

PAMPA CHILD DIES IN ACCIDENT

Sterling Is Main Target of Candidates on Road Bond Controversy

"That's gold in these here prairies."

Supt. R. B. Fisher keeps a promise to The Pampa to report on his summer's work in Teachers college of Columbia university, New York.

Mr. Fisher is taking a heavy course in educational administration. His instructors are mainly men whose names are very familiar to the educational work, and who have written many textbooks. Some of the things he is thinking and studying are these: National and state responsibility for local education, the constitution of state, city, and county boards of education, and their relation to other governmental bodies; the organization of the administrative and supervisory corps, with particular reference to line and staff organization; the business administration of schools, including accounting, budget making, selection, purchase, and distribution of textbooks and supplies; school buildings and equipment, including plans and specifications, scoring the plant, building program, financing capital outlays, budgeting equipment, and the like; school activity; school health administration; a continuing census and attendance service; classification and progress of children; continuation schools; and adult education.

That is, to say the least, quite an adequate mental load for this hot weather. We approve it without argument. The Pampa had to take some of this work in the course of college attendance, and he knows it does not come under the classification of recreation.

The good women of Pampa are quite worried about the lack of a day nursery. As Mrs. DeLes Vicens explained the situation to the "Home" club, it is one that is very close to the unemployment and welfare problem. Pampa has a number of deserving widows and several families that have been abandoned voluntarily or through necessity by the husbands. This leaves the burden of self-support upon the mothers.

A number of these mothers face the agonizing necessity of taking care of from one to five children and at the same time earning a living for them. It is practically impossible for the women to secure employment while they must care for the little ones. Consequently they are dependent upon charity for support.

But many of these women are able and eager to work. It would be cheaper to furnish a day nursery in which their children could be kept while the mothers worked than to provide charity. Moreover, a higher standard of living could be attained under the nursery plan, which is commendable in every way.

The last gun in the railroad war may have been fired, at least insofar as the present alignment is concerned. Pampa played a large part in this fight—larger than the public knows, because many of the moves known to this newspaper and others could not be made public without forewarning the opposing roads.

The result cannot be predicted. Certainly the chances of Pampa and the Burlington and Childress are better than ever before. The re-hearing was a master stroke, especially since the Texas railroad commission joined "our" side in urging that all permits be granted. Pampans should remember the names of Chairman Pat Neff, Lon A. Smith, and C. V. Terrell of the Texas railroad commission with gratitude. These men stood for the best interests of Texas and the Panhandle and made a recommendation in the face of strong opposition.

SMALL LEADS IN ATTACK ON USE OF FUNDS

Senator Cites That Money Is Spent Lavishly

FERGUSON ADDS BITTER TIRADE

Love Still Claiming Victory in First Primary

Campaign fires flared merrily Friday under the impulse of new fuel, as Ross S. Sterling of Houston, highway commission chairman and gubernatorial aspirant, was rapidly becoming the storm center of the campaign for the Democratic nomination.

State Senator Clint C. Small, at Waco yesterday, declared, "Texas needs a governor a man who has nerve enough to discuss other problems of state government besides the issuance of state road bonds," he added that "strip Mr. Sterling of his robes of office as highway commissioner and his 5,000 campaign managers on the payroll of the state, take him down to the financial side of us candidates and make him run on his own merits, and he wouldn't get as many votes as 'Soapy' Moody." Small planned speeches today at Groesbeck at 2:30 p. m., and Marlin at 8 p. m. Mayfield in Attack.

Most of the speeches also were directed against Sterling. At Austin, Mayfield declared Sterling was spending "vast sums of money" and asserted he had never seen such an "open, brazen and defiant attempt to buy the governor's office as is being made today by the Ross S. Sterling forces."

The former United States senator was booked to speak today at Mart at 2:30 p. m., and at Waco at 8 p. m. over radio station WACO. Speaking at Yoakum for the candidacy of his wife, former Governor James E. Ferguson declared at a public rally that "Sterling was head of the KKK organization in Houston, with the proposition that members pay eighteen dollars for a three-dollar robe, but this bond proposition is a worse holdup." The Ferguson were announced to speak at Brenham tonight.

Sterling, at San Angelo, continued to pound away in his speech with an explanation of his $350,000,000 state highway bonding plan, to be financed by income from gasoline tax revenues.

He directed his attack at Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, whom he termed "a nice man but he has been (See POLITICS, Page 6)

Insulted Kansas Editors Demand Legge Be Fired

WICHITA, Kans., July 11. (AP)—Max M. and Louis Levand, joint publishers of the Wichita Daily Beacon of which Senator Henry J. Allen was former publisher, today entered the wheat acreage reduction controversy by calling upon Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, for his resignation and an apology to Kansas.

They made public two telegrams which they said had been sent to Mr. Legge and to President Hoover. The message addressed to the president was in these words: "Alexander Legge, chairman of farm board, in his speech Thursday at Dodge City, made statement that 'biggest hog will always lie in trough.' This is insult to 1,850,000 people and we ask apology from Mr. Legge and, since he says he has done all he can do to help farmer, we ask his resignation. Please be kind enough to reply to this telegram as people of state of Kansas are awaiting answer."

In a similar telegram to Legge, this sentence appears: "Since you say you are through and the best you can do is to advise farmers of Kansas to 'sit tight,' we ask you to resign."

Hungry Yank Eats As Much As Five Chinese?

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Is one hungry American the equal of five hungry Chinese? On that depends whether Captain George Fried, of the United States liner American or Captain A. B. Randall of the George Washington came out ahead in a little swap effected in mid-Atlantic. Shortly after leaving Hamburg for New York, Captain Randall discovered he was harboring five extremely hungry Chinese stowaways, while about the same time Captain Fried learned he had an equally hungry stowaway in the person of Amil G. Oisen, 23, of Dubois, Pa., who had hidden aboard the ship in New York with the hope of getting to Havre.

As the two ships passed in mid-Atlantic, the captains via wireless, got talking things over as captains do and each learned of the other's unbooked passengers. Captain Randall suggested a swap, and computing the price of rice and beef Captain Fried took him up on it. The transfer was made, but the winner in the deal has not been announced.

NEW YORKER LEADS FIELD IN NATIONAL GOLF

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minn., Minn., July 11. (AP)—MacDonald Smith, the veteran Scot, from New York, won the battle of the "big three" professionals today and took a one stroke lead with a total of 145 for the first 36 holes of the National Open Golf championship. Smith added a 75 to his first round 70 to go ahead of Tommy Armour's 146 and Walter Hagen's 147.

INTERLACHEN CLUB, Minn., Minn., July 11. (AP)—Cracking on the last nine holes of his second round, Tommy Armour, the Black Scot, shot a 76 today, for a two-day 96-hole total of 146. This put him temporarily in the lead, with Mac Smith and Walter Hagen chasing him for honors. Bobby Jones had not yet started but could take a 75 and tie Armour.

Bobby Jones, followed by a tremendous gallery, finally got off on his second round shortly before 2 p. m.

LEGGE COMES TO PLAINS TO TALK WHEAT

Farm Board Head Is Heard Today at Amarillo

HITS AT KANSAS ON ITS ATTITUDE

Many Pampans Are to Attend Three Events

AMARILLO, July 11. (AP)—Ending a two-day campaign in Kansas expounding the farm board's wheat acreage reduction program, Alexander Legge, chairman, and Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, today brought their proposals to the Texas Panhandle.

They parted company last night with Governor Clyde M. Ree of Kansas after he had sounded his opposition to the curtailment plan at Dodge City.

"The biggest hog," Mr. Legge told 1,500 southwestern wheat growers, in answer to Governor Ree, "will always lie in the trough. Kansas is now in the trough."

