Snow Melts Little As Mercury Is Below Freezing
CLARENDON IS COLDEST POINT
Summer Is Chased Out of Valley by Icy Blasts

North Panhandle Plains residents last night felt record-breaking cold as the thermometer dropped below zero and showed reluctance to rise.

Thermometer owners reported to The News by the score, claiming to have seen the mercury all the way from 10 below to 4 above.

Unsettled weather, yet somewhat warmer, is the forecast for tomorrow. Most of the snow which fell night before last is still on the ground, making motoring difficult.

The temperature went up to freezing today here.

(By the Associated Press)
Winters' worst blow struck Texas today as seasonal records for cold weather, frozen and shattered, fell before the onslaught of sub-zero temperatures in the Panhandle and freezing or near freezing weather over the entire state.

The present cold wave's death toll was brought to at least three today with the death of a three-year-old boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hale of Winters, in an automobile accident attributed to slippery roads.

The deaths of a negro baby whose clothing was ignited by a gas fire turned too high to combat the bitter cold in Dallas and of a fireman for the Santa Fe whose skull was fractured when he slipped and fell from his icy cab at Cleman, also were reported.

Coast cities reported temperatures slightly above freezing with the mercury falling. San Antonio experienced freezing weather expected to continue into the Rio Grande valley with possible injury to the truck gardening area tonight or Saturday.

Unsettled Forecast
While North Texas was promised some relief from the intense cold, the official forecast of unsettled weather, coupled with threatening skies, led some Panhandle cities to fear another layer of snow for the ten-inch fall already on the ground there.

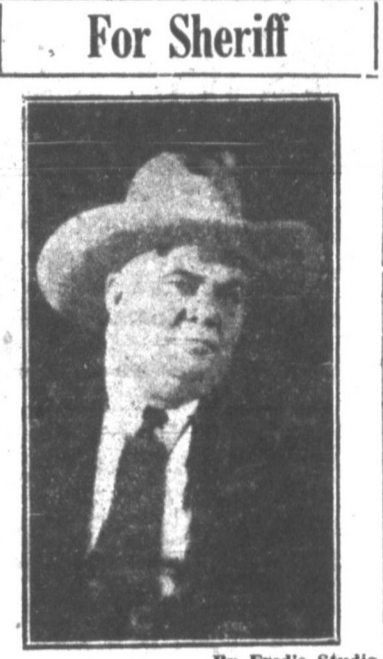

Clarendon was unofficially the coldest city in Texas today with street thermometers reading 11 below zero. Lubbock held the official record with 10 below, the coldest weather in that south plains city since January, 1918.

Bandits Get $10,000
LONSDALE, Minn., Jan. 10. (AP)—Three bandits held up the State bank of Lonsdale today and escaped with approximately $10,000 in cash. Two bandits, masked, entered the bank while the third remained at the steering wheel of an automobile in which the trio fled.

THE WEATHER VANE
WEST TEXAS: Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday, becoming unsettled somewhat warmer in north portion tonight; warmer Saturday.

—AND A SMILE
NEW YORK (AP)—Folks probably will be more suspicious now of sudden delivery of "real stuff", just off a hip. Edward Sonin and Albert Glasser are under arrest. Their game, say investigators, was to go to friends of some one who had just gone abroad, present a forged radiogram arranging for completion of a deal or something such, whisper that liquor was meant, collect in advance, then send a case of water.

For Sheriff
C. E. ("Tiny") Pipes, now chief deputy, yesterday announced his candidacy for sheriff of Gray county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of next July.

Couple Accused in Burglary of Amarillo Store

FORT WORTH, Jan. 10. (AP)—A man and woman arrested here Tuesday will be returned to Amarillo today by the sheriff of Potter county, who arrived this morning. A warrant for the pair in connection with the burglary of an Amarillo department store about three weeks ago arrived by mail Friday.

Young Lawyer Is Silent on Why He Disdains Assistance

AUSTIN, Jan. 10. (AP)—District Attorney H. H. Brooks refused to discuss today his request to Harris and Mathis, Austin attorneys, and John M. Mathis of Houston that they not participate as special prosecutors in the trial of John W. Brady for murder.

Brooks had written the attorneys employed as special prosecutors requesting their withdrawal.

Brady, former member of the court of civil appeals, is to go to trial on Jan. 20 on an indictment charging him with the murder of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, stenographer. Miss Highsmith was stabbed to death on the night of November 9, and Brady has been in jail since.

In a letter to Brooks, June Harris told the 24-year-old district attorney it was "beyond us to understand why you should have taken this arbitrary, extreme and unprecedented step."

Harris claimed his firm's connection with Brooks in the case had been harmonious and it had "procured written, signed statements from the most important, material eye-witness to the tragedy and had delivered these statements" to him, and that it had located and furnished Brooks "with names of other important and material witnesses."

Missouri Professors Defended—University Action Condemned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—The Association of University professors through a special investigating committee has severely censured authorities of the University of Missouri for disciplining two members of the faculty who approved circulation of a sex questionnaire among students of that institution.

Findings of the committee, published today, denied charges of President Stratton D. Brooks and the board of curators of the university that the list of questions was shocking to the student and tended to make them lax morally.

FREE CHORAL PROGRAM WILL BE PRESENTED

McMurry Organization to Offer Musical Treat

32 PERSONS ON LENGTHY TOUR
Recital Will Begin at M. E. Church at 8 o'Clock

The Girls' Choral club and the Men's Glee club of McMurry college, Abilene, appearing here this evening in a public recital at the First Methodist church, will present a three-part program that gives promise of being the outstanding musical event of the winter.

The 32 members of the club are on tour with Mrs. Gypsy Ted Sullivan-Wylie, dean of the fine arts department of the college, and Hjalmar Berg, head of the piano department, the former as conductor and the latter, accompanist.

Under the auspices of the board of trustees of McMurry college they are making a tour of the Panhandle and West Texas, appearing in a score of the larger towns. In Pampa, as elsewhere, their program will be without charge, and is open to all who wish to hear it.

The concert will open at 8 o'clock, with sketches from the opera, "Il Trovatore." The operatic selections will be ensemble numbers in which all members of the two organizations sing.

Following will be three selections by the glee club—"Sorta," "Chalka," and "Marjorie"—which will complete Part I.

"The Girls' Choral club will give Part II, singing "Gently Fall the Shadows," "When Twilight Weaves," and "Butterfly." Negro spirituals; selections from the successful light opera, "The Vagabond King"; and popular numbers from the musical comedy, "The Desert Song," will feature Part III.

