Narcotic Charges Filed Against Two Men Arrested Here Recently

TO BE TRIED IN AMARILLO COURT SOON

Federal Officers Take Charge of Smith And Denny

ARE WANTED IN SEVERAL TOWNS

Both Had Quantity Of Morphine When Arrested

Handcuffed to each other, L. B. "Hardboiled" Smith and Emmet Denny were taken to Amarillo this afternoon by U. S. Marshal B. F. Harper to be tried in the federal court on narcotic charges which were filed yesterday by A. E. Gaten, U. S. narcotic agent of San Antonio.

Smith, who is known to officers throughout the southwest as "king of dope peddlers," and Denny were arrested here Aug. 16 in a raid conducted by city officers T. F. Collier, W. J. Turpin, and H. C. Cottrell. They have been held in the local jail since. Gaten was here yesterday investigating the charges of local officers. Satisfied, he went back to Amarillo and filed them in the federal court.

Smith has served in the state penitentiary at Huntsville and Denny a term in the Oklahoma state penitentiary at McAlester, Okla. Both are said to be wanted in a half-dozen Texas cities. Also both have been principals in shooting affrays with Rangers, U. S. Marshals and city police officers in various towns in Texas. W. J. Turpin accompanied the prisoners and Marshall Harper to Amarillo where the men will be lodged in jail, pending trial.

The arrest of Smith and Denny marks the break-up of a narcotic-peddling gang which has operated in Pampa at various times during the past six months, officers say. Both Smith and Denny were arrested with a quantity of morphine in their possession.

Legion Delegates To Convene At Port Arthur, Texas

Pampa's delegation to the state convention of the American Legion, the Legion auxiliary, the Eight and Forty, and the Eight and Forty, which is to open Sunday in Port Arthur for a four-day session, will include a representative of each organization.

Mrs. W. E. Taylor, chaplain of both the auxiliary and the Eight and Forty, and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell will attend as delegates from the local auxiliary unit. Mrs. W. C. Cordova, who is president of the Eight and Forty salon and state chaplain of the organization, will act as a delegate for both of the women's groups. The Legion and the Eight and Forty will be represented by J. A. Pearson, grand chef de train of the latter body. The party will leave tomorrow for Port Arthur.

Negro Scheduled To Die In Chair Is Granted Stay

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. (P)—Jesse Charles, Liberty county negro, scheduled for electrocution at Huntsville prison tomorrow, was granted a week's stay by Governor Moody today.

The governor said he acted at the request of the district attorney, who is investigating statements that some one else may have killed Winfred Knipple, white, for whose murder at Devers on August 16, 1928, Charles was convicted.

The governor revealed also the board of pardons had recommended commutation in Charles' case, believing there may be some doubt of the negro's guilt. One of the principal witnesses against Charles is said to have repudiated his testimony.

Federal Narcotic Agent Wounded By 2 Dope Peddlers

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22. (P)—Clarence U. P. Moore, federal narcotic agent, was shot and dangerously wounded here today by one of two narcotic peddlers he sought to arrest.

Moore, narcotic officials said, was responsible for some of the extensive narcotic raids and arrests in New Orleans in recent months.

Accompanied by Agent Piper, Moore sought to arrest two alleged peddlers in Bourbon street. The two men were spotted in their automobile, and Moore ordered their surrender. Instead one of the men pulled a gun and fired.

Moore fell in the street with a bullet wound in the head.

The men escaped.

Check Exchange Robbed of $2,000

WINK, Aug. 22. (P)—Paul Jette's check exchange, located in the Saxon Drug store here, was held up by a masked man today, who escaped with over $2,000 in currency. An accomplice joined the robber at the door of the drug store. Shortly after the robbery police arrested a suspect.

Senate Membership Has Two Weeks To Study House Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (P)—The senate membership, which will enter upon its tariff debate September 4, will have the larger part of the next two weeks to study the house measure as revised by the Senate finance committee Republicans in preparation for the struggle to come.

The committee majority had only a few minor administrative provisions to act upon today before completing its task of rewriting the bill. Meanwhile, predictions were increasing that final congressional action on the measure could not be completed before the regular special session and that the debate would extend into the regular session beginning in December, with prospects that final enactment would be further delayed in that event.

Rate sections of the bill already have been available to Democratic members of the committee, who had no part in rewriting the measure, and the administrative sections will be ready soon for their consideration.

In its revision of the administrative sections, the committee majority, after approving house provisions to enable the tariff commission to consider competitive conditions as well as production costs in determining bases for imports, voted to retain the presidential power to advance or reduce rates as much as 50 per cent but rejected proposals to increase the commission membership to seven and to eliminate the present law's provision that not more than three could be members of the same party.

Material Shortage Delays Headway on County Courthouse

Delay in receiving sand and gravel shipments is slowing down construction of the county courthouse, Architect W. R. Kaufman says. The gravel pits near Channing are providing material for most highway-street construction and building projects in the Panhandle and a similar delay in receiving shipments is being experienced elsewhere, it is understood. As soon as gravel arrives the crew of laborers will be increased.

About six bricklayers are now employed erecting the walls of the courthouse. Most time was lost in rearing the steel work which required three months. The builder's contract calls for completion of the courthouse by Oct. 15 but it cannot possibly be finished before January, Mr. Kaufman says.

Police sought a rejected suitor in connection with the crime.

Burned To Death In Bed—Lighted Cigarette Cause

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 22. (P)—Benson Hester, 28, was burned to death today, and his brother, Carroll Hester, was seriously injured as the result of asphyxiation and shock, in a fire believed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette.

Awakened by the groans of Carroll Hester, relatives entered the bedroom and found him near the door, unconscious. Benson had never left the bed, and his body was burned beyond recognition.

Benson Hester was born in Warren, Ark., and his father still lives there. The body will be taken to Warren for burial.

Apportionment For Texas Scholastics Is Fixed By Board

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. (P)—An apportionment of $17.50 per capita for 1,430,000 Texas scholastics was fixed by the board of education yesterday, and the automatic tax board will meet today to finish levying the state tax rate.

Decision of the board of education that the law passed by the 41st legislature directing the board to fix the apportionment of $17.50 if it could do so within the 35 cent constitutional tax levy for school purposes was mandatory will mean that for the year 1929-31 the apportionment cannot be more than $16.50 with the maximum levy, Governor Moody said.

