Auto Crash Didn't Halt Wedding

Bandaged, limping, the result of an auto smashup as they were on their way to the marriage license bureau—well, it made no difference to Bryon A. Maxan, of Oakland, Calif., and pretty Helen A. Keyser, now Mrs. Maxan. They got their license and were married—even though they looked like this when the preacher performed the ceremony.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT RECORD PASSED FOREST FIRES MENACE CALIFORNIA HOMES

MANY FIGHTERS ARE IN DANGER OF BIG BLAZES

Thousands of Acres Are Being Burned Over Now

TRAVELERS ARE MUCH BOTHERED

Cattleman Is Arrested for Setting Fire to Brush

VENTURA, Calif., Sept. 17. (AP)—A fire that started from a broken electric power line and whipped itself into a 7,000-acre inferno when fed by boiling oil from a tank that exploded from the resulting heat threatened the homes of Santa Paula canyon near here today. A force of 200 men battled to save the homes after police had ordered them vacated as a safety measure.

Damage estimated at about $2,000,000 had been done by the blaze, and it still was burning with terrific force, although it had been partially controlled. Fire wardens said many homes still were in danger, but they hoped to entirely subdue the blaze before it had destroyed much more property. The fire started yesterday five miles north of Santa Paula.

Another serious fire, fanned by a stiff wind, blackened several thousand acres between Sage and Temecula in Riverside county. Pete Spadoni, a cattleman of Sage, was arrested and charged with starting the fire. The complaint was filed by Mrs. Loren Tucker, who said she saw Spadoni touch a match to the brush.

Fire fighters as well as travelers in the Riverside county district were harassed by a stiff wind which sent stinging particles of sand flying through the air. Travel over the foothill and valley boulevards between the San Bernardino-Riverside district and Los Angeles was routed over a more southern route as swirling drafts of dust obscured the countryside. Cars which ploughed through the drafts had the paint scorched from their windward sides.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17. (AP)—An army of weary, sleepless men were stationed along far flung fronts in the foothills of the Cascades today watching the progress of a forest fire that in its erratic progress since Sunday had blackened 15,000 timbered acres, destroyed six houses, a school, a logging camp, two temporary forestry camps, trapped 200 fighters and sent one workman to a hospital violently insane.

Classmates Act as Pallbearers Today at Girl's Funeral

Funeral services for Miss Lareva Atkinson, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Atkinson, who died Sunday, were conducted at the Malone funeral home at 1 o'clock this afternoon after which the body was taken overland to Amarillo for burial in the Odd Fellows Memorial cemetery. The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, pastor of the First Methodist church, was in charge of the service.

Classmates of the girl, who graduated last spring from Central high school, and school friends served as pallbearers and flower girls. The pallbearers were: Perry Morgan, Ulysses Thorne, Robert Mullen, Chester Carlson, Virgil Smith, and Harold Holmes. The flower girls were: Miss Helen Myers, Miss Dorothy Mullen, Miss Cornelia Barrett, Miss Beulah Lane, and Miss Mary Patton. Many other school friends and teachers were present for the last rites.

No Pay Available In Cook County for 4,000 Employees

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. (AP)—It was semi-monthly pay day for 4,000 Cook county employees yesterday, but they didn't get paid. County Controller William J. Graham said he doubted if they would be paid for two or three months.

"Our pay roll of approximately $400,000 fell due yesterday, but instead of mailing checks we locked the rolls up in the vault," Graham said. "Of course, the employees will have to be paid some time, but when nobody knows."

The shortage in the corporate fund was explained by the controller as being due to the 1920 reassessment which not only has delayed tax collection but has resulted in valuations considerably lower than those anticipated by the budget makers.

MORSE TEST HAS MOVED GUSHER AREA

Thousand Barrels for Section 69 Very Unusual

Deepened three feet from the first pay to flow natural, and taken to a total depth of 2,763, Ochiltree et al's No. 1 J. S. Morse today as reported doing 1,000 barrels daily to open a new high production spot in Central Gray county.

The sensational find is in the southwest portion of the northeast quarter of section 69, block B-2, A. C. H. & B. survey. It is about 7 miles east and 3 miles south of LeFors in the rather erratic granite wash area south of the North Fork.

Initial production was said to have been 85 barrels an hour, which while settling is still at an unusual total for the area. It is the largest production east of LeFors, but there are small wells beyond it in an easterly direction. The well furnishes definite proof, apparently, that the high production formation may be found still further along the river trend, almost in a straight line with the LeFors and Finley-Brown, and Bowers McGee pools.

GRAF MEETS ECKENER

FRIEDRISHSHAFEN, Ger., Sept. 17. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, with 92 passengers aboard including Mrs. Eckener, wife of the commander, took off at 4:12 a. m. to greet the steamship New York, with Dr. Hugo Eckener aboard, as it reached the mouth of the Elbe river this afternoon.

MANY ROOMS TOO CROWDED WITH PUPILS

Baker Building Is One of Those Most Jammed

NEW FRESHMEN STILL ARRIVING

Fifteenth Bus Is Added to Big Fleet Today

Surpassing yesterday last year's peak of 2,300, enrollment in the Pampa Independent School district's mammoth educational system was continuing to mount today, according to Supt. R. B. Fisher.

This time last year saw an enrollment of only 1,700. Indications are that a total of more than 2,600 will be reached before the year is out. Trustees of the district have added five new teachers, but the main problem is where to put instructors and pupils. Some rooms have as many as 51 pupils, and none less than 28, despite the use of every housing facility. The Baker school is overwhelmed with pupils and is using cottages as well.

Yesterday the grades received a number of new pupils and the junior high school several additional freshmen. It is known that registration of late pupils will continue for several weeks, despite the necessity for beginning work as soon as possible. Kingsmill and Hoover schools likewise reflect the increasing population in the district.

