Glorifying Yourself

Greet fall with a healthy rested body, calm nerves and a pleasant disposition and you'll have few beauty problems throughout the winter months.

Don't make the sad mistake of whirling madly into November's social whirl with the expectation of keeping up the pace all through the holidays, January and February.

See that the mattress on your bed is comfortable—neither too hard or too soft—and do try to sleep without a pillow.

Lie flat on your back, relaxing arm and leg muscles until legs and arms feel heavy—almost as if they might at any moment sink right into the mattress.

Christmas is celebrated in Spain on January 6 which is known as the Feast of the Three Kings.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1. Is it better to say "I beg your pardon" than simply "pardon"? 2. If the door of a private room is slightly ajar, may one enter without knocking? 3. Is it permissible for one member of a family to open a letter addressed to another member, if the sender is a relative? 4. When two persons are reading is it thoughtful for one of them to read aloud choice bits to the other? 5. Should a host ever play practical jokes on his guests? You are the victim of a practical joker. (a) Play a meaner trick to get even? (b) Do your best to "appreciate" the joke, and then, if you wish, avoid the joker? (c) Allow yourself to get angry and say what you think? Answers 1. Yes. 2. No. 3. No. 4. No. 5. No. Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

DEDICATED . . .

first of all to those who build, Labor Day serves to remind all of us of the necessity for building well. America cannot afford the waste and loss that follow ill-planned construction or the fulfillment of ill-laid plans. And what American cannot afford, none of the individuals who make up her great population can afford.

—and as you plan your LABOR DAY . . .

Plan it well, start at the beginning. . . have your car thoroughly checked to make certain that each part is in running condition.

If you are planning a long drive, a lubrication job will save you money on your trip. Don't take chances, play safe and you won't be sorry.

We are equipped to thoroughly check your automobile from stem to stern. . . Courteous, efficient, experienced attendants to service your car.

For constructive, forward steps, there is always, in America, the means of accomplishment. The progress that comes with each new accomplishment is the result of the cooperation that built this country. As long as it remains, progress cannot be stopped.

Make Your Holiday a Safe Day . . .

by equipping now with the new GOOD-YEAR "R-1," "First Class Travel at Reduced Rates." Holidays always bring heavy traffic to the highways . . . a driver can't be too careful. . . and with the "R-1" you are not inviting "accidents." Make your holiday a safe day . . . Buy Goodyear "R-1's".

WHAT ABOUT MEDDLING WITH THE F. B. OF I.?

Recommendations by the Senate's Crime Committee that investigating agencies of the federal government be consolidated in a single bureau will bear careful study and consideration before being acted upon.

The committee declared it had found a "general conviction that there has been a breakdown in our law-enforcement agencies and courts."

The Senate committee's discoveries, surely, cannot have been based on a comparison of law enforcement in 1932, say, with law enforcement in the late 1920's and early 1930's.

By all comparisons J. Edgar Hoover's Federal Bureau of Investigation agents rank as one of the most effective of law enforcement bodies in the world. When Congress gave Hoover's men the right to carry firearms and make arrests, encompassing certain prevalent crimes under federal statutes, it started the G-Men off on a crime corrective campaign which more than justified the drastic congressional action.

The Dillingers, the Floyds, the Kellys and the Neisons passed out of the picture along with mass killings, quarter-million dollar ransoms and wholesale bank robbery.

There is no reasonable doubt but that the credit can be given to the F. B. of I. and its young, trained and well-equipped personnel.

Politics has never played a part in Hoover's organization. Political connections, when they are sometimes brought to bear, usually turn out to be handicaps rather than aids.

The G-Men are unique in this country, both in reputation and activity. And when the Senate proposes consolidation of law enforcement agencies, namely the Postoffice Department, the Narcotic Bureau, Treasury agents, the Customs Bureau and the Coast Guard, it would be well to look closely into the manner of consolidation.

If the high standards of the F. B. of I. are to be maintained and all other agencies brought to that level, it would be fine. If the proposal is a leveling off in the other direction, or an attempt at political maneuvering of the G-Men, that's something else again.

Washington Letter

BY PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Folks in these parts are convinced the President will renew the fight to remodel the Supreme Court, but there is some recent history to indicate the contrary.

President Roosevelt has had two previous defeats on important issues. In 1934 he submitted the St. Lawrence power and navigation treaty with Canada to the senate for ratification. A majority of the senate was for it, 46 to 42, but that was not the required two-thirds majority. So he lost.

Again in 1935 the first thing taken up by congress in January was the protocol of adherence to the world court. Again the President appealed for ratification. Again a majority of the senate was for it, but not a two-thirds majority. The vote was 82 to 36, lacking only seven votes of ratification.

In each instance there were intimations the President would again submit the proposals for ratification.

He has repeatedly brought up the St. Lawrence questions in speeches, in letters and in replies to questions at press conferences. But five sessions of congress have slipped by without his again submitting the treaty for ratification.

It rests quietly in the hands of the senate foreign relations committee, listed for the present as a dead letter. The President himself has publicly recognized that, in its present form, it likely would not be acceptable.

In a letter to Representative Andrews of New York, made public May 26 this year, the President said "exploratory conversations" were continuing in the hope of drafting a new treaty under which the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway could be opened and power development undertaken.

While the margin of defeat was narrower in the world court vote, the effect was almost to blot out the issue. The President made no comment at a press conference following defeat of the proposal, other than to say he would thank the late Majority Leader Robinson for his valiant fight in its behalf.

World court adherence, pledged in the 1932 Democratic platform, was not mentioned in the 1936 platform.

Now the President has suffered another

Tex's Topics

Public officials are targets for so much criticism during the course of their careers that it becomes balm to the soul to read a story like the one in which it was recorded that the Gray county tax collector's office is conducted in such a manner that it brings the highest possible praise from the "head men" at Austin. . . We are referring to Tax Collector Ewing Leech and his able assistants who have just been commended by state tax department auditors for the very efficient manner in which the Gray county office is operated.

In the maze of records and figures that go into the books for a two-year period, the auditors found only 6 cents which they had to list as "unaccountable" in the Gray county tax records. . . In addition, the state tax supervisor went out of his way to compliment the Pampa office by saying that the Gray county tax collector's department does more work with less help than any other office in the state. . . That is a pretty high tribute. . . These flowers belong, in addition to Mr. Leech, to his capable deputies, Doug Wilson, Jack Back and Miss Betty Hancock.

People who complain of high water bills for the last month forget that the period between July 20 and Aug. 20 was the driest in the city's history, says County Judge Sherman White, whose bill was double what was a month ago, and he's not complaining. . . Judge White believes Gray county's lake should be worked out so that it will be a recreational center for the entire Eastern Panhandle, and he is right about it. . . The American Legion has taken out rain insurance on the big Community Picnic next Monday. . . Statistics show that the last time it rained locally on Sept. 6 was in 1932.

Beauties have their troubles. . . Two burly policemen have been assigned to guard Miss Grey Downs, Texas Sweetheart No. 1, as the result of a long distance telephone call received by her father in Temple to the effect that Miss Downs would be harmed if she did not withdraw from the Cass Manana Revue in which she is featured at Fort Worth. . . Frontier Fiesta officials incline to the belief that the call was someone's idea of a joke but are taking no chances and Miss Downs is kept under guard while she is at Casa Manana. . . This should be some consolation to Gray county beauties who were bested in the state competition by Miss Downs.

If the Hutchinson county fair and the Borger Jaycee Rodeo next week have anywhere near the color and pep the Borger goodwill trippers displayed when they were in town yesterday, then both events should go over with a bang. . . The boys and girls from Borger really go to town when they are out on parade. . . Brownwood Emerson writes in to suggest that some re-name "Central" and "Recreational" parks in Pampa. . . Being a newspaperman he insists both names are extremely dull, and on top of that they don't fit any too well into a one-column head of any size.

