OIL WORKER INJURED IN FIRST HUNTING ACCIDENT

BORGER MARTIAL LAW SCHEDULED TO END NEXT FRIDAY

MISSION NOW IS FULFILLED IN HUTCHINSON

Enlisted Men to Quit City, Taking 3:50 Train

"MODEL TOWN" SAYS WOLTERS

Rangers Will Stay to Until Need Is Removed

BORGER, Oct. 17. (AP)—Borger will bid farewell to Texas National Guardsmen Friday at 3:50 p. m. Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters announced today.

"At that hour the Guardsmen, 'Their mission accomplished,' will leave, subject, however, to recall by Governor Moody. Martial law will not be lifted until the governor signs proclamations."

General Wolters said: "Hutchinson county is the cleanest in Texas, and with a good constabulary and a vigorous district attorney and an untarnished judiciary will remain so in due time the murderer of John A. Holmes will be brought to justice."

"The mission assigned us by Governor Dan Moody has been accomplished," his statement began. It then complimented the new officers. He praised Texas Ranger C. O. Moore, appointed sheriff to succeed Joe Ownbey, resigned; W. A. Henderson, mayor, successor to Glenn A. Pace, resigned; Albert MacCabe, police chief, successor to John W. Crabtree, resigned; Clem Calhoun, first sent to Borger by the governor as a special investigator and later named district attorney was described as "able, conscientious and fearless."

"Texas will hear more of this extraordinary young man who is among the state's best prosecutors." Calhoun was district attorney at Abilene before his assignment to Borger.

The commander of the guardsmen also commended county attorney Henry D. Meyers, county judge H. M. Hood, who "has stood out in bold relief against a background both tragic and pathetic." District Judge E. J. Pickens as "able and courageous," and the county commissioners.

A justice of the peace and two constables remain to be appointed for Borger. Those appointments can be made after martial law is lifted, General Wolters said.

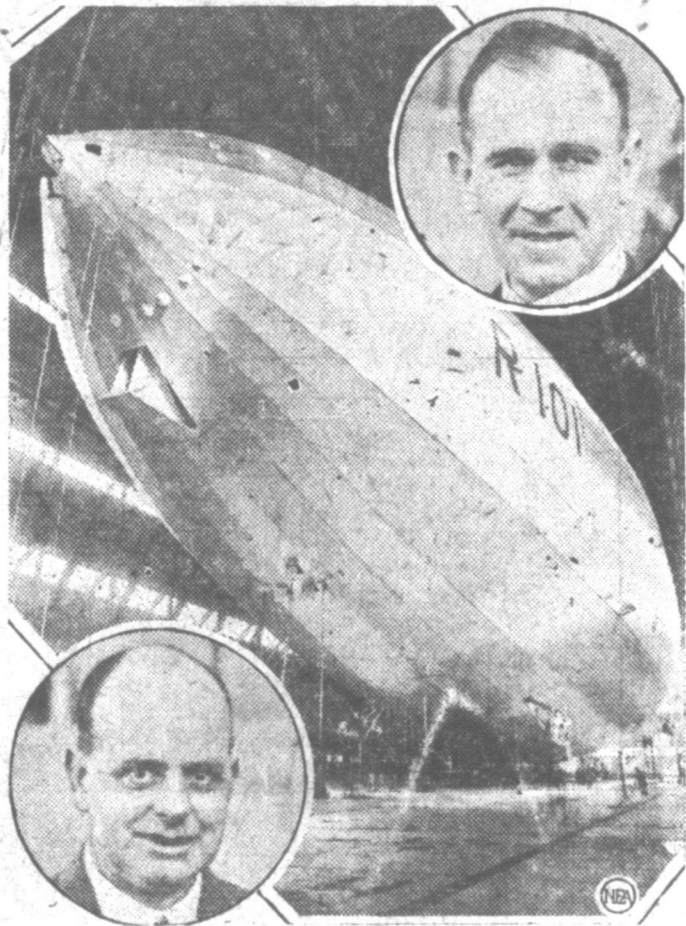

The new officers, the statement declared, "are the kind of men and citizens Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, or any other city would like to have on its city commission."

Ranger Captain Tom Hickman is to remain in Borger with his force until the sheriff's and police chief's departments are in operation, and two Rangers are detailed for "indefinite" duty in the oil town.

Twelve men held under general order six, which specified that all members of the entrenched criminal ring could be held until obedience to law had been restored, will not be freed when troops leave Borger. It was

Britain's Bid for Air Supremacy

It flies! That's Britain's answer to the criticisms of aeronautical experts who declares the R-101, largest dirigible in the world, already obsolete. From Cardington, England, where it was built, the huge ship was taken on several successful test flights, and here you see it moored in its hangar. Inset upper right is Navigation Officer E. L. Johnson, and lower left is Major Scott, commander, who maneuvered the craft with a full crew. With its full quota of 52 passengers, the R-101 is expected to cruise at about 70 miles an hour.

HOW TO MAKE UNPOPULAR FOODS DELICIOUS IS DEMONSTRATED IN NEWS COOKING SCHOOL LECTURE

How to prepare a delicious, ample, and nutritious dinner, including the old favorites made more tempting, and the rarer, less popular foods made temptingly attractive, and all without the needless effort and "pot watching" that characterized the cooking of a few years ago and of many cooks of today was learned by more than 300 women who attended Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig's demonstration-lecture yesterday at the Pampa Daily News free cooking school.

In her model kitchen arranged on the platform at the Pla-Mor, the widely known culinary expert and instructor in home economics prepared in less than two hours a dinner that could answer to all the requirements for the Thanksgiving or Christmas feast. As she worked, she gave her audience complete directions for each dish; told them how they could regulate their work to be able to prepare such a meal and attend church or visit at the same hour; and how they could and should prepare the foods necessary for energy, growth and health protection in such manner that they and their families would eat them with enjoyment.

A dinner table was on display, laid with pretty linens, china, glass ware, and silver, and decorated with a floral centerpiece.

Mrs. Ihrig lectured today on party refreshments, telling her audience what should be served at certain types of parties and entertainments. She demonstrated the preparation of ex-

Move to Quash Indictment in Case Brought by Mrs. Hopkins Is Made

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (AP)—A defense attack on the validity of the indictment and the jurisdiction of the federal court today won a temporary delay and threatened discontinuance in the trial of A. C. Killian, indicted jointly with three others in an allegedly fraudulent scheme to obtain $35,000 from Mrs. Maggie Hopkins, wealthy Pampa ranchwoman.

The three named with Killian in the indictment are Ruth Martin, charged with aiding Killian in defrauding the ranchwoman of $10,000, and Mrs. Hattie Mae Killian and Oscar R. Fowler, charged with entering into an agreement to extort $25,000 from Mrs. Hopkins in an alienation of affections suit. The indictment charges the four devised a scheme by which Killian was to enter into a marriage agreement with Mrs. Hopkins and suit was to be brought against her by Mrs. Killian charging her husband's affections were stolen by the ranchwoman.

The marriage of Killian and Mrs. Hopkins subsequently was annulled by publication in Gray county.

At the opening of the trial, motion was filed by defense attorneys to quash the charges against Fowler on grounds there was no mention of his connection with the first scheme. A second motion asked severance of the trial of Fowler from that of the other defendants. A third motion asked that the indictment be quashed on grounds of incompetent testimony was presented to the grand jury. A decision will be given tomorrow.

