CHEVROLET IS FULLY STRIPPED

Several Autos Are Missing This Week

Car thieves in Pampa are becoming bolder every day and officers of the sheriff's department are becoming more alert in an effort to catch them at work.

Dr. W. O. Klein, local physician, left his car parked at the corner of Guyler street and Atchison avenue while he attended to duties at his office in the Wynn-Merten building.

An hour later he got into his car to answer a call and found it would not move. Upon investigation, he found that the right rear of his car had been jacked up and the tire and rim stolen.

Last evening a Chevrolet coupe was stolen from Jim Henry. This morning the car was found stripped 1 1/2 miles south of the city.

The same evening a car owned by the Smith, McDaniel & McMillen Drilling company was stolen from in front of the Haggard apartments.

On Tuesday night a Chevrolet touring car owned by W. L. Shelton was stolen. It was located yesterday morning on East Tyng street minus all tires.

HISTORY MADE AS POPE QUITS IMPRISONMENT

VATICAN CITY, July 25. (AP)—Pope Pius XI, the first pontiff to emerge from the Vatican since the fall of temporal power in 1870, came out of St. Peter's basilica this evening bringing to an end the long voluntary imprisonment of the head of the Roman Catholic church.

The pontiff, bearing the sacred host, followed a religious procession along the Bernini colonnades and St. Peter's square and blessed a huge throng which packed the historic place with unnumbered thousands.

First came a small detachment of the Swiss guard in the brilliant costumes designed for them by Michael Angelo nearly four centuries ago.

Then came a ceremonial officer of the papal court and a procession of various representatives of the religious orders, chaplains of various churches, various officials of the Holy See, archbishops and bishops including a number of American prelates.

Charged by Girl, Man Kills Self

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (AP)—Jack Gans, 29, former Little Rock, Ark., broker, shot and killed himself in a hotel room last night as police attempted to enter to arrest him on a charge preferred by a 17-year-old former beauty contest winner and chorus girl at the Garden theatre.

Fifteen minutes before the shooting, the girl, Miss Murial Doherty, appeared at a police station with a tale of being lured into Gans' room, struck with a rolling pin, trussed to a bed and attacked.

She exhibited bruises to substantiate her statement of being struck on the head and marks on her wrists of adhesive tape. She told police Gans offered to accompany her on a shopping trip but instead asked to go to his hotel room to receive a book.

LAWYER WILL PRESENT CASE FOR THE CITY

Railroad Committee Prepares Data for Hearing

MUST RAISE SPECIAL FUND

Business Men Think Line of Great Importance

CHILDRESS, July 25. (Special)—An outline of the nature and character of testimony which will be presented by the citizenship of Childress before the Interstate Commerce Commission's hearing on the applications of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern Railway company for a permit to build northward from Childress has been approved by Chamber of Commerce directors.

The outline was prepared by C. A. Williams, who will appear before the hearing as accredited attorney for the city of Childress as intervenor in behalf of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern railway company, and by Jerry W. Debenport, secretary of the two civic bodies. Both were assisted in the compilation of data by the local railroad committee, composed of Martin Crews, Jno. T. Forbis, Lon Alexander, Tom Hardin and Frank Houston.

Pleased With Report

Members of the boards expressed themselves as highly pleased with the report of the committee, which in presenting the report asked for any suggested amplification of the outline of testimony. It is believed that the testimony which will be presented by Childress at the hearing will carry considerable weight and Denver officials have expressed themselves as highly gratified over its nature and its careful preparation.

The testimony will be presented by a number of Childress and Childress county citizens whose business activities are representative of the agriculture, trade and commerce which will most benefit by the construction of the proposed Denver mileage. The details of the testimony necessarily can not be made public until it has been presented before the hearing at Fort Worth, which begins Monday, July 29.

To Raise Expense Money

After presentation of the matter of expense already incurred and the still heavier expense which will be necessary during the hearing, when several citizens of Childress will be required to stay at Fort Worth during the greater part of the hearing in order to be available when they are called to the witness stand, J. M. Crews made a motion, duly seconded and carried, that the president of the Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee to call on the business men for contributions to a fund of $1,500 which is estimated to be necessary to cover expenses incident to the preparation of testimony, courtesy to Denver officials on their trips over the territory in which the new rail line is proposed, and the expenses of the citizens whose testimony will be presented at the hearing.

Thunderstorm Is Threat to Flight of Houston Plane

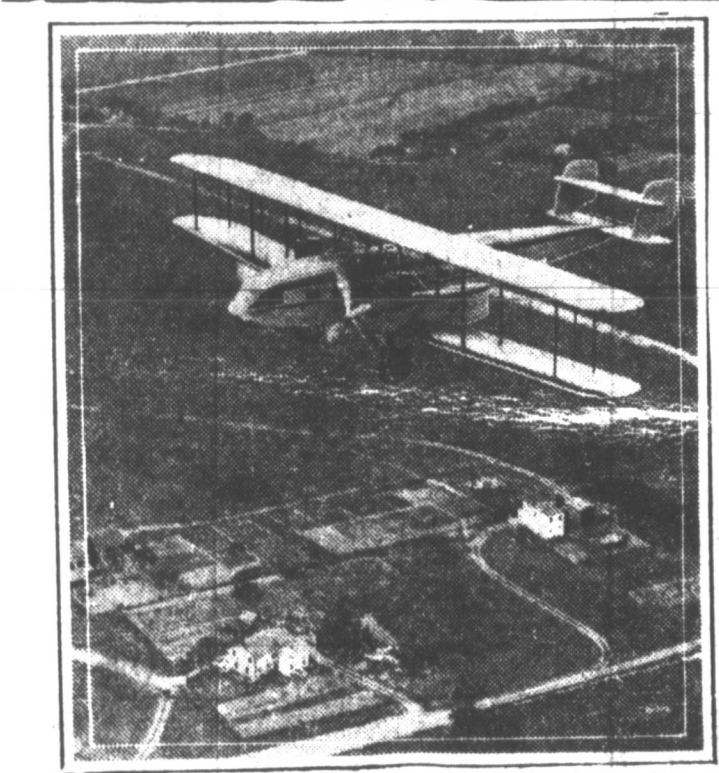

HOUSTON, July 25. (AP)—A thunderstorm was brewing on the Gulf coast today as the monoplane Billion Dollar City dipped and turned high above in its dogged pursuit of a refueling endurance flight record.