If the man who invited us to the Lions luncheon yesterday noon will check his calendar he will no doubt be amazed to learn that he forgot to keep a date. . . All of which caused us to resort to the old reliable, "ham burg and coffee" at the neighborhood lunch counter. . . Because he is a busy man we have already forgiven him for the oversight. . . If you listen at 6:30 p. m. today you ought to hear, via KPND, some pretty good advice for you and your children. . . It will come through the voices of W. A. Bratton, R. B. Fisher, J. B. Massa, and County Judge Sherman White.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO

Gray county, with its oil price schedule untouched by market slashes, was the only active area in the Panhandle field. This area dropped below 100,000 barrels for the second time, due largely to the lack of new completions.

Eighty to 85 joints of 16-foot pipe were being laid daily in the water extension program by the McCally Engineering company. That work included the digging of the ditch, the laying of the pipe, and the covering.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Cleora Stanard, daughter of Mrs. Alta Stanard, returned from Denton, where she was awarded an A. B. Degree at Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) at the close of the summer session.

City water users increased their demands in August to the largest totals of the season and attained a daily average of 1,062,419 gallons. The total pumped for the month was 32,935,000 gallons.

defeat, on the Supreme Court bill. In the message given out at the time he signed the limited court revision bill passed by congress, he implied he would fight for the balance of his original proposal. But he did not say so in such certain words that retreat would be later impossible.

With the Supreme Court bill he is in the same position as with the world court protocol and the St. Lawrence treaty. He is not pledged to a renewal of the effort. Sincere predictions can be heard here on either side that it will be revived, or that it is dead-forever.

Obviously the answer lies in the amount of stonemason put under members of congress by opposing forces.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—A little bit of business here, a little bit of business there. . .

It isn't generally known that S. Gregory Taylor, who owns the St. Moritz, saved the Greek church for New York. It was his planning that solved its financial difficulties. Gregory at the moment is putting around his island in the Atlantic, getting it ready for the fall shooting.

Alfred Lunt likes to paint. In private life he is considered an A-1 landscape artist.

When Fred Allen attacks the theater he always shakes hands with all the ushers and tells them how much he enjoyed the show.

Mistaken Whiskers
Once we were thrown off a freight train by a man with red whiskers. Yesterday we thought we saw him, but it was a case of mistaken whiskers. He said he never had been in Memphis, which is where we were when he was in a copper in sight.

Jed Harris, between plays, likes to play around with boats. He owns several yachts and hopes to have his own ocean liner. Changing the subject, he thinks southern aristocracy is the only culture this country has known.

Miriam Hopkins has been in town a week, but only close friends and servants have seen her.

Jack Dempsey has an off-hand affinity with newspapermen that wins them completely. He says, "Take off your shoes, boys, and be comfortable."

Gertrude Lawrence is a fire-cracker. She was born on July 4th, which makes Julia Peterkin a jack-o-lantern. She is born on Halloween.

The most lonesome place in New York is City Hall on Sunday afternoon. Not even a copper in sight.

Vicki Baum was a musician when she got married but gave it up to become a famous novelist. "My husband was a musician, too," she explained, "and one of those is enough for any family."

When They Meet
The Irish elevator boy in our building has ideas like George Jean Nathan. He always is complaining that riding up and down makes him tired. According to Nathan, "Opening taxi doors is as much exercise as any man needs."

Amos and Andy still wear those solid gold talsmen. Enclosed in each is a tiny watch.

New York has many famous meeting places, and the most popular of these are under the Biltmore clock, the information stand in Grand Central Terminal, the arch in Washington Square, the press gate at the Polo Grounds, and the lions at the public library.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Well, yesterday The Boy came back home from Louisiana. All summer he has been away. Last June, a boy went through that door. Yesterday, the maker of that long shadow on the threshold was still a boy, but no child. (That will be hard to bear in mind.) Last spring, when he went away he was an unimpressive number of feet and inches tall and his weight was inconsiderable. Yesterday, he came back three inches taller, measuring five feet and eleven inches tall and weighing 145 pounds, and his voice was somewhere under the table, hoarse and croaking. And the features of his face were no longer molded in childhood's shape, but there was a definitely masculine and strangely mature line in the shape of his features.

It was difficult to say that this was The Boy who left you in June. Only a short summer, but there was a definitely thing gone or is it hidden—something clear, once beloved? (Still beloved but not clear!)

Though the naive beauty of childhood is gone, it is the intangible luster that fires the body and gives it sheen and feeds the mind and gives it brightness and enflames the soul and gives it clarity—it is still there in bright new form. And so clear-eyed lad, this one cannot forget your childhood, but he can glory in your manhood.

Another Hackneyed Plot
The new picture, as is customary nowadays, has everything: Squads of talent including songsters, comedians, and hoofers. Spectacular sets including one that is literally colossal. Expert direction by Roy Del Ruth. And a plot that is hackneyed, even for a backstage musical, and dialogue redeemed only by an occasional sparkle.

This time they've combined backstage with horse-racing. Eleanor is the horse-loving girl who wants to make good on Broadway. Taylor is the young producer. He has backing from an angel (Raymond Walburn) who wants Taylor for herible and withdraws support because Taylor won't drop Eleanor from the cast. The picture ends with the show which didn't fold after all because Eleanor's horse won at Saratoga.

Taylor, with little to do and doing that inanely, is overshadowed by dancing George Murphy, who gets the applause while Bob gets the girl. Sophie Tucker is grand, and little Judy Garland scores especially with "A Love Letter to Clark Gable."

Other salvage is offered by Buddy Ebsen, Willie Howard, Helen Troy and Charles Gray Gorin, who sings magnificently.

New College Show Twist
"Varsity Show" when you get to the end of it, has no great shakes of a plot either. This is Dick Powell's new one. He is surrounded, not quite submerged, by Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, the cute Lane sisters, Priscilla and Rosemary, a grinning young named Johnny Davis who sings like Cab Calloway, a "dumb" comedienne named Mabel Todd, and assorted funny men topped by Ted Healy, Sterling Holloway and Walter Catlett.

This is a movie idea of college again, but it's concerned with the annual varsity show rather than the big game.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

To the many readers who relished his "Life With Father," the late Clarence Day left a heritage, a companion piece titled, of course, "Life With Mother."

This new work, published by Alfred A. Knopf ($2), was compiled from many new pieces written about his father and mother by Mr. Day before his death.

In his previous book, Mr. Day painted a delightful, well-rounded picture of his strong-minded, irascible father, who was constantly bewildered because he couldn't make those about him adopt his design for living.

Appropriately enough, "Life With Mother" begins with "Father's" courtship. And this he conducts in just the practical, romanceless way that you would expect him to do. He finally made up his mind to marry "Mother," proceeded to her home town in Ohio, and peremptorily demanded her hand. They were married a short time later, Mother a bit confused by the suddenness of it all.

With the exception of a lively anecdote about how Grandpa (Benjamin Henry Day, founder of the New York Sun) mischievously lent zest to Grandma's seances, the rest of the book deals with "Mother's" light with her doughty spouse.

To a man like Father, who knew just how everything should be done, Mother's impractical ways were mystifying, and Clarence Day, with his rippling humor, describes some of the wrangles that resulted. Father, for all of his decisiveness, always seemed to come out second best, for Mother's gentle manner belied a firm, stubborn little soul.

While a sequel to "Life With Father" hardly could be anything but anticlimactic, Day has produced here an entertaining book.—G. F.

TYHOON TAKES 500 LIVES AT HONGKONG

HONGKONG, Sept. 3 (AP)—Typhoon-battered Hongkong today was a city and harbor strewn with wreckage, with bodies washed up along the waterfront and great ships pitched crazily inland.

