GRAY COUNTY OIL BOOSTS PANHANDLE TO MAJOR FIELD

HOME AREA IS SOON TO GAIN SAME STATUS

Production of This Field Is 74,182 Barrels Now

CARSON SOARS IN NEW REPORT

Whole Territory Is at New Mark of Two Years

Gray county's big production last week sent the Panhandle oil field into the list of major pools of the United States. This is the first time in the last two years that the Panhandle field has been so classified. A major field is one that has a daily average production of more than 100,000 barrels. The Panhandle's daily production last week reached the high mark of 112,229 barrels.

Within the next two weeks the Gray county area is expected to be classed as a major field. Last week the daily average soared to the new high mark of 74,182 barrels. The big boost was due to wells brought in during the week, but from gushers the latter part of the previous week.

Only one well of the gusher class was listed in the last week. That was the Texas company's N. 9 Bowers in section 88, block B-2, which came in on Sunday to make 7,965 barrels in the first 24 hours. Shows of oil have been encountered in several tests of the county but none has been drilled into the big pay.

Storage is filled to capacity and pipelines are handling practically all the possible. The congested condition is expected to be remedied this week by additional producers brought in.

Every county in the Panhandle is showing gains. Carson gave the surprise of the week, when an increase of 1,303 barrels was recorded. One new producer was brought in and several old wells were cleaned out to increase the production.

The total daily increase in the Panhandle field was 14,385 barrels of which Gray county showed the largest per cent.

Twenty tests in Gray county are on top of the pay and should be drilled in soon. Other counties have some tests nearing the pay and a big increase in daily production is anticipated.

There are 1,568 producing wells in the Panhandle. Their average daily production is about 75 barrels a day. Gray county has 398 producing wells with an average daily production of 136 barrels.

The number of producing wells and production by counties:

- Carson 114 wells, 9,592 barrels, a gain of 1,303 barrels.
- Gray—1,398 wells, 74,182 barrels, a gain of 12,081 barrels.
- Hutchinson—906 wells, 26,141 barrels a gain of 490 barrels.
- Moore—18 wells, 1,240 barrels, a gain of 116 barrels.
- Wheeler—38 wells, 1,074 barrels, a gain of 398 barrels.
- Total—1,568 wells, a gain of 14,385 barrels.

TO DO VAUDEVILLE WORK

Chamber Gets Unusual Queries

—Such as These

Briggs Searches for Hound Dogs and Orphan Babies

Many are the calls for assistance that come to the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, and some of them are amazingly strange. They were the telegram received the other day from a man at Plainview, asking Manager George Briggs to find him a hound dog. Mr. Briggs, stoutly maintaining he was not stealing Old Tack's stuff, never the less got to work and found a man who would consent to part with his hound dog—of a price. Then genial secretary-manager set up negotiations between the Plainview citizen who yearned for a faithful hound and the Pampa citizen who was not too reluctant to part company with his.

But the latest, and far most touching of the calls upon the officials of the civic body, was one made Friday morning. And the want? A baby girl for adoption. It matters not whether she is a blond or a brunette, if she is an American baby. That is about the only requirement the would-be parents set up—that she is an American—except that they desire one about a year or eighteen months old. She is 10-12 little sister to an attractive little boy about four years old, also an adopted child.

Mr. Briggs feels that this is a considerably larger order than the other; bigger, in fact, than any he's tried to fill lately, with the possible exception of his recent efforts to secure Pampa a few more railroads for adoption. But he is going to do his best to fill it.

Building Permit Total Now Nearing Million Dollars

Pampa's building permits are gradually soaring towards the million dollar mark. With just seven months gone, permits are ahead of last year's mark at the same date. With three exceptions, permits this year have been for small business houses and residences. Last year many large buildings, including four churches, three school buildings, and several large business houses were included.

Last week's issue totaled $28,450, according to F. E. Townsend, city inspector. The total for the year, including those issued to yesterday noon, amounted to $922,645.

The inspector says he continues to have trouble with contractors and owners who will not take out permits. He is issuing no electrical or plumbing permits until a building permit has been obtained.

Included in the list of permits issued during the last week were:

- H. M. Stokes, $2,600, two houses in Parkhill addition.
- G. C. Walstad, $1,000 home in the East End addition.
- Pampa Ice Manufacturing plant, $1,000 warehouse on South Cuyler street.
- H. M. Stokes, $5,600 residence in the North addition.
- O. L. Miller, $2,600 residence in the Channing addition.
- Sykes, Merrick & Boyd, $6,000, twelve houses in South Pampa.
- P. C. Ledrick, $8,000 residence in Original townsite, East Pampa.

Stanislaus county, California, estimates that 27 cents of every dollar income is from Holstein dairy cows. Discovery of ancient Corinthian bath with most modern sanitary arrangements has been reported.

Hazel Hale of Wheeler Mill, Ky., has ridden a pony to school every day for four years. She estimates she has traveled 8,000 miles on horseback.