The closing number will be given by Miss Asalie Key, who will read Kingling's "When Earth's Last Picture is Painted," to the accompaniment of the massed singers humming "Rock of Ages."

Soloists who will sing on this evening's program are: Miss Evelyn Brooks, Miss Luella Baldrige, and Bridget. The personnel of the choral club is as follows: First soprano—Misses Brooks, Key, McFarland, Morton, Baldrige, and Jones; second soprano—Misses Addison, Caburn, Stone, Jones, Williams, and Rane; alto—Misses Mangum, Beaman, Osborn, Trossie, and Baker.

The Glee club membership includes: first tenor—Baldrige, Edwards, Bowers, Turner, and Rodgers; second tenor—Fryar and Thomas; baritone—Massey, Bishop, Bell, and Carver; bass—Taylor, Schulze, Yoder, and Jones.

Gas Explosion Damages Home

HOUSTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—An investigation was under way here today to determine the cause of a gas explosion which injured two persons, one seriously, and ripped open one wing of an apartment house in a fashionable residential section.

Mrs. L. L. Hughes, ill in bed, was cut by glass, and Jeff Cammer, 9, was burned and bruised when a wall fell on him. The youth was seen with a lighted candle before the blast, which occurred in the apartment of H. Kingsley, who said a gas leak noticed several days ago had been ordered repaired.

Rough on Husbands?
PARSONS, Kans., Jan. 10. (AP)—Charged with poisoning her fourth husband, Mrs. Nora Dameron today was arrested here and taken to Oswego, Kans., for arraignment on a murder charge.

The husband, William T. Dameron, 58, section foreman on the Frisco railroads at Oswego, died Oct. 22 at Harjo, Okla. Two days later his burial was halted by his daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Arthur Kiker, of Bartlesville, Okla., who demanded an investigation of the cause of death.

Embargo On Laredo

AUSTIN, Jan. 10. (AP)—Unless the state department acts shortly to communicate officially with the Mexican government in an effort to influence reopening of the consulate at Laredo, Governor Moody will take the matter straight to President Hoover, he announced this morning.

After reading dispatches telling of the action of railroads in placing an embargo against Laredo because of the congested conditions there caused by the closing of the consulate and also an official statement from Mexico City that no action was in sight, he again called the state department at Washington on the telephone.

"I shall tell the state department that the day they had asked us to wait had passed, with another day thrown in to boot, and advise it if it does not act I shall feel it my duty to appeal directly to the president of the United States," the governor said.

LAREDO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Hopes of Laredo for an early settlement of troubles with Mexico which led to the closing of the Mexican consulate here with consequent crippling of international trade, were less bright today after reports from various points.

It was announced at Houston last night that an embargo on freight business using Laredo as a gateway had been declared by the Missouri Pacific lines and the Texas-Mexican railway to last indefinitely. Freight going only as far as Laredo is not affected.

Four firms of customs brokers established branch offices at Eagle Pass to handle export business until settlement of the controversy, caused by threats of District Attorney John A. Valls of Laredo to arrest former President Calles of Mexico on a charge of conspiracy to murder. The brokers said they had 250 cars of merchandise tied up here.

The Mexico City newspaper El Universal Grafico reported official sources said Mexico will not reopen the consulate until Valls modifies his attitude toward Mexicans.

Governor Moody was waiting for the state department at Washington to act and the Mexican foreign office was silent.

Training Course for Scout Leaders Will Start Soon

Representatives of four cities attended the annual Boy Scout meeting here last night in spite of almost impassable roads in several directions.

Since the fiscal year does not end and new officers will not take their places until July 1, the election was deferred until later and the budget was continued for the rest of the fiscal period. Reports of officers and committees were made.

Completion of the finance drive to raise the Pampa quota will be made soon, probably next week, local chairman T. W. Brabham said. A local training course will begin in the week of January 20. There will be one study each week under the direction of Executive C. A. Clark. Other towns to the council will have similar schools.

Observation of Boy Scout anniversary week, February 7-13, will be announced soon. Courts of honor will be held in each town in the future, instead of at one place and time, it was decided.

Local Chairman Tom Rose presided in the absence of J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle, council chairman, who was ill.

Those present were: Borger—C. N. Melton, Dale Miller, L. J. Roberts, Phil Spidy. Panhandle—C. A. Clark. White Deer—W. McIlroy. Pampa—Tom Rose, George Briggs, T. W. Brabham, Scott Barcus, Walter Hardin, Clarence Coffin.

MYSTERY IN DOUBLE SLAYING IS SEALED AS BOWERS FERRY FARMER DIES OF AXE WOUNDS

BEAUMONT, Jan. 10. (AP)—Axe wounds suffered by "Baby" John Hooks, 34, Bowers Ferry farmer, yesterday proved fatal today.

Hooks died in a hospital at Silsbee almost 24 hours after he was found, fatally injured in a room with Tom Bowers, 40, who was shot to death.

Cause for the strange double killing could not be explained, since no one knew of ill feeling between the men.

Hook's skull was badly crushed. Meager reports received here from Bowers Ferry were that Hooks was slaying at Bowers' home during the absence of Hooks' wife. He and Bowers occupied the same room during the night, and the double slaying was discovered when members of Bowers' family entered the room after hearing a shot.

Hooks was sprawled across the bed, unconscious. Bowers lay dead on the floor, a shotgun by his side.

Prohibition and What Some Folk Think About It

While senators, Coast Guardsmen, the Anti-Saloon league and Tom Love are making the greatest commotion in a decade about the success and failure of prohibition, the tenth birthday of the 18th Amendment—Jan. 16—draws near.

Next Thursday it will be ten years since the great pouring out took place, since a parched denizen of the padlocked saloons wrote "The Alcoholic Blues."

City Manager F. M. Gwin—"It'll take 50 years to enforce it to the letter."

Mrs. Artie M. Sheuherd—"It's been a success in a way—there aren't any open saloons."

Poetmaster W. M. Crawford—"Seventy-five per cent of the people have been helped. Senator Borah told the senate the other day the real reason why it has never been enforced, and that reason is Andy Mellon."

O. K. Gaylor—"Prohibition has been a total failure; it has corrupted officers of the law and made regular drinkers out of the younger generation."

Sheriff E. S. Graves—"There's not a tenth as much liquor in Gray county now as there was; not a tenth as much drinking. Why they used to unload it at Alameda by the kegs and barrels."

Judge Newton P. Willis—"There's more of a sentiment for than against prohibition, although the people may drink wet and vote dry. The heavy drinkers always vote dry because, knowing the evil of drinking, they want to protect themselves. That's quite natural. It's more of a disgrace to drink liquor now than it was ten years ago. A group of men may drink together, but they don't want the public to know about it. So the prohibition law has made many hypocrites. The law will be given its best test when the generation now growing up that never saw a saloon begins to run the country, but whatever measures it enacts, drinking will be curbed."

