Club Members Study Problems of Training for Good Citizenship

Citizenship training was the theme of an instructive program Friday at Child Study club's semi-monthly meeting, under the leadership of Mrs. B. E. Finley. The principal paper of the study was on "Do We Fall to Train for Good Citizenship?" read by Mrs. Finley as the opening number.

Mrs. H. W. Johns considered two subjects in well organized discourses, "The Citizen's Duty," and "Moral Duties of a Free Citizen." "A Syllabus of Civics," and "Sentiment in Politics," were given by Mrs. J. M. Turner. Mrs. S. A. Hurst spoke on two subjects, "Functions and Influence of Government," and "Taxation and Government."

A brief study in art appreciation was conducted at the end of the program by Mrs. Raymond Harrah, art director of the club. She distributed small prints of Bastien-Lepage's "Joan of Arc," and told the story of the Maid of Orleans as it should be told to children in presenting the great picture to them.

Twelve members met for the study at Mrs. C. S. Surratt's country home, where a social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program. Mrs. E. Thompson of Los Angeles, Calif., was a club visitor. Members present, in addition to those appearing on the program, were as follows: Mrs. Lee Harrah, Mrs. T. H. Barnard, Mrs. Roy Wiley, Mrs. H. D. Lewis, Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan, and Mrs. W. A. Crawford.

Following a series of studies in ritual, there will be lessons in law, it was announced. Mrs. Wilson Hatcher, worthy matron of the Pampa chapter, has issued an invitation to all Eastern Star members in the city to join the club or to attend any meeting.

Games and contests were diversions after the party of forty young people had returned to the recreation hall of the church, and refreshments were served at 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Marbaugh, sponsors of the society, were assisted by Mrs. and Mrs. H. L. Ledrick in entertaining.

Harria and Miss Ruth Henry, on Friday evening, at a delightful party in the home of Miss Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Henry. The attendance was larger than for any preceding social event for the two young people's classes.

Games and amusing contests were followed by special music. Harmonies by a quartet composed of Bob Rose, H. D. Balthrop, A. E. Hickman, and Jack Dunn, and solos by Tex Kelley were enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served.

WESTERS AND CENTRAL GIRLS DEFEAT BORGERITES

OUT IN THRILLING PERIOD RALLY-SISTER AND VICTOR BY FIVE POINTS

Though pressed at times to hold a commanding lead, Central high school's agile young ladies triumphed again over Borger's girls here Friday evening, 29-24.

The local girls took the lead at the start, scoring 8 points to 4 for the visitors in the first quarter. They led 13-10 at the half and 23-15 at the end of the third period.

The scoring combination of Brown, Heiskell, and Stone kept Pampa in the lead, however, despite the constant threat of Long and Cross, Borger's fast line forwards.

Pampa's team, coached by Miss Fannie Florence Sims, showed considerable improvement, and at times passed the ball with unerring intuition.

Borger's running center, Harricks, was the will-o'-the-wisp of the game, leaping with apparent ease and abandon to grab the ball at every opportunity.

The game was a hard fought one, but the home team prevailed in the end. The final score was 29-24 in favor of Pampa.

Score by periods:
Pampa 8 5 10 6-29
Borger 4 6 5 9-24

The line-ups:
PAMPA G FT P T
Brown, f 5 0 1 10
Heiskell, f 5 3 0 13
Ward, j 0 3 0 0

Substitutions: Stone for Heiskell, Martin for Fletcher, Kentling for Ward, Ward for Rose, Heiskell for Stone.

Officials: Referee, Cherry (Mo. Teachers); scorer, O'Keefe (W. T. S. T. C.); timekeeper, Hunkapillar.

Basketball Very Popular in City

Pampa is a "basketball town," with more than 20 teams practicing regularly. Four Guerilla teams played against the Junior high five Friday afternoon, but the latter nosed out the former, 13 to 11.

The Junior high and Guerilla squads will entertain the Panhandle Junior high and Pee-wee teams Tuesday afternoon.

The great interest that is being taken in the game by all schools here is expected to result in great Harvester teams in the future.

Educated to Be Lawyer, Becomes Wildcat Driller

A lawyer, Florida land boomer, driller, geologist, and promoter de luxe of wild cat oil wells in Gray county—just some of the occupations that Frank Dillard has crowded into a hurried life.

Born at Sherman, Texas, Dillard was educated to be a lawyer and practiced law for twelve years. As he learned where and how to find oil from practical experience, he has little regard for geologists and scouts.

BROADCASTING ABOLISHED BY TEXAS LEAGUE

HOUSTON, Jan. 11. (P)—The Texas league in executive session tonight voted to abolish radio broadcasting of all games except the league play-off and the Dixie series.

