Lightning Damages Power Line During Rain - Repairs Necessary

SERVICE HERE INTERRUPTED IN NOON HOUR

Three Poles Splintered Near Panhandle at Midnight

"HOT" WIRE IS VERY DANGEROUS

Rainfall Continues in Southwestern Areas

Heavy lightning which accompanied last night's rain damaged the Southwestern Public Services Pampa-Amarillo high line near midnight to the extent that interruption of service for 35 minutes to permit repairs was necessary during the noon hour today.

Three poles near Panhandle were smashed into match wood, but the lines miraculously did not part. One was hanging by a single strand from midnight until noon today, when the power was cut off and the line rebuilt. Workmen out of Panhandle were at the site of the damage soon after the lightning struck, but because of the rain they could not work on the high powered line. They stood guard, since one of the strands was hanging within 6 feet of the ground and another was throwing an arc into the ground through part of a splintered pole.

The poles were replaced this morning, but they had to be dragged through mud and it was said by W. H. Curry, local manager, that to work on a wet pole near such high voltage was too great a risk. The local emergency plant was operated to supply oil field plants. The water department was able to cease pumping, having a surplus on hand, and its direct connection with the Pampa generator was not used.

Rainfall last night was about .60 of an inch here and considerably heavier to the west and north. Within the last week the precipitation has amounted to 2.82 inches, with rainfall of from one-tenth of an inch to slightly more than an inch at a time.

Roads were drying rapidly today, but were so full of holes that little progress could be made. Buses were going through, but were behind schedule. The sky continued cloudy, and probable showers were forecast by weather observers.

Lions of District to Meet in Dalhart

DALHART, Aug. 12.—(Special)—A meeting of all Lions in Group 10, which includes nineteen clubs in the Texas Panhandle, has been called to meet here August 19, according to A. T. Holcomb, recently appointed deputy governor.

A full day's program has been planned for the visitors, and more than 100 Lions are expected. A golf tournament will be held in the morning, followed by a model luncheon at noon and a business meeting in the afternoon. Clarendon will probably bring the model program. Officers for the coming year will be elected at the close of the business meeting.

The session will be followed by another in October. Group 10 of the Lions club has been noted for its brisk district activities. Uniform projects for the various clubs will be stressed.

This district is composed of Lions clubs in the following cities: Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Wheeler, Wellington, Hereford, Stratford, Spearman, Perryton, Higgins, Pollett, Canadian, Miami, Claude, Shamrock, Stinnett, White Deer, and Dalhart.

O. E. Fitzgerald left yesterday to spend his vacation at the home of his parents in McCurtain, Okla.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, probable showers in extreme west portion tonight and Tuesday.

FOUR DEATHS OF LOCAL PEOPLE REPORTED

News of the deaths of four local people was received here during the week-end. Two deaths were of adults and the other two of infants.

The sudden passing of Mrs. H. A. Giffiland Saturday morning in Logan, Utah, came as a shock to this community. Death followed an operation performed earlier in the week. She had been a resident of this city for many years.

The body will arrive here tomorrow, word received by friends this morning said. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. James Todd, Jr., pastor of the First Christian church will conduct the services. It is not known yet where the services will be held.

Yesterday morning Paul Wayne Jones, 2 years old, died in an Amarillo hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Jones of this city. The body was brought to Pampa and is at rest in the Malone funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Charles Thomas Sims, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Sims, died in a local hospital yesterday morning following an illness of a week. The body was taken overland to Farmersville yesterday for burial there today.

A man named Standifer, employe of the Cockrell-McIlroy Oil company on work near McLean died in a local hospital yesterday. He was brought to the hospital last week in a coma and never fully regained consciousness. The body is at the Malone undertaking parlors waiting the arrival of company officials. It is believed he has a sister living in Southeastern Oklahoma.

Local Boy Hit by Lightning But Not Badly Hurt

Claude Robinson, local boy, was rendered unconscious for three hours yesterday afternoon when struck by lightning. He was at work on the Shell-Dodson oil test near LeFors when lightning struck the derrick and after running down the rig injured Robinson.

With the exception of rendering the power plant useless no damage was done to the derrick. Robinson was given first aid and after a few hours regained consciousness. He was brought to Pampa for treatment. He is able to be out this morning, but his right arm is badly swollen and paralyzed. Physicians said this morning that no permanent injury would result.

The heavy thunder was accompanied by a driving rain which flooded that section of the county. The alleged "navigable stream" was a raging torrent for several hours and motorists had to wait for the water to go down before crossing the usually dry river.

Series of Tremors Felt in 5 States

By The Associated Press
A series of earth tremors, varying considerably in intensity and length of duration, rocked portions of five eastern states and one Canadian province today.

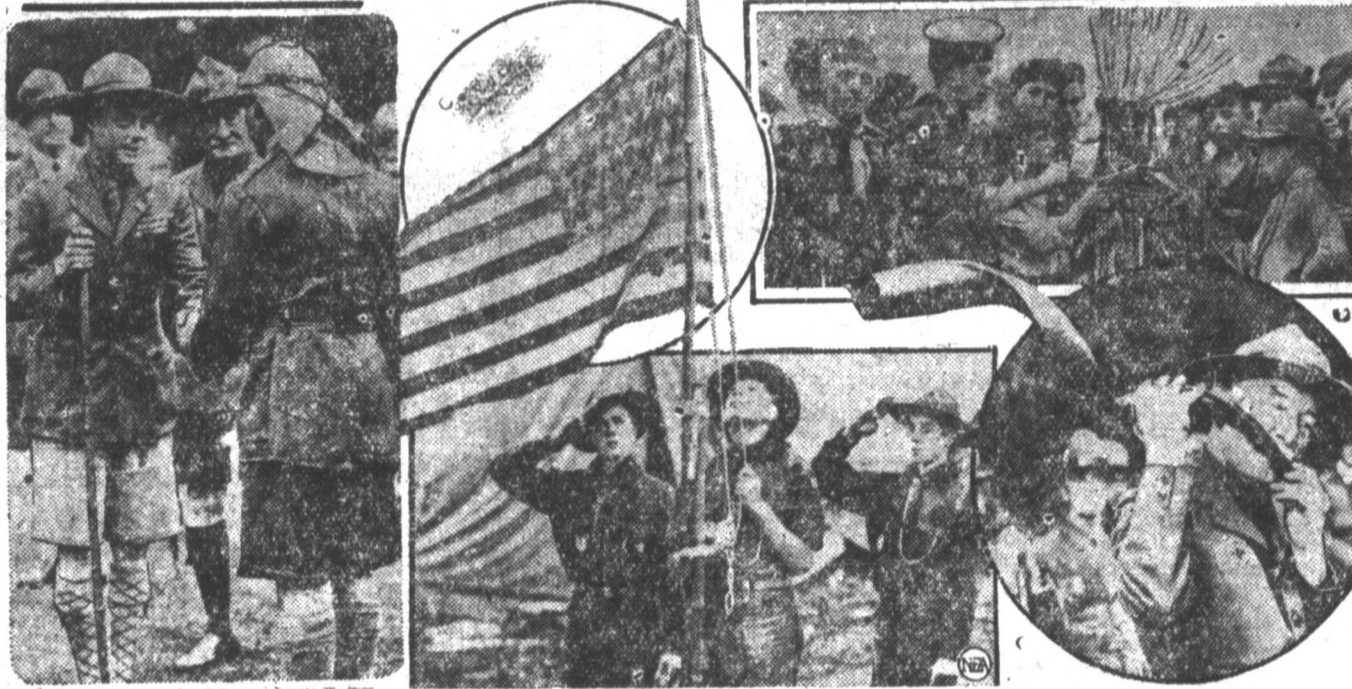

Quakes were reported at intervals from as far east as Springfield, Mass., west to Ashtabula, Ohio, south to various points in Pennsylvania, and north to Toronto.

