PAMPA GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 7, 1929

REBELS MOVE TOWARD JUAREZ ROCKEFELLER VICTORY SEEN; PROXY BATTLE OPENS PAMPA REFINING CO. PURCHASES ADDITIONAL FACILITIES

BELL PIPELINE ADDED TO ITS OTHER SYSTEM

Atlantic's Tract West of City Is Also Bought

BROWN-FINLEY TEST SPRAYING

Offset to Clay Well Gets Show at 3,288 Feet

Pampa Refining company of Pampa has announced purchase of a loading rack and pipeline system from the Bell Oil & Gas company and a 15-acre tract of land from the Atlantic Oil company. The local refinery is consuming 3,000 barrels of Gray county's "sweet" crude oil daily.

With the new pipeline system, the Pampa Refining company will be served by more than 20 miles of lines, extending into the Bowers-McGee and LeFors pools. The system extends two miles beyond LeFors in two directions. The loading rack purchased is east of Pampa. It will not be used now, Dr. McClary says.

The land bought from the Atlantic Oil company at the west outskirts of the city. It comprises 15 acres north of the railroad tracks.

Gray county got two new locations yesterday, both in the LeFors pool. One location was made for the Pampa Refining company of Wichita Falls. It is in the northwest corner of the north half of the northeast corner of section 3, block 1, A. C. H. & B. survey, in the LeFors pool.

The other location was made in the northeast corner of the south half of the northeast corner of section 3, block 1. This location was made for Gardner Brothers & Collins.

Both locations are on the G. H. Saunders land north of the river and in proven territory. The tests will be drilled immediately it is reported.

A light spray of oil in the Marland Production company's No. 1 Brown-Finley, in the northeast corner of section 32, block B-2, last night was the signal for interest to be switched to this new territory from the Malone et al's No. 1 Taylor in section 22 of the same block which encountered oil Monday afternoon.

Total depth of the Marland test has not been announced. The derrick on this test was burned two weeks ago, when about 35,000,000 feet of gas was encountered at 2,720 feet.

South of the granite ridge, the Empire Gas & Fuel company's No. 1 Jackson in the northeast corner of section 185, block B-2, is setting 6-inch casing at 3,110 feet after getting a light show of oil yesterday at 3,288 feet. There is considerable oil in the hole. A trial will not be made until the 6-inch casing has been set.

This test is being watched with interest. It is an offset to the United Eight test which is making about 100 barrels. The test is located more than five miles west of production in the Bowers-McGee pool.

Calles

Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, has hurried to the side of President Emilio Portes Gil to give what help he can in putting down the revolution. Revolutionists claim they are seeking to break his domination of Mexican affairs.

JOHNSTON WILL TAKE STAND IN DEFENSE TODAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 7. (AP)—Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor of Oklahoma, was sworn as a witness to testify in his own behalf before the senate court of impeachment at noon today. Johnston, however, did not immediately assume the witness stand as a noon recess was taken.

Lions Meeting to Convene in City Tomorrow Noon

Lions from many cities and towns will come to Pampa Friday for a district convention. The session will open at noon with a luncheon in the basement auditorium of the Methodist church.

Following the luncheon, entertainment arranged by the local club will be interspersed with business matters. The afternoon session probably will last several hours. G. G. McBride of Borger, chairman of the district, will be in charge.

Poultry and Dairy Show Is Planned

Plans for holding a two-day poultry and dairy show here are under discussion by the Agriculture committee of the Board of City Development. No definite date has been set for the school nor has a program been arranged but an effort will be made to hold the school next month.

Experts from West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon and Texas Tech at Lubbock will be secured to give lectures on poultry raising and dairying. It is also planned to visit dairies and poultry farms, where the experts will give judging exhibitions.

EPIC IN OIL IS BEING PAINTED IN WHITING, IND.

Stewart Is Making No Prediction as to Outcome

HE HAS WAGED STRONG FIGHT

Opponent Claims 59 Per Cent of Stock—Big Margin

WHITING, Ind., March 7. (AP)—With all the solemnity of a church gathering, the annual meeting of stockholders of the Standard Oil company of Indiana was held in community house here today in a session regarded as certain to result in the defeat of Colonel Robert W. Stewart for re-election as chairman of the board of directors. The board of election reported that a total of 8,446,120 votes had been cast, 817,410 being represented in person and 7,628,710 being proxies.