The storm's havoc greatly accentuated the misery in this city, packed with war refugees and fighting a cholera epidemic in which two-thirds of the cases have been fatal.

The death toll was estimated at 500 or more. Canton was hit. Many ships were beached here and on nearby islands.

Among the shipping sunk was the bulk of the American yacht Shearwater III, once owned by the American millionaire, Gibson Fahnestock.

Four men aboard were rescued, but two others were lost.

DEICE SHOWS HANDS' PALMS, DETECT LIES

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—The palms of the hands detect lies.

The evidence of this and workings of an electrical apparatus, the "lie detector," which catches the hand currents that flow with lies, was described to the American Psychological Association here today by Professor Christian A. Ruckmick, of the University of Iowa.

The "detector" is a couple of bits of metal which fastens to the palm. Fine wires conduct currents that flow from the palms to a galvanometer.

These currents, known as the galvanic skin response, have been known for years. Perfection in reading them and demonstrations that they are unfailing in lies and all emotions is a recent step of science.

The currents are known to be connected with the sweat glands. But why they flow, Professor Ruckmick said, is still theory. Apparently the emotions cause increased activity of the sweat glands.

It is believed, he said, that this slight, extra flow causes the glands to act like electrical condensers. For a few seconds, usually about seven seconds after an emotion, the glands apparently collect and store up the natural currents of the skin, the same as condensers.

Then they discharge their electricity. The result is an extra current. It shows on a galvanometer needle and it faithfully depicts emotion. That is the stronger the emotion, the more the current. Fear and anger cause larger deflections than any other emotions. That, said Dr. Ruckmick, may be because these two are the most primitive of emotions.

As a lie detector, Dr. Ruckmick predicted the electrical "detector" would in time be more useful than the blood pressure and breathing methods now more generally used. It can be used, he said, with less inconvenience to the person under test.

Absolutely no voluntary control over sweat gland activity has been discovered, he added. He has used it on criminal cases. While it does not fail to record lies, it makes no visible distinction between a lie and any other emotion.

It records pleasure as readily as hate.

Dr. George K. Bennett, Psychological Corporation, New York City, reported a study of 3,000 American youths, showing that neither intelligence nor personality are important in leadership.

The quality with the greatest value in finding the leaders was participation in competitive sports. The more competitive the sport the more likely it was to mark a "leader" whether boy or girl.

Chinese machine gun nests at Pootung, across the Whangpoo from Shanghai, peppered the decks of Japanese warships.

The Japanese were unable to reply effectively because the Augusta and other craft were in their range of fire.

The United States supply ship Gold Star ran gauntlet of shell fire to evacuate about 100 wives and children of American Marines. The ship sailed for Kobe, Japan. It was the first American refugee ship to leave since banishment of the Dollar line President Hoover Monday.

Jap Budget Passed The Japanese government prepared for a long war by drafting an emergency war budget of more than $600,000,000, more than Japan spent on the last Sino-Japanese war and the Russo-Japanese war combined. It raised the war total to $762,000,000.

An emergency session of parliament will consider the budget tomorrow.

Japan moved to consolidate its control over the North China provinces of Hopeh and Chahar. At Peiping there were indications the government of Japanese dominated Manchoukuo would be transferred to Peiping, with Emperor Kang Teh installed as ruler of the combined areas.

The Japanese navy spokesman at Shanghai charged Chinese with using mortars and field artillery to bombard Japanese-occupied Hong-kew without warning, killing many Japanese civilians and wounding two consular officials. This, he said, demanded definite Japanese retribution.

Pootung Point, which juts out into the bend of the Whangpoo opposite the Garden bridge, was enveloped in roaring flames that leaped out over the water and forced the Augusta to move in closer to the Bund late this afternoon.

REPRESENTATIVE WILL CHALLENGE TWO LAWS

DALLAS, Sept. 3 (AP)—State Representative Fred Harris of Dallas said today he would challenge the constitutionality of two state laws authorizing organization of boards to administer social security benefits to destitute children and blind persons.

He also said he would conduct a campaign to have all Texas social security projects administered by one board.

The representative said he believed laws authorizing the Texas Board of Control to set up bodies to administer aid to the blind and destitute children were unconstitutional because they were based upon the contingency that such aid be approved by voters at the constitutional amendment election of Aug. 23.

The measures were passed at the spring session of the legislature.

Callers Practice. Challenges are flying thick and fast among the women of the husband calling contest. The committee in charge, have received the entry of a "dark horse." Incidentally, this "dark horse" is looking for a husband and it is thought, in her anxiety that she may be able to win the prize at husband calling. Hog callers from the back of the creek will converge at the picnic grounds, and it is hoped that there will not be a porker within miles because some of these callers are real champions and it is feared that the ground will be overrun with hogs, due to this contest calling.

Peasant Race. One of the hardest points to decide, is to let the contestants use a pencil to push the peanuts or to make them use their nose in the peanut pushing contest. The old-fashioned peanut race always called for pushing the peanut with the nose. The committee in charge have not decided exactly how this will be done, but it will be explained at the picnic grounds.

From indications, the crowd at this picnic will exceed the 10,000 expected. If this attendance is attained, it is assured that the American Legion will be in a position to build the much-needed band stand in our city park. There will be two of the school bands at the picnic to give concerts during the day.

POWERS JOIN TO STAMP OUT SUB. ATTACKS

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Four little destroyers of His Majesty's home fleet fanned a swift path toward the western Mediterranean today to help track down guerrilla submarines that have terrorized international shipping with torpedo attacks.

The admiralty announced the four would join five other destroyers in a heavy concentration off Spain's east coast.

These trim warcraft will blanket a wide area of the Mediterranean about the spots where only two days ago the British destroyer Havock and the British tanker Woodford were torpedoed.

The threat to Mediterranean shipping and her own colonial communications, placed warcraft on patrol duty, augmenting the British naval force hunting the maritime marauders.

The situation was aggravated most recently by reports last night that the Soviet cargo steamer Blagov had been sunk in the northern Aegean sea and its wireless operator killed.

Another incident—this one attributed directly to Spanish insurgents—was reported from Bone, Algeria. A band of insurgents said to have come from Algiers seized the Spanish government freighter Marnegro while it lay at anchor and escaped with the vessel.

Under the French plan expected to be taken to Geneva for examination next year, the warship of any participating nation would go to the aid of an attacked merchantman of any other nation.

His Majesty's government was widely reported to informed circles to suspect Italian submarines, aiding the Spanish insurgent cause, were responsible for at least some of the almost countless attacks and molestations from the straits of the Mediterranean to another in recent weeks.

Together the contradictory reports filled in a graphic picture of combat centered on a huge circular battlefield, in a region of dried lakes about 12 miles south of Zaragoza, or midway between the insurgent stronghold and government beleaguered Belchite.

Insurgent reports reaching the French border said a coordinated counter-offensive had smashed government lines in the Belchite sector and that the Madrid-Valencia forces had been put to disordered flight.

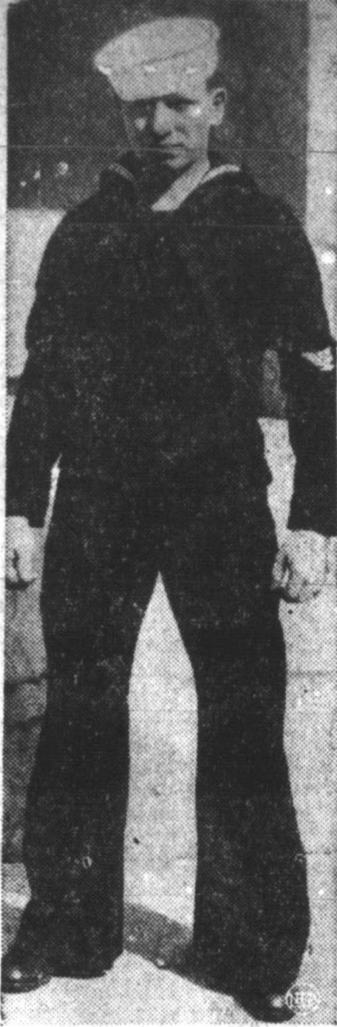

Government reports from Valencia asserted, on the other hand, that the siege ring at Belchite had held fast yesterday and that government chock troops were already dynamiting their way house-to-house into the center of the town.