In most cases the effects of the shocks were confined to the awakening of sleepers and the violent rattling of windows and dishes, but in Western New York, where the tremor appeared to have reached its maximum intensity, considerable damage was done.

Seismographic readings at Canisius college, Buffalo, fixed the time of the principal shock at 24 minutes, 55 seconds after 7 a. m. eastern daylight saving time, the main tremor lasting 12 seconds and being followed by minor shocks at intervals throughout the next six minutes.

Reports of shocks from other points, however, fixed the time as early as 3 a. m.

As Boy Scouts of World Gathered for Jamboree

The newest knot those Boy Scouts have learned to tie is a bond of international friendship! For lads from every land gathered at Birkenhead, England, to celebrate the 21st anniversary of the Scout movement, and scenes from the world jamboree are pictured above. . . . The Prince of Wales proved himself a good Scout, even to dressing like one, at the left you see him welcoming a Scoutmaster from faraway Palestine. . . . New York Boy Scouts stood proudly at attention as the Stars and Stripes were raised aloft in Arrowe Park during the first day's ceremonies. . . . Cuh-Pee-Loh, son of an Indian chief and a patrol leader from British Columbia, was kept busy writing out his strange name for fellow Scouts who demanded his autograph. . . . It was the Kudu Horn, blown by Sir Robert Baden-Powell (lower right), Chief Scout and founder of the organization, which opened the big celebration.

DRILLING CREWS ARE HI-JACKED

Victim Catches One Robber—Loot Is Recovered

After a wild chase thru mud and rain at 3 o'clock this morning, Ralph Ogden, driller, and some companions ran down a thief believed to have robbed three derrick houses. One man got away in a car which had been left parked near the scene of activity.

Under the robbery plan, according to Ogden, the dynamo on a well would be put out of commission and while drillers were repairing it the thieves would enter the derricks and steal valuables from clothing. Two wells were hi-jacked that way early this morning before drillers, becoming suspicious, went to a nearby well and lay in wait.

They had not long to wait until lights went out and a man entered the house where clothing was kept. Then the chase began. The man caught was turned over to Deputy John Cone at LeFors. According to Mr. Cone, several watches, other jewelry and some money was taken from the man. He was brought to Pampa this afternoon and lodged in the county jail while officers were searching for his companion.

The looting of clothing has been going on for a month.

The scene of last night's operations was on G. H. Saunders lease 2 miles east of LeFors, where a number of drilling wells are located. Earlier activities were in the South Pampa field.

Texas Company to Drill in 2 Wells

The Texas company is getting ready to drill in two tests. The company's No. 10 Bowers in the east half of section 89, block B-2, encountered the pay yesterday and this morning was spraying. A small amount of gas was topped with the oil wash pay and the well shut down.

The granite wash pay was topped at 2,900 feet. West of Pampa, the same company's No. 2 Archer in section 174, block 3, is flowing by heads at the rate of about 30 barrels a day. The well will be completed immediately company officials said this morning.

Several wells, especially in the LeFors area, have topped the pay but have not been drilled in because of pipelines being unable to handle the added production.

Camp McQuidy Is Laid Out Sunday by Scout Leaders

Camp McQuidy will be the home of Scouts of the Adobe Walls council from August 20 to 30, it was announced this morning by Scott Barcus, chairman of the camping committee, after members of the committee made a trip to the Oasis ranch north east of Canadian yesterday.

It is expected that 150 boys will make the trip to camp. One of the best swimming holes in the Panhandle is located a short distance from where the camp will be located, Mr. Barcus says. An abundance of pure drinking water is located less than 200 feet from the camp. There are plenty of large trees.

The camp site will be on the A. V. McQuidy ranch situated 32 miles northeast of Canadian. Mr. McQuidy is an enthusiastic supporter of the Boy Scout movement and will spend most of his time at the camp during its ten-day duration.

Members of the camp committee making the trip yesterday were Scott Barcus of Pampa, chairman; C. A. Clark, council executive of Panhandle; Cecil Cox of Borger, W. D. McElroy of White Deer; and H. D. Farmer, Jno. Caylor, and Harold Teague of Canadian.

Oil Wells Number 471 in Texas for July, Report Says

AUSTIN, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Four hundred and seventy one producing oil wells in Texas were recorded with the oil and gas division of the railroad commission during July, according to a compilation released today. There were 282 dry holes and 39 gas wells listed for the month. Eight hundred and ninety six permits to drill were issued. Of the producing wells 58 were in Wilbarger county, 46 in Wichita county, 41 in Archer county, 37 in Gray county, 29 in Caldwell county, 28 in Pecos county, 24 in Shackelford county, and 19 in Winkler county.

JUMPS TO HER DEATH

EL PASO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Pearl L. Rutter, 35, jumped or fell to her death from the fourteenth floor of the First National bank building today. Dr. H. P. Deady, who has offices on the thirteenth floor of the building, said he was to have operated on the woman tomorrow at a hospital.

Banking Planes at Low Altitude Cause of Crashes

GLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Search from the air for a cockpit vent cover blown from an airplane at the take-off ended fatally for the pilot-owner of the ship and two passengers here yesterday.

Lieut. O. L. Stephens, who was at the controls, and Thomas E. Scully, 32, and Philip Berry, 29, officials of the Clovis trans-continental airport, were the victims. Observers said Stephens attempted to bank steeply for a turn over a dry lake bed at an altitude of 100 feet when the plane went into a sideslip and fell.

The pilot's body was found lying on the motor. Scully and Berry, who were in the 4-passenger compartment of the ship were pinned in the cabin. Taking off, the cockpit vent cover was blown off the plane. Lieut. Stephens returned to the field, and after failure to find the piece afoot, started the search from the air.

Mr. Scully and Mr. Berry are well known in Pampa. They purchased the land for the T. A. T. landing field 4 miles north of the city and made several trips to Pampa during installation of equipment. While here they made their headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce.

Both were experienced fliers. ROLLING FORD, Miss., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Three men were killed in an airplane crash here yesterday when their plane nose-dived and fell about 150 feet as the pilot banked for a landing.

The dead are: Albert T. Firth, Jr., 20, of Hollybluff, Miss.; the pilot; Warren Barrier, 21, of Rolling Ford, and Joe Cox, 21, of Charleston, Miss.

