LABOR DAY CHECK SHOWS 12 WEEK-END TEXAS DEATHS

ACCIDENTS IN STATE ARE OF VARIOUS KINDS

PICNIC PARTY HIT BY TRAIN

Amarillo Has Only Killing of This Period

(By the Associated Press) Twelve Texans met death in a series of week-end accidents and at least ten others were injured, a Labor Day check showed.

At Amarillo Sam Hutton, 50, a painter, was beaten to death and a friend, A. A. Peterson, was injured in a fracas near an alleged beer saloon. Five persons were held in the affray.

Two persons, G. B. Hull, 78, of Pottsboro, and Lois Mae McCullough, 7, of Brasora, were killed near Galveston when a special train struck their automobile in which they had started out for a holiday. Mrs. W. T. Davis of Texas City suffered minor injuries.

A second victim of a gas stove explosion at Breckenridge was dead, Mrs. J. C. Saunders died yesterday. Their daughter, Ruby, 2, succumbed Saturday.

At the other end of the state, Tom Walsh, 14, drowned in Lake Conception near McAllen when, weak from an operation, he went swimming and, exhausted, sank. Oscar Nelson, 34, Corpus Christi, carpenter, died at McAllen of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Aug. 24.

Blanche Rivero died when an automobile in which she was going to a surprise fraternity dance at MacDona from San Antonio turned over six times. Clyde Lucas, William Bledsoe, Hogue Foote, Walter Morgan also were near death from injuries.

John H. Shabahan, 26, and Blackshire Bonin, 25, died when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole near Pasadena, Texas. W. A. Sims, 50, was killed in a grade crossing accident at Fort Worth and Lucille Stock, 18, was injured fatally in a Houston collision.

Looking for Trouble and He Found It

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. (P)—The C and O Cafe, cabaret at 509 North Clark street, became a gunnens shooting alley early today. Henry Connors, 49, who went into the place pistol in hand and looking for trouble found it.

Connors' body with three bullet wounds was found in a passageway connecting the cabaret with the kitchen bar. Others may have been wounded, for the bullet holed walls and shattered glass told a story of a gun fight in which several persons took part.

A dozen men and women patrons of the place, which in other days was a favorite hangout of Dion O'Banion, were arrested.

Mickey Walker has helped himself to the light heavyweight title, just like that.

AND A SMILE
WASHINGTON. (P)—This is a day of labor for James J. Davis, secretary of labor. He is making three speeches. He made one Saturday night and another last night.

Pampa City of Full Stomachs Says Chief Downs

Labor Day Bolsheviks and their demonstrations are missing in Pampa today for a good reason, according to Chief of Police J. I. Downs. It is: "A man with a full stomach and a good job is not inclined toward pessimism or socialism." Besides attending the rodeo, ball game, talks and cinemas, the Labor Day celebrants will pass the day quietly.

It has been a long time since a man could not get a job in Pampa, the chief says. Being out of a job is something out of the ordinary. Pampa has not had any serious employment problem here since the oil development started several years ago, he reports. "I know of no town with as many industrial workers, as many union men, where conditions are as good as here. The union men are strongly organized and they get what they want without demonstrations."

AMARILLOAN IS KILLED IN ROW OVER GAMBLING

AMARILLO, Sept. 2. (P)—Fighting in front of an alleged beer saloon over a dice game that began in the house here last night, one man was killed, his companion was beaten severely and their alleged assailants, five men and a woman, were arrested early today.

Sam Hutton, 50, a painter, was the victim. He fell with a broken neck and other injuries. A. A. Peterson, Hutton's carpenter friend, was bruised badly.

Those held are J. M. Hughes, charged with murder, and Hughes' wife Clyde Kitt, S. S. Holliday, "Slim" Bates, and "Bill" Treedgill, under complaints as accomplices.

Peterson said he joined the game after being invited to have a drink of beer. He lost a considerable sum of money, argued with the other players, and outside they fought, he declared.

Hutton, Peterson added attempted to come to his assistance and was killed. The carpenter described the house as a "beer joint."

Sheriff John Fry of Randall county arrived here today to take part in the investigation. The killing occurred in Randall county and charges must be filed there. The five persons detained were held on police complaints. Officers said no other suspects were sought.

Troops on Guard in Trouble Zone

MARION, N. C., Sept. 2. (P)—Troop lines were doubled in the Clinchfield and Marion Mill sections today as authorities sought to prevent any Labor day recurrence of rioting by striking textile workers and strike sympathizers.

There was no organized activity among the strikers this morning. The formal celebration awaited a mass meeting called for this afternoon.

Non-striking workers at the Clinchfield mill went to work as usual.

Of the 79 persons jailed Saturday as participants in Friday's riot, only seven remained in jail today. The others were out on bonds.

Amarilloan May Head Kansas Vets

WICHITA, Kans., Sept. 2. (P)—Veterans of the 353rd All-Kansas infantry 500 strong, paused in their carefree tenth annual reunion for a time today to pay reverent tribute to their "buddies" who didn't come back. Memorial services were conducted for the 353rd's dead.

