ALIEN ATTACHE ARRESTED BY U. S. OFFICIALS

Threatened Speaker Talking on Calles' Succession FOR LAW AND ORDER, CLAIM American Citizens Are Eager to Retain Commerce.

LAREDO, July 26—(P)—Threats by the Mexican government to remove the Mexican consulate from here to Eagle Pass, Texas, took a definite turn today when orders were received at the consulate from the secretary of foreign relations to be prepared to move as soon as orders were received from Mexico City.

The controversy which threatens to cause removal of the consulate arose when Mancha Macias, an attaché of the Mexican consul, was arrested by Laredo officers after he had been accused of making threatening remarks about Enriquez Bordeas Mangel, president of the Anti-Re-election party in Mexico, while the latter was addressing an audience at a church.

Two women telephoned the Laredo police station that two men were saying "that man will not speak again." Mancha Macias was pointed out to city detectives, who arrested him without warrant and took him before District Attorney John A. Valls. Macias alleges that Judge Valls threatened him with a whip and cursed him in Spanish.

Laredo citizens were stirred over the threatened removal of the consulate. Its removal would halt all freight traffic into and from Mexico at this point, as every shipment must be passed by the consulate.

LAREDO, July 26—(P)—District Attorney John Valls declared today that the recent arrest of an attaché of the Mexican consulate here was made in the interests of law and order in a statement reply to threats that the Mexican consulate would be moved from this city.

Allied Unions Event Enjoyed by Many Wednesday Evening

More than 300 persons attended the Allied Unions benefit dance and luncheon at the Pla-Mor auditorium last night. A special attraction was the boxing exhibitions put on by local boys.

Following two fast bouts by the mid-weights and featherweights, Rusty Cahill and Frankie Farrell entered the ring and for four furious rounds worked for a K. O., but neither succeeded. Cahill got the best of the argument, but couldn't land the sleep punch to the fast stepping Farrell, who showed nice footwork to keep away.

Following the boxing card a luncheon was served, prepared by the local cooks and waiters' union.

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

O. P. "Whitney" Erwin, secretary of the Cooks and waiters union, won a pair of Nunn-Busch shoes, donated by the Gordon Stores company, for selling the most tickets.

PAVING RAPID NOW

More than 1,200 yards of bitulithic paving was laid on North Ballard street yesterday by the Stuck Construction company. The work on the street will be finished by tomorrow night, when the machinery will be transferred to Kingsmill avenue between Frost and Somerville streets.

Work on the Somerville street boulevard has almost been completed.

Heeney Weighs 11½ Pounds More Than Tunney for Fight

NEW YORK, July 26—(P)—Tom Heeney will have an advantage of 11-1/2 pounds over Gene Tunney, the champion, in their heavy-weight championship fight tonight.

Weighing in this afternoon at the Yankee stadium, scene of the battle, Tunney weighed 192 and Heeney 203 1/2.

The champion, bronzed and smiling, was first to step on the scales in one of the dressing rooms of the stadium. He smiled pleasantly and waved to friends in the room as the camera flashlights boomed.

Heeney followed and his weight was quickly taken and pictures snapped. As Tunney hurried back to his dressing room, they passed each other ten or twelve feet apart. Both smiled and nodded.

"Hello Tom," said Tunney, and the challenger came back with a cheery, "Hello Gene."

DOUGLASS RALLY TONIGHT

Tonight after the Daily News fight party ends supporters of Curtiss Douglass, candidate to succeed himself as district attorney of the 84th district, will gather at the Pla-Mor auditorium for a rally.

Mr. Douglass will speak, as well as a number of his friends, and Pampa band will give a concert.

Crowd Gives Little Attention to Preliminaries

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, July 26—(P)—Bill Daring, of the U. S. Battleship Arkansas, blasted Frank Lang, heavyweight, from South Bend out of the picture in one minute and 53 seconds of the second round of the first preliminary on the Heeney-Tunney championship card. Lang had to be carried to his corner.

The energetic bachelorettes, who had almost filled the 16,000 seats available at $3 and $5, seemed too busy arranging themselves in vantage places to pay much attention to the hard-working youngsters.

