"Blackie" Moore Alias Guy Greer Held By Police

ARRESTED IN CAR NEAR CITY

Preliminary Hearing Held In Borger Today

BORGER, Aug. 19.—(P)—Homer L. Brown, 22, was stabbed fatally here last night in a street altercation. His home was in Cedar Hill, Texas. A man was arrested in connection with his death.

BORGER, Aug. 19.—(P)—"Blackie" Moore alias Guy Greer was to be given a preliminary hearing today on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal stabbing here last night of Homer L. Brown, 22, of Cedar Hill. Greer was arrested in an automobile near here today.

Legion Rodeo Has Added Bronco Riding Feature For Girls

An added feature at the American Legion's second annual rodeo will be a girls' bronco riding contest. Qualifications will be practically the same as in the men's event. Three entries have been received and more are expected this week.

The three girls already entered are Miss Opal Elliott of Fort Worth, Miss Lucille Roberts of Tishomingo, Okla., and Miss Toots Jordan of Phoenix, Ariz.

Several cowboys are here practicing for the big event which will be held on the Legion baseball diamond in the Wilcox addition, Aug. 30 and 31 and Sept. 1. An effort is being made to continue the rodeo thru Labor day.

Among those prepared to enter the big event are "Oklahoma Crly", Al Cary, Tom Blansett and Jimmy Olson. Olson and Blansett are local boys and will be hard to beat. Word received by the rodeo management stated that at least 25 performers would arrive here during the next week. The rodeo has been well advertised and thousands of visitors are expected here for the four days of events.

The arena has been put in excellent condition. Chutes have been built and a grandstand to accommodate 3,200 persons erected. Cars will be allowed to park around the enclosure, the management said this morning.

Practically all the stock to be used has arrived and is being pastured north of the city.

School Tax Rate Still Unsettled

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—(P)—Another series of meetings this week will be necessary before the state rate tax for the year can be made known to tax collectors of the 282 counties. The tax collecting period opens October 1.

The automatic tax board after fixing ad valorem and Confederate pension levies Saturday failed to take action on the school allotment. The board of education will meet and fix the scholastic apportionment before the tax board decides on the school rate.

The ad valorem rate was fixed at 30 cents, an increase of eight cents over the last year's 22 cents and the pension levy was left at seven cents the constitutional limit.

SOME one phoned the Desplains street police station that "this yellow Dry is all wet," and detectives went over to Albert Dry's place. "In a dry," said Dry, "and this place is a dry place. Anyone who says differently is all wet. "Dry up," said the detective, dryly, "and come with us for a drive."

Thirteen Killed When Locomotive Hits Open Switch

HENRYETTA, Okla., Aug. 19.—(P)—The bodies of thirteen persons, scalded to death by steam from the exploded boiler of a locomotive, when a St. Louis-San Francisco passenger train was hurled down an embankment by an open switch, lay in a morgue here today while officials attempted to fix responsibility for the tragedy.

Two white men, the engineer and fireman, and eleven negroes, imprisoned in a chair car with the steam from the locomotive, were killed when the train plunged from its rails yesterday on the outskirts of Henryetta.

City and county officers and railroad detectives expressed belief the switch deliberately had been opened, after its lock had been broken.

Harry Webb, section worker, asserted he had locked the switch Saturday afternoon and that the lock had remained on it until some time yesterday morning. The lock was not found immediately after the wreck.

The train, running 50 miles an hour, rushed through the switch and catapulted down an embankment. The engineer, W. E. Wolfe of Sherman, Texas, was killed, apparently with his hand upon the throttle. H. A. Bryan, fireman, also of Sherman, was thrown clear of the cab and was scalded to death when the boiler of the locomotive burst. The steam from the boiler roared into a chair car, which had come to rest beside the locomotive, scalding 11 negro men, women and children to death.

Of the injured, Euel Renfro, baggage car employe of Tulsa, and Mrs. D. D. Taylor of Joplin, were in a dangerous condition. Little hope was held for Mrs. Taylor's recovery. Physicians expressed belief Renfro would survive burns similarly received from steam.

Troops Mobilized When 1,600 Strike At Cotton Mills

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 19.—(P)—Asheville national guardsmen were ordered mobilized today for duty at Marion, N. C., where 1,600 strikers at the Clinchfield Cotton mills refused to permit 400 non-union men to go to work. The troops were called out by N. A. Townsend, representative of Governor O. Max Gardner at the scene.

MARION, N. C., Aug. 19.—(P)—One man was badly beaten and several others sustained bruises, when 1,600 strikers at the Clinchfield cotton mills here today prevented four hundred non-union men from returning to work in the mill.

The disorders occurred at 5:15 a. m. when pickets are alleged to have attacked the advance guard of workers attempting to enter the mill.

Nat. A. Townsend executive counselor to Governor O. Max Gardner, who was sent to Marion Saturday by the Governor to watch the situation telephoned Major Eugene P. Coston of Asheville to mobilize the Asheville national guard force; and come at once.

Superintendent Henderson of the mill was badly beaten with black-jacks and clubs wielded by strikers and strike sympathizers on picket duty.

Albert Hoffman, organizing for the Union Textile Workers of America who has been counselling peace, attempted to prevent trouble, but he too was hooded down.

The strike at Marion has been on about six weeks.

Court To Decide If "Dry Is Wet"

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(P)—Whether dry is wet is a matter for court decision.

Some one phoned the Desplains street police station that "this yellow Dry is all wet," and detectives went over to Albert Dry's place. "In a dry," said Dry, "and this place is a dry place. Anyone who says differently is all wet. "Dry up," said the detective, dryly, "and come with us for a drive."

New Accusations Are Made Against Theatre Magnate

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—(P)—The district attorney's office today had 31 new accusations in the form of affidavits by young women against Alexander Pantages, 54-year-old theatre magnate, charged with criminally attacking Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer. The affidavits, one a 136 page deposition, were offered voluntarily. District Attorney Byron Pitts stated, by girls who formerly were ushers in Pantages' theatre here.

The principal deposition, which Pitts said named other young women as having received attentions similar to those assertedly forced upon Miss Pringle by Pantages, was made by a girl who stated the attempted attack upon her occurred about a year ago.

The young woman was quoted as stating that while employed by Pantages, she was summoned to his private office "for questioning." After asking her about her work, the theatre magnate made a point blank proposal which set her rage aflame.

The deposition continued that Pantages used insulting language to her and then attempted to employ force. She related she escaped, fleeing from the office and the building.

"I never went back there; I knew I wouldn't have a job," she declared.

It was indicated the district attorney would question other girls named in the deposition to check the statements.

Pantages, at liberty under $25,000 bond, was to be arraigned today for the setting of his trial date.

Mail Boxes Must Be Installed To Assure Delivery

With orders from the post office department that 85 per cent of the mail boxes on the city delivery routes must be installed by Sept. 16, Postmaster W. A. Crawford is urging residents who live on the routes to get their boxes at once. The postmaster will then have 14 days to secure carriers for the three routes. No definite plans for delivering mail to residents can be made until the boxes are installed, and it is positively necessary that the boxes be up before Sept. 16, Crawford said.

Mail will be delivered after Oct. 1 on the following streets: West street from Cook avenue to the railroad; road; Gray street from Cook to the road; Frost from Cook to the railroad; All of Grace street; Cuyler to Tuke street, which includes three blocks on the south side; Ballard, Gillespie, Houston, Yeager, Starkweather, from Sunset Drive to the railroad—only the south side of Sunset will be served.

East side of Carr street, north side of Browning avenue to Warren street; Wynne street from Browning to the railroad; West side of Warren from Browning to the railroad.

All the above streets run north and south. Streets running east and west that will be served are as follows: Foster avenue from alley of Purviance to Warren; Francis avenue from alley of Purviance to Warren; Browning from alley of Purviance to Warren; Buckler avenue from alley of Ward street east; Montagu from alley of Ward east; Texas from alley of Ward east; Finch from alley of Ward east; Cook avenue from West to Grace.

O. K. Gaylor assistant postmaster who outlined these routes, suggests that delivery patrons clip this article and keep it for future reference.

5 Persons Burned To Death In Fire Of Rooming House

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 19.—(P)—Five persons were burned to death and several others injured in a fire in a rooming house here today.

Explosion of a gas stove started the fire which trapped the victims in their rooms. The house was a frame constructed fourteen room affair, and the blaze spread rapidly thru it.

