Philadelphia and led by that margin. Washington continued to use only one pitcher to a game, but Lloyd Brown gave the Red Sox 17 hits in the second contest while Milt Gaston held the Senators to eight, and Boston won, 5 to 1. Washington took the first game, 5 to 2 behind Sam Jones' pitching to make it ten straight.

The Athletics, in second place, had a very bad day against the New York Yankees and went down by a 12 to 6 score. The Philadelphia pitchers were ineffective and the fielding behind them was bad and the result left New York a dozen runs from ten hits with all the scores coming in three innings. The Yankees still remained 5½ games out of second place after their recent slump.

SPUDS SHOW USE OF HOME RUN AT WACO

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The home run, or four-bagger, has not been exactly a stranger to Texas league circles this season, but it took the Wichita Spudders to demonstrate the full importance of the circuit smite in modern baseball. Where the average club utilizes the big smash principally for show purposes, depending upon the singles and doubles for heavy duty, the Spuds apparently have decided to specialize in rapping them over the fence.

By way of illustrating their latest specialty, the leaders rapped five into the outer reaches yesterday to trim the Waco Cubs, 6 to 2, in their opener. The five major explosions accounted for all six runs as Larry Bettencourt's, his twenty-eighth of the season, found a mate aboard. Klona smote two and Storti and Burns one apiece. With all that going on it was a simple matter for Hal Wiltee to hang up his fourteenth victory.

A pair of brilliant individual performances featured Shreveport's 10 to 4 triumph over the Houston Buffs in their Louisiana inaugural. Old Oscar Tuero, the erstwhile outcast, registered his twelfth win in thirteen starts, placing him far ahead of the pack, and Joe Huarte, whose name indicates he might be another son of Cuba, handled 13 chances at second base without a bobble. Tuero allowed nine hits but kept the Bisons away from the plate except in two innings, his mates meanwhile hopping on Judd and Joe Brown for 13 safeties.

Profiting by the Buff's reverse, the Fort Worth Cats neared out Beaumont, 2 to 1, and climbed into second place. Bill Clarkson, whose lame arm has made him almost valueless to the Panthers, celebrated his return to the lists by holding the Exporters to six hits and blanking them until the ninth. Oscar Eckhardt, with two doubles and a single, got half the Shippers blows.

Dallas completed a clean sweep for the northern clubs by downing the San Antonio Indians, 5 to 2. George Murray turned in a creditable performance for the Steers, allowing nine hits, one a homer by Dondero. The winners bumped Mallicey and Smith for 11 blows.

"BEAT BOBBY" IS CRY WHEN PLAY BEGINS

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10. (P)—Beat Bobby Jones!

That was the cry at old Interlachen today as America's golfing stars—and a Britisher, too—faced a blazing sun and a veritable orgy of traps and bunkers in their first major offensive for the cherished national open championship.

If the emperor of golf has cracked under the mental strain of his invasion of England, he has failed to reveal it during four days of practice on the championship course. The Jones drives haven't been quite up to the Jones standard, but his iron and putting game looked just like they have for the past eight seasons. It was the same Bobby Jones against virtually the same field he conquered at Winged Foot last year.

Threatening him among the 142 entries were the "Big Ten" of pro golf—Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, MacDonald Smith, Leo Diegel, Al Espinosa, Bill Melhorn and Denny Shute. A host of dangerous amateurs, including Great Britain's single entry, Cyril Tolly, and the present and former American national amateur champions—Jimmy Johnston and George Von Elm—also were granted outside chances.

Interlachen, stretching over 6,672 yards, doesn't boast the tough reputation of many of the former national open scenes, but it does have pitfalls galore. The rough holes are a great menace for those who have a habit of slapping their drives along the fairway fringe. A ball landing one foot off the fairway is in a more dangerous lie than a ball sliced or hooked 20 feet off, as the rough thins out away from the fairway.

Estimates on the total needed to win the 72-hole medal play championship today varied between 287 and 296. Hagen, one of the shrewdest observers of the game as played and as a player, estimated 294 would win. Jones thought it would be around 292.

"If anyone gets a 287, we all might as well pack up our war clubs and go home," Bobby said.

Today's initial drive was 18 holes. A similar round will be played tomorrow with a final 36 holes Saturday. After Friday's round, the low 60 and ties will fight it out over the final 36-hole journey. If a playoff is necessary as it has been for the past three years, it will be decided over 36 holes Sunday.

