Phillips Company Brings in Gray County's Largest Gusher Well

INITIAL FLOW 400 BARRELS IN EACH HOUR

Peak Production at Early Hour Is Sensation

ON NORTH EDGE OF NEW POOL

Sixteen Other Tests Are Nearing the Horizon

Gray county's biggest gusher came last night when the Phillips Petroleum company's No. 4 Palmer in the southwest corner of the east 120 acres of section 31, block B-2, hit the big pay. In the first hour, the gusher flowed 400 barrels. From the start the producer increased its flow until between 4 and 5 a. m. this morning the well made 840 barrels.

A ten-hour gauge showed a flow of 600 barrels of high gravity oil. The flow began to decrease after the big hour, but at noon the gusher was going at the rate of 450 barrels an hour.

The new sensation is located on the north edge of the Finley-Brown pool. It is a south offset to the Texas company's No. 2 Coombe-Worley in section 28, block 3, which came in last Monday for 300 barrels a day. The Phillips Oil Company has a west offset drilling and Texas company has a west offset.

The bit dropped into the big pay last evening at 7 o'clock. The hole is bottomed at 2,250 feet. A flow of 45,000 feet of gas was found with the oil.

There are sixteen drilling wells in the immediate territory of the new gusher. Several are nearing the pay and should be drilled in within the next week.

The new Phillips producer is the fourth well to be brought in this week. Gulf Production company got a big producer south of the new well to extend the field a half mile. Phillips got the first one in the Bowers-McGee pool. Texas company brought one in a gusher in the Bowers-McGee pool.

There are at least 50 wells in the county drilling below 2,500 feet.

New Bus Station Is Opened Today

The new Safety First bus station was officially opened this morning. All buses, whether operating under the Safety First bus company or not, will make the new terminal their headquarters.

Safety First's new home is located on East Atchinson avenue across the street from the Santa Fe depot and a half block east of Cuyler street. A large brick building was erected by Jess Fletcher and leased to the bus company.

Besides the large storage space for buses a large repair shop will be maintained to service all vehicles. The front of the building has been divided into office space, baggage room, rest rooms and waiting room.

According to Safety First officials, several new buses will be purchased and a new line connecting with the Pickwick stage at Clinton, Okla., for Oklahoma City will be started soon. No schedule has been prepared.

Time tables have not been altered and buses leave the new terminal at the same times.

Great Parade Will Be Feature Next Labor Day

A huge parade which will open Labor day observances here was planned and a celebration to afford entertainment for hundreds of members of organized labor and other citizens was outlined last night by three committees of the Central Labor body.

The parade will include decorated floats flying the banners of the various unions and alliances of the city, as well as all available members of the unions, either marching or driving their cars. All business houses and organizations, churches, civic bodies, teachers' organizations, post office employees, and retail clerks will be invited to participate, according to J. B. Bishop, publicity chairman.

With a basket picnic strongly favored as the main celebration of the day, definite plans are yet to be perfected. Whatever form the festivities take, Mr. Bishop said, they will feature addresses, singing, athletic events with prizes offered, and a baseball game between industrial teams.

Arrangements will be completed by the entertainment committee, of which J. G. Sedlow is chairman; the parade committee, headed by H. C. Price, and the publicity committee, of which Mr. Bishop is chairman; at regular meetings following the weekly sessions of the Central body each Thursday evening, and at called meetings of the three groups.

Merchants will not be asked to close their places of business for longer than the period of the parade, it was announced by Mr. Bishop, who said that no little dissatisfaction resulted from the attempt of some merchants to close last Labor day, while others kept their business open.

The publicity chairman said further that advertising for and in connection with the event this year would be limited to displays on the floats, with no advertising space sold in pamphlets or books.

"The merchants here certainly were 'gypped' last year by out-of-town advertising salesmen," Mr. Bishop said. "The merchants got nothing out of it, and the local unions lost a lot in good will," he added. "This year we will have no book form advertising. Our programs will be printed in local shops and will be plain programs, without any advertising space. All the advertising this year will be in connection with the parade floats, and the money will stay right in Pampa," he continued.

He said, moreover, that "high-pressure" methods of soliciting advertising would not be used—that merchants would be solicited but not urged to buy space on the floats. "In short, all advertising will be voluntary this Labor day," he ended.

Paving on Borger Road Is Opened

Gray county's second strip of paving was opened to traffic yesterday by order of County Engineer A. H. Doucette. The Borger road pavement had set the required time and was pronounced sufficiently cured to handle all kinds of traffic. The full time of curing was recognized because of the heavy oilfield traffic.

The road from the west end of the paving to the Carson county line is in good condition. Officials of Carson county are grading the road through that county and will have it in good condition soon. It now remains to the Hutchinson county commissioners to make progress on the road through that county before a good short road to Borger will be completed.

Ten-Year Sentence Assessed at Miami

Sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary was found by a Miami jury Wednesday evening in the trial of Wayne Roper of Wheeler county, charged with statutory assault and assault by force, it was said by District Attorney Clifford Braly here today.

The verdict was on the statutory charge. The complaining witness was a Wheeler county girl. Roper was tried in Wheeler county several months ago, but a hung jury resulted. He is appealing the Roberts county verdict.

St. Louis Fliers Seem Fresh at Landing

Looking as fresh as if they had just returned from a short auto ride, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien, pilots of the record-breaking endurance plane, the St. Louis Robin, are shown here as they landed after more than two weeks in the air. They are standing beside their ship, Jackson on the left and O'Brien on the right. A crowd of thousands greeted the flyers when they descended at Lambert Field, St. Louis, after far surpassing all previous endurance records by remaining aloft 420 hours, 21 minutes and 30 seconds.

Leahy Goes to Death Today With "His Boots Off"

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 2. (P)—Out in the cow country of southwest Texas where Harry J. Leahy grew to manhood if a man died with his boots on he died a violent and very likely a disgraceful death.

When Leahy went to the death chair in state prison shortly before 1 o'clock this morning for the slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis, his last act was to have his shoes removed.

He walked erect and composed to the electric chair and sat down after declining to say anything to the little group of witnesses.

Prison officials started to buckle the straps and electrodes.

He stirred slightly and motioned for Captain Homer Knichten, assistant warden.

Knichten stepped forward and leaned over. Leahy whispered something and Knichten dropped to his knees and took off the sandals Leahy was wearing.

Leahy was the calmest man who ever walked through the little green door to the death chamber, prison officials said.

Leahy spoke but little during his last hours. In the afternoon he discussed his case briefly with prison officials and newspapermen.

"I don't want the report to get out I confessed," he said. "I was convicted on circumstantial evidence and the testimony of a Mexican," he said, referring to Roberto Martinez, a former employe whose testimony helped send Leahy to the chair.

During the afternoon Mrs. Leahy visited him.

Gradually the shadows lengthened on the prison walls and time for the evening meal came. Leahy was served a chicken dinner "with trimmings."

It is customary to shave the heads of condemned men soon after they have eaten their last meal, but Leahy asked delay.

"I hope for a break," he said. "May be something will happen to stay the execution."