Crime Reports Ready
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—President Hoover will send reports of the law enforcement commission to congress on Monday.

ESTIMATE IS MADE ON TWO FIGURE BASES

Hudspeth Directory to Give Total As 11,148
CITY MANAGER PUTS IT AT 13,000
Reconciled Number to Be Adopted by The News

Pampa's population now can be placed at 12,000 according to inquiries made by The News today.

City Manager F. M. Gwin estimated local population at about 13,000 using water connections multiplied by eight as his basis. His figures include averages counting transient population served with rooms by water department patrons.

The Hudspeth Directory company of El Paso, which is now printing a new Pampa directory, telegraphed The News that the book would include 5,500 listed names and would estimate Pampa's population as 11,148. The directory basis of calculation is somewhat different from Mr. Gwin's, in that the El Paso men were not interested in transient population or those who could give no residence within the city limits.

Each estimate is considered rather accurate from the basis on which figured, and when reconciled they indicate a population of 12,000 persons. Pending announcement of the federal census figure to be taken soon, the above calculation will be used by this newspaper.

Population of Pampa today is approximately 13,000, according to calculations of City Manager F. M. Gwin. This figure was determined by multiplying the total number of water meters in the city by 8. While the government in computing the population of a city multiplies the total number of water meters by four and one-half, Mr. Gwin says that he is certain every water meter in the city serves from eight to ten persons, on an average.

Using the government method, the population of Pampa would be 7,244. Mr. Gwin points out that the condition here is different from most cities. Scarcity of rooms, houses and apartments has forced grouping together of more than the average number of persons. Especially is this true in tourist camps where one water meter serves from 30 to 50 persons. Almost every residence has an inhabited house at its rear, served by the same meter.

At the beginning of 1930 there were 1,532 water meters in Pampa. In January 1929, there were 1,303 meters, an increase of 229. According to government calculations this would mean an increase of 1,480 in population of 2,632 according to the city manager's.

CHILD IS KILLED IN COLLISION—CAR HITS EMPTY BUS

LAMPASAS, Jan. 10. (AP)—A child was fatally injured and two women and one man critically hurt in a collision between an automobile and a bus on an ice covered highway, 8 miles from here, last night.

Robert L. Hale, Jr., 3, of Winters died of his injuries today.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hale, were taken to a Temple hospital, Mrs. Hale suffering from a broken leg and internal injuries and Hale from internal injuries.

Mrs. Julia Shanks, 60, mother of Mrs. Hale, was treated here at the home of her son, Emmett Shanks. She was lacerated and badly bruised. Her condition was said to be serious.

The bus was driven by Bob Wilson of Austin. It did not carry any passengers. The automobile and the bus were wrecked.

The Hale car caught fire, and Wilson extinguished the flames single-handed, then walked three miles through the freezing wind and over ice to a farm house to summon help.

The bus was en route to Austin, and the Hales were en route to Winters from San Antonio.

Dr. F. M. Hale of Ballinger, father of the critically injured man, drove here from Ballinger last night, and reported today his son's back was broken and grave fears were held that Mrs. Hale was fatally injured.

Gas Service Is Declared Good in Sub-Zero Weather

Belief that the gas supply situation had been solved was expressed today by J. W. Garman, local manager for the Central States Power & Light company.

Only three complaints were made despite sub-zero weather, Mr. Garman said, and each of these resulted from inadequate or stopped house lines. Shelia in one instance had clogged a line while in another case an effort was being made to serve nine cottages from a one-inch connection.

Mr. Garman said that a third supply line had been connected with the local supply Tuesday. This was with a Dan-ciger gas well, augmenting the lines already in use to Anderson and Operators well. He asserted that his company held option with the Independent Oil and Gas company for a fourth connection if it is deemed necessary.

Rum Runners Armed Against Hoodlums of "Business" Rivals

DALLAS, Jan. 10. (AP)—Two rum runners, armed, they told police, to prevent hijacking by rival bootleggers, today faced charges of possession and transportation of liquor after their arrest last night and the seizure of 10,000 pints of gin.

Officers who ran the liquor truck to a curb were told the high-powered rifles the men carried were not for use against police, but for protection against hoodlums employed by a man they termed a well-known bootlegger and liquor-hijacker. The men did not resist arrest.

The gin, they said, had been brought here from San Antonio.

Aged Woman Burns

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 10. (AP)—Mrs. N. E. Weatherman, 67, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed her house last night. A new stove near her bed was believed to have become overheated, starting the blaze. She was said to be married by a son, Monroe Ehridge, Fort Worth, and a brother named Dalton in Lubbock.

MEXICANS HOLD PLANE

EL PASO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Mexican authorities are holding an airplane which they said was seized several days ago after being found south of Juarez with a cargo of liquor. A. J. Boudreaux, aviator who had been in charge of the plane, was fined 100 pesos, but was released, the plane being held as security for payment of the fine. Boudreaux is said to be in El Paso.

A tentative budget for the entertainment of the Seventh District Federation of Women's clubs, which will convene here for its annual session next spring, was arranged yesterday by the chairman and members of the budget committee of the recently formed convention body at a meeting with other chairmen.

Mrs. Floyd McConnell, chairman of the budgeting committee, presided at a meeting in her home. Requests from various committees were made by chairmen or were read for those absent. A total of $700 was asked.

The general convention body was formed by the Council of Clubs, comprising representatives of eight women's organizations of the city. Mrs. Tom Rose, president of the council, was made general chairman; with other club representatives acting as chairmen of various committees. Practically every committee was organized to include a delegate from each club of the council.

The purpose of the meeting yesterday was to estimate the amount of money required for all convention expenditures and to furnish the finance committee an objective when it meets to outline its plans. Mrs. S. A. Hurst, chairman, has called the finance committee to meet tomorrow afternoon to consider ways and means of raising funds. Both the finance and budget committees will make important reports Monday at the monthly meeting of the Council of Clubs.

THE GODS OF CHAIN LETTERS MAY STRIKE US DEAD, BUT WE HEREBY ADMIT THAT THE THINGS HAVE NEVER APPEALED TO US AND WE HAVE BROKEN SEVERAL SUCH CHAINS.

Two of them have come to us in recent weeks. Neither got any further. We may be small. We may lack human sympathy. We may be uncooperative. Illustrious names were signed to both of the so-called letters.

descend upon us. The letters, it was stated, must circle the earth three times before becoming effective.

