PAMPA GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 16, 1929

PRICE FIVE CENTS

CITY BOND ELECTION IS CALLED

Listless Election in Texas Favors Constitutional Amendments

FEW VOTES IN PAMPA BOXES UP TO MIDDAY

Less Than Fifty in Half Day of Balloting

NO ELECTION IN SOUTH WARD

Indications Point to Success of This Attempt

There is a statewide election in Texas today, but little notice was being given it in Pampa in general and Pampa in particular. Up to noon 38 votes had been cast in the two Pampa boxes that were open.

No election was held in South Pampa where faulty instructions and failure to deliver election supplies resulted in abandonment of efforts to open the polls. Despite wide newspaper publicity to the two constitutional amendments submitted to the people, there were few who professed very thorough knowledge of the issues involved.

Twenty-five votes were cast before noon in the B. C. D. room box, where H. W. Johns, Earl Talley, Mrs. H. W. Johns and Mrs. Alma Swanson were in charge. Thirteen persons had voted at the box one door south of Rose Motor company's building. There F. C. Ledrick, J. B. Ayres, H. J. Lippold, and H. L. Ledrick were holding the election.

The polls will close at 7 p. m.

AUSTIN, July 16. (P)—Texas voters went to the polls today to ballot on two proposed amendments to the constitution, one of which would increase the governor's salary to $10,000. The other proposal would provide for a supreme court of nine members sitting the year round.

The governor's salary has never been increased since the constitution was written, and the chief executive has been hard pressed in recent years to make $4,000 pay his expenses.

The supreme court proposal would abolish the present commission of appeals and would make the court large enough to clean up the cases now before the court and keep up with new appeals as they come up.

Many of the legislators will be unable to express their preference at the ballot box unless they cast absentee votes, since they are still on the job in Austin after more than four months of law making.

Observers predicted there would be a light vote. It was pointed out, however, that the fewer the votes the better chance of carrying the amendments. The State Bar association has been active, especially for the supreme court amendment.

More Petitions for Paving Given City Commission

Two more paving petitions, properly signed, were accepted by the city commission last night and referred to the city engineer for estimates.

One petition asks paving on Hill avenue and Sunset drive from north line of Browning avenue to the west line of Yager street. The other is on Browning avenue from the east boundary line of North Ballard street east to the north property line of Yager street.

It was also announced that a petition had been amended to include East Foster from Starkweather street to the end of the former street.

"TOW SACK" USED IN MAKING SNAPPY SPORTS COSTUME

LIVINGSTON, July 16. (P)—The art of making rag rugs from gunny sacks may have suffered when Mrs. D. M. Wigley of Jasper appeared at the East Texas home demonstration club women's encampment here dressed in a snappy sports costume made entirely of "tow sacks."

Less than three sacks were used in making the suit, which resembled a snappily tailored garment from a smart women's shop. Mrs. Wigley dyed the material navy blue and tall ored the skirt with several plaits in front. Contrasting colors were used for the blouse and trimmings. The entire cost of the ensemble was about $1.25, she told the club women.

AMARILLO HAS FILED ACTION ON GRAY LINE

Notice has been received here from the Interstate Commerce Commission that the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has filed its application to intervene in behalf of the C. & O. W. railroad in connection with the proposed spur line into Central Gray county from Heaton, a switch 8 miles east of Pampa. The Amarillo action grew out of a mass meeting of business men who declared their desire to "throw in" with the Santa Fe. Subsequent criticism of the action insofar as the spur line was concerned led to rumors that the Amarillo body would not follow her decision affecting the short line, but the Washington notice disproves this theory. The hearing, however, will not be held in Pampa on July 24 as scheduled, but has been combined with the Fort Worth & Denver-Rock Island hearing July 29. This consolidation was at the request of the Pampa B. C. D., which insisted upon the inter-relation of the rail proposals.

Law Upon Land Sales Main Item Before Legislators

AUSTIN, July 16. (P)—With the five major appropriation bills reduced from $51,161,614 to $47,890,832—a net decrease of more than $3,000,000—the third special session of the 41st legislature was on the eve of finishing its work today.

Only the departmental and claims and accounts measures remained to be accepted on free conference committee reports to wind up the appropriations. The departmental bill carried a total of $10,532,283, against $12,638,225 of the measure vetoed by Governor Moody when he turned down all appropriations of the second call session. It was cut $2,105,942.

The claims and accounts measure was shaved 52 per cent. It was reduced from $987,543 to $474,546.

The educational bill, appropriating $18,451,282 for support of the universities, colleges and schools for the next biennium, was accepted yesterday. It was reduced only $45,263 under the bill rejected by Governor Moody.

The judiciary bill appropriated $5,060,485, against $5,066,465 in the discarded bill; eleemosynary, $10,372,136, compared to $10,482,836 vetoed, and rural aid, $5,000,000 or $500,000 less than the bill disapproved by the governor.