Today the fifteenth school bus was added to the fleet that is carrying the children here for their educational training. This bus serves the Western carbon company and several oilfield camps which are in the independent district. Present conditions necessitate emergency steps to care for the children, and school officials are wondering what will be necessary before the year is out. The juvenile population of the district is regarded as one of the surest indications of the growth of the community. Approximately the taxable valuations of the district rank among the highest in the state in proportion to enrollment.

POLICEMAN IS KILLED
HAYWARD, Cal., Sept. 17. (AP)—Apparently crazed by drink, Joe Cataldi, 7, fruit buyer, shot and killed one policeman, wounded another and held a score of others at bay for two hours last night until he was captured after being routed from his barricaded residence by tear bombs. George Vierra was the officer killed. Al La Cunha, a constable was wounded.

Room for Much Growth in City Is Seen From Air

Pampa can easily grow to be a city of 30,000 population without extending the city limits, it would appear from the air. Looking at Pampa from the ground it seems to be a compact little city, but from the air there is a great difference in its appearance. Large vacant spaces appear in every part of the city with the exception of the main business district.

Harry E. Hoare of the News staff, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw and Dr. J. G. Moore, Tate-Lax representative, took a flight over the city and surrounding country Sunday afternoon in the Pampa Refining company's Ryan five-passenger plane with Boyd Kennedy piloting the ship.

Before leaving the ground the party instructed Boyd to "give them a thrill" and the latter did. The big cabin "job" rose from the local airport with out a quiver and after circling the city at about 1,000 feet the pilot put the ship into a near vertical position and "started for the clouds." When at approximately 3,000 feet, the ship was nosed over and the ground came up to meet it. When about 500 feet from the earth the ship was again sent up. When leveled off near the terra firma the monster was making 180 miles an hour. After a climb of more than 1,000 feet the plane leveled off and was still making more than 100 miles an hour. Then came a ride over the country and the rain storm. Windows were rolled up and riding in the big ship was much more comfortable than that of a pullman car. The ship landed as the storm burst and was rushed into the hangar.

Hundred Oil Men Invited to Chamber Dinner

On Monday night, September 23, the Chamber of Commerce will give a dinner to the oil men of the Pampa area. It will also be the regular monthly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce.

More than 100 invitations have been sent out to the oil men. Baker Saulsbury, chairman of the oil and gas committee of the Chamber will preside. Central high school's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

Judge Ivy Duncan will make the address of welcome for the Chamber and one of the visitors, not yet determined, will respond. A large attendance is expected, according to Geo. Briggs, secretary, and a general good time for all is assured.

MANY GIVING UP POST OFFICE BOXES

Postmaster Must Know Full Number by Sept. 20

More than forty per cent of the post office boxes have been released by those holding them, in favor of boxes on free city delivery routes, according to an announcement of Postmaster Wm. Crawford this morning. There had been predictions that only 15 per cent of the boxes would be released. It was pointed out by the postmaster that the people have responded heartily to the city delivery project. Some of the first to give up their boxes were old-timers who have had boxes in the post office since 1905, a period of twenty-four years. Some of the citizens who have been here the longest, in fact, are giving up their boxes sooner than the new residents.

The postmaster expressed appreciation for the aid given by the B. C. D., the Chamber of Commerce, the Lion's club, the citizens of Pampa, and the Daily News. He expressed appreciation also for the response of the citizens in placing boxes.

It is imperative that the post office know by Sept. 20 how many citizens living on the three routes mapped out are willing to give up their post office boxes, so that those living outside the delivery routes can get their mail in the post office.

In addition to the carriers already appointed on routes 1 and 2, M. E. Clay has been appointed for route 3.

Miss Maxine Gwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Gwin, is to leave Thursday for Lubbock, where she will attend Texas Tech.

HARMON PAPER IS AVAILABLE RANGER SAYS

Clifford Braly Calls for Enforcement of Laws

BORGER, Sept. 17. (AP)—Ben F. Allred of Borger, former district attorney at Wichita Falls and a former assistant federal district attorney at Fort Worth, has been named by Judge E. J. Fickens to fill the place of John A. Holmes, Hutchinson county district attorney, slain last Friday, until an appointment is made by Governor Dan Moody.

BORGER, Sept. 17. (AP)—The death bed confession of Roy Harmon, alleged bank robber, reported missing from the files of John A. Holmes, slain Hutchinson county district attorney, is available when wanted, Ranger Captain Frank Hamer said here today. He would not discuss the document further than to make this assertion.

Attorneys assisting officers in seeking a motive for the shooting of the attorney last Friday night and the slayer, however, indicated the paper might not have been missing.

The document was first reported missing when officers examined Holmes' files in the hope that they might be able to find a motive for the ambush slaying. It had been said the attorney recently was seen with the paper.

John T. Buckley, former law partner of Holmes, after a study of the document, expressed the opinion that it would be of little value in a court trial. The statement was alleged to have implicated a man now under arrest in the slaying of two deputy sheriffs here in 1927.

BORGER, Sept. 17. (AP)—Texas Rangers, aided by Hutchinson county officers, continued their search here today for the slayer of John A. Holmes, prosecutor for this county. As far as could be learned no new clues either as to the motive or the perpetrator of the crime had been uncovered.

Holmes was buried at Panhandle yesterday in an impressive ceremony in which more than 2,000 people took part. The Baptist church there was too small for the crowd, and several hundred were unable to attend the ceremony.

Clifford Braly, district attorney at Pampa, who is taking over the duties of Holmes office until the position is filled, touched the high spot of the ceremony when, in an impassioned address at the grave, he called upon all law abiding citizens to take up the fight which Holmes was waging against lawlessness and to carry it to a successful end.

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., and the Rev. D. H. Truhitt, ministers of the Pampa Christian and Baptist churches, respectively, were among the ministers having a part in the funeral of the slain prosecutor. Sheriff E. S. Graves of Pampa and District Attorney Clifford Braly were active pallbearers.