In a way, we appreciate the thought that some recipient decided to wish us luck. That is, we suppose that was the motive. It might have been that the sender had a secret chuckle or two when he wrote our name.

If we could pass on the letters anonymously, we might do so. But we have to think of the attitude of some of those who might get the letters with our compliments.

For once we are aligned with Governor Moody. He discards them too, according to the following dispatch: AUSTIN—Governor Moody has no time for "chain letters," even if they have passed through the hands of Colonel Lindbergh.

We have never been anxious to do things simply because other persons do them. Our code of tolerance includes the plank that we will not quarrel at others for what to us seems ridiculous, and we ask the same privilege. We demand the right to discard suggestions of others without having our motives questioned. We do not try to do unto others what we would have them do to us, for the oft-stated reason that their tastes may be different.

So it is with chain letters in our case. If we ever start one, it will be given to the proposition that all recipients resolve never to write another such missive. This may be treason to the "chains"; if so, may the gods of such letters do their worst.

Oklahoma Man Loses $3,500 to Fake Lease Men

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 10. (AP)—J. O. Cales, Ralston, Oklahoma, oil operator, today sought two men and $3,500 of his money.

Cales came here hoping to complete negotiations with the men for sale of an oil lease at a price of $50,000. He was requested to place $3,500 in escrow to bind the deal, the other parties to the agreement promising to post $5,000.

Henderson Is Defended by Local Woman Admirer

Will the federal radio commission take W. K. Henderson's broadcasting station at Shreveport away from him? No, not even if that southern gentleman occasionally lapses into slightly profane language, not even if he does hurt crude and vicious epithets at his opponents, is the opinion of Mrs. Frank Shaw, local aviatrix, who has just returned from a tour of Old Mexico with a party including Henderson and his friends.

Mrs. Shaw, a strong admirer and warm supporter of Mr. Henderson, says Shreveport's St. George of the air is like Al Smith—"You've got to know him to appreciate him." "Senator Dill says he's going to see that Henderson loses his station," Mrs. Shaw said. "Well, the gentleman from Washington will first have to prove that the language used by Mr. Henderson is profane. Has got enough dough to fight that radio commission with a bigger army of Democrats than Lee ever saw—and he'll do it!" Mrs. Shaw said. "He really doesn't curse, that is, his bad words can't begin to compare with those of U. S. senators."

Contrary to the usual opinion, Henderson is rather a young man, "he's 52 and doesn't look it," Mrs. Shaw said. On Christmas night, the Pampa woman broadcast over the station. She was preceded by Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana. Mrs. Shaw says Al Smith is due to be a guest of Henderson at Shreveport this winter to talk over the radio.

Whether they like him or not, most of the people who have heard Henderson admit that he is one of the most interesting, picturesque and perhaps most mysterious characters of the Southwest. Practically every one has heard him at one time or another but few know anything about him. In explaining Henderson's dislike for chain stores, Mrs. Shaw said his alliance with a "chain store man" almost resulted in the loss of his fortune, which is immense now.

Young Mexican Admits Assault

FORT WORTH, Jan. 10. (AP)—A 19-year-old Mexican youth arrested during a hotel raid Wednesday night admitted to police today he had assaulted a 15-year-old girl in Waukegan, Ill. The youth was held on suspicion after the raid, and fingerprints were taken. Police found he was wanted in Waukegan. He admitted his identity. Authorities communicated with Waukegan police.

Man Identified as Borgerite Was Killed as Bandit

COLEMAN, Jan. 10. (AP)—Hampered by wintry blasts, officers today continued to search for three bandits, one believed wounded and in hiding near here, for participation in the robbery several days ago of the Bank at Lohn, Texas, after a man slain by officers shortly after the robbery was identified last night as Ollie E. Woods of Borger.

Woods was identified by a brother, Lloyd D. Woods of Borger, and by a former employer, George McCamey. Name of one of the trio sought is known to officers, it was said. Two men are in jail here in connection with the case. They were arrested after Woods ran from a shack occupied by the three and was shot down.

Middle States Get Much Snow

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Again Middle America finds herself robed in the ermine of winter snows.

A blizzard today had choked highways and impeded commerce.

Two men were dead in Chicago, one walking with head bowed against the gale into the path of a train, the other, shoveling snow, being struck down by a blizzard-blinded motorist.

The prediction was that it might be a 36-hour snowstorm, at least in the Chicago territory where traffic already was going forward with difficulty. Seven thousand needy men in Chicago found it a silver snowfall, giving them work with shovels. One thousand men were turned into the loop alone, and the roar of great trucks, carrying away the snow was added to the daily din of the district.

Temperatures generally throughout the Middle West have been moderate, but starting last night there was a slight downward movement. Temperatures in Chicago ranged around 15 above zero early today. The Dakotas and Minnesota, however, had sub-zero readings, though none approaching the severe cold of the December wave.

Charges Fly in Detroit as Police Study Assault

DETROIT, Jan. 10. (AP)—The Detroit News said today an investigation carried by officials into the shooting last week of Inspector Henry J. Garvin, head of the police crime and bomb squad, has brought the charge the attack was part of the plot of a jealous police inspector in the same department.

The newspaper states Detective Adolph Van Coppenolle of the black-hand squad Wednesday accused one of the inspectors at headquarters of having engineered a plot by gunmen to slay Inspector Garvin. Subsequently Coppenolle is said to have contradicted his story and charged the whole affair was a plot on the part of Inspector Garvin to undermine the accused inspector in the eyes of his superiors. The newspaper story states that if the charge of another plot—that of the accused inspector and another high official to "hush up" the whole affair by making promises of future favors based on assumed influence with Mayor-Elect Charles Bowles, whose administration takes office next week.

At Borger, the mercury stopped at 8 below while Amarillo, Plainview, and Shamrock reported two or three degrees under the zero mark.

Other cities reporting the coldest weather of the season included Wichita Falls, where the reading of 6 above was the lowest since December, 1924; Dallas, with 14.3 above for a new winter mark; Gainesville, with a new low of 11.5 above.

Port Arthur, Corpus Christi and Galveston all reported temperatures of 36 today, the fall being 36 for Port Arthur, which yesterday enjoyed the warmest day of the winter as the mercury stood at 72. Some rain had fallen at Port Arthur and prospects were continued cold and rain. Two steamers in the gulf off Port Aransas, near Corpus Christi, came into port because of the heavy fog overhanging the waters. A moderate north wind was blowing at Galveston.

Summer Is Beaten
Summer was chased out of the Rio Grande valley as the mercury fell to 38 above at Brownsville. No crop damage was reported.

