Seventh rabid skunk found in city

Dog tests negative; child can stop shots

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Rabies cases are steadily rising in Pampa.

As local animal control workers were notified Thursday yet another rabid skunk case has been confirmed in Pampa and a suspicious acting coyote was spotted on the northern edge of Pampa.

Pampa Animal Control was notified shortly after noon Thursday a landfill worker had seen a coyote that appeared to be acting strange traveling east from a farm north of the landfill towards the northern edge of Pampa.

Animal control authorities searched the area along with other authorities but were unable to locate the coyote.

Just prior to the report, the seventh skunk found in Pampa was diagnosed with rabies by the Texas Department of Health Lab in Austin. Thirteen skunks have been sent to the Austin lab for testing, and two more will be sent Monday.

Prior to March 23, no cases of rabies were reported in Pampa since a bat was confirmed with the disease on Nov. 15, 1990.

Pampa Animal Control employees received a call earlier this week to go to a residence near the intersection of Bruno and Tignor concerning a skunk that was reported as behaving peculiarly.

Upon arriving they found the skunk in the yard with an approximate 2-year old dog, according to Animal Control Director Sandy Burns.

The family pet had never been vaccinated against rabies, said Burns. A 1-year-old child resides at the residence where the skunk was found.

Burns said the skunk was removed from the residence and taken to the Animal Control Shelter where it was euthanized. The skunk's head was sent to Austin for the rabies testing.

After receiving the positive report Thursday, the owner of the dog was notified that the skunk was rabid, said Burns.

According to a state law regarding animals an unvaccinated animal which has been exposed to a rabid animal must either be euthanized or placed in strict isolation for 90 at owners expense. Owner must also immediately have the animal vaccinated against rabies as well as booster vaccinations during the third and eighth week of isolation.

Burns said the owner of the dog at the residence donated the animal to the animal shelter Thursday afternoon to be (See RABIES, Page 3)

Grieving father tells perils of drunk driving

A grieving father spoke from his heart to a group of Pampa High School students and educators gathered around a freshly planted rose bush Thursday at noon in a dedication ceremony honoring his daughter, a victim of drunken driving.

The yellow rose bush, a collection of closely cropped branches, rested in freshly turned soil beside a plaque in front of the north entrance to the high school. A framed color photograph of a smiling Stacey Sehorn, clad in cap and gown, at the moment of graduation, stood propped against a tree nearby.

On the bronze plaque are the words, "In memory of victims killed by intoxicated drivers. Dedicated by D-FY-IT, May 17, 2001."

Community services agency does much to help neighbors

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Numerous Pampa residents are helped by the programs of Pampa Panhandle Community Services Agency, according to Susan Weldon, Center Coordinator of Pampa office.

The programs assist the elderly, handicapped, single parents and economically disadvantaged of Pampa, and the 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle since the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 established the program.

During the past several months the Panhandle Community Services provided $104,312 in energy payments to Pampa residents. The skyrocketing costs of energy bills the past few months caused many residents to be unable to pay their extremely high utility bills this past winter. PCS provided funds to assist many families in the community.

PCS also provides programs which include First Time Home Buyers Program and Families in Training. FIT is a program helping people complete college vocational training through the resources of HUD.

HUD housing assistance, transportation, weatherization and food pantry are among the many programs offered.

Rain, heavy wind hit area

A collision between an advancing cold front and warm humid air late Thursday created an explosion of thunderstorms that swept across the Panhandle.

Local emergency rescue workers braved high winds, pounding rain, and hail to help two 20-year-olds who suffered injuries when at the height of the storm their car struck a brick fence surrounding Pampa Country Club.

Joseph Louis Garcia of Panhandle and Eddie Wayne Lawrence of 1210 E. Francis were taken by Rural Metro Ambulance to Pampa Regional Medical Center after the 1996 Pontiac Gran Prix they were in missed the turn at Harvester near the intersection with Browning Street. A left front tire blew out as Garcia tried to negotiate the turn that came up on him unexpectedly, according to Pampa Police Department reports, causing him to lose control on the rain-slickened road and slam into a brick pylon. Both men were treated and released, hospital officials said this morning.

The one-vehicle crash happened at 10:30 p.m., just as a strong thunderstorm with 50 mph winds and pea-sized hail passed through the city, dropping (See RAIN, Page 3)

Legislative roundup ...

AUSTIN (AP) — Acting Lt. Gov. Bill Ratliff worked Thursday to break a stalemate in a Senate redistricting conflict as the deadline approached for approving a plan.

At the end of the day he reported little progress in the standoff between Democrats and most of the Senate's Republicans.

"Nothing is ever hopeless, but it's pretty solidly deadlocked," Ratliff said after meeting with leaders of the two factions. "I didn't discern any movement either direction."

If the Legislature doesn't approve legislative redistricting plans for the Senate and House, the job falls to the Republican-controlled Legislative Redistricting Board.

Most Senate Republicans are at odds with a redistricting proposal produced by one of their fellow party members.

Democrats, however, favor the plan by Sen. Jeff Wentworth, the Republican chairman of the Senate Redistricting Committee. Democrats view his committee's plan as less threatening than an alternative advocated by Sen. David Sibley, a Waco Republican.

Ratliff, also a Republican, has remained neutral in the conflict.

Wentworth said Wednesday he remained two (See LEGISLATIVE, Page 2) votes short of the 20 needed to bring his redistricting bill up for Senate floor debate. He said he was hopeful two of the four uncommitted Republican senators will agree to vote to debate his plan.