The board instructed S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, to request all county superintendents to put aside from the 1929-30 apportionment 50 cents per capita so they will have $17 a head next year, making the division for the two years uniform. With a balance of $3,300,000 from the gasoline tax in the treasury to the credit of the schools, it will not be necessary to levy the 35 cent maximum this year, Governor Moody said, to make the $17.50 per capita.

The present per capita is $16 and the increase will give the school children the greatest financial support they have ever had. There were 1,409,000 scholastics last year.

Several Planes In Women's Air Derby Damaged In Landing At Various Refueling Stops Today

PECOS, Tex., Aug. 22. (P)—Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes of San Marino, Calif., forced back shortly after taking off from El Paso this morning in the women's aerial derby, crashed her plane into an automobile in landing here today. Both wings were smashed, and it appeared she would be out of the race. Mrs. Barnes was not injured.

Miss Ruth Nichols of Rye, N. Y., who landed first at Pecos, Tex., first refueling point of today's lap, also was the first to arrive in Midland, bringing her craft down at 9:44 a. m. She was followed by Phoebe Omkle of Memphis, Amelia Earhart of Boston, Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Calif., and Opal Kunz of New York.

Several of the fliers encountered trouble on the El Paso-Pecos leg of the aerial race. Shortly after taking off from El Paso, Florence Lowe Barnes of San Marino, Calif., had trouble with her plane and returned to the El Paso airport. She again took the air for Pecos at 10:20 a. m.

Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Calif., in landing at Pecos, "overshot" the airport and smashed the landing gear of her craft. She was able, however, to continue in the race without delay.

Blanche Noyes of Cleveland and Edith Foltz of Portland, Ore., also damaged their planes in landing at Pecos and were not expected to leave that place for several hours.

Mrs. Noyes landed about 10 miles west of Pecos after she discovered a fire in the cockpit of her plane. She said she found a lighted cigarette in a spare flying suit. She suffered slight burns in extinguishing the fire. In landing her plane, the under gear was damaged.

The fliers take off from Midland at 2 p. m., for Abilene, the afternoon refueling point, and the continue of Fort Worth, where the night will be spent. While in Midland, the aerial visitors were guests of the Midland Rotary club at a luncheon.

Pampa Refining Co. Has New Monoplane

Sunday, Tom Reagan, traffic manager of the Pampa Refining company, flew from St. Louis to Pampa in the company's new six-passenger Mahoney Ryan B-5 monoplane. It will be used here for business and commercial purposes and will be available to anyone in Pampa who suddenly decides he must be in Los Angeles, Oklahoma City or Minneapolis in a few hours, says Mac Kennedy, company official. The plane is a closed model.

The ship is a full sister of the "Spirit of St. Louis," Lindbergh's plane. Boyd Kennedy, well known local aviator, will be regularly employed pilot. The ship is equipped with a 300-horse power Wright whirlwind motor. The plane was sold last Saturday to the company by Phil Ponder who has exclusive agency for selling Mahoney-Ryan planes in Texas.

Strong Winds Delay Trip of Graf Zeppelin

KASUMIGAUZA, Japan, Aug. 22. (P)—The round-the-world air liner Graf Zeppelin, delayed on her departure for Los Angeles by a minor accident early this morning as she was leaving the hangar here, again was held up tonight, this time by unfavorable winds.

The huge ship was about to be taken from the hangar and her passengers were all aboard when Dr. Eckener shortly before midnight decided it would be unwise to take the great ship out in view of cross-hangar winds.

There was still a possibility, however, that the ship might leave early Friday morning if a favorable opportunity presented itself.

Nineteen passengers and a crew of 42 will make the voyage to America. In addition to the sixteen passengers whose tickets read from Lakehurst to Lakehurst, a Japanese naval officer and another officer from the general staff of the army, and a newspaper man from a Japanese news agency joined the airship.

They replaced Professor Karklan, Russian geographer, a Japanese naval officer and two newspaper men who came from Friedrichshafen to Kasumigaura.

The new passengers are Lieut. Commander Ryunosuke Kusaka of the Japanese general staff, Dofu Shrai, correspondent of a Japanese news agency, and Major Shinichi Shibata, of the general staff of the army.

The officers and crew were increased to 42, including Dr. Hugo Eckener, by the addition of Chief Engineer Karl Bauerle who joined the airship here after supervising the refueling.

D. J. Perkins of Whitesboro spent yesterday here with his grand-daughter Mrs. R. G. Hughes.

Two Men Shot As Police Attempt To Search Auto

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Aug. 22. (P)—Earl Kreicer and Albert McDonald were shot to death by police chief LeRoy Fisk last night after the chief and Patrolman George Nipper stopped their motor car in the downtown district to search it for liquor.

Kreicer is said to have fired at the officers. Fisk fired four shots from a sawed off shotgun, hitting both men in the head and killing them instantly.

An inquest is scheduled here today. Fisk was placed under technical arrest and held in jail at Benton.

Kreicer and McDonald were about 35 years old.

Famous French Ace Postpones Flight To Overtake Graf

LE BOURGET, Aug. 22. (P)—Dieudonne Coste, famous French flier, had his plane removed from Le Bourget to the Villa Coublay air field today. This move was generally interpreted here as meaning indefinite postponement of any attempt to make a record-breaking flight for the time being.

LE BOURGET, France, Aug. 22. (P)—Captain Djeanne Coste, France's premier aviator, announced today he would take off on his mysterious long distance journey—to Tokyo to race the Zeppelin across the Pacific, or to New York—as soon as weather permitted.

This information was accepted generally as explaining his failure to appear at the field for a scheduled take-off at dawn.

He made a three hour test flight this morning in his plane, the Question Mark, and at the end of the flight announced the wireless apparatus, which had not functioned properly yesterday, was now working at its best.

The French flier was silent as to his exact plans but if he has abandoned his project announced yesterday of a flight to Tokyo, it is believed due to the pressure of friends. It is understood they have been pointing out it might seem ungracious to Dr. Hugo Eckener and to Germany to inaugurate a race around the world and might be interpreted as an attempt of the French flier to detract from the honors which Dr. Eckener is receiving for his great dirigible flight.

It was thought therefore this might induce Coste not to pursue the Zeppelin and to head instead for New York, perhaps meeting the dirigible on American soil.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Powell and Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Hunter left Tuesday to spend their vacation in Colorado. Mrs. Hunter will make a two-month visit with her parents, who live near Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Mae Cook spent yesterday in Amarillo.