Brownwood and surrounding points, nearly isolated by failure of many telegraph and telephone wires to the west central region, had a minimum temperature of 15 degrees, but a shining sun promised relief. At Sweetwater the mercury stood at 7 above. Ranges were still ice-covered and livestock suffering grew somewhat more severe. Shamrock reported low hanging clouds with every indication of snow.

Telegraph and telephone repair crews were working all over the state to restore service broken down by ice-bitten wires. Telephone lines between Dallas and Temple, Lampasas and Waco, were out today and no wires were available to re-route calls.

Bus traffic was resumed in many sections where it was stopped yesterday, but all lines were still running behind schedule.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 10. (AP)—Having endured three days of snow, rain and sleet in one of the most widespread blizzards ever to strike the west, the Rocky Mountain and Southwestern states today faced a seige of cold which spread like a blanket over a region thousands of miles square.

Thermometers which since Monday have been dropping steadily till were going down this morning, serious losses of livestock were reported even in the southern states, and Texas orthologists reported the phenomenon of birds moving south from haunts which normally are their comfortable winter homes.

The death of a negro girl in Dallas, whose clothing became ignited as she huddled over a small stove for warmth, was charged to the mounting death toll of the storm. Six fatalities have been reported.

With fifteen inches of snow and sleet on the ground here, the fall ceased yesterday morning, but the mercury dropped to zero this morning. Oklahoma City, Ponca City, Enid and other Oklahoma points reported zero readings. A foot of snow blocked highways and streets of communities unequipped to meet such an emergency.

Even farther south, in normally sunny regions of Texas, the wintry blasts moved toward the Rio Grande valley and the Gulf coast. Port Arthur, after a temperature of 72 degrees yesterday, faced freezing weather today.

Stockmen of the south and central cattle ranges feared extensive loss as range cattle wandered over ice coated wastes and the cold added its toll.

A 60-hour, 6-inch rain at Texarkana made roads impassable. All the trees of one Dallas park were covered yesterday by robins flying south, pecking futilely at ice-covered hackberries.

Bus and train schedules through this southwestern region were disrupted. Only one plane arrived in Kansas City today and none departed; Kansas points were afflicted by the same conditions.

States of the eastern Rocky Mountain slope, as far south as New Mexico fought against sub-zero temperatures which have come to be regarded as almost normal. Wyoming was in the grip of an intense, clear cold; the mercury still dropped in Montana with sub-zero readings already the rule, and Idaho and Colorado lay under the same arctic blanket.

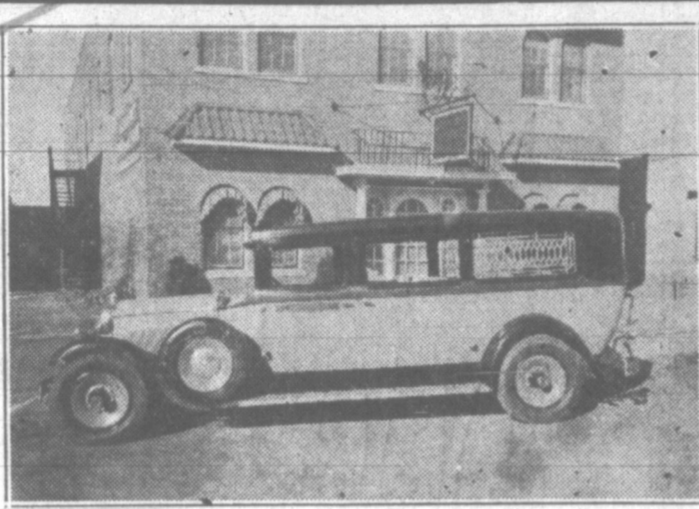

At Leiston it was 25 below, at Helena 13, at Havre, 16, at Denver below zero at midnight.

Communication lines resumed schedules in that region as the snow gave way to steely blue skies.

Weather bureaus forecast a continuation of the cold over the week-end, with a possible resumption of snow flurries.

Freighter in Distress

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Jan. 10. (AP)—The freighter Edward Luckenbach grounded on Southwest point in a dense fog today and probably will be a total loss, it was believed here as a strengthening southeaster pounded the vessel with heavy seas.

This Malone Ambulance used exclusively as an invalid coach.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 12, 1930.
General Topic:—Baptism and Temptation of Jesus.

Scripture Lesson—Matt. 3:13-17; 4:1-11.
Matt. 3:13. Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14. But John would have hindered Him, saying, I have need to be baptized of Thee, and comest Thou to me?

15. But Jesus answered said unto him, Suffer it now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffereth Him.

16. And Jesus, When He was baptized, went up straightway from the water; and lo, the heavens were opened unto Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon Him.

17. And lo, a voice out of the heavens, saying, This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Matt. 4:1. Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.

2. And when He had fasted forty days and forty nights, He afterward hungered.

3. And the tempter came and said unto Him, If thou art the Son of God, command that these stones become bread.

4. But He answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5. Then the devil taketh Him into the Holy City, and he set Him on the pinnacle of the temple.

6. And saith unto Him, If thou art the son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give His Angels charge concerning Thee; and on their hands they shall bear Thee up, lest haply Thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7. Jesus said unto him, Again it is written, Thou shalt not make trial of thy God.

8. Again, the devil taketh Him unto an exceeding high mountain, and showeth Him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9. And he said unto Him, All these things will I give Thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10. And saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan; for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.

11. Then he devil leaveth Him; and behold, angels came and ministered unto Him.

Golden Text:—This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased—Matt. 3:17.

Time:—Ministry of John the Baptist, began in the summer of A. D. 26. Baptism of Jesus, January, A. D. 27. Temptation of Jesus, January, February, A. D., 27.

Place:—John preached in the Wilderness of Judaea. Baptism of Jesus, the fords of the Jordan near Jericho. The temptation, the Wilderness of Judaea, southeast of Jerusalem.

Introduction
"Jesus stood upon the threshold of a new life period. His submission to baptism signified His willingness to die, but at the same time the certainty of resurrection."

"He routs the tempter by what all may wield, the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God (Eph. 6:17). Hence learn the value of Scripture, and the impotence of Satan against it."—Origen. "Temptation often comes upon a man when he is nearest to God. As someone has said, the devil aims high. Very few men have such conflicts with the devil as Martin Luther had. Oh, what conflicts John Bunyan had! If a man has much of the Spirit of God he will be sure to have great conflicts with the tempter."

—D. L. Moody. "The devil may tempt us to fall down, but he cannot make us fall; he may persuade us to cast ourselves down, but he cannot cast us down."—Bishop Wordsworth.

