BROWNWOOD, Jan. 6. (P)—A man whose name was believed to be Wright, killed today in a gun fight with officers near Santa Anna, was identified by W. F. Roberts, Jr., cashier of the Lohn State bank, as one of the two men who held up the bank this morning and escaped with more than $1,500.

Roberts went to Santa Anna where the body was held in an undertaking establishment, and positively identified the man as one of the two who made him open the vault.

The man was killed after officers had found his car with some of the stolen money in it.

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 6. (P)—Breaking through a rear window and awaiting for the bank to open, two unmasked men today held up W. F. Roberts, Jr., cashier of the Lohn State bank at Lohn, and escaped with $1,557.

Lohn is about twenty miles south of Brownwood.

Roberts, after being forced to open the vault, was locked in. Fifteen minutes later, another bank employe, Mrs. Edna Johnson, released him, and the alarm was spread.

With the robbers having at least a fifteen minutes start, authorities set out in pursuit. The bandits were reported surrounded in the southern part of Brown county.

CHICKASHA, Okla., Jan. 6. (P)—Fearing a night watchman and four youths to help them, three robbers today broke into the First National bank of Minco, 20 miles north of here, and escaped with a safe containing between $3,000 and $4,000.

Top Chandler, the watchman, said a machine gun was mounted on the truck in which the trio fled.

Chandler and the four youths were left in the bank with instructions to remain there until daylight. They complied.

SIX NEW WELLS IN COUNTY ARE FLOWING

In the face of the rather drastic proration program which went into effect Jan. 1, six new wells were completed in Gray county last week for a total daily production of 4,000 barrels.

All of the new producers were brought in during the latter part of the week and did not effect last week's total production. If the proration plan is strictly adhered to any new production will not change the output until Feb. 1.

The six completions follow: Gulf company's No. 3 G. H. Saunders, section 3, block 1, made 840 barrels initial production with a 10 per cent water content, pay coming from 2,550 to 2,660.

Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Wright section 13, block 3, flowed 1,006 barrels the first 24 hours from the pay at 2,825 to total depth of 2,838 feet.

Operators' No. 6 Cook-Paulkner, section 30, block B-2, flowed 1,000 barrels and 12 million feet gas the first 24 hours. The same company's No. 1 Lovett, section 57, block B-2, made 30 barrels a day after a shot of 280 quarts.

Texas company's No. 13 Saunders, section 1, Eustice survey made 10 million feet gas coming from 2,425 feet.

White Eagle's No. 3 Cook-Paulkner, section 29, block B-2, made 1,600 barrels initial, from the pay at 2,800 to 2,825.

New locations for the week: Texas company's No. 6 Coombs-Worley, section 36, block 3; McMan's No. 7 Palmer, section 31, block B-2; Southern Petroleum company's No. 1 Noel, section 318, block 3; Stover and Shell Petroleum corporation's No. 1 G. H. Saunders, section 3, B&B; Camel Oil company's No. 3 W. W. Harral-B, section 150, block 3; Texas company's No. 1 J. M. Bell, section 183, block B-2.

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. (P)—Texas cotton farmers must organize themselves into a central agency before they can share in the relief offered by congress thru the federal farm board.

This was the message brought by Alexander Legge, chairman, and Carl Williams, cotton member, of the board, in conference today with Governor Dan Moody, heads of certain Texas colleges and representatives of farm organizations.

It would be possible for the farm board to furnish speakers and educational matter, and possibly lend money, toward a campaign to organize the farmers of Texas by districts.

College Course Taken Here Ends; Another Planned

A course in constitutional government, the first extension study offered in Pampa by the West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, under the supervision of a member of the college faculty, was completed at the close of last week by a class of sixteen, largely composed of teachers in the city schools.

Dr. C. A. Murray gave the course, delivering a class-room lecture each Tuesday afternoon. Interest was strong, according to members of the class, from the first to the last.

Many of those taking the course were preparing to teach the subject in high school or grammar grades. Constitutional government will be taught as a required course throughout the lower and upper grades, beginning next fall under a recent ruling of the state educational department.

At the close of the first government course, announcement was made that Dean R. P. Jarrett of W. T. S. T. C. would be in Pampa in the near future for a conference with local teachers regarding future extension work.

