"It's Like This—"

IN THE LEAVING OF J. H. LAVENDER to live in California, from whence he came, Pampa has lost a warm friend and one whose work meant much to the city in its period of most rapid growth.

Mr. Lavender was chosen as one member of the "Pampa All-Star Five" in a citywide poll taken by The News early this year. His name was synonymous with finance campaigns, yet his strong enthusiasm and earnest salesmanship did not impair his ability to repeat, and there was a common saying, "Let Lavender do it", in many circles. Whether church, railroad, chamber of commerce, or charity campaign, Mr. Lavender could be depended upon to bring in the funds—often more than many other solicitors combined.

A little man, Mr. Lavender nevertheless dominated by ceaseless energy in the local projects he supported here. He was never selfish with his time, although nearly everyone else was "too busy" to help him in many drives. It was never an ordeal to be solicited by him. His other activities in the public welfare were similar.

The News believes it fitting to express these words of appreciation at this time.

THE WORD "PHARMACY" by state definition now has a restricted usage. Under a new state law every drug store in which a registered pharmacist is in charge must have the word "Pharmacy" on or in front of the building. It is not necessary to take down other signs, but the new requirement must be complied with by the store managers.

Stores not having registered pharmacists may not use the word, even though they sell packages of medicines. A drug store is a drug store to most people, yet only skilled pharmacists may fill prescriptions. The distinction should be carefully noted.

As long as the state prevents abuse of its pharmacy laws, so long will it be advantageous for drug stores to advertise that they have registered pharmacists on duty. It is the duty of the state to see to it that the stores are not using "diploma mill" graduates.

"Diploma mill" scandals in Missouri a few years ago have been repeated elsewhere. It is a fact that there are many persons willing to pay $1,000 or more for a piece of paper which will pass as their recommendation and as a certificate of their skill. The latest evidence of this came to light in Chicago this week when a man admitted that he engraved and sold spurious state certificates and seals. Counterfeit diplomas of credible medical colleges brought $2,000 each.

In matter of public health and protection, it is wise to insist upon proof of skill. To take such things "for granted"

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—When an ordinary person dies it's just too bad and his surviving relatives have to figure out how to meet the funeral expenses. But when a member of Congress passes to his reward his death and burial are expensive for the federal treasury.

When a Congressman dies an adjournment is taken in respect to the departed, brother, resolutions of sorrow are drawn up, a committee of 10 or 15 men is appointed to escort the remains home, a Sunday is set aside to eulogize the dead man both in the Congressional Record and a special volume and the bill may run as high as $20,000. No matter how obscure a member may have been nor how unpopular, he gets all this attention when he is dead.

Of course if a Pacific Coast congressman dies it's pretty expensive. When a California member passed away a few years ago it cost $5335 in railroad fares alone, for there was a committee of 14 and a sergeant-at-arms and one or two miscellaneous attendants, as usual, went along with the party. In such instances it is sometimes difficult to recruit a full committee, but there are usually congressmen who have never been to California and appreciate the free ride with expenses paid. The funeral committee travels in a private car, and if the death comes toward the end of a session the opportunity to serve and do homage enables a member to save considerably on his rule-charge allowance, if the destination is anywhere near his own district.

The initial expense of a member's death comes when the widow is paid $10,000, a year's salary. Each of his clerks receives a month's salary and the cost of eulogy and issuing special Congressional Records containing the eulogies runs into the thousands. The burial expenses and all incidental expenses of the committee are paid, and although members of the House are limited to a $400 casket there's no limit to Senators.

The records show that it cost $2250 to place the late Senator Willis of Ohio in a state bronze casket and inter him in a udylite vault, plus other charges and one of $276.50 for broadcasting the funeral services. The highest price yet paid for a senatorial casket is $2,500. Flowers, gloves for pallbearers, limousines and many minor charges make the bill pile up. Cigars, tips, taxi and such matters are charged is dangerous, and by so doing imposters will never be weeded out.

up by members of the committee. Last year the Baltimore & Ohio railroad collected $6,481 for fares, berths and food in connection with the funeral of the late Senator Jones of New Mexico.

Few ceremonies here are more remarkable than the Sunday eulogies. The Senate eulogizes merely its own, but the House always eulogizes a dead senator, though it may wait until two or three years after his death. The House custom is to eulogize four or five deceased members on the same day, and few attend except those who are to speak. From a half dozen to a score eulogies are accorded each one.

