JOHN COOLIDGE IN TRUMBULL CAR WHICH STRIKES ANOTHER

IGNITED CAT IS BAD LUCK—BARN BURNS DOWN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 27.—(P)—Two persons were injured today in a collision of automobiles, one driven by Governor John H. Trumbull's personal chauffeur, and having John Coolidge, son of President Coolidge, as a passenger, and the other driver by Wilfred Veno, who had his mother, Mrs. Mary Veno, with him.

The Venos are in the hospital, Mrs. Veno with lacerations about the face and bruises on the body and her son with a possible skull fracture.

Coolidge and the chauffeur were unhurt.

Immediately after the collision, a police officer appeared at the scene, and John Coolidge gave him his name and his address as Northampton, Mass. The chauffeur was then permitted to drive him to the railroad office building, where he is employed.

MRS. VENO, who is about 58, and her son, who is 30, were taken to the New Haven hospital. It was stated later the woman was not seriously hurt, but that her son for the present was entered on the list of those in dangerous condition.

Police are investigating.

Ohio Girl Is Badly Wounded by Pro Officials

LORAIN, Ohio, Sept. 27.—(P)—Miss Betty Heywood, 22, of Elyria, is in a serious condition in a hospital here from a bullet wound alleged to have been received when prohibition officers working under direction of Mayor J. C. Standen, fired on a car in which she was riding today at Lorain. The officers alleged to have done the shooting are in jail.

The officers, Frank Klady, Walter Knipper, and Louis Clippe, all of Lorain, are held on technical charges of investigation.

The shooting occurred at a bridge where the dry agents were stationed to apprehend rum runners. They are alleged to have fired on the car in which Miss Heywood was a passenger when it did not stop at a command.

Charles Edwards of Elyria, driver of the car in which his wife, daughter and Miss Heywood were passengers, said he believed the agents were holdup men and increased the car's speed when they ordered him to stop. As the car sped past, one shot was fired striking Miss Heywood in the neck.

Edwards drove to a hospital where he left Miss Heywood and then reported the matter to the police.

No liquor was found in the car.

Klady is a deputy sheriff. Knipper and Clippe are city police. All three are working as dry agents under Mayor Standen.

Mill Employee Coated With Tar in Labor Trouble

KENOSHA, Wis., Sept. 27.—(P)—Blistered by hot tar poured on him by his kidnapers, Harold Hendrickson, Allen A. Company employee, was returned to his home today. He was taken there by friends to whose home he had wandered after being bound and left on a highway last night by four men, armed with shotguns.

Authorities viewed his abduction as the latest outbreak in the Kenosha mills labor troubles.

Hendrickson was seized near Kenosha as he was riding in his automobile with his two sisters. The kidnapers forced him to stop his car and took him away after striking one of the sisters over the head with a gun as they struggled to aid their brother.

BEG YOUR PARDON

SMITH'S CANDIDACY OPPOSED BY BAPTIST ASSOCIATION DUE TO HIS STAND ON AMENDMENT

Resolutions Adopted Here Wednesday Also Are Sharp in Denunciation of Sabbath Desecration by Churchmen

PUBLICITY PUTS LEOPOLD BACK AT HARD LABOR

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(P)—Richard Loeb who with Nathan Leopold, Jr., is serving a life sentence for the "thrill murder" of Poble Franks, has lost his "soft job" at the Joliet penitentiary.

Loeb has been serving as secretary to an assistant warden. Today he found himself assigned to manual labor in the yards. The order also removed him from his private cell and placed him in the cell block with other prisoners.

Early this week, Hinton C. Clabaugh chairman of the state pardons board said that through an error in commitment papers both Loeb and Leopold would be eligible to apply for a parole within six years. Clabaugh alluded to Loeb and Leopold as the "pampered pets" of Joliet, and said they were building up "fine records" for presentation to the pardons board when the time came.

Resolutions severely condemning Sabbath desecration and censuring Governor Al Smith for his attitude toward prohibition were passed late yesterday by the Canadian Baptist association, in session here.

The resolutions:

1. We deplore the present tendency on the part of many professed Christians and Baptists in particular in dis regarding the sacred observance of the Lord's Holy Day. It is a common occurrence for church people to be found attending Sunday athletic events, patronizing filling stations, going on Sunday picnicking and fishing excursions, engaging in auto races and various other forms of Sabbath desecration.

Therefore, be it resolved that the Canadian Baptist association, in annual session September 26, 1928, do hereby express our hearty disapproval of such practices, and recommend that all our pastors and our churches join in waging a mighty campaign against these un-Scriptural practices, and we further recommend that we diligently teach our children the inevitable consequences of such practices.

2. Inasmuch as the present Democratic presidential nominee has openly declared himself as opposed to the Eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, and to the enforcement of the Volstead act and who has on every occasion repeatedly shown his approval of the saloon interests, and has in many other ways shown himself antagonistic to the true spirit of democracy;

Therefore, be it resolved that we do election of this nominee or any other hereby express our disapproval of the such candidate aspiring to an office of public trust.

(This report was unanimously adopted.)

Silver Is Granted Third Reprieve by Governor Moody

Balloting in Straw Poll Favors Hoover—One Vote for "My Fido"

A consistent ratio of 2 to 1 for Herbert Hoover is being maintained in the Daily News presidential poll as ballots continue to be received. In the out-of-town returns, however, the same ratio for Smith is indicated.

Increasing interest was clearly shown yesterday, when many stopped at the News office to mark ballots and every mail brought votes.

Vociferous statements were written on a number of the ballots, such as: "If this isn't scratched enough, send it back and I will scratch it some more." One voter, who apparently is "down" on both candidates, scratched both nominees and inserted "for my dog, Fido."

If the reader has not voted, clip out the ballot below, mark it, and mail today.

Presidential "Straw Vote" Ballot

NEGRO DIES IN HOSPITAL FIRE

Building at Prairie View School Is Destroyed Today

HEMPSTEAD, Sept. 27.—(P)—One negro was burned to death and 12 others were injured when the hospital at Prairie View Normal, near here, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin today.

The residence of Dr. J. M. Franklin, college physician, adjoining the hospital, also was razed by flames.

Injuries to the students were caused when they leaped to the ground from second and third story windows.

The fire is thought to have started in the second floor of the building.

Five patients suffered broken legs as they jumped to safety and it was at first thought that all of the 20 patients had escaped death, but when the flames had subsided, the body of Missouri Taylor, Houston negro, was found in the ruins.

The board this year is composed of Charles I. Hughes, A. A. Tieman, and R. E. Johnson. The board completed its work last week after being in session almost two weeks.

Upton County Sheriff's Race Held Invalid By Rankin Judge

RANKIN, Tex., Sept. 27.—(P)—The race for sheriff of Upton county will be open to anyone who wishes to run Judge C. R. Sutton ruled yesterday; that the substitution of the word "party" for the word "primary" in the pledge as printed on the ballot invalidated the election and left the county without a nominee for the office.

The ballots carried the following pledge: "I am a Democrat and agree to support the nominee of this party." The pledge as prescribed by law reads "I am a Democrat and agree to support the nominee of this primary."

J. O. Barfield, who had been declared elected must now make the race against whoever chooses to run, if he wants the office. W. C. Fowler, who ran against him in the first primary, sued the county committee to force a run of primary. Judge Sutton, in deciding the suit made no reference to the question of a run-off, but declared the Barfield's nomination had been illegal.

P. B. Carlson and Biggs Horr attended the Tri-State fair yesterday.

Mrs. Roy Hall of Borger is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Graham are spending the week at the Joyce ranch in Roberts county, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. House.

JURY IS OUT SIX HOURS IN STINNETT CASE

Clarice Barber Breaks Stolid Mood on Hearing Fate

SHE THINKS OF MOTHER THEN

Trial of Mrs. Blackman Opens Immediately Afterward

STINNETT Bureau, Pampa Daily News.

STINNETT, Sept. 27.—After deliberating nearly six hours, a Hutchinson county jury last night found Clarice Barber guilty of the murder of Harry Losey, Borger roadhouse operator, and assessed a penalty of ten years imprisonment. No recommendation was made for a suspended sentence.

Curtis Douglas, attorney for the defendant, filed notice of appeal. It was learned that three jurors held out for a 99-year sentence, and a hung jury was for a time expected.

The convicted girl, who had maintained a stolid attitude during the trial broke down and wept when the verdict was announced. She said she did not care so much for herself, but thought of her mother's grief. Her attitude quickly changed, however, as she remarked that a few more days of imprisonment ought to cure her of profanity.

Losey was killed by the girl while attempting to eject her sister, Marie Trent, from a dance hall floor. Testimony intended to prove self defense showed that two shots were fired into the floor in front of Losey before the fatal discharge was aimed at him.