POOR SERVICE IS ALLEGED IN ITS PETITION

Failure to Provide All Fuel Necessary Is Charged

RECENT COLD IS CITED IN CLAIMS

Original Contract Was to Woodward Back in 1925

Suit against the Central States Power & Light corporation to cancel its gas franchise, long threatened, has been filed by the city of Pampa through the law firm of Cook, Smith and Teed.

The petition recites that on July 27, 1925, the city passed an ordinance granting W. L. Woodward a franchise for a gas distribution system in Pampa, based upon certain conditions named in the agreement.

At any time when there shall, from any cause, exist an insufficient amount of natural gas to adequately supply its customers, W. L. Woodward, his successor or assigns, shall promptly notify the city council of such shortage, naming the cause thereof; upon receipt of such information, or at any other time, it may desire to do so, the city shall be permitted to inspect the gas wells and field from which W. L. Woodward, his successors or assigns in supplying natural gas, to ascertain the cause of such shortage, or for the purpose of estimating the amount of the probable lifetime of such wells and fields.

Franchise Runs 25 Years

The franchise was granted to run for a period of 25 years.

The city in its petition declares that the Central States Power & Light corporation, which took over the Woodward franchise, and is obligated to furnish a sufficient amount of gas, but alleges that the defendant has failed and refused at all times to furnish the city of Pampa, and particularly its domestic consumers and users of gas, with an adequate supply of same, as required by said franchise; that its gas lines from the city of Pampa to

WITH OIL CONDITIONS QUIET UNDER PRORATION, THERE SHOULD BE MORE INTEREST IN AGRICULTURE ON THE NORTH PLAINS.

There is encouragement in the law of averages. Crops in recent years have been fair or better. In localities where the weather man has been kind or better methods have been used farming has been unusually productive. The International Harvester company is shipping more farm implements into the North Panhandle than to any other locality on earth.

Congressman Marvin Jones of this district recently wrote after a tour: "The year 1929 was quite satisfactory for the farmers, stockmen, and other business interests in the Panhandle-Plains territory. Wheat exceeded the normal yield and production. Cotton and grain sorghums were a little below the average. The dairy and poultry industries made good progress and the livestock business was good. Prospects for 1930 are encouraging. An increased acreage will be planted to other crops, due to new land broken by the numerous new farmers who have moved into the territory in recent months. Livestock is wintering in good condition."

Pampa, it should be remembered, has long been known as the "wheat city". Ultimately, the fertile soil hereabout will prove the most valuable asset of all. The title is worth conserving. It is probably true that despite steps toward very desirable diversification, wheat should and will be the major crop.

It is too early, of course, to predict the next wheat crop. Suffice it to say that the crop to date is in better condition than it was a year ago, when despite adverse prophecies a bumper crop was harvested. Much will depend upon conditions a month from now, but appearances are encouraging.

The suggestion has been made and is being acted upon to obtain a soil survey of Gray county. This is a desirable step. There is now no dependable data or soil map to guide land buyers, whether of broken or unturned soil. There is no guide for the farmer who would like to know without experimenting what crop would do best aside from wheat. That soil data is valuable to farmers is indisputable. It requires no scientific training or knowledge to compare soil data with known requirements of particular crops.

A soil survey is something like a census; it is used to prove what you know, or think you know, you possess. The data should be on file in all of

Evidence of Man's Habitation in Texas Before Ice Age Is Located

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—Additional evidence that man inhabited Texas prior to the last great ice sheet which swept the American continent approximately 25,000 years ago was presented before the Geological Society of America at its meeting during the Christmas holidays by Dr. E. H. Sellards, associate director of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas in his account of the finding of an image in a gravel pit near Cedar creek, five miles west of Malakoff, Texas.

"The image is made from a sand-storm concretionary boulder," Dr. Sellards said. "By carving the boulder was made to represent a head, eyes, ears, nose and mouth being indicated. The ears are carved in relief, the nose partly so. Teeth are represented by rounded small bored excavations in the under side of the mouth cavity. An excavation under the chin apparently indicates a method of supporting the head in an upright position."