FLESH WOUND INFLICTED BY MISHAP TODAY

Claude Howell Receives Load of Shot in Hip

COMPANION IN HUNT SLIPPED

Mud in Lake Bottom Is Blamed—Injury Not Serious

The first mishap of the duck hunting season occurred about 8 o'clock this morning when the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of William Calvert sent a load of shot below the right hip of Claude Howell.

An ugly flesh wound 2 inches in diameter was made by the lead, but the injury is not considered serious at the local hospital where Howell was taken.

The two men were wading in a small lake 15 miles south of Pampa. The mud was knee-deep and very slippery. Howell first fell down. This amused both men, and while they were laughing Calvert shot at a duck. A moment later he lost his balance and fell, accidentally pulling the trigger and wounding his companion ten steps ahead of him.

Both Calvert and Howell are clean-out men for the Phillips Petroleum company and live on the lease south of the city.

PITTSBURGH TO DEDICATE GREAT PUBLIC PROJECT

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17. (AP)—A distinguished array of guests today will help Pittsburgh dedicate one of the nation's greatest public improvements—canalization of the Ohio river.

Five members of President Hoover's cabinet, railroad executives and industrial notables from various parts of the country will be here for the banquet tonight, marking the opening of the two-day celebration of the completion of the $125,000,000 project which links this inland industrial city to five continents by a navigable inland water route to the sea.

Secretary of War James W. Good, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, and Secretary of Commerce Robert R. Lamont, with assistant secretary of the navy, Commander Ernest E. Jahncke, will arrive this morning. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, a Pittsburgher, arrived here yesterday.

GREAT WELL BROUGHT IN AT OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company's Number 3 Fortson, in NWC NE 24-11-3 W, the Oklahoma City field, blew in shortly before noon today and operators estimated it was good for from 700 to 800 barrels an hour. The well was making an estimated fifty million feet of gas.

Wilcox Well Makes 240 Barrels When First Drilled In

Wilcox-Pampa Oil company's No. 9 Combs-Worley, located in section 35, block 3, had an initial production first of the week of 240 barrels, at 2,950-56 feet.

Texas company's No. 4 Cook-Faulkner which had an initial production of 2,000 barrels at 2,820-23 feet is maintaining its first flow. This is the biggest well that has been brought in since the shut down.

GIRL VICTIM AND HER SLAYER

John Preston, 32-year-old Chicago decorator, described as a "model husband" by his wife, faces a murder charge as the aftermath of a party made possible by telling Mrs. Preston that he was "working late at the office." Preston confessed to authorities at Wheaton, Ill., Chicago suburb, that he attacked and then strangled to death pretty Agnes Johnson, 26-year-old stenographer, whose body was found beside a road near West Chicago. Preston is shown below, right, with Sheriff Hattendorf of Dupage county, who arrested him.

DEFENSE COUNSEL ATTEMPTING TO BREAK DOWN TESTIMONY THAT HARDEMAN COUNTY GIRLS GAVE

Defense counsel in the cross-examination of the oldest of the two Harde- man county sisters, prosecuting witnesses against T. C. Johnson who is on trial for criminal assault, last night attempted to show that the sisters were "willing members of the party" which they alleged occurred March 17 of this year in a pasture near Shamrock.

Questions directed for two hours last night by Judge Newton P. Willis, defense counsel, attempted to break the girl's testimony and show the case was a frame-up.

In direct examination, the girl testified that she did not know the contents of her sister's statement, made to County Attorney Raymond Alfred of Wheeler county at Wheeler. In a written statement made to Alfred at Chillicothe six days after the alleged assault, the girl said she had been told what her sister had said in the statement made some days before in Wheeler, cross examination revealed.

The girl said she made no out-cry to a passing car, to a justice of peace at Shamrock, to federal officers and other persons in Shamrock, because she was afraid.

Both sisters testified they had wept and cried out at the time of the attacks and that their clothing was torn and they "were dirty" when they arrived back in Shamrock after spending part of the night in the pasture. The youngest girl said she was 16 years old at the time of the alleged assault. The oldest sister testified she was married in 1924 and lived with her husband 3 years before he divorced her.

W. W. Davis, former deputy sheriff of Wheeler county, who the girls testified also attacked them, will be tried during this term of court.

Testimony revealed that the two sisters and two escorts, Naylor Pogue and E. Elliot were arrested a mile from Shamrock after an all-night journey from Chillicothe, about 3:30 o'clock the morning of March 17. The girls testified the two deputies arrested them after "beating-up" the boys putting them in jail on vagrancy charges. The girls, Pogue testified, were released when he and Elliot paid their fines.

The girls both testified that Johnson and Davis told them they would drive them to a hotel but drove instead to a pasture near Shamrock after eating lunch in a Shamrock restaurant. They said they returned to Shamrock in an hour and then drove

JUNE HILBURN IS KILLED ON MAIN STREET

Roy Grundy, Dealer in Real Estate, Is Charged

HE REFUSES TO DISCUSS CASE

Both Men Married and Said to Have Families

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 17. (AP)—A downtown shooting here today resulted in the death of June Hilburn, 40, oil operator, and the filing of murder charges by District Attorney Sam Spence against Roy Grundy, real estate man, who surrendered to officers.

Grundy declined to discuss the shooting, Spence said. He was divorced last Sept. 28 by Mrs. Ruth Grundy, the mother of five children. Three bullets, fired at a point blank range, entered Hilburn's body. The shooting occurred on Main street. The slain man is survived by his widow.

Mrs. Grundy, in a statement to the district attorney, declared her separation from Grundy was due in part to unjustified jealousy toward her.

R. E. Hyde, clothing store manager and a witness to the shooting, also made a statement to the district attorney. He said he was sitting near the front of a restaurant when he saw Hilburn shot as he attempted to circle a light pole. He said two other shots were fired as he attempted to dash into the restaurant.

Funeral arrangements awaited arrival of a brother, E. W. Hilburn, from Fort Worth.

Seven Persons Die in Hotel Blaze

SEATTLE, Oct. 17. (AP)—Trapped in flames, seven persons lost their lives and twelve others were burned or otherwise injured in a fire that swept through the Portland hotel today.

Firemen believed all bodies had been recovered from the ruins. Several of the injured were in a critical condition.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen said the seven who perished probably had been suffocated while they slept. None of the seven could be identified at once. The building was an old brick structure.

John Fitzhenry, who turned in the alarm, said he saw the fire through a window of the hotel. He added it looked as if it was burning on a stairway.

The hotel was operated by U. Okada, a Japanese, whose wife was critically injured when she leaped from a third-story window. The dead were white persons.

GARFIELD APPOINTED WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—James R. Garfield, secretary of interior in the Roosevelt administration, was designated today by President Hoover to be chairman of the commission on conservation and management of the public domain.

near Magic City where they said the other attacks were made.

These state witnesses testified this morning to corroborate testimony made by Pogue and the two girls. They were Sherman White, lawyer at McLean, Earl Lee Elliot, escort of the youngest girl on the trip from Chillicothe to Shamrock; and "Red" Holland, barber at McLean. State witnesses will occupy the chair the rest of the afternoon, it is thought. However, the state is expected to rest, reserving some of its witnesses until several defense witnesses have been heard.

WOULD YOU BE WILLING TO HAZARD A GUESS AS TO PROGRESS IN EVERY LINE—MECHANICAL, POLITICAL, SOCIAL—DURING THE NEXT CENTURY, AND TO LET POSTERITY JUDGE YOU BY THESE OPINIONS?

An old St. Louis newspaper contains an article by an anonymous author in which predictions were made in 1886. The extract reprinted below is remarkable in that while it is supposed to be true of February 19, 1886, much of it is true today.

