ARMY SURVEY EXPECTED BY PAMPA GROUP

Outlook for a Gray county lake, to be constructed by the federal government out of $40,000,000 allocated to five "Dust Bowl" states, perched on new heights today as local officials were jubilant over prospects for action here in the immediate future.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26 (AP)—International complications of the undeclared Chinese-Japanese war increased ominously today as a Japanese warplane shot and seriously wounded the British ambassador to China as the Japanese navy threatened to include foreign shipping in its blockade of China's coasts.

Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, the British envoy, was shot while motoring from Nanking to Shanghai. The ambassador's party was traveling in two motorcars, both flying large Union Jacks.

Fifty miles from Shanghai two Japanese planes swooped down. The first sprayed the two cars with machine gun bullets. The second dropped bombs, after the cars had stopped.

Lieut.-Col. W. A. Lovat-Fraser, military attaché, was knocked unconscious by a bomb explosion when he alighted from his car, but was not wounded.

The ambassador was hit at least twice in the left side and stomach. An official British statement said there was no doubt the planes that attacked him were Japanese.

NEW ACTION TAKEN IN BLANTON INVESTIGATION

RAYMONDVILLE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Speculation on the unsolved Blanton disappearance case buzzed anew here today after Morgan Miller, former game warden, had been placed under bond totaling $1,750 in two places on charges of illegally carrying a pistol and impersonating an officer.

Bonds of $500 on each of the charges were posted before Justice of the Peace Tom Heath of San Perita and $250 on the pistol carrying charge and $500 on the other were made before Justice of the Peace Arthur Klein of Haringen.

The charges had been filed by T. C. Anderson, a private investigator into the Blanton case, subject of a court of inquiry which has recessed until Oct. 4. They will await grand jury action.

The development was the latest in a bizarre series of legal moves concerning the puzzling case. Luther and John Blanton, father and son, have not been heard from since they left their San Perita farm homes Nov. 18 to hunt ducks some 500 yards away.

Miller resigned his game warden-ship after he and others were held in contempt of court in connection with the arrest of Louis Lamadrid, another investigator.

DINNER ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT OF CLOTILLE McCALLISTER

WEDDING WILL BE SOLEMNIZED SEPTEMBER 25

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Clotille McCallister to Fred Thompson, with September 25 as the wedding date, was made when Mrs. Jno. V. McCallister entertained with a dinner at the home of Mrs. Tom Clayton last evening.

Various sized sailboats were used in the decorations to stress the theme, a sea of matrimony. A large boat with a couple embarking upon this sea, flanked with tall white tapers in silver holders centered the table. The centerpiece was surrounded by white carnations, chrysanthemums, and fever few.

White pom poms were used on the buffet and white carnations on the piano to stress the chosen color scheme of green and white. Smaller boats on mirror plaques with pictures of Miss McCallister and Mr. Thompson on the sails and the date of the wedding, decorated the other tables. These boats were circled with plumose fern and white pom poms. Tiny boats held the name cards at each place.

Mrs. Eugene Sestrand sang selections, "Indian Love Call" and a novel arrangement of "September in the Rain." She was accompanied by Miss Ann Sweetman.

Miss McCallister was dressed attractively in a black and white dinner dress, and her hair was held by a coronet of white fever few. Mrs. McCallister wore a rose satin gown, and Miss Waldene McCallister, who presided at the guest book, wore a pink and blue dress with a halo of pink pom pom mums.

The dinner in which green and white predominated, was served to the honoree, and Miss McCallister, Mark Fahle, Jack Goldston, C. T. Huntpillar, Raymond Harrah, J. E. Massa, Seastrand Roy L. Kay, D. C. Hartman, F. W. Gordon, Jr., of Miami, Frank Hood, M. W. Weston, Orville Ward, R. M. Klinger, and Clayton.

IRIS GILLIS AIR HOSTESS WITH BRANIFF LINES

Miss Iris Gillis, air hostess on the Braniff Airlines in Dallas, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gillis, Wednesday evening.

Miss Gillis was graduated from Pampa high school in 1933 and from West Texas State college last spring. She received her training for her present position in Dallas. One of her majors in college was Spanish, a language that Braniff hostesses are required to speak fluently because of South American and Mexican patronage.

While attending West Texas state, Miss Gillis was associate editor of The Prairie, college newspaper, and was employed in the office of the registrar.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good manners for a bystander to watch the efforts of a beginner at golf?
2. Should a golfer wait for those ahead of him to take their second strokes before he drives off the tee?
3. When a man and woman are playing tennis together should she expect him to pick up her balls?
4. Should persons dressed for swimming walk to the beach with only bathing suits on if they have only a few blocks to go?
5. Does the informality of a picnic excuse crude table manners?

What would you do if:

- a) You are backing into a parking space another motorist takes it from you?
- b) Get out of your car and tell him what you think of him?
- c) Sound your horn?
- d) Drive off without letting his bad manners influence your behavior?

Answers

1. No it might rattle him.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. No. Wear slacks, beach coats, or the like.
5. No. Informality is one thing, crudeness another!

FARR'S DREARY HOME TOWN BETTING SHIRT ON TOMMY

TON-Y-PANDY, Wales, Aug. 26 (AP)—Ton-y-pandy, lost in the desolate valley of the Rhondda, left its grief in the coalpits today and bet its dreary life on Tommy Farr.

By all the laws of human nature this should be the saddest valley in the world and on all other days it seems it is. But Ton-y-pandy Tommy is fighting, Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight title tonight and Ton-y-pandy is happy.

Colored paper flaps easily as men sit on the bridge which crosses the Rhondda river to curse the sports writers who say their Tommy cannot win.

Not since the great religious revival swept the Rhondda valley in 1905 has Ton-y-pandy seen such enthusiasm.

Until the square-headed Tommy came along the church fought boxing at every turn.

But today Ton-y-pandy's vicar and non-conformist minister were praying like the rest for a Farr victory.

The miners already had burned in effigy a London sports writer who kept insisting Tommy is little more than a set-up for Louis in New York tonight. They consider it an insult if you offer odds on Louis.

Just where the money is coming from is not clear. More than half the valley's population is on the dole. Few people have radios so a set seems enough to tune in America was installed in Judge's hall, where Tommy learned to box.

The townspeople will file in and anybody in the community who can sing, dance or entertain will get up and keep the crowd amused until 3 a. m. when the fight is due to start.

BEAUMONT, TULSA AND FT. WORTH DEADLOCKED

The white-heat battle for a Shaughnessy play-off berth in the Texas league today presented the picture of three teams tied for third place. The clubs were Beaumont, Fort Worth and Tulsa with San Antonio just a length or so ahead.