The legislature cannot adjourn sine die before Thursday if it considers seriously the legislation proposed by Governor Moody in his message of last Saturday, wherein he recommended passage of a law preserving to the university and public school funds returns from minerals beneath state lands. He proposed retaining all mineral rights and as a result the senate yesterday passed a bill by Senator C. C. Small of Wellington withdrawing all public lands from the market.

DENVER ROAD OFFICIALS TO COME TO CITY

Now Making Tour of Pampa-Childress Route

LOCAL GROUP MAKE A TOUR

Line Northward From Here Is Talked in Wellington

Members of the transportation committee of the local Board of City Development spent yesterday in Childress where they conferred with officials of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern railway and Childress Chamber of Commerce directors.

Plans for the coming railroad "fight" were discussed following a luncheon given by the Childress Chamber of Commerce. Childress is "for the Fort Worth & Denver strong," the returning committee men say.

Last night the officials met in Wellington and this morning went to meet with Shamrock business men. This afternoon at 4 o'clock the railroad officials are to meet with the transportation committee of the B. C. D. and local merchants in the White Deer Land office.

Pampa men making the trip yesterday were George W. Briggs, manager of the B. C. D.; George Rainouard, M. K. Brown, and Charles C. Cook.

Fort Worth & Denver officials making the tour of this territory who will be here this afternoon are: Frank Clarity, vice-president and general manager of the Fort Worth & Denver; L. M. Hogsett, general freight agent; Judge J. H. Barwise, general attorney; Mr. Briggs, locating engineer; Judge McCoy, of the land department, and M. B. Oates, agricultural agent.

Wellington is a city needing another railroad and welcoming all efforts bettering her chances of getting a new line, an official of her Chamber of Commerce told The News in a telephone conversation this morning.

He added that this attitude was made known to Fort Worth & Denver officials last night. Wellington endorsed the Rock Island proposal, but is taking no hand in "fighting" the Denver proposition.

Denver officials told Wellington business men last night that it was planned later to extend the proposed Pampa-Childress line northward from Pampa.

Panhandle Will Market 42 Million Bushels of Wheat

AMARILLO, July 16. (P)—Figures compiled by the Santa Fe and the Fort Worth & Denver railroads today showed 16,669 cars or 22,503,150 bushels of wheat had been shipped from the Panhandle territory during this year's harvest.

Grain men estimated that slightly more than 50 per cent of the crop had been marketed, and placed the 1929 crop in the Panhandle at 42,000,000 bushels. Harvesting is practically over in the South Plains and at its peak in the North Plains.

GUARDING STREET CARS

NEW ORLEANS, July 16. (P)—Daylight operation of street cars went ahead today under federal armed guards without indications of any settlement of differences between the street car company and the employes who walked out of their jobs July 2.

The service began yesterday with 15 cars on the St. Charles-Tulane belt route before the curious gaze of hundreds and with a fair-sized number of pair fares. The test was carried out in the absence of a single disturbance.

The cars were put up in the barns before darkness fell.

WHEAT AT $1.09

With the wheat crop in this territory practically all cut elevator men today were having a breathing spell. The price this afternoon was $1.09 a bushel. This morning the market here opened strong and brought $1.10 a bushel, the highest price paid this year.

Recommendations for Free City Delivery Will Be Made by Postal Inspector and Congressman Marvin Jones, Who Come Here for Survey of City Needs

Relief from the congestion that exists at the Pampa post office is expected to be hastened as a result of the visits of Congressman Marvin Jones and Postal Inspector M. E. Johnson, both of Amarillo.

Mr. Johnson arrived in time to make a thorough inspection of two proposed rural mail routes in Gray county, and he will remain today to look further into postal conditions. He stated last night that he found to be practical the proposed route surveyed by F. P. Feld and others, which would be south from the city and would include many oil field camps, relieving some of the congestion at the general delivery window here.

Alteration of the equipment to facilitate handling of local mail has been started. Two additional clerks have been authorized and will raise to sixteen the number of postal employes.

Mr. Johnson stated last night that he would recommend immediate inauguration of free city delivery. He said that local obstacles to this service had in his opinion, been removed.

Congressman Jones urged unqualified endorsement of free delivery and will send a report to Washington in an effort to hasten starting of the service. Usually, it was pointed out, it is necessary to take several months to campaign for erection of boxes at each residence. It is hoped to avoid this delay.

Postmaster W. A. Crawford arranged a dinner at which the postal conditions were discussed. Those present included Mr. Jones, Mr. Johnson, District Attorney Clifford Braly, Carson Loftis, F. M. Culbertson, O. K. Gaylor, George W. Briggs, and Olin E. Hinkle.

The congressman, although more or less familiar with this community, was astonished at development in Central Gray county in the last few weeks. He endorsed the idea that "boom" conditions in the city proper do not exist, but that expansion is normal and necessary in response to the general development.