Their Profits Prove Puzzle

Federal income tax officials are investigating profits of from 26 to 52 per cent from a mysterious source that are said to have been paid numerous small investors in the middle-west by Elmer Huckins (above), of Milwaukee, and George E. Huckins (below), his son, of Cedar Rapids, Ia. The financier and his son declined to reveal the nature of their enterprise.

Elks Organization Will Be Completed Within Forty Days

The Elks lodge in Pampa will be completely organized in the next 40 days, according to plans made last night by 20 Elks meeting at the Schneider hotel. The 100 applications for membership that have been received will be acted upon in the next month, Sam Fenberg, acting secretary, said.

District Deputy W. E. Settoon of Plainview, principal speaker of the meeting last night, assured the Elks that he and a representative of every Elks lodge in the Panhandle would assist in the first initiation ceremony. Announcement was also made that the Amarillo Elks lodge will attend the initiation in a body.

As soon as organization of the lodge is completed, plans will be made to build a home. The $600 which the Elks' air circus netted last Sunday was transferred to the building fund last night.

Goodies Purchased By Kangaroo Fines Must Be Divided

Prisoners in the county jail have a "self governing" and "self supporting" system known as "The Kangaroo" which this morning drew the investigation of Sheriff E. S. Graves. Not that Sheriff Graves disapproves the Kangaroo which permits the old prisoners to fine the new ones $1.50 each "for breaking in on them," but he's going to see that every man gets his share of the cigars, stationery, etc., the accumulated fines are used for purchasing. The Kangaroo is practiced in most jails throughout the country.

Men who are released after several days confinement have been insisting that "the old-timers have organized into a clique and divide the goodies among themselves." These charges have never been substantiated but Sheriff Graves is going to stop the complaints or "work over somebody." There are about 30 prisoners in jail most of the time, and between 30 and 50 each week who remain for only a day or two.

Miss Walter Young of Cleburne and Earl Cole of Amarillo were guests last evening of the latter's sister, Mrs. Houston Park.

FOURTEEN ARE INJURED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Returning From Hay- ride When Acci- dent Occurs

WERE RIDING IN 2 TRUCKS

All Occupants Thrown To Ground By Crash

GALVESTON, Aug. 22. (P)—R. W. Chambers, Galveston shipping man, was charged with negligent homicide today as the result of an automobile and truck collision near here last night which cost the life of Miss Victoria Van Benthuyzen, 20, one of two young people who were returning from a hayride and picnic on the mainland. Chambers said he was blinded by lights of approaching car. His automobile struck the rear of a two truck caravan carrying the picnic party, throwing its occupants to the ground. Twenty injured youths were recovering today.

HOUSTON, Aug. 22. (P)—Miss Victoria Van Benthuyzen of Galveston, one of 14 persons injured in a collision between a sedan and a truck near Galveston last night, died in a hospital here today.

GALVESTON, Aug. 22. (P)—Fourteen boys and girls were injured, seven seriously, last night when the truck which they were returning from hayride and picnic on the mainland was struck by an automobile driven by R. W. Chambers of this city between Dickinson and Lamarque.

Chambers today was charged with aggravated assault with motor vehicle and was released under $500 bond. He said he did not see the truck until it was too late to avoid a collision. He was returning to Galveston from Houston.

Twenty-seven young people were returning to this city in two trucks, towing the other. Chambers' truck crashed into the rear of the second truck forcing it into the other and throwing all its occupants to the ground. Those most seriously injured were Virginia Stanley, 19, severe ankle wound, fractured rib.

Clara McCarthy, probable skull fracture.

Loretta Abrahamson, 20, body bruised.

Dorothy Bell, 18, arm broken, body bruised.

Victoria Van Benthuyzen, leg amputated in Houston hospital.

Louise Schurwon, sprained hip.

Others injured less seriously were Walter Bell, Giovanna Demack, G. M. Mals, Marie Schurwon, E. White, Velma Stephenson, Jesse Cavon, negro, driver of the truck.

H. Voigt and F. Schurwon were charge of the party of twenty young couples.

Pajama Inspectors Automatically Are Traffic Director

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 22. Pajama inspectors became traffic as 2,500 persons turned out last night for a widely advertised "pajama dance." Only 25 couples showed up.

The inspectors were deputy sheriff dispatched to a casino under the injunction granted promoting the dance. The injunction of Sheriff Cook to interfere with the event, but ordered him to station deputies at the dance hall to see dancers were sufficient clothes in addition to meet "the requirements of decency."

The deputies were on hand for nothing to do. A crowd gathered in place, and traffic became snarled. The officers were directing traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd left on a fishing trip into New Mexico. They will be away ten days.

WASHINGTON LETTER. BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—One of the most interesting things your correspondent finds to do here this summer is to watch that amiable, astute and altogether able gentleman, Mr. Henry Lewis Stimson, the secretary of state.

PROMOTING PEACE. Germany, the maker of war, has become Germany, the maker of peace.

Fifteen years ago, scientific minded Germans were toiling in their laboratories, devising machines of horror to spread destruction throughout the world.

Hated, and feared, they perfected a giant gun to shoot projectiles 75 miles into Paris. Their use of deadly gases appalled the world.

But today, the same scientific and technical skill is perfecting mechanical emissaries of peace to spread good will. The mighty Graf Zeppelin, an outstanding example, coming to the United States to start its around-the-world flight, probably has done more to promote friendship than all Germany's statesmen put together.

The German-built Bremen, the fastest steamship afloat, is making a bid to regain the nation's passenger business on the seas, and it is also creating good will.

And another German giant, the 100-passenger Dornier airplane—is planning a transatlantic crossing and, perhaps, regular transoceanic passenger line.

Swifter transportation always has been a silent ambassador of peace. It brought the east and the west in the United States closer together. And it will break down international barriers, as well.

When man can walk and talk with his neighbors more easily, and do business with them, he will hesitate much longer about going to war with them.—NEA.

HAT COLORADO SHERIFF. We're ready to lead the charge for Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Prowers county, Colorado.

Sheriff Alderman, as you probably have read, is that foot-rough-hewed, two-gun guardian of the law in that remote Colorado county whose tenacity in tracking down a gang of bank robbers puts fiction story detectives to shame.