Once the bill is on the floor, it needs only a majority for passage.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE

The House and Senate will go to conference committee to compromise on a campaign finance reporting bill.

House sponsor Rep. Pete Gallego, D-Alpine, said he wants to work through some Senate amendments before signing off on the bill.

The major differences include a provision absent in the House version but in the Senate bill that requires contributors to disclose their occupations and employ-ers.

PREPAID FUNERALS

The House gave final approval to a provision that allows people who pay in advance for funeral arrangements to get a partial refund if they choose to change plans.

The measure was tacked onto a sunset bill continuing the Department of Banking, which regulates prepaid funerals, for 12 years.

ZAFFARINI'S ZEAL

Sen. Judith Zaffarini reached a milestone when she became the first senator to cast 25,000 consecutive votes.

The Laredo Democrat has a perfect voting and attendance records since she was first elected to the Senate in 1986.

Acting Lt. Gov. Bill Ratliff presented Zaffarini with a gavel to commemorate the event.

"Are you going to make it to 50,000 Senator?" Ratliff asked. "Absolutely," she said.

WAR GAMES

The war on eight-liners sustained another loss in the House, where lawmakers shot down several amendments to outlaw and limit the use of the casino-style video slot machines.

Rep. Will Hartnett, R-Irving, says that eight-liners are ripping off working-class and elderly people in epidemic proportions. He has tried repeatedly to attach anti-eight-liner provisions to bills, but none of his efforts have stuck.

Opponents of Hartnett's amendments say they would force innocent businesses like pizza restaurants that have slot-like kiddie games out of business.

"Chuckie E. Cheese goes on another day," declared Rep. Kevin Bailey, D-Houston, after he and other lawmakers rejected Hartnett's third amendment.

Vague state laws have stymied Department of Public Safety efforts to eradicate the machines, despite the state attorney general's declaration that all video slots offering payouts are an illegal violation of the state's ban on casino gambling.

DPS and industry officials estimate Texas has at least 40,000 gaming machines — twice as many as in 1999.

MATH INITIATIVE

The Senate approved a House bill that includes Gov. Rick Perry's high-priority math initiative aimed at improving students' skills in the subject.

The plan would offer intensive after-school classes; establish math academies to better prepare teachers; and recruit and reward well-trained math teachers with bonuses of up to $5,000.

Also under the bill, schools would be able to aim for a "gold rating," which would be higher than the state's current top exemplary rating. Schools that received the gold rating would receive monetary rewards.

The Senate tacked on a provision by Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, requiring schools to report their "actual completion" rate plus the "annual" dropout rate they report to the state.

Measuring the completion rate means a high school would look at how many students enter ninth grade then compare it with the number of graduates four years later.

FIRE

Attempting to destroy property by fire would be considered a second-degree felony, regardless of whether a fire continues under a bill approved by the Senate. Under existing law, intentionally setting a fire that does not continue after explosion or ignition and does not cause damage is not considered a crime. The bill also would make burning a place of assembly or habitation a first-degree felony.

SPEED LIMIT

Drivers in rural areas could drive 75 mph on certain state and federal highways during daylight hours under a bill approved by the Senate. The current speed limit on highways is 70 mph. The highway would have to be located in a county with a population density of less than 10 people per square mile. The Texas Transportation Commission would have to determine which highways this bill would apply to.

BUDGET

The Senate approved an emergency appropriations bill that would cover more than $700 million in cost overruns in the prison and Medicaid programs.

The overruns were the result of incorrect projections made two years ago about the prison population and enrollment in Medicaid, a federally mandated program the state must fund. About 66,000 more children than originally expected joined the Medicaid rolls in the past two years.

Most of the money in the supplemental bill comes from agencies that did not spend all their 2000-2001 appropriated funds. The rest will come from the state's new surplus.

CLASS SIZE

The Senate scratched a House plan that would have prohibited school districts to be exempted from class size limits for more than two consecutive semesters. Under existing law, schools are required to have no more than 22 students to one teacher in kindergarten through fourth-grade classrooms. Many schools, however, receive waivers from the Texas Education Agency exempting them from that law.

The Senate bill would require districts to provide written notice of the class size exemption to the parent or guardian of each student in the class in the first 31 days of the school year or from when the exemption is granted.

TULIA

Testimony from an informant alone would not be enough to convict a person in drug cases under a bill approved by the Senate. The House version of the bill prohibits Texans from being convicted of drug charges based solely on the testimony of some undercover police officers.

The bills were inspired by a drug bust in the Panhandle town of Tulia that resulted in the arrests of 43 people, all but three of them black. Civil rights groups say no drugs, money or weapons were seized in the roundup and there is no information to back up the undercover agent's word that he bought drugs from the accused.

Eleven of those arrested in Tulia were found guilty and another 17 have accepted plea agreements. Tulia is a farming community of about 5,000, of which about 250 residents are black.

CHILD SEATS

People who do not strap their young children into car seats and safety belts would face higher fines under a bill approved by Senate. Existing fines range between $25 and $50, but under the bill, the fines would range from $100 to $200. Half of the money generated from the fines would go to help support trauma centers in Texas.

RABIES

euthanized. Even though no symptoms of rabies were noticed in the dog, the dog's head is being sent to Austin for rabies testing.

She said the skunk appeared to have been living under the residence along with the dog. She also said they do not believe there was human exposure to the rabid animal by the residents of the home, including the one year old child.