Firth's father and a sister were at the field and witnessed the crash. He recently received a commercial pilot's license.

G. C. Malone is in Chicago on business. He left in company with Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Davis Saturday. Mrs. Willette Cole, society editor of the News, left yesterday for a week's vacation at her home in Clarendon.

Zeppelin Is Ordered "Cleared for Sailing"

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Ger., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, this afternoon ordered the dirigible "cleared for sailing" on the Tokyo stage of her flight around the world at 3 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. Tuesday E. S. T.).

He admitted the departure of the big air liner might be delayed by unfavorable weather until the same hour Thursday morning.

In any case the start will be made in the early morning hours as the low temperature then permits a maximum load of gas.

"Everything is in perfect order for the entire flight around the world so far as necessary permits, visas and other governmental requirements are concerned," Dr. Eckener declared. "The Soviet government has been most obliging in every respect."

The dirigible has been perfectly groomed for its long flight. An engineer from the Maybach company said the Graf's newly installed motors were good for 1,000 hours more flying.

Fine Jersey Cows Here to Be Sold

Some fine Jersey milk cows will be sold here tomorrow afternoon by S. M. Lawson of Fort Worth. The sale will be conducted at the John Henry farm a half a mile east of the city. Mr. Lawson is bringing fourteen head of Jersey cows and one Jersey bull to be sold here.

Mr. Lawson says everyone of the cows have been tested for tuberculosis and are guaranteed sound in every respect. He has been breeding Jerseys for the last 35 years. He has been in Pampa several times with cattle.

TRAIN STRIKES TRUCK LOADED WITH PEOPLE

Stopped Vehicle Seen Suddenly to Leap on Track

WORST TOLL IN TEXAS HISTORY

Sunshine Special Not Able to Prevent Disaster

DALLAS, Aug. 12.—(AP)—While joyously returning from a holiday in the city, 13 persons, members of two rural families, were killed by a fast passenger train at a grade crossing near here last night. A fourteenth, Mary Lee, was in a serious condition in a local hospital today.

A gravel truck bearing them home from Dallas was struck by the Sunshine Special, Texas and Pacific train, and smashed.

The dead: Mrs. Eva Badgett, 45, Era and Vera Badgett, twins, 22, Texas Badgett, 16, Emma Badgett, 19, Birdie Bargett, 9, Jessie Badgett, 7, Mary Joe Badgett, 3, E. F. McHenry, 53, Mrs. Annie McHenry, 43, Beulah McHenry, 14, Emma McHenry, 10, Billie McHenry, 4.

A coroner's inquest at Mesquite was set for today. For hours after the catastrophe, which took more lives than any other of its kind in Texas history, the torn bodies lay in a heap on the floor of an undertaker's establishment at Forney Tex., while officials sought remains of the victims in efforts at identification—a difficult task because the McHenry family was almost annihilated and relatives of the Badgetts could not be found for some time. None of the townsmen could name the individual members of the families.

What caused the machine to jump into the path of the locomotive was not ascertained immediately. Claude Chapman of Mesquite, said to have been an eye witness, declared the truck was halted as if to wait for the train and then dashed on.

G. W. Garrett, a farmer living nearby, said he saw the train splinter the truck, which belonged to Badgett, but could not tell who was driving or the reason for the collision. The crossing itself was rather high and on a side road just off the Mesquite-Forney highway.

Charles McHenry, and his two sisters, all married, are the survivors of that family. The sisters are Mrs. Viola Welsh of Seminole, Okla., and Mrs. Lillie May Clebhorn of Allan, Ark.

Besides Sherwood Bargett, five sons, the youngest 13, survive in the Badgett family.

The Texas and Pacific railway company today started detailed investigation of the accident, one of the worst grade crossings in the history of Texas.

Engineer J. T. Vawter, who was in charge of the train, declared he blew his whistle, and it looked as if the truck had stopped. Suddenly, he said, the vehicle seemed to leap upon the rails in front of his train.

He said the train was brought to a stop as quickly as possible without danger of bucking and causing some of the coaches to leave the track.

Passengers piled out of the train as soon as the cause for the sudden stop was learned, and several women fainted as they viewed the badly torn bodies along the right-of-way.

Part of one body was found lodged on the front of the locomotive where the pilot was knocked off by the impact with the truck. The vehicle itself was stripped of its body, fenders and other parts. A body was seared badly when the remainder of the machine caught fire.

Sheets were obtained from Pullman cars and the bodies were gathered from along the right-of-way. Those of the McHenry family were taken to Forney.

"It's Like This—"
 Well, we hope these people from the coast towns feel at home in their swamp country.

We imagine that many of those who are rejoicing because of the big sums the wheat put in the banks are joyous because much of it has been deposited to their credit.

The wheat farmer may have plenty of agricultural faults, but our impression of the cotton farmer is much lower in comparison.

As a matter of displaying form, modern styles have made the bathing pools somewhat unnecessary, but we don't suppose this will tend to defeat the parks and playgrounds section of the municipal bond issue.

Under a new law you cannot move livestock and fowls in motor vehicles without written permission from the owner thereof. The leg motion plan by the light of the moon is still on its former status, however.

There is no wrath like that of a woman scorned—nor a town either. When the Woolaroc passed up Canyon and came on to Pampa before flying back to Amarillo for the night, the Canyon News raised an awful uproar and got a page ad in apology. We feel as if Clyde Warwick ought to split that ad money with us for having coaxed Goebel on up here.

Stimson has Texas' goat, but we still have to look after our kids.

Perhaps there is some reason after all, for not rushing work on the courthouse—as long as it isn't finished it will look as if we are doing lots of building.

We have wonderful welding shops in this city—but the only way to weld a town is through public spirited work.

We didn't lose any million on paper when the stock market crashed, but if we had it would have been on paper, and not that of the green tint or golden hue either.

Our observation is that the scooters could learn several tricks for their trade if they could hear remarks made about them.

It is fine to brag on one's home town, but the worst form of municipal hypocrisy is to do that and then vote against public improvement projects.

Texas has grown quite a bit in the last two years, and in the next two will grow much more. Governor Moody evidently does not know that, however, for he insists upon cutting back appropriations even below those for the last biennium. He is like a father with a growing family who tries to cut down the per capita ration to make expenses static. Old Man Texas has a growing population and a potentially greater income. He must quit growing—which is impossible—or increase his revenues.

 Fortunately the common schools obtained an increased scholastic appropriation, which will be $17.50 for the next biennium. This investment in the grade schools will be of great value, especially in the poorer sections of the state. It should be possible to have rural terms of at least eight months. Rural schools should not be penalized just because they are rural.

Rural high school consolidation offers one way to take urban school facilities into the rural districts. Supervisor Smith rightly said here Saturday, however, that good roads must first be provided to permit regular attendance through regular bus service.

Brick is arriving at Canadian for a new city hall. Brick laying was expected to start today. Canadian voted bonds for an elegant building. Her property values are greatly smaller than Pampa's. This city can certainly afford to follow Canadian's example.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON—It looks as if the next Senate investigation might be an inquiry as to whether any of the power interests have been trying to monkey with the Federal Power Commission.

