MILLIONS WORTH OF MASTER MOVIE FILMS ARE BURNED

LABORATORY IS RUINED IN FIRE THIS MORNING

Only One Death Comes With Blast and Blaze

'HELL'S ANGELS' AMONG LOSSES

Damage Estimate First Is Placed at $50,000,000

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 24. (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed the laboratory of the Consolidated Film Industries here today, causing a loss estimated as high as $50,000,000. Fifty persons fled to safety during intervals between four detonations which wrecked the place. One man was killed.

Losses included the master-films of several new screen productions. Fire department officials said the loss estimates were only tentative, however, and an accurate list of the expensive master films would have to be obtained before a better figure could be given.

The only death was that of Albert Lund, found unconscious near a film polishing machine. He died while being taken to a hospital.

Two women workers, who ran as the first flash of flame spread through the building, said they saw the first explosion occur in a pile of chemicals near one end of the polishing machines in an assembly room. Lund was believed to have been knocked unconscious by the blast and to have lain helplessly as fire swept over him.

C. M. Lockwood, film company executive working in a projecting room, said 35 women and 15 men were in the structure when the first explosion occurred and he had accounted for them all except Lund.

Ben Getz, president of the Consolidated Film Industries, declined to discuss loss of films pending complete investigation.

Great Films Destroyed
Among the master films known to have been in the building were "Hell's Angels," valued at $60,000; "The Taming of the Shrew," produced by Douglas Fairbanks, value not given; "Trespasser," an all-talking production, and "Rio Rita," a talking-singing film.

William LeBaron, vice-president and general manager of Radio-Keith-Orpheum productions, said he believed the first few days' filming of one of his company's most costly productions had been in the building. The structure itself was valued at $400,000.

Fire Spreads Rapidly
Film cutters told of many feet of film lying loose on the floors of cutting rooms, which they had not time to gather up.

The fire spread through the structure rapidly. Five minutes after the initial explosion had warned the workers of danger, a second occurred, which shot flames through windows and ignited several automobiles parked in front of the laboratory.

The interior of the building was wrecked, partitions were blown down and some sections of the outer portion of the structure fell away, but the four main walls remained standing. Fire fighters succeeded in keeping the flames away from the famous Players-Lasky studio on one side and the studio of Radio-Keith-Orpheum on the other.

Stocks Break Again

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—A stock market panic appeared to have been checked early this afternoon, as leading bankers issued reassurances, and prices of various stocks, after declining $10 to $40 a share rebounded sharply.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—Thomas W. Lamont emerged from the bankers conference at the office of J. P. Morgan and company early this afternoon and announced that insofar as the bankers had been able to learn, no financial houses were in difficulty.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—Stocks were again dumped onto the market in terrific volume today, and Wall Street trading facilities again were swamped. Powerful support came into the market during the morning, but by late afternoon a wide assortment of leading issues were depressed $2 to $10 a share, many to new low levels for the year.

EXTENSIVE DRILLING PLANS TO BE MADE FOLLOWING LEASING OF MUCH ACREAGE IN GRAY COUNTY

Prisoners Escape Easily in Temporary Jail Structure

The third jail break in the new prison at the rear of the courthouse since it was finished six weeks ago, resulted in the escape of two prisoners Monday night.

The first break was made about two weeks after it was opened. Two escaped the first time and two the second time. However, as the new jail is being used almost exclusively for persons charged with intoxication or vagrancy, those who escaped were charged with minor offenses. All have escaped through an opening near the roof where the bricks cemented to gether were easily removed.

Paving to County Line on No. 33 Is Opened Wednesday

The last lap of paving on highway No. 33 in Carson county, from White Deer to the Gray county line, was opened to the traveling public yesterday.

A total of eight miles was opened to traffic. There now intervenes about eight miles of unpaved road between Pampa and Amarillo, all in Gray county. Paving of No. 33 was begun six miles west of Panhandle in May.

With the decision to provide a 100-foot right-of-way on 33 in Gray county, the commissioners are planning to get the road in shape for paving. A. H. Doucette appointed by the five members of the jury of view to survey the right-of-way has finished the work but has not yet submitted the field notes to the men.

Killing Frost Is Suffered in Most of Panhandle Area

Freezing temperatures and frost last night for the first time this season left flowers and shrubbery blackened and withering. Much of West Texas suffered similarly.