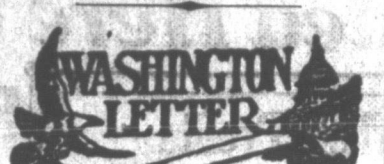

That Colorado farmer, until election by his neighbors a year ago, he stepped into the case with all the sagacity of a scumman of a trained path, solved the baffling mystery, rounded up seven alleged members of the gang in various parts of the United States and has furnished police departments everywhere with photos and fingerprints of the red-ringleader, who escaped him by only 10 minutes in a race.

Which, I think, was a darn good job.

The most amazing part of the whole case is how a farmer, untrained in the ways of big cities and in the ways of criminals, succeeded where other officers, with opportunity to know the ways of the underworld, had failed. It looks like man who probably would be referred to in criminal parlance as "a hick cop" and sneered at by professional detectives has out-smarted one of the most daring gangs of desperadoes the southwest has known since the days of Jesse James and brought them to bay.

It would be a good thing if we had more of these "hick cops" in some of our big cities. They may be inexperienced and perhaps a little unsophisticated, but they are intelligent, upright, diligent and persistent. No thought of graft from bootleggers, no fear of political pressure sways them, and they play politics for a current city administration.—NEA.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—One of the most interesting things your correspondent finds to do here this summer is to watch that amiable, astute and altogether able gentleman, Mr. Henry Lewis Stimson, the secretary of state.

Perhaps a reason why this rather cagey gentleman is so pleasant to contemplate in action is that he presents such a contrast to his immediate predecessor, Mr. Kellogg used to get all fussed and mixed up and he was irritable rather than amiable. Nothing ever fuses Mr. Stimson. When Mr. Stimson tells a fib in the interests of our foreign policies he can be expected to stick to it instead of concocting four or five more just to bolster it up.

Anyone who frequently visits both the White House and State Department feels an altogether new atmosphere in the administration of our foreign affairs. For there's Mr. Hoover in one place, who knows what he wants and isn't afraid to order it done, and there's Mr. Stimson in the other place, who knows how to do things and do them well.

Often Rides Horseback

Mr. Stimson is some 61 years old, ten years or so younger than Kellogg. His slightly graying hair is parted on the side and he lets the big end of it flutter aimlessly down on his forehead. Ordinarily he wears a polka dot bow tie of blue, with white dots about the size of carefully sifted peas. Rimless spectacles he wears, with gold temples, and a medium-sized mustache. Generally he appears, in such weather as this, in a gray mohair suit, which has no vest. Ever so often the suit appears recently to have been pressed. He looks and talks much like somebody's old Uncle Robert.

Stimson, often rides horseback. In Washington he rides every day when he doesn't tennis or golf instead. Also, on occasions, he shoots, fishes or climbs mountains. In tennis he nearly always plays doubles, for he isn't as young as he was, despite his excellent health. The other doubles players usually include Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, and Dr. Leo S. Rowe of the Pan-American Union, and they play on the White House courts. While governor-general of the Philippines, Stimson enjoyed deep-sea fishing; recently he spent a trout-fishing week-end in the Adirondacks.

Reads "Heavy Stuff"

He reads biographies and "heavy stuff" with which it is good for a secretary of state to be familiar. Lately he has been reading also the R. M. Irish hunting stories by Mrs. Moss. One of his favorite books is "The Old Soak's History of the World" by Don Marquis.

But he works hard. He has been trying to read everything that goes on in his department. That's impossible, but he makes a good job of it. It's a rare day when anyone brings up a subject at a Stimson press conference on which the secretary isn't informed. The way he handles himself at these conferences is one of the best exhibitions of its kind ever given in Washington—he is extraordinarily urbane. No one is likely ever to put anything over on him, one fears.

He is seldom at a loss for a snappy comeback.

Texas Scouts Say Prince Not Such A Snappy Dresser

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—The Prince of Wales, take it from a Beaumont, Tex. boy scout, is not such a snappy dresser as most Americans seem to think.

"He had on a pair of sloppy shorts when he visited the jamboree," said Billy Bass, one of thirteen of the Beaumont troop who returned from the world scout jamboree in England.

"But he had such a way about him you overlooked his pants."

The Beaumont scouts were carrying ash sticks and wearing monocles. They are the first of the American contingent to return.

Following the jamboree, they "did" London, Paris, and the battlefields. They carried numerous souvenirs on their packs, most of which were bits of Scotch tartan, foraged from the kilts of the Scotch scouts.

The Scots had very natty uniforms, they agreed, and somewhat with envy one added:

"But skirts won't go in America."

Following a two-day visit in New York, the Beaumont troops will sail for New Orleans Saturday.

Mrs. M. A. Graham left yesterday afternoon for Kansas City to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barnard, who are en route to Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Barnard is to receive medical treatment at Mayo Brothers sanitarium.

Men With Blood Streaked Money Arrested Today

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 22. (AP)—Two men who had in their possession $1,300 in currency, part of which was streaked with blood, a five gallon can of alcohol and a small quantity of drugs were arrested here today. One of the men gave San Angelo as his home while the other said he came here from El Paso. They were turned over to federal officers after an investigation disclosed that one of them had been arrested several times for liquor running.

Mother of Eight To Die Tomorrow

MONTREAL, Aug. 22. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Vieu, 43-year-old mother of eight children, today was in the jail at Hull, Que., where she will be hanged tomorrow for the murder of her husband.

She collapsed yesterday, when she was removed to Hull from the Fallum street jail for women where she had been confined for three months awaiting execution.

Philibert Lafeyre, convicted with Mrs. Vieu as her partner in the crime, was in the same jail, also sentenced to death.

Application Made For Rail Extension

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—The Quana, Acme and Pacific Railway company has filed an application with the interstate commerce commission for authorization to construct an extension of its line between Matador, Tex., to a point about 15 miles northwest.

The railroad proposed to finance the extension by advances from its treasury. The line would run from Matador through the west central section of the country, crossing Whiteflat, Tom Ball creek and terminating near the North Pease river.

The fresh water pearl mussel may attain an age of 60 to 70 years, it is estimated.

Racy French Farce Actors' Mysterious Deaths Are Puzzle

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22. (AP)—The breath of mystery which has haunted the paths of actors in the racy French farce "Easy for Zee Zee" since its opening in a theatre of the Latin quarter here a year ago drew the attention of police today as they investigated the death plunge of Robert Chapman, 28, leading man in the comedy.

Chapman, son of a prominent Piedmont, Calif., attorney, either jumped, fell or was thrown to his death from the sixth story window of the apartment of his friend, Allen Hoffman, playwright and author, early yesterday.