Sometimes, also, a colleague of the deceased can't wait until eulogy day. In the last session one member took the floor to eulogize a departed colleague whom few had ever heard of. His eulogy, as shown in the Record, is crammed with such time-worn phrases as "a grief-stricken yet grateful public," "last full measure of devotion," "the transient life of man," "the mystical problem of life," "the great caravan from whose bourne no traveler ever returns," "his spirit marches down the aisle of eternity," "he stands naked before the great white throne of God" and much more of the same. This is typical of congressional eulogies. Some great ones have been delivered—Senator Jim Reed's tribute to the late LaFollette was a classic—but many are pretty cheap. Those studded with poetry probably are the worst.

Jolly Eight Club Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morris entertained Wednesday evening for the Jolly Eight bridge club. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Broughton, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Osgood, Mr. and Mrs. George Sawyer.

Mrs. Broughton and Mrs. Osgood received high scores, while Mrs. Osgood and Mr. Broughton made the low. Accessories for the game and an ice course featured a yellow and white combination. A variety of garden flowers and greenery lent the rooms an added charm.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar and children left this morning for a two-week vacation in Colorado. They will join Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McConnell and children in Denver. The McConnell family left earlier in the week.

Twentieth Century Club to Pass on Proposed Program

A series of programs for the coming club year outlined by the calendar committee of the Twentieth Century club will be presented to the entire club membership for approval or revision Monday afternoon, at a called meeting in the home of the president, Mrs. W. A. Bratton.

Mrs. Tom E. Rose is chairman of the committee which planned the year's work. In calling the meeting, Mrs. Bratton scheduled it for 3 o'clock, and urged that all members attend.

Fryers, nice big ones, 35c pound alive, 40c each for dressing at Dodd's Hatchery and Produce.

The guest list included Mrs. W. H. Lang, Mrs. C. M. Carlock, Mrs. L. L. Camp, Mrs. L. M. Williams, Mrs. Sellers, Mrs. Hollenbeck, and Mrs. Gray.

CHURCH OF CHRIST C. C. MERRITT, Minister CONVERSATION

A scholar was once invited to a special gathering of noted people. "How did you like the company?" some one asked him afterward. With a smile the wise man answered: "If they had been books, I would not have read them." It is amazing how much nonsense and pure folly comes to light in our conversation. If the loose talk of an evening were recorded verbatim and submitted to us, we would not own it. We think lightly of it, but God attaches considerable importance to what we idly say.

"Put away fornication, and all uncleanness or covetousness, let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, which are not befitting; but rather giving of thanks." (Eph 5:3,4.)

Our talk, especially our unpremeditated, spontaneous talk, is an index to the heart; for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. Therefore, also, the "idle," unpremeditated words become the criterion of judgment. "For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." (Matt. 12:35-37). "Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt;—not with sugar, nor yet with vinegar and gall. Not flattery, not bitterness, not cynicism; but gracious, helpful, uplifting speech should come from our lips. The mouth of the righteous is a wellspring of life.

Project Committee Prepares Program for Club Approval

A tentative activities program for the coming year was formed yesterday by the projects committee, in a session at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mitchell, chairman. The calendar which the projects committee is to propose will be presented to the club at large at the September business meeting, following a joint meeting of the committee with the luncheon program committee.

Present at the session yesterday were the following: Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president; Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. George E. Wolfe, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, and Mrs. Mitchell, chairman. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. M. A. Graham, Mrs. Annie Daniels, Mrs. Sagn Irwin, and Miss Fannie Florence Sims.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

I never knew a man to turn his back on God and the church who did not come to grief. He will be as the man God forgot, whereas he is the man who forgot God. God takes care of His own, and the one who wanders from his care does so at his own risk. The sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning will be based on the saying, "God take care of His own."

THE METHODIST CHURCH

We have planned three good programs for you Sunday, August 11. Sunday school promptly 9:45. Last Sunday, in spite of the fact that nearly half of our congregation is enjoying the summer vacation we had a large number present for the Sunday school hour. Help us to keep up our attendance record during the summer month by being present. We have a class for every age.

The pastor will speak at both the morning and evening services. Morning theme "The Road to a Happy Life." Evening theme: "Making a Living and Making a Life."

As a church member you will enjoy these messages. We want happiness, we want to enjoy life. How can it be done?

