Japs Quit Hankow As Armies Mass In North

TROOPS MOVING TOWARD FRESH BATTLE ZONES

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7 (AP)—Japanese and Chinese diplomats tonight expressed hope that formal, declared war between their countries can be averted, but war fears still gripped central China and in the north formidable armies moved toward fresh collisions.

Hasty withdrawals of thousands of Japanese from widely separated parts of China reached a climax when the Japanese navy, under instructions from Tokyo, ordered complete abandonment of the Japanese concessions at Hankow, great port and industrial center of the middle Yangtze valley.

Abandon Hankow. Orders were issued for all Japanese in Hankow, including 400 marines and volunteers, to be aboard ships on the Yangtze river by noon Sunday, when it was expected the Japanese would abandon completely the concession which has been center of their trade in central China for a generation.

Even five Japanese naval vessels lying in the river were expected to withdraw. Administration of the area was to be turned over temporarily to Chinese officials.

The evacuation, according to authoritative sources, was a result of agreement following long Chinese-Japanese negotiations seeking to prevent the month-old conflict in the north from spreading to central China.

PAMPA TO MEET NEGRO STARS IN DENVER TODAY

The Pampa Oilers, one of the surviving teams in the Denver Post baseball tournament, will meet the Negro All Stars, headed by Satchel Page, at 4 o'clock, Pampa time, this afternoon. A play-by-play account of the game will be given in City auditorium by the Junior chamber of commerce with admission 10 cents for woman and children and 25 cents for men.

First game of the afternoon will be between Halliburton Cementers of Duncan, Okla., and Huber Blackfaces of Borger, with the losing team leaving the tournament. That will leave Pampa a sure six, at third money. A win over the negroes will send the Oilers into the finals Monday night.

Club managers were doubtful if Herman Drels would be able to start today's game, leaving Sam Lailey, Dale Mills and Harvey Hut-ton available for mound duty. Local railbirds were of the opinion that Dailey's slow curve ball might hold the negroes.

Severe but not critical injuries were suffered by Mrs. L. M. Angle, of near McLean, Friday afternoon when she was struck by a run-away automobile which left U. S. highway 66. Driver of the car, John Brown, of New Orleans, La., negro, is in the county jail here charged with reckless driving.

Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey, who investigated the accident with Deputy L. S. Tinnin of McLean, said Mrs. Angle was getting a pall of water from the farm windmill when she was struck by the car. She was taken to Worley hospital by a Pampa ambulance, and it was found that the muscles of her left leg had been torn. Unless infection sets in, she will recover, attending physicians said yesterday.

Officers learned that Brown was driving the car for Thomas Miller, auditor for the Lower Auditing company of Dallas, who was a passenger. He accompanied the injured woman to the hospital and reported to officers here.

Investigating officers said that Brown tried to pass a car near the top of a grade and that an approaching car forced him to swerve across the paving. He lost control of the car, it is believed, and it crashed into the windmill 288 feet from the highway, tearing away one of the derrick legs, the rods, and smashing the water barrel beside which Mrs. Angle was standing. The officers said they could find no mark of tire tracks for 30 feet after the car left the paving.

WOMAN HIT BY RUNAWAY CAR; DRIVER JAILED

Two charges of passing forged checks have been filed against a man giving his name as H. M. Spencer, following his arrest here Friday afternoon by Sheriff Earl Talley.

A man answering Spencer's description is wanted for passing forged checks in Borger, Groom, Panhandle, Silverton and other West Texas cities, according to County Attorney Joe Gordon. Examining trial had not been held last night.

Spencer was arrested by Sheriff Earl Talley as he handed a check, bearing the name of P. A. Alexander, to Carl Boston at the Piggly Wiggly grocery store.

The arrest of Spencer was made possible by L. R. Franks, operator of a store at Kingsmill. Franks told

While the 27-nation non-intervention in Spain committee was exerting every effort to localize the conflict within Spain, three unidentified warplanes created another issue by attacking steamers of Great Britain, Italy, France and Greece in waters outside Spanish territorial limits.

The latest attack was on the Greek steamer K. Kistakis, which sent out a distress call from off A. Jers.

ACTING GOVERNOR SAYS WON'T RUN FOR OFFICE

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—Texas had its third governor in less than a week today but it may be a long time before it has the same one again.

Senator Claude M. Leland of Rockwall, president pro tempore of the Senate, held the job of chief executive briefly, during the absence from the state of Governor James V. Allred and Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul, but averred he would not seek it as a regular thing.

"I won't run for governor two years, four years or any number of years from now," he laughed at a press conference a few hours after Woodul flew to Oklahoma, thereby making him acting governor.

DRIVER JAILED AFTER SATURDAY NIGHT CRASH

L. P. Gaddis was placed in the county jail late last night on charges of driving while intoxicated following a collision on the Borger highway near the city limits, about 11:30 o'clock.

A coupe driven by Gaddis crashed into a sedan driven by L. C. Guthrie. Police said the Gaddis machine swerved to the left "side of the road, barely missing another car.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS EPIDEMIC NOT FEARED

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—State health officials today discounted fears in some quarters of an infantile paralysis epidemic and, although 221 cases had been reported since January 1, estimated the peak of incidence had been reached.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said 36 new cases had been reported for the week ended July 10 whereas in some previous weeks 45 had developed.

Pampa Chinese Sure Japs Will Get Worst Of Fight In Orient

"The Japanese? Sure, we lick 'em." A bold statement, but it comes straight from the heart of a son of China in an interview here yesterday. The Rowing Reporter, somewhat overwhelmed by the reports of battles in Whiang-Whang, Tencenton and Peeping, under the leadership of General Him Anol Kowhand, decided to get the lowdown on Shiang-High from a local source, by quizzing Gene Gee, smiling Oriental in the Empire Cafe.

Mr. Gee is an American-born Chinese with definite ideas about the opposing forces in the war. Although he is not a native of China, he has visited his country and even fought in the last Sino-Jap war. Therefore, he knows of what he speaks.

Seeks China Territory Mr. Gee said that for years Japan has desired land in China. Because that country is so small, the Japanese government is forever fighting for Chinese territory to move part of its population on. Heretofore, according to Mr. Gee, Japan, with far superior supplies, well-trained armies, and an efficient air attack, has made China the under-dog. "All ways on the offensive," he said, "she has given China no chance for anything other than to fight for his own defense."

"Now," said Mr. Gee "everything going to be different. For while

With the temperature at 106 degrees at 3 p. m. Saturday went on record as Pampa's hottest day this year.

No showers and practically no breeze made the day almost unbearable to heat sufferers here. Pampa's temperature reading was thought to be second high in the state this summer. Wichita Falls recorded 106 degrees earlier last week.

Saturday's minimum was 77 degrees at 6 o'clock, the mercury steadily rising from that time until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when it began to decline at 103 degrees. At noon, the reading was 99, and at sunset, it was still hot at 93 degrees.

No relief was expected today since the weatherman predicted only "fair and warmer."

Rangers To Halt 'Bookies'

Texas Rangers were under orders to "crack down" on bookies wherever complaints against their operation were made.

One H. H. Carmichael, state public safety director at Austin, voiced the opinion enforcement of the tightened anti-bookie statute should be in the hands of local officers and said many sheriffs and police departments had already stamped out bookmaking.

"However we have given them sufficient time to act and in cases where shops are still operating, we will close them if it takes every man we have to do it," he asserted.

The ranger commander said he believed the new measure would be effective against prohibited betting operations, adding it "passed the legislature by such a big majority I do not see how its enforcement can be ignored." Ranger would investigate the complaint of anyone," he said.

First charges under the remodeled law were filed by Rangers who last week named five San Antonians for "permitting telephones to be placed and used" in violation of the statute which prohibits the knowing use of buildings and communications equipment in disseminating racing information.

BABY'S LIFE SAVED PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Choked by mucous while feeding, tiny Frances Mary Bocassini stopped breathing and turned momentarily blue late today in her air-conditioned incubator, but prompt action by Dr. John Corbit, who delivered her yesterday in a post mortem Caesarian operation, restored her breathing and her color.

Gray County Leads New Oil Locations

Activity in the Panhandle oilfield showed no lull for the first week in August when 22 first intentions to drill were filed with the local office of the Texas Railroad commission.

The previous week saw a new high in recent years when 23 locations were made. Stanolind Oil & Gas company announced 20 of the new wells.

Gray county led the parade of oil wells last week with 10, followed by Carson and Moore with four each, Hutchinson with three and Wheeler with one.

NEWSBOY KING STOPS IN CITY

S. H. Cole, known over the United States as "King of the Newsboys," was in Pampa yesterday on his fifth trip around the world. Cole, well-known to newspaper men everywhere, visited in the offices of city officials and The NEWS, and commented favorably upon Pampa and the surrounding territory. He wrote a feature story which appears on another page of today's paper.

"King" Cole began his newspaper career selling papers in New York City in 1897 at the age of seven and is thought to be the oldest newsboy still at the job he started with. The Majority Leader Barkley (D., Ky.) predicted an adjournment "by Aug. 21 or perhaps a little sooner."

He said the Senate would consider legislation Monday to govern

Two daughters born to Mrs. C. B. Akers

Friends here received word yesterday of the birth of twin daughters to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. "Brownie" Akers, former Pampans, in St. Anthony's hospital, Oklahoma City, Thursday night.

The births are unusual, in that a Caesarian operation was performed. Few such births of twins are on record, physicians reported. Mrs. Akers and babies were doing well yesterday, the message said.

One of the babies weighed 6 pounds and the other 5 1/2 pounds. They have been named Carol June and Barbara Jane.

While in Pampa, Mr. Akers was manager of the IaNora and Rex theaters operated by Griffith Bros. Amusement company of Oklahoma. He was transferred to Lubbock and two years ago was made district manager with headquarters in Oklahoma City. The Akers reside at 2752 NW 19th street.

Planters' Headaches Many With Scarcity Of Cotton Pickers

Cotton pickin' with all its aches—heart, head and back—for the riches it brings, has developed a vast Texas crop upon which a world leans.

Ten per cent larger than last year's yield, and nearly 30 per cent of the nation's crop, much cotton is still on the stalk. Pickers are scarce and planters' headaches are many as they toll to gin a huge crop of which nine bales of every ten travel to foreign lands.

Usually the "pickin' aches" extend over a long period, from June in the Rio Grande Valley until frost falls once or twice on the South Plains. A searing sun hastened work this year, prematurely popping bolls.

There are not enough pickers who will pull locks for 60 cents to $1 per hundred pounds. The Rio Grande Valley desperately needs pickers. Similar calls are heard from Corpus Christi, Wharton, Gonzales, Bryan and Houston fields.

Unemployment agencies are cooperating by cutting relief rolls to

At Gonzales the sheriff's office brazenly posted signs warning invaders that anyone who came there to induce pickers, on the promise of better picking and pay, to other fields would be jailed. An article to this decree said town loafers would go to the cotton patch or jail.

Gins are running day and night but there's valuable cotton in the field. A storm cloud might come up at any time, too. That would reduce production and necessitate harder work more pay.

When picking, hauling and ginning (and one-fourth or one-half rent in the case of tenants) is paid, the planter doesn't have too much money left after a bale is sold. It costs something to grow it.

Suffer Backaches. Pickers crawl on knees and peel their hands all day to get 200 pounds daily. They must start bending to it between two rows when the dew is still on the grass and stay with it until they must squint or strike a match to see the figures on the scales. When day is done the picker can eat a goodly portion of beans.

General picking price in the Rio Grande valley is 60 cents, although some pay 70 to 75 cents. Thousands more are needed in the sector to finish a crop little more than half-picked. Close to 85,000 bales have been harvested with a total crop of 150,000 bales expected—only 10,000 bales below the record crop of 1936.

Planters in the valley section are alarmed at the low price of cotton sold per ton in the quarantined area, claiming their price of $19 and $17 to be three and four dollars below the Corpus Christi quotation.

Plea For Pickers. Around San Antonio, the crop estimate was 1,300 bales above last year with plenty of pickers available, but 130 miles away at Corpus Christi a plea arose for workers to harvest a 60,000 bale crop. Little damage has been reported from boll weevils.

From rich soil of McKinney county, north Texas' banner cotton area, will come nearly 80,000 bales, county farm agents predicted. Only 66,000 bales were ginned in '36. In Cooke county, crop conditions were the best in five years with negligible insect damage and good weather causing agents to estimate a crop of 16,000 bales—7,000 more than last year.

Picking season opens in mid-August in deep north Texas communities, and farmers have requested relief agencies in some counties to "close shop" for the picking season. Lamar county expects a 60,000 bale crop.

