Affliction No Handicap

"Feeling fine," Charles Zimny, remarkable 43-year-old legless swimmer, tells his handlers as he paces in his non-stop swim down the Hudson from Albany to New York to take a bit of refreshment. Inset is a closeup of the gallant swimmer, wearing goggles to protect his eyes. Jimmy, whose powerful arms and shoulders make up for his lack of legs in the water, covered 143 miles in 145 hours.

REB MOUNTAIN POSTS TAKEN

MADRID, Aug. 31 (AP)—The capture of several strategic mountain positions in the Sierra Nevada range west of Almeria was announced by Spain's government today in communiques telling of a new offensive in southern Spain.

Government forces dislodged insurgents from their tight grip on part of the Sierra Nevada which in some places rises to heights of 10,000 feet.

The insurgents have held the entire length of the range, running westward from the sea behind Almeria, since the fall of Malaga on Feb. 8.

The government troops, in a series of attacks extending over several days, wrested strategic positions from the insurgents in the vicinity of Orjiva, Darnajo and Calan, points overlooking Granada.

The insurgents made several strong counter-attacks but the government said all of them were repulsed.

It was disclosed meantime that the Valencia government, in combatting mounting food costs, had

$7,500 DAMAGES ASKED FOR INJURIES TO BOY

A lawsuit growing out of a traffic accident near the Miami city limits last March 25 was filed in district court here yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Fannie Puckett, of Miami, against the Pampa Daily News and others.

Mrs. Puckett asks $7,500 damages for injuries and the alleged loss of services of her son, Ramon Puckett, 15, allegedly injured on the highway by a car driven by Adolph Duckworth of Pampa.

The petition charges negligence on the part of Duckworth, and claims that the Puckett boy was permanently injured in the accident. Damage sought for the hospital and doctor bills and for loss of services of the youth until the time he is 21 years of age.

FORMER DIRECTOR OF RAILROAD GROUP DIES

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 31 (AP)—James C. Davis, 80, Des Moines attorney and director general of the United States Railroad administration after the World war, died last night of heart disease.

Davis was general solicitor for the Northwestern road when appointed general counsel for the United States Railroad administration in 1920.

Seven Reported Killed In Bus-Car Crash

MANY INJURED AS SEDAN HITS BIG VEHICLE

GOSHEN, Ind., Aug. 31 (AP)—At least seven persons were reported to have been killed five miles north of here today in a crash of a heavily loaded transport (Greyhound) bus and a sedan. Twenty injured were brought to hospitals and at least fifteen others were reported to have been taken to nearby cities.

Three of the dead were identified as A. G. Carpenter of Iowa City, Ia.; Mrs. James Kelleher of Albany, N. Y.; and Raymond J. Buskin of St. Louis.

Carpenter and Mrs. Kelleher were passengers and Buskin was an attendant on the bus. Witnesses said the sedan drove onto the main highway from a cross road and crashed into the bus. The vehicle overturned and came to a stop on its top. The sedan was demolished and the bus was damaged badly.

There were about forty passengers on the bus. The occupants of the sedan were unknown. A card was found in it, however, bearing the name "Alison Bishop Manufacturing company, Cincinnati, O." The license plates were Ohio 114AM.

The driver of the bus was Lee Callahan, 32, of Toledo. The bus was bound for Chicago to Cleveland.

Immediate identification of the victims was difficult.

THREE JEWS AND FOUR ARABS DIE IN RIOTING

JERUSALEM, Aug. 31 (AP)—Racetrack Palestine was nervously on edge today while police and troops prepared to quell any violent sequel to a rioting in which three Jews and four Arabs were killed.

There was widespread fear that the outbursts yesterday presaged another period of racial conflict and bloodshed in the Holy land.

The flareup was attributed in most quarters to the political situation of a country torn for years between Jews and Arabs—a situation recently accentuated by Britain's proposal to partition the land into sovereign Jewish and Arab states.

Authorities told Palestine police and British troops to "stand by" and warned newspapers and others not to attempt incitement. Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchop, the British high commissioner for Palestine, was hastily called back to Jerusalem from his summer camp in northern Palestine.

"The immediate effect of a shorter work period," he said, "was marked by reduced production. The effect of the change in hours on correction was astounding. The errors were practically doubled."

"While it cannot be definitely ascertained that the cause of this condition was the direct result of the change in work period, at least we can see that the entire group was disoriented for a time."

"Perhaps their pace had been geared to the longer work period and the shorter period threw them completely out of step, just as the runner whose pace may be excellent for the 800 would be entirely disoriented in the 440."

"Adjustment, of course, eventually occurred and after three years of the shorter period the whole group is wholeheartedly for it."

But the surprises have not stopped. Now, Dr. Scheidt said, whenever the workers do an eight hour day, with the added two hours paid at overtime rates, their efficiency goes down.

The efficiency of the women on a six hour day rose in about the same proportion as that of the men. But Dr. Scheidt explained the

NO ONE INJURED IN TERRIFIC CAR CRASH

An ambulance which went screaming to the scene of a traffic crash at the Four Corners on the Borger highway at 11 o'clock last night found no victims, although according to the rules and regulations of auto smashups there should have been at least one.

Automobiles driven by A. Heflin, 200 N. Purviance-st, and T. G. Post, 1117 E. Francis-ave, came together at the intersection.

Deputy sheriffs reported Heflin was driving across the highway and Post was headed east, entering the city.

None was reported injured although an occupant of one of the cars suffered from the shock of fright. The cars were not badly damaged, according to a report filed by Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey.

BOYS AWARDED SCOUT HONORS

Boy Scouts were advanced to every rank from second class to Eagle last night at the monthly Court of Honor, and numerous merit badges were awarded.

Raeburn Thompson, member of the sponsoring committee of Troop 80, awarded Eagle badges to Joe Cargile of Troop 14 Jack Croul, Jack Smith and James Archer of Troop 80. Mothers of the boys then pinned the badges on their sons.

Mothers of the Troop 80, Eagle Scouts were presented with bouquets of roses.

The court opened with Joe Cargile leading the Scout oath, and closed with Jack Croul leading the Scout benediction. Rep. Eugene Worley addressed the boys and others.

ROOSEVELT CONTINUES TO PONDER SUGAR BILL

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt continued to ponder the important question whether to veto or sign the sugar stabilization bill.

There was a possibility, but no certainty, that he might have something to say on the subject during the day or at a late day press conference. With the question of an extra session of Congress entwined in a possible rejection of the controversial measure, a decision was regarded as certain before the President leaves Thursday for a five or six day cruise on the Hudson and Long Island sound.

"If appropriations were considered again," he said, "we probably would wind up with more expenses than we have now."

The chief executive vetoed some of the appropriations which the legislature approved at the regular session.

The Senate's economy and efficiency committee continued hearings in efforts to find out where governmental costs could be curtailed. Some of the committeemen have voiced the opinion few if any new taxes are necessary.

GROOM FARM GROUP SEEKS NEW REFORMS

Regulation by Congress of the value of money so that it will require $1.50 to buy a bushel of wheat and 25 cents for a pound of cotton, was asked in resolutions adopted yesterday by the Groom Agricultural Association, it was announced today by Theodore Conrad, secretary of the organization.

Along with a demand for price stabilization proportionately on other crops, the Groom association also goes on record as saying that "cost of production" solutions have been available for several years, no permanent relief has ever been permitted to reach agriculture.

Among other recommendations made by the Groom association, of which A. J. Ramming is president, and Mike Britten Jr. is vice president, are these:

"The fundamental remedy of farm ills lies in restoring to Congress the right to coin money and regulate its value, put forth in the Constitution. When this has been accomplished

FIRST BAND DIRECTOR, 'POP' FRAZIER, DIES

The many friends of R. E. "Pop" Frazier, former Pampa, were grieved today to hear of his death at his home in McKinney last week. Further information has not been received concerning the tragedy today.

"Pop" Frazier came to Pampa in 1930 to act as bandmaster of the first high school band. From that time until he left in 1933, he was highly popular not only with students, but with citizens as well. The band he conducted was a favorite with this section, and began the organization of the many bands Pampa now boasts.

The federal official said he had virtually completed his investigation and plans to leave tomorrow for Cheyenne and Denver.

Legion Sticks to Guns - - Baby to be Given Away

In spite of protests, sponsors of the Pampa community picnic to be held on the Saunders ranch three miles east of LePors next Monday, decided today to carry out their original intention of giving away a baby at the picnic. Charlie Maisel, commander of the American Legion, announced today.

"We have had many letters and phone calls of praise regarding this phase of the picnic," he said. "Giving this baby away is not a raffle or a game of chance."

"Any thinking person who knows the law concerning the adoption of a child can readily see that there is nothing wrong in giving a baby away at a function of this kind."

The Legion commander also added that there is absolutely no chance concerned with the plan.