The dead are: Samuel J. Archer, 17; Hiram Evans, Martin Kapp, Frank Harty, an unidentified man.

GRAF ZEPPLIN MAKES SECOND STOP OF TOUR

102 Hours Required To Reach Tokyo From Germany

SHIP CARRYING SIXTY PERSONS

7,970 Miles Yet To Go To Complete Tour Of World

TOKYO, Aug. 19.—(P)—The Graf Zeppelin, giant liner of the air, landed at Kasumigaura airport, 40 miles north-east of Tokyo at 6:27 p. m. today 1.27 a. m. Pacific Standard Time, completing the most perilous trip of its globe circling journey, the flight of nearly 7,000 miles from Friedrichshafen, Germany, in approximately 102 hours.

The dirigible, fresh from a jaunt of 6,432 miles across eastern Europe, Siberian tundra and Asiatic mountain land, arrived over this city at 4:35 p. m. (2:35 A. E. S. T.) just one minute more than 100 hours from the time it left Friedrichshafen, Germany, Thursday 4:34 a. m. (10:34 p. m. Wednesday E. S. T.)

After appearing over Tokyo and Yokohama the Graf hastened back to Kasumigaura, naval air port, and at 6:27 p. m. in the cool of the setting sun, was grounded. It had been in the air 101 hours 53 minutes and had traveled approximately 6,500 miles.

The appearance over Tokyo marked unofficially at least, end of the second lap of the Zeppelin's round-the-world tour which began at Lakehurst, N. J., 10:40 P. M. E. S. T., Wednesday, Aug. 7, with the first lap completed Saturday Aug. 10 at 7:03 a. m. With landing at Friedrichshafen. The 4,200 miles was covered in 55 hours and 24 minutes.

A head of the Graf Zeppelin lay two more laps before completion of its world tour, from Tokyo to Los Angeles which as the Graf flies should be about 5,870 miles—and from Los Angeles to Lakehurst, about 2,500 miles, or 7,700 miles total.

The average speed of the Zeppelin from Friedrichshafen to Tokyo was just in excess of 64 miles an hour. This, when it is considered that but three of the dirigible's motors were kept running during most of the trip, was exceptionally good and about 15 miles per hour in excess of what Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Zeppelin's master, had estimated it would make.

Aboard the Zeppelin were sixty persons, 40 crew and officers and 20 passengers of whom Lady Grace Drummond Hay was the only woman. With the exception of a knick-knack or two, including a bust of Baron Ehrenfeld, there was no freight, other than 10,000 pieces of mail, the revenue from

Two Youthful Swiss Aviators Leave Portugal In Attempt To Cross Atlantic Westward

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 19.—(P)—Two youthful Swiss aviators, Oscar Zaeser and Zurt Luetcher, took off from Junca, near here, at 7:30 a. m. (1:30 A. M. E. S. T.) in an attempt to make a westward crossing of the Atlantic to New York.

They considered it doubtful they could reach the American metropolis without refueling and planned to strike first for Halifax, Nova Scotia, probably not attempting to land but returning stopping there for more petrol. It was their intention to fly by the Azores, to Portugal if their fuel consumption was too heavy.

The plane was a Farman monoplane of French construction, bearing on its fuselage near its 230-horsepower motor the name "Jungschweizerland," or "Young Switzerland." It was similar to that used by the Frenchmen Bally and Reginald which recently flew from Paris to Saigon, French Indo China.

The two aviators, with a third, Alfred Lecop, flew here last Saturday from Le Bourget, France, stopping twice en route. Previously they had flown to Le Bourget, France, from Zurich, Switzerland.

They landed at Alberca airdrome with so little ostentation it was several days before residents generally were acquainted either with their presence or their intention to begin here a trans-Atlantic flight. They conducted their preparations for their flight in secret. They carried a vacuum bottle filled with coffee, a quantity of milk, 15 sandwiches, some eggs and chocolate. They also had with them an apparatus to distill sea water.

The course laid out from Lisbon to Halifax, via Azores, was something in excess of 3,000 miles, of which about 950 miles represented the flight to Horta. It was their intention to land in the Azores if they found their fuel supply would be insufficient for the venture, but when the government informed them the landing field there was not in shape for them to come down, they announced they would return if that contingency arose.

VICTIM IN MINNEAPOLIS "HICKMAN CASE MURDER"

Twelve-year-old Dorothy Aune, left, victim in a savage murder at Minneapolis that closely resembles the brutal slaying of little Marion Parker by Edward Hickman in Los Angeles two years ago, is shown here with her chum, Margaret Stone. The girl's body, bound with wire and stuffed in gunnysacks, was found in a gutter a few hours after a strange man had tried to entice her into his auto.

One Killed and 62 Injured At Saint Lorenzen Uprising

VIENNA, Aug. 19.—(P)—One person was killed and 62 injured, 12 seriously, in fighting last night and today between members of the Socialist Schutzbund and the anti-Socialist Heimwehr at Saint Lorenzen.

The Heimwehr, armed with a machine gun and with snipers firing from the tower of the town hall, exacted the greatest toll, killing one socialist and injuring those twelve whose wounds were regarded as grave. Other casualties were divided between the two factions.

Th Socialists, participating in a party banquet, were taken by surprise, believing the Heimwehr members to be holding a demonstration at Thorerl. They claimed to have been unarmed and to have attended the feast unprepared for trouble.

The fighting was the result of the Socialists scheduling a speaker who was distasteful to Heimwehr members.

Eighteen Young Women Aviators In $25,000 Derby

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Aug. 19.—(P)—Eighteen young women aviators, contestants in the $25,000 women's air derby, took to the air again shortly after six a. m., today after a controversy which for a time had threatened to break up the race had been ironed out.

The Heimwehr, armed with a machine gun and with snipers firing from the tower of the town hall, exacted the greatest toll, killing one socialist and injuring those twelve whose wounds were regarded as grave. Other casualties were divided between the two factions.

Th Socialists, participating in a party banquet, were taken by surprise, believing the Heimwehr members to be holding a demonstration at Thorerl. They claimed to have been unarmed and to have attended the feast unprepared for trouble.

The fighting was the result of the Socialists scheduling a speaker who was distasteful to Heimwehr members.

It was announced the fliers, instead of making a control stop at Calexico, would be permitted by the Calexico race officials to fly sufficiently low over that airport to allow checkers to read their plane numbers. The contestants then may land at Yuma, Ariz., the change they had demanded or continue to Phoenix, the second night stop. Following a protest meeting last night the women fliers issued a statement refusing to go "farther than this point (San Bernardino) unless routed by or thru Yuma, Ariz., instead of Calexico, Calif." the statement added the cause of the strike ultimatum was that the Cleveland officials had failed to designate the route within 34 hours of the start of the race. Informally, they indicated objection was made to the limited size and nature of the Calexico air field, which they declared would prevent some of the planes from taking off again if they were landed.

After an auspicious start Sunday afternoon from Santa Monica, Calif., but one of the nineteen contestants, Mary von Mack, Detroit, Mich., sp. ts-woman, landed at this field, the first overnight stop, without mishap. Miss Mack came down at Montebello, a few miles east of Los Angeles, after being confused by other planes flying about her there.

Second mate Ugaldia said he was on the bridge with Captain Sanding at 8 a. m. when he saw the lights of a ship approaching and heard about blasts from the siren. Almost immediately the collision occurred, the Ogoni taking a big list and rapidly sinking. Captain G. VOTING PLACE IN CITY HALL OPENS AT 8 P. M.

Part Of Money Would Be Used To Erect City Hall

BRIGGS URGES A LARGE VOTE

Paving Will Continue If Issue Carries Tomorrow

Future improvements of Pampa will be at stake tomorrow when voters cast their ballots in the municipal $238,000 bond election. The voting place will open at 8 o'clock in the city hall. With the election only a day ahead, one fact is agreed upon by both opponents and supporters of the bond: the fire rate will be raised considerably probably doubled, if the issue fails to carry.

Construction projects which the voters will decide tomorrow include erection of a city hall, with city jail and necessary equipment, an auditorium with club room at an approximate cost of $100,000; a fire station and purchase of needed equipment, entailing an expenditure of about $33,000. Voters will also decide if the further construction and improvement of streets and alleys will continue. City officials plan to use $85,000 of the issue for this purpose. If the bond election is approved by the voters, $20,000 will be used to improve public parks and playgrounds.