By the Associated Press

The first real taste of winter was felt in East and West Texas today. Snow which started falling Wednesday and continued throughout the night today had spread a white mantle over the Davis mountains in the Alpine district. It was the earliest snow in many years, old timers were quoted. The first killing frost recorded in the state this season was reported over a vast area of West Texas, and a temperature of 32 degrees resulted in a similar situation in the Jefferson section of East Texas.

Around Floydada, in the far western part of the state, a light frost, the first of the season, Tuesday night was followed last night by a much heavier one, proving ruinous to vegetation. Lowest temperature at Floydada was 28 degrees.

Freezing temperatures were reported last night as far south as Abilene. In the Dallas section the minimum temperature was 38 degrees, with light frost reported in scattered places.

That many new locations will be made in wildcat and proved oil and gas territory in Gray county soon is indicated by the many leases, assignments, and transfers that are now being made here.

D. D. Harrington recently leased one-sixteenth interest in all of section 8, block 1, A. W. Wallace survey, to Delmar Oil company.

A. W. Dustin leased one sixty-fourth interest in the south one-half of section 33, block B-2, and one thirty-second interest in the southeast quarter of section 28, block B-2, to Glen Dial Royalties, Inc.

Frank W. Miller leased to a new company, Western Royalty company of New York, one thirty-second interest in 160 acres of the Anna Thut from which joins the city of LeFors on the north. Leasing has been particularly active in the LeFors territory for the past month.

J. S. Morse, M. E. Morse and W. H. Hall have leased to Robert Dunlop, who later assigned the acreage to C. K. Dawson, the following: Southeast quarter of section 16, block A-9; south one-half of the southwest quarter of section 17, block A-9; a total of 80 acres.

Midwest Exploration company has leased east 80 acres of the north 320 acres of section 47, block 25, to Har-dendorf Drilling company of Arizona. Danciger Oil and Refining company has released oil and gas leases in section 86 to Myrtle Davidson and E. F. Vanderburg.

In the belief that many persons wishing to see "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," all-color, all-talking movie masterpiece, the Rex theatre management today announced that the picture would be retained for showing today and tonight.

Crowds have been standing in front of the theatre each evening and a number of persons who could not wait were unable to get seats.

Plaintiff Gets $280 Damage in Santa Fe Suit

Approximately $280 for the plaintiff C. H. Clark, was awarded last night by the jury in his suit against the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad company for damages done to horses while they were being shipped from Mertzon to Hoover.

The suit lasted three days. Mr. Clark has a ranch north of Pampa. Testimony revealed that the horses were injured while in the car by switching and later died.

A jury was being selected this morning to hear a suit in which Arnold Oil and Drilling company is suing Eli Howell and others. W. M. Lewright is representing the defendant and Clayton Heare of Shamrock and Judge Newton P. Willis are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Crown Prince of Italy Fired Upon While at Tomb

BRUSSELS, Oct. 24. (AP)—A shot was fired at Crown Prince Humbert of Italy today as he was about to lay a wreath upon the tomb of Belgium's unknown soldier. The prince arrived here yesterday to celebrate his betrothal to Princess Marie Jose of Belgium. The assassin was believed to be an Italian war veteran.

The driver of a motorcycle which had preceded his automobile to the tomb threw himself at his assailant as he fired and knocked his hand down, causing the shot to strike the ground. The prince was not injured.

Police and gendarmerie arrested the man immediately. The crowd took a minute to realize what had happened and then attempted to lynch the man. The officers were hard put to keep him from the mob.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 24. (AP)—Crown Prince Humbert, after his return from the unknown soldier's tomb where he escaped assassination, was receiving members of the Italian colony when his fiancée, Princess Marie Jose arrived. She hurriedly ran to him and fell in his arms, kissing him passionately.

MOODY TALKS TO THOUSANDS OF DELEGATES

Expected Opposition to Continuance Is Missing

LUBBOCK HAS SUGGESTIONS

Nationwide Advertising Is Recommended in Letter

BY FRED DYE

Associated Press Staff Writer
EL PASO, Oct. 24. (AP)—Hordes of delegates from the Panhandle-Plains and the oil belt came to El Paso today and added enthusiasm to the eleventh annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which, through deliberation of its board of directors, already was a deep deed in consideration of ways and means of paying off approximately $20,000 in indebtedness and going ahead in 1930.

Arriving delegates found a damp, cold city still held in the grasp of a vicious norther and with grey, low, hanging clouds overhead instead of El Paso's vaunted winter sunshine. Gay decorations hung wet and limp, and delegates hastened to Liberty hall rather than explore the famous old city and its adjoining neighbor, Juarez, in the rain.