Giants Beaten By Cubs—Nehf Gets Revenge

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(P)—Lt. Artha Nehf, sold down the river as worthless two years ago by John McGraw, returned to the Polo Grounds today to avenge himself by dealing Giant pennant hopes a staggering blow. Lt. Artha pitched the Cubs to a 3 to 2 victory in the first game of a doubleheader and made it impossible for the Giants to gain a tie with the Cardinals unless the leaders should lose at Boston while the Clan McGraw is winning the second game.

There was no threat in the first round of the opener, but the Giants picked up one in the second on Lindstrom's double and Hogan's single. The Cubs came back with a pair in the third. Singles by Hartnett and Beck and a pass to Nehf filled the bases, and Hartnett dashed home as English forced Nehf. Terry dropped Jackson's relay to first when the Shortstop attempted to double English, and Beck also scored. The Giants got nothing in the third.

Back Wilson's triple to right center and Stephenson's single through the box increased the Cub lead to 3 to 1 in the fourth and the Giants got one on a pass to Jackson and Cohen double.

Wilson's single with one gone in the seventh was wasted when Stephenson hit into a double play. Reese singled to open the Giant half and raced to third on Mann's double, but Lindstrom fouled to Beck and Reese was cut down at the plate on Hogan's tap to Beck.

Jackson forced Hogan. The seventh also was scoreless. Scott entered the box for the Giants in the eighth.

Scott escaped damage in the 8th, but so did Nehf.

The Cubs filled the bases with one gone in the 9th, on singles by Grimm, Beck and Nehf, but English forced Grimm at the plate, and Maguire filed to Reese.

Drying San Antonio

Edward E. Spofford, national commander of the American Legion, has asked Mayor C. M. Chambers of San Antonio to "dry up" that city before the coming international convention is held there beginning October 6.

This frank request will be taken by some critics of the Legion to be an admission that the organization is not all it might be. But it is not so. When thousands of men assemble, and liquor is being offered, a percentage of those present will become willing customers. The result to a convention may very easily become detrimental, if not scandalous.

In a large body of men from all parts of the world, it is no doubt true, as Commander Spofford says, that "the thing we have to guard against most is the abuse of alcoholic beverages and liquor in every way possible that San Antonio be dried up and caches of liquor within automobile driving distance of the city be confiscated."

For a time the feeling existed, even in official circles, that the way to "kill" a convention was to prevent the flow of liquor. Cities openly hinted that enforcement of the prohibition laws would be suspended, along with the presentation of the "key to the city." Fortunately that time has very largely passed. Perhaps Commander Spofford has delivered the frank hint that he wishes no "wet hospitality" from the city of San Antonio.

The Legion has more than a decade of age. Its members are not the young, war-shocked men they were when the body was young. There is no reason why it should differ from any other service organization. It basically does not. There are fraternal men in every large group, morally speaking. This applies to religious conventions as well as other types, as anyone knows who has been in close contact with many large gatherings. The Legion has merely taken a step which even the most profound group might welcome under similar circumstances. Some men of every big number will not be worthy of their organization.

Signs of Bigness

The "Lubbock" Avalanche-Journal recently put out a fair edition of more than one hundred pages, and the "Southwestern Dispatch of Roswell, N. M.," one of more than 90 pages.

What made these editions possible? Not mere local support, though that was remarkably generous. Territorial support was the secret. Communities which look to the two towns mentioned as their territorial centers—who looked kindly upon the larger cities—told of their assets through advertising in the big editions. Friendship is the basis of bigness—not grab-all rivalry.

That Lubbock was given Texas Tech was due perhaps more than anything else to the fact that smaller towns for miles in every direction displayed before the locating committee such slogans as "We Want the Tech for Lubbock." Friendliness must be deserved. Lubbock boosted herself by boosting her neighbors—and it paid.

Out in Roswell, the Pecos valley region, the mountain resorts, and the general scenic territory need the impetus of common expression such as the Dispatch offered. Every territory with things in common needs one big city and a far-visioned newspaper. There is no real competition between the large and the small. Each complements and assists the other. Civic spirit should be based upon these assumptions.

WASHINGTON—The present status of law enforcement in this fair city of government is not so good.

The District of Columbia is governed by the president, who appoints the district commissioners, and by Congress, which makes the district laws. Both spent the summer vacationing. When Congress gets back on the job it is expected to investigate.

A third of Washington's 1350 policemen have been up on charges of something or other within the last year and a great many of the cases involved drunkenness or graft or abuses of authority connected with prohibition enforcement. Newspapers and citizens' associations have been setting up a roar.

Unofficial helpers of the police have proved even more untrustworthy than the cops themselves. Eight "stool pigeons" employed to get evidence of prohibition law violations, have been proven to have turned in framed evidence with the idea of convicting innocent persons. Two of them were discovered to have given perjured evidence in 25 different cases.

Women have often been the innocent victims of these "stool pigeons" who were willing to testify falsely that they had bought liquor at various places. One woman recently returned to Washington to discover that during her absence such a witness had claimed to have made a purchase from her in her empty apartment.

How many persons have been convicted on such perjured evidence is a thought which no one here cares to dwell upon, but the district attorney's office has hastened to nolle prosequere cases based on the evidence of proven perjurers. Two "stool pigeons" are now in the penitentiary, four are awaiting trial and one is held for the grand jury.

U. S. Commissioner Turnage has refused to issue any more liquor search warrants on affidavits of paid informers unless they are searched by police upon entering and leaving suspected places. He recommended selection of informers by Civil Service officials.

Prohibition Commissioner Turnage has refused to issue any more liquor search warrants on affidavits of paid informers unless they are searched by police upon entering and leaving the suspected places. He recommended selection of informers by Civil Service officials.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran is investigating charges of brutality and vandalism allegedly committed by dry agents in collaboration with local cops and the Washington Bar Association has publicly protested "the wholesale and indiscriminate shooting, assaulting and manhandling of colored persons."

Police Chief Hesse is still investigating the shooting of two colored men by three policemen and members of that race charge the force with reckless disregard for their lives.

It is to be hoped that Mexico's provisional president will not be too provisional and too temporary.

Loeb and Leopold may get out in 6 more years, but if they do we hope the English newspapers do not learn of it.

After hearing the Smith and the Hoover boosters berate the "other candidate", one is inclined to think this country is going to the proverbial "how hows". Still, we do not intend to sell out and move to any other.

One Smith supporter had an original idea as to our straw vote—he marked Hoover's name off the ballot with very oily oil.

For awhile this said straw vote was so slow you would have thought it was a real Pampa election.

The "eternal triangle" didn't develop in politics, but we have the inevitable quartet of factions.

An operation may make that Tulsa lad a "good boy", but if it does it may be going a little too far. If it will make him just like other boys, no better and no worse, it will be a success. Lots of people need operations on their heads.

Women's Progress Is Outlined by Mrs. W. A. Bratton, President of Twentieth Century Club, at Breakfast Honoring Her

Foremost among the week's social affairs was the formal breakfast given by the Twentieth Century Club at the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey, at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, honoring the club's new president, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, and presidents of other study clubs and Parent-Teachers associations of the city. Not only was it one of the most beautifully appointed functions of the season, but it was important as the first Fall meeting of the club.

Mrs. H. H. Hicks was toastmaster of the occasion. Mrs. J. T. Clark extended a gracious welcome to the guests, after which Mrs. F. G. Twiford welcomed the new president. After expressing her appreciation of the honor bestowed upon her by the club and formally greeting new members and guests, Mrs. Bratton delivered her message to the club. She gave an interesting review of the past history of women's clubs, tracing their progress through nearly two generations; discussed the tremendous scope of women's club work today; and ended by outlining the Twentieth Century club's objectives for the current club year.

Enjoyable features of the morning program were a reading by Mrs. Raymond Harrah and a vocal duet by Mrs. A. H. Doucette and Mrs. C. C. Dodd. Twenty members and honor guests were seated at long tables which were arranged to form a T. The tables were laid with Normandy lace and a service of amber pink glass was used. A bowl of crimson American Beauty roses marked the intersection while a corsage of pink buds was at Mrs. Bratton's place. Silver pheasants and dainty place cards gave further notes of decoration.

Covers were laid for the following: Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, president of El Progresso; Mrs. Clyde Atteberry, president of North Side Parent-Teachers association; Mrs. William Gray, president of South Side Parent-Teachers association; Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the University and College Women's club; Mrs. Tom Eller, president of the Coterie club; and Mrs. Harry Barnard, president of the Child Study club; all guests of honor with Mrs. Bratton. The following members were present: Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. C. C. Dodd, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. G. C. Malone, Mrs. Foster Malone, Mrs. R. W. McDonald, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. D. King, Mrs. H. O. Twiford, and Mrs. T. B. Hughey.

Mrs. Bratton's message to the club was as follows: "It is only through the combined efforts of all alert and interested membership of any club or organization that the object of that organization may be obtained. Thus we come to the thought of co-operation and, of course, we all know what that means—the working or operating together to an harmonious end.