They qualified their statements, however, by recalling that far east developments have occurred so rapidly that the international situation has changed frequently in a few hours.

LOS ANGELES—John Bates finished eating his best-time ham sandwich, turned out the light. Something seemed the matter with the remainder of the ham.

It glowed. Bates rushed to an emergency hospital but doctors found nothing wrong.

The health department examined the ham. "Nothing to worry about," reported toxicologist George Welby. "The glow is caused by a germ—micrococcus phosphorus. It disappears when the meat is boiled."

Bates brightened up.

FARMER-LABOR UNION TO BE SPEECH TOPIC

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—John L. Lewis indicated today he will bid for a political alliance of farmers and labor in a broadcast address tonight.

The bushy-crowded chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization said farmers were the "national allies" of labor and added: "Some of the means whereby labor expects to consolidate and further this natural alliance will be discussed in my speech."

Lewis' address will be broadcast by a radio network (CBS) from 9:30 to 10 p. m. (EST).

His intimation of its character recalled his statement at the end of Congress criticizing the Democratic leadership. It was interpreted by many congressmen as a threat of a third party in 1940.

Senator Lundeen (R-Minn.) predicted a national labor party in the next presidential election.

Lewis said he also will talk about the bloody steel strike of the early summer and mention some of "the public officials who betrayed their trust and used the forces of government against labor."

His speech will be the first of a series of week-end oratorical efforts by labor leaders which may set forth further policy in the struggle for supremacy between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, will speak at Dallas, Tex., Monday.

FISHING VACATION IN STORE FOR ROOSEVELT

ABOARD PRESS YACHT INDIAN, Sept. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt, aboard the yacht Potomac, headed for Long Island sound and the fighting bitfish today to start a five-day sea vacation from the rigors of post-congress duties.

Shortly before embarking yesterday the President passed on the last few congressional bills awaiting action.

A summary issued by James Roosevelt before he joined the yachting party showed 837 bills had been received by the President.

He vetoed 17 during the session and 23 afterward. Two were passed over his veto and of the nearly 900 signed, more than 150 received his approval after congress adjourned, most of them during the last week at Hyde Park.

FUNERAL HELD Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Florence of LeFors. The services were in the home of the parents, in charge of Rev. Lawrence of the First Baptist church of LeFors.

Survivors are the parents, one brother, Kenneth Eugene, and one sister, Helen Marie. Burial was in Fairview cemetery by the Duengel-Gamichael Funeral home.

NINE HARVESTERS RETURN CRIPPLED FROM COLORADO TRAINING CAMP

2 SCRIMMAGES WON BY PAMPA PIGSKIN SQUAD

Thirty aching 1937 Harvester football prospects returned last night from the 10-day training camp at Monument Lake, Colo. The boys, accompanied by Coaches Mitchell and Prejan, Tom Herod, and Hugh Isbell were in good shape insofar as their condition after the training period, but many of them were injured during the stay.

On the list of those suffering leg, knee and other hurts are Bill Stiles, Oliver Coahow, John Henry Nelson, Jack Wear, Claude Hetskel, Jr., Williams, Norman Cox and Arthur Harding, Captain J. W. Graham and Cox were on the list before the camp began. However, by the time the first game is played, with Childress on the 17th, it is hoped the lads will be fit.

All the gridder reported a "swell time." Two workouts were held daily, and the rest of the day was spent in hiking, fishing, swimming and in playing other sports.

In the scrimmage with Perryton Tuesday, the Pampa lads came out on top with a score of 8 to 0. The second scrimmage on Thursday showed even better with a score of 19 to 0 for the Harvesters. Both games were pleasing to the coaches because the Perryton youths are usually good ball players and turn out a good team.

Boys who made the trip are Capt. J. W. Graham, Topsy Reynolds, Melvin Turner, Carl Brown, Oliver Coahow, Bill Stiles, Truman Humple, Welby Parish, Jack Ware, Don Smith, Beecher Freeman, Jack Leavitt, J. P. Mathews, Bob Andis, John Henry Nelson, Tommy McMahon, Arthur Harding, Harry McMahan, Leonard Dull, John Kidwell, Pete Dunaway, Junior Williams, Bobby Carr, LaFolio Watt, Norman Cox, Chester Hunkapillar, Glenn Nichols, Claude Hetskel, Eugene Fleming, Glenn Dull, Clarence Cunningham and Harold Wisely.

AQUATIC STARS ENTER WOMEN'S A. A. U. MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Hard by the Pacific ocean in the world's largest outdoor pool, America's best feminine swimmers and divers open a four-day attack on national records today, in the senior women's A. A. U. championships.

Opening events are the ten-foot board diving, 100 meters and one mile free style races.

Favorite in the springboard event is little 14-year-old Majorie Gestring of Los Angeles.

Fourteen of the country's speediest swimmers were entered in the 100-meter free style race, in which slender Toni Redfern, Virginia schoolgirl, is defending champion.

The mile swim was considered a wide-open affair, with Gladys Hushes of Seattle; Gloria Gallen of New York; Fern Strum and Florence Chadwick, both of Los Angeles, and Ruth Hoergar of Miami among leading competitors.

GULDAHL AND MANGRUM LEAD NATIONAL FIELD

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 3 (AP)—Ralph Ouldahl of Chicago, national open golf champion, and Ray Mangrum, Dayton, Ohio, awoke in this model community near Harrisburg today, confident of setting a new record for the 72-hole $5,000 HERSHEY open.

Each turned in a stalling six-under-par 67 in the first round yesterday to equal the course record. All they have to do to equal the hole-in-one record made by Ky Lafon, of Denver, Colo., three years ago, is shoot par 73 for the remaining three rounds today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Guldahl and Mangrum showed the way to a top-flight field. Henry Picard was in third place with a sub-par 70. Gene Sarazen got a 72 while Sam Snead and Johnny Beville equalled par 70. Byron Nelson and Ed Dudley got 74's. Ben Hogan, of Fort Worth, Texas, posted a 71.

248 ENTRANTS SHOOT IN SKEET TOURNAMENT

DETROIT, Sept. 3 (AP)—Shotguns boomed steadily today as a record field of 248 entrants fired away at the second 100 targets of the all-gauge event, final contest of the third national skeet championships at the Blue Rock gun club.

Three perfect scores of 100 were shot in the opening 100 targets of the 250 target event Thursday. The marksmen who shared the top niche as today's firing started were Frank R. Kelly, of West Orange, N. J., Odie Walding, of Los Angeles, and Don Searis, of South Lyn, Mich. Tied at 99 are 11 gunners.

Walding's 100 straight and Robert Wilfong's 99 helped the Gilmore Red Lions of Los Angeles to take the lead in the team event with 491 out of 500.

Social notes: Lady Luck is that way about Bill Terry again. The romance that waxed warm just about this time last season, and then cooled off for the moment of the early part of the current campaign, is blooming again.

Everything is breaking right for the Colonel from Memphis and his New York Giants. His pitchers have started to click again, his attack is timely if not murderous, and his nearest rivals for the National league pennant are falling apart, with all the consistency of a layer cake hit with a sledge hammer.

And now, as though that weren't enough, the weakest weapon in his offense, young Johnny McCarthy, is beginning to find the range, and his perennial feudists, the Flatbush Frolics from Brooklyn, are doing their level best to kick the Giants upstairs.