Moody Speaks
After the usual chorus singing and massed band playing, the high light of the opening session was a speech by Gov. Dan Moody at 11:30 a. m. (Mountain Time). The afternoon program included group meetings, a military review and various other entertainment features.

A big delegation from Lubbock and surrounding territory of the Panhandle-Plains, where there has been much talk of splitting away from the West Texas Chamber and organizing a separate Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, brought an eight-page, typewritten recommendation for the rebuilding of the West Texas Chamber.

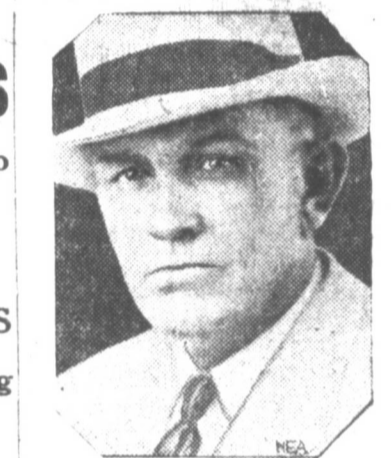

The letter, bearing the signature of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, included suggestions that a nationwide advertising campaign be adopted, that the directorate be "workable size and not over 30 in number," that a business-like organization be made and that a definite program of work out-lined.

Five Thousand Present
While visiting delegates, estimated today to number from four to five thousand, will have the unusual pleasures of chicken fights, jousts with hot Tom and Jerry and bull fights, they will be no gambling in Juarez during the convention. Reopening of the Casino led to reports that gambling would be made possible for the next three days despite President Portes Gil's proclamation to the contrary, but S. G. Gonzales, proprietor of that place as well as the famous Central Cafe, denied there would be any wagering.

EL PASO, Oct. 24. (AP)—Its financial difficulties temporarily shelved, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today prepared for the formal opening of its "farthest west" convention, with an address by Governor Dan Moody as the principal item on the program.

Finances came to the fore last night when attention of directors and voting delegates was called to talk of dissolution or reorganization due to indebtedness of the organization, variously estimated at from $18,000 to $25,000. Determined to halt this talk, the directors named a special committee to work out a solution. At preliminary conferences, this committee found the picture wasn't so black as it was at first painted. To meet obligations, pledges of about $12,000 were available, and the committee apparently felt directors themselves would make up the remainder.

To Tame Borger

The man who tamed Mexia, Texas, after an oil boom and martial law had given it the reputation of being one of the wildest of western towns, has been given the same task at Borger, another Texas boom town. Above is Albert R. Mace, for seven years chief of police at Mexia and a former Texas Ranger, who has been appointed chief of police at Borger, martial law there having been lifted with his appointment.

CLINT SMALL TO SPEAK AT M'LEAN SOON

M'LEAN, Oct. 24. (Special)—Senator C. C. Small of Wellington, author of the Small land bill, will speak here Monday, Oct. 28 on "Validation of Land Titles Affecting River Beds and Vacancies and Excesses."

The address will be made at the high school auditorium, and the high school band will play half an hour before the speaking.

Senator Small has the backing of all West Texans in his demands that Texas keep faith with her citizens and land owners, and it is expected that the audience will include residents of a wide area.

PERRYTON NOT COMING HERE ON ARMISTICE DAY

That Perryton citizens will consent to no arrangement to bring the Armistice day game to Pampa was made known this afternoon.

Dr. R. A. Webb, representative of the American Legion, which agreed to underwrite a local game for $1,000, talked to Perryton school officials today by telephone, and said that the latter would insist on the game being played in Perryton.

NO TRACE OF DITEMAN SEEN AT ANY PLACE

LONDON, Oct. 24. (AP)—An eager but fruitless watch was kept throughout the night on the Irish coast and at Croydon for Urban F. Diteman.

What little hope remained for his safety rested solely on the possibility the aviator had been picked up by some ship without radio.

Rain and a strong westerly wind prevailed along over the Eastern Atlantic and the British Isles.

THE PANHANDLE IS TO HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY OF URGING THE USE OF THE PALO DURO CANYON AS A STATE PARK, AND IT IS SURPRISING THAT PRACTICALLY NOTHING IS BEING DONE TO BRING ABOUT THIS VERY DESIRABLE STEP.