"Not so many years ago, a generation, or thirty years ago or less, a woman's program included: Monday, washing; Tuesday, ironing; Wednesday, baking and prayer meeting; Thursday, sewing and mending; Friday, church meetings and odd jobs; Saturday, marketing and baking for Sunday; Sunday, church, Sunday school, dinner, and more church. Finally changes from this set routine came by women's meeting together in clubs and conventions where they talked up and down and cross ways on subjects pertaining to the working out of schedules which included work, play, hygiene, and study.

"Not the least responsible for the bigger and better life for women was the national council of women whose delegates were recently sent to the Pan-Pacific Women's Conference in Honolulu, where the questions and problems of women's clubs of today were thrashed out. So you will see that not so many years have elapsed since the women have advanced from the small clubs or gatherings to the international councils.

"Our women first took up church affairs outside the home. Later school activities began to claim their attention, and finally they have made a success in their attempts at civic work, safety first campaigns, and charity. In fact, since the world War, there is scarcely an enterprise in which women have not engaged successfully. At first men resented their intrusion upon their rights, as they termed them, but with the revolutionizing of all things since the war has come the acceptance of women in all the walks of life. Unquestionably they can assume the highest offices—they have proven themselves capable as mechanics, financiers, and I think it won't be long until we may be campaigning for a woman president.

"But even before this, when equal franchise was granted in most states, how much discussion went up from the men! Always there was the argument of the radicals, that women would be thrown on a level with the most ordinary men; that they would be included at the poles when voting; that they would not receive the same consideration socially or when traveling as formerly. But how many of us can see any difference in the gallery of civility shown us, then and now? In fact, I think that men have a little higher respect for women than ever ly intelligent women. The questions around which the chief conflicts arise are not many in number and by a fair amount of well directed study, one can become well acquainted with most of them.

"The Twentieth Century club has a three-fold object toward which the members are striving. First, literary attainment; second, the betterment of the physical, moral and intellectual condition of the individual and community; third, social enjoyment. Through this outline of study that our worthy program committee has arranged, for I am sure that we will have an enjoyable study year. We enter the new year with confidence and assurance and with an earnest desire that the Twentieth Century club will be associated with every movement for social betterment and the betterment of humanity.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

"SYBIL THORNE is going to have a baby. Only two people know of her marriage, and both are pledged to secrecy. Sybil meant that no one else should know. But now she must tell—there are three who think she had rather die."

"The father of her unborn child is RICHARD EUSTIS, an ex-lawyer and a philanthropist. Sybil lives with him only two weeks during a period when she was supposed to be vacationing in Jamaica, with MABEL BLAKE. Terminating a ghostly honeymoon, Sybil returns to Boston with Mabel, determined that no one shall ever know of her scandalous liaison."

"When she learns, however, that she is going to have a child, she is forced to tell her secret. Mabel is helpful and sympathetic. Her brother, VALERIE, her brother's wife, is inclined to scoff and taunt. Poor MRS. THORNE—she is immediately about getting announcements printed."

"Then Sybil tells CRAIG NEW-HALL, who has loved her for years, and hopes that some day she would marry him."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXX

ONLY Craig's lips twined, and a little cord in his neck. Sybil thought of a sketch she had seen of a foreign dictator, with a leonine head. People called him the Tragic Man of Destiny.

Now Craig looked like that—a composite of tragedy. She saw the agony in his eyes, and could have cried aloud. Her own were full of fear—wild, hunted fear. And so they sat—reading one another's misery, in dreadful silence.

She reached and touched his hand. It lay on the tablecloth, motionless. And when she fondled it, it felt like ice.

"He opened his mouth to speak. 'Why...'"

Words came hard. He seemed to wrench them out, with effort.

"Why... didn't you tell me... before?"

"I couldn't," she told him, ineffectually she patted his hand. "His name was Richard Eustis. I hate him now. I... I left him in Havana. Shall I tell you about it?"

SHE talked in small, jerky sentences. "I think I must have been crazy... It was all so sudden... The Captain—and those women... Mabel begged me not to... And then, that very night... Oh, it was awful... Drink—drink—drink... Five months now."

"A dull red suffused the grayness of Craig's face, and an obsequious waiter, hovering near, stared in startled surprise.

"Oh, please!" Sybil interrupted herself nervously. "Send that man

Nose Injury Puts Sulsbury Out of Line-Up for Game Tomorrow

Harvester End Will Not Meet Wellington Team

The Pampa Harvesters will be without the services of Don Sulsbury, left end, when they take the field against the Wellington high school team at Ayres field tomorrow afternoon. Sulsbury sustained a broken nose in practice last night when he and Carson collided when practicing a new play. His loss will be a blow to the team, as he was one of the most reliable men on the squad. He has been instrumental in numerous wins last season and is showing well now.

Coach Odus Mitchell has not announced his changed line-up, but will have an eleven on the field that will battle Wellington to the end. Willis may replace Sulsbury.

Coach Mitchell has his backfield and ends ready for the battle of tomorrow afternoon, while Assistant Coach A. M. Fox has the linemen in a fighting mood. New plays, new formations and new faces will be seen when the Harvesters take the field.

When the team takes the field, Mason, a star on the Harvester line last year, will be seen in uniform and will get a chance to appear in the game this year.

In the backfield will be Jack Watkins, last year a star with Deadwood, S. D. Coach Mitchell has wired for his card and he will probably be eligible for tomorrow's game. He is fast on the get-away and carries the ball like a veteran. He is being used at the half position.

Tracy's card was received from Sayre, Okla., yesterday and has caused the coach considerable joy, as Tracy is developing into the best passer on the team. A center is being primed to replace Kahl or the offensive, so that the latter can spear forward passes when necessary.

Russell Kennedy, one of last year's stars, is coaching the third team and has a bunch of willing youngsters on his roster. He is grooming his team for a preliminary encounter with the junior high school eleven before the big game tomorrow afternoon. The two teams will play a two-period exhibition.

The coaches have 46 enthusiasts out for practice every night.

A set of plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of C. L. Hasie, County Engineer at Memphis, Texas, for a deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25). Ten dollars of this amount will be refunded on the return of the set of plans and specifications.

Wolfe, County Judge of Gray County, must accompany each proposal, as a guarantee that the bidder, if successful will enter into contract and make bond in accordance with requirements of the specifications. The right is reserved by the party of the first part to reject any or all proposals on to waive all technicalities.

Proposals shall be submitted in sealed envelopes and marked, "Bids for the Construction of the County Highway from Pampa North 5.85 miles and South 4 miles in Gray County."

All bids received will be retained by the County and will not be returned to the bidders.

Big Three Backs Strong But All Lines Are Weak; Harvard Hit Hardest

Some of the beefier boys calling themselves backs may wind up in the forward wall around the Big Three this year, for line material is scarce. Two backs not to be shifted are French, Harvard captain and Wittmer, Princeton, the latter one of the east's leading scorers last year. Yale is depending on Young Charley Snead, sophomore, to fill one of its end posts.

By WILLIAM R. KING
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

BOSTON (AP)—The big three coaches, each facing his hardest football schedule since the war, will have to overcome similar problems to build up winning eleven this season.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton start training with a wealth of backfield material but with line prospects more or less bleak.

At Cambridge, Arnold Horween, has two versatile and capable backfields, but he will be forced to depend upon last year's undefeated freshman team for varsity linemen. Harvard's line hopes were shattered in June when Dudley Bell, veteran center, Ralph Stewart, a guard who saw service in the last Yale game, and E. W. Fordyce, another seasoned lineman, were ruled ineligible.

Hitch and Levin, Crimson substitute tackles last season, are expected to be available and Horween will have a capable squad of wingmen to turn over to Eddie Bradford, the new end coach. Madison Sayles will act as backfield coach. Horween will again be assisted by "Eskie" Clark and "Duke" Dunn, veteran center and line coaches.

The Crimson eleven, captured this season by Arthur French, a star sprinter as well as a brilliant back, will open the season with Springfield on October 6 and then play North Carolina, the Army, Dartmouth, Lehigh, Pennsylvania, Holy Cross and Yale in that order.

"Dad" Jones will be on the sidelines at Yale this season but his system will be carried on by his successor, Marvin A. "Mal" Stevens. The latter was Jones' first lieutenant for many seasons and he is ripe with experience in the Yale system and is expected to hold to the principles and practices which have brought so many football victories to the Blue.

Stevens will start the season with eight veterans, half a dozen capable players who were substitutes last season and many worthy candidates who saw service with last year's freshman team.

Graduation day ended the college football careers of Captain Webster, a guard; Cardwell and Hammersley backs; Fishwick and Scott, ends; and Quarrier and Ryan, tackles; but Stevens will have Captain Max Eddy, at tackle; Greene and Hall, at guards; Garvey, Decker and Hoben in the backfield and the great Charlesworth again at center.

