24-HOUR HUNT MADE FOR FLIER

Art Goebel Waits at Brownsville for His Rivals

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 24. (AP)—Colonel Roberto Fierro, Mexican army ace who reported this morning he was safe and well after a twenty-four hour search for him had been made, started off again at 10:30 a. m. (12:30 p. m. E. S. T.) today for Tampico in the Mexico City-Kansas City international air race.

The premier Mexican flier was forced down yesterday after a storm had damaged his plane and his propeller had been bent.

He left Agua Blanca, state of Hidalgo, for Tampico and Brownsville, Texas, where Art Goebel, American entry in the race, was waiting for the five Mexican entries to catch up for an even start to Kansas City tomorrow.

Captain Daniel Ellis of the Pickwick Airways and a judge of the race, found Fierro repairing his airplane this morning beside the canyon where he had been forced to land.

After helping the Mexican ace in his repairs and giving him food, Captain Ellis checked his time and officially restarted him in the race. He described Fierro's landing as "remarkable" considering the rapidity with which the Cessna type airplane alights.

Fierro had telegraphed word of his landing last night, but the message did not reach Mexico City until this morning. He had not seen any searching planes after he was forced down.

Presumably Colonel Fierro will wait for the other Mexican fliers entered in the race after he reaches Brownsville. The race is to be resumed there tomorrow morning.

Art Goebel, only American entry and the only one of six participants to complete the first leg of the race, waited in Brownsville, Texas, giving the Mexican entries until tomorrow morning to catch up with him there in case they should be able to start again from Valbuena air field by noon.

While Goebel won in the battle against the severe storm after leaving Valbuena at 11 a. m. yesterday and covered the distance to Tampico in the record time of an hour and fifty minutes, four of five other entries, all Mexican army fliers, turned back when they encountered the storm and returned to Valbuena.

Blames Politics

"Merely a political gesture," was the reply of Governor Flen D. Sampson (above) of Kentucky when he learned he and seven other members of the State Textbook Commission had been indicted on charges of "illegally receiving gifts" from publishing concerns. He denies the charges and demands an immediate trial. The alleged "gifts" were school textbooks.

MANY OIL MEN AT DINNER OF LOCAL CHAMBER

Good fellowship was the predominant factor in last night's Chamber of Commerce dinner honoring oil operators and supply men of this vicinity. For once, there was no motive attached, and there was no "axe grinding." One hundred and twenty-five persons enjoyed the excellent meal prepared and served at the Methodist church basement by the elementary department of the Methodist Sunday school.

Baker Sausbury, chairman of the oil and gas committee of the Chamber, was toastmaster. George Briggs led the group in two songs, and the Rev. T. W. Brabham gave the invocation.

After welcoming the oil men, Mr. Sausbury called upon Judge Ivy E. Duncan for a short address. The judge told the history of oil from Biblical days to the present time, pointing out in his conclusion what the oil industry has meant to Pampa and the Panhandle. He recalled the time, only a few days ago, when a similar occasion boasted the presence of but two oil men.

Mrs. Carson Loftus highly amused the crowd with a reading, "Bill Smith." Also much enjoyed was music by a picked group from the Central high school orchestra, directed by Thomas Fannell.

Acquaintances were formed when each man was asked to give the name and occupation of each person at his right.

Fair Plans Announced
CANADIAN, Sept. 24. (Special)—The Hemphill county fair will be held this year in the new city hall and municipal auditorium, now under construction. It is expected that the building will be near enough to completion to be used for the annual exposition, scheduled for Oct. 24, 25, and 26.

Dr. Godbold of Howard Payne Has Resigned to Enter Missouri Work

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 24. (AP)—Dr. Edgar Godbold, president of Howard Payne college, today announced his resignation. He will become secretary of the Baptist state organization of Missouri. The resignation is to take effect Oct. 1. Dean Thomas E. Taylor probably will act as president until a successor is chosen. The college's board of trustees planned to meet this afternoon to accept the resignation and provide for the school's administration until a president is selected. Dr. Godbold has been head of Howard Payne since August, 1923.

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Governor Moody will ask the new attorney general, probably to be appointed tomorrow to succeed Claude Pollard, to start an investigation of the financial status of Hidalgo county in compliance with a request from the Hidalgo county Good Government League.

"As soon as I appoint a successor to General Pollard I shall turn the Hidalgo county league's request for an investigation over to him," Governor Moody said.

The governor was asked either to have the attorney general's department make the investigation or ask the legislature to appoint a committee to do so.

LEFORS WOMAN DIES AT NOON

Mrs. Will White, 27, LeFors, died at a local hospital at 12:30 today after a long illness. She had been at the hospital for two weeks, and was ill at her home in LeFors for some time before she was brought here.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the funeral chapel of G. C. Malone funeral home. The Rev. D. H. Truhitt of the First Baptist church will be in charge.

She is survived by her husband and two sons, her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. Beachle of Doucette, Texas, and two brothers and two sisters.

Burglary Suspects Are Under Arrest

While Deputy Herman Wachtendorf was eating lunch at his residence yesterday, he happened to glance through a window and saw two youths leave a car that was parked about 50 yards from his house.