It appears that friends of the movement in Amarillo—such as John L. McCarty, formerly with the Amarillo News but now at Dalhart—have either moved away or are too much embroiled in the water and gas controversies to give proper time and publicity to this opportunity.

From a tourist standpoint, the spaces are truly "wide open" across much of the Panhandle. The Palo Duro, with its singular break in the monotony of prairie, should be a scenic oasis—not that there are not other interests, but that it is the chief freak of nature this side of the Carlsbad caverns. Should the beautiful Palo Duro be opened to the public, traversed by a scenic road, and protected by reasonable patrolling, it would give the tourists something to see and talk about while passing through this section.

A few years ago dozens of park sites were offered the state, but the sheer number seemed to discourage acceptance of any, and the opportunity of that time has passed. It is of great importance, however, to have the Palo Duro accepted. It is important to thousands of Panhandle residents. The Palo Duro has never been discovered in the sense of appreciation by a major portion of our people. We imagine that a show of hands in any large gathering to ascertain how many persons had seen the "Lighthouse" would not get much of a response. Quite a number have been to Devil's Kitchen and other parts of Harding's ranch, but much of the canyon is closed to all but the adventurous.

There are beauties worth going far to see at the Baptist and Methodist encampment grounds, but in the absence of any definite plan, approach is difficult and there is no dependable way to see the canyons proper by automobile.

Since the canyons contradict the popular conception that what beauty Plains folk enjoy must be seen in the sunsets, the Palo Duro should be advertised widely in every way possible. The best method of publicity known is by sight. Right now the state is doing nothing to show off its assets in the Panhandle, and this section is due more attention. The indifferent attitude of Panhandle people, moreover, will block or at least defer state action. It is time to wake up to the opportunity.

It is likewise to be hoped that by building of good roads through the oil fields these scenic points of development can be made more accessible to visitors. It is but a matter of an hour's drive to see much of the richest oil territory in the Bower-McGee and Maryland-Finley pools. Pampa residents would do well to make it possible for visiting friends to see Gray county wells, gasoline plants, carbon black plants and booster stations before returning to their homes.

There are remarkably few residents capable of intelligently conducting strangers to the Plains' scenic spots and assets.

We understand that there are some oldtimers around here who can predict good and bad winters despite the carbon black clouds. If so, we would like to print their forecasts. We admit that our score of years in the Panhandle has not given us such facility.

We suppose you would call it fortunate that court congestion does not make it impossible to get divorce suits through the mill.

A North Cuyler romeo is wondering whether he should imitate the gorgeous colors of the prince charming of the colored movies.

Our Mr. Walker says that if every motorist picked up as many nails about town as he does in his tires, the repair men would either soon be millionaires, or would have to go out of business for lack of nails to extract.

Twink served this week to prevent his pastor from eating too much at a lunch-feast served by Presbyterian women between quilting. And by the way, he would hate for ANY pastor or minister to suffer. Any preacher who eats too much in our presence would have to be adept, indeed. It's hard to surpass the gustative dexterity of one accustomed to fight oil field boom rushes and newspaper deadlines.

It is peculiar that many people will not patronize even the beliefs they laboriously concoct to keep from accepting those of their friends.

There is one bad thing about duck shooting—the ones that get away are merely just as large as those which don't.

Charge in Fall Bribery Trial Is Being Prepared

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Fall bribery trial today entered its final stage with Justice William Hitz delivering his charge to the jury. He was wheeled to his place in the courtroom just before the judge mounted the bench.

The judge first read instructions agreed to by counsel, thirteen of them being prepared by the government and fifteen by the defense.

The prosecution said it was admitted Fall received $100,000 from E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, and asked that the defendant be found guilty on the bribery charge if it was determined the former cabinet member intended to let his decision in regard to the Elk Hills oil lease be influenced by the money.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
 HELEN PAGE feels hopelessly in love with her handsome grandnephew, LEONARD BRENT, who exacts obedience to his wishes. A chance meeting with a dying beggar, CHARLES NELLIN, who tells a strange story, causes Brent to change his plans for Helen's future.

On graduating, Helen reminds her guardian that he promised to reveal her parentage and is amazed when he tells her she is the illegitimate daughter of K. CUNNINGHAM, and says the time has come to take her to him. Brent introduces her to Cunningham as his granddaughter and offers as proof a locket containing a picture of EVANGELINE CUNNINGHAM which he had taken from the dying Nellin. Pending investigation, Helen remains with her grandfather who gives her a new car. She accidentally hits a girl, EVA ENNIS, who has to be taken to the hospital. Helen meets Eva's brother, ROBERT, who falls in love with her but she is still devoted to Brent.