From last year's substitute squad he will have Wilson, a back; Hall and Billhardt, quarter backs, Crile, Oldt and West, ends; and Keel and Spiel, guards; all of whom appear ready for regular varsity berths.

Stevens also will have a bumper crop of youngsters to keep his veterans hustling for places on the first team. Among them is Sandy Wiener, Bill Tilden's tennis partner a few seasons ago, who appears capable of earning the first string quarterback's position.

The Oregon Aggies, since the advent of Paul J. Schissler as head coach, have not had a regularly elected captain of the football team and this practice won't be broken this year.

Coach Schissler, above, appoints one of the seniors of the team captain for each game. He is afraid that college politics might enter into electing a captain as it has at many other schools with the direct result that the eleven would suffer.

Robins Cut Lead of Cardinals to One-Half Game

By WILLIAM J. CHUPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The mad drama portrayed by baseball in the season of 1928 sweeps into its final scene where the great climax must be reached by nightfall on Sunday. It is decreed that on that date the curtain must drop on the current extravaganza, but it may be that this latest spectacle provided by the master dramatists of the game will yet eclipse anything that has gone on before.

The Yankees have dragged themselves into Detroit with some trepidation regarding the final five games of the season, for all of the fact that three victories will put them where they cannot be caught, even if the embattled Mackmen succeed in taking four straight from the White Sox.

On the other side the master showman of all prepares for the final stirring scenes designed to give his actors the front and center. John Joseph McGraw has no hundred million fans praying for his success, but he gets there just the same.

The Giants, now only half a game behind the Cardinals as a result of Dazzy Vance's brilliant victory in Brooklyn yesterday, are face to face with the Cubs for four engagements, beginning with a double-header this afternoon, and a pennant hangs upon every pitched ball.

The Cubs remained theoretically in the running yesterday by taking a parting shot at the Phillies by 3 to 3 while the Cardinals were losing and they plan to fight the Giants hard enough at least to keep McGraw's boys out of the flag even though they realize it no longer is possible for Chicago effort to be rewarded with a championship. The Cubs could tie but the odds are about a million to one against it.

While the Bruins are making threatening motions toward John McGraw's cherished ambition, the Cardinals will be in Boston, where they hope to fasten upon three games against the defenseless Braves. It would seem from this distance that the Red Birds should sail into the Polo Grounds on Sunday for the final clash with a margin of one game over the fighting cohorts of McGraw, but the despised Braves have been known before to turn upon their tormentors when least expected.

The desperation, if any, attaching to the St. Louis situation at this moment was brought about yesterday upon Ebbets Field. The disgraceful misconduct of certain Robins, notably Dazzy Vance and Gink Hendrick, toward their letters is to blame for it all.

Dazzy held the Cards to five harmless hits, fanned seven to hit the 200 mark even for the season, and waddled away with his twenty-second victory.

The Robins got two back for Vance in the home first, and he was very well satisfied, but Gink Hendrick had to overdo it as usual. He found three Robins on base in the seventh, and was thoughtless enough to pound a home run into the left field within the lot, making the final debacle read 6 to 1.

All of the American league teams enjoyed a day off yesterday.

Schissler Won't Have a Captain For His Team

By ALVIN J. GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A famous manager once declared pitching to be 60 per cent of the world's series battle. Most of the championship history bears this out, punctuated as it has been by feats of Mathewson, Coombs, Babe Adams, Chief Bender, Coveleskie, Johnson, Alexander, and Pennek.

No matter how the stirring pennant races finish, there should be a number of pitching thrills, whether it turns out that Larry Benton faces Waite Hoyt or Lefty Grove, or whether Old Pete Alexander matches his cunning with Old Jack Quinn or George Pipgras.

All four of the pennant contending clubs have great sharpshooters, but the Cardinals and Athletics have expended more on their moundmen than either the Giants or Yankees. Both the Cards and A's have a wealth of box material while the two New York clubs have had to rely on two or three stars. The Yankee staff, in fact, has been pretty well shot to pieces this year and even its reliables, such as Hoyt and Pipgras, are feeling the effects of over-work.

Lefty Benton's great hurling did as much as any single factor to keep the Giants in the race. He won 25 games. He had a lot of help most of the year from Freddy Fitzsimmons, who has won 20, but lately Fitz has fallen off, unable to finish the last two games he has started. To the rescue has come young Karl Hubbell, the sensational Texas league recruit, who beat the row last week shrilly etain shrilly leading Cardinals twice in a row last week. Hubbell has real grit to go along with his pitching stuff. He will bear watching if he gets a chance to work in the series.

Joe Genewich and Jack Scott, who was a hero of the 1922 series for the Giants, are in the second line of McGraw's pitching defense.

The Cardinals have three veterans in Alexander, Sherdel, and Haines who know what a world series battle is all about. Old Alex has earned a place alongside Bender as one of the greatest "money pitchers" of all times. If the Cards win out it would not be surprising to see these three bear the entire pitching burden, with Clarence Mitchell, Flint Rhem, and a few others in reserve.

World Series to See Some Great Pitching Battles

The Yankees, if they stick to the top

will miss Herb Pennock's crafty left arm in the big battle. He hasn't pitched since late August and probably won't be able to do so again this year. It is a bad break for the fox-breeder of Kennett Square, too, for he has won five games and never met defeat in series competition, a record he shares with Jack Coombs.

Wilcy Moore, who was a big factor in the 1927 triumphs of the Yankees, also is out of action, putting all the more burden on Hoyt and Pipgras. Zachary has aided the Hugmen in their closing fight. He won two series for Washington in 1924 and is ready to repeat. Henry Johnson is also available.

Lefty Grove, the southpaw speedball king, and Jack Quinn, remarkable 43-year-old veteran, have been the mainstays of the Athletics. Grove has won 23 games and lost eight, six of which were to the Yankees. Both would be colorful world's series figures. Connie Mack has a great relief hurler in Eddie Rommel and a flock of others to pick from in an emergency—including Ehmke, Earshaw, Walberg, and Orwoll.

Houston to Face Ace of Birmingham Pitchers in Second

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Sept. 27.—(AP)—Luther Rob, right hander who has yet to lose a ball game on his home lot this year, is to face Houston today in an effort to give Birmingham two straight over the Texas league champions in the series to determine the championship of the South.

Either Ken Penner or Jim Lindsay, both right handers, will go on the mound for Houston.

Birmingham gained the jump in the series yesterday when Eddie Wells bested Bill Hallahan in a postorder hurling duel. Wells gave up five hits and no runs while Hallahan was touched for seven hits and two runs. Hallahan struck out nine men, twice whiffing Bigelow, the Southern association's leading hitter, with men on base.

Following the game today, the two teams will entrain for Houston where the series will be resumed Saturday, with games scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. If a sixth game is necessary it will be played in Birmingham. A seventh game, if the series goes to the limit, would be decided by a toss of a coin.

OPEN FORUM

Editor, THE NEWS: Should the church stand for righteousness and the complete overthrow of unrighteousness, or should the church submit to the "whims," "wishes," and desires of the world and never open her mouth except to pronounce a blessing upon some poor boy or girl who has fallen victim to the damnable practice of the underworld? This is not a question of the churches' entering into the political arena and trying to use the pulpit for political gain. It is a question whether or not we will turn back to the days of the open saloon and be forced to fight all over again the battles we did fight to rid this country of the blighting curse of rum.

As far as debating the question in Pampa, that is entirely in the hands of Dr. Stratton; but that is exactly what he has been trying to get Al Smith to do every since this campaign started, but "Al" opens not his mouth. Now if those who are so dead sure that the party leader wants this question fought out upon the issues involved, then why not get their political Moses to accept the challenge that has been hurled at Al Smith time and again by Dr. Stratton, to debate the question, any time at any place within these Great United States of ours. But Al Smith, his "Wet" Republican Chairman, Raskob knows well that it will not do to discuss his record in open debate.

When Dr. Stratton came out against Al Smith in New York City, Smith immediately began to get uneasy and to say that the preachers should be driven back to their pulpits. When Moses a chosen leader of God, and sent of God to lead the children of Israel from under the yoke of bondage and slavery, King Pharaoh began to "yell" loud and long, "Back to Your Pulpit." When Elijah was crying against the sins of Israel and pleading with them to stand for righteousness, old King Ahab cried "back to your pulpit." Now is this enlightened 20th century of ours, when Al Smith and Raskob are attempting to place about the necks of the American people the yoke of Tammany Hall and the liquor traffic, they are saying to the preachers "Back to your pulpits." Smith and Raskob know well if they can close the mouths of the preachers and the church people that they will have no trouble whatever in riding the Tammany Hall horse right into the Capitol City. Then again, when the preachers and the church folk happen to be on the side of those who are pressing their particular interest, it seems to be perfectly alright. Just recently we were condemned by those who are saying now "that we should not have anything to do with the political affairs," for not going out over this district and making political speeches to rid the district of the corruption that then existed in the political affairs. Hence we hardly know just when to speak or just when to say something.