Terminating the farm board's program "the gospel of despair," Reed asked: "If anyone is to reduce production to domestic demands, why not the manufacture of agricultural implements?"

Mr. Legge, former head of a harvester manufacturing company, said his company had never sold implements abroad below the prices charged American farmers.

The chairman gave notice the farm board will not buy more wheat. He told his Dodge City audience the board was spending one million dollars a month to carry over 60 million bushels of the 1929 surplus. He urged the wheat raisers to "sit tight," predicting if they did so the market would improve 25 cents a bushel.

Secretary Hyde said the farmer had the choice of cutting production or continuing to suffer from the effect of large surpluses.

Many Pampa residents were in Amarillo today, with three attractions offered. This morning many of them were attending the grain meeting in which officials of the Federal Farm Board were participating. This afternoon the baseball fans were at the Globe-News tournament. This evening there will be a giant rally for Senator Clint C. Small, at which Senator Pink Parrish of Lubbock and Judge John Erhard of Dallas will be principal speakers. The rally will begin at 7:30 p. m. on the lawn of the Potter county courthouse.

ALEX SCHNEIDER ENTERS SUIT FOR COMMISSION IN SALE HERE OF PAMPA REFINING COMPANY

Claiming that he induced the H. F. Wilcox Oil and Gas company to purchase the Pampa Refining company for $294,000, Alex Schneider, yesterday filed suit in 114th district court for a commission of $29,400 through his attorney, W. M. Lewright.

Defendants named were Dr. A. McClary, R. C. Sower, Mac Kennedy, T. H. Riggan, C. A. Norris, A. F. Clark, J. M. Dodson, Siler Faulkner, C. Cook, and G. L. Rowsey.

In the petition to the court, Mr. Schneider alleged that Dr. McClary employed him to find a purchaser for the property and assets of the Pampa Refining company, agreeing to pay the plaintiff a reasonable commission for his services for "finding and procuring a purchaser will to pay such price and upon such terms and conditions as might be agreeable to the defendants."

Mr. Schneider alleged that he began negotiations with the Wilcox Oil and Gas company of Texas and caused prospective buyers to be sent to Pampa, and that on April 4 he entered into a contract with the Wilcox company. On June 27, he stated, the final purchase price was agreed between the defendants and the purchaser at the sum of $294,000.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendants became obligated and bound to pay him a commission of 10 per cent, and that they have failed and refused and still fail and refuse to pay him. He asks for full amount of damages, interest and all costs of the suit.

Mr. Schneider claimed that after entering into the contract of employment with the defendants, he began to use his time, efforts and money in endeavoring to procure a purchaser for the properties. He stated that he spent a great deal of time, wrote letters and sent telegrams and made two trips to Tulsa and expended a great deal of effort and energy in procuring and inducing Wilcox to buy, all of which was done with the knowledge of the defendants.

The plaintiff stated that he could show that he did procure the Wilcox company as a purchaser.

CAR TURNS OVER IN ROAD THIS MORNING

Margie Arnold, 8, Is Victim Near Panhandle

OTHERS HURT, NOT SERIOUSLY

Altus, Okla., Youth Hurt in Collision Here

An eight-year-old girl was crushed to death and four persons were injured in two automobile accidents in and near Pampa this morning. Margie Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Arnold of Pampa, was almost instantly killed when the coupe in which she, her mother, her six-year-old sister, Anita, and Miss Estelle Noble, were riding, over-turned on the Amarillo highway three miles east of Panhandle about 9 o'clock this morning.

A passing motorist, Harry R. Guberson, Amarillo architect, an eye-witness to the accident, said that the mishap occurred just after the car in which the Arnolds and Miss Noble were riding passed a truck. Both machines were headed west. Mr. Guberson stated that as the automobile passed the truck the wheels on the left side hit the dirt adjoining the paving. The car then headed for the ditch on the left side of the road and the driver turned the car to the right side of the road where the wheels struck the dirt again. He said the car careened back to the left side of the road and then back to the right where it overturned and landed across the bar-pit, astride an adjoining fence, right side up. The car crushed the child as it overturned. She was badly mangled.

Mr. Guberson and Leo Rhoten, driver of the truck, rushed the child to Garland hospital, but she was dead when examined by physicians. Mr. Rhoten lives at Skellytown. He was driving a wheat truck. Mrs. Arnold, Anita and Miss Noble were painfully bruised. Mrs. Arnold and the child sustained lacerations.

In the other accident, which occurred at the corner of Browning avenue and Cuyler street, Gilbert Sawyer, 19, of Altus, Okla., suffered severe cuts and bruises on the head when he fell off the running board of a car, under the wheels of a coach headed west. The car on which the youth was riding was headed east. A number of women were in the other car. Their names had not been secured. Sawyer had been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. D. Mitchell of White Deer. He and Fred Scoggins also of Altus, were hitch-hiking to Pampa. The boy's condition was not serious, hospital physicians said.

The machine in which the Arnold child was riding is owned by John Patton of Pampa. Miss Noble was driving the car, which was badly wrecked. Mr. Arnold is a truck driver for the Magnolia Petroleum company.

The body is being held at the Stone funeral home at Panhandle, pending funeral arrangements.

Hoover Refuses Senate Demand For Secret Pact

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—President Hoover today refused the senate's request for the secret document on the London naval treaty. "I have received senate resolution number 320, asking me, not incompatible with the public interest, to submit to the senate all letter, cablegrams, minutes, memoranda, instructions, and dispatches and all records, files and other information touching the negotiations of the London Naval treaty," Mr. Hoover said in a message to the senate.

"This treaty, like all other international negotiations, has involved statements, reports, tentative and informal proposals as to subjects, persons and governments given to me in confidence. The executive, under the duty of guarding the interests of the United States; in the protection of future negotiations, and in maintaining relations of faith with other nations must not allow himself to become guilty of a breach of trust by betrayal of these confidences.

Dollar Day Is Declared to Be Great Success

August 7 will be the date of the next Dollar Day in Pampa. Dollar Days is fast becoming a commercial tradition in Pampa, with merchants offering savings to thrifty shoppers.

Special invitations extended to people outside Pampa to come to this city on Dollar Day has resulted in the event becoming more and more popular, and it is expected that the bargains offered by the merchants on these bargain days will be even more attractive on next Dollar Day, August 7, than they were yesterday.

Stores participating in this bargain day event report that people literally swarmed into their stores to take advantage of the bargains offered.

Joseph's Dry Goods company, the Model, Kraft's Mint, the Wholesale Syndicate, Gordon's store, Levine's, Mitchell's, Murfee's Pampa Furniture, the Diamond C. the Texas garage, Dorothy's Beauty Shoppe, Esther's Beauty Salon, Jede Beauty shoppe, Mrs. Ligon's Permanent wave shoppe, and Diamond C Dry Goods store were among firms that offered specials to the thousands of shoppers who crowded these businesses on Pampa's third Dollar Day.

Conan Doyle Buried

WINDLESHAM, Crowborough, Sussex, England, July 11. (AP)—With the utmost simplicity and scarcely a visible sign of mourning Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was buried today in the garden of his country home here.

TREND TO SMALL IS BEGINNING

Several political observers, impressed by Ross Sterling's energy and dollars, have lately expressed the idea that he was halting the trend Clint Small and blocking the Wellington man's chances of being in the run-off.

Even if this had been true at the time the predictions were made it is certainly an inaccurate observation at this time. The governorship of Texas is not up for sale to the highest bidder.

Sterling has many speakers in the field. He is setting up radio hook-ups. He is sending prepaid telegrams to newspapers concerning his addresses.