Then he noticed that the car's license number was the one given to him Sunday by Edwin Vickers, whose house was ransacked by two youths. The deputy immediately arrested the boys. They are being held in jail. The owner of the coupe has not been found. The boys are being held for investigation and examining trial.

Officers Kill Fugitive

SEATTLE, Sept. 24. (AP)—An unidentified man, an alleged rum runner, was shot to death in a running gun battle with Deputy Sheriffs James Moore and Walter A. Reinder here today. His companion, C. Cast, 31, who was captured, said he did not know the man's name. The officers said they found sixteen sacks of liquor in the man's motor car.

To Greet Ishbel

WASHINGTON (AP)—In her stay at the White House and the British embassy, Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the British premier, may see a great deal of two young people of her own age.

They are Alan Hoover, son of the President, and Miss Gytha Stourton, (above), niece of Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British ambassador. Both are fond of athletics, as is Miss MacDonald.

Miss Stourton is Lady Isabella's secretary. The Howards have no children and their niece supplies a note of youth in the rambling old embassy.

KEIM GIVES $40 TO ORCHESTRA— FUNDS NEEDED

The Central high school orchestra, of which Thomas Fannell is director, recently received a gift of $40 to be used toward the purchase of some larger instruments needed by the organization. Frank Keim, wholesale agent for the Continental Oil company, was the donor.

The orchestra has launched upon its second year of existence among the high school organizations with 20 members and a fairly good array of the smaller instruments. The larger pieces, usually owned by the orchestra or the school, and essential to balance and complete instrumentation, are conspicuously lacking, according to Mr. Fannell.

Among the instruments which the orchestra now lacks and which the director considers most necessary are the double B-bass horn, the melophone, the trombone, and the cello. There are students, he says, who could play these instruments, if they were furnished. There are students, too, who could afford music lessons and would learn to play, if they could obtain instruments.

Mr. Fannell says that a sum of $200 wisely invested, would provide the orchestra with enough of the larger instruments to give balance and proper instrumentation. In expressing appreciation for Mr. Keim's gift, Mr. Fannell said that any individual or organization following Mr. Keim's example would be making an investment by which not only the young musicians in the orchestra, but the public at large would benefit.

Return to Home

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Williams have returned to their home in Waka, after a visit of several days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams.

B. F. Fuller and George Fuller, employees of Phillips Petroleum company, are visiting in Poyte. En route home they will visit Carlsbad Cavern and other points of interest in New Mexico.

MILK SUPPLY HERE IS GIVEN COMMENDATION

Distributors to Spend
$80,000 to Improve
Plants

INSPECTOR SAYS PROGRESS FINE

Pampa May Be at Top of Texas
Bankings

Within a year two milk distributing firms here will spend $80,000 to enlarge and improve their equipment. The Taylor farm dairy will completely remodel its plant and add pasteurizing equipment. The expense will aggregate $50,000. The Gray County creamery will enlarge and improve its plant, spending about $30,000.

This announcement comes from Milton M. Miller, who conducts milk investigations for the U. S. public health service in 75 Texas cities having standard milk ordinances. Completion of the expansion and improvement programs will give Pampa one of the best sources of milk in the Panhandle, the inspector said.

Excellence and sanitation of the present milk supply here compares favorably with other Texas towns, Mr. Miller said. About 50 per cent of the milk sold in Pampa is pasteurized but the percentage will jump overnight to above 90 per cent when the new plant begins operation. Houston and Amarillo have the highest sanitary milk rating of all the cities in Texas, but Pampa's rating will out-rank those of the two cities when the new plants open, and will inevitably become the leading milk distributing point in the Panhandle, Mr. Miller stated.

The milk investigator came to Pampa last Friday and since that time with Dr. T. J. Worrell, assistant city health officer, has visited the 19 dairies and the supply plants here. One extremely desirable feature of the milk situation here is that all the milk is sold through distribution and pasteurizing plants. About 900 gallons, of which half is raw, is sold here daily. Mr. Miller said that if the supply was adequate here, 1,000 quarts of milk per day could be sold in Borger, where the milk situation is not so good.

Mr. Miller praised the work of Dr. Worrell, who came here last February. He said he does not know of another town that has made as much progress in improving its milk supply as has Pampa. Dr. Archie Cole, city health officer, said that ptomaine poison cases have decreased to a minimum since Dr. Worrell began enforcing city health laws.

"All of the people who prefer raw milk to pasteurized milk have false ideas about the latter," Mr. Miller said. "Many persons believe that milk is pasteurized to take the dirt out of it, but it is heated and then cooled merely to kill germs that cause eight diseases which may be transmitted through milk. The most fatal of these diseases are typhoid and diphtheria."

Boy Lost Near Clarendon Is Unhurt But Tired and Hungry When Found

CLARENDON, Sept. 24. (AP)—After a 24-hour search by nearly 300 persons and air airplane, three-year-old Buster Gray was found on the banks of Whitefish creek.