Nine o'clock came and no word of comfort. The prison barber shaved his head clean for the death cap.

BEITZEL EXECUTED

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Aug. 2. (P)—Russell St. Clair Beitzel died on the gallows today in explanation of the murder in Los Angeles of Miss Barbara Mauger of Philadelphia, his 19-year-old common law wife. The trap was sprung at 10:04 a. m. He was pronounced dead 14 minutes later.

ALEX SCHNEIDER IS ELECTED FIRE CHIEF—HELPED TO FORM FIRST DEPARTMENT IN PAMPA

"Woolaroc" Is Due Here at 3:45 p. m.

At Goebel, one of the nation's most famous pilots, and the prize winning Woolaroc plane were scheduled to arrive here at 3:45 p. m. today for a 30-minute stay as part of the farewell tour being made at the instigation of Frank Phillips of Bartlesville, Okla.

A stiff west wind was regarded as fortunate, giving the plane an opportunity to land with the greatest length of the city airport. More than 2,000 feet against the wind was desired by Goebel for landing and taking off.

Today this message was received from M. Loos, secretary to the Bartlesville oil magnate:

"Mr. Phillips, who is in California, requests me to ask you to express his deep disappointment in not being in Pampa today with the Woolaroc ship, as he would like to have had the pleasure of meeting the citizens of your community."

Washington Boy Winner in Edison Protege Exams

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 2. (P)—Wilbur B. Huston, a youth from Fort Madison, Wash., was named the winner today of the Thomas A. Edison competition for choice of a protege and follower in the footsteps of the inventor.

The forty-nine contestants—one from each state and the District of Columbia—were lined up on the lawn of the Edison home in Llewellyn Park as the announcement was made by Dr. S. W. Stratton, president of the committee of judges.

Dr. Stratton was high in his praise of the boys, who yesterday participated in a grueling examination on subjects ranging from morals and ethics to science.

CALLS IN FRANCE

HAVRE, France, Aug. 2. (P)—Former President Calles of Mexico arrived here today aboard the steamship Ile de France. He was welcomed by the Mexican minister, Alberto J. Pani, and his staff. The former president plans to rest and possibly take treatment here before undertaking his study of European railroads in his capacity as chairman of the Mexican railroad reorganization commission. He said he also intended to look over agricultural methods and conditions in the hope of getting some useful ideas for his country.

Outbuildings were saved, however, and the furniture taken from the house was moved to a place of safety by firemen and spectators. Flames from the burning building could be seen from many parts of the city and within a few minutes of the fire alarm hundreds of cars were along the highway.

ROAD OFFICIALS TELL PLAN OF SERVICE

Overnight Trains to Dallas Would Be Run

FORT WORTH, Aug. 2. (P)—Overnight train service between Dallas, Fort Worth, and the East Texas Panhandle would be offered if the interstate commerce commission approved application of the Fort Worth and Denver to build a line from Childress to Pampa, F. E. Clarity, operating vice-president of the Fort Worth and Denver, testified at the I. C. C. hearing here today.

Clarity said trains would leave Dallas at 8:30 p. m., Fort Worth at 9:55 p. m., reaching Pampa at 8:10 a. m. the next morning.

Paster freight service also was promised, Clarity saying shippers in Fort Worth, Dallas and Amarillo would have second day delivery into Pampa, Shamrock, and Wellington. One freight and one passenger train would be operated each way daily, the freight northward leaving Childress at 3 p. m., and arriving at 1:15 a. m. By leaving Childress at 3 p. m. the train would connect with the southeast-bound Denver-Fort Worth and northwest bound Fort Worth-Denver trains, the former reaching Childress at 2 p. m. and the latter about 1 p. m.

Incomes Compared The Fort Worth and Denver Panhandle line to Pampa would show a net railway operating income of $300,000 the first year and $364,655 the fifth year. H. B. Ruch, Denver auditor, said he had estimated. He compared revenues on the proposed Childress-Pampa line with those on the recently completed South Plains branch.

On the other hand, W. A. Blank, assistant general freight agent of the Denver, said he estimated the Denver would lose $343,414.44 yearly if the Rock Island petition for a road from Quanah to Shamrock were granted and the Denver application denied.

Hogsett, general freight agent for the Fort Worth and Denver Northern took the stand again today for cross examination by attorneys of the Rock Island and Frisco railroads in the I. C. C. hearing being conducted here on the applications of three railroads for extension of their West Texas line.

Hogsett, in discussing the Denver's proposed line from Childress to Pampa, estimated that the income of that line for the first year would be $633,900, and announced that on that basis his road would be able to give lower rates on the shipment of cotton seed products between those points than are now given the shippers. The present rate is 22 cents a hundred, while the new rate would be 15 cents, Hogsett said.

In cross examination of Hogsett the attorneys attempted to show that the Denver's proposed line would take away more business from the present lines of the Santa Fe, Rock Island and the Clinton, Oklahoma and Western railroads than would justify building of the new road.

300 Miles of Road Involved FORT WORTH, Aug. 2. (P)—Rapidly nearing conclusion, the interstate commerce commission hearing on proposed construction of nearly 300 miles of railroad in the fertile Texas Panhandle country continued today.

Four major railroad systems which filed applications for improvements expected to conclude today. The hearing, presided over by Charles D. Mahaffie, I. C. C. examiner, began Monday.

The Fort Worth and Denver this morning had witnesses to tell of train service planned over its proposed line from Quanah to Pampa via Wellington and Shamrock while Pampa and Childress citizens urged the I. C. C. to grant the Fort Worth and Denver application.

The Clinton, Oklahoma and Western a Santa Fe subsidiary, then was to introduce evidence in support of its plea for permit to extend a branch line from Heaton, on the east-west line, to near LeFors, a newly developed oil town near Pampa.

In addition, the joint case of the

Good Weather Favors Success This Attempt

SPEED IS 63 MILES AN HOUR

Messages Far Between —Wireless Used for Forecasts

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 2. (P)—The dirigible, Graf Zeppelin dispelled all anxiety over her failure to communicate her position to her home port since passing Gibraltar by announcing at 8:25 a. m. (2:25 a. m., E. S. T.) today that she was making good speed 300 miles west of Gibraltar.

The Zeppelin works reported receipt of the following message from the air-liner:

"8:25 a. m., Central European time (2:25 a. m., E. S. T.), 300 nautical miles west of Gibraltar. 'Traveling at 100 kilometers an hour. Weather good.'"

This was the first message from the Zeppelin at the home office since early morning. Her speed of 100 kilometers an hour made her average speed about 63 miles an hour.

MADRID, Aug. 2. (P)—Bucking headwinds which greatly delayed progress, the Graf Zeppelin, with 60 passengers, crew, and stowaway, today presumably was forcing an arduous passage over the Atlantic toward the Azores where Dr. Hugo Eckener, the ship's master, must choose a northerly or southerly route to Lakehurst, N. J.

From Gibraltar to Lakehurst, goal of the flight, it is approximately 3,000 miles, of which the first 800 miles or more would bring the Zeppelin to the Azores area. From Friedrichshafen, Germany, from which the Zeppelin departed at 9:29 a. m., Thursday (9:29 p. m., Wednesday E. S. T.) on its cruise the distance is 1,175 miles to Gibraltar.