The campaign to raise our church indebtedness is growing in interest every day. A wonderful spirit upon the part of all has been shown thus far. At the morning hour, a spoke for every thousand dollars raised, will be removed from the wheel. Every member of the church should be present to learn just what has been done during the past week. Watch the spokes fly. We must raise the entire indebtedness. Have you done your part?

Good music, great singing and gospel preaching at all services. You will always find a hearty welcome and a wonderful fellowship at every service.

Princeton's Oldest Grad Is Only Living Signer Of Texas Law Code

Tennessee, fought in the Confederate war, living graduate of Princeton university also is the sole surviving signer of the present Texas constitution, drawn up in 1875.

He is Judge Andrew Todd McKinney husky at 91, Huntsville's most eminent retired citizen. His half century of legal and educational leadership in Texas covers several pages in the state history.

Historic Nassau hall at Princeton claims Judge McKinney as its oldest living resident. He stayed there two years prior to his graduation in 1858, transferring to Princeton as a junior from Austin college, then at Huntsville he became editor of the Nassau literary magazine in April 1858.

For years they called Judge McKinney dean of the Texas legislature. From 1883 to 1911, he saw 16 years of service in the house of representatives. He also was a district court judge.

A native of Illinois, he studied law in Tennessee, fought in the confederate army under General Lee, only to be disabled in 1863. For two years he taught at the University of Texas, and later was on the school's board of regents.

Movie Theatre in San Antonio Rocked by Bomb

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 9.—The explosion of a bomb at 2 o'clock this morning demolished an entrance to the Victor's uptown theatre, on Fredericksburg road and West Ashby place.

A man and a girl narrowly escaped death, according to E. Fell, driver for a taxicab company. He was going north on Fredericksburg road when a car occupied by a man and a woman passed him, he said. When the car occupied by the couple was passing the theatre, a sheet of flame shot across the road, followed by a shower of debris that broke plate glass windows in a store across the street.

The couple, whose names were not obtained, stopped the car and notified the police.

Police believe the explosion was caused by a black powder bomb with a fuse. Fragments of a hard rubber composition believed to have been the shell of the bomb were found.

All the glass in the theatre and windows in houses nearby were broken by the explosion.

No one was in the theatre at the time and no injuries in the neighborhood were reported.

R. W. Wilson, manager of the theatre said he could not estimate the amount of damage. A section of the front of the theatre 15 feet long was blown out and plaster throughout the theatre was cracked. Wilson said he had no idea of any reason for the explosion.

Dr. Brooks Will Speak at Tech

LUBBOCK, Aug. 9.—(Special)—Graduation exercises for the summer session of Texas Technological college will be held from 10 to 12 o'clock Aug. 23, with Dr. T. D. Brooks, dean of school of education of Baylor university, delivering the address. Sixty-five candidates will receive bachelor of arts degrees and ten candidates will receive total etate shrdu etate shrduittyma of 171 bachelor's degrees and eleven master's degrees conferred by the college this year.

Stamford to Royally Greet Air Trippers

STANFORD, Aug. 9.—(Special)—The second annual arcade sponsored by the Fort Worth Association of Commerce will be royally entertained during the two hours it will be in Stamford Saturday.

A chicken luncheon at the Stamford Inn will be given the 60 people arriving in the 15 planes at 11 o'clock. Judge Chas. E. Coombes will be toastmaster at the luncheon, and A. P. Barrett, president of Texas Air Transport, will make the principal address.

Music will be furnished by Dick Rogers and the ships to take off for Sweetwater at one o'clock. At Sweetwater the National opening of the municipal park will be attended.

Mrs. Tillman Jones of Wichita, Kan., who has been the guest of Mrs. Joe Hodge for the last week, will leave today for her home.

Boxing Promoter to Test Stopping of Dallas Fights

DALLAS, Aug. 9.—His projected free boxing contest stopped by the law's long arm, Promoter Larry Meinert today contemplated taking a legal poke at his restrainers.

Kid Kober of Dallas and Duke Trammell of Fort Worth, the principals in Meinert's plan to test the state anti-boxing law last night, didn't get into the ring. Instead, Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and Sheriff Hal Hood stepped in just as the first preliminary was about to get under way and halted the show. They made no arrests and no blows had been struck.

Promoter Meinert then announced that he probably would take action today in an attempt to bring about the arrest of the officers.

The last few hours before the Meinert show was to go were hectic one. First, the promoter obtained from district court at Fairfield, a temporary injunction against state, county and city officers restraining them from interfering.