The right wing of the searching party late yesterday found the child digging its heels in the loose sand of the stream's bank, hungry and tired, but otherwise unhurt. The child wandered away from its home Sunday afternoon while playing with other children. Its parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gray, recently moved to the Whitefish community to pick cotton.

The searchers, who came from Alameda, McLean, Clarendon, and Jericho, were joined yesterday by Bobby Dewell and Dee Graham, Amarillo aviators, who flew their plane over surrounding canyons and brakes in an effort to trace the lad.

Boy Is Beaten

Robert White, above, 14-year-old son of a Gastonia textile striker, was a witness to the killing of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, who was shot while en route to a union demonstration. He's pictured here with a broken arm and shoulder, results of a beating said to have been inflicted to "keep his mouth shut." Hobart, however, will testify in the investigation of the killing of the woman.

OIL CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD IN PAMPA OCT. 1

After a six-week period of curtailed oil production in Gray county fields, officials of 40 oil companies will meet in Pampa Oct. 1 to decide whether or not drilling shall be resumed in 27 wells which were shut down a month ago because pipe-line and storage facilities were not adequate to handle the production.

The shut-down was not felt to a great extent until two weeks ago, when production fell to 7,618 barrels. The decline last week was about 7,000 barrels daily. As the curtailment period will last ten days more, it is estimated by various pipeline companies that by next Tuesday storage conditions will be relieved to such an extent that drilling may be resumed in the 27 wells and in more than a score of others that have since shut down on top of the pay.

Officials of all major oil companies are expected to begin arriving Sunday for the meeting. The oil industry of the southwest is anticipating interesting results from the session, since it concerns proration and marketing problems that have been agitating the industry for several months.

MRS. FAHY IMPROVES

Mrs. B. C. Fahy is improving rapidly, after an illness of several days.

The excellence of milk is not destroyed in a pasteurizing process.

Mr. Miller also investigated the milk supply in McLean and Borger while stationed here.

Governor Says Citizens
Asking for Real
Clean-Up

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Marital law for Borger seemed near today. Governor Moody said the advisability of sending state troops to "clean up" the Hutchinson county oil town, scene of the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes, is being investigated.

He indicated he had a personal representative on the way to Borger and that his decision about martial law would rest directly on the representative's advice after he had viewed the situation.

"I have received numerous requests from Borger citizens to establish martial law there," Governor Moody said. "Just today I was strongly urged to do so and was told this step would provide the only relief for the 'law-abiding element'."

He said he would receive information which would guide his decision within the next day or two.

OWNBEY MISQUOTED

BORGER, Sept. 24. (AP)—Sheriff Joe Ownbey said today he had been misquoted last night in dispatches which said the sheriff characterized as a "lie" the report of Ranger Captain Hamer to Governor Moody that he had found "the worst bit of organized crime" in Borger he had seen in years.

Mr. Ownbey said today his assertion "it's a lie" was in reference to a previous statement by Hamer that city and county officials were implicated in a conspiracy. He declared he had not commented on Hamer's report to the governor.

district court in liquor charges.

The Rangers spent the night in conference with Clem Calhoun, special investigator in the Holmes slaying. Calhoun, accompanied by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and Sergeant J. B. Wheatley, returned from a trip to Amarillo and Pampa last night. They said their questioning of persons they thought might be able to shed light on the assassination had been fruitless.

The liquor cases in which the Rangers were to testify resulted from a series of raids last July, in which 13 men and two women were arrested. Data Holmes had obtained in the case, still was missing.

BORGER, Sept. 24. (AP)—The state's determination to find the ambush-assassination of District Attorney J. A. Holmes was attested today by the presence of eight Texas Rangers, twice the number which hurried here shortly after Holmes' murder nearly two weeks ago.

The new detachment of four arrived last night to join the force commanded by Captain Frank Hamer, who was attacked yesterday from two sources because of his statement that Borger "presented the worst bit of organized crime" he had seen in 23 years of

PAMPA OUGHT NOT TO GIVE UP THE IDEA OF APPOINTING A CITY PLANNING COMMISSION.

A trip about the city will reveal many causes for complaint about the appearance. Unsightliness exists in some of the best portions. A clean-up, carried on over a considerable period, is badly needed. A big Methodist conference will be held early in November, and the city should certainly be cleaned up before that time.

Right now the city lacks ordinances which might prevent some of the incroachments of ugly businesses in the otherwise pretty districts. Moreover, there can be little done to remedy existing conditions without a city planning commission and ordinances with which these groups work. Pampa is growing, but it is like a tree which needs pruning. Directed growth would make Pampa a much more presentable city.

QUITE A NUMBER OF PANHANDLE TOWNS ARE CONGRATULATING THEMSELVES THAT CONDITIONS WHICH OBTAIN IN BORGER COULD NOT EXIST IN THE FORMER.

And it is true. Communities reap what they allow to be sown. If they allow a few of the town sports to bootleg, soon this profitable illicit activity is supporting other evils and "rings". There is bootlegging in many towns which are congratulating themselves that they are not Borger. Boasting may be proper now, but times will change.

