Stultz Declared Drunk at Time of Fatal Accident

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 5. (P)—The report of Dr. Alexander O. Goettler, who made a chemical analysis of the vital organs of Wilmer Stultz, trans-Atlantic flier killed with two passengers in an airplane accident last Monday, declares "the man was very drunk at the time of his death."

The Nassau county prosecutor's office announced Dr. Goettler's findings today. He made the analysis at the order of county officials who investigated the accident.

Mrs. J. D. Sackett, who underwent a major operation several days ago, is recovering satisfactorily, according to the report from McKean & Connor hospital, where she is a patient.

THE WEATHER VANE WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday.

WHEAT IS COMING TOO FAST FOR SHIPPING

Unable to stem the golden tide from the harvest fields, elevator men of this vicinity are wondering where they are going to store the wheat that for lack of cars or inability to load fast enough they are unable to handle.

Kingsmill, Hoover, and Heaton reported scarcity of cars, but there were cars for "spotting" at local elevators today. The stream of trucks is growing so fast, however, that even where cars are available it is going to be difficult to load fast enough.

At Panhandle this morning, grain buyers stopped buying and asked farmers to hold their grain for a few days, it was reported to The News. At White Deer and Kingsmill thousands of bushels of wheat was being piled upon vacant lots.

Wheat was 3 cents higher than Wednesday here today, going to 97 cents per bushel as the movement gained topspeed.

Indictments Are Made on Hopkins Complaint Today

FORT WORTH, July 5. (P)—An alleged love conspiracy through which $35,000 is said to have been obtained from Mrs. Maggie Hopkins of Pampa was set forth today in an indictment by the federal grand jury here of A. C. Killian and Minnie G. Martin of Oklahoma.

Killian is charged with having made love to Mrs. Hopkins and to have succeeded in obtaining $10,000 from her. The indictment alleges it was pretended Killian's wife contemplated filing an alienation of affection suit for $100,000, which was said to have been settled privately for $25,000. No record of such a suit can be found.

Minnie G. Martin is implicated because of letters she is alleged to have purloined from Mrs. Hopkins, said to have been written by Killian, according to the indictment.

Chicago May Get Panhandle Gas by New Pipeline

TULSA, Okla., July 5. (P)—A big financial company that proposes to construct a pipeline and pipe natural gas to Chicago from the Texas Panhandle is now in process of formation by the Texas company, the Skelly Oil company, the Phillips Petroleum corporation, and the Columbian Carbon company. L. E. Phillips, president of the Phillips company admitted today at his office in Bartlesville.

It is also rumored that the Insull companies operating in the Chicago district, will buy the natural gas at the city rate, and distribute it for industrial purposes.

The Texas company and Empire companies now have a 12-inch pipeline under construction from the Cushing field of Oklahoma to Chicago. The operating company is called the Texas-Empire Pipeline company. Seven gas lines tap the Panhandle area, the largest in the world.

Stabbing Feature of Amarillo Rodeo

AMARILLO, July 5. (P)—Two "cowpunchers" gave a real oldtime twist to the rodeo here yesterday, and as a result Oliver Hill was near death in a hospital today while another cowboy was missing.

Hill was watching a rodeo when another cowpuncher jostled him, witnesses said. Both retired behind the stock pens, and when police arrived Hill was on the ground, bleeding from gashes in his throat, chest, and abdomen. A bloody knife was beside him.

Mrs. Ida Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Salinger of Oklahoma City are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Barrow. Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Salinger, mother and sister of Mrs. Barrow, have attended a number of parties of the last few weeks.

E. R. WATKINS IS NEAR DEATH FROM WOUND

Johnny Bowman Held Without Bond in County Jail

CHARGE AWAITS INJURY OUTCOME

Abdominal Shot May Prove Fatal to Pampa Man

The remark, "You have lived too long already," was followed by a bullet which crashed through E. R. Watkins' abdomen about 10:30 o'clock yesterday. Johnny Bowman surrendered to Sheriff fired from a .45 calibre pistol, cut is held in jail without bond pending the outcome of Watkins' wound.

Although critically injured, Watkins spent a fairly restful night at a local hospital and this morning his condition was said to be unchanged. The bullet fired from a .45 calibre pistol, cut the small intestines and made an emergency operation necessary.

Although Bowman made no statement, officers learned that he and Watkins had quarreled several times that morning. Watkins said Bowman had demanded liquor, which was said not to have been available.