The fans warmed up but little as Jimmy Byrne, Louisville lightweight and the second southpaw of the evening, tried his unorthodox punches on big boy Peterson, of New Orleans, in a six round engagement.

Byrne failed to make it two straight victories for the left-handers but he did gain a draw with Peterson after six bruising rounds.

The big battle grew considerably closer when Johnny Grosso, the rugged New York heavyweight eliminated Francisco Cruz, champion of Portugal, in just 37 seconds of another six rounder. Cruz hefted an even 200 pounds, Grosso 197.

NEW YORK, July 26—(P)—By water and by air and simultaneously, Gene Tunney, king of the heavyweights, and Tom Heeney British challenger, swooped down upon New York today for their fifteen round battle tonight in the Yankee stadium. Winging from Speculator, N. Y., after rising from Lake Pleasant in an amphibian plane shortly after 10 a.m. the champion landed in the Hudson river off 91 street at exactly 12:20, the very moment Heeney's entourage, traveling the 60 miles of water from Fair Haven, N. J., in the Yacht Phantom, docked at 41st street.

Ducking crowds that had waited around Madison Square Garden, where weighing-in ceremonies had been scheduled, Gene and his challenger hustled to Yankee Stadium, scene of the international quarrel, to face the booming flash light camera and the final analysis of the scales.

To the obvious disappointment of his handlers, Heeney tipped the beam at 203 1/2 pounds, five more than he expected to carry into the ring, while the champion weighed 192 pounds the exact figure he had set for himself and three pounds more than he scaled for his battle with Jack Dempsey in Chicago last fall.

Health Officer Finds Dairy Herd Stock Is Healthy

Seven dairy herds, totaling 102 Jersey and Hereford cows, have been inspected by Dr. T. J. Worrell, city health officer, and not a trace of tuberculosis, was found. The cows were in excellent condition and the milk sheds and surroundings favorable, the doctor reported.

The herds inspected and given a clean bill of health belonged to John Lewis, 14 cows; D. C. Davis, 9 cows; W. S. Paris, 26 cows; Ben Lockhart, 6 cows; Lloyd McLaughlin, 21 cows; W. C. Christopher, 14 cows; and J. W. Condo, 12 cows.

Dr. Worrell has more than 200 more dairy cows to examine, which will bring the number of milk cows in the territory to more than 300. He estimates that more than 1,000 gallons of milk is delivered to Pampa creameries, houses, cafes and drug stores each day from Pampa herds. Two years ago there were not 25 milk cows in the entire territory.

Investigations have been made into the conditions existing in the 36 hotels and restaurants in the city as well as the butcher shops, soda fountains, and on vacant lots. Hints as to the proper method of sterilization has been given by the health officer in all cases.

Dr. Worrell is a graduate of the Arkansas Veterinary college, class of 1917, and since that time has been in public health work.

Few New Cases in District Court

No important cases have been filed recently with the county clerk for hearing at the next term of district court. In all 27 appear on the civil docket, the majority of which are divorces. Other cases are for damages, debt, and trespassing.

It is thought the next term of court will be taken up with continued cases, of which there are enough for two terms.

MEXICO STILL UNCERTAIN OF FUTURE TREND

Bitterness Toward Morones Is Dangerous Factor PEACEFUL END IS HOPED FOR Booms for Candidates Sprung Up Over Nation

MEXICO CITY, July 26—(P)—The situation into which Mexico was plunged by the assassination of President elect Alvaro Obregon continues charged with uncertainty today. Obregonista leaders were conferring to determine whether their support in the question of presidential succession would be thrown.

They are undoubtedly in full control of the situation and if they remain united, can dominate events of the immediate future. Some ill considered act might, however, upset all calculations.

The most dangerous element perhaps is the bitter feeling against Lulu Morones, resigned secretary of labor by some of the Obregon group. There have been prominent charges that Morones and his Laborite aids created a "psychological background" by their opposition to Obregon which made his assassination possible.

Well informed observers, however, saw prospects that Mexico would emerge peacefully from the present turbulent political situation.

Those who conferred on the presidential question included Aurelio Mangrrique and Antonio Soto Gama, Agrarian leaders, and Ricardo Topete, leader of the Obregon bloc which controls Congress.