Displaying a bruised face and other marks of violence, Hoffman told police Chapman and he had just returned from a party in the home of another member of the cast. The doorbell rang and Hoffman found two strange men at the door. Hoffman said he told them he had no liquor whereupon they beat him into unconsciousness.

When he came to his senses, he said, the window was open and the crushed body of Chapman lay at the bottom of the lightwell with police grouped around it.

Cleveland Airport To Provide Space For 1200 Airplanes

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22. (AP)—Plans for the national air races and aeronautical exposition opening here Saturday took on the quickened tempo of last minute preparations today as the congress of airmen and airplanes set in.

The women's air derby from California approached across Texas, a derby for men from Portland starts tomorrow, and army and navy squadrons were en route to the airport.

At the airport last preparations were in progress. Space has been provided for 1,200 airplanes, parking arrangements have been made for 38,000 automobiles, and seating capacity for 38,000 spectators has been set aside.

A stub mast is being erected for the navy dirigible Los Angeles, which will arrive Wednesday.

Talks To Parents

By ALICE JUDSON PEALE

"Say, mom, want to go riding with me this morning?"

"Oh, I don't know how. I haven't been on a horse for 17 years, not since I was about your age and had a pony. I probably can't even post any more."

"I'd be a fine sight on a horse and you wouldn't have any fun with me along."

"Yes I would. Anyhow, who cares what you look like? I'll show you how to post. Put on some knickers and come on. You can ride old Donny and I'll take Babe, she's frisky."

Together they went down to the stable, where Jimmy, ever so efficient, showed his mother just how to make a horse take the bit, and how not to let him fool you by blowing out his belly so you couldn't get the saddle on tight. Jimmy helped his mother to mount in fine style. He showed her how to hold the reins and they were off.

They trotted down an old country lane, Jimmy enjoying himself mightily in the role of riding master, coaching, correcting and encouraging. It was a fine ride.

Do you ever give your child a chance to teach you anything? Very likely there are all sorts of things that he does ever so much better than you do. Let him teach you one or two of them.

Riding may seem a bit strenuous, but you might let him take you fishing and show you how to cast. You might let him teach you how to build a camp fire or how to shoot at targets. Nothing so quickly establishes camaraderie as this reversal of the usual roles between parent and child. Don't turn down your child's invitation to teach you something. It is as precious an opportunity as any you will have.

Cubs Slap Three Giant Pitchers And Win 9 To 2

(BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Just by way of proving they were not downhearted at the temporary loss of Charley Grimm, the Cubs slapped three Giant pitchers for 14 blows at the polo grounds yesterday to win by 9 to 2 as the Pirate submitted to their daily cuffing by the furious Phillies.

The net result of these proceedings was to increase the margin of Mr. McCarthy's Bruins to ten and one-half games, a tidy margin even with the regular first baseman nursing a fractured left wrist.

First reports from the medical corps read Grimm out for the rest of the season, if not for any world series games the Cubs may play. Pressed further, physicians and surgeons admitted Grimm's fracture, even though on his throwing arm, might not keep the regular first sacker out for more than three or four weeks.

McCarthy placed young Clarence Blair, Little Rock recruit, in temporary charge of first base, but dispatched a hurry call for Charlie Tolson, optioned to Los Angeles by the Cubs last spring.

Young Harry Smythe of Asheville again put the finishing touches on the Philly victory, but official credit went to Phil Collins.

The score was 10 to 8, giving Burt Shotton's boys four straight over

Bush's men.

The Braves divided a double header with the Reds, winning the first game by 7 to 1, and permitting the visitors to edge out the second by 8 to 7. The Braves thus remained in the cellar, which they now hold by a margin of two full games under the rampaging Phillies.

The Athletics surprised American League circles by dropping a series to the Browns yesterday through the medium of losing the final game by 7 to 5, but the Yankees permitted the White Sox to win by 4 to 3, leaving the standing of the first two clubs unchanged. The A's lead by twelve games.

It becomes increasingly apparent with the passing days that the Yankee record of 110 games won and 44 lost in 1927 is reasonably safe. To beat it now, the Macks must take no fewer than 28 of their remaining 36 games. The old Cub record of 116 victories in 1906 is safe beyond everything but the last mathematical certainty.

Young Wesley Ferrell stopped the Senators cold with his second successive four-hit game, the Indians winning by 3 to 1. It was Ferrell's fourteenth victory.

Detroit slammed Bayne and Carroll hard to win the finale from the Red Sox by 13 to 2. Uhle was the winner.

Venezuela produced 64,436,926 barrels of petroleum in 1927.

English temperance workers estimate that 250 members of the new house of commons will vote for local option.

44 Mermaids Ready For Ten Mile Swim Marathon In Lake

TORONTO, Aug. 22. (P)—Forty-four Mermaids stand ready today for the ten mile swimming marathon off the exhibition park seawall in Lake Ontario tomorrow afternoon. This number passed the physical test yesterday when physicians examined 45 entrants. The only young woman to fail was Ione Lett of Memphis.

Miss Lett had entered the lists with her mother, Mrs. C. N. Lett. The daughter's blood pressure was found to be 106, and physicians said this would prevent her from swimming in water colder than 60 degrees. Mrs. Lett said she might give up the race because of her daughter's inability to compete, but at the last report, she had not withdrawn her name.

Only 13, But He's a Big Leaguer

Gosh, fellows, how'dja like to be "Red" Solomon? He's only 13 years old, but he's going to play with the Chicago Cubs. Here he is, right, signing a contract in New York with Joe McCarthy, manager of the Cubs, making him the youngest player ever to get a berth in the big leagues. The youth's work as manager and third baseman of the champion New York junior Kiwanis team attracted McCarthy's attention.

SPORT SLANTS

Alan J. Gould

They will be tossing the pigskin around in another fortnight and among the squads worth giving some earnest attention to, we can mention Duke, Florida and the championship Georgia Tech array in the south, Notre Dame and Ohio State in the middle west, Stanford on the Pacific coast, Army and Pittsburgh in the east.

Any time Professor Knute Rockne displays optimism, Notre Dame can be counted upon for better than an average year. And an average year for the Hoosiers is not far short of a national championship finish. Any time the Army has a Red Cagle to break loose, the Cadets are dangerous for any foe—Illinois, Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Notre Dame included.