WHITING, Ind., March 7. (AP)—A $900,000,000 corporation today painted, on a Whiting canvas, an epic in oil.

It was a picture made by the proxies of the 56,000 shareholders of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, a picture of Col. Robert W. Stewart, its executive head, fighting the forces of the younger John D. Rockefeller.

The best information available before the annual meeting of stockholders was called to order at noon today was that Colonel Stewart, farm boy-lawyer-politician-Rough Rider and 62-year-old chairman of the company's board, was whipped; that the Rockefeller forces, assailing his "moral fitness," had more than enough proxies to end his 11 years' leadership.

Directors for Stewart This Colonel Stewart would not admit; nor would he make advance claims of victory, as did his antagonists. He said he had made an energetic campaign for support; that he had a majority of the stock; that his fellow directors had given him their endorsement.

Proxies only count today, however, and Mr. Rockefeller's field leader—Winthrop W. Aldrich of New York—went to today's meeting with the announcement that the Rockefeller faction held control.

At the last minute the talk had turned not to who would win but to how great an advantage the Rockefeller group would possess. The estimates ran from a million to a million and a half votes, as votes are counted in shares of the company's stock. The Rockefeller forces claimed control of 59 per cent of the company's 9,000,000 votable shares. The claim was made after a check of all proxies had been made.

May Be Vacancies Should Colonel Stewart lose, there would be three vacancies on the directorate to be filled. It was understood the Rockefeller leaders had decided these vacancies should be filled by the election of Dr. William M. Burton, former president; Thomas S. Cooke, now in charge of manufacturing for the Pan-American Petroleum Transportation corporation, a subsidiary, and Dr. G. Cash, manager of the Whiting refinery.

Earlier predictions that Ed G. Seibert, president of Standard Oil of Indiana, would succeed Stewart as chairman should the election go favorably for the Rockefeller group, were regarded today as erroneous. The best information was that Seibert, who has been supporting Colonel Stewart, would remain as president and executive officer, but that Dr. Burton would be named chairman with final authority.

Colin Puckett, an employee of the Sun Oil company, underwent a major operation this morning at the McKean & Connor.

TICKET SALE FOR PROGRAM OF FRIDAY EVENING SHOWS UNUSUAL INTEREST IN EVENT

A growing enthusiasm, heightened by curiosity over "The Old Family Album" and other features of the all-comedy program to be given tomorrow night at the Central auditorium is evidenced in the ready sale of tickets and the almost complete sell-out of reserved seats. Indications are that the house will be sold out before 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, when the curtain rises.

The program will be given by the local branch of the A. A. U. W. and the College club to raise funds for the further development of the new public library. Three big separate acts and a specialty number will comprise the evening's entertainment. The appearance of more than a hundred local persons on the program is an added attraction.

"The Old Family Album" is a review of all the figures who inhabit and clutter the family tree. They appear in their original costumes and in scrupulously faithful make-up. None of their secrets are sacred to the little girl who entertains "mama's company" by showing off the family photographs.

Much interest attaches to a wedding scheduled to take place in the auditorium sometime during the evening. The names of the principals have not been made public, but persons in position to know have said the attendants and guests at the ceremony will include people of world renown.

Two Trustees Are To Be Elected in District April 6

An election will be held April 6 for the selection of two trustees of the Pampa Independent school districts. Those whose terms are to expire are C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the board, and J. M. Daugherty. The places to be filled are for two-year terms. The incumbents have not indicated whether they will offer their names for re-election. Filing for places on the ballots must be done before a date to be announced soon, probably ten days before election.

Federals Regain Many Cities But Expect Battles

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Complete breakdown of the revolutionary movement in Vera Cruz and other parts of Southern Mexico was reported today, while the rebels in the north continued their drive toward Juarez where a handful of federal troops was awaiting them. General Jesus Aguirre, commander of the rebel forces in Vera Cruz, was believed to have taken flight by sea after severe fighting yesterday, which ended when the consular corps secured an armistice to avoid further bloodshed.

The important strategic railway center of Monterey also was lost to the rebels, General Escobar evacuating the city after a severe defeat by 10,000 federal troops. General Escobar later was driven out of Saltillo and today was retreating to Torreon along the western border of Coahuila.

Of the three chief revolutionary leaders, two have been definitely reported defeated while the third, General Borquez in Sonora, was still consolidating his position and planning a southward movement against government forces in Sinaloa.

