One of Mussolini's Generals

It's easy to see how almost any enemy would surrender, what with the lovely Signora Torella, above, being a full-fledged general in Premier Benito Mussolini's Fascist forces. She has been appointed commander of the Legion of Fascist Women in Italy.

PARENTAGE OF BABY DISPUTED IN ALIMONY SUIT

Gray county will vote on two bond issues this month—on August 2, which is next Saturday, and on August 9, the following Saturday. The first election will be the countywide proposition to vote more than three millions for highways, and having no organized movement behind it, the proposal will fail.

The August 9 election will affect precincts 1, 2, and 3, which compose special road district No. 5, and in which the chief oil valuations lie. The amount is $2,000,000. If the three precincts vote this sum, the state and federal government will pay from 50 to 83 per cent of the cost of paving on designated roads, making the average cost to the county per mile very reasonable indeed.

Meetings of local road boosters are being held almost nightly, and the Board of City Development and business men are making a serious effort to devise the best plan possible. Critics of the project should attend these meetings and learn for themselves what the facts are. It is claimed by some that no money should be voted until the exact routes of state designated roads, such as 33 east to Miami, are known. This is a good idea, but it is impossible under the circumstances.

The precincts will pay less than one-third of the cost of paving 33 east to the county line to connect with the paving that Roberts has already voted. The highway commission will not make a survey and fix the designation until the bonds are voted. The state proposes to keep up no more dirt roads. It will not act until the precincts, by voting bonds to help the state pave, show they mean business. On file at the B. C. D. is a letter from Gibbs Gilchrist, state engineer, asking that the three precincts not specify where the route of 33 will be, because the survey has not been made. However, the route will be south of the railroad and as straight as the lay of the land will permit.

The reason for making the Miami-Pampa road straight is that federal aid will not be available unless this is done. The state department

Whether Mrs. Lillian Prince, as she styled herself in a petition for a divorce suit and in an alimony suit is the natural mother of an eight-month-old boy is scheduled to be decided in 14th district court here Saturday by Judge Clifford Braly.

Yesterday afternoon, the alimony suit in which Mrs. Prince was plaintiff and H. C. Prince, defendant, was abruptly disrupted when counsel for defendant introduced testimony intended to prove that the baby was not the natural child of Mrs. Prince but was adopted in December, 1929, by her at a Kansas City maternity hospital.

When photostatic copies of letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Prince to a Miss Woodson, Kansas City juvenile officer connected with the hospital and the bureau of adoptions, were introduced, Buckley and Harney of Borger, counsel for Mrs. Prince, withdrew from the case. Miss Woodson, in the witness chair declared that the adoption proceedings had never been completed; and later, with Ralph Lane, manager of the hospital, demanded custody of the baby, declaring they intended to take the boy back to Kansas City because Mrs. Prince had no legal right to the child.

Meanwhile, the baby who had been kept in the courtroom in the care of a maid since the trial started Saturday afternoon, had disappeared. Judge Braly ordered Sheriff Graves to bring the child into court to decide the question of its parentage. When the sheriff called upon Mrs. Prince to produce the child, she refused. "That's my child I gave birth to him and they are not going to take him away from me. I'll rot in jail before I'll tell you where he is," she declared. But in a conference with Mr. Harney and Mr. Buckley, who volunteered to represent her in any proceedings pertaining to the parentage of the child, Mrs. Prince agreed to bring the baby into court.

BLIND FORMER SENATOR LEADS IN RACE SLAYER OF CHICAGO REPORTER IS IDENTIFIED

FOSTER, SEEN BY POLICEMAN, IS RECOGNIZED

Hoodlum's Attorneys Trying To Free Him

SUSPECT UNDER MURDER CHARGE

Officer Is Positive He Chased Gangster Gunman

CHICAGO, July 30. (AP)—Frank Foster, Chicago gunman indicted for the slaying June 9 of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune Reporter, today was identified as the slayer of the newspaperman by Policeman Anthony Ruthy who pursued Lingle's assailant across Michigan boulevard from the pedestrian tunnel, scene of the assassination.

Lingle was slain as he was about to board a suburban train for the race track by a killer who fired a shot into the reporter's head then fled through the tunnel to Michigan boulevard. Patrolman Ruthy, on duty at Michigan boulevard and Randolph street, gave chase to the killer, but he was eluded in the crowd.

Ruthy's identification of Foster broke with dramatic suddenness in court today as attorneys for Foster sought to obtain his release on bail. The patrolman said he was positive Foster was the man he chased through traffic after Lingle had been slain.

He said he was able to get a glimpse of his quarry as the man ran a zig-zag course through vehicles and pedestrians and disappeared.

The patrolman did not say why the identification had not been made previously to today's hearing. The pistol with which Lingle was slain, was purchased with 11 others by Foster, then a member of the Moran gang of North Side hoodlums.

On the basis of this information Foster was arrested in Los Angeles and indicted for the murder.

Ruthy's identification came today as Foster's attorneys were before Judge Daniel Trude with a petition that Foster be admitted bail pending trial. Murder charges in Illinois permit holding defendants without bail unless counsel can show weakness in the state's case.

Assistant state's attorneys were opposing bail for Foster and argued that to divulge their case in open court would jeopardize chances of solving the slaying. They offered to divulge their case to Judge Trude in chambers.

Counsel for Foster contended the state was keeping their client in custody only in an effort to effect a "trade" whereby Foster would divulge information the state believes he has in exchange for his freedom.

OKLAHOMA BANKS ROBBED

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 30. (AP)—Two unmasked men robbed the First National Bank of Westville, Adair county, today and escaped with an amount of money not immediately determined. G. W. Jones, president of the only occupant of the bank at the time, was locked in the vault, but soon escaped. The men escaped in a small car.

Has Barrel of Fun But Pays $1.90 For It

RACINE, Wis., July 30. (AP)—Grover Lutter had a barrel of fun at the expense of Jake Nauer, the expense being exactly $1.90. "I wish," said Nauer when Lutter went fishing, "you would send me part of your catch, you being such a wonderful fisherman, says you."