Watkins was married a few days ago. He operates a filling station in southeast Pampa, where the shooting occurred.

Violence Met by Violence as New Orleans Street Car Strikers Attack Imported Operators and Tear Up Starters' House—Police Open Fire on Crowd

NEW ORLEANS, July 5. (P)—Violence met violence today in the four-day street car strike as the company attempted to resume service with imported operators under heavy guard.

The starting of the three street cars resulted in two strikers being shot down one with a bullet through the head, innumerable heads being bruised by bricks and sticks, and vandalism.

The disturbance centered around the Canal street bar. The first car to start was greeted with a shower of brickbats and was driven back to the barn after twenty minutes operation. A second

DALLAS IS SEEKING TO SAVE SINNERS WITH HER MUNICIPAL MINISTER—WOMAN GIVEN WORK

By NEA Service DALLAS, July 5.—If all Dallasites do not have special seats in Heaven, it won't be the fault of Mayor J. Waddy Tate, newly elected, who has made good his campaign pledge to appoint a municipal minister.

The Rev. Mrs. Charles Chasteen has been appointed by Mayor Tate as Dallas' first city soul-saver. With the words, "Rescue the perishing comfort the dying," on his lips, Tate formally invested the Rev. Mrs. Chasteen with the office of municipal minister at a city commission meeting.

Mrs. Chasteen will perform marriages free of charge for those unable to pay, will preach to the city's prisoners, will conduct funerals for the poor, and will be at the call of any Dallas citizen who feels the need of spiritual guidance.

The Rev. Mrs. Chasteen has been an ordained minister for more than 29 years. She was formerly pastor of a church at Little Rock, Ark. Recently she been confining her activities to assisting her husband, the Rev. Charles Chasteen, pastor of the Mount Auburn Christian church here. She is a great Bible student, wearing out a copy of the book every two months by constant reading.

Five New Wells Pouring Flood of Oil Into Line

Oil production in Gray county took another big jump over the holiday when five new producers started pouring oil into storage and pipelines. The new producers will add approximately 10,000 barrels to the county's production.

The new Finley-Brown pool came into its own again with three new wells. The LeFors area got one and the Bowers-McGee pool another.

The latest well to strike pay was the Marland Production company's No. 4 Finley-Brown, in section 32, block B-2, which topped the pay yesterday afternoon and started flowing 70 barrels an hour. The big gas so prominent in that territory was missed entirely and only enough gas was found to flow the test.

This test is in the same section as the Marland discovery well. North of the Marland well, the Phillips Petroleum company's test increased its flow and made 1,440 barrels the first 24 hours.

The Operators' Oil company's No. 2 Cook-Faulkner, in section 30, block B-2, after being agitated came back and flowed 5,000 barrels the second 24 hours after being brought in Tuesday.

In the LeFors area the Danziger Oil company's No. 2 Shell-Shaw came in yesterday afternoon, doing 55 barrels an hour. This test is in the southeast corner of the east half of the southwest quarter of section 5, block 1, A. C. H. & B. survey.

The granite wash pay was encountered at 2,678 feet, with 20,000,000 feet of gas. This is the largest test in that section of the LeFors field and will probably start active drilling south of LeFors.

C. M. Ochiltree et al got a producer in the Bowers-McGee pool, but it has not been gauged. The test is in section 60, block B-2, on the Patton-Purviance lease. The well was estimated to be good for 1,000 barrels, initial flow.

Ochiltree also picked up the pay in his No. 1 Morse, in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter of section 69, block 25. The oil was found in granite wash pay at 2,705 feet, with 3,000,000 feet of gas. The test will be swabbed in today.

Wildcat Royalty Arouse Support in Bridge Project

A lease and royalty transaction of unusual interest in Gray county has been completed and despite new trends the oil fraternity is wondering about the extent of activity in the south central part of the county means.

Stanley Morris of Amarillo has just completed the purchase of section 20, block H, A. W. Wallace survey. The land contains 253 acres. The sale price has not been learned. The land was bought from A. T. Taylor of Wichita Falls.

D. D. Harrington purchased a one-half royalty under the entire section. He also purchased a one-quarter royalty in and under the south half of section 6, and the north half of section 7, both in block H. The land is leased to Midwest.

Mr. Harrington was also the purchaser of a one-quarter interest in the south half of section 7, block H. The land involved is seven miles south of production in the LeFors field. It is six miles from production in the Chapman pool, in block 25.