The only interest that we have in this campaign is to do our part in trying to keep this country a fit place in which to live, to save the boys and girls of this community from the crime of the liquor traffic and free them from the power of temptation that comes with the open saloon.

HIS FAMILY NUMBERS 6744!

by NEA Service
"UNKER, Mo., Sept. 27.—Some day you may be walking down the street in Helmsington or Tokio or some place and might meet somebody who hails from Bunker, Mo.

If you do, the chances are 100 to 1 that he knows Doc (Dr. J. B.) Gordon, and the chances are 10 to 1 that Doc Gordon brought that person into the world.

For Doc Gordon, 77-year-old family doctor of this town, has officiated at the birth of 6744 babies during his 56 years of practice here. At a recent anniversary celebration, 400 of the "babies" gathered at the doctor's home.

Many of Doc Gordon's babies are grandparents now. Hundreds are parents and the others range in age from a few days to twenty-one years. Just the day before the celebration, Doc Gordon drove several miles into the country to bring a new citizen into the world.

In 1871, Doc Gordon will tell you, he helped the stork at $5 per help; now he gets $25. For 28 years he rode horseback through woods that boasted no better highways than paths. Then he bought a horse and buggy. Now he spins over the roads in a "little car."

Messages to Doc Gordon came from every corner of the world when he marked his anniversary recently. The postmarks of African towns, South American countries and European lands were numerous.

Doctor Gordon thinks that bringing a baby into the world is one of a doctor's biggest responsibilities. He beams when he handles the tiny, squirming figures. He takes his work as a sacred duty.

"All these little fellows have a chance to be president some day, you know," says this kindly old physician, who has spent his years ministering to the needs and brightening the days of his neighbors in this little corner of the world.

Commoner to Wed Japanese Prince in Ceremony Friday

TOKYO, Sept. 27.—(P)—Tomorrow is the wedding day for the little "Commoner's" daughter who may one day be the Empress of Japan. Miss Setsuko Matsudaira, just 19, a few months ago a schoolgirl in a Washington finishing school, with interests and tastes much like those of any American girl of her age, will become the bride of Yasuhito, Prince Chichibu, brother of the Emperor and her presumptive throne. Thus she will enter the oldest reigning house in the world.

Although some of the bluest blood in Japan flows in her veins, Miss Setsuko's father, the former ambassador to the United States and ambassador designate to Great Britain, Tsuneo Matsudaira, bears no title. Hence the little bride is a "commoner," the first to become a princess of the reigning house by marriage. The Imperial household law forbids such unions, so technically Setsuko had become by the easy Japanese system of adoption the daughter of her uncle, Viscount Matsudaira, and therefore eligible to be wedded to an imperial prince.

Mrs. Melvin Wright visited friends in White Deer Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Marie and Mrs. Jack Back visited in Amarillo yesterday.

Miss Ruth Stocking and Miss Catherine Cole of Clarendon visited Miss Mary Stocking last evening.

Road Committees of New Club to Meet Tomorrow

A meeting of the nominating and by-laws and constitution committees of the newly organized Panhandle Highway association has been called for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the local Chamber of Commerce rooms. Representatives of a score of Panhandle towns met here late last month and decided to organize a Panhandle Highway association to work to gether to get the Panhandle "out of the mud".

L. A. McAdams of Canadian is chairman of the nominating committee and A. A. Callaghan of Panhandle is chairman of the by-laws and constitution committee. It is planned to make the organization permanent to work for the good of each town in the Panhandle and with the Texas highway association in getting designated where they will be of most benefit to the communities through which they pass.

The nominating committee will nominate permanent officers at its meeting tomorrow. A meeting of those interested will be called in the near future to complete plans for the permanent organization. George W. Briggs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce announced this morning.

Reid Says Gray County Exhibit Has Attracted Interest

"We feed the world and cook its dinner," the slogan on the Gray county booth at the Tri-State fair now in progress in Amarillo, caused no little comment and some discussion. F. P. Reid announced this morning upon his return from Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have been in charge of the Gray county booth since last Sunday. McLean will have a representative there today and tomorrow, and Alanreed Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Reid stated he is well pleased with the Gray county showing at the fair and praised the work of Secretary George W. Briggs of the Chamber of Commerce in getting the display together and arranging it. The back showed an oil derrick of grain standing over the names of four towns in the county. Over the derrick was the Gray county motto, also in grain. The floor of the display was artistically and attractively arranged.

Mr. Briggs traveled 1,500 miles arranging and collecting the produce for the display and taking it to Amarillo. He was assisted by citizens in the Pampa, LeFors, McLean and Alanreed districts in gathering produce.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johnson of Crowell are guests in the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Campbell.

THE quickest way to appreciate the superiority of Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is by direct comparison. You know the results you get from ordinary gasoline. So the next time the tank is empty fill up with Conoco Ethyl and note particularly these outstanding points of superiority:

1. No knocks.
2. Smooth, even flow of power.
3. Quicker acceleration.
4. Greater speed and pulling power on the long, hard hills.
5. Practically no vibration and no overheating of the motor.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of Conoco, the extra miles gasoline, and Ethyl brand of Anti-Knock compound—developed by General Motors. It is the standard—the yardstick for comparing motor fuels. A gasoline better than Conoco Ethyl has yet to be made.

Flogger Is Given 8-Year Sentence in Penitentiary
 CANTON, Tex., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Cain Anderson, wealthy Harrison county farmer, was found guilty of violating the Texas anti-mask law in a verdict returned by a jury today and was sentenced to eight years in the state penitentiary.

The defendant, who was alleged to have participated in the flogging of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richardson in 1927, was previously tried twice, but the juries were unable to arrive at a decision in the case.

Arguments were completed yesterday after the defense had introduced De Witt Osborne, a surprise witness in the case. Osborne, who was jointly indicted with Anderson, and given a one-year term after pleading guilty, asserted the farmer was not present when the whipping took place.

Another Ocean Flight Planned
 HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A young British naval officer who believes in hunches was here today for a proposed solo flight across the Atlantic within the next fortnight. If the weather is favorable and he has a hunch he will attempt the flight; if not he will pack up the plane and return to England.

Commander H. C. MacDonald, 28, whose chief aeronautic achievement was a flight from London to Bagdad, although he had only eighty hours of flying to his credit, thinks he will be able to demonstrate that a British Moth plane with a sole flyer is able to stand up against Atlantic weather.

He arrived at St. Johns yesterday from England. With him was a mechanic, A. P. Williams.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH
 SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Sept. 27.—(AP)—A woman known here as Mrs. L. A. Thornwill was found shot to death in her home here today when investigators responded to a telephone girl's report she had heard a woman scream for help over the Thornwill telephone line.

A heavy rifle was found some distance from the woman's pajama clad body. In an adjacent room the telephone, its receiver off the hook, lay on the floor.

L. A. Thornwill, known here as the woman's husband, told Sheriff Roundtree the woman was not his wife, but had used his name. Her real name was Cora Meade, the man said.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Park left this morning on a business trip to Lubbock. They were accompanied by Mrs. Park's mother, Mrs. J. P. McBee, who is returning to her home in Levelland, after an extended visit in Pampa.

Old Feud Breaks Out With Tragic Results Wednesday
 TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A three-family feud over ownership of a road—a feud born so many years ago that the original cause has been almost forgotten—came at a swift tragic climax yesterday when W. O. Tharp, a 45-year-old dairyman, went over to Charley Bowen's house, gunning.

Mrs. Bowen was shot and killed in her own front yard. The first bullet broke her leg and she crawled toward the slight protection that a fence offered. It was there that two more bullets were fired into her body, killing her.

The woman's husband ran to her aid and was wounded as he grappled with Tharp, the police report said. During the hand-to-hand fight between the two men, Waleta, a 14-year-old daughter of the Bowens, picked up the weapon with which her mother had been shot down, and struck Tharp.

The blow did not incapacitate Tharp, police were told, and with Bowen helpless because of his wound, Tharp ran to his automobile and drove down the road toward the home of Harry Rose, head of the third family involved in the feud.

At the Rose home it was again the woman of the house who met Tharp. Mrs. Rose, however, was armed and poured the charge of a shotgun into the Tharp car. Tharp was uninjured and shortly afterward was arrested.

The immediate cause of the shooting, police investigation showed about the children of the Rose and Bowen families. Waleta Bowen and the six Rose children had been attacked, according to the stories told officers, by Tharp and his two sons, 12 and 14 years old.

A. R. Tankersley returned last night from a visit of several days with relatives in Comanche, Okla.

Moody Says Liquor Laws Are Being Enforced in State
 AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Most of the talk about a breakdown in prohibition enforcement is "propaganda". Governor Moody told members of the Texas Sheriffs and Ex-Sheriffs association here today.

Records at Texas state penal institutions show that law is being enforced in counties which have wide awake sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys, who demand its enforcement, he added.

