Final Record Attack Will Be Above Cleveland

DETROIT, Aug. 5. (AP)—Details of a transcontinental refueling and endurance flight to be made by an airplane within the next two weeks were announced today by Stanley E. Knauss, vice-president and general manager of the Stout Air Services, Inc.

The flight will be the joint effort of the army air corps, the post office department and the Boeing Air Transport, Inc., he said.

The schedule calls for a take-off at San Francisco, passing eastward over Chicago, Cleveland, and possibly Detroit, to Mitchell Field, N. Y., where the return hop will be made. After two cross-country flights the plane will return to Cleveland and remain aloft as long as possible.

The pilots of the projected endurance flight will be Capt. Ira Eaker, pilot of the army endurance plane, "Question Mark," and Lieut. Bernard Thompson, pilot of the army Pan-American record-setting flight in 1928.

Each of the two army refueling planes will be capt. St. Clair Street, and Lieut. Newton Longfellow. Each will have two assistants.

Texas Company Gusher Brought in Sunday Is Big

No gauge is available on the Texas company's No. 9 J. B. Bowers, in the northeast quarter of section 33, block 2, H. & G. N. survey. The test encountered the pay late yesterday afternoon and began flowing at an estimated rate of between 150 to 200 barrels an hour.

The big pay was found in the granite wash formation at 2,800 barrels. A heavy flow of gas was picked up with the oil flow. The same company's No. 11, in the same section came in last week for 3,000 barrels.

Texas company's No. 2 Archer, in section 174, block B-2, encountered a second showing of oil yesterday while drilling at 3,200 feet. This morning the test was spraying about 25 barrels a day.

A first show was found last week at 5,700 feet.

First Look at World in 53 Years

It was a new world that was opening before the eyes of Jesse Pomeroy as this picture was taken showing the aged life-term convict (right) stepping outside the walls of the Massachusetts State Prison for the first time in 53 years. Automobiles, airplanes, skyscrapers, flappers, a steam shovel, gigantic locomotives—these were the wonders he saw for the first time during a 40-mile ride to the Bridgewater, Mass., state farm, where he will be given hospital care.

OKLAHOMAN IS BUYER OF GRAY OIL PROPERTY

Harold F. Young of Oklahoma City has just completed the purchase of several valuable pieces of royalty in the Gray county oil field. All the property involved is in proven territory of large production. No cash considerations could be learned.

The royalty specialist purchased from Siler Faulkner a quarter royalty in and under all of section 27 and the south half of section 33, block B-2, H. & G. N. survey, both in the Finley-Brown pool. The south half of section 33 was proved last week when the Gulf Production company brought in a 4,000-barrel producer. There is no production in section 27.

C. M. Humphries sold a one-sixtieth royalty in and under all of sections 2, 3, and 4, block B-2, H. & G. N. survey, in the southwest LeFors pool to Mr. Young. There are six locations on the land and four producing wells.

The other royalty purchased by Mr. Young was one thirty-second in the northeast quarter and the southeast quarter of section 28, block B-2. It was owned by W. J. Ball.

Fires in Northern Idaho Are Raging

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 5. (AP)—An army of nearly 1,000 men today was waging desperate battle to check the progress of forest fires raging in the tinder-like woods of Northern Idaho. Lack of rain, with heavy winds and inaccessibility of the fires, made their task doubly difficult.

H. Brundage, assistant district forester in charge of fire control, declared at Portland, Ore., that about 275 fires had been started in the Pacific northwest timber country by lightning.

All those in Oregon were reported under control but fires continued to burn in Washington and California.

A. M. Simmons of LeFors returned home yesterday, after two weeks in Pampa hospital. He had typhoid fever, but was much improved when he left the hospital.

Great Ship to Make Trip Around the World

COMFORTS ARE GIVEN PRAISE

Only Stowaway Does Not Enjoy His Journey

NAVAL AIR STATION, Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 5. (AP)—The German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, was safe in port today after its third crossing of the Atlantic and day after tomorrow it will start back for Germany, the first leg of a journey around the world.

Graf Zeppelin, largest of airships, left Friedrichshafen at 9:29 P. M. T. Wednesday night and was pulled to the ground here at 8:48 last night after 95 hours and 19 minutes in the air as against 111 hours for the westward crossing last year, although it was not all favorable weather this time.

"There was every kind of weather," Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the ship, said on landing. "It was a very interesting flight, we had no snow and no hail, but there was a storm close at the start and strong headwinds for the last 14 hours."

"We had a very enjoyable time," he told reporters. "At night we danced and sang and drank wine."

Cigarettes Barred
There were other amusements, too. Passengers took of a bridge tournament and recounted with laughter how they had "kidded" themselves in face of the rule against smoking by carrying porcelain cigarettes which they "lit" with electric flashlights.

The 18 passengers, including two women, showed no signs of weariness and said they had enjoyed perfect comfort. Soon after they had been passed by customs and immigration agents they left for New York in a special train.

The Graf could have landed a couple of hours sooner but for a gusty wind of about 40-mile velocity. The dirigible first floated over the field here just at sunset amidst prolonged cheers from the crowd at the field, estimated at 100,000. The Graf dipped for a landing but on radio advice from the field rose and turned its shining blunt nose toward New York, which it circled before returning for a night landing.

FORT WORTH MAY TEST GASOLINE LAW

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5. (AP)—Possibility that the city of Fort Worth would present a test case in connection with the new 4-cent state gasoline tax law arose today with the announcement by City Manager Carr that the city council might be asked to approve such a move.