Pioneer Tells of Dodging Indians in Early Days

Editor's note: Below is the second and concluding installment of an interview by Willette Cole of The News staff with M. A. Green, pioneer who visited relatives here last week.

Central and North Texas, even as late as the close of the Civil War, had many of the "ear marks" of the frontier with now and then a "family murder" and a home burned by the Indians; yet to the settlers, and to most Texans, those sections of the state seemed comparatively safe and civilized, well beyond the frontier stage.

There was further flung frontier—the Panhandle, where buffalo roved the prairies in thousands and fortunes were to be made in hides, if a man could come through a few seasons' hunting with his scalp intact; where land was literally given away to those who could face the ever-present menace of Indian massacre, the privations, and the actual dangers of starvation.

The adventure, the danger, the very hardships, themselves, held the allure which drew to the Panhandle the few score of men who were the real vanguard of today's civilization—the buffalo hunters, the scouts, and the Indian fighters, one of whom was M. A. Green, a seventeen-year-old lad from Hunt county, where life had grown all too tame.

Hunted Adventure

Born in 1855 at Greenville, Texas, the son of the first sheriff of Hunt county Green lived in North Texas until he was fourteen years old. Then he ran away to South Texas on the long search for adventure, which brought him to the Panhandle when he was seventeen.

Not that it was necessary for the youth to leave home to find danger, and that more or less regularly. He well remembers the threat of slaughter by Indians to his own family. The home was two miles from a Cherokee camp, from which the Indians occasionally emerged on a rampage, burning homes, stealing stock, and even killing the whites.

Life, nevertheless, became too tame for Green, and the call of the West too strong. Besides, were not men receiving a cold 10 cents a head for shooting buffalo on the plains, with everything furnished them except their horses? To the Panhandle he went, there to hunt a few seasons for Crego and company; to scout for the soldiers of Fort Sill, Okla.; and finally to become a cowboy in the early days of ranching in Texas.

Time has lent enchantment to the hardships, the dangers, and the privations of those early days in the Panhandle, but many episodes were too utterly horrible to be other than gruesome, even though the dimming of long years. Men found murdered and scalped by the Indians, entire families lying murdered or burned to death in their houses—such were not uncommon sights on the plains at one time.

Whites, Scalped Indians The Indians almost invariably scalped the white men they killed, and the white, then scalped the Indians they killed, when they could reach the bodies before they were snatched and carried off.

HUTCHINS, TEXAS MAN FOUND FATALLY INJURED—SLUGGED BY UNKNOWN MEN, PLACED ON RAILS

DALLAS, July 16. (P)—Jack O'Keefe, 35, well-known resident of Hutchins, 10 miles south of Dallas, was found injured fatally on the Denton interurban track near the city limits early today.

Police investigated on the theory he had been slugged and his body managed by a car after it had been placed on the track to cover up the crime.

As O'Keefe was being placed in an ambulance, he told police he had been slugged and dragged upon the track in front of a freight train, which also travels over the interurban right-of-way.

"They slugged me and I'll get them," the man told officers before lapsing into unconsciousness. He died a few hours later.

Examination of the body revealed that O'Keefe's skull had been fractured. Both legs and one arm were severed by the freight train. He was found by the crew of an interurban car that passed over the track about 10 minutes after the freight train.

Freight Bills Urgently Needed in Railroad "Fight"

Because of the early hearing on the application of the Fort Worth & Denver's application for a branch line from Childress to Pampa, the local Board of City Development will have to have freight and express bills from local merchants immediately. A month ago the B. C. D. asked merchants to save all bills of lading and receipts for the month of July and to turn them over to the Board during the last part of July.

It is necessary now that all bills be assembled immediately, Manager George W. Briggs says.

"Now is the time for Pampa merchants and jobbers to show whether they are in this fight to get Pampa another railroad and assurance of a steady and permanent growth," Mr. Briggs said this morning. "The bills of lading and freight and express bills will be of vital importance to us when we go before the Interstate Commerce commission officials in Fort Worth July 29 and if we do not get the support of our merchants we may lose the fight and Pampa's chance to be a big city."

A canvass of every business house in the city will be started this week. Mr. Briggs said, much time will be saved if merchants will give a few minutes of their time and have all necessary information available. Time would be saved if the information already asked is brought to the Board of City Development rooms immediately.

"This information is wanted from every man in the city who receives shipments of merchandise from any point in the country," Frank Kelm, president of the B. C. D. said.

The small son of Mrs. J. I. Brown underwent a major operation yesterday at McKean & Connor hospital.

Bids Are Asked on Grading Highway West From City

Advertising for bids on grading and drainage structures from the Carson county line to Pampa, distance of 7,336 miles, has been authorized by W. C. Bushfield, resident engineer of Gray county.

