Woman killed when officer's gun discharges

McKINNEY (AP) — A police officer's gun accidentally discharged during a burglary investigation Tuesday, killing a homeowner, officials said.

The 31-year-old woman, identified as Cathy Howard-Kalimah, died at the scene.

Investigators said the alarm system in the woman's home was going off Tuesday afternoon when the officer arrived.

Authorities said the officer walked around the outside of the house and saw the back door slightly open. As the officer attempted to go inside, the door apparently popped open, hitting the officer's weapon and causing it to fire.

A single bullet went through the door, striking the woman in the chest. The officer, whose name was not disclosed, has been a police officer for three years.

McKinney police Capt. Robert Dean said in a statement that the department was conducting an initial investigation Tuesday night.

The Dallas Morning News reported that the incident appeared to be the first fatal shooting involving a McKinney officer since 1993.

Cash for Trash program June 16

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Cash for Trash was so successful in Pampa in 2000 that it is being repeated on June 16, 2001.

In the first year of the innovative clean-up program, the City of Pampa paid out $5,550 to local residents in its large waste Buy Back Program.

The Second Annual Cash for Trash program is designed to pay local residents for properly disposing of large waste items, such as mattresses, furniture, large pieces of carpeting, appliances, or plumbing fixtures.

Proof of residency in Pampa will be required this year, said Rick Stone,

Superintendent of the Pampa Sanitation Department. "Last year we had people coming from surrounding towns bringing their trash to the Cash for Trash," he said. "It is limited to Pampa residents."

Stone said residents must present a driver's license, utility bills or similar identification verifying their residence in Pampa.

The goal for this program is to promote a clean city philosophy and practices.

It will also get the alleys cleaned up, said Jim Benton of the City of Pampa Sanitation Office.

"Last year was a big success," he said. "We hope to get the alleys cleaned up again this year."

"Local residents did in one day last year what it would take our city employees six months," said Benton. "We had people going up and down the alleys getting items to sell to make money."

Citizens will receive one to five dollars on each eligible waste item, payable upon disposal at the City Landfill. There will be no limit placed on the number of visits, or the amount of eligible buy-back items per customer during the scheduled event.

Commercial waste will not be accepted as eligible buy-back waste items, he said.

In addition to cash payments for eligible waste items, members of the City Commission, the mayor, city manager, and director of public works will be on hand to present a complimentary gift to the first customer through the gate at 8 a.m., June 16.

Items may be sold from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. at the Pampa Landfill, Loop 171, northeast of town.

Residents, as well as neighborhood, school, youth and civic groups, are encouraged to take full advantage of this financial incentive. It will contribute to an enhanced quality of life in the community.

Not only will the Cash for Trash program improve the efficiency with solid waste collection, but it will also help develop new and lasting good disposal habits among Pampa residents while putting some extra money in residents' pockets, said Benton.

Grand jury to get home alone case Tot remains in foster care

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

The Gray County Grand Jury will decide whether Matthew Lynn Schiffman, 37, will be bound over for trial on charges of endangering a child, a felony, and child abandonment, 31st District Attorney Richard Roach said Wednesday morning.

The 223rd Grand Jury meets Monday, June 11, at the Gray County Courthouse, said Roach.

"They will consider the case and we will go from there," he said.

Schiffman was arrested Thursday night around midnight at a local bar after Gray County deputies found a 19-month-old girl alone at 401 N. Banks at 10:15 p.m. following an anonymous tip.

Fluid Compressor gets 'Texas Tornado' patent

Pampa's Fluid Compressor Corporation, a compressor manufacturer and packager, recently was granted Patent No. 6,227,222 for what inventor Gary Jennings says is "a major accomplishment for our company."

The patent is inclusive of any brand of liquid ring that uses a closed oil system, not specifically a Fluid Compressor Corporation unit. This process can be utilized anywhere vacuum or low pressure compression is needed.

While liquid ring compressors have been around for over 100 years, this flawless process has not, according to Jennings.

"With our closed oil system, we offer a machine that requires virtually no maintenance, no lubrication, no temperature problems and no seal fluid consumption," he said. "It is not your typical compression system. There is no baby-sitting to this one. It works fabulous in remote locations where constant attention is impossible."

Company officials predict the patent could revolutionize the energy industry due to the ability to revitalize marginal, depleted or abandoned oil or gas wells.

Shawn Clifton, company president, said, "There are hundreds of thousands of low volume wells that either do not produce or produce very little oil or gas."

Due to economics, Clifton says it is often not feasible to artificially extract the minerals but the new system "... gives producers an economical alternative to increase cash flow with an extremely short-term payout, typically four-to-eight weeks."

The company, at 734 S. Cuyler, manufactures liquid ring, rotary screw and reciprocating compressor packages for various industries. www.fluidcompressor.com

Particle count in water too high

Turbidity levels in Pampa's water supply tested too high on nine of 176 occasions in April prompting a state-mandated public notice that will appear in Thursday's edition of The Pampa News.

Gary Turley, project manager for OMI, said turbidity is the measure of particles, such as dirt, in surface water. The surface water in the Pampa system's mix of lake and well water comes from Lake Meredith.

OMI is the company that contracts with the city to operate both water and sewer treatment facilities.

The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission notice says the elevated level poses no threat to public health and that the city's drinking water was clean and contained no disease-causing organisms.

Music is method man uses to tout no-smoking message

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Music is a method used to tell many stories. Leo Cougarcorp is using his musical talents to join forces with the local American Cancer Society to educate young people about the dangers of smoking.

He will deliver his anti-smoking message to the beat of rap music at a scheduled performance during the Relay for Life June 22 and 23.

The lively, upbeat verses are sure to get the attention of young people, says Cougarcorp.

He hopes to make a difference in the quest to discourage young people from ever smoking. This is the second occasion he has worked with the American Cancer Society on this project, he said. He has also been active in getting the message to young people to never begin smoking.