City commissioners combined business with pleasure last night and mixed rights and lefts with hog pens and tractor tires at their regular meeting in city hall.

With their session convening at the same hour the Joe Louis-Tommy Farr championship fight came onto the air, the commissioners and city officials were faced with a weighty problem right off the bat.

It was solved when someone moved that a radio be set up in the commission room and that all business be delayed until after the fight.

The commissioners figured it wouldn't take up much time inasmuch as the "experts" (who were buried today) had predicted it wouldn't go long until Louis had planted the Welshman amid the strawflowers.

So the city fathers listened and thrilled to the courageous young Welshman as he stood in there toe to toe with the brown champion for the full round.

And it was an hour and a half later before they got around to talking city business. Then, too, at the end of that sizzling 15th round, they had to go back and fight some of the rounds over again.

It was somewhere between 9:30 and 10 P. M. when the commission meeting got under way. With the fight still fresh in mind they decided to tell a man who maintained a hog pen just south of the city limits that he would have to move it.

The action was decided upon following many complaints. The man told City Manager C. L. Stine he would comply with the request in three days.

The commissioners also agreed to buy six tractor tires for the city's street maintainer at a cost of $203.63.

Authority also was given the mayor to enter into a contract with promoters for a two-day auto race meet at Fairgrounds park next Sunday and Monday.

LIGHTNING BLAMED IN SHOSHONE FOREST FIRE

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 31 (AP)—David Godwin, assistant chief of fire control of the U. S. Forest Service, pointed today to a lightning strike that set off the Shoshone National Forest fire August 20, which cost 15 lives.

Godwin said the fire definitely proved the origin of the blaze.

The federal official said he had virtually completed his investigation and plans to leave tomorrow for Cheyenne and Denver.

P. O. Cats Have It Pretty Soft—In Catty Story

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Put this down as a catty story—but the postoffice department has a flock of felines feeding off federal funds.

Here's the situation: Just as the corner drug store deals in more goods than drugs, the nation's post offices handle a lot of things besides letters.

Cheese, for instance. Years ago, the department recognized the rat and mouse menace when a long-forgotten postmaster wrote to a long-forgotten official asking what to do about it.

Instructions from Washington were simply get a cat.

The postmaster got a cat as did others and then arose the problem of footing the food bill.

Since there was no food for federal cats item in the budget, instructions were given to take it out of miscellaneous, and ever since then the postoffice pussies have been living off miscellaneous—some of them even getting fat on it.

All postoffices don't have cats—only first and second class offices are authorized to buy cat food out of miscellaneous, and some of these prefer other methods. They buy poison or hire human rat exterminators.

There are 1,136 first class postoffices and 3,404 second class. That's 4,540 potential cats. Officials estimate there are half that number living off Uncle Sam.

Their's is a pretty lush life. Dogs aren't allowed to roam through postoffice grounds, and overtime comes at Thanksgiving and Christmas when people are mailing a lot of food.

FLIERS SEEK MISSING SHIP

GRAPELAND, Aug. 31 (AP)—Fifteen low-flying army planes skimming fields and forests over a wide area in Central and East Texas today seeking Cadet Guy Wilson Edgerton, missing since a storm last night disrupted a formation flight from Shreveport, La. to San Antonio.

A burned out flare was all that searchers on the ground could find near here after a number of persons reported seeing a descending streak of fire which they believed to be an airplane falling in flames.

Twelve of the 13 planes in the flight from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, to Kelly Field, San Antonio, scattered when the storm struck and landed safely at Shreveport, Waco, Austin, Houston and San Antonio.

Edgerton, 24, of Kenly, N. C., was the only flier who had not reported.

Six planes from Kelly Field and nine from Barksdale Field were dispatched to comb the area north of Houston to Shreveport and east of Waco and Austin to the Louisiana line. Kelly Field officers said at San Antonio if the attack section

WORKER CONFESSES TO BRUTAL CHILD SLAYING

DETROIT, Aug. 31 (AP)—A 45-year-old automobile worker, whose wife told officers he had been subject to irrational spells since the death of his own daughter eight years ago, led police today to the body of Evelyn Mack, 10, hidden in a clump of weeds at the outskirts of the city.

Police Lieut. Walter Bachor said Joseph Jacobs, a friend of long standing of the Mack family, confessed he crushed the child's skull with an automobile crank, yielding to an impulse he could not explain.

Jacobs, the officer said, told him he killed the child between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, shortly after he had obtained permission from her mother, seriously ill, to take Evelyn to a nearby grocery.

SHOWER GIVEN BY GROUP TO HONOR MRS. ALBERT REYNOLDS

RECENT BRIDE RECEIVES GIFTS FROM FRIENDS

Complimenting Mrs. Albert (Tiny) Reynolds, Mrs. Wiley Reynolds, Noel Reynolds, Jake Osborne, and Frank Carter entertained with a surprise shower last evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds is the former Marjorie Skaggs.

The house was attractively decorated with marigolds, verbenas, gladiolas, dahlias, geraniums, zinnias, and a myriad of other flowers, carrying out a blue and gold color scheme. Tall paper and a bowl of flowers centered the buffet table. Each guest received a corsage of small gold chrysanthemums. Mrs. Reynolds' corsage was of red roses tied with white ribbon and her dress was black with red and white trim.

The honoree sat in a gold chair on a blue pedestal with an umbrella over her. As she walked up the flower-strewn path to the chair, Mrs. Ethel Powell sang "Here Comes the Bride."

A poem, "Husband's Conserve," was read by Mrs. Wiley Reynolds for the recent bride. The poem was given by June Marie Amick who was accompanied by Maxine Holt.

A miniature bridal party decorated the three-tiered wedding cake which was cut by Mrs. Reynolds and served with gold punch to the guests. Those who registered in the gold guest book tied with blue ribbon were Mrs. Mmes. Jim White, Al Johnson, Lon L. Blancet and Lola Payne, C. E. Powell, Raymond W. Harrah, Guy O. Saunders, A. C. Tally, J. M. Hays, Frank Foster, F. L. Skaggs, C. H. Saunders, Misses H. Amick the honoree and the hostesses.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Mahan, C. T. Hunkapillar, Mel Davis, Otto Rice, C. C. Cook, B. E. Finley, W. H. Davis, H. H. Davis, W. J. Brown and son; Misses Lillian Rice, Louella Saunders; Messrs. A. Combs and Topsy Reynolds.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Ham and pork may be sky high. But you can twist it tall by wasting nothing. Use what is left from the roast in attractive new dishes, and the first cost won't seem so great. The following recipes for second day-dish will make you forget that the friendly pig has gone high hat.

Fresh Ham and Tomato Timbale

(4 to 6 servings)
Two cups canned tomato, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups minced cooked fresh, 1-2 cup bread crumbs.

Add beaten egg yolks to cooked tomatoes, then seasonings, finely minced fresh ham, crumbs and lastly fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a buttered mold. Place mold in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until firm in the center. Invert on a hot platter and serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce

Two cups tomatoes, 2 cups of water, 1/2 teaspoon colvins, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 sprigs of parsley, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 2 heaping teaspoons catsup.

Boil together, tomatoes and seasonings, spices and parsley. Saute the onion in butter until brown, add catsup and cook well. Gradually add tomato to this mixture and cook until it thickens.

Port Pie

Four cups of cooked pork, 2 cups of left over gravy, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup, 1 sprig of parsley, 1-2 onion, 1 tablespoon butter.

Saute chopped onion in butter, add seasonings and catsup to the gravy. Cut pork into slices three inches long and two inches wide. Put a layer on bottom of pie plate, add chopped parsley and onion and continue until plate is full and cover with gravy. Cover with pie crust and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes (450 degrees F.).

Crust: One and one-half cups of flour, 1-8 teaspoons salt, 6 tablespoons shortening, cold water. Sift flour and salt. Cut shortening into dry ingredients with 2 silver knives until mixture is well blended. Add water gradually, handle as little as possible. Chill and roll out thin.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART

There's not much percentage in sending daughter off to high school, junior college or boarding school without makeup in her trunk or a practical knowledge of cosmetics and correct application of them. No matter how YOU feel about rouge, powder and lipstick on the faces of very young girls, the chances are ten to one that your child will use them anyway—or be utterly miserable if she doesn't.

Therefore, you're a smart mama indeed if you help your daughter choose appropriate, flattering cosmetics, then teach her or have an expert teach her to get them on perfectly.

Emphasize the importance of nightly hair brushing, perfectly manicured nails, adequate sleep and exercise, a sensible diet and absolute cleanliness. Talk to little daughter about posture, keeping her clothes neat, clean and pressed, wearing fresh stockings each morning, taking a daily bath, scrubbing her elbows with a brush and using cream on her face after skinning, skating or winter hiking party.