P. F. Sapp of Amarillo, Texas, was favored to succeed Jack Woodhouse of Atchinson, Kansas, as president.

REPORTS FROM GREAT SHIP OF GENIAL SPIRIT

Arrival in Germany Is Expected Thursday

FINE WEATHER AIDS PROGRESS

New Record May Be Set for Ocean Crossing

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (P)—Sailing over a smooth sea and from time to time reporting rapid progress, the Graf Zeppelin on her homeward journey to Friedrichshafen from Lakehurst today continued to clip off the mileage toward the Azores.

Shortly after midnight the Graf, which rose from Lakehurst at 7:18 a. m. E. S. T. yesterday, was more than 1,500 miles east of New York. Messages picked up in America and in Germany from the airship, as well as reports to the Associated Press from ships at sea reported the dirigible's rapid progress. The Master of the steam ship Portucon reported the airship heading eastward in fine weather and apparently all well aboard.

Under present conditions the Graf should easily nose into its home harbor before Thursday morning.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 2. (P)—Aided by favorable winds, the Graf Zeppelin was flying far out over the Atlantic today on her fifth crossing between the United States and Germany. She was bound for her own harbor at Friedrichshafen, Germany, after auring the world.

Carrying 22 passengers, the airship was flying more speedily than on her first trans-Atlantic flight to Lakehurst, less than a year ago. Radio advices indicating she was making about 80 miles an hour, virtually full speed for her five motors, strengthened the probability she would reach Friedrichshafen before Thursday morning and lower her own round-the-world record of 21 days, 7 hours and 26 minutes.

The Graf Zeppelin's best time between Friedrichshafen and Lakehurst has been 55 hours 24 minutes. Such a rate of speed on the present trip would have the dirigible home tomorrow afternoon and the Friedrichshafen-Friedrichshafen time would be less than the Lakehurst-Lakehurst time.

Avoiding possible storm centers over the North Atlantic, the ship followed a southerly course toward the Azores. Naval authorities estimated she was traveling about 200 miles south of her previous eastern route.

Dr. James H. Kimball, weather bureau meteorologist, predicted favorable winds over most of the Zeppelin's course. In taking a southerly course the dirigible passed behind a storm that was headed toward Sable Island in a northeasterly direction. No bad weather was indicated on the course with the possible exception of local disturbances.

The Graf was flying homeward under command of Captain Ernest Lehmann. Dr. Hugo Eckener, who piloted the Zeppelin around the world and on her previous trans-Atlantic voyages, saw the dirigible off, then took a train for Cleveland to attend the national air races. From there he is to go to Akron, Ohio, to inspect the two new dirigibles being constructed for the navy before sailing for Germany on Saturday.

BAPTIST SCHOOL CLOSED
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 2. (P)—The doors of Des Moines university, which last May were splattered with eggs by students in a riot against the board, would be discontinued, the property reverting to mortgage holders. The trustees' action was the final episode of a stormy year at the Baptist Fundamentalist institution.

WALKER ARMING IS MYSTERY

Labor Federation Head Pleads for Understanding of His Organization

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (P)—In a Labor day message to the American people, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged those who have "misunderstood labor" today to study the movement and "base their findings on the records."

"To the unorganized," he added, "I wish to impress upon them the fact that as long as they remain voiceless in the affairs of men they must accept whatever wages, hours and working conditions employers may determine without consultation with them."

He reviewed the efforts of the federation in behalf of compulsory education laws.

Eaker's Plane Is Refueled Today in Hard West Wind

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 2. (P)—Successfully though hazardously refueled here as heavy winds carrying a light cold rain whipped the craft about, the Shuttle winged its way westward today toward Elko, Nev., its next refueling point.

The Shuttle, a Boeing plane piloted by Captain Ira C. Eaker, with Lieut. Bernard Thompson as co-pilot, circled with its refueling plane more than an hour before a contact was made and 200 gallons of gasoline transferred. The pilots are attempting to establish a new endurance and distance refueling flight record.

Struggling against strong west winds, The Shuttle was three hours making an ordinary hour and a half flight from Omaha to North Platte, Neb., which port it flew over at 11 o'clock last night. It arrived at Cheyenne at 1:35 a. m.

Says Hoover Never Fishes on Sunday

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (P)—Dr. J. B. Cranfill, Dallas Hoover leader in the elections last fall, has been assured that President Hoover does not fish on Sunday.

Dr. Cranfill, concerned over reports that the president had fished on Sunday, wrote to Lawrence Richey, the executive's secretary. Richey replied today: "I have been with Mr. Hoover on his week-end outings for years. He never fishes on Sunday."

PLANE TURNS OVER

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2. (P)—Snyder Hall of St. Louis came through unscathed when his plane turned completely over while preparing to take possession and the propeller caught in the ground throwing the ship over on its back. The propeller was broken and the landing gear smashed but Hall climbed out unhurt.