While the general mass of people seem to favor the bond, says George Briggs of the B. C. D., he and other supporters of the bond, are urging citizens to go to the polls. "The people seem to be awake to the fact that Pampa has a vital need of these improvements now," Mr. Briggs said. "Everyone seems to feel that it is a step toward a greater Pampa. Bearing in mind the present assets of this city and community the people are beginning to realize that we must build a town that will meet the needs of our development."

All property tax-payers who paid the poll taxes are qualified to vote; also those having age or disability polltax exemptions and those who have been in the state a year and city, six months but who came here after Jan. 1, 1928, and because they are not assessed for taxes are not required to show a poll tax receipt.

Fifteen Lives Lost As Spanish Steamer Is Rammed By Tug

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(P)—Fifteen members of the crew of the Spanish steamer Ogoni were drowned yesterday when their boat was rammed and sunk by the British tug King's Cross in the North Sea, 30 miles off Humber. The King's Cross, badly damaged, picked up the remaining members of the crew.

The Ogoni was struck amidships and sank in six minutes, the crew of 26 having no time to launch its boats. The King's Cross after it went down picked up eight members of the crew who clung to a lifeboat and two others struggling in the water.

The drowned included the ship's captain and all officers with the exception of second mate Ugaldia. The survivors were landed by the King's Cross at Grimsby. The King's Cross bow was badly damaged.

Second mate Ugaldia said he was on the bridge with Captain Sanding at 8 a. m. when he saw the lights of a ship approaching and heard about blasts from the siren. Almost immediately the collision occurred, the Ogoni taking a big list and rapidly sinking. Captain G. Anderson of the King's Cross said his boat cruised for two hours after the last man was picked up without finding further sign of life.

"It's Like This—"

IF TUESDAY'S BOND ELECTION CARRIES IT WILL BE CARRIED BY THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED IN BUILDING PAMPA. There is no substitute for votes when it comes to making municipal decisions. Many are kicking themselves, figuratively speaking, for not having paid their poll tax. They can make amends by helping to get out those who can vote. Many citizens have come here since January 1, 1928, and they can vote without having paid a poll tax if they have been in the state a year and the city six months and have property such as lot, house, car, piano, diamonds, etc.—which are subject to taxation. In case of doubt, apply to the election judge and get his ruling.

There is always justifiable complaint if a big issue is decided upon by a few votes. Let's have a representative turn-out at the city hall polls next Tuesday.

The News favors the bond projects because it believes in the future of Pampa and recognizes that its optimism and strong claims for this city in the past would be placed in a poor position indeed were it to grow faint-hearted now. Pampa has claimed a railroad because it needs a north-south route and is big enough to provide profitable traffic for that road. The same spirit which dominated the railroad fight should characterize the coming election.

Pampans have long dreamed of a beautiful city hall located in the center of Albert square with grass, shrubs, and trees surrounding it. Inside would be the offices for the city departments. There would also be an auditorium where conventions, concerts, public addresses, mass meetings, band practices, and the like could be accommodated. Rest rooms for tired women visitors and a women's club division would grant the ladies the recognition their sex deserves in civic affairs. Somewhere on the lawn should be erected a neat bandstand, where seats and lights would be provided for open air concerts. Pampa will never be able to get the admiration of visitors, insofar as the business section is concerned, until the square is dedicated to the purpose for which it was given the city.

The fire station unit of the bond issue is much more vital than many people realize. In the first place, a substantial portion of the money would be used to purchase equipment. PAMPA HAS NOT DONE RIGHT BY HER FIRE DEPARTMENT IN THE PAST. She has offered no courtesies to the boys who protect her homes and businesses. Property she has not bought any new hose for nearly three years. That property has not suffered damage has been due to prompt work by the firemen and luck in not having large fires.

PRESENT EQUIPMENT IS NOT ADEQUATE TO EXTINGUISH FIRES IN LOCAL LUMBER YARDS AND OTHER LARGE INFLAMMABLE BUILDINGS. Only four nozzles could be used in many parts of the city, and never more than six at a time. This equipment could not handle an emergency, in which a dozen streams of water might be needed to halt a rapidly spreading fire in a hard wind.

When the 1930 census is taken next year, Pampa must provide much additional fire equipment or much more than the cost of this equipment in increased insurance premiums. Now is the time to provide rooms in the fire hall for the men who will soon be required by law to stay there at night. Moreover, the present location of the city hall appears the best site for the fire hall. To place the department in the center of Albert square would be to damage the appearance of the hall and square with large runways and doors, not to mention making the auditorium too small in proportion to office and jail space.

The paving speaks for itself. It has been petitioned for, and the city proposes to pay its share in 5 1/2 percent bonds in lieu of issuing 6 percent warrants and later refunding them into bonds through a refunding election. It is inconceivable that Pampa citizens shall deny paying from those who wish it just because a number already have this asset.

The $20,000 proposed for city parks and playgrounds is intended to provide grass and shade trees to serve present needs, leaving to the future the building of the park system which ultimately will be desired. Wise expenditure of this money should largely determine similar activity in the future.

Considering that Pampa is compelled to provide facilities for 10,000 people in four years instead of slowly building up a city over 30, 50, or 60 years, the local tax is extremely low, and still will be so if the bonds carry and the figure is placed at $1.70 or $1.74. Many are the rapidly growing cities of the Southwest with tax rates $2. After all, there is no better way to spend money than in building up one's home town and it is a peculiar thing that many who kick about taxes spend much greater amounts on useless luxuries and trival things.

THINK IT OVER AND VOTE WITH CLEAR THINKING. The result should take care of itself IF EVERY LOYAL PAMPAN VOTES.

TWINKLES
TWINKLES THAT DON'T TWINK

Old Twink is gone, and he failed to leave very definite information as to where we could locate him at any certain time. About all we know is that he started west.

Last year we received several false reports that he had turned over a new leaf—among them was whispered when he returned he failed to bring any evidence.

This year we still have hopes. If any young lady wires back for reference we can furnish them on a minute's notice. Of course we wouldn't dare to publish our recommendations. Old Twink will be back in about two weeks so we can't take the chances.

We know one thing for sure. He's never left town unless he first went to Canyon. He's always furnished the same excuse—that's my home town. The rest of us don't go home that often.

Twink has made quite a reputation around here as a photographer, so if he brings all the pictures back that he takes we'll have a good record of his vacation. But will he bring them back?

But everything is going to be alright if the bond election carries Tuesday. Old Twink might be a bachelor, but he likes to see Pampa going in the right direction.

If anyone has a cute little bungalow that they want to offer Old Twink we'll wire him and see what he has to say. You can never tell why a bachelor is a bachelor. Probably the law of elimination is the best method to approach this subject.

In the east the "hello" girls will be allowed to say "Yes sir" and "Yes ma'm" instead of the time-worn "Thank you." In that case, to avoid confusion, women will have to talk more womanly and men will have to cultivate those many guttural tones.

Radium coated hooks are used in deep sea fishing, but a Scotchman can see a bargain price in pitch darkness.

But while rodeo entrants can be given a set of printed rules, how are they going to convince the broncs of any idea of propriety—which in this case is utter disregard of the welfare of the punchers involved?

Another reason why we would like to see the bond election come out favorably is that we hate to think what a few Amarilloans will say if it doesn't.

There is always justifiable complaint if a big issue is decided upon by a few votes. Let's have a representative turn-out at the city hall polls next Tuesday.

OUT OUR WAY by Williams

There is always justifiable complaint if a big issue is decided upon by a few votes. Let's have a representative turn-out at the city hall polls next Tuesday.

The News favors the bond projects because it believes in the future of Pampa and recognizes that its optimism and strong claims for this city in the past would be placed in a poor position indeed were it to grow faint-hearted now. Pampa has claimed a railroad because it needs a north-south route and is big enough to provide profitable traffic for that road. The same spirit which dominated the railroad fight should characterize the coming election.

Pampans have long dreamed of a beautiful city hall located in the center of Albert square with grass, shrubs, and trees surrounding it. Inside would be the offices for the city departments. There would also be an auditorium where conventions, concerts, public addresses, mass meetings, band practices, and the like could be accommodated. Rest rooms for tired women visitors and a women's club division would grant the ladies the recognition their sex deserves in civic affairs. Somewhere on the lawn should be erected a neat bandstand, where seats and lights would be provided for open air concerts. Pampa will never be able to get the admiration of visitors, insofar as the business section is concerned, until the square is dedicated to the purpose for which it was given the city.