COLLEGES OF STATE SUFFER MOST IN CUT

Budget Slightly Under Amount for Last Two Years

TWO SCHOOLS TO GET BUILDINGS

Small Bill Is Filed Without Official Signature

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (P)—Whittling $2,016,401 from the major appropriation bills left with him by the third session of the 41st legislature, Governor Dan Moody reduced the aggregate total to $44,776,935, including $5,000,000 for rural aid.

The appropriations for the two years beginning September 1, are slightly lower than the amount voted to support the government for the two years drawing to a close.

The educational bill received the sharpest cut, $1,505,337. Eliminations from the other measures included:

- Departmental, $468,983; eugenics, $509,040; claims and accounts, $304,301; and judiciary, $144,740.

Governor Moody estimated the ad valorem tax levy could not be lower than 27 cents by the state automatic tax board Monday. The rate for the past year was 22 cents.

Governor Moody said it was probable the rate could be reduced the second year of the biennium, since the bulk of the expenditures would be made the first year.

The governor found most of his whittlings in new buildings which the legislature voted to schools and colleges. He did not overlook any department of state. In every one he found he decided could be eliminated.

The State Teachers' colleges at Alpine and Commerce succeeded in convincing the chief executive that their proposed buildings were imperative. He stated Southwest Texas State Teachers' college at San Marcos, College of Industrial Art at Denton and Texas Tech at Lubbock held "no urgent need" for buildings not allowed. The Alpine building will cost $150,000 and the Commerce dormitory $175,000.

Governor Moody filed without his signature the bills by Senator C. C. Small of Wellington, withdrawing from the market all unsurveyed public school and, thus cleaning up all special session bills.

B. C. D. Directors to Meet Tomorrow

Accumulated business will be discussed by directors of the Pampa Board of City Development in a meeting tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The meeting has been called for 8 o'clock and every member has been notified to be present.

The coming bond issue will be gone into and further railroad reports received, George W. Briggs, manager said yesterday.

State School Supervisor Declares West Texas Is Soon to Control Politics of Entire Commonwealth

John Lee Smith, state rural school supervisor, yesterday in conference with city and county trustees, made what hearsers said was an address of particular appeal to West Texas people.

Mr. Smith pointed out the peculiarities of the Panhandle, especially its immense area, and said that the state department of education desired to make special allowances for all difficulties. He said that West Texas deserved much, since they pay into the state treasury $7.50 per scholastic and

Car Thefts Are Annoying to Many Citizens of Pampa

Rev. Brabham Chases Valiantly But in Vain

Car thefts, and especially looting of vehicles, continue vexing to officers and citizens alike. The boldness of some of the thieves and would be theirs is regarded as appalling.

For instance, there was the case of the clever individual who tried to steal the Rev. Tom W. Brabham's car while it was parked near the Methodist church.

Rev. Brabham was surprised, when he started to his car, to hear the starter working. No one was in sight. On approaching nearer, he found a man crouched in the front seat, trying to connect the ignition wires. Asked what he was doing and why he was doing it, he said he had been sent to start the motor.

After an argument, the man consented to get in the car and go with Rev. Brabham to an office building where the intruder claimed, was the man who had sent him to fix the vehicle. As the two parked near the building, however, the man leaped out and ran down an alley. Rev. Brabham pursued him, and gained until the fugitive topped a high fence and escaped among some small houses.

Local Men Asked to Join Motorcade To California

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its second poultry-dairy-educational motorcade to California this month. The cavalcade will leave a central point, not yet named, August 20, according to information received by George W. Briggs, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, from B. M. Whiteker, agricultural manager of the W. T. C. C.

It will be necessary that 25 make the trip. Mr. Whiteker is desirous that someone from Pampa make the trip this year. Particulars may be received from Mr. Briggs.

The purpose of the motorcade is to study advanced methods of production of quality eggs, cream, fruits and vegetables. Farmers and bankers are urged to make the trip, the farmers so that they may receive first-hand information on diversification and bankers that they may receive knowledge to warrant their financial co-operation to the farmers of the country who are ambitious along this line.

The Rev. W. H. Bessire, new field representative and Sunday school missionary of the Presbyterian church for the North Panhandle, was here Thursday and Friday. He is to preach in Miami today and once a month hereafter. Rev. Bessire's home is in Canyon.

Wisconsin has 57 varieties of forest trees. The oak leads.

GRAF BREAKS RECORDS FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

Zeppelin Is Back Home After But 55 Hours

MOTORS NEED LITTLE CARE

Trip to Tokyo Will Begin Probably Wednesday

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 10 (P)—Taking a new record for a trans-Atlantic dirigible crossing in to her hanger the great airplane Graf Zeppelin reached home this afternoon 55 hours and 24 minutes after leaving Lakehurst on the first stage of her globe-girdling flight. A small army of men began to groom the zeppelin for her mechanics and helpers immediately began to groom the zeppelin for her next stage to Tokyo, on which it will leave within three or four days.