Colorado Officers Say He Left Without Pistol There

BORGER, Sept. 2. (P)—William J. (Whitey) Walker, wanted for two years since he escaped during his murder trial, came back to Texas yesterday, in the custody of officers, bringing defiance for Oklahoma authorities and a pistol strapped on his leg.

The pistol, he told Sheriff Ownbey who found it when he lodged Walker in the county jail at Stinnett, he had intended to use if necessary to prevent extradition to Oklahoma, which also seeks him.

Walker, under indictments for the slaying of officer Coke Buchanan of Borger and Deputies Sheriff Kenyon and A. L. Terry, is charged in Oklahoma with aggravated robbery. It was during his trial for the Kenyon killing that he escaped at Stinnett in November, 1927.

Texas was granted Walker after a hearing before Governor Adams of Colorado Saturday in which Oklahoma also put in its claim.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 2. (P)—William J. (Whitey) Walker had no pistol when he left Colorado Springs, according to officers here. Walker was found in possession of a weapon when he was jailed at Stinnett, near Borger, Texas.

George Taylor of the police department here, one of the officers who escorted Walker from the county jail to police headquarters when Walker was turned over to Texas officers, said he stood at the door of the cell when Walker was changing from jail attire to a street suit. He said Walker had no pistol at that time.

Walker was extradited to Texas by Governor W. H. Adams following a hearing when Claims from Oklahoma and Texas were presented for the man—Texas for murder charges and Oklahoma for aggravated robbery.

Rodeo and Baseball on Schedule This Afternoon

MANY UNIONS TAKING PART

Labor Temple to Be Scene of Speaking Tonight

Pampa's Labor day celebration started at 10 o'clock this morning with a colorful parade marching representatives of the unions, city officials, civic organizations, floats of the various trades, and floating banners and flags.

Forming at the Sykes, Merriek, and Boyd lumber yards on South Caylor street, the parade progressed through the business streets, watched by hundreds of people who lined the sidewalks.

The holiday program, put in full swing with the big parade, included entertainment for every hour. Between 11 and 1 o'clock there was a show at the Crescent theatre, with admission free to women and children.

The last performance of the annual American Legion rodeo, continued to include the holiday, was to start at 1. Following it was to be one of the main events of the day, a baseball game between the Pampa Grays and the Tactless Texans.

Manager Ed Guber of the Grays said Moody and Clayton would be his batteries. The rodeo fence was to be moved to permit play.

Six foot races, for which an attractive prize list was arranged, were scheduled to begin immediately after the game.

Several short addresses will be given at 8 o'clock this evening at the Labor temple of East Foster avenue. At the conclusion of the speaking, the little house built by the carpenters' union and displayed in the parade will be sold to raise money for the carpenters' union sick fund.

Heading the long parade column was a representative of labor carrying the American flag. He was followed by Mayor D. W. Osborne, Chief of Police J. I. Downs, and W. J. Turpin, desk sergeant of the police department who rode horseback. Also present were City Manager F. M. Gwin and Commissioner Lynn Boyd.

Next came the fire-truck, carrying Chief Alex Schneider and other members of the fire department. Their white uniforms formed flashing contrast with the brilliant red of the truck.

Frank Henry, venerable president of the Central Labor union, rode next in a decorated roadster, over which floated the American flag.

An elaborately decorated float representing the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges came next, and close behind it, the American Legion band in full uniform and riding in one of the school buses.

Six Unions Parade
Next came the representatives of six unions, with their banners carried before them, side by side with the American flag, and their floats and cars, following the marching men.

Forty carpenters, wearing white overalls and black caps, came first. A cleverly built miniature house complete in every detail, was carried on a float. Built by the Carpenters' union, it will be sold during the day's festivities to raise money for the sick fund. Another float bore the advertisements of lumber yards of the city.

The Painters' union followed with the men in uniforms similar to the carpenters'. They likewise had a small house on a truck. Surrounding them were children dressed as Dutch boys and girls.

The plumbers, thirty strong, marched.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, concern, or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor. It is not the intention of this newspaper to injure any individual, firm, or corporation, and corrections will be made when warranted as prominently as was the wrongfully published reference or article.

THE FAME OF PAMPA has reached the remotest corners of the Southwest. The premier mode of publicity—personal testimony—has brought about a condition of good will that is of inestimable value to any community.

The Pampa that is needs little additional notoriety; the Pampa that is to be needs much. It is recognized that this city is a "city with a future" if everyone interested in that future does his bit. The city that is not going forward is slipping backward, for there is no looting point. Name any city in Texas that is not growing and you are pointing out a community whose prestige and future are endangered.

Growth, of course, is not merely that condition manifested in the building permits. Civic enthusiasm and cooperation must be constant and energetic. Public improvement projects must be worked out in a way that will serve the community as a whole. The recent action of Pampa in approving a municipal bond election was eloquent testimony that there is no tendency here to be satisfied with the present Pampa. It is a distinct privilege to live in a city confident of its future—because that future lies chiefly within the influence of its public spirited citizens.