The fire station unit of the bond issue is much more vital than many people realize. In the first place, a substantial portion of the money would be used to purchase equipment. PAMPA HAS NOT DONE RIGHT BY HER FIRE DEPARTMENT IN THE PAST. She has offered no courtesies to the boys who protect her homes and businesses. Property she has not bought any new hose for nearly three years. That property has not suffered damage has been due to prompt work by the firemen and luck in not having large fires.

PRESENT EQUIPMENT IS NOT ADEQUATE TO EXTINGUISH FIRES IN LOCAL LUMBER YARDS AND OTHER LARGE INFLAMMABLE BUILDINGS. Only four nozzles could be used in many parts of the city, and never more than six at a time. This equipment could not handle an emergency, in which a dozen streams of water might be needed to halt a rapidly spreading fire in a hard wind.

When the 1930 census is taken next year, Pampa must provide much additional fire equipment or much more than the cost of this equipment in increased insurance premiums. Now is the time to provide rooms in the fire hall for the men who will soon be required by law to stay there at night. Moreover, the present location of the city hall appears the best site for the fire hall. To place the department in the center of Albert square would be to damage the appearance of the hall and square with large runways and doors, not to mention making the auditorium too small in proportion to office and jail space.

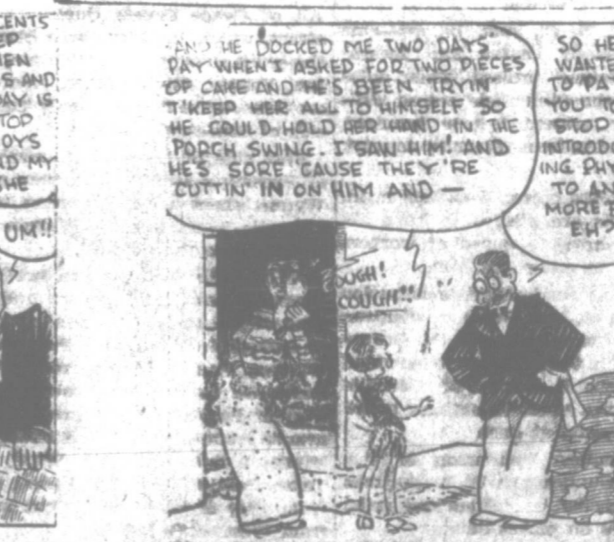

The paving speaks for itself. It has been petitioned for, and the city proposes to pay its share in 5 1/2 percent bonds in lieu of issuing 6 percent warrants and later refunding them into bonds through a refunding election. It is inconceivable that Pampa citizens shall deny paying from those who wish it just because a number already have this asset.

The $20,000 proposed for city parks and playgrounds is intended to provide grass and shade trees to serve present needs, leaving to the future the building of the park system which ultimately will be desired. Wise expenditure of this money should largely determine similar activity in the future.

Considering that Pampa is compelled to provide facilities for 10,000 people in four years instead of slowly building up a city over 30, 50, or 60 years, the local tax is extremely low, and still will be so if the bonds carry and the figure is placed at $1.70 or $1.74. Many are the rapidly growing cities of the Southwest with tax rates $2. After all, there is no better way to spend money than in building up one's home town and it is a peculiar thing that many who kick about taxes spend much greater amounts on useless luxuries and trival things.

THINK IT OVER AND VOTE WITH CLEAR THINKING. The result should take care of itself IF EVERY LOYAL PAMPAN VOTES.

Mexico hopes for a peaceful election—she held her revolution beforehand.

New York

By RICHARD MASCOCK
 NEW YORK—Before trans-Atlantic mail service becomes an old German custom this reporter for one hopes the ship news men get a better break. It's pretty soft for the regular "ship news" reporters, the gangplank boys who ride down the bay to meet incoming liners. They can corner the important passengers behind a stanchion something with little or no less work than an "off the hundred and more" and gentlemen of the press who get out to Lakehurst for the Graf Zeppelin's second arrival.

Message To Garcia
 The naval reservation is spread over the area and before the night was over the reporters were, too. Waiting for the big bag's appearance over the horizon wasn't so bad, except for one hawk-eyed correspondent posted atop the outside mechanism that slides the gangway's great doors. This bird's instructions were to watch for the lights of the dirigible and notify a courier inside the vast and gloomy building who in turn was to relay the press room with the information that the ship had been sighted. Light meanwhile descended brilliantly, seldom had the amateur sky-watcher seen so many stars. Finally two of them started moving toward him, and he realized they were the lights of the approaching ship.

By the time he scrambled down a 12-foot ladder and dashed around and into the hangar the Zep was almost overhead, and before he could shout to the courier, she's here, the drone of the motors already had become deafening. It was like the colossal column announcing in February that Hoover

Hot News
 So the fleet kid hurried out to interview the passengers. He found the ship moored at one end of the 2,500 acres. The passengers had been ferried across the field by bus to a building at the other end. Over the weed-grown terrain tore the panting pressman, stumbling over stubble in the blackness.

Minutes later he reached the voyagers, surrounded by other breathless scribers. Out came his pad of paper. And for what? The notes speak for themselves.

"Good trip," they read. "Weather very good, days warm, nights cool... wonderful, time went fast, always something to look at, saw whales... no sickness, but one man got tight, only out of 600 canaries died."

When he read the notes to the reporter man the latter spouted, "You said" he said. "Is that all you got?"

Canary Mystery
 But the reporter was ready with more details, especially about the lost canary mystery.

It seemed there were two rumors. One was that all but two of the 600 canaries in the cargo had succumbed to mal-de-mer. The other was that only two pairs were lost. For a while there was heated contention among the scribers who were divided into two parties, each vigorously defending its position.

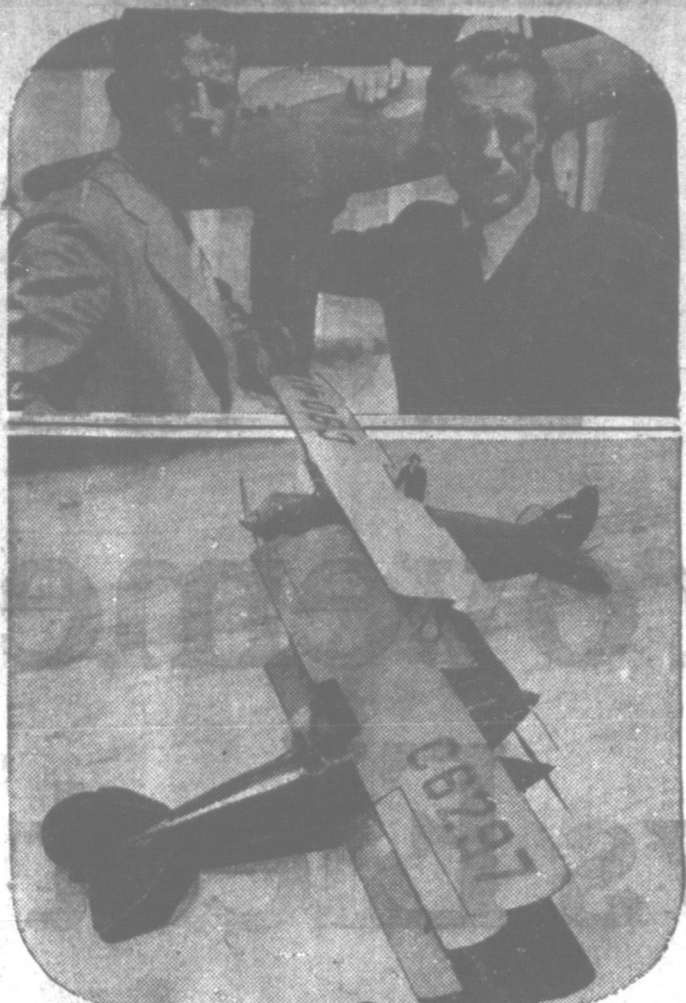

Eventually a check-up confirmed a smaller casualty list, and the interviewing of passengers was resumed.

FILM COMPANIES UNITE
 LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18—(AP)—The industry today said a merger of Warner Brothers motion picture corporation with Paramount-Famous-Lasky could be completed within the week.

Jack L. Warner, west coast head of the former organization as its authority.

Daily News' want-ads get results.

To Crash in Mid-Air for $5000

Hired for $5000 by a movie company which needs a thrilling airplane collision for a forthcoming picture, Philip Mohun, daredevil flyer of Mexican revolution fame, and Dick Grace, hero of 31 intentional plane crashes for the movies, plan to crash their ships together a mile in the air and trust to luck and their parachutes. They are shown here in Los Angeles with their ships, the wings of which will overlap by 10 feet when they collide head-on at 110 miles an hour. Above are Mohun, left, and Grace, right.