John the Baptist
This great herald of the Messiah, the connecting link between the Old Testament prophets and the Christian apostles, was born about six months before Jesus in the hill country of Judaea. His father and mother, Zacharias and Elisabeth, both belonged to the priestly tribe of Levi, and were persons of the deepest piety. Elisabeth was a cousin of the Virgin Mary, so that John and Jesus were second cousins.

The Baptism of Jesus
"Then cometh Jesus from Galilee." Matthew omits even the little that is told us in Luke about the childhood and youth of our Lord. "The Son of God, charged with the greatest commission that any being in heaven or earth has ever had to bear, was for eighteen years at work in a carpenter's shop. The carpenter's shop was the will of God for Jesus, and therefore He abode in that shop and did the work incidental of it."—G. Campbell Morgan. "To the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him." It was a journey on foot of about sixty-six miles, for John was baptizing at the ford of the Jordan near Jericho not far from Bethabara (Bethany) (John 1:28), the place where the Israelites under Joshua crossed miraculously into the Promised Land, and where Elijah and Elisha miraculously crossed just before Elijah was taken to heaven.

"But John would have hindered Him." "I knew Him not," said John afterward (John 1:31), clearly implying that this was his first meeting with his cousin Jesus, a fact easily accounted for by John's solitary habits and the distance between Nazareth and the wilderness of Judaea where John had dwelt. "Saying, I have need to be baptized of Thee, and comest Thou to me?" "John cannot understand how the sinless Messiah should seek the baptism of repentance at the hands of a sinful man. "But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." "As a good man Jesus should do this righteous act commanded of God through John. As the Messiah it was appropriate for Jesus to give this sanction to the work of His forerunner and herald. It is the first act in the entrance of the

A perfume finer than pine or bacon woodsmoke or wistaria!

THE ODORS that please you are many—roses and the redwoods, bacon sizzling over a hickory fire, an off-water breeze, or buttered batter cakes.

Yes, there are hundreds of these perfumes that enchant you when they come your way—and are never missed when they're absent!

There is only one that your nostrils hunt for, wait for, must have.

That is the aroma of hot coffee!

What a relief it is, when you're shaking off sleep and facing another day's problems, to have a whiff of that perfume come your way! You feel braced before ever the coffee is tasted.

That first sniff-sniff in the morning is all important. It's a tip on what is coming—coffee that will either make or break the day. If you're disappointed, nothing that happens all morning can set matters right.

You can bank on this; you'll never disappoint your sense of smell or your sense of taste with the delightful, bracing aroma or the delicious flavor of White Swan Coffee.

By controlling every step in preparation and distribution of White Swan, the Waples Platter Company makes sure that no finer coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay. Supervision as exact as that in your own kitchen is enforced in each important process.

WHITE SWAN COFFEE

WAPLES PLATTER COMPANY • TEXAS • OKLAHOMA • NEW MEXICO

Sunday School Lesson

Messiah upon His ministry."—Prof. A. T. Robertson.

Heavens Were Opened
"And lo, the heavens were opened unto Him, and He saw the Spirit of God." John also saw Him, as he afterward testified (John 1:32-34). "Descending as a dove, and coming upon Him." Not descending in a dove-like way, but "in a bodily form, as a dove" (Luke 3:22). The dove symbolized gentleness, meekness, tenderness, love, purity, peace. This aspect of the Holy Spirit complements His sterner aspect which is symbolized by fire, and His mysteriousness, symbolized by the wind.

The coming of the Spirit was for John's sake, to give him a token of Christ's Messiahship; for the sake of Jesus, to strengthen Him for His ministry by revealing the power of Deity which was with Him; and for the sake of that ministry itself, by furnishing a definite beginning.

Out of the Heavens
"And lo, a voice out of the heavens." This was the first of three recorded occasions when a voice from above spoke to Jesus, the other two being at His transfiguration (Mark 9:7), and when the Greeks came to Him in the temple shortly before His crucifixion (John 12:31). "Saying, This is My beloved son, in whom I am well pleased." The same testimony was given at the transfiguration. "The appearance of the sign was the assurance to John that all the revelations of his secret experience and all the words he had ventured to utter in the name of God were true"—James Stalker. "This baptism scene marked the birth-hour of Christianity. From this moment it had a place, if not a definite name, in the world. Henceforth it was to be a living, visible, growing, divine force among men."

Christian Baptism
We do not believe that baptism effects regeneration, or procures remission of sins; but it is:
1. An imitation of Christ's example.
2. The ceremony appointed by Him (Matt. 28:19) for the initiation into His church.
3. A dramatic oath of allegiance to Him, "in His name."
4. "A symbol of the spiritual purification that the candidate has undergone (cp. Acts 22:16)."
5. A water burial and resurrection, picturing Christ's burial and resurrection, and the spiritual death and resurrection of the believer in union with Him (Rom. 6:3ff; Gal. 3:27).
The Temptation
Following out the aim of Matthew to show Jesus as the Messianic King, it is in order that immediately after His baptism He should be presented as powerful to resist the assaults of the devil. In Mark the account of the temptation occupies but two verses (1:12, 13). Luke's is substantially the same as Matthew's, but he transposes the temptation to empire (Matt. 4:7-10; Luke 4:5-8). Jesus thus learned more thoroughly to sympathize with us in our temptations; by overcoming He gained the power to succor us when we are tempted; and He gave us the example of His experience and victory to profit by (Heb. 2:18; 4:15).

We cannot avoid temptation. God's full approval and the endowment of the Holy Spirit do not save us therefrom (Luke 4:1 and 3:22), nor the solitude of a wilderness. Satan always has his chance at us, as he did at Job. There is the familiar saying of Martin Luther: "You can't prevent the birds from flying over your head, but you can prevent them from building nests in your hair!" Notice that there is scarcely a temptation in which humanity is liable that may not be brought under one or the other of the three heads of Jesus' threefold temptation.

"Not by Bread Alone"
"Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Thus spake He who was Himself the Bread of Life. He could feed five thousand and again four thousand with a few loaves and fishes, but He would not exercise that power to feed Himself, however hungry, for, as He once said to His disciples, He had meat to eat that they did not know; His meat being to do God's will.

Once a man said to Dr. Johnson, excusing himself for some wrong-doing, "A man must live." "Sir," said the wise man, "I don't see the necessity." "The keenest temptations in life are roused by the physical cravings together with the opportunity to satisfy them in some manner which is contrary to the divine will and purpose and to our conscientious convictions."—William Evans, Ph. D., D. D. The victory is won by living in a spiritual atmosphere, living the life of humble dependence in God, sure that all real blessings will come from waiting on His will.