"The image was found by L. Morgado, operator of the gravel pit, and was brought to the attention of the University officials by V. Dortman of the Texas Clay Products company of Malakoff, for which company the gravel was being excavated. It has also since been presented to the university by T. A. Barlett, manager of the Texas Clay products company.

"The boulder on which the image was carved weighs approximately 75 pounds and was found at a depth of 16.5 feet. It is egg shaped, approximately 14 by 16 inches. The gravel pit is above the present flood plain level."

"This image is the latest belief which seems to strengthen the growing belief in the presence of Pleistocene man in America, according to J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology in the university. Much of the archaeological evidence of this nature that has been found is of Texas origin.

An extinct faunal fossil remains was found some four or five years ago in the Pleistocene level on Lone Wolf creek in Mitchell county by representatives of the Colorado museum of Natural history, Professor Pearce said. Beneath the fossil were found four specimens of flint blades, indicating that the animal was wounded by man. Other specimens have been found in Southern Colorado and in New Mexico, and also in the high terraces near Abilene. The latter remains were found by Dr. Cyrus R. Ray of Abilene and representatives of the Southwest Plains Historical society. Dr. J. W. Gidley of the Smithsonian institution has examined these. These weapons the agriculture colleges of the nation. The official findings should be available for tracts, speeches, or other representations of our assets. Without some official backing, our claims to people of other sections—prospective farmers—is not always effective.

The Wisconsin real estate board recently refused to let some Texas companies seek sales in that state because of lack of proof of claims for Rio Grande valley land. While the Pampa territory is known in much of the Southwest as exceptionally fertile, the soil possibilities except for wheat are almost unknown.

And contrary to general belief, Gray county has many varieties, contents, and depths of soils. Only an official survey would show in usable form what the soil's ingredients are.

and other relics imply a crude culture but are unmistakably evidence of human habitation of the country prior to the ice sheets.

Professor Pearce himself also found some flint artifacts near his lodge on the banks of the Colorado river near Austin which are identical in character with those found near Abilene. "It is all one story," Professor Pearce said. "Each discovery only adds to previous evidence that man inhabited North America 50,000 or 100,000 years ago. It was formerly believed that there were no human inhabitants on the continent prior to the sloop of the ice sheets over the country, the last of which came some 25,000 years ago. Of course, the ice sheets did not extend to what is now Texas—they stopped at the Ohio river—thereby establishing the end of the Pleistocene age.

The finding of the Malakoff image is of great significance in anthropological circles, since it is so definitely of man-made origin and was found in the Pleistocene level."

SHIRES VERY ANXIOUS FOR BALL SEASON

CHICAGO, Jan. 6. (AP)—The only interest Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires had in the boxing business today was to clear himself of charges of having participated in a fixed fight and attempting to fix another.

The Great One, with a yearning to sign a contract to play first base for the White Sox and withdraw from boxing, awaited a summons from the Illinois state athletic commission to explain charges that Dangerous Dan Daly of Cleveland had "taken a dive" for him in Shires' first professional fight at the White City arena December 9.

Already under the ban of the Michigan boxing commission and the National Boxing association, pending investigation of a charge that a representative of his had attempted to fix an engagement with one Battling Criss at Detroit last week, the Great One's misery was increased by a claim purporting to have been made by Daly that the latter had "taken a dive."

The latter charge was made by Daly, according to an interview printed in the Ohio State Journal of Columbus, O., yesterday. The story said, had "gone into the tank" for Shires, because he feared being "taken for a ride" if he failed to yield to a request made by Shires representative.

Promoter Jim Mullen, Shires, and Eddie Meade of Cleveland, who brought Daly to Chicago for the fight, vigorously denied knowing anything about attempts to fix the bout.

Mullen said he would not have matched Shires with George Trafton if he had been arranging diving acts for the baseball player-boxer. He pointed out that the beating Trafton gave Shires in the latter's second fight hardly helped the Great One's reputation, or enhanced his value as a drawing card.

Meade denied knowledge of Daly's charge, saying it was his impression he had been legitimately knocked silly in the first round of the bout and probably was looking for advertising if he made such a charge. Meade said he was asked to bring a "ham" to Chicago as an opponent for Shires and selected Daly, or Gerry (the latter's real name), because of his inexperience.

Shires agreed Daly had taken a dive, but insisted it was not voluntary, having been induced by a stout right to the chin.