What with this and that, the Terry Terriers were a full game in front in the National league pennant parade today. Their 5-4 win over the Cardinals yesterday, coupled with the championship chase in this form:

Team	W	L	Pct.	To Play
Giants	73	47	.608	34
Cubs	73	49	.599	32

Only a few days ago, the experts were referring to McCarthy as the "minor league" member of the Giants' cast.

But he was the No. 1 wallopier yesterday in the 10-inning win over the Cards. He whacked two homers to make up for a fielding collapse on the part of the New Yorkers and the Giants in the game long enough for Mel Ott's thirtieth round-tripper and a trio of assorted blows in the extra frame to pull the Giants in.

Meantime, the Yankees and their slump ran into young Bob Feller and the alleged Murderers' Row took a terrific kicking around. Young Bob, looking a lot like a pitcher fanned a dozen and allowed five hits as he hurled the Tribe to a 4-2 win despite Joe DiMaggio's thirtieth homer.

Hank Greenberg poked two homers and the Tigers topped the Senators, 9-8, in ten innings to cut the Yanks' lead to ten games. The White Sox socked the Red Sox twice, 4-2 and 10-8, and the Athletics trimmed the Browns, 5-3, on Bill Werber's double with the bases loaded. The Pirates' five-run rally in the ninth beat the Phillies, 11-8. The Bees and Reds were idle.

DUNCAN TEAM STILL IN HOUSTON BALL TOURNEY

HOUSTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Tonight's doubleheader in the Houston Post's semi-pro baseball tournament will see the Alvin Texaco Indians vs. Halliburton Cementers of Duncan, Okla., and Houston Light and Power vs. El Campo.

The Baytown Humble Oilers scored their second upset last night by taking a 3-2 decision from Refugio. The win placed the Oilers in a tie with the defending champion Barbers Bill Gushers for the tourney lead.

The Mount Pleasant Cubs, their lineup damaged by automobile collision injuries to two players, withdrew and forfeited their game with the Conroe Wildegs.

Louis Relaxes After Fight

Louis the First lies in state in his dressing room at Yankee Stadium while his handlers tenderly care for his hurts, which included a badly damaged prestige, a sore left cheek, two puffed lips, a wounded pride, and a swollen right eyebrow, suffered in his unexpectedly tough 15-round fight with gallant Tommy Farr. Joe, the champion, picked to win by a quick knockout, had to be content with a decision, appearing gun-shy against the unorthodox English challenger.

CAMPION ON TO OUST MAKO FROM DAVIS DOUBLES PLAY

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 3 (AP)—There's a strong campaign afoot already to get husky Gene Mako off the American Davis cup doubles team and break in a new partner for Don Budge before Germany comes hunting for the cup next summer.

The tennis fathers have not been content with Mako's play for some time. They felt he was the weak link in the American team that went questing for the big trophy this summer.

A partial poll of those with feelings in the matter favored the veteran John Van Ryn to team up with Budge next time. They feel that he and Budge, himself a superb doubles performer, would be able to keep the Davis cup safe from Germany or any other country.

INTEREST GOOD IN AUTO RACES

According to Del O'Neal, associate promoter for the stock car races to be held here Sunday and Monday, entries have been sent from as far as Hutchinson and Great Bend, Kas. Up until last night, fourted, drivers had entered, and many more are planning to soon.

O'Neal said that prospects are that more than 20 autos will be ready to make the time trials at 1:30 o'clock both days. Many local drivers are tuning their autos to upset the dope that Wesley Lewis, who won previously, can't be beaten.

Races will be held on Sunday and Monday beginning at 2:30 o'clock both days. On the program for the day will be three five-mile races, one ten-mile race, and a feature event of 25 miles. Also, a motorcycle race is being planned, and Captain Billy Sisk will crash a small roadster through a wall as an added attraction.

The races have proven popular in other sections and were well liked here last month. The promoters have staged similar events in Hutchinson, Kas., and Albuquerque, N. M., and have attracted much attention and praise from fans.

SOONERS WIN $1,200 TEXAS LEAGUE TITLE

(By The Associated Press)

The Oklahoma City Indians were champions of the regular season of the Texas league today and annexed the $1,200 prize going with the honor. A Shaughnessy play-off will follow regular scheduled play.

The Indians clinched the leadership by defeating Galveston 4-2 last night. The veteran Indian hurler, Jack Brillheart, held the Bees scoreless until the seventh.

San Antonio's fourth-place Missions broke Fort Worth's winning streak at 10 games with a 4-2 victory. Howard Mills' steady hurling scattered seven Cat blows.

The third-place Tulsa Oilers got 14 hits and whalloped Houston 9-1. The Buffs managed their single center in the first.

The lowly Dallas Steers, staging an end-of-the-season rally by winning a few, whipped Beaumont, 4-1, behind Al Baker's effective mound work.

Amarillo Softball Team Wins Game State Tournament

OVERTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Missouri-Pacific of Palestine, Texaco Firechiefs of Amarillo and Coca Cola of Wichita Falls had wins credited them today in the state softball tournament which started with 20 entries.

The Palestine club advanced to the second round with a 5-0 victory over the Abilene Coca Cola's last night. Amarillo defeated Calvert's Softball 1-0. Pitcher Norton permitting but four hits while whiffing 13.

Wichita Falls bottled the Devers Nighthawks 11-0.

Today's play included: Stamford vs. Wicket's Gulf Oilers; top of Gladewater vs. Commercial Standard Life of Fort Worth, and Overton's Bhal Goerps vs. Bryan's Bottlers.

THIS GRIDDER WILL BE BIG WHEN HE GROWS UP

HOUSTON (AP)—Six-foot-five-inch Paul Murphy, football tackle, can claim one distinction when he is graduated from the Rice Institute.

No one can fill his shoes. Head Coach Jimmie Kitts worried all summer about his giant sophomore lineman, at last has him fully clothed. A pair of specially made shoes—size 15 EE—has arrived. A uniform to cover the 240-pounder is in the making.

The Okdale, La., giant, star of the Rice freshman team last fall, is only 18 years old. Kitts shudders when he thinks how much leather will be needed to encase Murphy's feet during his senior year.

For all his left and "foundation," Murphy is an aggressive and swift lineman, according to Kitts.

JEROME FRANK WAS HERO OF NEGOTIATIONS ON SUGAR BILL

BY RODNEY DUTCHEE
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Various arguments were considered by Roosevelt as he debated with himself whether to veto the sugar bill or let it ride.

But one argument was not—the one put up by the continental U. S. refiner's lobby to the effect that well-paid American labor would be placed in further competition with low-paid, sweated, tropical labor if quota restrictions on territorial Puerto Rican and Hawaiian refined sugar were not kept in the bill.

The government countered this argument by proposing to insert wage and hour standards applicable to all sugar refineries, under the American flag.

Lobbyists and their congressional sympathizers promptly turned that one down. Government forces explain by saying that if the "sweated tropical labor" issue had been removed, continental refiners would have been left with practically no argument except that they wanted an effective monopoly.

Behind the government strategy as related to the Hawaiian-Puerto Rican restrictions was Jerome Frank, brilliant former general counsel for AAA now practicing law in New York.

He had supervised framing of the present sugar act, but was kicked out because he crusaded too forcefully on behalf of farmers and consumers against middle men in food industries. Secretary Ickes and Frank's friend, Dr. Ernest Gruening, chief of territories and possessions, asked Frank to come back and help them defend interests and rights of the islanders.

Frank had been offered huge fees to represent Hawaiian producers, in whose cause he believed, and had turned them down. When the chance came to do the same job gratis, with no possibility that he could be called a lobbyist selling his government experience, Frank gladly jumped into the fight on that basis while a dozen other former AAA men worked as pro or con lobbyists for high fees.