"Formation of a League of Nations, which he called by that very name.
"Formation of a world court for settlement of international disputes.
"Machines in which man would fly with ease carrying heavy weights and freight.
"Perfection of the 'photophone', by means of which the world's news would be broadcast by sound and picture.
"General knowledge of world events on the day they occur.
"Reformation rather than penalization of criminals.
"Increase in the span of human life.
"Roads to be given over to cultivation having been made unnecessary by air transportation.
"Abandonment of post offices with aerial mail delivery by parachute.
"A new United States stretching from Panama to Alaska comprised of 94 states.
"Complete abolition of standing armies.
"Congressional sessions only once in each 10 years and the passage of no laws which cannot immediately be repealed.
"Houses built of paper and equipped with aluminum and glass.
"Powerful stations for the distribution of photophone news.
"Easy communication with other planets.

"Education by individuals rather than by platoons.
"Extension of human life to an average span of 80 years; to reach 125 years; one out of one out of every 200 persons 1,000 to reach 150, and extraordinary cases 200 or more years.

"Evolution of animals so dogs can be made to think.
"Elimination of vagabondage with everyone contributing to society.
"Segregation of criminals and sterilization of the unfit."
Of the latter portion of the forecast, many persons will likely disagree, but chances are that at least 90 per cent of the predictions will come about—certainly a remarkable average.

TWINKLES

The editorial golf is improving, in the sense that after we have a round that's terrible we usually follow with one that is merely awful.

Maybe Moody is lifting martial law in Berger on the theory that he may need the Rangers and troops to rescue him in case he is seized by bandits while hunting in Mexico.

After long practice, an Australian girl has succeeded in growing a mustache and beard, in spite of our liberal ideas, that is one form of equality which we never hope to see.

That Pampa bachelor's club probably will be non-plussed if it succeeds. There is nothing which so confounds some people as to succeed in what they start toward doing, in jest.

The postal department announces receipt of a letter addressed to "God Almighty, Lockport, N. Y." Must have been a supreme egoist writing to his home town.

Alienists love to exploit their art, and we favor their working out a satisfactory solution of the motives in that mad elephant's mind when he slew a woman. We presume the pachyderm had as much mind to be studied as have had many human killers.

McCarthy Soon to Start Search for New Cub Talent

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—The "home town boy" who didn't do so well in the recent world series is going home in elegance and comfort anyway.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Cubs bought a $5,000 automobile, a new suit and started back to Buffalo, N. Y., today.

After a short visit at home, he will start searching for new help for the 1930 edition of the Bruins.

Van, Texas, Scene of Newest Oil Strike, Bustles With Boom Typical of Industry—Test Holding Up Well

VAN, Oct. 17. (AP)—Workmen rushed batteries of storage tanks to completion and made locations for other batteries today, drillers prepared to move their rigs into the newly discovered oil territory east of here and the population of the town already swelled from 20 to 1,000 in four days, continued to grow.

Pure Oil company's Jaman No. 1 well, which started the excitement when it came in Sunday, continued to produce better than 1,000 barrels of oil daily, and oil men agreed the well had located a distinct oil structure in entirely virgin territory.

Impact of the boom on Van, a community of seven homes, two stores, a church, a school and twenty people, was terrific. Last night, approximately 1,500 people were in the town and the immediate vicinity. Homes, turned into eating houses in the once 9 o'clock town, were open all night, and temporary shacks housing small restaurants and hot dog and soft drink stands were springing up. Transients who blew into town on the first wave of the boom were sleeping in automobiles, sheds, or any place they could find.

Van already has developed civic consciousness. Large signboards promise a postoffice, electricity, and other conveniences.

The discovery well made slightly over 1,600 barrels in heads yesterday and oil men expect it to settle down to a consistent production of 1,500 barrels daily. Ten steel storage tanks already are in place, and workmen are pushing a second battery of ten to completion. Each tank holds one thousand barrels, and four were full last night. Tanks with a capacity of 30,000 more barrels were in transit. Five big companies hold leases on approximately 17,000 acres about the discovery well, and land within a radius of two miles of the well was said to be leasing for between $200 and $2,000 per acre.

One of the omens which convinced oil men a real boom was due the appearance on the scene of H. L. Tucker of Fort Worth, who made the Goldfield, Nev., rush, and established Tucker-erville near Mexia in 1922. Best in the Reagan county field in 1926, and Bossset in Upton county in 1927.

Tucker and his associates have leased surface rights for one mile on either side of the highway leading to the well and are establishing Tucker town. Last night lumber for a 60 by 60 foot dance pavilion was on the property and Tucker was reported to have sold 21 sub-leases.

Bowman Trial Is Set for Oct. 28

Trial of John Bowman, charged with the murder of William Watkins last July 4, was set for Monday, Oct. 28, this morning by Judge C. G. Engledow.

A special venire of 50 men present in the courtroom was dismissed until that date. The Bowman trial originally was set for today but had to be advanced as the Johnson case will continue all of this week. Judge Engledow said.

Columbia University has an enrollment of 19,000 students this year.

C. E. Cary to Have Operation on Leg

C. E. Cary, justice of the peace, will leave tomorrow for Muskogee, Okla., where he will enter the U. S. veterans hospital for an operation upon his right leg.

It was necessary to amputate Judge Cary's leg six inches below the knee two years ago after the accidental discharge of a gun had severed the artery. The limb did not grow straight when it healed and the present operation will be to straighten it, enabling the justice to wear an artificial limb.

Judge Cary will be gone at least two weeks, possibly longer, depending upon the time necessary to complete the operation.

Wants Hoovercrats Barred From Races

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Texas Democrats who voted for Herbert Hoover in 1928 should be barred from the Democratic ballots of 1930 as candidates, but they should be allowed to vote in those primaries if they so desire, Maury Hughes of Dallas, member of the State Democratic executive committee from this district, said today.

"This is the way in which I view the matter at the present time," Hughes said. "I may change my mind about it later on."

"It is my belief bolters should be barred as candidates in order to establish some sort of party discipline," the committeeman declared. "There has been too much bolting in the past, and it is time something was done to put a stop to it if the integrity of the Democratic party in Texas is to be maintained."

New Meats and Vegetable Recipes Are Given by Mrs. Ihrig to Pupils Taking Work in News Cooking School

New and attractive combinations of meats, vegetable, and cereals, easily obtainable but often neglected through their lack of interest to the family, are included in the dishes demonstrated by Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, culinary expert of national fame, who is conducting the Daily News second annual cooking school at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

Foods which once were eaten for their health building properties, such as tonics were swallowed regularly by persons of a highly trained sense of duty, become under Mrs. Ihrig's skilled hand dishes that would tempt the stubbornest child or the most prejudiced husband. Moreover, the use of labor-saving, time conserving preparations and canned goods, recommended the popular home economist's recipes to busy home makers.

A few of the recipes which she used Wednesday afternoon in the third of the five demonstrations, a lesson in the preparation of dinner, are given below:

Turkey Dressing
Remove inside from 1 loaf of bread and crumb finely. Add 1 tablespoon Schilling's Poultry seasoning, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon Walker's Mexican chili powder.

Heat 2 tablespoons Crisco in a skillet and saute 2 tablespoons of chopped onion and 4 tablespoons chopped celery. When onions begin to clear, add the crumbs. When the crumbs have absorbed all the Crisco, stir the fowl. As the juices cook from the fowl, they moisten the dressing sufficiently.