Dr. Hugo Eckener celebrated his sixty-first birthday by bringing down the silver queen of the air at 1:03 p. m. (7:03 a. m. E. S. T.) with a journey of 12,000 miles to his credit in the log books. The Zeppelin made an average speed of 75 miles an hour for the entire trip, cutting the time for her crossing in 1928 by 13 hours and 22 minutes.

Friedrichshafen, which is used to thrillers connected with Zeppelins, had the sensation of its existence when the Graf Zeppelin breezed in almost before the citizens were aware of it.

Within two hours after the Graf Zeppelin landed nothing at the Zeppelin plant gave evidence of an unusual occurrence. Mechanists bustled themselves with the motors only to find they were in perfect condition. According to Director Maybach, "not a single one needed to be replaced or overhauled. They stood the strain excellently and merely needed oiling and cleaning."

Examination of the hull revealed no tears, so that from this technical point the takeoff for Tokyo could be made by Tuesday night. However, Dr. Lennartz, the Zeppelin's blau gas expert, doesn't consider the takeoff likely before Wednesday or Thursday morning.

Borger Organizes Pythian Lodge

Members of Pampa lodge No. 480, Knights of Pythias attended the institution ceremony at the Borger lodge Friday night and the degree team from here put on the work in the first and second ranks. Next Friday night the Pampa degree team will confer the third rank.

The Borger lodge being organized by L. A. Freeman of Fort Worth, past deputy grand chancellor, who organized the lodge here. Fifteen Borger men and one Pampa man took the first and second ranks Friday night. The Borger lodge has 65 charter members by transfer from other lodges.

RANGERS AID IN ARRESTS OF VIOLATORS

Swooping unexpectedly down upon Pampa speakeasies early last night, a force of federal prohibition agents assisted by several Texas Rangers raided a dozen places and made about fifteen arrests.

Following up undercover work done by a prohibition agent during the last fortnight here, the raiders came primarily to make arrests, according to the officer in charge. He said federal search warrants were used in all cases, and that charges in every instance would be for sale of intoxicating liquor. He added that evidence was in hand and charges prepared before the raid began about 6:30 p. m. The work was practically completed by the time the heavy shower began shortly after 9 o'clock.

Along with the arrests, the prohibition men seized a quantity of beverages, largely of Jamaica ginger. Most of the raids were in South Pampa.

Defendants, whose names were not divulged by the prohibition officers, will appear in federal court at Amarillo probably tomorrow. A number were taken to Amarillo by train, and others, some of them proprietors of business establishments, were released on their promise to appear Monday. Prosecution under the Jones law, which is unusually severe is calculated to get more results than state prosecution, it was pointed out.

The personnel in last night's raids was made up of Amarillo, Fort Worth and Dallas prohibition officers and Rangers. Among the latter was the famous Sergeant M. T. "Lone Wolf" Gonzales, who was in a similar raid here more than a year ago.

Several of those caught in the federal net were recognized as having been arrested in other West Texas oil fields, and they had been traced here.

COUNTY OFFICERS MAKE FOUR RAIDS, 7 ARRESTS

To further add to the booze pedlers' hectic afternoon, county officers made four raids and arrested seven men. In three of the raids, two hundred bottles of beer was confiscated, while in the fourth a small amount of whiskey was found.

Inch More Rain Falls Last Night

One inch of rain fell here within an hour last night and at midnight another shower was starting. The storm blew up out of a clear sky. First indications were noticed a few miles west of the city, where a cloudburst fell Friday afternoon.

About 8:30 p. m. the big rain hit the city and the streets were soon flooded. Intersections were made impossible for pedestrians and crossings had to be made in automobiles for more than an hour.

The heavy rainfall west of the city Friday afternoon covered a strip of about 3 miles in width. Water was rushing down the draws north of the city and in one place covered the road.

Some youngsters who saw the rise in the draws decided to go wading. They took off their shoes and carefully placed them on the bank, but when they returned a half hour later the water had swept the shoes away and some barefooted boys went home "sans footwear."

Water in the draws rose four feet within two hours' time.

Miss Ethel Simpson, superintendent of Pampa hospital, and Miss Esther Claybaker, bookkeeper of the hospital left early yesterday morning to spend a week in New Mexico, during which they will visit Carlsbad Cavern.

Mrs. H. A. Gilliland Passes Suddenly After Operation

Mrs. H. A. Gilliland, resident of Pampa for more than a decade, died in Logan, Utah, at 10:15 yesterday morning, as she and her husband and son, Alfred, were returning home from a two-month motor trip through the West.

She had undergone an operation Friday, following which messages came to friends here that her condition had become critical. Although she had been in the hospital since Monday, friends in correspondence with the family believed her condition was not considered serious until after the operation was performed.

More definite information had not been received last night by relatives or the most intimate friends of the family. It was expected however, that the body would be brought here for burial or carried to Phoenix, Ariz., the home of Mrs. Gilliland's mother and several sisters and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland came to Pampa eleven years ago. From that time until a few months ago they owned and managed the Crescent theatre. Mrs. Gilliland was cashier.