Prepared for its possible storm test, the plane at midnight has been in the air more than 178 hours and the pilots, Glenn L. Loomis and Joe Glass, held fast to their declaration that they would attempt to stay up long enough to beat whatever mark the St. Louis Robin may set up in Missouri.

The Billion Dollar City weathered a slight thunderstorm two days ago. Two records, recent but now almost forgotten, were surpassed by the monoplane yesterday. The Billion Dollar City sailed past the "Fort Worth's" 172 hours and 33 minutes record at 6:22:54 p. m., and the "City of Cleveland" stayed aloft 174 hours and 1 minute.

The Houston plane took on gasoline, oil and food for the fliers without incident through last night. Crowds watching the plane were growing.

A "Pullman" of the Skies

It's a "Pullman" coach of the air. Steam-heated, with running water, electric lights and two-way radio 'phone communication, the eighteen-passenger Curtiss Condor transport biplane shown here is the newest development in American air liners. Above, the huge craft, capable of a speed of 130 miles an hour, has been pictured in flight over Roosevelt Field, Long Island, by John Thompson, Pampa Daily News and NEA Service cameraman. The plane has been designed for service on the Transcontinental Air Transport's plane-railroad route across the continent.

PAMPA AIRPORT POPULAR BY REASON OF LOCATION—TWO PLANES STOP EARLY TODAY

The Pampa airport is becoming a popular landing place because of its nearness to the city. This morning at 9 o'clock four planes were at rest on the field.

Promptly at 8:45 o'clock the big Hamilton all-metal plane of the Universal Air line, Braniff branch, landed on the local airport. It was the first east landing made by the ship on its initial passenger service flight between Tulsa and Amarillo, with stops at Oklahoma City and Tulsa. The first landing was made yesterday morning.

There were three passengers on board the ship besides Mr. Braniff and Pilot Ted Lewis, operations manager of the line. The passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Freeman and Mrs. Clyde Dampf, were bound for Tulsa from Amarillo.

A time table and price list will be available at the Chamber of Commerce here within the next few days. Mr. Braniff said this morning. The present trip is a flight test and a definite time table will be established immediately, he said.

As the big Hamilton landed on the field, a Travel Air biplane dropped down from the east. A youthful pilot stepped from the cockpit stating that he was out of gas. He was Vere Schuenneman, well known Pacific coast flier. He was on his way to his home in Ocean Side, Cal., with a new Travel Air plane purchased in Tulsa yesterday.

He left Tulsa yesterday afternoon but after bucking a series of storms landed near Canadian, where he spent the night.

His ship was supplied with gas by I. Van Nattan, manager of the West Texas Air Service, and the tiny biplane started on its flight to the coast.

The other two ships on the field were the West Texas Air Service's Spartan and a new American Eagle biplane purchased last week by Frank Shaw local trucking contractor. Ray Shifflett of Mangum was in charge of the latter ship.

Motor vehicles registered in Berlin numbered 93,462 June 1.

TREASURER OF STATE FAVORS RIGID SAVINGS

Chain Banking Will Be Opposed As One Plank

URGES CUT IN APPROPRIATIONS

He Says Reduction to 40 Millions Is Possible

DALLAS, July 25. (AP)—Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer, today announced his candidacy for governor.

"In response to the urging of friends and admirers throughout Texas, and to what I believe to be a public necessity for someone to be elected to the office who is not afraid to speak out in the cause of the people—the great common head, if I may be pardoned for that term—I make public announcement of my candidacy as a candidate for governor, subject to the 1930 democratic primaries," said Mr. Hatcher's prepared statement.

"It has been a rule of my life to strike at wrong, whenever, and wherever I have seen it, and to defend right in the front-line trenches and it may be that I can now best serve my maker and my state by making this fight from high places—that of course to be determined by the voters."

To Defer His Stand

He said he would point out what he believed to be the issues of the campaign and his attitude on each, but not until after completion of his year as worthy grand patron of the grand chapter of Texas, order of the Eastern Star, October 25, would he make an active campaign.

He intended to take his campaign first to "the boys at the forks of the creek" and then to the larger cities.

He did say, however, he believed reducing the cost of the government "is and ought to be the paramount issue."

"If elected governor I promise the people that it shall be lowered from $50,000,000, the cost for the past two years, to about $40,000,000, the amount spent under the Pat Neff and Ma Ferguson administrations—a saving of $10,000,000 compared with the past two years and fifteen to twenty millions if the program now contemplated goes into effect."

As an aid to such a program he promised reduction of the cost of running departments whose heads were appointed by the governor.

"Chain banking will be another issue in the campaign," he said. "I am opposed to it and will not appoint commissioner of banking any man who will feed the small banks of Texas to the chains." Also I will reduce the number of failures of state banks in Texas by at least half and the expense of running the state banking department by half.

It's Like This—

SELDOM IS ANY PEACE PACT TESTED AS severely as the Kellogg anti-war agreement promulgated yesterday.

The United States has taken a rather brisk attitude in proposing peace efforts in the far East.

Russia has an avowed friend in Senator William E. Borah, who as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee attended the Kellogg pact promulgation and represented Soviet peoples "in spirit".