No candidate for a state office has ever used an incumbency with greater abandon. No candidate ever chiseled an issue more directly out of his own office.

Sterling's methods are those of the wealthy captains of industry—money and force. Remember that it was Sterling, through sale of his huge holdings in the Humble Oil company, that enabled Standard Oil to come back into Texas.

So Sterling's candidacy can hardly be taken seriously by the voters of Texas. Between now and July 26, there is certain to be a tremendous swing away from one who would buy the governorship.

Dumont had a glass of beer before him. He said he had lunched—which did not necessarily mean that he had.

"Do you really think he will marry her?" he asked. "Of course he will marry her!" the girl replied indignantly.

"What else could he do? He will pay the doctors to make her well, and then he will marry her. If the doctors can't make her well, he will marry her all the same."

into the run-off are greater, not less, than ever before. He is gaining votes faster than any other candidate.

Two years ago the writer would have placed Barry Miller in the current run-off. Today it is not so certain. With five or six "big" candidates in the race and half a dozen others who may be depended upon to have several thousand votes, the chances are that the margin between the first four candidates will not be great, and the run-off material may not be determined until a bulk of the vote is tabulated.

Investigation of Candidate's Death Is Under Way

County Attorney R. T. Burns and Special Ranger Homer T. Glover planned today to continue their investigation of the death of Earl R. Swanger, 37, candidate for district attorney of the twelfth judicial district, whose body was found in a wrecked automobile at Harmon creek early Wednesday.

A divided opinion prevailed last night among law enforcement officers.

Dram. R. J. Martin, Walker county health officer, made a written statement in which he said the body of Swanger bore three stab wounds inflicted by "some sharp instrument," which could have caused his death.

Sheriff N. L. Spear after questioning a Trinity woman who was known to have left Huntsville Tuesday night with Swanger, reported to District Attorney A. R. McKinney, Jr., that in his opinion the death was accidental, and a corresponding verdict was returned by Justice R. T. Camp.

The latter, however, declared last night that he was not satisfied with the evidence and would reopen the case if other data was presented.

Hike In First Class Mail Rate May Be Made

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Convicted that an increase in postage rates is the only feasible way of lifting the world's biggest public utility "out of the red", postal officials are preparing to press their advocacy of a higher charge for carrying first class mail.

When Postmaster General Brown submits his annual report to congress in December, enactment of legislation authorizing the increase is to be his most urgent recommendation. The postmaster believes a rate of 2 1/2 cents an ounce on first class mail would balance the department's budget for the present.

Assistant postmaster General Tilton, generally regarded as the financial expert of the department, said today an increase in the rate on letter mail is the only solution of the deficit problem.

"We see no other way out," Tilton said. "If the public or congress sees one, we shall be glad to have them point it out."

Last year's postal deficit amounted to $50,000,000. Tilton estimates it will run over $60,000,000 this year. The present loss in handling the mails is now a charge against the general funds of the treasury. Brown and Tilton are of the opinion the postoffice department as a public utility should be self-supporting, the cost of operation to be borne by those it serves rather than the tax paying public.

Lions Hear Violin Quartet and Of Need for Nursery—Willis Says No Cause For Discontent in Pampa

A varied program arranged by W. H. Curry was presented at the Lions club luncheon yesterday.

The first part of the program was musical, with Prof. Otto Schick and his violin quartet playing enjoyable numbers. The quartet is composed of Miss Eleanor Frey, Miss Dorothy Mae Meers, LaVerne Twiford, and Bob Wallace. Mrs. C. O. Boles was accompanist. One of Prof. Schick's songs, "Smile Baby" was sung by Miss Helen Lucille Leah.

Mrs. DeLoach Vicars addressed the club on the subject of a day nursery where children would be kept while their mothers worked. She said that some of the mothers would help support the nursery, but that additional funds would be needed. Women of the churches, she added, will make clothing for the children next fall in order that the little folk may enter school. Funds for the day nursery will be kept separately from the other welfare work.

Judge Newton P. Willis made the principal speech of the day. He said, in part:

"There is an interesting story in Grecian mythology giving a version of the origin of discontent. According to their narrative Pandora was the mythological Eve, the first woman of earth. She was created as a matter of revenge. The god Prometheus bestowed fire to mankind. Zeus, the master god, was angered because Prometheus had given fire with all its dangers to man. To avenge himself Zeus created Pandora, the first woman. Her name meant in Greek 'all gifted.' Because each of the immortal gods gave her some gift with which to win the favor of mankind and to work mischief. Among other things the gods gave her a box which she was not to open. Her woman's curiosity overcame her and she opened the box. When the box was opened it was found it contained all the ills known to earth and all these ills escaped and became prevalent among men. Among them was the ill of discontent. Hope alone was left in the bottom of Pandora's box. The hope of the world today is that we may overcome discontent.

"Discontent is a disease. It arises from no cause and continues without reason. Discontent is the one great cause of most of the trouble in this world. It has caused practically all the trouble in Pampa, for which there is no excuse. "It is just as natural for some people to be discontented as it is for the hair, beard, toe nails, and finger nails to grow long and ugly, and just as we have to trim our hair, beard and nails to keep them from being uncouth, so we have to fight to cut out the worm of discontent that daily gnaws our lives away.

"I never did like a critic, because a critic is most frequently just a person that is cultivating discontent. It requires no talent or art to be a critic. The easiest thing of all is for me to tell you what your faults are and the hardest thing of all is for me to catalogue your virtues. Your virtues are written in the sands of forgetfulness, while your faults are chiseled on the marble of memory. When a man dies, then for the first time we recount his virtues; we could have done that before, but we never stopped to think."

"In Pampa during the past nine months we have seen examples of causeless, needless discontent. Though we have a city to which we can point with pride, filled with clean, progressive people, favored with paved streets and spacious buildings, a fine oil and gas field near by and productive lands, the census giving us third largest increase in population, yet we have the most surprising discontent on the part of a few malicious knoekers. They have done us incalculable damage and absolutely no good. Their criticism is exaggerated and destructive instead of constructive.

"What is the cause of this discontent? The answer is: like sin it needs no cause. Its grumbings and protests come largely from imaginary wrongs, because of the strange disposition of humanity to account for even its own indolence and failure by suspecting and accusing other people. It reminds me of the time when playing with my little brother in my boyhood days, if anything went wrong I always said 'He made me do it.' Discontent acts as an incurable disease, preying upon character, reputation and virtue, thriving upon the weaknesses and mistakes of mankind.

"The poet has well said: 'Is there no power from Heaven given

'Some blackness from the thunder riven 'To blast the man who seeks his greatness in another's ruin.'

"We have in Pampa two classes of people: builders and destroyers. To which class do the malcontents belong?

"A hurricane can whirl and howl and lay desolate in a moment mighty forests and stately houses. but it takes the gentle rain, balmy sunshine, and the patience of years to create a majestic tree or to adorn a home. With human beings it is somewhat the same. The knoeker can destroy confidence, hold back progress and by swift and disastrous methods undo what others have been long accomplishing. But that man is greater who places one restful seat along the way the world is going than the one who lays to waste a mighty temple. The fellow who does nothing but find fault is an infertile grain of corn in the world's great field. He is as useless to civilization as weeds are to a garden of roses.

"It is better to be a peg at the bottom of the ladder leading upward and hold it in position that others might climb to the heights, than to stand on the top round and push somebody back. I would rather be a contented, happy builder than a mean, malicious, discontented destroyer. There is a difference between striving to improve and striving to tear down. There is a difference between looking for weeds and garbage in the back yard and looking for shrubbery and roses in the front.