Court Ceremony
The news men and photographers who stood outside Senate Secretary Ed Halsey's office while—as they learned many hours later—Senator Hugo Black was being sworn in as Supreme Court justice, supposed the notable occasion had been carefully planned and prepared.

As a matter of fact, it was only a spur-of-the-moment idea on Black's part.

Black had come up from his office in the Senate Education and Labor Committee to greet and congratulate Mrs. Dixie Bibb Graves as her husband, the governor of Alabama, handed her credentials as the new senator replacing Black.

Suddenly Black said:
"I'm here, Ed Halsey's here. We're all here. Why not get a man to swear me in and let's get the whole business over right now. I've got to go to Baltimore to see my boy in the hospital tomorrow, anyway."

So Halsey telephoned next door to Charles F. Pace, for decades the Senate paymaster and a notary public. The job was done promptly. Black left hurriedly with Halsey, refusing to talk or to be photographed. Only five or six persons know he was then a Supreme Court justice and none told until late in the evening. Black, although he had posed dozens of times in the previous few days, has refused to be photographed or interviewed ever since he donned the judicial robes.

AMARILLO EXPECTING BIG CROWDS AT FAIR

AMARILLO, Sept. 3.—Tri-State Fair officials are confident all attendance records will be broken at the 1937 exposition, Sept. 20-25.

Attendance records at similar attractions throughout the United States are being shattered this year and officials are looking forward to a most successful crystal celebration, the fifteenth anniversary of the exposition.

"Everything points to the best Tri-State Fair ever held," declared O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager. "Major interest centers in agricultural and livestock exhibits, but all other departments will be complete. The tri-state area has enjoyed one of the best seasons in years."

Arrangements have just been completed for another major attraction to round out the entertainment features of the exposition.

In front of the grandstand each night will be a stage show presented by 50 persons, including an orchestra of 15 pieces. There will be special scenery, lighting effects and gorgeous costumes for the chorus of 24 girls. The same attraction broke all records at the Missouri state fair in Sedalia.

Father of Labor Day Gave 19 Years of Life to His Holiday Cause

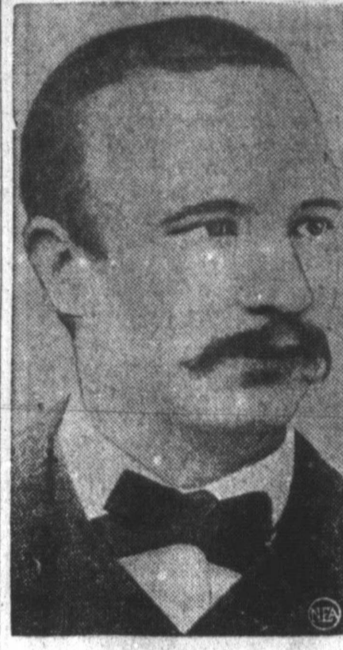

By STEPHEN M. O'KEEFE,
NEA Service Correspondent

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 3.—Labor Day—a period of play for millions—is a monument to an Irish boy, a remote stranger to the legions who enjoy the holiday he conceived and courageously sponsored.

Peter J. McGuire, "Father of Labor Day," modest figure in American history, is scarcely known throughout the nation but in his southern New Jersey community his memory is revered. Hundreds who know of the bitter struggle waged to advance the position of organized labor, annually bow in homage at his simple grave in picturesque Arlington cemetery near here.

Nearly one-fourth of "Old Pete's" life was devotedly given to putting forth his idea that the working-man should have a holiday on the first Monday of September. "Pete" struggled also for the eight-hour day and 40-hour week. He gave up his trade as a cabinetmaker to make speeches abroad in the land.

Made Gompers Leader.
McGuire was credited by labor leaders with being the man who

Relatives of Peter J. McGuire, "Father of Labor Day," assembled at his grave in Arlington Cemetery, outside Camden, N. J., where a granite monument bears the emblem of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America which he founded.

years—with two cents in his pocket. Death followed stirring attempts to organize workmen of all crafts, a drive which for several years sapped his strength. Thousands attended the funeral, one of the largest tributes ever paid anyone in this vicinity. More than 500 carriages followed the casket.

McGuire organized the Shoe Workers Union, helped form the United Mine Workers of America, and banded the carpenters and joiners. He then proved a foremost figure in banding these groups into the American Federation of Labor.

Idea Called Fanciful.
"Pete" McGuire was born in Dublin, Ireland, on July 4, 1852. His parents brought him to this country three years later. They settled in New York City. "Pete" was taken to school for the first time when he was five, and 10 years later he was graduated from high school. At 15 he took his first job in a New York dry goods store.

After one year of work, McGuire had saved enough money to pay his own tuition in a night school, at Cooper's Institute. He completed

In the face of this hardship McGuire struggled along, leaving behind him the thought that all who labor were just as deserving of a holiday as other individuals who contributed to the progress of America. The seed he planted took root even where he was ridiculed and slandered. No record was kept of the number of times he pleaded with lawmakers, with the public generally and with men who, like himself, sweated in shops.

For 13 troublesome years he campaigned almost continuously, doggedly determined to carry on with little or no aid and against discouraging circumstances. The long drive ended in 1894, when Congress legalized Labor Day. Thus, enactment of the law took place 19 years after the stolid woodcarver conceived the idea, which today, provides freedom from toil for one day to millions of men, women and youth throughout the nation.

WHAT'S THAT AXIOM? IF YOU DON'T AT FIRST—

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—A persevering thief stole the same car twice within an hour here, only to have an even-more persevering deputy recover it both times.

The officer, Elmer Tift, said he noticed a 14-year-old boy driving the car apprehensively, but the boy sought to question him.

Tift notified the owner, but while that individual was en route with his ignition keys, the car disappeared again. Tift, unaware of the second theft, saw the same boy driving a car, chased him, and discovered that it was the same machine. This time he hung onto both thief and automobile.

study there at the age of 20, but before he graduated from the night classes he had discovered a job his early aim in life was to master a trade. To this end, he moved westward, obtaining a job in a piano where he could learn carpentry.

pushed the late Samuel Gompers to the fore, and to the last was a warm friend of the one-time president of the American Federation of Labor. Gompers, for a time, lived with McGuire here. At the time, Gompers was bookkeeper of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, founded by McGuire and which had an office in Philadelphia, directly across the Delaware river.

"Old Pete" died in a small house here Feb. 18, 1906, in his fifty-fourth

Congress Must Follow F. D. R. or Face a New Party, Says LaFollette

EDITOR'S NOTE: Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., followed in the footsteps of his father as an insurgent Republican senator from Wisconsin. But the LaFollette wing now scorns the Republican ticket and fishes under the name of the Progressive Party.

BY SENATOR ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE, JR.
Written Exclusively for The Pampa Daily News and NEA Service, Inc.
BEFORE we can decide where we go from here we must take our bearings and determine just where we are.

The essential of determining where we are is to understand that the economic crisis through which we are passing is not a mere phase of the business cycle. It is the end of an economic era dominated by the physical expansion of the frontier.

Immigration has stopped. Natural population growth is slowing down. Free land has disappeared. Economic nationalism is closing our economic opportunity in foreign trade.

All these things have resulted in a curtailment of his father as an insurgent Republican senator from Wisconsin. But the LaFollette wing now scorns the Republican ticket and fishes under the name of the Progressive Party.

GOD REQUIRES SOCIAL JUSTICE
Text: Leviticus 19:9-18, 32-37.
By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance.

We have seen that a nation needs religion for its true welfare. But it is important to consider the kind of religion that a nation needs. Religion as a vague and general thing is not enough.

It is, first of all, a religion in which man takes account of his fellowman. The religion of selfishness has no place in a nation's life. Selfishness ruins and destroys nations.