Landowners and royalty owners of Gray county will meet this evening to discuss problems relating to their interests. The session will be held at the Board of City Development rooms at 8 o'clock.

E. G. Bedford of Midland, president of the Mid-Continent Royalty Owners association of Texas, will be in charge. He is here with William Helms of Midland, who is taking memberships in the organization. A Gray county tax committee of three will be named.

The purpose of tonight's meeting, Mr. Bedford said this morning, is to secure full cooperation of all landowners in studying and solving the difficult problems arising in the leasing, producing and marketing of oil and gas. Tax problems now confronting royalty owners will be fully discussed and a committee will be appointed to look after the interests of local members.

The association is used as a clearing house of information pertaining to determining quality of oil, disposition of dry gas residue from casinghead gas, and other similar activities.

"All lines of business have associations, and the royalty owners now have in the Mid-Continent Royalty Owners association such an organization through which to help each other and to bring about corrections which cannot be reached as long as interested persons act separately," said Mr. Bedford.

Clarence Saunders Is Loser Saturday Night

CROW-BAR MARKS ARE NUMEROUS

Thompson Hardware Is Robbed of Guns and Money

Two local stores were burglarized late Saturday night when the Clarence Saunders grocery store on South Cuyler street and the Thompson Hardware store on North Cuyler were robbed of small sums and a small amount of merchandise. Attempts to break into several other businesses failed.

A crow-bar or some such tool was used at both places. Several other store doors on the street showed that attempts had been made to enter.

The back door of the Thompson Hardware company was forced open and a car or truck was backed up to the doorway. The cash register was taken from the store. Three revolvers and a 22 calibre rifle were missing this morning.

The cash register was found yesterday morning in a wheat field on the Charles C. Cook farm one mile east of the city on the Mobette road. It was badly damaged. R. A. Thompson, manager of the store, said the thieves must have been pretty dumb. Had they turned the handle the register would have opened. There was $15 in cash in the drawer.

The Clarence Saunders store was entered by prying open a rear window. Marks where a truck or car had been driven up to the back door could be plainly seen yesterday morning. T. M. DeSpain, owner of the store, had not checked his loss this morning. He said about $5 in cash was taken from the cash register, which had been left open.

Officers are working on the cases.

TOPEKA, Aug. 5. (AP)—Two bandits early today held up Clyde Knowlton, an accountant, within half a block of the city hall and robbed him of $9,200, the city's semi-monthly payroll. Knowlton was enroute to the city treasurer's office with the money which he had just withdrawn from a bank. The men escaped in a rented car bearing a Lawrence, Kans., tag. A woman drove the car.

One crew of forty men is laying pipe through the old Caldwell ranch, south of the Washita river, while another force is working in the southwest part of the city.

W. B. Watkins, engineer for the Upham Gas company, announced that the eighty men in the two crews would be stationed in Canadian until the work is completed.

Mr. Seeds has just completed the erection of a large garage building on South Cuyler street.

DELIVERING OF EXPRESS TO BE STARTED SOON

Dreaded Chinese Tong Warfare Breaks Out With Guns Blazing in Many Cities—Several Deaths

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 5. (AP)—Louis Ga Fung died today from bullet wounds, the victim of what police said was a nationwide outbreak of a Chinese Tong war. Loy Song of New York, member of the Hip Sing Tong was held on a charge of murder.

Authorities here advanced the theory that the outbreak may have arisen as the result of an opium trade conflict. Opium valued at $50,000 was seized and 47 Chinese arrested in a raid on the city's Chinatown Saturday.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—A Chinese restaurant owner and a negro patron were shot by an unidentified Chinese gunman today in what police feared was a local outbreak of a threatened Tong war.

Chicago Is Hotbed
CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP)—Tong guns blazed in Chicago yesterday and the echo, heard in Chinese sections all over the United States, brought out apprehensive police details attempting to stop spread of the dread feud.

Chicago's Chinatown was thrown into confusion when a Hip Sing Tongman, Yee Sum, was shot and killed in a crowded street and again last night when Kar Leong Wong was shot and probably fatally wounded. Police were informed Wong was a member of the On Leong Tong and were working on the theory his shooting was in retaliation for the slaying of Sun.

The mysterious "grapevine telegraph" through which Tong members were informed of happenings in other cities evidently was functioning well for police in other cities reported streets in Chinatowns deserted and tense and uneasy spirits prevailing.

Two shots were fired at Chinese in Boston yesterday, and although the trouble was believed to have been the result of a gambling quarrel, scores of plainclothesmen were stationed in the Chinese section and sightseers kept out.

Given Police Escorts
Joe Tuck, member of the On Leong, was arrested upon the identification of a Hip Singer, Ding Wing, who said he saw the Yee shooting, but police doubted he was the actual slayer.

Soon after the disturbances started, Frank Moy, president of the On Leong organization, and Lee Loy, acting head of the Hip Sings, appeared at the detective bureau and asked help in preventing further trouble. At their own requests they were given detective escorts.

Both Tong leaders admitted the war was on and said they feared a repetition of the bitter warfare that claimed more than 70 lives in the nationwide Tong war of 1925.

It's Like This—

THE MAJOR ENGAGEMENT of the railway "war" has been fought. The outcome, unfortunately, cannot be known at once...