Sherry Mousse

Four three tablespoons of juice from No. 1 can of peaches over 1 tablespoon of gelatin and melt over hot water. Add to peaches with 1-2 cup sugar; 1-4 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons Schilling's sherry wine flavoring. As the fruit begins to congeal, stir into one pint of cream whipped. Chill.

Mexican Spaghetti

Into rapidly boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt, drop 1 box National's Best spaghetti and boil until tender. Cover bottom of baking dish with spaghetti, and pour over it 1-2 can of Walker's Red Hot chili con carne. Add remainder of spaghetti, then remainder of chili con carne. Sprinkle with cheese and bake.

Cranberry Nut Salad

Cook 1 pint of cranberries with 1 cup water and 1 cup sugar until tender, and press through a sieve. Soften 1 tablespoon gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water.

Add the cranberry pulp, and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Pour a layer in a wet mold. Add a layer of diced celery, chopped olives, and chopped walnut meats. ## Pantages Defense Changes Tactics

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17. (AP)—The defense for the moment abandoned its efforts to show a conspiracy against Alexander Pantages as his trial on a statutory charge was resumed in Superior court today.

The session was opened in the absence of the jury because of the argument which developed over the defense move at the close of court yesterday to indicate existence of a conspiracy.

Judge Charles Fricks inquired of defense attorney Joseph Ford if he desired to present further arguments to the state's objections.

Ford made a negative answer, and the talesmen were brought in. The defense placed Leo Zaklet, over whose testimony the controversy arose on the witness stand and commenced a questioning of his knowledge of circumstances at the home of Mrs. Lou Irene Pringle, whose daughter, Eunice, accused Pantages of attacking her in his private offices last August 9.

Better-than-ever Waffles!

Waffles? They can be the very poems of the breakfast table—if they are delicate in taste. So do not profane them with a "strong"-tasting fat. Do you know the one fat really delicate enough to give the true waffle flavor? One taste of Crisco, just as it comes fresh and sweet from the can, will tell you—unmistakably!

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons Crisco
1/4 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Separate eggs and add milk to beaten egg yolks and stir into dry ingredients. Add Crisco and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour by spoonfuls on very hot Criscoed waffle iron. Serve hot with honey or maple syrup.

For Chocolate Waffles, add two tablespoons melted chocolate with the melted Crisco and follow recipe above.

This recipe has been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

Taste Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor

TASTE a shortening? Of course! You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

Courthouse to Be Occupied Near First of Year

With the placing of windows in the Gray county courthouse this week, the exterior of the structure will be completed. Six weeks ago only the brick work to the first floor and the steel frame of the building had been finished, after several months of labor. The almost completed edifice is testimony to the rapidity with which workmen have erected three-fourths of the building in the last forty days.

Delayed shipment of steel held up the construction when it was first begun this summer. Later, sand and gravel arrived a month behind schedule, but when it was finally unloaded contractors added workmen to their crew of bricklayers and began to rush construction.

Though built in a rectangular form, colonnaded balconies over the lower windows, carved limestone ledges, and various other stone decorations of terra-cotta relieve the box-like appearance. The edges of the roof are also decorated with a limestone colonnade on each side surmounted by Greek capitals.

The building is scheduled to be completed and ready for occupancy by the first of the year. Plasterers and carpenters have been working on the interior for three weeks.

FOOTBALL CRASHES SPORTS LIMELIGHT, FANS PACK STADIA FOR INITIAL GAMES

Thundering back into the sports picture, King football returns with every claim to the right of way. His arrival on the gallop is symbolized above by Bronko Nauraki, Minnesota's fotoball jack-of-all-trades, who plays tackle or fullback as the occasion demands.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bigger and better high- and prep school teams have than ever, the football season is back. Regardless of where you are you read and hear of larger crowds and greater thrills. Ordinary practice games which formerly were played before hundreds at-tracted tens of thousands this year. California drew 45,000 at its opener; Penn drew 40,000; New York University, 30,000; Nebraska, 25,000; Detroit "U" 22,000; Syracuse, 25,000; Yale, 20,000 and Columbia, 20,000.

BABE MAY MIMIC JACK AND BE PILOT; ANYWAY, SPORTS TO KEEP TWO GREATS

These two self-made kings of sock still keep their public well entertained. Dempsey is active as a boxing promoter. Ruth aspires to add managerial duties to his present task of hitting homers for the Yanks.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports figures like Jack Dempsey and Babe Ruth may be down, or going down, when it comes to the old punch but you can't exactly say they're out.

When Jack's vaunted left hook stopped clicking he became a promoter. The Bambino may step into an executive position even before that Ruthian wallop is gone.

They are mentioning Babe among the foremost candidates for the management of the New York Yankees. This would put two of the greatest athletes in history high up in the business end of the sports which they lifted to unprecedented heights. By next summer Dempsey hopes to be deep in the business of promoting championship fights. If Ruth lands the Yankee post he will be just as deep in the business of trying for another championship for Colonel Ruppert's ball club.

Bob Meusel Sold
NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Bob Meusel, veteran outfielder who had been with the New York Yankees since 1920, has been sold outright to Cincinnati after all clubs in the American league waived on his services, it was announced today at the office of the Yanks.

Girl Shot in Foot
DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Miss Leona Higgs, 20, was wounded in the foot as she was riding on the back of a motorcycle here last night. Patrolman P. W. Chandler admitted firing a shot at a motorcycle after he alleged an attempt was made to run him down. He said he fired at the tire.

Your Family's

prospects in life depend largely on HOW you shop

THRIFT—is a factor in the home, particularly in budgeting expenditures so that a margin can be set aside for the future. Men of great ability often fail to make progress because their wives lack thrift. In plain words, those wives do not shop wisely. Shopping isn't a matter of searching for bargains. Rather, it is finding a department store that saves money in its buying . . . and passes the saving on to its customers. Such a store is Hill's.

The Innocent Cheat Ruth Dewey Groves AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL-POOR GIRL", ETC.

HELEN felt like a prisoner at the bar. The brother knew, she was certain, that she would not be here unless she had had something to do with the accident. She turned a little cold and her hands trembled in spite of her effort to remain calm and return his steady glance unwaveringly. Because of this she raised her head with a touch of defiance.

was you who ran Eva down," Bob paused at the door to say. Nevertheless Helen waited, he'd by a penitence that made her wish to suffer to the fullest for her fault. She was prepared, when Mrs. Ennis returned, to face a second tirade, or at least a harsh attitude. Instead, Eva's mother came to her and tried to thank her for her kindness.

HELEN was slightly rapt now, but she did notice that he made a remarkably striking picture in his anger. She forgot that he was merely scolding a girl for her irresponsibility, and that she was that girl. Her mind had become a sensitive plate upon which his personality was etching itself for all time to come. His personality and his appearance.

Commonplace, perhaps, in the brownness of his hair, the blueness of his eyes, but lifted into a class of exceptional distinction by the fine cut of his features and the verve quality of his mind that revealed itself in his flashing expressions and vibrant voice. He was still trading against modern youth while Helen sat speechless, when someone came in to tell him he could go to his sister's room.

"I'll wait to take your mother back," Helen said to him. "Don't bother," he replied curtly. "We'll take a taxi." Helen bit her underlip until it hurt. "But I must see your mother again," she protested. "I don't think she will want to see you when she knows that it

B. & P. Club Has Program at Dinner Tuesday Evening

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club enjoyed one of their most interesting dinner programs Tuesday evening at the Schneider hotel. Mrs. Leona Rusk Irig, who was in the city to conduct the free cooking school under the auspices of the Pampa Daily News, told the club of some of the projects successfully carried on by B. & P. clubs in other cities and of the enjoyable social affairs which her own club at Dallas was in the custom of giving.