The governor asserted that violations of the liquor laws exist in this state but said that this condition was due in part to the officers of the law. "Of course, officers can do little without the proper kind of juries," he added. "But earnest ardent officers can do much to make the jurors meet their responsibilities."

The prosecutor officer who permits a man found in possession of a still to be charged only with vagrancy or some other minor offense in justice court is guilty of abetting criminals, Governor Moody declared.

"Society has no right to expect the entire burden of law enforcement to fall upon the officers. It must shoulder some of the responsibility. "Don't ignore violations of the law for political security," the Governor warned. "The officer who is most respected in a community is the one who is most fearless in law enforcement."

BASEBALL
 NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Ligat officials rushed to National League headquarters after defeat by the Cubs, 3 to 2, in the first game of a doubleheader here today with a protest based on Umpire Klem's ruling that Reese was out at the plate in the sixth inning after a run up. The Giants contended that Gabby Hartnett, Chicago catcher, interfered with Reese after receiving a throw from Beck, the third baseman, who took a toss from Nehf. The Chicago pitcher had fielded Hogan's tap.

BABE GETS NO. 51

William Edward Hickman is a name—a symbol of the type of brutal crime which has become all too common in this country in recent years.

That symbol should be obliterated. Hickman should receive the treatment which will make the strongest impression upon those whose minds may have similar trends.

Opportune Moment

Opponents of fraternities will be heard from now in connection with the accidental death of a Texas university student during his initiation. But was it an accidental death? Probably it was, in the sense that the student was one of the very few to whom an electric shock might be fatal, regardless of intensity.

Strange deaths occur somewhere every day. Persons die when there is no apparent reason for it. The fact that an occasional person dives into a public bathing beach and fails to live through a dive is no reason for discontinuing bathing beaches on that grounds.

Confidence in Folks

In the past Japanese court-houses boasted of no jury boxes. The idea that justice could rest in the minds of common people was considered absurd. Perhaps, until the population attained more Western Thinking, it was illogical to use the jury system.

prisonment. Crimes relating to treason and government are not within the province of the juries. No women serve in the jury box. Men must be 30 years old or more, must have lived in the city where the trial is being held for at least two years, and must be able to read and write.

Japan studies United States methods and the English system, sending her judges over here. It is to be hoped, however, that the Japanese do not go so far as to imitate our methods of dodging jury service.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—The forthcoming election will be the first since 1922 in which none of the original "Newberry senators" will be voted out of office.

There were 46 in that band of regulars who put through the Spencer resolution to seat Truman H. Newberry of Michigan after it had been shown that some $200,000 had been spent to elect him despite a state law limiting his expenses to $3750.

Since that time the political mortality rate among that majority of 46 has been enormous. Only 12 of them, or about 25 percent, still remain in the Senate.

And it is also worth pointing out that 27 of the 41 senators who voted against the seating of Newberry are still on the job. Only 14 are missing as against 34 of the Newberryites and at least half of those 14 either died, retired or resigned.

Furthermore, of the nine Republicans who voted against Newberry only one has been defeated at the polls—Sutherland of West Virginia on a close vote. Norris of Nebraska, Borah of Idaho, Capper of Kansas, Jones of Washington and Norbeck of South Dakota are still important figures in the Senate. La Follette of Wisconsin and Ladd of North Dakota are dead and Kenyon resigned to go to the federal bench.

The 12 Newberryites still in Congress are Curtis of Kansas, Edge of New Jersey, Hale of Maine, Keyes of New Hampshire, McLean of Connecticut, McNary of Oregon, Oddie of Nevada, Phipps of Colorado, Shortridge of California, Smoot of Utah, Warren of Wyoming and Watson of Indiana. Johnson of California, who refrained from voting while under pressure from both sides, also remains.

Quite a few of the dozen virtually have lifetime leases on their jobs. All of them have been up for re-election since the Newberry vote and some of them were saved by large campaign funds. Hale of Maine, despite bitter opposition, has been re-elected twice, the second time at Maine's recent election.

Hale was the only one of the dozen up before the voters this year. The others are serving terms ending in 1931 and 1933.

Some of the Newberry casualties have had lame-duck appointments. Kellogg of Minnesota became ambassador to Britain and later secretary of state. New of Indiana became post-master-general. Poindexter of Washington was made ambassador to Peru and has just been badly licked in an attempted comeback in the 1928 primaries.

Mexico City has lifted the ban on kissing on the streets. In that frubulant country, signs of affection evidently are somewhat of a premium.

Philadelphia may be the City of Brotherly Love; at least a lot of policemen waited for the spirits to move them.

Henry Ford won't run on the Home Progressive ticket. Maybe that is because he has out a new car.

Committee Will Plan Attack on Freight Rates

LUBBOCK, Oct. 2.—(Special)—A meeting of the Traffic committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been called by Spencer Wells, chairman of the committee. The meeting is to be held at the Wright hotel in Sweetwater at 10 o'clock a. m., on October 6th.

Mr. Wells urges every member of the committee to be present at this meeting, which is in a place centrally located in the Texas Common Point Territory affected. The purpose of the meeting is to plan an attack on the principle of the differential now applicable to this territory. He contended that about $4,000,000 per year is involved.

Mr. Wells asks the members of the committee to invite jobbers and shippers in their communities to attend the meeting with them.

PANHANDLE—Interests of all agricultural people in Carson county are centered in the Second Annual Community Fair at Conway, Oct. 5. Every community in the county will be represented with exhibits and scores of farmers and agriculturists throughout the county will have individual exhibits. Fully 5,000 or more people are expected to throng the fair grounds of the little village 8 miles south of Panhandle.

In addition to farm and community exhibits, there will be a household department, pure-bred poultry and live stock exhibits. A feature of the cattle show will be a score or more of blue-blooded Guernsey cows. Prof. Geo. P. Groat will have on display his Canary's Hopeful Girl that was recently purchased for $1,000 and was a prize-winner at the Tri-State Fair.

Merchants, business men and civic organizations of White Deer, Groom and Panhandle are co-operating with the Conway fair officials to make the county exposition a great success. Those who have charge of the entertainment and exhibits promise that the diversion during the one day will equal the best day at the Amarillo fair. Carson county agriculturists did not have an exhibit at the fair but they have been assembling products for weeks to display at the Conway show.

The Conway fair is one of the most renowned fairs of the state. While only a village, it will be the mecca Friday for farmers of Carson and many from Armstrong county. Visitors will derive much amusement from the baseball game between Groom and Claude, a rodeo, a dare-devil stunt flyer, famed Lieut. Robert H. Grey of Amarillo, flying the sister ship of the Spirit of St. Louis. A carnival will be in full swing all day.

Eight Boy Orators After World Title

Eight boys from as many nations will compete at Washington October 13 for the oratorical championship of the world. They include, left to right, (above) James R. Moore of Somerset, Ky., Etrain Brito Rosado, Mexico, and William Fox, Jr., London, Ont., and (below) Rene Ponthieu, Paris; Heinz Barth, Berlin and Dudley Raymond Barker, Bournemouth, England.

WASHINGTON, (P)—Eight boys, representing as many different nations, will extol the merits of their native lands at the International Oratorical contest in Washington, October 13.

Each contestant is 18 years old. Each will speak in his native tongue, and on the subject of his own government's institutions and accomplishments.

Cuba, the Argentine, Germany, France, England, Canada, the United States and Mexico will be represented. Instead of the customary speeches of introduction, the entrance of each contestant will be heralded by his own national anthem.

These youths, who will compete for the international cup, have been selected after a long process of elimination in various state and national contests. They have been feted and praised and taken on tours of foreign lands. Now comes the greatest test of all—that of oratorical championship of the world!

Each of the nations represented is right behind its entry: France for Rene Ponthieu of the Lycee Henry IV of Paris; England for Dudley Raymond Barker of Bournemouth; the United States for James R. Moore of Somerset, Kentucky; Canada for William Fox, Jr., of De La Salle school, London, Ontario; Mexico for Etrain Brito Rosado; Germany for Heinz Barth of the High School for Politics, Berlin. The entries from the Argentine and Cuba have not yet been announced.

Randolph Leigh, director general of the contest, expects about 8,000 persons to hear the orations in the Washington Auditorium. This is the third international contest and is marked by a stronger representation from Spanish speaking nations than either the first or second.

The 1926 contest was won by an American, Herbert Wenzel, of California. Last year Arturo Garcia Formenti of Mexico, was winner.

Surrounded by Food, Imprisoned Chef Goes Hungry

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—(P)—Edward Connelly, 38, a chef, was surrounded by food for seven days and yet, he said today, nearly starved to death.

Connelly found himself locked in a boxcar which was shunted to a lone siding. The car was loaded with boxes of canned food, packed high all around him.

When his pounding on the door finally brought rescue yesterday, Connelly explained he had feared to break into the food because it might be thought he was stealing. When hunger finally drove him to consider getting into the food, he had lost his knife and could not open the boxes.