District Attorney William McCraw then granted an order dissolving the Fairfield instrument in a hearing before Judge Towne Young around a cigar counter in the old courthouse here.

Hickman and Hood were sent post-haste to the Gardner park ice palace where Meinert's men were to do battle. The ranger and sheriff ended the affair amid the boos of the crowd.

Later it developed that while the Meinert act was being denied the boards, members of a local club on White Rock lake near here were watching five boxing bouts unmolested.

WHEAT RALLIES

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Wheat prices made a quick rally from early down turns that were associated with stock market breaks and with weakness of wheat quotations at Liverpool. Word that Argentine rains were inconsequential and that drought continued did much to bring about the wheat rally.

Opening 5-8 to 1 5-8 off, Chicago wheat afterward rose to above yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were firmer with corn starting 1-2 to 1 1-4 down, but subsequently scoring gains.

San Angelo "Kid" Going to Capitol

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 8. (AP)—"Billy the Kid" left his ancestral hills Thursday for the effete life of Washington under the guardianship of Secretary of State H. L. Stimson.

Billy, a goat offered up by the secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association, goes to replace the celebrated "Captain Bones" the secretary's former pet somehow not retrieved by the official after he arrived in Washington from the Philippines.

The new delegate to the capital was said to have been named for the famous outlaw after successful exhibitions or pugacity among his fellows on a ranch 65 miles from the nearest railroad.

TEXAS COTTON ACREAGE LARGER THIS SEASON

AUSTIN, Aug. 9. (AP)—Present conditions indicate that Texas' cotton crop this year will total 4,798,000 bales of 500 pound average. H. H. Schutz, statistician of the United States department of agriculture, said in his monthly report today.

Allowing for an abandoned acreage equal to the ten year average, Schutz estimated that 17,968,000 acres remain for harvest compared with 17,743,000 picked last season. A yield of 128 pounds of lint per acre is indicated by the 64 per cent condition as compared with 138 pounds in 1928.

"Sargon Proved Blessing to Me"

"Sargon has done more for me in a few weeks than all the other medicines I took put together during the ten years I suffered."

"I had awful attacks of nervous indigestion and my stomach was in such a disordered condition I could not eat a good meal. I couldn't even drink a glass of buttermilk without suffering. In fact for the ten days before I started Sargon I had not swallowed one mouthful of solid food; I had lived on orange juice. I had sharp pains in my stomach and was so weak I had to give up and go to bed. My nerves just went all to pieces and I never got a good night's rest."

"Sargon has surely proved a blessing to me. I can now eat most anything I want without bad after effects. My nerves are normal, I sleep fine and never have to use a laxative any more like I did before I started taking the Sargon Soft Mass Pills."

Plane Bursts Into Flames and Falls

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 9. (AP)—An airplane burst into flames, and fell several hundred feet here last night killing the pilot and two passengers. The victims were Major D. P. Wardwell, 31 of Casper, and Earl Holtz, 30, and George Cameron of Worland, Wyo.

Wardwell, member of the Lafayette escadrille in the world war and later with the United States air force abroad, was the pilot of the plane. He had been engaged by the others for a flight over the city.

WILL BAR RIFLES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran said today he was preparing to bar the use of rifles by prohibition agents in several communities.

No change is contemplated, however, in sparsely settled districts where rifles are necessary for protection of the agents.

The commissioner said no general order would be issued but he would discuss the matter by correspondence with his administrators. He declined to say what reasons prompted his decision.

He Wanted Real Old World Wife

CHICAGO, Aug. 9. (AP)—Herman Alheim likes the United States all right—as a place to live; but the womenfolk over here don't suit him.

His dislike of American femininity was so strong that last year when he decided it was time he was getting married he went clear back to Germany to get his wife. Her name was Kunigunde and with her Alheim had visions of great happiness in setting up a real old world household in this land of flappers.

But no sooner had they arrived in Chicago than Kunigunde started a campaign to be like the rest of the women in the neighborhood. One by one she adopted the short skirt, the boyish bob, and sun-tan dress, and all the other items so distressing to Alheim.

The end, apparently came yesterday when Kunigunde was awarded temporary alimony in a separate maintenance suit Alheim was in court, but not to contest the action—he filed a $25,000 suit against the woman who taught his wife English and started her on the way toward Americanization.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Daniel Among the Lions.

Scripture Lesson: Daniel 6:10, 11, 16-23.