"I love to work with kids," he said, "and I want them to be healthy."

New to the Pampa community, Cougarcorp is accomplished in the entertainment industry. The native of Louisiana said he has appeared with many well-known entertainment icons.

He's made appearances on the Johnny Carson Show, Saturday Night live, Soul Train, American Bandstand, Shabba-Do, Carol Burnett and What's Happening.

He has also appeared in Schlitz Malt Liquor commercials.

He is currently doing some recording, and he continues to deliver his anti-smoking message in his singing, dancing and acting.

He said he is in the process of incorporating Salsa into his music and plans to broaden his songs to three additional languages.

"I plan to have my music in Spanish, Korean and Japanese," he said.

Cougarcorp encourages young and old to attend his performance during the Relay for Life fund raiser at Recreation Park on June 22 and 23.

Teams of walkers will be walking to raise funds to assist cancer victims and fight the disease.

All cancer survivors are invited to participate in the Survivors Lap, which is the initial lap. Anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer may walk, run or ride in a wheel chair.

Additional information about the event may be obtained by contacting Pam Dalton.

People in the news

NEW YORK (AP) — Marion Jones, winner of a record five medals at the 2000 Olympics, has separated from her husband, world shot put champion C.J. Hunter, and will seek a divorce.

Jones had stood at her husband's side at the Sydney Olympics when Hunter was accused of using performance-enhancing drugs.

"It is with regret that I announce my separation from C.J. Hunter, my husband of nearly three years," Jones said in a statement Tuesday. "In the near future, I plan to seek a divorce due to irreconcilable differences, which have made nurturing our marriage extremely difficult.

"Having no mutual children, we have determined that this course is best for our respective futures."

The couple have been married since October 1998. Hunter has two children by a previous marriage.

"For several years, C.J. and I relied on each other for support both on and off the track, which has left us with many memorable experiences," Jones said. "I wish him well."

Last year, Hunter was suspended by the International Amateur Athletic Federation just before the Olympics after allegedly testing positive for a banned substance times at meets in Europe. He was banned from the Olympics and announced his retirement.

USA Track & Field officially suspended him for two years earlier this year after he chose not to fight the drug charges against him by the IAAF and USATF.

Hunter accepted the ban, but denied taking any banned substances.

Texas round up ...

Allison soaks Southeast Texas, weakens to tropical depression

HOUSTON (AP) — Allison, the first named storm of the Atlantic hurricane season, weakened early Wednesday to a tropical depression as it wound down across Southeast Texas in a torrent of up to 12 inches of rainfall and gusty winds.

Before Allison's sustained winds dropped to 35 mph, the tropical storm had spun off the Gulf of Mexico across Galveston Island with 60-mph gusts, pounding the coast for several hours and spawning tornadoes that caused scattered damage.

Flash flood watches remained in effect Wednesday from Galveston to about 120 miles inland, including the Houston area where flood waters had covered some roads as rainfall reached 2 to 3 inches per hour at the storm's height. Some motorists were stalled in bumper-deep water.

Additional flood watches covered creeks across Southeast Texas. Four to five more inches of rain were expected Wednesday in the region, extending into southern Louisiana.

A 280-mile stretch of coastline from Sargent, Texas to Morgan City, La., was placed under a tropical storm warning when a National Hurricane Center reconnaissance flight determined a cluster of offshore showers had developed suddenly into Allison Tuesday afternoon, only the fifth day of the Atlantic hurricane season.

Sibley in, Ratliff out for Lt. Gov. race

AUSTIN (AP) — With Acting Lt. Gov. Bill Ratliff out of the 2002 race for lieutenant governor, the field of Republican candidates is getting a little bit bigger.

Texas Supreme Court Justice Greg Abbott and Sen. David Sibley of Waco will announce Wednesday that they are running for the office.

And, Texas Land Commissioner David Dewhurst will announce next week that he will seek the post.

"With Sibley, Dewhurst and Greg Abbott, the race is wide open," said political consultant and lobbyist Bill Miller. "Two of them are statewide officeholders. They are each different type of individuals. It will be a very interesting."

On the Democratic side, former Texas comptroller John Sharp will announce his bid Thursday to become the state's second highest ranking official.

Ratliff, a Republican senator from Mount Pleasant, dropped out of the race Tuesday, saying he was not comfortable with the politics involved in running what could be a $10 million campaign.

Ratliff announced his candidacy May 26, two days before the legislative session ended. He has been acting lieutenant governor since last December, following a vote among senators to fill the vacancy left when George W. Bush became president and Rick Perry became governor.

Parolee convicted of fatally shooting man, stuffing body in barrel, set to die

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The padlocked 55-gallon drum affixed with a sticker that warned "Dangerous When Wet" caught the attention of a fisherman who spotted it in the clear water of Montague County's Amon Carter Lake.

When authorities investigating the discovery Aug. 11, 1987, retrieved the 300-pound container and removed the top, they had a murder case to solve.

Inside, weighted down with concrete, was the mummified body of a man, wrapped in carpets and blankets and tied with neckties. He had been shot in the face.

Using a phone number on the man's T-shirt that advertised Don's Paint and Body Shop, detectives tracked down the victim as Donald Johnson of Lubbock.

Several weeks later, a Texas parolee and former business associate, Mack Oran Hill, was arrested and charged with Johnson's slaying.

Hill, 47, was set to be executed Wednesday for the killing. He would be the eighth inmate to receive lethal injection this year in Texas, where a record 40 executions were carried out last year.

An acquaintance, Herbert Elliot, however, testified he saw Hill shoot Johnson March 2, 1987, at the Lubbock body shop where Johnson lived, use a knife and hammer-like kitchen tool to open wounds to drain Johnson's body of its blood, then wrap it in the carpet and blankets.