The Kellogg treaty should have a profound influence upon small nations, whose defenses are needless sacrifices.

ALL IS NOT WELL, apparently, with the new U. S. currency. In the first place, bankers tell us the money does not handle well.

Moreover, the $10 bill, on its back, shows the treasury building without any signs of street car tracks and busy traffic which predominates in that vicinity.

In all probability the public will be glad to accept the money "as is", and to leave criticism of the art to those who disdain purely material factors.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — Perhaps there is something more tedious than making a tariff bill, but no one can guess what it is.

The worst of it seems to be that after these boys have finished their ordeal and sweated a few more weeks to turn out a bill, their handiwork is likely to be ripped all to pieces on the Senate floor.

If the long-suffering reader will put on his gas-mask your correspondent will lead him into the committee room and tell him what it's all about.

Here's a room 50 or 60 feet long and 30 feet wide, which is fairly full. The members of the committee, 16 or 17 of them, are draped around a square-ended table about 25 feet long.

in the rear. Some of them are to make spiels before the day is up.

The honorable senators around the table are all slumped down so that their heads may rest on the backs of their chairs. Most of them are vestless.

Crandaddy smoot of Utah is in the chairman's seat at head. This is his show, he follows everything intently and is about the only committee member who makes a pretense of sitting up straight.

First there's Sunny Jim Watson, the Republican floor leader, who slumps his big frame until he appears to be sitting on his collar button.

Jim Couzens of Michigan, next down the line, stocky, florid-faced and incurably independent, is also usually attentive. Next is Frank Greene of Vermont, who sometimes yawns a yawn which no hand is big enough to conceal.

Edge of New Jersey and Sackett of Kentucky, sit on the end, representing the Republican margin over the Democrats.

TWINKLES

We understand that aviation gives us another chance to quarrel at Panhandle widd. But the fliers can go up to an altitude which is less turbulent, while down here on earth the "ceiling" is in the neighborhood of six feet.

Of course, the treasury department may know its business, but it looks like tommyrot to expect our border patrol to fight Mexican rum runners with ordinary service pistols.

It should not require a "successful" fire to teach Pampans the necessity of keeping the fire department in line with this city's development.

Methodist W. M. S. Social Service Report Outstanding

Four circles of the Methodist Women's Missionary society yesterday held their monthly joint session at the church for Bible study, business discussion, and social meeting of the members. Thirty members attended.

Mrs. R. W. Lane conducted an excellent program on the theme: "Jesus Our Ideal in Opposition and Persecution." Other members of Circle 3 who presented special topics were Mrs. W. G. Caldwell, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, and Mrs. H. L. Barnhart. A violin solo by Edna Johnson, for which Josephine Lane played the piano accompaniment, was a pleasing addition to the program.

Reports given Mrs. R. C. Campbell, social service chairman of the W. M. S., showed that in the last month members of the organization had made 40 visits to the sick and eleven to strangers or newcomers in the city, and had sent 69 bouquets of flowers and 25 food trays to the sick. The society gave $40 to charity during the month.

The social hour following the lesson and the business session featured a dish towel shower for the church kitchen. Circle 2 members acted as hostesses for the afternoon and served dainty refreshments.

DOLORES FIGHTS FOR BROTHER IN COMING PICTURE

Dolores Costello, dainty Warner Bros. star, developed into a fighter of no mean ability during the filming of her latest Vitaphone production, "The Redeeming Sin," in which she is seen as an Apache dancing girl in a low cafe of the Paris underworld.

Early in the picture Dolores no longer the demure maiden of her previous screen stories—springs upon a girl whom she surprises in the act of teaching the art of picking pockets to her young brother. Later, she is victorious in a spirited encounter with Lupine, an Apache thief.

Others in the supporting company are George Stone, Lionel Belmore, Philippe de Lacy, Warner Richmond and Nina Quartero. Howard Brothers directed, and Harvey Gates wrote the scenario from an original screen story by L. V. Jefferson.

Dolores Costello in "The Redeeming Sin," Warner Bros. latest Vitaphone special, with Conrad Nagel, comes to the Rex theatre tomorrow.

Lott Will Meet Borotra Friday

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—Staged with all solemnity in the presence of diplomats, the draw for the Davis cup challenge round between France and America resulted today in George Lott being paired with Jean Borotra and Big Bill Tilden with Henri Cochet for the opening two singles matches tomorrow at Roland Garros stadium.

There was a slight tendency to lengthen the odds but with plenty of American money in evidence, the figures were no more than 2 to 1 against the chances of the United States.

Miss Myrtle White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, was resting well at noon today, following an acute attack of appendicitis two days ago.

James R. Barrett is recovering satisfactorily, after undergoing a major operation at Pampa hospital last Sunday.

CUBS BACK IN LEAD AS HACK WILSON STARS

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Chicago Cubs are back in first place in the National league today, prodded there by the doughtiest fighter of them all, Burly-Hack Wilson.

For it was "Hackenschmidt," with an architectural style that resembles a quarter section of a fortress wall, who crushed the New York Giants with his big bat yesterday after even the elements had seemed to contrive to keep intact a slender one-point margin of the leading Pirates.

The scene was set nicely for the graceful ascent of the Cubs into first place when things began to happen that called for sterner, brusquer methods. For the second straight day, the malevolent Brooklyn Robins, going nowhere in particular but mighty pugnacious about it, swarmed all over the Pirates and beat them, 6 to 4.

Everything was peaceful at Wrigley field. With Guy Bush, ace of the Cub staff, going nicely, the Cubs ran up a lead of 4-0 on the Giants by the time the sixth inning rolled around. Rogers Hornsby hit one homer off Jack Scott, his twentieth of the season, and Hack got another, his twenty-fourth. Everything was under perfect control from a Cub standpoint.