In covering the approximate 1,100 miles from Friedrichshafen to Cape De Gata the Zeppelin took 20 hours and 31 minutes, maintaining an average of about 53 miles an hour, considerably below normal.

An 80-hour trip would bring the Graf over New York, prior to berthing at Lakehurst, at about 5:30 a. m., E. S. T.

LOG OF ZEPPELIN By The Associated Press (All time Eastern Standard)

7:30 a. m., over Nimes, France, heading down coast of Mediterranean toward Gibraltar.

10 a. m., sighted by steamer Dalny over Mediterranean, 50 miles off Barcelona, Spain.

6 p. m., passed Cape de Gata, 180 miles west of Gibraltar.

9:30 p. m. (Thursday) sighted by British steamer Anthes east of Gibraltar.

Sunday. There was general expectation, however, that even stronger adverse winds would prevail from the Azores westward and that the Zeppelin, off to a slow start, would take nearer 90 hours than 80.

Messages from aboard the Zeppelin indicated all was well. In passing Cape De Gata the Graf radioed "all well on board, only a little rain. The temperature is 33 degrees centigrade (about 91 degrees Fahrenheit)."

Another message from Herbert S. Geibel, special correspondent of the Associated Press aboard the Zeppelin,

Keep Busy to Keep Cool Says Surgeon General

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The first item in a hot weather program suggested by Surgeon-General Cummings of the public health service is "keep busy."

A "cheerful frame of mind," he explained, is the most important safeguard against heat suffering. He said the easiest way to attain it was to think of things other than the weather.

Of summer diet, he remarked that "the normal palate is a dependable guide; the best things to eat are the things one wants—fruits and vegetables."

He suggested drinking at least six to eight glasses of water daily and praising the modern woman's lightness of dress.

Local Men Are Forced Down in Field—No Injuries

Two local men escaped injury Wednesday night when their plane made a forced landing in a cotton patch near Sweetwater. The plane was slightly damaged, however.

Bill Morris, pilot for the West Texas Air Service here, and R. G. Allen, official of the local Cabot company, were forced down when their Spartan bi-plane ran low on gas while fighting a heavy headwind after leaving Pampa. The two men took off Wednesday afternoon for Austin, where Mr. Allen was called on business.

Believing he was near Abilene, the pilot began looking for a landing field but failed to find one. A landing was made in the cotton patch and only expert landing saved the two men from severe injuries.

Mr. Allen chartered another plane and immediately started for Austin, where he arrived safely.

I. Van Nattan, manager of the West Texas Air Service left here this morning for Sweetwater with a new "prop" and repairs for his plane. The tail of the ship and the undercarriage were slightly damaged.

Former Army Man To Oppose Mayor "Jimmy" Walker

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. (AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia, swarthy little fighting man who grew up on an Arizona army post and later fought his way up from private to major in the A. E. F., has been picked by New York City republicans to run for mayor this fall against the debonair "Jimmy" Walker, Democrat.

At last night's unofficial Republican convention LaGuardia's was the only name presented.

The convocation was unofficial in that the city holds a primary election which is expected to result merely in endorsement of the conventions choice.

LaGuardia bolted the Republican party in 1924 and got himself elected to congress on the Farmer-Labor ticket. In 1926, he was re-elected as a Republican. He describes himself as an independent Republican.

WASHINGTON

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—The approach of mid-summer finds the national capital more colorful than any summer since the world war.

Credit must be divided between President Hoover and congress. The former is sponsoring heartily the "vacationless summer." Despite the devastating heat, his cabinet has stood by loyally. And the diplomats also have lingered late in town, keeping a wary eye on the progress of legislation in congress.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, set the example, and now a good many of the foreign envoys have established summer embassies or legations within easy motoring distance of Washington.

The British ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard are living at Langley Park, near Hyattsville, Md., only a few miles from the city. Mr. Frederick McCormick-Clothing, owner of Langley Park, has loaned them her home.

The Japanese ambassador and Mme. Debusch live at Blue Vista Springs, in the picturesque Blue Ridge mountains, and the Belgian ambassador and Princess de Ligne have taken a cottage at Olinor Island, Md., for the summer months.

The Brazilian ambassador, Senhor S. Cappel de Almeida, always makes Washington his headquarters in summer, taking his vacation in broken doses by way of motor trips and occasional visits to friends at mountain or seashore resorts.

This year the minister of Czechoslovakia and Mme. Veverka have taken a cottage at Annapolis Park, a pleasant place in the Chesapeake bay region.

And the minister of Austria and the minister of Prussia, and the minister of the Annapolis Roads and tennis club a place to spend weekends.

The Italian ambassador made a trip to the city early in the summer, accompanied by Mme. de Martino, who remained in the city. But he came back several weeks ago and is again "in residence" at the Italian embassy.

SOME LEAVE
But there are those in both the foreign colony and official family who returned to stick by for the summer.

The minister of Hungary and Countess Beecheny have gone to Newport, summer playground of Countess Beecheny's kinfolk, the Vanderbilts and the Morgans.

The minister of Greece and Mme. Sideris also left Washington earlier in the summer for Newport.

The ambassador of France, M. Paul Bony de Lavignon, was to have sailed for his home on June 20, accompanied by his daughter, Mme. Reine Claudel. Urgent business at the French embassy kept him up, however, and he now finds himself unable to leave this country.

Members of both the senate and congress were quick to leave Washington when congress recessed. A few, however, still here, working hard. Prominent among them are Senators Edge of New Hampshire, Moses of New Hampshire, Bing of Connecticut, Walcott of Massachusetts and Reed of Pennsylvania. The minister of the Netherlands has rented a house in the city for the summer, turning it into a bachelor apartment.

BOYS CAN SHOOT
ROCK, July 30.—The progeny of West Texas pioneers knows how to shoot, too! The rifle team of Texas Agricultural College, composed of W. S. This team will go to Camp Perry, Ohio, where it will compete with other teams over the United States.

Chinese Prince Seriously Wounded

TOKYO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Ching Tsung Chang, former war lord of Shantung, early today shot and seriously wounded Prince Hsien Kai, cousin of the former boy emperor of China, P'U-YI.

Mysterious circumstances surrounded the affair, which Chang claimed was accidental.

Chang's version of the shooting of the young Manchu was that a revolver he was handling up-stairs at his hotel at Beppu, Island of Kiushiu, exploded, hitting the prince who was standing in the garden below.

Hsien Kai was 21 years old and graduated from the Japanese military academy in July. He was spending a vacation in Beppu and had visited Chang in the evening.

The authorities are investigating the accident story.

CANZONERI TO HAVE HANDICAP IN TITLE FIGHT

By PAUL R. MICKELSON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri, chesty little bootblack from New Orleans, whose stinging fists achieved glory in the bantam and featherweight sectors, tonight aims his weapons at Sammy Mandell, one of the most elusive targets of the ring, in an audacious bid for his world's lightweight crown.