Law changes rule

AUSTIN (AP) — The next time the three Texas railroad commissioners testify at a legislative committee hearing, they won't have to post a notice for an agency meeting.

That's the effect of a new law Gov. Rick Perry signed this week.

The bill, authored by Sen. Jeff Wentworth, R-San Antonio, inserts an exception into the Open Meetings Act, which requires that notice must be posted if one or members of a state agency board take part in legislative committee hearings.

Under the new law, advance notice will not be required when a majority of board members take part in public hearings.

Weather focus

PAMPA — Today, mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms. Highs in the mid 80s. East to southeast winds increasing to 15 to 20 mph.

Tonight, mostly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. Lows in the mid 60s. Southeast winds 10 to 20 mph, diminishing late.

Thursday, partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. Highs in the upper 80s. Light northeast winds becoming east 10 to 20 mph.

STATEWIDE — Remnants of the tropical storm that spun itself out over Southeast Texas were taking aim early Wednesday at

Texas A&M president to step down

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M University President Ray M. Bowen, who steered the university through the tragedy of the 1999 Bonfire collapse, said he will step down next year.

Bowen, 65, was expected to formally announce his decision to leave the presidency during a Wednesday morning news conference on campus.

He plans to serve through June 30, 2002, which would make his tenure just over eight years. He said he wants to remain at Texas A&M as a faculty member in mechanical engineering, pursuing a long-standing desire to return to teaching.

"I'm resigning from the presidency; I'm not resigning from the university," Bowen said. "It's a change of role."

Bowen, who holds two degrees from A&M, left his job as provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oklahoma State University to come to Texas A&M in 1994. He also worked for one year as interim president of Oklahoma State.

Bowen's tenure was marked by the Nov. 18, 1999, bonfire tragedy that killed 12 Aggies and injured another 27.

The 90-year-old annual bonfire tradition was put on hold until at least 2002 as administrators, students and community members rework it.

A five-member commission appointed by A&M blamed the collapse on flawed construction techniques and the lack of adequate supervision of students assembling the stack. The report did not blame anyone for the collapse.

Effort begins to control access to post

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — Fort Hood has begun the lengthy process of registering more than 100,000 vehicles in an attempt to control access to the Army post.

"We continue to adjust to world events and changing threat environments in order to enhance the protection of our soldiers, civilians and families," Lt. Gen. Leon LaPorte, commanding general of Fort Hood and III Corps, said in a report in Tuesday's Killeen Daily Herald.
 "Controlling access to Fort Hood, as necessary, is a critical part of that force-protection mission," he said.

Col. Ed Veiga, III Corps and Fort Hood public affairs officer, said that although access is going to be more controlled, the post will not become a closed installation.

Fort Hood, which is sometimes used by Air Force One when President Bush flies in for weekends at his ranch near Crawford, will be conducting the registration process over a six-month period.

In November and December, the focus will shift to retirees, civilians who require access to the post and any soldiers who are missed in the first phase.

Foundation hopes sculpture garden promotes racial harmony in Jasper

JASPER, Texas (AP) — Sharon Shultz is aware the mention of her East Texas hometown of Jasper still summons images of a hotbed of racial intolerance.

"The world at large has looked at our community and gotten certain impressions of it we feel are undesired," Shultz says of Jasper, where a black man was chained to the back of a pickup truck by three white men and dragged to his death.

As the third anniversary of James Byrd Jr.'s June 7, 1998, murder approaches, Shultz and other Jasper residents are trying to ensure their community is not solely remembered as the place where the 49-year-old Byrd was pulled over a bumpy road and dismembered.

Shultz is a member of the Circle of Peace Foundation, a nonprofit group spearheading a construction project to turn several acres of donated land near downtown Jasper into a symbol of racial harmony.

The foundation is planning a garden with its centerpiece a bronze statue of seven children of different races holding hands in a circle.

While Jasper is known for its lakes, bass fishing, camping and piney woods, many still associate it only with one of the most shocking hate crimes in recent history.

Byrd was beaten, hooked with a logging chain to the back of a pickup truck and dragged by his ankles over three miles of country road near Jasper. His body was torn apart and the remains were found scattered along the road.

CASH

agreed to donate the use of roll-off containers to be placed adjacent to the landfill office for use during this event.

"This should eliminate vehicles with small loads from having to drive over to the landfill area," said Benton.

Appliances on the acceptable list and the amount of money to be paid on them are dishwasher, $3; microwaves, $1; refrigerator, $5; stoves/ranges, $5; water heaters (all types), $2; washer/dryer, $3; and televisions, $1.

Furniture includes book cases, $2; chairs, $2; chest of drawers, $3; couches, $5; lawn furniture—aluminum chairs, $1/chairs & table, $3; tables/chairs, $3 a set; single items, $1; mattresses, $3; box springs, $2; carpeting, 9x12, $5; 6 x9-9x12, $4; 6x9, $2.

Plumbing fixtures are bathtub, $5; sink, $2; and toilet, $3.

Other miscellaneous include children's tricycles, $1; and standard adult bicycles, $2; camper shells, $5; dog house, $2; and Playscape (swing set), $5.

Designated collection areas for metals and non-metal waste items will be available. He said residents are urged to separate their items before arriving at the landfill for easier disposal.

Only the item on the acceptable list will be purchased by the City of Pampa under the Cash for Trash program, said Benton. No credit will be given for other items.

Automobile tires will not be accepted free. There will be a charge to residents to take tires to the landfill. Gate attendant will quote prices at the Landfill Office.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Stone or Benton at 669-5840 or Richard Morris at 669-5750.

GRAND JURY

Deputies looked through the windows and saw the toddler laying on the couch naked. They contacted Child Protective Services and kicked in the locked door to gain access to the child.

CPS personnel took the child to the emergency room at Pampa Regional Medical Center where she was evaluated. She was placed in foster care, said Deputy Randy Langwell.