Cunningham gives a party and announces that Helen is his daughter's child and his heiress. Brent's hour of triumph is followed by fear for he finds a lost locket which exactly matches the one he had taken from Nellin. When he finds that Helen is wearing hers, he persuades her to take it off.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

WITH Eva within hearing distance, Brent was compelled to veto Helen's suggestion of an early morning drive.

"Like Miss Ennis, I must be in the city early," he said. "I have an appointment with my dentist."

Brent was glad that Bob arrived a few minutes later and broke off his sister's lingering departure. Brent observed the young man and Helen closely when Bob joined them but there was nothing in the greeting to disturb him.

Helen was politely detached and Bob was restrained in his manner. And there was plainly no wish on his part to tarry under the Cunningham roof.

Brent felt certain of Helen at that moment. It remained now for him only to play his cards with skill. Mr. Cunningham was falling fast—no one could reasonably give him very much time to live. Brent wished the probable date of his death with all the calculating coldness of his nature and decided he must keep his relations with Helen as they were until that event occurred.

For Mr. Cunningham, he was convinced, would not consent to a marriage between him and Helen.

But for all his planning when he left her that night, he was a shade warmer toward her than he had been before. They were in the rose garden and there was a soft glow about her that lent a richness to his nature and decided he must keep his relations with Helen as they were until that event occurred.

Brent excused himself to Bob with the plea that he wanted to talk to Mr. Cunningham. Bob was glad to see him go.

Helen looked up at him. "But you will go away," she said wistfully. "You will have those wonderful trips we planned together—you have done everything you promised my father you would do for me—you are free now."

Brent hesitated for effect and his own voice, when he spoke, was vibrant with feeling. "I'm afraid," he said, "that I cannot go away—that I cannot leave you, Helen."

Helen reached up her hands and he clasped them together and rested his forehead upon them. Helen swayed ever so little, yearning to be taken in his arms.

Brent was aware of her desire but he did not satisfy it. "You are so young," he whispered. "I cannot be sure that you know your own heart."

"I know that it is aching," Helen answered.

"Your grandfather would not want to lose you so soon after finding you," Brent continued craftily. "And he is very frail. Anything would be a shock to him if I brought back the memories of his breaking with your mother. I think it would be unwise to tell him of . . . this."

Helen nodded her head against his chest.

FOR weeks after that night she lived in a world apart from that in which she moved as Helen Nellin. There were fewer and fewer trips to town with Brent, owing to her grandfather's increasing feebleness.

Brent drove up one Sunday to call, convinced that he would find Mr. Cunningham greatly on the decline. He was shown to the sick man's room immediately. Much to his surprise he found him sitting in his chair at the window. Brent had expected to find him in bed. He saw at once that the aged man was upset.

He greeted Brent cordially enough and then revealed the cause of his agitation. "I'm worried about Helen," he explained. "She's been out on the lake with Miss Ennis much longer than she said she would be gone. I was just about to send Marks to see if anything has gone wrong."

Brent, still standing, turned toward the door. "I'll go," he offered. "I wish you would," Mr. Cunningham agreed. "Helen is always prompt about coming to me when I expect her."

Brent hurried downstairs, not in fear that what he considered a sick man's misgivings might have a foundation in fact but because he wanted to be with Helen. He had but little time to spend at Bramblewood on this occasion and he did not wish to waste it on an invalid.

He soon found a situation, however, that he was totally unprepared to meet. Out in the lake the canoe floated, bottom side up, and for a few seconds he had a terrifying fear that a fatal accident might have occurred.

Then he saw Helen and Eva on the shore, partly hidden by a clump of flowering shrubs. He rushed over and before he reached them he discovered that they were not alone.

HELEN was standing face to face with Bob Ennis, her hands in his in a grasp that filled Brent with cold anger.

Eva saw him before Helen did and Brent thought for a second that she was going to fling herself into his arms. He looked past her at Helen and Bob.

"What has happened?" he demanded, noticing in a flash that the clothing of all three was dripping wet.

"We upset the canoe," Eva explained. "Helen and I."

Brent lifted an eyebrow. "A rescue?" he said coldly. "But I thought you both could swim. I know Helen can."

Helen said nothing, although

Brent looked at her and not at Eva. "Yes, but Helen was caught under the canoe," Eva told him. "Her scarf got wound round her neck and somehow, when we went under, it caught on the canoe and held her there. I couldn't get her free or turn the canoe over. I don't know what would have happened if Bob hadn't come along just in time."