This commission is composed of the Secretaries of War, Interior and Agriculture. Its directing head is an executive secretary, F. E. Bonner, succeeding O. C. Merrill, just retired. It controls all power sites on navigable waters and on public lands and federal reservations, and has supervision over licensing, location, design, construction, maintenance and operation of power projects on these sites.

The commission is supposed to function in the interests of the people. In its annual reports, however, one finds such complaints as that owing to lack of money and personnel it has been unable to perform its duties "related primarily to the protection of the public interests." Attempts to enable the commission to carry out its protective functions as required by law were for awhile blocked in Congress, allegedly with the aid of members friendly to the power interests.

The Water Power Act provides for investigation, upon each application, of engineering features, best interests of the region, financial angles and other matters, but the sites have been handed out with little opportunity for such work as that, owing to a small staff and low appropriations. Lately, however, the accounting staff of the commission has been able to put on a burst of speed, trying to catch up with its protective work, and this activity appears to be worrying the power interests, who seem to have sought to head it off or nullify its effectiveness. Sites are licensed for 50 years, at the end of which time the government can recapture the plant or relicense it to a preferred applicant such as a municipality. The Act provides a system of public utility accounting and the government, upon recapture, is supposed to pay only the actual cost, minus the depreciation reserve. The higher the depreciation reserve the less the government will have to pay—and vice versa.

The commission accountants, under Chief Accountant William V. King, have been using the Interstate Commerce Commission's standards which consider depreciation as a definite operating expense, whereas electrical utilities involved consider depreciation allowance a matter for the board of directors to consider after making provision for bond interest and dividends. Other accepted standards used by King, with the commission's authority, have been equally annoying.

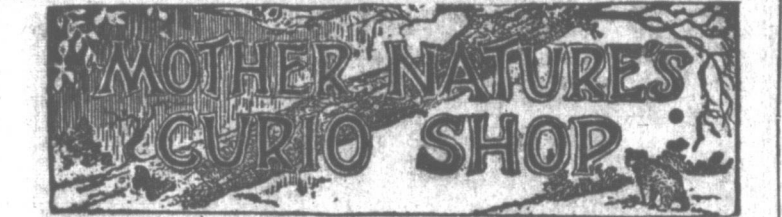

Recently word went around through the "grapevine route" that an attempt was being made to move King somewhere else. Whether this report was true or not, a remarkable document has found its way into print, tending to insure the safety of King's job, to reveal the attitude if not the activities of some of the power interests and, to make likely a Senate investigation.

Certain Washington correspondents have it from the best authority that this document, labeled "The Federal Water Power Act and Its Administration. A summary with suggestions. CONFIDENTIAL", was written to be passed around among power magnates. There is no apparent doubt as to its genuineness and it contains a number of juicy highlights. Such as:

"Despite our efforts to curtail the work of this (accounting) department, it appears to be expanding . . . some of the activities have very critical aspects for the industry as a whole." "We were not so fortunate in the appointment of the chief accountant, Mr. King." "It is especially unfortunate that the Federal Power Commission system of accounts was adopted at this time." "Consideration in open hearings . . . will call attention to the disparity between the two methods of accounting and without doubt will ultimately be reflected in our having to render statements of earnings reduced below our present showing with consequent dangerous effect on our stock values now so favorably quoted."

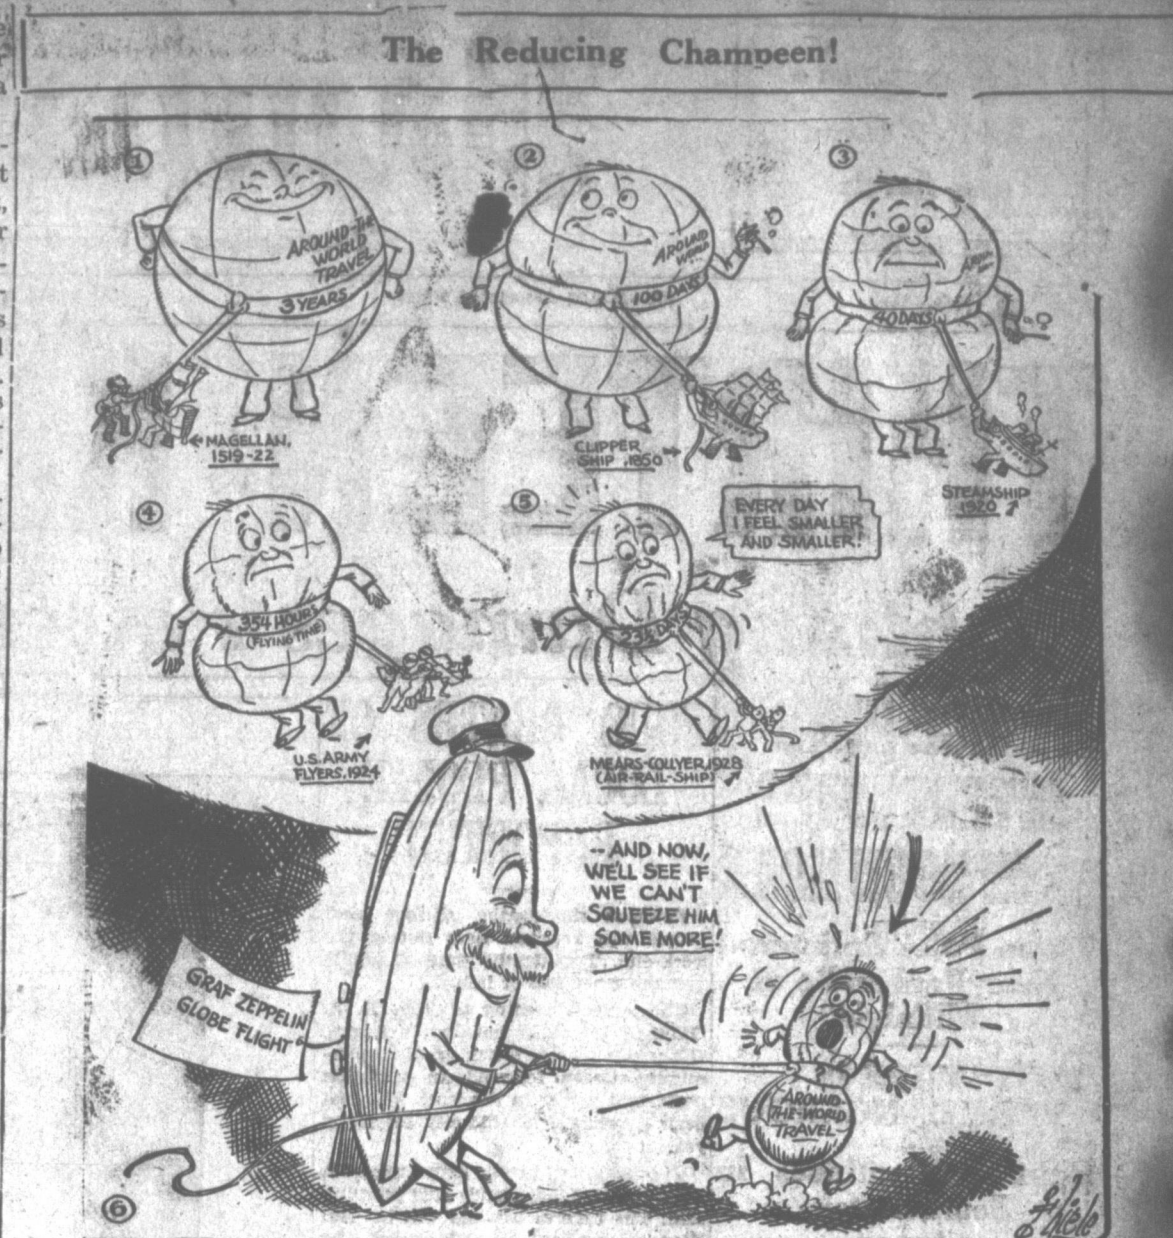

Another reason why we like the plains is that the mountains weep over us every time we vacation among them.