Surviving here are her husband, one son, her mother, several sisters and brothers, including Andy Jones, a brother who moved to Pampa about a month ago. Mrs. Gilliland was a member of the First Christian church.

Clothiers Organize Friday—Closing to Be at 8 o'Clock

The Drygoods and Clothiers association was reorganized Friday evening by representatives of eight retail establishments of the city, at a meeting in the B. C. D. auditorium. Carson Loftus, secretary of the Pampa Business Men's association, was elected president; George Briggs, vice-president; and Mrs. Charles I. Hughes, secretary-treasurer.

The advisory board was composed of J. E. Murfee, Elbert Thomas, Otto Rice, and C. C. Boles. The by-laws committee was composed of George Briggs, Scott Barcus, and Carson Loftus.

The first step of the reorganized body will be to carry forward a campaign to secure the closing of all drygoods stores at 8 o'clock in the evening. The campaign is to be advertised, according to the decision of the group.

Stores which were represented in the meeting were as follows: J. E. Murfee, Kees and Thomas, Hayer Bros, Gordons, K. C. L. T. Hill company, Diamond C. and Barnard's.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hill have returned from a three-week tour of the West, in which they visited Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Francisco, Colorado Springs and Manitou. Mrs. Hill is at present in Waco visiting relatives. She will teach dramatic art and public speaking here this year.

"It's Like This—"

WHEN WEATHER IS DRY, need for paving is not so apparent as it is in wet weather, although the dust under heavy traffic is bad enough and streets cannot be kept free from holes and bumps. In wet weather, however, paving certainly demonstrates its worth.

Paving in Pampa, or any other city for that matter, has other aspects. It enhances property values, making streets more desirable for all purposes. It engenders community pride. Another aspect, too, is that mail and express delivery follows the concrete. Paving is a ticket to all the assets that a city offers in special services of this character.

Pampa needs more paving. Especially do the gaps between the city and county pavement need closing. The only solution is to approve the bond issue in the election called for August 20.

Civic pride may be organized in units as well as by municipalities. People living on certain streets do not have the same problems as those living elsewhere. Formation of little improvement associations, taking in areas having similar difficulties or opportunities, would be a fine procedure. In some places there are vacant lots that could be beautified. In others there are opportunities for achieving uniformity in tree planting, lawns, and the like.

It is not necessary to wait for citywide movements in civic improvement. Often the initiative of a few individuals will result in more general activity than the city could obtain by formal action. Favor for the municipal bonds, followed by genuine efforts at civic beautification could work wonders in the next fiscal year.

ARE YOU AIRMINDED? When an aviation enthusiast asks that question the average person feels somewhat uneasy. He does not wish to be behind the times, and yet the ordinary man-about-town is still fighting shy of sky explorations.

There is a rapidly growing number of aviators, many of whom do not own planes. This accounts for the fact that a "Rent-a-Plane" company has been formed in Lincoln, Nebr. The drive-it-yourself system will be extended to 59 cities. One hundred planes have been purchased for rental to fliers wishing to make trips or to increase their number of hours in the air.

And now that the rent-a-plane period has been reached, aviation has taken rank with the very common flivver. To not be air-minded must mean being considerably behind the times.

Aviation, however, is so well advanced that all its needs are more business to extend its advantages into every community. Passenger traffic is in express or parcel routes should regular, yet development of help to provide the necessary business.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 WASHINGTON — One of the most interesting things in Washington is the Bureau of Standards. You can take one look at Congress or at the president and you've seen everything. But you can snoop around out at the Bureau of Standards for a week and be surprised several times a day.

The bureau has 18 buildings and 43 acres of land way out on Connecticut avenue where a large staff of scientists is charged with the job of developing, constructing and maintaining reference and working standards used in science, engineering, industry and commerce.

The Fathers gave Congress the right to "fix the standard of weights and measures" and today these scientists are measuring a one-millionth of an inch and determining how much a five-inch steel bar bends when you press your fingers against the ends.

What It Has Done
 The Bureau of Standards, among other important things, has developed a new currency paper for the government with 50 per cent longer life, produced the first practicable model of the earth inductor compass now used in long distance flights, developed the radiobeacon which gives an airplane pilot a visual indication whether he is following the correct course, built the first latitude laboratory for measuring airplane engine performance under flight conditions, worked out processes for coating steel and other metals with chromium—the hardest known metal, doubled the life of printing plates used by the government, discovered a satisfactory leather tanning material in waste paper from paper mills, developed a treatment which made good rubber out of cheap rubber, established the corn sugar industry, made three standards of plane-ness thick to within one five-millionth of an inch, cast the largest disk of optical glass ever made in this country—for a telescope—after immensely improving the process of making optical glass, ruled several steel scales directly from light waves and discovered a coating to greatly reduce the atmospheric corrosion of duraluminum, the airplane metal.