McLennan county agents have forecast a 75,000 bale crop, 10,000 above last year's yield. A general increase of almost 15 per cent has been forecast for central Texas. West Texas must wait several

NATIONS GIVE ACCORD WITH U. S. POLICIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—More than 40 nations expressed to the state department today general accord with Secretary Hull's recently enunciated 14-point policy for "international self-restraint."

Hull expressed his views last month and had them circulated through diplomatic channels to virtually every world capital. Comment was invited.

Formal expressions came from 37 governments, including Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia, the Scandinavian countries and most of the South American republics. The department said other countries had commented orally and were dispatching formal statements.

Notable among nations not represented in the file of answers were Japan, China, Italy, Germany and Spain. Conflict or aggressive national policies dominate the affairs of these countries.

Hull's statement, made July 16 about the time the Sino-Japanese hostilities broke out, reassured America's foreign policy as opposed to use of force in international relations and to interference in internal affairs of other nations.

In his statement, Hull stressed these points: Advocacy by the United States of international self-restraint, peaceful negotiation, observance of international agreements, upholding the principle of the sanctity of treaties, respect by all nations for the rights of others and performance by all nations of established obligations, strengthening of international law, removal of excessive trade barriers, limitation and reduction of armaments, and international cooperative effort by peaceful and practical means.

WEeping MOTHER GIVES BABY TO OTHER WOMAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The weeping mother of baby Donald Horst surrendered him today to the woman who had cared for him since the day of his birth.

The dramatic four-day fight over the custody of the 31-months old child came to a sudden end with the announcement by Attorney John E. Johnson that Lydia Nelson had signed a document consenting to the adoption of the child by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Horst.

Lydia Nelson collapsed in tears after affixing her signature to the paper. Mrs. Horst offered her consolation, then commented: "I'm so happy I'm numb all over."

She said no money was involved in the agreement. The infant was born to Miss Nelson and her common-law husband, John Kegan a machinist on Jan. 6 1935. He was given to Mrs. Horst and her husband, part owner of a sound equipment company 15 minutes after his nativity.

Last Tuesday he was carried away from the Horst home in an exclusive northwest side residential district by the Regans. The police first believed he had been kidnaped but the Regans told Assistant Prosecutor Crowley the next day they had snatched the youngster because they were his natural parents and they had just learned his whereabouts.

INCREASED PRODUCTION IN VALLEY ANTICIPATED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7 (AP)—Missouri-Pacific railroad officials said today announced expenditures of $74,000 in improvement and repair of its Rio Grande valley properties was due to an anticipated increase of production in the citrus belt.

Improvements include sidings and buildings at Weslaco, Mission, Alamo, Harlingen, Donna, LaFeria, McAllen, Pharr, Edinburg and several smaller shipping centers. New tracks will be provided at many points.

The officials said 30,701 cars had been moved out of the area last season and they anticipated shipping between 35,000 and 40,000 cars during the 1937-38 season.

KANSAS CITY FAMILY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

SENATE APPROVES U. S. UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A national unemployment census, which President Roosevelt once opposed, won Senate approval today. It passed and sent to the House a bill by Chairman Black (D-Ala.) of the education and labor committee providing for gathering information on the numbers, classes and geographical distribution of unemployed and partially unemployed, their occupation, incomes and dependents, to "aid in the formulation of a program for re-employment, social security and unemployment relief." The census would be taken before next April 1. Black told the Senate the cost should not exceed $5,000,000. Sleep while you want-ad works.

The Deposited Funds of a Bank

—are given employment as reserves, investments, loans and cash on hand.

A BANK sets aside a definite percentage of deposits as legal reserves required by law. Then a voluntary "secondary reserve" is set up consisting of short-term, highly liquid investments. A sufficient amount of cash is kept on hand to meet daily requirements. This money is circulated constantly through local business channels.

The bank invests a part of its funds in Government, state and municipal bonds and other sound securities. It loans a portion locally to business men and customers.

It is the daily work of this bank to safeguard depositors' funds, render helpful financial services and find safe, useful employment for the money entrusted to our care.

CAMERA ON WARPATH WITH JAPANESE IN CHINA

Shelled in retaliation for a skirmish with Japanese troops near Peiping, the Yuanping police station, headquarters of China's 29th Route Army on which the city depended for defense, lies in ruins.

The direct hits scored on the building's walls are a tribute to the accuracy of the invaders' artillery.

Brings Glimpses Of Death, Destruction And Victory

The paths of glory lead to the funeral pyre for Japanese troops. Comrades stand at attention while an officer lights the pyre of soldiers killed in skirmishes with Chinese outside Tientsin, China.

Victory perches on the banners of the Japanese contingent that marches above into the outskirts of Tientsin after the rout of Chinese troops who sought to prevent the occupation of the city in the Nipponese military campaign to dominate north China.

"NEW FACES OF 1937" PARADES LATEST STARS

Looney guys, lovely gals, captivating melodies and dazzling stars will win favor today in "New Faces of 1937," latest laugh and rhythm picture showing at the LaNora theater. The show features an unusual array of stage and radio talent in the first of a series of yearly filmusicals presenting new and promising talent in elaborate musical comedies.

Yellowstone National Park is the setting for the beautifully photographed "Yellowstone," showing at the Crown theater. The film is a mystery romance full of thrills and scenic beauty, and topped with a surprise solution to the mystery at the end. Starred are Henry Hunter, Judith Barrett, Alan Hale, Ralph Morgan, and Andy Devine.

At the Rex, Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are presented as a pair of uproarious ghosts in the most original story of the year, "Topper."

"Topper," which has made millions of readers laugh in every part of the world, now comes to the screen as the latest of the successful Hal Roach feature-length comedies.

Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are co-starring in the new picture, which opens today at the Rex theater, and the outstanding cast also features Roland Young in the title role, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Eugene Palette and others.

The story of "Topper," dealing with the hilarious escapades of madcap gentry of another world, provides a plot that bursts all the bounds of high comedy. Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are seen as the wildest, fastest couple in town who meet death in an automobile accident only to mortally materialize and pursue an incredible series of adventures across a bewildered countryside.

Young is cast as the staid banker who becomes a rollicking playboy as a result of his meeting with the ethereal couple, and Billie Burke is seen as his henpecking wife who finally learns how to hold her man. Alan Mowbray is the family butler.

CROWN.
Outdoor Mystery.
Action, suspense, romance and marvelous photography are the qualities which distinguish Universal's "Yellowstone," the mystery which opens at the Crown theater today.

A bandit horde returns to the park, searching for buried treasure which one of their number hid 18 years before. The cunning struggle for the loot reaches a pitch of violence that ends in a mysterious murder.

Of all the suspects, the man in the worst spot is a forest ranger under suspicion because of an exploded shell in his gun. He is helped by a beautiful girl, daughter of the victim.

The drama is unfolded against the eye-filling backgrounds and scenic marvels which make the national park famous. The action proceeds at rapid pace. Contrasting with the mystery, there is a romance between the main characters, portrayed by Henry Hunter and Judith Barrett. Other prominent players include Ralph Morgan, Alan Hale, Michael Loring, Andy Devine, Monroe Owsley, Raymond Hutton, Paul Fix, and Claude Allister.

LANORA.
"The Emperor's Candlesticks."
William Powell and Luise Rainer, both nominated for the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences award for best screen performances of 1936, are united for the third time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which opens Friday at the LaNora theater.

This romantic novel starts in Vienna after the kidnapping by socialists of Nicholas, last of the Czsars, when he was a man of twenty. Powell, as a socialist who hates Russia, is commissioned to carry a message offering release of the Czarevitch in exchange for the release of socialist prisoners.

He hides his papers in one of a pair of candlesticks once used for this purpose by Marie Antoinette. Miss Rainer as a secret agent for the Russian police conceals papers in the other candlestick. The story then revolves into an exciting race between these two for the candlesticks which are stolen by thieves who do not know of the papers within them.

"Love in a Bungalow."
Combining comedy with careful production and spectacularly beautiful sets, Universal's "Love in a Bungalow," a gay story of the adventures of the hostess of a model home, opens Wednesday at the LaNora theater.

Nan Grey portrays the hostess and, opposite her, Kent Taylor enacts the role of an unemployed super salesman who usurps the best bedroom of Nans model house. Other members of the picture's cast include Richard Carle, Margaret McWade, Hobart Cavanaugh, Jack Smart, Milner Urcal and Louise Beavers.

As a lark Nan and Kent write a radio contest letter telling why they are the most happily married couple in the world, despite the fact that they aren't married at all. Hilarious

MOTOR STRIKE PEACE AGREED

DETROIT, Aug. 7 (AP)—Officials of the Plymouth Motor Car company and representatives of the United Automobile Workers of America announced a "basis of settlement" tonight which, they predicted, would result in resumption of normal operations in the Plymouth plant Monday morning.

Details of the proposed settlement were not disclosed. It will be submitted to a ratification meeting of Plymouth employees who are members of the UAW tomorrow.

"The management, officials of the union and the negotiating committees have agreed on a basis of settlement which will be presented at a membership committee meeting at 2 p. m. Sunday for formal ratification," Richard T. Frankenstein, UAW organizational worker, announced following a night conference.

"It is expected that the meeting will ratify the agreement and that all workers affected by the closing will return at their regular hours Monday."

Attorney Lester L. Colbert, counsel for the Chrysler corporation, Plymouth parent concern, said: "We have agreed with the officers of the UAW and the negotiating committee on a basis of settlement of the controversy at the Plymouth plant. If the settlement is approved by the members of the UAW, the Plymouth plant will go into full operations for all shifts on Monday."

Complications set in when they win the contest and must produce a home and children which they described in the letter.

TESTIMONY IN NEGRO SLAYING TRIAL ENDS

CORSICANA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Testimony in the trial of Hughley Fulton, negro, charged with the slaying of W. T. Gierman in Henderson county, September 25, 1934, was concluded here today.

The charge of District Judge Wayne R. Howell and starting of attorneys' arguments are slated Monday.

The case was sent here on a change of venue after the court of criminal appeals had reversed and remanded a death sentence imposed in Henderson county.

FARMER SAYS SOIL SAVING PLAN NEEDED

John Arledge, who has been farming and combining in Gray county for the past seven years, expressed his views in a street interview last night, on the drought area farmer.

"Without rain, Mr. Arledge says, a fellow cannot do anything. Then he goes so far as to say that when people get so smart that they think they can outsmart the Creator—they are all wet, even without rain.

"Dry humor, yet it's a fact, according to Mr. Arledge who cut a lot of wheat this year. Some of it already had been cut by hail, and he said he estimated a 100-acre tract that only produced 75 bushels, while other wheat did three and four times as well."

Where farmers used to get 900 bushels in the good years, now they are happy that they are getting the hundred, he stated.

"All the farmers should sit down and write their congressman a letter asking him to support the bill in congress that will allow the farmer a little more money to contour and hold what is left of the top soil," Mr. Arledge said.

"For the farmer this is nothing more than a wheat country and without rain, very little is to be made in row crops."

Arledge said the farmers should go after what they want just as strong as the WPA workers are doing in all parts of the country. He pointed to the fact that the farmers are not out on strikes as they are in industries in many parts of the country.

Musical Entertainment.
A novel back stage plot, charged with action and highly humorous situations, forms the background for RKO Radio's hilarious musical comedy, "New Faces of 1937," the first of a series of yearly extravaganzas. Joe Penner, Milton Berle, Parkyakarkus, Harriet Hilliard, William Brady, Jerome Cowan, and Thelma Leeds are featured.

The story reveals the questionable operations of a producer of stage plays. Romantic complications upset the plans of the producer, who flees just in time to save a show backed with the last $15,000 of a pretty show actress.

Milton Berle, seasoned veteran of vaudeville, won his great following via the air lanes with his Gillette "Singtime" program. Parkyakarkus (Harry Einstein), formerly of Eddie Cantor's radio act and now with Al Jolson on the Rinsow program, appeared on the screen once before with Cantor in "Strike Me Pink."

Joe Penner, another star of radio with his Cocomat program, has appeared in "College Rhythm" and "Collegiate."

Miss Hilliard, of the Bakers' radio program, scored in her screen debut, "Follow the Fleet," with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers starred.

The stellar headlines of the show find strong support from a wealth of new talent including Lorraine Krueger, petite dancer and singer; Ann Miller, clever tap dancer; the Four Plowboys, rhythm group; Lowe, Hite and Stanley, novelty dancers; Eddie Rio & Bros., eccentric dancers; Loria Bros., Mexican entertainers, and many others.

PAMPA OILERS WIN "MONEY GAME" FROM HORNSBY'S REFINERS, 8 TO 2

PRATHER HITS HOMER AS ROSE ALLOWS 6 HITS

DENVER, Aug. 7 (AP)—Exploding a savage attack in the seventh inning, the Pampa Oilers blasted Rogers Hornsby's Denver Bay Refiners out of the Post tournament today by an 8-to-2 score.