In other words, help the child to realize that health is the foundation of true beauty and how important good taste is. Set a shining example by being neat and tidy, walking and by standing, sitting, yawning correctly.

If her skin is sallow (adolescent skins are inclined to be) ask the family doctor about a proper diet. If she wants to use rouge, help her select a cream variety which matches her natural blood tones and insist that she apply it sparingly and blend it artistically. Her powder ought to be of finest quality and match exactly or be one shade lighter than skin tones.

Lipstick is most attractive when smoothed on dry lips, then blotted with cleansing tissue. The blotting sets the color and eliminates a caked, messy look. Mascara and eye-shadow are not in order. These and other types of eye makeup, are not for young girls.

Credit Grantors Attend Regular Weekly Luncheon

Pampa Credit association had a regular weekly luncheon yesterday at the Schneider hotel.

The 37 members of credit grantor firms did not finish the discussion of the letter "H." This will be finished and "Mc" and "M" will be taken up at the next meeting of the group which will be Sept. 13.

FIGHTING TOMMY FARR CONFOUNDS EXPERTS AS LOUIS KEEPS TITLE

CHAMP UNABLE TO KNOCK OUT CLEVER MINER

By GAYLE TALBOT.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—Joe Louis still his his heavyweight championship and he also has a new and round-eyed respect for Tommy Farr.

So have 37,000 fans who sat in the lights and shadows of Yankee stadium last night and watched the old carnival fighter, half-blinded at the finish, jab and pimpy it out with the alleged negro thunderbolt for 15 rounds.

Although they are without doubt hollering "robbery" around Fleet street today, and the hotheads in the Mall are assuring each other over the matutinal Scotch and splash that a Britisher hasn't a chance of winning anything in America, there wasn't much doubt that the Brown ex-Bomber deserved the decision.

He did, as badly scared as he looked in spots. In fact, he looked as dumb as a dime detective most of the evening and he took a lot of fancy punches, first and last. He never planned how to fight Farr. Yet he was the better man, and Tonyandy Tommy will be the last to deny it. Tommy didn't deny it last night even as he sat and tried to look out between battered eyes and listened to the "rasberries" that echoed and re-echoed across Yankee stadium after Louis had been declared the winner.

Farr is a big man in the boxing game today, even though a loser. He can play around—as he plans to do—and make himself a lot of money. He put up a great fight against a foe who was expected to knock him spraddle-legged, and when his best wasn't good enough he accepted defeat like a soldier.

At that, it must have been a thrill for the hard-boiled battler from the desolate mining district of Wales. No fighter who ever came to these shores received a surrier reception. He was tabbed strictly a second-rater, a fighter who didn't belong in the ring and who was an ebullient assassin, Louis. He must have felt good last night when, after he had given his stout-hearted best for 15 rounds, he gouted his way toward the dressing room through thousands of Americans demanding the blood of referee, judges and anybody else who thought Louis had won.

But it didn't fool Tommy. He knew he had tried and failed, and he wasn't sore at anybody. The fight-writers expected him to rail at the decision, and to castigate them for the things they had written about him. Tommy didn't do either. He looked out between eyes that were swollen almost shut and said simply: "I gave them a good go, didn't I? Tommy, then and there, made himself a lot of friends."

Referee Arthur Donovan credited the Welshman with only two rounds, just to show you how differently they can see things. This observer thought Farr won five rounds, that Louis won eight, and that there wasn't anything in the other two.

The spectators from ten rows on back thought Farr won the championship, by a country mile. It just goes to show.

This much is certain: the old carnival scrapper put up a whale of a fight; he carried the carnage to Louis most of the way, and he undoubtedly would have won by a knockout if he had possessed a right-hand wallop to compare with Schmeling's.

It's also true that Louis, though he was puzzled at Tommy's style all the way and was hurt and badly frightened a couple of times when Farr clouted him, had what it took to collect himself and jab out a victory with his left.

There wasn't a knockdown. In the fifth round, after the crowd had done some booing, Louis whipped over a quick right to the jaw and followed with a left that staggered Farr, but the bell saved the Welshman from serious trouble. Farr hurt Louis with several rights, but the negro never looked like he was going down.

In the last two or three rounds, long, jagged cuts under Farr's eyes were spouting blood and he couldn't properly line up his sights. He couldn't locate Louis with the stabbing left that had piled up so many points in the early rounds.

"I couldn't see him," said Farr.

Von Cramm and Henkel Defeat Budge and Mako

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 31 (AP)—The men's national doubles tennis title is in foreign hands today for the first time in 18 years as a result of a stunning straight set victory by Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel of Germany over Don Budge and Gene Mako, the Californian defending champions.

The Germans required only 70 minutes yesterday to gain their first triumph in three starts against the Americans this season, by scores of 6-4, 7-5, 6-4. Budge and Mako previously had beaten the German team in a five-set match in the all-England doubles final at Wimbledon and again in four sets in the Davis Cup Interzone finals doubles match, also played at Wimbledon.

Although Budge insisted that he and Mako played as well against von Cramm and Henkel as they did in England, the recapitulation of the stroke analysis indicated that Mako's letdown was responsible for their first defeat in more than a year. Mako held only four of his eight service games and three of those breaks gave the German stars the opening they needed to sweep the match in straight sets.

Four other champions also were overthrown in yesterday's sultry afternoon at Longwood. Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Payton, who shared four previous women's titles, teamed with Alice Marble, the national titlist, to set the example by defeating Mrs. John Van Ryn and Carolyn Babcock last year's winners, 7-5, 6-4.

Miss Marble and Mako surrendered their mixed doubles crowns, when they lost 6-0, 6-3, to Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, New York, and Jiro Yamagishi, Japan, in a quarter-final round.

DRIVERS FROM OTHER CITIES ENTER RACES

Entries and interest in the stock-car races to be held here next Sunday and Labor Day is mounting not only in Pampa, but in Amarillo, Lubbock, Borger, and other surrounding cities. In those cities yesterday, many drivers were repairing their cars in preparation for the races, and fans were planning to attend the affair.

To date entries have already much exceeded those of the last race of the kind here. In fact, it appears that eliminations may be held before the big sweepstakes race to cull out part of the entrants. In the three-five-mile races, no driver may enter but one race. Winners, that is those who place first, second, and third in each of the three will be eligible for the ten-mile run. In the big 25-mile feature race, entries will be tested in a trial run to determine who may race.

Races will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock each day, allowing plenty of time for Labor Day picnickers to finish eating before the runs. Special feature will be a motorcycle race, open to anyone at the time of the race. A bigger special event is being arranged and announcement will be made later.

plaintively, in the dressing room. His face looked like it had been caught in a thrasher. The middle finger of his right hand was broken and swollen, but he wouldn't alibi even a nick's worth.

Farr was back at Long Branch today, trying not to catch a glimpse of himself in the mirror. He looks pretty bad. Louis and his entourage still plan to visit London and Paris right away. What Joe needs, they figure, is a good, long rest.

BEST MATCHES ON LOCAL MAT SEEN BY FANS

When it was mentioned yesterday that persons needn't be alarmed if their house shook because of the wrestling matches, the prediction wasn't far wrong. For last night's grappling bouts were the roughest, toughest, meanest, most exciting fights ever staged here. Not just the maulers, but the referee got in for some heart-breaking treatment and fans were well satisfied with what they had spent their money for.

When the final bout was over, Referee Ray Clements was out like a light. Gust Johnson was the same way, only worse, and the winner, Buck Lipscomb, was on his feet only shakily. The crowd was in a frenzy. Pillows were slung at the Hoosier villain, and some went into the ring to aid Johnson to his dressing room. In the first round of the main event, the Hoosier hot-shot knocked Johnson down twice before the bout had actually begun. Johnson, enraged, came back to deal the Indiana lad plenty of misery.

However, when Gust got the best of him, Buck merely stepped outside the ropes and let him cool off. After about five minutes, Johnson was on the bottom most of the time. Lipscomb threw him, kicked him, stomped him, and it appeared that the Swede was out for that round. He came back, however, with trouble in mind, and Lipscomb soon found that out. Gust was undoubtedly the best wrestler but Lipscomb was the roughest, and after exhausting Johnson and Referee Ray Clements, put a body pin on the Swedish lad and won the fall.

Johnson came back in the second with vengeance in his heart. He slammed Lipscomb several times but could keep no holds on the mauler because Lipscomb kept him busy with a pin. Each time Gust got a death grip on Buck, that Indiana villain would stab him with the pin, which Clements was always unable to find. Clements was most of the time right in the middle of things, often underneath. Johnson won the fall with the same hold that had conquered him in the first, the body pin.