Woman Mayor's Rule Is Pride of Village

MONTGOMERY, La., Aug. 12. (P)—Montgomery, a city of 600 population boasts of its recent growth and its good government.

And the power behind that good government is the mayor, a middle-aged woman Methodist preacher, who serves for $7.50 monthly salary.

Elected mayor in 1926, Mrs. Lula Wardlaw was re-elected, although she was away when her term expired. During her administration the town completed a street paving program, established a waterworks system, and an electric light system. The town also boasts an ice plant.

The town owes nothing, taxes and licenses paying all expenses of government. In addition to her duties as mayor, Mrs. Wardlaw is pastor of a church near Montgomery, and runs a truck farm.

Being a minister, she has banished questionable street shows, gambling outfits, and similar evils.

No Sunday baseball games or movies are held at Montgomery.

WOMEN IN WASHINGTON

By SUE McNAMARA

Associated Press Feature Writer
WASHINGTON, (P)—Tragedy, drama and mystery are spread across the pages of letters daily pouring into the office of the quartermaster general from women anxious to make the pilgrimage to European cemeteries to visit the graves of sons and husbands killed in the World War.

Under act of congress, only mothers and widows of men in the military and naval forces of the United States who died in such service between April 3, 1917, and July 1, 1921, will be taken on the three trips arranged.

An Ohio woman who was foster mother to a boy whose parentage is unknown, wishes to go. His history is like a page from a Tolstoy novel. When a tiny baby, a peasant found him in a field in Russia. A farmer adopted him.

When he was 16, the boy came to America. Joining the army when he was 18, he went to France with the A. E. F. and was killed in action. He bore the name of the Russian farmer who adopted him and that name now appears on the simple white stone which the foster mother desires to visit.

As interpreted by the act of congress, any woman who stood in the place of a parent to a deceased soldier or sailor, for the year prior to the commencement of his services, is included in the term "mother."

A pathetic letter comes from an old couple in the south. They have been married 50 years and their only son was killed in the war.

"We are not used to being separated they write, and it has been the dream of our recent years to stand beside our son's grave together. We are saving every penny we can get so that father can go to Europe, too, even if it is on a different boat, when mother makes the pilgrimage."

The first pilgrimage probably will be next May. It is hoped to have some of the memorials which the government is building in cemeteries overseas completed by next Decoration Day.

TWO OF FIVE RECORDS FALL IN BALL LOOPS

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer

The reported cracking of the Athletic pitching staff seems to be gathering confirmation in the West, but the crash will have to assume a much louder tone before it becomes audible to the Yankees across a chasm of ten and one-half games. All leaders and their pursuers broke even over the week-end as the Cubs pitched up one and one-half games on the Pirates by winning twice while the Buccaneers were dropping the odd game in three.

The week-end in the American league was notable chiefly for Mose Grove's third failure within a week to spear that elusive eighteenth victory and for Babe Ruth's 499th and 500th home runs of his major league career. Ruth larruped his 499th on Saturday to put the finishing touch on a 4 to 2 Yankee victory, and pounded Willis Hudlin for his 500th in the second inning yesterday when the Indians eventually won by six to five.

Grove seemed headed for his eighteenth victory on Saturday after a wait since July 25, but finally had to give way to young Bill Shores just before Al Simmons' second home run of the day brought the A's a 6 to 5 victory, but Detroit won 9 to 8.

The Red Sox and the White Sox divided two games at Chicago over the week-end, the visitors winning on Saturday by 10 to 7 and the home team by 6 to 3 yesterday. Al Thomas permitted only five hits in the Sabbath game. One a homer by Jack Rothrock.

Washington cleaned up two games over the Browns, winning by 4 to 2 on Saturday and 7 to 5 yesterday.

The National league week-end was marked by the fall of the late Christy Mathewson's life-time winning record of 372 games. Grover Cleveland Alexander held the Phillies to two hits in the last four rounds of the eleven-inning second game on Saturday, and got credit for the 11 to 9 victory as the 373rd of his 19-year career. The champion Cards tied the game for Alex with one in the ninth and won with two more in the eleventh.

The Cubs won the hard-fought games in Boston, by 4 to 1 on Saturday and by 3 to 1 yesterday. The Pirates the while were dividing a Saturday bargain with the Robins at Ebbets field and absorbing a 5 to 3 tap on the chin yesterday.

Red Lucas trimmed the Giants by 7 to 2 on Saturday, but no-hit Carl Hubbell returned the compliment to the Red-Legs on the Sabbath. The score was 6 to 1.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS--By Laufer

THE Cincinnati Reds have had their share of grief and misery this summer, but no one man contributed more to their woes than did Fred Fitzsimmons, burly right-hander of the New York Giants.

When the Reds beat big Fred, Aug. 1, on four dinky hits, it was the first time in five starts against him this year that they escaped a white-washing. For 25 consecutive innings Fitzsimmons had turned them back scoreless, which no doubt sets a new endurance record for holding the Indian sign.

With any sort of luck, Fitzsimmons would have made it five straight wins if not five straight shutouts, but faulty support by his mates enabled the Redlegs to break the long-standing jinx.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, during his prime, held a similar evil eye over the Cincinnati club. Over a period of three years, the Reds beat Alex but three times in more than 20 games. It seemed all Big Pete had to do was throw his glove out into the pitcher's box and the Redlegs were licked.

Until very lately Walter Miller of the Cleveland Indians had a fancy Indian sign working against the New York Yankees. The American League champions would murder every other Cleveland hurler, but when Miller was on the rubber their war clubs were stilled. He kept the Yanks eating out of the crook of his slim left elbow until one day the Yanks overcame the complex. And with a mighty shower of base hits.

No Cousin to Reds

Several years ago, Virgil "Chief" Cheves of the Chicago Cubs could beat the strong New York Giants most every time he faced them. Even though he was "duck soup" to every other club in the league. He was the most ineffective pitcher on the Cubs' staff except when working against New York. They called him "Giant Killer" and it was this propensity that kept him in the big show as long as he was. But he finally lost his rabbit's foot and drifted to the minors.