Jeff Dickson, Youthful Promoter, Known As 'Tex Rickard Of Europe'

Jeff Dickson, American who went to Europe with the A. E. F., and remained since become the foremost boxing promoter on the continent. Dickson is shown signing up Phil Scott for a bout in London with W. L. "Young" Stribling. In the background is a typical scene at one of Dickson's Paris fight clubs.

PARIS (P)—Practically controlling boxing in Paris, London and Berlin, Jefferson Dickson, young American promoter, has come to be known as the "Tex Rickard of Europe."

"Jeff," as he is called by friends and about two million European fight fans, came to France from Memphis, Tenn., via the A. E. F.

Starting in a modest way in 1925, Dickson is the only promoter in Paris who has reaped the "million franc gate" class.

Success in Paris caused Jeff to look for other rings to conquer and in 1929 he decided to extend his activities to London and Berlin.

His next promotional venture in London, W. L. (Young) Stribling and Phil Scott for the heavyweight championship of Europe on July 28th, is regarded as likely to be a sell-out.

Dickson has been instrumental in discovering several young fighters in France, the most prominent being Emile "Spider" Pladner, whom he nursed along the fly-weight division.

The little battler from Clermont-Ferrand, through successive victories over Izzy Schwartz and Frankie Genaro, has reached the pinnacle.

Recently Jeff ran foul of the International Boxing Union. A scheduled ten-round bout between Leone Jacovacci, who as Jack Walker, was middleweight champion of the American navy, and Jo Peggazano of Corsica, came to an abrupt ending in the third round, when Walker was hit low.

Dickson put on his semifinal bout, permitting Walker to recuperate and then sent him back into the ring again against Peggazano for what he announced as "an

"Miss Amarillo" Will Be Chosen Friday Evening

A "Miss Amarillo" beauty contest will be staged in Amarillo Friday evening at The Nat, according to David Dallis, who recently held a similar event here.

Selection has already been made of Miss Pampa, Miss Borger, Miss Tulla, Miss Dimmitt, Miss Plainview, Miss Slato, Miss Lubbock, and Miss Levelland. Miss Amarillo and Miss Silver Falls are yet to be chosen.

Miss Pampa, who is Miss Maxine White, and Miss Borger will appear at the Amarillo pageant.

Miss Plains will be selected at Lubbock on July 27, 28, and she will enter the Galveston pageant of August 2-6 to compete for the title of "Miss United States."

eight-round exhibition." Walker, enraged at Peggazano because he believed the foul to have been intentional, tore into the Corsican and gave him a terrific lacing while the cash customers howled with glee.

Brought before the board of the International Boxing Union, Dickson was fined 2,500 francs—$100—for having transgressed the Union's rule that no boxer may appear in the same ring twice during the same evening.

"$100 is a cheap price to pay to give the customers a run for their money," Jeff said.

Clive Brook Is Seen as Divorce Sleuth In Movie

A new type of sleuth is introduced in the First National picture, "Sweethearts and Wives," coming to the Rex theatre for a 2-day run beginning today.

This is the divorce detective. He is a Sherlock Holmes who devotes his sleuthing ability to digging up facts to aid the divorce lawyer, and couples who wish to be separated.

Clive Brook creates this character in the picture. His assignment takes him to a lonely inn near Le-Touquet in the South of France. Here, he meets his match in the form of a French maid. She is determined that he shall not get the diamond necklace that was stolen from his client's wife, the same being vital evidence for the divorce.

Billie Dove is the French maid and she manages successfully to secure the necklace and, in the end keeps it. A scandal is averted there by when things look darkest for her, and a novel twist of fate solves a perplexing mystery.

and others in the cast includes Leila Hyams, Fletcher Norton, Crauford Kent, and John Loder.

Flooring Plan to Be Canceled Here

Canceling an order for floor cover in the county courthouse, city coming of the same composition used missionaries yesterday. Discussed plans to floor the new city hall with battleship linoleum.

The commissioners inspected the flooring in the courthouse and reported that after being in use only three months it was already worn-out in spots, especially under chairs.

The usual amount of pressure made under chairs, tables, cases, results in holes and dents, it was said. The flooring in most of the offices is now badly dented and in many places broken and cracked.