In the meantime formal charges of murder were prepared against two of three people held in connection with the fatal stabbing Sunday night of Melvin P. Hotchkiss. Hotchkiss was stabbed while trying to subdue two of his guests at a party who were scuffling. His death brought the total of murders in Borger in the last three years to more than a score.

Funeral services were held for Hotchkiss last night and his body was sent to Denver for burial.

THE FAR-REACHING EFFECTS of the establishment of the federal farm board are hard to estimate. Texas financial leaders recently went on record favoring the organization of county cooperative marketing associations under supervision of local bank to handle money secured from the $500,000,000 federal agriculture relief fund.

Opponents of cooperative movements must be confounded by the sponsoring of the movement by both the federal government and the financial giants of the country. But steps in line with the movement are virtually mandatory if Texas is to receive her share of the millions set aside to help the farmer.

The big question, it seems to the writer, is whether cooperative organizations shall be sufficiently amenable to regulations. Officers and directors should be supervised somewhat after the plan of the federal land bank, otherwise there would be no way to prevent misapplication of federal funds. The suggestion that county organizations be under control of local banks is both commendable and doubtful as to details. Not all bankers have the same attitude toward agriculture. Not all banks will welcome the intrusion of cheap farm loans.

Nor are all counties organized in their leading crop marketing activity. The county cooperative plan should induce the farmer to make a closer study of the financial basis of relief than any previous movement. The machinery which must be set up on his behalf, moreover, will be tremendously extensive.

TEXAS RAILROADS WILL SPEND MILLIONS to remove steep grades in their lines. They propose to spend 75 millions in the next decade. This immense sum set aside for seemingly unproductive work is hard to fathom. Railway engineers tell us, however, that even a 2 per cent grade is very expensive. It means loss of time, more spent for salaries and fuel, and lowered capacity in tonnage.

An investment is best measured in terms of its cost, versus the cost of NOT making it. The difference is often astounding. And often some minor appliance or virtual necessity will mean increased production, greater business opportunities, or needed leisure. Probably every person lacks some bit of equipment, some technical training, or other asset which would increase his efficiency or add to his happiness. To look only at the cost is to miss the point. It is the difference between the cost and the output which justifies the expenditure. The main reason why men go through life with one collar button is that they lack imagination. They may have similar parallels in their businesses.

A writer recently mentioned the instance of the Oriental harvester who in gathering pumpkins put a stone on one end of a stick to balance the pumpkin on the other in carrying on the shoulder. Asked why he did not put a pumpkin on BOTH ends of the stick, he replied that "My father harvested pumpkins this way." Not even Americans are exempt from such absurdities.

Often the best way to "make the grade" is to remove the grade altogether.

NEW MEXICO IS INVESTIGATING charges against a highway department equipment engineer who is alleged to have "framed" purchases to his own profit and that of the company getting the orders. His was allegedly a "hotel room" deal, which a rival company's representative and others interested overheard by use of a microphone secreted in a desk.

Bidding upon public work has become too much of a back room proposition—of good-will drinking parties leading up to the deal, of pre-arrangements between bidders and engineers, of unequal prices upon materials, or agreements between bond buyers in order to prevent hurtful competition, and of propagandizing areas where bond elections are in view. And when matters have to be taken into the courts, as in the New Mexico instance, public confidence is badly shaken.

Texas will defeat any statewide bond issue which would place $100,000,000 or more in the hands of just a few men to spend over a short period of time. The best three men in Texas could not be expected to spend so much wisely. It would be more logical to vote a lesser sum, and, if this were spent satisfactorily, to vote additional funds on a similar

Education is costly, but a number of Pampa parents would gladly pay even more if the teachers would take charge of the "kids" all the time, instead of only a part time basis.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — For more than a year now, Senator Brookhart's committee investigating federal patronage has been digging up the dirt in the purchase and sale of federal offices which everyone knew lay below the surface but which no one had ever exposed before in a large way. The investigation has been more or less coincident with an announced change of patronage policy on the part of the administration and the general result has been that Republican bosses in the south are finding poor pickings instead of their customary profitable assessments on federal officeholders who owe them their jobs.

The Brookhart committee has actually been into Georgia and Texas and, sitting in Washington, has heard witnesses from South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi and Kentucky.

Investigating a Suicide
First off, the committee went into Georgia. The investigation originally was aimed at conditions there. Senators George and Harris, following the suicide of a postmaster who was reported to have been sorely harassed for political contributions, demanded it and Senator George introduced the resolution on which the inquiry was based.

There the committee found four or five men who had set up shop as the Republican party of Georgia, headed by Ben Davis, Republican national committeeman. Davis was drawing $250 a month. The state treasurer drew the same. The committee seized an assortment of cards which gave the names of postmasters and postmistresses and their periodical payments to the "party". This was the money that went to pay salaries and expenses. Expenses were incurred when a collector went around and rounded up the delinquents. Also when Ben Davis used to leave to go to Washington to see about the federal appointments.

It was charged that as much as $600 had been paid for a single rural letter carrier's job. It was testified, for instance, that John W. Martin, treasurer of the Republican state central committee, had offered a re-appointment of one postmistress for a contribution, mentioning the sum of $500. The money wasn't paid and there was no reappointment. In Georgia, as in other states, there was testimony that federal jobs were bartered on a basis of returned contributions if the contributor didn't get the job. Sometimes the job-seekers got their money back in such cases and sometimes not.

What Happened in Mississippi
Partly through the committee and partly through the Department of Justice, the Perry Howard organization in Mississippi appears to have been thoroughly exposed. Howard had a $6000 job here as special assistant attorney general and maintained offices on Pennsylvania avenue, where he dealt with patronage. One Mr. A. P. Russell testified that from Howard wired him to come to Washington and "bring recommendations" it meant to bring $1500 for a marshaling. Russell did and got the job. Then he resigned because "those negroes down there wanted to sell pumpkins around the office, and Patton (a close friend of Howard) wanted to lie around the office drunk."