Cities which the government has recovered are Monterey, Cordova, Saltillo, Orizaba, and Jalapa. While Vera Cruz had virtually been recaptured still needing some consolidating of position.

Measures to confiscate the property of five of the leading revolutionaries were taken by the government. These including general Aguirre, Manzo, Topete, Escobar, and Cruz.

LAREDO, March 7. (AP)—A telegram to friends of General Juan Andreu Almazan, loyal Mexican general, from Mexico City today said the general had been captured at Saltillo by rebels.

Friends of the general here said that Almazan, who had been divisional general in charge of federal troops in the state of Coahuila, had gone to Monterey and then to Saltillo in pursuit of General Gonzalo Escobar, rebel commander. When Almazan reached Monterey Escobar had fled, but in a conflict at Saltillo the loyal general's troops were overcome by rebels and General Almazan captured, the friends said.

EL PASO, March 7. (AP)—An unofficial report that Mayor Gallo of Juarez had been executed by a firing squad of Mexican federalists of the resort town gained widespread credence here today. Mayor Gallo was taken into custody yesterday along with four other Juarez officials for alleged revolutionary tendencies.

EL PASO, March 7. (AP)—Under command of General Ignacio Flores, 200 federal soldiers left Juarez at 7 o'clock this morning to proceed against a detachment of 400 revolutionists believed to be advancing against the city.

Observers in El Paso this morning, gazing at Juarez through field glasses, reported seeing federal soldiers stationed on the roofs of Juarez buildings as snipers.

The two federal officers discussed plans for several hours with Enrique Liekens, consul general, and then crossed the Rio Grande into Juarez.

D. W. Tomlinson, who piloted the Mexican officers here, said that federal forces are holding all foreign planes in Mexico City, 15 having been confiscated for emergency use. Tomlinson, well known as a member of the United States navy's "sea hawks," also declared the Mexican government has in its hangars at Mexico City three observation planes with Liberty motors and six antiquated Bristol planes which will be used for bombing in the event aerial attacks become necessary.

NOGALES, Ariz., March 7. (AP)—Advices to the Associated Press today from Gussave, Sinaloa, stated that General Iturbe, leading a body of rebel troops, is advancing southward through that state and is expected to take Culiacan, the state capital of Sinaloa, today.

The advices said the rebel troops were being received with "great enthusiasm." Millions of dollars worth of property, it was stated, was found destroyed by a detachment of federal troops which had retreated through the state several days before.

Mrs. W. F. Campbell to Catalog Library

Mrs. W. F. Campbell, formerly librarian of Central high school, will catalog the public library under the Dewey-Decimal system and during the next month will train Mrs. Lois Dorsey of this city to manage the library and reading room, according to plans perfected Tuesday night by a library association committee appointed to investigate applications from librarians and to employ a permanent librarian.

Although final action was not taken, it is probable that Mrs. Dorsey will be elected for the position of librarian, Mrs. B. E. Finley, chairman of the committee said. Mrs. Dorsey formerly was librarian of Booker high school. In their business meeting Tuesday night, the committee accepted the offer of Mrs. H. H. Hicks to conduct a Saturday morning story hour at the reading room for the children of the community. Each Saturday morning, between 9 and 10 o'clock, Mrs. Hicks will entertain all the children who wish to attend the story telling.

It's Like This

A MENCKEN OR LEWIS is not necessary to point out some of the malpractices that need debunking right in our own community.

We fall into habits that by reason of their very familiarity seem all right, yet to a newcomer they may appear absurd. In fact, what is the reformer but one who sees things as things, without the little endearments and camaraeries which make them tenable to us?

To be specific, consider our gatherings where deliberations are supposed to take place. Chairmen who can or do enforce even the simplest rulings of parliamentary procedure are rare.

By the time most of those expected to attend have arrived, it is half an hour or more past the time fixed to begin deliberations. Those present have broken into groups, either to spin the latest yarns or to hold vehement pow wow over politics and what-not.

Finally, after much rapping and persuasion, the chairman calls the session to order. He asks for the minutes of the last previous meeting. Of course, the secretary is either absent or has not transcribed his notes.

The secretary begins to read. Members number one asks the man on his left for a match. That breaks the temporary formality and several matches are offered.

The leading question is presented: it invokes an argument. The proverbially long-winded brother takes the floor. He says what he believes and proceeds to repeat the same thing in fifteen different ways. His opponents take this opportunity to put their heads together and frame an argument.

at a tangent, utterly beside the question in hand, and half an hour of valuable time is wasted before the chairman pulls the train of thought back on the main line.