Building of a city involves more intangible factors than running a business of a private nature, but inspection of any beautiful metropolis reveals many instances of cooperative endeavor, and even of sacrifice.

A BETTER PAMPA JUST NOW would be a cleaner Pampa. The writer recently saw a crew of men picking up trash along highway 33. It is even more desirable to have city streets free from rubbish, odors, and trash such as the wind carries about. Moreover, weeds on vacant lots—and some not vacant—are beginning to brown and should be cut and burned.

Weeds constitute one of the most dangerous fire hazards. In dry weather they are highly inflammable and even in wet weather they harbor flies and bacteria. A few evenings' work by every property owner would work wonders. Let's have a fall drive against weeds.

THE NORTH PLAINS, having received recent rains, from the air appears as a huge blanket of green, broken by broad expanses of recently plowed wheat lands. Green patches of row crops are relatively scarce, but such feed stuff is doing fine nearly everywhere it was planted.

But how different is much of Texas, including the lower South Plains. There one sees cotton in full bloom yet hardly a foot high. Corn in many places is dry from root to tip.

The sorghum grains are dwarfed by the drought and are turning brownish rapidly. Where ordinarily row stuff is luxuriant, farmers are looking daily skyward hoping for rain.

The Agricultural possibilities of the North Plains are certainly underestimated. A prodigious amount of sorghum grain could be raised. Live-stock raising, dairying, and poultry raising are still largely untried assets in the wheat belt.

The South Plains section is somewhat hard hit now but late rains will help considerably. The South Plains farmer is resourceful. He knows that the average climate is advantageous to his method, and that by making the most of his knowledge he may be prosperous. His markets are better than those of the North Plains because he has more towns and more people on the farms.

Railroads are opening up new areas to the south. They are building metropolises from which they emanate. Plainview and Lubbock are excellent examples. Both are beautiful, rapidly growing cities. The latter, enhanced by the presence of Texas Tech, is destined to become one of the key cities of the state. Its leading asset in some particulars, is its good will. It has not sought to grab everything for itself. Its business men are aggressive, it is true, but they seek the best for their clients in neighboring towns and the latter boost for Lubbock.

After all there are many things that are better done by one's friends. Tooting the community horn is much more effective if done in the symphony of inter-community good will.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)
The biggest Senate investigation of all time, if it ever gets going full steam will be a combined inquiry into the "Power Trust" and the "Radio Trust." The resources of these so-called big trusts are at least $12,000,000,000.

Under the Couzens resolution passed at the last session, the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee is directed to "investigate the relationship existing between the different kinds of communication service used in interstate and foreign commerce, including radio, telephone, telegraph and all kinds of wireless and cable services so used and transmission of power by wire or wireless."

It is also directed to investigate connections, relationships, ownership and control, stock ownership and trade practice and activities of corporations and persons engaged in communications services.

A Lot Can Happen
This resolution is pretty far-reaching and some persons think it is loaded with dynamite. One of the magazines of the electric power industry recently had an editorial raising the question how the industry ever let such a resolution pass and admitted that as compared with the Couzens resolution, the Walsh public utilities resolution was only a summer zephyr. Yet it will be recalled that in the Walsh resolution fight, the Senate galleries and hallways were crowded with the power people until they finally succeeded in shunting the proposed investigation to the Federal Trade Commission. The fact seems to be that the power lobby was caught napping when Couzens resolution went thru late in the session.

Just how deeply this committee will probe cannot be predicted, but if supporters of the Couzens resolution outside the Senate have their way it will go very deep indeed.

First there is the power angle. Despite the vigorous investigating tactics of the Federal Trade Commission, there are still plenty of senators who would like to go after the "power trust" in one of their own investigations. Recent doings at the Federal Power Commission, where there seems to be a row between those who want to be extraordinarily nice to the power companies and those who don't, would be one point of attack. And there are other things some senators would like to know, which comes outside the Trade Commission's inquiry.

Second, there's the "radio trust." Independent radio concerns, organized in the Radio Protective Association, are all primed to go after the combination of the Radio Corporation, General Electric, American Telephone & Telegraph, Westinghouse and United Fruit companies on the allegation of monopolies thru illegal use of patents.

Twink is back. Contrary to some humorous accusations placed against him, he has not been in the employ of the New Mexico chamber of commerce. He has merely been trying to show that it is not necessary to go to Florida or California to see a bit of worthwhile scenery.

And as to Indians, he always prefers a Red Man's advice on close-to-nature things to that of a pale face.

And our sun-tan. We are not sure we amassed much of it of it in the cool shade of the mountains, but a drive thru the hot, dusty South Plains is calculated to turn the trick.

We witnessed the red man shouting at the moon from atop of his pueblo—a performance at least somewhat better than that of the white man shouting from the effects of rotten moonshine.

Twink voted for the city projects on the absentee basis just before leaving town. This action evidently was very remote from the idea that the ballot might have been needed. And news of the election outcome added a bit to the success of our trip.