Bond was set at $1,000 on each charge by Precinct One Justice of the Peace Joe Martinez. He remained in the county jail today.

A divorce decree was granted to Schiffman and Alma Blanco Schiffman in the 223rd District Court on April 24, 2001, according to court records.

According to the decree, both parents, Matthew

Lynn Schiffman and Alma Blanco Schiffman, were named joint conservators to a female child, born Sept. 19, 1999. The decree ordered that Matthew Lynn Schiffman "shall have exclusive right to establish the child's primary residence without regard to geographical location."

The original petition for divorce was filed Oct. 3, 2000. Kenneth Fields was attorney for Matthew Lynn Schiffman and Todd Alvey was the attorney for Alma Blanco Schiffman.

Langwell said Monday the child's mother is in Pampa.

He said when the officers entered the residence at 401 N. Banks Thursday night the home was in disarray and that there was old and moldy food in the kitchen.

The Grand Jury will hear the case Monday in Pampa.

WATER

Turley believes the addition of carbon to improve the taste of the city's water is what has caused the increase in turbidity.

The taste and odor problems have been traced to a basin in Borger that holds water from Lake Meredith, Public Works Director Richard Morris said previously. That basin is expected to be cleaned out after the summer is over and, meanwhile, that water poses no health threat.

To correct the turbidity problem, Turley said polymers will be added to the water. He said the polymers, along with the routinely included alum, will bind with particles thus causing the particles to settle out before the water is piped out for use.

Turbidity levels are not supposed to exceed 0.5 NTU in more than five percent of the measurements made in a month. Turley said Pampa's highest level in the testing was 5.2 percent.

Rodman, Broncos Davis join celebrities named in Gold Club trial

ATLANTA (AP) — Former basketball bad boy Dennis Rodman and Denver Broncos superstar Terrell Davis are among the latest celebrities to be associated in court with Atlanta's notorious Gold Club, whose owner is accused of courting them with free sex shows and trysts with club performers.

Thomas "Ziggy" Sicignano, a key witness in the federal racketeering case against club owner Steve Kaplan and six associates, testified Tuesday that he and Kaplan arranged for two dancers to meet Rodman — a frequent Gold Club visitor — in his hotel room for sex once in 1998.

Sicignano also said Kaplan arranged a sex show for three New York Knicks rookies in 1997 in Charleston, S.C., where the team was training. He said six club dancers performed for John Wallace, Walter McCarty and Dontae Jones and had sex with them.

"The three rookies were very excited about what was going on," Sicignano said.

Prosecutors have painted Kaplan as a starstruck profiteer who used the lure of sex with club dancers to entice celebrities and professional athletes to raise the profile of the strip club, believed to be the nation's most profitable.

Sicignano said dancers also provided oral sex at the club for former World Championship Wrestling executive Eric Bischoff, NBA players Jerry Stackhouse and Larry Johnson, and Davis.

Spokesmen for the Knicks, the National Basketball Association and the individual athletes named all declined to comment when the allegations were raised earlier this year.

Sicignano, one of the club's top advisers in 1994 when Kaplan bought it, pleaded guilty to withholding information from investigators and will get a reduced sentence in exchange for his testimony against the other defendants.

The accused face racketeering charges, including accusations of credit card fraud, prostitution, loansharking and funneling money to the Gambino crime family.

Also Tuesday, the jury had its first opportunity to hear from Kaplan, via a videotape made without his knowledge in a business office in New York City. On the tape, Kaplan boasts to New York associates about how much money is made at the Gold Club through the sale of private VIP rooms at several hundred dollars each, and dancers pushing expensive champagne and meals on customers.

Sicignano also testified about accompanying Kaplan to move $5 million to $10 million in cash from Kaplan's home to another location soon after the club was raided by the FBI in March 1999.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Art Leach is expected to finish his examination of Sicignano on Wednesday, giving way to the seven defense attorneys for what is expected to be a lengthy cross-examination.

Princess Diana's butler denies theft in court

LONDON (AP) — A long-serving butler to Princess Diana appeared in court Wednesday and denied charges that he stole jewelry and a number of glittering trinkets from her estate.

Harold Brown, 48, faces four counts of theft involving items from the estate of the princess, who died in August 1997.

He is accused of taking a gem-studded model of an Arab sailing vessel valued at $700,000. The model was given to Diana and Prince Charles as a wedding gift by the Emir of Bahrain in 1981.

Brown is also accused of stealing a jewel daffodil motif valued at $7,000, jewelry worth $14,000, and $1,680 in cash.

The items were stolen between January 1997 and November 2000, police said.

The case at London's Bow Street Magistrates Court was adjourned until August 1.

Brown, who is now an employee of the queen's sister Princess Margaret and works as a butler at Kensington Palace, where Diana also had an apartment, was released on bail.

Princess Diana, her boyfriend Dodi Fayed and their driver, Henri Paul, died on Aug. 31, 1997, when their Mercedes slammed into a pillar in a traffic tunnel in Paris.

Street Party Saturday

Erin Baker of Dunlaps was one of those participating in last year's Downtown Street Party which, this year, is set for Saturday from 10-4. There'll be lots of prizes and merchants along Cuyler Street will have sidewalk sales and specials. The event is sponsored by the Downtown Business Association.

NYC mayor's girlfriend facing custody battle over daughter

NEW YORK (AP) — Judith Nathan's ex-husband is seeking custody of their 16-year-old daughter, saying Nathan's romance with Mayor Rudolph Giuliani has strained her relationship with the girl.

Bruce Nathan said his daughter is disturbed by all the publicity surrounding her mother's life and has suffered problems in school as a result.

The custody petition was filed in Manhattan Supreme Court late Monday.

The Naths divorced in 1992. Their daughter has lived with Bruce Nathan and his current wife in Manhattan since December, although her primary residence of record is with Judith Nathan.