Beaumont last night suffered a 6-0 drubbing at the hands of the high- and -mighty Oklahoma City Indians, perched loftily out of danger on the top of the heap.

Fort Worth won a 4-3 decision over Galveston which battled gamely in sixth place. Tulsa opened its final home stand before the largest crowd in its baseball history and eked out a 4-3 win over the embattled San Antonio Missions.

The cellar-dwelling Dallas Steers got a lot out of their system in walloping the second-to-last Houston Buffs, 13 to 2.

GAS TO CARRY PUNGENT ODOR

Beginning Sept. 25, 1937, all natural gas distributed and sold in Pampa and to rural customers in the vicinity will carry a warning odor, in compliance with recent Texas law. The odor carried throughout the system by the gas, will be somewhat pungent and easily detected if any gas is escaping. This announcement was made this week by the Central States Power and Light company, local manager Jake Garman.

It was also stated that the odorant to be used is harmless and can only be detected when there is a leak or when appliances are improperly adjusted. This odorant will always be carried by the gas for protection of the consumer, against possible property and personal damage. Stress was made on the warning not to use matches when trying to locate leaks always use soap-suds and immediately notify the company office.

An announcement simultaneously with the new gas odorant system was made concerning the opening of a national advertising campaign of the American Gas Association of which the Central States Power and Light company is a member. The campaign is in cooperation with the local dealer in promoting better cooking facilities in the American home.

DEPRESSION LEFT AMERICA IN NEED OF 5,600,000 NEW HOMES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—PWA housing experts estimated today the depression has left the American people in need of at least 5,600,000 new homes.

It would take that many they said, to replace the worst slums, and give families about the same kind of living quarters they had in 1930.

Homes for 135,000 low-income families may be provided in the next three years through local projects supported by Federal loans under the $526,000,000 Wagner housing act. PWA files, however, contain nothing to show that private enterprise is getting into the field of providing homes for lower-income families.

Public works officials listed these factors as affecting the need for houses as the nation rises out of the depression:

1. The population has increased.

2. Home-building during the depression did not keep pace with the population.

3. Families which doubled up in a single home to weather economic stress are now unscrambling.

4. Families which migrated from the cities to the farms during the depression are wandering back to the industrial centers in search of new jobs.

5. Marriage, held back by the depression, is on the increase, and nearly every newly-married couple demands a new home.

6. Families are yearly becoming smaller, on the average, which means that more dwellings are needed to house the same number of people.

7. Some of the new buildings added no more quarters because they simply replaced worn-out structures.

GOVERNMENT PUSHES OFFENSIVE ON FRONT

VALENCIA, Aug. 26 (AP)—Government troops pushed a tremendous offensive today on the Aragon front of northeastern Spain.

A government spear-head was thrust into Generalissimo Francisco Franco's lines 25 miles southeast of Zaragoza, where the town of Quinto, long held by the insurgents on the Zaragoza-Valencia road, was occupied by Madrid - Valencia troops.

Often the government had attacked Quinto but not until today did it conquer. The government drive also brought capture of Todo, another insurgent held town.

OFFER TO LEASE ALL STATE LAND REJECTED

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 26 (AP)—Utah's land board rejected a leasing proposal of eight Taylor grazing district boards today for reasons agricultural leaders said may have a far-reaching effect upon western range administration.

The districts sought to lease all state lands—some 2,600,000 acres—within their borders, but State Land Board Secretary H. Warren Taylor termed their offer too low and of questionable legality.

In a letter to the grazing district representatives he said: "A grazing district has no corporate identity or legal authority to enter into a lease contract, the terms of which are enforceable."

"A feeling of uncertainty and dissatisfaction with the administration of the grazing division, as voiced at various stockmen meetings, does not assure a permanency in any undertaking by the various advisory boards as now constituted."

E. H. Burdick land board engineer, said that whereas present grazing income from but 26.2 per cent of state lands is $735,390 a year, total income from all land with the proposed lease in force would be but $69,685.

NEUTRALITY OR NATIONALS

The U. S. State Department is having to draw a very fine line these days for the protection of its nationals in Shanghai.

Secretary Hull is sending 1200 additional marines across and will ask for an emergency appropriation of $500,000 to aid in relief and evacuation, but announces that the government will not continue forever to protect stubborn Americans who insist on remaining in China.

Is it too much to hope that the State Department means exactly what it says? The marines, reinforcements for those already stationed with the legation in Shanghai, won't arrive for five weeks.

U. S. nationals will be repeatedly warned to leave. Secretary Hull says. Barring transportation complications, wouldn't it be reasonable to assume that all Americans who haven't left by the time the additional marines arrive, and who show no inclination to do so then, are definitely "on their own"?

Having made them cognizant of their danger and offered them opportunity to get out, might not the government disclaim all responsibility for them?

THE SCOTTSBORO 'PLAYERS'

To many of the thousands who have sympathized with them, the news that four of the "Scottsboro boys" will go on the stage comes with a distinct accompaniment or repugnance.

It would be more odd, perhaps, if they didn't take advantage of the fame that freedom will soon dull. After nine years in jail while the ponderous American judicial system performed several most undignified flipflops, the four Negroes are turned loose upon a world that must seem wide and glamorous.

They assume heroic proportions to others of their race. For a while the quartet can capitalize on the headlines of their case. Then, when their drawing power at the box office dries, they can go back to the jobs they normally would have held, and life will go on as usual.

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Nobody could accuse President Roosevelt of buying a pig-in-a-poke when he named Hugo L. Black to the Supreme Court.

Black's opinions as a senator have been recorded on miles of white paper. And they've all been on the Rooseveltian side.

His maiden speech in the senate was a battle for Muscle Shoals. He wanted cheaper nitrate rates for farmers. That was in the Republican era when a young Democrat from Alabama was nothing but a voice crying in the wilderness. But Black stayed to see TVA become a fact in 1933.

His last battle in the senate was his own bill which he says would put a bottom in American living standards; the wages and hours bill.

Tex's Topics

Bob Andrews, an ex-gob, writes to say that he read here the other night that sailors of the U. S. Navy wore bell-bottomed trousers in order to facilitate the rolling above knees when swabbing decks. Says Mr. Andrews: "Evidently you have been misinformed, inasmuch as the real purpose of wide bottoms on sailors' uniforms is to expedite the shedding of clothes while in the water. At least, that was the information purveyed to us 'boots' during the training period we underwent. Possibly there are two reasons for large bottoms, which makes neither of us wrong."

No doubt, Mr. Andrews is right about this. We have been known to be wrong.