Constantine Oil company got a small producer two miles northwest and Purple Sage got one 3 1-2 miles south.

Firemen Make Fast Run on Wednesday

A fast run by the Volunteer department saved a small storage building at the rear of Sterling Williams' residence on North Cuyler street Wednesday night. A dropped match or cigaret is believed to have started the fire.

CHILDREN WORKING HARD FOR DENVER

George W. Briggs, manager of the local Board of City Development, and A. E. Drake of Amarillo, connected with the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, returned here from Childress Wednesday night. While in Childress they met with business men and Chamber of Commerce officials and discussed the Fort Worth & Denver extension line from Childress to Pampa.

"Childress is for the new line and is working hard," Mr. Briggs said this morning.

Mrs. Florence Scott, has entered McKean & Connor hospital for treatment.

FIFTEEN HURT IN WRECK ST. LOUIS, July 5. (P)—Fifteen persons are known to have been injured at 7:25 a. m. today when a Burlington passenger train from Kansas City backed into the side of a Frisco accommodation train at the Union station here. Five of those hurt were suffering from fractured skulls.

Shortly after midnight Thursday morning Mrs. I. C. Decker, 32, was fatally injured near Kingsmill when her husband's car crashed into a small house being moved along the highway. She died en route to a local hospital. Mr. Decker was not badly hurt.

She leaves two small children, who were visiting at Electra at the time of the accident.

A short funeral service was held at the Malone chapel this morning by the Rev. Tolliver, Baptist pastor of White Deer, then the body was taken in a Malone car to Vernon for burial.

The accident was probably due to the blinding glare of headlights from other cars, and to heavy dust, which obscured clear vision of the house. Mr. Decker is an employe of the Texas Pipeline company.

Decatur Woman Killed Run over when she apparently fainted while crossing the highway in West Kingsmill, Mrs. Ruth Yeager, 22, of Decatur, was fatally injured about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She died in a local hospital. Her skull was fractured.

Mrs. Yeager was struck by a car in which J. W. Venard and Herman Moke of Black, Texas, were riding. Those men reported to Pampa police, who questioned them and permitted them to continue on their trip.

According to A. E. Yeager, her husband, the two arrived a few days ago to work in the harvest. Mr. Yeager obtained employment as a wheat truck driver. He said his wife occasionally had sinking spells. She leaves a small daughter, Pauline, at Electra.

Her father, Arthur Nace of Cleburne, will arrive this evening, when funeral arrangements will be made.

Craig Gyles of Tulsa received cuts and bruises early Thursday morning when the car in which he was riding overturned near White Deer after striking a piece of timber left on the highway. Two Seminole girls, Robin Flagg and Grace Weathers, also were injured at the same time, but were able to leave the local hospital to which they were taken. Miss Weathers was said to have been driving. A fourth member of the party was unhurt.

Other Minor Mishaps Hal' a dozen other minor automobile accidents took place in this territory. Victims were given first-aid by various physicians, who discharged them without learning their names and circumstances of the mishaps. Several children were slightly burned while playing with firecrackers.

Associated Press dispatches to The News say that Carl Eaton, Henrietta, was fatally hurt as his machine hit one driven by Dr. F. S. Elair, Cooper, near Cooper. Bob Howard in the car with Eaton received minor hurts.

J. T. Durden, 75, was the oldest person in the state reported injured during the day. He died of injuries received when run down by an automobile on the street near his home in Temple. Lortice Sullivan, Murray Sul-livan, Floyd Hamrick, and Floyd Franklin, all of Waco, and D. F. Eubanks, Augusta, Ga., were injured when their automobile turned over near Temple.

Harriet Shanor, 6, was struck on the head and probably fatally hurt by an airplane propeller at a celebration of the opening of Vernon's new airport. The little girl had been up for a ride with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Shanor. As the ship rolled to a stop, she hopped out of the cabin door, and walked into the whirling blade.

TOLL IN NATION IS EIGHTEEN THIS YEAR—159 PERSONS DIE

CHICAGO, July 5. (P)—America surrendered 169 lives to the observance of its 133rd birthday anniversary yesterday.

The Fourth of July death list this year was 46 under 1928, the reduction being attributed chiefly to the decrease in the number of deaths from drowning and from the heat. In only one division did the 1929 fatalities exceed last year's that was in automobile accidents, with 70 this year as compared with 54 last.