A dog which bit a 22-month-old child on Sunday was determined not to have rabies, said Burns. The child was bitten by an unvaccinated dog on Sunday. The parents took the child to a local physician Monday morning who contacted the TDH Regional Office in Canyon. Upon the recommendation of TDH, the child began rabies shots because the dog was not vaccinated against rabies.

Dr. James Alexander, Zoonosis specialist with the TDH office in Canyon said Friday at the recommendation of TDH the little girl has discontinued the series of rabies shots. "We're very thankful the dog did not have rabies," he said.

Alexander is urging animals to get their domestic pets vaccinated. "If the dog that bit the child had been vaccinated, she would not have had to undergo these shots," said Alexander.

Burns reported a prairie dog which was sent to the lab for testing did not have rabies. She said two additional skunks will be sent Monday.

The following are the confirmed rabies cases in Pampa:

- March 23, 2001 — A skunk found on Price Road on the western edge of Pampa was positively confirmed rabid.

- April 20, 2001 — A skunk was located in the 900 block of Reid in the southeastern edge of Pampa was diagnosed as rabid.

Also, a horse in Deaf Smith County was confirmed to have rabies.

- May 4, 2001 — A third skunk was found in Pampa. The skunk was found dead by city employees in a water meter box in the 600 block of North Banks.

- May 10, 2001 — The fourth skunk to be rabid was located in Lions Club Park, located in southeastern Pampa.

- May 10, 2001 — The fifth skunk was confirmed as rabid. It was located in the 1100 block of North Finley, also in southeastern Pampa.

- May 11, 2001 — The sixth rabid skunk was confirmed. It was located in the 900 block of South Osborne in southeastern Pampa.

- May 17, 2001 — The seventh rabid skunk was confirmed. It had been located in a residence at the intersection of Tignor and Bruno in southeastern Pampa.

each client on a personal basis to help them help themselves is also offered.

"We are an action agency serving disadvantaged people in our local community of Pampa and surrounding areas such as Lefors, McLean and Miami," said Weldon. "When a person in need comes into our offices, most of the time they need help and they need it NOW!"

She said this help could be for rental assistance because of eviction, clothing, transportation and other services, and they need it immediately.

"That's what makes us different. We take immediate action and if we can't provide the need, we do our best to find some agency, local government, churches and individuals who can," said Weldon.

"That's why they call us an 'Action Agency', a Community Action Agency," she said. "Our creed is, 'We can't always guarantee complete satisfaction to our people, but we do guarantee action on their behalf.'"

Venue change sought in tot death trial change of venue motion was tentatively approved Thursday in the trial of a West Texas woman charged with injury to a child in connection with the death of her 2-year-old son.

The trial of Caryn Brown, set to begin in September, was moved from Hemphill County to Potter County during a hearing in 31st District Court, District Attorney Rick Roach said.

In January, the 19-year-old Brown was indicted on two felony counts of injury to a child. Her son, Brendan Tyler Brown, died May 25, 1999.

Prosecutors say Brown did "intentionally, knowingly or recklessly by omission, cause serious bodily injury to Brendan Tyler Brown" by failing to remove him from the care of a babysitter, Robi Simpson, and another man, Leland Milburn.

According to the indictment, Brendan Brown was with Milburn on May 23, 1999, and with Simpson the day before his death.

But on Nov. 16, Milburn was found innocent of capital murder charges in Brendan's death. A month later, felony charges against Caryn Brown were dismissed.

FATHER

Her parents, Linda and Darrell Sehorn, joined the group in the dedication ceremony conducted by the high school's D-FY-IT, drug and alcohol student awareness program.

"Just two years ago, our Stacey was just as pumped, just as excited about the prom and graduation as you are," Darrell Sehorn told the group. "But it all came to an end very suddenly."

"Twenty-three hours after she had walked off stage to receive her diploma, she was dead. The victim of a drunken driver. Two others were critically injured and a fourth is in prison," he said.

"She was on the threshold of a wonderful life," he added. Sehorn explained how Stacey had completed her school work in December and had already gotten an apartment and a job in Amarillo. She was looking forward to entering college when her life came to a sudden and tragic end in a one-vehicle wreck south of Pampa.

"I'm going to shoot fast and straight with you," Sehorn told the students. "I wish the whole school was out here because every kid needs to hear it."

"Don't let anyone take away your gift of life. Don't lay on your family the incredible grief," he said, warning them to stay away from drugs and alcohol and driving, especially during this time of end-of-school celebrations.

"I recommend that you go where there is a chaperoned atmosphere or else stay home," he said. "Maybe I sound old-fashioned, but I don't care. It's not worth your life."

"There are other factors that go into this — personal responsibility, parental responsibility, school responsibility, and judicial responsibility," he added.

"Don't become the next photo connected to this rose bush," he said pointing to Stacey's picture. "All I've said today is everything D-FY-IT stands for."

"Let me tell you, you're looking at a different Darrell and Linda Sehorn. Our lives have been completely changed by what happened two years ago. Whatever good we can do from this, we will."

"Have a good time. Please take care."

RAIN

ping more than an inch of rain. Gray County Sheriff's Deputy Heath Cates also responded to the wreck. Pampa Fire Department sent one vehicle and three firefighters.

Pampa firefighters also responded to two reports of downed power lines in the 500 block of South Somerville at 11:02 p.m., and the 700 block of Doucette at 2:35 a.m.