Mr. Bushfield says the bids will be opened by the state highway engineer in Austin at 10 a. m., August 1. Specifications for the work are on file in the office of Mr. Bushfield at McKean and in the state department.

The estimated cost of the work is $24,000.

Potter County Would Care for Gray Prisoners

The Gray county jail situation was discussed by the county commissioners again yesterday afternoon without any action being taken.

Admitting the congestion and need for correction, the commissioners investigated possibility of avoiding cost of a temporary structure pending completion of the courthouse. It was suggested to Sheriff E. S. Graves that he turn some of the prisoners over to Potter county, where it was said ample facilities are available.

The Potter county officials, Judge Iry E. Duncan, learned an anxious to keep prisoners at a cost of 75 cents per day for board and 15 cents per day for guarding. This is the same price paid for local jail facilities.

There was no indication today that prisoners would be taken to Amarillo.

STILLMAN YACHT BURNS

GLEN COVE, N. Y., July 16. (P)—The steam yacht, Wenona III, of James A. Stillman, former New York banker, caught fire following an explosion today and burned to the water's edge off Garvey's Point. None of the Stillman family was aboard.

One member of the crew of 12 was missing, and another member was in a hospital suffering from burns.

Charles Knutsen of Newport, R. I., first mate, was missing and William Ewing, was seriously burned. Cause of the explosion was not learned.

HOUSTON PLANE DOWN

HOUSTON, July 16. (P)—The "Houston-Billion Dollar City," attempting an endurance refueling flight record, landed in a field about one and one-half miles southeast of the Houston airport today. The plane had been in the air less than 29 hours. Cause of the landing was not immediately ascertained.

A new engineering building, to cost $685,000, will be constructed on the University of California campus in Berkeley this year.

CITY HALL IS ONE PROJECT NOW OFFERED

Fire Station Would Be Built and Equipped

WOULD CLOSE GAPS IN PAVING

Park System Planned Under Fourth Proposal

A bond election covering four desirable city improvement projects was called by the city commission last night for August 20. Judge J. B. Ayres was appointed to hold the election.

The proposed projects follow:
1. Erection of a city hall, city jail, with necessary equipment, $100,000.
2. Erection of fire station and purchase of necessary equipment, $33,000.
3. Construction and permanent improvement of streets and alleys (paving), $85,000.
4. Construction and permanent improvement of public parks and playgrounds, $20,000.

These projects, to be voted upon separately, total $238,000, and the bond election call specifies that the bonds shall not carry more than 5 1/2 per cent interest.

The motion to call the election was made by Commissioner Lynn Fogd, seconded by Commissioner J. E. Murfee, signed by Mayor D. W. Osborne, and attested by City Secretary C. O. Busby. City Manager F. M. Gwin stated that on the basis of the $6,000,000 city valuations expected the bond issue would not make necessary an excessive tax rate. A levy of 30 cents would, it is estimated, retire the bonds and would place the total city tax levy at $1.63 cents on the $100 valuation, after a contemplated reduction in the present budget.

Specifications for the projects have not been drawn, but close estimates have been made. The city hall would be placed on Albert square, the vacant block donated by the White Deer Land company for this specific purpose. An auditorium would be provided in connection, with rest rooms for women, club rooms, offices for city officials, and an adequate jail.

The fire station would be erected on the site of the present city hall. The fire equipment is inadequate for a city of this size, and the volunteer firemen now have no accommodations and little inducement to give their services.

More paving is one of the principal items of city growth now. Many petitions have recently been presented, indicating that Pampa's paving will be doubled in the next few months. The $85,000 in bonds would be used to pay the city's share in the paving.

The street improvement bonds would also connect the city paving with the county paving, eliminating the troublesome gaps. Gaps at the south oil field and Berger roads need closing at once, and the paving north on the old designation of 23 will leave a gap also.

Need for parks and playgrounds has been felt for a long time. The $20,000 proposed for this purpose would be used, it is hoped, chiefly for improvements, with sites donated.

The proposed bond issue for a municipal airport was discussed, but owing to the uncertain status of airports in general and the best way to handle a local one in particular, the matter was passed for the present.

Three Men Held as Robbery Suspects

Three men, answering the description of men who held up employe of the Colfax corporation last Wednesday night and took $40, have been arrested here and are being held in the county jail for possible identification.

The men are being held on charges of carrying weapons. Sheriff E. S. Graves says each of the three men was carrying a pistol.

Two employes driving up to the Colfax bankhouse frightened the hold-up men before then had "cleaned out" the place.

"It's Like This"

THE ROCK ISLAND and DENVER railroads have combined their applications for a permit to build lines south of here. Neither railroad has any interest further northward than Shamrock.

There is no doubt room for short lines to the south, and we believe they could be built without interfering with the Denver's Pampa-Childress project. There is one problem in the Quannah-Vernon area and quite another on the Upper Plains, and we do not believe the Interstate Commerce Commission will abandon the Upper Plains by allowing the Rock Island to stop at Shamrock.