Georgia Tech loses Captain Pund, and Frank Sper, a great tackle, but has such ball-carriers as Mizell Thomson and Lumpkin to worry the opposing defenses. Florida has most of its great 1928 array back, including Quarterback Crabtree and fine linemen in Steele and Van Sickle, the latter an All-American end last fall. Duke, with the most ambitious schedule in its history, will bear as much watching as any team below the Mason and Dixon line.

Stanford loses a flock of stars in Sims, Hoffman, Post and Robesky, the latter a fine brace of guards. Washington loses the great Chuck Carroll and Jesse Hibbs has wound up his career at U. S. C. But there will be no lack of talent to take their places.

Ken Strong, New York U's All-American carrier, is through but one of his running mates on last year's mythical aggregation, Earl (Dutch) Clark will roam the wide open spaces once more for Colorado College.

Pessimism in college football, especially among the coaches, has gone out of style. When Gil Doble was turning out undefeated teams at Cornell, his consistent pessimism always furnished some good copy and comic relief. It seemed good psychology for Mr. Doble to say he expected his underized, if not actually undernourished Phi Beta Kappa boys to be slaughtered by Dartmouth, Pennsylvania or Columbia. If Kaw and Pfann happened to run a trifle wild, as they did most of the time, Gloomy Gil lifted astonished eyebrows.

Other coaches quickly caught on, absorbing some of the Gildobian influence. But the consistent failures of Doble's Cornell teams in recent years altered the situation. The ballyhoo now is in favor of optimism. Even Cornellians, who enjoyed the general laugh over Doble's Pessimism of a few years ago, have swung around to thinking that it is not so good after all. At any moment the veteran coach of the Ithacans may sally forth himself with something approaching optimism over the prospects for 1929.

In the gym one afternoon I asked Babe Ruth about some of the reports, current then as now, that he was near the stage of retirement.

"Blankety-blank," he replied, in effect, "I wish these birds would lay off that stuff. Say kid, when I am through or ready to quit, everybody will know it."

This seems fair enough.

Helen Wills Fails To Get Competition

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 22. (P)—Helen Wills never played tennis more irresistibly than in the present national women's championship tournament at the West side stadium.

In three of the quickest matches on record, the poker-faced champion of the world has overwhelmed two players by scores of 6-0, 6-0, and accounted for a third at 6-1, 6-0.

Her matches thus far have been so one-sided that not even her world-wide fame and her terrific walloping of the ball have been able to keep the attention of the gallery from straying to the matches that happened to be in progress on an adjoining court.

This was the case yesterday when Miss Wills outclassed Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., the country's 12th ranking player in two love sets.

Sergt. Fred A. Allen of the 9th United States infantry has a Belgian decoration which endows him with the title of "duke" in that country.

Six years ago Fred McCann of Merriam, Kas., had 400 $5 gold pieces. He has one left, an American piece minted in 1845.

Jack Hunter of Elk City, Okla., has returned home yesterday. He has been here a week, completing the interior decoration of Mitchell's store.

Houston Slashes Spudders Margin Lower Yesterday

(BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Four days ago Jim Galloway's Wichita Spudders were sailing along six games ahead of the Texas League pack after trouncing the Panthers four straight in a supposedly crucial series at Spodderville. They were considered "in."

Today, battered and crippled, their lead slashed to a game and a half. Galloway's cohorts were up against hard. Following the excellent pattern set for them by the Steers, Houston slapped the punch drunk leaders, 4 to 3, in their opener yesterday and was in high hopes.

Every member of the staunch Spudder mound staff has been pounded hard the last four days. Milt Steenegrave was the Buffaloes' victim yesterday. His support was wretched, four errors being charged to the Spud infield. Spud bats burst into action after three days of almost complete silence, but crafty old Paul Wachtel kept their 10 blows well scattered.

Three northern clubs crowding in close behind the Buffs won their opening tilts on southern soil. Fort Worth and Dallas, deadlocked for fourth and fifth places, were only four and a half games off the top today. Prospects were for a tight scramble right down to the tape.

Shreveport clung to third place by rallying to beat the Indians, 3 to 2, in their inaugural. Hap Collard won his own game when he drove in two runs with a single in the ninth. Joe Giard lost his when he uncorked a wild throw with a double play in sight in the same round.

The Steers ran their victory string to six when they outslugged the Cubs, 14 to 10, in the first at Waco. There was some prodigious clouting first and last. Stuvengen of the Cubs smacked three homers in consecutive times at bat. His first basing opponent, Radcliff, poled two homers and two singles. There were eight four-baggers in all.

Hanson exploded in the sixth and the Cats won their opener at Beaumont, 9 to 6. Six runs were scored in the eventful round. In all, the Panthers accumulated 17 knocks, including a homer by the new catcher, Tillman. Lefty Walkup got credit for the win.

WACO SHORTESTOP SOLD
WACO, Aug. 22. (P)—Wayne Windle, Waco Texas League star shortstop for the last three seasons, has been sold to Dallas for 1930 delivery. President Turner of the Cubs announced today. Windle brought $3,500.

Within five minutes after he has finished lambasting them he is laughing and slapping backs with his republican friends.

Byron Patton Harrison—the "Mississippi bearcat"—one of the main reasons why the United States senate is such a good show.

The next few weeks will see Pat Harrison at his best. The long and bitter tariff fight is just ahead. And the Mississippi senator counts as lost that day whose low-descending can does not find him caustically criticizing the republican party and its works.

He will be 48 years old August 29, about the time the senate begins to get warmed up on the Hawley-Smoot bill. Those who are fortunate enough to be around the senate chamber are sure to feel the rapier of his wit, his sarcasm, his logic, flashed with every opportunity.

One of the outstanding men of the senate, yet, there is the same simplicity about Pat Harrison that characterized him as a boy in Crystal Springs, Miss., when he was delivering papers to subscribers there.

SUPPORTED FATHER

Senator Harrison comes from a family of fine stock, impoverished during the civil war. His father, an invalid from wounds received as a confederate soldier, was supported by his son for many years.

He used to drive a hack from Crystal Springs out to the chautauqua grounds—15 cents a passenger one way or 25 cents the round trip. His two little rabbit-mules earned many a dollar for him.

He played semi-professional ball to help pay expenses; and waited on tables at Louisiana State university to get an education.

He taught in a country school and studied law at nights. At one time he served as principal of a town school.

The district attorney of his district died and Harrison was among the candidates. He was elected. Later he ran for congress and was elected. And then came the seat in the senate.