Fireworks in themselves continued to play a smaller part in the nation's independence day death toll. Only seven fatalities from this cause were reported this year as compared with 11 in 1928; and two of them resulted from a fireworks factory explosion and fire July 3. Drownings were responsible for the largest loss of life, as they were last year; but even so, there were 35 less deaths from this cause than a year ago.

Automobile fatalities, on the other hand, bounded upward from 5 last year to 70.

Nearly one-third of the country's total toll was taken by the middlewest. The Middle Atlantic states which last year led the country in deaths with 68, had 30 less yesterday, although more than half the deaths from fireworks in the country occurred in that section. The northwest and the mountain states had the smallest death lists, each section reporting three.

"It's Like This"

PAMPA HAS TAKEN LESS COGNIZANCE of her position on the air routes than have most cities of this size.

Pampa is exceptionally well located. It is often more convenient for aviators to stop here than it is to continue to Amarillo.

But since no facilities are provided, Pampa has no rating on the air maps and fliers passing this way endeavor to "bush" Amarillo.

It is time to consider seriously why a small bond issue should not be voted to buy a field and provide the minimum equipment.

Pampa should be all means have a well equipped field so that aviators coming this way might feel confident enough to land if they so desired.

The Trans-Continental Air Transport company is building a landing field north of the city and has a large beacon in operation...

SOMETIMES PEOPLE WONDER why a newspaper does not jump at the chance to publish all the allegations in divorce petitions and other civil suits...

Those who are around trials very much come to doubt even sworn statements when they do not ring true.

We do not believe, as Milton Mackaye said in a recent number of The Outlook, that perjury is committed by one side or the other in nearly every civil suit...

Mr. Mackaye points out that prosecution for perjury is rare, and that offenders need have little fear of the consequences.

Hack Wilson Has Two Fist Fights

CHICAGO, July 5. (AP)—Hack Wilson, the Cubs' plying outfielder, yesterday added two to his list of fistie squabbles. One being banished from the field during the afternoon game with Cincinnati for striking Ray Kolp in the back of the head, Wilson sent his fist crashing into the face of Pitcher Pete Donohue when the two teams met at the Union Station last night.

"You're quite a scrapper, aren't you?" Donohue was reported to have said to Wilson. "If you any more, come into our club."

Wilson's fist shot out twice, and Donohue fell to the floor, striking his head. While the Reds gathered about Donohue and helped him to his feet, the Cubs hustled Wilson aboard the train.

Double Tragedy as Youthful Pair Killed in Missouri

KEWANEE, Mo., July 5. (AP)—Because she refused to marry him, Thomas Mayberry, 19, of Port Wayne, Ind., shot and killed Irma Hendershot, 16, at the Hendershot farm home near here late yesterday and then was shot and killed by the girl's father as the young man attempted to commit suicide.

The girl was shot five times, Mayberry saving one bullet in his revolver for himself. He sent the bullet into his head, but had not died when the father, William Hendershot, prominent New Madrid county farmer, rushed up with a shotgun and discharged it into his head.

The shooting took place in the yard of the farm home soon after Mayberry had arrived from Port Wayne. He formerly resided at Sikeston, Mo., a neighboring town and was a boyhood suitor of Irma.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

JOHN CURTIS MORGAN, successful lawyer, is deeply in love with the beautiful girl, Nan. Nan, his secretary, is in love with him. Nan, having a fine sense of honor, decides to evade his proposals her resignation because she feels Morgan will have particular need of her in his declining health. Indeed, her own conviction that she should not place her child, Curtis, in a boarding school. While Morgan is at the capital on business, Nan stays with the child and organizes the boarding school, which she fathers and son can care for.

CHAPTER XXV

NAN'S heart stood still. Her eyes, black with fear, asked Willis Todd the question which she could not make her lips form. "No, he isn't dead—not even badly hurt." Willis reassured her gently.

"Oh!" Nan drew a shuddering breath of relief. "Thank God!" She relaxed against the cushions of the car for a minute, trembling violently. "Then—what are you waiting for, Willis Todd? Start the car!"

"Get me there as quick as you can! Tell me what happened, Willis, but drive—drive!"

"Pat O'Brien and Curtis were playing with the police dog on the lawn this morning, teaching him to retrieve sticks. Curtis flung a stick too far, so that it landed in the middle of the street, and of course the dog dashed after it, and Curtis, after the dog, Little Pat, it seems, shouted to Curtis to come back, then took out after him. Curtis was stooping over to take the stick from Pat's mouth when a taxi swung around the corner, too fast to stop in time.