LITTLE CHANGE SEEN IN MRS. WORLEY'S CONDITION

Very little change was seen today in the condition of Mrs. Phoebe Worley, seriously injured in an automobile accident Tuesday evening. In company with Albert Combs, Mrs. Worley was returning from Amarillo, when their car ran into the rear of a light truck loaded with lumber.

Mrs. Worley is 72 years old today. Plans had been completed to celebrate Mrs. Worley's birthday at the home of E. E. Reynolds, before the accident occurred.

Gas Distribution to Be Increased

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Oct. 4.—(Special)—The Cities Service Gas company on October 1 turned gas into the Fort Leavenworth distribution system which connects with the gas company's new 12-inch line leading to St. Joseph at a point north of Leavenworth, Kans. The distribution plant was constructed by the United States government to serve the military reservation at that point.

The section of the new St. Joseph line in Kansas, which serves the fort, has been completed and with the granting of a certificate of convenience and necessity by the Missouri commission last week, arrangements are being made to start the construction of the Missouri portion of this line at once.

The Western Ice & Utilities company, who hold the natural gas franchise at Anthony, Kas., have completed their main 6-inch line to the Cities Service Gas company's 20-inch line and will start taking gas within the next few days. Their distribution system is practically complete and it is understood that in a very short time residents of Anthony will have the advantage of natural gas in their homes.

New boilers are being installed at the salt plant and by the end of October this plant, the city electric plant and all domestic consumers should be receiving service.

PLEDGE TO WAYLAND

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 4.—The executive board of the Plainview district in session at Lubbock, Monday agreed to raise $1,000 for Wayland college during the coming year. The amount will be prorated among the Lubbock, Floyd, Brownfield, Dickens, Staked Plains and West Plains association. President McDonald was authorized to use the money in any way he thought best and will probably be used in the improvement of the college building. With an enrollment of 218 the college is practically self-supporting this year. A donation of $25 was received from an Oillon friend of the college the past week. New chairs for the class rooms have been ordered and the college is continually making improvements in keeping with the growth of the school.

Republican Northwest Hooverites as Business Continues In Depression and Land Is Lower

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 4.—(P)—The final month of the presidential campaign finds the accumulated grievances of agriculture still dragging very heavily on the wheels of the Hoover candidacy in the normally Republican Northwest.

Just as the Democrats have awakened to the seriousness of the anti-Smith movement in the South, so the Republicans here in the North-western states no longer speak of the anti-Hoover farm movement as a myth. They realize that through Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas they must turn in and fight, and they are doing it.

North Dakota is one of the states which both parties are claiming just now with much earnestness. But on both sides these claims are coupled with a reminder that much work remains to be done before election day and there are leaders among the Republicans and Democrats alike who say quite candidly, when they speak privately, that if the election were held today it might very well turn out in favor of Hoover.

Thus his tradition become disturbed in a state which four years ago stood by Coolidge in the face of the LaFollette crusade and gave Davis only 13,000 votes out of a total of nearly 200,000.

Governor Smith recently has traversed the state, and his western fling at the Republican farm policies were broadcast over the Northwest. On his trail have come a swarm of Republican spellbinders, including Senators Brookhart and Borah, preaching Hoover.

The outstanding state leaders of organizations, are, in turn, redoubting their pleas that Hoover be defeated. Although North Dakota was not the hardest hit by the period of distress in the farm states, her farmers and business men nevertheless have passed through some trying times.

Since November 1, 1920, there have been 307 permanent failures among the North Dakota state banks. Land values have decreased, and the present wheat prices do not help the Republican campaign.

Most of the other issues have been crowded into the shadow. Prohibition is talked about, but with no great show of confidence on either side. The state is rated normally dry, yet a large percentage of its country population is German and wet.

Just three months ago, a proposal to repeal the state prohibition amendment was lost, 96,837 to 103,696.

The religious issue has had little public prominence.

The difficulties of both parties, from an organization standpoint, are increased by the complicated plight of local politics. The real lines of political division within the state run crosswise of the old party lines. The names Republican and Democrat are preserved on the ballot, but the prime distinctions are rather between the non-Partisan League on one side, and the "Independents" on the other.

Anti-Smith Speaker Is Denied Right to Speak in 3 Towns

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 4.—(P)—William D. Uphaw, now on a speaking tour in Mississippi in opposition to the candidacy of Governor Smith, has been denied the right to speak in Goodman, Batesville, and Starkville.

Residents of the town of Batesville yesterday possessed a resolution asking the former congressman to "speak elsewhere." W. R. Ellis, political leader of Holmes county, told the Memphis Commercial-Appeal that the Georgian would not be heard in Goodman, while Sheriff Bridges declares that use of the courthouse at Starkville would not be available to Uphaw.

Most Heroic or Twisted Fandom

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—No world's series is complete without its hero—or goat. The wreath of wild razzberries is bestowed, a glance over baseball's main chapters reveals, as impartially as the crown of laurel.

Seldom has a world's series offered as much opportunity for heroic stuff as does the current tussle between the Yankees and Cardinals. Will one of the stars of other years repeat or will some obscure performer leap into the glare with a great catch, home run, daring play, or startling pitching feat?

Babe Ruth can testify as to how it feels to have been the goat or a hero. The Bambino was a "bust" in 1922 but four years later, in St. Louis, the big fellow was acclaimed as he seldom has been when he laced out three home runs in one afternoon in the enemy stronghold.

Old Pete Alexander, 41-year-old pitcher, probably wouldn't make a Greek statue envious but the veteran was cast in heroic mould in the great Cardinal victory two years ago. Two years ago he had exacted some toll from this remarkable Nebraskan but he is still one of the greatest "money pitchers" of them all and may still have the Indian sign on the Yanks.

Of the Cardinal clan there will be the picturesque little Rabbit Maranville, back in the world's series 14 years after he helped the Braves upset the Athletics. It would be a dramatic touch for the Rabbit to come through. If not there's Frankie Frisch, capable of super-stuff around second base, or Jim Bottomley and Chick Hefey, the big guns at bat.

Here are a few of the world's series heroes of the past ten years, additions to a previous roll that includes Mathewson, Coombs, Baker, and Gowdy: 1918—George Whitman, outfielder, Boston Red Sox.

1919—Dickie Kerr, pitcher, Chicago White Sox.

1920—Stanley Coveleskie, pitcher, Cleveland Indians.

1921—Waite Hoyt, pitcher, New York Yankees, and Johnny Rawlings, infielder, New York Giants.

1922—Heinie Groh, third baseman, New York Giants.

1923—Bert Pfenning, pitcher, Yankees, and Casey Stengel, outfielder, Giants.

1924—Bucky Harris, second baseman, and Walter Johnson, pitcher, Washington Senators.

1925—Kiki Cuyler, outfielder, Pittsburgh Pirates.

1926—Grover Alexander, pitcher and Tommy Thoenow, shortstop, Cardinals.

1927—Mark Koenig, shortstop, New York Yanks.

Houston Boasts Baseball Title of Southern Leagues

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Houston's Buffaloes are baseball champions of the South.

The Texans won the title yesterday by defeating Birmingham, 5 to 1, in the fourth straight victory of the series. Birmingham had won the first two games, played here, but lost three in Houston and dropped the fourth and final contest here. Showers marred the play, but both teams played fast baseball.

Houston and Birmingham players will divide $39,486.60 of the receipts from the first four games, the clubs will divide $48,986.22 and the league will receive $11,009.09.

SOUTH AMERICAN STAR STAGES BRILLIANT COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Threatened with displacement from the Argentine team after its defeat in the first game of the series for the polo championship of the Americas, Arturo Emy, young South American number 1, has earned for himself a prize on the honor roll of international polo.

Kenny seemed to be the weak link in the Argentine four when it lost the opener, but when the four horsemen of the Pampas came back yesterday to ride rough shod over the United States to win 10 to 7 and even the series, Kenny was, perhaps, the most brilliant of the four stars.

Here's Carl Hubbell, rookie hurler from the Texas League who joined the New York Giants late in the season and who proved an important cog in the pennant drive of the New Yorkers. Hubbell is regarded as a great pitching prospect by John McGraw.

Merkle's Boner Cost Giants Flag In 1908, When Cubs Became Champs

BY CHARLES P. STACK (Associated Press Staff Writer)
NEW YORK (AP)—The waning strength of one great ball club and the advent of another were disclosed in the world's series of 1910.

After five years of hard campaigning, during which they won four National League pennants, Frank Chance's Chicago Cubs were easily defeated by Connie Mack's new Athletics machine, four games to one.

During the five years that elapsed since his 1905 championship club Manager Mack rebuilt mainly about the infield, Harry Davis remained at first base as a sort of steady influence for Eddie Collins, Jack Barry and Frank Baker, who, although comparatively youngsters at the time, had risen to stardom in their respective positions.