The two will battle 10 rounds to a decision in Paddy Harmon's gigantic punch bowl, the Chicago stadium. A record indoor crowd of 25,000 is expected.

It is to be a skirmish between a clever boxer and a rugged, two-fisted and Mandell, the boxer, is an overwhelming favorite.

So clearly did Mandell turn back the title bid of Jimmy McLarnin, a pile-driving hitter of the Canzoneri type, in his last championship battle that few observers grant Tony much more than a chance. Although the champion has spent the past year in comparative idleness because of injuries, he has displayed impressive form during his training.

Weight, too, was a disadvantage Canzoneri had to fight against. He expected to enter the ring four to six pounds lighter than Sammy and among lightweights such a difference is a considerable handicap. Tony's advantages lay in his punch, his greater ring activity and his age. He is 22 and Mandell is 25.

"Canzoneri will not bother me any more than McGraw or McLarnin did," Sammy said. "I am at my best now and have had no trouble in getting down to the 135-pound limit. I plan to set a fast pace and keep on going. Watch my left."

"I will give all I have and I am certain of winning," Tony countered. "It'll be a tough fight, though."

Tonight's battle will be the third time Mandell has defended the title he won from Rocky Kansas in 1926. In his first bout he beat Phil McGraw, the Detroit Greek.

Win or lose tonight, Mandell expects to campaign for the welterweight title. He defeated Jackie Fields, the new champion, once and is confident he can repeat.

Ray Miller, Chicago lefthook artist, will meet Luis Vincentini of Chile in the 10-round semi-windup and Harmon hopes to match the winner with the victory of the Mandell-Canzoneri fight for the title.

BASEBALL'S STRONG MEN ARE ROUGH ON PITCHERS

Good, solid base hits, many bearing extra base tags, represent the replies of Fatt Fothergill and Hack Wilson, the strong men of baseball to the taunts of enemy fans.

NEW YORK (AP)—If humans had to take the places of machines they would probably make war tanks out of Hack Wilson and Fatt Fothergill.

Not all persons would stand for that statement but you can't arouse Hack and Fatt with jibes and taunts. As baseball players go, they are too big to mind petty kidding. Furthermore, the only persons they can get worked up over are opposing pitchers. And then they get revenge with their bats.

Wilson and Fothergill both are built unusually close to the ground for men of their weight. The first thought is that both should have been wrestlers. Hack had the same thought himself before he started playing professional baseball. He found, however, that the headlock industry could do very well without one Lewis Ribert Wilson.

Wilson, who is one of the home run monarchs of major league baseball, weighs 185 pounds and has a frame only five feet, six inches tall. He batted .343 for the first 71 games this year.

Fothergill is just about a schunky as Hack. His batting eye is sharper. His five feet, ten inches is weighed down with 200 pounds. For the first 57 games this year, the Detroit outfielder flailed the ball at a .394 clip.

NORTH CLUBS IN TEXAS LEAGUE HARD TO BEAT

Northern clubs displayed superiority over southern rivals by taking nine decisions in 11 starts in the series ended yesterday. The Waco Cubs, by winning one of their three with Fort Worth, and the Buffs, salvaging the last of their series with the Steers, prevented the invasion being a total failure.

The downstaters moved on to new fields during the night. Today the Buffs were at Shreveport for a trio, Beaumont at Dallas, San Antonio at Fort Worth and Waco at Wichita Falls. The battle for second place probably will be fought out at Shreveport the next three afternoons.

The Spuders failed to add to their two-game lead over the field yesterday when their closest pursuers also won. San Antonio lost its third straight to Galloway's hearties, 9 to 5. Houston blanked the Steers, 3 to 0, in the final at Dallas.

For the second time Shreveport came from behind to defeat Beaumont, 4 to 3.

The Waco Cub hurlers were slaughtered in the final at Fort Worth, won by the Kittens, 11 to 1. Harris was sent to the showers in the fourth and the onslaught continued against Brancheau. Buzz Phillips, who has proved the Cat mound ace since the second half began, gave up only four hits.

Williams Haines Has Big Fight in Coming Rex Movie

William Haines, who has had to learn football, baseball, golf, polo, and even military drill for his roles in pictures, had to add boxing to his athletic accomplishments for his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "A Man's Man," which comes to the Rex theatre Friday and Saturday as a sound synchronized production.

This new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production isn't a prize fight story, but a satirical romance of Hollywood in which Haines stages, with Sam Hardy, one of the most thrilling fist fights ever seen on the screen. It is with bare knuckles, too, instead of the padded gloves of the prize ring.

Haines and Hardy both took lessons from a professional pugilist for several days before they "mixed it" in the big fight scene. James Cruze, the director, an expert on such forms of combat, made it one of the most thrilling contests in years and the whole studio gathered to watch it.

A Hollywood party in full blast, actual scenes at the premiere of a big picture in Hollywood, showing many of the famous stars of the screen on parade, and other vivid glimpses of Hollywood life run through the picture. Its whimsical humor is interspersed, however, with a pretty, appealing and tender love romance and many poignant human interest touches. Forrest Halsey, wrote the script from the original stage play, a former hit on Broadway.

They Can't Hear the Call of the Wild

There are big doings in the animal world these days, what with dogs being sworn in as deputy sheriffs and wild animals fraternizing with domestic pets. At the left is Limey, Australian sheep dog sworn in as a special deputy by the Oakland (Calif.) dog catcher. Limey goes around and helps round up the city's stray canines. Above, at the right, are a wild fox and a tame Chow dog, who have become the best of friends in the back yard of Brockway Crouch of Knoxville, Tenn. Crouch found the fox, injured, in the woods. He took it home and got it well—and now it won't leave. And below we have two timber wolf cubs in the London zoo, which have made friends with a kitten and let it drink out of their own saucer.

Gate of Fight Is Expected to Reach Total of $140,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Sammy Mandell is expected to receive $50,000 for defending his lightweight crown against Tony Canzoneri tonight. Both are signed on a percentage basis, Sammy to get 40 per cent and Tony 20 per cent. The gate is expected to be worth $140,000.

"Pa" Mandell and "Pa" Canzoneri will cheer their fighting sons. The elder Mandell will be assisted by a delegation of 1,500 fans from Rockford, Ill., Sammy's home town, while Tony's father will receive the help of old friends from New Orleans and New York.

Regardless of the outcome, the lightweight champion tomorrow will be of Italian parentage.

Tonight will be the first time Mandell ever has fought an important fight without delays of troubles. He won the title from Rocky Kansas in 1926 in a driving rain storm and was handicapped with a fractured rib. His first match in defense of the championship, against McGraw, was postponed one day and injured his training plans while his battle against Jimmy McLarnin was postponed three times.

Several Members in Family Benefited by It, Says Letsinger

"ORGATONE IS THE FINEST THING I HAVE EVER SEEN," SAYS PLEASANT VALLEY MAIL CARRIER.

"There are several of us at home who have taken Orgatone and it hasn't failed to bring good results in a single case," said J. H. Letsinger, a well known Pleasant Valley mail carrier of Amarillo, Route 1.