The office isn't quite the same with an office supply department next door, and unless the management of the new department is more vigilant than we hope they are, ye ed's desk is going to be prettied up with some new fixtures.

And with expansion next door it is just natural that The News itself will take another deep breath right away. When a city decides so definitely to keep on growing, there is nothing left to do but to grab some simoleons off any obliging banker and grow along in the lead of the community.

Today's peeve is aroused by the unexplained accusation of a member of the Graf Zeppelin crew. He found a bullet hole and opined that it was caused by some Texas marksman. How come? Texans are not the only crack shots in this country, and most anyone ought to hit the huge Graf anyhow.

Well, if it is best to slow down drilling, we don't know of a better place to store oil than in Mother Earth's Gray county pockets. Probably it will be better in the long run to set aside some of our oil for a rainy day. However, our good "sweet" crude ought to have a ready sale all along.

MAISIE missed the party.

She never could guess why!

But—the other evening when she waited too long before answering the telephone—it might have been the Boy Friend, calling for a date.

Sinclair Enabled to Go Riding at Washington Jail

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Evening Star says today that HARRY F. SINCLAIR, wealthy oil operator now serving a term in the Washington jail, has been assigned special duties which afford him an automobile ride several times a week to a branch clinic of the jail some blocks distant from the main building.

The Star says this was disclosed today by William Peak, superintendent of the jail, in denying reports that his wealthy prisoner had been permitted to go on pleasure trips by motor.

Peak, the Star added, had explained that Sinclair, who has been doing work in the jail clinic, had been given the duties some time ago. The new job enables the oil man, Peak said, to go riding "every day or so."

Hardened fairways caused by the dry weather have given the long driving boys something new to ping about.

Arabs Bitterly Opposing British Idea of National Home for Jews

JERUSALEM, Sept. 2. (AP)—Warning that Palestine and Arabia cannot regain peace and tranquility until Great Britain abandons its policy of making Palestine a national home for Jews was given today by Amire El Hussein, grand mufti of Jerusalem and president of the Moslem-supreme council.

"This is a serious national revolution, the reverberations of which soon may be heard in every corner of Moslem Arabia," the grand mufti told C. J. Ketchum, Jerusalem correspondent of the London Express in an interview.

"We are faced at this moment with a grave national rebellion in which we have the sympathy and if need be the support of not only of Moslem Arabs of Syria, Egypt, and North Africa, but of whole of Arabia with its sixty millions of people.

"There will be peace in the immediate future as far as we can preserve it. We will not oppose British bayonets but what Great Britain must understand is that the grave events you have witnessed here have little really to do with the Walling Wall.

"They go back much farther. They go back indeed to the Balfour declaration (that which advanced the Palestine national home idea) of 1917. You may suppress the present disorders and restore tranquility for the moment by force of British arms but the ultimate peace of Palestine and Arabia will never be made while Great Britain continues the policy of the Balfour declaration.

"The whole of Arabia is aroused."

The grand mufti's warning came as the British military seemed slowly but surely re-establishing peace throughout most of Palestine, where nearly 200 have been killed and 300 seriously wounded in fighting between Moslem Arabs and Jews during the last nine days.

CLUBS TO WORK DOUBLE TIME ON LABOR DAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas league athletes will work overtime before holiday crowds in four cities today. Doubleheaders were scheduled at Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco and Houston, with the double conflict between the Spudders and Cats holding major interest.

The leading oilers bade adieu to South Texas yesterday with two and one-half games left of the six-game lead with which they began their excursion three weeks ago. Houston, starting on a final jaunt through the northern sector, held down the runner-up position, with the Sports just half a notch behind.

Thanks to an unexpected display of spirit by the Cubs in their four-game series against the Spudders, Houston was able to gain a full contest over the week-end. Del Pratt's pupils made it two out of three by taking the first game of yesterday's double bill, 7 to 6, and then noising the Spudders to a 7-7 draw in the nightcap. Harris and Thurman limited the leaders to six blows in the opener. The Spuds were forced to score three runs in the seventh inning of the afterpiece to tie up and force it into extra periods.

Inability to hit the slants of Dick Morrell in the pinches cost the Buffs a 5 to 1 verdict to the Sports and prevented their taking advantage of the Spudders' discomfiture. The Shreveporters drove Kinehart from the mound in the first, but were held down by Rose the rest of the way.

The Steers closed a disastrous stay at Beaumont by dropping the final tilt 12 to 6. Three straight losses just about washed out their hopes for this half. Four Mav chunkers were pounded for 15 hits by Robertson's fractious crew, Kelly leading the attack with two doubles and two singles.

"Skinny" O'Neal, who went to San Antonio in the Messenger deal, allowed the Panthers only six hits in the final at Fort Worth, winning 9 to 3. The Indians drove Phillips to cover and then worked on McCabe.

Mandell and An Old Rival Fight in Week's Bouts

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. (AP)—The current week's boxing program brings to the fore two lightweights who were bitter rivals a half dozen years ago—Sammy Mandell and Sid Terris.