The Oilers, minus the services of the injured "Slingshot" Sammy" Baugh, combined seven hits with three errors to make all their scores in the seventh.

Duncan, Okla., Halliburton, national semi-pro congress champion last year, also delivered a late-game hitting punch in eliminating the Seminoles, Okla., Redbirds, 8 to 1.

Hornsby, who once led the National league in hitting six consecutive seasons, struck out in his final tournament appearance.

Left-handed Claron Veller, La Porte, Ind., high school coach, whom Hornsby brought here with him, held Pampa scoreless and to five hits until the Texans found the range in the seventh.

Errors started it, Carl Beason and Pitcher Bud Rose getting on through misplays. Dewey Bonduant walked and with one out, Catcher Sain cracked a line drive through Hornsby to score Beason and Rose.

Dutch Prather, leading hitter in the Western league last year, then poked a tremendous 400-foot home run far over the outfielder's head.

Three more Pampa runs were made on singles by Sam Scalfing, Beason, Rose and McNabb and another Refiner error.

Rose, small left-hander, pitched a fine game for the Oilers. Although fanning only two batters, he scattered the Denver club's six hits and passed but two.

"Judy" Cline, Denver leftfielder, hit a home run in the ninth.

The victory was Pampa's third in four games and insures it a place among the leading money winners.

2 Tournament Softball Games Set For Today

One and probably two softball games will be played here this afternoon with the opening battle set for 3 o'clock between Rig Service of Borger and Bordens of Amarillo. A second game between Gulf of Borger and Phillips of Borger was being arranged late last night.

Both games have been set for Road Runner park with admission 10 cents for women and children and 15 cents for adults.

Rig Service on Friday night eliminated the fast Smith Refiners from the tournament while Bordens sent the strong Stanglind team home.

Gulf defeated Shamrock Refiners while Phillips beat Skelly.

The schedule for Monday night had not been fully worked out last night but two games will be: Panhandle Laundry of Amarillo vs Danciger of Pampa; Taylor Grocery of Amarillo vs winner of the Texas of Pampa-Cities Service game, a late Saturday night meeting.

Stanlind and Colteco "A" went out of the tournament Friday night, Taylor Grocery of Amarillo dropping Stanlind, 10 and 3, and Danciger defeating Colteco "A", 9 to 4.

Amarillo's Texaco Firechiefs swamped Texas of Pampa 17 to 0 and Gulf of Borger knocked off Shamrock of LeFors 14 to 5.

Norton, Amarillo's first ball pitcher, allowed Texas of Pampa one hit and fanned only five. His fast ball kept the Pampans from getting the ball where fielders weren't located.

Christopher and Stancill were nipped for 11 hits with errors causing most of the damage. Five misuses by Harris at second base and four more by Avery, his successor, paved the way for many Amarillo runs.

Kyle hit for the circuit for Amarillo in the first inning with one on base. Pampa's only hit was registered by Payne, who got a ball through the box.

Stanlind, without Chism, ace left-hander who was called to Oklahoma because of illness in his family, was no match for the youthful Bordens' Creamery from Amarillo. Home runs by Devers, Bonnett and Shock helped the Amarillo boys along behind the steady hurling of Shock. Den- nis held at Woodrow Williams bunting. Each team registered eight hits.

Danciger got bingies when they were needed to defeat Colteco. The oilmen registered only eight hits off Witherspoon while Patrick allowed 10. Riley did most of the pinch hitting, scoring three in a row. Thomas and Seago bagged three each for Colteco but they came mostly at the wrong time.

Gulf of Borger got away to a good start on Shamrock Refinery and staved off a late rally which netted the losers five runs. Williams bunted the ball for Borger with sparkling support behind him. Meier went the distance for LeFors.

Boys to Play For Golf Title

Announcement was made today of a city-wide golf tournament open to boys in Pampa. The tournament will be held at Woodrow Wilson beginning Monday, and will offer prizes for winners. Two divisions, one for boys 10 years of age and under, and another for lads of eleven through fifteen years. An entry fee of two cents will be charged each entrant to pay for the prizes.

Qualifying rounds must be played Monday, with championship matches the following days. Sponge rubber balls will be furnished, but players are asked to bring their own clubs, either standard or homemade.

Boys who desire to participate in the meet may enter by phoning Gene Strand at number 1003, or enter at the school before Monday noon. The course has been improved, and a large field of entrants and close play is expected.

TENNIS COURT LIGHTS TO BE READY MONDAY

Reflectors for lights at the tennis courts at Central Park were installed yesterday and will probably be turned on Monday night. Meter boxes have not arrived yet, however, and it is expected that play will be free until they are installed. The city commission will make the decision Monday night.

Three 30-foot poles, painted aluminum, carry eight large reflectors in which will be set 1,500 watt globes. Four lights will flood each court.

DOUBLE-HEADER DIVIDED. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Detroit and Washington divided a doubleheader today, the Tigers taking the first, 3 to 2 and Washington winning the nightcap 8 to 7.

First game: Detroit.....000 000 300-3 7 1

What Big Eyes You Have, Frank!

The big eyes with the head around them is Frank Wolff, better known in wrestling circles as the Frankenstein of the mat. He is rough, and he is tough, and he doesn't deny it. Wolff will meet the fast, clever, likeable Cliff Johnson in the main event of Gulf Chambers wrestling show at the Pampa Athletic arena on Monday night. A semi-final will bring Senor El Pulpo against Olie Erickson in what should be another ferocious battle. Opening the card at 8:30 o'clock will be Tex Hager and Jack Hagen. Reserve seats are now on sale at Pampa Drug for 77 cents. General admission is 40 cents with children admitted for 25 cents.

AMARILLO AND PAMPA TENNIS PLAYERS CLASH HERE TODAY

Amarillo tennis players will meet the Pampa netters today in what promises to be exciting and close matches. The Amarillo squad, composed of the Tennis club of that city, will come 20 strong to play the local club stars. Play will begin at 10 o'clock at both Central Park and water well courts.

In the last meeting between the two teams, Amarillo won, but Pampa tennis players have improved since then through the tournaments sponsored by the recreational program and THE NEWS, and the Pampa Tennis club.

Pairings for today's matches are as follows (Pampans listed first): Men's singles: Leo Recknagle vs. Cullen Crain. Francis Smith vs. James Utterback. Ralph Hamilton vs. J. E. Lovelady.

Bobby Childress vs. B. S. McClelland. Turney Mullinax vs. Dave Henderson. K. Neil vs. Robert Vernon. Roy Webb vs. Warren Sparks. Hugh Stennis vs. Everett Buckingham.

NORTH WHIPS SOUTH, 7 TO 0 IN GRID TILT

WACO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The first football game of the nation's 1937 season was played here tonight in weather hovering around the 90-degree mark—but the 45 high school boys who participated paid little attention to the temperature. Sensational runs and long passes featuring the contest won by the North all-stars 7-0.

The game climaxed the annual coaching school of the Texas High School Coaches association and boys who finished their athletic obligation in the Interscholastic league last season took part.

A crowd of 7,500 saw the North team made up of boys from the upper eight districts of the Interscholastic league, score in the first few minutes of play and turn back a desperate last-quarter drive by the South, made up of youngsters from the lower eight districts.

Fred Shock, all-star from Fort Worth North Side, recovered a fumble on the South's 19-yard line; Harry Hays of San Angelo, the star full back of the game, carried it to the 1-yard line and in two tries Marion Pugh, another all-star selection from North Side, smashed over for the touchdown. Pugh then kicked the goal.

Leading hitter in the Denver Post baseball tournament is Pampa's Dutch Prather, first baseman, who joined the team in Denver after being with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league. He and his bride left Sacramento two weeks ago and arrived in Denver for the tournament. The big fellow hit four for four opening game, one a home run. His home run yesterday, with two on, carried "more than 500 feet. In the four games played by the Oilers, Prather has been at bat 18 times and baged 11 hits for an average of .611.

SKREET EXPERTS WILL VIE AT PAN-AMERICAN

DALLAS, Aug. 7 (AP)—A sharp-shooting band of skeet experts, headed by the crack Tulsa, Okla., team will compete here next Saturday and Sunday in the Pan-American open tournament. Hunter Dempsey, tournament director for the Dallas Skeet and Gun club, announced today.

The Tulsans, who won the southwestern five-man team championship at Tyler recently without missing a target, will come here in full force. The personnel includes Jack Lindsay, who won the southwestern individual senior title; G. C. Parker, Jr., southwestern junior title; G. C. Parker, Sr., Walter Dinger and Bobbie Parker.

Eugene Lowe of Refugio, holder of the Texas small-bore title, will head a group from the Rio Grande section.

Rufus A. King, O. M. Mallinson, Frank Wood, Bert Clark, Sol Frundlick have returned from Wichita Falls and entries papers of Powell Erickson, Sr., and Powell Erickson, Jr., and C. E. Heath, all Oklahoma City, have been received.

By ALAN GOULD. NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—To the man who has paddled his own canoe, this America's cup racing business is not only a bit complicated but a senging luxury that staggers the imagination.

Roughly speaking and for no purpose other than to get permission of a battered old ewer originally worth 100 guineas or $500, it's estimated $25,000,000 has been spent for big sailing boats.

This includes the yachts built for tryouts on both sides of the water as well as the huge schooners, cutters and sloops that actually were selected for America's cup competition over a 67-year period.

The sum spent for the racers doesn't include the upkeep or all the items involved in taking your yacht to the races. T. O. M. Sopwith rushed to completion a $2,000,000 motor yacht so that the British sportsman and his accompanying party would be comfortably and conveniently fixed for this year's trip to American waters.

Ranger and Endeavour II each cost nearly $500,000 to build, equip, and keep in condition for this year's races. Their sails alone cost around $100,000. Each carried professional crews of 25 men, including a captain and two mates. Every time one or the other was hauled out for inspection or repairs, there was a substantial shipyard bill.

Nobody connected with the America's cup has the slightest thought about gate receipts or any source of income calculated to absorb part of the huge expense involved.

What about all the publicity? Perhaps, in the case of Sir Thomas Lipton, it wasn't overlooked and did no harm to the tea business of the popular old Irishman. But, over a period of 31 years, during which he made five unsuccessful challenges, Lipton probably spent close to $10,000,000 on his shamrocks and all the things that otherwise went into the cost of yachting operations.

Tournament's Leading Hitter

DUTCH PRATHER

Leading hitter in the Denver Post baseball tournament is Pampa's Dutch Prather, first baseman, who joined the team in Denver after being with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league. He and his bride left Sacramento two weeks ago and arrived in Denver for the tournament. The big fellow hit four for four opening game, one a home run. His home run yesterday, with two on, carried "more than 500 feet. In the four games played by the Oilers, Prather has been at bat 18 times and baged 11 hits for an average of .611.

LITTLE JOE BERRY, FORMER PAMPAN, WINNING MOUNDSMAN

Pampa's Joe Berry, who joined the Los Angeles team in the Pacific Coast league after a successful season with the Pampa Road Runners in 1934, has hit his stride this season and is getting plenty of favorable publicity after a successful season with the Pampa Road Runners in 1934. Last week's issue of the Sporting News had the following to say about Berry: Ray Prim, who has chalked up 16 victories against seven setbacks, Scoop Thomas and Jittery Joe Berry need only one more winning game to help them send the Angels off in the pennant scramble, and Salveson may be just the gent. To add to the new era of optimism in the Angel camp, Red Evans, the hard-luck pitcher of the club, came up with a brilliantly pitched game against Seattle, and Dutch Lieber has shown a return to form.

Of late, Berry and Prim have been carrying most of the load. Jittery Joe, who weighs only 145 pounds, pitched a shut-out against Sacramento the night of July 28, and came back with four innings of scoreless relief, helping to receive credit for the 6-5 win in the July 30 opener. Prim is without a doubt, the best southpaw in the Pacific Coast league, and some major league clubs are expected to grab him before it's draft time this side of the Rockies.

The same issue of the Sporting News carried the information that Muri "Dutch" Prather, first baseman for Sacramento had followed in the footsteps of pitchers Earl Mills and Herman Drefs of Portland and moved to Pampa, Texas, to play semi-pro ball.

Same Old Story, California Wins

CULVER Ind. Aug. 7 (AP)—It was the same old story of California tennis dominance in the finals of the national junior and boys championships at the Culver Military Academy today.

Joseph Hunt of Los Angeles who has lost in the finals the last two years today won the junior singles title with a heady and brilliant victory over Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., 1-6 7-5, 6-6 4.

Robert Carrothers of Coronado, Calif., stroked to an uphill victory over Richard Bender of Elizabeth, N. J., 4-6 7-5, 6-2.

In a thrilling junior doubles final match Hunt and John Moore of Los Angeles, edged out Kovacs and his partner, Myron McNamara, of Hollywood 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 618, 8-6.