"It seems that your faith in Little Pat as the kid's bodyguard was amply justified, for Pat flung Curtis out of the way of the taxi and took both wheels across his own legs. Both broken. Little Pat's in the hospital, poor lad."

"And Curtis?" Nan whispered, a shivering hand over her eyes to shut out the horrible picture.

"Little Pat must have spun him pretty hard, for the kid has a broken arm. He struck the curb, I believe." Willis continued as he maneuvered his car out of downtown in the middle of the street.

"The paper says it's a clean break, between the elbow and the wrist, and that the boy won't be in bed more than a day or two. It's the hero of the story that's out of luck. Poor Little Pat will be in the hospital for weeks. Morgan will pay the bills, of course, and the afternoon paper says he's going to give the youngster a college and medical school education."

"Mr. Morgan was going to do that anyway," Nan interrupted. "Oh, Willis, are you sure Curtis isn't hurt badly? You're Curtis for me, aren't you?"

"Yes. . . . Oh, Willis, what an awful fool I've been!" She slumped into a forlorn little huddle and began to sob gaspingly against his costive.

"Who says so?" Willis exclaimed.

"Oh, Willis, you are a darling!" "Don't do that!" Willis commanded sharply. "They did not speak again until his car swept up to the curb before the Morgan home. Then, 'I'll wait out here for you, honey,' Willis said. She understood that it was intolerable to him to see her—whom he loved so devotedly—with the man whom she loved even more devotedly and hopefully.

"It's Nan!" Curtis shouted, sitting bolt upright in bed and looking heartbreakingly pale and dizzy from the effort. "Father, you and Dr. Black go off and tell your old jokes somewhere else. I want to tell Nan all about my accident. Nobody's going to tell her but me!"

"Hello, junior partner?" Morgan put his arm about her shoulders and drew the girl close to him, with frank affection, as he turned to Dr. Black. "Doctor, isn't she a ridiculous mite to be a lawyer? All our finest young men will be committing murder for the pleasure of having the prettiest little lawyer in the state to defend them. You ought to be disgraced for that reason alone, Nan Carroll!"

"Little Pat's a hero, Nan," Curtis began eagerly, holding fast to her hand, "like 'The boy stood on the burning deck.' But he ain't dead. Both his legs got broke, and only just one of my arms, and Cop wasn't hurt at all. In the story books the dog always gets killed saying his little master, but I'm glad Cop didn't get killed."

NAN slipped out of the house without saying good-night to her employer. From the hall she heard the masculine rumble of what seemed to be a very earnest conversation which she had no intimation at all to interrupt. She found Willis Todd patiently waiting for her, and the glow of his clearset was strangely comforting to the overwrought girl.

"The kid all right, honey?" Willis asked gently as she slipped in to the seat beside him.

"Yes. . . . Oh, Willis, what an awful fool I've been!" She slumped into a forlorn little huddle and began to sob gaspingly against his costive.

"Oh, Willis, why didn't you take me up when I said I'd marry you?"

"I knew you'd be like this, so I called up the Morgan home just before I went to the station. Talked with Morgan himself. Told him I was going to meet you at the train. He said that the arm had been set and that outside of howling for you the kid's all right."

"Oh, Willis, you are a darling!" "Don't do that!" Willis commanded sharply. "They did not speak again until his car swept up to the curb before the Morgan home. Then, 'I'll wait out here for you, honey,' Willis said. She understood that it was intolerable to him to see her—whom he loved so devotedly—with the man whom she loved even more devotedly and hopefully.

All our finest young men will be committing murder for the pleasure of having the prettiest little lawyer in the state to defend them. You ought to be disgraced for that reason alone, Nan Carroll!"

"Little Pat's a hero, Nan," Curtis began eagerly, holding fast to her hand, "like 'The boy stood on the burning deck.' But he ain't dead. Both his legs got broke, and only just one of my arms, and Cop wasn't hurt at all. In the story books the dog always gets killed saying his little master, but I'm glad Cop didn't get killed."

NAN slipped out of the house without saying good-night to her employer. From the hall she heard the masculine rumble of what seemed to be a very earnest conversation which she had no intimation at all to interrupt. She found Willis Todd patiently waiting for her, and the glow of his clearset was strangely comforting to the overwrought girl.

"The kid all right, honey?" Willis asked gently as she slipped in to the seat beside him.