Men like to refer to women's clubs as gossip centers. If the maligned women could look into the doings at sessions of the other sex, their come-back would be devastating.

We are not arguing for formality. But formality has fled from places where it used to have a chance. There is a difference, moreover, between formality and respect for the chairman and the person who has the floor.

The sin is in failing to differentiate between the time for play and the time for respectful attention. Probably the tendency to speak too long has broken down the respect with which we used to listen.

We have gone to seed on the committee system, yet, instead of referring subjects to smaller groups for sifting and recommendations, we continually open for general debate topics upon which no one has a definite plan or solution.

In short, deliberations in this country have gone hay-wire, and we need some Hell 'n Maria tactics to restore order. Think it over.

We hope and believe the bill will not be declared unconstitutional, but if it is we favor immediate calling of a constitutional convention.

We would like to be a war correspondent, but we do not believe we could imitate the chameleon in loyalties as do our Latin friends to the south.

which will stand hitched. However, we'll admit we're fretting to go to El Paso this minute.

Considering how the Oklahoma impeachment drags along and that the inauguration is over, it is really very nice of Mexico to provide the headlines for a while.

The average father's idea of modern education suffers a slump when he finds he can't work the problems as he used to.

Lindbergh, always in demand, must have thought the hand of fate was with him when the revolution bottled him up with his finances. Or is he hankering for sight of a friendly U. S. flying field?

It's paradoxical, but many head-strong people are weak minded.

Watching Pitchers

Manager Johnson himself is paying strict attention to his pitchers. Of the even dozen pitchers on hand, over half of the number are regarded as sure to stick with the other two or three places very much in doubt. Sad Sam Jones, Garland Braxton, Irving Hadley, Fred Marberry, Lloyd Brown, Adolph Liska, and Paul McCullough promise to start.

a railway car while standing flat-footed, but in his brief baseball experience his success with bunts has not been so striking.

Liska Has Control

Liska, whose underhand delivery will remind veteran American league of Jack Warhop of the old New York Highlanders, is said to have a priceless pitching asset in control. Buddy Myer, obtained at great price in playing talent from the Boston Red Sox, will play third base, Ossie Bluege moving to the left of the infield to make room for him. Bluege probably will take care of shortstop with Joe Cronin, a promising young shortstop, acting as understudy. Stuffy Stewart and Minter Hayes will play second base between them. Stewart seems to become faster as he grows older and he has practically made good on his third trial, although he may not play regularly. On the Florida's previous visit to the Washington camp he has found the manager, Bucky Harris, playing his position.

Joe Judge has no opposition at first base, but a substitute has not yet been elected. The chances of Harley Boss, a Little Rock recruit, were hurt when he suffered injuries to his hands in an automobile accident. Charlie Gooch, former Little Rock third baseman, detecting evidences of crowding around third, announced himself as a former first baseman and is attempting to qualify as far away as he can get from his regular position and still remain on the infield.

GIANTS GET HOMERS

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 7. (AP)—New York's Giants have had a sample of how their rival Yankees must feel during their home run spree and they intend to try it out a few more times. The Giants journeyed to Austin yesterday for a game with Texas University, just to get the jump on the other teams in the spring barnstorming, and they came back with three homers and a 23 to 3 victory over the collegians.

The Robins have offered Doug $12,000 for the season but he demands $3,000 more and the result has been an ultimatum to sign or be traded. Dazzy Vance, the other half of the holdout list, is giving Robbie less trouble. Conferences with him continue.

COLLEGE STATION, Mar. 7. (AP)

Most of the teams that will compete in the state high school basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday had arrived today to begin practice for the event to be played on the Texas A. & M. memorial court. It was arranged for contenders to get on the floor for a time today and get the feel of the court. Bryan high school, one of the entrants, is fortunate in having been able to play on the championship court many times this season. In the opening round tomorrow to-morrow, Athens will meet May, El Paso will face Denison, and Main Avenue of San Antonio will tackle Cisco in the upper bracket. In the other rung Corsicana is paired against Perryton, Denton against McAllen, and Bryan versus Estelline. San Jacinto of Houston and Knippa drew byes in the opening round.