"As to my own case," Mr. Letsinger continued, "Orgatone is building up my health after several years of suffering. When I began taking it my stomach was all out of order and my appetite was very bad. I was troubled with constipation and bloating after eating and had that tired, sluggish feeling all the time. Nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me and I was really discouraged trying to find anything that would help my case.

"Finally I began reading in the papers about Orgatone and decided to try it. It sure has been a wonderful thing for me. My appetite is fine now and I eat three good square meals a day. My bloating and indigestion pains are entirely gone, and I sleep like a log, and all my sluggish, depressed feeling has left me. I recommend Orgatone every chance I have because it has done me so much good. It has helped our whole family and we are all boosting it. It certainly is the finest medicine we have ever had in the home."

Genuine Orgatone is manufactured by one of the world's greatest laboratories and is not a so-called patent or secret remedy and is sold exclusively in Pampa by Richard's Drug Co., Inc.—Adv.

Gained 25 Pounds by Taking Sargon

"Before I started taking Sargon I was down in weight to 140 pounds and was badly run-down after years of suffering. Since taking Sargon I have gained 25 pounds and am back to my normal weight, which is 165 pounds."

"Up to a few years ago I had always been in fine health, then I commenced to be troubled with indigestion and constipation. It just looked like I couldn't digest anything. I put myself on such a light diet I became badly undernourished and lost weight rapidly. I lost my strength and energy and it was all I could do to stay on my job."

"Almost as soon as I began taking Sargon I started eating again and took on weight rapidly. I tell you it's fine to sit down at the table and eat a man's meal again. I am as full of strength and energy as I ever was and can do more work in one day now than I could in two before."

"The Sargon Pills toned up my liver and I no longer suffer from biliousness and constipation."

"After gaining 25 pounds I am feeling like my old self again and I think that is enough to convince everybody the Sargon treatment is wonderful."

Joe N. Cantzard, 348 Washington boulevard, Beaumont, Texas. Sargon is now called "The Medicine With a Million Friends." Its marvelous record of achievement is probably without parallel in the history of the drug trade of this country.

"STANDARD BRAND MERCHANDISE AT POPULAR PRICES"

RAILROAD

Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf with St. Louis-San Francisco for a Rock Island line from Shamrock to Beaver Creek via Wellington and Quanah and a Frisco road from Vernon to Seymour, connecting with the Gulf, Texas Western at the latter point, had been concluded.

R. I. Is Surprised
The Fort Worth and Denver, Burlington subsidiary, surprised Rock Island Frisco applicants yesterday when, through F. E. Williamson, Burlington president, it urged a joint proposition whereby all three lines would have a more direct route from the Eastern Panhandle to Fort Worth, Dallas and the Gulf and the Southeast. Williamson suggested the interstate commerce commission grant the Rock Island application for a line from Quanah to Wellington and the Burlington plea for a nearly parallel road from Childress to Wellington. From Wellington to Shamrock he suggested joint construction and operation, the Burlington, however, to remain the owner and the other two the "tenants." The Fort Worth and Denver would grant the Rock Island and Frisco permission to run trains over Denver lines to Vernon, there connecting with the proposed Frisco extension to Seymour. Williamson declared.

Would Buy Road
From Seymour, Rock Island and Frisco lines could enter Fort Worth and Dallas, over the Gulf, Texas and Western from Seymour to Jacksboro and a Rock Island line from Jacksboro to Fort Worth. The Frisco has asked permission to purchase or lease the Gulf, Texas and Western and obtain trackage rights over the Rock Island Jacksboro-Fort Worth line.

ZEPPELIN

confirmed the existence of a stowaway aboard. It said:

"A stowaway was found just after the Zeppelin left the hangar. He jumped from the hangar down into the Zep. If he had jumped between the girders, he would have endangered the ship. Dr. Eckener said he would be returned from America by the next steamer and be severely punished."

Another message told something of life aboard. "We had champagne as soon as we were under way," it said, "which resulted in a late breakfast. The two women became slightly nervous when we encountered strong headwinds shortly before lunch and were buffeted for an hour in the Rhone valley. Our progress was retarded."

"The route has been out of our way, but necessary to miss bad weather in northeastern Spain. Large tank of drinking water up in the bag sprang a leak and saturated the ceiling of the saloon during lunch. There was much excitement, but nothing to worry about. We had an excellent game of bridge in the afternoon."

"The new motors are performing perfectly at high speed."
Other messages said the weather cleared after seven hours of steadily fighting opposing winds, and that the speed increased from under 45 miles to more than 62.

The Zeppelin's route has been extreme southerly.
Radio messages from the Graf were few and far between, its operator's time being taken up with reception of weather reports.

Weather reports from the United States said that the Zeppelin was navigating in a region of diminishing headwinds and improving conditions, with local storms between Gibraltar and the Azores and northeast winds from the Azores.

Convict Killed in Prison Riot

UNITED STATES PENITENTIARY, Leavenworth, Kans., Aug. 2. (AP)—One convict was killed, several others shot, three dangerously, and several slightly injured in a riot yesterday that lasted more than a half day.

Mike Martinez, a Mexican who had served one year of a 30-year term, was killed.
The last of the rioting prisoners was in his cell and the prison was quiet late last night. Guards with machine guns mounted on the prison walls prevented any escapes.

There were numerous reports as to the cause of the outbreak but prison officials declined to confirm or deny any of them. One report said the riot, which broke out in the mess hall at noon, was a protest against prison grade food and the absence of ice in drinking water. Another said the prisoners who had been permitted to read newspaper accounts of riots in eastern prisons had yielded to the suggestion.

A third report laid it to heat crazed narcotic addicts, the temperature standing at 100.3 degrees at noon yesterday. None of the prisoners had firearms during the disturbances and none of the prison officials was injured.

Warden Thomas D. White refused to call on soldiers at Fort Leavenworth nearby for assistance although guards of the United States disciplinary barracks at the fort were held in readiness.

Testimony Opens in Snook Trial

COURTHOUSE, Columbus, O., Aug. 2. (AP)—The State opened the presentation of its testimony today in the murder trial of Dr. James H. Snook with the story of Chas. R. Murray, a carpenter, who told of seeing a man and a woman scuffling near a parked automobile on the New York Central rifle range the night of June 13 when Theora Hix was killed.

Murray said that as he drew near the man released the girl and stepped out of sight. Murray said he did not stop.

When the State turned the witness over to the defense, E. O. Ricketts asked the testimony be stricken as there was nothing to identify the parties as Dr. Snook and Miss Hix. Judge Henry L. Scarlett, overruled the objection.

Markets

GRAIN BREAKS SHARPLY
CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP)—Wheat and corn prices turned sharply downward early today, influenced by lower Liverpool wheat quotations and by rain and cooler weather in the corn belt. Private crop estimates on wheat crop production were about as expected, and were devoid of important market effect.

Opening 1 1/2 to 2% lower, Chicago wheat later showed some further setback. Corn started 1 1/2 to 4% off, and subsequently held near to the initial range. Oats were easier. Provisions also inclined downward.