The club owners felt that broadcasting had cut attendance. They agreed that the playoff games, if there are any, and the Dixie series should be broadcast because all fans interested could not be accommodated at the parks.

Concerning to split season they announced that any action in that connection must be taken on or before June 19, but did nothing else for the present.

PLATTER EASY WINNER OVER BORGER 'PUG'

"Heavy" Ownby substituting for Johnnie Cable lay flat of his back for a count of ten in a corner of the ring where a smashing blow on the jaw from the omnipresent right of Luther Platter sent him at the middle of the fifth of a scheduled ten-round fight Friday night at the Pla-Mor.

Ownby with his short arms was no match for the long-limbed Platter, even though he did wade in and maul Platter's face several times. The Borger man missed five times as many blows as he struck, whereas Platter connected most of his licks.

In the best fight of the evening, Kid Poe won a four-round affair from Kid Arthur, but at that the fight was close. Dillard has learned all his geology through practical experience and his successful wildcat ventures are always his answers to those who differ from him.

(Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (P)—From a list of ten star golf players named today, a team of eight will be selected to sail for England in April to make the Walker Cup team, emblem of international team supremacy, safe for America.

The eight players will go to England for the competition at singles and foursomes. The alternates will be called only if any of the first eight can not make the voyage.

Voligt and Moe are newcomers. McMurry is an alternate in 1928. Voligt, after a series of successes in 1928, found the going harder last season and won only one important title, the north and south amateur. Moe won the western match.

OAKLAND EIGHT "LEVELS" HILLS OF PITTSBURGH

The new Oakland Eight, distinguished for its hill climbing ability, recently added new deeds to its ascension records by leveling out Pittsburgh's toughest grades.

Stopping at the foot of Tokio Hill, a grade of approximately 16 per cent, the driver challenged his four passengers:

"Here's $20 she will go up in high gear without a murmur of protest."

No one took the bet, for they already had observed the car's superior performance on level streets.

With a roar from the motor that should have produced plenty of vibration, but didn't, the Oakland Eight lunged at the hill.

The program was opened with choruses and solos from "Il Trovatore," the choral numbers comparing favorably with the solos of Miss Brooks, Miss Baldrige, and Mr. Edwards.

The document, the most extensive formal one dealing with world wide affairs in the past two years, was published in vernacular Italian instead of the traditional Latin for the first time in the history of the papacy.

Among the things condemned by the pontiff were co-education, sexual education of the young, over much physical training and public gymnastic display by young women, sending children away from home to school at too early an age, the new naturalism movement in education, bad films and bad radio programs.

The document occupied fifteen columns of Observatore Romano.

The pope cited a decision of the United States supreme court in the Oregon school case, June 1, 1925, supporting his contention on the family's right to supervise the education of children.

Part of the language of the court's finding was quoted in the encyclical and a footnote credited it to the Supreme Court decision.

Among the perils to adolescence the pontiff cited cheap pornographic books, some moving pictures and "radiophonic" auditions which multiply and facilitate if one may say so all sorts of readiness as the cinema does all sorts of spectacles.

The pope said that both the motion pictures and radio, which may be of great utility in instruction and education "too often are subordinated to incentives toward evil passions and avidity for gain."

RICE BEATEN AGAIN HOUSTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—The hapless Rice Owl basketball team Saturday night fell before Jimmy St. Clair's S. M. U. Mustangs, 41 to 40. It was the sixth basketball game in two years Rice had dropped by a margin of one point.

Pope Pius Condemns Co-Education, Bad Films and Radio Programs, and Gymnasium Displays by Young Women

Pope Pius, in his first encyclical of the new year under the title of "Christian Education of the Young" today upheld his educational policy maintaining that education of youth was the affair first of the church, then of the family, and then of the state.

The document, the most extensive formal one dealing with world wide affairs in the past two years, was published in vernacular Italian instead of the traditional Latin for the first time in the history of the papacy.

Although many of its points were directed at the Fascist conception of youthful upbringing, the encyclical application was not limited to Italy but touched educational questions everywhere.

Texas Railroad Is Denied Its Permit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—The Yates and West Texas Railway was barred from constructing its proposed line through Upton, Crockett and Pecos counties, Texas, into the rich Yates oil fields, under a decision announced today by the interstate commerce commission.

The commission held the evidence submitted did not indicate the necessity for the road at this time or that the earnings of the line would be sufficient properly to support it for this reason, it declined to pass now upon the contention of the Kansas City, Mexico, and Orient, in opposing the application, that it should be permitted to construct the line into the Yates field when needed.