"Sure," said Lutter. "I'll send you a barrel full."

Yesterday the barrel of fish arrived. Nauer paid $1.90 freight charges. He opened the barrel. It was full of sawdust. Down at the bottom was a can of sardines.

BIG CASES ON DOCKET OF NEW COURT SESSION

Although an alimony suit was in progress in 114th district court until yesterday afternoon, the court did morning when the docket for the not, really get underway until this seven-week term was read.

The first case called for trial by Judge Clifford Braly was the suit in which Roy Chisman is asking Sheriff E. S. Graves for damages which he alleges he sustained when he was injured in the foot by former Deputy Scott Rheudasil. A jury to hear the trial is scheduled to be selected this afternoon.

Among the well-known cases which are due to be called for trial this term is the damage suit of Mrs. Jessie Bechtelheimer against the Santa Fe railroad. The suit grew out of an accident in which George W. Bechtelheimer was killed when his automobile was struck by a passenger train at the Russell street crossing.

The case of Mollie Le Fors vs Emmett Le Fors is set for this term. In this suit, Miss Le Fors alleges that she was a minor when her share of the Le Fors estate was sold and that her guardian, Emmett Le Fors, did not have the right to act for her. This suit involves land on which is located several producing oil wells and other valuable oil property.

The case of Alex Schneider vs Dr. A. McClory is also set for trial this session. Two weeks ago, Mr. Schneider filed suit alleging that stockholders of the former Pampa Refining company owe him commission for his negotiations in a transaction whereby the company was sold to the Wilcox Oil and Refining company of Texas.

Parents Scored By Upshaw; Result Of Drinking Shown

Before a large, interested audience at the high school gymnasium, Congressman-Evangelist Upshaw spoke Tuesday night on "My Sin," from the text in the 51st Psalm—"My Sin is Ever Before Me."

He had the congregation repeat the outline with him: First: "My sin offends God"; second: "My sin blights my own soul"; third: "My sin hurts somebody else"; fourth: "My sin nailed Christ to the cross."

In graphic language the speaker showed how the consciousness of sin has been written by the finger of God in every human heart, and every idol ever made and every cry of the human soul to escape the penalty of sin.

In one impassioned outburst the speaker declared: "If there is one place in hell deeper and darker than any other, it must be that spot where parents in Pampa who gamble with cards and drink bootleg liquor find their own children, whom they have led to destruction, filling in, in fury and despair upon them, gnashing their teeth upon their own parents and saying: 'You brought me to this horrible place!'"

WRIGHTSMAN AND GORE IN HIGH PLACES

Johnston Far Down List Is Third Man

MURRAY AHEAD FOR GOVERNOR

Cherokee Man Leads On Republican Ticket

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 30. (AP)—T. P. Gore, blind former senator attempting a comeback, had regained a slight lead today over C. J. Wrightsman, wealthy Tulsa oil operator, in the contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination, in returns of yesterday's primary election from 1,689 of the state's 3,338 precincts.

The two apparently were destined to enter the runoff primary of August 12 to determine which will oppose Senator W. B. Pine, Republican incumbent, and J. C. Walton, ousted governor running as an independent, in the November general election.

Gore had 34,906 votes in the 1,689 precincts, to Wrightsman's 34,687. Henry S. Johnston, another removed governor, and Lee Cruce, a third former chief executive, in the same race had fallen considerably to the rear, although Johnston with 26,122 votes and Cruce with 20,392, were well in the lead of the remaining five candidates.

J. B. A. Robertson, a third former governor and a "wet", followed Cruce with 7,484 votes.

William H. Murray, sweeping mustached veteran of Oklahoma campaigns for a quarter century, having distanced all competitors decisively, was engaged today in a battle with "par," the 51 per cent majority of the field necessary to nominate him without the requirement of entering the runoff primary with Frank Buitram, novice in professional politics, his nearest competitor. B was indicated, however, that he could not achieve the necessary majority, as his percentage of the total vote hovered about 38 and 39 as the number of precincts reported increased from 500 to 1,912.

Murray had 74,136 votes in the 1,912 precincts and Buitram 42,075. E. B. Howard, former first district congressman, had 25,423 votes as compared to 23,779 for M. E. Trapp, former governor, with whom he was engaged in a close contest for third place. A. S. J. Shaw, state auditor, had 15,939 votes; Judge Frank Bailey of Chickasha, 7,889; Jess Pullen of Sulphur, 2,102; J. R. Powers 708, and L. M. Overton 692.

In the Republican race for the governor's nomination, Ira A. Hill, state senator of Cherokee, in 741 precincts was leading at a proportion that if maintained would obviate a runoff race with "Big Jim" Harris of Wagoner, former national committeeman, Hill had 12,983 votes Harris 8,580 and Rexford, E. Cragg of Chandler, the third man in the race, 2,036.

RANGER AUTO KILLS BOY NEAR VERNON WHEN LAD PLAYING UPON HIGHWAY DARTS ACROSS ROAD

State Officers Were En Route To Huntsville With Negro Slayer—Accident Is Declared Unavoidable

VERNON, July 30. (AP)—Uell Gaverne Barrett, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barrett, was instantly killed last night five miles northwest of Vernon when he was struck by an automobile driven by Texas Rangers taking Jesse Lee Washington negro, to the state penitentiary to be electrocuted for the slaying of Mrs. Henry Vaughan near Shamrock.

The car was driven by Ranger Sergeant M. T. Gonzaulas, who was accompanied by Ranger R. G. Goss. The child was riding a scooter on the highway when struck officers said. Gonzaulas said every effort was made to avoid hitting the boy, who darted out in front of the car.

County and district officers were investigating the accident.

News of the accident in which the Vernon boy was killed by the Rangers car was first learned in Pampa by J. M. Dodson, who talked to friends at Vernon in a business conversation. Mr. Dodson was told that the accident was unavoidable. The boy turned his scooter directly in front of the automobile. The lad's father operates a filling station at the point where the accident occurred.

Rangers Gonzaulas and Goss remained at Vernon last night, placing their negro prisoner in jail. Both regretted the accident deeply. The Rangers left Pampa with the negro about 1:45 p. m. yesterday.