It seemed probable that either President Calles would be asked to succeed himself as provisional president under certain constitutional arrangements which might be made or that Aaron Saenz, governor of Nuevo Leon, would be favored.

Champion Gets Easy Technical Knockout In Eleventh Round

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y., July 26—(AP)—Subjecting Tom Heeney, New Zealand challenger, to one of the most severe beatings any man ever took in any ring, Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion tonight scored a technical knockout over the Anzac in the 11th round of a 15 round match.

Tunney knocked Heeney unconscious at the close of the tenth round but the bell saved the challenger laying unconscious on the floor.

Gene accommodated him and they cracked lefts and rights, snort vicious jabs that stung jaw and cheek. Gene didn't seem to like that and he bounced back on the defense, spearing the challenger with a succession of left as Tom stalked after him. Tunney slipped, a right swept a right hook to his head and nearly fell, but came back to firm footing, without having been down and unhurt. Heeney slugged viciously at the champion's head while Tunney met his attack with solid left hooks to the body.

Round Four Rising in sympathy with Heeney, unexpectedly determined onslaught he crowd bellowed the invader as he whipped a short left and right into Gene's chin. Tunney bounced no rights off Tom's flinty chin and not the challengers head back with a stinging left hook. Gaining the upper hand decisively for the first time in the fight, Gene threw a right into Heeney's head with every ounce of his weight and strength and this time Tom's eye lids actually fluttered and Tunney pressed his advantage with two crushing rights to the heart. Sensing the turn, with blood beginning to drip from a cut under his chin, Heeney tore savagely into the champion and nailed him to the ropes with a rooking volley to the head. Back to the hem, in the same position as when

Round Eight Freshened by half a bucket of water poured over his head and a new haircomb, Tunney came out to old the challenger helpless. Heeney's eye swelled and nearly closed when something irritated it. Tom hook his head in desperation as he could hardly see from that eye. Finally he closed it of his own accord and tore into Tunney with one good eye. Quick to see his advantage Gene held the challenger a moment, looked over his difficulty and then pumped lefts and rights to Tom's head and body. Tom wobbled under the blows, but blood spurted from his nose as he lashed forward in one despairing effort. Tunney met his courageous attack with sharp left hooks right up to the bell.

Round Nine Hardly able to see from his left eye, despite the ministrations Heeney gallantly piled into the champion. It seemed dye from the lights had gotten on to Tunney's gloves and into the challenger's eye. Tunney, a sportsman himself, stood and slugged with the challenger, but on got the worst of that too, as Tunney's knifing lefts drummed on the Anzac's head, blood began to ooze from Heeney's battered left eye. A goary sight and becoming gorrier, Heeney again summoned his strength for another surge and dripped his right and left to the champion's head.

Round Ten Tunney's masterly defense had Heeney's fierce offensive, started plodding in only to find his clouts caught on the champion's arms and his body battered by Gene's thundering right. The champion stepped in with a bullet like left hook to the body and bounded his right off Heeney's corrugated features.

Round Twelve Freshened by half a bucket of water poured over his head and a new haircomb, Tunney came out to old the challenger helpless. Heeney's eye swelled and nearly closed when something irritated it. Tom hook his head in desperation as he could hardly see from that eye. Finally he closed it of his own accord and tore into Tunney with one good eye. Quick to see his advantage Gene held the challenger a moment, looked over his difficulty and then pumped lefts and rights to Tom's head and body. Tom wobbled under the blows, but blood spurted from his nose as he lashed forward in one despairing effort. Tunney met his courageous attack with sharp left hooks right up to the bell.

It seemed dye from the lights had gotten on to Tunney's gloves and into the challenger's eye. Tunney, a sportsman himself, stood and slugged with the challenger, but on got the worst of that too, as Tunney's knifing lefts drummed on the Anzac's head, blood began to ooze from Heeney's battered left eye. A goary sight and becoming gorrier, Heeney again summoned his strength for another surge and dripped his right and left to the champion's head.

WASHINGTON — Herbert Hoover, by his very nature, may be expected to "be himself" in this presidential campaign.

He has always been a quiet, efficient, hard worker and it would not be his nature to step out of character and become one of the ballyhoo boys.

He will have very little to say during the campaign. He plans not to waste any words at all, which is exactly the course he has always pursued in the past.