"Yes. . . . Oh, Willis, what an awful fool I've been!" She slumped into a forlorn little huddle and began to sob gaspingly against his costive.

"I knew you'd be like this, so I called up the Morgan home just before I went to the station. Talked with Morgan himself. Told him I was going to meet you at the train. He said that the arm had been set and that outside of howling for you the kid's all right."

"Oh, Willis, you are a darling!" "Don't do that!" Willis commanded sharply. "They did not speak again until his car swept up to the curb before the Morgan home. Then, 'I'll wait out here for you, honey,' Willis said. She understood that it was intolerable to him to see her—whom he loved so devotedly—with the man whom she loved even more devotedly and hopefully.

"It's Nan!" Curtis shouted, sitting bolt upright in bed and looking heartbreakingly pale and dizzy from the effort. "Father, you and Dr. Black go off and tell your old jokes somewhere else. I want to tell Nan all about my accident. Nobody's going to tell her but me!"

"Hello, junior partner?" Morgan put his arm about her shoulders and drew the girl close to him, with frank affection, as he turned to Dr. Black. "Doctor, isn't she a ridiculous mite to be a lawyer? All our finest young men will be committing murder for the pleasure of having the prettiest little lawyer in the state to defend them. You ought to be disgraced for that reason alone, Nan Carroll!"

WHEAT IS UPWARD

CHICAGO, July 5. (AP)—Wheat advanced quickly today after an irregular start. Showers over drought districts in Canada, together with sharp setbacks in wheat quotations in Liverpool, caused transient uncertainty, but comprehensive adverse crop reports from Canada were soon more than an offset. Opening at 7-8c down to 7-8c up, Chicago wheat later scored decided gains all round. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise firmer, with corn starting unchanged to 1-2c higher and subsequently holding near to initial figures.

MARRIAGE LICENSE IS ASKED BY BORGER COUPLE

An application for a marriage license was filed yesterday by Roy R. Gains and Miss Helen Parrish, both of Borger. This is the sixth application received by the local county clerk since the new law went into effect almost a month ago.

"The new law certainly has cut down the marriages," Chas. Thut, county clerk, declares. "On a Fourth of July in the past I was usually kept busy issuing licenses."

Justices Greatly Overworked, Bar Members Learn

AMARILLO, July 5. (AP)—Declaring the heavy work required of state supreme court justices had sent many jurists to a premature death, Chief Justice C. M. Cureton today asked members of the Texas and New Mexico Bar associations in convention here to support a proposed constitutional amendment increasing the court from three to nine members.

The work imposed on the present court is far too great for three men to handle, he said, contending that a number of justices have died in office "from overwork."

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Reho and infant daughter and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Madarin of Columbia, Mo., spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Coleman and two small sons of Clinton, Okla., are guests of Mrs. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutchins.

William Muldrew, who underwent a major operation several days ago, was able to leave McKean & Connor hospital today.

BORGER BURIED UNDER 23-4 SCORE BY GRAYS ON JULY 4

The Pampa Grays went on a batting rampage yesterday afternoon at Magnolia park and when the smoke of battle had cleared away the Borger American Legion team were at the small end of a 23 to 4 score. It was the first occasion Pampa fans have had of seeing the revamped Grays playing under the American Legion colors and in new uniforms.

Big Boy Waller led the Pampa attack with four runs and four hits in six trips to the plate. Two of them went for the circuit. Oduis Mitchell and Tank Horton managed to get three hits apiece one of Mitchell's going for four bases. The other home-run hitters of the big battle were the manager, Ed Gober, his brother Jack Gober and Horton.

Waller had a busy afternoon in center garden. The big hitter had forty put outs to his credit. Mitchell played a great game on first. Young started the game but three runs in the first two innings saw his downfall and Edwards took up the mound duties, allowing the Borgerites only one additional run. He had six strike outs to his credit.

Burke started in the mound for the Borger nine, but lasted only two innings when the Pampans jumped on him for three runs in the second. Fuller took up the duties but was no better. Orrick tried his luck but failed to halt the rampage and Noll finished the game. Fuller was the only hitter that could fathom the Pampa pitcher's delivery. E. got three of his teams ten hits. Wright and Parsons got two hits each.

Now that Pampa fans have seen the new Grays in action, it is expected a baseball diamond will be located so that the team can play regular home games. It is the team that will represent Pampa in the Amarillo tournament this year, with the exception of a few additional players.