Major General John J. Glinnin, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic commission, indicated life suspension for the promoter, fighters, and

KIRKWOOD AND DUTRA TIE IN GOLF TOURNEY

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 6. (AP)—Olin Dutra of Santa Monica and Joe Kirkwood of Philadelphia today held jointly the championship honors of the Long Beach $3,500 open golf tournament. The two professionals scored 216, winning a fifty-fifty split of the $1,600 first prize money.

Dark horse murders found the puddles to their liking, and Clarence Clark, Tulsa, Okla., ploughed into second prize money with a 69-76-73 for 218. Dutra's card for the 54 holes was 67-76-73-216, and Kirkwood's 68-78-72-218. Henry Guet, of Bridgeport, Conn., took third place with a 219, and Johnny Rogers, Denver, Colo., fourth with a total of 220.

Young Charles Seaver, 17-year-old Los Angeles prep school amateur, who led the qualifiers Saturday with a 66, one short of the course record, beat George Von Elni, Detroit, for the amateur prize. He tied with Johnny Farrell of St. Augustine, Fla., Charles Guest of Hollywood, Calif., and W. H. Cox of Brooklyn, for fifth place in the medal play with a 221.

Walter Hagen, last year's winner of the event, and Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente scratched because of an engagement to film a golf comedy in Hollywood.

Miss Melba Graham, Miss Virginia Faulkner, and Miss Claudine Pope will leave today for Columbia, Mo., returning to Stephens college, after spending the holidays at their homes here.

Managers involved in the affair, if the charges were proven.

DETROIT BOY TO FIGHT ON PAMPA CARD

Chuck Woods, known as the wildcat at Detroit, Mich., his home town, who is due to fight a 10-round bout with Pug Grubbs at the Pla-Mors Friday night, says he's in this part of the country to attach the featherweight championship of the Southwest to his various other titles.

Thus far, he has won everything, including a decision over Pug Grubbs, who wasn't satisfied with the way he lost a 10-round fight in Tucumcari, Dec. 30, to Chuck.

Woods says he's fighting here Friday night to prove to the erstwhile featherweight champion of the southwest that he can whip him again and as decisively.

The clippings the wildcat carries around with him shows that he has fought many of the top notchers in the 118 to 122-pound class. He and Matty Mathewson fought to a draw in Madison Square Garden not so long ago. Chuck is reputed to be both speedy and scientific. Promoters say he will stand up and fight and is not given to balky dodging.

Grubbs has appeared in two fights here with K. O. Kitchens, but neither seemed to satisfy the fans. There was too much sparring and too little fighting. Many blamed K. O. for the lethargy that characterized the two fights. The fight Friday night will tell the tale.

Besides the Woods-Grubbs event, there are four other bouts on the card which promoter Jack C. Rogers has labeled his "featherweight special."

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ratcliff and son Jack, have returned to their home in Gainesville, after spending several weeks here in the home of Mrs. Ratcliff's sister, Mrs. C. W. Lawrence.

New Teacher in Charge of Piano in Public Schools

Miss Joel Lichte, graduate of the Messner Institute of Music at Chicago, and pupil of Paul Van Katwijk of Southern Methodist university, is now in charge of class piano in the public schools. She succeeds Miss Orne Hudgins, who has resigned and gone to California because of poor health. Her work is under the supervision of the school authorities.

Miss Lichte will teach the Melody Way system, introduced into local schools by Miss Hudgins last September. By this method the teacher instructs several pupils at the same time, not only teaching them music theory, but to play the instruments. Only pupils who have not had private instruction are eligible for the lessons thus given. Two classes are given each week, at a nominal monthly fee.

Miss Lichte was to open new classes this afternoon, in addition to those already organized by Miss Hudgins. Her plan was to teach the beginners in the ward schools at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon, and those who have had instruction since fall, at 4 o'clock each day.

Tail Winds Help Planes Set New Southwest Marks

WICHITA, Kans., Jan. 6. (AP)—As a strong eastbound tailwind whipped over the southwest yesterday and today, three airlines claimed new flight records.

Western Air Express officials here said one of their Los Angeles to Kansas City liners made the trip in 9 hours and 25 minutes, clipping 16 minutes from the previous time. It came here in 8 hours and 20 minutes. Ray Merritt was the pilot and R. Hoffmann, co-pilot.