The News wishes to congratulate President E. D. Keim and Manager George Briggs of the B. C. D., and the citizens who assisted in carrying the battle in an energetic and efficient fashion...

Pampa's part in the proceedings has been given wide and not always accurate publicity. Pampa intervened for the Fort Worth & Denver Northern, and her efforts were bent solely in that direction...

Opposition to the C. & O. W. spur was not an attempt to keep rail service out of Central Gray county, but to obtain better facilities than the inadequate plan put forward by the Santa Fe...

It behooves any city to try to block needed rail facilities. There is merit in the Rock Island-Frisco proposals. There is room and a distinct need for the Fort Worth & Denver Northern's Childrens-Pampa line...

THE HIGHWAY COMMISSION has taken the Pampa road district at its word and withdrawn its call for bids on grading and drainage of the Pampa-Carson county highway...

The special road district cannot issue warrants for such work and the entire county naturally will not pay for this district's paving. The only solution is another district bond issue or a county-wide levy. Since district bonds are almost unsalable, Gray county citizens might as well begin thinking of a county-wide bond issue if they wish more paving.

A single solution appears in dispatches from Austin telling of plans to make a statewide road bond issue a gubernatorial plank. Such a bond issue would be from $175,000,000 to $225,000,000 in amount...

Should the statewide bond issue pass, Highway 33 in Gray county would be paved by the state on any route the highway commission might see fit to build. Pampa is a "bee-line" through the brakes if desired...

The refund would result in inequalities, but the principle's sound of the state is to take over all new construction and the entire state is to pay the cost. Many see in the bond issue plan the only quick way of connecting Texas paving.

The candidate who campaigns for a bond issue of $175,000,000 is going to do so at his peril, however, for the "lower taxes" cries will be heard as unusual, regardless of the real insincerity of most of those who use this time-tested method of fooling the voters.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—Probably for the first time ever, the Communists, the Socialists and the Capitalists—as they call everyone else—are all agreed on the same thing.

The Communist government of Russia, the Socialist government of England and our own government meet on common ground when it comes to reducing armaments. The Soviets got nowhere at all when they proposed complete world-wide disarmament to the League of Nations conferees at Geneva, but they can now enjoy the sight of the rest of the world stepping in that direction, led by President Hoover and Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

Russia does not enter into the picture so much except for her initiation of the complete disarmament idea, which caused the other nations to laugh or scold to hide their embarrassment, and her part in a recent demonstration that things are likely to be different. This demonstration came out of her row with China.

A Good Cause for War In the old days China's railway seizure would have been good for a war any old time. Russia, instead of going to war, agreed to be peaceful to that extent at least commended the sincerity of her disarmament proposals. What made Russia's pacifism look so good was that she announced to the world her respect for the Kellogg peace treaty before Secretary of State Stimson or anyone publicly reminded her of her adherence.

The many recent developments favorable to the world peace ideal may be taken by historians as proof that popular government, or democracy, is a strong deterrent to war. Russia's war sufferings made possible the Bolshevik revolt which upset the Czarist government. The soldiers, workers and peasants just decided that they weren't going to have any more of that war and when the Soviet Union was established one of its strongest tenets was that war was an instrument of the capitalist class which invariably brought great suffering to the masses and hence ought to be abolished.

Since that time Russia has been distrusting the rest of the world because of its attempt to invade and destroy her and the rest of the world has been distrusting Russia because of her propaganda for revolutions everywhere else.

All of which hasn't helped the world peace ideal. Nevertheless, Russia claims to be a government of the workers and farmers and unalterably opposed to aggressive war, so if one accepts those claims at face value one finds that history's most radical experiment in popular government produced a government which led all the rest in renouncing war as an instrument of national policy.

Voted for Pacifism In Premier Ramsay MacDonald's peace efforts the British people may be said to be getting just about what they voted for. British postwar conditions have been bad enough to cause a political revolution. MacDonald was a hated pacifist 10 or 12 years ago and the Laborites or Socialists whom he led have always had a strong peace policy. So when British voters gave MacDonald and his party a plurality they were well aware that their new government probably would go to great lengths on behalf of world peace. They knew that peace was importantly dependent on Anglo-American relations and that MacDonald would adopt a more friendly policy than had the existing Tory government.

Was Just Like Throwing Money Away

"ORGATONE HAS DONE MORE FOR MY WIFE THAN ALL OTHER TREATMENTS SHE TOOK," SAYS 'AMARILLO MAN.'

"Orgatone has certainly done fine work for my wife and I am glad to recommend it to others, who may be suffering like she did," said H. L. Hefley, a valued employee of the Smeiter who lives at 116 McMasters street, Amarillo, Texas.

"My wife is strong, hearty and full of energy now," continued Mr. Hefley, "and is feeling a hundred per cent better than she was the day she began taking Orgatone. She had suffered from sick headaches for fifteen years and everything she ate hurt her. After eating, especially she would have dizzy spells and gas and it was such an effort for her to breathe at times, it was really like one hard at work. She had fearful headaches, couldn't get any sound sleep on account of her kidneys, and was tired and languid all the time, and fell off in strength rapidly.