Since their two meetings in 1923 and 1925, Mandell had risen to the lightweight championship, a title he appears destined to hold for some time to come. Terris, famed as the "Ghetto Ghost," has been on the down trail for more than a year with the end of his long ring career in sight.

After his knockout defeats last year at the hands of Jimmy McClarnin and Ray Miller, Terris has been trying to come back with more or less success. His come-back campaign reaches a critical moment on Tuesday night when he faces the sturdy, hard-hitting young Seminole Indian, Pete Nobo, of Tampa, Fla., in a ten-round bout at the Queensboro stadium.

Mandell, making his first appearance since his successful title defense against Tony Canzoneri, battles Luis Vincentini of Chile, in a ten-rounder at the Chicago stadium on Friday night.

SIXTH JUROR ACCEPTED IN TRIAL OF STRIKERS
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 2. (AP)—Labor day found the Mecklenburg superior court continuing its efforts to obtain a jury to try sixteen men and women accused of the murder of G. F. Aderholt, chief of police of Gastonia in a strike shooting affray. The effort met with more success than it did on Saturday and the sixth man questioned, G. L. Benson of Newell, was accepted. He was the eighth man to enter the jury box.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hulme left Saturday to spend their vacation in New Mexico.

Mrs. Houston Park visited her parents in Amarillo yesterday and today.

RUTH TO RAID TREASURY BY HEAVY HITTING

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the Pirate bubble exploded, major league teams swing into labor day with little to offer the fans except Babe Ruth's home run race against time. The Babe slammed his fortieth at Braves field yesterday. The game yesterday left him twenty-nine more circuit drives to earn an increase in his annual $70,000 check.

The Babe's own record of sixty made two years ago is safe from any tied threats at this moment, but another September such as the one he experienced in 1927 would give him about fifty-six for the season.

After being cut off about by the Athletics all season, the Senators turned to win 12 to 3. Sad Sam Jones was right, and the Senators smacked everything served them. Connie Mack availed himself of the opportunity to insert several of his second string.

Ken Holloway pitched the Indians to a 5 to 0 victory over the White Sox at Chicago, and George Uhl checked the Browns sufficiently for the Tigers to win 7 to 4.

Limping home from their chastisement at Pittsburgh, the Cubs found 50,000 clamoring a welcome to them from the stands about Wrigley field. The Bruins responded by smashing Jess Haines and Carmen Hill for ten rounds which defeated the Cardinals 10 to 3.

The Pirates treated themselves to a 9 to 7 victory over Cincinnati in twelve innings. The game was notable, first because nobody but Ted Lucas was the defeated pitcher, and secondly because Ervin Brame, the hitting pitcher, reached the distant right field bleacher at Redland field for a home run in the fifth with two on base. He had to have relief from Remy Kremer on the mound however, and Kremer got credit for winning.

The Phillies won both games at Ebbets field 15 to 2 and 8 to 6. Larry Benton cracked again, and the Braves defeated the Giants 8 to 4 at the Polo Grounds.

Three Threats in Texas Golf Meet

LAREDO, Sept. 2. (AP)—The problem of stopping Waldon Haynes, Hill Coker, and George Cummings faced players in the annual Gulf Coast Golf association tournament as play over the last 27 holes was to begin today.

Haynes of Mercedes took a score of 111 for yesterday's 27 holes in Class A. Coker, a Mission Hope, topped Class B with 130 and Cummings of Corpus Christi was out in front in Class C with a card of 132.

JONES FAVORED TO TAKE GOLF TITLE OF U.S.A.

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Sept. 2. (AP)—The tumult and shouting of the preliminary golfing bouts, the practice putts and the predictions gave way today to the serious business of qualifying for the amateur championship of the United States.

Out along the picturesque shores of Carmel Bay 139 golfers, the best amateur talent that can be procured by America, Great Britain and Canada, began gathering before the fog had lifted to start the title quest. All of the experts and most of the onlookers not influenced by sentiment, family ties or partisan-ship, regard the quest as some what in vain merely because the 140th golfer in the big field happens to be Robert T. Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, winner of the championship four times in the last five years.

Jones, in spite of the fact he is facing a strong field on a course whose deceptive hazards can wreck anybody's hopes if given half a chance, was a 2 to 1 favorite to successfully defend his crown in advance of the title competition. There were few takers even at such amazing golf odds.

Today, with a former major league third baseman, Arthur (Tilly) Shafer of Los Angeles, first off the starting tee, the field settled down for the opening 18 holes of qualifying competition. The process will be repeated tomorrow and the 32 low scorers will qualify for match play, beginning Wednesday.