Not that Hoover isn't going to make himself plain on any issue where plain-speaking seems to be demanded by political expediency. Not that he isn't going to work hard on his job as a candidate.

But times are changing and there is a question whether people any longer expect a candidate for the nation's highest and most important office to run around kissing babies and attending county fairs.

Furthermore, Hoover, though he may not be an expert politician, has acquired a great deal of political horse sense. Speaking tours have distinct dangers, as many campaigners have learned.

The contrast between the Hoover method of campaigning and the Smith method is already obvious. Each method happens to fit the man and his position in the campaign.

In remaining silent from the time of his nomination to the date of his acceptance speech August 11, Hoover seems to feel that he would have nothing to gain by rushing precipitately into the campaign with statements of an important nature. After nomination he called off his semiweekly press conferences. Smith, by comparison, has been voluble. He cracked out immediately a reiteration of his opinions on prohibition laws, made a speech lauding Tammany, and has since spoken up as often as he felt it might do any good.

To the Citizens of Pampa and Community The time has come for the citizens of this community to definitely make up their minds as to who they are going to elect for their next county judge, and I feel it is my privilege to make a statement concerning myself and my activities affecting this community so that you might know whom and for what you are voting in the event I should be your choice. Have grown from boyhood to manhood in Pampa, having resided here for the past twenty-two years. Am a graduate of the Pampa high school, and attended the literary department of Baylor University at Waco, Texas. Am also a graduate of the law department of Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tennessee, and have practiced law in Pampa since 1917. Pampa is my home and my endeavors of community building has been to make Pampa and it's community a better place in which to live. And to do this I have contributed to the building fund of the several churches here, and to the building fund for the American Legion Home as well as having rendered free legal service in procuring it's present site. Am a member, director and vice president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, and gave freely both in time and money to help bring the new railroad to Pampa. I was chairman of the committee to represent Pampa in the county seat contest, and have helped organize and finance other organizations such as the Boy Scout Council for Pampa, the branch of the Red Cross functioning here, and the community welfare association. Have been a booster for more paving for Pampa and also took an active part in helping put over the highway from Pampa to LeFors to McLean with bridge at LeFors. Have not made a personal campaign for the reason that if I am elected I want to enter upon my duties with no sense of obligation to any individual, but be able to discharge by duties fairly and impartially, without fear or favor to either of the party litigants or members of the bar practicing before my court. The citizens of Pampa and community have demonstrated their ability to work with me and vote as a unit, as was illustrated in the recent county seat election. I THINK I AM ENTITLED TO THE SAME SUPPORT AND CO-OPERATION IN THIS CONTEST AS WAS MANIFESTED IN THE COUNTY SEAT CONTEST. I did not enter this race altogether on my own account, but after a petition signed by citizens requesting me to make the race for county judge of Gray county, had been presented to me. And whether your name appears on that petition or not, I think it is reasonable to expect your vote and influence as a citizens of Pampa and Pampa community on next Saturday, July 28th. IVY E. DUNCAN.

SMALL GATE LOOKS LIKELY

Tunney Seems Favorite at Odds of About 3 to 1

NEW YORK, July 26.—(A)—Lazily and with little outward show of interest, New York turned today to the first heavyweight championship match within its boundaries in five years.

In Madison Square Garden an anxious promoter, already perturbed at the possibility of a financial loss, shivered at the thought that an airplane might not arrive.

For it was through the air that Gene Tunney of Greenwich Village, first heavyweight champion ever bred by the sidewalks of New York, chose to return to his native city for his fifteen-round joust with Tom Heeneey, the gentle New Zealand blacksmith, in the Yankee stadium tonight. It was a manner of approach from Speculator, N. Y., befitting a champion who was defied every other tradition of the ring.

Tex Rickard, the promoter, knew just where he could find the challenger. The finest heavyweight Great Britain has produced since Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons, the spindly shanked Cornishman, slew giants with his gloved hands, awaited the call to battle on board the yacht of a friend. There was no flying for him from Fair Haven, his training camp on the Jersey coast.

Around the city, greatest of the country's fight centers, there was little excitement over the impending struggle for the most prized of fistiana's crowns. The match seemed to have crept unawares upon the citizens without their even realizing what was happening.