Peace Bond Is Denied; Evidence Is Not Convincing

C. E. Cary, justice of the peace, ruled this morning that evidence introduced in a hearing held yesterday afternoon and today, was not sufficient to place Louis Baker under a peace bond. On motion of County Attorney John Studer, the case against Roy Albritton was dismissed.

Following an altercation which took place about two weeks ago in South Pampa, between the two men and J. S. Gurley, the latter asked the court to place the two men under peace bonds.

The judge held that no evidence was introduced to show that Baker had at any time made any threat against Gurley or had exhibited any intention of carrying out such a threat. Gurley in the witness chair, testified that he never heard Baker make any threats against him.

Baker stated that he was coming out of the store which Gurley was painting when he stumbled against the ladder on which Gurley was standing. He said when the ladder tumbled to the ground with Gurley, the latter attacked him with a paint brush and that he merely defended himself. The defendant said he had no intention of starting a fight, and that he bore no ill-will against Gurley.

Mr. Studer asked that the case against Albritton be dismissed when it was learned that the evidence would be the same as in the Baker hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pierson, 718 North Somerville street, have as their guests this week Mr. Pierson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Pierson and daughters, Lillian and Flay Bennett, of Blooming Grove; his sister, Mrs. Waldo W. Henslee, and the latter's son, Waldo, Jr., both of Brownwood.

Mrs. Ray Campbell and daughter, Jo Ann, Mrs. John Haynes and son Samuel Albert, and A. W. Haynes, all of McLean, were visitors in Pampa Tuesday.

COLLAPSE IS PREDICTED IF EFFORT FAILS

Special Legislature Term Discussed In Austin

DESIRE PAMPA AREA SLASHED

Situation Is Made To Order For Major Companies

AUSTIN, July 30. (AP)—Prediction that unless action toward curtailment is taken, the oil industry of Texas will collapse within the next few months was made today by Robert B. Penn, vice chairman of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association's committee on curtailment. The threatened collapse, which he said would be caused directly by the collapse of proration in individual Texas fields, might bring prices to a basis comparable to those of 1901 when oil sold for ten and even three cents per barrel, Penn stated.

Sponsoring the recommendation of the special committee of independent operators that production be curtailed for a period of 90 days started August 1, Penn declared the situation menacing not only the operators themselves, but the economic structure of the state.

The committee of 31 recommended curtailment to 738,000 barrels, approximately 125,000 under the present output.

The new pipeline law, known as the common purchaser-law, is the only hope of operators, Penn said, and we want to find out if the law is workable.

"If the law isn't workable," he said, "let's find it out, then appeal to the governor to immediately call a special session of the legislature and give us a workable law."

Penn said the present situation was "made to order for major oil companies, if they wished to take advantage of price cuts to force independents out of business." He added, however, that he believed majors did not desire to do this.

Two instances were cited of threatened proration collapse—in the Darst creek field, the proration order of which was invalidated by a temporary injunction and the Glasscock field, where operators are threatened to store their oil since a pipe line company's cut in its nomination of 50 per cent left many operators without an outlet.

"If the plans in these fields collapse," he said, "there is no reason to believe other fields now prorated will not follow."

Changing fashions in oil also were cited as emphasizing the need for curtailment. Oil from the Wichita and Ranger fields, he said, is not in demand because oil from other Texas fields produces the no-knock gasoline now popular. His theory was that if the supply was placed below demand, the pipeline companies "might not be so choosy," and would buy oil from all operators.

Natural decline of the Winkler pool pipes proration there unnecessary, one report said, but declared that a "serious condition" existed at Pampa, with the recommendation that the field be placed under the Yates plan. The Wichita-Ranger field was said to be one of the most over-worked and hardest to handle fields since there were so many individual wells in it, all producing small quantities. Van should be limited to 25,000 barrels the report said, and concluded with the statement that "Delay on proration will result in actual waste and economic losses."

Mrs. Ferguson Now 64,330 Votes Ahead Of Ross Sterling

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, leading candidate for the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination, has been invited to open her second primary campaign in Pampa.

An answer was expected soon. The telegram was signed by Bill Faulkner, county Democratic chairman, and a number of other citizens.

It was understood that contributions to Mrs. Ferguson's campaign would be made should she decide to come here.

DALLAS, July 30. (AP)—Cooper Deita county, today was tentatively selected by Farmer Gov. James E. Ferguson as the site of his opening speech in the runoff campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Between his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and Ross S. Sterling of Houston, Ferguson said the date would be announced later.

DALLAS, July 30. (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson had a lead of 64,330 over Ross S. Sterling, her run-off opponent, in the latest count of the Texas election bureau today. Returns had been received from 252 of the 253 counties and the count had been completed in 151, a total of 760,693 votes accounted for.

The standing: Ferguson 222,027, Sterling 157,697, Small 123,898, Love 76,989, Young 68,345, Mayfield 52,111, Miller 48,868, Moody 4,208, Putnam 2,603, Loven 2,507, Walker 1,940.

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff still lacked a majority over his opponents for railroad commissioner, the three having a combined vote 8,209 in excess of his total. Neff had 318,314, Hatcher 140,830, Johnson 94,403 and Patton 82,290.

Standing of the other races: United States senator: Sheppard 459,652, Henry 150,973, Mitchell 34,758.

WELL NEARING PAY

Prairie Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Cary is now drilling at 3,260 feet, and the well is scheduled to be brought in tomorrow or the next day. The well is an offset to Cockrell-McIlroy's No. 1 Castleberry in which the pay was struck at 3,330 feet. A slight showing of oil has been found in the Cary well, which is located just outside the Talley addition.

CAR STOLEN HERE

A Chevrolet coupe owned by J. B. Shoemaker, parked west of the Rex theatre, was stolen last night. A Chrysler coupe parked in front of the Davis hotel and owned by T. M. Nolan was stolen Monday night. It was found the next day by Police Sgt. Charlie Pipes near the city water wells in the north-west part of town, stripped of three casings.