MAKES THEM LIKE IT

His colleagues agree that Pat Harrison is never half so bad as he seems to be. Occasionally, after he has kept pushing his finger against a raw republican nerve for several days, two or three are provoked to a few angry screams.

But not for long. Within a few minutes they may be seen seated on the same couch, smoking and laughing at each other's stories. He has the happy faculty of being effective in debate without being personally offensive.

He is the embodiment of courtesy. Not for him the knife-thrusts of his colleague Cawley of Arkansas, the sarcastic incisions inflicted upon the northern side by his predecessor John Sharp Williams, nor the thunder of Robinson, the minority leader.

Harrison is the honeyed way, the broad highway banked with flowers, the path of delight.

As one of his colleagues has put it: "If we must die under the blows of speech, let Pat Harrison be the executioner."

ARTISTIC REFRIGERATION

By HAZEL REAVIS

PARIS (AP)—When thermometers seemed to stick at 90 degrees fahrenheit a lot of people who don't know a Holbein from a Holstein went to the Louvre museum to get cool. And they did.

It was one of the most comfortable spots in town, for the ancient kings built thick walls around themselves. America's refrigerated movies are no cooler. Some of last winter's cold air lingers in the Louvre, and as soon as the populace discovered it was there they came on the free days with sandwiches concealed in their pockets, prepared to stay until the guards put them out at night.

Speaking of the Louvre, there is talk of a plan put forward by two architects, Robert Martine and Jeanne Marie, to tunnel under the Square Court, providing a subterranean gallery where the sculpture could be better displayed, leaving the ground floor, mostly devoted to it at present, for other things.

The Louvre treasures outgrew their quarters years ago, but there seemed to be nothing to do about it, kings being as dead as they are in France and the town having grown up like wild weeds around their ancient palaces.

The proposed excavation would in no way alter the exterior of the museum, architecturally one of the wonders of Paris. Glass tiling would be substituted for the old flagstones in the court. It is proposed to dig within the interior facades so that foundations of the palace would not be weakened.

SITTING AND DRINKING

A chair on the boulevard gets costlier and harder to find every year.

Between the hours of 8 and 10 you may wander quite a way without finding any place on the Boulevard de la Madeleine or the Italiens, where you can sit to sip coffee or liqueur without being packed in like a sardine deluge.

Enlarge the sidewalk accommodation of cafes as they will, restaurateurs are unable to keep up with the demand for tables. From the Madeleine to the Opera, on the right side looking toward the church, there seems to be nothing but cafe terraces.

At the after dinner hour the boulevard is blackened with people sitting elbow to elbow at the little tables, so tightly wedged that the waiters with their bottle laden trays and hot coffee pots navigate with difficulty and some hazard to the customers.

Similar human anthills are lighted up by the frivolous pink and blue electric signs of the Champs Elysees, masses of black against the illumination.

Congestion is worst and crowds thickest, however, on the Boulevard Montparnasse.

Thickest and stickiest are the crowds that are glued to the sidewalks from the Dome to the Coupoles, thousands of pleasure seekers milling around like flies in sugar. Those drink-up emporiums have more than doubled their capacity in the last year and still there is not room enough.

POPULAR PUPPETS

The puppet show that has held forth in the shaded park bordering the Champs Elysees is to be permanently housed, it seems, in a year-round theatre of its own in the Parc Montsouris.

The city of Paris is doing the construction. The puppet show, they say, has become so popular with the grown-ups that the children are crowded out by the big people. The new theatre is to have nursery prices, two to eight cents.

Many people will hope that the new theatre does not mean Punch and Judy are leaving the Champs Elysees, where they have long kept company with the tired donkeys, creaking swings and miniature merry-go-rounds.

Visitors from the United States sometimes remark that Paris has no playgrounds. Not in the sense of bare lots equipped with teter-tooters and parallel bars. But it has many garden spots like the Elysee parking that more than take the place of playgrounds.

3. FOLD WRAPPER BACK OVER OPEN END OF LOAF

IT STAYS FRESH!

Is it any wonder that the demand for Sliced Bread is steadily increasing day after day? The fact is that an excellent loaf like Texas Maid bread possesses added value because it is perfectly sliced right in the bakery under the most sanitary conditions possible.

For the same reason that people value the simple convenience of factory ground coffee and factory sliced bacon, they appreciate bakery sliced bread.

The wonderful thing about sliced bread is that it is better than ordinary bread for sandwiches and toast and it remains fresh and sweet as long as any uncut loaf. Texas Maid sliced bread brings to your table an appreciated convenience plus flavor and food value seldom equalled.

About New York

NEW YORK—Hassam, muleteer of a Syrian hillside settlement, sat in the bustling bazaar of a native city, talking to others who, like him, made infrequent shopping trips to town.

After a while he arose and shambled over to his donkey, sleeping in the sun. Hassam had noticed that the beast's shadow was almost directly underneath it, which meant that it was noon and time to start home.

Through the city streets and up the dusty road beyond, Hassam drove his burden bearer. By sundown they were well up in the hills.

It had been warm in the city. Now it was chilly. Hassam took from the donkey's back a bundle and unrolled a threadbare overcoat.

Stitched inside the coat was a tiny square of shabby silk, into which had once been woven several words. Now they were only faintly legible, "Fifth Aven. . . . New York." But they were meaningless to Hassam, who, being but a poor peasant, could not even read the script of his own country.

He had bought the garment for a few coins because it looked warm enough to protect him against the mountain chill. He now put it on hood on top of his head, and clutched it together in front. As he walked the empty sleeves hung limply from the region of his ears.

Mrs. Lucille Stevens returned Tuesday afternoon from a short visit in Oklahoma City. She is proprietor of Lucille's Smart shop.

Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell went to Amarillo yesterday.

Mrs. Clifford Braly and son, Clifford, Jr., spent yesterday in Amarillo.

WHERE OLD CLOTHES GO

Melkon Murachanion of Cherry street, New York, who says he was the first to export second-hand American clothes to the near east, is authority for the statement that Syria, Palestine and Egypt annually take $1,000,000 worth of men's cast-off coats, jackets and vests, and women's dresses.

The pants stay in America, supplying the negro trade of the south. The men of Mr. Murachanion's native Syria, as well as those of Palestine and Egypt, don't wear trousers. Instead they garb themselves in a dress (preferably a Paris frock of several seasons back), a vest, a jacket and, when the weather is bad, an overcoat.