First Line Up is Picked by Blackburne

DALLAS, Mar. 7. (AP)—Manager "Lena" Blackburne appears to have decided already as to the makeup of his White Sox infield. Blackburne has intimated the line up will be: Autry, catcher; Shires, first; Kerr, second; Kamm, third; and Cissell shortstop. A merry fight is waging for the outfield posts, however. With Bill Cissell, doing the most of the hitting, the "regulars" defeated the "goods", 9 to 3, in the first practice game yesterday. El Ward, big right hander from Ypsilanti, Mich., state normal, was the "goat" of the game. He tolled four rounds for the "goods", walking seven, hitting one, and allowing four hits. R. W. Lane left yesterday on a business trip to Tulsa. He will return the last of the week.

STRIBLING IS OUT

The heavyweight championship situation, as it found itself after the pasting, Jack Sharkey gave Willie Stribling, was slightly less involved than it has been since Gene Tunney retired. The situation now is that Stribling in spite of the appeals of his father and mother, is out of the picture. Probably for good. Sharkey is re-establishing and probably is in the commanding position. About Dempsey, no one knows. He may be, in the end, the keyman to the situation. It has been shown, however, that Stribling is not a crowd pleaser, that is, in the words of the box office, he is not a "gate" man. He had drawn a fine crowd in Miami Beach but he didn't send them away talking as Sharkey did in a losing fight against Dempsey, and as Fippo did in his downfall before the same Dempsey. It can be said with authority that Stribling is not being entertained in the plans of the moment of the Garden Corporation and that these plans necessarily tentative, concern only Sharkey, Paulino, Schmeling and Dempsey.

HE BLEW HIS CHANCE

Bill Carey wants to put on at least two big bouts this summer for the Garden Corporation. He had a third one in mind that might have been the wow of all times. But Stribling blew his chance and it is too late to rebuild him. If Stribling had scored a decision victory over Sharkey and could have been matched through as the winner of the eliminations, the Dempsey man would have come back and claimed the title and he would have fought Stribling down at Miami Beach at this time next year. The result, as far as local attraction, can be imagined easily. We know that Dempsey, if he has to come back, would have preferred Stribling to any opponent in the class. And well he might after the display that Stribling gave against Sharkey. MR. CAREY'S PLANS. Sharkey is now the big draw fighter. Schmeling went away and left a hot trail to cool. He can't be used while he is in Germany fighting managers. The Garden plans, without any authority to quote, are to match Sharkey and Paulino for a shot around July and throw the winner in with Schmeling and then it will be up to Dempsey. Sharkey is under contract to the Garden until July 25 and Bill Carey would like to use him in Boston. The Garden has financial interests to look after in Boston and they figure that eventually Sharkey ought to become a drawing card in his home town. Sharkey says that he will fight anyone they pick for him and that he would prefer to have Dempsey. "I'd like to get him in the ring again," he said. "I know how to beat him now. I'd punch him lower than he was punching and I'd kick him too," he said. The Garden fellows must be praying that Dempsey will come back and that they can get the right kind of a shot for him in this part of the country—that is, if prosperity continues for the customers. Dempsey has become tremendously popular in Miami Beach, and the customers think he can still fight.

MARLAND REFINING COMPANY

Pampa City, Okla. • Kansas City • Chicago • Minneapolis • New York

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
NEW YORK.—Otto can't speak English, but he can pick a singing canary out of a flock of 8,000, all chirping at once.

Otto is a German boy, one of several upon whose judgment the canary importers of New York rely when they guarantee the musical habits of their birds. He stands all day in the center of an upstairs room in downtown Manhattan. Around the walls are tiers of tiny cages, each containing one canary. The 8,000 potential songsters keep up a continuous chirping while they pick at the seeds in their cages, so that one shrill, discordant note hangs always in the air.

But Otto does not depend on his ears. He watches their necks and when he sees a movement in the feathers under the beak that indicates to him a song instead of a chirp he makes a chalk mark on the cage. The birds who have burst into unheard song then are segregated for sale to retailers as warblers who really warble.

TRAINING BULLFINCHES

It is obvious, therefore, that canary voices are discovered after the yellow migrants arrive on this side. Not so, however, with the opera stars of the bird world, the bullfinches.

Bullfinches are patiently trained by organists or harness makers in their native Germany. The latter whistle one song over and over again to birds suspended in cages above their benches, until the pupils have memorized an entire selection. Some learn as many as three songs. They, of course, bring the highest price, which is $100.