The last round was too rough and exciting to describe with due credit. In the course of events, Ray Clements was thrown from the ring by eager fans. However, his refereeing days for that night were over, and he passed out on the ropes, slightly less than semi-conscious. Johnson and Lipscomb then went to town and had a real battle. But with the referee out of the way, the Hoosier hot-shot was unlimited for his unorthodox ways, and finally got Johnson with the crab hold, favorite on the Pampa mat. Clements staggered over to raise Lipscomb's hand, also to kick that fellow soundly. Then the fun began. Clements was again thrown from the ring, and Johnson was again knocked out. When fans finally left, the three were either carried or dragged off, and everyone went home decidedly happy and satisfied with the evening.

The semi-final bout was no daisy-

Texas Horses Take Four First Places In Iowa Fair Show

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 31 (AP)—Texas horses took four first places last night in the Iowa state fair horse show.

Bow to Me, of the Sundial stable, Houston, Texas, won first place in the five-gaited gelding class. Anacacho Revel, shown by L. E. Davis of Lubbock, placed first in the three-gaited stallion class. Broomepark Bell, shown by D. C. Proctor of Fort Worth, was first in the harness pony stake class. Calamity Jane, owned by Miss Adele Thevenet of Dallas, placed first in the three-gaited plantation saddle class.

Football Boys Looking Better

Pampa Harvesters in training camp in Monument Park, Colo., underwent their first real scrimmage Saturday, another letter from Tom Herod, business manager, stated today. Backfield for the scrimmage consisted of Jack Wear, Jr. Williams, J. P. Matthews, and Don Smith. The letter follows:

"Well, the boys took a light workout this morning consisting of a dummy scrimmage and a pass-ball game. Topsy Reynolds and John Henry Nelson chose sides and Topsy's side won by a score of 12 to 0. Both touchdown passes were thrown by J. W. Graham and received by Don Smith and Coach Mitchell.

"This afternoon the coaches loaded all the players in the bus and carried them to a different field where they had the first scrimmage. The boys all came through without injuries even though they did some terrific blocking and tackling. The first string back field consisted of Jack Wear, Jr. Williams, Jr.; J. P. Matthews, Jr. and Don Smith. The first string line was made up of Topsy Reynolds, Jr.; John

Henry Nelson, Jr.; Oliver Coshow, Jr.; Arthur Harding, Jr.; Bill Stiles, Jr.; Harold Wisley, Jr.; and Melvin Turner, Jr.

"Jack Wear was the best ground gainer for the first team. Several times he ran through the whole second team but had very good blocking. Don Smith gained consistently on splitters and straight line smashes. J. P. Matthews looked good on two or three runs but his blocking was outstanding. Several times the boys lateraled the ball and made additional yardage. The whole team looked good on defense, holding the second team to about three first downs.

"The coaches have planned just one workout for tomorrow and two for Monday. The boys are all looking forward to their scrimmage with Perryton Tuesday.

"Mrs. Mitchell, Joe, and Marilyn plan to return to Pampa with Mr. and Mrs. Fisher tomorrow. One of the Junior High coaches, Bill Leggett, arrived in camp today to spend the rest of the training period with us.

"TOM HEROD."

KING OIL AND TEXAS MEET HERE TONIGHT

King Oil and The Texas Company ten will meet again tonight for the third game of the city championship softball series. The game will be played at Recreational park at 8:15 o'clock with admission 10 and 15 cents.

King will go into the battle two games up on the Texas team. King won the other two 7-1, 4-0, and a win tonight would make them champions and winners of the commissioner's cup for the year. Texas, however, may show more power than they have before, power that they are supposed to have.

On the mound for King will be Atkinson and Christopher for Texas, probably. In the second game of the evening, the confident King squad will meet Rig Service of Borger, runner-up in the Panhandle softball championship. Last time they tried a doubleheader, King went under to the Texaco Firechiefs of Amarillo.

Jack Kretzinger, softball commissioner, announced today that the

FT. WORTH CATS SLIP INTO LEAGUE POSITION

(By The Associated Press)
The Fort Worth Cats climbed to second place in the Texas league last night by walloping the Beaumont Exporters, 8-1, passing the Idle San Antonio Padres by one point. Rain kept the Padres from tangling with the Dallas Steers. A doubleheader will be played in Dallas tonight.

Tulsa got only three hits against Galveston in last night's fracas, but two of them were homers, and the Oilers won, 3-2.

The Oklahoma City Indians, meanwhile, calmly eked out a win from Houston in a 10-inning series opener to maintain a wide league leadership margin.

About 35,000,000 trees were distributed through federal and state cooperation to farmers in the last year for planting farm forests, windbreaks and shelterbelts.

"That's what the used-car dealer said to me when I brought in my old Jalopy. The paint and rubber were so so. Upholstery, fair. But the engine? Marvellous! So he paid me way over the Blue-book value, and I've warned the family never to use any oil except Phillips 66 Motor Oil in our brand new bus."

The moral is: To keep your engine in tip-top condition, use the finest oil you can buy. Not the highest-priced oil, but a lubricant like Phillips 66 Motor Oil, which gives you more protection for every penny you pay. Guaranteed 100% pure paraffin base.

With high-degree oiliness. Standout quality makes it stand up longer. Tougher, heat-resistant film makes it give many extra miles of service.

FARM SCHOOL BRINGS SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

Discussions on soil erosion control in the dust bowl to be held every Friday night in the Hoover schoolhouse offer farmers and others of the area one of the best opportunities they ever have had to become familiar with approved methods for solving their problems.

Adult education classes for farmers and all persons interested in soil conservation and allied farm problems will be held each Friday night for 12 consecutive weeks.

The course has the approval of County Farm Agent Ralph Thomas, Pampa Chamber of Commerce officials and various farm officials throughout the county.

Classes will be conducted by J. L. Lester, vocational teacher in the Pampa High school, who with Everett Frazier, vocational agriculture instructor in Pampa schools, have made an intensive study of the subject at Texas Technological college, at Lubbock, this summer.

Farmers should avail themselves of this opportunity and it would not be amiss for business, professional and others outside the actual farm class to take advantage of the instructions which should give everyone an excellent education in the best methods to whip one of the outstanding problems with which this area of the United States must cope.

The 12-week course will give the business man an opportunity to acquaint himself with the farmers' problems and their efforts to solve them.

Here farm school course that really is worthwhile and deserving of support for the reason that the "pupils" are the ones who are going to reap benefits sorely needed for the best interests of the area as a whole.

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—It is simply amazing the amount of diplomatic toe-dancing that goes on because the United States has to go through the steps of getting out of the China war zone without really asserting publicly that it is a war. Of course there is carnage, and enough marching and counter-marching to drive the Spanish civil war off page one. Yet we have recognized Spain's war.

Secretary Hull, who is an earnest man and sincere, quite evidently would like to step in with the good offices of the United States and bring an end to wars wherever they break out. But he may not say so publicly. In rejecting the League of Nations and world court this country quite definitely said: "Devil take your foreign wars. Hereafter we are hands off."

It was a blossoming of that spirit which brought on the so-called neutrality act under which the United States, in theory, must pull its neck turtle-like into a shell whenever the shot and shell begin falling any place in the world.

In theory it is that way. The theory of Italy and Ethiopia and again in the case of Spain. But in the case of the Japanese-Chinese outbreak the state department is required to pile a theory upon a theory. It must hold to the theory that the neutrality act is in fact being followed when truly enough it is being side-stepped.

The neutrality act provides that upon the outbreak of war the President must proclaim the fact. The proclamation automatically shuts off all supplies of arms, munitions and implements of war to the belligerents and sets up a chain of procedure likely in time to lead to suspension of all trade with them.

But Mr. Hull wants to preserve peace. The neutrality act is not designed primarily to preserve peace. It is designed to keep the United States from getting in the way of enemy shells or torpedoes. Since the neutrality act leave it discretionary with the President to decide when war actually begins, Mr. Hull, as the President's agent, will continue to work and plead for peace until the existence of war becomes so oppressive he can deny it no longer.

Thus you have Mr. Hull asking in his latest peace statement that China and Japan "restrain from hostilities." If he had said "suspend hostilities" it would have been an admission that there were hostilities. Such an admission would have required that the neutrality act be called into effect.

All this time Mr. Hull must direct the evacuation of Americans from the scene of conflict. He must protest against too much shooting over Yankess property in the Orient. Yet the state department does not even refer to Shanghai as the "war zone."

But there is evidence that in the minds of some public officials there is a feeling that it is a "war zone" in fact. Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, defended at length Mr. Hull's

Tex's Topics

After listening to arguments pro and con on the matter, we are lining up today with local Salvation Army officials and others in protest against the American Legion plan to give away a baby at the Pampa Community picnic next Monday. . . This, then, is our endorsement of Capt. Herman Lambrecht's plea to the picnic sponsors to abandon the idea entirely as a humanitarian gesture. . . After all, one readily can see that the giving away of a human being in the interest of pure commercialism as a drawing card to a picnic, is little less than scandalous.