Bees Defeat League Leaders

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—After Bill Lee had been forced from the mound with a side injury, the Boston Bees fell on three Chicago relief hurlers today to defeat the league-leading Cubs, 3 to 6. YACHT RACING BUSINESS DOESN'T MAKE MONEY

By ALAN GOULD. NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—To the man who has paddled his own canoe, this America's cup racing business is not only a bit complicated but a senging luxury that staggers the imagination.

Roughly speaking and for no purpose other than to get permission of a battered old ewer originally worth 100 guineas or $500, it's estimated $25,000,000 has been spent for big sailing boats.

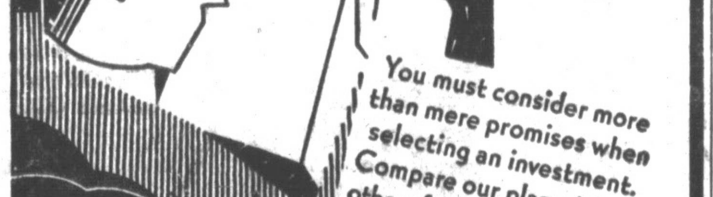

This includes the yachts built for tryouts on both sides of the water as well as the huge schooners, cutters and sloops that actually were selected for America's cup competition over a 67-year period.

The sum spent for the racers doesn't include the upkeep or all the items involved in taking your yacht to the races. T. O. M. Sopwith rushed to completion a $2,000,000 motor yacht so that the British sportsman and his accompanying party would be comfortably and conveniently fixed for this year's trip to American waters.

Ranger and Endeavour II each cost nearly $500,000 to build, equip, and keep in condition for this year's races. Their sails alone cost around $100,000. Each carried professional crews of 25 men, including a captain and two mates. Every time one or the other was hauled out for inspection or repairs, there was a substantial shipyard bill.

Nobody connected with the America's cup has the slightest thought about gate receipts or any source of income calculated to absorb part of the huge expense involved.

What about all the publicity? Perhaps, in the case of Sir Thomas Lipton, it wasn't overlooked and did no harm to the tea business of the popular old Irishman. But, over a period of 31 years, during which he made five unsuccessful challenges, Lipton probably spent close to $10,000,000 on his shamrocks and all the things that otherwise went into the cost of yachting operations.

You must consider more than mere promises when selecting an investment. Compare our plan with all others for past and present safety and earnings, and consider especially the fact that here your investment is always at par, with no speculative hazards involved. Investigate, compare, and then decide.

BLANTON COURT OF INQUIRY TO SIFT EVIDENCE

RAYMONDVILLE, Aug. 7 (AP)—The nine-month-old Blanton disappearance case, one of the most mysterious ever to penetrate the colorful southwest Texas cattle country, enters another phase Monday with the convening of a court of inquiry.

Slender threads of evidence were expected to be magnified in an effort to throw some light on the fate of the missing father and son, Luther, 37, and John, 24, who vanished Nov. 18, last, while hunting within 500 yards of the doorstep of their farm home near San Petula.

County officers will be joined by state officials in the inquiry.

Judge W. E. McCharen, large of stature and grey-haired, said he was confident the case would be solved. Discussing the case, the Wilcox county jurist said: "I expect to push the investigation in every way possible until it is solved. And it will be solved. I'm confident of that. I'm sure that there are a number of men who already know the story of the disappearance, and if they will talk, that's all that will be necessary."

"I'm going to do everything possible to get to the bottom of things at the court of inquiry Monday. However, I deeply regret that knowledge of the hearing has become known publicly. You'll recall a Wilcox county grand jury last November was charged with the task of getting to the bottom of the matter, and it subpoenaed a witness only to find later that he had been warned and rushed out of the state," Judge McCharen will be assisted in the inquiry by Assistant Attorney General George Kilpatrick, an experienced criminal prosecutor. Kilpatrick was assigned to the case by Attorney General William McCraw after Judge McCharen requested aid from Governor James V. Allred.

The state ranger headquarters also assigned additional men to the case, ordering two veteran officers, Ernest Best and Manny Gault, to Raymondville. Gault was among the officers who ambushed and killed the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker on a Louisiana highway several years ago.

hal after a month as an inactive onlooker in North China, declared, "I intend to exhaust all diplomatic possibilities in seeking a solution."

But he added that "circumstances seem gradually to be pointing toward a grave crisis."

In Nanking a foreign office spokesman said, "If Kawaguchi desires to open negotiations there will be negotiations; they can be entered into at any time as long as diplomatic relations exist." He added, however:

"Relations of China and Japan have reached such a critical stage that the issue of war or peace must be determined quickly, but it still is not too late to avert an armed conflict if Japan will make a great effort to that end. Failing such an effort it will be difficult to discover further hope for peace."

The 100 per cent Japanese evacuation of Hankow was without precedent in the history of foreign settlements in China.

As the undeclared war in north-eastern Hopeh province came to the end of its first month tonight, Chinese military authorities at Nanking expressed belief that new and more extensive Japanese operations were impending.

The chief theater of Japanese offensive action, they said, would be the Peiping-Suiyuan railway running northwest from the ancient capital into Chahar and Mongolia.

Kalgan Next Objective.

Kalgan, capital of Chahar 125 miles northwest of Peiping, was expected to be Japan's next objective.

Paotingfu, 85 miles southwest of Peiping on the railway to Hankow, was expected to be another goal of Japanese attacks. Reports to Nanking said the Japanese were impressing hundreds of Chinese into forced labor building military works along the Yungting river, west of Peiping, which was the scene of the first Sino-Japanese clash the night of July 7.

In North China, especially along the three railways radiating from Peiping, steadily increasing Japanese forces and loosely organized Chinese armies were moving ominously toward each other.

Foreign observers at Tientsin estimated the army with which Japan dominates all northwestern Hopeh now totals 45,000 officers and men, although fresh units were arriving steadily from Manchuria and Japan.

Within close striking distance of this Japanese army it was estimated there were 75,000 Chinese troops of various commands. The total of Chinese troops between the Peiping-Tientsin line and the Yellow river was placed at 150,000—half of them controlled by the central government—while below the Yellow river along the Lunghai railway were about 200,000 more.

maybe four three months, Japan will win as always; but then we lick 'em. People in China are ready to fight now, all of them. Everybody is willing to fight till death to the last man. They fight like sixty to whip Japanese, and I know they will."

The Pampa Chinese informant related how his countrymen have always hated the Japanese. He explained that Japan does not hate China, but merely wants the land for her overpopulated nation. "In other times," he said "Japan has come quickly on China and she has not been ready, but this time we get 'em."

The Pampa is well-informed on the war — he receives a daily paper from China.

His opinion of China's position in the war was further explained in the paper. Evidently, all of China is anxious to defeat the invaders this time or die in battle. Will the prophecy of the loyal Oriental here come true? Will China really win the war after "four or three" months? Time will tell.

SENATE LEADERS WILL CONSIDER FARM BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Senate leaders said privately today they hoped to give President Roosevelt "definite assurance" Monday that general farm legislation would be considered during the first days of the January session.

A group of southern House members, seeking cotton loans, reported this week President Roosevelt told them he could not approve them until there was a promise production control legislation would be enacted not later than at the start of the next Congress.

Administration spokesmen in the Senate said they hoped to pass a bill Monday authorizing an agricultural subcommittee to hold hearings throughout the country on the general farm bill during the summer. It would require a report the first week of the January session.

They said they hoped this provision would satisfy both the President and 40 senators who said they would seek a special session in December to consider farm legislation.

LIME FORMATION WELL PROVES BIG PRODUCER

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 7 (AP)—The R. M. Ragsdale No. 1 John Taber oil well, 20 miles north of here, today proved the largest producer in Brown county.

It flowed 750 barrels of 43 gravity oil daily after treatment with 3,000 gallons of acid. It was broken during a scheduled 12-hour railroad commission potential test.

In five hours of the test preceding the break, the well flowed 263 barrels in tanks. It was thought to have opened six to eight miles of territory.

The well topped ranger lime at 2,442 feet and bottomed in lime at 2,461 feet. It is located in the northwest quarter of the H. T. & B. railway survey No. 87.

Franks then drove to Pampa, where he contacted Sheriff Talley. The two started a search for the Spencer car and found it parked on North Cuyler street. They visited stores along the street until Franks identified the man in the store where he was buying groceries.

Sheriff Talley made the arrest when Spencer paid for the groceries with a check made out for $8.88.

INSURANCE ON WHEAT OKAYED IN COMMITTEE

They look so much alike you'd think they were sister and brother—and they are! But the similarity doesn't end there for Jeanne and Jimmy Cagney. Jeanne is ending Jimmy's family monopoly in the movies with a debut of her own before the cameras soon. And, judging from that smile and those dimples, she won't have to borrow any fame from her brother.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Legislation for government insurance of wheat crops, already passed by the Senate and endorsed by President Roosevelt, won approval today of the house agriculture committee.

Chairman Jones (D., Tex.) said the action was by no means unanimous. "The committee will seek House consideration of the measure before adjournment."

The bill would create a federal crop insurance corporation with a capitalization of $100,000,000 to insure wheat farmers against loss of their crops from drought, floods, frost, hail, insects and other natural causes. An additional $10,000,000 would be available for administrative expenses for the first year.

The House committee added a provision to limit the government's subscription for stock in the proposed corporation to $20,000,000 during the first year. It also stipulated that only one-year insurance contracts be negotiated during the first three years of the program.

The insurance proposal incorporates some features of Secretary Wallace's "ever-normal" granary system for storage of surplus crops

HOUSTON LEADS STATE IN BUILDING PERMITS

DALLAS, Aug. 7 (AP)—A $690,000 building permit for the 10-story federal building at Houston, issued this week, boosted that city's permits for the year to $12,984,005. For the week, Fort Worth ranked second with $93,505 in permits to bring the year's total for that city to $5,120,036.

FAST ACTION'S IN ORDER HERE!

It's no time now to dawdle around—here's August, summer's flying, that car of yours is going down steadily in trade-in value—and the Buicks are moving plenty fast!

Right now this big, silky, fast-stepping, valve-in-head straight-eight is still selling at the lowest price in Buick history.

It's still your big chance to get a man-size bundle of thrill-packed travel-power at rock-bottom bargain rates. You can still have one for less than some sixes cost—and it's so far out in front of the others that no matter what they do next, they won't be able to match the '37 Buick for value!

So go slip your frame behind a Buick's ready wheel and head its nose out toward the long, wide highway. Try out its great power with your gas-treadle toe, give yourself over to it and let it show how it can send your spirits soaring.

And when you've sampled its mettle and learned the modest price figures, just ask yourself if it's likely that we'll soon see such value again! Yes, sir, it's a buy—the buy—just too good a buy to let slip.

So get busy—right now! Fast action is in order! Give us a ring and we'll talk things over!

"It's Buick again!"

WARDROBE DEMONSTRATORS SHOW ACHIEVEMENTS TO CLUB MEMBERS

The County Wide 4H club held its achievement day Thursday. The club members met in Mrs. Kelley's office at 1:30 p. m. and with her went to the home of one wardrobe demonstrator, Gwendolyn Couss, in the Hopkins community. Gwendolyn had no clothes closet, so she built one, 27 inches by 4 1/2 feet, in a corner of her room. She built it herself out of scrap lumber and papered it.

Guests there were Mr. and Mrs. I. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Opal Franklin, and Miss Louise Dimitt. Mrs. Kelley and the club members then went to the home of Margaret Tignor, another wardrobe demonstrator. There they inspected Margaret's wardrobe and improved closet. Margaret's club dress is made of peacock blue candlewick sheer. By means of a separate peplum, plain belt, bolero, and striped silk sash the dress can be worn five different ways.

Punch was served to Mrs. Kelley, eight members, and the following guests: Mmes. E. A. Shackleton, Norman Walberg, O. G. Smith, J. J. Goad, Chester Williams, Misses Louise Dimitt, Rosemary Lewis, Lucille White, Marie Farrington, Mary Belle Montgomery, Messrs. Chester Williams and Cecil Lewis. The group then went to the home of Leona Lewis, another wardrobe demonstrator. Although her wardrobe demonstration is good her most outstanding work is in canning. In spite of the fact that products for canning have been very difficult to obtain this year, she has filled about 160 containers with fruits and vegetables.

Guests there were Mrs. O. G. Smith, Mrs. Chester Williams, Miss Louise Dimitt, and Miss Rosemary Lewis.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Be adventurous with your jelly variations. Variety sweetens the breakfast toast. Did you ever combine bursting fat blueberries with rhubarb, from the backyard garden?

Blueberry Rhubarb Jelly
One and one-half pounds blueberries. 1 1-2 pounds rhubarb. 7 1-2 cups sugar. 1 bottle fruit pectin.