It is an unfortunate thing that communities which "strike oil" often almost forget the law and orderliness. Prosperity enables people to overlook a multitude of sins, minor and major. The Panhandle is paying for having adopted this attitude. It is time that the citizenship of each town served notice to undesirables that the free and easy boom days are over. A return to normalcy—which means obedience to law—is highly desirable. In not a few instances lately, grand juries of even non-oil communities have found conditions "deplorable" and blamed the citizenship.

EVIDENTLY THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE NEEDS A LEGAL DEPARTMENT—AND WHY NOT?

A single instance is sufficient to show the need therefor, although there are dozens of others. Widows of Confederate veterans, providing they are under 75, are being deprived of their quarterly stipends because of an error in a bill that was intended to help, rather than injure them.

There were suggestions that a special session of the legislature be called to remedy the situation, but the solons—already having served at length this year—demurred. Had there been a department whose duty it was to read and approve or reject such measures, this regrettable incident should not have happened. The solution may not be so easy, but clearly something ought to be done about it.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—The Federal Farm Board has been throwing out the life-line in a few instances, but the major portion of its job has not yet begun.

Eventually it will tackle the whole problem of balanced production and orderly marketing in agriculture in an effort to put agriculture on such a sound basis that it will need little further financial or legislative aid from Washington.

Thus far the board has spent most of its time listening to complaints and suggestions, confining its active effort to loans for situations regarded as presenting emergencies. It has announced and begun to act upon one main general policy, however: insofar as possible, it wants to deal with each agricultural commodity through a single co-operative agency.

Working for Consolidation

To that end it assembled four or five of the principal co-operative grain groups in Chicago and asked them to form a farmers' grain marketing body. Such an organization is now being formed as the Farmers' National Grain Corporation and the board is undertaking to bring about a similar consolidation in cotton.

The initial loans are as follows, though no actual cash has yet been advanced:

The board agreed to advance $300,000 for the citrus fruit industry of Florida for the purchase of facilities needed to comply with the Department of Agriculture's quarantine requirements against the Mediterranean fruit fly.

The next advance agreed to was negotiated with the Sun Maid raisin growers of California. The board and four intermediate credit banks will each lend half of $9,000,000 to this industry, representing a loan to grape growers of three cents a pound. It was also agreed to lend the Federal Grape Corporation $500,000 to deal with the fresh grape market, but it has been decided to use this money to advance an extra cent a pound to growers of red muscat raisin grapes.

The board has announced a $50,000 loan to the Co-operative Grange League Federation Exchange of Ithaca, N. Y., to spend on marketing facilities at several railroad shipping stations in New York state.

Of the sum used the board will advance half and the federation an equal amount, the government's loan to be secured by a first lien on the property.

The most important loans considered to date, however, concern the wheat and cotton farmers. Pending organization of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, the board agreed to make supplemental loans to wheat co-operatives on the basis of 19 cents per bushel on unsold wheat and on a basis of 90 per cent of the value of wheat on which a price has been fixed. Only wheat associations which have qualified for loans from Federal Intermediate Credit Banks are to be served at this time by the board's supplemental loans.

The plan for loans to cotton co-operatives is similar. The board has agreed to advance 25 per cent of the value of cotton on which the associations have fixed a definite price, this to supplement a 65 per cent loan already made by intermediate credit banks and making total government advances equal to 90 per cent of the fixed value of cotton.

A supplemental 10 per cent advance on unpriiced cotton previously pledged to the intermediate credit banks for 65 per cent of face value will permit the co-operative to advance to its members 75 per cent of the cotton's value at time of delivery by the member to the co-operative.

Lessening Paving Cost

The suggestion that thorough investigation be made of lighter forms of street paving than brick with concrete base appeals to The Herald. It is reasonable to believe that if other cities have found cheaper forms of paving satisfactory in cost and service that Plainview will do likewise.

Restriction of the character of traffic permissible on given streets will protect the paving of lighter construction.

Not only would a cheaper form of paving enable the city to pay its part of paving on more blocks, but many citizens who feel that they are not able to pay for the more expensive paving would feel inclined to pave.

As to the relative cost of one type of paving over another The Herald is unable to say. That is a matter for the engineers to pass upon. First cost is not the only cost. Maintenance can become a big factor in paving cost. The technical question of costs can be determined scientifically.

Any consideration of the various forms of paving should be made from an unbiased and unprejudiced point of view, having in mind only the welfare of the property owners who pay the bulk of the paving cost and the public which pays the city's part of the paving bills.

Incidentally, the cost of grading, dragging and of maintaining drainage structures on dirt streets is a factor to be considered when we arrive at the net cost of paving. This cost of street work will go quite a ways in the payment of interest on an investment of permanent streets which have low maintenance cost. The convenience to traffic and cost of operation of various forms of vehicles over unpaved streets is another, but lesser factor.

Probably a few experimental blocks of lighter forms of paving would help us arrive at the type of residential street paving we need.—Plainview Herald.

TWINKLES

The machinist on this column is not the only one around this corner of West Foster who has golfing ambitions; there are, in fact, half a dozen others. One, by the way, may have to remove a "bay window" before he can see the ball.