So few were the wagers recorded on the match itself that it was difficult to determine the exact odds. Bets of 3 to 1 that Tunney would retain his title were mentioned but no one seemed to have seen any money change hands. Greater, by far, was wagering on the size of the gate and the probable amount of money Tex Rickard seemed destined to lose.

Persons close to Madison Square Garden finances saw little hope that the match would draw over $700,000 worth of customers into the stadium tonight. At the close of business yesterday the advance sale had picked up considerably but not enough to boost the treasury much above $500,000. Rickard, banking on a tremendous sale today continuing right up to fight time, stood firm on his prediction that the battle would draw $1,000,000.

With expenses running close to $700,000 including a guarantee of $525,000 to Tunney and another of $100,000 to Heeneey, a gate of $1,200,000 inclusive of taxes appeared necessary to pull Rickard out of the "red." Out of every dollar pushed through the windows of his box office, the promoter must turn over to the federal government 25 cents in taxes, the state government five cents, and the Yankee stadium ten cents for rental. All taxes are included in the ticket prices.

Influenced, probably, by the stolidity of his usually avid customers, Rickard today called for assistance from Jack Dempsey, the never-falling box office lure and the man who drew the first—and possibly the last—million dollar gates. Although it was probably just the final blast of the ballyhoo, the former champion, twice whipped by Tunney, decided to apply for a second's license before the New York state athletic commission today so he might coach Heeneey on to victory tonight.

The main bout is scheduled to go on at 8 p. m., Texas Time, but may be advanced a few minutes if there is threat of rain.

Most of the apathy shown the contest is attributed by critics to the fact that Tunney, in performance and on paper, appears to outclass the determined but muscle-bound New Zealander. Heeneey, they believe, is "made" for the slashing left hand of the champion and the jolting right crosses for which the Anzac appears to have no defense but his chin.

Only once during his American invasion has Heeneey, the plodder, displayed a knockout punch. That was the night he disposed of the brittle chinned Irishman from Boston, Jim Maloney, in 77 seconds of the first round. In ten and fifteen-round battles with Jack Sharkey, Jack Delaney, Johnny Risko, and Paulino Uzcundun, he failed to score a single knockdown and none of his opponents ever were in distress. In all these matches, just as in this, Tom was the underdog in the betting. He has never gone into an American ring a favorite.

Tom will be at a distinct disadvantage in height and reach to add to the difficulties of a defense that consists chiefly of plugging steadily forward, head and body unprotected, but with both arms swinging. Against a fighter of that type, Tunney, a perfect sharpshooter and the finest counter puncher the heavyweight division ever has seen, is in his element. In addition the champion can cast aside his boxing occasionally to punch with a freedom he never felt in two bouts with Jack Dempsey. A missed shot against the challenger is hardly likely to cause the champion fourteen seconds of trouble on the floor as it did in Gene's Chicago battle with the former titleholder.

MEETS DEFEAT

TOM HEENEY

Tom Heeneey, who fights Gene Tunney in New York on July 26 for the world's heavyweight championship, was born in Gisborne, New Zealand, of Irish parentage, on May 19, 1899.

He attended the schools of his home town until he was 14 years old. Then he quit to become a plumber's assistant and remained at that work until the glamour of the prize ring attracted him.

The challenger to Tunney's title inherited his fighting nature from a father who taught all of his sons at an early age some tricks of the game. He also learned much of his early knowledge from a brother, Jack, who for eight years was middleweight champion of New Zealand.

Heeneey fought his first professional fight in 1921. He won by a knockout in nine rounds and his nice showing led writers to predict a successful future for him in the ring.

During that year, Heeneey lived up to the nice things said about him by winning four 15-round fights and getting a draw with Colin Bell in 15 rounds.

Then he shifted his activities to Australia, staying there one year but returning to New Zealand. He fought nine fights in Australia, winning three by knockouts, three by decisions, losing two by decisions and drawing once. During 1923, when he fought in New Zealand, he won seven fights and lost one. Five of his wins were by sleep-producing punches. One came through disqualification of his opponent.

Heeneey's first fight in London led critics to believe that he had been ballyhooed wrongly, as he lost to Phil Scott in 20 rounds, and his subsequent fights there that year were not so impressive, although he won all except two.