Fire Capt. Keith Arnzen said the lines were arcing on South Somerville, so firefighters established a safe area, then waited for SPS workers to arrive. The power line on Doucette wasn't arcing and hadn't created any hazards, he said.

Ken Hall, Pampa Emergency Management Coordinator, was out along with weather spotters to keep an eye on the storms as they went through the area.

Hall said he received reports of street flooding in various points around the city.

"I got a report that it was up to the curb on North Duncan, but it seemed to be draining off pretty well," he said. "A police dispatcher told me she went home and had several inches of water inside her house on the north side of the city."

National Weather Service officials warned Hall that winds up to 80 mph may go through the Pampa area, he said.

"I'm glad we didn't get 80 mph winds like the National Weather Service talked about. I don't know what exactly happened there. We did get winds around 50 mph, though," he said.

Power outages were also reported in the northwest corner of the city, near Travis Elementary school, officials said.

Darrell Sehorn, KGRO-KOMX meteorologist, reported Pampa received 1.63 inch of rain in the storm and the rains that followed until around 5 a.m. today.

Donley County Sheriff's Office reported winds of 60 to 70 mph, intense lightning and marble-size hail.

"We've got a lot of trees and tree limbs down," said Dispatcher Cheryl Phillips. "My carport's about half down where a tree limb fell on it."

Phillips said a large limb from a 40-year-old cottonwood fell onto the carport at her home, east of Clarendon.

"It sounded like something was tearing the trees down," she said. "It bent one whole side of the car port, but that's better than the house. My daughter and her 18-month-old baby was in the room beside the carport."

Phillips said she also saw an entire cottonwood tree lying on its side, broken about a foot above the trunk.

"I don't know if it was from being struck by lightning or the wind. The lightning was pretty bad," she said.

The midnight dispatcher reported marble-size and larger hail around the Ashtola area and power outages throughout the county, especially in the Howardwick area.

"I guess the power crews were out all night," Phillips said. "Our electricity went off about midnight and came back on about 3:30."

Wheeler County Sheriff's Office reported strong winds coming through about 4:30 a.m., but no known damage. Carson County officials said they received rain and some hail, but no damage reports.

"I guess it just bypassed us," a Hemphill County Sheriff's Office dispatcher said.

Two killed in drilling rig accident

BAYSIDE, Texas (AP) — Two people were killed and four others were injured when an oil drilling rig collapsed near Corpus Christi.

Witnesses told investigators the accident happened as crews were pulling pipe out of the hole on the rig Thursday afternoon near Gregory, about 18 miles north of Corpus Christi.

One of those killed was a 24-year-old worker who was 60 feet up the rig when it collapsed. His identity has not been released pending notification of relatives. The other man killed was crushed by the falling derrick. He was identified as Ismael Lozano, 36, of Ingleside.

San Patricio County Sheriff Leroy Moody says wind may have been a factor in the collapse of the drilling rig.

Go on-line to renew your driver license

AUSTIN — Computers across the state of Texas have become Driver License offices thanks to the new DPS Express Service.

Texans who qualify can renew their driver licenses and ID cards over the Internet or by telephone, charging the renewal fees to a credit card. (Users are charged a $1 convenience fee in addition to the fee for their license or identification card.) Address changes can also be handled during the online renewal process.

The online system is secure, available in Spanish and was designed to handle a large number of transactions simultaneously. The systems and infrastructure are designed to allow for additional Department services to be added in the future.

"We're pleased that we can now offer the citizens of Texas a convenient way to renew their driver licenses 24 hours a day, seven days a week," said Col. Thomas A. Davis Jr., director of the DPS.

About 80,000 drivers per month take advantage of the current mail renewal process. That number is expected to grow with the new system-reducing the number of drivers who visit driver license offices to take care of routine business.

DPS hopes to have at least 40 percent of total renewals eventually take place via the Internet, phone system or mail-an increase of about 15 percent over present numbers.

Once accessed, the service notifies those who do not qualify for online renewal. That includes anyone who used the mail renewal their last renewal cycle and those who have no digital photo on file with DPS. You must be within one year of the expiration date to renew your license or ID card.

The online license renewal is located on the DPS web site (www.txdps.state.tx.us), as well as the state's e-business Web portal (www.texasonline.com). Those preferring to renew their driver license or ID over the telephone may call a special toll-free number, 1-866-DLRENEW (357-3639).

Minister's musing

I read about a woman who called her doctor at home, and the doctor's young son answered the phone. "Is the doctor there?" she asked. "No, she isn't," he said. "When will she be back?" "I don't know," the boy replied. "There was an accident, and she's out on an eternity call."

Doctors find themselves on call all the time and sometimes, because of the critical nature of the need, it is an eternity call, a matter of life and death.

Every call is important. Some of you can remember when doctors made house calls. Times and circumstances have made this an almost totally forgotten experience. I never experienced a doctor coming to my home, but I have called doctors for advice or for an immediate remedy to some urgent (at least in my mind) need. I have called to have a doctor prescribe some medicine without wanting to go see the doctor and wait in the office. Often, my call resulted in being told to take "some aspirin and if that didn't help, call back tomorrow." It wasn't a lack of concern, but experience from many symptoms not as serious as imagined.

Though I haven't had the experience of a doctor coming to my home on a house call. I have had a common ailment that inflicts all mankind and is terminal in its consequence. Yes, I am talking about sin. The Bible says "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." The diagnosis is clear and the prognosis is certain. The consequence of this "cancer" called sin is death.