"I see. How do you do, Ennis?" Brent said coldly. Helen regarded him with a startled expression. He caught it and instantly got himself in hand.

"Plucky thing. How did you manage it?" he asked Bob.

"Don't really know," Bob returned shortly.

"He's a wonderful swimmer," Eva contributed innocently.

Brent frowned. "Your grandfather is worried about you," he said to Helen.

"Oh, I forgot how long I've been away from him," she confessed. "Come on Eva, I can let you have some clothes." She paused and turned to Bob, adding: "But I don't know what you will do."

"I'll dry out in the sun while I'm waiting for Eva," Bob told her. "Don't be long, sis."

The two girls hurried away and Brent excused himself to Bob with the plea that he wanted a talk with Mr. Cunningham. Bob was glad to see him go.

"And that's the fellow Eva's always raving about," he thought contemptuously as Brent strode down the path. "Looks like a first-class crook to me."

Eva was not thinking of Brent at the moment. She was concerned with the thought of her dress, a new chiffon that had suffered from the bath in the lake.

"Mother will scold me now," she said to Helen. "She hasn't yet forgiven me for losing her locket the night of your birthday party."

City Beautification for Early Spring Through Fall Planting of Tulip Bulbs Is Proposed by Council of Women's Clubs

Pampa will be gay with hundreds of beds of bright tulips next spring, when the annual convention of the Seventh District Federation of Women's Clubs brings several hundred prominent women from all parts of Northwest Texas to Pampa for a four-day visit to the city, if plans of the Council of Clubs are carried to fruition.

Knowing well that a successful convention of such proportions requires months of careful planning by the host city, representatives of the various women's clubs, through their Council of Clubs, began several weeks ago the preparations for what is expected to be the greatest conference ever held by the big seventh district. Foremost among the problems considered was that of making Pampa more beautiful for the occasion, in order that the visitors might receive a pleasant impression not only of the city's hospitality, but of its appearance as well.

The tulip, which blooms early when planted in the fall, with an apparent suitability to local climatic conditions, presented itself as the most promising plant for the city-wide planting, in view of the council members. A committee, appointed by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, chairman, is investigating opportunities for buying the bulbs in large consignments for distribution to property holders throughout the city. A survey is being made also, to determine how many property owners, club women, and school children will engage in the civic project by planting the bulbs.

In the event the two investigations seem encouraging to the committee, the bulbs will be ordered to arrive here for early November planting. Mrs. W. A. Bratton, chairman of the committee, said anyone who desired to assist in the beautification program would be helping the committee with its work by calling either her or Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar or Mrs. Tom Clayton, other members. Several clubs already have voted their support in the movement, she said.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johns Give Party for Lafalot Club

Autumn leaves were intermingled with Halloween suggestions with charming effect in the decorations of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johns' home for a party they gave last evening for the Lafalot bridge club.

Mrs. H. L. Grove and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Shields were specially invited guests. Club members present were: Mr. and Mrs. Don Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nance, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hamlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutz received an attractive favor for combined high scores, while Mr. and Mrs. Nance were consoled for low. High cut favor also went to Mrs. Nance, and low cut to Mr. Lutz. The hostess served a dainty refreshment plate.

Women's Auxiliary of Presbyterian Church Holds Second All-day Meeting to Quilt and Sew for Children's Home

Holding an enjoyable old-fashioned sewing and quilting "bee," members of the Women's auxiliary of the Presbyterian church and a number of their friends yesterday completed quilts and packed a box of household linens, blankets, and clothing for the Northwest Texas Children's home, an orphan's home at Amarillo which cares for unfortunate children of any denomination. The work was done at the church in an all-day meeting, the second which the auxiliary has held in two weeks.

At the noon hour a delicious buffet luncheon, to which each member and guest contributed a dish, was served at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Hyde, next door to the church.

The following auxiliary members and visitors helped with the sewing: Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. J. E. Corson, Mrs. R. F. Dirksen, Mrs. George W. Briggs, Mrs. Joe M. Smith, Mrs. Dave Pope, Mrs. C. Herbert Walker, Mrs. C. T. Mullen, Mrs. K. M. Butler, Mrs. Mae Stanley, Mrs. V. E. Fashere, Mrs. Charles H. Todd, Mrs. Jim White, Mrs.