The Fort Worth & Denver frankly is interested in eventually extending a line from Pampa northward to connect with its Nebraska system. That interests Perryton particularly, and that city is encouraged by the visit of a Fort Worth & Denver official last week.

Pampa's part in the rail "war" has particularly pleased the Denver officials, whose suggestions have been numerous. The testimony will begin at Fort Worth July 29, and will include the Santa Fe's plan for a spur line in Gray county.

It is a strategic move on Pampa's part in having the two hearings merged, for thus a tacit admission of the interrelation of the projects is inferred at the start. If Amarillo interests wish to interfere with the spur line in this county, they can send their witnesses to Fort Worth, for no little family row is going to present opportunities along that line. The director of the I. C. C., Mr. C. D. Mahaffie, will hear all testimony and will present it to the commission for a later decision.

The Fort Worth hearing, while informal, should be minus the horn-tooting tactics which would have been tried had some small city been selected in the affected territory.

A FRENCH SPOKESMAN, General Henri Etienne Gouraud, is making a strong plea in this country for partial cancellation, or reduction, of France's debts to this country.

General Gouraud, speaking to Baltimore veterans, asked that France be given as much consideration as is being given Germany in settlement of debts contracted as a result of the war. It is a strong, logical plea. Cancellation probably would be a mistake, for there will be less thought of another war and a sounder basis for efforts toward world peace while the debts are being paid in a fair, orderly manner. But it is unreasonable to readjust Germany's reparation payments and not to give France a similar reduction.

"Our debt toward America is an enormous burden," the general stated. "Even after it has been diminished in the Mellon-Berenger agreement, we have to pay out large sums for a long time. Nevertheless, we must ratify. France is an honest country and wishes to pay her debts. All we want, in the name of justice, is that, having been attacked and devastated, though victorious, that our friends should not ask payment from us more quickly than from Germany, who attacked and was defeated, and had no part of her country destroyed."

TWINKLES

Well, wonder if Governor Moody will see fit to call another $100,000 special session to save wear and tear on his 5-cent blue pencil?

It is probably a coincidence that the rains and revivals ceased about the same time.

The new money may look like a coupon, but we haven't heard of anyone's being absent-minded enough to give any of it away as such.

We don't like the idea of being up in the air and not going anywhere, but to prove you can stay up is not unimportant.

Of course it is Uncle Sam's business, but we don't see why he doesn't make the penny nearer the size of its actual value in this period. Just what will a penny buy, anyhow, except a one-cent stamp.

Mrs. Carrie L. Widows who declares Sargon increased her weight 17 pounds and made her feel like a new woman after many years of suffering.

"Just think of it—Sargon built me up from 103 pounds to 120—a gain of 17 pounds! Ten bottles of this wonderful medicine made me feel like a new woman.

"Years of suffering from stomach trouble had me in an awfully weak, nervous and run-down condition. I tried many medicines only to be disappointed time after time. Sargon enabled me to eat things I hadn't dared attempt for two years. I am a well woman, and have been greatly strengthened. I also took Sargon Soft Mass Pills and they are just as wonderful as Sargon. I consider them an essential part of the treatment." Mrs. Carrie L. Widows, 109 12th street, Abilene, Kans.

McConnell Well of Much Interest

Pampa citizens and oil operators are watching with interest the McConnell Oil company's No. 1 McConnell in the west half of the northeast quarter of section 65, block 4, Carson county. The well is being drilled by local capital, and stock in the company is owned by local citizens.

The McConnell test picked up the big gas yesterday afternoon at 2,950 feet and is drilling ahead. Gas sand was encountered first at 2,908 feet and intermittent flows have been encountered to total depth. The last flow encountered totaled 40,000,000 feet. Approximately 25,000,000 has been cased off from other pays.

Indications are that a good well will be drilled in soon. Gas pay has been encountered 100 feet deeper than in other wells in the same territory. Nearest production is one mile north and one mile east.

The gas streaks encountered are unusual in this field and are being closely logged.

TO FINISH PAVING STRIP

The Stueky Construction company will finish paving on West Foster avenue today and plan to start operations on East Francis avenue tomorrow morning. Fine grade is being thrown up today so that operations can start without delay. Approximately eight blocks will be paved to place concrete

 Now They're Both Gone! By Blosser

MOM'S POP
 Sick A-bed By Cowan

WHAT IN THE WORLD DO YOU SUPPOSE COULD HAVE HAPPENED TO LINDY DANN? I KNOW JUST AS SURE AS ANYTHING THAT I TIED HIM TO THAT TREE BEAL TIGHT!

WELL—HE ISN'T HERE, SO THAT'S THAT—A FINE MESS WE'VE MADE OF THIS!

THE THINGS THAT HAVE HAPPENED HERE LATELY ARE AGAIN ARE THINK THESE MOUNTAINS ARE MOST MYSTERIOUS—TAG AND HIS PONY JUST VANISHED LIKE A CURF OF SMOKE!!