South Africa where he won four fights and lost one, the latter on a foul. His American fights resulted as follows:

Won from Charlie Anderson by knockout, from Jack De Mave by decision, from Bud Gorman on a foul, from Jim Maloney by a one-round knockout, from Johnny Risko by a decision, from Delaney by a decision.

He lost to Paulino Uzcundun in his second American fight but gained a draw against Paulino later. He also fought a draw with Jack Sharkey.

Heeneey, rugged man that he is, will enter the championship fight on the short end of the odds. He is a fighter of the boring-in type, never retreats because he knows only how to advance, and can absorb terrific punishment. It is this ability to absorb punishment and a belief that Tunney will not be able to carry on 15 rounds

FIGHT

Round Ten
Heeneey's eye looked almost normal as he came out doggedly to battle the unmarried champion. Gene grabbed Tom as the Anzac lunged forward and sank a left and right in the body. The snap seemed to have disappeared from Heeneey's punches and Tunney apparently had little desire to cut up the challenger further. Gene grabbed Heeneey as the Anzac plunged in close and showered him with left hooks to the head and body. Tom reeled under full left and right hand clouts to the head.

Plodding forward now by instinct, Heeneey ran into a barage and went down under a right to the head. As Heeneey rolled unconscious almost from the ring, the bell rang, and ended the session. Heeneey was out, flat on his back and had to be carried to his corner. His seconds had him restored for the next round.

Round Eleven
Tom came out with a left that missed and Tunney measured him for a final blow. Showing amazing recuperative powers, his head a mass of blood, Tom plunged again into the champion, smashed with a right to the head. A right to the heart sent Tom reeling again. Tom could barely stagger in the close places.

His back to the ropes, Tom blindly staggered forward, Tunney half kidding, stabbed him easily with a left and let him get away. Gene flayed Tom about the head on the ropes and Tom reeled under the punishment. The Challenger was helpless.

the leaders by 10 to 7.

The first decision was won by an impertinent rally against George Pipgras for three runs in the eighth inning. Henry Johnson, Myles Thomas and "Archie" Campbell were treated impartially in the second brawl.

While these unbelievable events were taking place in Detroit, the Athletics were winning two from the White Sox, and by this act cutting two games from the lead of the Yankees. A the Mascmen have only four more chances to lose to the Yankees in hand-to-hand warfare this season, it may be that Mr. McGillicuddy still has a chance. By cold figures he has nine games behind the champions.

The A's took the opener by the graceful score of 16 to 0, but appeared themselves more politely by 8 to 0 in the second clash. Old Bullet Joseph Bush was the winning pitcher in the nightcap.

The Indians won two games from the Red Sox, 10 to 2 and 15 to 5. A investigation probably will be held here today. One of the immediate effects was that Douglas Tait, Boston outfielder mistook himself for a pitcher, and he had more like one than anybody else who tossed them up for the Red Sox in the two games.

The Browns, noble third-placers, won two contests from the Senators, one by 12 to 8 and another by 6 to 5 in twelve innings.

Still unconvinced that the Giant's ar going to land anywhere but on top John J. McGraw once more put down the Pirates, 6 to 5. Home runs by Pre Lindstrom and "Shanty" Hogan accounted for four New York runs, and more than offset the worth of a similar drive by George Grantham with one on base.

The Cardinals knew they would have trouble losing to the Robins by any ordinary method, so they kicked a pile of eight unearned runs into the ample lap of big Jim Elliott in the fourth round. Jim showed his appreciation by winning, 8 to 1. The Cardinal generosity was committed by Mr. Andy High in the form of a spectacular wild throw and an artistic fumble.

The leading St. Louisians lost no ground to the runner-up Cubs, who succeeded in dropping one to the Brave in spite of Hack Wilson's twenty-third home run.

Cincinnati dashed off with the first game in Philadelphia, 16 to 5, only to see the furious Phils rise from their graves long enough to take the second, 7 to 6. Donald Hurst hit two home runs for the Quakers, bringing his season's total to fifteen.