I am so grateful that God, recognizing our condition and hearing our call for help, made an "eternity call", a housecall. You see, God did come to meet our need. He put on human flesh and made a personal house call. He didn't say take a tablet of hope, of good works, of religion and if things aren't better tomorrow call me back. He came Himself to heal my disease. The disease is terminal. Yet the Bible says the Great Physician came to this world, realizing there was only one way of bringing about my healing, my salvation, He did the unbelievable.

The Bible says that Jesus was made to be sin that He might experience the death that was mine by right. The "Doctor" accepted my sin, died my death, that I in turn might have His healing, His life.

Everyone has this disease called sin. Everyone will experience death as a result. However, for those who accept the Great Physician's house call and choose His cure, there is a newness of life, an unending quality of life. We have to swallow our pride and acknowledge our inability to do anything that will save us. We have to accept His death in our behalf in order to receive His life for eternity. God made a housecall, an eternity call. What each of us do in response to His coming will determine forever our "health." Here's hoping you have accepted the visit, acknowledged the diagnosis, understood the hopelessness of the prognosis and taken hold of the cure found only in Jesus Christ.

Missionary to Africa to speak in Skellytown

Dr. Marvin Gilbert, Assemblies of God missionary to Africa, will be the featured guest speaker at Chamber of Life, 5th and Chamberlain, Skellytown, Texas on Sunday, May 20, 2001, 10:30 a.m., according to Reverend Danny Trussell, pastor.

"Since first arriving in Africa in 1986, our commitment has been to pastoral training," Marvin says. "Many have observed that starting new churches in Africa is easy. But we dare not do this unless we can also ensure that well-trained African pastors will be available to lead those churches. With such pastors in place, God's church will advance into the hard, still-unreached places of Africa and beyond."

Toward this end, Marvin and Rosie Gilbert have taught at a variety of diploma-level, degree-level and graduate-level schools in Kenya, Tanzania, 1993, and South Africa. Since 1993, they have also focused on the development of Discovery Series textbooks for use in Africa's Bible schools.

"Our work on the Discovery Series textbooks enriches our classroom teaching, and the teaching energizes the textbook development," Marvin says.

While in Logo, Rosie developed a unique literature ministry. "We used Light for the Lost funds to print thousands of copies of gospel tracts in French," she says. Rosie also helped in an exciting Bible distribution ministry that resulted in hundreds of French Bibles being distributed in Togo's

Schools."

In August 2001, the Gilberts will be returning to Africa to live and minister in South Africa. They will continue to develop the Discovery Series textbooks there, and will teach at Cape Theological Seminary (CTS) in Cape Town. CTS is the advanced theological training school for the region of Southern Africa, currently enrolling 50 undergraduate and 27 graduate students from 8 nations.

"This dual assignment will allow us to have a wonderful mix of activities: new book development and regular contact with students," Marvin emphasizes. "Our goal is to complete the initial development of approximately 30 titles in the textbook series by July 2005. In addition, Rosie will seek ways to be involved in literature and Bible distribution in Cape Town."

The public is invited to attend the Gilberts' missions presentation on Sunday, May 20, 2001 at 10:30 a.m.

Bridwell part of missionary team

Jim Bridwell, a Pampa resident and Borger business owner, will be part of a 10-member team using sports to evangelize in Gambia, Africa. Bridwell's team will depart June 1, and return June 10.

The team will work closely with the ongoing ministries in the area by working with several International Mission Board-appointed missionaries and their families. IMB is a Southern Baptist Convention agency.

The Gambia Mission Experience is highlighted by a series of volleyball clinics the team will lead and use to open doors to share the gospel message.

"We are praying for the people we will meet and the missionaries working in this area," Bridwell said. "I am excited to travel to this area and share our faith while leading volleyball clinics, playing games or any other opportunities God provides."

Bridwell and fellow team members are in the process of raising prayer and financial assistance. The trip is organized and led by DoMissions, a support organization for those interested in short-term Mission Experiences.

"This is a unique opportunity for us as team members to use volleyball in missions," Daren Tipton, Gambia team member and DoMissions director, said. "We are praying for opportunities to make an impact for Christ while in Gambia."

For more information about the Gambia Mission Experience, contact Bridwell at (806) 274-2370 or (806) 665-4505 or Tipton at (806) 622-8097.

Arizona city sued for religious discrimination

PHOENIX (AP) — The American Center for Law and Justice has sued the city of Scottsdale, charging that it violated a woman's rights by stopping her from displaying religious material at city-owned community centers.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Phoenix on behalf of Constance Tuchman, who operates a Scottsdale Bible study group.

Tuchman claims she advertised her Bible group at a city community center for three years before city officials told her to stop because the ad contained the word "Christian."

Her attorney said, "They're not letting her use the facility in the same way as other organizations. We just want to be treated the same way as everyone else."

Catholics looking for pornose's Web site find porn instead

CLEVELAND (AP) — People searching for the Web site of Cleveland's Roman Catholic diocese are instead being linked to hard-core pornography.

To solve the problem, the diocese has informed the region's nearly 1 million Catholics that its Web address has changed, and has asked people to remove any link to the old address, now a pornography site.

When the diocese switched to a new Web address it let the old domain name expire, to save the $75 annual fee. The name was grabbed by a porn site operator.

The diocese was trying to weave through the electronic maze to locate the site operator and would try to halt use of its old name, spokesman Robert Tayek said.