In a single year, according to bureau statistics, it tested approximately 2200 electrical measuring instruments, 2600 electric batteries, 3600 electric lamps—representing purchases of 1,300,000 lamps by the government—2500 gauges and samples of gauge steel, 6500 weights and balances, 950 scales, 300 timepieces, 13,000 pieces of glass volumetric apparatus, 570 thermometers, 4000 laboratory thermometers, 2000 samples of engine fuels and lubricants, 1700 samples of sugar, 670 samples of radium and radioactive materials, 1200 engineering instruments, 700 aeronautic instruments, 3000 specimens of engineering materials, 1000 samples of metals and alloys, 150 pieces of china and pottery, 12,000 samples of cement and concrete, 1700 miscellaneous samples of ceramic materials, 1700 samples of rubber, 7300 samples of textile materials, 2000 samples of paper, 300 samples of leather and 1500 samples of paint and varnish, along with 1200 miscellaneous chemical tests.

The physical layout of the bureau is so large that it cannot be described herewith, but in addition to various rooms for tests of weight measurements, density, time, pressure and what not, there are various buildings of special construction. There's a low-temperature building with plants for producing liquid air and hydrogen. Here hydrogen has been frozen and the characteristics of ordinary substances so changed that soft rubber becomes as brittle as glass and mercury is frozen and used to drive nails.

A writer avers that modern transportation has removed all excuses for staying with friends until one's welcome wears out. But it makes it so easy to visit oftener.

TWINKLES

It won't do to handle this Tong business with gloves. The yellow boys go to it tooth, nail, and tongs when they start.

The Dalhart Texan, remarking on the coming to Pampa of a prominent Dalhart citizen (C. H. Walker of The News organization), says that he will probably not be regarded as a full-fledged citizen until he kills an Amarilloan or two. We suppose that wisecrack needs no amplification.

"Modern etiquette exiles old wardrobe bugaboo"—headline. And modern styles almost exile the poor silk worm too.

We have had only one bachelor president, but then many of the others could have been improved. It seems there is a conspiracy to elevate the much wedded, log-cabin husbands.

French pedestrians must enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that one-third the cost of automobiles there consists of taxes.

It's going to be necessary to ask some of our younger generation to cut out the cut-outs. The young should be seen, and not heard in that fashion, particularly at the we hours that are so congested in this age.

Public Library Becomes Increasingly Popular During Vacation Months, as Readers Find Wide Range for Selection

More than 375 readers—men, women, boys, and girls—are enjoying the books and magazines of Pampa Public Library this summer.

Many people of the community are finding the reading room on the second floor of the Methodist church a pleasant place to spend a quiet afternoon or evening, studying, reading, or browsing thru the magazines.

No matter what type of reading one wants, and whatever the mood of the moment, one is likely to find the book one wishes, or another that will take its place very happily.

Literature of almost all classes and styles; history, sociology, philosophy, natural science, and applied sciences, are included in the wide range of material.

Light fiction is, of course, very popular for vacation reading, as are also the books for boys and girls of the "teen ages."

Surprising as it may seem, the encyclopedias and reference books are almost as popular as romance. Students who are taking correspondence courses make use of them, and club women find them of aid in preparing programs and papers.

One class of books the library is badly in need of, according to the librarian, and that is for small children. There is almost nothing to answer the constant recurrent demand.

Former Grays to Bolster Magnolia in Texan Game

When the Magnolia nine steps upon the field at Metro park in Amarillo this afternoon, three members of the champion Pampa Legion Grays will be in the line-up. Rusty Cahill will be behind the bat, Roberts will be on third base, and Big Boy Waller will be in center field.

Manager Magness says he will use Fitzgerald in the box to start the game. The boy with the Irish name has a long string of victories to his credit this year. He has pitched winning ball with Coltoso all season, losing only one encounter.

Oduis Mitchell will be on first base for the Magnolia crew. Christian will play second and Ballew will be on short. The outfield will be patrolled by Grove, Austin and Waller. Manager Magness and Dickey, will be on the bench. Dickey will be available to go into the box if Fitzgerald fails to hold the Texans.

Sled Allen, veteran manager and catcher of the Texans, will be on the bench. The oldtimer says he has had enough baseball and will take up golf. It is the opinion of the Pampa fans, and Red Gober, that the Grays broke his heart and he is going to retire rehis heart and he is going to retire ra a Pampa baseball team.

KEEP your New Car's Performance New

THE THRILL of new car silence and smooth power lasts seasons longer in cars equipped with the Dual-Balloon "8". The extreme low-pressure efficiency of the Dual-Balloon completely insulates motor and chassis from destructive road shocks and vibration.

The Dual-Balloon does more, too, than prolong the life of your car and your pleasure in driving. It adds to power and performance by putting more rubber, more non-skid on the road—a softer, clinging grip that prevents the power waste of constant slippage—that makes fast get-away faster and the power to stop unflinching.

Only the Dual-Balloon principle makes possible the combination of true balloon low-pressure in a tire with the greatest mileage and longer-lasting non-skid.