Amos Strunk was added to the outfield, and Jack Coombs had taken his place as a star pitcher along with Chief Bender and Eddie Plank. The only change in the Cubs' regular lineup for the series was at second base, where Heinie Zimmerman took the place of Johnny Evers.

The fans had looked forward to the opportunity of comparing the second base play of Evers and Collins, at that time regarded as the outstanding second baseman in the major leagues. Near the end of the season, however, Evers suffered a broken ankle while alighting into the home plate and was unable to play in the series.

In 1911 the New York Giants came to the front in the National League with a club that proved a three-time pennant winner, only to lose out in the world's series each year. Connie Mack turned the trick on Manager McGraw in 1911 and 1912, while in 1912 the Boston-Red Sox got the verdict over the Giants in a series that went to eight games.

McGraw's new championship combination included Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Herzog in the infield; Devore, Snodgrass, Murray and Becker, outfielders; Chief Meyers and Wilson, catchers, and Mathewson, Marquard, Willis, Ames and Crandall, pitchers. The Mackmen introduced in some of the 1911 series John (Stuffy) McInnis at first base, who afterwards rounded out what became known as Connie Mack's $100,000 infield. Boston's Red Sox champions of 1912 were managed by J. Garland Stahl, with Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker and

Yankees Looking Much Better as Big Series Nears

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—For once in its baseball life, New York became a "home town" today as the embattled Yankees plugged crevices in their Harlem river citadel against an expected onslaught by the St. Louis Cardinals. Father Knickerbocker was in the first stage of his fifteenth modern world series, but it might well have been mistaken for his first, with 75,000 fans marching upon Ruppert stadium eager to yell the home forces on to victory.

Indications of Indian summer sunshine fired the baseball spirit as it had not been fired for years past in this vicinity. The ominous shadow of Wee Willie Sherdel, he of the left-handed magic, remained across the path of the Yankees, but New York fans were willing to string along with Waite Hoyt—and the sort of fight wild which the Hugmen pulled themselves along to the American league pennant by their very bootstraps.

The Cardinals still were favored to take the series, but word had spread over the city of the gay capers Yankee cripples cut at the stadium yesterday when the sunshine finally appeared and really gave them a chance. Earl Combs was definitely out of the fight, with Benny Paschal and Cedric Durst scheduled to alternate in his place, but the other Yankee cripples were up and about and the Babe was almost playful.

Limitations of standing room promised to hold the crowd about 10,000 short of the record assemblage of 85,265 clients for the historic Yankee Athletic double-header on September 9 last, but 75,000 would be just 11,400 above the present world series record held by the current contenders in the second game of their contenders in on Sunday, October 3.

Hagen Has Tough Matches Coming Up

BALTIMORE, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Day by day the going is getting tougher for Walter Hagen in the national professional golf championship now in its quarter-final round.

A virtual unknown, Julian Blanton of Toledo, under the stimulus of having everything to gain and nothing much to lose, gave him a great run for his money yesterday and today. Hagen, champion for the last four years, faced the prospect of playing Leo Diegel, Gene Sarazen, and Al Espinosa on successive days.

Unless Hagen plays considerably better than he did in winning from Blanton 2 up yesterday, he is apt to find himself in considerable trouble against any of these three veterans. That the champion is in for a real battle in the quarter-finals, with indicated in the manner in which the flashy Leo Diegel polished off Geo Christ of Rochester, 8 and 4.

Having downed Jim Barnes yesterday by 3 to 2 and beaten Bill Mehlhorn the previous day, Gene Sarazen now draws a less widely known antagonist in Fred Dudley of Los Angeles. It was Dudley who yesterday eliminated Al Watrous, 8 and 2.

A Treatise On Southpaw Golfers

By O. B. KEELER

A letter from Mr. T. L. Williams of Dallas, Ga., suggests and even urges an article explaining lefthanded golfers, why they are supposed to be relatively ineffectual—quite the opposite of lefthanded batsmen in baseball—and why (as Mr. Williams puts it) the portside of the links is "shunned and pointed out as if he wore a celluloid collar."

Frankly, and categorically, I don't know, except that I do not agree that the lefthander is a pariah or any longer regarded as a curiosity. I never could see any good reason why a golfer should not play as well from one side as the other. It is perfectly true that most golf courses are laid out for righthanded players; but that should assist rather than handicap the player standing on the other side of the ball. Most of the out-of-bound penalties these days are on the right, penalizing the slice, which remains the principal crime both of righthanders and of lefthanders and this would leave the latter with many acres of safety on his slicing side.

And yet it is true that there are very few eminent golfers who stand on what the little negro caddy at the Newnan County Club termed "the wrong side of the ball." Len Nettieford, last year amateur champion of Australia; Scott Probasco of Tennessee; a few more, and the tale is told. I recall a story of old Harry Vardon, ever a man of few words, the words being usually incisive. It is so complimentary to the lefthanded golfer he fancied, quite deftly.

"Mr. Vardon," said he, after the match, "whom do you regard as the best lefthanded player you have seen?" Old Harry reflected only a moment. Then he spoke: "I never saw one of them who was worth a tinker's dam," he replied.

Another Rumanian Prince Has Eloped

BUDAPEST, Oct. 4 (AP)—The newspaper Pesti Naplo said today that Prince Nicholas of Rumania, who eloped with a Rumanian girl of aristocratic lineage and was living in the Paris villa of his brother Carol, the former crown prince of Rumania. No confirmation of the report was obtained from other sources.

The paper said the censor at Bucharest did not permit the matter to be discussed publicly, while the Rumanian court maintained that Prince Nicholas was on a holiday in Europe.

Prince Nicholas is 25 years old and visited the United States in 1926 with his mother, Queen Marie, and Princess Helena. He is a member of the regency which rules for the six-year-old King Michael, who is his nephew and Carol's son.

JOURNALISM PROSPECTS AT TEXAS U. BRIGHTER

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—With the opening of the 1928-29 session at the University of Texas, the outlook for the department of journalism seems a brighter aspect than it has had for some years, according to Paul J. Thompson, chairman of the department.

After spending several years in a somewhat precarious position as first an insignificant part of the School of Business Administration and then as a department in that school, journalism starts the new year with a return to its former rank as a department in the College of Arts and Science, Mr. Thompson said.

Eleven courses will be offered in the department this year, and in them are included practically every fundamental course in journalism, Mr. Thompson declared.

Trojans Import Rugby Kicker To End One-Point Defeat Jinx

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A rugby player, a gentleman clever with his toes will try to end the University of Southern California's long string of one point defeats on the gridiron.

Edward G. Greaves, who hails from a far south sea land, Australia, is imparting to the Trojan players the methods of punting and drop-kicking as are practiced in the land "Down Under" in the game of rugby. That he was imported a distance of 5,000 miles indicates the institution's press-methods of punting and drop-kicking or the lack of which many football games were lost by a one point margin.

Greaves, one of Australia's most noted kickers and a star for the last 15 years on the Geelong team of the Victorian league, will act in an advisory capacity to Coach Howard Jones. That he has never seen a game of American football is immaterial, as he will confine his efforts solely to teaching punting and drop-kicking.

As the Aztec can boot the pigskin as accurately as most American halfbacks can pass the ball, Coach Jones is looking for him to bring out one remarkable improvement in his punters, and to develop an accurate drop-kicker this season, something that Southern California has not had since the pre-war days of Frankie Fallette.

Greaves is said to possess a record of kicking a rugby ball 92 yards into the air. Fifty yards is just a "fair" kick for him, and, for accuracy, his roots remind one of a rifle shot, seldom veering from the intended goal.

Ferguson Pardon Revoked by Moody

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The conditional pardon granted by former-Governor Miriam Ferguson to Wayne Todd of Weatherford, whose death sentence in the murder of Jimmie McNeal, Fort Worth service car driver, was commuted to life imprisonment, was revoked today by proclamation of Governor Moody.

The governor was informed that Todd is being held in Tarrant county jail on theft charges, that he is wanted in Parker county for theft of cotton from fields and wanted by federal authorities for alleged transportation of automobiles from one state to another.

Todd was convicted in 1923 in Parker county. He and companions were charged with slugging McNeal to death between Weatherford and Fort Worth after hiring him to drive them in his car. Todd's death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment about a year later, and on December 21, 1926, from Governor Ferguson granted him a conditional pardon, specifying that he must be law abiding to retain his freedom.

Edward G. Greaves

He can place his kicks so that he can hit an item the size of a football at 35 yards and that is a simple feat for him.

Rugby football once was played by American colleges, but this is said to be the first time that a rugby player has been brought into use to teach exponents of American football the art of kicking.

The ruling upholds the control board in its long drawn out dispute with the highway department over purchase of a $300,000 portion of the $500,000 worth of road machinery, in which the board has insisted on its own choices of equipment over that requisitioned by the highway department.

Reports that he had died could not be confirmed as both police and the authorities of the White Cross hospital refused to give any information either as to his condition or how the wound was received.