Russian Orthodox patriarch opposes visit

MOSCOW (AP) — The head of the Russian Orthodox Church has said that Pope John Paul II should not visit Russia until the Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches resolve festering disputes over church properties and Catholic missionary activity.

Patriarch Alexy II was repeating a long-held position. But such statements have received more attention because of the pope's May visit to Greece and planned June trip to Ukraine, both heavily Orthodox.

The Russian Orthodox are sensitive about the Ukraine visit because many Orthodox parishes there are under Moscow's ecclesiastical jurisdiction.

Rev. Latham will host HiLand meeting series

HiLand Church, located at 18th and Banks St., will host a three day series of meetings this weekend. Guest speaker for these meetings is Rev. Dennis Latham of El Reno, OK.

Rev. Dennis Latham

Rev. Latham is a native of the Panhandle of Texas, raised in the farming and ranching tradition of the area. While in college he was caught up in the "60's hippie drug culture" and later in "the cowboy life." In November of 1985 he was transformed by the power of Jesus Christ and became a "new creature." He began his ministry by serving as an associate pastor at the Church of the Nazarene in Hereford, Texas. He later served as pastor of a new church in various capacities in New Mexico and Oklahoma. He is now the pastor of a multi-racial, multi-denominational church at the Federal Correction Institute in El Reno.

Rev. Latham holds credentials through Church On The Rock, International, of Carrollton, Texas. He preaches the "Full Gospel" as it is presented in the New Testament; the efficacy of the Blood of Jesus Christ for full salvation and the forgiveness of sin, the endowment of power through the Holy Spirit for service, and that deliverance and healing are included in the atonement and are for today.

Pastor Nathan Hopson and the congregation extends a cordial invitation to everyone to hear this anointed servant.

Service times are 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday. Saturday at 10 a.m. there will be a training session for sharing your faith.

Macedonia youth to have car wash Saturday

The youth department of the Macedonia Baptist Church will be having a car wash Saturday, May 19th at Coronado Center starting at 9 a.m. Donations will be accepted. Pastor I.L. Patrick and the youth department invite the public to come by.

Collection of Wartime Letters Is Testament to Honor and Faith

DEAR READERS: I'm delighted to tell you about a special book that's hot off the presses this month titled "War Letters: Extraordinary Correspondence From American Wars" (Scribner). It features never-before-seen letters from the Civil War, World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam, the Persian Gulf and even Bosnia. It is edited by a dedicated young man named Andy Carroll.

What makes this book so special is that you helped to write it. Several years ago I told you about Andy's all-volunteer organization, the Legacy Project, that honors and remembers America's veterans by preserving their war letters. I encouraged you to look through your closets, attics and basements for old war correspondence and to send photocopies of anything historic, impassioned or dramatic to Andy's attention.

The response was overwhelming. Tens of thousands of remarkable letters were received, and 200 of them are being published, all for the first time, in "War Letters." I am struck by the power and eloquence of the letters you contributed. Many are inspiring, some are heartbreaking, all of them are unforgettable.

These letters celebrate our greatest American values — honor, faith, courage and perseverance. They remind us that wars are won not by generals and presidents, but by the individual soldiers, Marines, sailors, airmen, Coast Guard and nurses whose voices are so often forgotten. They are our true heroes. "War Letters" lets their voices be heard. All earnings from this book are being donated to veterans groups, and Andy has established a Web site — www.warletters.com — that offers free information on how to safeguard your old letters, as well as links to respected organizations that preserve wartime letters, photos and journals.

Future generations of Americans need to understand and appreciate the high cost of freedom. This book is a lasting tribute to our men and women in uniform and the enormous sacrifices they have made for all of us. It is available in your local bookstore.

DEAR ABBY: I am a gentleman in my late 70s who prefers wearing athletic shoes because I find them comfortable. I wear them not only around the house, but when shopping, dining out, going to the movies, etc.

For some reason, wearing white socks with them causes my feet and ankles to itch (perhaps due to an allergy). Therefore, I wear colored socks — black, blue, brown — you get the picture.

My problem: My children, who are all married with kids of their own, are forever telling me I look like a "dork." They say that colored socks should never be worn with athletic shoes. Please don't advise me to switch to leather shoes, as they are hard on my feet.

How can I make my children understand that I am not trying to be a misfit, but only trying to be comfortable in my "golden years?"

NO SLAVE TO FASHION IN SAN MARCOS

DEAR NO SLAVE: My "fashion experts" tell me that if people can see your socks, your trousers may be too short. However, if that's not your problem, consider that athletic shoes come in a variety of color combinations, and you can always coordinate your shoes and socks to match your outfit.

P.S. Consult a podiatrist about foot powder to relieve what's itching you.

Oklahoma State falls to Nebraska

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Reports that back problems might hurt Shane Komine's pitching performance for Nebraska during the Big 12 Conference baseball tournament apparently were exaggerated.

Komine, a junior righthander, went eight innings, threw 141 pitches and set a tournament record with 12 strikeouts as he led Nebraska (43-14) to a 7-1 victory over Oklahoma State

Thursday night.

The win advances Nebraska to game against the winner of Friday's 4 p.m. elimination game between Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

"Anybody that heard the rumor that Shane Komine was hurt, sick, injured or otherwise had better go check your sources," OSU head coach Tom Holliday said after the game. "His curveball was big time."