Mrs. Violet Stephenson and Mrs. O. D. Martin are with the Wholesale Syndicate.

Konjola Put Kansas Man Back to Work

"Proved to Be a Wonderful Medicine in My Case," Says Former Sufferer

MR. H. C. SHERMAN

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in seven years must have merit, and that is exactly what Konjola has done. You wonder why Konjola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. H. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says:

"Konjola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July I was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Konjola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling better in every way than for a long time."

Konjola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

THIS WOMAN IN 4 WEEKS LOST 19 POUNDS OF FAT

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

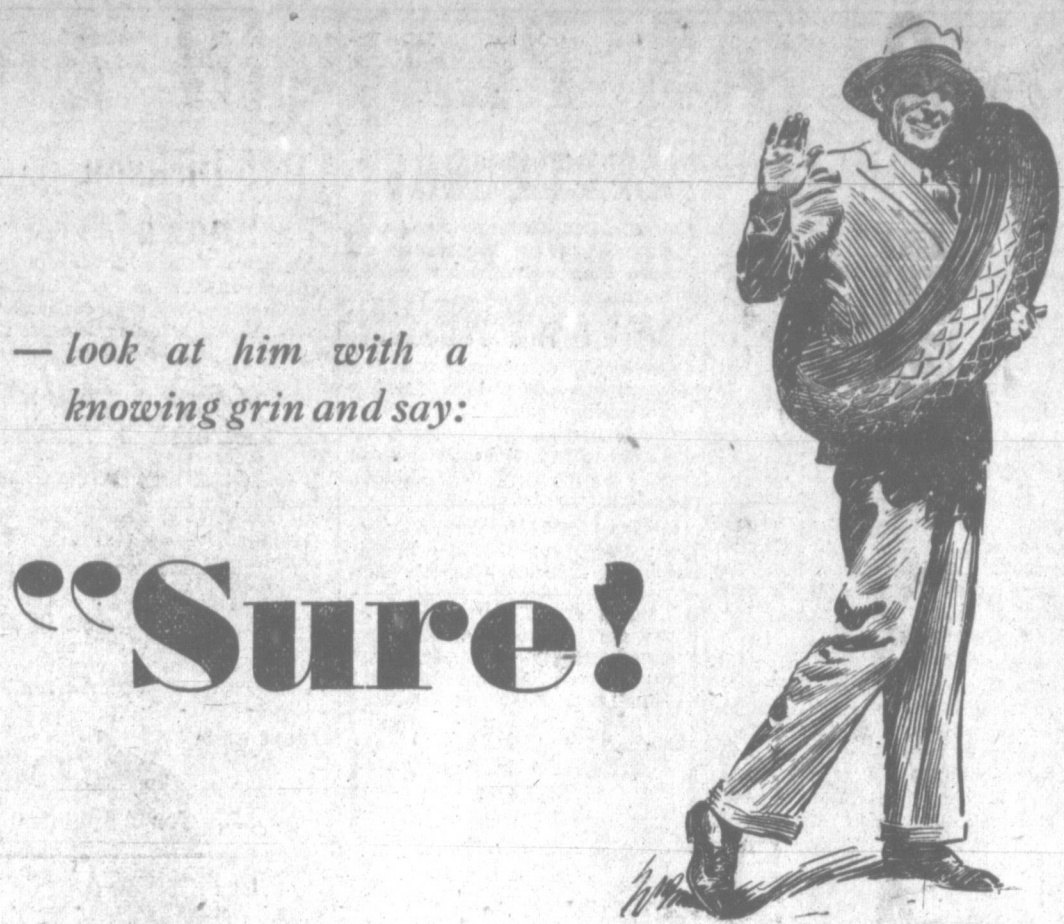

Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper, and decided to try Kruschen Salts.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce. I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity. I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks, costs but 85c at Fatheree Drug Stores or any drug store in America.—Adv.

LEADERSHIP is the coveted prize in every industry, and the rubber industry is no exception.

So it is only human that our aspiring friends occasionally indulge in the thrill of talking about Leadership, whether they have it or not.

We mention this in all good humor, and merely to explain the somewhat confusing advertising you see now and again, in which one rubber company or another blithely forgets its definitions and shoots the works.

The justification for such a fling is that the use of the term Leadership in most cases is qualified, even if obscurely, by being based on some subordinate phase of the business in which the advertiser claims to excel.