If the Legion were to go through with its plan to place a baby upon the sacrificial platform of public curiosity, we wonder if they have considered the effects upon the youngster's life in later years when he goes to school and faces the taunts of playmates that he was "given away at a picnic". . . We suspect that the Legion knows what it is doing and we believe there is no further need to worry about the plan. . . Another who joins in opposition to the ridiculous proposal is B. Harold Holmes, who writes of his astonishment over the idea. . . One senses something akin to publicity in the stunt.

Joe Burrow fell into a mountain stream while up in New Mexico last week. . . Which goes to prove that there is many a slip twixt the bank and the trout. . . Joyce Hickman, back from a mountain vacation, is plenty tanned. . . Some visitors in the County Judge's office, where she secretaries, failed to recognize her at first glance. . . Rotarians will leave late this afternoon for their annual picnic at the White House Country club near Canadian. . . It's a joint affair with members of the Canadian club. . . Although she has just returned from the Ozarks, we haven't heard a single hill-billy note out of Ola Gregory, one of County Clerk Charlie Thut's able assistants.

There will be a big barbecue dinner on tap for the delegates from five states who attend that big meeting in Amarillo a week from tomorrow. . . The idea of the meeting is to discuss plans and hear reports on the $40,000,000 federal fund that has been set up by Congress to give the dust bowl area a vast lakes and ponds program. . . Gray county is planning to send a delegation of around 50 persons. . . None of the Panhandle counties has a greater interest in this program than our own Gray. . . The local delegation again will let that fact be known when it goes to Amarillo.

Add similes: As baffled as a pickpocket at a nudist convention. . . John L. Lewis enters politics, presumably with the intention of sitting down on some opposition candidates. . . Progress: a senator moves to make a man's wife as efficacious as his cow for income tax reduction purposes. . . Russians drifting near the North Pole on an ice floe reported a river of fresh water in front of their tent. It's only a step now to a Volga floatman song. . . With both the Chinese and Japanese shelling Shanghai, how will they know who won when it's reduced to ruins?

Some people are saying that Chiang Kai-shek hasn't a Chinaman's chance to win. . . "Law and Order" has been suggested for the Republican slogan. Something "trite and true," eh? . . . An Ontario man, deaf 15 years, was cured when hit by a motor car. Super auto-suggestion? . . . Fashion note: women's hats for winter are to be high and tilted. Why tilted? . . . The League of Nations has been very quiet lately. Perhaps it has switched jobs—from umpire to scorekeeper.

The world today contains a total of 207,000,000 Protestants. . . The incandescent lamp was patented by Thomas Edison on Jan. 27, 1880. . . China has one thing in its favor. A defensive bayonet is just as deadly an aggressive one. . . Fashionists declare that skirts have reached their "ceiling" so to speak. Any stratosphere flights will be blamed on autumn breezes. . . Mars is operating incognito in the Far East, but mannerisms haven't changed much.

Workmen wrecked a historic city landmark—the old public water trough on the square opposite the city hall. Since 1912, the concrete trough had stood as part of the first water system.

J. W. Sanders of Canadian gave an interesting talk on his trip to Ostend to the Rotary International convention, to the local Rotary club members at the regular meeting at the Schneider hotel.

Pampa merchants, back from markets of the east and middle west, showed optimism since they had not shown since the price toboggan that had begun over two years before.

Old Jap Pluvius won the ball game between teams representing the Kiwanis and Lions clubs before the teams could take the field. The old gentleman was welcome to many but not to members of the two nines who were primed for the big battle.

position. He said there was nothing yet to indicate it was a really and truly war. But down in his speech he remarked that the present prime duty of the Secretary of State was to remove our citizens from the "war zone."

Oh, well, we can't all be so careful as the state department.

THINGS ARE PICKING UP

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Most news writers let out a derisive jeer when anybody says, "It must be wonderful to be a newspaperman—you meet so many interesting people!" But, this is only an act.

Frankly, it is fun, and you do meet a lot of interesting people. First meetings, however, are the ones that linger longest in retrospect.

One day while we were digging up news for a paper in Ohio a tip came through that Tex Rickard was due, to pass through on a noon train, and our editor sent us down to meet him.

We got down on the tracks and Tex hopped off the back end of the train, in shirt sleeves, with another man in tow whom we didn't know.

"Are you the reporter who has come to interview me?" Rickard drawled. We told him we were, and he said, "Hell, why don't you talk to Roy Howard here. He makes better copy than me. Roy owns a newspaper in your town. Roy, shake hands with my 'old friend'—what did you say—your name was?"

So we shook hands with Mr. Howard and Mr. Rickard and then the train left, and a little later Tex died. But what helps make the incident memorable was that we had a photographer with us, and that after paper carried a picture of Roy Howard, owner of the rival afternoon sheet, Mr. Howard's paper didn't know he was in town until that photograph was printed. That was by way of being a local triumph, and for months we secretly hoped that Mr. Howard would see it and, impressed by our alertness, offer us a job. But he never did.

One afternoon we were browsing in a department store and a slight figure eased her way gently through the crowd and picked up a toy Scotch terrier. "How much is this?" she inquired. "Five dollars," was the reply. "I'll take 20 of these, the young lady said, "and could you have them delivered to my hotel?"

... We were so startled by anybody buying $100 worth of toy dogs that we edged round for a glimpse of her. It was Mary Pickford.

Our first meeting with Miriam Hopkins was informal, too. Having been dragged away from the crying corner of our favorite tavern, a pal ushered us into a cab and we sat down rather heavily on what was not the hack's upholstery.

"Don't look now," a strange voice was saying, "but I think you're breaking my arm." . . . Our friend, an absent-minded dope, had neglected to tell us that Miss Hopkins was in the car.

Then there was the time our editor sent us out to find George Arliss. But he wasn't at his hotel, his agents couldn't find him, so we reported that he was in hiding and went on another assignment. Later that afternoon we were reconnoitering our watch (it being pay day), and came upon him staring at a window of the curious bric-a-brac that pawnshops always hold. He told us he couldn't pass one without pausing to study the contents of its windows.

SEATS TO SHIFT IN SUPREME COURT.

WASHINGTON (P)—The entrance of Justice Hugo L. Black, former Senator from Alabama in the Supreme Court chamber, will bring a shift in the seating arrangement.

People You Know

They're being drilled on that oil well on the Ledrick ranch for ten years, and they're still at it. The other day steam was hissing and spouting from the location. Now, ten years is a long time to wait, and Claude and Lee Ledrick, brothers who own the ranch, can qualify as champions in waiting, and they could testify to the truth of the saying, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." But they can smile as they look back on the exciting moments when it appeared oil, plenty of it, would be found, and if oil is ever found on the ranch in paying quantities, the discovery might be an anti-climax because they have already run the gamut of emotions while the well has been drilling. Now another well is going to be drilled on the ranch. The other one, located on a hill, was drilled to a depth of over 6,000 feet. The new well will be drilled in a meadow. Local men made up most of the money to drill the well. This time, many geologists believe, they'll find plenty of oil.

How's Your Health?

Malaria Ravages

Our compliments to the Jefferson county board of health on its monthly bulletin called Birmingham's Health, and notably on its issue dealing with "Malaria in Alabama."

Here's the bulletin's story in excerpts: "Fever-ridden jungles" exist not only in Africa and Central America. There are areas in our own state almost as dangerous for the non-immune visitor.

"Of all the diseases which have ravaged humanity there is none which is more terrible than malaria; and this in spite of the fact that we have full knowledge of its cause, the manner of its spread and the means of prevention and cure.

"Centuries ago many believed that malaria was in some way associated with insects, but the truth was not discovered until about 1896. We now know that this disease can be transmitted only through the bite of an infected mosquito. The parasite of malaria is not a simple bacterium, but is an animal parasite with a complicated life cycle passing through a number of mysterious phases.

"The world wide recorded mortality of malaria is high, but even this fact does not indicate its true drain on humanity, for it is not in the death rate that the total cost of malaria lies. It is in the sickness rate, the loss of efficiency it causes, rather than in the loss of life. One death from pneumonia usually averages about 125 work days lost, one typhoid death averages 450 to 500 sick days, one from tuberculosis somewhat more among whites but less among negroes. A death from malaria, however, represents from 2,000 to 4,000 sick days!

"Travelers who of necessity must enter known malarious country should keep inside a well-screened house from before sunset until after sunrise; since the malaria mosquito is a night air twilight biter. Since this mosquito is thoroughly domesticated and quite skillful in seeking out points of entry, the only safe house is one which is thoroughly mosquito-proof; and even then individual bed nets may be desirable.