The SHINING TALENT By ELEANOR EARLY © 1929 By NEA Service Inc. THIS IS A TALENTED GIRL. MOLLIE HAD ALWAYS been a fox terrier. The covetors found him in the doorway of a school house, waiting perhaps for a little Roman boy who perished when the volcano erupted so long ago. THE next day she went on an excursion steamer to the island of Capri, where the Roman Emperor Tiberius lived, and she called his favorite to the ship. An Egyptian boy named Hypatia who was slaughtered on an altar in a dreadful cave. At Capri, Mollie met a girl in a rowboat, to visit the Blue Grotto. Mollie felt as though she were in a fairy tale when she saw it. Daylight and the upper world had disappeared. And she was in the hollow earth, in the midst of a twilight of blue fire. The walls were of a ghostly and mysterious blue, like the palace of fairies. The waves cast up sparkling drops that glimmered like thousands of jewels. And the old boatman, heading across the cove, whispered that the waters were full of sirens, with arms like lilies, laughing and diving in the waves, and rising again. But they could be seen only by little children, and men and women born on Sunday. Mollie loved Naples, and stayed there a fortnight, buying coral and shells and putting blue ribbons. But at the end, she decided there must be a better place than Naples. In a flash, she was in Rome, and she was in Rome, and she was in Rome. She thought of sending a cable, but decided to write a letter. She wrote a letter to her mother, and she wrote a letter to her mother. Her companion regarded her stonily. "I stood in Venice, he proclaimed, on the Bridge of Sighs. A palace and a prison on each bank." "And Florence," she added hastily. "Ungrateful Florence!" he cried. "Dante sleeps afar, like Scipio, buried by the up-grading shore." "Really," she exclaimed. "Well, I don't know about that, but they say the water is simply poisonous, and you have to drink out of the river. But there are all sorts of darling little shops. And, of course, everyone knows what Florence jewelry is! And embroidery! And all those stunning leather things with the gorgeous tooling." "Oh, quite. Quite." The poetic traveler fixed his eyes on Nuovo Castle, and his manner said, as plainly as words: "My word! Another American tourist!" That afternoon Mollie visited Pompeii, and loitered up and down its ancient streets. She wandered through the ruins of houses 2000 years old, and picked flowers in a garden where roses bloomed the day Vesuvius wiped all life away. And she saw there, lying on their faces, the bodies of Romans and a negro slave, preserved through the centuries, by the lava that fell for days and nights on old Pompeii. There was the petrified body of a little dog, too. It was like a shadow, faint and

Big Rodeo Now Drawing to Close of Final Day

Winners of three days' contests in bronc riding, calf roping, bulldogging, and steer riding are competing in the finals this afternoon at the rodeo arena. Only those rodeo performers who have won during the past three days will be seen in action this afternoon.

Between three and four thousand persons attended the show Sunday afternoon, according to Lon Blansett, director. Added attraction was the riding of "Kene", famed bucking horse by Miss Ruth Roach, who arrived here Saturday night. Miss Roach is scheduled to ride another bronc this afternoon. Miss Ruth Benson also rode yesterday. Today Lucille Roberts was to bulldog from a speeding car, as Opal Elliott did yesterday.

Bronc riders who are competing in the finals are Buck Keys on Razzle Dazzle, Don Nesbitt on Won't Be Long, Jim Erwin on Tender Heart, Jonas De Arman on Black Bottom, Johnnie Williams on Henry Starr, Wiley Elliott on Wilbur C. Hawk, Oklahoma Curley on Dan Moody.

Yesterday, Johnnie Williams rode Razzle Dazzle, the horse that threw Bob Belcher Saturday, breaking his arm. Williams made the highest score and won first money.

Those who will re-ride today are Don Nesbitt on Figure Four, Gene Ross on Blackbird, Bill Wright on Steam Boat.

Performers in the calf roping finals will be Tom Hudson, Mont Churchill, Jonas De Arman, C. H. Huff, Tack Hudson, Buddy Ellison, Six Harrison, Bill Wright. Those in the bulldogging finals: Gene Ross, Jim Erwin, Bill Wright, Jonas De Arman, Perch Porter, Six Harris, Jim Olsen.

Sunday's winners were as follows: calf roping, first, Six Harrison, 17 2-5 seconds; second and third Oan Thompson and Ace Henson, 18 seconds; bronc riding, first, Johnnie Williams, 85 points; second, Buck Keys, 75 points; Steer riding, first, Jimmie Olsen; second, Jonas De Arman; third, Dock Guyne; bulldogging, first, Bill Wright, 7 2-5 seconds; second Gene Ross, 8 seconds; third, Luther Priest, 17 seconds; wild cow milking, first Key Dunn second, Six Harrison; third, Bill Wright in the last contest. John Byers, local man, drew much laughter as he threw his cow, sat down on her and milked her.

Judges were Erb Munday, Rossen Phillips and J. C. Maddux. Clarence Keyes again amused the audience with his trick roping stunts. Yesterday, he roped five horses and their riders at once.

LABOR DAY—

next, in dark shirts and trousers. The float of the Cooks, Waiters, and Waitresses union was fitted with an electric cook stove, at which stood a chef and his assistants in starched white clothes. A restaurant table also was on the float with "customers" going through the motions of eating, while waiters and waitresses stood ready to serve. Other cooks and waitresses rode behind in decorated automobiles.