Tunney Takes Off For New York in Big Sikorsky Plane

SPECULATOR, N. Y. July 26.—(AP)—Gene Tunney took off from Lake Pleasant in a dual-motored Sikorsky amphibian at 10:12 a. m. this morning for New York, where he will defend his world's heavyweight title against Tom Heeney, of New Zealand, tonight in the Yankee stadium.

The champion was accompanied by Wm. O. McClellan, New York sports writer, and Charles V. Bob of New

"Lon" A. Smith for Railroad Commissioner

Efficiency
Economy

Re-election
Second Term

Having been elected four years ago by a large majority over three opponents to fill the unexpired term of the late Allison Mayfield as Railroad Commissioner of Texas, and being a well established principle of democracy to re-elect an honest and efficient servant for a second term, the Democrats of Texas are rallying to the support of "LON" A. SMITH and asking their friends one and all to go to the polls on July 28th and re-elect him for his second term by a large majority.

"LON" A. SMITH, who is seeking election to the full term as a member of the State Railroad Commission, was born in Henderson, Rusk County, Texas, and reared on a farm. He obtained his education while working on the farm, and taught school for thirteen years in his native county. His first entry in political life as an office holder was when he was elected County Clerk of Rusk County, a position to which he was twice re-elected. After six years in this office he was elected from his senatorial district as State Senator. Following six years of service as State Senator, he was elected and re-elected as State Comptroller, serving four years in this office. He then successfully sought election to the State Railroad Commission to fill the unexpired term of the lamented Allison Mayfield.

In fraternal circles "LON" A. SMITH is a Knight of Pythias, a Doherty member of the Marcebes, Degree of Honor, Woodmen of the World, Fraternal Aid Union, Practorians and is past president of the Texas Fraternal Congress.

He served for six years as State Commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans; is a honorary member of John B. Hood Camp, U. C. V., Austin; Albert Sidney Johnston Camp, U. C. V., Houston; Jefferson Davis Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Houston; and also of the national organization of U. D. C.

In religion "LON" A. SMITH is a Baptist, being a deacon of the First Baptist Church, Austin; past vice-president Baptist General Convention of Texas, and he now teaches a men's Bible Class in the Confederate Home in Austin.

"LON" A. SMITH is an ardent friend of education and as State Senator supported all measures for the benefit of education. He is also a supporter of the organized labor program.

The two candidates for Railroad Commissioner are "SMITHS," but there should be no confusion in the names. "LON" A. SMITH has been holding public office for a number of years, and he bases his candidacy for re-election on his faithful and efficient record of four years as Railroad Commissioner. This experience has fitted him to render valuable services in this office.

"LON" A. SMITH has made the people of Texas a most faithful and efficient officer during his first term as Railroad Commissioner and in our judgment should be re-elected for a second term.

Heeney Plans His Fight After the Seventh Round

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 26.—(AP)—"Never felt better in my life," said Tom Heeney today.

The challenger was clear eyed and good humored, after a restful night's sleep. His handlers said he dropped off into a sound slumber a few minutes after he crawled between the sheets. He went to bed at ten o'clock, as has been his custom, but slept later than usual.

He ate heartily at breakfast, with Jimmy Hennessy, his trainer. The meal consisted of two hard boiled eggs, fruit, toast, and coffee. He intends to eat lightly about 4 o'clock this afternoon, and nap until time to go to Yankee stadium.

As to his plans of battle, he has none. He expects to catch on to Tunney's style within two or three rounds. He expects to fight his fight after the seventh round when he believes Tunney's speed will be gone.

Tilden Is First on Tennis Card Starting Friday

PARIS, July 26.—(AP)—William T. Tilden will open the challenge round battle for the Davis cup with Rene Lacoste of France tomorrow at 2 p. m.

With Tilden's reinstatement, France is looking for one of the most brilliant displays of tennis ever seen in this country.

In accomplishing the reinstatement of Tilden where all others had failed Ambassador Herrick succeeded in scoring one of his greatest diplomatic triumphs. In his first venture into the diplomacy of the world of sport he endeared himself still more to the French people.

York, his millionaire friend and owner of the plane. Bill Winston, Curtiss field pilot, was at the controls, and Louis Burnell, Sikorsky plant mechanic, was also aboard.

Every man, woman and child in Speculator gathered at the edge of the lake to wish Tunney success as he entered the plane. The champion, who arose at 7 o'clock, his usual hour, assured his well wishers that he was in the best physical shape of his listic career and was confident.