BUT what's all the shootin' for—is Leadership really an important matter?

We think it is, as the most dependable indorsement of a product that the public can find upon which to rely.

When a plurality of the world's motorists, for example, year after year singles out one make of tire as the highest representative of value and merit, that is tremendously important.

It affords the average buyer the finest and safest possible guidance in his purchasing—and for his good and our own we desire to keep that guidance clear.

DISPENSING, then, with equivocal claims, evasions, qualifications and adroit expression, what company actually holds Leadership in the rubber industry?

The public has decisively answered that question in concrete terms of dollars and cents, and has centered the award upon Goodyear.

Goodyear in turn submits to you the solid facts which support its Leadership.

It does this in no spirit of boastfulness; on the contrary with a privileged sense of the responsibility which its outstanding position entails:

In both volume and value of annual sales, Goodyear is the largest rubber company in the world.

Goodyear consumes 1/6 of all the crude rubber used annually in the world—approximately 50% more than any other manufacturer.

Goodyear builds more than 1/4 of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers.

For years Goodyear has factory-equipped between 1/4 and 1/3 of all the new motor cars manufactured.

Goodyear exports approximately 40% of all the tires exported from the United States and Canada for other parts of the world.

Goodyear maintains the largest development laboratories and corps of experimental engineers of any rubber company in the world.

In the last seven years Goodyear's annual production if pneumatic tires has increased 172%, as against an increase of approximately 75% for the industry as a whole.

WITH special reference to tires, Goodyear holds Leadership because:

Goodyear has made more tires for motor vehicles than any other manufacturer—by millions.

Goodyear is making, today, more tires than any other manufacturer in the world—by millions.

Goodyear's tire business has increased faster in the last five years than any other manufacturer's—by millions.

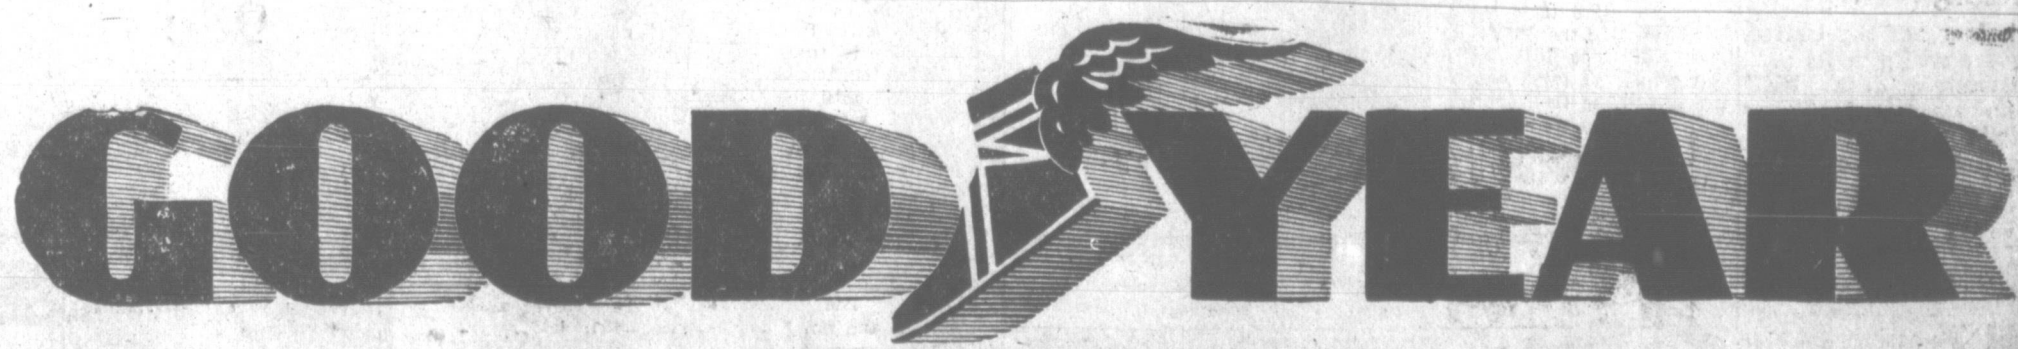

More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind—by millions.

THERE'S the story, good people, figure it out for yourselves.

Certainly it means that in Goodyear Tires the average user finds a quality and a value which he cannot equal elsewhere.