"I paid out hundreds of dollars, for treatment and medicine of various kinds and it was just like throwing my money away, as far as the good it did her. It's the truth, four bottles of Orgatone have done her more good than everything else put together. Her headaches have stopped and this fact alone is proof of the fine work Orgatone has done in correcting her troubles and putting her system in good shape. But that isn't all; she has a splendid appetite, eats anything she wants and is like a different woman altogether. Her nervousness and headaches have disappeared as well as her kidney disorder and she sleeps like a healthy child every night. The gas has stopped forming on her stomach and she's never bothered with dizzy spells or shortness of breath now. She is stronger and better off in every way, right now, than she's been in the past fifteen years and I'm obliged to say a good word for Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is manufactured by one of the world's greatest laboratories and is not a so-called patent or secret remedy and is sold exclusively in Pampa by Richard's Drug Co., Inc. (adv.)

According to Petty, Sandland remained to guard the craft while the customs officer went to report the seizure. When the officer returned, the boat, Sandland and the man and woman were gone.

LEADING NINES HOLD PLACES ON WEEK-END

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The week-end fighting along the major league front was all in favor of the two leading teams.

With the Pirates rained out on Saturday and idle yesterday, the Cubs turned back the Brooklyn Robins in two games and stretched the Chicago lead to six and one half games. The Mackmen played a bruising 8 to 8 tie with the Browns Saturday and took their ease yesterday while the Yankees were dividing a pair with the industrious Indians. This left the margin of the Mackmen at eleven and one-half games, just where it was forty-eight hours ago, but with important difference that one game of the lead was transferred from the relatively non-essential won column to the vital line of figures detailing games lost. The Yankees now have lost ten more games than the flying Macks, who are moving at a gait which might possibly level that 23-year-old record of 116 games won by the Cubs of Frank Chance.

Some 55,000 turned out on the Sabbath to see the Yankees fend off their current jinx team, the Cleveland Indians. The champions hit hard behind old Tom Zachary in the opener to win 12 to 0, but a general pitching blow-up in the second clash saw the Indians score by 14 to 6.

Ed Morris held the recumbent White Sox to two small hits to win for Boston by 8 to 0. The Detroit Tigers closed out the American league program by winning a rough doubleheader from the Senators at Washington 10 to 5 and 13 to 11.

The mad dash of the Cubs continued when Uncle Wilbert Robinson dared to expose a left-hander, William Watson Clark, to the fire of the Bruins. Clark succumbed by 6 to 4 when Charlie Grimm, the only left handed swinger on the McCarthy club, connected for a single with men on second and third in the seventh.

St. Louis blanked the Boston Braves by a score of 5 to 0.

Jakie May subjugated the hard-working Phillies to win by 7 to 1 at Cincinnati in the remaining National league contest.

Arlington Club Profits to Make Rich Races Sure

CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (P)—A profit of more than $800,000 on its 29-day season at Arlington park will enable the American National Jockey club to increase its stakes and purses to $600,000 next summer.

The club conducted the meeting on a non-profit basis, and when the large earnings were revealed, plans for 1930 were launched for the most ambitious program ever offered by any racing organization.

The American classic, worth $60,000 in added money this year, will be enriched substantially, possibly to $100,000, while the Arlington handicap, a $20,000 race this year, probably will be increased to $50,000, making it the richest all-age stake in the country.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK

NEW YORK—That Broadway so soon forgets those who sacrifice to her white lights is probably just because a public on pleasure bent naturally cannot be serious about anything.

At least, that is what Arthur Edwin Krows writes in a communication.

"Anyway," he says, "the fact is that no fatted calves are killed for her returned prodigals; and in many instances she doesn't even remember their names.

"For instance, one of her most esteemed actors of recent years, John Sainpulos, having left her for the movies several seasons ago and lately returned in talking pictures with Mary Pickford in 'Coquette,' is noted on the main title of that film as 'John St. Polis,' and apparently nobody cared to correct it or to recall him by any other name.

Irrepressible

"However, names that are hard to forget sometimes come back to Broadway. There is O. U. Bean, with whom I brushed elbows one day last week.

"Orestes Utah Bean is well known in Salt Lake City. A few years before the World war broke out in 1914, he wrote and produced in the Utah capital a drama called 'An Aztec Romance.' So successful was this account of the alleged beginning of Mormonism in ancient Mexico, that it was soon after brought to Broadway and elaborately reproduced.

"Unfortunately for the earnest dramatist, it was then a far cry from Salt Lake City to Broadway; and the 'Romance' was one of the direst failures of the time. Nevertheless, ridicule soon changed to sympathy, for Bean took his rebuff in an admirable spirit, vowing that some day he would come back and turn his failure into triumph.

"So, at intervals he has come back, possibly to just look over the ground. He told me once that his expectation of support lies in his invention of a device for reducing the cost of illuminating gas.

Ham and Bean

"But the reason Broadway remembers his name lies in a trivial incident.

"When 'An Aztec Romance' was lingering on in a forced run after a disastrous opening night, Bean used to spend his evenings at the theatre, smarting, no doubt, from some of the more undesired reviews.

"Also visiting the theatre were the dramatic reporters on their usual evening rounds; and among these was Wallace Ham, now a theatrical press agent, but then, and for some 17 years previously, 'leg man' for the dramatic desk of the old New York Sun.

"It was nearing 9 p. m., and the audience was all inside. Bean, a tall lanky man, was standing back of the last row in the orchestra near the door. Suddenly he espied a little man entering the theatre unchallenged by the doorman. Planting himself in the way he demanded, 'Who are you?'

"Who are you?' retorted the little man, 'pretty impertinently,' Bean thought.

"'I'm Bean.'

"And I'm Ham.'