CANARIES IN STORAGE

Just now it's canary breeding time in the Hartz mountains of Germany and the stock to be hatched this spring will be laid by for export next year. The birds are kept in warehouses overseas, one New York dealer alone having 28,000 of last year's crop waiting to be brought over.

The songsters arrive weekly, each of several wholesalers in town receiving from 3,000 to 6,000 in a consignment. They are purchased for storage from breeders' clubs in the mountains, similar, it seems, to farm marketing groups in this country.

CAT TALE

Speaking of canaries, there is, in the Grand Central terminal, a large cat that probably never has seen a bird. Its only distinction is its enormous vanity.

The animal lives in a candy store and at night is placed in a showcase, to keep it from wandering out into the great spaces of the waiting rooms. The glass case offers few diversions, but it does have a mirror on one side. Travelers from the west, arriving on early morning trains, may see Oscar proudly presenting himself in front of the mirror. Night after night he walks back and forth, apparently admiring the sleek image, his only companion.

Stock Judging Students Will Go to Fort Worth

CANYON, Mar. 7. (Special)—The stock judging team of the West Texas State Teachers college will leave Thursday night for Fort Worth to attend the thirty-third annual Pat Stock Show.

The men go under the direction of Professor Frank R. Phillips, of the Agriculture department. The three judges who compose the team are John Gilham, Hereford; Vinson Younger, Neward; and Robin A. Byars, Lockney. J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., of Hereford is the alternate.

BROWN ROOKIE CHIPS KNEE-OPERATION ORDERED

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 7. (P)—The first major casualty of the St. Louis Browns became known yesterday when George Stanton, likely looking rookie first baseman, was ordered to St. Louis to undergo an operation to remove a bone chip from his knee. The injury occurred several days ago.

Batting of the Browns has shown improvement as the players work out under a baking sun. Tom Jenkins, up with the Red Sox a couple of years ago, made the longest hit yesterday. Jenkins was with Wichita Falls last year.

Public Library Receives Gifts of Magazines and Newspapers—Publications on Many Subjects to Please all Readers

The value of the new public library and popularity of the reading room have been greatly enhanced by the recent addition of newspapers and magazines to the growing supply of reading matter. The newspapers include The Austin American-Statesman, The Wichita (Kansas) Beacon, The El Paso Herald, and The Pampa Daily News, Dallas, as well as weekly papers from many Panhandle and Oklahoma towns.

The magazines represent a variety of types. Among them are literary magazines, travel and geographical magazines, religious publications, special journals on psychology, economics, finance, and marketing, and several of the major sports. There are even one or two magazines of particular interest to dog fanciers.

All of these were contributed by the publishers at the request of a Pampa citizen who wrote dozens of letters asking donations to the library, and who, in a like manner, secured more than a hundred dollars worth of books for the institution. With only a few exceptions, the publishers to whom the request was sent complied most graciously, writing letters of encouragement to the local library enthusiast.

The following from the publishers of Popular Science is typical. "We are arranging to send Popular Science to your library for the next six months. We hope that your library will be well appreciated by the people of your town, and we are glad to lend a little encouragement."

An unclassified list of the publications is given below: Young People's Weekly, Boys' World, Girl's Companion, What to Do, Dew Drop, Billboard, National Geographical, Mayflower, The Open Road for Boys, Every Child's Magazine, The Financial World, Girls' Circle, Junior World, The Dial, Psychology, White Institute, Oil & Gas Journal, The American Boy.

Wallace's Farmer, Boys' Life, Orthopedics, Outdoor Life, Theatre, The American Girl, Aero Digest, Child Welfare Magazine, Wide World Magazine, St. Nicholas, Survey-Graphic, Popular Science, Dog Fancier, Nation's Business, Sports, and Marketing.

THIS HAS HAPPENED "MANNON reached for the extension of the telephone which he had hooked up with police headquarters. 'Hello! That you, Captain? M'ann speaking. Have a good man sent out to bring in Cleo Gilman. Yes—that's right. One of Borden's lady friends that he broke with about three weeks ago. Telephone number, Wagon 3400. . . . Yes. . . . Too much rather than too little. I got enough suspects to fill a jail. . . . No, I'm not making any arrests yet."