But getting back to Fred Fitzsimmons. The Indian sign he employs against the Reds is by no means his only endorsement. Other teams have just as much trouble with him as do the boys from across the Rhine.

Since coming to the Giants from Indianapolis in 1925, he has never fallen below the 500 mark in the pitching percentages. His best season was last to date with 20 victories and nine defeats.

This year, with the collapse of Larry Benton, he has been the big noise in keeping the Giants as well up in the race as they are at present.

PAYNE HAVING GREATEST RUN OF HIS CAREER

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

The Spudders are Payneing seven other clubs to a whisper as they slowly but surely build up a lead with which to enter the closing month of the Texas League race. George Washington Payne, otherwise old rubber arm, is having the greatest season of his long and varied minor league career.

Yesterday, facing their arch enemies the Cats, and anxious to draw first blood in what promised to be five bitterly fought games between the two clubs this week, it was a foregone conclusion that Payne would draw the assignment for the Spudders. He held Pancho Snyder's hopefuls to five hits licked them by 5 to 2, and ran his total victories for the season to twenty.

By trimming the Cats at the outset of their series, which will be resumed two days hence, the Spuds not only increased their margin to three and a half games over the pack but correspondingly lowered the morale of the pursuing Panthers.

Another veteran moundster, Sarge George Connally of the Steers, shared hurling laurels with Payne for the day. The former White Sox star pitched in both games of a double victory over Shreveport, 6 to 4 and 4 to 0. After going out for a pinch batsman in the seventh inning of the first, he came back in the nightcap to limit the Sports to four safeties.

The double reverse nearly cost the Sports their hold on third place, as the Cubs were raking the demoralized Buffs for a pair of wins at Waco, 14 to 4 and 6 to 2. The Prattmen were only a half game out of third today. Papa Pratt, filling in at short, played bang up ball in both tilts, hitting five times in seven trips and handling eight chances without a bobble.

The downtrodden Indians caught it in the neck again, dropping both ends of their bargain bill with the Exporters 10 to 1 and 5 to 1. The Newnamites have lost 18 of their last 19 engagements.

California Out for Tennis Titles in Boys' Division

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 12--(P)--With five California stars ranking as favorites, one of the best fields in the history of the event today was to begin the struggle for national junior and boys' tennis championships, on the Culver Military Academy courts.

Headed by Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, the California contingent brought with it a brilliant record for the season. Gledhill who last year was runner-up to Frank Shields of New York for the junior title, already has already won the western singles title, and with Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, won the U. S. inter-sectional team championship from Julius Seligson and Eugene McCauliff of New York.

The East has Richard Hebard, White Plains, N. Y., national boy's champion, and Arthur Noble of Newton Center, Mass., New England and Canadian junior singles titleholder, as its best bets. Another strong contender is Karl Kamrath of Austin, winner of the western junior singles title last week.

BETTY NUTHALL MAY ACHIEVE THE IMPOSSIBLE

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (P)--Helen Wills, herself for six years the "glorious" of women's tennis, now at 23 faces the challenge of a more youthful rival for the first time since she became queen of the courts.

Two years ago at Forest Hills, Betty Nuthall, then 15, revealed a flash of youthful ability in the final of the American championships against Miss Wills. Afterward the champion predicted a "bright future" for her English opponent. Next week the American girl will defend her national championship with Miss Nuthall the outstanding contender as a result of the unexpectedly close match they waged in the deciding Wightman cup contest Saturday on the west side tennis club's classic turf.

The extent to which Miss Wills, after three straight years of invincibility, was pushed to beat back 18-year-old Betty by scores of 8-6, 8-6, has altered the prospect of the championship singles tournament.

Miss Nuthall came so near to closing the gap that has for so long separated the game of the American with that of any rival that, given another opportunity, her impetuous rush may achieve the seemingly impossible--victory.

In the aftermath of the Wills-Nuthall match the debate concerns whether Helen has slipped a bit, her game perhaps a trifle stale after her campaign abroad this year, or whether Betty has so far improved as to lift her game as close to the champion's level as the scores indicated.

The probability is that both circumstances are true.

Carey Is Blamed in Boxing Dispute

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12. (P)--Joe Jacobs, American manager for Max Schmeling, German heavyweight boxer, has blamed William F. Carey, manager of Madison Square Garden in New York for Schmeling's status, or rather lack of status, in New York boxing circles.

After charging Carey had "double crossed" Schmeling, Jacobs declared he and Schmeling were not worrying but were angling for a match with Jack Dempsey, which in Jacobs' opinion "will draw the biggest gate in the history of boxing."

He said Carey had denied to him over the phone in Seattle last week he had announced he was going to cease negotiations for a Schmeling-Sharkey bout and planned to surrender his interests to Detroit, Mich., promoters.

Jacobs said he had informed Carey that if Carey did not run the Detroit match himself, Schmeling would not go through with the match.

"That is the main reason the bout fell through," Jacobs said. "We did not double cross Carey, he double crossed us."

Amarillo Batters Crash Out Many Hits to Defeat Magnolia's Team

The mighty bats of Bassett, Nicklaus, Vaught, and Boyles proved too much for the Magnolia nine from Pampa, and the Tactless Texans romped away with yesterday's encounter at Metro Park, 12 to 4. The stocky Bassett hit safely on his five trips to the plate and scored four of his team's runs. Teddy Nicholas banged out three hits for his team.

Although the Magnolia boys were out but 14 to 10, the Texans connected when runs were needed. Cahill, Magness, and Dickey were the heavy hitters on the Pampa nine. It remained to the high jumping Odus Mitchell to pull the prize fielding sensation of the day. Mitchell went high into the air to knock down Boyles' line drive and beat him to first to keep his team from being scored against.

Cahill, playing left field, had a busy day. He had four putouts to his credit, two of them made after hard runs. Waller caught a nice game. Fitzgerald started in the box for the Magnolia boys but was hit rather freely and gave way to Dickey in the fourth inning. Dickey was also hit freely.

Mitchell landed a two bagger and Big Boy Waller crashed out his usual triple. He has hit for three bases on four occasions this season. They were the only extra base hits by the oil men. Christian and Mitchell pulled off the only double play of the day. Ballew played snappy ball at the shortstop position, handling three chances without an error.

Score by innings.
Pampa ---- 200 110 000-- 4 10 3
Tacks ----- 302 023 02x--12 14 2
Batteries: Pampa, Fitzgerald, Dickey and Waller. Tacks, Middleton and Boyles.

SOX BUY PLAYERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 12--(P)--The White Sox today announced the purchases of two minor league pitchers and an outfielder, who will report for duty next spring. They were Victor Frasier, star righthander of the Dallas club of the Texas league; Pat Caraway, Topeka southpaw, and Jimmy Moore, Dallas outfielder and leading batsman of the Texas league.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
A tragedy has befallen MOLLY BURNHAM and JACK WELLS, who love each other devotedly and quietly beyond all reason. Jack has bought his sweetheart's engagement ring, and because Molly seems hesitant about wearing it to work the next morning, he imagines that she is ashamed of the size of the tiny diamond. Humiliated and heavy-hearted, he drops the little shining stone into the lake, where they are rowing.