Life of a people who would be the children of God.
Nor was this religion of Israel to be a religion of narrow and self-centered patriotism.

Then, in a true society, there must be recognition not only of needs, but of rights. Men in a sound society should have a religion that will not permit them to steal from one another, to deal falsely, or to lie to one another.

The religion of a nation needs is a religion also of mercy and of magnanimity. Vengeance plays a large part even in our conceptions of justice today, but the justice of God is different, and there is no place for vengeance or for grudge in the

WAGER OF TWO HOGS YIELDS CASH FOR COLLEGE

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A wager of two hogs that she would go through college without smoking, provided funds for Beatrice Farr Bradley to spend four years at Indiana university and collect her A. B.

Her cousin, Joe Gayle, bet Miss Bradley she'd puff a cigaret before she got her diploma. That was in 1933. Her grandfather, Harry Bradley, offered to keep and feed the hogs, which were brood sows, on his farm near here.

From the sows came many pigs. Miss Bradley's sisters in Phi Beta Phi testified that she never smoked. And so she realized enough from the sows and their offspring to pay for college education.

Two Major Objectives

It seems perfectly clear to me that we have two primary objectives in the near future—(1) to increase the national income, and (2) to secure a more equitable distribution of it as it is produced from year to year.

The Roosevelt administration and its supporters have taken certain minimum steps in the general direction of these objectives. What the country is now going through from a political standpoint is a decision whether the administration and its supporters are going to be able to carry forward with other measures to the full attainment of these objectives.

ANNOUNCING

GREEN WOULD WELCOME BACK 10 CIO UNIONS

Editor's Note: Labor's civil war daily grows more bitter. How could peace be made? An Associated Press reporter asked Wm. Green, A. F. of L. president, that question today. He gave his answer in the following interview.

By JOSEPH MILLER. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 3 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today the federation would welcome back the ten suspended CIO unions if they returned without any conditions.

Their return, he said, would be the first step toward reuniting the American labor movement, divided into two bitterly warring camps since John L. Lewis started the Committee for Industrial Organization in November, 1935.

If the CIO unions took this step—and Green frankly said he doubted they would—the next move toward final peace, he said, would be appointment of a joint committee of A. F. of L. and CIO leaders to work out a detailed settlement.

"I recognize that there would be many complicated problems to be solved," Green said. "The hardest of these probably would result from the CIO's recognition of dual unions in the radio and electrical and shipbuilding industries. Those unions never belonged to the American Federation of Labor."

"On the other hand, we have organized textile workers, metal miners, ladies garment workers, and have chartered the Progressive Miners of America, all in territory claimed by the CIO unions. Let them come back without conditions and take their places at the American Federation of Labor convention. Let them come back just as they are, with their increased membership. We will recognize them, with their increased voting strength, and tell them to take the places they left."

"The issue of craft versus industrial unionism would still remain but we could fight it out in the true democratic way within the family of labor—not between two warring groups as we are fighting today."

"The longer this fight goes on, the more complicated the issues become. It would be harder to settle today than it would have been a year ago. It will be still harder a year from now."

THREE SUITS FILED IN NEW LONDON BLAST

HENDERSON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Suits seeking damages for the death of three children in the New London school explosion March 18 were on file in district court here today.

The pleadings, filed by an Oklahoma City law firm yesterday, named the Parade Gasoline company, a Delaware corporation operating in Texas, as defendant, alleging carelessness and negligence and failure to inspect properly a connection in the school building with a high pressure butane gas pipeline.

Damages of $15,000 were asked by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith of Talco, Texas for the death of their daughter, Eva Joe Smith, aged 12; $2,999.99 by Mr. and Mrs. Smith for another daughter, Naomi Jewel Smith, 10, and $2,999.99 by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bunting of the London community for their daughter, Naomi Bunting, 18.

Citations returnable to the September term of court have been served. M. D. Wright, clerk, said, however, trial was not probable until November.

Lives of hundreds of children and teachers were snuffed out in the blast.

No railway operates in Liberia, and there is only one main highway completed which could be used for bus or truck transportation.

Toes Shot Away—Americans Give Aid

Two "good Samaritans," Bruce and Sheridan Fabenstock, American writers, after 3,500 panic-stricken "Pharisees" had passed by on the other side, helped this young Chinese whose toes were shot away, and who had been unable to move for 20 hours near Felping.

He Made It!

Practically an amphibian is Charles Zimmy, legless endurance swimmer, who set new records by swimming from Albany to New York down the Hudson River in 6 days, 4 hours. Zimmy is pictured on his arrival at New York. When his legs were lost in an accident when he was 9 years old, Zimmy discovered that he couldn't sink.

AMERICAN PRESS GIVEN PRAISE AT DISCUSSION

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 3 (AP)—The American press was described today as "the most thorough, competent and honest that this country has ever known" by Wilbur Forrest, executive assistant to Ogden Reid, publisher and publisher of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Forrest made his assertion in an address prepared for delivery at a round table discussion on the press at the Institute of Human Relations.

His talk followed one by Oswald Garrison Villard, contributing editor to The Nation, before the second general institute session on the press.

Villard attacked those newspaper publishers to whom freedom of the press "meant that men might be attacked in their columns without the freedom to reply to present the truth when truth had been falsified."

Forrest asserted "that all but the few (newspapers) are on the alert every day guarding the canons of good taste in print and pictures, fighting relentlessly against inaccuracy seeking to get both sides of the story, striving to publish the kind of newspaper you would like to have come into your homes."

Pulton Courier, editor-in-chief of Liberty Magazine, pleaded for "constructive sensationalism" in popular publications.

STATEWIDE HEARING TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 20
AUSTIN, Sept. 3 (AP)—The Railroad Commission will conduct a statewide hearing Sept. 20 for receiving technical testimony upon which to base an oil production order for October.

The basic allowance for September was 1,441,510 barrels daily which probably will result in an average allowable in excess of 1,450,000 due to well completions.

The commission did not reduce the factor upon which allowable output in the vast East Texas field is computed, although engineers had testified bottomhole pressure declined "excessively" in the July-August reporting period.

C. V. Terrell, chairman, said the commission wanted to observe the pressure decline for another month.

to seasonal influence, slumped from 0.35 gallon to 0.33.

The liquor control board believes its "decentralized" enforcement plans are paying big dividends. Under the new set-up enforcement officers are stationed regularly in many cities and towns instead of working out of several headquarters cities. The board cites as proof of better enforcement the $30,195 in fines collected in July, largest monthly amount ever collected in Texas. In addition, there were 320 convictions, compared with 215 in June. Fifty-one were jail sentences as against 35 in the previous month. Inspectors seized 70 still in July, 48 in June.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
KAY DEARBORN—heroine who inherits a yacht for vacation.
FRISILLA DUNN—the third adventurer.
FOREST BROTHERS and GRANT HARPER—young scientists whose expedition turned out to be a rare experience.

Yesterday, investigating the strange cabin ashore the girls find the body of a woman. The next day she has disappeared! And when the girls return to their cruiser they find a great hole has been cut in the dinghy.

CHAPTER VIII
 Filled with dismay and fright, the three girls regarded the jagged hole which had been chopped through the bottom of the overturned dinghy. Footprints leading down to the boat from another part of the wood were plainly evident, made by a man wearing a good-sized outing shoe. In the excitement and fear of the moment, they failed to notice that the footprints did not lead away from the damaged dinghy. And lying near its handle in the water, was a short and ugly ax with which the damage had evidently been done.