Pampa's line-up:
Munns, 3b; Mitchell, 1b; Reynolds, lf; Waller, cf; Magness, rf; E. Gober, rf; J. Gober, 2b; Christian, ss; Horton, c; Young, p, and Edwards, p.

the First Baptist church last December.

A prayer service is held at 8:30 o'clock each evening, followed by the preaching at 9 o'clock. Street services are held at 5 o'clock every afternoon. The co-operation of the white people has been asked by Rev. Truhitte and the negro minister, and a cordial invitation to the services has been extended.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodhalter went to Amarillo yesterday and attended the rodeo.

C. F. Stephenson, employe of the Magnolia Petroleum corporation, who suffered severe burns Tuesday while working on a Bowers well, today was reported by McKean & Connor hospital to be recovering satisfactorily.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, The News:

We recognize and acknowledge the patience and perseverance of our predecessors in settling and colonizing not only Pampa as a small town, but the adjacent fertile plains, which at this time are aglow with a golden yellow that is picturesque in all its beauty and which enriches the coffers of wheat producers on an average of thirty dollars per acre.

The massive oil derricks, spouting forth their black products which turn into yellow gold, the herds of Texas steers grazing upon our Southern borders, all have played their part in making Pampa the "Tulsa of the Panhandle." The major oil companies, the whole sale distributors, the chain store, and the big supply companies have not only acknowledged, but they now recognize us as the logical distributing point of the Panhandle. Regardless of the opposition of our elder sister, Amarillo, in a year's time we will have direct rail transportation to the Gulf. Nothing can hold us back. The population of our city at the present time is sufficient evidence that our continuous growth in the future is assured.

Many of our old settlers, however, who have been astounded by our miraculous growth from a town to a city in less than three years, are still sitting back and waiting for an invisible bubble to burst. Many of them have been made immensely wealthy from the black products spouting from Mother Earth, but little of this money has been returned to the soil or placed in improvements for the advancement of our city. Men like Alex Schneider, Charles C. Cook, Neal McCullough, J. E. Murfee, Saunders Brothers, Joe Smith, and numerous of the business men in Pampa before we developed in a city have shown their confidence in our assured future by their diversified investments in business and property, and they are now living, breathing monuments of excellency which will immortalize their names to our posterity, for the foundation of a city which I predict will have a credited population of 50,000 souls in 1935.

There is plenty of work for all who come here who really desire to work. The carbon black plants, casinghead gasoline plants, the oil and harvest fields all contribute their part to the dinner pail. We need more hotels, apartment houses for laboring classes; we need exclusive fruit and vegetable stores, a cafeteria, a delicatessen store carrying home cooked food products. We need a hotel association controlling rents and not making them prohibitive. The apartment courts and tourist camps are badly in need of an organization fixing rates, so that we do not drive our working people out of town by excessive rates. Lets get together, have an open air meeting, and develop ways and means to help our city along, and cooperate with each other.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
(C. C. Merrill, Minister.)

A BOX FULL OF LIGHT
"What do you carry so carefully in that box, little man?"
"Sunshine," replied the bright-eyed boy. "Let me see it?"

He opened the box, and—yet, sure enough there was the sunshine in it. The sun shone straight down into the box. And he quickly slapped the lid on and went his way with his "box of sunshine."

"I fear, little fellow, you will be disappointed when you open the box in the comfortable dusk of your mother's room. But let us grown-ups learn a lesson—you can not shut up light in a box; you can not selfishly keep it; you can get no private possession of any part of it. You can have no light apart from the Sun of Righteousness from which it springs; and the Sun is the Christ, the Son of God."

"I am the light of the world," said He. "Again, to His disciples He said, 'Ye are the light of the world.' But we can be light to the world only as the sun shines directly into our lives."

Sunday subjects: "Heaven." And "The Pearl of the Parables." We had several additions last Sunday and we are expecting several more this Sunday. Come, be with us at the Bible study hour (10 a. m.) and stay for church.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 8:30. Ladies' Bible class Thursday, 3 p. m. "The church with a friendly spirit."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Jesus gave this paradox to us: "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it."

Webster tells us a paradox is something apparently absurd, yet true.

Sunday morning these absurd but true statements in the Bible will be presented under the subject, "Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone."

Sunday school, 10 a. m.
Morning worship, 11 a. m.
Evening sermon, 8:15 p. m. Subject, "Believe."

You are cordially invited to worship with us. A welcome awaits you.