"What's that? The boys didn't find a gun in either place? Well, I didn't think they would. . . . By the way, Captain, any report on Borden's man servant, Ashe, yet? I told Birdwell an hour ago to have him brought here. . . . Not at Borden's apartment? eh? Well, I want him brought here as soon as he shows up. . . . Yes, believe me, making these office my headquarters for today, at least. Yes, she's a lot of help to me, and I don't want to drag her down to headquarters if I can help it. M'ann nodded and smiled at Ruth to indicate that he was referring to her. . . . 'Mrs. Borden?' I sent her home at noon. She has a sick child. No, no danger of her blowing up. . . . Oh, sure, she's still in the picture. . . . M'ann's keeping an eye on her. . . . All right, Captain. See you soon, and M'ann hung up the receiver just as Birdwell opened the door between the two offices. . . . 'Detective Clay and Rita Dubois, sir.' . . . 'Good! Show Rita in. I'll speak to Clay out there.' M'ann directed, as he rose from Borden's desk. . . . 'Shall I leave the room, Mr. M'ann?' Ruth asked, but so wistfully that the stern-faced detective smiled again, with something like paternal fondness. . . . 'I should say not! I'm counting on your help. He boomed, and booted from the room before she could thank him. . . . A minute later the door opened to admit Rita Dubois. The dancer's black eyes looked enormous in the thin, exotically beautiful face, but there was a nonchalant smile on the vividly rosy lips. . . . 'Well, well! We meet again, darling,' she drawled, as she advanced, gloved hand on a slim hip, toward Ruth Lester. 'I see you've shed the horn-rimmed spectacles, along with the rest of your scared bunny disguise, and believe me, you're a riot.' . . . She had come quite close, and suddenly her voice dropped to a whisper. 'Listen, infant! Slip me a tip, won't you? Does that big stiff of a detective know I was here Saturday afternoon? Is that why he sent a dick out to drag me in?' . . . Ruth smiled, felt again that arm rush of friendliness toward the breezy, slangy dancer. 'The elevator operator told him I brought you up, about two o'clock Saturday afternoon,' she answered in a whisper. . . . 'Thanks, kid!' The dancer drew a sharp breath, the nonchalant smile was wiped from the rouged lips. Suddenly she looked old and ugly and very much afraid. . . . (To Be Continued)

think of." M'ann frowned in intense concentration. Then, "Did this Jake have a key to the office, Miss Lester?" Ruth shook her head. "I don't know anything else about him at all. Of course I never asked Mr. Borden any questions and he never volunteered any information." . . . M'ann left the room, apparently to give instructions to Detective Birdwell in the outer office, then returned and began to study the letters again, frowningly. "Nothing recent here," he said at last, closing the folder, "but of course I'll put a man on this job. Something may turn up, but I doubt it. Now let's see these cancelled checks. You checked his bank statements for him, I suppose?" "Yes." "Any checks to women?" M'ann demanded. "Only to Mrs. Borden," Ruth told him. "So 'Handsome Harry' was no woman's fool," M'ann approved, smiling crookedly. "Any charge accounts for his lady friends?" Again Ruth shook her head. "No, not in his name at least. But from what he said to Rita Dubois on Saturday I gathered that he had given her letters to the credit managers of several shops. I imagine the accounts were to be opened in her name, with his name as guarantee of payment, but of course I can't be sure." . . . "Just one of the little points that Rita can clear up for us," M'ann commented dryly. "By the way, how long had Borden's affair with the dancer been going on?" "I don't think it had really begun," Ruth answered honestly. "From what I overheard between them on Saturday and from what Mr. Borden said after Rita had left—" "What did he say?" M'ann interrupted sharply. "Something about 'they all fall sooner or later,' and that he liked them when they weren't too easy." Ruth answered, flushing. "He said Rita Dubois in the Golden Slipper about three weeks ago, and was infatuated with her from the first." "And she with him?" Ruth's flush deepened. "No—no. She hated for him even to touch her hand. I was surprised that she had agreed to go to Winter Haven with him Saturday."

"What's that? The boys didn't find a gun in either place? Well, I didn't think they would. . . . By the way, Captain, any report on Borden's man servant, Ashe, yet? Annual Rotary Banquet Enjoyed Last Evening

More than 100 club members, Rotary Anns, and guests attended the anniversary meeting of the Rotary Club at the Methodist Church last night. The program, in charge of Lynn Boyd, president, included both serious and humorous numbers in which Rotary Anns took part.

A quartet composed of Mrs. F. L. Elliott, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. J. M. Dodson and Mrs. Tom Brabham, sang several numbers. There is a request that they be taken to the district meeting at Ranger.