"There's nothing for us to do but to swim to the boat," Kay pointed out.
 Melita shook her head. "I don't want to ruin this rifle. We may need it badly. I'll stay here while one of you swim to the 'Chinook' and inflate the rubber life-raft. With that we can keep the rifle safe."
 "You won't be afraid to stay ashore?" Kay asked.
 "No, I guess not."
 Kay turned to Priscilla. "You stay here. Whoever our pleasant friend may be, he'd probably be less likely to bother two of us. But keep your eyes on the wood. He's probably watching us from back there somewhere."

A confident, strong swimmer, Kay plunged into the water and started for the anchored cruiser. She did not look back to see the frightened Melita and Priscilla quaking on the sand, their wide eyes searching the trees and underbrush. They heard Kay's rhythmic splashes grow fainter behind them—then all was silence.
 "It might be a good idea," mentioned Melita, "if we got down behind the dinghy. He's probably got a gun, too, and he might take a shot at us before we can even see him." She dropped prone on the beach behind the inadequate shelter of the boat, and Priscilla followed suit.
 "I hope it doesn't take Kay very long," said Priscilla in a low voice.
 "It'll take her ten or fifteen minutes to get the life-raft inflated with that hand pump. We'll just have to sit tight—and pray."

As Kay reached the "Chinook" and pulled herself aboard she was relieved to see that Melita and Priscilla had taken up arms behind the dinghy. She did not call to them, realizing that this might put them in danger from an unseen watcher. She hoped fervently that the enemy might believe all three had reached the "Chinook."
 To the practiced yachtsman, the preparation of the little rubber work of a few moments. But Kay was both unnerved and unfamiliar with the equipment. It seemed to her that hours passed before she could even get it unfolded and attach the small bicycle pump with which to inflate it. She wished now that they had all come aboard, and not tried to keep the rifle. Her one idea was to get away from this strange and evil island as soon as humanly possible.
 At last she had the raft inflated. Hurriedly she tossed it overboard from the after cockpit, was just about to dive after it when a quiet, suave voice said, "Don't jump!"
 Involuntarily Kay drew back from the rail.
 "Go into the pilot house and start the engine!"
 Startled, she turned to look at the cabin porthole from which the unfamiliar voice had come. In the shadows she saw a thin face below which was the point of a revolver. "Do what I tell you," her assailant advised.

 Frantic with fright, Kay did not dare to call out to Melita and Priscilla on shore. She realized in sudden panic that, any moment, the man could fire at her friends from the cruiser. That voice might well be the voice of a fanatic or a mad man.
 Almost in a daze she went forward, using the hand-raft stop the cabin and expecting every second to be shot as she attempted to obey the man's orders.
 "Just do what I told you," the voice came to her again. "I'll stay here. I don't want your friends to see me just yet."

Kay slid onto the forward-deck and lifted the anchor. Then, inside the pilot house, she started the engine. The little "Chinook" began to move forward. Now the sound of the motor drifted shoreward, and she saw Melita and Priscilla jump to their feet.
 Ignoring their startled cries, Kay gave the boat full speed, praying that she could get of range before the mad stowaway harmed the puzzled girls on shore. Poor Prissy and Mel! Kay thought. They're sure to believe I'm leaving them in the lurch!
 Pulling the wheel hard over, she attempted to veer away from the island and out into more open waters. But this strategy quickly came to nothing when the voice instructed the cabin, "Keep on the course you had!"
 Trembling in every fiber of her young body, Kay obeyed. "What do you want me to do?" she called, when trouble popped up.
 There was no answer. No sound at all except the low throb of the engine and the pleasant fall of water away from the bow. Kay did not speak again. And, remembering the face and the ominous barrel of that revolver, she kept the little ship forging ahead.

 Ashore, Melita and Priscilla, forgetting the danger they had imagined as being somewhere in the wood, stared aghast at the swiftly receding stern of the "Chinook."
 For a moment neither could speak; and then Melita said, in a queer, low voice, "That's not like Kay. She wouldn't leave us here when trouble popped up."
 "Not unless she had a darned good reason. But I can't understand it. There was no one else aboard the boat, and—" Priscilla stopped suddenly. Then, white-faced, she tugged at Melita's sleeve.
 "Melita! There was somebody aboard with Kay! Look at those footprints of the man who damaged our dinghy. They came down from the wood, but they don't go back to it!"
 Melita stared at the marks on the wet sand. "How could we have been so stupid?" she turned to Priscilla helplessly. "What can we do? We're marooned here—and Kay aboard the 'Chinook' with a— a murderer!"
 They felt no more helpless than Kay Dearborn, clutching the wheel of the cruiser. While she stood there, wondering what to be the next order from the voice below, she was conscious of a presence at her back. She knew it was the man whose face she had seen at the porthole, and she dared not look around.
 He was in the pilot house now. She could hear the dripping of his wet clothes on the floor.
 "Are you giving her full speed?" Kay nodded.
 (TO BE CONTINUED)

Tractor Farms 80-Mile Cotton Row by Itself
 LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Sept. 3.—On George Hider's farm there's a row of cotton 80 miles long.
 Of course, it isn't straight. If it was, it would run from here to Vicksburg, and 40 miles beyond. It is a spiral, starting at the center of a forty-acre plot and spiraling out, mile after mile.
 The 80-mile row of cotton isn't just someone's idea of being different. Behind it is something that farmer Hider's neighbors think may revolutionize farming.
 The idea is to cultivate the land almost entirely without the touch of human hand.
 Farmer Hider can arise with the dawn and walk back to his 80-mile row of cotton. He can start his tractor at one end of the row. Then he can do what he wants to, and the tractor will keep right on cultivating that row of cotton.
 It makes no mistakes. It comes just as close to the growing cotton plant as Mr. Hider wishes.
 A little after lunch, the farmer goes out to his mechanical farm-hand, refuels it, and away it goes down the row again.
 This is one idea that goes around in circles and really gets somewhere. The tractor has attached to it a strong but small airplane wire. The other end is attached to what looks like a small oil derrick in the middle of the field. It is about 12 feet high. A large pipe, about a foot in diameter, extends from the top, like a smoke stack. The outer surface of the pipe is threaded so that it takes the thin wire like a winch takes a steel cable.

 By starting the tractor at the outer end of the circle, farmer Hider has found that the pull of the wire slowly winding about the pipe pulls the tractor steadily inward, following the spiraled cotton row.
 The tractor can also be started from the center and work outward, pulling away as it receives slack from the unwinding pipe.
 Mr. Hider calls his device the "Maypole system" and has taken out a patent on it.
COWS FACE BIG JOB ON OHIO'S PASTURES
 COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—On the average Ohio pasture, a cow would have to take 180 bites of grass a second to keep up with the demand for milk production up to minimum for 12 hours in order to produce 25 pounds of milk, according to Ohio State D. R. Dodd, agronomist at Ohio State University.
 If a cow is to produce 25 to 35 pounds of milk, it must consume 200 pounds of grass to get the necessary amount of digestible protein and nutrients, he figures.
 The average pasture has only about 1,200 pounds of grass an acre available at one time, so the cow would have to harvest one-sixth of an acre daily. And that calls for 180 bites a minute for 12 hours.
 Rockefeller Center is the largest building project ever undertaken by private capital.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

The ANABAS FISH, WHICH WALKS OVERLAND AND CLIMBS TREES, ACTUALLY DROWNS IF DEPRIVED OF AIR.

IF THE WALLS OF A ROOM ARE BUILT EXACTLY STRAIGHT UP TO ANY GREAT HEIGHT, THEY WILL BE FARTHER APART AT THE TOP THAN AT THE BASE, SINCE A PLUMB BOB POINTS TO THE CENTER OF THE EARTH.

IT IS NO EASIER TO SWIM IN DEEP WATER THAN IN SHALLOW WATER.

THE Anabas fish frequently finds it necessary to leave a pond of water that is drying up. In seeking another body of water, it crosses dusty roads and fields and traverses a considerable distance in a comparatively short time.