"Sure the world is full of trouble; I ain't said it ain't. Lord, I've had my share and double Reason for complaint. Storms and clouds have come to fret me,

Skies are often gray; Thorns and brambles have beset me

All along the way, but say Ain't it fine today?

"What's the use of always weeping Making trouble last? What's the use of always keeping Thinking of the past? Each must have his tribulation, Water with his wine, Life—it ain't no celebration; Trouble?—I've had mine, But today is fine,

"It's today that I am living, Not a year ago. Having, taking, losing, giving As God wills it so. Yesterday a cloud of sorrow Fell across the way;

It may rain again tomorrow— It may rain, But say— Ain't it fine today!"

Pat Neff Avoids Politics in Talk To College Folk

CANYON, July 11. (Special)—Pat M. Neff, former governor of Texas and present chairman of the state railroad commission, spoke to over 1,200 students of the West Texas State Teachers college this morning on "Happiness."

Although Mr. Neff is a candidate for re-election to his present post, no hint of politics or "campaigning" entered into the informal 30-minute address to the student and members of the faculty.

Mr. Neff was enthusiastically greeted by the audience, the entire group standing when the former governor, accompanied by President J. A. Hill of the Teachers college, climbed the steps to the stage. After the address, a large number of students crowded around the foot of the stage where they were met and cordially greeted by Gov. Neff.

"From the morning of youth to the evening of old age, happiness is the constant quest of life," said Mr. Neff. "Few of us believe we are happy now, yet all expect at some future time to be happy. Happiness does not depend primarily on one's environment, possessions, or power. It is mostly a mental condition. We are all really happy if we had sense enough and judgment enough to know it."

Poison Is Fatal To Small Child

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP)—Little Donald Wallace Van Landingham, 19 months, played for seven hours around the house at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Landingham, before they realized the child had taken a fatal poison late Thursday.

At 11 p. m. the baby became seriously ill, and the mother recalled then that at 4 p. m. the child had put something in his mouth. At 1 a. m. Friday he died in a hospital. While Mrs. Landingham was in another room, Donald Wallace dragged a chair over to a dresser. He pulled open a top drawer, where lay a box of pills containing the poison which the father had been taking. Later, it was found that two or three pills were gone. In a few minutes, the mother noted the child had something in his mouth. Believing it was some harmless substance, she removed it from the child's mouth. Nothing more was thought of the incident until Donald became seriously ill.

Cries of "Liar" Heard at Rally

McALESTER, Okla., July 11. (AP)—The lie was passed here last night during a bitter debate between Senator Guy L. Andrews and Pres. S. Lester, rival candidates for Pittsburg county's seat in the state senate. John Q. Newell, warden of the state penitentiary, charged into the arena and told Andrews he was a "liar" if he meant to insinuate that he, the warden, had handled "a dirty dollar."

Andrews had been charged with accepting a fee from inmates of the penitentiary to draft a new pardon and parole law, and said in reply that the money had been raised without solicitation on his part. He added that if any dirty money was included in the fee it came from the warden, as the latter had handled the money. Newell, accented Andrews as he finished his speech. Shouts of

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic—Jacob: A Selfish Man Transformed.

Scripture Lesson—Gen. 25:29-34; 27:18-22; 29:18-20; 33:1-4, 18.

Gen. 25:29. And Jacob boiled pottage; and Esau came in from the field, and he was faint.

30. And Esau said to Jacob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called Edom.

31. And Jacob said, Sell me first thy birthright.

32. And Esau said, Behold, I am about to die: and what profit shall the birthright do to me?

33. And Jacob said, Swear to me first; and he swore unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob.

34. And Jacob gave Esau bread and pottage of lentils; and he did eat and drink; and rose up, and went his way: So Esau despised his birthright.

Gen. 28:18. And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put under his head, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.

19. And he called the name of the place Bethel: but the name of the city was Luz at the first.

20. And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

21. So that I come again to my father's house in peace, and Jehovah will be my God.

22. Then this stone, which I have set up for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

Gen. 29:18. And Jacob loved Rachel; and he said, I will serve thee seven years for Rachel thy younger daughter.

19. And Laban said, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man: abide with me.

20. And Jacob served seven years for Rachel; and they seemed unto him but a few days, for the love he had to her.

Gen. 29:21. And Jacob lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold, Esau was coming, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto Leah, and unto Rachel, and unto the two handmaids.

2. And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Leah and her children after, and Rachel and Joseph hindmost.

3. And he himself passed over before them, and bowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near his brother.

4. And Esau ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept.

18. And Jacob came in peace to the city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Paddanaram; and encamped before the city.

Golden text.—For whither shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? or what shall a man give in exchange for his life?—Matt. 16:26.

INTRODUCTION

Nowhere in all the Bible, that marvellous portrait gallery, is a picture more wonderfully painted than that of Jacob. It is manifestly honest, the work of a true historian, and the glaring faults of the great ancestor of the Jews are set forth as graphically as his splendid virtues. We see a greedy, grasping man scheming his way through life, failing because of his very success. We perceive alongside his selfishness a strain of noble idealism, the highest quality of his race, and we rejoice to see it triumph at the last.

Jacob was the son of Isaac, and inherited his father's gentle and peace loving nature. His mother was Rebekah, whose energetic will and scheming ability he also inherited. He was a child of the covenant made by God with Abraham and Isaac, and he never forgot Jehovah's promise to his ancestors.

Jacob's Twin Brother Esau. Jacob had a twin brother, Esau. As the boys grew up, their diverse characters developed. Esau, with his mother's bold and impetuous temper, became an outdoor man, a brave and skilful hunter. By the law of opposites, he was the favorite of his quiet and retiring father.

Moreover, Isaac was inordinately fond of the venison which Esau brought home from the hunt. Jacob on the contrary, possessed his father's gentle nature, and loved to stay at home. He was the favorite of Rebekah, and mother and son must have had many conversations concerning his birthright. They must have plotted often in secret, devising ways by which Jacob might obtain Esau's birthright. "And Esau came in from the field, and he was faint." He had had a long and perhaps unsuccessful hunt, probably in the hot sun, and he was thoroughly exhausted; an ideal condition for Jacob to practice upon.

Esau Sold His Birthright

"And Esau said to Jacob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint." "A fair equivalent in colloquial English would be, 'some of that red stuff that red stuff there!'" "And Jacob said, Sell me first thy birthright." Jacob, as cool and crafty as his brother was hot, hasty and imprudent, saw instantly his opportunity, and acted upon it. "And Esau said, Behold, I am about to die: and what profit shall the birthright do to me?" The birthright was nothing, the headship of the clan, a double share of his father's possessions, even the inheritance of the covenant promise of Jehovah—all were nothing compared with the ecstasy of gulping down those lentils. "And Jacob said, Swear to me first; and he swore unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob."

"Esau is thus an idolater of the immediate, the real founder of the Epicurean school—'Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die.' His birthright is a vague vision of the future, while the pottage is a 'bird in hand worth two in the bush.'"

Esau Despised His Birthright

He had no appreciation of his ancestral connection, nor of the promises of God, nor of the possibilities of the future, which were involved in the birthright. He would rather have a good dinner when he was hungry. How many others have been like him! "Achan covets a Babylonish garment and a wedge of gold, and forfeits his life in consequence. For the sake of a woman's caresses Samson loses his hair, his strength, his sight, his all. David, for the sake of Bathsheba, loses a year's communion with God, and hands his name down with an ugly blot upon it to all posterity. Ahab, coveting a pretty garden, commits murder and brings down heaven's judgments on his head. Judas for a few shillings, betrays his Master."