HERE, HERE, DON'T CRY—WE HAVEN'T HAD PROOF YET THAT THEY'RE GONE FOR GOOD—COME ON, LET'S GO BACK TO THE RANCH!

I KNOW YOUR UNCLE WELL ENOUGH TO KNOW THAT WHEN HE HEARS WHAT'S HAPPENED HE'LL SET THAT JAW OF HIS AN' THEN THERE'LL BE FIREWORKS!!

BETTER LET ME TELL HIM!

TAG AND HIS PONY ARE EITHER LOST, STRAYED, STOLEN, DEAD OR ALIVE!

THE FACT THAT ONE STILL PAINED TO FIND A DISEASE TO FIT HIS TRICK SYMPTOMS, CONVINCED POP THAT HE HAD ONE FOOT IN THE GRAVE AND A ROLLER SKATE STRAPPED TO THE OTHER.

I FEEL EXACTLY LIKE THAT SOMETIMES.

MY STARS! AREN'T YOU GOING TO GET UP? BREAKFAST IS GETTING COLD AND THE POWERS WILL BE HERE ANY MINUTE.

I DON'T WANT ANY BREAKFAST. I TELL YOU I DON'T FEEL MYSELF. I'M GOING TO LIE HERE AND DECIDE WHICH DOCTOR I'LL HAVE COME AROUND TO LOOK ME OVER. YOU CAN'T TELL ME THERE'S AN M.D. IN THIS TOWN WHO'D TURN A PROSPECTIVE PATIENT OUT OF HIS OFFICE UNLESS HE SAW THERE WASN'T ANY HOPE FOR HIM.

YOU'D BETTER CALL IN A BRAIN SPECIALIST. YESTERDAY IT WAS LEPROSY, BEFORE THE DAY IS OVER I SUPPOSE YOU'LL BE DECIDING YOU HAVE THE DIP!

WELL, I WISH YOU'D BRING ME MY CHECK BOOK. MY LIFE INSURANCE IS DUE NEXT WEEK AND I DON'T WANT ANY SLIP-UP ON THAT IN CASE OF SOME SUDDEN DEVELOPMENT.

WHAT A MAN! IT'S MY PERSONAL OPINION THAT YOU HAVE DICKED OUT A MIGHTY CONVENIENT TIME FOR YOURSELF TO DRUM UP A FLOKY SICK ACT RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF ALL THIS WORK OF MOVING.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Because she is in love with her employer, JOHN CURTIS MORGAN, successful lawyer, NAN CARROLL, secretary, decides to resign. She flings herself upon the arms of the man who she has loved since she was a child. But she has a secret. She has a child. She has a child who she has loved since she was a child. She has a child who she has loved since she was a child. She has a child who she has loved since she was a child.

closer and closer, were his black eyes, liquidly brilliant, wider than she had ever seen them. It was like trying to face twin suns. Blinded, she closed her own eyes. . . .

A thousand times Nan had dreamed of his first kiss, and now she learned what palpitating dreams can be beside the ecstasy of reality. If he had released her when he lifted his head at last she would have fallen to the floor. But he did not release her. Oh, no, no! she exulted, as he held her head against his breast, so that she heard the deep, quick throbbing of his heart.

"And I shall find some girl, perhaps, a better one than you. With eyes as wise, but kinder. And lips as soft, but true. And I dare say she will do."

Her husband's puzzled frown did not clear. "I never read any such poem, darling Nan."

"No! You don't remember these lines, either?" she challenged, and gave him the next stanza: "Your hands, my dear, adorable, Your lips of tenderness— Oh, I've loved you faithfully and well, or a bit less— Three years, or a bit less—"

HE PAUSED and Nan's heart lunged, ekekingly. Was he living again the agony worse than death which that major operation had caused him? She held her breath.

His arms tightened about her. One hand cupped her little face with such infinite tenderness that tears sprang into the girl's eyes. "I had a marvelous nurse after the operation," he pursued the metaphor whimsically. "It was her devoted care which made the operation a success, more than the surgeon's knife. And as most patients do, I fell in love with my nurse. . . . And, oh, Nan! The wonder of it—to be free of the malady!"

CHAPTER XXXIV
FOR the first time since she had come to occupy it three months before, John Curtis Morgan stepped into his wife's bedroom. Nan, clinging to the knob, retreated slowly to make way for him. His face was flushed but grim with determination. He did not see the disorder of the room, the half-packed suitcase; his black eyes bored into hers.

"Nan! Nan!" How thick and queer his voice was! "What did you mean when you said I was 'stupid, blind'?" Nan! Tell me!" he urged with curious violence.

"I won't tell you anything!" she gasped, retreating from him until the door banged against the wall.

"I've got to know!" He was almost shouting at her, and the flush on his grim, lean face grew darker. "Did you mean—could you possibly mean—that you love me?"