Larsh, Mrs. H. E. Morseman, Mrs. Dick Walker, Mrs. John V. Andrews, Mrs. Clifford Braly, Miss Mae Blair, Miss Elizabeth Corson, and Miss Maud Leech.

In addition to those named, the following were present for the luncheon: Miss Eileen Pengra, Miss Willette Cole, Jean Hyde, Dorothy Mullen, Ann Clayton, Luellen Nichols, Phyllis Smith, Charles T. Mullen, the Rev. Hyde, C. Herbert Walker, Olin E. Hinkle, and Herb Mullen.

American Humorist Studied in Program of El Progresso

Members of El Progresso club, who this year are studying a course in American literature, outlined by the extension department of the University of Texas, took up their first study of a great American humorist Tuesday afternoon, in a program on Mark Twain, which Mrs. George W. Briggs directed with outstanding results.

"The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," perhaps the best known and best loved of the writer's books, was work on which the program centered. Mrs. Briggs gave an appealing, individualistic study of the great humorist, characterizing him as a little boy who never grew up. Tom Sawyer as a typical American boy was pictured by Mrs. J. H. Kelley.

Two entertaining readings clipped from the story were delightful additions to the study. Mrs. Briggs read "Whitewashing the Fence." Mrs. James Todd, Jr., read "Tom and Becky." Mrs. Wm. M. Craven's paper was a critical study, "Is Mark Twain Merely a Humorist?" Roll call was answered with humorous quotations from various works of the author. The lesson was completed, according to the custom of the club, with a question and answer discussion, in which many interesting views were presented.

Mrs. George W. Walstad was hostess for the meeting, and entertained the seventeen members present at tea, following the adjournment. In addition to the members named in the program the following attended the meeting: Mrs. John V. Andrews, Mrs. C. M. Bryson, Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Mrs. A. Cole, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. Lee Ledrick, Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Dave Pope.

Mrs. B's Devil's Food Cake

No church supper in a certain little Indiana town is complete without one of Mrs. B's devil's food cakes. So when the appetizing odor is wafted out of her kitchen, the children all gather 'round to learn if it's a cake for them, or only a cake for the church grown-ups.

Mrs. B uses Crisco in all her cakes because (she says) "it blends so quickly and thoroughly with the other ingredients. Crisco tastes for all the world like unsalted butter and it keeps my cakes moist and fresh as long as I can keep the children away from the cake box."

3/4 cup Crisco 8 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sugar 1 1/2 cups flour
2 eggs 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 cup milk 1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Cream Crisco and sugar together. Add beaten eggs and mix well. Cook the milk and chocolate, cut in pieces, over a slow fire, stirring until thick. Cool. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the chocolate to the first mixture. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly. Bake in 2 layer cake pans in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Spread Marshmallow Frosting between layers and on top. Sprinkle with chopped nuts.

HARVESTER CENTER INELIGIBLE AND MULLEN SUBSTITUTED-TILT WITH MIAMI TO TEST NEW PLANS

Fighters in Fiery Mood for Scrap at Pla-Mor Friday

Luther Platter and Mattlock, heavyweight pugilists who will meet each other in ten rounds at the Pla-Mor tomorrow night, were plenty "sore" this morning when they found their names under the wrong photographs in yesterday's paper, for each is vowing vengeance and accusing the other as being responsible for the error.

The Platter-Matlock scrap will feature one of the longest all-star cards ever presented here. Platter has won every fight he has had by a knock-out and Matlock is undefeated. This match was hard for Jack Rogers and J. J. Denebalm to negotiate and if advance sales of tickets mean anything, the two fighters will have an opportunity to wreck each other before a capacity house.

Kid Williams of Dallas says he can throw Leo Chase as easily as he hurled Kid Thompson of Borger to the mat in four minutes. Williams known as "the hard boiled boy" is determined to climb to the main go class in this match. He's going to put out all he's got.

Kid Knight and the Tulsa Flash are going to finish the mixed bout they started at the Pla-Mor two weeks ago. They know the rules this time and the Kid will not hesitate to let loose at the Flash when the latter is on his knees. The Kid is planning on his flying feet and swift punches for a knock-out before the Flash gets a hold on him.

The two negroes, Dog Faced Ed and Edie Powder, have harbored a personal grudge against one another for three months. They want to fight and don't want to pay fines, so Rogers has loaned them the gloves and the ring for four rounds Friday night when they can fight legally.