Clean rhubarb and cut in large pieces. Pick over blueberries, wash with kindness then combine fruits and put through food chopper. Place the crushed fruit and juices in cheesecloth bag and let drain through. There should be 4 cups of juice. If lacking, add enough water or more juice to make the exact 4-cup measurement. Pour into a wide, shallow kettle and add sugar. Stir well and bring quickly to boil over hottest part of the fire. Then turn in fruit pectin and stir with determination. Bring again to an angry boil and hold it there for exactly half a minute. Whisk from fire, pour into glasses immediately. Cover with new clean paraffin while hot. Mark it with a warning "Not to be eaten until the first snow flies" and lock it away in your pantry closet.

Perhaps a rather sentimental old-fashioned jelly might be useful during a long winter. Might as well try it, anyway. It tastes pleasant.

Rose Geranium Jelly

Tart apples, sugar, rose geranium leaves. Wash and stem tart apples. Quarter them and place in a wide shallow kettle. Add just enough water to be visible through top layer of apples. Cover and cook until apples are soft. Drain through cheesecloth bag but do not press bag. Strain juice a second time. Measure out juice. Allow 3-4 cup sugar to each cup juice. Boil juice 5 minutes, then add sugar. Continue to boil another 15 minutes, until jelly reaches temperature of 220 degrees F. Remove at once from fire and pass 3 bunches crushed rose geranium leaves through hot jelly until desired flavor is given. Remove leaves and add a few drops of red vegetable coloring. Mix, then pour at once into sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin while still hot.

Vary your standard currant jelly recipe by combining two parts red raspberry juice with three parts red currant juice, using 3-4 cup sugar for each cup juice. It's a different and delicate thought.

Mrs. Poe Honored At Recent Shower

Mmes. A. Kuehl and A. C. Houchin entertained Mrs. Ira Poe with a shower Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Houchin. Mrs. Poe was the former Dorothy John Davis before her recent marriage.

A pink and blue basket of gifts was presented to the honoree. After the gifts were inspected by the group, watermelon was served to Mmes. G. P. Risley, E. E. Poe, H. A. Layne, T. S. Herring, T. C. Carter, W. W. Russell, E. G. Frasher, D. B. Hutchens, J. B. Rose, D. W. Coffman, O. G. Killingsworth, and Poe; Misses Elizabeth Ann Cross, Claudine and Betty Jo Frasher, Maxine Houchin, and the hostesses. Gifts were sent by Mmes. Coe Rose, John Hudson, Roscoe Pirtle, E. M. Robb, Jimmie McCoy, E. P. Liffany, and H. W. Waters.

Hemlines followed stock prices during depression years—lower, lower they went. The downward trend was so pronounced that it continued even after the 1935 evening gowns had short trains, swept the floor; street dresses were 8 inches or less above the toe.

1937

The upswing of hemlines started in 1936. A modest 10 inches for street wear, ankle length for evening. The fashion dictators started something they can't stop. In store for Fall 1937—13 to 15-inch hemlines for street dresses; 8 to 10-inch for dance frocks.

1938?

Will skirts again be as short as this 1925-26 model? Will dimpled knees again be exposed to view? Maybe you don't remember just how short dresses were in the Jazz Era. The height of formality was to modestly veil the knee in the evening.

LOCAL MUSIC TEACHER TELLS OF STUDIES AND TRIP IN PARIS

Madeline Tarpley Rowntree, who has been attending the Master Session at the Ecole Normale de Musique de Paris this summer, announces the reopening of her studio at 417 West Francis.

While in Paris, Mrs. Rowntree studied the French method of teaching children with Mademoiselle Mangot, ultra modern composition with Nadia Boulanger; and the technique and interpretation of classics with Alfred Cortot. The works of Debussy were studied with Maurice Dumesnil, who was a close friend of Debussy up to the time of his death. Dumesnil is now the greatest living exponent of Debussy. Mrs. Rowntree visited the home of Debussy while she was in Paris.

In telling of her trip, Mrs. Rowntree pointed out some of the interesting places visited by the group of piano teachers. They were the Palais Royal, the Fenthenon, morning services at Notre Dame and the Russian church, Napoleon's tomb, and the Paris opera house where the operas, Lohngarin and Faust were presented. One of the most interesting places visited was the central market where peasants take their vegetables and produce at 4 o'clock in the morning and have to be out of the city limits by 7 in the evening. Stacks of cauliflower, carrots, onions, cabbage, and spinach as large as a car were in the streets. The group visited St. Denis, the burial place of most of the French kings. On a trip to Chartre, they passed through many small French villages. The tourists saw the Cathedral at Chartre which is the greatest of all French cathedrals. It is noted for its 134 12th and 13th century stained glass windows. Even though all of Mrs. Rowntree's time was spent in France, she had an interesting trip.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

Nowadays, a box of soap is one of the most attractive gifts you can take to your week-end hostess, give the girl who is going back to college or offer as a bride party prize. Cosmetics manufacturers have outdone themselves to make their various soaps not only better but a good deal more attractive.

One fine perfume house now features a lovely ivory white box which contains six guest size cakes of soap shaped like flowers. Another puts three giant size cakes of bath soap in an attractive container. One of these will solve bath soap problems in the average house for a good long time.

Also an ideal gift, and something you will want for yourself as well, is a carnation cologne in a charming crystal bottle with a little gold crown top. The scent, as the name implies, is spicy and refreshing—a fine after-bath item on hot days.

There seems to be no limit to the number of fine bath preparations. From soothing body lotions to keep skin smooth and soft to cooling, friction lotions to stimulate circulation and leave your flesh tingling, there's a wide variety from which to pick and choose. One new pale green lotion, to be patted on briskly after bath or shower, has an especially invigorating effect.

Incidentally, this is the time of year to use your bath brush even more conscientiously. Elbows, knees and arms which are scrubbed and scrubbed and scrubbed with warm lather every day during August and September will require less cream and less attention to make them smooth and lovely for winter's social season.

If you are a shower addict, you might like to invest in a new shower attachment which contains bath salts. This screws on the regular pipe and the water flows through the salts, letting you bathe in scented water even though you never get in the tub.

Upward Curls Flatter the Face

Swept upward at front and sides and finished with a halo roll of little curls all the way around the back, this charming summer evening coiffure flatters mature as well as young faces. (From Peter Pace, New York)

Top Curls Accent Features

For the sophisticate, the simply curled coiffure, which lends itself readily to quite short hair, is admirable. Notice the way the thick curls appear to overlap at the sides, how the top ones accentuate forehead and eyes and the way the back swirl shows off the shape of the head.

AN AMERICAN CONTRAST TO EGYPT'S BOY KING

The fact that Egypt has a brand-new king would mean little to the average American if it were not for the fact that the new ruler, Farouk I, has become the third of the world's "boy" sovereigns.

Just how a lad of high school age could be expected to take over the enormous duties of running a nation is a matter for deep contemplation in the democratic United States.

Because of our rules and customs, such a thing would be impossible here. But in the hands of the kingmakers with which Europe abounds, it's a simple trick.

Little more than a year ago, Farouk was no more fitted to rule Egypt than any American boy in knee pants.

While a regency took charge of affairs at home, young Farouk was sent to Europe, where within five months, he was groomed for the job of riding back into Cairo in a gilded coach, making the proper responses at the investiture ceremony, delivering a few choice words for the radio broadcast to his subjects, and then settling down to give Egypt a long, fruitful reign.

Americans tempted by the delusion that all this is the glorious fulfillment of a great and wonderful destiny should try to draw a parallel in their own government.

Suppose our method of executive succession brought a 17-year-old youth to the president's chair. Then suppose the cabinet, borrowing power to rule meanwhile, sent the boy-president out of the country for a five-month preparatory course before swearing him in with full powers.

Suppose, also, that two million cheering people then jammed Washington to greet the little fellow as he rode triumphantly to the White House down an avenue festooned with lights, banners, and flags.

It is all too preposterous ever to happen here. But the thought is valuable. It provides a refreshing foil for our quibbles over minor details of the American form of government.

And it provides an effective tool for deflating occasional amateurs who get ideas about kingmaking on this side of the Atlantic.

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

This is the first of two articles in which Preston Grover investigates the activities of the Resettlement Administration in obtaining low, fixed medical fees for its clients.

WASHINGTON—The Resettlement Administration has carried the idea of low cost medicine so effectively into the country districts of the West and South that it has become a subject of deep study and much concern among physicians and surgeons.

Compare these prices with current charges in your neighborhood and you will see what is involved:

Major operation (appendicitis, etc.) $50
Minor operations (tonsils, etc.) $20
Hospitalization $1.66 a day
Office calls $1 to $2

It must be emphasized that these are right next door to "charity" prices, for the patients affected are for the most part clients of the Resettlement Administration and can pay only what they may borrow from the government or accumulate under government supervised efforts.

The Resettlement Administration has been confronted with the medical problem almost from its creation in 1935. Its clients are largely farmers without credit resources even for planting and harvesting crops, much less to pay for medical services. The problem became acute in the Dakotas during the 1936 drought. In that summer the Resettlement Administration really set itself up in the medical field.

This situation developed, as described by Dr. R. C. Williams, Resettlement medical director:

Of 85,000 farmers in North Dakota, 45,000 became Resettlement clients. A comparable condition existed in South Dakota. The farmers were not alone among those affected. The doctors felt the money shortage also, especially those with rural practice—and that included most all.

Thus when the Resettlement Administration moved in with a proposal to lend the stricken farmers enough to plant crops and to pay limited medical fees the country doctors were willing to cooperate. The plan they worked out has been adopted with modifications and variations in several other states.

Families with the trifling income the drought left them set down with a Resettlement worker and computed what income would be available. Sometimes it represented only $200 to $400 cash. Well, the doctor could expect 10 per

Tex's Topics

Here's a story that O. Henry would have enjoyed writing—the chronicle of lovely Mary Dowell, better known as "Stuttering Sam." She is a Fort Worth girl. Her father is chief of police there. Miss Dowell stutters, as her nickname indicates. Last fall she was in New York City trying to get a job on the stage or in radio. She spent hours in waiting rooms and then, when at last she faced an executive, she became so excited that she stuttered until the busy man broke in: "Smart girl, eh! I've got no time for practical jokers."

A booking agent heard of the Texas show-girl. He was looking for someone to fill a spot on the Rudy Vallee program and sent for Stuttering Sam. She was handed a piece of paper containing a few lines she was to say and, reading them over and over to herself, she breathed the wish that for once she would not stutter. Sure enough, when the test was given, she repeated the lines without a bit of stammering. "Pshaw!" said the booking agent. "I knew that stuttering business was a gag."

And so, because he really had wanted a performer who stuttered, Miss Dowell lost the opportunity to take part in one of the great national radio hours. But here's the happy ending: In Billy Rose's Casa Manana revue at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta, she wears the gorgeous golden peacock costume in the "Lost Horizon" scene with its Oriental splendor, and in the finale, "It Can't Happen Here," she is clad in the largest gown ever made, 1,200 yards of spangled satin, with 28 attendants carrying the train. And so success has come to Stuttering Sam. O. Henry could have made a good story out of this.

The Chinese who invented the fan would never recognize it today, in the left field bleachers swinging a pop bottle. An unclaimed sack of flour is reported from the Cheyenne postoffice. Could that be what Jim Farley had in the bag? The English woman who complained she lost 20 pounds at the race track betting booth could clean up if she could put her experience into the form of a recipe. Indiana's state treasury reports a surplus, at last promising something like real harmony on the Banks of the Wabash.

Air stewardesses learning interviewing and reporting will be handicapped by a cardinal principle: never to get up in the air on a big story. Sugar bloc leaders in Congress lost their fight with the administration, indicating that from now on if they don't like it they can't lump it. Persons who get splashed by cars on rainy days must wish the old era of the puddle jumper were back. Air commerce bureau officials who put the ban on stunt flights must be congratulated on clearing up one old matter: the sky definitely isn't the limit.

The futuristic art trend, it is heard, was stimulated by the World War. Next time such possibilities should be considered before hostilities begin. Funny that the government should think of adopting a new budget when the last one it had is already an orphan. The electric eel is noted for its ability to deliver electrical shocks. The fore part of its body represents the positive pole, while its tail acts as the negative pole. About 2,500,000 Americans are hay fever sufferers.

Hundreds of girls are employed in the egg freezing and processing plants of Shanghai, China, to break and smell the 5,000,000 or more eggs handled there daily. Expert sniffers can detect a bad egg in a mixture containing several hundred eggs. Apple pie is the great American dessert. Stewards on railway dining cars always carry a generous supply. If an extra kernel were added to each ear, it is estimated that the corn crop of the United States would be increased by 5,000,000 bushels.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The General Atlas Chemical company made application for permission to burn residue gas from the gasoline plant north of Pampa. Plans were made to build a carbon black plant near the Empire Heithole well.