Manchurian Troops Rush To Border To Meet Russians

TOKYO, Aug. 19—(AP)—Rengo news dispatches from Manchuria, Manchuria, today said the first of the large Chinese reinforcement armies which are being rushed to the western Manchurian border had arrived there, equipped with machine guns and field guns.

A Mukden dispatch to the same agency said Governor Chang Hsueh Liang had appointed General Wang Shu Chang commander of the Manchuria forces at present en route to the Siberian border and had summoned a military council to meet at Mukden.

The Manchuria report said calm had been restored in that area after the Soviet raid on Dalainor, though the town itself was deserted and Manchuria in panic after the clash. Chinese officials arrested twelve Soviet workmen and sent them to Harbin.

A Harbin dispatch said telegraph lines to Poganichnaya had been cut and accused Russians of sabotage. The dispatch also said three men were killed when the engineers' quarters near the railroad station there was bombed. Chinese alleged it was the work of Russians carrying on the work of sabotage. The Chinese also reported a man was killed by guards when he attacked the Sungari bridge near here this morning.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government has ordered mobilization of ten additional brigades of Manchurian troops totaling 100,000 men and now views "the Sino-Russian crisis as increasingly serious." The brigades will be assigned to duty

Hollywood Fights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS
 HOLLYWOOD—There must be something in this "laugh, clown" act after all.

Not that Lee Tracy stifles any secret sorrow when he steps before the footlights to clown and wise-crack; he regards his profession too matter-of-factly for that. The smartly-garbed actor has been in many of his stage successes is trying enough to make him want to relax after the final curtain and be himself.

He refers to them as "bing bang parts" and if you saw him in the Broadway production of "The Front Page" as Hildy Johnson, the star reporter in that rip-snorting journalistic melodrama you understand why.

Before that he was the the hoof in "Broadway" for two and a half years the parts played by Glem Tryon in the talkie and then there was "The Show Off." That sort of thing is good comedy material, certainly, and he likes it but it's not conducive to making an off-stage professional wise-cracker of the player who does it.

Maybe that is why Tracy in person quiet, well quiet, that is for Hollywood. Here to star in "Big Time," a musical film of back-soundstage Hollywood Tracy is a graduate of the "small time."

Ten-twenty-thirty vaudeville, stock repertory and the like, formed his training school for fame.

Haunted Producers
 He won his Broadway opening by camping in a $5 a week room and haunting producers' offices after he decided his apprenticeship was complete. And he selected the theater as a profession, he says, only after surveying the usual other field—with no more thrill over its so-called glamor than if he had decided to "open a butcher-shop."

Another graduate of the "small time" school, now Broadway famous, by the way, is Walter Woolf who sings the lead in the all-color musical, "Golden Dawn."

Woolf left his home in Salt Lake City encouraged by the usual group of friends who tell a boy he is better than Tolson, and so on and determined to start a fire on Broadway. He learned better when he got as far as Chicago. Broadway accepted him eventually, but not before he had fought his way through the tank towns and the "stinks."

He recalls, for instance, Lemon, S. D. He and Charlie LaMarre, now a New York theatrical designer, were teaming it in a vaudeville act. Booked to play near Lemon the theater burned before they reached it, and they attacked that out-of-the-way village. The theater owner there said they could play, all right, and they did—three shows daily, between movies, before lamps for footlights, with a dusty piano whose mutilated keys invariably stuck!

Not surprisingly, such towns as these have been harsh cradling grounds of many of Hollywood's as well as New York's theatricaly renowned.

SUMMER HOME BOMBED
 CHICAGO, Aug. 19—(AP)—A powerful bomb was exploded today under the front porch of the summer home of Lawrence F. King, county Democratic leader and sanitary district trustee.

The bomb wrecked the front of the house and threw King and his five children from their beds, none was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pond of Tonkawa, Okla., are visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pond.

VOTE THE BONDS

For City Improvement At Tomorrows Election

Pampa is going to the polls tomorrow to vote for or against public improvement and municipal progress. Some of the imperative needs of a progressive city will be taken care of if the bonds are voted tomorrow.

The election will be held at the City Hall, corner of Foster and Russell streets. All property taxpayers who paid the poll tax are qualified to vote; also those who have age or disability exemptions. YOUR VOTE FOR THE BONDS IS A VOTE FOR PAMPA ADVANCEMENT.

A NEW FIRE STATION

An investment in a new Fire Station, with needed equipment, is an investment in Insurance and a big saving on the insurance rate for Pampa. It has been pointed out that rates will be raised in Pampa if more and sufficient fire fighting equipment is not provided.

THE CITY HALL

Pampa has needed and will need more than ever in the future, a City Hall with city jail, offices for city employes and an auditorium sufficiently large to care for large meetings. VOTE THE BONDS.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

If Pampa is to be a city of paved streets and alleys it is necessary to raise some more money for that purpose. Present demands for paving are being held up because the city hasn't sufficient funds for its part of the projects.

PUBLIC PARKS and PLAYGROUNDS

Pampa has reached a place where it must provide a place for the recreation of its children as well as older people. The cost of such improvements will be small now but much more costly if we wait until Pampa grows and the property values increase.

ALL THESE IMPROVEMENTS WILL COST ONLY 34c on Each $100, Valuation

Steers Win From Spudders 6 To 2 In First Game

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The dope that has favored the Spudders to make short shift of Dallas in their almost certain playoff for the Texas League rag received a severe jolt in the first clash between the pair in their present series at Steer stadium yesterday.

Using a patched up array, the first half champs climbed all over the Oilers clouting their ace, George Payne, from the hill in the third round and winning about as they pleased, 6 to 2. It was a hard bump for the leaders, just starting out on a 20-day road jaunt, but they still hold a five and a half game margin over their closest rivals.

Whitney Glazner twirled magnificent ball against the slugging Spuds, allowing them four singles for the day, while his help hopped on Payne hard from the outset. You might put Glazner down to face the northern clan in the initial game of the saw-off. Red Bennett, the circuit's premier batter, deprived Whitney of a shutout when his single scored two in the ninth.

All the Cats needed was to get away from Wichita Falls. Back on home soil, Snyder's valiant claws the Sports up twice, 2 to 1, and 4 to 2, in a Sunday bargain ball. The double loss dumped the Louisianans into fifth place. Lil Stoner gave up only five blows in the first tilt to beat Tiny Owens. Holman got three of them. A seventh inning rally that scored three tied the night-cap. Bonowitz put on the finishing touch with a homer that scored Urban ahead of him.

Houston, the league's mystery club for the reason you can't tell what to expect from it next, attained second place by knocking the Cubs, 6 to 4, in their series final. Hard luck overtook Bill Harris in the third, when the Buffs scored five times. Although shelled hard at times, Paulo Wachtel rolled along to win. He whiffed four when they were most needed. Moore led the Bison attack with a homer, double and single.

A ninth inning rally fell short and the Beaumonters were forced to take another licking from the revived Indians, 9 to 8, in the final at Stuart stadium.

Cubs Win From Giants In Best Game of Season

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shadows of another baseball era were called back to the Polo grounds yesterday by the finesse of two of the younger set with a lively ball, sniping at batters from a distance of sixty feet and six inches. It will be many afternoons before major league fans see a better pitched game than the one Feroe Malone and the Cubs won from Larry Benton and the Giants by a margin of 1 to 0.

The Chicago speed-baller held command of his game at all times, and after he finally received the support of one run in the seventh, he actually seemed to have an impregnable lead. Malone gave up five hits to only four by Benton, but only once were the Giants able to put two of them together in any one inning. This was in the third when Roush and Terry singled, but Malone got off on a fly to Stephenson for the final out.

Malone passed only one man, and struck out seven. Only one runner got as far as third base on him, and two were out at the time.

The Cubs gave Malone his winning margin in the seventh when Cupler led off with a double and scampered the rest of the way around on successive outfield sacrifices by the Messrs. Stephenson and Heathcote. As the Pirates were idle, the Bruins extended their lead to eight full games.

Brooklyn entertained Flatbush with a 3 to 2 victory over the fallen Cards, and the Braves outlasted the Reds to win 10 to 9 at Boston.