Other guests at the dinner were Miss Dovie Clemmie and Miss Aurelia Miller, Miss Bela Chaffin and Miss Clemmie were received in the club membership. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lemons, Mrs. Katherine Wilkerson, and Miss Lillian Harrell, the latter of Kansas City, were special guests. Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nance, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lutz.

Club high score favor was given Mr. and Mrs. Nance. Guest high went to Mr. and Mrs. Lemons, Mr. and Mrs. Wakeman received the consolation. A dainty two-course luncheon was served.

Wedding of Miss Nadine Cleek and Curtis Douglass at Panhandle Event of Wide Interest—Couple to Live Here

Miss Nadine Cleek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Cleek of Panhandle, became the bride of Mr. Curtis Douglass of Pampa Wednesday morning in a beautiful ceremony at the home of her parents. The Rev. John W. Chisum, pastor of the First Methodist church of that city, officiated in the ring ceremony.

Immediately after the wedding the young couple departed on a motor trip through South Texas. Returning here after two weeks, they will be at home at 317 North Somerville street.

The wedding was attended by members of the two families and a small group of intimate friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a smart suit of dark blue transparent velvet, with accessories in the same shade. Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley formed her arm bouquet.

Her only attendant was Miss Mary Gillespie of Clovis, N. M. Mr. W. L. McConnell, Pampa, law partner of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. George, an aunt of the bride, sang as the pre-nuptial song "I Love You Truly." Her accompaniment was played by Mrs. Cleek, who also played the wedding march.

The vows were said before an altar formed of banked ferns and baskets of lovely pastel toned chrysanthemums, surrounded by altar candles. Cut blossoms and late garden flowers made the house doubly attractive for the occasion.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith of Clarendon, grand-parents of the bride; Miss Lucille Douglass and Mr. Y. E. Douglass of Pampa, sister and father of the bridegroom; Judge J. C. Paul and Howard Paul of Amarillo; the bride's maid, and the best man.

The bride is a member of a pioneer family of Panhandle, a graduate of Panhandle high school, and a former student of the University of Oklahoma. Mr. Douglass, a young attorney of this city, is the son of Mr. Y. E. Douglass, also of Pampa. After attending a Texas college, he received his law degree from Lebanon university, Lebanon, Tenn. He has been a resident of Pampa one year.

Local Hunters Get Deer in Colorado

Earl Powell and Carlton Nance returned this morning from a hunting trip to Colorado where they bagged two fine bucks, one four and one of three points.

They killed the deer on the western slope, near Pasalt. It is believed they brought the first kills of the season to Pampa. Colorado's season was from Oct. 12 to 15.

At Harve, Mont., a monoplane took off from a flying field without a pilot, flew four or five miles and only broke propeller on landing.

believed they would be held until they can be tried.
The twelve men under general order six are: Cal Baird, former deputy sheriff; J. D. Lee, D. T. Blassingame, former policeman; Sam Jones, ousted deputy constable; John Harkness, John Ware, G. Louis Crim, Leroy Dempsey, Don McCombs, H. O. Taylor, F. C. Cleveland and T. A. Board.

BORGER, Oct. 17. (AP)—The new broom had swept clean here today, and all of the county and city officers, suspended when Governor Moody sent troops here to apply martial law after the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes had resigned.

In sending the troops here the governor charged that a deeply entrenched criminal ring existed, and later his representatives announced martial law would not be lifted until the county and city administrations were in the hands of men approved by Clem Calhoun, District Attorney.

With all of the old officers out and most of them replaced by men approved by Calhoun, the troops are expected to return to their homes tomorrow or Saturday.

C. O. Moore, Texas Ranger, was made sheriff of the county yesterday by the county commissioners court, and Albert Mace, police chief at Mexia, was made chief of police here. Mace took over his job at Mexia in 1922 when the troops left there after quelling a situation similar to the one which existed here.

Preparation for departure of the troops are expected the moment the county commissioners round out their appointments. Two constables remain to be appointed here as well as a justice of the peace. In addition, a complete set of assistants to the new sheriff must be approved.

In the meantime, the district court ground away at its criminal grist, Geo. W. Hoff, whose trial for possession of liquor was the first criminal trial in the county since the declaration of martial law, won an acquittal, and a similar case against L. W. Rook was immediately taken up.

No indication had been given as to the course of the grand jury's deliberations, but it was supposed the jurors were studying every scrap of evidence available bearing on the assassination of Holmes.

MEXIA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Albert R. Mace, for seven years police chief here, today wired from Borger his resignation to City Manager R. D. Morgan. Mayrin Wooten, city policeman, also resigned saying he would join Mace's force in Borger.

Principal speakers at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Agee of Abilene, field secretary and recreational director of the conference, respectively. Vance Swinburn of Memphis, district secretary, presided.

Wheat Rallies
CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Influenced by sensationally bullish crop estimates from Argentina and by reports domestic mills had become active purchasers, wheat here rallied today after a weak start.
Starting at 3-4c to 1 5-8c setback, Chicago wheat sagged a little more, and then recovered rapidly. Corn displayed independent strength, opening 1-4c to 5-8c off, and subsequently scoring gains. Oats were easy. Provisions tended upward.

Wheat price here closed nervous, at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8c lower. Corn closed 1-4 to 1-2 to 5-8c advance. Oats unchanged to 1-4c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10c.

SHAWNEE, Okla., Oct. 17. (AP)—A petition for a sanity hearing for Arthur L. Fauble, Shawnee wholesale merchant who has related a dramatic story of being a prisoner and unwilling tool of a blackmailing gang, was filed today in Pottawatomie county court by Randall Pittman, county attorney.

The petition asserted Fauble, who is held in jail, is subject to hallucinations and had sent "various letters to citizens of Shawnee."

Oil Promoter Acquitted

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17. (AP)—W. A. Patterson, charged with fraud in his representations to investors in the "ten-well pool," was found not guilty by a federal court jury yesterday.

Dinner Coat Is Still Favorite at the White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The dinner coat is still popular at the White House even though the arbiters of fashion have decreed it is passe for all except the most formal occasions.

President Hoover, whose distaste for formal dress of any kind is well known to his friends, makes a concession when there is a very state occasion such as a dinner for a prime minister or an ambassador. Otherwise he appears for dinner in a tuxedo.

And those who are invited to the White House for the rather large dinner gatherings of which the President and Mrs. Hoover are so fond are told beforehand that the "black tie" and the short coat are the things to wear.

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—"Hully gee, what you tryin' to put on me? I may be just a kid, and ain't got no pilot's license, but if I'm too young to fly a plane, then I reckon I ought to be too young to prosecute."

With this statement he sent the great state of Texas into a "nose dive" and then made a perfect landing which enabled him to "take off" from Judge Noland G. Williams' court room today free of any charge.

Several days ago Preston Sneed, director of municipal airports, filed a complaint against "Freckles" charging him with violating the law which requires pilots to have a license. It was the first case filed in Dallas under the new state law.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK

NEW YORK—The race to put up the tallest office building having been projected, on paper, to the 100-story stage, architects are frowning over the elevator problem.

The shaft space, cable weight and speed have to be considered, and probable such ingenious arrangements as double-deck cabs. The population of the Woolworth building is about 10,000. Bigger buildings will, of course, house many more who must be transported to the heights as expeditiously as possible.