Mayor F. P. Reid and City Secretary A. H. Fisher endorsed a Federal Reserve credit check for $230,000 and deposited it with the city depository.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Miss Elizabeth Cullum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Cullum, was married to L. N. Atchison of Breckenridge. The Rev. C. A. Long officiated.

The price of wheat here jumped two cents to send the top price to 35 cents a bushel, the highest of the year.

cent of that. So the client then went to the doctor of his choice, laid his cards on the table and explained what routine medical service he needed—such as vaccinations and whether a baby would be coming along.

Thus the doctor knew what to expect. He is asked to supply medical service to a family of perhaps five for a year at $25, more or less. It is small, but it has its advantages. The doctor knows he will be paid, and the farmer knows he won't run into a staggering fee.

The result was that farmers who might otherwise have had to join the roving caravans that left the Dakotas during the drought were able to stay on the job.

Of course these family medical fees do not cover operations or obstetrical services. That comes extra, and the farmer must expect to borrow or receive a grant from Resettlement for emergency cases.

How the idea spread from that seed will be handled in another article tomorrow.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This is a fight night at Madison Square Garden. Much of New York is on hand, and much of Hollywood. It is 8:30 o'clock and a murmur of excitement ripples across the house as Jack Dempsey moves down the aisle and grabs himself a ringside pew. Jack Dempsey has only to show himself to set the whole garden tingling with reminiscences of Jack-the-killer of other days. Yes it is ten years since Dempsey pulled on a glove. That is one thing about the fight mob in New York. It never forgets its idols.

Sonja Henle the Norse lass who has made everybody's conscious has the fight fever too that pleasant malady having been acquired in Hollywood where everybody takes in the scraps. She has been in New York only six hours, but she is at the ringside. Al Jolson is talking earnestly with the manager of a new heavyweight. Al is a fight manager or himself and seldom misses a match. Eddie Garr, the mime, and Maximilian Bergers are shouting the virtues of their favorite bruisers. Owen Davis back from Skowhegan, wends his way through the crowded aisles.

The real business of the evening is at hand now. A coal black deck-walker in a flaming scarlet robe slips through the ropes. In the opposite corner is another ebony lad, fat and rusty looking. You wouldn't give him much chance against the lithe, muscle-rippling Harlequin in the scarlet robe. His middle is too thickish. He has that flabby look that isn't good for prizefighters. Yet, the fight is over in the whistle of a couple of right hand punches. The adonis from Harlem bounces in and the fat boy from the other side of the ring jars him back to the ancient sleep of Africa. It is as simple as that. He drops as if a sawed-off pool cue had been laid behind his ear.

Next comes a deacon, who is slightly less black than his predecessors. He is merely two shades deeper than an Abyssinian mid-night. The deacon isn't having such a good night, and, as one of the sports writers aptly wise-cracks, the deacon is in need of prayer as early as the third round.

Presently the champion of Italy crawls through the ropes. He has the high cheek-bones of Primo Carnera, and he is a swarthy olive in complexion. The first pop out of the box his eye is closed. It gets angrier and more gory with each punch. Yet, the fight is tame. Until the fifth round. From then it Italy begins to show something.

They carry on to a rousing finish, with Mussolini's man winning.

There are some five or six fights and 40 rounds in all. In row 4, section E, sits an Oriental lass, with jet black hair and eyes that flame with excitement. An odd place, you think, this arena of Western rowdism, for one so emblematic of the Rising Sun. But Anna May Wong is as western as you.

"Biff him, Joe!" she shrieks, "Biff him!"

And, mister, Joe biffs him!

How's Your Health?

Edited by Dr. LAGO GALDSTON for New York Academy of Medicine

"I had a child in an area where infantile paralysis appeared. I would take him to a good nose and throat specialist and ask him to apply a spray consisting of 1 per cent zinc sulphate and 1 per cent pantoic acid in 1/2 per cent solution of sodium chloride in the manner recently developed and described in medical literature," said an outstanding authority on infantile paralysis.

"At present no guarantee of protection by this means can be given, nor can anyone guarantee that no ill effects will result from the spray. Yet there are reasons to believe that the spray is reasonably safe."

This procedure when applied to monkeys, susceptible to the virus of infantile paralysis, protected them completely from infection. But experience has taught us to be cautious in applying the findings in animal experiments directly to human beings.

Taking the child to a good nose and throat specialist was stressed because to spray the nose thoroughly calls for more than ordinary skill and care. The failure of the pantoic acid sprays employed by the U. S. public health service under Dr. Armstrong in the Alabama infantile paralysis epidemic of 1936 is ascribed by Dr. Armstrong to the inadequacy of the spraying methods employed. To care must be taken to reach all of the membranes of the nose and notably those high up. To accomplish this a specially constructed atomizer must be employed and the spraying must be done thoroughly and carefully.

The complications that might arise from the use of the zinc sulphate solution are presumably not serious. It is known that zinc sulphate solution, used alone, causes a severe headache which is not followed by permanent or untoward effects. To prevent this complication, the local anesthetic pontocain is added to the solution. The sense of smell is temporarily impaired, following the spraying, but it returns to normal function in due time and no permanent disability in this sense is suffered.

It is believed that possibly some mild form of inflammation in the adjoining sinuses of the head may follow the use of zinc sulphate spray. But even should this develop, it is not likely to prove a very serious complication.

JIM HI GOAN BUYS LOT FROM U. S.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Robert Wildhack tells the story of a man he knew who enjoyed fishing. With a group of friends, this man rented a mountain cabin and prepared for two weeks at his favorite sport.

But, unknown to himself and his friends, the man was an extremely masculine snorer. His companions stood for it four nights and then made him sleep outside. Result: He contracted a cold and died.

The moral? Hear Professor Wildhack:

"If only he had studied sound phenomena as I have, he could have mixed a saline quality to his snoring, made it more pleasing, and he would have been allowed to sleep in the cabin. Instead, ignorance of sound phenomena caused his death."

Wildhack, you can see, is serious about his work as a sneezing and snoring specialist—or, as he puts it, a student of sound phenomena. His specialty required a great deal of study, sound phenomena being a course that cannot be taken at college.

"It so happens that my branch of it," he declares gravely, "is amusing because people are amused by snores and sneezes."

Wildhack, now an alumnus of "The Broadway Melody," first decided on a study of sound phenomena when his wife found his own renditions of sneezes and snores amusing. Working as a cartoonist in New York City, he had to travel many miles to his home on the outskirts of Long Island. Uncertain of his exact arrival time, his wife would cook dinner after he came—and, to keep her amused, he would sound off snores and sneezes he had heard. From this amateur performance he progressed professionally to radio and stage and thence to the screen.

Seems to me that John Boles has the perfect design for living in Hollywood. Makes pictures, which means he makes money, and has kept his head through several steady years of success. Makes no secret of the fact that he's a family man, his home and yet the Boleses get around socially, too. He's never too busy to be courteous, and yet he never gives the impression so many actors do of "turning on the charm."

CITY SANITARY OFFICER WARNS AGAINST FEVER

Two cases of undulant fever have been reported in Pampa, according to T. J. Worrell, city sanitary officer. He has been unable to trace the source, which usually is from animals. Milk from some cows has been known to cause the fever. Dr. Worrell reported Pampa's milk supply in excellent condition.

Dr. Worrell at the same time warned housewives to wash and thoroughly clean all vegetables and fresh fruit. The sanitary inspector said that much of the stomach trouble and rash prevalent in the city is caused by not properly cleaning and washing fresh fruit and vegetables.

Q. What was the cost to the government of the search for Amelia Earhart? W. E. M.

A. The cost to the government of the search for Amelia Earhart and Fred J. Noonan was not large, as the men who took part in the search received training in scouting and had to be paid their regular salaries regardless of the duty at which they were detailed. The navy department says that no figure is available in regard to the total cost. The U. S. S. Lexington uses 2,000 tons of oil per day when she is operated at her top speed of 34 knots per hour. However, during the search she averaged only about 28 knots per hour. There are 280 barrels of oil in a ton and the cost per barrel is 48 cents.

Q. What is the largest indoor theater in the world? H. S.

A. Radio City Music Hall, with 6,200 seats.

Q. When and where was Bill Robinson, the popular negro actor and dancer, born? P. C.

A. He was born on May 25, 1878, in Richmond, Va.

Q. Why was the first Monday in September chosen for Labor Day? L. S. H.

A. It was chosen because it was a half-way mark for a holiday between the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving.

Q. Will 100 pounds of ice used in a 100-pound ice box last longer in comparison than 50 pounds of ice placed in a box built to hold that amount of ice? N. A. N.

A. Given two boxes of the same shape and with the same wall construction, one box having twice the volume of the other, 100 pounds of ice in the larger box will last longer than 50 pounds in the smaller box.

Q. Does the tiger inhabit South America? J. T.

A. The South American tiger, called by the natives tigre, is the jaguar. There are no true tigers in South America.

Q. In a double rainbow, is one the reflection of the other? H. T.

A. Rainbows are often double and sometimes even triple. One is formed by light once reflected inside the raindrops; the second by light three times reflected, and so on. These several sets of colored beams, enough for several distinct rainbows, may emerge at such angles that they overlap as they enter the eye.

What To Do About Ants

Here is another government bulletin covering an important household problem—the control and destruction of house and lawn ants.

It goes thoroughly into the problem, describing the kinds of ants, with pictures, and telling what to do about them.

This booklet should be in every home. If ants aren't bothering you now, there is no telling when they will.

This coupon is for your order. Fill it in carefully, and enclose five cents in coin to cover handling and postage.

USE THIS COUPON.

Pannhandle Field Potential Increased 12,647 Barrels

GRAY COUNTY LEADS WEEK'S OIL ACTIVITY

Potential of the Pannhandle oil field was hiked 12,647 barrels last week when the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission reported 12 new wells having been taken off test.

Gray county was first in the activity list with 11 new producers with a total production of 7,767 barrels. One county's four new wells were capable of producing 2,487 barrels with Hutchinson county's five tests being given a potential of 1,127 barrels. The other well was in Moore county's No. 1 Ray Ebling, section 18, block M-16, AB&M survey, was given a potential of 371 barrels. The combination oil and gas well opened in considerable new territory.

Best well of the week was the big Warner Erthors producer in section 09-block 25, H&GN survey in Gray county which was given a potential of 3,359 barrels. Oil was from five feet of granite wash formation with the hole bottomed at 2,690 feet.

The sensational West Pampa pool registered six of the Gray county producers and added 2,756 barrels to the potential.

Three gas wells, two in Moore and one in Carson county, produced 138,311,000 cubic feet daily.

Staking of new locations continued active but dropped below the peak for the year last week when 33 first intentions to drill were filed. Last week the number was 22, with Gray county in the van with 10, followed by Carson and Moore with four each, Hutchinson with three and Wheeler with one.

Completions for the week, by counties, follow:

In Gray County
Sinclair-Prairie Oil & Gas Co., No. 3 Asa G. Post, section 105, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 144 barrels with lime pay from 3,230 to 3,278 feet.
British American Oil Co., No. 12 Phillips, section 127, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 494 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,202 to 3,280 feet.
Best well of the week was Warner Erthors No. 5 Chapman, section 09, block 25, H&GN survey, which was given a potential of 3,359 barrels with granite wash pay from 2,685 to 2,690 feet.
Stanford Oil & Gas Co., No. 12 Cobb "C," section 165, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 215 barrels with pay from 3,284 to 3,327 feet in lime.
Stanford Oil & Gas Co., No. 8 I&GN survey, was given a potential of 372 barrels. Pay was between 3,130 and 3,270 feet.
The Texas Co., No. 4 Webb, section 12, block A-9, H&GN survey, gauged 150 barrels with granite wash pay from 2,495 to 2,539 feet.
Cities Service Oil company completed its No. 4 Walberg, section 33, block 3, I&GN survey, in center of county, for 656 barrels with lime pay from 2,965 to 3,070 feet.
Cities Service Oil Co., No. 8 Hughley "B," section 129, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 685 barrels with pay from 3,165 to 3,285 in lime. Pay followed a shot of 660 quarts of nitro-glycerine placed from 3,165 to 3,295 feet.
F. W. Dye et al., No. 8 A. Holmes Heirs, section 106, block 3, I&GN survey, was given a potential of 578 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,130 to 3,245 feet and followed a shot of 600 quarts of nitro placed from 3,130 to 3,270 feet.
Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Co., No. 9 Smith, section 179, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 846 barrels with pay from 3,170 to 3,250 feet in lime. A shot of 515 quarts was placed between 3,170 and 3,250 feet.
Gulf Oil Corp., No. 8 Faulkner, section 32, block B-2, H&GN survey, was good for 263 barrels with pay in granite wash from 2,770 to 2,985 feet.