Then the Giants rose and slashed Bush for three runs in the sixth thunder and lightning swept the field, and the game halted while spectators and players rushed through the downpour from flooded bleachers and dugouts. The sun came out in an hour and play was resumed. Bush was out of there. In a few minutes so was Art Nehf and before the interrupted sixth was over Pat Malone was hanging on the ropes and the Giants were leading, 7-4.

But John McGraw's discarded chickens have a habit of coming home to roost—right on his neck—at such times as these. It was the mastermind who sent Hack Wilson to Toledo in 1925 after three poor seasons with the Giants. Hack waited until the seventh when Heathcote and Hornsby singled and then smashed his second homer of the day into the center field bleachers. These three runs evened things. A walk, sacrifice, and McMillan's single gave the boys from the pineapple orchard an 8-to-7 victory and first place by half a game.

The remainder of the National league battling was interesting but inconclusive. While the situation along the American league sector remained unchanged with the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics winning the day's jousts.

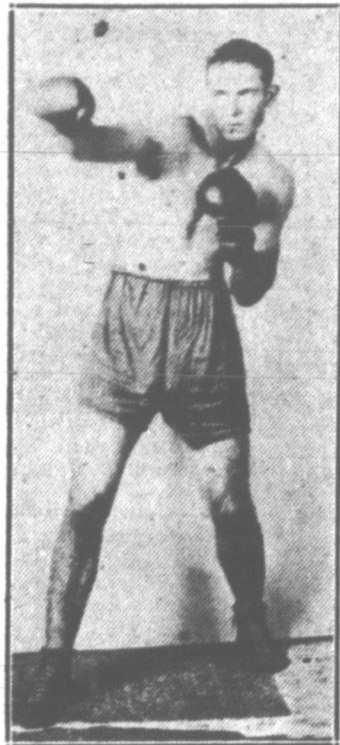

The A's kept their 10-game lead intact by downing Cleveland, 5-3, and the Yanks crept up from behind to edge out Detroit, 7-5.

The Cards downed the Phillies, 6-4, when Wally Roettger, right fielder, hit a homer with the bases full in the sixth and Jimmy Wilson got another with Roettger aboard in the eighth.

The Boston teams struck blows for the home folks both home and afield. The Braves bested Cincinnati 5-3 and the Red Sox took the St. Louis Americans, 9 to 7. Bob Burke won a pitching battle with Alphonse Thomas as Washington edged out the Chicago Americans, 3 to 2.

W. H. Wilson of LeFors has been at Pampa hospital since July 20, seriously ill. His condition was considered slightly improved today.

A Hitter

This is Fighting Dye of Phoenix, Ariz., who made such a hit with Pampa boxing fans that he was re-matched with Joe Snow for tonight at the Pampa auditorium. Snow won from Dye in a sensational battle two weeks ago but Pampa fans were not convinced and demanded a return bout.

Both boys are welterweights. They are sluggers and boxers combined. Besides three more fast boxing bouts, there will be a wrestling match between two 170-pound boys. The wrestling match will be a one-fall decision. A battle royal will open the card at 8 o'clock sharp.

Fight Results

NEW YORK—Al Singer, New York, knocked out Andre Routsis, (2), Joey Medill, Chicago, outpointed Stanislaus Loayza, Chile, (10). Jack "Kid" Berg, England, outpointed Mushy Callahan, California, (10).

LEGION GRAYS FACE TEST IN GAME TODAY

The Pampa Legion Grays are in Am-arillo again this afternoon doing battle with the Wellington T. & O. champions. This is the second game the local nine has faced and it is expected to be the toughest of the tournament. The team that wins today's encounter is expected to be the one to beat for first place in the tournament.

Pampa won over Quitaque in the opening game and Wellington defeated Lubbock. This will be the second game for both teams.

Yesterday Lubbock sent Quitaque home from the tourney in the first encounter. In the nightcap the Tactless Texans and the Canyon Shock Troops battled thirteen innings before the Texans finally scored the tally to give them a 3 to 2 victory.

Win or lose today, the Pampa nine will play Saturday afternoon to go into the semi-finals.

New Champion May Be Crowned in Detroit Bout

DETROIT, July 25. (AP)—With a gate of more than $100,000 assured for the first 15-round championship fight in Michigan under the new boxing law, Floyd Fitzsimmons' chief worry today was the weather which threatened to dampen the ardor of 32,000 fight fans who purchased tickets for the Joe Dundee-Jackie Fields welterweight championship battle at the Michigan state fair grounds tonight.

Dundee, Italian champion from Baltimore, has not shown any considerable fighting ability since he gained the title two years ago and consequently will enter the ring tonight strongly suspected of being about to lose his crown. Fields, who is five years younger and carries considerably less ring experience, has come up rapidly and has plenty of betting support.

RHEM TO GIVE BUFFS GREAT MOUND CORPS

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

The entire complexion of the Texas league race was altered late yesterday by a short announcement from Minneapolis that Flint Rhem, former Cardinal ace, was on his way to join the Houston Buffaloes. He will report as the Dixie champions close their long home stay and start touring the circuit.

Word that the star righthander, who played a prominent role in the Cardinals' drive to a world championship several years ago, will blaze them across in the Texas league the remainder of the season very probably means that the Buffs will be in there fighting for the second-half title right to the tape.

Add Rhem to a staff composed of Jim Lindsey, Joe Brown, Art Reinhardt, Paul Wachtel, Gerald Myres and Schelberg and the Buffs have just about the sweetest mound corps in the league. Lindsey, Brown, Reinhardt and Wachtel have been pitching sterling ball, and if Rhem can deliver anything like he should, Manager Bailey will have five stars to work in rotation.