FOREIGN TRADE
New York is the world's principal exporting market for old clothes. A half-dozen large firms and a dozen smaller ones bind thousands of garments in bales and ship them overseas. Most of the exporters are Turks or Syrians. Only two or three are Jews and they ship almost exclusively to

India. But all get their goods from the Jewish dealers of Division street who go about town chanting "Kesh Of Clo'es."

The bales are sent to Constantinople, where some of the garments, which range in value from 10 cents to 35 cents apiece, are cleaned and repaired at a cost of five cents each. Many are worn "as is." The poorer classes are most fastidious, especially about the overcoats, which they wear as they formerly did their abbas, hand made, woolen cloths that double as blankets at night.

Murachanion said heavy duties are beginning to threaten the Constantinople market. As his own trade commissioner and diplomat, the exporter, a naturalized American, went abroad to investigate.

He said he found the French and Turks in envious mood, the former because they had no second-hand clothes to trade—the people at home wore them too long—and both because the Americans were taking out of their respective eastern territories $1,000,000 a year in cash, instead of native products.

Mrs. Lucille Stevens returned Tuesday afternoon from a short visit in Oklahoma City. She is proprietor of Lucille's Smart shop.

Several Cowboys To Hold Workout For Rodeo Here

Real bucking stock has been secured for the second annual American Legion rodeo to be held here August 30 and 31 and September 1 and 2. Lon Blanset declared this morning. Several cowboys are in the city now and Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock they will try out some of the stock.

The public is invited to attend the workout which will be held in the arena in the Wilcox addition. The stock is pasturing northeast of the city and is in prime condition.

The management of the big event received word from a bunch of cowboys at Sun City, Kan., where a rodeo started this morning. The letter stated that the "whole gang" would be in Pampa next week for the big event.

Bill Jackson, one of the managers, will "clown" the rodeo. The local man is a well known comedian. He was in full dress yesterday afternoon parading the streets.

Tickets for the rodeo are on sale at Fatheree Drug No. 2; Hill's Department Store; Levine's Store, and the K. C. Store.

Bandit Too Sleepy To Finish His Job, Police Disturb Nap

CHICAGO, Aug. 22. (AP)—The bandit was very sleepy. He could hardly keep his eyes open as with a revolver in each hand he walked into an eating place just south of West Chicago last night and ordered 35 customers to put up their hands.

"Line up against the wall," he ordered, yawning.

He was about to search them for valuables when he observed a cushioned bench at one side of the dining room. He went over and lay down, keeping his guns pointed at the others.

"I am very tired," he apologized. His eyes closed. The customers, hands over heads, looked on in surprise. His breathing became regular and noisy. The pistols clattered to the floor. The bandit was sound asleep.

Someone called police. They arrived and shook the sleeper with vigor. They told him he was under arrest.

"All right," said the man, whose name he later revealed is Chester Kopiski, "but come back in the morning, will you? I'm sleepy."

Negotiations To Buy Toll Bridge Made By 2 States

AUSTIN, Aug. 22. —Negotiations looking toward purchase from private owners of the Preston toll bridge spanning Red river by the Texas and Oklahoma state highway departments were started here yesterday when bridge owners conferred with state highway engineer Gibb Gilchrist and W. C. Burnham, Oklahoma pridge engineer.

Further action on the contemplated purchase was held up until meetings of the Texas and Oklahoma highway commissions in September.

The step was taken in connection with the announced policy of the two states to acquire or build at least three bridges crossing the boundary stream to relieve motorists from payment of tolls.

Streaks Across the Atlantic on Fast Run

Her speedy record of five days, two hours and 34 minutes for crossing the Atlantic having been broken by the German-built S. S. Bremen recently, the 22-year-old Cunard liner Mauretania headed across the Atlantic from England in a mad dash to break the new record of four days, 17 hours and 42 minutes made by the German greyhound of the seas. The Mauretania is pictured above, with her commander, Captain S. G. S. McNeil.

HOLLYWOOD—The veritable tidal wave of new movie talent which all but inundated a complacent Hollywood with the breaking of the talkie storm has brought the studios a new full-sized job.

They must familiarize movie-goers of the crossroads and hinterlands with the names and personalities of the Broadway importations so that those names will mean as much in the wide open spaces as along New York's White Way.

They must make the hitherto strange or vaguely remembered names of Broadway's "big guns" stand for real, instead of phantom folk, in the minds of the great movie audience outside

Manhattan and other metropolitan centers.

The several hundred movie magazine and newspaper writers in Hollywood, eager to develop every new angle in a finely combed news territory, have aided considerably through the printed word, but the problem now has given rise to a new form of talkie advertising-entertainment—the "personality trailer."

A variation of the established talkie trailer shown in theatres to herald coming attractions, the "personality trailer" will devote itself to the player rather than to the picture, which is mentioned incidentally if at all. In effect it is a talking or singing "short" so planned as to give the new star or player an opportunity to reveal his talents. Brief in footage, it is supplied the exhibitor free for promotional purposes.

Some of the new talkie stars, such as Marilyn Miller, George Jessel, the Duncan sisters, have more than Broadway fame already, and others, like Helen Kane and Paul Whiteman, are generally known, in name at least, through phonograph records. Still others, such as Eddie Leonard of minstrel fame, have tramped enough to become familiar outside the white light belts.

IS BECOMING ART

Still, observers can appreciate the benefits which may be reaped through added exploitation. Helen Kane, hitherto only a "baby voiced singer," of phonograph and radio to the majority of movie fans, is the subject of the first "personality trailer" being introduced.

The making of talking trailers, by the way, daily develops more and more into an art in the studios, several of which have assigned men to devote much or all of their time to the framing of interesting, novel, effective sales promoters for the theaters.

One Policeman Is Killed and Second Wounded By Maniac

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 22. (AP)—A policeman was shot to death and another seriously wounded in what apparently was an attack by a maniac as they patrolled a beat near the downtown area here today.

The attack occurred as the officers, Rex C. Wright, 38, and Wm. W. Smith, 48, emerged from their automobile after drawing up to a curb. Wright was killed instantly by a bullet through his chest after he had been felled by a blow on the head from a heavy iron instrument. Both were plain clothes men.

Joseph Dodson Choate, 26, was arrested at the scene of the attack after calmly informing officers that he did "it all." He had Wright's pistol in his pocket when he was taken into custody. He was docketed as a "suspect."