The preliminaries will be interesting. Andy Gump is going to take on a new enemy and Fat is going to renew hostilities with his usual adversary. Music will be provided at intervals as a new feature of the card.

You will need good stoves, warm weather. Come to Stephenson Furniture company.—Adv. 24-25

Pampa's 1929 Harvester machine has suffered a severe blow through the discovery that Jones Seitz, big center, is ineligible for further Interscholastic League competition.

Seitz has been in school the ten semesters allowed, before this one, and this makes him ineligible even though he has not played as much football as normally is allowed.

Bob Mullen has been shifted to center, and Coach Mitchell is driving the squad hard to determine the best combinations available. A long scrimmage was held yesterday afternoon.

That Miami has a fast, though light team is known from reports of their games, and the fact is verified by weights received with the names and positions of the players.

The Miami line-up, with weights and numbers of the players, follows: Pursley, right end, 135, No. 2. Kivlehen, right tackle, 150, No. 19. Terry, right tackle, 150, No. 4. Fourteen Charges Against Athletics made by Critics

NEW YORK, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching makes 15 salient charges against college athletics, which may be summarized as follows:

One-seventh of all athletes and from 25 to 50 per cent of football players are subsidized. Recruiting has advanced to point where school stars hawk their services. Commercialization has caused abandonment of the game for the game's sake.

Exaggerated athletics emphasis has diverted many institutions from intellectual development. Many officials are guilty of evading regulations regarding recruiting. Press exploitation has brought "demoralizing publicity."

Too much attention is given the general public's whims in schedules. Only 28 of 112 colleges were not engaged in recruiting. High school athletics are burned out before college days by "pressure."

Alumni investigate stars into colleges. Coaches are too busy to teach sportsmanship. Relations have been severed in many instances where preventable.

SPORT SLANTS

Alan J. Gould

Jimmy McLarnin, who has outgrown the "Baby Face" cognomen, is the lackluster of boxing. He refuses to stay down.

Jimmy was riding skyhigh among the lightweight challengers until Sam. Mandell thumped him around. Jimmy shot back upward with a victory of two and then slumped again because he could do nothing better than twice outpoint the mediocre Joe Dick.

Now Pacific Coast Jimmy, fighting as a welterweight, has his back bayonet for some more big time attention. The inspiration came in McLarnin's swift knockout of Sammy Baker. What is desired most for the sober-faced boxer is a championship battle with Jackie Fields.

Jimmie and Jackie are bound to meet sooner or later but the dope is that Jackie will keep out of range until next summer when the scrap can be given an outdoor booking in some big league ball park.

The number of important cities that cared whether the hockey season opened or remained closed could have been counted on the fingers of one hand a few years ago. But mention hockey now and you can muster a quorum in any of a dozen leading American communities.

And as time for the initial faceoff approaches they are beginning to steam things up in convincing fashion in such cities as New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Kansas City, Tulsa, St. Paul, Seattle, Portland, Ore., and many others.

Harley Davidson, 53-year-old skating sensation, comes up with a story about how his three-man team managed to make such a good showing in that six-day roller skating race in Madison Square Garden last spring.

Davidson, who has held national and international championships in both ice and roller skating figured that only those who had trapped with particular attention to their feet would be able to last on the banked track. So he ordered a two weeks' program of outdoor road work in bare feet for himself and his two teammates.

It proved to be a wise move that gave the Davidson team third place and enabled it to set the pace and pick up some sprint change in the closing days of the contest when most of the field was hanging on.

Harley's trio finished third. He reasons that it would have finished higher, maybe out in front, had not his own miscalculation cost him points at the start that the widest skating could not regain in the final hours of the struggle.

You gather from the talk around the winter baseball quarters that some of the boys will have to take a salary cut next year. The top-sided pennant races cut profits to the minimum for the big clubs and the added fact that several of the big time stars had poor years presages sharp pruning in some pay envelopes before the next campaign gets underway.

DISTURBED SLEEP IS NATURE'S WARNING OF "DANGER AHEAD"

Mrs. J. N. Alexander, Rt. 1, Clovis, New Mexico. Says, "I will tell or write how for 20 years I was bothered with burning and bladder acting 10 to 15 times each night and how I was relieved with Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula)". It acts on bladder as Epsom salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio or locally at Fatheree Drug Co.—Adv. M

Seventy Years Young! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE scorns that ancient prejudice which harshly dictated that age was a limiting factor of usefulness. To-day, old age not only commands respect but demands its place in every walk of life.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified, LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahr. enheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.