"Bean, infuriated, was for throwing him out. Some accounts say that he did so. In all events, Ham was a good sport, too; and explanations made the

Vadalpi Holds Victories Over Great Mat Men

Oreste Vadalpi, thrice conqueror of the great Stecher, will appear on a Pampa mat for the first time Thursday night. This will be the first appearance of the wrestler in the Panhandle. He will meet Big Bill Lutz of Plainview in a finish match, two falls out of three.

The great Vadalpi will enter the ring weighing 205 pounds. Lutz will scale 210 pounds. This meeting should be no tame affair. Lutz can get real rough, and does, but when he meets the Italian he is apt to get some of his own medicine.

Two boxing bouts are due to draw much comment. Tuffy Graham, local welterweight, is going to take a crack at Tommy O'Brien of Los Angeles. The two have had a grudge against one another ever since the Californian arrived in the city. It will be decided in a six round bout.

Then another sure battle will bring together the game little Joe Ash of Pampa and the boy with the funny moniker, "Beede Rye" Hays is the lad who will oppose Ash. He is a Californian and his scrap book tells a story of several good fights.

Both will enter the ring at about 130 pounds.

BASEBALL STAR KILLED

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 5. (P)—L. W. Jones, former Western association baseball star, was reported run over and killed by a train at Fort Smith, Ark., in a message received here today.

HOOVER RETURNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. (P)—President Hoover returned to the White House today from his Virginia fishing lodge where he spent the week-end.

COLD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (P)—Only a week ago New York City was seeking relief from the most severe heat wave of the summer. Today topcoats were in order. The coolest August 5 on record in Metropolitan New York was registered today as the thermometer dropped to 56.

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 3. (P)—John Malish, a farmer, was killed early tonight by a passenger train which struck his automobile on a crossing of state highway No. 30 near Rowena.

Klein Delivers

PHILADELPHIA (P)—One of the youngest members of the home run hitting brigade is Chuck Klein of the Phillies.

Chuck is only 21 and has been out of the Three-I league less than a year. But he certainly can wallop the ball.

DALLAS, Aug. 5. (P)—Hendie Cooks, 25, pitcher for the baseball team of a business firm here, broke his arm yesterday as he threw a ball to a batter. Physicians said the bone was broken above the elbow.

Kid Chocolate Will Return Favor at Soldiers' Camp

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (P)—Gratitude in a prize fighter has come to be such a rare trait that the case of Kid Chocolate is almost too good to be true. A little more than a year ago the flashing Cuban "Keed," one of the cleverest bits of fighting machinery the modern ring has produced, drifted into New York with his manager, broke and in need of immediate action. They visited every fight club without even landing a preliminary match.

Discouraged, the tall negro boy went out to the soldiers' camp at Mitchell field where once a week the lesser lights of the leather-tossing industry battle for coffee and cake money at a tiny fight club and got his first chance there.

From the first moment Chocolate lifted his hands in action, he was a sensation. The Cuban youngster, only 19 years old, is a perfect boxer with the technique of the old masters, a stiff puncher with either hand and an engaging ring personality. Within a few weeks every New York promoter wanted his services.

Within the year Chocolate bounded up the fistic trail through the bantam and featherweight divisions until promoters are pleased to set his night's wages around $15,000.

But Chocolate has never forgotten the days when only the doors of the Mitchell field club were open to him. This week he will kick his profile. For a few hundred dollars he will box Tommy Lorenzo 10 rounds for the soldiers Wednesday night.

PLAN NIGHT FOOTBALL

DECATUR, Ill., Aug. 5. (P)—James Milikin university football team will play four games at night this fall. The Charleston, Eure a and St. Viator contests will be played under lights at Decatur, while Milikin will inaugurate night football at Wabash college, Crawfordsville, Ind.

A genuinely new scientific principle as startling as the automobile differential. Every woman has known for years the need for a washer with a chiffon speed for chiffons... a linen speed for linens... and faster water action for heavily soiled pieces.

Now it is a fact! With no gears to shift... no pedals to press... no clutches to throw.

$10,000.00 in Gold will be paid for the best letters expressing opinions on the why and wherefore of this modern washer. The contest is open to everybody.

The SHINING TALENT

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM, graduating from college, falls head over heels in love with JACK WELLS, a Harvard man, handsome, and poor as a church mouse. On coming home, she finds her father has decided to marry her to a rich man. Molly has a decided talent for writing. Her father wants to marry Jack, and that will be a whole lot better than trying to be a novelist or a poet.

Waiting in the dean's office, she idly picks up the morning paper. There, on the editorial page, she sees a bit of verse about a girl whose name she thinks is Molly. She reads it and is thrilled by the marriage.
Molly reads the verse from the paper, and starts to be her usual, "Oh, dear, dear!" she says. "You cannot love me and a career."
"But the dean rather abruptly dismisses her."
Jack arrives to take her to the president's list. That evening they go to the college lake, and Molly says that she means to be married to Jack. Molly says that she means to be married to Jack. Molly says that she means to be married to Jack.