Komine who allowed just six hits, two walks and the only run for the Cowboys (39-19), said it took some time to get used to the mound.

"Around the fourth inning, I got a little more comfortable. Then I had all my pitches on and I felt like I started to take command," he said.

Oklahoma State will play a losers bracket game against Iowa State at 7 p.m. Friday.

Dan Johnson slammed a two-run homer and John Cole had four hits to lead the Cornhuskers offensively.

Astros 6-1 on road trip

CHICAGO (AP) — For the Chicago Cubs, one month of good baseball has nearly been wiped out by one forgettable week.

The Houston Astros came to town and left with three straight victories, capping a 6-1 road trip and extending Chicago's losing streak to seven games.

"The way the Cubs were playing a week ago, we definitely would have been surprised with six of seven," Astros pitcher Scott Elarton said after Houston's 4-2 win Thursday.

"Really, every game on this road trip could have gone either way. We got some breaks," he said.

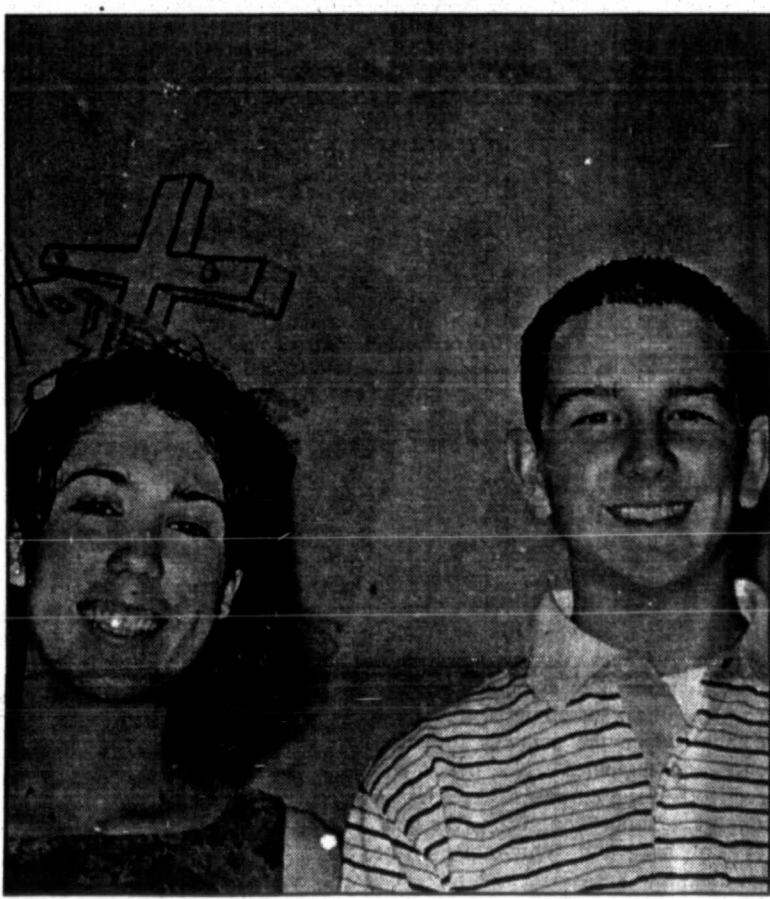

Richard Hidalgo hit a tiebreaking two-run homer as Houston won their season-high fifth straight game to a six-game homestand. The Astros are 14-7 on the road, the best mark in the NL.

Six of the seven games on their trip were decided by one or two runs.

"It's been a good streak. The only thing you have to put in perspective is it's still the middle of May," manager Larry Dierker said.

The Cubs are struggling to produce runs, and during their skid, they've been outscored 55-20. After being in first place in the NL Central less than a week ago, they're just two games over .500. "Each guy who is here, including myself, doesn't feel very good," Sammy Sosa said. "We want to do the job and come through in a lot of situations. When you fail in situations, you feel bad. The one thing about this game is that you always get another chance tomorrow."

Boston's Cone so-so in first start

By The Associated Press

David Cone started this season the same way he pitched most of last year.

"I need to fine-tune some things and throw more strikes," Cone said Thursday after lasting only three-plus innings for the Red Sox in the Minnesota Twins' 5-3 win over Boston.

Cone, making his first start in the majors since last Sept. 30 when he was with the New York Yankees, allowed two runs, two hits, four walks and a hit batter.

Only 37 of 76 pitches by the 38-year-old right-hander were strikes.

"I was hoping to go deeper in the ballgame," he said. "I was just missing with a lot of fastballs, which is usually the case with a lot of the pitchers on the losing side."

Cone went 4-14 last season, signed with the rival Red Sox on Jan. 11 and injured his right shoulder during spring training. He's scheduled to pitch against New York at Yankee Stadium next week.

"David works hard and is such a good competitor," Twins manager Tom Kelly said. "I hope he makes it back. He's good for the game."

In other games, it was Oakland 8, New York 3; Texas 12, Cleveland 7; Seattle 5, Chicago 1; Detroit 7, Baltimore 5; Kansas City 4, Tampa Bay 2; and Anaheim 4, Toronto 2.

At Minneapolis, Brad Radke (7-1) became baseball's first seven-game winner, pitching a six-hitter for his third complete game in nine starts.

Corey Koskie hit a three-run homer off Rolando Arrojo (1-2) in the fifth inning for the Twins (28-11), off to the best start in franchise history.