We are advertising Saturday's football game as one of the best of the season. We fear it will be that, and more. Electra, however, ought to be electrified by our Harvesters.

In Chicago, a home is anything having less than 75 bottles of beer. Above that number, it becomes a "beer flat". We'd hate to have the Chicago definition of a good town.

It is a long walk across the "wide open spaces", but we favor seeing the Panhandle's undesirables taking such a jaunt. And any that choose to cut down distance by airplane will have to be chased by air cops, we suppose.

The Panhandle is certainly growing better—at least each of the numerous fairs is being advertised as "the best ever".

Well, if this age is so bad, maybe the next one will not be forever talking about old-fashioned virtues.

One of the wonders of this decade is how junk men make anything out of their huge, unsightly heaps of tin lizzies.

Strange it is that so many speakers of the soap-box variety have so little first-hand knowledge of soap.

Harvester-Electra Game Moved to Saturday at Visitors' Suggestion

FRASIER MAY NOT PITCH IN DIXIE CLASSIC

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—The Dallas Steers, champions of the Texas league, were speeding toward Birmingham today to battle that city's Barons for southern baseball supremacy. Mill Stock and his men will reach the scene of the first battle at 11 o'clock tonight.

Despite the fact that only a handful of fans accompanied the team from here and that no attempt had been made to raise a championship fund for them, the Steers radiated confidence when the squad of 18 left last night. While Manager Stock refused to the last to make any predictions, his men were assuring each other and any bystanders they would close out the Southern association kings in four games—five at the outside.

Two of the Steers' biggest guns, Jim Moore and Victor Frasier, were on the ailing list, and it is doubtful either will see service until the clubs return here Saturday for the second phase of the series.

Frasier's two victories over the Spuders in the play-off left his youthful right arm in a state of disrepair. The club physician advised him not to throw a ball for at least three days. The more skeptical were predicting the brilliant youngster would not get into the Dixie series. Such an eventuality, while not probable, might prove fatal to Dallas hopes.

Big Jim Moore, who saw the last three games of the play-off from a grandstand seat, was hopeful his injured knee would be in shape by Wednesday. It still was swollen and discolored last night. If it is not ready by Wednesday, Red Harvel will be certified in Moore's place.

The veteran Whitey Glazier was expected to take the rubber for Dallas in the opening game at Birmingham. Ray Caldwell, another ex-big leaguer, was favored to hurl for the Barons.

For a large part of the season Washington provided an enigma of the American league. Picked in the pre-season as a club to be feared, the Senators put their backers to shame by starting badly and getting little better as the season progressed.

At the traditional turning point of the season, July 4, the Senators had an average of .382. Ten days later, when they completed the first half of the season, they had won but 30 of the 77 games for a mark of .390.

Their upward climb did not start until the middle of August, too late to do much good, but since then they have been playing baseball of championship calibre. They still are below the 500 mark but have a firm hold on fifth place and some hope of climbing higher. Yesterday's victory over the Chicago White Sox by a score of 7 to 6 set their record at 69 victories and 77 defeats for an average of .473.

Only one other game was on yesterday's schedule. The St. Louis Cardinals opened a series against western opponents by batting out a 6 to 4 victory over Cincinnati. Chick Hafey decided the game in the eighth inning by driving out his 26th home run of the year with Bottomley on base. On the mound, Fred Frankhouse was more effective than Cincinnati's recruit, Ben Frey. The victory brought the Cards back to their usual place in the standing with a .500 average.

Featherweight Crown Changes

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 24. (AP)—The familiar figure of a Connecticut youngster, second in a span of four years, perched upon the featherweight throne today.

The new champion is Christopher "Bat" Battalino, Hartford youth of 21, one of the youngest titleholders in the history of fistieuff, to win the crown that Kid Kaplan, Meriden buzz saw, won in 1926 and then discarded because of increasing weight.

Battalino smothered Andre Roudis, gallant Frenchman, in a 15-round duel in Hurley stadium last night and dethroned the old champion about as he pleased.

F. T. Mason, who has been seriously ill several weeks, today seemed slightly weaker, members of his family said. Otherwise, there was no apparent change in his condition, which has been critical now more than a week.

SPORT SLANTS

Alan J. Gould

Jimmy Fox, Mickey Cochrane, Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and George Earnshaw all have played no small part in the pennant victory of the Athletics but in all-around usefulness Aloysius Harry Simmons tops the Tribe of Mack without much, if any question.

"Simmons has no weakness, as a fielder or batsman," Connie Mack told me not long ago. "He does the right thing instinctively in a pinch. He thinks and acts quickly."

When Al Simmons came up from Milwaukee of the American association in 1924, the critics promptly labelled him "Waterbucket Al" from the fashion in which he anchored his right foot at the plate and predicted he would come to no good as a hitter because of this unorthodox stance. The critics had their laugh when Al's American association average of .395 in 1925 shrunk to .308 in big company in 1924 but nobody has been finding fault with the great outfielder at any time since then.