Certainly it means that when you buy a Goodyear Tire you buy something good enough, outstandingly good enough, to have won a special and unrivalled place in the confidence of the public.

And when any other rubber company confronts you with talk about Leadership, just treat yourself to a knowing grin and say: "Sure! We know — You're Napoleon!"

DANCING JUDITH

by CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN COPYRIGHT 1930 by CHELSEA HOUSE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

VINCENT STORAWAY, successful portrait painter, takes BRUCE GIDEON, wealthy financier, to the picturesque Cafe Turc in New York's Greenwich Village, to give him a glimpse of the bohemian life of the world of artists.

Alan Steyne stood in front of the girl who had lost her wits for love of him. Clarissa Morley smiled up blankly into his face.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

At nine o'clock Judy had everything ready. Chummy sat in her chair like a lovely doll. Judy had made the room as clean as she could.

Listening with all her ears, Judy caught light, hurried footsteps on the stairs. She went out on the landing.

The great moment had arrived. Judy's face was white in the light of a naked gas jet. She wore a little black frock, very short in the skirt and sleeves, and low in the neck, showing that lovely, innocent curve of throat and shoulder that artists raved about.

Footsteps sounded on the stairs. It seemed to her that they lagged. Dumont appeared first, his companion half-a-flight behind him.

Judy devalued his appearance with her bright, excited eyes. This was Chummy's young man. How often she had wondered what he looked like! How often she had wondered at the fidelity of a heart that could be plucked into darkness by the disappearance of any man on earth!

Her mind was so feverish to grasp details. She got an impression of a tall figure and a handsome face, which struck her particularly with its supreme fitness. Alan Steyne looked strong and energetic enough to jump over the moon, she thought. His eyes held hers with a laugh in them—and something else. He was fair, and his face was very tanned. He looked as if he always got what he wanted. Those were Judy's first impressions.

He addressed her in a voice whose naturally careless ring was contradicted by the anxious look in his eyes.

"Miss Grant, do you really think it is wise for me to see Miss Morley tonight? Dumont has told me every thing. I am so dreadfully sorry, but—I mean, oughtn't she to be prepared?"

He broke off, looking at her helplessly. Judy shook her head, and the mop of red-gold hair glittered like a bright waterfall.

"It's no good preparing her," she answered quickly. "I've tried and tried. Oh, Mr. Steyne, when she sees you, that'll do the trick all right! Dear old Chummy, I just can't bear it! Will you go in a-lone?"

He looked frightened.

"Oh, no—please come too. You know, she may not—"

"Judy!" came Chummy's voice from inside the room. "Where are you? Why are you such a long time? I'm cold."

Judy went to the half-open door, beckoning to the men to follow her. She saw Alan Steyne close his lips tightly and square his shoulders.

Inside the room Chummy sat in the chair by the small fire. It was the only chair fit for anybody to sit in. She had a pale-blue woolen shawl around her shoulders, and it set off her fair loveliness so that she looked like an angel on an old-fashioned Christmas card.

"Here is—some one to see you, Chummy, dear," said Judy in a choked voice.

Alan Steyne stood in front of the girl who had lost her wits for love of him. He stood there, awkward and ill at ease, with deep concern in his eyes.

Clarissa Morley smiled up blankly into his face. Then she blew her nose.

After that there was a dreadful pause.

"Say something—speak to her!" commanded Judy in a tense whisper.

"Clarissa!" said Alan Steyne. "Clarissa, don't you know me? I have come back!"

Chummy smiled again. Her eyes dwelt with complacent vacancy on his face—the face that once was all the world to her.

"Handsome boy!" she said sweetly. "I like you. Very handsome boy!"

The three looked at each other. "What are we to do?" asked Judy's purple eyes.

"What are we to do?" asked Bastien Dumont's black eyes.

"What am I to do?" asked Alan Steyne's blue eyes.

There was nothing to do. Chummy did not know her lover. To her he was only a handsome boy—one of the many she met and talked to and smiled at every day.

Chummy loved men and boys; she always said so with her sweet complacency.

There was silence. Alan Steyne's hard breathing could be heard.

Chummy went on smiling, and blew her nose again.

"He's a very handsome boy," she said. "And I like him, but I don't know him, Judy." She looked at the young man and asked incoherently: "Is it cold out? Won't you come to the fire and have some beef tea?"