The Transcontinental Air Transport-Madison Air Lines eastbound ship came to Wichita from Wynoka, Okla., a distance of 117 miles, in 34 minutes, and went from here to Kansas City in 56 minutes, averaging 194.4 miles per hour, officials said. Ralph Fleet was at the controls.

Jimmy Cleveland pushed his National Air Transport mail plane 541 miles from Dallas to Kansas City in 9 hours and 10 minutes, actual flying time. Two hours and twenty minutes flying time was consumed in the 368 miles from Dallas to Wichita.

Husband Is Held in Bomb Mystery

SEAT PLEASANT, Md., Jan. 6. (AP)—Herman Brady, whose wife, Naomi Hall Brady, was killed by a bomb sent to her in the wrappings of a Christmas present, was held today with his brother, Leroy Brady, by police.

The authorities declined to divulge the purpose of their detention, but it was learned they had been confined to the jail at Upper Marlboro after several hours of questioning.

Meanwhile, the police made known that a single of the two men, Clarence W. Brady, arrested on Friday, had convinced them he was not implicated in the outrage. The latter was questioned with respect to assertions he had sought to marry her. It was understood he had intimidated Herman and Leroy Brady might have had a part in the sending of the bomb.

FRANCHISE—

The wells from which it secures its supply of gas have been inadequate and insufficient, particularly during cold weather, to transport and supply to the city of Pampa an adequate and sufficient supply of gas to supply all of its domestic consumers; that the city of Pampa, through its city commission and representatives and its city manager, has from time to time notified the defendant, both verbally and in writing, that its service and its supply of gas and its method and manner of carrying out the terms and provisions of said franchise were objectionable, insufficient, and inadequate and requested defendant to improve its service and to install a larger pipeline from the city of Pampa to said gas wells and to install new and additional lines within the corporate limits of the city of Pampa to take care of the gas consumers, so they at all times would have an adequate and sufficient supply of gas; that the defendant has failed and refused at all times to comply with the requests, demands, and requirements of the city of Pampa, whereby defendant breached the expressed and implied obligations imposed by said franchise.

Recent Billiard Cited
"That during the month of December, 1929, and after all of such notices had been given by the city of Pampa to the defendant, during a spell of extremely bad and cold weather, many portions of the city of Pampa, plaintiff herein, were not supplied with any gas whatsoever due to the fact of an inadequate supply on hand by the defendant for such purposes and due to inadequate and insufficient pipelines both within the city and to and from the city to the wells, the source of the defendant's supply, whereby the inhabitants and consumers of gas who were so deprived of gas at such times were caused to suffer from the cold and were endangered thereby, all of which was caused by the dereliction, neglect, and failure on the part of the defendant to comply with the terms expressed and implied contained in the said franchise."

By reason of the alleged breaches of contract on the part of the gas company, the city of Pampa "does hereby elect to rescind the granting" of the original franchise, now held by the Central States Power & Light corporation. The suit asks the court to terminate the franchise and to assess the costs of the case against the defendant.

He said he believed this would require several years.

"It is absolutely necessary that the farmers group themselves into a thorough organization if anything is done," Williams said. "The federal farm board was created by congress to aid the farmers in helping themselves."

He declared there must be a centralized agency to "absolutely control the flow of the product to the markets of the world." He said one Texas cooperative organization had been able to handle only three or four per cent of the cotton after nine years work.

"We cannot reach the other 96 per cent individually, since the board must deal solely with cooperative organizations, and we cannot afford to distribute relief in the way of advances on cotton to only three or four per cent to the exclusion of the other 96 per cent," he said.

Chairman Legge told the conference that if the attitude of "wondering what the 'fool' farm board is going to do" continued the real relief will not be much.

"It is necessary that the farmers get together and quit this thing of being competitors of one another," he said.

He pointed out that there could not be a "cut and dried" program but declared the varied situations that existed peculiar to as many communities made it imperative that the board maintain a "flexible" policy insofar as it could under the law which created it.

"There are no two states in harmony on this thing; they all seem to be competing," Legge said.

Walton said it was obvious the farmers were expecting more than the board would ever be able to give them.