Another limiting factor is the capacity of the average human ear to withstand vibration in an elevator cab traveling at a speed of more than 1,500 feet a minute. Whether people can become accustomed to the sensation of faster service remains to be determined.

Less than a century ago, engineers recall, doctors of a German city prepared a weighty professional protest against the proposal to bring a railway to their city. They feared for those unfortunate citizens whose health might be injured by observing the trains as they raced thru the countryside at the fantastic speed of 20 miles an hour.

OFFICE HUNTING A-WING

The tendency to read taller buildings probably has no connection with aviation, none of the plans as yet including landing platforms or mooring stations.

But a landlord reports an interesting incident. A man called to rent an office, "high up."

"How about the thirty-fifth floor?" asked the rental agent.

"No," said the caller. "I want one in the forties. I flew over the building yesterday and I liked it up there."

SPECIALIST

Society's advertised endorsement of certain products apparently is giving way to another form of salesmanship allure.

One Fifth avenue store has hired the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia as advisor to its clientele. This was followed by another establishment importing a Parisian princess who, for $300 or more will take over any woman and attempt to enhance her cosmetic beauty with the right clothes.

TRAGEDY, WITH SOUND

A nerve specialist reports that domestic difficulties and divorce often are traced to irritabilities caused by the city's noise. This reminds me of a story passed around by several Park row reporters.

The news men regular diners in a certain restaurant situated amidst the commercial noise of downtown. They began to notice an old couple that came to the restaurant every day.

The wife was sweet and motherly and her husband was a typical gentleman of what is called the old school—kindly, dignified and courteous. It was obvious that each was fond of the other. The man ordered for his wife with tender care and treated her with unflinching chivalry.

But as weeks went by, the reporters observed a gradual change. The old gentleman became gruff and quarrelsome, the wife became petulant and peevish. The constant din had roughed their velvet manner. One night they had words and the husband left in a huff. The next day the old man appeared alone. The woman never came back. They had separated.

John Marshall, from the University of Chicago, has hobbled his way around the world in de luxe style with no more security than an irresistible grim. He plans to write a book on his experiences before he returns to the States.

Judge John C. Knox recently barred the taking of photographs inside the New York Federal Court House.

SUNDOWN STORIES

By Mary Graham Bonner
THE AIR HOTEL

"Back in your day," said the little black clock (and it made the children feel so nice and old, and strange), "they traveled a bit in the air, but they did not go in for air hotels."

"They came later on. People were more apt to make little trips in your day—traveling from place to place, carrying mail, or discovering how far they could go without stopping."

"Then came—in your day, too—people who tried to see how long they could stay up in the air."

"But all that was long ago. We're two hundred years ahead of your usual time now."

"And they have air hotels?" Peggy asked.

"Yes. You see the people on earth would get tired and want a change of scene, and they decided they didn't think any of the old places would quite do."

"So air hotels were built. They just stay right up in the air as those planes used to stay up in your day—only stay longer, usually, and are very comfortable.

"There are air hotels where you can stay a week, or two weeks or three or four. You just write and say how long you want to stay then they send you to the hotel which is going to stay up that long."

John and Peggy looked all about them. The hotel was beautiful. There was even a swimming pool.

"Couldn't we have a swim?" John asked.

"Want to?" the little black clock asked.

"Do I?" said John. And Peggy said: "I can swim too—not like John, but I can swim."

"All right," said the little black clock. "I'll fix it."

No More "Iron Maidens"! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Never again need scientific research grope in darkened cellars behind doors bolted against torture. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has swept before it the ignorant barrier which stupidly impeded men of genius and science marches proudly on.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

BAYLOR SCARE ABOUT OVER IN GRID CIRCLES

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a scramble to get aboard the Baylor bandwagon a month ago. At that time a big majority of the Scriveners within the borders of the Southwest conference broadcast a warning to watch the Green wave. Now, a casual perusal of the exchanges reveals, quite a few of them have undergone a rapid transition of mind. The Bears, a symposium indicates, are not quite the all-powerful outfit they were cracked up to be. Any one of three other teams, the Texas Longhorns, Texas Aggies, and T. C. U. Horned Frogs, are accorded an excellent chance of grabbing the title. Most of the observers count Southern Methodist, Arkansas and Rice out of it.

Reasons for the wholesale desertion of the Bruin banner are several. First and foremost is the fact that the Longhorns, Frogs and Aggies are shaping up much more powerfully than a pre-season survey indicated. Secondly, the Baylor eleven was not particularly impressive against St. Edward's university last Saturday, even with a 19 to 0 victory. The crippled Saints fought their conference foe on almost even terms much of the way. They—the ones who saw it—said the brilliant Jake Wilson was not playing up to his 1928 form, and the Bears looked weak on the wings. Potter and Lucas, Baylor ends, were treated roughly by the Saints blockers.

All of which, if true, is portentous, but it probably would be an excellent idea to see what the Bears do to Arkansas Saturday before passing final judgment. They will open up their bag of tricks in the conference opener, something they have not done against lesser opponents. Coach Jennings used no more than was necessary to stop the Saints last week. With a set of veteran, versatile backs at his command, the Bear mentor is certain to have developed a wide variety of plays to dazzle the Razorbacks. The prediction is the Bruins, on their own field, will trim Arkansas at least by as wide a margin as the Longhorns did last week.

Due to the fact they have not played a single game against the same team, it is difficult to size up the Aggies and Frogs in advance of their prize tussle Saturday at Fort Worth. It looks, offhand, as if they are two as evenly matched elevens as could be brought together, two strongly balanced offensive machines; yet is all a matter of conjecture. There is no way of telling whether Centenary, beaten by the Frogs 28 to 0 last week, is on a par with the Kansas Aggies, whom the Bellmen flogged, 19 to 0. It will have to be a stand-off until they clash at Clark field. T. C. U. officials expect 15,000 to see the game.

On the strength of their crushing win over Arkansas, the Longhorns have been established slight favorites over the Oklahoma university Sooners in the intersectional affair at Dallas, despite the Sooners' victory over Creighton. The Southwest conference this year appears stronger than the Big Six, and the Longhorns are one of the four stoutest teams in the Southwest circuit. The basis for the theory that the Southwest has the Big Six shaded lies in Southern Methodist's scoreless tie with Nebraska and the Aggies' victory over Kansas State, both of which are considered Big Six title contenders.

Two of the most feared teams in the state high school race this season are Amarillo and Brownsville, so far apart that the average airplane has to refuel to fly between them. Both have been running up big scores, and it is not without the realm of possibility that they will meet in the finals. That would call for a neutral field, unless one of the teams could get a week off from school to travel.

Million Dollar Smuggling Ring Is Broken Up and Elaborate Arsenal Seized by Federal Raiding Squad

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—A fortified arsenal, equipped with emplacements for its battery of machine guns and used as headquarters for a $1,000,000 rum smuggling syndicate, was in the hands of federal agents today after a surprise attack on the syndicate extending along the Atlantic coast from here to Atlantic City, N. J.

A mile from the armed base of operations at Highlands, N. J., the raiders captured a hidden radio station from which orders in code were sent to a fleet of liquor ships and speed boats operated by the syndicate.

A force of 130 special treasury agents, deputy U. S. marshals and New Jersey state police, going into action simultaneously made 32 raids, arrested 32 men and seized quantities of imported liquor.

Among those arrested were Emanuel (Mannie) Kessler and Morris Sweetwood, both of whom have served terms in the federal prison at Atlanta for large scale bootlegging operations.