In Hutchinson County
Travelers Oil Co., No. 4 Halle, section 16, block M-21, ELRR survey, gauged 410 barrels with lime pay from 3,010 to 3,060 feet.
Phillips Petroleum Co., No. 2 Gary, section 26, block M-23, TORR survey, was good for 264 barrels. Pay was from 3,225 to 3,260 feet in lime.
Z. E. Croble, Inc., No. 23 Pitts, section 7, block M-21, TORR survey, gauged 609 barrels with lime pay between 3,225 and 3,260 feet.
Power Petroleum Co., No. 2 Halle, section 5, block M-21, TORR survey, gauged 509 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,025 to 3,070 feet.
Kerlyn Oil Co., No. 1 Starnes, section 22, block M-23, TORR survey, was good for 235 barrels with pay in the lime from 3,200 to 3,285 feet.

In Moore County
Phillips Petroleum Co., No. 1 Ray Ebling, section 18, block M-26, AB&M survey, tested 371 barrels.

Claims To Be Mother of 'Kidnaped' Baby

Horst, whom they admitted "kidnaping" from the home of Otto Horst in Chicago. Mrs. Lavin claims that the child is hers, and was taken from her fifteen minutes after its birth.

Lime pay was between 3,210 and 3,234 feet.

In Carson County
Sinclair-Prairie Oil & Gas Co., No. 8 E. Cooper section 9 block 4, I&GN survey, tested 608 barrels with lime pay between 2,940 and 3,046 feet.
Magnolia Petroleum Co., No. 26 Fee land 214, section 108, block 4, I&GN survey, tested 581 barrels from lime pay at 3,035 to 3,090 feet.
W. W. Holmes et al No. 6 J. K. Quinn, section 7, block 9, I&GN survey, was given an allowable of 531 barrels. Lime pay was found from 3,010 to 3,090 feet.
Cities Service Oil Co., No. 13 Magnolia "D," section 109 block 4, I&GN survey, gauged 641 barrels from lime pay between 2,945 and 3,035 feet. A shot of 660 quarts of nitro was placed between 2,945 and 3,050 feet.

Gas wells tested were:

In Moore County
Continental Oil Co., No. 1 Armstrong, section 248, block 3-T, HT&B survey, tested 81,107,000 cubic feet.
Shell Petroleum Corp., No. C-1 Donaldson, section 176, block 3-T, T&NO survey, was gauged at 53,688,000 cubic feet.

In Carson County
J. M. Huber Petroleum Co., No. R-8 Burnett, section 111, block 5, H&GN survey, tested 3,566,000 cubic feet.

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—In Texas' annals the name of John H. Reagan ranks high. Nowhere is this impressed so plainly as in the capitol where many of Reagan's greatest works were achieved.

In the Senate Chamber to the left of the President's rostrum is the portrait of a portly man with graying hair and stern visage. It is the portrait of Reagan.

It is fitting that portraits of Davis and Reagan should have places of honor in the upper legislative House near each other. Reagan was postmaster general of the Confederacy while Davis was its president.

In a little safe in offices of the State Railroad commission is more practical evidence, however, of Reagan's contact with the capitol. It is the record of the commission's organization in 1891.

First chairman of the commission Reagan had his whole heart and soul in the commission. Strange as it may seem to some, he deemed its mission so great he resigned as United States Senator from Texas in order to take up the commission's work.

It is a leather-bound, brown and red volume, about 12 inches wide, 18 inches long and two thick, which tells of the commission's first meeting. The date was June 10, 1891.

"Mr. W. T. Hunt was requested to act as secretary pro tem. All the commissioners being present, to wit, Jno. H. Reagan, L. L. Foster, and W. P. McLean, they proceeded to organize by electing Jno. H. Reagan chairman. No further business appearing the commission adjourned until 9 o'clock A. M. June 11, 1891."

The first minute was signed in heavy black ink and apparently with firm hand. "John H. Reagan, chairman of the commission."

June 11 there was not much doing and the commission continued its organization, appointing J. J. Arthur of Palestine secretary and John G. Estell of Belton and A. H. Willis, Jr., of Galveston, clerks.

June 20, things began to pop. The commission, "all present," instructed that mail notices be sent general freight agents of all railroads in Texas asking that copies of tariffs in effect be furnished "at once."

The agents were to be advised of "section 4 of the act creating the Railroad Commission of Texas passed at the regular session of the 22nd Legislature and approved April 3, 1891." (The Legislature which concluded its regular session last May was the 45th).

Notices to the agents also were to state the commission on July 6 would begin classification of freight transported over the railroads and would "fix a reasonable rate for each railroad." Then followed in the minutes, again signed by John H. Reagan, several pages of rules which would govern hearings.

From that time until this day the railroad commission has figured tremendously in Texas governmental affairs. It still has much to do with affairs of the railroads, but such affairs have become one of its minor concerns.

Probably the administration of the oil and gas conservation laws, with all the complexities, now occupy most of the commission's time. Mere divisions, but big ones, within the commission deal with gas utilities and motor transportation.

If John H. Reagan were to step back into the commission offices he would find the scene much changed. But none familiar with his record as a member of the Legislature, district judge, member of the National House of representatives 12 years, U. S. Senator four years, postmaster general of the Confederacy and finally, first chairman of the Commission, doubts he would be equal to the modern job.

EWING MOTOR COMPANY TO OPEN AGENCY MONDAY

The appointment of Ewing Motor Company, corner of Somerville and Kingsmill, as Hudson and Terraplane dealer in Pampa has been announced by the Hudson distributor for this territory.

The increasing demand for Hudson-built cars, plus the improving business generally in Pampa has led the Hudson company to increase sales facilities here. Roy Cullum declared. A special shipment of 1937 Hudsons and Terraplanes has been made from Detroit and will be on display for the opening tomorrow. Included in the cars to be shown will be 1937 sedans, broughams and coupes.

Included in the display are duplicates of the 1937 Hudson and Terraplane which broke 40 official American Automobile Association performance and endurance records recently at the Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah.

IT DIDN'T HURT TO BREAK 13 BONES

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Leon D. Cate, Des Moines insurance salesman, suffered 13 broken bones and a brain concussion in an automobile accident but never felt pain.

"You see," he explained as he recovered in a hospital here, "I was unconscious for three days after the crash. For three weeks more I didn't feel anything. The doctors said it was because of the brain concussion."

Kansas ranchers lost 50,000 cattle in the famous New Year's day blizzard of 1886. Dead cattle were piled so thick along the railroad tracks they had to be cleared off before trains could go through.

PAMPA CRASH VICTIM TO BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for James Bozeman, crash victim Friday, will be held at 4 o'clock today in Hedley cemetery following the services.

Bozeman, Pampa youth, was killed instantly Friday when a Burlington southbound passenger train crashed into the small truck in which he was riding eight miles west of Clarendon. Bozeman, 22 years old, was riding with James Williams, also killed, and their grandfather, James M. Bozeman, who was in a critical condition following the tragedy.

The Pampa man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bozeman of Pampa. His father is employed by the Taylor Garage and Machine shop here.

The accident occurred Friday noon after the men had finished getting a load of cantaloupe for Amarillo markets. Driving on a rural road, the trio were crossing the track to reach the state highway when the accident happened. The truck was demolished, and both youths were killed at once.

FIRE AGAIN DESTROYS DWELLING AT M'LEAN

M'LEAN, Aug. 7 — Fire early Friday morning gutted the home of Lawrence West for the second time in less than a year. Dan Dean, occupant of the house, was in Berger at the time of the fire. The blaze started in a closet, firemen said, and was probably caused by combustion. The house was rebuilt following the last fire. A residence adjoining was also burned twice in recent years.

STAY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD BUT STEP UP TO THE V-8 CLASS

WHEN you are asked to pay "Just a Few Dollars More" than Ford prices, go slow. Be sure you're actually getting more car and bigger value—and not just a bigger bill. It may be easy to spend more money, but it's not easy to get more car at anywhere near the same prices.

When you pay more, you should get performance at least as flashing as Ford performance. You should get at least an 8-cylinder engine. You should get positive brakes that will stop the car at least as quickly and smoothly as Ford brakes do. Will you get all these?

Will you get at least as much room? Most cars that boast a little longer wheelbase, waste space under the hood with a much longer engine. The Ford V-8 gives you room in the body where you can use it.

Check claims. Get facts. Make sure that any extra amount you plan to pay brings you corresponding extra value above the price of the Ford.

Finally, remember that the real reason why more than a million 1937 Ford V-8s have already been built is that America recognizes it as an outstanding car and the outstanding value for 1937.

Chapter IX

As Judith gazed for Mark Price to state his request, she wondered what he could have to say to her. Unless he was in love with Millicent and wished her aid in promoting his suit, she could think of no help she might render him. He had not pursued Millicent, though.

"Is there any place you must be in July?" he asked.

"There was—Reno—but she said: 'Not particularly.'"

"Then you're going to listen to me! You wear clothes like nobody's business! Oh yes you do. I've noticed you in these white ducks. And the gay shirts. You give them a rhythm, a dare, a challenge! Lord, what would you do to steal a swelling gown!"

"You've never heard of me. You wouldn't, for you don't follow the fashion pages. I'm Paul Price, a designer just getting my start. I had a bum lung last year and had to leave and come out here. But now I'm going back for a real debut. I'm to have a part in the biggest fall showing. And you—Mrs. Irving, will you model for me? I'm made if you do. Made!"

Judith didn't want to laugh. The sound came out with volition. It burst from her lips and went on and on. She tried to stifle it, but it wouldn't. It swept across the porch and up the road. She put both hands over her mouth.

"She had thought he liked her for herself. Liked her for her fun and laughter. All he wanted was to have her wear clothes so he could be famous. He didn't know who she was!"

Mark Price did not understand the reason for Judith's mirth.

"I know my request is something of a shock," he said. "I can see you don't know much about clothes, running around in these things, but you wear them like a million dollars. You have the figure, the grace, the carriage, the gestures. Your rhythm shows in your dancing, too."

So she didn't know much about clothes—Judith's laughter halted in sheer amazement. This young man wanted her to model in his show. He expected her to display clothes rather than buy them. Well, why not?

After all, she couldn't be among the customers much longer. The world would provide an income. Clothes were her forte. Eventually she might achieve a partnership with Mark Price.

"What must I do?" she asked.

"Wear four creations in the show. These nitwits of 17 and 18, who haven't an ounce of personality, show off the deb things, but when it comes to clothes with appeal and charm for a woman of, say, 28 or 30 or even 35, what kind of models do we get? None! A real frock hasn't a chance to be displayed. Now with you, I can be talked Judith knew that he was seeing the runway, hearing the lilt of the violins and the cello, watching her advance to meet the widening applause. She saw more than the young man did. She caught the amazement in the audience's face. She appeared. This boy would have more publicity than ever he had dreamed.

"I'll do it on one condition," she said.

"And that is?"

"That my name be kept out of it until the actual appearance. Is it a bargain?"

"It is!" They shook hands solemnly.

Millicent's voice, gay and surprised, interrupted. "Judy, darling, the village just telephoned. The train for the past brought the ranch a visitor who is hunting for us. He's on his way here now—do you think—do you suppose . . . ?"

Judy asked the question, too, but she was thinking of a name not that which concerned Millicent. Down the road lights of a car were visible through the distance to be covered measured several miles as yet. Perhaps Phil had come!

It wasn't Phil who presently alighted from the car. It was Bruce. He didn't say much, but his eyes were warm and tender as they watched Millicent.

"It came as soon as the show closed," he said. "Why did you go away?"

Judith, sick with disappointment because she had dared to hope for an impossible fulfillment, went back to the veranda and Mark Price. He told her he was leaving for New York shortly to lay his plans for the fall show. She was to follow soon for modeling. Bruce stayed on for another week. One evening a party from the ranch drove into the village to buy ice cream and see a movie. Bruce had a package of newspapers from the east. He opened the first one and Judith saw him start.

"What is it?" she asked.

He held out the paper to her. It was her own picture, that occupied three columns of the page and Bruce's was an inset. She read the head: "Actor Rushes to Best-Dressed Woman." Then there followed a story of Judith's departure for Reno, the airplane's forced landing, and a surmise that Bruce was her reason for the journey to Nevada.

COPYRIGHT, 1937, NEA SERVICE, INC.

"Don't worry about this," Bruce was saying. "I'll wire my press agent to correct the story. Millicent and I aren't wasting any time about getting married. I can make them understand why I came west."

But Judith didn't reply. Somehow she wasn't sure now whether she cared or not.