The teen told her father Judith Nathan is "completely focused on her relationship with her new boyfriend and is not interested in spending time with (her)," the court papers allege.

During a December visit, court papers say, Judith Nathan "had become very angry with (the girl) and had physically threatened her." Court papers say the girl was "visibly shaken and distraught" when her father saw her the next day.

The papers also say the teen-ager told Bruce Nathan that Giuliani had made "nasty remarks" about him.

Raoul Felder, who is representing Judith Nathan, did not immediately return phone calls seeking comment. Felder also represents the mayor in his divorce.

Last fall, Giuliani filed for divorce from actress and television personality Donna Hanover, 51. They both still live in Gracie Mansion, the official mayoral residence, with their two children, and are waging a bitter legal battle of their own.

Besides gaining legal custody of his daughter, Bruce Nathan, a wallpaper salesman, wants to end child support payments to his ex-wife. The custody petition was filed about a week after Judith Nathan asked Family Court for increased child support, saying her ex-husband's income had risen while hers has decreased.

Q Do You think it is healthy for a husband and wife to work together and to be in each other's company 24 hours a day?

A That sometimes works out fine. It depends on the individual couple. I can tell you, however, what is typical. According to behavioral researchers, the healthiest marriages and those with the highest sexual voltage are those that "breathe" -- relationship that move from a time of closeness and tenderness to a more distant posture, and then come together for another reunion as the cycle concludes.

This is why it's not always advantageous for a husband and wife to work together or to concentrate exclusively on each other in the absence of friends and colleagues outside the family. There is something about the diversity of interests and activities by each partner that keeps a couple from consuming each other and burning out the relationship in the short run.

Marriage is, after all, a marathon and not a sprint. Husbands and wives need to maintain a regenerating system that will keep love alive for a lifetime. Cultivating a healthy interest in many things is one big step in that direction.

Q You often describe marriages where the wife's emotional needs go unmet because the husband is a "workaholic." That description is scary to me because I can see my own marriage in what you said. I'm a student who has to work full time just to make ends meet, and I rarely see my family. We have a baby and a toddler, and my wife is pretty unhappy with me. But what can I do? If I'm going to get my degree, we have to sacrifice for a while.

A Your self-discipline is admirable, and I hope you reach your goals. A word of caution is in order, however. No amount of success is worth the loss of your family. You and your wife are in a high-risk category for marital problems. The bonding that should occur in the first decade requires time together -- time that can't be given if it is absorbed elsewhere. My advice is to hold on to your dreams, but take a little longer to fulfill them. Success will wait, but a happy family will not.

Q What do you say to the woman who tolerates infidelity in her husband because she has no financial resources? What if she is afraid to confront him because he could leave her in poverty?

A I have no simple answers for that woman. Life can place us between rocks and hard places where problems seem almost unsolvable. Such is the plight of mothers raising children with little or no financial help from their ex-husbands.

According to the Department of Health and Human Services, this is the primary source of poverty in America today. Almost half of all people living below the poverty line are divorced women with children. The same survey revealed that half of the divorced mothers do not receive the court-ordered amount of child support from the ex-husbands.

I'm pleased that the federal government is taking steps, at last, to deal with "deadbeat dads." It's about time! In a society that is regulated to death with laws and ordinances for virtually every human activity, it has taken us intolerably long to deal with parents who won't care for their kids. For now, impoverished moms are faced with extremely difficult questions when spousal infidelity is disclosed.

Q My husband and I are divorced, so I have to handle all the discipline of the children myself. How does this change the recommendations you've made about discipline in the home?

A Not at all. The principles of good discipline remain the same, regardless of the family settings. The procedures do become somewhat harder for one parent to implement since they have no one to support them when the children become testy. Single mothers and fathers have to play both roles, which is not easily done. Nevertheless, children do not make allowance for difficult circumstances. Parents must earn their respect or they will not receive it.

Prescription for Happy Father's Day: Get Annual Physical Exam

DEAR ABBY: It has taken me years to be able to write this letter. With Father's Day approaching, I can't put it off any longer.

This is the 10th year I will avoid greeting card stores, full-page ads for Father's Day specials, and any other reference to Father's Day.

My beloved father was buried the day before Father's Day in 1991. His surgery to repair damage from a heart attack was unsuccessful. He had seen the doctor the week before, complaining of chest pains. After a short exam, he was given a prescription for an antacid and advised to return in two weeks if the problem persisted. He didn't survive two weeks.

We were stunned that this active, vital man could, without his knowledge, have a heart problem so severe that it proved to be fatal. After the funeral I did some research.

The most startling statistic I discovered is 225,000 people die unexpectedly each year from heart attacks. One cardiologist told me, "Sometimes the first symptom is that the patient is dead."

Abby, this figure accounts for one-fourth of all heart disease-related deaths in this country. Had my father been properly diagnosed, in all probability he could have received treatment to prevent his heart attack. As it turned out, his heart was so badly damaged, he was unable to withstand the surgery to try to save his life.

Abby, please urge your readers to insist that their loved ones see a doctor regularly for a complete physical examination — especially if there's a history of heart disease or other high-risk factors in their family.

If one father takes my advice and spares his children the pain of a fatherless Father's Day, my wonderful father's death will not have been without meaning.

MISSING DAD IN SOUTH CAROLINA

DEAR MISSING DAD: Please accept my sympathy for the loss of your father. While I can urge readers to schedule annual physicals, it is eloquent letters like yours that often give them the added "push" they need to safeguard their health. If they won't do it for themselves, sometimes they'll do it for the peace of mind of their families.

I'm sorry you're still suffering so much pain. Perhaps it will help you to take a moment on Father's Day to remember some of the special times you shared with him. I can't imagine a finer tribute.