The raids were based on secret indictments returned by a federal grand jury at Trenton, N. J., although Kessler and Sweetwood were not named in the indictments, they were found in the home of one of the men named and taken into custody.

Preparations for the raids began six months ago, when an intercepted message was decoded. From that and other messages information was gleaned which led to the raids.

When the federal agents entered the station at 4:30 p. m., yesterday, the zero hour for the raids, they found Malcolm McMasters, the operator at his key. He was arrested for operating an unlicensed station. A federal operator familiar with the smuggler's code then began sending messages by which the raiders hoped to lure a rum ship off Montauk Point into a trap where a coast guard patrol boat lay in wait.

The arsenal was located in a mansion formerly owned by Oscar Hammerstein, Jr. Its 20 rooms were fitted like a club. In the basement, the raiders found tunnels leading to underground vaults in which liquor was stored and where a number of machine guns and a quantity of small arms were hidden.

The cupola on top of the mansion was equipped with telescopes and was apparently used as a lookout tower from where the smugglers could watch for their craft.

One of the raids was made on what the agents said was the New York headquarters of the syndicate in West 43rd street. Here, the federal men said, members of the organization met regularly to divide the profits of the business and discuss plans. The other raids were on landing stations, storage houses and distribution points.

Patrick Connors, clerk at the Ambassador hotel in Atlantic City, was arrested as a contact man for the syndicate.

William J. Calhoun, prohibition administrator for New Jersey, in charge of the raids in his state, said the syndicate was a "million dollar outfit" which operated a fleet of six ships between St. Pierre and Bermuda and an auxiliary fleet of ten speed boats.

ILLINI TO PLAY FEARED IOWANS ON SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Bob Zupke and his larruping Illini packed their bags and prepared to hit the long trail which may bring them their third straight Big Ten football championship today.

Zupke's squad, regarded as possessing more potential strength than any he has groomed in a decade, pointed toward the Horner's nest of the conference—Iowa City, home of Burt Ingwersen's dangerous University of Iowa eleven.

The game renews a 30-year-old rivalry and dedicates the new $500,000 Iowa stadium. It is the first conference start of the year for the Illini.

Outwardly Zupke is greatly worried over the Hawkeye invasion. His team hasn't been able to stop Iowa plays satisfactorily this week in practice while one or two of his regulars are not in the best of condition.

Ill fortune has beset Northwestern, which is preparing for the invasion of Minnesota's haughty gothens. Coach Dick Hanley was forced to bed yesterday by bronchitis and may not be able to direct his team Saturday. His brother, Pat Hanley, has picked up the coaching reins.

Still seeking more punch in the backfield, Coach Harry Kipke has shifted Captain Joe Trustkowski from the line to halfback and may use him there in place of the injured Alvin Dahlem for the Iowa State battle Saturday. Coach Sam Willaman of Ohio State, in turn, has sent Allen Holman from halfback to quarter.

Demotions and promotions were flying so fast in Wisconsin's camp that only Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite had any idea of the Badger lineup for the Notre Dame struggle on Soldier field. Milo Lubratovich was shifted back to the line from fullback after a short try-out, but landed on the second team for the time being.

Condition of Knute Rockne, suffering from a bad leg, was discussed more than football at Notre Dame although his assistants had the ramblers on edge for the Badger fight. Specialists examined the coach yesterday and recommended a rest cure. Rockne probably will direct his team Saturday from a wheel chair.

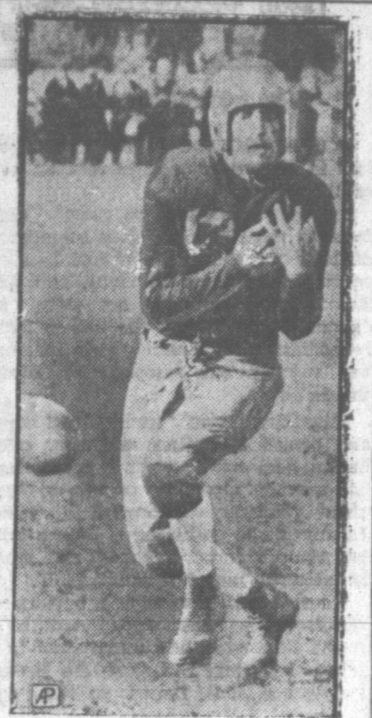

Coach Pat Page is reorganizing his varsity for the Colgate game and promising some drastic changes.

"Black Diamond" Taken for Ride by Mates—Jealousy Inspired His Crime

KENEDY, Oct. 17. (AP)—Taken "for a ride" by his own herd mates and "put on the spot" by his human friends of the circus lot, Black Diamond, rogue elephant who Saturday killed a woman at Corsicana, was executed here yesterday. A short machine gun like weapon was employed by his executioner.

With Black Diamond's death the circus lost between ten and fifteen thousand dollars, but rid itself of an animal which, according to its former trainer, had killed three people.

Circus elephant men who conducted the execution took no chances on a repetition of Saturday's tragedy, in which the elephant, with no apparent provocation, seized and crushed to death Mrs. Eva Donahoe, a spectator. After that outbreak, the killer elephant has been confined to a steel barred box car in which he was heavily chained. Three days were allowed for the elephant to recover from his unreasonable fury so the execution could be carried out without undue danger.

When the huge grave had been prepared in a pasture about two miles from town, the elephant's handlers gave him the familiar rallying cry for parade, and he lumbered into position as he had been accustomed to do for years. Three of his herd mates were yoked to him with chains to make certain he would not stampede. A queue of circus people and curious townspeople followed him in his lumbering death march. The elephant, a magnificent 31-year-old bull, one of the tallest in captivity, was a dramatic figure.

Near the grave Black Diamond was firmly chained to three trees, and Hans Nagel, director of the Houston zoo, and Adrian Hines, a taxidermist who wished to save the head for the Houston institution, took charge.

The first burst of lead fired into the body of the nine-ton pachyderm seemed to puzzle the animal, another burst made him groggy, and he rolled over slowly and took another fusillade in the body. The executioner then gave Black Diamond the coup de grace, a single well directed shot in the brain, and the circus had done with him. After the head had been removed, workmen tugged and hauled at the huge body until it rolled into the grave.

Black Diamond, like all killers, had led an adventuresome life, and a foot-loose one despite his captivity. He roamed the jungle in his infancy, came to this country as a baby elephant in a dog and pony show, and toured for years with the circus until he became one of the biggest elephants in captivity.

According to the theory advanced by H. D. Prickett, Black Diamond's trainer before he left the circus to work for Mrs. Donahoe, jealousy and a long memory were responsible for the tragedy Saturday. In his hospital bed in Corsicana, where he is recovering from injuries received when he tried to save Mrs. Donahoe, Prickett said the elephant saw Mrs. Donahoe with him when he said good bye to it and to the circus. Prickett believed the elephant remembered and charged the woman because it had seen him leave with her.

Miss Josephine Callaghan, armless woman flier, was killed when her plane crashed in Texas recently.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—"The passing show no longer intrudes."

That, in a nutshell, is the secret of the success of Tom Schall, the blind United States senator from Minnesota—his own formula.

And his is an outstanding example of success won against disadvantage.

He was three years old when his father died, leaving the family destitute.

His mother was forced to cook in a hotel, and he was forced to sell papers and black boots while growing up.

At the age of 12 he could neither read nor write.

He worked in a brick yard, played ball in a bush league, and won a prize of $25 and a cow once in a prize fight against a professional pugilist.