Jacob's Vow At Bethel

On the long journey to Haran Jacob had plenty of opportunity to think. One night, as he slept on a stony hillside, he dreamed of a ladder reaching to heaven, and of Jehovah speaking to him. When Jacob awoke, he said, "Surely Jehovah is in this place; and I knew it not." This vision of God was the first step in the transformation of Jacob. The next morning he named the place Bethel, the house of God, and made a vow that he would give God a tenth of all that he should receive. In our English versions Jacob is represented as saying, "If God will be with me—I will surely give the tenth unto thee." This looks as if he were making a bargain with God, promising the tenth on certain conditions. But in the dream God had already promised to be with him and preserve him. That dream changed his whole outlook, and his language may mean, "Since God will go with me." His vow would then be an expression of gratitude for the blessings God had promised him. It should be noted that the religious custom of tithing did not begin with the Mosaic law, as many people think. Where did Jacob learn that a tenth was a suitable proportion of his income to dedicate to the special service of God? Probably from the example of his grandfather Abraham, who paid tithes to Melchizedek, "a priest of the Most High God."

Bethel The House Of God

"And he called the name of that place Bethel." That is, "the house of God."

Beth, meaning house, is found in Bethlehem, Bethany, Bethphage, and many other Hebrew place names. El, meaning God, is also found as the prefix or suffix of many names, as Elijah, Elisha, Samuel, Lemuel. The town of Bethel became one of Jeroboam's two sanctuaries for the worship of his golden calves, and the place is famous also as the scene of the work of the prophet Amos.

Jacob's New Name, Israel

When Jacob started back home, after many years, he was very anxious to conciliate his brother Esau. To do this he sent him large gifts from his flocks. Each drove was to be given by itself, a long procession, and each driver as he came up was to say that his drove was a present from Jacob to Esau, so that the effect would be cumulative.

But Jacob did not rely on his present alone; before sending these he had appealed to God for help. On the night after, he wrestled long with God, pleading for his blessing. There he received the new name, Israel (Prince of God).

Jacob's Old Age In Canaan

"And Jacob came in peace to the city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan." Shechem, which afterward became the chief city of the Samaritans, is in the heart of Canaan. There Jacob bought land, and there was Jacob's well where Jesus had the memorable conversation with the Samaritan woman. Joseph was buried there. He did not, however, make that his permanent home. On he went to the south, but as he neared Bethlehem his beloved Rachel died in giving birth to Benjamin. Jacob buried her with profound grief, setting up a monument above her grave, and then went on to Isaac's home, now at Mamre near Hebron. Rebekah was dead, but he was in time to spend twenty-three years with the aged Isaac before he passed away. Esau came up from Seir to stand with Jacob beside the grave of their father in the cave of Machpelah.

Special Lessons

"Be sure your sins will find you out." Jacob, trembling with fear, that night at a lonely spot called Jabbok Ford realized that what a man sows, he reaps.—Rev. Charles R. Brown, D. D.

"A progressive sanctification is possible to us all if we will. Jacob was made over—so may we be—so may all who open their hearts to receive the free pardon and divine help of a compassionate and just God."—Rev. Frank T. Lee, D. D.

"That Jacob's early life shows some sordid, unworthy aspects, is undeniable, but his later life shows the fine gold purified in the refiner's fire. Patient endurance, splendid tenacity; unwavering faith in the unseen; the deliberate preference of a greater future to any inferior present; honest industry; fidelity to his convictions of truth and duty, and lofty homage to the God of his father, have made his character an immortal lesson."—Cunningham Gellie.

Ralph Fleagle Is Electrocuted

CANON CITY, Colo., July 11. (P)

Ralph E. seffle has paid with his life for his part in the slaying of four men and the $219,000 robbery of the First National bank of Lamar in May, 1928.

The gallows trap was sprung on the white-haired bandit leader at 9:03 p. m. yesterday at the state prison. He was pronounced dead by the prison physician 13 1/2 minutes later.

Although obviously making an effort to appear composed and calm as he walked from his cell to the execution chamber, Fleagle displayed no indications of a breakdown. Until the time the black cap was adjusted over his head and the noose tightened around his neck the desperado maintained his coolness.

Abshier and Royston are in the death house awaiting execution next week. Jake Fleagle is still at large.

SPORTS ARE BEATEN OUT UNDER GLARE

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Night baseball invaded the northern half of the Texas league last night, when the Shreveport Sports covered for the first time under the klings of Biedenhorn field. More than 4,000 fans witnessed the opening nocturnal tilt in Louisiana.

Unfortunately, the Sports selected the Houston Buffs to assist them in the christening. The Buffs, being old hands at the night game after a recent series at Waco, proceeded to wallop the homebats, 9 to 5, putting something of a damper on the celebration. The Shreveport defense, unaccustomed to the glare, went to pieces in the late innings and allowed the Bisons to overtake an early lead.

Tony Kauffman led the winners' attack on Moulton and Owens with a triple, double, and single. Baker, pinch hitting for Owens in the last of the ninth, clouted a homer for the Sports.

The Fort Worth Panthers meanwhile clung to second place, a game behind the leading Spudlers, by capturing their sixth straight victory at the expense of Beaumont, 4 to 0. Dick McCabe turned in another fine performance for the Panthers, keeping eight hits widely scattered. Newman and Maliet, who divided duty for the Shippers, also gave up only eight blows, but the Cats bunched a few off Newman for three runs in the fourth inning. Joe Bonowitz's double was the only extra base hit of the game.

Another home run barrage figured in Wichita's 18 to 8 win over the Waco Cubs. Stortz, Bettencourt, Burns and Kloza hitting for the circuit. The Cubs got off to a grand start, scoring six runs in the second inning and driving Caldwell from the hill, but Vincent kept them in hand from there on. It took the slugging leaders only two frames to tie the count and they scored in every inning thereafter.

Grover Alexander was sent to the showers for the second time in five days as the San Antonio Indians rallied in the last two chapters to trim Dallas, 11 to 2, and square their series. Old Pete went into the eighth with a 2-1 lead, but the Redskins fell on him for five runs in that inning and then drove him from the hill early in the ninth. Before Bert Grimm could get them out, five more rallies were across. In addition to twirling shutout ball after the first inning, Tom Estell "knocked the Injuns" last-inning rally with a homer, driving two mates in ahead of him.

Cannot Store Cheap Gasoline In Bath Tubs

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Bath tubs, Capt. Theodore Trivett, local fire prevention chief, has pointed out, are to sing in, and not for gasoline storage.

Motocists have been reported to the fire prevention bureau as purchasing gasoline during the price war and storing it away in bath tubs against the day when prices will again become normal.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—The specter of bankruptcy loomed for many small dealers today as the gasoline price war brought quotations ranging from 6 1/2 to 16 1/2 cents a gallon on the Pacific coast.

Charles Jacobs, secretary of the Independent Association of Service Station Operators here, said 25 per cent of the local dealers would close their stations if the war continued another week.

Governor C. C. Young, declined to intervene in the price war, saying he believed any restraining action by the state would conflict with state supreme court decisions.

H. F. Warner, Seattle, vice-president of the Sunset Pacific Oil company, announced at Portland last night the merger of his and the Seaboard Oil and Refining company, Ltd. Warner expressed belief the merger would be followed within a few days by a return to former gasoline prices.

MOB THREATENS DRY RAIDERS IN BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, July 11. (AP)—A police riot squad was called out early today to protect federal dry raiders from a threatening mob which gathered as they were raiding a saloon, arresting two men and confiscating 112 barrels of beer.

The agents, Ival H. Hatton and Thomas W. Andrews, said they had started the raid and made the arrests when the crowd which had gathered made threatening moves. They denied they had appealed for aid, declaring residents of the neighborhood must have called police headquarters. The police squad held back the crowd while the agents completed the raid and departed amid boos and catcalls.