Twisted streamers of red, white and blue paper suggested the barber's pole on a float representing the Barbers' local. The car was one of the most colorful in the troupe.

A laundry truck carried twelve girl workers who sat on the top, the fenders, and the cab. Members of the office staff drove behind in a sedan.

An ambulance from Malone's drove at much below its usual speed to show how patients are carried. Uniformed nurses, drivers, and helpers surrounded a swathed and bandaged accident victim inside.

A welding machine, mounted on a truck, represented another trade. The Moosehead lodge had an elaborately decorated float carrying its insignia. Following were three cars to represent the cleaners' trade, and another from a local dairy.

A picturesque note was given the rear line of the march by a troupe of ropers and riders of the American Legion rodeo, who rode their favorite horses and wore their most flashy clothing.

Scattered among the floats were cars carrying advertising signs of stores and business houses of the city. Many of them were unusually attractive.

THE FARM WEEK
By FRANK I. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)

WASHINGTON. (AP)—It is at all conceivable that any farmer in the United States ever felt that all he had to do was sit down and let the federal farm board milk his cows and dig his potatoes. C. B. Denman, board member from Missouri, has corrected the error.

Without striking too brave an analogy, the man who made himself famous as president of the National Livestock Producers association implied, in an address at the Iowa state fair Aug. 25, that, heaven, the federal farm board helps those who help themselves.

Denman recalled the board's characteristic answer to requests for aid. To Florida citrus fruit growers it said: "Get together; correlate and combine your forces so that you can operate through a central selling agency, and we will extend the needed help."

California raisin growers were told to join their forces and the board would go with them to the bankers. Its answer to the wool growers was: "Get your different groups together in one selling agency with a large enough volume to be a factor in marketing, and a conference with that group will be held later."

Cotton cooperatives were told that one nationally organized and supported agency with greater volume control and bargaining power could meet the requirements of the agricultural marketing act.

For the grain industry, it suggested a great central selling organization.

Denman assured the Iowans at the fair that he was a "neighbor farmer from across the state line," and that his tears were as his own except that his, since the war, may have been a bit worse.

He declared he declining consumption of salt meat and lard was costing the farmers $350,000,000 annually and that since Iowa produces more than 20 per cent of the nation's hog supply it is reasonable to assume Iowans have suffered one-fifth of the financial loss. He pointed out that only 5 per cent of Iowa hogs are marketed by any one selling agency and suggested that therein lay a fine opportunity for Iowa farmers to attack their relief problems.

Tom Brasly returned last night from a motor trip to New Mexico, Colorado and Nebraska. He was accompanied by friends from Dalhart.

PETE LAPAN SUSPENDED BY PRESIDENT RUGGLES

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (AP)—President William Ruggles of the Texas league today announced the suspension of Pete Lapan, Wichita Falls catcher, as the outgrowth of yesterday's doubleheader at Waco. Umpire Donohue reported that Lapan used abusive language, which, under a recent league ruling, calls for a three-day suspension.

Due to the tenseness of the league race, a concession was made the Spudders, however. Lapan's suspension was permitted to begin at the time of his ejection and to continue through today's doubleheader at Fort Worth. He will be eligible for the series starting here tomorrow.

Markets

Livestock Uneven

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 31. (AP)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit, last week was marked by considerable unevenness. Native fed steers were under pressure and most offerings with weight declined 25c or more. Demand was fairly broad for fat light yearlings, and at most centers this contingent closed strong to 25c higher. Markets that last week reported an especially large decline on western grass steers were materially higher on this class, but at most points a weak to lower undertone prevailed. Replacement stock continued to find a sluggish outlet, country buyers showing a preference for lighter weights of feeders and stockers. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 224,500 exclusive of 56,000 calves, as compared with 230,378 last week and 241,307 the corresponding period a year ago.

Hogs, after considerable price fluctuation throughout the week, are closing unevenly 15 to 70c lower. Weight butchers at most markets are 50c or more lower than a week ago. Chicago had a late top of $11.50 on light-weight butchers. Total offerings were around 433,000, an increase of 41,000 over last week and 108,000 heavier than a year ago.

The uneven distribution of sheep receipts resulted in a very spotted trade. Fat lambs are closing steady to 50c higher.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2. (AP)—Hogs: 8,000; uneven; mostly steady to 10c higher than Saturday's average; light lights dull; top $11.00 on 180-220 lbs.

Cattle: 9,000; Calves: 3,500; killing classes slow; steady; choice natives scarce, strong; stockers and feeders weak to 25c lower; slaughter steers, good and choice 950-1500 lbs 12.00 to 16.25; common and medium, 6.75 to 12.00; fed yearlings, good-choice, 11.00 to 14.75; cows, good and choice, 7.50 to 10.75; vealers (milk-fed) medium to choice 9.00 to 14.50.

Sheep: 5,000; killing classes strong to 15c higher; lambs, good and choice 12.50 to 13.50; medium 11.00 to 12.50; ewes, medium to choice 4.25 to 5.65.