10. And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem); and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11. These men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God.

16. Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou sevest continually, He will deliver thee.

17. And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel.

18. Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music brought before him; and his sleep fled from him.

19. Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20. And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice, the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, thy God, whom thou sevest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21. Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22. My God hath sent His angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before Him innocence was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23. Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in God.

Time: Perhaps B. C. 538 (Beecher).

Place: Babylon.

Golden Text: The angel of Jehovah encampeth round them that fear Him, and delivereth them.—Ps. 34:7.

Introduction

"Through all the interval from the days of Nebuchadnezzar, Daniel had lived in Babylon; and now, at the change of dynasty, was an old man of eighty, if not more. His fame, as the mouthpiece of the higher powers, must have been soon known to Darius; so that it is only what might have been expected when we read that on the division of the empire into a hundred and twenty provinces by the new king, the prophet was appointed one of the three presidents to whom the superintendence of those was committed. It was inevitable, however, that the elevation of a foreigner, of a conquered race, to so high an honor, should rouse the jealousy of the native ruling class, and lead to a plot for his destruction. Intrigues and conspiracies have, in all ages, been part of the public and private life of the East."—Cunningham Gelkie.

Plot Against Daniel.

The Jewish officers scrutinized eagerly all the public acts of Daniel, examining them minutely to discover, if possible, any flaw in them, any pin on which to hang a charge of disloyalty or even trifling carelessness or neglect in his many duties; but they found none, they were obliged to confess that his record was absolutely clean.

The plot took for granted a most absurd vanity on the part of Darius, and the officers doubtless knew that they might count on that. They went to the king and said that all the various officers of state had decided on a decree which they desired promulgated from the throne, a law for thirty days required that no petition should be made to any god or man during that time, save only to the king. The law was to have the fixedness of statutes of the Medes and Persians; and whoever transgressed it was to be cast into the well-known den of lions kept for the royal chase. The weakminded king was silly enough to yield to the suggestion, and sign the decree. The enemies of Daniel were secretly jubilant, and precisely that happened which they had foreseen.

Habit of Prayer.

"And he kneeled upon his knees three times a day." Thus David, Ps. 55:17: "Evening and morning, and at noonday, will I complain, and moan; and he will hear my voice." Having a regular time and place for prayer adds greatly to our fidelity in this most important matter. We are to pray at all times and in all places and should maintain some "closet of prayer," some spot so consecrated to prayer that its very atmosphere surrounds us with the spirit of prayer when thanks before his God, as he did aforetime." Here was no parade of piety, and no flouting of disobedience to the royal order: Daniel simply held quietly to his ordinary schedule in a self-respecting, modest way. He does not change his habit, but goes upstairs, though he is climbing the gallows. Brave old fellow! Remember, this was not the sudden impulse of one who felt the flush of youth, but it was the calm decision of one who was venerable with age, having performed deeds of public service that might have well entitled to do garrison duty for the rest of his days.

In The Lions Den

"And they brought Daniel, and cast

him into the den of lions." "There must have been great excitement in the city then. All Babylon knew that this man was not going to survive. They knew very well that that old statesman was a man of iron will, and that it was not at all likely he would yield. The lions' den had few terrors to him. He would rather be in the lions' den with God, than out of it without Him." D. L. Moody. "Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou sevest continually, He will deliver thee." "Heathen as he was, he knew little of the distinction between Jehovah and false gods. But he could see the difference between Daniel and other men. And he inferred that the Being adored by so excellent a man must be a good and powerful Being. Thus God is glorified by His true servants." Bishop Alfred Lee.

The Seal of the King

"And the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords." The king's seal remaining unbroken would render it certain that the royal officers had not broken in to murder Daniel if the lions spared him, and the unbroken seals of the officers would assure them that the king had not sought to rescue his favorite counselor. We may be sure that this precaution was insisted upon by the royal officers, Daniel's foes, who would pretend to fear that Daniel's Jewish friends would rescue him. For a similar reason the stone that closed Christ's tomb was sealed and a guard placed over it by the Romans at the desire of our Lord's enemies, who expressed the suspicion that Christ's disciples would steal His body and pretend that He had risen from the dead. Thus the truth is confirmed even by its foes.