DEAR ABBY: This morning while I was waiting for some repair work to be done on my car, I read with interest the letters in your column about the symbolism of finding one or more pennies.

When the repairs were finished, I went out to my car, opened the car door, and guess what was sitting in the middle of my driver's seat? A bright, shiny 2001 penny! I wonder if my father (who has been deceased for 12 years) was sending me a message.

DAVE BROWN,
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEAR DAVE: I don't know what your mechanic charges, but your dad may have thought you needed the money.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Mauer, a slugging high school catcher with a strong arm, was taken by the Minnesota Twins with the No. 1 pick in the baseball draft.

Mauer, a three-sport star from Cretin-Derham Hall in St. Paul, Minn., is the first catcher drafted with the top pick since Milwaukee took B.J. Surhoff in 1985.

The Chicago Cubs selected Mark Prior, the Southern California right-hander considered by some to be the best college pitcher ever, with the second pick.

Prior, 14-1 with a 1.50 ERA, had a school and Pac-10 conference-record 189 strikeouts and just 17 walks in 131 2-3 innings.

Dewon Brazelton, a hard-throwing right-hander from Middle Tennessee State, was taken third by Tampa Bay.

Brazelton went from being an unknown pitcher to one of the best in college after outstanding summer with Team USA, going 6-0 with a team record-ERA of 0.65.

Philadelphia chose right-hander Gavin Floyd with the fourth pick. Mark Teixeira, the Georgia Tech third baseman considered to be one of college baseball's greatest switch-hitters, was taken by Texas with the fifth pick.

Jeremy Bonderman, a high school junior who declared for the draft and was granted eligibility because he is 18 and received his general equivalency diploma, was taken by Oakland with the 26th pick.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Barry Bonds hit his 31st home run, reaching yet another milestone faster than anyone in major league history.

Bonds' 525th career homer came in the third inning of the San Francisco Giants' 7-6 win over San Diego.

He has 31 homers in the Giants' first 58 games. Mark McGwire hit 31 in the Cardinals' first 65 games in 1998.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — The NFL will have labor peace through 2007 once the league and the players ratify the agreement to extend the collective bargaining agreement for three years.

The NFL Management Council and players association agreed to extend the salary cap through 2006, with the final year of the extension an uncapped season. The players and league owners must vote on the agreement, but that is considered a formality, particularly for the players, who could receive an increase in salary to as high as 65.5 percent of designated gross revenues in 2005.

Veteran players also will have a portion of their salaries paid out of a league-wide fund instead of counting totally against the salary cap.

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — Jerry Rice officially moved across San Francisco Bay, becoming a member of the Oakland Raiders.

After a record-setting career with the 49ers, Rice didn't want to stray far from his mansion, his family or his fans after being released by San Francisco on Monday because of salary cap problems.

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The Detroit Lions and Herman Moore have agreed to a contract restructuring that will pay the team's all-time leading receiver $1.5 million this season.

Moore agreed to a seven-year contract in 1999 and was scheduled to make nearly $3.3 million this year.

Moore, the club's career leader in receptions (666), yards receiving (9,098) and touchdown catches (62), had only 56 catches for 621 yards over the past two seasons.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins released safety Mark Carrier, a move that saves money under the salary cap.

Mariners hand Rangers another loss

By JIM COUR
AP Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — With the third best start in major league history, the Seattle Mariners keep topping themselves.

"It's just a special feeling," bench coach John McLaren said. "We get down a couple of runs and it doesn't bother us."

Following Bret Boone's heroics Monday night, Mike Cameron hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning Tuesday night to give the Mariners a 5-4 victory over the Texas Rangers.

By extending their club-record winning streak to 13 games, the Mariners improved their record to an improbable 45-12. Only the 1939 New York Yankees and the 1912 New York Giants (both 46-

11) had better starts after 57 games.

"We waited a little bit longer in this game," said McLaren, who is filling in for manager Lou Piniella this week while Piniella is in Tampa, Fla., for the funeral of his father-in-law. "This reminds me of '95 down the stretch."

The Mariners came from behind to catch the Angels in 1995, win the AL West and get into the AL championship series.

The 2001 Mariners shouldn't have to come from behind this September to get into the ALCS. Tuesday night's victory clinched their 10th straight series win.

The Mariners came back to beat the Rangers 11-6 on Monday night as Boone hit a three-run homer in the seventh to overcome a 6-5 deficit.

In Tuesday night's thriller, the Mariners trailed 4-3 after seven innings. Cameron's ninth homer of the season gave Seattle its 21st come-from-behind win of the season.

"I kind of started laughing," said Aaron Sele, who avoided his first loss of the season. "Day in and day out, it's somebody different."

With Texas leading 4-3, Juan Moreno walked John Olerud to lead off the eighth, and J.D. Smart (1-1) came in to pitch to Bret Boone. After Boone hit into a fielder's choice on a play where Boone was barely safe at first, Cameron hit his ninth homer.

"I'll tell you what, it's pretty fun. Every night, something different happens. It's definitely a good feeling to help your team win a ball game," Cameron said. Jose Paniagua (2-1) got the victory with an inning of scoreless relief. Kazuhiro Sasaki pitched a perfect ninth for his major league-leading 24th save in 27 opportunities.

Ivan Rodriguez's RBI single in the seventh gave Texas a 4-3. Alex Rodriguez, playing his second series in Seattle since leaving as a free agent to go to Texas in December, went 0-for-5 and was booed loudly by the near-capacity Safeco Field crowd of 44,853.

The Rangers loaded the bases off Paniagua in the eighth, but Mike Young's deep fly ball was caught by Stan Javier with his back against the left-field fence.

"It thought that ball was going to go out when he hit it," Javier said. "But he got it too high in the air. We just got lucky."

The last-place Rangers fell 25 games back in the AL West.