Alan Steyne advanced, and Judy pointed to a broken-down basket chair, into which he carefully lowered himself.

"Yes, it is cold," he said. He had one of the nicest voices Judy had ever heard.

"I should love some beef tea. But are you sure you don't remember me, Clarissa? I am Alan. Don't you remember, at the Cafe Turc every night? What fun those days were! I was nearly starving—and you painted so beautifully! And we used to walk in Central Park. Surely you must remember, Clarissa?"

Not a trace of enlightenment came into Chummy's face.

"Did you come to the cafe long ago?" she asked. "I dare say. I knew such lots of boys and men at the cafe, but I don't know you. I like you. Tell me about yourself while Judy makes the beef tea. Judy, make the beef tea at once!"

Judy went out of the room to fetch cups from a cupboard in her box of an attic. She looked at Dumont as she passed him. Her eyes spoke plainly:

"He can't make love to her while we're there."

Dumont followed her. Chummy and her lover were alone.

They were an unconscionable time fetching the cups and the biscuits. When they came back, Steyne had moved nearer to Chummy and she was looking more like an angel than ever.

"I like this boy," she said, laughing with a purring sound. "We are going to be great friends."

They drank beef tea and ate biscuits, and smoked and laughed, and nobody would have known that

Judy had not enough money in her purse to buy their food on the morrow. It was 10 o'clock before Steyne took his leave. Dumont went with him. Chummy smiled radiantly at Alan. The other three felt very queer, as if they had spent an hour in an unreal land. Judy dismissed the men with a joke; but she felt very flat and tame as she went back to Chummy.

About ten minutes later Chummy was in bed and asleep, with her flaxen plaits lying like silvery cables on the pillow. Judy shut the door softly and went out upon the landing on her way to her own room.

Light, firm, footsteps on the stair made her pause, and Steyne ran up, slightly breathless. With one hand he took off his hat, with the other he drew something from his overcoat pocket.

"I say," he said, very rapidly, "I do hope you won't mind, Miss Grant—I mean my coming back; but I wanted—well, Dumont told me about Miss Morley, you know—about her condition, and what an angel you've been to her. Of course it isn't fair, and as an old friend of hers, I want you to take this—for her, you know, to get her things she wants—nice things to eat, and clothes, and all that. Please do say you're not offended!"

He held out some bank notes. Judy flushed crimson. She was a regular little Lucifer in her pride, but for Chummy's sake she answered with a spasm of gratitude, clutching at the notes and holding them as if they burned her.

"I mustn't say no, of course. I'm not offended. It's for Chummy, and seeing that you're going to marry her it's all right. Of course, I know it's been rotten for her here. She's not like me or like lots of our little crowd—she's a lady, and all that. I suppose you'll want to take her away at once and put her in some nice place until you're married."

Steyne murmured something about about her goodness to her friend.

"I've done nothing more than any of us would do," Judy answered warmly. "We all love Chummy. We're all Chummy's friends—every one of us."

"And you are her guardian angel, Miss Grant?"

"Oh, Lord, no!" said Judy in her queer, hoarse voice. "You may call me her guardian, if you like, but there's precious little of the angel about me. Ask those that know me!"

The young man smiled and held out his hand. Judy looked a little abashed as she laid hers in it. "Good night, little guardian," Alan said. "May we meet soon?"

Judy's hand lay snugly in his close, firm grip. It was only a moment, but it seemed a very, very long time before he released her and turned and went clattering down the stone stairs.

Earl Carroll Again In Trouble Over His Show

NEW YORK, July 10. (AP)—Earl Carroll, Broadway producer, whose testimony concerning his famous bathtub party landed him in federal prison for perjury, found himself involved with the law again today because of another scene presented on his stage.

A squad of policemen yesterday the New Amsterdam theatre, where he marched through the stage door of the show by Carroll as "the portal through which pass the most beautiful girls in America," and arrested nine members of the cast of his "Vanities."

Warrants charging them with giving an indecent performance were also issued for Carroll and Louis Lotti, treasurer of the theatre, but they could not be found. At the close of the matinee performance, the policeman, who had arrived on the scene in shiny sedans served warrants on eight girls and one man, told them to put on their street clothes and "come quietly."