GIBBONS PICKS SULLIVAN AS COMING WELTER CHAMP

This is "Phantom Mike" Gibbons' choice as the next king of welterweights.

ST. PAUL (AP)—Mike Gibbons, leading member of that once famous team of boxing brothers, believes one of his proteges is destined to win the welterweight championship.

Mike's choice to win the title, recently captured by Jackie Fields, is My Sullivan when Mike trained as an amateur.

"All My has to do to win the crown is to make up his mind," says Gibbons. "He's better than I ever was. He's game, can punch and has natural ability. All he needs to become a champion is a realization of the opportunity facing him."

Sullivan was barking for a bout with Fields before the new champ hardly had ripped the tape off his hands after snatching the crown from Joe Dundee. He is ready to back up his challenge with whatever forfeit money is necessary.

In his last fight here, Sullivan stopped Andy Divodi of New York in three rounds.

Sullivan, who is 21, has been a professional three years. He has fought 40 money bouts, winning 16 with a K. O. and losing only four by decision. He has not lost a fight since early in 1928 when Jack McCarthy outpointed him in Chicago.

Saves Your Damp Grain

"Saved His Crop"
"We had a bin of rye 500 bu. which had become moulded and we could not stand getting into the bin to scoop but by taking it out with the Blower and ReCleaner, it was cleaned, aired and cooled so the grain buyer took it without dockage, otherwise it would have been a total loss."—Truckee, Wis.

You stop heating and moulding of damp grain—greatly increase its value when you elevate, aerate and condition it with the Liberty Grain Blower

No matter how damp your grain, the Liberty will thoroughly air and cool it in one simple, inexpensive operation. This efficient Blower also removes dirt, smut, weevil, etc.—sharply reduces dockage losses. It has increased the value of their grain as much as 7% a bushel. One man handles 3000 to 8000 bushels thrashed or shelled grain a day with the Liberty. Does away with all expense for inside scooping.

Local Scouts To Leave For Camp In The Morning

Thirty Boy Scouts of Pampa troops are today enthusiastically preparing to leave promptly at 9 o'clock tomorrow for the annual encampment of Adobe Walls Council at Camp McQuiddy, 38 miles northeast of Canadian. Scout Executive C. A. Clark announces that every boy who plans to go to the camp must be at the First Methodist church at 9 o'clock. The boys will go to the camp in a local school bus.

The scouts who will make the trip are as follows: Jack Byrum, Wilks Chapman, James Foster, Leo Fletcher, Robert Martin, Eddie Phillip, Tom Rice, Otto Rice, Jr., Elmer Irving, Jr., D. C. Blythe, Len Robinson, Thomas Sweetman, Jr., Edward Scott, Claude Sullin, Maurice Sanders, Jack Walsted, Roy Webb, Elmo Edwards, Grover Austin, Robert Woodward. These boys comprise the Christian and Methodist church troops. Possibly other boys will decide later this afternoon to make the trip.

Officers To Santa Fe To Recover Car

Deputy Weldon Wilson and A. J. Hineman left this morning for Santa Fe, N. M., where a car thought to be Mr. Hineman's and two alleged car thieves are being held in the Santa Fe jail. Mr. Hineman's car was stolen during the latter part of last week. Sunday night, Sheriff E. S. Graves received a telegram that the car and the men had been taken into custody. Santa Fe officers recognized the car by the engine number, as the license had been changed.

FOURTEEN ARRESTS LAST NIGHT

Fourteen men who were arrested last night by city and county officers on intoxication and fighting charges were fined this morning. County officers arrested eight and city officers, six. Ten paid fines and the others were returned to jail.

HOOPER RETURNS TO CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP)—President Hoover returned to the White House today from his fishing lodge on the Rapidan river in Virginia.

Mrs. Grace Spellman Had a Major Operation Last Night at Pampa Hospital

F. G. Buchanan, a typhoid patient at Pampa hospital, today showed a slight improvement, it was said. His condition has been critical for several days.

Mrs. A. E. Regier, who had a major operation a few days ago at Pampa hospital, is recuperating satisfactorily.

Mrs. Charles Roush underwent a minor operation this morning at Pampa hospital. Her son, Bernard, also had a minor operation.

Mrs. Nancy Holmes, who has been and receiving treatment at the McCleary Sanitarium, Excelsior Springs, Mo., has been dismissed and will return here in a few days. She is much improved in health and has enjoyed her rest at the sanitarium and hotel.

Salaries of Office Holders Are Under Investigation Now

PORT WORTH, Aug. 19. (AP)—An investigation of offices in Tarrant county operated under the Texas fee system was underway today by a joint legislative committee. Witnesses will be summoned to determine the exact amount office holders receive yearly from salaries and fees.

The meeting here is a forerunner of investigations to be held in other cities. The committee to investigate fees was appointed by the last legislature after a bill limiting salaries to $10,000 yearly had been defeated.

The investigation will be of the fee law and not of individual office holders was made plain by Senator Pink L. Parrish, chairman. It was pointed out many officeholders receive more than $10,000 annually, or more than United States Senators, and it is believed this amount is too large.

The practice of paying ex-officio fees will also be investigated. In some sections, elected officers continued to receive fees even after they retired from office.

Also the outcome of allowing persons other than county and district attorneys to file tax suits on a commission basis will come in for discussion.

R. L. Strange of Phillips Construction Company suffered a fracture to his left leg Saturday afternoon, when a pipe fell on it. He is receiving treatment at Pampa hospital, where today he was said to be recovering satisfactorily.

DEPUTY TO BRING E. E. NEIL HERE FROM OKLAHOMA CITY

Deputy C. E. Pipes left of Oklahoma City today to return E. E. Neil alias Williams Petty to Pampa where he is wanted for trial in connection with the theft of $2,500 in Traveler's checks from Harry Clark. He will be held here pending action of the grand jury.

The arrest was made by insurance company officers in Oklahoma City where the checks were insured.

Kills His Family Then Takes Poison

ROYAL OAK, Mich., Aug. 19. (AP)—Hans Peter Nielsen of Royal Oak killed his wife and four children with gas fumes and took his own life with poison after setting fire to his house here today.

Firemen who broke into the flaming house found Mrs. Magdeline Nielsen, and her four children, Niels Hans, 9; Bertha, 8; Paul, 6; and Bodell, 2, dead in the bedroom. Every gas jet in the house had been opened.

Mickey Walker To Fight Leo Lomski In Ten Round Bout

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—At the municipal stadium tonight Mickey Walker, king of world middleweights, tangles in a ten-round bout with Leo Lomski, deadly body-puncher from Aberdeen, Wash. Mickey's crown will not be involved but the bout may go far toward determining the next heavyweight champion. Tommy Loughran, matched with Jack Sharkey in the big heavyweight battle of the fall, soon is to relinquish his 175-pound championship and Walker already has let it be known he intends to claim the crown. Lomski long has been considered a leading challenger for that title.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

C. A. Rhoads, an old-time resident of Pampa, died last Saturday during a fatal stroke of paralysis at Gallatin, Mo., according to messages received here by friends. He lived in Pampa from 1897 to 1919. The body will be buried in Missouri.

The SHINING TALENT

By ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MOLLY BURNHAM and RED FLYNN are spending an exciting evening. Molly is principal and Red is police court reporter. Recently Molly covered the BARROWS trial. Barrows has been found innocent of the murder of BERNICE BRADFORD, a beautiful and beautiful girl.

Following the trial, Red meets a boy named PERRY INGERSOLL, who seems to be a drunkard and a scoundrel. Red comes immediately to Molly with the story, and suggests that they collaborate on a sensational article for a play.

He tells the story as he has heard it from Ingersoll's own lips. Barrows, who adored her, to marry blackmail. Barrows, Ingersoll, crazed with love, was ready to take her on any terms. So Barrows also bought himself a wedding gown. . . . Excitedly Red outlined the serial story.

"It's too good to write for the paper," he declares. "There's material there for the best plot on Broadway!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII
THE plot thickened. Perry Ingersoll, according to Red, had gone to Bernice's apartment on the day her body was found, with the marriage license and a wedding ring in his pocket. He had, in fact, shown them both to Red and Slim Boynton.

He had another fellow with him that morning. A boy from the university who was going to be his best man. Bernice didn't want any bridesmaid, for all her gorgeous wedding gown. She said she couldn't trust women, and she hadn't a girl friend in the world.

They were going to drive to the house of some man Bernice knew, who was a justice of the peace, and the ceremony was to be performed there. Then they were all going back to the apartment for a wedding breakfast.