In its application, the Yates and West Texas sought permission to construct a 43 mile line from a point on the Orient near Rankin to Iraan and thence to Sheffield.

First Report by Crime Body Now Ready to Release

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—The controversy over the attitude of the law enforcement commission toward the prohibition laws which raged since a few days before Christmas will be brought to a head Monday with the submission of the commission's first report to congress by President Hoover.

The president reviewed the recommendations today in detail and then prepared his own message of transmission. It will give briefly his views on the contest of this, the first report the commission has made since it began work early last summer.

While the precise nature of the report has been guarded, it was believed tonight to contain sufficient recommendations for unification of forces engaged in enforcing dry laws. These include incorporation of the prohibition enforcement unit in the justice department and consolidation of the border patrols.

There was a sudden lull today in the winds or prohibition talk which have swirled about the capitol for nearly a month. The subject was scarcely mentioned in the halls of congress, at least in public utterances, although there was much speculation as to what the commission was proposing to congress.

The enforcement commission's report was prepared for presentation to congress as soon as a joint congressional committee proposed in the Jones resolution had been appointed.

House Republican leaders however, decided the recommendations of the commission should be considered by regular committees of the house. With this information at hand the president decided to send in the report Monday.

Blimp Is Demolished

CAMPTON, Ky., Jan. 11. (AP)—Swinging down to avoid the intense cold of higher altitudes, the Goodyear blimp Puritan crashed into a tree near here today and ripped its gas bag to pieces, but both the occupants escaped injury.

The Blimp, en route from Akron, Ohio, to Gadsden, Ala., apparently was lost in a heavy fog. Earlier reports had it narrowly missing high tension wires at Asland, Ky., before it turned southwest.

The pilot house was not badly damaged and V. L. Smith, pilot and August C. O'Neil, navigator, climbed out after the crash.

Smith said they did not realize they were so near the earth until they felt the crash.

Baby Boy Is Buried

ALL THIS AGITATION OVER PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT, OR LACK OF IT, IS MEANINGLESS INsofar AS IMMEDIATE EFFECTS ARE CONCERNED.

The Eighteenth Amendment will not soon be repealed. The immediate problem is not to decide upon the wisdom of the amendment, but to enforce the law in a manner that will prevent corruption, open violations, and disrespect for law. Enforcement is not as difficult as it seems. It is not hard to find who is bootlegging, and how. The problem is in the machinery of conviction.

Give conscientious officers (1) a workable search and seizure law, and (2) convict apprehended offenders quickly and surely, and prohibition will be a reality. Congested dockets and legal procedure which makes it possible to prolong cases for a year or more nullify the work of officers and discourage prosecutors.

But do not be alarmed. Other laws are not being enforced. Bank looting continues unabated, yet no one is advocating repeal of those laws through non-enforcement. There are laws against check forgery, yet forgery is a constant menace. There are laws against speeding, but they cannot be enforced. Still, they are good laws, and they tend to reduce the evils they are supposed to govern.

The same legal weaknesses that weaken all laws tend to make a joke of prohibition enforcement. The challenge is to improve the laws. Then, if enforced prohibition is not wanted, that is a different matter. No one challenges the right to differ with the Eighteenth amendment; but ever lover of respect for good government should fight attempts to discard prohibition by discrediting the law and government.

TIES.
Cooperatives made many enemies through mismanagement. Is there any guarantee under the federal farm board plan that the unlimited sums the government is putting up will not be wrongly used in some instances? It appears questionable whether proper safeguards are being thrown about administration of the huge funds. At least no machinery is in sight comparable to that of the federal farm loan associations and the Federal Reserve. As it is, the farmer has no recourse but to join some marketing association.

The principle of the marketing association is good. Sun-maid raisins and California Sunkist oranges are examples of products standardized, advertised, and marketed by associations to control the output of most of an entire crop, such as cotton, are formed, the question becomes a grave one, and one to be closely regulated. Ultimately the government will be drawn deeply into socialistic practices through necessity of protecting the farmers it now attempts to help. The problem will not be solved by making huge sums available.

GENERAL PERSHING HAS DECLINED TO RUN FOR THE SENATE IN NEBRASKA.

It is well. Pershing is a proud, distinguished name. He needs no political office to complete a great career. His service in Washington would probably be far from as brilliant as that in the army. A good soldier often makes a poor politician. The methods of the two branches are different.

At any rate, Pershing in the senate would likely lose more than he would gain. The nation will be content to see him as he is, and in activities apart from mud-hurling politics.

TWINKLES
The Chinese are better revolutionists than the Mexicans. They fight in bitter weather, while our neighbors on the south find snow and ice a wonderful friendship breeder.