The prisoners included Naomi Ray, comedienne, Faith Bacon, dancer, and Jimmie Savo and six show girls. Savo and the six girls were appearing in a scene entitled, "A Window at Meris," in which the lone man finds himself among a group of wax figures that come to life. Miss Ray and Miss Bacon had dance numbers in both of which the police charged they were very scantily clad. Miss Bacon wearing only two ostrich feather fans.

Warrants for the arrest of Carroll Lotti and the nine members of the cast were sworn out by police officers who had attended performances of the show.

Those arrested were released in $500 bail and were back in their places for the evening performance from which the show window scene was deleted.

KANSAS CITY, July 10. (AP)—"Make hay while the sun shines" is a proverb strictly applicable to hay in the opinion of wheat combine harvesters. Unable to work in the blazing sun, crews last night began to harvest the grain by moonlight.

Biggs Horn of Amarillo, R. H. Wimpe, Amarillo and Ed Vuillaume, El Paso, were guests at the Lions meeting today.

crops this season, or to reduce their wheat acreage for next year.

Two Pampa grain dealers estimated that 60 per cent of the wheat raised in this immediate vicinity has been shipped out. One dealer stated that 80 per cent of the wheat raised in this immediate vicinity has been shipped out. There is now in storage in Pampa approximately 135,000 bushels of wheat.

All the grain dealers and many of the farmers are planning to hear Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge speak at Amarillo tomorrow on the wheat situation. Mr. Legge a tour of the wheat states urging of the Farm Board is now making growers to cut their acreage next year.

L. C. McMurtry, president of the Texas Grain Dealers association, stated that he had asked hundreds of wheat growers in this territory if they intended to cut their acreage next year, and that 90 per cent of them stated emphatically that they wouldn't, even though they knew they would get less than 65 cents per bushel for the grain.

the proposed statewide bond issue. He planned to speak at Lockhart this afternoon and at Austin tonight.

Jim Young of Kaufman charged Sterling, in a speech last night at Beaumont, with using the power of his office as chairman of the state highway commission, "to gain an impression of strength which in fact does not exist."

Young was booked for an address tonight at Galveston.

ing a month's time or sooner is expected.

Judge Barwise, spokesman for the Burlington road, did not advocate cancellation of the Rock Island permit, but said that his line would be satisfied with a joint trackage agreement between Wellington and Shamrock, where the proposed roads would parallel each other.

Chas. C. Cook addressed the commission in behalf of Pampa, basing his argument on the ground that Pampa is not now served by competing lines and that an outlet to the south is needed.

Opposing interests argued that the Pampa territory—chief point of contention—was adequately served and that the Burlington was seeking to invade the tonnage area of the Santa Fe.

Optimism in Pampa is based on the fact that the Texas railroad commission urged granting of all applications, and that in this latest hearing the needs of the local area were foremost considerations, whereas in the previous hearing little attention was given to the Pampa area.

Throughout the long fight, Pampa men waged a resourceful and relentless fight in behalf of the Burlington application.

While other candidates were "pouring it on" him and his proposed bond issue, from every quarter, Ross Sterling at Coleman last night termed as "misrepresentations" the claim of his opponents that he would saddle an enormous mortgage on the people of Texas and their descendants with his proposed bond issue.

"I want to lift the greater part of the burden the counties have shouldered to help build state highways, and place it on the traffic, where it belongs," he said.

Sterling's itinerary called for a speech at San Angelo at 10:30 a. m., today over a five-station radio hook-up, another at 5 p. m., at Winters, and at Abilene at 8 p. m.

James E. Ferguson, speaking for the candidacy of his wife, spoke last night at Corpus Christi, flaying the proposed state road bond issue and advocating tax reduction and combining the offices of tax collector and assessor to save counties money. The Fergusons planned appearance tonight at Yoakum.

State Senator Clint Small of Wellington was given a rousing welcome last night at Tyler and expected to speak this afternoon at Valley Mills and at night, over radio station WACO at Waco.

UNDER THE STERLING PLAN TAXES WILL BE REDUCED IN GRAY CONUTY

The taxpayers of Gray County, including the farmers, homeowners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately 10c on the $100.00 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

UNDER THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic, where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate funds to build a connected state system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the state without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

The Serling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purposes.

Vote for R. S. Sterling and

LOWER TAXES

Candidate for Governor

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county. But that a material reduction of the ad valorem taxes would be affected under the plan is certain.