"I was a slave in bondage, Nan. Lord! I don't mean to sound pathetic, but it's so necessary that I try to make you understand now, so that we can forget the past and be happy. You know, Nan, I used to get a dim sort of feeling that it made you angry to see us together—"

"It did!" she agreed, vehemently nodding her shining brown head against his breast. "She didn't love you, and saw you small, made you small when she was with you. I loved you; and saw you big—"

"And made me big," Morgan interrupted, laughing exultantly. "Don't you think I realize that Nan has made me what I am today—whether she's satisfied or not? But—did you really love me then?"

"No, thank God!" he answered. "Not like Iris. Her love is devilish, yours is divine—no, it all said? Can you be happy?"

But, womanlike, Nan could not forbear to ask the forbidden question, the one question which she should have avoided above all others. "But John—what if you saw Iris again?"

He did not try to lie to her. Perhaps it would have been better if he had lied. Certainly a great deal that happened later might have been very different if he had. His answer came slowly, conscientiously: "I—don't know. I can only say, 'Nan, I love you with all my heart and soul and mind. I hope I shall never see Iris again.'"

He answered, "I thought I did, too, until I wanted to take my real wife in my arms and found the door locked against me."

"Oh!" The word was a little wall of pain. She forced herself to confess: "I—that night—when you'd gone to see Nina Blackhall—"

"You made me go," he reminded her. "I didn't care a damn about a murder case that night, but you'd held yourself aloof all day, and at dinner poor, funny little Curtis had said terrible things unconsciously—but go on, darling—"

"You hadn't kissed me," Nan accused him. "You hadn't even said you loved me, and—No, let me finish, John! When you had gone, I went into the library and there, among your law books, I found a book of poems. I read the one you'd been reading a few days before, for

"I didn't want you to go away, oh, go away! You might have left me my pride—"

She whirled sharply away from him, but the next instant her small body was spun about again, but this time not in obedience to her will, but by the strength of his arms, a strength that for a moment threatened to crush in her ribs. Not that she felt the pain.

"I—don't want your pity!" she gasped against his coat. "Let me go—"

"Pity?" he laughed, in a voice rough with emotion. "Oh, Nan! Somehow he shifted her so that her head lay in the crook of his right arm. Above her, coming

"I loved you; and saw you big—"

"And made me big," Morgan interrupted, laughing exultantly. "Don't you think I realize that Nan has made me what I am today—whether she's satisfied or not? But—did you really love me then?"

"No, thank God!" he answered. "Not like Iris. Her love is devilish, yours is divine—no, it all said? Can you be happy?"

Mrs. M. A. Finney, Prominent Member of Social Groups and Women's Clubs, Honoree of Farewell Courtesy Saturday

MISS MADGE CASE

MISS ANNA MAY WRIGHT

Four hostesses joined Saturday evening in giving an informal reception at the home of Mrs. A. Cole, honoring Mrs. M. A. Finney, popular young matron, who is to move away shortly, after a residence of more than two years in Pampa. Co-hostesses were Mrs. George E. Wolfe, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, and Mrs. George Walstad.

An enjoyable short program was given. It included a vocal solo by Mrs. W. A. Bratton, piano solos by Mrs. Tom E. Rose and Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, and two readings by Mrs. James Todd.

The gathering, arranged as a surprise for the honoree, featured a handkerchief shower in which more than a score of exquisite gifts were presented her. The daintily wrapped packages, filling a decorative basket, were brought to Mrs. Finney by Janice Purviance and Janet Cole. Ices were served, with a spray of sweetpeas lying on each refreshment plate. Varicolored garden flowers were lovely decorations for the house.

Mrs. Finney will make her future home in Odessa, where Mr. Finney will be district superintendent of the Pure Oil company. She will leave Wednesday morning for Fort Smith, Ark., for a short visit with her parents, after which she will go to Odessa.

As one of the most prominent club women of the city, Mrs. Finney has been identified with many of the important civic projects undertaken by the women of the city during the last two years. She was vice-president of the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women and the College club during the first year of its organization, and for several months was active executive head of the organization of more than a hundred members. She was re-elected vice-president for next year. She was a member of the A. A. U. W. Study club, and formerly was a member of El Progresso, Amuse and Club Mayfair were two bridge clubs of which she was a member.

The guest list for the complimentary affair Saturday evening included many of her associates in these several clubs, as well as other friends. It included the following: Mrs. George Kahala, Mrs. J. S. Wynne, Mrs. DeLea Vicars, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. C. C. Cook, Mrs. Henry Thut, Jr., Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. C. E. Pollard, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. Siler Faulkner, Mrs. B. E. Finley, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, Mrs. C. M. Bryson, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Miss Fannie Florence Sims, and Miss VeLora Reed.

Working under the direction of the United States Public Health service, they are here to eliminate the rats and teach citizens how to keep the rodents away forever.