Simmons batted .386 in 1925, giving Harry Heilmann a great race for the league batting championship. He has been a contender for the hitting honors ever since, hitting .343 in 1926, then .382 as he again chased Heilmann down the stretch in 1927 and .351 in 1928, finishing fourth in the clotting race. This year he is again around the top.

"Fox hits 'em further but Simmons is more dangerous in a pinch, more consistent in coming through with men on bases," say the ball-players. The figures for "runs batted in" bear this

At the request of the Electra school officials, the Electra-Pampa football game scheduled for Friday has been postponed to Saturday afternoon. The Electra superintendent was unwilling for the team to miss Friday's classes in order to be here.

It is expected that the postponement will mean an even larger crowd than was expected for Friday. The game is being advertised in neighboring towns. Many football fans of this territory are expected to see what will likely be the best game of the season here.

The Harvesters will be seen at full strength Saturday, but this may not be sufficient to turn back the powerful Class A invaders.

Tickets for the game went on sale today, with the Green Jackets, girls' pep squad, in charge. A big crowd will be necessary to pay the visitors for their trip from Electra.

SENATORS ARE BARELY SAFE IN FIFTH PLACE

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

For a large part of the season Washington provided an enigma of the American league. Picked in the pre-season as a club to be feared, the Senators put their backers to shame by starting badly and getting little better as the season progressed.

At the traditional turning point of the season, July 4, the Senators had an average of .382. Ten days later, when they completed the first half of the season, they had won but 30 of the 77 games for a mark of .390.

Their upward climb did not start until the middle of August, too late to do much good, but since then they have been playing baseball of championship calibre. They still are below the 500 mark but have a firm hold on fifth place and some hope of climbing higher. Yesterday's victory over the Chicago White Sox by a score of 7 to 6 set their record at 69 victories and 77 defeats for an average of .473.

Only one other game was on yesterday's schedule. The St. Louis Cardinals opened a series against western opponents by batting out a 6 to 4 victory over Cincinnati. Chick Hafey decided the game in the eighth inning by driving out his 26th home run of the year with Bottomley on base. On the mound, Fred Frankhouse was more effective than Cincinnati's recruit, Ben Frey. The victory brought the Cards back to their usual place in the standing with a .500 average.

WELFARE MEETING DELAYED

The absence from the city of T. D. Hobart, president of the Pampa Welfare association, and J. O. Gillham, secretary, necessitated the postponement of an executive board meeting which was scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon, to next Monday afternoon.

SCOTT STAGES COME-BACK IN CLOSE BATTLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—The shuffling shifty figure of Phil Scott, British champion, today occupied the heavyweight contender's position that most of the experts had reserved for the Galloping Gaucho from the Argentine, Victorio Campolo.

Scott won the ten-round decision from Campolo last night at Ebbetts field, and, as a result, must be reckoned with in the heavyweight derby, regardless of the outcome of the 15-round elimination match Thursday night between Jack Sharkey and Tommy Loughran at the Yankee stadium.

It was a great come-back for Scott, who was knocked out in one round at Madison Square Garden in 1927 by Knute Hansen, floored for the count by Paulino in Europe and close to being knocked out again in the first round by Campolo last evening.

The blond British giant had hardly had time to make a few preliminary gestures last night when he was in full retreat, doubled up and badly punished by a succession of rights to the body. It took all of Scott's defensive instinct to survive that round, but from then on he gave an exhibition of boxing skill and fine display of ring courage to outgeneral and out point his bigger harder-hitting opponent.

Scott's margin was so close, it took a 2 to 1 decision to give him the victory. He received the vote of the two judges but referee Arthur Donovan cast his ballot for Campolo.

HOW TO KEEP MALONE CALM IS CUBS PROBLEM

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (AP)—A man who never loses his temper is endeavoring to teach that rare art of human conduct to one of the most temperamental pitching stars of baseball. If he succeeds, he believes his team will be the new world's champion.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Cubs is the teacher. His pupil is Pat Malone, fiery Irishman, invincible when calm and ineffective when angry.

There is no secret about McCarthy's world series plans for Malone. He wants him in the box for the first game and for another if he comes through. Seemingly it all depends on Pat.

Temperament has been Malone's almost destructive ailment since he came into baseball. Years ago, he failed in a trip out with the Giants, and then slumped badly to start off with the Cubs at the start of the 1928 season until he forgot about umpire's decisions and fans' razzing. This season he has been successful, winning 22 games and losing nine.

Malone, who is just 27, possesses probably the fastest ball in the major league hurling ranks, including Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn.

He mingles a good curve with his fast ball and has 154 strikeouts to his credit this year—36 more than the dazler. Repeatedly, he has had a game on ice waiting for the frosting, however, only to become so disturbed over a decision that he loses control.

OTT GETS NO. 41

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Melvin Ott hit his forty-first home run in the fourth inning of the first game between the Giants and the Braves here today. Harry Selbold was in the box and the bases were empty. The drive not only increased Ott's league lead, but also placed him within one of the National league record established by Rogers Hornsby in 1922.

Miller Huggins Is Slightly Improved

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, who is critically ill at St. Vincent's hospital, passed a comfortable night, hospital attaches announced this morning.