"We had a six-run swing there where you almost get a grand slam, and eight minutes later they get a two-run homer," Rodriguez said.

Notes: Rafael Palmeiro of Texas hit his 415th career homer on 15th of the season. He's hit six homers against Seattle this season, five at Safeco Field. ... D.J. Edgar Martinez of the Mariners returned to the lineup after missing two games after fouling a ball off his left foot Saturday night. He singled in the first inning to reach base safely in his 38th straight game. ... The Mariners are 10-5 in one-run games, including 6-1 at home.

FirstBank Southwest pushes record to 11-0

FirstBank Southwest of the 9- and 10-year-old Cal Ripken Division ran its record to 11-0 by winning two more games last week at the Pampa Optimist Club.

In the first game, the Band defeated Kiwanis Club 14-0 in a game cut short because of bad weather. John Luke Covalt went the distance on the mound by giving up just one hit, walking three and striking out eight. The Bank was led at the plate by the Skinner twins who each had an inside the park home run. Hayden Skinner also had a single and scored two runs. Heath Skinner walked and scored two runs.

Brett Powell had a single and an error and scored two runs as did Zack Doan. Covalt had a hit and a walk and scored two runs. Tye Powell had a double and was hit by a pitch and scored one run. Taylor Adderholt had the lone hit for Kiwanis — a triple down the left field line.

In the second game of the week, the Bank was faced second-place Operating Co. Brett Powell went the distance for the Bank, giving up four runs on three hits and six walks, striking out eight en route to a 14-4 win.

Powell also led the Bank at the plate with two hits, one walk and two runs scored. Hayden Skinner scored two runs on a double and a walk, John Luke Covalt scored one run with a double, Tye Powell scored two runs with a single and a walk as did Reid Bradley, Cragar Swarb and Terry Davis. Each scored two runs on two walks.

Johnathan Anguiano led Operating Co. at the plate with two runs scored on two singles, Gerardo Dominques hit a towering double off the center field wall with two runners on but a great by centerfielder Cragar Swarb to pitcher Brett Powell to catcher Hayden Skinner threw out the second runner at the plate for the third out in the inning.

LeKeith Towles, who was on base five times and scored four runs, led off the first inning for Glo-Valve by being safe on an error. Jonathan Carr and Brett Ferrell walked. Robbie Dixon drove a single to left, scoring Towles and Carr. In the third inning, Jonathan bounced a single off the third base bag. Ferrell moved him to second with a single. Dixon forced Ferrell at second and was permitted to take second without a throw. Aaron Carr's infield single scored Jonathan and moved Dixon to third. Dixon scored on an infield single by Jarron Clark, giving Glo-Valve a 4-0 lead.

In the bottom of the third, Triangle scored twice on a walk to Billy Bryan and singles by Fortenberry, Matt Furgason and Diggs.

Singles by Towles, Jonathan Carr and Ferrell produced another Glo-Valve run in the fourth, making the score 5-2.

Aaron Carr came on to pitch for Glo-Valve in the bottom of the fifth inning. Triangle narrowed the score to 5-3, scoring a run when Fortenberry singled, advanced to second on a passed ball and scored on ground outs by Blake Nusser and Furgason.

Glo-Valve hammered out eight hits and sent 15 batters to the plate in the top of the sixth inning as they put the game away. Andy Parker started the rally with a walk. Towles added a single. Ferrell unloaded a triple, sending both runners home. Dixon singled to center, scoring Ferrell. Aaron Carr forced Dixon to second. Craig Crowell was safe on an error which opened the floodgates. A single by Travis Marsh scored Aaron Carr. Bobby Sikes' triple brought Crowell and Aaron Carr in. Another walk to Parker followed by Towles' third hit of the evening sent Clark, who was running for an injured Sikes, home. Jonathan Carr produced an infield single to load the bases. Ferrell knocked in his fourth run of the inning with a single to right field.

Triangle refused to quit. Jacob Maciel walked to lead off the bottom of the sixth inning. An out later, Jonathan Maciel was hit by a pitch. Bryan's single plated Jacob. Fortenberry's shot to third on which Marsh, made a good stop and throw, scored Jonathan Maciel. Blake Nusser singled off the shortstop's glove. Furgason was safe on an error, scoring Bryan with the final run of the game.

Ferrell, with four hits, including a triple, a run scored and five RBIs, was Glo-Valve's leading hitter. Towles and Jonathan Carr also had three hits for Glo-Valve. Fortenberry paced Triangle with two runs, two hits and one RBI.

Glo-Valve improved its season record to 11-2 and maintained its hold on first place. Triangle is in third with a 7-4 record. Triangle will challenge second-place Duncan, Fraser & Bridges Insurance Agency in a make-up game today at 5:45 p.m.

In Tuesday's second game, Duncan, Fraser & Bridges ran into Sameer Kelley and Pampa Cyber Net, losing 7-1. Kelley struck out 14 and posted a no-hitter. He walked four.

Kelley's bid for a shut-out was ruined in the second inning. Matthew Trusty walked and advanced to second on a wild pitch. He came all the way home when Kelley failed to field Drew Williams' dribbler to the right side. D.F.B. threatened in almost every inning but a fine play by Adams at third nipped a runner at first, and Shavious Kelley picked off a runner at first to back up the fine pitching by Sameer Kelley.

Glo-Valve erupts for nine runs in sixth inning to win

Like a sleeping volcano Glo-Valve Service grumbled every inning but erupted for nine runs in the sixth inning to put away a 14-6 victory over Triangle Well Servicing Co. Tuesday in Cal Ripken 11-12 League play at Optimist Park.

Jonathan Carr won his fifth game of the season but needed help from his brother, Aaron Carr, who was credited with a save. Jonathan allowed two runs and three hits in four innings. He walked three and struck out five. Aaron was touched for two earned runs on three hits in the two innings he pitched. He walked one, hit a batter and struck out two.