MOSES BEATEN IN NEW ENGLAND

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—This has been a rough year on the senators from New England and the latest victim is the ablest and most picturesque of the lot, the Hon. George Higgins Moses of New Hampshire.

Senator Freddie Hale of Maine, chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee, is recovering from the defeat of his attempt to block the London treaty. Gould of Maine is retiring from public life, presumably on account of Anti-Saloon League enmity after it appeared that he was letting wine ferment in his cellar.

Gillett of Massachusetts, whose state went Democratic in 1928, has retired from the Senate and is likely to be succeeded by a Democrat. Little is heard of Greene of Vermont, who was crippled by a stray bullet in a battle between bootleggers and cops several years ago, but Dale of Vermont got mixed up with the oil lobby in some way and had to make public explanations.

Then there's George Higgins Moses, the wise-cracking, hard-boiled veteran politician who plays politics because he loves the intrigue of it and nearly always does things with his tongue in his cheek.

George Higgins gets into more little jams than anyone else you can think of and he always seems to do it by design. Lately his troubles have been in connection with his chairmanship of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

Instead of being a rebuke to George Higgins, the plan whereby he will supervise Republican senatorial campaigns east of the Mississippi while Steiwer of Oregon takes over the western territory is said to be George Higgins' own idea.

For Restaurant Wear

There is leisure-hour grace and dignified beauty of a restaurant costume for the elegant made of red chiffon, polka-dotted in coin dots of white. It is made with the new drop shoulder line from which small leaves puff out in the new-old quaint manner, and little cuffs of white organdie peep from beneath them.

to George Higgins was more of a slap. Just to recall that these troubles of George Higgins in campaigns aren't anything new, remember 1928. National Chairman Hubert Work and George Higgins had a feud all the way through. Once George Higgins left Hubert's office muttering "At last they've found a man who can stop Hoover."

A few months ago George Higgins called the Republican progressive senators "sons of the wild jackass" and in the subsequent commotion there were plenty of Republicans to moan bitterly that that was a heck of a way to talk for a senatorial campaign manager whose business was to re-elect Republican senators.

Ever since National Chairman Claudius Huston had some of his interesting lobbying-financial deals revealed by the Senate Lobby Committee George Higgins and Claudius have been the only Republicans who thought Claudius shouldn't resign at the first convenient moment.

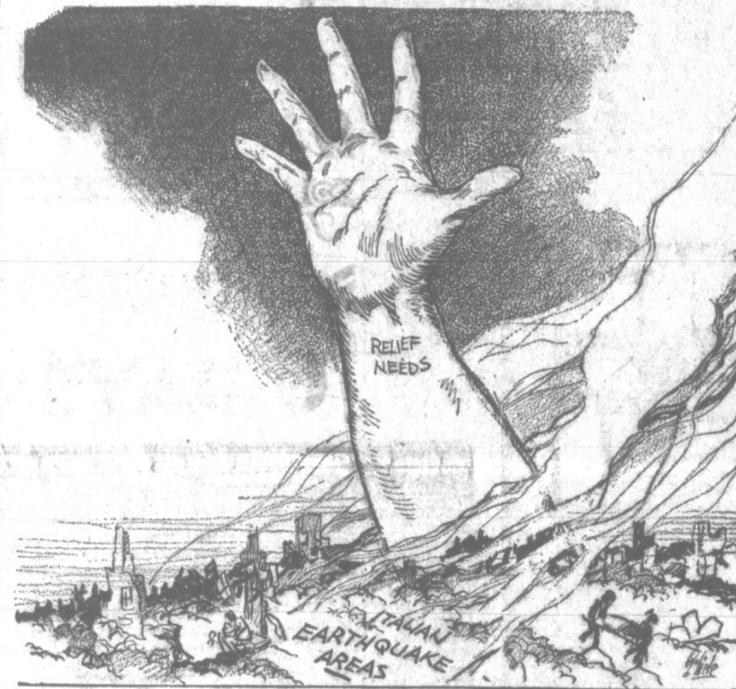

So there are many Republicans who feel like saying to George Higgins: "Son of a wild jackass, yourself!"

Mrs. eJese D. Squires and children, Jeanne and Fred, of Dallas are to arrive today for a visit of several days in the home of Mrs. Squires brother, J. M. Dodson.

Emory Crockett of McLean was in Pampa yesterday.

Leonard Howard of McLean was in Pampa Tuesday.

PAMPA GUNS DOPED TO DEFEAT ENGLEWOOD NINE TODAY

LOCALS MUST WIN TO STAY IN BIG MEET

It was apparent when Karl Keen of Sioux City, Ia., devastated the Merchants of Englewood, Colo., 13 to 1, Monday afternoon, that the Merchants compose one of the weakest teams in the Denver baseball tournament. Therefore, the Pampa Guns are doped to eliminate the Englewood men in a game this afternoon. As the Guns have already lost one game, if they are not victorious this afternoon, they'll probably be packing their bags tonight.

The teams which have been eliminated are Larned, Kans., Rolla, Mo. and M. & O. Cigarmen of Denver. Games yesterday were between the Legion Canaries of Sioux Falls, S. D., vs. Empire Oilers of Ponca City, Okla., and the Boulder Collegians vs. Goldstone Brothers Jewels, of Denver. Both the Collegians and the Jewels had lost a game each since the Oilers and Canaries were clean.

In eliminating the Cigarmen, the Guns biffed nine bingles while the tobacco boys hit Young, the Gun pitcher, eight times. Pampa scored two in the seventh and three in the eighth, and the Cigar team ran in one in the sixth and two in the eighth. Pampa made one error, the Denver team, two.

Hits were made as follows: Marcum 1, Weathered 1, Cox 1, Young 1. Roberts knocked a home run in the seventh, scoring Williamson and Young ahead of him. Jackson and Weathered scored in the sixth, Weathered on Cox's double and Jackson when a fielder booted Weathered's grounder.

The Pampa lineup: Roberts 2b, Jackson rf, Marcum cf, Gibson ss, Weathered lf, Cox 1b, Horton c, Williamson 3b, Young p.