Anxious King

"Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions." "Why should Darius have waited for morning, if his penitence had moved him to a firm resolution to undo the evil done? He had better have sprung from his bed, and gone with his guards to open the den in the dark. Feeble lamentation are out of place when it still time to act." Alexander MacLaren. The weak king could not dare face his officers with less than one night in the lions' den given Daniel as punishment; but he hastened to the den on the first glimmer of dawn.

The king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou sevest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? A remarkable answer came from the lips of Daniel, king: "servant of the living God, whom thou sevest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?" (See LESSON, Page 11.)

TAXIING AROUND the AIRPORTS

Just 20 minutes from Broadway is an airport which will afford the hurrying air traveler a quicker entry into New York City. The field, Holmes airport, in the borough of Queens on Long Island, just off the East river, is being prepared for surfacing. It already is available for use.

A 160 acre tract for an airport has been donated to the city of Muncie, Ind. by Abbott Johnson, chairman of the municipal aviation commission. The site was declared by airport experts to be the best available there. The money appropriated by the city for purchase of a site will be used for development and facilities. The city expects to acquire an additional 40 acres.

The Ryan airport at Parsons, Kas. is to be enlarged and equipped with more facilities. A department of commerce airport expert is to be sent there to aid in the expansion plans.

The Gross Ile airport at Detroit has been designated as a permanent airport of entry by the interdepartmental committee in charge of airports of entry. Temporary designations have been given the Ford airport at Dearborn, Mich. and to the Canadian Gateway airport at Newport, Vt. Airports at Grand Forks and Minot, N. D. and Crookston, Minn. are under consideration to accommodate international commercial air traffic between Winnipeg and the Twin Cities.

The department of commerce has decided that before a privately owned light may be certified as an airway beacon, it must be approved by municipal aviation authorities and by all transport companies operating in the vicinity, as an aid to aerial navigation.

New English Head at Teachers College

CANYON, August 9.—(Special)—J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, has announced that Dr. Grant McColley, present head of the English department at Arkansas Polytechnic Institute, at Russellville, Ark. will become head of the department of English at the Canyon college at the opening of the fall term.

Dr. McColley did his graduate study at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., receiving the M. A. and Ph. D. degrees there. He has taught three years as instructor in English at the University of Arkansas, and is now teaching in the summer school there.

L. A. Cogood, who has served for some time as acting head of the department of English, will continue in the department, assuming the work he had before accepting the temporary place as acting head, President Hill stated.

Another change in the personnel of the English department will be made when Dr. George Mullins leaves to assume his duties in the position he accepted recently in Central State Teachers college, at Edmond, Oklahoma. He is to be head of the department of chemistry there.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW

Mother and Dad used to want many a thing they couldn't have. Their neighbors wanted the same thing—they neither could have them. Only a few could have more than the mere necessities of life. But today it's different! Dignified Credit, such as that offered by the greater Diamond Shop, has placed the better things in life within the reach of all!

Today the people of Pampa and community can purchase beautiful blue white perfect diamonds, nationally known American made watches, jewelry of every description—and they can purchase it without denying themselves of the necessities of life!

The Diamond Shop offers you a credit system that is unsurpassable even by the largest institutions of the world. The sole reason that it works so well is that it is simple. "All you need is an honest face"—with a small down payment you take the merchandise that you have selected—then you pay the balance as you get paid. There's nothing complicated about it!

An investment is the quickest way to greater savings—when you purchase a diamond you are buying something that has a concrete face value the world over. At the Diamond Shop you can buy only the best blue white perfect stones, and they cost no more!

Just as the Capitol is the center of governmental function in the United States, so is the Diamond Shop the jewelry center of Pampa us had learned that the God whom Daniel served was alive, and, probably also when he himself served were dead.

Divine Deliverance

"My God hath sent His angel." When Daniel's three friends were cast into the fiery furnace because they would not worship Nebuchadnezzar's golden image, a fourth was seen walking with them thru the fire. "And the aspect of the fourth (was) like a son of the gods" (Dan. 3:24, 28). Here again God wrought a wonderful deliverance by means of His messenger (for that is the literal meaning of the Greek word, angelos). We are encouraged by the Scriptures to believe that the angels watch over all of God's children, saving them from many perils, seen and unseen; Ps. 43:7; Gen. 28:12; 2 Kings 6:17; Isa. 63:9, etc. "And hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me." Suppose the lions had killed him. What then? He still had won

They never fail who die in a great cause. If you are whole-hearted towards God, there is no defeat. Down is up and black is bright. If the lions had killed him, it would have been just the carrying out of God's program just the same. I think it was Henry Ward Beecher who put it, "To kill a good man is very much the same as if one would try to spite a ship by launching it." Rev. John McNell, D. D.