The Angel Ministry
"Then the devil leaveth Him." "For a season," Luke 4:13. The struggle had lasted through forty days, with innumerable temptations. Those that Christ selected to tell about were only typical ones, and there must have been many others. Satan had done his utmost, and had to admit his utter defeat. "And behold, angels came and ministered unto Him." Probably supplying Him with food, as an angel ministered to Elijah in his flight from Jezebel, 1 Kings 19:5-8. The miracle which Christ would not work for Him-

Chinese Soldiers Killed by Storm

PEIPING, China, Jan. 10. (AP)—Parts of China are being swept by the severest cold in 60 years, with untold suffering and considerable loss of life resulting. Famine areas particularly have been hard hit.

The press today published dispatches from Suliyun district in Northern Shansi estimating 15,000 aged undernourished adults and children were dead due to exposure. In the town of Fengchen 2,500 were frozen to death, 1,000 Sahsien 2,000 died, and in Paotow 1,000 were killed by the cold.

Honan Province reported the coldest weather since 1870. The Eda river was filled with blocks of ice, destroying thousands of junks. Hundreds of persons drowned.

The Rengo news agency said 700 soldiers were frozen during the movement of the second army. Bodies were sent back to Hankow by freight trains where soldiers and relatives were summoned by beating gongs to come to the railroad yards and take charge of the bodies.

Peiping police reports said 167 men and 41 women had been found dead here since Monday, most of them frozen.

ZENITH AUTOMATIC RADIO

Words just don't exist which can do these new Zeniths justice . . . words cannot prove what a five-minute demonstration tells your ears and eyes and pocket-book unmistakably.

Super Screen-Grid . . . a new circuit . . . especially designed . . . which gets more out of these tubes than the tube-makers thought was in them . . . only in Zenith.

Power detection . . . a "screen-grid" radio without power detection is like an airplane without an engine. Only power detection can cope with the colossal signals peculiar to screen-grid tubes, without distortion. Zenith has it.

Double Push-Pull . . . twice the standard power; twice the expected volume; twice the fidelity, the beauty of tone, without any distortion. Again, in Zenith.

Exquisite cabinetry . . . the most sumptuous Zeniths ever made . . . which means, simply, the most sumptuous radios ever made.

Only Zenith offers twice as much radio . . . for half as much money. One demonstration . . . five minutes . . . and you'll know.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, thought to have had an affair with SEVIER, is strangled to death. HONNIE DUNDEE, "renb" detective, assists POLICE LIEUT. STRAWN, EMIL SEVIER, former bander whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her, is sought.

CORA BARKER, boarder, is arrested as a material witness, but is out on bail. Other boarders under suspicion are: HENRY DOWD, NORMA PAIGE, WALTER STYLES, near bankrupt, who had quarreled with Mrs. Hogarth; BERT MAGNUS, painter and scenario writer, and DANNY SEVIER.

Dundee learns from papers in Mrs. Hogarth's trunk that the SALLY CRAVES who wrote her once a month was her daughter, and that she had in dread of Sally's husband, DAN GRIFFIN, sought for embezzlement. Honnie, recalling mysterious details of Sally's murder in New York June 2, concludes Griffin murdered both women and that he is now living in the Rhodes house.

An old rail-ticket envelope with Dundee's name on it, showing he left New York June 2, increases suspicion. Sevier, captured Tuesday night, insists he did not murder Mrs. Hogarth but implicates Cora. Dundee goes for Cora, who is to confront Sevier, and finds her dead, strangled with her own braids of hair. Sevier is accused of both crimes. Inquest into the death of the two women is held. Dundee is questioned concerning Wheeler, former boarder. Magnus is called.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XL
CORONER PRICE'S first half dozen questions brought out Bert Magnus' story of Saturday night. As Dundee listened to the familiar tale he averted his eyes from the sight of Bert's suddenly old and ruffled face. The amateur scenario writer looked as if he had peered through some terrible and blighting illness during the few hours since he had stood in the presence of Mrs. Barker, staging his stereotypically good tenor, "Drink to me only with thine eyes!" Occasionally, as he answered the coroner's questions, his voice wavered, and he pressed the fingers of his uncrippled left hand into his temples as if trying desperately to remember things which had now, in comparison with the terrible tragedy of the night before, lost much of their meaning and importance.

When he told how she had become so absorbed in the revision of his scenario, "More to Be Pitted," that he had neglected to keep his appointment with Cora Barker, his voice broke, and tremblingly he took off his glasses to wipe them, holding them awkwardly in his right hand, between the withered fingers and the thumb which had escaped injury.

"I realize," he said unsteadily, "that if I had kept my appointment to meet Miss Barker at the theater last Saturday night, to take her to supper after the last show, she would not have had occasion to go into Mrs. Hogarth's room and would not have become involved in the case as a material witness."

There was a rising murmur of excitement, punctuated by sharp exclamations from reporters, witnesses, and the audience of morbidly curious. For this was the first news the public had had that Cora Barker had been in the murdered woman's room after the crime was committed.

Dr. Price looked somewhat nonplussed at the unsolicited revelation, but asked his next question quietly:

"Did Miss Barker confide in you concerning her visit to Mrs. Hogarth's room after the murder?"

"She did—as we were walking together to the Little Queen theater on Monday night," Magnus answered, huskily.

"Please tell the jury as nearly as you can remember just what Miss Barker told you," Dr. Price directed, after pounding with his gavel for order in the excited audience.

BERT MAGNUS restored his plumed nez to his nose, touched his little reddish mustache with trembling fingers, then answered in a low voice that was frequently shaken with emotion:

"Cora—Miss Barker—told me she wanted me to know exactly why she had been held as a material witness. She said she had been engaged, in May, to Emil Sevier, and that she had broken the engagement when Sevier had impounded her to help him rob Mrs. Hogarth. She had once been a trained nurse and Sevier wanted her to administer a small dose of chloroform to Mrs. Hogarth, to insure her being deeply asleep while the two of them searched her room for the hidden money. As I said, Cora refused, and broke the engagement, but she admitted frankly, Mrs. Hogarth had seen Sevier leaving Cora's room by the window on the night of May 18—or rather at two o'clock in the morning of May 19. When I failed to meet her last Saturday night, she became obsessed with the fear that I had met Mrs. Hogarth, and that she had told me this bit of scandal against Cora."

"And had you met Mrs. Hogarth?" Dr. Price interrupted.

"I have already told you that I never met or spoke to Mrs. Hogarth in my life," Bert answered with quiet emphasis.