Mrs. O. W. Appleby and infant daughter was removed from McKeen-Connor hospital to her residence at 604 North Gray yesterday in a G. C. Malone ambulance.

WEST CLUBS STAGE FIGHT OF THEIR OWN

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three eastern clubs are about all that are left in the American league pennant race, but the four western members are putting on a struggle of their own that is close enough to stir up some interest. Cleveland, holding fourth place by a diminishing margin over Detroit, is having a great rivalry with the Tigers while Chicago and St. Louis are staging an equally close struggle for sixth place.

The Indians went one up on their nearest rivals with eight victories against seven for Detroit by winning yesterday's opening game of an abbreviated series, 6 to 5. Cleveland got off to a fast start and just lasted to gain the decision and to improve their shaky hold on fourth place to gain a 3/4 game margin.

St. Louis again moved ahead of Chicago's White Sox, taking sixth place by a half game margin and gaining a 7-6 margin in the games played between the two clubs by winning a ten-inning game 7 to 6. The insertion of Ted Gullie into the lineup turned the tide in favor of the Browns. As a pinch hitter he singled to bring in the tying run in the eighth and in the tenth he hit a home run to win the game.

Among the leaders, Washington and Philadelphia continued to even arms. The Senators leading by a half game margin. Washington recovered rapidly from the break in its winning streak by taking the final encounter from the Boston Red Sox 7 to 2, as Ossie Bluege drove in four runs with two doubles and a home run. George Earnshaw pitched the Athletics to an easy triumph over the New York Yankees, allowing only three hits for a 9 to 1 triumph.

The National league had but one game on its schedule yesterday and there was some doubt as to whether it was baseball that New York and Philadelphia played. The Giants won by a score of 19 to 8, hardly an ordinary baseball result, and some of the fielding looked far out of place on a major league diamond. The New Yorkers had their biggest hitting spree in the third inning when they batted around twice, made nine hits and scored ten runs.

They finished with a total of 26 hits, to which the Phillies added five errors. Pete Donohue yielded 16 blows, including the feature clout of the game, Chuck Klein's 25th home run of the season, but had no trouble going the route.

AL SINGER'S TITLE HOPES UNDIMMED BY "KNOCKOUT"

Al Singer, New York battler, and Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, who will battle for the title July 17 at the Yankee Stadium.

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Singer claims that if he wins the lightweight title from Sammy Mandell here the night of July 17 no small part of the credit will belong to Ignacio Fernandez.

Fernandez is the boy who almost ruined Singer's title chances by a quick knockout of the New York battler.

The aftermath of that knockout, Singer says, was more of a shock to him than the two blows which caused it. The realization was brought home to him that he possibly wasn't as good as all of his friends said he was.

Singer retired to train. A good hitter was picked for a sparring partner, one who could test Singer's ability to take it.

During this period Singer had the consolation of his friend, Benny Leonard, former lightweight king, who once was knocked out by Joe Shugart. Leonard always claimed that that defeat improved him as a fighter.

In training, Singer discovered that he really could "take" it. He believes that his failure to weather Fernandez's attack was due to lack of condition, and nervousness over an injured eye.

Whether the knockout or not actually did Singer any good, he has come back with a string of victories, included among them one over Fernandez recently in Madison Square Garden.

MAGNOLIAS AND GUNS ARE BEATEN IN AMARILLO—WILL PLAY EACH OTHER MONDAY

Both Pampa teams lost their initial games in the Amarillo tournament yesterday afternoon. Each club must be defeated twice before being eliminated from tournament running. One of the Pampa nines is certain to survive its second game as they face each other Monday morning.

The Memphis Owls smothered the Magnolias 17 to 5 with 13 runs made in the last three innings, and the Tacksles Texans came from behind in the eighth to beat the Gulf Guns 17 to 12.

At the first of the eighth, the Tacks had made eight runs and the Guns 12. The game looked sewed up for the Owls. Then the Tacks hit Haddock five times for five runs. In the ninth, Lefty Coop came to the Gun mound but his luck was as bad as Haddock's and the Tacks pounded him for four runs and three hits. Meanwhile the Tacks had changed pitchers in the eighth and "Snakes" Allen struck out three Guns in the last two innings.

The Magnolia-Memphis affair was as fresh as the second game. Until the seventh inning, the Magnolias and the Owls were tied with four runs each. During the preceding innings, Blankenship had the Owls at his mercy, but as in the Magnolias game with Skellytown recently, he collapsed pitifully in the seventh when he allowed nine runs and four hits. Four errors made by basemen and infielders made matters worse. Melton was sent in to replace Blankenship but he failed to stop the stampede and the Owls cracked three bingles and two runs in the eighth and duplicated in the ninth.

The Guber Tacks made a splendid comeback in the eighth and their superior hitting wiped out the seven errors they made. The Guns hit 15 times and made three errors. The Tack hits numbered 19. The pitchers, Sparks and Masterson, preceded Allen.

Juarez Youth Shot by Federal Agents Is Dead

EL PASO, July 11. (AP)—Rather than consent to amputation of his leg, Ignacio Garcia, 23, of Juarez, surrendered his life today.

Said to have been shot in a rum-runners' battle with United States border patrolmen Tuesday night he lay five hours unattended and when taken to a hospital was told he could live only if his leg were amputated. He shook his head and steadfastly refused to permit the operation.

There was a controversy as to who shot Garcia. Patrolmen claimed he was shot by racketeers of Juarez, but Garcia maintained American officers fired on him while on Mexican soil.

For a time it was believed the shooting would cause international complications, but today announcement was made no complaint would be filed.

G. C. Malone and family left today for a two-week vacation in Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, and New Mexico.

THEY GAVE A new Thrill

THAT'S WHY THEY GOT THERE... SO QUICKLY

IT WAS JUST TWO YEARS AFTER HE SAW HIS FIRST RACE HORSE THAT SANDE WAS CROWNED "EARL OF AMERICAN JOCKEYS."

FAST SUCCESS STORY NO. 9
EARL SANDE

The first race horse he ever saw was hitched to the tailboard of a prairie schooner. Two years later, every track in America resounded to that famous cry, "C'm on Sande!" He always gave the public the best run for its money.

That's the reason, too, for OLD GOLD'S quick success. OLD GOLD always gives the public a run for its money with a new taste-thrill. And no throat-hack.

Explain Sande? Explain OLD GOLD? ... Sande and OLD GOLD'S are born... not made.

shooting a lot of bunk to the people."

Contradicts Miller Sterling asserted Miller had declared in a speech at San Angelo that the income of the highway department was $50,000,000 a year.

Directing his attention to Clint Small, Sterling said "he voted for submission of the $175,000,000 state road bond issue when that measure was before the Texas legislature. He was for it then."

His speech at San Angelo included a speech at Anson at 2:30 p. m. and at Stamford at 8 p. m.

Thomas B. Love, in an address last night at the North Texas Teachers' college at Denton, remarked concerning the amount of money he believed Jim Young and Clint Small were spending in their rival campaigns.

He planned to speak at Weatherford at 2 p. m. today and over station KTAT, Fort Worth, from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Lieut.-Gov. Barry Miller, at Springtown, stressed that part of his platform which calls for the state buying Texas products whenever practicable. He was due to speak at Mineral Wells at 2:30 p. m. today.

His platform for tax relief and opposition to proposed relocation of the penitentiary system made up the subject for former Congressman Jim Young's address at Galveston. He was booked for a speech at Houston at 8 p. m. tonight.