Russell said his successor paid $2000 for his appointment. Howard was indicted last year and prosecuted by Mabel Willebrandt, but was acquitted. The committee heard evidence tending to show that one federal officeholder lost his job because he testified against Howard. The record also shows that Howard deposited $31,000 in banks while in Washington, above his salary.

All's quiet on the Pampa front. "Congratulations", says a prominent Borger citizen to us.

It is reported that professional gunmen occasionally come through this city looking for possible "business." Our jail is crowded, but a gunman by the name of "vag" is just as welcome a behind-the-barrest as any other nuisance. This Panhandle country just shouldn't be healthy for gunmen.

The Panhandle is in the "white" of good business area of the nation's commercial condition map. Unfortunately Borger is also on the map at this time. But other Panhandle cities can help her clean up by keeping out undesirable.

ROOKIE ACES IN PLAY-OFF SURE TO BE VITAL

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Sept. 17. (AP)—Three rookie pitchers, two of them fresh from the wide open spaces of the West Texas league, promise to play prominent roles in the duel for the 1929 Texas league flag starting tomorrow at Wichita Falls. It would not be surprising if between them, they walked off with a lion's share of the series glory.

The ringleader of the trio is, of course, Victor Frazier, the Steers young phenom, who has come up to prove himself one of the circuit's outstanding tossers since the second half began. It already is certain the husky 26-year-old star will face the Spudgers in the series opener. Manager Milt Stock regards him as his best bet.

The two other tyros who promise to break into the picture are Lester White, the Spudgers' sensational rookie right-hander from Abilene, and little Gene Moore, sturdy pitcher, who joined the Steers from Midland two weeks before the season closed.

White finished the season with a record of seven victories and no defeats, including a win over the Steers. He is said to be begging for a shot at the first half champions, and, despite his inexperience, many expect Jim Galloway to start the youngster in one game.

If Moore sees service in the series it probably will be in a relief role, but there is no reason to believe he cannot hold his own. He won both his starts for Dallas, allowing four hits in one and five in the other and exhibited splendid control for a southpaw.

A Spud moundster whom the pre-series guessers appear to have overlooked, but who may be heard from before the dust has settled, is Chick Galera, bespectacled southpaw, who was farmed out in mid-season, but returned to the eligible list for the playoffs.

Of all the Wichita flingers, he had the greatest success against Dallas during the season, winning three games and losing none. He compiled this record before the Steers hit their real stride, however, and it is possible Galloway does not take the mark seriously.

George Payne, the Spuds' logical starting pitcher, was ahead of the Mavs for the season, beating them twice and losing one. Andy Messenger, who is expected to occupy the Oiler hillock in the first game if Payne does not, dropped two decisions to Dallas after joining Wichita Falls. Records of other Wichita pitchers against Dallas are: Wilts, won 3 and lost 2; Steegrafe, won 1 and lost 2.

Birmingham Is Southern Champ

ATLANTA, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Southern association officially closed yesterday with the Birmingham brigade boss of the field.

Clarence Rowland's Nashville volunteers, a dangerous threat until the final stretch of the race, licked the Barons in a game yesterday to remain in second place ahead of New Orleans.

Birmingham will play a number of exhibition games during the week to keep in form while awaiting the result of the playoff between Dallas and Wichita Falls, winners of the split season in the Texas league.

The Barons' opponents in the exhibition games will be a team of picked players from semi-professional nines and will be staged in different cities of the state.

The 1929 pennant is the sixth won by Manager Jonathan Gordon Dobbs Johnny to the fans throughout the Southern association circuit. Five of the Southern circuit and one as pilot of the Chattanooga club in 1909 when that city was in the Sally league. The other pennants were: New Orleans in 1915 and 1918; Memphis in 1924 and with Birmingham the last two seasons.

Cub Office Is Swamped by Orders for Series Tickets

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. (AP)—Certified checks and postal money orders for approximately 1,200,000 good American dollars, covering applications for world series seats in Wrigley field have been received at the Cub offices.

Of course part of the negotiable paper must be returned to disappointed applicants for there are not that many dollars worth of seats available, but neither the two world series between the Yankees and Giants, nor the two Cardinal-Yankee struggles inspired as many fans to send in bids for tickets.

ALL SEATS IN ATHLETIC PARK ARE SOLD OUT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17. (AP)— It required only one short working day for the Philadelphia Athletics to dispose of all their tickets for the world series here with the Chicago Cubs.

"We are sold out for the series; it will be impossible to consider any further applications for seats," was the word given out today by club officials.

The club had announced that beginning yesterday at 12:31 a. m. mail requests for reservations would be received. Immediately after that hour thousands of fans dropped letters into the mails. The orders were in such volume that the club engaged a clerical force of 35 men and women and rented a nearby vacant factory to handle the business.

After more than 35,000 letters had been received, most of them requesting two tickets, the maximum to one person, the club lost interest as the capacity of Shibe park was already far over-subscribed. The reserved seat capacity of the park is less than 37,000. During the day it was estimated that requests were received for approximately 75,000 tickets.

Beaumont First Club in Need of Another Skipper

BEAUMONT, Sept. 17. (AP)—Beaumont, with the resignation yesterday of Manager Claude Robertson, became the first Texas league club to enter the market for a new manager for 1930.

Robertson obtained his unconditional release so he will be a free agent in making any contract he wishes for 1930. Robertson, it is understood, was dissatisfied because he was unable to obtain the reinforcements he considered necessary for the last half of the Texas league campaign this year. He, and Rube Stuart, owner of the club, said their relations had always been most pleasant and expressed admiration for each other.