Boston's Manny Ramirez hit his 250th career homer. He became the first Boston player to reach the 50-RBI mark in 40 games played or fewer since Walt Dropo in 1950.

Ramon Hernandez drove in the go-ahead run with a sixth-inning double as Oakland completed a three-game sweep of visiting New York with its 10th win in 14 games. The Yankees have lost four straight.

Miguel Tejada added a two-run double in the A's four-run seventh.

Chad Bradford (2-1) pitched two hitless innings.

Mike Mussina (4-4) gave up four runs — three earned — and eight hits in six innings.

Rangers 12, Indians 7
Alex Rodriguez and Rafael

Palmeiro hit consecutive homers in a 10-run second as Texas stopped Cleveland's 11-game road winning streak.

Chuck Finley (4-3) gave up eight runs and nine hits in one-plus inning, his shortest start since getting two outs for the Angels against Boston on June 15, 1991.

Texas sent 14 batters to the plate in the second, highlighted by Rodriguez's three-run homer. Scott Sheldon had a pair of RBI singles and Rusty Greer also drove in two runs in the inning.

Kenny Rogers (2-3) allowed seven runs and 10 hits in seven innings.

Mariners 5, White Sox 1
Ichiro Suzuki had three hits at Seattle to extend his hitting streak to 22 games, and Bret Boone hit a three-run homer off David Wells (3-4) as the Mariners won their eighth straight and improved to 31-9, the best record in the majors.

Schmidt is new Pampa coach

PAMPA — Pampa Independent School District hired Steve Schmidt of Clarendon as the new Lady Harvesters girls basketball coach during a meeting of the board of trustees Thursday night.

Schmidt, who succeeds Mark Elms, has led the Clarendon girls to six straight playoff berths as the head coach. Schmidt's record at Class 2A Clarendon is 131-51. The Lady Broncos advanced to the regional quarterfinals a year ago.

Clarendon has won two district titles and also advanced to the regional quarterfinals once before during his stay.

The 33-year-old Schmidt was an assistant coach at Tulia for five years before taking over at Clarendon. Elms had been the Pampa head coach for the past five years. He will continue to coach cross country and teach at PHS.

 The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:

5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
  The ever-vigorous Aries energizes this morning. Make breakfast for a loved one or do something special for a neighbor. Open the pathway to indulgence and happiness. Not everything needs to be for a purpose. Take a lesson from a Leo about living life to the max. Let it all hang out. Tonight: Be in the here and now.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
  Let someone do for you. Play Ferdinand the Bull, and lie around in your favorite field, chair or spot. Enhance good feelings by letting someone know just how special he is. You're beaming this afternoon, and you decide to extend the favor to a loved one. Indulge a favorite person. Tonight: Teach someone about the good life.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
  The sun moves into your sign late in the day. Feel the hot rays of energy. This morning, someone goes out of his way to let you know you are his favorite. Isn't this what you have been waiting for? Schedule a walk or picnic; vanish from the public eye. Even if you're not, you need downtime. Tonight: Whatever makes you smile.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
  The Moon child loves to do for others, and today is no exception. Whether serving breakfast in bed or pitching in and doing another's chore, you feel great. Schedule playtime with friends. Get into a new sport, or enjoy volleyball. Try to be a player and not an observer. Tonight: Follow your inner beat.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
  React naturally to a friend's ARIES (March 21-April 19) or a loved one's overtures. Decide to venture out this afternoon and try a new lunch spot. You'll discover that you can relax in a different atmosphere. Enhance a present friendship and make new friends as well. Stop and visit a parent on the way home. Tonight: Organize yourself for tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
  Face it. Someone just might have more energy than you. You could be uninvolved, but do not indulge in your uptight Virgo manner. This person also could be unusually demanding for the next few weeks. Go to the movies and relax with a good friend. Renew. Tonight: Dinner out.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
  Others might not be as subtle as the always-diplomatic Libra. Understand that what might be natural for you could be very difficult for someone else. Spend time with a dear friend. Whatever you two choose to do together proves to be enjoyable. Tonight: Quiet time together.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
  Spending comes naturally to you, a sign that loves indulgence. Sometimes how Scorpio justifies a situation or an attitude can be amazing. Allow others to make overtures right now, especially if you want to draw someone closer. A relationship will heat up in the next few weeks. Tonight: Go along with others' suggestions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
  Containing your high energy might be difficult this morning. Do something physical. Sag is a natural sports enthusiast, though you might prefer to watch than play. If this is the case, go to the ball game or the racetrack. Let the fun begin! Tonight: Someone makes quite the play.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
  Being able to laugh at yourself is a special gift. Bone up on that talent and kiss some of your taciturn Capricorn ways goodbye. You'll be a lot more joyous and fun to be around. A child or a loved one picks up on this attitude. Let your inner child out. Make playing a new habit. Tonight: Enjoy yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
  Speak your mind to a friend. Your values friendship more than most signs. Be honest with a pal even if you fear hurt feelings. Learn ways of expressing yourself and being diplomatic. Invite a friend over for a lazy day relaxing in your garden or barbecuing. Tonight: Your home is your castle.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
  Expenses might encourage you to work this morning. Think about what you can do from home, leaving some time to visit with a neighbor or friend. Too much of anything is bad for Pisces, who is prone to extremes. Balancing needs becomes your new mantra. Tonight: Catch up on another's news.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
  Speak your mind, and you'll come up with answers. Don't sabotage yourself. Build a clearer separation between your work and personal lives.