Hobbs Operators Agree to Prorate

SANTA FE, N. M., July 11. (AP)—The state of New Mexico and the 24 operators of the Hobbs oil area in Lea county have entered an agreement to prorate oil production in that area, Dr. Austin D. Crile, land commissioner for New Mexico, announced today.

The terms of the cooperative contract agreed upon by the operators and approved by the state were withheld for the present. The contract is not expected to be made public until after a meeting at Roswell by an executive committee appointed yesterday to arrange placing the proration agreement in actual operations.

While the proration contract was being signed at Santa Fe the Empire Gas and Fuel company brought in its first well in the Hobbs area last night. The well was flowing wide open in excess of 7,000 barrels. Drillers expected to get the casing clear this morning, and scouts predicted the well under control will be worth more than 10,000 barrels a day.

Hyde Explains Market Theory

AMARILLO, Texas, July 11. (AP)—Invading the Texas Panhandle to present their campaign for wheat acreage reduction, Secretary Arthur M. Hyde of the Department of Agriculture of the Federal Farm Board, today heard opposition voiced to any marked production curtailment in this section.

Expressing the theory that the Panhandle territory was one of "limited opportunity" so far as crops are concerned, C. A. Bonner, economist of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, said it was "difficult to become enthusiastic" over a very large shift in this section's crop acreages.

WICHITA, Kans., July 11. (AP)—Captain Frank Hawks, noted transcontinental flier, was injured slightly here today when his new monoplane, "Mystery S," crashed at the Travel Air airport. He suffered only minor cuts.

Wheat Is Lowest

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Advent of needed rain in the Northwest sent wheat prices down to new record levels today after an upward start.

July wheat touched 85 7-8 cents a bushel, the bottom since 1914, and then closed at 86 1-2. September delivery reached a low of 89 1-4 and closed at 89 3-8 to 5-8, while December equalled the previous minimum of this season at 95 1-4, closing at 95 1-4 to 3-8 cents.

The net loss for the day was 1 7-8 to 2 3-8 cents. Wheat closed unsettled, 1 7-8 to 2 3-8 a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed at 1-4 to 1c net advance, oats at a shade decline to 1-4c gain, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 20c.

Vanities "Fan Dance" Described In Police Court

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Earl Carroll, who boasts that through his stage doors pass the most beautiful girls in the world, led eight of them through the portals of Jefferson Market court today for a hearing on police charges that his latest "vanities" is an indecent show.

Carroll, Jimmy Savo, "Vanities" comedian, and the eight show girls and dancers had to elbow their way through five hundred gaping spectators gathered in the street and in the courtroom. Hardly had the principals taken their seats when the judge ordered attendants to clear the room of all "curiosity seekers."

More than 200 spectators left or were escorted out, but standing room was still scant.

Captain James J. Coy, police critic, was the first witness. He described the scenes which led to the raid on the show and the arrest of the producer and members of the cast.

Coy said his seat was in the 12th row, and defense counsel expressed the opinion that he was too far from the stage to be able to tell whether or not Faith Bacon, in her dance of the fans, was attired only in fans as the police charge.

"It was when she walked off the stage," Captain Coy said, "with her back to the audience, that I realized."

"You mean," said the defense counsel, "that while she was doing the dance facing the audience she so manipulated the fans that you couldn't tell whether she was wearing any clothing or not?"

"Yes," Coy replied.

New Grain Statement

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The condition on July 1 of the important grain crops by important states and the indicated production, as announced today by the department of agriculture in its report supplemental to that for the country as a whole, issued yesterday, included:

Corn: Kansas, 77 and 130-114,000. Oklahoma 79; 67,040,000. Texas 68; 78,336,000. Winter wheat: Kansas 72 and 146,688,000. Oklahoma (yield per acre), 9.5 and 33,696,000. Texas (yield per acre), 11.0 and 27,720,000.

GRAINS RISE EARLY

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—All grains scored early advances in price today, notwithstanding that the wheat market was at first influenced by bearish aspects of the government crop report. Persistent hot, dry weather northwest and reports that severe damage to spring wheat has been done acted soon as more than a counterbalance for the government's increased forecast on wheat production.

Starting 1/8c off to 1/2c up, wheat later sagged all around, but then rose to well above yesterday's finish. Corn showed strength from the outset, opening 3/4c higher, and then reacting somewhat, but afterward jumping upward. Oats were firm. Provisions declined.

Swimming Marks Are Broken By Seattle Maiden

SEATTLE, July 11. (P)—Miss Helene Madison, Seattle swimming marvel, set her twelfth unofficial world's record last night, bettering the recognized time of 1:18.6 in the 120-yard free style swim. Her time was 1:16.8.

In the 400-yard breast stroke Eleanor Holm of the New York Athletic club, bettered the world record of 6:10.2, held by Sybil Bauer, of the Illinois Athletic club, swimming the distance in 5:53.2.

Miss Madison has exceeded 12 world's records since last February when she competed in the national indoor tournament in Florida.

TWO GOLFERS LEAD BOBBY BY 1 STROKE

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11. (P)—Bobby Jones knew he had the fight of his fighting life in front of him today as the big push for the national open golf championship stamped through stifling heat into its second round.

He found himself trapped on both sides by as dangerous a clan

Fights Last Night

By the Associated Press
Buffalo—Kid Chocolate, Cuba, knocked out Vic Burrone, New York, 3.

Newark, N. J.—Jack (Kid) Berg, England, outpointed Henry Perlick, Mich., 10.

Pittsburgh—Midget Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, outpointed Johnny Willis, Erie, Pa., 10.

of golfing warriors as ever strode forth in any golf tournament.

One stroke ahead of Jones were Tommy Armour of Detroit, the "Black Scot," who topped him from his throne at Oakmont in 1927, and MacDonald Smith, the stout hearted Scot from New York. To his rear, only a stroke away, were two fighters for whom he has always held respect—Walter Hagen and Horton Smith. Tied with him was "Whiffey" Cox, a product of Brooklyn's public links.

Jones wasn't upset. He was satisfied. Yet he would rather be from three to four strokes behind anyone except Armour and Mac Smith.

He would feel more comfortable to have a player of the caliber of Hagen more serious than ever before and playing the golf that made him famous in yester-years, a little farther away.

This was how the leaders stood today after the initial tour of the par 72 championship stretch:

Armour and Mac Smith, 70; Jones and Cox, 71; Hagen and Horton Smith, 72.

There were three others, Harry Cooper of Chicago, J. E. Rogers of Denver, and George M. Smith of Chicago in the strictly par class. But by the time the four 18 hole rounds are over, they are expected to be bringing up the rear. Cooper, runner-up to Armour in 1927, may prove the exception, however, as he seems on his game as never before.

The heat and not par stopped the big field in yesterday's opening round. The sun came out early and by the time Jones, Hagen, the two Smith's and other recognized "Big Shots" were well on their way Old Sol streamed forth rays that sent the mercury up to 94 degrees in the shade and better than 100 on the baked fairways. The golfers all looked like ice men after a long day's work, their hands slipped at the grip and their vision was handicapped by beads of perspiration. The weather man offered no hope for a let-up today either.

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—this of both health and beauty. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia—another danger in reducing diets. ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes—helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is soaked in fruit juice. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

tired physician.
"I'd go to bed for days at a time with awful bilious attacks and I became so weak and nervous I could hardly stay up at all. I was in misery with indigestion and was habitually constipated. Sargon relieved me of every ailment and I can't remember when I've enjoyed better health. I've gained back 12 pounds of lost weight, my appetite is wonderful and I'm enjoying sound, refreshing sleep for the first time in years. Sargon Pills regulated me perfectly without the least nausea or upsetting effects."—Mrs. Susan Smith, 2406 1-2 South Robinson street, Oklahoma City.