"It is sometimes desirable for travelers in a malarious country to take

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—This is the song of the seasons in Hollywood—and of the sound man who "hears" them. It is trite but not true to say there are no seasonal changes in Hollywood. (New York papers please copy.) Though he see no robin, spy no crocus, the sound man can tell when spring has come. Summer brings its own tokens for him to recognize. And autumn, and winter, too. If he were blind and insensitive to temperatures, he still could tell the seasons through the receivers clamped on his ears as he "mixes" sounds for movie audition reception.

Spring, says Jimmy Burbridge, one of Metro's mixers, means he can turn the volume up a little—because the newly sprouted greensward deadens sound waves.

"Twigs for Vocal Cords" Summer? Nice, says Jimmy, if you stay away from trees. Jimmy just got back from location, a ranch in the California hills where was filmed the fox-hunting scene in "Live, Love and Learn." Rosalind Russell had to gallop her horse over a stone wall and take a spill almost in Robert Montgomery's lap. When she picked herself up they had a bit of dialogue.

"Sounds simple," says Jimmy, but the trouble was the script said they stood under a tree to talk. Now when trees are green you don't have too much trouble recording sound spoken under them. But when the leaves are dry, when a slight wind is rustling them, the noise that reaches the mixer sounds like people talking with twigs for vocal cords and leaves for tongues. You always have this problem in California summers because then the grass is brown and the leaves are driest."

The autumn comes with winds and blustering breezes. When the actor speaks his lines outdoors, the wind likely as not will blow the words away from the microphone—and turning up the volume only increases the chances of getting more wind noises than spoken words.

Sound Bounces Winter on location is likely to be foggy or rainy or, in the mountains, snowy. Fog, rain and snow each produce echoes to a varying extent. Sound men can't abide echoes. That's one of the reasons they hate stone. The Russell horse-jumping scene was made no easier because the wall over which the animal had to jump was stone.

"Sound bounces from stone like a rubber ball," says Jimmy. "And to make it worse the stone wall was built under spreading oak trees! And as for oak trees—they're the noisiest trees there are!"

"No," he concludes, "nobody has to tell me what season it is. These dials tell me better than any calendar. They never lie to me—barring," he adds as loyal Southern Californians must, "barring unusual weather."

NOTHING LIKE BEING BOTH WITNESS AND JUDGE.

OMAHA, Neb. (P)—Municipal Judge Lester Palmer was chief witness and judge when Helen Sternberg appeared in court on reckless driving charges. Her car struck a man.

Palmer, the witness, who saw the accident, said, "It was a case of extreme negligence."

Palmer, the judge, said, "Twenty-five dollars and costs."

The defendant appealed to a higher court.

small doses of quinine daily as a prophylactic; usually about two and one-half grains per day. The advice of a physician should be secured before doing this, however.

Answers To Questions

By FREDERICK HASKINS

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How much does Lou Gehrig, the ballplayer weigh? J. G. A. He weighs 210 pounds.

Q. Do more tourists visit Hawaii or Puerto Rico? V. W. A. Hawaii is visited by more tourists than any of the outlying possessions of the United States. In 1936, Hawaii had 50,141 visitors; Alaska, 33,653; Puerto Rico, 14,473; and Virgin Islands, 6,862.

Q. Where was Congressman Theodore Peyster buried? N. P. A. The funeral was held at Temple Emanuel, New York City, and burial in Cincinnati.

Q. Who originated railway guides? H. K. G. A. George Bradshaw (1801-53), an English map engraver was the originator. In 1839 he published Bradshaw's Railway Time-Tables which later were known as Bradshaw's Railway Companion.

Q. How many branches has the Federation of L'Alliance Francaise? B. T. A. This association, founded in 1902 in the United States and Canada, has 290 branches. The purpose is to foster the study and cultivation of the French language, art, science, literature, and history in America.

Q. For whom is Buncombe county, N. C., named? E. K. G. A. The member for the Buncombe district in the congressional discussion of the Missouri Compromise (1820) persisted in long speeches despite the boredom and impatience of his fellow-members. The incident is reputed to be the origin of the name as well as the words kunkum and bunk.

Q. How can preserves and jelly be kept a bright color? S. W. A. Cooking rapidly helps to retain the bright color of the fruit. The addition of pectin shortens the necessary cooking time.

Q. Are any of the old Roman aqueducts still in use? A. C. A. Of the nine aqueducts which brought water to ancient Rome, three are still in use. One of them, constructed in 149 B. C., is 56 miles long.

Q. How much candy does the average person eat? J. G. A. In 1936 the per capita consumption of candy in the United States was 16 pounds.

Going Places, Seeing Things

Nearly everybody likes to follow the crowd. Nothing portrays the personality of a people like the events which bring them together in crowds. Their celebrations, carnivals, and mass gatherings, together with the purposes of their meetings, reflect many of their national characteristics.

You must have this splendid new booklet which tells about the big annual event in each state in the Union.

There are two companion booklets in this series called Natural Scenes and Famous Places. If you have never seen them by all means order the three at once. If you do, you wouldn't take a dollar for them. Use the coupon.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

"Eve's Doctor," by Signe Toksvig (Harcourt, Brace & Co., $2.50), presents a detailed picture of a large hospital in Dublin. The story concerns Kate Ellison, an attractive self-reliant woman of Junepaque proportions who was brought up in America.

Kate, in spite of her 30-odd years, has never been in love until she meets Dr. Michael Murrrough, head of the Wethering Hospital in Dublin. This love draws her into the battle being waged for control of the hospital.

Dr. Murrrough is the real protagonist of the novel and its theme is the struggle of this highly skilled obstetrician and gynecologist for medical enlightenment and progress, against the forces of the Irish Catholics and the Irish Nationalists.

Miss Toksvig has a flair for descriptive incident. She keeps the plot at a fast pace, although she utilizes her talent largely in describing what eventually seem to be countless operations.

That the novel should represent life is indisputable, but the novel should picture life, not draw a detailed map of it. The cult of modern realism which insists on describing the most intimate physical details of life is endurable when its exponent is a writer great enough to border on genius. An average craftsman falls into the error of being in bad taste. Only in a few paragraphs does this happen, but these few pages are sufficient to mar the book. In spite of the vehemence of the theme, it has been ably blended into the plot and characterization. Because of this theme the book will arouse some controversial thought.—B. N.

MIKE JACOBS OUT OF RED ON TITLE MATCH

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (P)—Promoter Mike Jacobs, who thought he might go "in the red" on the Louis-Farr fight, apparently cleared enough to pay his expenses and a little more.

After paying off the fighters, the rental on the Yankee stadium, and the ten per cent "cut" of the milk fund, Mike had about $65,000 left to pay all the other costs of promoting the battle and for his own share.

Here are the figures on attendance and receipts for last night's fight:

NOW IS THE TIME TO FIX UP YOUR HOME!

FALL IS TIME FOR CHECK-UP AND REPAIRS

The annual nation-wide burst of fall clean-up activity is on. Home owners are busily checking, fixing, remodeling, repairing and modernizing their homes. Activity of this sort is a wise move for every home owner. Fixing up means more comfort, more happiness... a better looking home and greater resale value should you want to sell it! Fall is the best time to fix up, since the "indoor season" is just around the corner!

The fixing up of any home begins with a thorough inspection... checking through from cellar to roof. Of prime importance in the fall check-up is the heating plant, which if suspected of being out of order should be examined by a competent heating engineer. He will, if necessary, take the proper steps for the repair of the heating plant so that you can be sure of economical and efficient heating. Going up in your home, next you should examine the floors, for sanding and refinishing; the ceilings, for re-plastering and baling; the plumbing, for leaks and places that may cause trouble in cold weather; the wiring, for worn or bare spots, for short circuits, or for fire dangers; the chimney, for re-facings, repair and for the elimination of fire hazards.

Every home owner should seriously consider insulating his home. Proper insulation is a real investment in comfort, and, in all probability, will materially decrease your fuel bills! There are many good types of insulation on the market... wall board, thick insulation board, fibrous, wool types. This latter type is stuffed in the space between the walls and acts as a non-conducting element... efficiently repelling heat and cold. Insulation increases both winter and summer comfort!

Repainting the exterior should also be considered. By doing this, the house is not only improved in appearance, but it is also protected from deterioration by the weather, rot and insects.

MODERNIZATION CONTINUES POPULAR IN MOST SECTIONS

Out of all the diverse modernization programs being adopted by American home owners, the favorite one seems to be in kitchens and bathrooms. People are discovering that the added convenience and beauty of such undertakings are well worth the cost, which is really reasonable.

Consequently builders all over the country are receiving calls for plans and estimates and are going ahead with actual work in many homes. Kitchens in particular have improved greatly in the past few years. Color, mechanical appliances, and thoughtful designing, have all tended to make kitchens as attractive as any room in the house! Outstanding among modern kitchen features are built-in sinks of gleaming porcelain or stainless metal, with wide drain-boards, electrical appliances such as dish washers and electric stoves, built-in cabinets, providing convenient work space and adequate storage space and, finally, harmoniously blending of color in walls, ceiling and floor covering!