Cornhuskers Give Attention to Freshmen

By J. H. ANDERSON,
Associated Press Sports Writer

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 16. (AP)—Nebraska freshmen gridsters—the boys who will uphold Cornhusker football prestige in the next four years—will not be slighted in a program outlined by the new head coach, Dana X. Bible.

There will be a regular freshman squad, and in addition an intramural league for the others. As a player in the league shows ability he will be transferred to the regular varsity squad; if a squad member needs more experience or fails to play up to standard, he will be "farmed out" to the league.

Two games were down for the freshmen this year under a new Big Six ruling. Missouri will be played at Lincoln and Oklahoma at Norman.

But while the freshmen coaching staff is drilling Husker football into the high school stars, Bible and his assistants have a more vital work. They must mold a Cornhusker team to defend the Big Six title and maintain Nebraska's excellent record in intercollegiate conflicts.

The first three games on the schedule bring the Cornhuskers against three strong teams from other sections—Southern Methodist, Syracuse and Pitt. Then the Big Six schedule begins with Missouri, Husker nemesis for the three seasons preceding 1928, and continues straight thru against Kansas, Oklahoma, Kansas Aggies, and Iowa State with only one open date.

Nebraska this year hasn't Howell, all conference fallback, whom critics thought deserved All-American rating. It will miss the pitir center of the line—Jed Jahn shrdlu et benstn Ted James, center and Elmer Holm and Dan McMullen (second M cap) guards. Three tackles, another guard, a reserve center, an end and a quarterback of last year's team also were lost by graduation or ineligibility.

Coach Bible, an exponent of the open game, does not plan to do away with the favorite Cornhusker plays of the past seasons—plays which pounded at the opposing line until it was shattered wide open. He will use both styes, and a team from the state he left to direct Nebraska football—Southern Methodist at Dallas, Texas—will be the first to test out the results of his teaching.

William L. Veck, president of the Cubs, said no less than 200,000 applications have been received, with more pouring in with every mail delivery.

Cornell Football Fights Dismissal

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 17. (AP)—Any chance Cornell may have of lifting her football team from the mediocrity of the past few seasons to the commanding position of old "Big Red" teams rests entirely with the faculty of the university on the hilltop, in the opinion of Gilmore Dobie.

"All I can do," says the tall lean veteran head coach, "is turn out football teams from material that for the most part hasn't even the ability to be mediocre. Two-thirds of the student body have all they can do to master the problems of engineering, let alone football."

There is nothing in the appearance of Cornell's squad to belittle Dobie's statements. He has many men, but few outstanding. From last season's he has lost by graduation all regular line, the strongest part of the eleven, he has lost by graduation all regulars but Sam Wakeman, 170-pound captain and tackle. The most hopeful part of the situation is a fair grade of sophomore material and a better class of freshmen for next fall. The graduate "committee of 17," organized to find out what was wrong with Cornell football, has not reported publicly.

Walker's Title Declared Vacant by Boxing Body

CHICAGO, Sept. 17. (AP)—Mickey Walker's title as world's middleweight champion was vacated by the National Boxing association today because of his failure to defend the crown since June, 1928. The N. B. A. demands that champions defend their titles at least once every six months.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, was restored to good standing by the association because of his championship match against Tony Canzoneri at the Chicago stadium August 2. The "Rockford Sheik" had been slated for the association's black list until he successfully defended his crown against the Italian.

SPUDS ARE NOT REVEALING SERIES HURLER

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 17. (AP)—While the Dallas Steers were steaming north for the Texas League playoff, the Wichita Falls nine took its final workout today, before the opening of the series tomorrow.

Dallas was expected to arrive in time for a limbering up session at Athletic Park. The winners of the first half of the season took it easy yesterday in Dallas and should need little practice to prepare for the series.

Identity of the Spudgers opening battery was as much of a secret today as it was yesterday. Manager Galloway refusing to name his choice, but George Payne was considered the most likely starter. Milton Stock, Dallas pilot, has announced Victor Frazier will fling the first ball for Dallas.

Bud Stapleton, regular first baseman for the Spudders, is the only first string man on either team apt to be missing when the game starts. A death in his family has kept him in the East and probably will prevent his playing. Larry Bettencourt probably will be moved to first with Hermann on third.

The Spudder business office has been deluged with orders for tickets and a sell-out is assured here.

Shoeless Irishman Wants to Fight in Sock Feet—Ruling Is Awaited

SPTS—SHODESS IRISHMAN—24dc
CHICAGO, Sept. 17. (AP)—Can Tim Derry, an Irish giant of St. Paul, 6 feet 5 inches tall, exchange socks with an opponent in his socks? or must he wear shoes?

This weighty problem confronted the Illinois state athletic commission today.

Derry never wore shoes until two years ago, when he reached his nineteenth birthday. Since taking up boxing, the big Irishman found it difficult to move about in the ring with shoes on. So he merely wears a heavy pair of socks, or sometimes battles in his bare feet.

Derry engages another Irishman, Les Kennedy, in an eight-round preliminary to the Tuffy Griffith-Cook bout in the Chicago stadium today night. Kennedy, learning shoes are a handicap to his opponent, insists Derry wear them.

So it's up to the commission. The rule governing ring attire requires boxers wear proper athletic apparel, but says nothing about shoes.

Study Group of A. A. U. W. and the College Club Opens With Increased Membership—Good Program Is Given

Its membership, quota of twenty-five almost complete, and a large group present for the opening meeting, the Study club of the A. A. U. W. and College club yesterday entered what promises to be a year of exceptional interest and educational opportunity.
Mrs. W. J. Smith, president, greeted the members of last year and extended a gracious welcome to those newly enrolled, at the first autumn meeting in the women's parlor of the First Methodist church. At the conclusion of the program she conducted a short business session, in which the members decided to retain the church parlor as the meeting place for the year and to continue holding the regular meetings each first and third Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. T. Fraser, chairman of the program committee, distributed year-books.