"But I don't understand," interrupted Molly. "You say Ingersoll and his best man went to the apartment that morning. But Bernice's body wasn't found until afternoon. She'd given her maid the day off, you remember. The janitor found her that afternoon, when he went in on business. And the medical examiner said she'd been dead for some hours. Now if Ingersoll had been there in the morning, as he says, he'd have found her then."

"He did!" triumphed Red. "That's just it! Bernice was dead at nine o'clock. Cold as ice, the kid says."

"But he didn't give the alarm?"

"You're darn right, he didn't give the alarm. The boy's not so dumb as he acts. Anyhow he's a welcher. I told you that already, didn't I? He was scared. Scared to death. And you can't blame him much at that, Molly. There wasn't anything he could do for her. And, naturally, there was going to be a row. Police and all that."

"Nobody knew that Ingersoll had anything to do with Bernice. There wasn't a chance of dragging him into an investigation. Not so long as he kept his mouth shut. Maybe his friend, the best man, had the cooler head of the two. I don't know. Anyhow they made a safe get-away. And nobody saw them."

RED paused. And a dramatic silence fell between them.

"Well," he demanded, "what do you think of that?"

Molly shook her head.

"I don't know. It rather does away with the suicide theory, doesn't it?"

"Absolutely," agreed Red. "Didn't I tell you she'd ordered groceries and champagne for a wedding breakfast? Nobody does things like that, and then takes a swig of cranide."

"No," she said. "No, I suppose not. What does Ingersoll think, Red?"

"Hell, Ingersoll knows!"

Red dropped his cigarette on the rug, and ground it fiercely into Molly's precious Kashmir. His eyes were blazing.

"Bernice had a date the night before," he said. "And that date was with Barrows!"

"You mean," whispered Molly, "Barrows killed her?"

Red shrugged his shoulders.

"Circumstantial evidence," he admitted. "He had an alibi, of course. Said he spent the evening at home with his wife. Lord, that's no alibi! Mrs. Barrows was just naturally a go-through sort. She lied for him, that's all."

"But I should think Ingersoll would have been a state witness!"

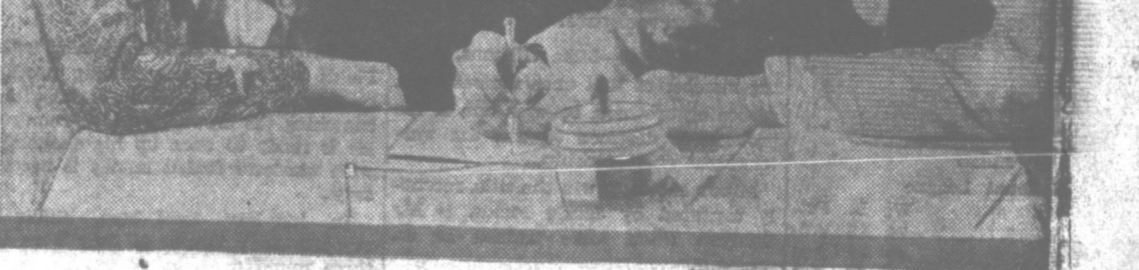

"No, he had some amount to keep out of it," repeated Red. "You can't blame him for that. Bernice was dead. It wasn't as if he could do anything for her. Naturally, he thought of his folks. It would have been sweet for his mother, wouldn't it, having him mixed up with a girl like Bernice, and the papers full of it? Besides, he'd talked, he'd have been suspected himself. Imagine if he'd kicked up a rumpus there, and anybody'd come in!"

Molly laughed hysterically.

"You know what would have happened?" she cried. "We'd all have remembered that poem of Oscar Wilde's about the man who was hung for killing his sweet-heart, and we'd have quoted these lines:

"And blood and wine were on his hands
When they found him with the dead,
This poor dead woman whom he loved
And murdered in her bed."

Red slapped her on the shoulder. "At least," he approved. "That's the old punch, Molly. Bob stuff things like that, and then takes a swig of cranide."

But the next day Molly was unexpectedly assigned to cover a murder trial in another state.

"No," she said. "No, I suppose not. What does Ingersoll think, Red?"

"Hell, Ingersoll knows!"

Red dropped his cigarette on the rug, and ground it fiercely into Molly's precious Kashmir. His eyes were blazing.

And murdered in her bed."

Red slapped her on the shoulder. "At least," he approved. "That's the old punch, Molly. Bob stuff things like that, and then takes a swig of cranide."

"Of course there is," she agreed. "It could open with the trial of Barrows. . . ."

"And sum up all the evidence in the first act," broke in Red. "Make a regular mystery of it, you know. Might even make the testimony point toward some other guy. Then switch it around again, and when you got the audience thinking it was Barrows, suddenly acquit him. Make a great anti-climax of that."

"Then open the third act with that place on Beacon Hill," interrupted Molly eagerly, "and the Ingersoll kid crying. . . ."

"How'd you end it?" demanded Red. "Make a mystery out of it?"

"Oh, no," demurred Molly. "We'd have to have a surprise climax. Maybe we could convict Ingersoll. . . . No, that would be too obvious. We might drag the best man in."

"How'd you end it?" demanded Red. "Make a mystery out of it?"

"Oh, no," demurred Molly. "We'd have to have a surprise climax. Maybe we could convict Ingersoll. . . . No, that would be too obvious. We might drag the best man in."

who was night watchman at a factory where the defendant was said to have entered, for the purpose of robbery. Chicago knew the defendant for a gunman, and his record was bad. There was, however, a good deal of hysterical sympathy for him.

The judge, who was said to be prejudiced against the accused man, was fearful of an attack, and had requested police protection. State witnesses were also protected. And the jury would be guarded day and night.

The city editor called Molly to his desk before she had time to slip off her coat.

"You're familiar with the Mandelino case, of course," he said. "But I want to tell you about the elaborate precautions they're taking for the protection of Judge Brewster and the witnesses for the prosecution. It's as much as your life is worth these days to take issue with a gunman."

"We don't try murder cases in the paper. It's bad business, and it's dangerous. But we're going to take a stand on this thing. We believe Mandelino is guilty, and we're just about going to say so. Covering the trial will be critical work for our reporters, and we're not going to resign anyone who isn't willing to take a chance."

"It's up to you, Molly. If you want to take your life in your hands, and go up there—fine. But it's your own funeral. I'm warning you. Some half-baked cuckoo may try popping off somebody before the trial's over. The police are looking for supplies. If you go, it's entirely on your own responsibility."

"On the other hand, it's a chance to do some good writing. Graduate. . . . Pass your copy, please. It's worth. And play your name in in big shape. Don't give me an answer now. Think it over for a while. . . ."

Molly laughed. "If you've been to think it over, Mr. Wharton," she cried. "And you know what the answer is. . . . When do I go?"

BUT the next day Molly was unexpectedly assigned to cover a murder trial in another state.

They called the defendant an anarchist and a bolshevik. But that was wrong for he was just a gunman, and it was a mistake to call him long, brave names. Because many people came to believe him unjustly persecuted, and some thought he was being prosecuted for his convictions, rather than for the murder of which he stood accused.

It was the murder of an old man

River Is Dragged For The Body of Beaumont Woman

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(P)—Police were dragging the East river today in their search for a young matron who disappeared shortly after she had appealed to Vice-president Curtis to help her enter a career as a song writer.

A woman believed to be Mrs. W. C. Edwards of Beaumont, Tex., on Saturday night walked up to a little girl near the Brooklyn bridge, handed her a note and asked the way to the river.

The note asked:

"I'm leaving on a long journey; will you please send this stuff to my mother?"

In a valise which police located in the Pennsylvania station thru a baggage check inclosed with the note, were found two letters of introduction for Miss Lolo Enloe of Beaumont, Tex., to New York song publishers. The letters, referring to Miss Enloe as a song writer, were written on stationery of the office of Vice-President Curtis and were signed by a brother of the Vice-President's secretary.

Also in the valise was a letter addressed to Mrs. W. C. Edwards, 102 Brandon street, Beaumont, and a clipping indicating Mrs. Edwards had charge of a children's hour over station KFDM at Beaumont.

Advices from Beaumont were that Lolo Enloe was the maiden name of Mrs. W. C. Edwards, who had left Beaumont for New York about two weeks ago. She was interested in song writing.

Vice-president Curtis recalled meeting a young woman, who asked him to help her start on a career of song writing in New York, last Thursday. The vice-president referred her to his secretary's brother, himself a song writer, who wrote letters of introduction for her.