Wichita Falls Takes Lead as Houston Loses

(By The Associated Press)

Wichita Falls took the lead in the Texas league Wednesday by defeating San Antonio, 10 to 3, while the Houston Buffs, with whom the Spudders were deadlocked, were idle on account of rain.

Dallas gained ground in its fight for first place by defeating Beaumont. Features of the contest were the Steers' slugging, that netted 15 safeties, and Bartholomew's hurling which was excellent in the early rounds and was good enough to win even in the last three frames when the Exporters got all their runs.

Waco defeated Fort Worth, 7 to 2, in a game featured by much good pitching despite the clouding of four home runs, one each by Elliott and Windie and two by Johnson.

The Shreveport Houston game was rained out.

CAHILL WILL MEET SAM RILEY TOMORROW

Rusty Cahill, local boxer, left today for Mangum, Okla., where he meets Sgt. Sam Riley in a ten-round bout tomorrow night. These two boxers battled to a draw several weeks ago and the return match was arranged to settle the argument.

Riley will be remembered as the boy who twice defeated Floyd Barnes in the local ring. Cahill is in the pink of condition for his battle with Riley and is picked for the winner.

York to Attend Rotary Meeting in Mineral Wells

J. P. York was delegated to attend a district meeting of the presidents and secretaries of Rotary clubs in this district, to be held August 20 and 21 at Mineral Wells, at the regular noon luncheon yesterday. Notification of the meeting was received from Rue Parcells of Amarillo, district governor of Rotary.

An invitation from the Lions club was read asking the members of the club and Rotary Ann to be the guests of the Lions club at a dinner the evening of August 2, at the Schneider hotel. The invitation was accepted.

Dick Hughes and W. C. Mitchell were admitted to the membership of the club. The new members were presented with a copy of the Rotary code of ethics by President Lynn Boyd Short talks made by the Rev. James Todd, Jr., on the honor of being a Rotarian; Joe Smith on fellowship; Lynn Boyd on square dealings; and Scott Barcus on distinctive service.

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., completed his report on the National convention at Minneapolis.

Guests at the luncheon were: Clifford Braly of Dalhart, Wm. Hale of Childress and John Cummings, Amarillo.

Seaman 36 Years, He Hears Call of the Land at Last

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT

HOUSTON, July 26.—(P)—Once a lad of 16 answered the call of the sea. For 36 years he followed Neptune's siren on the seven seas of the globe. He visited the centers of civilization and saw the terrors of modern Babylons. And then he would return to his sea for a breath of that cleansing breeze He would rejoice that he, unlike Odysseus' crew, did no have to stuff his ears with cotton to resist the call of the land sirens.

But now, this same lad, who has grown to a stalwart, grey-haired, handsome ship captain of 52, and who has become a "family man," is anxious to desert the rolling waves for a pace of security on the land. The call of the land has proved stronger than the call of the sea.

Captain A. H. Brown, master of the British steamer Planter, will not be satisfied with the comforts offered in any of the centers of civilization. There's too much talk of the sea there; too little chance for a man to forget the ocean.

So now the lad who left Liverpool on a windjammer 36 years ago is looking for a place to rest. He wants to think of his experience in Bombay, of his encounters with savages in the South Pacific; of the welcome and satisfying shore leaves at the end of long voyages. He wants to forget the sea, for any man who will follow the sea is a fool. That is his conclusion after 36 years before the mast.

But before he will become a landsman with his wife and children the captain must be assured that he will be free from any ties which might recall him to the sea.

He wants to find a town where he can walk down the street with an anchor on his shoulder and be asked what it is. In that kind of a town, he says it's a pretty safe bet that there won't be any ships around.

"I'm fed up. Thirty-six years of it is enough for any man. When I can retire, eight years from now, I'm going to find a place where people don't know what an anchor is and settle down with my family to live for a while," the dignified sailor says.

His philosophy is summed up in a parody, which he knows by heart, of Rudyard Kipling's Vampire.

"A fool there was and he went to sea. He chose a life of misery;

"But the poets called him brave and free;

"A fool he was, and a fool he'll be, "For only a fool will follow the sea."