(Drive in with your new car and let us tell you how easily you can make the changeover to the DUAL Balloon "8".)

Markets

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—(P)—Despite bearish aspects of the Canadian and United States government crop reports, wheat prices today closed with a distinct upward slant. The export demand for North American wheat is bound to become urgent, and stocks of wheat on this continent will thus be depleted.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 2 5-8c higher. Corn closed 3-8 to 1 1-8c net lower, oats 3-8c off to a shade up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7c.

The new official figures from Washington confirmed immense deterioration of the domestic spring wheat crop, as well as severe losses in domestic winter wheat.

The Canadian government figures implied that the 1929 yield of wheat in Canada would aggregate 250,000,000 to 260,000,000 bushels. A sudden drop in prices here ensued, but with the Winnipeg market showing recovery, the Chicago market resumed its upward course. The real essence of the two government crop reports, it was urged, is that the 1929 North American wheat crop is 400,000,000 bushels less than a year ago.

Elks Planning to Build Own Home

Plans are under way for the purchase of a lot and erection of a two-story building for an Elks home, according to Sam Fenberg, temporary secretary of the Elks lodge in progress of organization. The charter membership list will close Wednesday night, when a big smoker will be held in the Schneider hotel dining room.

With more than 50 members enrolled and practically the same number of applications in the hands of the secretary, one of the best lodges in the Panhandle is expected. The "Bills" have decided that they had rather have their own home than rent a building. A committee is at work seeking a location.

Next Sunday the Elks lodge will sponsor a monster air circus here. There will be stunting, air races, wing walking, plane changing, and parachute jumping. A 25-cent admission will be charged, the proceeds to go toward the Elks home. There will be free parking space for thousands of cars.

The circus will be under the supervision of I. Van Nattan, manager of the West Texas Air Service and will be held over the Municipal field one mile east of the city. Planes will be present for passenger service. Mr. Van Nattan said yesterday. He plans to have six ships here for the occasion and many well known air daredevils.

Helen Wills Has Hard Struggle in Taking Tennis Cup

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 10. (AP)—Helen Wills clinched the Wightman cup for America today but it took one of the hardest won triumphs of her career to turn back the challenge of her youthful English rival, Betty Nuthall, and regain the emblem of women's tennis supremacy for this country.

For nearly an hour, while a gallery of more than 8,000 spectators sat thrilled in the big West Side club's stadium, Miss Wills was played to a standstill by the bounding, impetuous rush of the 18-year-old English girl. Expecting a one-sided victory, the crowd was startled by one of the most dramatic battles of Miss Wills' career as well as one of the biggest upsets of the tennis season. The final scores here 8-6, 8-6. For 56 minutes of slashing action the American was given the sternest battle she has had in three years.

No Location for Jail Annex Found

The H. L. Case Construction company received instructions last week to erect a temporary county jail annex of brick and tile not to exceed $1,000 in cost. The company is already to start work on the building but has no idea where to put it.

The county commissioners have set no definite place, and the contractor is waiting for more definite instructions. The temporary structure be placed at Sheriff E. S. Graves suggests that the rear of the present courthouse, but it was rumored that the location would be unsatisfactory to some taxpayers.

The county judge and at least one commissioner are in favor of placing prisoners in Carson or Potter county jails where they can be kept at no added expense excepting transportation. Thus matters are at a standstill.

Daily News' want-ads get results.

Borger Road Bonds Apparently Carry

BORGER, Aug. 10.—(Special)—Hutchinson county's $150,000 road bond issue apparently was approved, it was said by the Borger Herald tonight when only two small boxes were yet to be heard from and opponents of the bonds admitted defeat.

The vote stood 362 votes for and 164 against the bonds, slightly more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

With the bond funds, Hutchinson will help pave the road leading northeast toward Spearman and Perryton from Stinnett.

Stop Winter Kill Seed Blowing Soil Drifting — Increase Wheat Yield 40 to 112 percent

Wyoming Experiment Station reports 100 per cent yield increase with furrow drill on early plowed fallow; 112 per cent increase on late-plowed fallow. Montana Experiment Station Farm at Moccasin, reports a 65 per cent saving in winter kill—"In a series of tests covering a period of 4 years, the Montana Experiment Station at Moccasin has obtained an average of 6 bushels of wheat more to the acre by the use of the furrow drill than by the ordinary method of planting. During last winter, losses from winter killing have been unusually severe in Central Montana. Losses on wheat planted by the usual method have averaged 90 per cent loss in many cases. Furrow drilled wheat came through with an abandonment of approximately 25 per cent.

Taylor Boiler and Welding Works Builds Metal Body

The new Chevrolet Truck of the Dr. Pepper company, which will be used to make deliveries of that company of bottled beverages in Pampa and surrounding territory was purchased from Culberson-Smalling Chevrolet company.

The Taylor Boiler and Welding Works was chosen to make the steel body which will carry 144 cases of bottles. It was necessary that this construction be of the best to properly carry and protect the bottles.