Boston reviewed briefly a number of Mrs. Wharton's novels, classifying them in four periods according to their settings. A synopsis of "The Children," together with an analysis of the plot, was given by Mrs. Culberson.

School Nurse Will Be Chosen by McLean Body

MCLEAN, Sept. 17. (Special)—The employment of a Red Cross school nurse has been definitely chosen as the major project of the McLean chapter. Working with the school directly and with the Parent-Teacher associations, the nurse not only will examine each pupil and take measures to improve his physical condition, but she will do community work leading to improved conditions for children of all ages.
The salary set by the Red Cross chapter at a recent meeting was $150 with board and room provided. Disbursement of funds by the chapter to needy transients will be discontinued.

Junior Band Is Being Organized at McLean Now

MCLEAN, Sept. 17. (Special)—A junior band is being organized in McLean high school by Prof. Robert C. Davidson, who has won distinction as a director with the senior band. Twelve students already have secured instruments and enrolled. There is room, however, Mr. Davidson said, for a dozen or more additional members. He expects within the coming twelve months to make the junior organization a prize winning first year band.
Through promotion of junior players, as their progress justifies it, the instrumentation of the senior band will be maintained. Both bands are tax supported, with no expense to the members except for the cost of the instruments. The large drums and horns are property of the organization.
Arrangements for transporting the senior high school band to Amarillo for one day of the Amarillo Tri-State fair are to be made by a committee from the Lions club, including M. D. Bentley and Jesse J. Cobb. The band will give two concerts in front of the grand stand, and as the official band of the day, will be at the command of officials at all hours.

Tri-State Fair Management Chiefly Worrying Over Accommodations for Big Increase in Number of Exhibits

AMARILLO, Sept. 17. (Special)—With the best program of entertainment ever booked for a fair in this territory, and with every department overcrowded with exhibits, officials of the Tri-State fair at Amarillo, September 23 to 28, inclusive, are worried only about accommodating their many exhibitors.
The inauguration of a free gate at the exposition last year poured thousands through the gates each day—so much so that exhibit space is going at a premium for the approaching show. Entries in every department show an increase of 20 to 40 per cent over last year, and many of them will not be closed to competition until the opening day, still a week ahead.
The third greatest premium list ever offered at a Hereford cattle show in the United States is attracting breeders to the Tri-State fair this fall, making this division one of the greatest attractions of the exposition. Officials have set aside $5,000 of the $15,000 in cash prizes for this department alone. Premiums offered at the International Livestock show, Chicago, and the Fort Worth fat stock show only exceed this amount, it is said.
"Amarillo is on what is known as the Hereford circuit," is the way Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the fair, explains this condition. "Hereford breeders show in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, and swing down into Texas before returning through Colorado. And, too, this is one of the greatest Hereford countries."
The dairy cattle department also is being featured, and prizes totaling 3,600 are being offered in the three divisions, Jersey, Holstein, and Guernsey. There will be $2,500 worth of premiums in the swine division.
Interest in the show this year is reflected in the announcement that 20 counties—more than have ever been represented before—in the Texas Panhandle, Eastern New Mexico and Oklahoma already have reserved booths in the agricultural department. At the same time, exhibits in the merchants' building have increased more than 30 per cent, new booths have been built, and now the building is overflowing.
Added attractions this year will include a horse show and a dog show, the latter under the auspices of the American Kennel club. This section is becoming noted for its fine saddle horses and good dogs, and entries in both will be big attractions.
The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which will perform before the grandstand each afternoon and night during the six days, will be the chief entertainment feature. Officials of the company declare that it is the first time in history that their big circus has contracted for twelve consecutive performances in a city the size of Amarillo. The Wortham shows will be seen on the midway this year.
At least 25 concert bands have agreed to attend the fair during the week, and free band concerts will be given twice daily. They also will play for the horse show.
Wednesday, September 25, has been designated Old Settlers' day, and all railroads running into Amarillo have agreed on a one-cent round trip fare to everyone on that day, the lowest rate ever given for any event in Amarillo.
Tuesday will see a conglomeration of the many school children of the Panhandle; Friday will be press day, and Saturday is designated for the United Commercial Travelers' day. The traveling men and editors will be royally entertained this year, according to officials.

Student of Notre Dame Kidnaped and Later Freed DETROIT, Sept. 17. (AP)—Held prisoner since last Wednesday by kidnapers who blindfolded him and chained him to a bed, Matthew Holdreith Jr., 24, son of a restaurant proprietor and a student in Notre Dame university, was found late yesterday and released by police.

Inspector Henry J. Garvin, said he learned Holdreith's father paid $5,000 to his son's abductors Saturday. The youth's release was prevented by the inadvertent capture by police of two of the kidnapers as they left the rendezvous where the elder Holdreith was said to have turned over the money.

Edward Wilds and Frank Hofer, named by Garvin as two of the kidnapers, were taken by police after a running gun fight with a police scout car seeking a stolen taxicab. Police at that time did not know of the kidnaping.

Hoover May Be Able to Attend W. T. C. C. Session WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—President Hoover is preparing to make one four-day trip into the Middle West next month and may follow it shortly afterward, if the congressional session permits, with a visit to Texas.

His middle western trip, as tentatively arranged, will take him to Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville. Leaving Washington October 20, he plans to arrive at Detroit in time to attend the dedication of the Edison laboratory at the nearby Ford plant the next day, and then go to Cincinnati for the opening of the new Ohio River waterway project October 22.

After the Cincinnati celebration, his tentative itinerary calls for a trip aboard a river steamer through a number of the new Ohio river locks to Louisville.

Plans for the Texas trip have not reached such a definite point, being dependent upon adjournment of congress late in October or early in November. The president is still hopeful, however, that he will be able to attend the Gadsden purchase celebration at El Paso and visit Dallas, Houston, and several other cities in Texas.