Heavy Shot Used in McConnell Test

A shot of 240 quarts was used in the Shell Petroleum company's No. 3 McConnell in Section 174, block 3, I. & G. N. survey yesterday afternoon. The shot was placed from 3,245 feet to total depth, 3,303 feet.

No oil flow followed the shot and today the hole is being cleaned out 40 feet off bottom. Three oil shows and two gas shows had been encountered.

Several other tests of interest are being watched carefully. The Phillips Petroleum company's No. 6 Joe-Dan in the northeast quarter of section 8, block B-2, will be drilled in this afternoon, company officials say. The company has two other tests on top of the pay.

West of Pampa the Texas company's No. 3 Archer in the south half of the southeast quarter of section 174, block 3, got an oil showing this morning at 3,152 feet. The 8 1/2-inch casing is being set at total depth. This test is a half mile southeast of the Shell Oil company's test which was shot yesterday.

WHEAT RECORD BROKEN

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. (AP)—All records for month's sales of wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were broken in July. The grain futures administration announced 2,431,961,000 bushels were traded, exceeding by 369,900,000 bushels the record set in December, 1925.

Marriages Are on Decline Here

The new marriage law in Texas, which went into effect June 12, has been keenly felt by those who have the power to perform marriage ceremonies. Pampa did not escape the consequences as records in the county clerk's office show.

Since the law requiring application for a license three days before it can be issued, and asking a medical certificate went into effect, only 20 marriage licenses have been issued in Gray county. Of that number fifteen were issued during July and the other five between June 12 and 30.

Yesterday morning an application for license was made by Miss Mary McCormack of Lone Oak and Mr. L. O. Nelson of Pampa.

General Topic: Belshazzar's Feast. (Temperance Lesson).
Scripture Lesson: Daniel 5:17-28.

17. Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy reward to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18. O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty;

19. And because of the greatness that He gave him, all the people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him; whom he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down.

20. But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was despoiled from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

21. And he was driven from the sons of men, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen; and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; until he knew that the Most High God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he sitteth upon over it whomsoever He will.

22. And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knowest all this.

23. But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines have drunk from them; and thou hast praised the Gods of silver and gold, or brass, iron, wood, and stone; which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified.

24. Then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.

25. And this is the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

26. This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end.

27. TEKEL; thou art weighed in the balance, and art found wanting.

28. PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

TIME: Babylon captured, B. C. 539. PLACE: Babylon, the chief capital of the Babylonian Empire.

GOLDEN TEXT: Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot.—Eph. 5:18.

INTRODUCTION

We are now studying one of the most striking events in all Bible history, an account of such dramatic power that it has stirred the consciences of men for all the generations since it was written. If it rings to every one's experience, we all feel that, if weighed, we should be found wanting. We all know that divine justice, if it were not tempered by divine mercy, must decree our lasting condemnation.

"The account of Belshazzar's last banquet is one of the most graphic descriptions that are found in the whole Scriptures. He was evidently a young prince of debased habits, and not over-attentive to the affairs of state. Circumstances, however, made it necessary for him to hold a levy, at which a thousand of his lords attended. A banquet followed. The king sat by himself at a separate table, apart from the magnates and princes who did him homage. He tasted the wine before the assembled multitudes, and while at the height of his enjoyment ordered the sacred vessels of Jehovah to be brought forth from the temple of his god into the banquet hall. He defied Jehovah openly, and drank in the sacred vessels, both he and the princes, and his wives and concubines.

Handwriting on the Wall

Suddenly at the height of the profane and drunken revel, came a terrifying wonder. In the full light of the candelabra which illuminated the king and his table, over against the plastered wall nearby appeared the fingers of a man's hand—not the arm, only the fingers. Then the fingers, ghastly white against the wall, began to move, and as they moved letters grew beneath them on the plaster, and soon an inscription stood out for all to see. In a frenzy of fear Belshazzar cried out for the wise men to be summoned, the interpreters of omens, the magicians, the readers of the stars, the fortune tellers, the sages of many kinds to whom the superstitious Babylonians gave credence. When confronted with the mysterious inscription, all of the enchanters and astrologers and soothsayers were nonplussed. They were able, it seems, to read the inscription, but they could get no meaning out of it. They failed absolutely, and the king was more distressed than ever.

Daniel Is Summoned

At this point the queen entered the banquet hall. She was probably the queen mother; in the opinion of Professor Driver she was no less than the widow of Nebuchadnezzar. Coming into this scene of confusion and dismay, the royal lady, who had good reason to remember Daniel, told Belshazzar about him. She gave a most impressive account of Daniel. In him were found "light and understanding and wisdom, the spirit of the holy gods." He could solve all enigmas and clarify all mysteries. Daniel was speedily found and brought to the king, who immediately placed the problem before him, and offered him rich rewards if he succeeded in solving it. He should be clothed in royal purple. He should have a chain of gold around his neck, a mark of special honor with distinc-

"It's Like This"

JOHN E. SURRATT, secretary of the Dallas Kessler Plan association, has written further suggestions regarding the planning program for Pampa.

"I want to express my appreciation for the courtesies shown me on occasion of my visit to your splendid little city. I like the spirit of your people, I like the way you are going after things.

"To sum up my recommendations, I would suggest: First, that you name a city plan commission, perhaps to be appointed jointly by the chamber of commerce and by the city government.

THE FOLLOWING EDITORIAL has appeared without credit in several newspapers of the Southwest, and therefore is anonymous as far as the real author is concerned.

Editorial on War: For the last half dozen years or so, thoughtful Americans have given a good deal of thought to this machine age of ours.

tion from his book: "War is declared... In Bremen or Calais, a thousand men climb into the cockpits of a thousand aircraft, and under each is slung a bomb which the pressure of a finger may release...

"And so, to all intents and purposes, the civilization founded by William the Conqueror, which gave Bacon, Newton and Watt to the world, comes in something like half an hour to a close.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—In the seventeenth century Dr. John Light, foot of Cambridge University,

Archbishop Usher agreed that 4004 B. C. was the very year and his verdict was so generally accepted that this and other of his dates were inserted in the margins of the authorized English Bible.

A Catholic's Discovery: Now the final knockout to the 4004 B. C. theory appears to have been delivered by Father Stephen Richard, who, in a geological study announced by the Catholic Anthropological Conference here, has concluded that the human race is 30,000 years old by the most conservative estimate. Father Richard boldly asserts that the question is one of geology rather than of theology.

He has counted glacial layers and what not and admits that there are indications tending to put the birthday of the human race back several hundred thousand years, though he does not regard these indications—such as flints dating from the first ice age period—as indisputable proof.

Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution, including such famous savants as Dr. Alexander H. Leitch, the anthropologist, and Dr. James W. Gidley, the paleontologist, do not hesitate to estimate that mankind has been on earth for at least 500,000 years.

The fathers of the early Christian Church found themselves with a consecutive biblical chronology running from the creation of Adam into the Christian era. For the first few centuries the general estimate of students placed the creation of man at about 6,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Wavered Between Two Dates: Eusebius figured out some chronological tables somewhat reducing the period, so that eventually the age of man came to be placed somewhere between 4000 and 6000 B. C., though there were many bitter arguments over it.