The Dr. Pepper Bottling Company which was formerly the Purity Bottling Works, found it necessary to enlarge its complete equipment after taking on the Dr. Pepper Franchise for this territory. They are now in a complete modern plant located on South Hobart and have increased their capacity several times over their old plant.

They venture assertion that when everyone in the territory they serve become familiar with this wonderful drink, it will be necessary to again enlarge the plant.

Alabama Man Is Here to Work in Episcopal Church

The Rev. J. H. Alves of Guntersville, Ala., arrived in Pampa Friday afternoon to take charge of the work of the Episcopal church in this section of the Northwest Texas diocese for the remainder of August and possibly longer. He has been in Amarillo a few days in consultation with Bishop E. C. Seaman. During July he conducted the missions of Sweetwater and Coleman.

Mr. Alves recently was ordained by the Rt. Rev. W. J. McDowell, bishop of Alabama. He received his theological training in the Episcopal Seminary of Virginia at Alexandria, after completing his academic work at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. The new minister will conduct his first service here at 11 o'clock this morning, in Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown's apartment. Although it is expected that Mr. Alves will hold his first permanent charge in Alabama, discharging his obligation to the bishop under whom he was ordained, Bishop Seaman hopes ultimately to have him in his own diocese. It was under Bishop Seaman's tutelage, while the latter was a minister in Gadsden, Ala., that Mr. Alves began his preparation for the ministry.

Warwick Aiken of Memphis, Tenn., who conducted services here, at Shamrock, and Borger, during June and July, is now at Sewanee, attending the Episcopal summer conference. Later he will go to the Evangelical Theological seminary of Dallas to resume his ministerial training. Mr. Alves will take up the mission work where he left it, going next Sunday to Borger.

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

Less than eight months have elapsed since the first Chevrolet Six was delivered into the hands of an owner—and already there are more than a million six-cylinder Chevrolets on the road! And the reasons for this overwhelming success are easy to understand.

Into a price field that had hitherto been occupied exclusively by four-cylinder cars—Chevrolet has introduced a six-cylinder car of amazing quality and value. Not only does it offer the smooth, quiet, velvety performance of a great six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—but, from every standpoint, it is a finer automobile than was ever before thought possible at such low prices!

Its beautiful new bodies—which are available in a variety of colors—represent one of Fisher's greatest style triumphs. And its safety and handling ease are so outstanding that it's a sheer delight to sit at the wheel and drive. In fact, the new Chevrolet Six has completely changed every previous idea as to what the buyer of a low-priced car has a right to expect for his money.

You owe it to yourself, as a careful buyer, to see and drive this car. For it gives you every advantage of a fine six-cylinder automobile—in the price range of the four and with economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon! Come in today!

The SHINING TALENT

By ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM, pretty and clever, has inherited $10,000, quarreled with her sweetheart, and found herself a job—oh in a day or two.

The money was a legacy left by an old aunt, and Molly received word of her good fortune the day she was graduated from college. Almost immediately she and her sweetheart, JACK WELLS, began to arrange. Jack works in an architect's office as messenger salary. Molly suggests that they be married on her inheritance, and his pride is outraged.

With NITA MELNOTTE, her best friend, Molly goes in quest of a position. Finally, when she is quite discouraged, the city editor of the ninth newspaper office she has visited offers a try-out as a writing reporter. Joyfully she accepts.

Jack hates to think of Molly working and they quarrel. But, in the end, they make up, and Jack has bought for her. A tragedy happens when the tiny ring falls over the side of the boat in which they are rowing. Molly cries, and Jack comforts her. And later she goes with him to his room to help him pack.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

women. Moreover, she was, at the time, a very lonely woman.

"DEAR DAUGHTER," she wrote. "Dad brought your letter from the postoffice this noon when he came home for dinner. It was strange, the way it arrived just as it did. I had spent the morning preparing a paper to read at the Wednesday Club. We are having a debate this week: 'Resolved, that the Modern Girl is Happier Than Her Grandmother.' I had taken the negative. And it so happened that I had read recently an article in a magazine by some well known woman writer. I forget her name at the moment.

"Well, daughter, she said something like this—'The point is,' she said, 'that there are grades in happiness, and that the inferior kind based upon selfishness, competition and publicity may make the modern woman happier; but it is not so becoming to her, nor so beneficial to others, as the frugal happiness enjoyed by her grandmother.'

"My dear daughter, your poor aunt Minnie would turn in her grave if she could know what her money has led you to. And a position on a newspaper of all things! You write of the joy of living, and of self-expression. Your aunt Minnie certainly derived considerable satisfaction from living. She was days without reproach. She was never heard to worry about self-expression, which is a new disorder. She believed that she expressed herself very well.

"She imparted a dignity, a spiritual elegance, which younger women do not feel, being obsessed with the fear of being enslaved and suppressed. I have quoted that, Molly, as best I can from the article by the magazine writer, because it so exactly expresses what I would like to say to you."

Molly dropped the letter impatiently.