Second Decree

Moved by this misulous event, Darius issued another edict which, we may be sure, compensated Daniel for all that he may have suffered from the first edict of the king. This proclamation was made to all the vast kingdom, and ordered universal worship of Jehovah, the God of Daniel, "The living God, steadfast for ever," whose dominion shall never end. Similar edicts were issued by Nebuchadnezzar, Cyrus, and Artaxerxes. They must have served to check idolatry, to encourage and exalt the Jews, and to maintain faith in the one pure and true religion until the temple could be re-rebuilt and to Jerusalem restored.

The Open Window

The inner life demands it for its own self-realization. If the soul looks out upon nothing better than the streets of Babylon, rich and gay though they may be; if the mind reads only the newspaper and hears only the talk which reflects the sentiment of Babylon; if the heart finds its chief pleasure in places of light amusement or in the more frivolous forms of social contacts; if the innermost nature never rises above the smoke and soot of these commonplace pursuits, then inevitably the best that is in a man grows small, thin, and anemic. If he prizes moral vigor, stamina, and endurance, he must have the windows of his life open continually upon the superb sources of strength.

"Are your windows open toward Jerusalem,

"Though as captives here a little while" we stay?

"For the coming of the King in his glory

"Are you watching day by day?"— P. P. BLISS.

H. P. Saunders and niece, Misses Gertrude and Lucille Saunders, all of Roswell, N. M., left yesterday after a visit of several days with Mr. Saunders' sister, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, and other relatives.

Horns of Famous Steer Placed in Canyon Museum

CANYON, Aug. 9.—(Special)—The horns of the Longhorn steer, Old Blue, the famous bell steer that led so many JA trail steers north to Dodge City, Kansas, have come to rest in the museum of the Historical Society at Canyon, through the loan by the executors of the Adair Estate, T. D. Hobart of Pampa and Henry C. Coke of Dallas.

For years they have hung above the door of the office of Clinton Henry present manager of the ranch, Old Blue was born in the Nueces country of Texas. He was brought to the Panhandle as a young steer and was selected by Colonel Goodnight as a lead steer. Every night upon the trail, the bell which had rattled around his neck all day long, guiding the steers that followed him, was muffled. The clapper was released by a cowboy of a morning and as soon as the bell started ringing the herd knew that it was time to move and set out upon the trail of Old Blue.

He accommodatingly led these steers into the shipping corrals at Dodge

City, but always turned back down the trail with the cowboys when they again started for the ranch. He was led 230 miles to the JA's, walking with the stride of a horse. His last years were spent on the ranch, independent in his old age because of the period of usefulness which had earned him those rights.

The horns measure four feet from tip to tip.

Woman Candidate Replies to Query

AUSTIN, Aug. 9. (AP)—Selection of the Democratic nominee for president in 1932, "will not be and should not be a direct issue" in the 1930 campaign, Miss Katie Daffan of Ennis, candidate for governor, told Mrs. Claude De Van Watts of Austin, president of the state Women's Christian Temperance Union in reply to a questionnaire sent all gubernatorial aspirants.
She is opposed to barring from the 1930 primaries anyone candidate or voter—who did not support the party presidential choice.
"It is not necessary, as I see it, to discuss the Democratic nominee for president in 1932, other than to say that I will favor for president, and for every other office, a candidate who unequivocally stands for the maintenance and enforcement of all prohibition laws," she stated.

RAILROAD FIRE LOSS ESTIMATED AT $100,000

TYLER, Aug. 9. (AP)—Loss by fire in the car barns of the Cotton Belt railway company here last night was officially estimated today as more than $100,000.
Besides the barns, 35 cars and a large amount of tools and equipment were destroyed. The flames were believed to have caused by a short circuit in a power line.

TEXAS BOY IN FINALS

DELAPEL, Wis., Aug. 9. (AP)—Karl Kamrath, Austin, the first youth to reach the finals in the western junior boys' tennis championships, rested today as he watched Bill Schommer, Milwaukee, and Hugh McArthur, San Diego, battle it out for the honor of meeting him in the finals.
Kamrath won from Kendall Cram, Nashville, Tenn., yesterday, 6-1, 6-4.
Nice fat hens, dressed or alive at Dodd's Hatchery.