The junior Cards today are only a half game out of the lead, the result of their second victory in three starts against Shreveport. Lindsey scored his fifteenth triumph when he let the Sports down with four hits and trounced them, 10 to 1, in the final. This afternoon the Buffs open a two-game series with Dallas, marking the last phase of the present series of inter-sectional conflicts.

Earl Caldwell pitched the Cubs into a virtual tie with the Spudders for the pinnacle when he stopped the invaders, 2 to 1, in the series opener at Katy park. In gaining his fifteenth verdict, the Rogers school master gave up only seven hits. Witase allowed a like number, but one of them happened to be a homer by Wayne Windle.

The Steers decreased the distance between their cellar position and the peak to four, and one-half contests by blanking the Exporters, 5 to 0, in their final. Sergeant George Connally kept

Doubles Team Forces French to Muster Best

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

PARIS, July 25. (AP)—France still is confident in the ability of her tennis warriors to turn back the American team in the Davis cup challenge round beginning tomorrow, but predictions of a one-sided victory are few and far between.

The combination of youth and age on the American team has made a strong impression of strength on the French tennis experts, particularly the young doubles team of John van Nostrand and Wilmer Allison.

These two youngsters, one from New Jersey and the other from Texas, who have joined forces with such good results, offer the most important question to be decided by Pierre Gillou, the non-playing captain of the French team.

Yesterday, they took on the world's leading professional, Karel Kozuloh, and Martin Plas, star French pro, and walked calmly off with three sets in which they lost only three games. The result of that match was that Gillou called on his best doubles combination, Jean Borotra and Henri Cochet, to prepare for action.

GEORGE BARR, TEXAS UMPIRE, SETS RECORD

HOUSTON, July 25. (AP)—George Barr, popular Texas league umpire, is on his way to an endurance record for arduous. He has officiated six consecutive seasons without missing a game, the last four years in the Texas league.

Until their separation several days ago, Barr and Ziggy Sears were considered the best umpiring combination in the circuit. Barr has been under surveillance of several American and National league agents and may go up next year.

seven blows scattered and struck out three. The loss threw the Shippers back into a tie with Houston for third place.

Two Fort Worth youngsters, Haynes and Meadows, were belted hard as the Indians broke their long losing streak in the opener at San Antonio. Hobo Carson gave up 11 hits, but he couldn't be touched when it counted in the last six innings. The score was 8 to 6.

Prestige, But Not Money Is Awaiting Golfers in Canada

KANAWAKI, Quebec, July 25. (AP)—Some of the best golfers, professional and amateurs, in the United States and Canada, started out today with joy in their hearts to assault par in the Canadian open champion.

A great field gathered for the title event, rich in prestige but offering only a nominal monetary award. The winner will get only $400, no matter how much he shaves par, but if a pro takes the title, and a pro always has, he can cash in heavily by having it his name.

Mrs. D. C. Madors underwent a major operation yesterday at Pampa hospital. Her condition was considered satisfactory today.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

IRIS MORGAN, wife of JOHN CURTIS MORGAN, a successful lawyer, elopes with BERT CRAWFORD, for whom Morgan has recently won an acquittal. Morgan does not suspect Crawford.

NAN CARROLL, Morgan's secretary, is in love with him. She secretly loves him into his work. For six months she acts as housekeeper for him, winning the love of his child, little Curtis. Morgan tells her he is divorcing Iris and asks her to marry him, revealing the boy's secret of her.

Their forced marriage has continued three months when Nan decides she can stand it no longer. The next morning, Iris, out of her mind with grief, goes to fight and asks DR. BLACK to remove Iris to a hospital.

Morgan tells Nan he wants to provide a monthly allowance for Iris and Nan agrees. Nan goes to see his mother daily. She starts him with a fever and Dr. Black tells Nan it is appendicitis and his diet must be changed. He warns Nan against Iris, tells her she is an unscrupulous woman, and urges Nan to fight.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII

"LOOK what I found, wandering the streets disconsolately and looking as if he'd lost his best friend!" John Curtis Morgan greeted his wife at five minutes to six.

His voice was so natural, so jolly, with just enough of an undercurrent of anxiety as to what she would think of his bringing an unexpected guest for Christmas dinner, that Nan sprang from the living room couch and ran toward him.

"Willis Todd!" she cried joyously, incredulously, as the embarrassed young man who had once hoped to marry her guiltily followed his host into the room. "You don't know how glad I am to see you, Willis! I've been intending for ages to be a very indiscreet wife and beg you to have luncheon with me."

"And now," Willis laughed, "your husband heaps coals of fire on your head by treating me as a family friend."

As soon as he had said it, Willis Todd realized that he had committed a fatal pas. For his unconsidered words reminded Nan that he knew and that she knew of another "family friend" who had grievously betrayed John Curtis Morgan's hospitality. And so both he and Nan were blushing hotly as they shook hands, a fact which Morgan noted and puzzled over.

Then he must have remembered how he, blind to her love for himself, had once asked Nan when she was going to marry her faithful suitor. To cover his confusion, he immediately became very voluble and social, mannerisms which set oddly upon his natural austerity. His was a dry, twinkling-in-the-eye, downward-quivering sort of humor, not the loud-laughing, boisterous kind which he now called to his aid.

"Yes, Nan, my defeated rival here was wandering along Washington Street, looking as disconsolate as if he'd just found out there wasn't any Santa Claus! So I brought him here to prove there is. Look at that Christmas tree, Todd! If it doesn't prove there is a Santa Claus—"

"Here's Estelle, John," Nan interrupted, "bursting with news about Christmas dinner. Just five minutes, Estelle, please. John, will you take Willis upstairs to wash his hands?"