On a suggestion that the woman's disappearance was a publicity stunt was discarded by Detective James Anderson, in charge of the case, who said the old clothes found in the valise would not support that explanation.

Police today received from Mrs. Florence Enloe of 102 Brandon avenue, Beaumont, a telegram begging them to search for her daughter, Lolo.

"I find it was she," the message read, "I fear it was she, who jumped into the river Saturday night. She had a great sorrow and had written it in songs and was in New York to sell them."

BEAUMONT, Aug. 19.—(P)—Mrs. W. C. Edwards, whose body the East river in New York was dragged, left her home here for the eastern metropolis two weeks ago.

Although the nature of her visit was undisclosed, friends presumed it was in interest of the publication of songs she had composed. About four years ago Mrs. Edwards was a prominent Texas radio entertainer, having taken for herself the name of "Miss Magnolia Blossom."

Before her first marriage to W. C. Edwards she was Miss Lolo Enloe. A year ago the couple was divorced, and a short time later she was married to T. A. French. This marriage also culminated in a divorce a month later.

Washington, Aug. 19.—(P)—A recommendation that the Interstate Commerce Commission allow the Yates and West Texas Railroad company, a new corporation to build approximately 43 miles of line from Rankin via Iraan to Sheffield, all in Texas, was made today by M. S. Jameson, commission examiner, who investigated the proposal.

The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient subsidiary of the Santa Fe system, had objected to the proposal claiming the new company would be controlled by all interests and urging that it be permitted to make any rail connections with the field.

Jameson in his report said the railroad would serve the Yates oil field, which he asserted was conceded to "have the largest potential production of any field in the United States." He also declared the need and prospects for the line were sufficient to justify its independent construction.

GRAF ZEPPELIN

which brought the Zeppelin nearly as many dollars.

The Zeppelin's sighting over Tokyo occurred just 45 minutes after it circled the giant Japanese hangar at Kasumigaura, the Japanese naval air station. The dirigible remained but a few moments over Kasumigaura and then headed for Tokyo, capital of the land of the rising sun, to while away the hours until evening when a drop in temperature would permit landing.

Rain and fog on the last 600 miles of her journey brought a slight alteration in the Zeppelin's course and delayed its arrival several hours beyond early estimates. After leaving the Siberian main land, she flew down the west coast of Hokkaido northernmost of the main islands of the Japanese group.

At a point about 550 miles from her goal and slightly east of Capt Kamui, Dr. Eckener requested permission of the communications ministry to alter his course because of bad weather in the direction of Saïdo Islands, west of Honshu.

He asked to cross the southwestern arm of Hokkaido in the direction of the near Dwinsk, (Duenaburg, Latvia.)

FRIDAY, Aug. 16:
3:30 a. m.—Passed over Vyatka, 600 miles east of Moscow.

10:30 a. m.—Dropped postcards at Kizel, in the Urals, on the Siberian border.

SATURDAY, Aug. 17:
7:40 a. m.—First direct message to Tokyo gave position as 750 miles west of Yakutsk.

SUNDAY, Aug. 18:
1 a. m.—(Approximate) Reached eastern coast of Asia at port of Ajan on the sea of Okhotsk.

11 a. m.—Crossed Russo-Japanese frontier at Saghalien, following Gulf of Tartary south.

6 p. m.—Passed over Mororan, Hokkaido, Japan.

11:30 p. m.—Passed over Shlogama, Rikuzen prefecture.

MONDAY, Aug. 19:
1:50 a. m.—Sighted over Kasumigaura naval airrome.

2:55 a. m.—Flew over Tokyo.

4:27 a. m.—Landed at Kasumigaura airport, completing trip of 6,500 miles in 101 hours 53 minutes.

Shirya on the main island. He then followed the eastern coast of Honshu down to the capital, passing over Shiogama, at 1:30 p. m. (11:40 p. m.) to the hangar awaiting the ship, 40 miles away. The permission was given immediately.

Blasts of sirens and factory whistles announced that the Zeppelin had been sighted over Tokyo. Crowds of office workers and others immediately swarmed into the streets, clambered onto the roofs, and took up whatever points of vantage offered.

Ten minutes later the great airship with its escort of eight planes hovered about like flies about an elephant appeared over the central part of the city, low enough so the gondolas and the words Graf Zeppelin appeared clearly visible.

Comparatively little cheering was heard, but the crowds clapped their hands and waived as the giant vessel passed overhead, and disappeared in the direction of Yokohama. It returned 25 minutes later and headed back to Kasumigaura to be berthed.

As soon as the ship was seen four naval planes and "The Europa," in which von Huenefeld flew to Japan from Germany, soared up and went out to meet and the three other aircraft already accompanied it.

As it passed over the field for the first time the cheering and waving of handkerchiefs was almost frantic. Straits of the German national anthem, begun by a band were hardly audible.

The Graf Zeppelin probably will start on the third lap of its round-the-world tour Thursday, taking approximately four days for the trip to Los Angeles. The trip completed today, while representing its longest traversed distance, did not represent the Graf's greatest flying time, its first westward crossing of the Atlantic, completed in October 15, 1928, took 111 hours and 38 minutes to travel approximately 9,300 miles.

A brief customs examination was made before the 20 passengers, all of whom were well and in good spirits, left the hangar. Crowds of Japanese greeted each person warmly.

A formal reception at the airport followed, Dr. Eckener and Admiral Takarabe, Minister of the navy, exchanging felicitations despite interruptions from the cheering of the immense crowds.

Police and military cordons were continually broken by curious ones, anxious to get a nearer view of the visitors who had descended from the air in a spectacle never before seen in the Orient.

Refreshments, consisting of dried chestnuts, dried cuttlefish and saki were served in accordance with traditional Japanese ceremony in greeting visitors. Saki is the Japanese national alcoholic beverage and is distilled from rice.

The officers and crew of the Graf were entertained at Geisha dinner as guests of the commandant of Kasumigaura naval airport, relaxing from the strain of the great flight from Friedrich shafen by watching the dancing of graceful Geisha girls. The passengers prepared to leave for Tokyo by special train.

BERLIN, Aug. 19. (P)—Arrival of the Graf Zeppelin in Tokyo was broadcast here a few minutes after noon today and was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm.

Berlin newspapers rushed early editions hailing Dr. Hugo Eckener's success. Descriptions of the flight and the welcome to the dirigible were printed in full.

Five Countries To Go Into Detail of German Reparation

THE HAGUE, Aug. 19. (P)—Representatives of five creditor powers, France, Italy, Belgium, Japan and Great Britain met today to go over in detail the compromise offer of the first four to Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer seeking to increase his government's share of the German reparations.

Representatives of France, Belgium, and Italy hope to convince Mr. Snowden their offer made Friday fitted very nearly his own demands for a return to the percentages of division of the reparations payments.

Pending whatever change the meeting might make in the attitude of either clique concerned, the British and the delegations from the other four nations remained firm in their positions, that is, that Great Britain considers it useless to go ahead with the conference unless her demands are met and from the other, a deep conviction the demands cannot be met.

Galveston Leads Building Permits For Last Week

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (P)—Building contractors in Texas experienced the best week of the year in the seven days just ended as building speeded up in almost all sections of the state.

Galveston recorded a total of $1,514,295 owing to preparations to start building the Galveston Wharf company new grain elevator. A number of big warehouses, a large store and several expensive residences pushed Houston's total to almost a million for the week.

Wichita Falls had an unusually good week with permits issued for extensive repairs and an addition to the Orient Petroleum refinery, an apartment house and several expensive residences.

Port Arthur's total almost touched the hundred thousand mark because of the issuance of a final permit for the 10-story Goodhue hotel.

Reports from a number of Texas cities follow:

PEORIA LISTER DISC PRESS DRILL

Wyo. Experiment Station reports 100% yield increase with furrow drill on early plowed fallow; 112% increase on late plowed fallow. Mont. Experiment Station gets 6 bushels per acre more. Deck O'Day, Great Falls, Mont., with his Peoria Lister Disc Drill, harvested 50 bushels per acre. Low down PRESS drill is correct principle for lister drilling—perfectly spreads seed over wide surface; extra large press wheels (24 in. dia.) in concave tires) more perfectly covers to prevent seed blowing. Lister moldboards make deep, wide furrows that catch a protecting snow blanket to avoid winter kill and store up moisture for quick germination and rapid growth.