"Government statistics show that there are two rats for every inhabitant of every city in the United States," said Miss Wright today. "Property damage is tremendous. I started in this work eight years ago to see the country, and I've seen it—43 states, the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, and the Philippines.

She and her co-worker are not possessed of the proverbial feminine fear of rats and mice—they enjoy their work.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gilliland of Calhoun Park, Pa., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by taking an airplane ride.

PAMPA GOLFERS ARE GOING TO SHAMROCK SUNDAY TO RETURN VISIT—LOST TOURNEY HERE

Faced with the difficulty of providing an opponent for each visiting golfer who comes to local tournaments, the Pampa Golf club is issuing a call for more members. Pampa lost to Shamrock, 8 to 16, here Sunday in an event in which six Shamrock men had no local opposition.

The Pampa golfers will return the Shamrock visit next Sunday. Every man in Pampa who plays golf, whether a member of the club or not, is invited to make the trip. Each will be matched at Shamrock with a golfer of similar ability. W. H. Curry, secretary of the local club, will furnish transportation for those desiring it. The Shamrock club will furnish luncheon, and swimming in a lake near the course will be enjoyed.

Anyone wishing to join the Pampa club is urged to get in touch with H. Otto Studer, president.

Tommy Thomas, Pampa, won from Sherwood, Shamrock, 1 up.

Dr. R. A. Webb, Pampa, won from Fred Stagg, Shamrock, 2 up.

BUSINESS MEN HURT

TYLER, July 16. (AP)—A. L. Edens and P. R. Nesbitt, business men of Beckville, were injured seriously last night near Arp, 15 miles south of here, when their automobile collided with a Missouri Pacific train. Edens suffered a fractured skull.

Mrs. C. A. Wells had a major operation this morning at McKean & Connor hospital.

ried to safety by other warriors. A white man scalped was one more white man eternally denied the privileges of the happy hunting ground, and the scalp attached to a brave's belt was one more badge of honor. By the same token, the Indian feared to lose his own scalp with the greatest fear he knew. To save the scalp of a dead comrade, two, three, or four Indians would risk their own lives.

Ten Indian scalps waved aloft were better "medicine" for the white man and the worst of "bad medicine" to the chiefs—much more effective than an equal number of guns, Green said. When the genuine article became scarce in the white men's camps, an excellent substitute was manufactured from horse tails and old leather.

Green, known to his companions and friends of the frontier as Antelope Alf, began his cowboy life in 1878 or '79, when he drove 4,000 head of cattle over the Jackboro trail from Central Texas to the newly founded Curtis ranch on Jonah creek, near where Memphis now stands. He worked on the Curtis ranch for several years, sharing in the long cattle drives and the far-flung round ups that marked the early ranching days with color and romance.

Later he filed on seven sections of land not far from his employer's ranch. A very few months proved that life on the little ranch or farm was too hard for Green's wife. The family then made two homes—one at Wolf City and the other at the ranch, Green dividing his time between them. When his wife died just as the ranch was being improved enough to make life bearable there for her and her small children, the husband decided to leave the cattle business and "get rich on wheat." A wheat farm in Wilbarger county ironically made its one great crop in the first year. Thereafter came six successive failures, which disheartened and disgusted Mr. Green.

Like Old Days

Asked if he liked the old days better than the new, the old plainsman replied "Why, if I knew where there was a place anywhere in the world just like the Panhandle in the old times, I wouldn't wait until morning to start for there. It was a hard life, and I wouldn't try to bring up a family on the frontier, but it was just the life for me."

Mr. Green hopes soon to go to Oklahoma and seek out some of his old acquaintances among the Indians, several of whom were in the battle of Adobe Walls. He spoke their language in those days, and believes that he can now learn from the Indians a phase of the Panhandle's early history which can be had in no other way. The Indian's side of the troublesome times, he thinks, would perhaps be as interesting as the tales he and others of the old plainsmen can tell.

$10,000.00 IN GOLD

to those who explain the Modern Miracle

A HOME washer with a washing speed for every type of fabric! And as if that weren't revolutionary enough—washing speeds are changed without the use of a clutch or shift of a gear!

A genuinely new scientific principle as startling as the automobile differential. Every woman has known for years the need for a washer with a chignon speed for chiffons... a linen speed for linens... and faster water action for heavily soiled pieces.

Now it is a fact! With no gears to shift... no pedals to press... no clutches to throw.

$10,000.00 in Gold will be paid for the best letters expressing opinions on the why and wherefore of this modern washer. The contest is open to everybody.

The main thing is to try! Contest closes October 31, 1929.

Come in and get complete contest information free. We'll be glad to answer all your questions about new, revolutionary SELECT-A-SPEED.

Absolutely no obligation to buy or sell anything. Open to everybody. Don't delay. Give your plenty of time to write the winning answer.