"Sorry I'm not dressed, Nan," the young man apologized. "Mr. Morgan wouldn't give me time to go to my rooms—"

"I'm glad he didn't; I'd have had a tearful cook on my hands if he'd delayed the dinner," Nan laughed.

She waited until her husband and guest had disappeared up the stairs, then followed them fleetly, stopping at her own door near the head of the stairs. Since Willis Todd was to be present at the after-dinner opening of Christmas gifts, he should not be left out in the cold. There was a cravat she had bought for her husband and which she had decided to return, since, upon daylight inspection, its colors had seemed too vivid for his dark austerity. But it was exactly right for Willis Todd.

"Let John think I bought it for Willis in the first place," Nan grinned to herself. "I do believe he was a little dubious when he caught us both looking. Let him be jealous! It's his mood!"

She wrangled the cravat tie with lightning speed, slipped "Merry Christmas" seals, tagged it with a card which read: "For auld lang syne. From Nan to Willis."

She found the two men waiting for her in the drawing room, and obviously relieved when she joined them.

"I looked in on Curtis," Morgan told Nan, as they proceeded to the dining room, which Estelle had decorated as lavishly as if she had been expecting a big party. "He seems better, doesn't he? I proposed to bring his hot milk toast when we've finished dinner and stay with him while he eats it. Poor little tyke! He'd bragged for weeks of his turkey-and-dressing capacity and now he has to content with milk toast. You couldn't relent a mite, I suppose, Nan?"

"Not," Nan looked very much the firm young mother. "Dr. Black has given orders and I'm going to carry them out religiously. But please don't let your sympathy for Curtis spoil your own appetite, dear. I hope you're both hungry. Wouldn't it be a joke on us if poor Willis was in the same fix as O. Henry's Thanksgiving martyr found himself—forced to eat a second holiday feast, while still in the agonies of indigestion from the first?"

"No, really!" Willis Todd denied quickly. "I was exactly the sad young man that Mr. Morgan described. In fact, I was trying to decide whether to eat my lonely Christmas dinner at a drug store fountain and be wholly miserable, or to pay three dollars for a hotel dining room table d'hôte and acquire an attack of indigestion as my regular Christmas blues."

"I like that!" Nan protested. "I suppose you've forgotten what you said last Christmas—that it was the happiest Christmas you had spent since you were a child. Remember how greedy we were and how glad the funny old waiter was, especially after you'd given him a five-dollar tip?"

"I remember," Willis Todd agreed, his mouth and eyes tightening with pain.

"I'm being beastly," Nan reproached herself. "I'm making John remember his last Christmas when Iris sat where I'm sitting now. And I'm hurting Willis, too. I didn't realize he still cared—so much."

BUT there was an unworthy consolation in the evidences of his pain and in the occasional puzzled glances from her husband's eyes.

Although the three of them had talked emphatically of how hungry they were, Matilda O'Brien in the kitchen glowered resentfully at the returning dishes. There was little reward in cooking for love-sick people who pecked at their food, with no more appetite than canaries, as she grumbled to Estelle.

"Reminds me of last Christmas, when that Crawford man sat there and made eyes at the creature who was Mrs. Morgan then," Estelle whispered. "This Todd man is nuts over Miss Nan, and the poor dear mister looks like he's wondering if he's going to lose this missus, too."

That was an exaggeration, but certainly John Curtis Morgan did not look like a happy man, between his odd bursts of forced joviality. Nan, with an impishness she had not suspected herself capable of, flirted openly with Willis Todd, and the burden of her conversation was, "And oh, Willis, do you remember when—?"

Immediately after dinner Morgan called for Curtis' tray and "trudged" heavily upstairs with it. The sound of those slow, heavy footsteps—almost like those of an old man's—echoed in Nan's heart and brought tears into her eyes.

"What the matter, Nan?" Willis asked anxiously, as he dropped down to the couch beside her and laid a trembling hand over hers.

"Is it—pretty bad, honey?" Nan made no pretense of not understanding. She nodded miserably, then dashed an angry hand at the tears. "Iris has come back, Willis. She didn't know John had got a divorce and—"

"Good Lord!" the wrong man ejaculated. "You poor kid! No wonder. Can you tell me what happened? Did she come here?"

Nan nodded and Willis tightened his clasp on her hand until the pressure hurt. But it was a sweet pain. Stammering, interrupting herself at times to shake back a sob, Nan told him the incredible story of Iris' return and of her devastating effect upon John Curtis Morgan. She concluded by rapidly repeating Dr. Black's warning that Iris intended to light her successor with every weapon she could lay hands on.

"Then you'll need a weapon, too," Willis Todd said grimly. "And I've got a dandy! I can place in your hands right now."

Nan's tear-drowned eyes stared incredulously into his steely gray ones.

"No, I'm not talking through my hat," he assured her. "I've got facts and proofs which you're welcome to. I was in New York in November on a buying trip for my firm and one of the big wholesale men took me to a night club. Sure-entertainment for us out-of-town Hicks, you know," he grinned. "Well, it happens he was right this time, for I wouldn't have missed a show I saw there for a month's pay. And the show was extra, entirely impromptu, not a part of the regular cabaret at all."

"You saw Iris and—Bert Crawford?" Nan whispered.

"Of course, you'd be two leaps ahead of me," Willis growled. "Almost the first person my eyes lit on when we took our table was Bert Crawford. He didn't recognize me, of course—we'd never met. With him was a stunning brunette—an actress sort of person, made up to look like a Spanish headdress-breaker, lace mantilla, jeweled comb, Spanish shawl and whatnot. They were thick as flies. The description fits our blond villain, at any rate."