THIS HAS HAPPENED MOLLY BURHAM, lovely playmate, had an old sweetheart, JACK NORTON, who had been called for Italy with a middle-aged millionaire named MRS. HILLYARD. The millionaire was full of stories about the pair, and Molly is furious. She refuses to let her old sweetheart, JACK, have even her best friend, RED FLYNN, a reporter who usually knows the inside story on such data.

Then along comes BOB NEWTON, with a proposal. Bob is a widower. His first wife was RITA McILNORTON, with whom Molly was engaged to be married. Her death, Molly took her baby. And now she loves Bob as if he were her own. She is constantly tormented with the fear that something will happen through which she will lose little Rita. That Bob, for instance, may marry her sister, who is a very beautiful girl.

But Bob, at the moment, is half way through a rather strange process of thinking. He is trying to marry her, but his technique is being criticized by his sister, who now goes on with the story CHAPTER XXXIX WITH her hands on his chest, Molly held him from her. "Go on, Bob," she commanded. "I'd like to know exactly what you're driving at."

"You're different from most girls," he floundered. Bob cleared his throat with evident embarrassment. "I know I don't give you much of a kick," he admitted. "No," she interrupted coolly. "You don't."

"But that doesn't make any difference," he insisted. "When a girl marries, it's because the man has something she wants. You know, as well as I do, the transiency of passionate love. You know it's not worth building on, don't you? I may not have any particular physical attraction for you. But I have something infinitely more important. I have Rita."

Molly stepped back. "You're not trying to bribe me with Rita, are you?" she asked. "Why, yes," he admitted. "I suppose I am—if you want to put it like that. You see, I know that you don't love me, Molly. I have to advance some reason to argue my case."

"But it's ghastly to talk of marriage without love," she protested. "No," he contradicted calmly. "I don't think it is. There's a chap named Collins—a doctor—who has written some pretty sensible things about love. He says it's a sort of disease, that lasts about two years. Now, you've seen a lot of life, Molly. What's the use of looking for romantic love, when you know it won't last?"

"But I don't know anything of the kind!" she contradicted indignantly. "I'm an incurable romantic!"

HE smiled cynically. "Crying eternally for love, I suppose? No, you can't make me believe that, Molly. Some women are that way, I know. But you're different."

"The next," she flashed. "I shall never be loved enough for my happiness."

"But I love you!" he cried. "Molly, I'm crazy about you! You know that, don't you? I'll love you, dear. I swear it."

She tried to laugh. "But you're not romantic, Bob—not really. You make beautiful, grand professions. But you're not a bit my kind of a sweetheart. You'd never do all the silly, sweet things I'd adore. Why, you'd simply laugh at my adolescent notions!"

"What kind of notions?" he demanded. "What do you mean?" "Silly things," she floundered.

Student of Notre Dame Kidnaped and Later Freed

DETROIT, Sept. 17. (AP)—Held prisoner since last Wednesday by kidnapers who blindfolded him and chained him to a bed, Matthew Holdreith Jr., 24, son of a restaurant proprietor and a student in Notre Dame university, was found late yesterday and released by police.

Inspector Henry J. Garvin, said he learned Holdreith's father paid $5,000 to his son's abductors Saturday. The youth's release was prevented by the inadvertent capture by police of two of the kidnapers as they left the rendezvous where the elder Holdreith was said to have turned over the money.

Edward Wilds and Frank Hofer, named by Garvin as two of the kidnapers, were taken by police after a running gun fight with a police scout car seeking a stolen taxicab. Police at that time did not know of the kidnaping.

Hoover May Be Able to Attend W. T. C. C. Session WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—President Hoover is preparing to make one four-day trip into the Middle West next month and may follow it shortly afterward, if the congressional session permits, with a visit to Texas.

"What kind of notions?" he demanded. "What do you mean?" "Silly things," she floundered.

"I'd love a husband who'd write me love notes every day, and pick me nosegays. And buy me things like lollipops and peanuts, because I like them so. And play the guitar nights, and sing me love songs. And kiss me before and after every meal."

"That sounds like a doctor's prescription," she confessed. "It's awfully silly. But there you are! That's the sort of a husband I want. I tell you I'm a born romanticist. You didn't know that, did you? You never guessed I was one of those dreadful sentimentalists who go round simply screaming for love."

"You're a little liar," he told her coolly. "You're cold as ice, and you know it. You sent Jack Wells away, because he couldn't make money enough to satisfy you. You're playing at love now with Red Flynn."

"That's not true!" she defended herself. "But Bob shook his head. "You're a vain creature, Molly. Love has come to you so often, it's grown a common thing." He was fumbling through his wallet. "I've something to show you. Clipped it out of a magazine yesterday, because it made me think of you. I was sure I stuck it in here somewhere. . . . Oh, here it is."

He held a torn piece of paper to her. "Read it," he said. "It's prophetic."

She took it curiously, and read aloud: "Love came to me so many times. It grew a common thing. I thought that it would always come."

With song-birds in the Spring: And so I dreamed and wondered. What next year's love would be. Until one Spring there came no bird to any blossoming tree."

"It's pretty," she said, shivering delicately. "I suppose it's true too."

"Of course it's true," he told her. "Here's Rita now. . . . Think over what I had to say, won't you? You might go further, you know, and fare worse. Suppose you married Flynn. Your children would have carrot-tops and freckles. Look at my daughter! Did you ever see anything prettier in your life?"

RITA was wearing a cashmere of lilac color, sprinkled with pink blossoms and forget-me-nots. Her linen slippers were gay with embroidery, and her wide-brimmed hat was loaded with tiny fannel flowers. They fluttered from the ends of her snail, and were caught in a perky nosegay on her shoulder.