Present day bathrooms have become gleaming things of beauty. Tile walls and floors with modern, well designed fixtures are notable in modern bathrooms. Especially effective color schemes have been devised for these rooms by leading decorators. Built-in showers are becoming increasingly popular.

THIS ATTRACTIVE HOUSE HAS CHARM IN COLONIAL MANNER

This attractive house neatly combines the charm of the colonial period with modern efficiency. It has beauty of line worthy of a more expensive house, and it can be built at comparatively low cost. Careful planning has made this house a model of efficiency... there is no wasted space, and at the same time, it's cheerful and pleasant to live in.

Entering the front door, we see how conveniently the rooms are grouped on the first floor. The door opens into a hall; to the left is a large clothes closet; to the right is the entrance to the living room; straight ahead is the entrance to the kitchen. The kitchen, following the popular trend in home planning, is in the front of the house. Built-in cases, a breakfast nook, and space for mechanical equipment are provided. The dining room is located at the rear of the house... giving a pleasant view of a rear garden and assuring privacy for the living quarters. It measures 12 by 11 1/2 feet and provides ample room for all necessary furniture. The large, light living room looks out on both the front and rear lawns. Its dimensions are 11 by 18 1/2 feet and carefully planned wall space provides adequate large colonial style fireplace that will give added pleasure and comfort in the winter time and another feature that will appeal to many is the studio type ceiling.

The stairway leading upstairs is conveniently located at the rear, between the living room and the dining room. A short hall on the second floor separates the two bedrooms and gives access to the bathroom. The front bedroom is light and airy, and measures 12 feet by 10 feet 8 inches. Two large clothes closets, one of them with an outside window, are provided for this room. The second bedroom is 12 feet by 9 feet 2 inches, contains a clothes closet, and, like the other sleeping quarters, has cross ventilation. The bathroom is well planned and conveniently located. The plans for this room call for a medicine cabinet in addition to the other bathroom fixtures. A convenient closet for linen is located in the hall.

GIANTS TAKE 2-POINT LEAD OVER CHICAGO

By SID FEDER. Associated Press Sports Writer. Old John McGraw, who's probably managing a pennant winner in whatever valetta baseball men go to, looked down on his New York Giants today and found the view well high indeed.

They were leading the National league—a margin thin as a dime, but leading nevertheless—and a trio of McGraw men showed the way.

First, there was Bill Terry, who can take a bow for himself for the way he's handled the reins since Old Jawn gave them up in '32. Then there was Master Melvin Ott, the veteran youngster of the National league, the little fellow who lifts up his front foot, swings at those high hard ones, and deposits them where they do the most good—for his side.

And last, but far from least, there was King Carl Hubbell, the master of the screwball.

These three, and the fight that was McGraw's heritage to the Giants, made it appear today that the Giants are on the way to their second straight pennant, their third under Terry. At a moment, here were the statistics on the two clubs still in the red-hot pennant parade:

W L Pct. To play
Giants	71 46 607 37
Cubs	72 47 605 35

They're a remarkable collection, these Giants. They don't play great ball; sometimes they don't even play good ball. But they're a money team, and they play those breaks for all they're worth.

Right now, such other powers as the Cubs, Cardinals and Pirates appear to be quietly falling apart. So, the Giants, putting together timely hitting and good pitching, are making the most of it.

Yesterday, with the Cubs idle, the Giants had a chance to go into the lead. They turned the trick with a 4-3 decision over the Cincinnati Reds. The Giants' game was the only one in the National league. In the American league, the Detroit Tigers tripped the Yankees 5-4, with Hank Greenberg belting No. 30 and Roundhouse Rudy York poking No. 28, and the Cleveland Indians punched over a ninth inning run for a 7-6 win over the Senators.

Phi Delta Theta fraternity has the largest membership of any national men's fraternity. Its present enrollment is over 45,000.

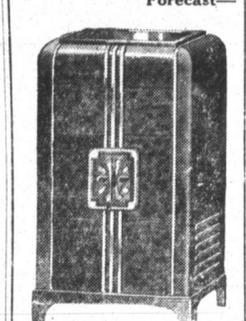

LAFAYETTE WHITE SOX WIN EVANGELINE TITLE

RAYNE, La., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Lafayette White Sox were champions of the Evangeline league today. The Sox defeated Rayne's Rice Birds in a one-game playoff for the title last night, 8 to 7, in a wild encounter that lasted two hours and forty minutes.

As a result of their victory the Lafayette club captured the bonus offered by the league to the finishing team on top at the end of the regular playing session.

Today's most remarkable story of great value at low price is found, not in the newspaper advertisements you read, but in the light under which you read them.

BARGAINS? Certainly. The advertising columns of your daily newspaper are full of them. Silk stockings at 59c. Men's suits at $22.50. Tires for $9.75 that will outrun their expensive ancestors by ten to one. Better automobiles at $500 than twenty times that sum could have bought in 1916.

But the greatest bargain of all is none of these. It is the sight-saving, time-saving, labor-saving commodity we call electricity. Despite wide fluctuations in the cost of manufacturing and delivering electric current, its cost to the user has moved year after year in only one direction—downward. The "light bill" of the average home is not appreciably higher today than it was ten years ago. Yet that home is now using brighter lights and more of them—now has, at the very least, a radio, an electric iron, and one or more other useful appliances.

Best of all, electricity's value increases as it takes over more and more work.

Chapter V
Melita and Priscilla crowded onto the bridge to observe the cause of all the disturbance. Kay was valiantly trying to keep the "Chinook" on her course, but the little boat did a good deal of bobbing. As she nosed down, the propeller would lift out of the water for a few seconds. Then the engine, relieved of the strain against the water, would race noisily, frightening the three girls.

"D-darn them, anyhow," muttered Kay. "They didn't have to pass so close."

Melita held to the edge of the chart table. "So there are road holes on the water, too!"

The boat now showing its trim gold-lettered stern was indeed large by comparison with the "Chinook," and she had plenty of speed. Two young men in white sweaters stood at the stern rail, waving cheerfully.

"Look at those—those idiots!" said Priscilla with venom. "I just hope we see them again!"

"Well, I don't," insisted Kay, relinquishing her strained grip on the wheel as the swell subsided. "One thing, I don't think any of us will be seasick if we're still on deck after that."

"I don't know," this was from Priscilla, looking a bit dubious as she said, "My lunch isn't resting so easy right now. And Jim Pike said it was the long, slow swells that made you really sick in a small boat. I—I feel like a piece of ice in a cocktail shaker."

The trim yacht with her cheerful pair at the stern was quickly forgotten as the girls became more accustomed to their little boat and began to take in the restful beauties of water and green distant shoreline.

"This is certainly the life!" Melita exclaimed. "We never really lived before we got the 'Chinook,' did we?"

"I'm just wondering, though," mused Kay. "If the trip won't get sort of—well, monotonous. It's fun so far, but it might tiresome."

Not two days later she was to recall her use of the words "monotonous" and "tiresome"—and wish to Heaven that she had been a more accurate prophet! But meanwhile they did enjoy the cruise to the utmost. Two hours after the passing of the big yacht, Kay announced that they were going into Key-Hole Pass. "We've never really lived before we got the 'Chinook,' did we?"

"I'm just wondering, though," mused Kay. "If the trip won't get sort of—well, monotonous. It's fun so far, but it might tiresome."

Not two days later she was to recall her use of the words "monotonous" and "tiresome"—and wish to Heaven that she had been a more accurate prophet! But meanwhile they did enjoy the cruise to the utmost. Two hours after the passing of the big yacht, Kay announced that they were going into Key-Hole Pass. "We've never really lived before we got the 'Chinook,' did we?"

Jim Pike had advised. Just inside, she was startled to see another boat—the big white yacht which had given them its wake earlier in the day! Now she dozed at anchor with no sign of life aboard.

Drawing more water than the "Chinook," the yacht was anchored more in the center of the cove than Pike had advised for the "Chinook." Kay drew closer to shore, abeam of a grouping of evergreens. "There's where you'll find a good holding bottom for your ground tackle," Pike had said.

Priscilla, nose pressed to the window of the pilot house, made a sound of disgust. "There's that confounded boat that tossed us around this morning!"

"Well," Melita said, "you hoped we'd see them again. Now's your chance to give them a piece of your mind."

Kay turned from the wheel. "If you two can manage to stop the conversation for a moment, I'd like to have you put down the anchor. You know," said Melita, "you're probably the polliest captain in the world." Dodging Kay's suddenly outstretched foot, she went forward.

Kay stopped the engine, but the little "Chinook" kept veering. Kay was forced to maneuver the boat into position again. "Are you sure you got that anchor down?" she asked Melita.

"Absolutely."