NEW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER II
"MOLLY darling," Jack protested, "don't you know, dear, that I want to take care of my little girl? I want to have money to buy you pretty things. Fur coats, and dresses, and . . . things . . . all kinds of things. I couldn't let you scrimp and save, and worry about bills."
He kissed her forehead.
"You see, dear," he told her simply, "I love you so."
She freed herself from his arms and propped herself on her elbow.
"But, Jack," she cried, "that's just it. Stupid! You love me so. And I love you so. And then you go and talk about things. Stupid old things. . . . Cray old fur coats, and dresses . . . and things! What do I care about things? I want you!"
Suddenly she was crying.
"It's no good," she sobbed, "talking like that. Waiting, and waiting, and waiting. If you loved me, Jack, you wouldn't think so darn much about things. You'd marry me. You know you would!"
He drew her closer, muffling his voice on her shoulder.
"Sweetheart! That's not fair. You know it isn't. I'm because I love you, Molly, that I can't marry you. You know that, don't you, dear?"
He turned her face, and kissed her streaming eyes.
"Look at me, Molly Burnham," she wiped her tears away, childishly, with the back of her hand.
"You see," she answered meekly, "and Jack . . . I'm an awful dear. I know you love me more than anything."
"A million times more than anything," he supplemented. "More than anybody ever loved anybody before."

"AND I love you," she told him, "a million times more than that."
"You're a wonderful little sweet heart," he approved, stroking her hair.
"When will you marry me?" "Oh, Molly!" His voice was hurt.
"Don't let's start that again."
"All right, I won't."
She found a button on his coat and twisted it between her fingers.
"Only . . . Listen, Jack . . . I've the dreadfulness feeling. Like a premonition, sort of. Do you ever have premonitions, Jack? I do. I feel things in my bones, and up around my heart. Sort of pulsing and breathing round my heart."

Like a premonition, sort of. Do you ever have premonitions, Jack? I do. I feel things in my bones, and up around my heart. Sort of pulsing and breathing round my heart.

"Do you ever have premonitions, Jack? I do. I feel things in my toes, and up around my heart."
Like I was frightened, or choking, or something. It's funny, I can't describe it very well. Only I do. I feel things. Oh, you needn't laugh. Lots of people do.
"Anyhow, Jack Wells, something tells me that we ought to get married. Right straight off. I mean something's going to happen if we don't. I'm absolutely sure of it. Jack, you'll be sorry if you insist upon waiting."
She stopped speaking, and Jack regarded her intently.
"It's thinking and believing that make things happen," he said. "If you get thinking things like that, Molly, maybe something will happen. Don't you know that you can think yourself into almost anything? For instance, if you should start wondering if you actually loved me, pretty soon you'd be liable not to love me. But while you're sure you love me, Molly, there's nothing in heaven or earth can keep us apart."
"But I've a premonition," she faltered.
"Premonition!" he scoffed. "Nobody has those things but old maids and nervous wrecks."
"That isn't so," Molly defended herself warmly. "Lots of men of types do. Psychic people, I mean."
Jack picked up the paddles.
"See here!" he admonished. "Don't go psychic on me, Molly. I stop thinking that we're going sorry if we don't get married away. Because we can't, dear, simply have to wait. That's all—us to it."
"It's the unhappiest feeling," she persisted.
"Push yourself out of it," he consoled. "Start thinking about how much we love each other. And how wonderful it's going to be if Molly—this wanting you, I've got to be able to take care of you."

"But I'm not one who must have everything," she told him gently. "It's only you I want, dear."
He shot the canoe savagely through the water.
"You know I haven't a cent!"
"Neither has Dick Godfrey," asserted Molly. "And he's not trying to make Claudia wait until she's an old woman."
"But Claudia Cabotta worth a fortune in her own right. You know there's no comparison, maintained Jack. "Incidentally, Godfrey's working with a bond house where his Cabot connections will assure his success. And the old man's giving them their trip abroad."
"Well, when do you think we can be married?" persisted Molly.
"Next year."
"Oh, but that's ages off!" she protested. "Listen, Jack—I'll get a job, and then we'll both save. And we can get married lots sooner!"

HE laughed then, as though she were a child, and he was humoring her.
"What could you do?" he demanded. "You couldn't earn more than enough to take care of your self. You wouldn't be able to save a cent. And you'd have pretty tough sledding, besides."
"Anyhow, dear, you know your mother and father expect you to go home. Why? They'd be heartbroken if you didn't. And you can yourself your father was going to buy you a car. You'll have a good time. And we'll write each other every day. A year isn't such a long time, honey. How'd you like to have your diamond before you go back? I guess I've got enough to buy my girl a pretty grand little sparkler. What do you say, Molly? Engaged girls always have a good time, don't they? Showers and parties and things . . ."

"Oh, Jack, you don't understand," Molly interrupted, indignantly. "You've just never lived in blood-grass, that's all. You simply couldn't understand. Why, honey, it's the miserablest little prairie town you ever laid your two eyes on. Talk about good times for engaged girls! Well, maybe you think humming dish towels is having a good time. And going to horrible kitchen showers. And playing bridge. And drinking tea. My dear, I give you my word, my blood runs cold every time I think about it. I did hope," she concluded plaintively, "you'd marry me, and rescue me. Listen, Jack!"
She put her fingers on his wrist and leaned toward him, and the fragrance of lilacs drifted from her hair across his face.
"Let's have a compassionate marriage," Jack laughed. "Darling, you're crotchety," he told her indignantly. "Oh, be that girl! She said, 'Well, Rita Holland and Bob got married, that was—oh, there, I didn't mean to tell you. Nobody's supposed to know. But it's just the same. They've been married a year and a half."
"And you know Rita Woods? Well, she was secretly married too. She and Zip have been crazy about each other for years and years. But Zip was silly, just like you, always wanting to wait until he had some money. And some month was him, before he had any. And he was hankering for her, and she was everything."
"Well, you'd never guess, Jack, how she got Zip to marry her."