Next morning Jack is going to New York to work in the home office of a large architectural firm. And Molly is to report for the first time to a newspaper office, where the city editor has promised her a report.

Molly has recently inherited $10,000, of which Jack refuses to borrow a penny. They will be married as soon as he has enough money of his own. Molly goes with him to his room to help him pack, and then goes to the Y. W. C. A. where she has taken a room. A few days later her father sends her a check, and she determines to find new and more luxurious quarters.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VIII

"I think it's outrageous!" stormed Molly. "He hasn't any right to buy things he can't pay for." "But he doesn't pay for them," protested Rita gently.

MOLLY found an attractive apartment on Peterboro street, overlooking from an artist, who had done amazing things with packing boxes and a paint brush. There was scarcely a piece of real furniture in the place. But the walls were hung with gay, moth-eaten damask, and there were great gay cushions instead of chairs.

Molly's bed was a feather mattress on a box spring, with a piece of red velvet thrown over it. And instead of tables there were Oriental tea trays that stood a mere six inches from the floor. There were hardly two pieces of china that matched. Peasant crockery from southern Europe, amusing and colorful. A samovar from Russia, and tall brass candle sticks.

Molly bought her own kitchen things in butcher-pow yellow enamel, and made a gingham curtain of bright blue checks for the kitchen window. She painted the woodwork ivory. And bribed the janitor to put down a piece of linoleum.

It was all quite charming. But Molly began to feel like a widow. She wanted Jack fearfully.

Bob and Rita lived down the street a block, and Molly had loaned them most of the furnishings from her room at college. Bob was doing a little legal work, but not earning nearly so much as Rita, who had a part-time social job, and a gymnasium class four afternoons a week at Miss Mayhew's School for Girls. As if that weren't enough, Rita gave swimming lessons on Wednesday and Saturday nights at the Y. W. C. A.

"Bob is so dissatisfied," she told Molly, "because I happen to be earning more money than he is. He seems to consider it a personal affront. He acts as if I'd crucified his pride."

Molly noticed that Bob was extravagant, where Rita was thrifty and frugal.

ONCE he picked up a small Oriental rug, with a dash of dusty scarlet that took his eye. And again a bit of Chinese damask of an indescribably lovely blue. Sometimes he bought woodcuts.

"I think it's outrageous!" stormed Molly. "He hasn't any right to buy things he can't pay for."

"But he does pay for them," protested Rita gently.

"Yes. And lets you pay the rent, and buy the groceries," declared Molly indignantly.

"Why not?" retorted Rita. "I'm perfectly willing to. Besides, I'm glad he loves beautiful things."

Rita had grown very thin, and her red lips were like a bleeding gash in her white face. They made Molly think of blood in the snow. She tried to write a verse about them called "Rita's Mouth," but it sounded, she was afraid, like an autopsy.

Molly was getting along famously. She had had two raises, and was earning $30 a week.

Sometimes she saw Ruth Woods, who had lost her baby in July. Ruth was as pale and thin as Rita, and usually looked as though she had been crying.

There were times when Molly wondered if she wanted to be married after all. Consider her two best friends. Rita might fool most people, with her hysterical gaiety and her strident laughter. But Molly knew.

"The trouble, Molly decided, was Rita and Ruth both loved their husbands more than their husbands loved them. It was ever so much more comfortable for a woman when the man loved her most."

MOLLY was doing an occasional theatrical interview now. Once she met a celebrated French actress who was married to an American producer. The actress told Molly that her husband sent her a telegram every morning, wrote every day, and telephoned every night.

She was a very happy woman. And, from continued observation, Molly concluded that there was a sort of aura about greatly beloved women. An ineffable radiance that distinguished them from their less fortunate sisters.

On the other hand, there was something pitiable, she thought, about those unfortunate wives who give infinitely more than they receive.

Before long Molly was keeping a notebook, and penciling her observations of love and life. She had some rather hazy notion of writing a book. Something about a Woman's Soul. She thought of Love as a flaming Passion that suffused, humored lives. And she envisaged women as creatures made for either pain or love.

Unrequited affection was the curse, she decided, of the unloved sisterhood. And the blessedness of being beloved was, of all things, the sweetest and most satisfying.

The Inquiring Reporter column had not lasted very long, and for that Molly was devoutly thankful.

The first person she approached was a portly gentleman, who happened to be very deaf. Curious passersby stopped to listen, and presently Molly and the deaf gentleman were the center of an amused group.

After that Molly tried a young girl, who declared her mother would have a fit if she posed for the newspapers. Then a youth who apparently had never heard of the Inquiring Reporter. He seemed not particularly interested in aviators and their wives, but tried to make a date with Molly.

Finally, utterly discouraged, she called the photographer, who loitered across the street while she maneuvered for victims.

"I never felt so silly in my life," she lamented. "Someone's going to call a policeman, and have me sent to the psychopathic. They all think I'm crazy."

ter, I let you strut your stuff. Now I'll show you the ropes."

He halted a taxi, explaining as he helped her in, "Taxi don't go so hot on the old windshield sheet, but if we want to grab a factory crowd doing the noon hour, we haven't any time to lose. Get a gang together, that's the idea. Then they think it's a big lark. Here's a tip for you. Phone a bunch of places, and get the foreman to line up some smooth-looking lumps for us, and a couple slick Johns. We can shoot the works in 15 minutes. Give you a chance to kill a little time on the job."

On the following Monday Molly was relieved of her Inquiring Reporter assignment, and given the joyous privilege of compiling a column of her own, "About Town" they called it, and it proved a popular feature.

And, before long, she was doing news stories. Stories with a human interest slant. A boxing match, from the woman's point of view. And then a wrestling match. She talked with ball players and their wives. And finally she interviewed theatrical stars.

It was great fun, sitting down front on a press ticket, and meeting the press agent in the lobby, between acts, to be taken to the star's dressing room. It was always the nicest dressing room, and it usually had a star painted on the door. Usually the glamorous lady had a maid, and sometimes she had a secretary. Her maid frequently helped her dress while she chatted to Molly.

Molly loved theatrical interviews. But the biggest thrill of her life came on the day she was assigned to cover a murder trial.

Carson County Is Staging Comeback in Oil Operations

With 22 locations staked, and Carson county in a surprising comeback in the past week, operations in the Texas Panhandle were continuing to increase by leaps and bounds at the end of the seven days just closed, says the Daily Oklahoman.

Carson county checked 10 of the week's first reports, nearly half of the total number. This county has been holding a cellar position during the past two and a half years, but several nice wells and a resumption of new work in that area is bringing it to the fore again.

Reynolds et al started the ball rolling when they staked location and had rig built for No. 2 Cooper, in SW E 1/4 NW section 5, block 9, I&GN survey. Gulf Production Co. No. 3 Cooper was a location 330 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east lines in SW section 9, block 3, I&GN survey and Delmar Oil Co. (I. T. I. O.) No. 5 Noel was a location in NE W 1/4 SE section 198, block 3, I&GN survey.