The Venerable Bede went into the subject in the next century and put the figure down close to 4000. Four hundred years later Jewish scholars, including Rabbi Moses Maimonides, studied the Hebrew chronology closely and corroborated him and Vincent of Beauvais later placed the date at about 4000 B. C.

TWINKLES

Otto H. Kahn, banker, says he can learn more about Europe by reading American newspapers than he can by going abroad.

Lindbergh has been having slight mishaps since acquiring a back seat driver. But he denies the implication, saying a minor ground loop with a plane is merely the equivalent to skidding against the curb with an automobile on an icy pavement.

The failure of the governor's salary increase amendment apparently has not discouraged aspirants for the $4,000 job.

Although we have no ambitions or hopes gubernatorially speaking, we hate to think of our having to serve on $4,000 a year. Something ought to be done to encourage the ambitions of us fellows who dare not aspire to a job that will not pay the expenses involved in connection therewith.

Well, the St. Louis fliers stayed up over two weeks and the vaudeville managers almost as long, but the aviators have let the latter down to earth rather sharply.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
C. C. Merritt, Minister

Speaking of newspapers, a certain writer said: "The distinction between good paper and the 'yellow' kind is that one always contains the truth and the other does not, for both may print false reports. But the line between those papers that try to tell the truth and those who make no special effort; and between those who care if they have failed to be correct and those who print anything that sounds well and do no care whether or not they misrepresent facts; and between those who are quick and glad to make a correction and those who have to be forced to do so with the strongest compulsion."

and the distinction between good bad men in like manner is not the one never sins, while the others; but that the one "stumbles" rises again, while the other lies down and wallows; the one sins and does not care, the other does care and confesses and repen.

"Does not God see everything?" asked a very little boy when he had been scolded for being naughty. "Yes," said his mother. "He sees, then, that I want to be good, doesn't he?" And the mother could not deny it.

Yes, God sees we want to be good, and it is a long step toward him to even believe this and to long for the better things. But we cannot stop at that, for intentions are not yet conquests. Nor do we need to stop there. We have the help of Him on our side who is able to fulfill our every desire of goodness and work of faith with power.

Subjects for next Sunday: "Heaven, Its Treasures," and "How Good is Your Prayer?"
If you drive in from the north, park your car across the street and walk across. The pavement now being laid will stand the pressure of your feet unless you have just come from the ball game and have not changed sandals.

Speaking of the pavement, I notice that every man has a "job" on this work and that everyone works at his job. Now, wouldn't that be fine if it were so in the church? Everyone has a job, all right; but not everyone works at it. There are many shirkers, slackers, disloyal, and destructive members who have never entered into the spirit of redeemed souls. Of course, one cannot expect much, but it is encouraging to see improvements.

The psalmist gave the difference between the worldly and the followers of God in these words: "Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God."

When the worldly-minded deserted Jesus, Peter, speaking for the apostles, expressed this assurance: "We believe and are sure that Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God."

This will be our Sunday morning theme: "Christ Our Only Hope." Sunday school, 10 a. m. Sermon, "Christ Our Only Hope," 11 a. m.

Sermon, "When the Bathing Pool Failed," 8:15 p. m. You will find the true Christian fellowship in this church.

 sign. He should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

The Wisdom of Daniel.
 "In his birth, in his upbringing, in his breeding, and in his books, Daniel possessed a knowledge of God and of man that no sage of Chaldaea could possibly approach; but at the same time, Daniel was student enough to see that Chaldaea had attained to a learning and to a religion of her own that well deserved his best attention; till Daniel at least came to be acknowledged as more than the equal of the king's most learned and most consulted men. It was the largeness and the expansiveness, and the hospitality of Daniel's fine mind, all combined with his extraordinary nobility and beauty of character, that give Daniel such an unparalleled position in their court of Chaldaea, and which had gained for Daniel such a famous and such a proverbial name in all subsequent literature."
 "A Daniel came to judgement! yea a Daniel!
 O wise young judge, how I do honor thee!"—Shakespeare.

The Irony of History.
 "The story of the stricken despot of mighty Babylon is illustrated again and again by what the late Bishop Thirlwall called "the irony of history"—the cases in which men seem to have been elevated to the very summit of power only to heighten the dreadful precipice over which they immediately fall. He mentions the case of Persia, which was on the verge of ruin when with lordly arrogance she dictated the Peace of Antalcidas; of Boniface VIII, in the Jubilee of 1300, immediately preceding his deadly overthrow; of Spain, under Philip II, struck down by the ruin of the Armada, at the zenith of her wealth and pride. He might have added the instances of Ahab, Sennacherib, and Herod Antipas; of Alexander the Great, dying as the fool dieth, drunken and miserable, in the supreme hour of his conquests; of Napoleon, hurled into the dirt, first by the retreat from Moscow, then by the overthrow at Waterloo." James Hastings.

The Writing Interpreted.
 "And this is the writing, that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN." Translated into English, the words mean: Number, number, weight, division. "Mene is pronounced to rhyme with betray, Tekel pronounced to rhyme with bewail, and in explanation of Upharsin (U being "and") peres is pronounced to rhyme with deface."
 Driver.
 These three fatal words carry in them the summing up of all divine judgement, and will be rung in the ears of all who bring it on themselves. Belshazzar is a type of the end of every godless world-power and of every such individual life. "Numbered"—for God allows to each his definite time, and when its sum is complete, down falls the knife that cuts the threads. "Weighed"—for "after death the judgement," and a godless life, when laid in the balance which his hand holds, is altogether lighter than vanity. "Breakings"—for not only will the godless life be torn away from its possessions with much laceration of heart and spirit, but the man will be broken like some earthen vessel coming into sharp collision with an express engine. Belshazzar saw the handwriting on the wall; we see it long before, and we can read it. But some of us are mad enough to sit unconcerned at the table and go on with orgies, though the legible letters are gleaming plain on the wall."—Alexander Maclaren.

Babylon Captured.
 "That night Belshazzar was slain. The punishment which was due came swiftly. "His name meant, 'Bell preserve thou the king!' But Bel bowed down, and Nebo stooped, and gave no help to their votary."—F. W. Farrar. The forces of Cyrus, according to Herodotus (I, 190, 191), captured Babylon by turning aside the waters of the Euphrates into a reservoir which they had excavated for that purpose. The Euphrates flowed thru the middle of the vast city, its banks being lined with walls, gates in which gave access to the city. When the water of the mighty river were diverted, the forces of Cyrus marched up the nearly dry bed of the stream in the night and found the gates carelessly left open because of a festival, the guards being engaged in revelry. The account in Herodotus fits exactly into the Biblical narrative.

Temperance Applications.
 "The persistent war-cry of those who are trying to bring back the saloon—for that is what the sale of wine and beer would mean—is that prohibition infringes upon their "personal liberty." A weaker, more unchristian argument was never put forward.
 "In law and civilization the first consideration is not the individual, but society. Therefore, whatever injures society is not permitted. The greater civilization, the more restricted becomes our liberties. You may enjoy civic liberties only as you are willing to sacrifice personal liberties.
 "No normal man would prefer to live in a state of barbarism where every one does absolutely as he pleases without regard to the well-being of his neighbors. He would rather make some sacrifices which mean comparatively little to him in order that he, too, might make a contribution to the civilization which is bringing so much happiness and comfort to all."

CHAPTER I

It is strange the way a little thing can change your whole life. If Molly Burnham had not read that teeny-weeny story she was graduated, everything would have been entirely different. She'd have married and settled down, most likely.

And it was such an unimportant little event too. And indeed chance that Molly saw it at all. It was on the woman's page of a morning newspaper. The wonder is that Molly had time even to glance at the headlines on that eventful day.

These had been a breakfast at her sorority house in the morning, and what with one thing and another the hours were flying the mad. At 11 o'clock the seniors scrubbed down the steps of College Hall and gave the Greek statues their traditional annual bath. Then there was the luncheon that Claudia Cabot gave for her bridesmaids.

Claudia was getting married the next day in College Chapel, and Molly was to be maid of honor. Her dress was that lovely new shade of green that looks like cream de menthe with cream, drifting through it. It made Molly's eyes, which are gray sometimes and blue other times, as green as anything Molly loved green eyes. She was sure the Lorelei and all-real sirens had green eyes and auburn hair.

Only Molly's hair isn't auburn, but brown with streaks in it about the color of red fox, which may not sound alluring when you think about it but really is extraordinarily effective. Especially with straight black eyebrows and eyes like Molly's.

They say Molly got more than a little that year than anyone else in college. She had stepped at Princeton and West Point, and had been to Dartmouth Winter Carnival. But, mostly, Molly had a year for Harvard. That was because Jack Wells was a Harvard man.

Jack had been working a year but still was as poor as a church mouse. He was coming out that afternoon to take Molly to the president's tea. Heavens, what a day! A sorority breakfast, a bridesmaid's luncheon—and now the president's tea.

Molly, in a way, married Claudia Cabot, getting married right on top of being graduated. It must be pretty nice, though, marrying money. Not that Claudia cared. She had enough of it herself. Wasn't it always like that?—the more you had the more you got.

Now if only Jack had a rich father or something. Or if Molly were an heiress like Claudia Cabot. Oh, well!

MOLLY glanced at her watch. She had an appointment at the Dean's office at two-thirty. She leaned toward the mirror. Wiped a bit of rouge from her lips, powdered her nose thoughtfully. What under the sun did the Dean want?

Oh, the way out she imagined in the lobby's moment. It was crowded with girls and reeked with the sweetness of Commencement offerings—flowers and perfumes. Molly felt a sudden pang. After all, college had been home to her for four years. She would miss it dreadfully.

"Ask Mr. Wells, if he comes before I get back, to wait for me," she told the maid, and saved to a group that hailed her joyously.

"Hey, Molly, wait a minute."

"Can't," she told them. "The Dean—no less—is paging me."

She had a sort of lump in her throat. A silly thing. She was, at times, absurdly sentimental. Just seeing the girls like that, all together, made her think how lonely she was going to be when she couldn't see them any more.

"Lay off my boy," she admonished them with her flashing smile. "He'll be here any minute."

And off she ran, across the green and down the hill to the administration office, where the Dean's secretary told her she was expected and asked her to wait.

So Molly sat at a window, watching the Commencement groups drift across the lawn. A lovely green lawn, smooth as velvet. It would be a marvelous place, she thought, to switch trains. Twenty years ago girls did dear trains at Commencement. . . . Molly surveyed her knees and smiled, and pulled her skirt down as far as possible. The Dean was a little bit old-fashioned.

Five minutes. . . . Ten minutes. . . . There was a newspaper on the table, and Molly reached for it restlessly.

It was open at the woman's page, and she noted idly that Dr. West had something to say about the care of babies in summer. And Aunt Emily held, in her column, that a man could not respect a girl who indulged in promiscuous kissing. She read a letter from "Mother of Eight," and another from "Bashful Sixteen," and wondered if women really wrote such things. Or if the editor made them up.

But she thought of a girl she knew, named Emmaline Luce, who had a baby nearly every year and raised them on "Dr. West's Words to Mothers."

And she thought of Jack Wells, and how much she loved him. And wondered if she, too, might marry and settle down like Emmaline and grow mediocre and dull. . . . But of course she wouldn't. She and Jack would be different. Different from all those commonplace couples who played bridge and listened to the radio and gossiped about the neighbors. Different from all other lovers everywhere. . . .

"Little Sunshine!" she chided. "What you need is a sandwich."

Suddenly Molly's eyes fell on a little verse:

A girl she had her hope and chance—
But Fate was thwarted by a glance,
A look that set her heart aflame,
So genius died, for warm desire.

Yet, still the phantom visions glow
Although a world will never know
The Shining Talent that was dead
So soon as that bright soul was wed."

A dull and stogy wife is she,
And dark the flame that used to be;
But always come to torture her
The dreams of things that never were.

So this is the song of the wife—
Ah, what have I done with my life?

MOLLY read it through twice. "A girl, she had her hope and chance. . . . A dull and stogy wife is she. . . . Well, if it wasn't for all the world like Emmaline Luce!" "So genius died for warm desire. . . . Poor old Emmaline!"

"Yet still the phantom visions glow, Although a world will never know The Shining Talent that was dead So soon as that bright soul was wed."

"I wonder," mused Molly, "if there come to torture her The dreams of things that never were." It sounded to her as if a woman had written that verse—a woman who wondered what she'd done with her life. It was a disturbing little poem. . . .

"The Dean will see you now, Miss Burnham."

Molly jumped guiltily to her feet. She had torn the verse from the paper and tucked it in the powder compact of her vanity. She felt at once uplifted and depressed.

The Dean, a busy woman, wasted no time on preambles.

"Ah, Miss Burnham. Sorry to have kept you waiting. Sit down, won't you? Our employment bureau has had a great many applications from the graduating class, and in view of that fact, it may seem a little strange that I should seem to urge a position upon any of our girls. You must not think me presumptuous, Miss Burnham—I am quite aware that you have not entered your name among the applicants for positions. But I have here a most unusual opportunity in the literary world. . . . May I ask what your plans are for the future?"

Molly flushed like a high school girl.

"I'm thinking of getting married," she stammered.

"Indeed?" The Dean smiled politely. "I had not heard of your engagement."

"No," Molly stammered defensively. It seemed, somehow, an indictment of Jack's success that she had not—like Claudia Cabot and the rest—been able to announce her engagement with a three-carat diamond and a luncheon at the sorority house.

"But I am going to be married," she added, "in the fall."

The Dean snapped an elastic about the notebook in her hands.

"Then you wouldn't be interested," she observed, "in the position I was about to suggest. It—it seems a shame, Miss Burnham, to neglect a shining talent like yours. We were discussing the other evening at faculty meeting, your really exquisite verse. Professor Hardy was particularly impressed. The haunting little thing you called 'Song of Sorrow' was quite touching. And your essays. Scarcely a trace of sentimentality about them. You did very well, you know, on the Senior Play.