His temperature was 104.2 compared with 105 degrees reported at 10:30 p. m. last night, some hours after he had undergone a blood transfusion operation.

Huggins is suffering from an infection that followed an attack of influenza and erysipelas.

Men Distance Horses in Test

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24. (AP)—With the sixth day endurance contest between man and horse entering its seventh hour at the arena here today, man had piled up a lead of eight miles. However, it was evident the jockeys were holding the horses in reserve, apparently intending to let them out when the men show signs of weakening.

Ten long distance runners and the same number of horses began the grid here last night to determine which can cover the greatest mileage in a given number of hours. Both runners and horses were paired off in teams.

Bridge Party Is Given for Visiting Girl Monday Night

Mrs. Earl Scheig entertained last evening for her sister, Miss Ruth Rittenhouse, who is here from Dallas, spending a two-week vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Rittenhouse.
Three tables were arranged for bridge, with the following players in the game: Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Mrs. P. O. Sanders, Mrs. H. A. McDannald, Mrs. Hampton Waddell, Mrs. Wm. Wilkerson of Dallas, Mrs. Roy Dyer, Miss Lalla Campbell of Natchitoches, La., Miss Louise Miller, Miss Ruth Anne Mitchell, Miss Willette Cole, Miss Velora Reed, and Miss Rittenhouse.
Attractive score favors were given Miss Mitchell, high, and Mrs. Wilkerson, low. The cut favor went to Miss Miller. Miss Rittenhouse was given a pair of book ends as a memento of the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served, a tiny Japanese paper parasol lending a bright note of color to each salad plate.

Looking Differs Widely in Various Nations of Earth

The "dash of salt" or "sprinkle of pepper" that characterized our grandmother's recipes have gone by the board in modern cookery. The delicious flavors secured by one housewife, and lost entirely by another, in the preparation of the same dish, have too often been the result of misinterpretation of vague instructions. The modern measures her ingredients with the precision of a chemist.
The result is a uniformly high standard in her products, and a reliability in the savory flavors of her dishes. The secret of foreign cooking has been long recognized as resting in their seasoning while America's coarser diets have too long been indicted for their lack of gustatory appeal.
Seasonings vary with nationalities—largely because of the mother to daughter method of dissemination of recipes. The lowly garlic, that used with the greatest discretion, can add much to the savoriness of a dish, has long been identified with the Italians, who use it in a degree unpalatable to non-Latin races. The ancient Egyptians could no doubt have carried the slang epithet of "garlic eaters," with equal propriety. Herodotus, in 450 B. C. informs us that at that time, there rested on the great Pyramid of Cheops a tablet informing the passerby that 16000 talents worth of onions, garlic, and radishes, had been fed to the workmen on that great monument.
Even in Biblical days, the use of flavorings to disguise the identity of food items, is mentioned. Rebecca, with her own hands, in order to insure for her favorite son his legitimate birthright, disguised goat meat as venison so successfully that the blind patriarch Isaac, was unable to distinguish it.
It is the attitude of the modern cook to not attempt such amazing disguises as characterized Rebecca's deception of Isaac, in order that her favored son Jacob might steal his brother Esau's blessing. There are, however, many household dishes in every home that have been served so long, a disguise could not help but improve their palatability. Here again seasoning which is the real magic of skilled knowledge is essential to proper seasoning and much of the missionary work in the seasoning field is being done today by home economists, who have had at their disposal laboratories and supplies far beyond the reach of the average housewife. With the final discovery of a seasoning secret that will rejuvenate an otherwise tasteless meal into a highly delectable epicurean treat, the data is carefully charted for dissemination to housewives desirous of improving their cooking standards.
In this essential field of the culinary arts, Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, whose research work in cookery has made her nationally famous, is an outstanding figure. With the appearance of Mrs. Ihrig in Pampa Oct. 14-19, during which she will conduct the Pampa Daily News cooking school, housewives will find a solution of minor problems that have been bothering them—minor in actual magnitude, but major in significance. Any housewife knows what the absence of a sprinkle of salt can mean to an otherwise palatable dish.
Each of Mrs. Ihrig's lectures will be complete in itself, but the five units which comprise the school will be completely interwoven. In order to get the greatest benefit from Mrs. Ihrig's instructions it is recommended that all women contemplating attending should try to visit as many as possible of these lectures.

Minnesota is the leading butter producing state, with Iowa second.

SENATOR BLEASE SAYS NARCOTICS SOLD IN CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—An assertion that "four narcotic joints" were operating near the capitol on Pennsylvania avenue and that this was known to "people whose duty it is to stop it" was made in the senate today by Senator Blease, democrat, South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Senator Howell, republican, Nebraska, has been called upon by President Hoover to lay before the department of justice the "definite fact" or which he based his assertions in the senate that prohibition is not being enforced in the capitol, but could be enforced if the chief executive insisted on it.

Expressing a desire on the part of the president to make the District of Columbia "a model in the country" with respect to prohibition enforcement and the intention "to secure the fullest enforcement in the district possible under the organization of enforcement agencies as provided by law," a statement issued by the White House said:

"The president is glad the senator has raised the question. He is confident that the senator would not make these charges unless they were based upon definite facts with time and place, and if he will lay any such information before the department of justice, the president will have the matter vigorously investigated."