"I hope you gentlemen will say some very definite things as to what relief we may expect, while you are in Texas," Walton told Legge and Williams. "It would be fine if you could give an idea of the most the farmers could expect to get in the way of advances on their cotton, on a per pound basis."

George B. Terrell, Texas commissioner of cotton, said he believed the board

Rev. O'Malley Talks to Canadian Club

CANADIAN, Jan. 6. (Special)—The Rev. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian church of Pampa, was the principal speaker at a banquet given a few days ago by the Kiwanis club of Canadian, honoring wives and friends of the members. His subject was "Bridging the Chasm," and his theme, the obligation of every man to develop his inherent powers and serve the world therewith.

The banquet was the first given by the Kiwanis club since its charter night gathering last June. More than 70 members and guests were present. President H. J. Buckner presiding and introducing the speakers. The program included, in addition to the Rev. O'Malley's address, selections by the Gate City quartet of Childrens, and group songs. Bob Millard gave the toast to the guests, and Mrs. Brimberry, the response.

Borger's teams will furnish the athletic opposition of the week at Central high school bringing boys' and girls' squads for a double-header engagement Friday evening.

The girls will open the basketball program. The Pampa girls hold the upper hand having won over their Hutchinson county rivals at Borger. Central high has the strongest feminine aggregation in her history. The improving sextet played to a tie with Panhandle on the opposition's court Saturday night, although the Carson county lassies had previously won in a game here.

Borger's Bulldogs, coached by Max Cherry, will not be easy for the Harvesters, who have yet to win a game this season. Borger believes her five is among the very strongest aggregations of the big district, and she is backing the team to uphold that claim here Friday.

The Harvesters have been playing a defensive game as their goal shooting failed but practices this week will be for the purpose of developing a scoring machine. Charles James, ineligible scholastically, is now making his work and should be in the line-up in a short time. His elusive dribbling and effective scoring are greatly needed, and may be the turning point in the season.

The stimulus of a scoring lead in a game or two might result in regaining of the form shown at time in the first game with Athens—the only time the locals showed signs of having exceptional possibilities.

should "loan money in the basis of value of the cotton, arrived at by cost of production, and not on a price per pound fixed by the cotton market by cotton speculators."

Legge said it was foolish for farmers to see how much cotton they can produce without any respect for supply and demand. He pointed out that the industries were not producing to capacity. He said the steel industries were producing only sixty-three per cent of capacity.

Others participating in the conference included President H. Y. Benedict of the University of Texas, President P. W. Martinez Given 5-Year Sentence

GEORGE WEST, Jan. 6. (AP)—Roberto Martinez today faced five years in the penitentiary for his part in the slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, Mathis physician, for whose death Harry J. Leahy was executed several months ago.

The verdict was returned by a jury here Sunday, after the case was given it Saturday. Martinez has been in jail since 1926.

Martinez, according to a confession, enticed the physician from his home here to visit a sick woman. Instead he was driven to a place where Leahy waited.

After Leahy had forced Dr. Ramsey to sign several papers, Leahy struck the physician over the head with an iron bar, the document continued. When Ramsey showed signs of life Leahy cut his throat and dumped the body into a shallow grave.

Student Becomes Insane, Killing His Father Yesterday

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6. (AP)—Obsessed with a desire to kill, Alan R. Schumm, 17-year-old University of Illinois freshman, shot his father, William Schumm, 42, to death and wounded his mother, Mrs. Payette Schumm, 40, in their home here yesterday. Police believe he was under temporary mental derangement caused by over-absorption in studies. He is held at city hospital.

Returning from a party, Schumm retired to a bathroom. He stayed so long, his father asked him if he was sick. The elder Schumm had just returned to bed after his son answered in the negative when the student asked his parents to come into the living room.

"Do you believe in God?" Alan asked. "Certainly," his father answered. "I'm a Mason. Naturally I believe there is a supreme being."

"Then pray," the son commanded. His parents, puzzled by his extraordinary remarks, did not comply, and the son drew a revolver and began shooting.

The elder Schumm died almost instantly, but the youths mother ran into the kitchen and her son followed her. She disarmed him and tossed the pistol away running to a neighbor's apartment where she found she had been wounded twice in the hip.