"It doesn't seem to be holding at all. I wonder—"

She was interrupted by a halloo from the side. All three girls looked from the pilot house. Standing in a small dinghy was a good-looking young man in a white sweater and ducks, obviously from the fancy yacht.

"Ahoj there, 'Chinook,'" he called. "I see you're having a bit of trouble. Maybe I can help."

Kay slid the pilot house window down. "Thank you. The anchor doesn't seem to be holding."

The dark young man smiled. "I think I can explain that. I happened to see one of your crew let it go. And I noticed it's one of those new light-weight folding types. You see the trouble is, you didn't unfold it before you tossed it over!"

Melita turned the color of a summer sunset.

"Just draw it up and unfold it," the young man advised. "Then let her down again and head the boat a little more into the wind. You'll be all right then."

"T-thanks," stammered Kay. "Glad to be of help. Our boat is the 'Mistral.' We'd like to have you come aboard tomorrow for breakfast. Our cook makes the swellest flapjacks north of the Panama Canal."

"That's very nice of you," said Kay. "But we're pulling out at dawn tomorrow."

"Good cruising seat!" The young man resumed his seat in the dinghy and took up the oars. "We may meet again further north."

Juniors Play For Title in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 31 (AP)—Teen age stars of Texas golf started matched play over Brackbridge Park's tree-lined fairways today for the Texas Junior title—any one of a dozen favorites capable of coming through.

Former champion Arthur (Buck) Luce of Austin, deliberate putting master, carried the medal honors into match play, winning on a nine hole playoff yesterday with sensational Joe Moore, Jr., 15-year-old San Antonio star, and Lee Brandt, Jr., husky San Antonio ice man and defending champion.

Tied at 73 over the regular 18-hole test, the trio played an extra nine holes and Luce's two-under par 34 gave him the medal. Moore kept pace with par 36 while Luce slipped to 38.

Head Coach Gus Dorais of the stars has made no secret of his belief that victory rests on an aerial offense. He has had Baugh and Ray Bulvid shooting overheads to ends and backs for two weeks and apparently was convinced his offense will keep the Green Bay eleven busy.

ALL-STARS RELYING ON PASSING OF BAUGH

CHICAGO, Aug. 31 (AP)—The College All-Stars, placing their high hopes for victory on the accurate passing arm of Sammy Baugh, ended training today for their battle with the champion Green Bay Packers at Soldier Field tomorrow night.

The collegians rested while Coach Curley Lambeau led his packers into town for a workout in the huge horseshoe on the Lake Michigan shore.

MIND IGNORES PAIN EFFECTS. BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—New medical experiments showing that the mind can control effects of pain were reported to the American Association of Applied and Professional Psychologists here today by Ralph R. Brown, psychologist, and Victor H. Goveal, M. D., past assistant surgeon, both of the United States public health service.

They had four persons with tacks pricking their feet to imagine they felt no pain. All continued to hurt, but the imagination caused unexpected physical modifications.

Without trying to will the pain away blood pressure tended to rise, pulses went up, breathing was faster, trembling greater and electrical potentials of the skin changed. These changes were involuntary.

But they became less when the patient tried to imagine there was no pain. This was verified by hypnotizing the same four with tacks pricking their feet. They had no memory of pain. But their bodies showed all the involuntary reactions of pain.

The reactions were smaller under

Animal Trainer of Circus. When the Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined circus arrives in Pampa Thursday, Sept. 9, after an afternoon and night performance starting at 2 and 8 p. m., audiences will see Bert Nelson, the greatest wild animal trainer in the world. Behind triple steel bars, in a vast amphitheater Mr. Nelson, at each performance forces 35 ferocious wild jungle beasts to do his bidding. The sight will supply enough spine tingling thrills to cool anyone these hot days. Above is Mr. Nelson and a few of his snarling, fighting "pets."

SHIPBUILDING BOOMING FROM NAVY PROGRAM. In 1936 to revive the American merchant marine, has projected plans for the expenditure of $520,000,000 to create a commercial fleet of at least 250 fast ships.

The naval construction program followed a building holiday that lasted for 11 years after the ratification of the Washington naval limitation treaty.

This was the period in which the United States—to use the phrase of Admiral William H. Standley, former chief of naval operations—followed "the principle of disarmament by example in the hope other powers would do likewise."

Actual construction of merchant marine ships with government subsidies and encouragement has not begun pending completion of a survey of conditions now being made by the commission.

The commission's tentative plans, however, provide for a five-year program of intensive building operations with the support of large investments by private capital.

The commission has informed ship owners that new vessels must conform to safety specifications established by the Senate safety-at-sea committee after its investigation of the Morro Castle and Mohawk ship disasters.

Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy said if the owners are to get federal subsidies the ships must be as "fire proof and foolproof" as modern engineering can make them.

A set of regulations to govern their construction includes provisions for fuel and water facilities to insure a 5,000 mile cruising radius at least draft; decks suitable for naval gun emplacements, and crew quarters equal to standards now being developed.

George Rogers Clark, American "frontiersman" began his career at 19, when he left home to become a surveyor of lands along the Ohio river.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP)—Speculative activity was a bit damp in 49-day stock market and an early buying barrage lost its force under light profit selling opposition in the final hour.

Steeles and rails made motion toward extending Monday's rally, but failed to follow through to any great extent and a sharp cut in initial values replaced them with moderate losses.

Trends were uneven at the close. Transfers were around 500,000 shares. Wheat at Chicago was 1/2 cent a bushel off to 1 1/2 and corn was down 3/4 to 1 1/2.

Chinese refugees. It created mad panic but caused no damage. The ship was bombed near Wosung, north of Shanghai, where the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers flow together for the embattled city's only waterway—and only avenue of escape—to the sea.

Asks Foreign Aid. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek virtual civil and military commander of war-time China, in effect, demanded immediate foreign intervention to end the hostilities.

Chiang warned at Nanking that "Japanese aggression" to establish "a colonial empire for himself" is a threat not only to the sovereignty of China but also to "international safety."

The attack on the Italian ship followed by a day the bombing of the United States Dollar liner President Hoover by Chinese planes in the China sea off the Yangtze estuary.

Chinese officials have accepted responsibility and have offered redress for the attack in which a seaman was killed, other sailors and passengers injured and the ship's hull pierced by shrapnel.

On the Shanghai battlefront, Japanese commanders declared Japanese forces captured Wosung, 12 miles north of Shanghai, at the outset of a "big push" against the city's Chinese troops.

A terrific bombardment, which resounded through the international areas, evidently was the first phase of the developing offensive through the Kiangwan sector, Shanghai's "back door" to the north.

Japanese also claimed capture of the Shanghai-Wosung railroad station. But at least part of the Japanese massed aerial and artillery fire apparently was a frantic effort to close a gap in Japanese lines between Wosung and Luho, base of the wedge the invaders are attempting to drive southward toward mid-Shanghai.

Pollution, a food shortage verging on famine along war-stranded native refugees, and over-burdened water and sanitation resources created a disease menace against which Shanghai's foreign residents may find themselves defenseless.

Foreign and municipal authorities joined forces with emergency relief workers to combat the danger of epidemics, particularly the dreaded cholera to which the hunger-weakened Chinese are particularly susceptible.

inspired by sharp reaction abroad against sudden Japanese attacks in which thousands of noncombatant Chinese have been killed or maimed.

The frightened populace resisted at first. They fled, however, when Japanese police convinced them they had a choice between flight and death.

Japan's action in warning the native population of an impending attack was believed to have been resounded through the international areas, evidently was the first phase of the developing offensive through the Kiangwan sector, Shanghai's "back door" to the north.

Japanese also claimed capture of the Shanghai-Wosung railroad station. But at least part of the Japanese massed aerial and artillery fire apparently was a frantic effort to close a gap in Japanese lines between Wosung and Luho, base of the wedge the invaders are attempting to drive southward toward mid-Shanghai.

Pollution, a food shortage verging on famine along war-stranded native refugees, and over-burdened water and sanitation resources created a disease menace against which Shanghai's foreign residents may find themselves defenseless.

Foreign and municipal authorities joined forces with emergency relief workers to combat the danger of epidemics, particularly the dreaded cholera to which the hunger-weakened Chinese are particularly susceptible.

Advices from Peiping said American consular officials in North China were alarmed for the safety of 99 United States missionaries who have not been heard from since the Tsinan consulate was evacuated Friday.

They and 40 others are believed to be caught before parallel Japanese columns advancing southward from Peiping and Tientsin. When Japanese evacuation of the northern port of Tsingtao is completed, possibly today, there will be no way of escape from the war except by a long, hazardous land journey to the south.

inspired by sharp reaction abroad against sudden Japanese attacks in which thousands of noncombatant Chinese have been killed or maimed.

The frightened populace resisted at first. They fled, however, when Japanese police convinced them they had a choice between flight and death.