"If that isn't just like mother!" she thought unreasonably.

Then a figure on the back page caught her attention. "3600." She snatched the paper up hurriedly.

Her mother had written, toward the end of the letter, "Your father and I have talked things over, and have decided not to stand in your way. After all, you have, I suppose, a right to pursue happiness in your own fashion. Aunt Minnie's estate will not be settled for some weeks. But your father is going to send you $500 to defray whatever expenses you may have, until such time as the executor sends you your entire inheritance. . . . Molly's eyes filled with tears. "Dear old dad!"

"And now," she decided joyously, "I can take a little apartment. I can have a kitchenette all my own, and a nice big bath!"

Molly helped Jack fold his things. His underclothes and pajamas. His other suit. And his dinner coat. She rolled his socks up in neat little balls. And wrapped his shoes in tissue paper, so they wouldn't soil his nice clean shirts. Then she pulled a ribbon out of her lingerie, and tied it around the letters she had sent him.

And he showed her his book of snapshots, and a family group in a silver frame. His mother had white hair, and was rather regal looking. Molly supposed she'd meet her before very long, although Jack confessed he had not told the family that he had a sweetheart.

"Mother'd only worry," he declared. "She thinks modern girls are something fierce. I want to wait until I can show you off properly."

"But Jack," She was a little hurt. "I should think you'd want to tell her about me, dear. I've told my family every blessed thing about you. They know your eyes are blue. And that you've a cowlick. And broad shoulders. And that you played football and hockey. My goodness, they know everything!"

"Well, I'd rather keep my folks dead when they get a look at you," he declared. "There's no use getting them roused up. They'll fall for you, soon as they lay eyes on you. Why, they'll be crazy about you, Molly. Particularly my mother. You'll like her, too."

Then he showed her some letters from his mother. And one from his father. His sisters wrote him, too. Girlish letters, with plenty of words underlined, and ever so many exclamation points.

Molly packed the family's letters neatly in a shoe box. She thought it was sweet of Jack to keep them. Like most women, she adored sentimentality in a lover.

"Sentimental men," she reflected, "are always tender."

Finally the packing was done. Molly felt pleasantly wifely. She sat down on the bed, and contemplated her sweetheart's bags. There were two of them, neatly packed and ready to close.

Jack came, and sat on the bed beside her.

"Tired, sweetheart?" She leaned against him.

"A little," she admitted. "It's nice, leaning against your shoulder. There's a dear little hollow, where my head just fits."

They were lost for a while in their dreams.

HE laid his head against her hair. And buried his nose in its fragrance.

"Other girls' hair doesn't smell like yours," he said.

She smiled. That little French atomizer had cost $7.50, but that was really the only way a girl could keep her hair scented.

"Molly, you must let me take you home now," he said. "Put on your hat, like a good girl."

She pulled it on, the little blue ragabond felt that made her look so adorably childish. Then she patted his pillow, with both her small pink palms. She liked knowing his head rested there, and fondled it with her hands.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you," she exclaimed. "I phoned the Y. W. C. A. this morning, and I've taken a room there. Rita is going to send all my trunk in for me. I'll write the family tonight, and tell them about it. And about my position."

"Call it a job," he advised her. "You don't call 'em positions when they only pay $18 a week."

They lifted quietly down the stairs. Past Miss Blak's room. The light was out now, and they could hear her snoring lightly. Molly giggled.

"I never knew before," she said, "that you could tell an old maid by the way she snores. Now wouldn't you just know she was a spinster?"

They took a taxi to the Y. W. C. because Jack declared it mightn't look right to be arriving after midnight her first night. And when they reached there a number of girls were on the steps, so that they had to say goodby most circumpectly. Molly was rather glad. She knew she would have cried, if it was dark or the street was deserted.

Tomorrow Jack would be on his way to New York. And it might be weeks and weeks before she saw him again! She flung her arms about him.

"Don't say goodby, sweetheart! Just good-night."

She kissed him swiftly, and ran up the stairs. He waited on the sidewalk until the door had closed behind her. She did not turn to wave. And he knew it was because she was crying.

That night she wrote Jack, and mailed it, next morning, with a special delivery stamp. It was in the office in New York, waiting for him when he reached there.

She also wrote her family, telling them at length of her "perfectly marvelous opportunity," her desire to be independent and self-supporting, and her determination to be happy through self-expression. She mentioned also her dreams of success and fame. It was a rather stiff letter, she was afraid, and she felt that she had not expressed herself very well. She sent it by air mail, and hoped for the best.

A few days later she received a reply from her mother.

Now, Molly's mother was a rather old-fashioned woman. She had no new fangled ideas about independence nor gainful occupations for

Storage Full as Hundred Tests Are Nearing Big Pay

Gray county production of 100,000 barrels is forecast for the near future by the large number of wells nearing the pay in proven territory. But with the pipelines running to capacity and storage filled, it is not expected that all the wells will be brought in over a short period. Drilling operations, shown in mid-week drilling reports, were as follows:
