MR. AND MRS. SAM IRWIN RETURN FROM VACATION SPENT ABROAD

COUPLE VISITS MOST OF TIME WITH RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irwin have returned after an interesting two month's vacation spent in Europe sight-seeing and visiting with relatives. This was the first trip Mr. Irwin had made to Ireland in 34 years, and it was the first trip for Mrs. Irwin.

Although the greater part of their time was spent in Ireland, they saw many interesting sights elsewhere. After the trip from New York City to Harve, France, the couple spent two days in Paris visiting the Opera Place, Madeleine Catholic church, historical Eiffel Tower, the tallest structure in the world, and other spots of interest. It was here that they met some travelers from the Fiji Islands.

In London, the next stop after Paris, the visitors lived within one-half block of the Thames river, and here they attended church at St. Paul's cathedral. In traveling the entire length of England, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin visited Shakespeare's and Ann Hathaway's homes, Oxford

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

When you have those awful cramps when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three decades of life: 1. Turning from childhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

college, and the Daily Express, the London paper which occupies a building made of black glass. This news office is on Fleet street, the most renowned writers street in the world.

The couple also visited the original Old Curiosity shop, immortalized by Charles Dickens, which still remains as one of the most interesting landmarks in London.

Changing of the guards at Whitehall, the office of inspector general of the forces in London, is an interesting ceremony which takes place daily at 11 o'clock. The troop of 40 life guards on duty is relieved by another troop, according to Mr. and Mrs. Irwin. A regular feature of this ceremony is the statue-like cavalry sentries who never seem to bat an eye.

"What particularly impressed me," Mrs. Irwin said, "was that everybody had plenty of time and was always eager to point out everything in their country."

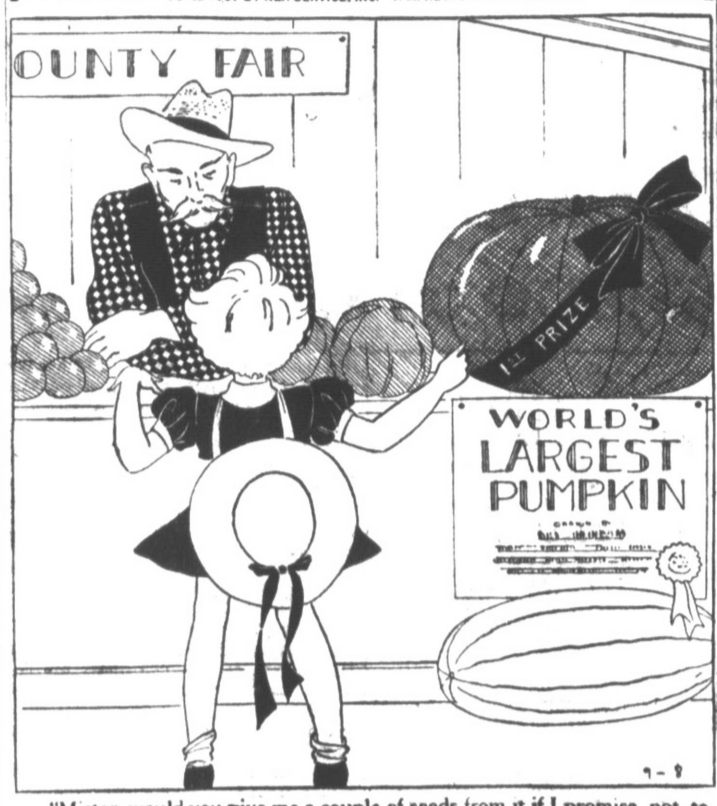

On the tram car or street car, many facts of interest about London were learned by the travelers. Words other than tram car which are peculiar to Americans are foot path for sidewalk, petrol for gasoline, and lorry for truck. In directing strangers in their city, the Londoners say that it is 15 or 30 minutes up the street instead of so many blocks.

From London, the Irwins went to Edinburgh on the Flying Scotchman train, which did anything but fly. The train had individual compartments that were entered from the side rather than one end of the car.

In Edinburgh, the beautiful capital of Scotland, the sight-seers visited Durham castle and cathedral, and Princess street, which is supposed to be the most beautiful street in the world. On one side of it is a large amphitheatre and the Edinburgh castle, while on the other side are stores.

Glasgow was the next stop, and from there Mr. and Mrs. Irwin went over the Irish Sea to Belfast. Mr. Irwin's sister lives in the small town of Crossgar, which is 16 miles from Belfast, and his brother lives in Durrannon, meaning castle on a hill. This town, 40 miles from Belfast, is where Mr. Irwin was born and where he and Mrs. Irwin visited during the month of July.

The beautiful hedges, the stone fences that thread everywhere, the hills, running brooks, the crops, the flowers, especially ivy, make one feel that Ireland really deserves the name of Emerald Isle, Mrs. Irwin pointed out.

"We really haven't seen any summer," she added when telling about the cold, damp wind which is not noticed by the native Irishmen.

The Belfast Telegraph, a daily paper brought back by the couple, is very different from a United States newspaper in that the entire front page of the paper is devoted to classified ads. The king and queen are the only persons who are ever mentioned in a news story on this page.

The 247th anniversary of the Battle of Boyne was celebrated July 12 while Mr. and Mrs. Irwin were in Ireland. This day is similar to our July 4, and people from every city, town and hamlet attended the occasion.

Contrary to the belief of many, Mrs. Irwin said that every British subject that she met loved the King and Queen even better than ex-King Edward.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin enjoyed their visit so much that they are planning to return some time to visit Killarney, which every Irishman loves, the Blarney stone, and other points of interest which they failed to see.

On their trip home the couple visited Canada, Niagara Falls, New York City, and Mrs. Irwin went to Colorado before returning home.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is the introduction, "Mr. Moore, let me make you acquainted with Mr. Short" correct?
 2. What should a person reply to one who says, "I am glad to have met you?"
 3. In introducing a stranger to a group of friends, is it necessary to repeat his name at each introduction?
 4. Is it correct for a girl to introduce a sister whose name is the same as her own as "Miss Young"?
 5. May a man correctly introduce two men by saying, "Mr. Jones, shake hands with Mr. Smith?"
- What would you do if—
You are having lunch in a restaurant with several friends and someone stops at your table a moment for a word with you—
(a) Introduce him to each of your friends?
(b) Make no introductions?
(c) Say to your friends, "This is Mr. Gray?"
- Answers:
1. No. Never use "make you acquainted with."
2. "Thank you" or "Thank you. I hope that I shall see you again soon."
3. No.
4. No. She should say, "This is my sister" or "My sister, Anne."
5. No. Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b).

Al G. Barnes And Sells Floto Circus Shows Here Tomorrow

That exciting, thrilling hour which has caused Johnny all week to keep his ears scrupulously scrubbed, is upon us.

In fact with sunup tomorrow, its here. The exact minute is when the great special steel trains of Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto combined circus rumbles to a stop in Pampa and begin unloading for the season's first day of white-top amusement.

Circus Day! The holiday that makes all the city kin and which brings the rich and poor to sit side by side and "Ah" and "Oh" and marvel at the wonders and daring that neither age nor time can dim.

Circus Day! A phrase that brings a quickening of the blood stream; a sparkle to the eye and untold to thousands. And now its only twelve hours away.

Dawn to morrow will bring to Pampa some 26 acres of tent necessary to house this colossal amusement enterprise formed by the uniting of these world famous names of the tented world.

Hundreds upon hundreds of the world's foremost arenic stars, and scores of European novelty acts are part of this year's colossal program. Features never before attempted are made possible because of the uniting of these two giants of the tented world. One of the many hundreds is the largest group of ferocious jungle beasts ever assembled. Despite the fact that these unruly animals refuse to be tamed or trained they are made to perform.

This daring feat is accomplished by Bert Nelson, the greatest wild animal trainer in the world. Mr. Nelson, with only a chair and whip as his protection steps into the cages and forces the brutes to obey his command. No more stirring, or thrilling sight has ever been, or will, be witnessed.

While everything is new with the AL G. BARNES AND SELLS FLOTO COMBINED CIRCUS for the 1937 season, every department has been greatly increased in size. This year, sixty master clowns cavort and make merry on the huge hippodrome track. Four hundred horses comprise fair, while the menagerie consists of 800 furred and features creatures displayed in electric-lighted cages.

The greatest riding act ever brought to America, the famous Cristiani troupe come to this super circus direct from European triumphs. Composed of four men and their two sisters, this sensational turn features Lúcio, the only rider in the history of the world accomplishing twisting somersaults from horse to horse. In the European continent is also daring, exotic America, in breath-taking balancing feats high in the dome of the tent, on a swinging trapeze. Amerika, without holding to ropes or supports, tiptoes about on swinging and whirling bars, utterly the last gasp in daring. Hal Silver, unrivaled and most versatile genius of the tight wire is also from Europe, as are the Fly Artongs and the Two Karleys.

The colossal opening spectacle, Old Mexico was two years in the making and uses hundreds of costumes and gowns richly inlaid with jewels. Hundreds of animals take part in this pageant of unbelievable loveliness.

Performances will be given at 2 & 8 P.M., at the Circus Grounds the doors opening an hour earlier, across from Roadrunner Park on W. Brown St.

Down town General Admission and Reserved Seat Tickets on sale Circus Day at Pampa Drug Store, The AL G. BARNES & SELLS FLOTO COMBINED CIRCUS is the only railroad circus coming to Pampa this year.

BOYS ON BICYCLES

Responsibility for the traffic accidents always rests on the shoulders of the automobile driver.

We have in mind the reckless abandon with which many boys ride bicycles in Pampa. Auto drivers always must be on the alert for the unexpected. They must be prepared for emergencies, but we can see no excuse for boys failing to make signal stops when they are riding their cycles.

Complaints have been made repeatedly of boys on bicycles weaving in and out of traffic on the downtown streets. An accident was narrowly averted at Cuyler and Kingsmill streets yesterday when a prominent citizen of Pampa barely managed to miss hitting a boy on a bicycle who rode through the stop-light directly into the path of the autoist.

EYE FOR EYE JUSTICE

An old paradox of "justice" bobbed up again when Boston police surgeons labored to save a wounded man's life so that he could be placed in jeopardy later in court as an accused slayer.

The situation poses the ancient puzzle of who has the right to kill a man, and whether the law is overstepping Biblical injunction when it executes a duly tried and convicted prisoner.

Offhand, it is too complex a problem to be solved by a Solomon's wave of the hand. The answer, perhaps, can come only from the mature judgment of perfected civilization.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Railroads in older days gave passes to state legislators and congressmen and paid the cost of junkets to points of interest until the thing became somewhat of a national scandal.

But now the colonies, Hawaii and the Philippines, have found a new wrinkle of the old game. They finance all-expense visits by members of congress, entertain them lavishly and seek to induce in them, a sympathetic understanding of island problems.

That view of it may be a trifle harsh on the islands. Weary members of congress and their wives, sons and daughters may be entitled to the relaxations the inular possessions provide.

Perhaps the islands have no second string motives. It is easily remembered that the railroads insisted they had no motive other than to oblige when they supplied railroad passes to state legislators.

Two score or more members of both houses made the tour of the Philippines 18 months ago, headed by Vice President Garner. This summer a dozen or more are going to Hawaii.

At this point it is well to mention items of interest about the islands and their legislative problems. When gold was revalued in 1934, the Philippine government had about $56,000,000 on deposit in American banks as currency reserve.

Congress saw it the Philippine way in 1934 and approved payment but in 1935 refused to appropriate money to pay. Senator Adams of Colorado tried in 1936, the year of the Philippine tour, to put through an act repealing the Philippine claim.

Hawaii has a special interest in sugar legislation, hoping that next session congress will give the island refiners a lift by permitting them to ship to the United States a larger quota of refined sugar.

Having gone with the wind to Amarillo to see what the Panhandle Water Conservation is going to do about building some $5,000,000 worth of lakes and ponds in the Texas Panhandle, we have a swell alibi for not writing a column today.

So, to Amarillo. . . But before we go, we must not forget to mention that there is going to be a splendid circus in town tomorrow and you ought to see to it that your kids and the neighbors' kids get in on it.

And, now—to Amarillo. . . But, before we go there's one more thing we'd like to remind you about. . . And that is the fact that on next Wednesday morning a campaign will open in Pampa to raise $3,600 with which to finance operation of the Salvation Army here during the coming year.

Let's see, there's something we intended to do—Oh, yes, get going to Amarillo. . . Latest to come to our attention is that we have been pegged as a rounder-upper of cattle thieves in the Panhandle.

All the summer holidays are gone, and there's nothing to look forward to, now, but Thanksgiving and Christmas. . . Of course, there is Columbus Day in October, but you have to be an Italian to get excited over that one.

How's Your Health?

RHEUMATIC FEVER AND ST. VITUS' DANCE

St. Vitus' Dance or chorea is a form of rheumatic fever. It occurs when rheumatic fever attacks the brain. Rheumatic fever, probably due to an infectious agent, may manifest itself in a variety of forms.

Rheumatic fever usually shows itself in youth as muscle or joint pains (chorea or St. Vitus' dance), subcutaneous (under the skin) nodules or polyarthritis. The sufferer's heart is often involved during or following these manifestations, but the heart damage may not become evident until months or years later.

St. Vitus' dance predominantly occurs in girls. Nervous and excitable children seem to be especially predisposed to this form of rheumatic fever. It is most common between the ages of 5 and 15.

CONGRESS HAS YET TO FACE REAL ISSUES

—Says Maverick

EDITOR'S NOTE: Maury Maverick of San Antonio, Tex., although only serving his second term in Congress already has achieved national fame for his fearless oratory and his ability to lead the progressive group in the House. He is a champion of Roosevelt's measures.

By REP. MAURY MAVERICK Written Exclusively for Pampa Daily News and NEA Service, Inc. What Congress did not accomplish in the last session makes us think of what should be accomplished in the future.

Now at home we can begin to think things out. What happened, and what will we do in the future? Well, in the last session we were stupor-stricken when the Supreme Court argument came up there was the greatest barrage of words and bitter denunciations in American political history.

We congressmen, most of us lawyers, stewed around in our own mental juices. With that confusion, nothing could be done. So the important legislation was held off till the last, and then dropped overboard.

The future? Argument over the court, its powers and the powers of Congress must go on. The controversy has done some good for the American people have at least recognized that the judges are human, and the full humanization of the court must be accomplished.

We must also have very clear objectives. They must be plotted out, understood, and then we must go—and all the American people—must go ahead.

Asks Permanent Program At the next session we should agree what we want to do; this must be developed into a permanent program. I suggest the following:

- 1. Conservation of natural resources.
2. Farm legislation.
3. Establishment of the eight TVA's.

4. A developed and extended housing campaign.
5. Strengthened labor provisions for settlement of disputes, fair to both sides.

6. Minimum wages and maximum hours; fair labor standards.
7. Government reorganization; abolition of useless, duplicating bureaus.

8. An improved food and drug act.
9. The first four—conservation, farm, eight TVA's, housing—must be coordinated as a great national plan.

When a national plan is mentioned, considering these four subjects, a great yell goes up about state's rights and centralization of power in Washington. That is nonsense.

Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

Out of the discovery of the rich Comstock Lode in western Nevada, 10 years after the gold rush in California, stalked countless colorful characters. There was Leland Stanford, Adolph Suto, Darius Ogden Mills, James C. Fair, William Chapman Ralston to head the list.

"Ralston's Ring" (Scrbiner's Sons, $3.50). Titular cashier but actual head of San Francisco's Bank of California, Ralston was without doubt the financial genius of the old Pacific west. One ambition dominated him—the development of San Francisco.

Wealth from the Comstock, of course, fostered many of Ralston's greatest dreams. And thereby hangs the real story. Ralston appointed one-playing Bill Sharon to obtain monopoly on the Comstock Lode.

Sharon's first task was to drain water off the lode to save the property. To do this he engaged imitator Adolph Suto, in many respects the real hero of the story. Suto conceived the idea of tunneling four miles through Mount Davidson to the lode from the banks of the Carson river.

Sharon didn't give up his tunnel, instead he battled almost insurmountable odds and 17 years later the bore through Mount Davidson was completed; the Comstock Lode was rendered fully workable.

"Ralston's Ring" is a succession of chapters like that. It carries you along a bit breathless most of the way and you lay down the book with a certain regret that the old west and the old-timers are so long past.—P. G. F.

So They Say

Japan is irrevocably committed to a policy of military conquest and expansion on the Asiatic continent. —HOO CHAI-TSUI, Chinese official at the League of Nations.

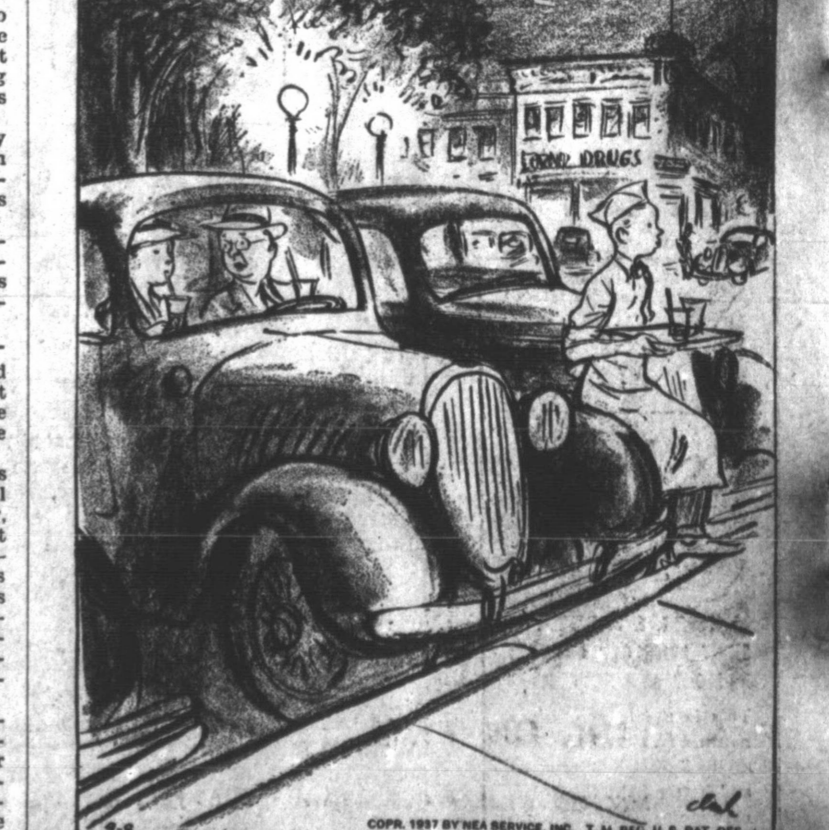

My next hop will be from Key West to Havana. —CHARLEY ZIMMY, legless swimmer who swam 145 miles from Albany to New York.

I am glad to have contributed to this victory, which undoubtedly will facilitate final and complete triumph and the liberation of the Mediterranean from Bolshevism. —PREMIER MUSSOLINI, after the fall of Santander, Spain.

Political ideas, politicians, reactionaries in general, who do not join the New Deal advance, must be left behind. In this there must be national unity of thought.

Yes, if there is anything in the future, sectionalism must be kicked heading out of the picture. We must have the national viewpoint. We must know that the national resources—and the human resources, too, for jobs, health, and happiness—are the concern of the nation.

In this picture is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Like the people, he wants to go ahead. For one, I am sure that he sees the picture more clearly than anyone. And I hope that as captain of the ship he will take a look at the compass, sail straight on—with all friendly sailors aboard, and all others overboard, especially those who would scuttle the ship.

Cubs Beat Cardinals 8-5 As 'Crucial' Series Loom

By DREW MIDDLETON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Cubs are going to give the Giants a little party soon and, if the neighbors do their bit, the city slickers from Gotham will go home in a barrel.

Counting heavily on the aid and abettance of the Cards, Pirates and even the lowly Reds, Charlie Grimm's men see the three-game series with the New Yorkers, starting Sept. 21 as their entire into the world series. It is their last chance. The gaudy lead of mid-summer has faded to a two-and-a-half game deficit; the once matchless infield is stumbling.

The schedule shows nine more games for the Cubs with the Cards and, as they proved yesterday, the Mississippi Mudcats are the "chicagoans" cousins. That may help. But Boston and Pittsburgh are tough for the Cubs, and there's the inevitable series with the Giants. As they start a whole string of "crucial" series, the Giants have a neat but not gaudy edge.

Club W. L. Behind To Play
Cubs 76 48 30
Giants 75 52 2 1/2

No team has had more ups and downs than the Cubs. Stricken with injuries in the early season they bounced back to take first place and dream of a runaway race in the American league. They may yet rebound from this latest slump.

Certainly they showed signs of it yesterday when Bill Lee staggered through to his thirteenth victory of the season, defeating the Cardinals 8-5. Phil Cavarretta pumped in four runs with a brace of doubles and a single. Phil was the boy shined in at first base when Ripper Collins broke his ankle. Lee finished strongly, allowing one hit in the last five frames, a homer by Don Padgett.

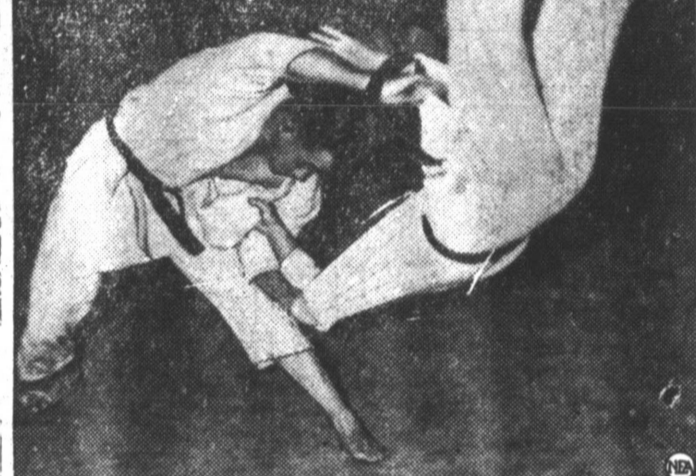

The Cubs' front office added Carl Reynolds, former American leaguer, to the squad. Reynolds, a 33-year-old veteran of four American league seasons, has been hitting .358 with the Minneapolis Millers.

In the only other National League game, the Brooklyn Dodgers trimmed the Boston Bees, 6-1, in the rubber game of a three game series. Cookie Lavagetto's homer was a big factor in the Dodger attack.

The once-proud Red Sox bowed twice to the Washington Senators 11-5 and 6-4 in the only American league games. Jimmy Deshong and Monte Weaver held the Sox, N. M. while the Nats pummeled Rube Walberg, Jose Gonzales, and Ted Olson in the opener and Johnny Marcum in the nightcap.

GLADEWATER WINS SOFTBALL TITLE IN STATE TOURNAMENT

Overton, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Texas Oil Products team of Gladewater planned to entrain today for the softball world series in Chicago beginning Sept. 10.

In an 11-inning contest with the Abercrombie Oilers of Houston, umpire Corley declared the game and the championship of the Texas amateur softball association forfeited to the T. O. P. team. The Houstonians had walked off the field when the score stood 4-2 in favor of Gladewater, after the umpire had ruled that hurler Stearn was pitching illegally.

Guerillas And Reapers Given Gridiron Suits

Eighteen prospects reported to Coach Bob Curry of the Guerillas yesterday afternoon when he called for volunteers for his Guerilla squad. Many more were expected to call for equipment this afternoon.

The coach was in the "dumps" this morning after seeing his prospects. They were mostly small and inexperienced. He may get a few from the Harvesters and also might have some promising boys report this afternoon.

Most of Coach Curry's boys from last year went up to the Harvesters and are making good. A few of last season's junior high Reapers are expected to make good with the Har-

SEITZ, PRATHER HELP SUDAN WIN TOURNEY

Grover Seitz and Dutch Prather have returned from Clovis, N. M., where they played baseball with the Sudan team, winner of the Clovis invitation tournament. Seitz was playing manager of the Sudan team and worked at third base. Prather was on the initial sack.

Sudan went through the tournament undefeated, winning the final game Monday from Littlefield, 12 to 0. The two Pampa players were important cogs in the victory with their hitting and fielding.

MOLLA FLAYS MODERN GALS AS 'PRETTIES'

FORREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8 (AP)—Some of the girls playing through sun and rain and mud in the national championships look to the untrained eye like pretty good tennis players, and it comes as a shock and a disappointment to learn on high authority that they are selling platters compared to the fully-dressed beauties who used to roam our courts.

Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, one of the greatest of the old guard, says so, positively. Jadwiga Jedzejowska, the terrible Pole; Anita Lizana, the chic Chilean; Alice Marble, Helen Jacobs, Kay Stammers and all the other pretties romping around in shorts these days are about a dime a dozen in Molla's book.

The famous Norwegian, who won the American women's championship six times from 1916 to 1926, gave judgment yesterday while watching Helen Jacobs struggle through three sets to defeat Joan Ingram of England, chubby English girl who isn't even ranked in her own country.

"Why Suzanne Lenglen could have cleaned out this field without ever using her backhand," she said. "I could have cleaned them out myself. I honestly don't think any of these girls could have competed with us, even if pictures of us in our long skirts do look funny now."

The only player around who seems able to make faces at the years is Johnny Van Ryn, who at the ripe old competitive age of 31 has reached the quarter-finals again. He'll meet youngster, Frankie Parker, tomorrow.

Only the four quarter-final matches in the lower brackets, two in the women's, two in the men's, were scheduled today. Anita Lizana was up against Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn, Alice Marble faced Dorothy Bundy.

Baron Gottfried von Cramm was paired against Bryan Grant. Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles faced Charlie Hare, last of the English hopes.

Buck Lipscomb To Be in Main Event Monday

Pampa wrestling fans are already wondering who will perform at Cliff Chambers' house of horrors on Monday night. After the bang-up card last Monday night, fans are once more taking a greater interest in the wrestling game.

Cliff was in Amarillo this morning lining up another crack card which will probably be announced tomorrow. The New York gridiron Giants battle an eastern all-star college eleven for the benefit of charity under the Polo Grounds' lights tonight.

Within the last week, the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears have bowed to college stars who studied the football fields of the country last year, showing for the first time in major competition that the boys who play for pay can be whipped by a high-class college outfit.

Tonight's game, pits the best of the east, selected by Andy Kerr of Colgate, against a seasoned team sprinkled with youngsters in their debuts as pros.

Santone Beats Galveston 3-1

(By The Associated Press)

San Antonio defeated Galveston 3 to 1 last night while other Texas league baseball games were postponed on account of rain.

With Oklahoma City leading the League race, the battle for second place between the Tulsa Oilers and the Fort Worth Cats was delayed because of rain. The Oilers and the Cats officially went into the pennant playoffs.

Beaumont, in fifth place now, still has a mathematical chance of overtaking the fourth-place San Antonio Missions. But even if Fort Worth and Tulsa should lose all the remaining games and Beaumont win seven straight, the Exporters could not catch either club.

Boys Menacingly Silent In Football Practice

AVERAGE WEIGHT OF AGGIE LINESMAN IS 193 POUNDS

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 8.—The famed "thin red line" of the Texas Aggies is not as thin as it sounds, judging from lengths and breadths of players mentioned in tentative squad rosters. The Aggies, in fact, will blot out a considerable portion of the scenery when they trot on the field.

Coach Homer Norton had a "shipment" of nearly five tons of football talent arrive Sunday and start practice Monday. The tonnage is divided among 53 candidates who average 181 pounds in weight and 6 feet 11 inches in height.

More than three of the five tons are wrapped up in 34 line candidates who total 6,540 pounds. Reducing that license plate figure down to a one-man basis, the Aggie statistician found the average weight of each lineman is 193 pounds.

Stacked on top of the other's head, the linemen would tower 204 feet, eight inches into the air, a height equivalent to that of a 20-story office building. Simple mathematics reduces such a stack down to an average height of six feet.

Roy Young of Port Arthur, all-Southwest conference tackle, takes the ribbon for weight, scaling 212 pounds, and Joe Boyd, sophomore tackle from Dallas and Paul Wolford, quarterback tackle from Arlington, tie at 6 feet three inches for the tall man honors of the Aggie squad. Boyd missed a double by weighing "only" 210, losing to Young by two pounds. Wolford scales 185.

DARTMOUTH TO BE DANGEROUS

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 8 (AP)—The Dartmouth Indians will be weaker during the coming football season than last year but before their "ivy league" rivals start cheering, it would be well to heed Earl (Red) Blaik's warning he will start his fourth season in Hanover with a dangerous and colorful team.

Eleven of the most dependable players on last year's once-beaten club graduated last June.

Most of last year's reserves have had at least one season under Blaik and his only acute problems are filling in for Fullback Johnny Handshaker and Dave Camerer, the 60-minute left tackle.

The nucleus of the 1937 Tribemen is formed by Captain Merrill Davis, right end, left and right halfback, Fred Hollingsworth and MacLeod and Larry Hull, a 1935 regular who is ready to take over the portside wing position after a year of ineffectuality.

Blaik has a wealth of promising backfield material, but he will miss Gordon Clark, one of the most consistent passers and punters on last year's squad, who was killed in a recent automobile accident.

The Dartmouth schedule: Sept. 25 Bates; Oct. 2 Amherst; 9 Springfield; 16 Brown at Providence; 23 Harvard at Cambridge; 30 Yale at New Haven; Nov. 6 Princeton at Princeton; 13 Cornell; 20, Columbia at New York.

NEW YORK PRO TEAM TO PLAY EASTERERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Seeking success where two other professional football teams have failed this season, the New York gridiron Giants battle an eastern all-star college eleven for the benefit of charity under the Polo Grounds' lights tonight.

Within the last week, the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears have bowed to college stars who studied the football fields of the country last year, showing for the first time in major competition that the boys who play for pay can be whipped by a high-class college outfit.

TEAMS SEEM CHOSEN IN SOUTHERN PLAYOFF

(By The Associated Press)

The Southern Association's post season playoff teams seemed almost chosen today.

Nashville all but slipped out of the picture yesterday when it fell to Knoxville 3-5, while fourth-place Atlanta thumped Chattanooga 7-4, and third-place New Orleans nudged Birmingham 3-2. Memphis snuck out the pennant winning Little Rock, 3-0.

These results shoved the Vols four games off the Cracker's pace and left them 4 1/2 games behind the Pels.

OLYMPIC SWIMMERS TO PARTICIPATE IN MEET

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (AP)—The backbone of America's last Olympic swimming forces, Jack Medica of Seattle, Wash., Adolph Kiefer, Chicago's youthful backstroke marvel, and Peter Fick of New York, will spend a share of the next three days in Lake Michigan, seeking national A. A. U. honors.

Medica, national champion in the middle distances for the past three years and victor in the Olympic 400 meters, will defend titles in the 220 and 440-yard events, and Fick will try for another 100-meter championship.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Play in the City golf tournament for women, over the Country club course, will begin on Monday, Sept. 15. Qualifying will be through Friday of this week after which pairings for first round of play will be made.

Arbitrary fee of $1 is being charged, covering green fees or qualifying and match play until the participant is eliminated. Women of Pampa are urged to register and play their qualifying round immediately.

The winner of the championship light will receive the Bill Jarratt trophy for next year. It is now in possession of Mrs. Del Love, wife of the club professional. Mrs. Art Swanson held the cup in 1935. The player winning it twice becomes permanent holder.

Prizes for runner-up and for winners of other flights will be selected by the tournament committee.

ROSWELL, MONAHANS EVEN LEAGUE SERIES

MONAHANS, Sept. 8 (AP)—The Roswell Sunshiners and the Monahans Trojans play the final game of the series here tonight for the privilege of meeting Wink for the championship of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Sunshiners evened the series last night by defeating the Trojans 2-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Grover Miller.

CHAPTER XII
The two girls quickly followed Tom Forrest into the speedboat's cockpit.

"Hadn't you better stay aboard the yacht?" he asked.

Melita shook her head stubbornly. "We're going with you."

"That's probably the best plan," Mac agreed. "No telling what might happen if we leave them on the 'Mistral' alone. That fellow seems to be everywhere at once. Hang on a minute, Tom. I'm going to grab up a couple of revolvers from the cabin."

His brother stepped on the starter, bringing the motor to life with a roar. "Good idea!"

In a moment Mac was back, two belts and holsters in his hand. He leaped over the rail and handed one to Tom Forrest. "Let's go..."

After leaving Mac Forrest in the speedboat at the north end of the island Grant Harper skirted closely along the wood. He wished now he had not left the 'Mistral' in such a hurry, for he was completely unarmed, and the more he considered the story Melita had related the more certain he was that Kay Dearborn was in real danger.

Since that casual glimpse of her in Fairweather Cove he had carried a mental picture of Kay, trim and fresh and eager at the wheel of the little "Chinook." He remembered, too, the clear and pleasant voice which drifted out to him over the waters of the cove that night.

As the 'Mistral' bore on north, he had confided lightly to Mac and Tom Forrest that he wished they had stayed longer at Fairweather Cove. Long enough to really become acquainted with the skipper and crew of the little cruiser. The Forrest brothers had gazed him as part of the game, although they knew Grant Harper to be a serious fellow whose work was both his livelihood and his play. They never dreamed that Kay Dearborn had in reality struck something in Grant's heart, given him a curious feeling at once sad and gay. He had always been a quiet chap, so they failed to perceive that since the night at Fairweather Cove his silence carried a deeper quality.

Now as he skirted the edge of the wood in search of Kay Dearborn, he realized that a quiet life with her. He knew he would willingly risk his life for her.

He had not gone far when he saw the little "Chinook" anchored close to the shore. Although there was no visible sign of life aboard, Harper removed his jacket and shoes, and waded into the water. As quietly as possible he swam toward the cruiser and heaved himself aboard. A quick examination showed her to be deserted—and told him nothing to solve the mystery of what had happened to Kay Dearborn. His jaw set grimly, Harper dived back into the water and swam to shore in swift, powerful strokes.

Hurriedly getting into his shoes, he struck on down the beach, determined now to search every square foot of the island until he had found the girl he sought. Mac Forrest and the waiting speedboat were forgotten. So definite and determined was his purpose that everything else was shut out.

Within an hour he had reached almost the entire east shore of the island, and now he started out across it, heedless of the growing dusk. Remembering the cabin, he decided that Kay's captor would be likely to take her there. As much as the thick growth would permit, he increased his pace, hoping he would be able to find the spot before nightfall.

He was stumbling madly along in the underbrush when something white and moving caught his eye ahead. He ran faster, saw the object suddenly disappear. Then, a hundred yards on, he found Kay Dearborn, prone and cowering. When she looked up from the depression into which she had stumbled in her fright, when she saw that her pursuer was Grant Harper, she began to weep hysterically.

He leaped down, lifted her gently against his shoulder. "Thank God I've found you," he whispered huskily. "Are you all right? Are you hurt?"

Kay shook her head weakly. "Just... just awfully tired."

"My friends and I happened to run in to your cruising mates. How did you get away from the 'Chinook'? There was someone aboard with you, wasn't there?"

"Yes..." She told him what had happened after leaving Melita and Ericilla on shore and boarded the "Chinook."

"You're all right now," Harper told her soothingly. "We can't be far from where the 'Mistral' is anchored—and your friends are safe aboard." Carefully he helped her to her feet. "Do you think you can make it?"

Kay smiled. "I—I think so."

He looked down at her sneakers, torn to shreds by the underbrush. "Good Lord! You'll have to wear my shoes. You can't get anywhere in those."

"What about you?"

Grant Harper laughed. "I never had a pair of shoes until I was 17 or 18. That's my success story and I'll stick to it. Anyhow, my feet are plenty tough."

"You may splash around in these open-work sandals you have on. Poor kid! You must have had the devil's own time there for a while!"

"I've never been so frightened in my life," Kay confessed. "I really wanted to die quickly. It's awful not to know what's going to happen to you."

Harper's eyes narrowed. "I'll get that man if it's the last thing I do."

"Oh, no..." Kay put a hand on his arm. "Let's just get away from this horrible island as quickly as we can. That's all I want to do."

It was not so much Grant Harper's arm about her wrist as his earnestness that buoyed Kay's strength she had believed she would never again possess. Together they stumbled through the darkness, searching for the nights of the "Mistral."

They would never quite forget the moment when the darkness of light flashed over them and a voice said, "Stop where you are! And now follow this light."

Kay knew that voice. Her heart seemed to freeze, and she clutched Harper's arm warningly. They could see nothing. Nothing except the blinding shaft of light thrown full into their faces.

"Don't try to get away, or to attack," the voice said. "Don't attempt that, or I shall have to shoot you down. Just follow the light, as I tell you."

Silently they obeyed. There was nothing else to do. The holder of the flash lamp knew his way well, guiding them faultlessly to a badly kept path. It was covered with weeds, but once it had been clear and the going was comparatively easy along it. Kay and Harper occasionally stumbled, and each time this happened they wondered if their awkwardness might be mistaken for a false move which would bring death from behind that glare of light.

Suddenly the beam went out. "There are steps directly in front of you," the voice said. "You will please go down."

(TO BE CONTINUED)

He also conferred with McCraw and McDonald with a view to the state's retaining mineral rights on any land which might be needed.

The gold ore, reported in a vein north of the Chinook mountains for a distance of 15 miles, assayed $249 per ton. Holbrook said he was informed. The quicksilver was richer than that which has been mined at Terlingua for many years, the tests showed.

GOLD DISCOVERED IN BREWSTER COUNTY VEIN

AUSTIN, Sept. 8 (AP)—The state school fund, criticized by oil developers, had the prospect today of sharing in gold and quicksilver discoveries in Brewster county.

State Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston asked Attorney General W. C. McCraw and Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald to ascertain whether the state still owned the land or whether it had been deeded to the federal government as part of the Big Bend park development project. Holbrook said he understood the federal government had rejected the project.

The admiral in London did not explain the move, but other sources said the ships were ordered to patrol the area "so as to be near possible trouble."

Two French torpedo boats and the French destroyer Iphigene put out from Algiers to the vicinity of the engagement.

The Soviet Union added fresh fuel to the dispute in a second bitter message to Rome. The note declared Italy's denial of the Soviet charge that Italian submarines sank two Russian ships was "entirely unacceptable."

Soviet acceptance of an Anglo-French invitation to attend a twelve-power conference on Mediterranean "piracy" at Nyon, Switzerland, Friday also demanded why Germany had been invited—since she has no direct connection with the Mediterranean.

Sources here were silent on reports that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain had assured Italy that "political questions would not be raised at the conference."

Both British and French quarters insisted the conference would open as scheduled.

Both Italy and Germany may stay away.

New attacks on neutral ships showed plainly that "mystery" vessels terrorizing Mediterranean shipping have not been frightened by French and British men of war.

The $2,000-ton British tanker Harpa was a torpedo target last night off the coast of North Africa, but escaped. Near the Italian island of Rhodes in the Southeastern Aegean sea, the British-registered tanker Pegasus of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company reported she had been halted by a submarine flying the insurgent flag.

And today, near Algiers, the Spanish insurgent cruiser Canarias and seven government warships were reported in a raging naval battle.

In Paris, one section of the French Press joined Soviet officials in accusing Italy of a part in the Mediterranean "piracy."

In junior high, 630 pupils were in their regular classes, but some were still registering. In the high school, sophomores enrolled today but final roll of that class has not been compiled. It is expected to exceed 300 students, Principal L. L. Sone stated. Yesterday seniors and juniors were listed as 172 and 188, respectively, with an expected roll of 225 juniors and 200 seniors by the end of the week. Last year, 870 students attended the high school. This year's enrollment will likely be more than 725.

As yet no school nurses have been employed to fill the vacancies left by the resignation of Miss Myrtle Malais and Llewellyn Shelby recently.

Wallace said that if an ample quantity of food is available there is little need for protection against high costs to consumers. He explained that by "ample" he meant a quantity which would, under ordinary circumstances, yield a fair return to the grower without penalizing the consumer.

Six Chinese craft were killed and three injured when Japanese bombing planes dropped explosives on foreign-owned yachts anchored at Minghong up the Whang-poo. Two of the pleasure craft were sunk.

British observers at Hongkong, British crown colony on the south China coast, reported fear the new phase of the Japanese campaign in south China might be seizure of Hainan island, the largest under Chinese sovereignty.

Three Japanese men-of-war were reported to have visited the island yesterday.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese in the north by Chinese machine gun fire west of Peiping. Strong Chinese mountain positions, using trench mortars and mountain artillery, endangered the ever-extended Japanese flank and at least temporarily prevented a Japanese advance south from the former Chinese capital.

The strategic city of Paoshan, 12 miles north of Shanghai, was wrested from Chinese defenders a third time today after "money-like" Japanese engineers had blasted a way through its 40-foot high walls with bombs strapped to their backs.

"A man may be down, but he is never out—and it is the purpose of the Salvation Army to lift up the man who is down."

Members of the advisory board already have endorsed the Army program in Pampa and Chairman Ted expressed confidence at yesterday's meeting that the local fund campaign will meet with success.

Applications for Crop Loans Due

September 15 is the deadline for Gray county farmers to make application for emergency crop loans for 1938. Mrs. M. H. Weston reminded prospective customers today. Forms may be secured at the office of County Agent Ralph Thomas on the second floor of the courthouse where Mrs. Weston is officing.

Mrs. Weston will take applications for loans which will include seed, and gas, oil and feed, for stock, used in preparing of the ground for planting of the seed.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—The stock market regained its balance today and turned in gains of fractions to a point or more.

Tuesday's war threat scare left an early current of Wall Street fear in its wake and up to mid-day stocks swung irregularly on active dealings. Selling dried up later in most sectors and a creeping recovery set in.

Borger Rodeo Ends With Performance On Tuesday Night A group of Pampans yesterday attended the opening of the Hutchinson County Fair and Rodeo in Borger yesterday. They returned with praise for the excellent exhibits and the good rodeo which was terminated suddenly with last night's performance. No reason was given.

The rodeo was scheduled to continue another day. The fair will continue through tomorrow. Excellent exhibits of farm products raised in Hutchinson county and of manufactured products are on display.

The trippers recommend that Pampans visit the fair. The Pampa delegation was headed by R. E. Allen of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Gray county's delegation was one of the largest attending the meeting. Representatives were present from Pampa, Lefors, McLean, Albreed and from nearly every community in the county, and included county and city officials.

AMARILLO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Delegations of every section of the five-state dust bowl were here today for the conservation conference to discuss the government's gigantic program against recurrent drought.

Julius Cox arrived yesterday as the personal representative of Oklahoma's governor, E. W. Marland. From Albuquerque came Judge Joseph Dailey as personal representative of New Mexico's governor, Clyde Tingler.

Among the legislators due at the meeting, which convened at 10 o'clock, are Senator Carl Hatch and Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, Congressman U. S. Guyer of Kansas, Congressman Sam Massengale of Oklahoma and Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo. Some of the delegations, especially those from the Texas Panhandle, include county commissioners' courts and planning boards in their entirety.

On today's program was a barbecue for the visiting delegations. The meeting was called by the Panhandle water conservation association, of which John McCarty is president. Officials of governmental agencies that will take charge of the water-soil conservation work to which WPA has pledged $40,000,000, yesterday held a conference to coordinate effort. At the conference were Alton Bell, WPA, L. C. Benedict of New Orleans, chief regional engineer for WPA, L. H. Hauter, regional director for the farm security administration, George White Caldwell, state engineer for WPA; J. C. Foster, chief of the land use planning section of the land utilization division of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics; C. Luker, soil conservationist of the soil conservation service.

Mitchell's Apparel For Women. COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN A MATCHLESS BLEND. Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. The skillful blending of leaf with leaf brings out the full delicate flavor and mildness of these choice tobaccos.

"CAN PEOPLE APPRECIATE THE CHOICER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?" A QUESTION FREQUENTLY HEARD... ANSWER: THEY SMOKE MORE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE IN THE WORLD. Men and women respond to the unadorned fact that costlier tobaccos play the most important part in making Camel Cigarettes milder and better. THE deeper you dig into the facts—the more tobaccos can take the place of good tobaccos to start with. As you'd expect, naturally milder, better-tasting tobaccos cost more to buy. And Camel willingly pays millions more to get them. That's why Camels are different—why they appeal more to men and women in all walks of life—why they're the largest-selling cigarette in America... or in the world! "Camels went 'round the world with me. I'll bet on them any time," famous round-the-world reporter, Miss Dorothy Kilgallen, says. "With Camels, steady smoking's a steady pleasure." "I have a long record as a Camel smoker—I've smoked them for many years," Bill Tilden states. "Here's one big point I'd like to make about Camels—they're the cigarette that I've found doesn't upset my nerves." "To me, Camels mean 'Cheer' with a capital 'C,'" the famous motorboat sportsman, George Reis, says. "I also like Camel's hearty flavor. And I like the 'lift' I get with a Camel after I've been through a tough race." "So many girls at college smoke Camels," says Miss Josephine O'Neill, co-ed. "Mental work often has an effect on digestion. I find that during meals and after, Camels make food seem twice as good." "I've been enjoying Camels for years," the famous parachute jumper, Joe Crane, begins. "I've smoked enough of them to prove that Camels don't frazzle your nerves. Flavor? Well, I'd walk a mile for a Camel! You can't beat 'em!" ENJOY BENNY GOODMAN'S SWING BAND FOR A FULL HALF-HOUR! Tune in Benny's popular swingers—hear his famous trio and quartette. Tuesdays—8:30 pm E.