"Hello, mama! Hello daddy!" She kissed them impartially. "Oh, daddy, I know some new words. Nancy's nurse told us 'Fermes la bouche.' It means 'shut your mouth, daddy.'"

"I told her it was naughty to say that," declared Nurse Marie primly. "Nancy's nurse is a very common person, Miss Burnham. I shan't allow Rita to talk with her again."

"Oh, that's all right," declared Molly easily. "It's time Rita got rough. Don't you agree, Bob?"

"Not both! You run along now, and get Bob's fur. Be a good girl, Precious."

She stooped to kiss Rita, and Bob said again, "Think over what I had to say, won't you?"

"Fermes la bouche," she told him over Rita's head, and laughed because he seemed annoyed.

Says Nerves Were "On Edge" All Time

"When a neighbor of mine told me how much Sargon had helped her, I made up my mind to try it, and now I can't thank her enough."

"For over a year I was in bad health. had a bad case of nervous indigestion and would wake up mornings with a raging headache. My nerves were 'on edge' and I never got a good night's sleep. Even the lightest foods disagreed with me and I was badly constipated."

"I never saw anything to equal the way Sargon ended my troubles. I haven't had a sign of indigestion since I finished the first bottle and I can now actually eat such things as pickles and cabbages without bad after-effects. My nerves are back to normal, the headaches have stopped and Sargon Soft Mass Pills ended my constipation without ever nauseating me at all. I feel just as well now as I could want to—and I give Sargon all the credit."—Mrs. Ed Phipps, 2513 Market St., Fort Worth.

Gray County's First Big Drilling Campaign Was on W. W. Merten Land

Among the holdings left by W. W. Merten, who died Sunday, was the land on which the first large oil drilling campaign in Gray county took place. Mr. Merten held jointly with a brother about a section and a half, but his own holdings in the field comprised about a section.

After the first oil was struck by the Wilcox Oil company on the Coombs and Worley lease, Clark et al drilled a well on the Merten lease. When the first well came in as a producer, the Magonia Oil company began active drilling on its Merten lease. The drilling proceeded rapidly until there were 47 wells on the Merten land. From then on the development of the Gray county field was rapid. The late Mr. Merten's land was located 3 miles south of Pampa, section 82 being the larger tract.

In addition to the oil land which he held, Mr. Merten owned a section of land east of Pampa, a half section north of the city, and he also owned a block and a half at the north end of Frost street where he had planned to build a new residence. Mr. Merten also held half interest in the Wynne-Merten building on North Cuyler. In addition to the Pampa property he also owned three farms in Kansas.

Mr. Merten was a long-time resident of this section, and had hundreds of friends here. "To know him was to love him," were the words of one of his friends, who added: "You had to learn to know him before you began to appreciate him. At first he seemed distant, but when you learned to know him he didn't seem that way."

One premier characteristic attributed to Mr. Merten was his fidelity to his word. Everyone who knew him said, "He was as good as his word." One said of him that if he said he would do a thing he would do it or die.

At 1:12 P. M. this afternoon the blue and yellow Stinson-Detroiter will have reached the 144 hour mark.

Oil Production in Nation Gains Much in Week

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 17. (AP)—Production of light gravity oil in the Oklahoma City field dropped about 2,500 barrels during the week ending Sept. 14—but that means little in view of the big wells being brought in there each week—and despite that total production for the state during the week increased 736,140 barrels daily the previous week to 747,895 barrels last week. The big gain was in the Seminole area.

Total daily United States production for the week ended Sept. 14 was 2,973,822 as compared to 2,951,790 for the previous week, an increase of 22,132 barrels, according to the weekly report of the Oil and Gas Journal. Losses in some of the older fields were offset by gains in Seminole and the Santa Fe Springs area in California.

Production in West Texas fields remained practically stationary, a few hundred barrels decrease in the Yates area being partially offset by slight gains in other fields of that sector.

There was no appreciable change in any of the other fields of the country.

Production of heavy crude dropped about 2,000 barrels, the decrease being in the Southwest Texas field.

Kansas production was 128,740 as compared to 129,835 for the previous week.

Two Panhandle Residents Killed at Portales Monday

Paul Crossman and H. E. Saunders, brother and brother-in-law, respectively, of George Crossman of Panhandle who was injured in an automobile accident at Portales, N. M., yesterday afternoon, left here this morning to drive to the New Mexico town.

George Crossman was badly but not critically cut and bruised. Earl Black and Miss Rowena Upham of Panhandle were killed, and Mrs. Earl Black was seriously hurt when their automobile turned over three times after a rear tire blew out. Mrs. Black was driving.

The party was returning to Panhandle from El Paso at the end of a two-week vacation trip. Mr. Black was a Panhandle contractor. George Crossman, a Panhandle automobile dealer, and Miss Upham, daughter of County Clerk C. L. Upham of Carson county, were understood to have been engaged.

Mrs. Alice Crossman, mother of the injured man, lives here but is now in Amarillo with S. B. Crossman, a son. Mrs. H. E. Saunders and Mrs. W. F. Gilchrist are sisters and Paul Crossman a brother of George Crossman. John Crossman of Oklahoma City is another brother and Mrs. C. C. Biggs of Clarendon another sister.

Funeral arrangements had not been made this morning for the two members of the party who were killed, nor was it known when the injured persons could be taken to Panhandle from Portales.

Does Your Child Need Glasses?

Don't blame your child if he lags behind in his lessons. It may not be his fault; backwardness in children is often due to eyestrain. The right kind of glasses properly fitted will relieve this strain.

- Some indications of defective vision in the child:
- Reddened and watery eyes and eyelids—
 - Persistent headaches—
 - Getting tired easily—
 - A strained posture—
 - Lagging behind in school work—
 - Vomiting at times—
 - Excessive nervousness.
- Children who continually knock things over and are always bumping into objects should not be too readily blamed for being careless or awkward. Their eyes may be at fault.