ZEPPELIN-

I mean the stowaway, 18-year-old Albert Buhkowsky, who, with a pocket camera and one mark and 50 pennings, started out to see the world but made the whole trip shut up in a box-like room, high up in the tail of the ship, and never saw a thing.

We were just gliding out of the hangar at Friedrichshafen last Thursday morning when people on the ground began to yell. And there was Buhkowsky running along the top of the Graf right along her backbone, which was only about six or eight inches wide. One false step and he'd have come right down through the fabric. It was not, too. He couldn't see very well.

He had dropped down from a rope dangling from the top of the hangar. He ran along until he came to an air-shaft. Then he jumped down, where a member of the crew found him a few minutes later.

They yanked him out, brought him down, and then shut him up in a room about the size of the box they kept the gorilla in and there he stayed for the rest of the trip.

Buhkowsky, I learned, had arrived in Friedrichshafen the day before on a bicycle. He's a baker and confectioner born in Dortmund, Germany, August 17, 1911.

TEXAS MARKETING BODY MAY BE DESIGNATED

DALLAS, Aug. 5. (AP)—The Farmers' Marketing Association of America, Inc., which has the bulk of its membership and strength in Texas, may be designated as one of the agencies that will handle funds of the federal farm board to be distributed in Texas for stabilization and orderly marketing of cotton and other crops. It was brought out at the annual meeting of the association here today.

M. H. Wolf, prominent cotton man of Dallas, told of his trip last week to Baton Rouge where he attended a number of meetings of the federal farm board and discussed the agricultural situation with individual members of that body.

It has been clearly brought out that the federal agricultural relief fund will not be distributed to individuals but through reputable and successful co-operative agencies, Wolf said.

"Records," he added, "show that about 8 per cent of the cotton farmers of the South belong to co-operative marketing associations, leaving 92 per cent out of reach of the board."

Two former lieutenant-governors of Texas, Lynch F. Davidson of Houston and T. W. (Whitt) Davidson of Dallas, were among the other speakers.

ZEPPELIN WILL MAKE RICHMOND HOME PORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—The Evening Post today says that when the Graf Zeppelin nosed over New York City last night it probably was the last view New Yorkers would have of her completing a trans-Atlantic flight, as she probably will make Richmond, Va., her home port on this side hereafter.

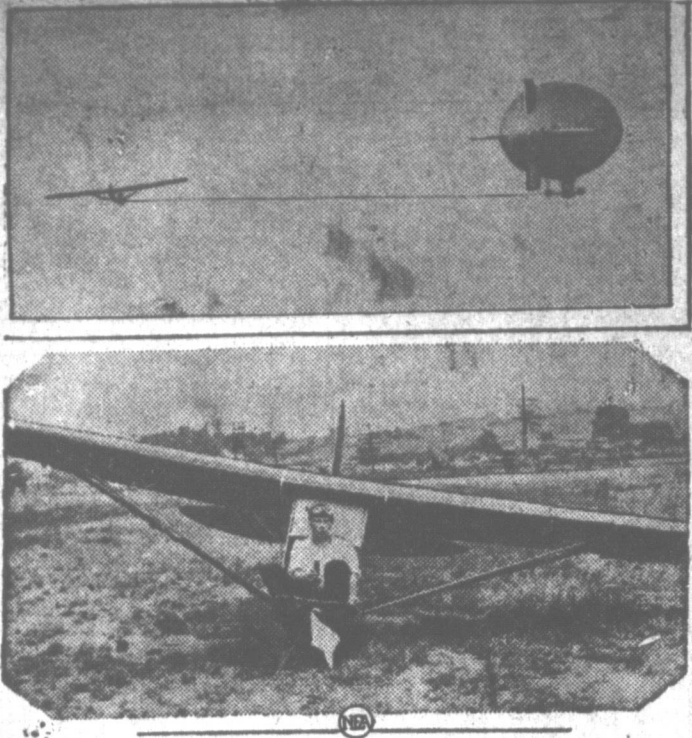

The paper quoted F. W. Von Messter, American representative of the Luftschiffbau Zeppelin and the Mayback Motors company as saying that Richmond, Va., had been found to be a much better place.

BROWNS BEAT ATHLETICS

Thirteen Convicts Escape During Riot at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5. (AP)—A riot by inmates of the Spadra state narcotic hospital near here today resulted in the escape of thirteen men. The outbreak was quelled only after authorities reinforced by a squad of deputy sheriffs threatened the mob with sawed-off shot guns.

The inmates used improved rams to smash doors and knock bars and wire gratings from windows. Three men were held as being part of the band of ringleaders. They were Charles E. Rivers, 42; William Graham, 60, and Bobby Hall, 39.

No one was hurt in the struggling and order was restored when authorities advanced with shotguns and tear gas bombs and warned the inmates they would attack if the rioters refused to surrender.

Reports from the hospital said several scores of men figured in the outbreak and that it began about midnight, apparently at a given signal.

Groups of inmates manned clumsily constructed rams and rushed doors, breaking them down. Others used similar battering pieces on protected windows.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 5. (AP)—Six convicts escaped from Angola penal farm today but were recaptured during the morning, according to advices received at the general penitentiary offices here at noon.