Saying he was surprised that his assertions in the senate has aroused unusual attention, since he regarded the situation he was discussing as one with which every one in Washington ought to be familiar, Howell, after being informed of the White House statement, he had meant everything he told the senate, although he had not intended to cast a personal reflection on any government official.

Talks To Parents

CULTIVATING GENEROSITY

By ALICE JUDSON PEALE

Obedience can be taught, manners can be imposed, but generosity must be spontaneous. It can be cultivated but it cannot be forced.

Generosity springs not from moral teaching but from the imaginative realization of the wish of another. For the very little child it is simply the urge to give to someone else the pleasure which he himself enjoys.

The baby gives his zwickback to the dog, or pushes a dripping spoonful of junket into your mouth. He pulls daisies which he throws into your lap and invites you to take a bite of his apple.

He understands first the needs and wishes which are most like his own. He naturally expects you to be as pleased as he is with the gifts he brings you. Receive them graciously. Let him know that you are pleased. Your response at such moments and the degree of satisfaction he is thus permitted to feel in having given you pleasure will determine how much he will want to share his joys in the future.

His early generous impulses are ill considered and often inconvenient. Endure the inconvenience lest you throttle at the start something which later will be precious, and which no conscious effort on your part can revive. If you absent mindedly let the daisies he has brought you fall on the ground, it will do good to tell him at some other time to "give sister half" or to give his toy to the little visitor. You have dampened his pleasure in giving. He may do as you tell him, but his act is obedient rather than generous.

Only the child who is happy can be generous. It is from the stored riches of his own happiness that he draws the impulse to give others pleasure. Make

Dr. Cousins Bitten By Mad Peccary

KINGSVILLE, Sept. 24. (AP)—Dr. R. B. Cousins, president of the College of Arts and Sciences, was taking the pasteur treatment today as the result of an attack by the school mascot, a wild hog, Sunday.
Kingsville athletics are known as the "Javelinas," Mexican word for wild hog, or peccary. Athletes at the school had obtained two of the animals for mascots and had penned them on the campus. One of them escaped Sunday and attacked Dr. Cousins, biting him several times. The animals were killed, and the Pasteur institute at Austin reported they were suffering from rabies.

THOUGHT SHE'D DIE

STATES MRS. KING

"My trouble began many years ago when I had an attack of acute indigestion. I've suffered with stomach trouble ever since. At times, I had such awful attacks I thought I'd die. One spell kept me in bed over a week and I was so faint and dizzy I couldn't raise my head from the pillow. My liver wasn't acting right. I was badly constipated and my system seemed full of poisons. "It's simply amazing what Sargon did for me. My stomach trouble is gone and I never suffer with indigestion. I don't have dizzy spells any more and I feel so well and strong, I can hardly realize I suffered for so many years. Sargon Pills regulated my liver, rid me of constipation and cleared all the poisons from my system. Any medicine that can take a person 76 years old and build them up like Sargon did me is certainly a wonderful treatment and I'll praise it as long as I live."—Mrs. M. J. King, 2622 Carpenter Ave., Dallas, Texas. Patherec Drug Co., agents.—Adv.

BORGER—

crowded service with the law. Sheriff Joe Ownbey baldly called Hamer's assertion a "lie," and the Borger Daily Herald, in a front page editorial, demanded that the captain prove the charge or retract it.

Meanwhile investigators hunting Holmes' killer appeared still to be without hope of immediate success and the "process of elimination" went on.

Some interest was attached to the trip which Clem Calhoun, special state prosecutor and Governor Moody's representative, made to Amarillo and Pampa for conferences.

He was accompanied by two Rangers. Prosecutor Clem Calhoun and Rangers Hickman and Wheatley were in Pampa for a short time yesterday investigating what Captain Hickman termed "another false clue." The group met three men understood to be from near Borger, who had agreed to a conference at the office of Sheriff E. S. Graves. The investigators left for Amarillo soon after the session here.

Mr. Calhoun would make no statement for publication, saying that newspaper publicity had hindered the work of the officers.

Returns to Amarillo
W. W. Hunter returned to Amarillo yesterday, after a visit of several weeks here with his daughter, Mrs. S. L. Maynard.

Poor Vision

is often the cause of backwardness in school. If a child sees clearly, he or she will think clearly. If the vision is defective, the impression made and the ideas received will be defective and the thoughts and opinions expressed will be distorted. Reliable figures, gathered from authoritative sources, state that three out of four 'slow' children have an 'ocular defect.' A school child should be given therefore, the first requisite of good study . . . faultless vision. IF YOU DOUBT that your child's eyes are perfect . . . make certain by a proper and thorough EYE EXAMINATION.

The Old Sock is out of Date! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

That ancient prejudice which hoarded gold with the fanatical zeal of the miser has vanished. Under the sheltering wing of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE flourish thousands of banking institutions to which the individual safely entrusts his wealth.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.