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., talked on the founding, organization, and object of Rotary, and Frank Kelm discussed the sixth object of Rotary, that of conducting one's business with the ideal of service above that of profit or self. J. M. Dodson, in characteristic fashion, called on several Rotary Anns to tell what membership in Rotary had done for their husbands. Several interesting improvements and changes in habits were mentioned.

Club guests included visitors from Borger, Panhandle, and other towns of this district. Judge Ivy Duncan, president of the Lions Club was honor guest.

Republicans Hope to Hold South

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7. (AP)—Victories by the Republican party in the one-time "Solid South" are seen by leaders, not as political accidents, but as gains to be consolidated.

After a session here by the executive body of the Republican national committee, Chairman Hubert Work announced the party would exert every influence within its power not only to make these results permanent but to encourage and build up virile and militant party organizations throughout the southern state.

With the announcement went the statement that this decision was in response to demands from virtually every southern state "to become permanently identified with the Republican party."

LINDBERGH MAY PILOT MEXICAN MAIL PLANE

MEXICO CITY, March 6. (AP)—Colonel Lindbergh refused to confirm announcements in Mexico City that he would pilot a mail plane to Brownsville, Texas, Saturday inaugurating service over this route.

The Mexican Aviation company is known to be ready for the informal opening of service to Brownsville Thursday but the official start will not take place until Saturday.

MAN SHOT BY DAUGHTER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 7. (AP)—Shot in the back with his own pistol by his 17-year-old daughter, E. B. Smith, 40, railroad boilermaker was not expected to live today. The shooting followed a family altercation last night in which the daughter asserts her father knocked down her mother, Alice Smith, the daughter, is held by police.

Captain Hoyt Is Flying to Capital

SAN ANTONIO, March 7. (AP)—Capt. Ross G. Hoyt, who made a one-day flight from Washington to Kelly field yesterday with mail to be carried by Capt. Ira C. Esker on his flight from Brownsville to the Canal Zone Sunday, took off from Kelly field at 3:40 a. m., today on a one-day flight from San Antonio to Washington by way of Shreveport and Atlanta.

Flying a Curtiss F-1 service pursuit plane, Captain Hoyt landed at Kelly field at 6:35 o'clock yesterday. He left Washington about 4:30 a. m., and completed the 1,500-mile flight in approximately 13 1-2 hours flying time, covering a large portion of the trip against a strong headwind.

Curtis Will Sit in Cabinet Meetings

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Vice-president Curtis is likely to have a larger measure of participation in the affairs of government during the Hoover administration than has any other man who has held the vice-presidency in more than a generation.

While the sole duty prescribed for the vice-president is that of presiding officer over the senate, President Hoover even before the election invited Mr. Curtis to sit in at cabinet sessions and the invitation was accepted. So it will be that the vice-president will be at the council table tomorrow at the first session of the Hoover cabinet.

Balmy Weather Quickly Vanishes

CHICAGO, March 7. (AP)—Destructive west winds spread snow and cold over the midwest last night, causing personal injuries, property damage and possibly loss of life.

Fire added its menace to the other elements at work. At Tomahawk, Wis., the wind whipped a fire through the business section, causing a loss of $500,000.

Six persons were injured in Chicago and three others, who set out on Lake Michigan yesterday in a small fishing boat, were believed lost, in the gale.

The cold wave came just when the midwest was enjoying its balmy weather.

McDONALD WILL CASE IS UP THIRD TIME

PARIS, March 7. (AP)—The William J. McDonald will case was up for its third trial in district court here today. Panhandle Men Protest Size of Their Gas Bills

PANHANDLE, March 7.—The local city hall was well filled last night with citizens who met to make protests on the size of their February gas bills. About 40 complaints were mentioned, and many business men and city and county officials spoke.

County Clerk C. L. Upham, who said his gas bill was $17 in January and $33 in February, has ordered his gas meter taken out and is installing coal stoves.

M. P. Donahue of Pampa, district manager of the Central States Power and Light company, is here making an investigation. He told those assembled that apparently most of the trouble was caused by under-reading or lack of reading meters in January, causing February's bill to include a portion of the January consumption. He declared that no condition of the gas mains could cause fluctuations of the meter.

Several of those present said they would have their meters taken out because of the size of recent bills.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you. I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—what you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes. Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in the process of Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.