At the postoffice next day Judith received a letter from Anne. It began: "Judy, you foolish simpleton, why did you take the man up on it? Phil is too good for the rattleheaded Marta. I saw him with her last night. She was a creature glorious in white chiffon edged with silver, wherever there was anything to edge. Somebody had given her some pearls—simple but good—and she thought she was Cinderella with her last night. The night your airship got caught in the storm Phil heard about it before I did and called me twice during the half hour you were battling the high winds. He sounded like a worried husband. No doubt he wants a divorce and will marry Marta and be dreadfully unhappy and blame it all on you for not holding out to him. Men always blame women for everything my dear. We might just as well steal the pudding as be scolded for it. Marta will manage to get half of Phil's money, too. Anyway, why not come home for a while?"

Judith tore the letter into small pieces and walked back into the post office to deposit the pieces in the wastepaper basket. There was a note in the mail, too, from Phil's lawyer, who was an old friend, since Phil did not want his own firm to handle this private case. It was a curt note. Reservations in Reno awaited her, she read, and it was advisable for her to take up an immediate residence in that city. Money would be sent to her regularly.

Judith stayed awake late that night, thinking. If she went to Reno, she couldn't take part in the fall showings that came early in August. She realized that she was glad for the delay. She did not want to hasten the divorce proceedings. She had no pride, she admitted. No pride at all. She was glad that as long as Phil was bound to her by ring and book she could not marry Marta. Always before she had sensed women who held their men unwillingly.

She finally went to sleep. A knock at the door awakened her.

"Telephone, Mrs. Irving," a voice called.

She picked up the navy robe of heavy satin, slipped her feet into moccasins she had bought at an Indian settlement one day, and went downstairs to the telephone. It would be the New York press or Phil's attorney calling her, she supposed. It wasn't. It was Phil.

"Judith, you aren't being fair," he began.

Her heart that had missed a beat in happiness lost it again. "Not fair, Phil?"

"You promised to go to Reno—and you are spending your time on a ranch. And this—this business of Bruce Knight. Why hadn't you told me?" He was a husband whose wife of pride and possession were hurt. He didn't want Judith but he didn't want anyone else to have her. She caught it all and the frightening tension broke. He was not entirely indifferent, then.

"Bruce came to see Millicent. He's marrying her," she explained.

"He is?"

"Yes, soon. The papers will carry it tomorrow."

"Wait a second, Judy."

She knew that he turned to relay the information to someone beyond. So she could not have even this moment, with the long miles between them. Marta had to be there. When Phil said again: "Judy?" she asked, "Is Marta there, Phil? Did she ask you to call?"

"Yes," he answered, reluctantly.

"Is she worried because I'm delaying?"

"Yes—I mean . . . Judith, that has nothing to do with the subject."

"Yes it does, Phil dear. Everything! It's Marta, not you, who called to hurt me. You couldn't be so unkind, Phil."

He ignored that. His voice became a small boy's aggrieved shout. "Will you go to Reno?"

Judith quietly hung up.

you are spending your time on a ranch. And this—this business of Bruce Knight. Why hadn't you told me?" He was a husband whose wife of pride and possession were hurt. He didn't want Judith but he didn't want anyone else to have her. She caught it all and the frightening tension broke. He was not entirely indifferent, then.

"Bruce came to see Millicent. He's marrying her," she explained.

"He is?"

"Yes, soon. The papers will carry it tomorrow."

"Wait a second, Judy."

She knew that he turned to relay the information to someone beyond. So she could not have even this moment, with the long miles between them. Marta had to be there. When Phil said again: "Judy?" she asked, "Is Marta there, Phil? Did she ask you to call?"

"Yes," he answered, reluctantly.

"Is she worried because I'm delaying?"

"Yes—I mean . . . Judith, that has nothing to do with the subject."

"Yes it does, Phil dear. Everything! It's Marta, not you, who called to hurt me. You couldn't be so unkind, Phil."

He ignored that. His voice became a small boy's aggrieved shout. "Will you go to Reno?"

Judith quietly hung up.

YES, THERE WENT AN HONEST MAN

AKRON, O. (AP)—Judge C. V. D. Emmons fined Felix Barr $10 and costs for discharging firearms inside the city limits, then failed to note the $10 on the record, marking in only the costs.

"That's not right," protested Barr when he stepped over to the clerk to pay off. "I owe 10 bucks more than you are charging me."

"There goes an honest man," mused Judge Emmons as Barr left the city courtroom after paying the costs—and $10.

LEAPING MANHOLE COVER WRECKS FENDER

BCZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Imagine the surprise of Virginia Willson when the street flew up and demolished the front fender of her car!

"It wasn't really the street," explained Miss Willson. "It was a manhole cover. When the front wheel ran over it, the cover flew up and after tearing the fender to pieces rolled down the street."

City employes welded the heavy top back in place to prevent a repetition.

BERLIN HUFFY AS REPORTERS QUIT ENGLAND

LONDON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The British home office's order compelling three German newspaper correspondents to leave England tonight appeared likely to open a protracted Anglo-German controversy.

As Berlin dispatches told of German official threats of retaliation there were indications the embassy there was preparing for some action in the matter.

Two members of the embassy staff traveled by airplane to Renfrew, in Scotland, where the ambassador, Joachim von Ribbentrop, is on vacation.

The home office declined, without explanation, to renew the labor permits of the German writers and they were given two weeks to wind up personal affairs and leave the country.

The one remaining in London was Werner Crome, chief correspondent here of the Berliner Lokalanzeiger.

ALL-DAY CITY PICNIC PLANS MADE BY POST

Committees were named yesterday by the American Legion post to assist in the community picnic to be held Labor Day, September 6. The list included about 70 members of the Kerley-Crossman post and will begin work immediately.

The picnic will be for every Pampa and person living in the Pampa area. Object of the affair will be to raise money for a bandstand in the city park. Pampa has for the past few years had six local bands meeting regularly, including one high school group, one junior high school band, and four ward school divisions. However, there has never been a place for the various bands to hold a concert as it should be held. In the several concerts given, the band members have placed chairs in the park, but it has not proven satisfactory. The Legion aids are backing the project as a civic contribution to the city of Pampa.

Exact location for the outing, and program for the all-day function has not been announced. More than 8,000 people are expected to attend. Arrangements are being made whereby workers in the oil fields may enjoy the county-wide picnic. It is one of the biggest movements in the history of the city, and would be a definite good if its aim is accomplished. All school bands are scheduled to play for the occasion. Governors of several states have been invited.

Legion buddies who have been appointed to serve on a committee are urged to cooperate in every way.

The various committees and their members are as follows:

Steering committee: Howard Buckingham, Roy Bourland, Paul D. Hill, W. V. Jarratt, H. W. Waddell.

Concessions committee: Frank Hunt, chairman; V. L. Boyles, Sam Dunn, and E. H. Hamlett; publicity committee: C. J. Maise, chairman, and Al Lawson; noted speaker committee: J. W. Garman, chairman, E. J. Dungan, A. L. Stine, and Sherman White.

Pampa old timers committee: Joe Shelton, chairman, E. S. Vicars, C. E. Cary; advertising at grounds committee: Robert Ernest, chairman, W. T. Fox, Howard Neath, and Frank Thomas.

Entertainment committee: Ralph Thomas, J. B. Cox, L. P. Duvall, C. R. George, George Inman, Frank Lard, G. C. Malone, Frank Yates, Noah Milliken, Ben Robinson, Matt Sellers, Roy Sewell, T. O. Thompson, James Washington, and J. W. Woodworth; close town committee: A. D. Montzeth, chairman, Frank Shotwell; labor organizations: Frank Haner, chairman.

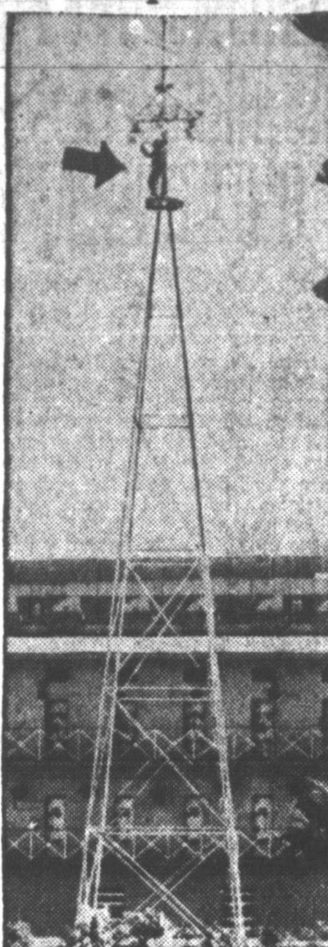

Prizes: J. W. Crisler, chairman, H. E. Thompson, W. L. Parker; finance committee: W. C. De Cordova, chairman, G. C. Malone, Earl Perkins, D. A. Bartlett, C. M. Carlock, R. W. Gooch, L. C. Hageman, H. W. Marrow, and James Turner.

Rodeo committee: John Crout, chairman, Mike Roche; grounds and signs: Earl Perkins, chairman.

Refreshments committee: N. O. Stark, chairman, Luther Wilson, H. Gerhard, and R. Reinschmidt; water committee: J. O. Marie, chairman, Vance Rhea, and Clarence Willingham; school bands committee: Frank Cuberson, chairman, Lewis Jones.

Dance committee: Southern club Old Timers Dance—Mark Long, W. L. Heekew, E. L. Keeling, J. E. Shaw, John Bradley, A. L. Surge, and

Higgins Woman, 96, Still One Of Panhandle's Active Pioneers

By KING COLE

On March 27, 1833 in Montgomery county, Indiana, Mrs. Mary G. McClure first saw the light of day. Today, at the age of 96, Mrs. McClure is still active and is the biggest booster for the younger generation in the Panhandle.

In the Higgins Hotel at Higgins, Tex., lives this charming and grand old lady of the plains, and she can sit for hours and tell the stories of those who have passed on. Mrs. McClure is the type of real ranch mother, loved and respected by all who know her.

Mrs. McClure has two daughters and a son, all living with that greatest privilege of life—that they can still entertain their mother in queen's taste.

Back in the days of the stagecoach and covered wagon on the trail of the pioneer which is land and monument-marked all the way to Oregon one finds the same trail covered by the McClure family.

Like all the people who landed in the Panhandle in those days the family just squatted in whatever back yard, so to speak, is a great novel of truth.

Not only Judge Ewing, but Mrs. A. M. Winsett of Higgins, Frank Latimer and Claude Boone, county treasurer of Lipscomb county, are numbered among her pupils. All these folk have a fine word of praise for Mother McClure.

Mother McClure is in good health and loves to read or be read to. She never tires of talking to the cattle men of the district and giving of her untiring advice so that, as she puts it, "none of the boys will have the wool pulled over their eyes."

In all this world of motor travel, none should pass Higgins without shaking the hand of Mother McClure. It is a privilege to know her.

Even the older Indians who come her way are always sure to stop and pay their respects and see if there is any thing they can do for their white mother. This is only a small tribute paid her in their humble way of showing appreciation.

Judge Ewing said only yesterday, that he expects soon to make a special trip to see his first school teacher, and to call her his "second mother," he said, would be putting it lightly.

Besides having been the first school teacher she was one of the biggest ranchers in the Panhandle and was left a widow when her husband was shot on his way into the post-office. Leaving her with two small daughters and a son she fought through with that old Pioneer spirit and lived to become a wealthy and respected citizen. Unlike many others, Mother McClure is receiving her flowers while here on earth and deserves them all. Her son Bert McClure is still on the ranch while her daughters are married and raising families here in Texas.

SCHOOL BUS ROUTES TO BE CHANGED IN COUNTY

The county board of trustees met Friday afternoon in the office of County Superintendent W. B. Wethered in the courthouse to pass on transfers and to discuss transportation of pupils.

Some changes in bus routes may be made in rural Gray county. Date of opening schools will be left to individual school boards.

Members of the county board are Siler Faulkner, chairman; G. M. Counts, precinct 1; C. F. Jones, precinct 2; E. C. Shafer, precinct 3; Jesse Cobb, precinct 4.

NOW TEXANS CAN STOP BULLFIGHTS

AUSTIN (AP)—Texans, armed with a new law, can sue for injunctions to stop bullfights.

The measure was passed at request of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals which charged, that, although illegal, fights were held and promoters willingly paid the maximum $200 fine out of fat profits.

Formerly only the attorney general or district and county attorneys could bring injunction proceedings.

The filiblock rifle remained in general use for nearly 200 years.

EAGLE BUFFET SOLD

F. R. (Butter) Wollard, originally of LeFors, and Solly Sherr, Amarillo, have purchased the Eagle Buffet from Ben Bolton. It was learned yesterday.

Bolton plans to remain here, and Wollard will change his residence address to Pampa, Sherr remaining in Amarillo for the present.

A few personnel and other changes will be made at the Eagle soon, Wollard said.

The alpha rays shot out by radium travel 18,750 miles a second.