PIRATES ARE GOING BETTER IN LATE TILTS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Pittsburgh Pirates had their full share of grief and more at the start of the 1930 season and are pretty well out of the National League pennant race. But they are on top of the second division and the least slip on the part of their leading rivals will place them among the first four clubs before the season ends.

Since Lloyd Waner got back into form, the Pittsburgh club has been looking better right along. The Pirates have won nine of their last 15 games, equaling the records of the league leading Brooklyn Robins and of the New York Giants. The Chicago Cubs have bettered that 15 game mark by one victory.

The Pirates placed themselves only two games out of the first division yesterday with a rather impressive 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. They piled up an early lead, lost it when Remy Kremer's pitching wobbled a bit, then came through with two runs in the ninth inning to win. The young ex-Waner drove them in, singling when Suhr and Egan were on base to complete a string which included another single and a double, two runs scored and one batted in. Big brother Paul hit a double and a homer and sacrificed once, scoring two runs and driving home one more, while the team's lesser hitters, Suhr and Comorosky, each contributed an extra base hit.

Although the Pirates gained on St. Louis by this slugging performance, they could not pull ahead of Boston and St. Louis, their second division rivals. The Braves found an easy solution to the puzzle of Dazzy Vance's pitching after it had baffled them for six innings and gained a tie score. Then with Ray Phelps on the mound, they bunched three more hits in the ninth inning to beat the league leading Brooklyn Robins, 4 to 3. The defeat broke Brooklyn's six game winning streak which had endured since Vance's last start.

The Reds continued to display their mastery over the Chicago Cubs and kept Chicago from gaining on Brooklyn, by winning the series final 4 to 2. Old Spop Rixey had a fairly easy time of it except for Hack Wilson's 33rd home run of the year, which put the Cubs into the running. It was the ninth time the Reds have beaten Chicago in 15 games this season.

This double defeat of the leaders worked in favor of the third place New York Giants, who trounced the Phillies by an 11 to 9 score. Carl Hubbell gave the Phils 10 hits but half of them were divided among O'Doul, Klein and Sherlock and did comparatively little damage. The Giants got eleven effective blows.

With Washington idle and the Philadelphia Athletics held in submission by Henry Johnson, the New York Yankees made the day's big gain in the American league race with the Cleveland Indians trailing in their wake. The Yankees humbled the world's champions by a 12 to 3 count as Lou Gehrig's hitting ably seconded Johnson's pitching. The Athletics made only seven hits while Gehrig alone made four, including his 30th and 31st home runs of the season. The other two blows were a triple and a double and Lou was credited with batting in six runs.

The Indians combined 13 hits with a burst of wildness on the part of Guy Cantrell while the Detroit Tigers failed to find many effective combinations for the same number of blows. The final count was Cleveland 14, Detroit 7. The Indians scored 12 of their runs in the second and third innings. The Chicago White Sox failed to equal such bursts, but they put over four runs in the fifth inning and defeated the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 2.

Cow Punchers to Meet August 21

CANYON, July 30.—The annual round-up of the old cow punchers of the Panhandle will be held at Wrangle's park, one mile north of Canyon, on August 21. Invitations have been sent out by John Arnot, president, and Miss Laura Hammer, secretary, both of Amarillo. R. E. Baird is making local arrangements for the round-up.

MR. ARNOT states in his invitation that only those who worked on ranches of the Panhandle prior to December 31st, 1929, are eligible to membership, and no one invited who does not meet this requirement. An enrollment fee of $2.00 is charged. The grounds will be opened the camp there. The annual barbecue night before for those who wish to will be at noon on August 21.

INJURED JOCKEY DIES
SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 30.—(AP)—Robert Bertchey, 17-year-old Twin Falls, Idaho, jockey, died last night from injuries received in a spill at Agua Caliente race track yesterday afternoon.

Bertchey was riding G. Peltzer's Hilo. The horse stumbled and went down on the last turn, throwing the rider in the path of bunched horses.

The jockey's mother witnessed the accident.

Pampa Men Sued In Accident Case
AMARILLO, July 30.—Injuries claimed to have been received last December 3 when two cars crashed on the Panhandle highway are the basis of suits filed here by Bill Dohoney, Jr., and George Vineyard against H. L. Case and W. R. Kaufman of Pampa.

Dohoney and Vineyard claim that the Pampa men were responsible for the accident, and the suit cites allegedly serious injuries and damages sustained.

Vineyard asks total damages of $21,408.50, including $12,000 damages, $5,000 for exemplary damages, $2,720 to cover doctors' and hospital bills, $650 for loss of salary, and $738.50 for loss of car.

Dohoney asks $14,231.85, including $7,500 damages, $5,000 exemplary damages, $525 for loss of salary, and $1,206.84 for bills.

The veteran national league hurler signed with the American association club last night and promised to report for immediate duty.

An attempt was made by the House of David team to sign up Alex. for a barnstorming tour during which he was to have pitched for the various home town teams against the long tressed diamond stars from Benton Harbor, Mich.

WACO'S CUBS AND WICHITA FALLS EVEN

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rain, mist and soothing, brought relief to Beaumont's sweltering citizenry and joy to the farmers of that vicinity yesterday, but it was just another headache to the Wichita Falls Spudders.

Forced to twiddle their thumbs, or whatever it is ball players do when thus thwarted, when they might have been out taking another crack at the last place Exporters, the first-half champs saw their slender lead over the Waco Cubs dwindle to nothing flat. The Cublets did their part of it by taking their night tussle with Fort Worth 4 to 2, making it two out of three.

Again forced to share the pinacle, the Spuds had anything but a pleasant prospect today. They were in Houston for three tilts with the Buffs, who had just finished polishing off the Sports three straight and were in a hostile frame of mind. The Cubs, on the other hand, were all set to entertain the Dallas Steers for three nights, which is one of the best things the Prattmen do. It looked like a bargain for the night owls, offering them an opportunity to pile up a lead against their impending swing through the north, where the picking will not be so good.

"Red" Becker, the rookie, pitched the Cubs to their twenty-second victory in twenty-four nocturnal starts last evening. The Cats ribbed him for nine hits, but their only runs came on successive homers by Ed Brown and Clarke in the fourth. Dick Whitworth did well for the Kittens except for two bad innings, in each of which the Cubs scored a pair.

The Buffs had a hard time nosing out Shreveport in their final, 5 to 4. It took two runs in the ninth, the last on a squeeze play engineered by Eddie Hock, to turn the trick. Turo, Owens and Morrell divided the mound duty for the Sports and allowed the Buffs only five hits, two of them by Homer Peel. Stout limited the Louisiana entry to six hits but had to be jerked after the Sports had scored twice in the ninth. George Payne went in with two out and whiffed a Sport to retire the side.

A three-run spree in the ninth broke up a tie battle and gave the Dallas Steers the rubber game at San Antonio, 6 to 1. Michaels, May third sacker, had a large night, driving in four of his team's runs with a pair of doubles. Grady Adams gave up 12 hits but kept them spaced except in the fourth frame, when the Indians scored all their runs.

Ty Cobb Likes His Earned Rest
Old Ty Cobb, a dominant figure in baseball for more than 20 years, is resting quietly at his home in Augusta, Ga., satisfied with the part he played, and not overly anxious to get back.

"I'm enjoying a well earned rest and I like it," he said when visiting his mother here. "Maybe some time the desire to reenter the game will become strong again. Then I'll look around. When a good proposition comes perhaps I'll be ready to accept it. But I won't hear of Ty Cobb again as a player. I still can play, but I always said I'd quit while I was at the top and I'm not going back on that promise."

Fishing, hunting and golf have kept Cobb in fine trim. He weighs about 187, just a few pounds above his normal playing weight. Cecil affords him his chief recreation now.

Cub President Is Hanging On Ropes
CHICAGO, July 30.—(AP)—The ladies' day nightmare was William Veeck, president of the Cubs, hanging on the ropes again.

First it was Veeck's policy to admit any fanette into Wrigley Field each Friday without tickets. Result: the park was almost wrecked in the rush, gate keepers were jarred and the cash customers couldn't get it.

Next an advance distribution of tickets was attempted three days before each game. But instead of one rush, the Cubs had two—one for the tickets and one to get into the park.

"Why not advertise in the newspapers that so many tickets will be mailed and let the women write in for them," someone advised.

Veeck did. He advertised that 17,800 tickets would be mailed free for next Friday's game one ticket for each mailed request.

The game is two days away, but 35,000 requests have been received and Veeck is looking up time tables to Alaska.

DANCING JUDITH

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JUDITH GRANT, beautiful artist's model, shares her Greenwich Village apartment with CHUMMY MORLEY, a lovely girl whose mind has been a blank since ALAN STEYNE, her lover, disappeared seven years ago. Steyne returns, Chummy fails to recognize him, and he and Judith fall in love. He tells Judith that he never loved Chummy and never knew Chummy loved him; but when Chummy's memory suddenly returns and she recognizes him, he feels bound by a tie of honor to ask her to marry him. Judith accepts the offer of BRUCE GIDEON, wealthy financier, to star her in a musical show and begins studying dancing. Steyne objects, doubting Gideon's intentions, but Judith refuses to listen to him. The four meet one another at a theater party, and Steyne insists that Judith leave Gideon and go home with Chummy and himself.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX
Judith turned her head slightly and smiled at Gideon, who reached her side, his smile turning to a frown as he saw her companion.
"Miss Grant is coming with us," said Steyne, quietly belligerent. "We have arranged a little gathering for her."
Judith laughed nervously, and almost against her will, walked beside the young man toward the door. Gideon followed, his bull neck and large ears very red, his face livid with rage.
"I am under the impression that Miss Grant is coming to have a little supper with me," he said.
"I think not," Alan replied.
They had reached Chummy and Clara Jenks, who looked at them in surprise. Chummy, a moment later, shrank back as she became aware of the passions let loose. That first original quarrel of manhood hurt her—a quarrel of two men about a woman. Of course, she did not understand it. She simply saw that Alan was put out, and that Gideon had an ugly look on his face.
Judith, always apt to lose her head under excitement, was laughing uncontrollably.
"Oh, what a fuss!" she managed to say between two almost hysterical attacks.
"Come, Clarissa!" said Alan sternly.

This face indicated what he expected her to do. Still at sea, she linked her arm in her friend's.
"Come along, Judy dear! We're going to the cafe."
"No, really!" laughed Judy. "Oh, you do make such a fuss about things! I'm going out to supper with Mr. Gideon. He asked me long ago."
"Perhaps Miss Grant might be allowed to decide for herself," suggested Gideon with elephantine sarcasm.
"I'm going with Mr. Gideon," Judy said.
She was near to tears now—tears of furious indignation at being treated "like a kid," as she would have said.
"You are coming with us," Steyne said.
He was also beside himself, but white as a ghost and quiet as a deep stream. Judy stamped her foot.
"I'm not, then I'm not!"
That finished it. The two men measured glances, and the younger knew himself beaten.

Judith and Gideon went out to his waiting car. Clarissa, crimson with shame, hurried out into the lobby Clara Jenks, secretly highly amused, waddled after her.
Clara was in wonderful spirits that night. She had just secured her first really promising engagement on the stage, to play in a dialogue with a famous comedian at an uptown theater. Her part was that of a drunken but good-natured landlady, and she was going to reveal in it.
Personally quick as lightning in her powers of observation, Clara had taken in a good deal more of the meaning of the little scene than had Chummy. She sided with Judy, and thought Mr. Steyne had been quite ridiculously overbearing. As if Judy didn't know her way about! If she wanted a good supper and a ride in a comfortable motor car, who was to blame her?
Chummy and Alan were just a little way ahead.

"Oh, Alan, was it necessary to be quite so cross with poor Judy?" the girl asked.
"You thought I was wrong, Clarissa?"
"It made me feel uncomfortable. After all, Judy can take care of herself, and Mr. Gideon had asked her first."
"He's not a fit man for her to be with," said Alan curtly. "I don't want to talk to you about it, but it is a fact. I wish you would do everything you can to prevent her going about with him."
His tone was so earnest that Clarissa was impressed. Her loving heart leaped in revolt at the hint of any unpleasantness coming near little Judy.
"I will, of course," she said; "but I don't think you need be afraid."
"That's because, like all girls, you think this man must be all right if he's rich!"
Alan spoke with almost vicious irritation. Chummy was so taken aback that she said nothing, but looked behind and stopped a moment for Clara Jenks to catch up with them.
All three boarded a bus and made their way to the Cafe Turc.

Dan's light, gay voice was not heard that night, singing the favorite Italian songs. The General himself served his guests, with the assistance of a small boy he had borrowed from a neighboring establishment.
Dan had gone to Italy, he informed his customers, to bring back the body of his mother. Where he got the necessary amount of money was a mystery that he had refused to divulge.
Everybody missed Dan. As the General said, without him and Miss Jude-e-e he might as well put up his shutters.
Steyne could not disguise the fact that he was on wires. Bastien Dumont came and joined them. In the absence of Judy, the young man made himself agreeable to Clara—too agreeable, it is to be feared, for her snub face lit up, her lips smiled without the usual twist, and her round, gray-blue eyes rested on his handsome features without being able to disguise their admiration.
"Poor Clara, it was a hopeless business! Bastien had not a thought for her, except of camaraderie. It goes hard with a born woman comedian when she falls in love. Clara was made to keep people in fits of delicious laughter, and in some way or other every living creature man or woman, managed to make her aware of this."
When they broke up that night, her heart felt very light. She walked home arm in arm with Bastien. At their door he pressed her and it had not occurred to her that Judy was not here. In fact, Judy had quite vanished from her mind, friend, however. She was tired, but she did not go to sleep until she heard Judy come up to her room. Judy was singing a little song under her breath. She must have had a good time, then.

It was well after midnight when Gideon's big car glided away from their door.
Neither Chummy nor Judy was aware that Alan Steyne had patrolled the street until he saw Judy drive up in safety, shake hands gayly with Gideon, enter the house and run up the stairs.
It was more than a fortnight later, and spring had suddenly burst upon the earth in a great flood of color and scent.
Judith had lived in a kind of whirl since her first visit to the Russian ballet. There had been many hours of solid, hard work—a "regular grind," she called it; but her whole heart was in it, and it came easily to her. Then there had been a great deal of gaily, part of it organized by her artist friends of the cafe, but more by Gideon.
She could not have counted how many times she had seen "Mr. Pynch" that fortnight. She had ceased to count them. She had drifted—that was how it was. Luxury was having its inevitable effect on her. Motor cars and good food and plays and ballets and music—she was beginning to think that these things were life.
She had seen very little of Chummy, who was also hard at work. Steyne had gone up to Maine again for a week or two. He had been

Magnolia Beats Phillips, 7 to 2

The Magnolias defeated Phillips 7 to 2 at Magnolia park yesterday afternoon. Rube Leisner, who pitched for Memphis during the recent Amarillo tournament, occupied the Magnolia mound. Kozelski knocked a homer for Magnolia.

The two teams meet again Sunday afternoon on the same diamond. The Magns play Prairie Thursday afternoon at the park.

Despite the fact that both teams have suffered heavy losses in their line-ups in the last month, the game was fast.

The Magnolias expect to play half the rest of the season, even if they were eliminated by the Guns at the Amarillo tournament.

Dr. Fu Manchu Makes Return In Picture At Rex

Five actors who took part in the thrilling episodes of "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" will repeat their characterizations of that film when "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu" comes to the Rex theatre on Thursday next for a 2-day run. Eight of the actors in the earlier "Fu Manchu" film will not appear in the forthcoming picture, because they were killed off by the insidious Doctor!

Warner Oland again plays the scheming Oriental who, if you remember, swallowed poison to thwart his detective enemies' plan to take him alive. It becomes apparent in "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu" that the poison was by no means lethal, and that the sleek, stooped monster of machinations is now very much alive. He returns more full of plots and devilry than a woman's bridge party.

O. P. Heggie, as inspector Nayland Smith of Scotland Yard, again leads the forces of the law against Fu Manchu. Jean Arthur carries on as Lia Eltham, ward of Dr. Fu, who escaped his toils in the first film and who is now the object of his unrelenting pursuit.

Neil Hamilton is again Dr. Jack Petrie, last member of the ill-fated family marked for doom by the crafty Oriental. William Austin continues in the comedy character role of Sylvester Weems.
The picture is based on the mysterious novel by Sax Rohmer. The adaptation was written by Florence Eyerson and Lloyd Corrigan. Royland V. Lee was the director. Each of them served in similar capacities in the production of the first of the Fu Manchu pictures.
Indianapolis—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., outpointed Mickey Genaro, New Haven, Conn., (10).
Los Angeles—Midget Wolgast, New York, stopped Speedy Dado, Los Angeles, (9).

Early Attend Picnic For Young People's Classes Last Evening

As summer days, which in most circles have slowed social activity to the minimum, have served to accelerate rather than retard the activities of members of the young people's department of the Methodist Sunday school, who provide entertainment for themselves and their friends the year round.

Informal outdoor events are favored by this group for vacation days, when the membership of the two classes of the department is swelled by young people home from college.

A picnic last evening—the second within a week—was one of the most delightful gatherings held this season. It was given near Bowers City, with an attendance of forty. Watermelon and ice cream were served with the basket lunch that was enjoyed after the games and contests.

B. & P. W. Good Will Party Visits England On European Tour

Interesting news drifts back by cable from the southern section of the third annual good will tour of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, which sailed July 12, from Montreal, and recently visited England, and is now in France, with headquarters in Paris.

The group of 51 American women, among whom was Mrs. Grace Higgins of Pampa, was much feted on the S. S. Duchess of York going over, Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, Va., leader of the tour, appearing as the Duchess of York at the ship's ball, scored the individual hit of the occasion.

Miss Pearl L'Heureux of Wichita, Kans., whose business is staging amateur theatricals, evolved an entertaining sketch with the duchess as the central figure and with other members of the party in the cast. The entire group was entertained in Monday at a tea given by Lady Flower, wife of Sir Archibald Flower, director of the Shakespeare festival, at their lovely English country home at Stratford-on-Avon. Here, too, the American women caught their first fascinating glimpse of the English countryside.

Visiting the Memorial Theatre and Ann Hathaway's cottage, they fancied themselves for the moment back in sixteenth century England.

Mrs. Higgins is one of two Texas women who is making the 1930 tour. She was president of the local Business and Professional Women's club during the first year of its organization. With other members of the good will party she will attend the international conference of Business and Professional Women at Geneva in August.

Local Couple See This State "First"

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Adams and family returned Monday from a two-week vacation trip to Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas and Plano.

"This was one vacation that I thoroughly enjoyed," said Mr. Adams. "I went everywhere and did everything I wanted to do. I visited radio stores and every broadcasting station, including WFAA, WBAP, and KTAT. Visitors to the studios are certainly treated fine; they take you clear through the place and explain everything to you. You get a better idea of radio after a trip through a studio, where you can see how a station operates."

Mr. Adams said that the only thing going on in Fort Worth was the ambulances, which you can hear at all hours of the day and night. There is much reckless driving in Fort Worth, he said. Plano was Mr. Adams' old home town, and his visit there was the first time he had been there in many years. Mr. Adams advised anyone who has been away from their home town for a long period of time never to return, because everything is strange and different.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Twiford and sons, Glen and LaVerne, are to leave tomorrow on a motor trip through Colorado, Wyoming, and the Dakotas. A trip to the west coast is tentatively planned for the latter weeks of the summer.

Chester Carson has returned from a month's visit in Colorado and Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore, whose home is at a Phillips Petroleum plant, south of Pampa have had as their guests for the last week Capt. and Mrs. D. G. Pamplin of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Miss Ada Gano of Redondo Beach, Calif. Mrs. Pamplin and Miss Gano are nieces of Mrs. Gilmore.

The Sign of The Dragon has been seen again.

Endurance Ships Are Still Aloft

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y. July 30—(AP)—The red monoplane attempting to break the 554-hour refueling record of the Hunters, approached its 240th hour aloft today. It will reach that mark at 8:34 p.m. (E. S. T.) last night's severe storm made it necessary to put extra gas and oil aboard the plane at its regular refueling this morning.

ST. LOUIS, July 30—(AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien, in the endurance monoplane, Greater St. Louis, entered the tenth day of their flight over Lambert St. Louis field at 7:11 a.m. today.

Stiff breezes, which made flying bumpy at low altitudes, kept the airmen at a height of 5,000 feet most of the time yesterday. Late in the day, however, they skimmed over the field to drop a note reporting everything well aboard.

Mrs. F. G. Guthrie of Fullerton, Calif., arrived yesterday for an extended visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carson.

LE4's FRESH MEATS

DIRECT TO THE CONSUMER

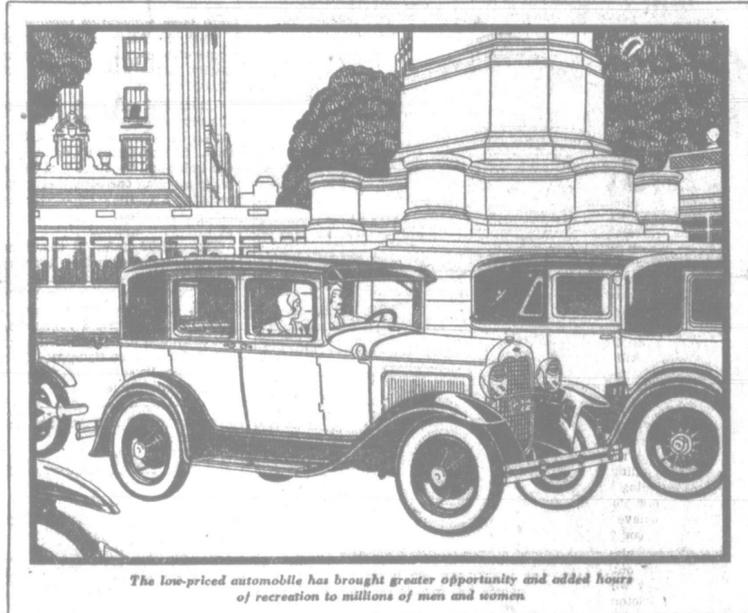

I have fed a choice lot of young Hereford cattle on grain and cake that I am selling to the local markets. My meat is killed and cooled at the Ward Packing Plant and goes direct to the local markets fresh and tender with all the flavor of good beef. This saves myself and eliminates the middleman . . . the big packing houses, railroads, etc.

The next time you buy meats ask for some of this superior quality, young home-killed beef. I have sold this beef to the following markets.

Meeting the Needs of Millions of People

The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business—design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. Many men had shut their minds to the possibility of change. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated in this operation. Finally the way was found and old methods gave place to new.

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car. All of these things are done in the interest and the service of the public—so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

WERE THESE CHICAGO BABIES GIVEN TO WRONG MOTHERS?

Are these babies with their right mothers? That's the question that has caused Chicago hospital authorities, scientists and parents so much worry since the mixup of the infants shortly after their birth.

can produce the child who was adopted at the hospital, and that she gave birth to the baby which she claims is hers.

Judge Braly ordered that the baby be placed in the custody of W. W. Holmes, court reporter, until the hearing Saturday. However, after the baby was taken from the courtroom it was decided to place the child in charge of a nurse from the Kansas City hospital who accompanied Miss Woodson and Mr. Lane to Pampa.

The habeas corpus proceedings grew out of an alimony suit which Mrs. Prince filed in Hutchinson county. A divorce suit is pending now in Hutchinson county.

According to testimony introduced during the hearing by Miss Woodson and Mr. Lane, Mrs. Prince adopted the boy in December, 1929, giving her address as Amarillo and her name as Mrs. P. T. Moore.

Miss Woodson who was the last witness on the stand for the defendant, declared Mrs. Prince was the same woman who adopted the child at the hospital in December. Attorney McGregor of Amarillo, counsel for Mr. Prince, closed his testimony by reading affidavits from