Colden Fortenberry and Jake Diggs pitched for Triangle. Fortenberry permitted one hit and one earned run in two innings. Diggs was the victim of six unearned runs in Glo-Valve's sixth inning. He struck out four and walked four in four innings pitched, allowing six earned runs.

LeKeith Towles, who was on base five times and scored four runs, led off the first inning for Glo-Valve by being safe on an error. Jonathan Carr and Brett Ferrell walked. Robbie Dixon drove a single to left, scoring Towles and Carr. In the third inning, Jonathan bounced a single off the third base bag. Ferrell moved him to second with a single. Dixon forced Ferrell at second and was permitted to take second without a throw. Aaron Carr's infield single scored Jonathan and moved Dixon to third. Dixon scored on an infield single by Jarron Clark, giving Glo-Valve a 4-0 lead.

GLO-VALVE - From Pg. 7

Pampa Cyber Net used hustle and alert base running to grab the lead in the bottom half of the second inning. Chase Wheat walked and went to second on a wild pitch. Sameer Kelley singled him to third and took second without a throw. Wheat tied the score at one on a wild pitch as Kelley took third. Jacob Jenkins walked and was allowed second base. Shavius Kelley singled to bring in Sameer and send Jenkins to third. Kelley was given second base. Jenkins scored on a passed ball as Shavius trotted to third. Shavius scored moments later on another passed ball, giving Pampa Cyber Net a 4-1 lead it would never relinquish.

In the fourth inning, Pampa Cyber Net added three insurance runs. Shavius walked. Adams singled to right. Matthew Hathcoat walked to load the bases. Jacob Davis forced Hathcoat at second as Shavius scored. Adams scampered home on a passed ball. Kyle Wheat and Chase Wheat both walked. A single by Sameer scored Jacob Davis, but Trusty made the defensive play of the game for D.F.B. by taking a relay throw and firing to Williams at third to nip the runner just before Kyle Wheat would have scored.

Sameer aided his own cause with two hits and a run scored to lead Pampa City Net offensively.

The regular season is scheduled to end Friday. A City Tournament is tentatively set to begin Saturday. The format for the tournament will be decided this week.

Square House Museum gearing up for an eventful summer

PANHANDLE — Carson County Square House Museum in Panhandle has announced several ongoing and upcoming exhibits. From 2:30-4 p.m. on Sunday, June 10, two separate receptions are scheduled at the Museum to honor Amarillo artist Jan Bell and Berger artist Rella Swanda Oxley and her granddaughters, Robyn and Erin Oxley, both of whom are exhibiting jointly with their grandmother in the Square House art gallery.

Currently exhibiting in the Museum's Hazlewood Gallery is Amarillo artist Jan Bell. Her exhibit "Jan Bell — A Retrospective" will be available for viewing throughout June and July and features a variety of her work from western subject matter to rural English scenes to portraits.

Bell studied with portrait artist Ramon Froman as a teenager and majored in art at Wayland Baptist College. In the 1970s as a young adult, several of her pen-and-ink drawings, southwestern in nature, were published in three books which sold nationally in arts and crafts stores.

In the 1980s in addition to portraits, she produced western-themed pieces which sold in galleries in Dallas, Kerrville, Vail, Santa Fe, N.M., and Scottsdale. She returned to portraits in the 1990s and began painting as her own agent in the panhandle.

Bell's portraits are in over 100 homes in the Amarillo area and her studio is located in Amarillo.

Rella Oxley's work was previously showcased at the Museum in 1999. Her paintings are in private collections in Houston, Austin and Dallas as well as in New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Virginia. She has received numerous awards in juried shows and recently had her piece "Splendor" accepted for the cover of Debra Figgins Griffin's book "A Flame Before the Lord."

Her granddaughters are also avid artists. Robyn was once awarded the Houston Rodeo Art Prize, a $500 scholarship, and Erin submitted a piece which was juried into the TAEA State Exhibit in 1999. The trio's art will be on display at the Museum through June.

Lone Star Ballet to stage new production at lake

AMARILLO — Lone Star Ballet recently released details of its plans for the first-ever LSB summer dance season. "Lone Star Rising, A Musical Celebration of the Lone Star State" will officially open June 15 at the Lake Meredith Amphitheater.

"Lone Star Rising" is an original production celebrating the cultural influences that have shaped the state of Texas in dance and song. The numbers in the show highlight the area's Hispanic, Native American and cowboy heritage.

To produce "Lone Star Rising," Lone Star Ballet has launched a long-planned initiative to promote cultural tourism and honor our ancestry through the arts of music and dance. The project, known as the Center for Texas Culture, will continue LSB's tradition of programming dances that reflect Texas Panhandle culture.

"Promoting cultural tourism is the main goal of the Center for Texas Culture project," according to Neil Hess.

Robert Hansen, president of LSB, adds, "The Lone Star Ballet Board of Directors recognizes the great potential of this project. There will be benefits for the entire arts scene in Amarillo. A production like 'Lone Star Rising' provides opportunity for our area's talented young people to develop their talents. It also attracts talent to our area."

The National Park Service will be partnering with the Center for Texas Culture to present "Lone Star Rising" at Lake Meredith.

"Lone Star Rising" is a completely original production conceived by artistic director, Neil Hess. Hess recently won recognition for his vision of retelling Texas history through dance and theatre when he was awarded the Texas Medal of Arts by the Texas Cultural Trust last March in Austin.

"Lone Star Rising" will feature original choreography and songs, interspersed with dialogue.

A cast of 30 singers and dancers will perform five nights weekly, Wednesday-Sunday, through Aug. 19. Ticket prices will be $15 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Tickets for "Lone Star Rising" may be reserved at the Lone Star

Ballet office, (806) 372-2463, or may be purchased at the park on the evening of the performance. A pre-show dinner will be available to patrons.