"BUT—Iris!" Nan frowned. "I was so sure she'd been with him after she left John—"

"Oh, she had, all right! No doubt about that. If you saw, wait till I tell my story. It was about half past one, when the cabaret was in full swing, that Iris appeared suddenly at Crawford's table and launched one of the nastiest rows I've ever had to listen in on. It all came out, of course; how Crawford was her property and she'd not stick at murder to keep any other woman from having him."

"Oh!" Nan gasped.

"Exactly!" Willis Todd agreed. "It was pretty awful. Before the night club manager could get there to put her out, Crawford had told her, in no uncertain terms, that he wasn't going to stand for her saying anything to him, that he was his own master, that since he wasn't married to her, what was it to her anyway if he married another woman for a chance. Raw! The Spanish-looking vamp enjoyed it a lot. I think she was a little sorry when the manager hustled Iris out of the club. The next morning I read a front page story in a tabloid about 'Row in Nightclub Ends in Suicide Attempt!'"

"Did it bring Iris' name?" Nan asked, horrified.

"No. She gave a fake name at the hospital, but she took poison in the tabloid which the club manager got her out of the club. The taxi driver took her to the address she had given, and when he started to help her out, he found her unconscious. Took her to the hospital, of course, and told his story, which the papers printed. I checked up on the apartment house address and found that they'd been living there as Mr. and Mrs. Chastield. I wasn't just trying, honey. I wanted the information for you, in case you ever needed it—as I had a hunch then you might. And now you do need it. Use it."

Nan shook her head drearly.

"No. How could I? I can't blackmail Iris, no matter what she does to me. And I would rather die than repeat that horrible story to John Curtis Morgan. It might hurt him with her, but it would undoubtedly kill all his love for me. No, I can't fight that way. But I'm glad you told me, Willis. It makes me all the more determined to save my two menfolk."

"He still doesn't have an inkling about Crawford?" Willis asked.

"No. Sometimes I've been tempted to show him that letter from Crawford to Iris, but—I'd rather lose him than hurt him that way."

"Darling, gossamer little Nan!" Willis Todd said huskily, as he put his arm about her shoulders and pressed her wet cheek against his. "Do you wonder I'm not able to love any other girl?"

"And that was the tabloid which John Curtis Morgan interrupted." (To Be Continued)

Markets

WHEAT TURNS UP
 CHICAGO, July 25. (P)—Wheat scored sharp upturn today after an irregular start. Reports of worse crop conditions in Canada as well as of premature ripening and widespread black rust on upper stems in Minnesota and the Dakotas were strengthening factors.

Opening 3-8c off to 3-4c up, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn, oat and provisions likewise advanced, with corn starting unchanged to 3-8c lower but subsequently making a general climb.

Wheat Embargo at Fort Worth Is Barely Possible

DALLAS, July 25. (P)—Possibility of a wheat embargo at Fort Worth is admitted by R. C. Andrews, district manager of the car service division of the American Railway association, but he sees a trend in the other direction.

Mr. Andrews said last night that although wheat accumulations there are "rather excessive," he did not foresee any immediate embargo.

He added reports reaching him indicated many producers, having sold enough wheat for ready cash, were holding back the grain to await market developments. This condition, he declared, would operate to remove congestion at such points as Fort Worth, Houston and Galveston.

Tacoma Aviator Test Plane for Flight to Tokyo

TACOMA, Wash., July 25. (P)—A test flight today was expected to make Lieutenant Harold Bromley ready for his projected non-stop flight from Tacoma to Tokyo, 4,700 miles. If the test flight satisfies the aviator, and if the weather permits, he probably will start the long hop at dawn tomorrow.

The work of checking the instruments of Bromley's plane, the City of Tacoma, continued until late yesterday and ended with the enthusiastic "ok" of C. W. Paxson, the Pratt and Whitney motor expert, and mechanics from the Lockheed aircraft plant where the ship was built.

AMERICAN YOUTH ON TRIAL IN ENGLAND

LONDON, July 25. (P)—The manslaughter trial of Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy 23-year-old American, came to an abrupt and sensational end today.

The judge discharged the jury and adjourned the case for retrial when it was reported to him the jury foreman had been seen in conversation last night with two witnesses for the defense.

Justice Humphrey exonerated the American defendant from any blame in connection with the incident causing the mistrial.

Chicago Bombs Break Windows—No One Injured

CHICAGO, July 25. (P)—The Loop, million dollar heart of Chicago business, was rocked shortly before last midnight by a bomb explosion.

No one among the thousands of persons who were in the south end of the Loop at the time was hurt, a circumstance which police regarded as miraculous, for glass rained from upper story windows for many minutes.

The bomb had been placed in an alley entrance of the Davis company department store, less than 35 feet from Jackson Boulevard, swarming with thousands of motorists, and about midway between two Loop arteries, Wabash avenue and State street.

Philip Twanski, garbage collector, came upon the bomb, so neatly packaged he believed it to be a bundle of some one had dropped. He picked it up and on end of it was warm. He thought it contained sandwiches, and he put it carefully back where he found it and walked away. A moment later he told police, he decided to retrieve the package "before someone else did."

As he turned the bomb exploded.

Only a few minutes later a bomb exploded on 22nd street, between Michigan and Wabash avenues. Windows in the Equitable Trust company building on Michigan were broken, and 20 operators in the Calumet exchange of the Illinois Bell Telephone company were momentarily panic stricken.

There was no motive for either bombing apparent to police.

Speedboat Sets New Distance Mark on Mississippi

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (P)—Dr. Louis Leroy's speedboat, the Bogie, docked at St. Louis at 6:35 a. m., today, clipping 2 hours and 43 minutes off the 59-year-old record of the Robert E. Lee, for a boat trip from New Orleans to St. Louis.

The record 1,154-mile trip over the Mississippi river was completed in 87 hours and 31 minutes, while the record of the packet Robert E. Lee, made in 1870, was 90 hours and 14 minutes.

Dr. Leroy ignored one scheduled refueling stop at Chester, Ill., in his dash over the final 50 miles of the stretch to reach the city wharf to set a new mark.

The Robert E. Lee's record, which had stood despite many attempts to better it, was made in a race with the Natchez, which ended July 4, 1870.

Seeks Union of Presbyterians

Dr. William Covert Chalmers, above, of Philadelphia, will make the keynote address at Pen-Mar, Pa., Aug. 1 when delegates from 13 different branches of the Presbyterian church meet to discuss a probable merger of all factions into one union. Such a merger would bring together 18,600 churches and more than 3,000,000 members. Dr. Chalmers is general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

St. Louis Fliers Soon Will Be in Air 300 Hours

ST. LOUIS, July 25. (P)—Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine spent another night aloft in the St. Louis Robin and at 12:17 p. m., today had passed the 293-hour mark.

It exceeded the former record for sustained flight by more than 40 hours. Preparations were under way for refueling.

That the men would lose weight on the long flight seemed foregone. Dr. A. C. Leggat, flight surgeon at the field, said he expected Jackson to lose about 20 pounds and O'Brine about 10. The latter weighed 138 1-2 at the examination before taking off, while Jackson tipped the scales at 154.

In a note asking about the sound of the motor, Jackson said he couldn't tell how it sounded. "We sleep by it, eat by it, wake up by it, and oh, do everything by it and around it and behind it. When we get through up here we will need a motor at home to sleep by."

Rural Aid Bill Signed by Moody

AUSTIN, July 25. (P)—The $5,000,000 rural aid bill was signed, and the resolution proposing a trip of legislators to Washington in an effort to obtain a veterans' bureau hospital for Texas was vetoed, by Governor Moody yesterday.

He filed without his signature the Veatch bill appropriating $2,500 to rebuild a school building in Cuba common school district, Johnson county, destroyed by a tornado.

The rural aid bill was $500,000 less than the one vetoed by the governor, with all other money bills, at the conclusion of the second called session.

In disapproving the Washington junket trip the governor said he did not believe Texas should officially, from public funds, send men to Washington to lobby before congress.

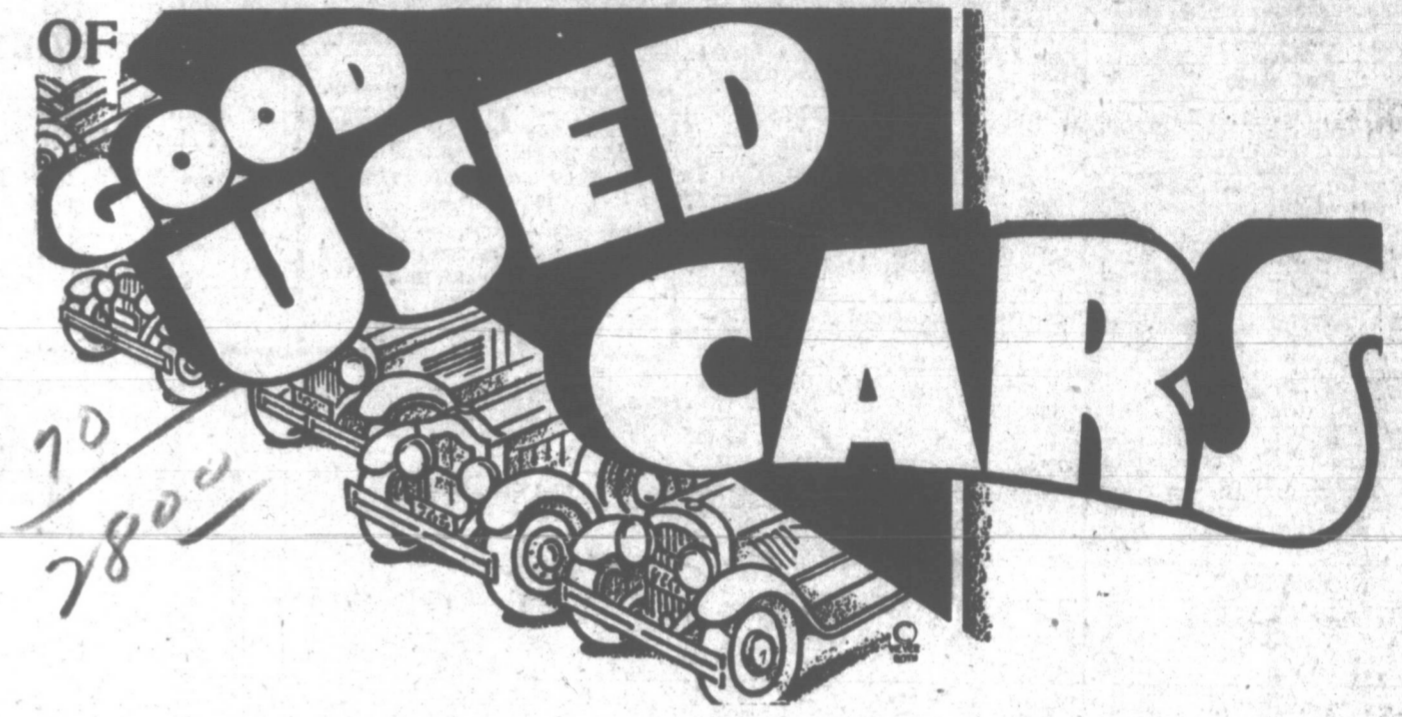

Leahy Defense Granted Recess

GEORGETOWN, July 25. (P)—After calling one witness, Mrs. J. R. Sullivan of Corpus Christi, sister of the defendant, the defense in the Harry J.

Leahy sanity trial rested this morning, torneys that they might arrange their and a recess was granted state's at-list of witnesses.