No details of the break were available at that hour.

PENSION FUND TO BE PRORATED—IS TOO SMALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 5. (AP)—The fund to pay confederate veterans pensions must be prorated among those given preference in sharing in it if it is insufficient to provide $25 monthly to the veterans and their widows, W. D. Lawrence, assistant attorney general, held today.

The opinion was given to Comptroller S. H. Terrell, who asked if he should issue warrants for the maximum amount allowed under the law or whether the fund should be prorated so as not to create a deficiency. Terrell said the fund was not even sufficient to pay the allotment in full given those in the preferred class.

He said there would be available in the pension fund for the quarter ending August 31, the sum of $551,747, and with 8,000 pensioners on the roll entitled to receive $25 monthly under a law recently enacted by the legislature, this amount would be "insufficient to pay them in full."

The law gives preference to widows of veterans 75 years old or over.

Many Farmers in Panhandle's New Civic Organization

PANHANDLE, Aug. 5. (Special)—Following a campaign in which 227 new members were secured for the Panhandle Chamber of Commerce, the civic body was reorganized, and new officers and new directors were elected.

Lloyd Waldron was elected secretary and Frank Paul, president. The new board of directors was composed of the following: P. I. Crum, Ralph Randel, Les Shepherd, Edwin B. Carroll, G. S. Jackson, Troy Dowling, I. S. Mullins, John Stone, and George Curyea.

The membership goal, originally set at 200, was passed in one day's drive, with workers divided into two teams. Forty farmers were among the new members and several of the board members were from that group.

The team headed by G. S. Jackson secured 114 new memberships, defeating Ralph Randel's team, which secured 104. The losing team entertained the winners at breakfast at the Panhandle Inn.

Man Slain By Pro Agents Buried—Sons Seek Release

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 5. (AP)—While funeral services were being held at Petus for Tom Chandler, their father, Carson and W. E. Chandler, sons of the Poteet farmer who was shot down by a prohibition agent Friday, were preparing to seek release under charges of violating the national prohibition act.

Preliminary hearings for the youths was set for this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner R. M. Siddall. The two, with Charles Fein, and his wife, arrested at the Poteet farm, are in the Bexar county jail.

Charles Stevens, veteran prohibition enforcement officer who was charged with murder in Justice of Peace N. J. Johnson's court at Poteet Saturday, is under $2,000 bond.

It developed at the preliminary hearing for Stevens that no search warrant was held by officers when they made the raid.

After the two boys had viewed the body, it was shipped to Petus Sunday for interment. He has a brother, W. C. Chandler, there.

Stevens claimed the shot that struck Chandler in the heart came from his (Stevens') 30-30 rifle which was discharged when he stumbled in front porch. The youths gave different versions.

SIX GOVERNMENTS WORK ON REPARATIONS PROBLEMS

THE HAGUE, Aug. 5. (AP)—Representatives of six governments gathered here today prepared to inaugurate tomorrow a conference which may write a closing chapter to much of the post-war financing negotiations.

The conference is that which signing of the Young reparations agreement on June 7 at Paris made necessary. That four months' long conference evolved a plan for liquidation of Germany's bill for the World War, but left a future conference—that which begins here tomorrow—on its application.

The problems in application involve political considerations the Young committee of financial experts considered it had neither mandate to meet nor could attempt to meet without endangering the work for which it did have a mandate.

Uppermost among the problems likely to come before the conferees is evacuation of the Rhineland. Germany at last is in a position to demand a modification of the military control which the allied countries imposed in the years after the armistice. France proposes to substitute a kind of "invisible control" which is nearly as hateful to Berlin as actual occupation. The question may be fought out here and brought to tentative settlement here within the next two weeks.

Three Firemen in Kansas City Killed by Falling Walls

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5. (AP)—Three firemen were killed and 10 persons injured here today by falling walls of a burning drug store in a residential district.

The dead firemen were Frank Loncar, Roy Rutherford, and John Moore. Capt. Emmett Fitzgerald, at the nozzle of the hose, was dragged to safety by his comrades after he was caught and imprisoned by falling timbers.

Those injured, none believed seriously, were firemen and persons watching the blaze at Sixty-ninth street and Prospect avenue.

Records of Ranch Given Society by Orwin A. Lambert

CANYON, Aug. 5. (Special)—Orwin A. Lambert of Spur, Texas, manager of the Pitch Fork land and Cattle company's ranch in Kent and Dickens counties, has deposited with the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, a number of interesting ranch records of a dreary.

These records are made up of the ledgers of the ranch during the middle and late eighties, when the late D. B. Gardner, one of the charter members of the Texas Cattle Raisers association was president of the company and getting the work of the ranch well under way. Among these records are four maps, giving in pictorial form the early history of the ranch lands. The Pitchfork ranch, one of the oldest companies operating in West Texas, was started in 1883 and now owns approximately 130,000 acres of land in King and Dickens counties.

"I wonder where you could buy some real old-fashioned watermelon preserves. The stores do not keep them, and I don't understand how one's expected to get along without 'em."—J. E. Hartley.

City Manager F. M. Gwin, upon being asked by a hesitating young woman if he thought she could get by without being arrested if she wore tailored pajamas to the office and on the streets of Pampa; "Well, now I don't know. Of course, if you could convince the officers that you were on your way to the beach, even though it is about 800 miles away, why perhaps you could get by on the technicality. But I couldn't guarantee anything."