They tell me that John Sturgeon, the eminent lawyer, still gets to fever pitch when somebody asks him to recount that night on the fishing trip when the rattlesnake attacked his sleeping companion, Frank Culbertson. Mr. Sturgeon carries you to the heights and his description is so graphic and so dramatic that before he's through you can almost feel the rattle's fangs sinking into your nose. It is related that he told the story so realistically to one man that the listener had to go immediately and get serum injected to recover from the snake bite.

Ernie Favors still is moustache-less. Kelly, the barber, usually is so busy he can't find time to shave. Bill Karn's voice is back again on KPND. Frank Allison's one-time gold collection is about to become the topic of an article in a national magazine.

During recent years a number of states have adopted the "basic rule" speed law—a measure whereby no fixed maximum highway speed is prescribed, but drivers are required to operate their vehicles with due care. Today in many of those states motor vehicle officials are coming to the view that the basic rule has failed, and that a fixed speed law, rigidly enforced, is necessary to the prevention of accidents. The national organization which studied highway legislation and first advocated the basic rule, has now changed its position, and urges fixed speed limits. So the motorist has failed in his responsibility under a law which gave the individual wide leeway in his driving habits. Speed is still the great highway killer, breeding more violent deaths than any other driving error.

It is a harsh commentary on drivers that the bulk of fatal automobile accidents occur on first class, straight highways, under good weather and visibility conditions, and involve cars in passable mechanical condition. Speed—the insane instinct to "open her up"—is the answer. It is apparent that the automobile death and injury rate will continue to climb until all states cooperate to modernize their traffic codes in the light of modern conditions. Appeals to the motorist's instincts of self-preservation and public responsibility, have produced some results—but much must be done. Speeds must be reduced. And the offending driver must be punished under laws enforced without fear or favoritism.

Dr. Lowell E. Selling, Detroit court psychiatrist, has revealed discovery of a new type of mental aberration observed only among traffic law violators. Not a specific disease, the disorder was traced in investigation of motor law violations. By Dr. Selling and his staff. Scientific programs have accomplished many things in improving traffic conditions. Autos and tires have been brought steadily toward the peak of perfection. Roads have been widened and improved. Dangerous intersections have been eliminated, and a great campaign of education has been started.

But even when all these improvements are combined, accidents still occur. That leaves little other than the "human element" to account for the trouble. So, if Dr. Selling can throw light on just why certain otherwise respectable and reasonable members of a community suddenly go berserk when they get behind an automobile wheel, he will deserve the everlasting-praise of the whole nation.

I WONDER: Just how long it will be before that first "norther" swoops down to knock the mercury for a row of icicles. And if Amarillo still is as cocky as ever about the football prospects for this fall. And if it's true that there are going to be at least six Gray county candidates for sheriff in the 1938 election.

Lon Blansett is plenty busy making arrangements for his rodeo at Borger. Pampa needs a convention hall. E. C. Pennington, new member of the High school faculty, finally has found a place to move his family. It had him plenty worried for a few days. Teachers are coming back to town from summer vacations and the housing situation grows still more acute.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO Men of the Christian church appointed committee composed of the minister, James Todd, Jr., C. L. Thomas, Bible school superintendent, Roy McMillen, assistant superintendent, H. W. Hickman of the Hickman Construction company, and Ivy Duncan to consider the plans for the type of building best suited for the program of the church, and to consider the question of raising the finances.

FIVE YEARS AGO Edward Winfield, 18-year-old English-born parachute jumper, demonstrated his skill for the first time in Pampa at the airport. Strongly endorsing the candidacy of Ernest O. Thompson for railroad commissioner, Chas. C. Cook, local attorney, told a radio audience that "the Panhandle people can without division unite in supporting this candidate."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

The boy says, "I can't go on that hike because I haven't got any shoes. I have four bits paid on a pair but I can't get them out." And this one answered, "Certainly you can go on the hike, shoes or no shoes. If there are stickers you can pull them out and go on. I wouldn't let the matter of shoes stop me from going any place. Let alone a hike. Of course you can go." And he did. There were lots of grass burrs in the wooded bottoms of the Hay Hook ranch but he didn't mind them, and besides the soles of his feet were tough as leather. There are no grass burrs in Baker school, in Horace Mann school, in the other schools, but there might as well be for children just don't go to school nowadays without shoes. It's like a boy wearing long pants. No boy wears short pants with buttons at the knees as some of you did when you went to school, and went barefooted, too. It's extremely embarrassing to go to school without shoes nowadays. Yet, some children in Pampa will go to school without shoes, if they go at all, unless kind Pampans who will be called upon soon, share enough to buy the shoes.

The Lady Gets In So he called up the "U" and fixed it. At the appointed time he had the lady appear. Her ticket said one but she'd brought along her two children, cunning little tykes. She and offspring were taken to a sound stage, where the children were fascinated by all the electrical gadgets. They pulled out one or two plugs. So the fellow answered the phone and what the Universal guy said to him wasn't nice. And the next time he answered the phone it was the lady visitor. She thanked him for the "U" trip but she really hadn't seen anything and couldn't fix it up so she could do another. "Maybe Metro and see Garbo?"

It is things like that, you'll understand when you come to Hollywood and want to see the various studios, that make it virtually impossible to admit you. Of course, if you know someone, maybe you'll get in. But you won't see anything except what is visible outside the sound stages. If you know someone really, then you may get inside a stage. But you won't be too welcome, even if the director smiles at you and the stars come over to say a dutiful hello. You'll be as welcome to put it bluntly as you would be in a washerwoman's tubs on a blue Monday morning.

But What Can You Do? Studios are talking now, after a summer tourist season that has brought a steady stream of applicants for visiting of clamping down the lid on all visitors. They always talk that way, but they've never yet done anything about it. They can't. Exhibitor—important executive, studio head himself, sends friends. Studios can't afford to make enemies out of important friends. Last time the producers' association issued a strict "no visitors" edict the tide of out-of-towners increased rather than receded.

One solution suggested has been the erection of sound stages with a glassed-in elevated cage for visitors, where they could see movies in the making without getting in the way of the making.

Another has been a community sound stage, erected at joint expense of all the studios, whereon visitors could go and see a film company—employed for their edification alone, go through the motions. They might even support this with paid admissions, as Carl Laemmle used to collect in the silent days when visitors didn't matter.

But that probably wouldn't work either. No real stars would be on hand and besides—what's the good of seeing something that anybody else can see?

"Candy" in India is the name of a weight, equivalent to 500 pounds.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Visitors, just visitors. Hundreds, thousands, millions of visitors. And what do the little visitors want? Why, they'd like to drop in at the various studios, or see a few studios, and once in a while they'd give anything just to get inside ONE studio. Visitors.

The lady had to see a studio. She knew somebody who was a friend of a friend, and she had a letter to somebody, so she had to be "taken care of." The fellow—he's the one who takes care of the "important" visitors—sat at his phone and mumbled to himself: "Lessee, now... Paramount? No, I can't. I've sent them 10 parties this week already... Metro? No-o-o-o... Lessee... Universal! I haven't sent anybody out there since day before yesterday. Whoopee! Universal it is!"

How's Your Health? If an apple a day ever kept the doctor away it must have been in the good old days, before fruits and greens were sprayed with poisonous insecticides. Nowadays an apple a day, unless the apple be thoroughly washed, may bring the doctor a baffling case of chronic lead poisoning.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association there was reported recently a case of acute lead poisoning resulting from the eating of apples from which spray residue had not been completely removed.

More recently the Journal quoted the belief of an investigator, who has studied extensively the problem of spray residues on foods, to the effect that "the potential danger from lead, and to a lesser extent, arsenic poisoning from contaminated fruits and vegetables has not been sufficiently emphasized."

It is extremely difficult to establish clinically how common or widespread such poisoning may be. Ingested lead accumulates within the body, and even small amounts may eventually impair health. Unfortunately the symptoms of "mild" cases of lead poisoning are such as are commonly associated with a large number of organic and functional disturbances, such symptoms may be the loss of appetite, anemia, loss of body weight, gastrointestinal disturbances, weakness, lack of strength and endurance, and joint pains. When one reflects on the amounts of poisonous insecticides used annually in the United States for spraying fruits and vegetables, the potential danger to the consumer appears large indeed.

True, the growers of these commodities are aware of this danger. Efforts are made to free the produce of the spray residues before it is marketed.

But much of it still gets by. To play safe, leafy vegetables and all fruits likely to be eaten with their skins should be thoroughly washed.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

The secrets of life deep in the heart of the Belgian Congo have perennially fascinated Explorer Attilio Gatti. In the last 13 years he has led nine expeditions south and from east to west. "Great Mother Forest" (Charles Scribner's Sons, $3.75) is the graphic account of his latest wanderings in this primitive land.

Moving along with an easy, direct conversational style, the book is devoted particularly to the forbidden territory of the Kibali-Ituri forest. This is the "fabu" forest, a vast stretch of land which no man knows, shunned by Pygmy or native because of the superstitious terrors regarding it. Here, according to legend, the evil spirits dwell and monstrous animals roam.

Into this jungle-forest, almost a solid wall of matted vegetation, Gatti and his party ventured and returned with many strange stories. He found out about the rare animal, the okapi, and he captured several specimens.

Another most interesting section of this book is the story of the native Watussi, which Gatti claims "are the children of the ancient Egyptian civilization."

Amplified with photographs taken by the Gatti expedition, "Great Mother Forest" opens up the vast recesses of "darkest Africa" as have few books in recent years. Here are new insights on the Pygmy tribes and the rare animals, in particular the great apes, which are seldom glimpsed by native eyes.

So you lay down the book finally with the "inferno of insects" still buzzing and swarming about your eyes and the hideous cries of the great beasts still ringing your ears. That, after all, is something for your money.—P. G. F.

FOR SIGNS DEFICIENCY BILL FOR $87,662,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today the third deficiency bill, appropriating $87,662,000 for various government departments and agencies.

The measure also authorizes the use of $65,000,000 of tariff receipts for subsidies to cotton farmers in connection with a government effort to stabilize the price at 12 cents a pound.

The bill also carries $10,000,000 to start the farm tenancy aid program and another $10,000,000 for retirement of submarginal lands.

NO. ONE

They expressed hope for his recovery, although he was greatly weakened by loss of blood. Chinese and foreign diplomatic circles in Nanking received news of the affair with expressions of horror and dismay. They understood Sir Hugh was on his way to Shanghai to discuss with Shigeru Kawagoe, the Japanese ambassador, possibilities of ending the Shanghai hostilities by diplomatic agreement.

British embassy attaches said the ambassador also was anxious to survey arrangements for evacuating British nationals from Shanghai to Hongkong.

Regretted By Japs High Japanese officials were quick to express their sorrow. Katsuzo Okumura, secretary of the Japanese embassy, called at the hospital on behalf of the ambassador, Shigeru Kawagoe; Vice Admiral Tadao Honda, naval attaché of the embassy, called to express the Japanese regrets.

Messages of condolence also came from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Chinese government, and other Chinese officials.

Mistaken for Chinese A spokesman for the Japanese embassy deplored the attack on Sir Hugh and said the airmen evidently had mistaken the red and blue British flag on his automobile for a Chinese emblem of the same colors.

He declared the ambassador should have had a flag large enough to drape over the whole roof of his car.

On the battlefronts around Shanghai, Chinese defenders meanwhile had fallen back on a broad front, while the Japanese army had established a firm foothold on the Yangtze coast north of Shanghai for the landing of divisions from the homeland for extended operations to drive the Chinese from the vicinity of Shanghai.

Would Stop Foreign Shipping A spokesman for the Japanese navy declared that "foreign shipping along the China coast may be halted by Japanese warships patrolling the area."

This would be an extension of the blockade against Chinese shipping proclaimed yesterday along 800 miles of China's coastline, from Shanghai southward.

In the northern campaigns for control of Hopeh province the fortunes of war varied. Japanese headquarters in Tientsin claimed a series of smashing successes, including capture of Kalgan, capital of Chahar province, and other important positions in the region. Japanese officers in Peiping, however, admitted that Chinese armies southwest of Peiping were carrying out a flanking movement that endangered the Japanese column fighting along the Peiping-Hankow railway.

In Tokyo Premier Fumimaro Konoye declared Japan considered British and American efforts to halt the fighting in the Shanghai area as of little importance.

J. B. Powell, Chicago Tribune correspondent on the war front, was jolted but uninjured when huge Japanese shell splinters smashed into his automobile, which was flying the American flag.

J. M. McKinnon of Houston, Tex., manager of the large American-owned Poplar Grove Dairy farms, on the outskirts of Shanghai, saved his life by feigning death under a hail of Japanese aerial bombs and machine gun fire.

A squadron of Japanese warplanes attacked the farms for the second time within a week, almost annihilating the farm's herd of 400 pedigreed American cattle.

McKinnon protested to American consular authorities against the repeated Japanese bombardments of the property. They were unable to explain why the farm, over which large American flags are flying, should be a target for the Japanese.

Besides the Poplar Grove farms, American property damaged in the two weeks of heavy aerial and artillery fire includes the American-mortgaged Wing On and Company department store, cotton mills in the Woosung area and the American Mission hospital at Nanhungchow.

Although possessing woefully inadequate resources, international relief committees plunged into the overwhelming problem of alleviating, even slightly the dangers of hunger and disease hovering over war-torn Shanghai.

There are at least half a million destitute war refugees roaming the streets, and among them a sprinkling of foreigners. Under the direction of American W. H. Plant of Portland Me., the emergency relief committee broadcast a world-wide appeal for the war victims here and elsewhere in China.

Sanction is virtually non-existent and food is meager, creating an increasing danger of epidemics. Food rations, costing about two cents a day for each person, are a bowl of rice and cabbage gruel with an occasional trace of meat.

NO. TWO (Continued From Page One) requested by either side in the dispute, would automatically postpone the strike for 30 days. The National Mediation Board, failing to arbitrate the dispute, may request the President to create an emergency arbitration committee which must report within 30 days. Neither side may take action until a 30-day decision has elapsed after its decision.

"I received word of the hour and date for the start of the strike from my Chicago office," Whitney explained. All our representatives there are in agreement.

"We are now taking care of the details of the strike here and instructions will be sent out in circular form later today."

Concerning possible federal mediation, Whitney said the committee would have to take such a step under consideration and that there would be no "authentic" 30-day delay as a result of such intervention.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Fears of international complications as the result of the shooting of the British ambassador to China near Shanghai touched off a selling wave in the stock market today that swept leading issues down 1 to 5 points.

In addition to the wounding of the diplomat, Wall street's pessimism was further aggravated by Japanese threats to include neutral shipping in the blockade of the China coast, the breakdown of railway wage negotiations, and a cloudier outlook for a brick pickup in business this fall.

Steels and rails led the retreat, but all departments were affected. Commission houses with foreign connections reported offerings of American stocks from abroad were much larger than in recent sessions.

Transfers climbed to around the 1,000,000-share mark.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Later in the morning options advanced 1 to 6 points over yesterday's closing quotations due to the war scare in the east.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Wheat prices advanced briskly for a time today because the trade was enthusiastic at Liverpool strength and far eastern war news, but reactions later erased the bulk of price gains.

Wheat was almost 2 1/2 cents a bushel at one time, but a general inclination to lighten commitments coupled with profit taking pulled quotations down to around the day's lowest levels.

Wheat closed at approximately the opening levels, 1 1/2-1 3/4 cents above yesterday's finish. September 1.06 1/2, December 1.08 1/2, and corn finished 1/2 cent lower to 1 cents higher, September 99 1/2, December 1.08 1/2, 1.06 1/2, 1.07 1/2.

SOYBEAN CROP YIELDS 50,000,000 BUSHEL

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—A bumper 1937 yield of soybeans, estimated in private trade reports by crop experts to be in excess of 50,000,000 bushels, will place this infant member of American crops on a near equal production level with rye, one of the oldest.

Rye production this year is estimated at 52,000,000 bushels and some crop observers believe that soybeans may even pass rye this year.

From an insignificant position in the American agricultural picture a dozen years ago, the soybean, although far removed from its native Manchuria, has found favor among farmers to the extent that more than six million acres were seeded this year. Some was planted for use as a legume.

Plants in the United States for processing soybeans have capacity for handling 55,000,000 bushels and processors reported this year's bumper crop can easily be absorbed by manufacturing concerns which convert the beans into more than 300 products.

AMERICANS WARNED TO LEAVE NANKING AREA NANKING, Aug. 26 (AP)—John M. Allison, the United States consul at Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung province, notified Ambassador Nelson Johnson he was closing the consulate today and warning all remaining American citizens to evacuate the interior.

NO. SIX (Continued From Page One) die's $4,750,000 share of the huge government fund.

The outlook for Gray county's lake looks more hopeful right now than at any time since the idea was conceived by Judge Ivy Duncan, Mr. Walker stated.

To Buy Land "It is my understanding that the government will buy the land, construct the dam and create the lake," he added, "and we are now interested in the state park board in taking over the program of beautifying the spot and making of it a state park site."

Mr. Walker also states that he is expecting U. S. Army engineers to be assigned here before long to make complete surveys at the McClellan Creek site, 22 miles southeast of Pampa. The proposed $150,000 cost of the lake was an estimate made several months ago by an engineer hired by Gray county commissioners.

Pampans Jubilant County Judge Sherman White also expressed jubilation today over the new word from Washington that action really is coming into being on the government's dust bowl rehabilitation plan.

Judge White joined with Mr. Walker in urging a huge delegation of Pampans to be in attendance at the five-state meeting in Amarillo on Sept. 8.

James Collins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Garnet Reeves, manager of the Board of City Development, also expressed a great interest in the announcement today.

Judge Duncan Elated Among the happiest over the prospects for the Gray county lake today were Judge Ivy Duncan, who first began pushing the county lake idea many months ago. Judge Duncan discussed the matter with Mr. Walker today and offered the Gray county PWCA director, all possible assistance in efforts to obtain the needed funds.

According to the word sent back from Washington by Mr. Hinton, of Amarillo, a decision has been reached by the Resettlement Administration to spend $300,000 for lake site purchases in this area. It was announced that work on the land purchase program would probably begin September 1. The entire $10,000,000 allotted for the purchase of submarginal land under the Farm Tenancy legislation will be spent in the five-state region.

Hinton said Congressman Marvin Jones was elated and predicted with enthusiasm that the legislation was probably one of the greatest items in the history of this region from a far-reaching development standpoint.

Announcement of the five-state meeting to be held in Amarillo was made following the report from Hinton. The meeting will be called by the Panhandle Water Conservation and will be for two purposes, McCarty said.

First: To permit the five-state conference and committee to hear the report of Carl Hinton, Hinton was delegated to act for the five-state region at a previous meeting here several months ago.

Second: To honor the Senators and Congressmen of the five-state area who formed themselves into a committee under the leadership of Congressman Marvin Jones for legislative activities looking toward a broad-gauged program for the dust-bowl area.

Governors Invited Governors of the five states also will be invited to attend the meeting and to cooperate in carrying out the plan which are now being made. It is expected that the meeting on Sept. 8 will be an all-day affair and will probably include a barbecue for the visitors.

Numerous conferences have been held by Jones and Hinton with Washington officials in connection with the details which must be handled in putting the legislation and the program into effect. Hinton reported that while it appeared this region had within its grasp one of the greatest programs in its history that much would depend on the cooperation given in putting it in effect. He said that every precaution would have to be exercised to see that every detail is attended to and every agreement lived up to in order that the fullest results may be achieved.

Officials Jubilant Officials of the Water Conservation association were jubilant over the report, some declaring the movement would be of inestimable value here and over the nation. They also said the organization would exercise every vigilance to see the program run carried out with dispatch and co-operation, insofar as the counties and the organization's officials were concerned. They were unanimous in declaring the same fine type of co-operation from the WPA, Resettlement and other governmental units.

FARR-LOUIS FIGHT POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY NIGHT BECAUSE OF RAIN

FIGHTERS TO BE WEIGHED IN SECOND TIME

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—The heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Tommy Farr, scheduled for tonight, was postponed until Monday night because of rain.

The four-day postponement was announced by Promoter Mike Jacobs shortly after the rival fighters weighed in at the offices of the State Athletic commission.

The Welsh challenger had a nine pound advantage on the scales, weighing 207 to 198 for Louis.

Because of the length of the postponement, the fighters will be obliged to go through the official weighing-in and examination ceremony again on Monday.

Cubs Lose Doubleheader To High-Flying Giants

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Cubs met the enemy—and couldn't get away from them.

Even if they'd been in the next county, it's doubtful if those Chicago clouters could have gotten the Giants out of their hair yesterday as they blew both ends of their doubleheader with the second-place New Yorkers. They kicked away a five-run lead in the opener and a one-run in the nightcap, which shaved their National league lead to a mere two games.

As a result, the National league race seemed headed today for a hot finish, with enough rough riding to make it look like a rodeo. The Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis' reviving Cardinals may decide it.

Even a couple of startling performances in the American league couldn't take the spotlight yesterday. For one, there was Bobby Feller, looking like a real pitcher, fanning 16, allowing four hits and hurling the Indians to an 8-1 victory over the Red Sox in the opener of a twin bill the nightcap of which went to the Bostonians, 7-2. For another, there was a major league record equaled when the Tigers' outfield didn't have a fielding chance as the Detroiters drubbed the Athletics 10-4.

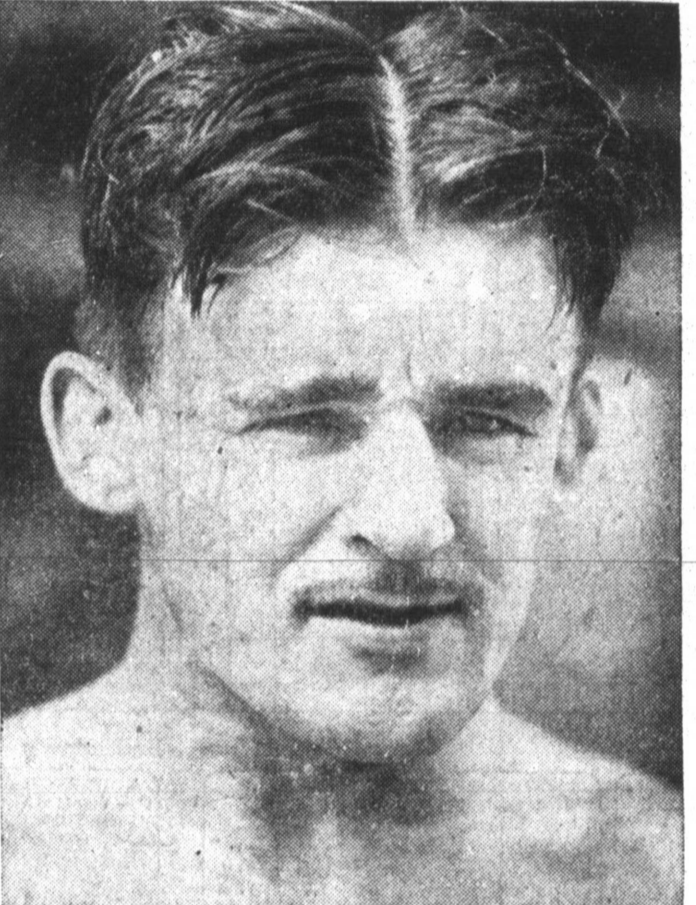

But the National league race was the thing. In fact, it may come pretty close to being decided right in the Giants' own Polo Grounds during the next week. Although only two games separated the Cubs and Giants, the rest of the first division—the Gas House Gang and the belting Bucs—are coming up fast on the outside, with only eight games separating the top from fourth place.

Such being the case, the four-game series the Pirates opened with the Giants in a twin bill today assumed all the importance of a motor in an automobile. If the Bucs, who belted the Bees, 6-0, behind the continued classy pitching of young Russ Bauers yesterday, can get over the habit of "stopping" for the still crippled Giants there's going to be a lot of fun before they move away from the Harlem.

And when they finally go along, the Giants will have to get ready for those Cards, who are beginning to get pitching of sorts. Lon Warneke and Si Johnson were the right sort yesterday and had the Dodgers breaking their backs as they took a twin win, 4-2 and 5-2.

The Giants, meantime, didn't need any Blondy Ryan to shout his "they can't beat us" piece from the house-tops. Behind 7-2 in the ninth inning of the opener, their chances looked like Tommy Farr's, but the Cub infield blew up, Jimmy Ripple hit a homer, and the score was all even as five, unearned runs poured across. They won out in the 11th, 8-7. In the nightcap, the Cubs got

Enid Finalist in Semi-Pro Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 26 (AP)—One finalist in the national semi-pro baseball tournament was determined today, following the Enid, Okla., victory over Wichita 4-2. The defeat eliminated the Kansans. The final will be played Sunday.

Officials said Enid went to the final round under the tourney's double elimination rule by virtue of six victories and no defeats. Four teams remain in the other bracket, each with four victories and one loss.

One of these teams is the Dormont, Pa., aggregation which last night eliminated the last Pacific coast representative, Tacoma, Wash., 6 to 5.

Today's schedule: Duncan, Okla., vs Buford, Ga. (8:15 p. m.); Mr. Pleasant, Tex., vs Dormont, Pa. (10:15 p. m.).

SLINGIN' SAM NAMED ALL STARS' CAPTAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—"Slingin' Sammy" Baugh, Texas Christian's deadshot forward passer, will lead the College all stars against the Green Bay packers, national professional football league champions, at Soldier Field Sept. 1.

Baugh was selected captain of the squad by his teammates after yesterday's practice.

Rowe And Dean Pitch Well in Marshall Games

MARSHALL, Aug. 26 (AP)—Major league fans who thrilled to the hurling feats of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe of the Detroit Tigers and Paul (Daffy) Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals felt more optimistic over their destinies today.

Rowe, defeated by Dean in a 1934 world series game, pitched hitless ball for Texarkana, permitted none to reach first and faced only nine. He got a double off Dean and bunted safely off Daffy's successor. Before retiring in the fifth, he played first and fielded perfectly.

Dean was touched for two hits but permitted no runs. He faced 10 batters, fanned none and issued no bases on balls. He hurled for Marshall.

Texarkana won the game, 5 to 3.

Oilers to Close Season Against Huber Tomorrow

Through the pitching of Huber's Chody, Pampa Oilers lost the fourth game of the Panhandle series last night in Borger by a score 13-5. Chody struck out 12 men and held the Oilers to 12 hits after the Pampa team took the lead in the first part of the battle. On the mound for Pampa was Stewart, who struck out four of the Borgans and allowed only 15 hits. Highlights of the Pampans' play were the two home runs by Eddie

Sain and Sam Scaling. Summers, former Oiler who is now with Huber, also accounted for an over-the-fence. Sain, playing behind the bat, also brought down a triple but came in to the home plate only once. "Boogie" Nash, latest addition to Leave it to them to get the fast-rolling brand that's also mild and tasty

THERE ARE MORE good roll-your-owners in this town than you can shake a stick at. They roll 'em fast, firm, and handsome. But they don't take all the credit for themselves. They praise Prince Albert's "crimp cut" for easy, neat rolling. Lays right—doesn't spill out. Draws right. And that P. A. "no-bite" process routs harshness—lets the rich taste come through. (P. JUST THE IDEA of a Prince Albert "makin's" cigarette gets Harold Steed (above) feelin' good. He's frank to say: "I'm thankful for Prince Albert. It's got what I want in a 'makin's' tobacco—real body and taste with mellow mildness."

Grover Adams (extreme right) checks: "For fifteen years," says he, "P. A. has given me real smoking joy—rich taste without 'bite'!"

Stock-Car Races Coming To Pampa August 5 and 6

KING OIL MEETS FIRECHIEFS AND TEXAS COMPANY TONIGHT

Three leading softball teams of the Texas Panhandle will meet tonight to give fans at Recreational park their money's worth. In the first game, Industrial league champions, King Oil, will play the first of a five-game series with the CITY softball league winner, Texas Company. This series will decide the city champion and the team who will possess the commissioner's cup for the season. In the second game, the nardy gassers will meet Texaco

Firechiefs of Amarillo, winner of the Panhandle Softball league championship.

The opener will be at 8:15 o'clock with admission at 10 and 15 cents. The games will be probably the best of the softball season, and should attract a large crowd.

Pitching for King will probably be done by Atkinson or Mangel, who hit for a homer in Tuesday night's game. In the second game, King will likely have Chisum, southpaw from Stanolind, on the mound.

Stock-car races will return to Pampa again under the direction of Captain Billy Sink on September 5 and 6. The nationally known race driver, stunter, and former Hell-driver, assisted by Del O'Neal, will bring back the popular races to Recreational park Sunday week and Labor Day.

The races have proved highly successful over the entire country, as they were here. In Albuquerque, several drivers from Panhandle towns entered the contest, and LeRoy Ragan of Pampa won second and much praise in that race. Regan also placed second here when Capt. Sink sponsored the event on August 1.

In the stock of one race, as before, the stock cars will have a choice of entering five events. Longest race will be the 25-mile feature sweepstakes which will be held once each day. The 10-mile handicap and three 5-mile contests will make a total of five races each performance.

Stock cars of all makes may be entered in any race, and if the owner does not wish to drive his own automobile, a driver will be provided. Races will begin at the park at 2:30 o'clock on both days.

Captain Sink and O'Neal have featured the races in many cities and have met with unusual success. Sink is a former aviator as well as Hell-driver and has been commended highly on the type performance he presents.

Weeks ago here and proved his prowess to fans, as he will Monday in the bout with Nemanic, also a tough one. Tex "mighty mite" of the arena, will have to show plenty of fight to whip the ugly vet, Wolf, one of the best in the game.

Treat in Store At Pampa Arena

Fans who like it rough and tough (and who doesn't) will flock to the Pampa Athletic Arena Monday night for what promises to be the best card of the wrestling season in Pampa. Promoter Cliff Chambers announced today that he had signed Gust Johnson, ever-popular Swede, to battle the villain Buck Lipscomb in the main event.

In the semi-final go, Sheik Mar-Allah, mat veteran well-known to Pampa fans, and John Nemanic, mighty mauler who gave a bruising exhibition last Monday, will grapple in a 30-minute time limit bout. The old Frankenstein of the mat, Frank Wolff, will return in the preliminary to tackle little Tex Hager, who has yet to be beaten in that event.

With such an array of muscle and might the card will doubtless be a thriller for fans who like it "bloody." However, the grapplers can also wrestle with the best insofar as ring knowledge and wrestling technique are concerned. They are not merely tough, but scientific as well. In the main event, Gust Johnson will in all events turn to the rougher side to handle Lipscomb, who got the best of Jack Terry last Monday eve. Johnson continues to be the most popular "grunt-and-growler" with local fans.

Chapter I
Smart attractiveness is no longer uncommon in the great uncharted, unpredictable world of young women. Nevertheless, it is a bit unusual when three very good-looking young women, unlike in temperament, choose to share the same apartment. On the card over the mail box in the lobby downstairs was printed neatly, "Dearborn, Howard and Dunn"—quite as if the combination were a law firm. And that card was really significant, for the three girls certainly were in the nature of a corporation.

Perhaps it worked because Kay was a striking brunet, Melita a dashing redhead and Priscilla fast-talking blond. Whatever the reason, the trio had roomed together for the past four years. In that time their arguments had been mild and infrequent, their good times many, and their boredom practically nil. Nothing was more natural than that the apartment occupied by "Dearborn, Howard and Dunn" be the goal of a great number of young men. "We get," Priscilla put it one day, "proposals in about equal proportions!"

Thus far none of the three had been interested. Jokesmiths, fictioneers and movie directors to the contrary the modern young business woman devotes comparatively little of her serious thinking to men. Kay, Melita and Priscilla were not different from the rest. They had found the jobs they wanted. They were interested in them, and in the whole exciting, intricate business of living. Each supposed that some time she would fall in love, and that then nothing much else might matter. But they weren't forcing Fate to make the play. Nowadays life was too much fun, to breathlessly changing, to make clever plans for escaping into a quiet corner. That, they felt, would come in good time. "Today a woman can keep youthful, in an emergency, anywhere this side of 90—so what's the rush?" That was Melita talking, one lazy Sunday morning when the subject of marriage had popped up over toast and coffee.

Their chief concern at the moment was a seasonal problem—where and how to spend their two weeks' vacation which they had arranged to come in. The question of "where" was not as immediately pressing as the question "how." For one thing, their rent had been raised by an unfeeling landlord. For another, food prices were making a bigger dent in their household budget. Even then, they had to admit ruefully, they might have arranged it if the new summer clothes hadn't been so tempting. "My mother used to have a joke

"This—this says," Kay explained breathlessly to the girls, "that he——Uncle Ben—has left me a yacht."
"A yacht!" they exploded together.

about being dressed up with nowhere to go," Kay Dearborn said. "That's us."
"Anyhow," mused Priscilla, "we'll be spared the annual argument as to whether it'll be the seashore, a lake or the mountains. It's just my luck. Last year you two promised me I could do the deciding this year. And I had a sweet idea."

"What was it?" asked Melita, wearily wadding up a sheet of budget figures and tossing it into the wastebasket.

"A boat trip," said the blond Priscilla blissfully.

"Of course! On the Queen Mary."
"No. I was really serious about it, Kay. There are some excursion trips that would be a lot of fun for a change. I had it all figured out."
"Except for the matter of money," mentioned Melita.

Priscilla laughed good-naturedly. "My budget's no further off than yours and Kay's. And a blond is supposed to be dizzier than redheads and brunets."

In the end they had decided to take their medicine as cheerfully as possible, and spend their vacation period "resting" in town. They even had managed to convince themselves that it might be amusing.

Today as Kay Dearborn hurried home from the office, she couldn't rid herself of a feeling of disappointment. The lush tone of summer was in the air. It was the season of change, and Kay wanted change, too. She wanted to see new faces and new things. Only her brisk, youthful energy was setting her pace as she strode along this evening. The fact was that she detested the idea of returning to the apartment. No casual passerby could have known this. In her cool, smart summer outfit Kay Dearborn appeared alert and zesty. Tall and slender, she held her firm young chin high as she walked.

When she reached the apartment she found Melita and Priscilla already there. "We've been waiting for you," Melita said. "There's mutiny. We're going to have dinner down town."

"Why didn't you tell me? I didn't need the walk."

"Priscilla tried to telephone you, but you'd left the office. The management decided to defrost the electric refrigerator today, and Priscilla's lovely dessert is ruined."

Kay made a helpless gesture. "How do you always manage to make it on the day they defrost the box?"

"It's a gift," Priscilla said, getting up. "Come on, let's go." She stopped suddenly, went back to the table.

"Oh Kay, here's a legal-looking letter for you. Melita and I have been expiring with curiosity."

Kay took the long envelope, looked at the unfamiliar name in the upper left-hand corner. "It's from Aurora," she said. "I've an uncle there I've never seen." She unfolded the letter and read hurriedly.

"What is it?" asked Priscilla impatiently, dropping down beside Kay.

Kay didn't answer at once. She was rereading the letter. Finally she looked at Melita and Priscilla with a comically perplexed expression. "This—this says that Uncle Ben died a month ago. He—he left me a yacht."

"A yacht?" exploded Melita and Priscilla together.

"That's what this says. And it's here, I remember that several years ago Uncle Ben made a cruise from here, but I didn't know that—"

"Well!" Priscilla cut in cheerfully. "I guess I'm psychic. Didn't I say it would be a boat trip?"

Kay shot her a scornful look. "With what would we run a yacht?"

Priscilla looked puzzled. "I'm not sure. I think they run with gasoline, like an automobile, don't they?"

"What," Melita wanted to know, "do you suppose it would cost us to use the boat?"

"I haven't the slightest idea. But I remember reading that Mr. Morgan said anybody who had to ask that

FISCHER LEADS 16 SURVIVORS AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 26 (AP)—Champion Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, led the 16 surviving musketeers into the third and fourth rounds of the National Amateur Golf tournament at the Alderwood club today.

Remaining sharpshooters were capable of making the grade but most prominently mentioned included long-driving Fischer, Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Harry Givan of Seattle, Edwin Kingsley of Magna, Utah, and C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont.

Other survivors of the original group of 171 included two former champions in addition to the defending titlist; three former Walker coppers, and six others who have held important titles at one time or another.

Chick Evans, who is nearing 50, won the National in 1916 and 1920. Somerville, the Canadian expert, captured the crown in 1932.

The Walker coppers still sailing along were Reynolds Smith of Dallas, Texas; Don Moe of Portland and Givan.

Goodman, the strongest pre-tournament favorite, won the National Open in 1933. Kingsley was Utah state champion from 1932 through 1935. Ray Billows of Foughkeepsie is New York state titlist. Charles Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich., was 1936 National Intercollegiate winner. Frank Strafaci of Brooklyn is a former National Public Links king. Fred Haas, Jr. of Baton Rouge, La., is the present National Intercollegiate head man.

Other survivors were Bill Holt of Syracuse, N. Y.; Bud Ward of Olympia, Wash.; Winfield Day of San Gabriel, Calif.; and Army Aviator Lieut. Ken Rogers of Honolulu.

Fischer took his first two matches in stride yesterday, eliminating Robert Babbish, Rochester, Mich., 4 and 3, and Fred Clark Jr., San Gabriel, Calif., 5 and 4, in that order.

Goodman trounced Don McPhail, Baltimore, 7 and 6, and Jimmy McHale, San Gabriel, Calif., 4 and 3. Albert Campbell, Seattle, lost to Ward 1 up. Ward then disposed of Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Ore., 5 and 4.

T. Suffern Teller of New York wrecked the hopes of Roger Kelly, Los Angeles, medalist 1 up. Teller however, fell before Kingsley 2 and 1.

Chick Evans had to travel two extra holes to get over Charles Finger, Colma, Calif., then eliminated Joseph P. Lynch, Canton, Mass., 3 and 2.

Final round pairings: Kingsley vs. Smith; Billows vs. Kocsis; Strafaci vs. Evans; Holt vs. Fischer; Ward vs. Haas; Day vs. Somerville; Rogers vs. Goodman; and Moe vs. Givan.

The boys yelled. The bear skidded to a stop, reared, ambled off in another direction.

Giant-Killers Menace Career Of Budge, Mako

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 26 (AP)—The third stage in the tennis road Don Budge and Gene Mako are traveling in defense of their national doubles titles at Longwood looked hazardous today with Los Angeles' young giant-killers, Bobby Riggs and Bernie Coghlan, lurking in their path.

Riggs and Coghlan yesterday eliminated the British entry of G. Patrick Hughes and Charles E. Hare, 4-6, 6-4, 11-9, 10-8, while the champions were being carried to five sets by Gardner Mulloy, Miami, and Alfred Jarvis Tenafly, N. J., but winning 6-1, 3-6, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1.

The only other men's quarter-finals match today pitted Bryan Grant of Atlanta and Wayne Sabin of Los Angeles against Kiro Yamagishi of Japan and Gregory Mangin of New York.

Today in the women's quarter-finals matches Mrs. Sarah Paulrey Fabyan and Alice Marble will oppose Anita Lizans, Chile, and Marie Horn, Germany, before the top-seeded foreign team, Kay Stammers and Freda James of England, matches strokes with Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, New York, and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France. Other quarter-final matches are scheduled Friday.