"Very well, Mr. Magnus. Now, why was Miss Barker so concerned over the possibility of your having heard this scandal from Mrs. Hogarth?"

Magnus flushed, but raised his head proudly. "She—valued my good opinion of her."

"Go on!" Price directed curtly, but not unkindly.

"As I said, it was fear that Mrs. Hogarth had gossiped against her to me which made Cora decide to question Mrs. Hogarth when she returned from the theater at 10 minutes after 12 Saturday night. She told me that she knocked on Mrs. Hogarth's door, after having seen that the light was still on, and that when she received no answer she tried the knob and found the door unlocked. She entered and found Mrs. Hogarth dead."

"Did Miss Barker tell you, in confidence, anything to implicate Sevier or anyone else, beyond the fact that Sevier had asked her help in robbing Mrs. Hogarth?"

"No, except that he again asked her that Saturday night, and she again refused."

"She did not tell you that she saw Sevier in the room or at the window on the porch?"

"She did not. I feel sure she did not know any more than she told me," Magnus answered, with a note of pride and faith in his shaken voice.

"Now, Mr. Magnus, you were in private conversation with Miss Barker again on Tuesday evening," Dr. Price continued, and the audience held its breath. "Will you tell the jury the gist of that conversation?"

"It—it was of an extremely private nature," Magnus protested. "I am afraid it can be private no longer, and I must ask you to answer the question fully and frankly," Dr. Price replied with firm but kindly emphasis.

DUNDEE, who had been an eavesdropper and unsuspected witness to part of that conversation, leaned forward and listened intently, as Magnus answered, unhesitatingly:

"Cora played the piano—we were all in the Rhodes House parlor—and I sang, and—and then we talked, Cora and I. She told me she had been very unhappy—"

He was bounding hopelessly, and Dundee sympathized with his dilemma. How could any man be expected to repeat the tender intimacies which he had overheard between Cora and Bert—the shy but promises, made more by eyes than by lips?

The coroner cleared his throat harshly, and took off his own spectacles to wipe the moisture from the lenses. "I will ask you, Mr. Magnus, if you and Miss Barker became engaged to be married, during that conversation yesterday evening?"

A dull red spread over Bert Magnus' chubby, plain face, but his eyes were steady and his voice unflattering as he answered:

"Not exactly, in so many words, but I intimated very plainly to Cora that when this bad business—meaning the Hogarth case, of course—was cleared up, and she was free to go where she pleased, I would have something to ask of her. As a matter of fact, I believe I did not even complete the sentence, but Cora understood, and—and we were very happy, looking forward to a future of which we could not even talk until—until—"

"I understand," the coroner cut in hastily. "Now, Mr. Magnus, did Miss Barker tell you why she had been so unhappy?"

Dundee leaned forward tensely. Was Magnus going to introduce Jewel Briggs' name? He remembered very clearly that Cora had cried: "Then you didn't mean what you said to Jewel?"

Then he settled back in his chair, undecided whether to be disappointed that the small mystery concerning Jewel was not to be cleared up, or to admire Bert's chivalry in leaving the girl's name out of the record. For Bert was saying, haltingly:

"I think it was—well, obvious that Cora was sad and humiliated over her arrest as a material witness, and over the gossip connecting her with Emil Sevier."

"Did she mention Sevier's name that evening?" the coroner prodded.

Body of Woman Found in Bundle

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10. (AP)—Wrapped tightly in newspapers, a rain-coat and an old blanket, the body of a woman about 35 years old was found yesterday in the back yard of a vacant house on Poplar street. Physicians said she had been dead about two weeks. She had been strangled and hacked on the head and face apparently with a hatchet. There was no clue to her identity, and none had been discovered today. Neighbors had seen the bundle lying in the yard, but no one thought to inspect it. A junk dealer discovered the body. Nooses around the woman's ankles and thighs forced her knees against her chin. Her arms were tied across her back. Black and blue marks on her throat indicated she had been strangled. Police believed she was slain elsewhere, and the body thrown into the yard.

Charlotte Ray Malone Celebrates Her Tenth Birthday with Party

Mrs. G. C. Malone entertained Wednesday afternoon with a children's party at which her little daughter Charlotte Ray's tenth birthday anniversary was delightfully celebrated. Games were played, and gay noise makers received as favors were greatly enjoyed by the eighteen young guests sharing the occasion with Charlotte Ray. Most attractive birthday gifts were presented.

With the discovery that two other girls in the crowd were celebrating their birthdays, also, the cake cutting was made quite a ceremony. Floy Frances Tolbert, eight, and Alice Marie McConnell, six, joined the honoree in cutting the first slices.

The refreshments were served from a table laid with lace over pink silk. Four pink tapers stood on the corners, surrounding the cake in the center. The cake, itself, was decorated with tiny pink roses and ten pink candles. It was served with ices molded in flower forms and colored.

The following girls and boys were present: Janice Purviance, Janet Cole, Betty Jane Edwards, Floy Frances Tolbert, Alice Marie McConnell, Betty Anne Fannell, Virginia and Eleanor Gober, Leona Hurst, Mary Belle and Betty Jo Crawford, Edith Lane, Chester Hunkapillar, Thomas Brabham, Charles Shelton, Barnes Kinzer, Jack Morris, LeRoy and Charlotte Ray Malone.

Mrs. Grace Higgins Is Bridge Hostess

Mrs. Grace Higgins entertained Wednesday evening with two tables of bridge at her home. Her guests were: Miss Aurella Miller, Miss Wilma Behrends, Miss Willette Cole, Glenn Poole, C. A. Tuckey, Harry Hoare, and Ben Williams. Favors were presented Miss Cole and Mr. Williams for high scores of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the game.

Christian Endeavor Society Members Will Have Sleigh Ride Party

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church will make the most of the deep snow by holding a sleigh ride party this evening.

The members will meet with the sponsors in the church basement at 7:30 o'clock, go on the sleigh ride, and then return to the church for refreshments. The party will end at 10 o'clock, according to the announcement from sponsors.

The sponsors are: Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ganz, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marbaugh.

Dinner Party and Tea Celebrate Sixth Birthday Anniversary

A very small party for a very small girl celebrated Alice Marie McConnell's sixth birthday. It was given Wednesday evening by the little girl's mother, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, and attended by Charlotte Ray Malone, Harold LeRoy Malone, and Martha Frances Pearson.

A three-course dinner was served at a low table in the living room. A pink birthday cake topped with pink candles centered the table and dainty pink mint baskets marked places for the honoree and the three guests. The room was lighted by candles for the occasion.

After a number of games had been played, Alice Marie poured tea, using a tea set that was among the attractive gifts presented by the guests.