Farm Board Claims To Have Cut Meat Price

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Figuring it has saved consumers $33,000,000 a month in the retail price of meat and increased producers' profits, the farm board has decided to inform the public whenever it believes conditions warrant a cut in the retail price of agricultural products.

C. C. Teague, board member representing fruits and vegetables, said today that while no definite policy had been established, he had no doubt the board would issue statements in regard to retail prices whenever the opportunity arose to benefit the general public.

Teague's statement followed reports of a drastic cut in the retail price of beef since June 26, when C. B. Denman, representing livestock on the board, announced that as a result of the decline in wholesale and live weight prices the consumer should find current prices of beef considerably lower.

Within 10 days the retail meat dealers association had reported a cut of 10 per cent in the price of good beef and 20 per cent on common grades.

At Kansas City, Mo., a general 10-cent a pound reduction was reported and in Washington, D. C., for the first time in years, club steaks were advertised on 50-cent dinners.

Prior to Denman's statement the retail price of beef had maintained a constant level despite the succession of dips taken by wholesale and live weight prices. "The chain store group, Denman said, had made some reduction, but it was not until housewives made a concerted demand for lower prices that the general price line dropped.

Estimating total beef consumption at eight billion pounds a year, Denman said a five-cents a pound reduction in retail price would save consumers $400,000,000 a year or $33,000,000 a month.

In the first week following his announcement, Denman said, the country beheld—for the first time in history—the spectacle of retail prices going down while live weight prices ascended.

Declaring that administration of the agricultural marketing act contemplated the welfare of the consumer as well as that of the producer, Denman said the possibilities of what the producer and consumer could do collectively in adjusting retail prices were unlimited.

Deaths Caused by Heat Growing Daily In Number

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Killing heat surged anew over the Middle West today, causing more deaths. The total for the present heat wave is 31.

The scourge of summer struck hardest in St. Louis metropolitan area yesterday. Six persons died and eleven were prostrated. The thermometer touched 103 degrees.

The six deaths brought the Missouri heat death casualties in the present oppression to 11. The state also had the highest unofficial temperature, Silkeston reporting a reading of 112.

Most of Iowa was perched above 100 degrees. Marshallton, Atlantic, and Council Bluffs cooked beneath 104. The total deaths to date from heat prostration mounted to four with one yesterday in Council Bluffs. Livestock in all parts of the state succumbed and farmers sought relief by working in the fields at night.

Thunderstorms and rains brought relief to Northern Illinois, but caused crop and property damage. Harrisburg, seven times smitten by temperatures of 100 degrees or more, reported the state's highest yesterday at 106 1-2.

A fatality in Springfield brought the Illinois heat deaths to five.

In the torrid northwest, five have died; four in Minneapolis and one in St. Paul. North and South Dakota were baked.

NOTICE TO PAVING CONTRACTORS

DANCING JUDITH

And sometimes I feel 16. Actually, I'm 23. That's getting old for a girl, too, you know."

Dumont closed his eyes for a moment with a look of pain. Then he looked at the girl, his face drawn with miserable yearning.

"I wish I could do any kind of work that would make me famous and rich," he said feverishly. "Then perhaps you'd listen to me, Judy. I can't expect you to now, although if you'd only marry me I'd work like a plowboy. I'd simply make them take my work and pay for it, and at least you wouldn't have to slave."

Judy shook her head, and her bright hair glittered under her hat.

"I've told you lots of times, Bastien, that I'm never going to marry until I fall in love. Falling in love must be jolly, and it may make it worth while getting married. From what I've seen of marriage, it wants something pretty strong to make it worth while!"

A week passed, and Chummy's cold did not get better. She developed a troublesome cough, and her cheeks began to look transparent. Judy was worried, particularly as Alan Steyne did not come again.

Max Dickbread was painting Judy as a Spanish dancer in a sensational work for the Paris salon, and he changed her pose every day. He was a clever artist, but his personality was devastating. Judy could not have put it into words, but he fed on other people's vitality and reduced her, as she said, to a rag.

Judy went for the doctor. He was a queer Irishman with red hair and fiery eyes. His name was 'Shane, and he ran a dispensary for the poor.

He was not very encouraging about Chummy. He said she wanted warmth and coddling, and plenty of nourishing food.

Judy bought many little delicacies out of Alan Steyne's gift. Doctor O'Shane had attended Chummy before. As he was leaving, he said to Judy on the landing:

"I think her brain's going. She's more childish than she was."

It was that same day that Chummy startled her friend by saying suddenly:

"I feel so queer, Judy! I think something's going to happen to me. It's a horrible feeling, like a lot of brass bands playing in my head!"

Judy sought Dumont. He was her confidant, the one person on whom she could rely. She made him promise to go and see the doctor and tell him all about Chummy. They met again at the Cafe Turc in the evening.

"Well," the girl asked breathlessly.

"O'Shane doesn't think anything can be done," he answered. "If she didn't know Steyne at once, he doesn't believe she will ever know him. He says there's no treatment that could cure her. He was rather decent—for him; tried to explain the case to me."

Judy was in despair.

"Has Steyne called again?" Dumont asked.

"No."

"Did he say he would?"

"Yes—I mean, Chummy invited him. Oh, Bastien, that night he was so nice to her! I thought him simply perfect. What can be the matter? Why doesn't he come?"

Dumont had no answer. In his own mind he could think of several reasons. He had not Judy's unshakable faith in humanity—which was indeed something to marvel at, considering how much she had seen of life.

Steyne did come a couple of evenings later. He came laden with fruit and flowers, and to Judy he was like a day in spring. His absence was easily accounted for. He had to go to Maine on business connected with the property of his late benefactor had left him.

He came several times that week. Chummy was delighted with him in her placid, "take-everything-for-granted" way. She ordered him about just as she did Judy; but not even his repeated visits struck a single chord of her lost memory. Judy spoke to Steyne about the doctor one night, as he was leaving. Chummy had not been able to go out yet. The two stood on the landing. Chummy's room was only the pretense of a sitting room, because the bed was hidden behind a rickety screen.

"Don't you think you'd better call in some other doctor?" the girl asked.

There was a note of impatience in her voice. Evidently she was feeling the strain of this unnatural position. Alan Steyne sitting and chatting to Chummy as if they had just met and made friends, and Chummy smiling unaware that her best beloved was by her side—it was a spectacle that got on Judy's nerves.

"It's taking such a time!" she went on. "Aren't there better doctors than O'Shane? Can't something be done to make her know you? And she's been feeling queer lately. She's told me so. Oh, do something, Mr. Steyne! It must be dreadful for you—this waiting. It's driving me silly—what must it be doing to you?"

Alan Steyne did not answer immediately. He was looking at Judy. As she gazed at him in her perplexity on behalf of her friend, his eyes held hers, and she found herself flushing hotly and angrily as she realized that at that moment the condition of poor Chummy was far from his mind.

She looked away, furious and ashamed at her own embarrassment. Steyne took her hand.

"Good night, little guardian," he said. "Of course, I'll be only too glad to get another opinion, but I'll see this man O'Shane first."

The result was that a famous specialist came to see Chummy, in consultation with the Irish doctor. He did not give much hope. He said just what Doctor O'Shane had said. There was no treatment to be prescribed. It could only be left to nature. It was quite possible that Miss Morley might recover her memory, but there were no means known to science which could accelerate the process.

"So you're just where you were," said Dumont, when Judy told him at the Cafe Turc on the same night. "Yes, except that of course, Mr. Steyne will take Chummy away now. Her cold's almost well. She wanted to come with me tonight, but I was afraid."

The young artist said nothing.