Skelly Oil was getting busy on the Schaffer ranch reserve again, having located No. 19 Schaffer 330 feet from the south and 990 feet from the west lines in NE section 198, block 3, I&GN survey. It was a cellar. No. 21 Schaffer was a location 1,540 feet from east and 340 feet from south lines of SE section 68, block 4, I&GN survey.

Empire Gas & Fuel made a trio of spots in Carson during the week. No. 2 Lane was a rig in CNE section 62 block 4, I&GN survey; No. 1 G. W. Deahl was a cellar in SWC section 3, block 5, B&B survey, and No. 1 Puqua was a location in SE NW section 17, block 3, AB&M survey.

In SE NE section 111, block 4, I&GN survey, Ryan Consolidated Petroleum Corp., had a cellar dug for No. 5, and Champlin Refining Co. No. 4 McConnell was a rig 990 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 67, block 4, I&GN survey.

Gray county listed a half dozen new spots and a reinstatement during the week. Magnolia No. 1 Bowers, SWC NW section 63, block B-2, which was completed in April, 1928, pumping 125 barrels at a total depth of 3,040 feet, was started ahead again and was drilling below 3,085 feet.

Texas Co. No. 5 Coombs-Worley was ready to spud in S 1/2 SE section 36, block 3, I&GN survey, and Panhandle Refining Co. No. 3, Saunders was a location in SW E 1/4 section 3, block 1, ACH&B survey. Guernsey Oil Co., No. 1 Pope, SE W 1/4 SW-section 173, block 3, I&GN survey, was rigging up.

Danciger Oil & Refining staked a pair. They had rig built for No. 4 block, NE section 28, block B-2, H&GN survey, and rig was being built for No. 5 Beck, NW SW section 28, block B-2, H&GN survey.

In Hutchinson county, Alamosa Oil Co. No. 4 Sanford, SE S 1/2 SE section 85, block 46, H&TC survey, was drilling near 900 feet. Pennowa Oil No. 3, Smith, SWC NE NW section 7, block Y, M&C survey, had spudded and Skelly Oil No. 1, Lee Bivins was a rig 306 feet from east and 1,242 feet from south lines of south 160 acres of north 320 acres of section 84, block 46, H&TC survey.

Wheeler county showed two starters when Osage Development Co. spudded No. 1 Purcell, CSE NE section 51, block 17, H&GN survey, and Upham Gas Co. had rig built for No. 1 Ladd, CNE section 97, block 24, H&GN survey.

"Preach" Fuller to Join Buffalos

CANYON, Aug. 12 (Special)—Football, basketball, and track stock went up several points at the West Texas State Teachers college this week, when it was announced that Guy (Preacher) Fuller would be back in school this year. "Preach" was one of West Texas' best tackles and was a regular center on the 1927 championship basketball team. He also was one of the best pole vaulters the Buffalo track team had. He has been out of school for two years, but when he was in Canyon a few days ago, he looked to be in perfect condition and ready for action. He weighs about 185 lbs., and stands about 6 feet, 3 inches in height.

while the Badgett family victims were removed to Mesquite.

Funeral arrangements for the victims were being completed today. The bodies of the McHenry's will be taken to their old home in Paul's Valley, while members of the Badgett family will be buried at Long Creek, near Mesquite.

The worst grade crossing accident before yesterday's in late years in Texas occurred near Roundrock in which 11 members of a Baylor university basketball team were killed.

Three Killed in Dairy Explosions

HOUSTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—A dairy plant ammonia explosion here yesterday killed three men and the forces that set off the blast still were unknown today, pending official investigation.

Several rescue workers, digging frantically in the debris, were sickened by the fumes, but none was believed to have suffered permanent injury.

Chester Hilton, 30, an engineer, and L. A. Robinson, 35, electrician, were blown almost to bits, but Robert E. Williams, 25, cold storage room workman, died even more horribly. His body found wedged in a door leading from the compartment where he had been at work. Presumably he nearly saved his life only to be cut off by falling tools which partly blocked the aperture.

The blast smashed the ice storage room of the Phenix dairy and the adjoining chamber where Williams lost his life. It occurred while Hilton and Robinson were washing a shell brine cooler in preparation for repairing an ammonia leak in one of the tubs.

Hilton's body was recovered from a pit filled with water thrown in the room to clear it of ammonia. The explosion flung Robinson thru a metal lathe and cork insulated wall.

ORDERS ICE BY PLANE
DALHART, Aug. 12 (AP)—The west is air-minded.

Mrs. Ted Houghton, wife of the foreman of a large ranch in the Panhandle, complained Sunday because she needed ice to prepare a desert for dinner.

Jimmy Shelton, one of the owners of the ranch, stepped to a telephone and called an Amarillo aviator. In less than an hour a plane landed at the ranch with Mrs. Houghton's ice.

SWISS FLIERS FOUND

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 12 (AP)—Three Swiss aviators, missing for three days, were located here today working busily on their airplane, in which they shortly, possibly tomorrow, expect to take off on a flight to New York.

The aviators arrived here Saturday afternoon, landing their plane at Alverca aldoeme, and began secret preparation for a trans-Atlantic flight from Lisbon to New York.

Stallworth Case Opens in Canyon

CANYON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Selection of a jury to try Mrs. Levi P. Stallworth of Amarillo on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Grace Morrison of Plainview in Amarillo last May was begun here today.

The case was brought to Canyon on a change of venue after Mrs. Stallworth's first trial in Amarillo had resulted in a hung jury.

In her first trial, Mrs. Stallworth testified Mrs. Morrison had stolen the affections of her husband, an Amarillo railroad man.

Mrs. E. M. Stallworth of Fort Worth, mother-in-law of the defendant, also faces a charge of murder as an accomplice in the case. Her trial has been deferred pending disposition of the present case.

Two jurors were selected during the morning session of court. They were W. H. Carter, 55, farmer, and William Laxson, 55, dairyman.

Selection of a jury was begun after a defense motion for a continuance because of the absence of material witnesses had been overruled.

Alienists Not Called by Snook Defense

COURTROOM, Columbus, O., Aug. 12 (AP)—The defense rested late today in the murder trial of Dr. James H. Snook without calling to the witness stand the alienists upon whom they had indicated they would rely to prove the former Ohio State professor was insane when he killed his co-ed sweetheart, Theora Hix, last June.

The last defense witness was Walter Highcase, a small arm expert who testified the gun Miss Hix had the night she was killed recently had been tampered with but nevertheless could still be fired.

The State had previously introduced evidence that the gun was broken and would not fire.

THINK OFFICER KILLED

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 12 (AP)—A body, tentatively identified as that of Paul Edward Reynolds, of El Paso, agent of the United States department of justice, was found in a canal several miles north of here today. Police were rushed to the scene to investigate.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (AP)—Good rains in Argentina and Australia together with a sharp unexpected drop in Liverpool quotations led today to an early setback of wheat values here. Aggressive selling on the part of commission houses developed with the market showing but little power to rally.

Starting 5-8 to 2 5/8c off, Chicago wheat later underwent some further loss. Corn and oats likewise were weak, corn opening 3-8c to 1 1/8c down and subsequently declining still more. Provisions tended upward.