And for a while he tried railroading.

BLINDED

He was just getting on his feet when his blindness came. Admission to the bar had come not so long before, and clients were coming into his office faster than he could take care of them.

He stopped by a drug store one night to get a smoke. A new lighter had just been installed and a careless electrician had connected it with a powerful electric wire. Schall was the first to try it. A blinding flash and his sight was gone.

In his dark hour of discouragement he talked over his problems with his wife. He remarked at the time that he guessed the only thing left for him was to sell lead pencils. But his wife thought different.

"No, Tom," she said, "we're going to practice law. I'll be your eyes."

"I wanted to quit," says the senator. "Morning after morning—when I could sleep—I awakened, opened my eyes, heard the sounds and felt the atmosphere, but saw not the light of day. Then, with a terrible rush of consciousness that day would never dawn again for me, that the battle had to be fought all over."

"At each new awakening I was overwhelmed anew, shocked anew."

WIFE ALWAYS WITH HIM

But with his wife's aid he carried on. Mrs. Schall is his constant companion. At home, in his office—everywhere she is near. They were playmates at school and he still refers to her as his "brilliant little classmate."

"Without her love and tender understanding, I think I would have quit."

He came to congress as a representative and served five terms. In 1924 he ran for the senate, was elected and has been there since.

Senator Schall has come to regard his blindness as an asset.

"To the blind man," he says, "work is his pleasure."

"The blind man's interest in the glitter and show and recreations are narrowed down to the product of his brain.

"All his other senses are sharpened, and through concentration, all other things being equal, he must excel.

"The interest of the seeing man is diffused by the passing show . . . The minds that have accomplished the most in this world have been those most capable of concentration.

"I live thru my mind and, like the used key, it must grow brighter."

Talks To Parents

TODDLER CLOTHING
By Alice Judson Peale

In schooling the winter clothes for the small child there are certain points which it is well to keep in mind.

Clothing for the small child must be warm, light, durable, washable, and simple to put on and remove.

Heavy overcoats which seem so adequate and sensible are really not as satisfactory as soft, rather lightweight coats which may be worn over one or two sweaters as seem necessary. The woolen one-piece play suits with a hookless fastener down the front is an ideal outer garment for the little child who will be playing in the snow during the coming months.

Children who live in a well heated house all winter may be kept in cotton underwear throughout the year, additional warmth necessary for the out of doors being obtained by dressing them in more woolen outer garments.

Cotton underclothing is desirable not only because it is more comfortable and healthy in the modern furnace heated house but also because it stands the boiling which is desirable for the really exquisite cleanliness with which we like to start the little one out of the nursery each day.

The child of two or more is normally eager to learn to dress and undress himself. His clothing should be devised with an idea of making use of this first urge toward independence. Fastenings should be as simple as possible. They should come in front where he can easily learn to manage them.

The perfect underclothing for the small child is not the familiar "combination" but separate shirt and drawers or bloomers. These last should be made with a smooth band in front and an elastic across the back. The two-year-old readily learns to manage them without help and with a resulting growth in his feeling of independence.

An undersea photographer took his baby down the tube from which he photographed so that she might be cool for her afternoon nap.

There Never Has Been a Time That Lobbies Have Not Been Very Active

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Nearly everyone who writes about lobbies in Washington gives voice to the assumption that we all believe the institution of the lobby is something new and then attempts to astonish us by proving otherwise.

Your correspondent is not going to suggest that the customers of this newspaper are as ignorant as that, but after diligent research he hopes to be able to set down more concerning the antiquity and history of lobbies than has ever been gathered together before. The unanimity with which writers have neglected this subject is nothing short of astonishing and no more than a general outline can be given because lobbies were not on the been accepted with the greatest equanimity.

From the Beginning

There never has been a time since the establishment of this government when the lobbyists were not on the job in the national capital.

They have taken goodness knows how many billions of dollars from the American people through their grabs of land, natural resources and profitable favors. Any complete history of lobbies, including those which have worked on state legislatures, would take ten times the space of the largest encyclopedia.

It is often pointed out that the modern day lobby is far smoother and more respectable than the lobby of the last century. That's a fact and it's just as well. If the old lobby's tactics hadn't finally been modified the White House would now be occupied by a member of the power trust, the Capitol and the Lincoln Memorial would have been moved to some billionaire's backyard and the customs houses would all be in the hands of some enterprising corporation.

The time came when there wasn't much left to steal and competition became so keen that lobbyists began to checkmate each other. But until Congress and the legislatures had given away most of the country and its natural resources there were lobbyists on hand of the very type to grease the legislators and speed the process. Today there isn't much left except power sites and those are being handed out as rapidly as possible.

"The Fathers" believed in direct action. At the outset they did their own lobbying when it was necessary instead of hiring someone. Alexander Hamilton led the first congressional lobby in the first for the funding of the national debt and the assumption by the federal government of the state debts. The people with money had bought up this paper for as low as 10 cents on the dollar. Members of Congress were among the speculators and the others came rushing to the scene to exert pressure.

"I do not know that pecuniary influence has actually been used," wrote Senator William Maclay of Pennsylvania in his journal, "but I am certain that every kind of management has been practiced and every tool at work that could be thought of."

Maclay reported that government officials, clergymen, citizens, members of the Cincinnati and every person under the influence of Hamilton's Treasury worked for the bill. President George Washington's secretary lobbied openly on the floor of the House. That was in 1790. The main objection to the bill, which was opposed by Madison and Jefferson, was that it would enrich the speculators instead of the original holders.

Hollywood Signs Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—One needs a lot of tact in Hollywood, and more than ever these days.

Broadway has sent so many new faces to the films that it is sometimes difficult for the movie people to recognize all of them by sight, and the Broadwayites similarly are often in danger of treading on the toes of Hollywoodians whose names they remember vaguely but associate no faces therewith.

There are literally hundreds of stage and screen celebrities and near celebrities here now, and it is more than the average newcomer can do to keep them properly catalogued in mind. In any mixed gathering a chance critical remark, however honest and kindly intended, may fall like T. N. T.

There is, for example, the story of the Broadway star seated next to a movie light who had undertaken in a talkie the same role that the Broadwayite had made famous on the stage.

BURNING EARS

"Really," the New Yorker assured her movie sister, "you were very good, and I am sure that if you'd had even a fair director it would have been a splendid success." She went on to itemize the shortcomings of that particular director, who, as it happened, was seated beside the miserable movie star, his ears burning.

Another time, after a premiere, some one strolled over to a crowd of "yes-ing" studio satellites grouped around a beaming little man who seemed to be the center of attention. One of the group asked the newcomer his opinion of the picture. "I think it's as lousy a talkie as was ever made," he answered honestly.

There was suddenly a deathly hush. The beaming little man no longer beamed. He was the director.

Someone suggests that the only place to express and honest opinion in Hollywood is the middle of a sound-proofed stage, deserted and alone . . . But then even there some microphone might "pickup" the expression and preserve it in damning wax forever.

In the movies as in literature, few successful and popular productions can escape being burlesqued or satirized sooner or later. Just now it is the courtroom and murder mystery school of screen fiction that is under fire in "Murder Will Out," with Monte Blue and Lois Wilson. And in another picture, a short talking travesty called "The Fatal Forceps," the dignified courtroom of the murder trial has been designed in futuristic style.

And by the way, Ben Turpin did not, as was reported from waggy sources, officiate as chief traffic officer at the western premier of "The Cock-Eyed World."