Percy, the office mouse, has been reported in many places, but so far no one who has seen him has been able to capture him and bring him back to this sanctum.

Parrots transmit a dangerous disease. Now if there is some way to transmit it to lapdogs we will ask no more of 1930.

Back in the middle states they ride horse back when it snows too deep for cars. But in these wide, open spaces it takes too long to get anywhere that way. Ten miles in some states will take you to a country store, or even a country village.

Personally, we haven't the public-be-damned attitude, and we hope we never get it and have to run for office so we can talk about "the dear public".

By the way, what has become of the old-fashioned politicians who knocked on doors? And carried a big roll of Granger wist? And maybe something on the hip? Wonder if the unpopularity of peddling had anything to do with it?

We don't like to read that the ladies have not paid their poll taxes in Gray county.

Their vote should not be an echo of the head of the house. They ought to have their own license to vote. If it is part of the household arrangements for the man to pay the bills, let him buy his wife's poll tax as well as his own. This column isn't going to say very nice things about modern women who let the men do all the voting.

New Oldsmobile An Improved Car

Improvements which reflect the latest advancements in automotive engineering and new Fisher built bodies that are more roomy and of distinctively modish lines are combined in the Oldsmobile Six for 1930 which is being displayed for the first time at the national automobile shows. Mechanical advancements have improved both acceleration and hill climbing, have enhanced driving ease and riding comfort, and contribute to even finer and more powerful braking action. Fundamentally, however, the Oldsmobile Six retains all the proven features which have contributed to its success in the hands of thousands upon thousands of owners during the past two years.

In addition to new bodies, one new body type is introduced this year. This is the patrician sedan with super deluxe equipment. This year all standard body types can also be obtained with five wire wheel equipment at a slight extra cost.

The standard body types include the four-door sedan, two-door sedan, business coupe, sport coupe, phaeton and convertible roadster. These types also can be had with special de luxe equipment.

With conservative artistry, the designers of the new Oldsmobile Six bodies have combined the latest trends in automotive style with lines which enhance the increased size of the cars. Bodies are wider, providing an additional inch and one-half width to the seats. This has been made possible by the new body lines and by decreasing the depth of the wheel housings. Bodies of the two-door sedan have also been lengthened one and three-quarters inches.

A new recess panel effect that outlines the windows of the closed body types is an outstanding feature of the exterior appearance of the Oldsmobile Six. This recess is finished in a lighter tone than are the window reveals and the remainder of the body with the result that it forms a distinctive feature of the design. The radiator shell and front of the Oldsmobile remain unchanged, however, a molding runs from the radiator along the sides of the hood and cowl to the windshield post where it blends into a side panel formed by the molding and by the lower portion of the new window recess. This panel again narrows as it passes around the rear quarters of the car.

Equipment on the standard body types include tilt ray headlamps with auxiliary parking bulbs; radiator shutters, engine thermometer, gasoline gauge, ammeter, speedometer and oil gauge mounted on instrument panel; full ventilation and vision tilted windshield; rear view mirror, top light, tire carrier and extra rim.

All Varieties of Jobs Found For Working Students

AUSTIN, Jan. 11. (Special)—Jobs ranging from waiting table for one night to doing hard work for a year have been filled by University of Texas students who have been placed thru the University Young Men's Christian association employment bureau since the beginning of the summer session of 1929, according to W. A. ("Black") Smith, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Demands of prospective employers are chiefly for hard work, such as mowing lawns, plating shrubbery, and weeding grass, although there are many calls for house workers to tend furnaces and other like jobs.

Approximately 425 jobs have been filled through the bureau since last May, Mr. Smith said. The demand for workers has not been great, particularly for permanent jobs. Many of the best positions are bequeathed from year to year from the holder to some friend, without passing through the bureau.

Use of gas as a fuel has made a noticeable decrease in the calls for workers, as many of the demands formerly made were for boys to chop and carry wood and tend furnaces, Mr. Smith pointed out.

At the beginning and end of the year, at the beginning and end of the Christmas holidays and the summer vacation, there are always truck hauling jobs open for university boys, especially at dormitories and boarding houses. Some of the positions filled by applicants at the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau are clerking jobs in stores and similar occupations, but the majority are more in the nature of "odd" jobs, Mr. Smith said.

A STATEMENT OF OLDSMOBILE-VIKING POLICY for 1930
A message of interest to everyone who expects to buy a car this year.
AT THIS TIME, when the public is accustomed to look for changes in motor car design, it is only natural that Olds Motor Works should make an announcement concerning both its policy and its products for the coming year.
Olds Motor Works is pledged to a policy of progress—a policy that promises, in part . . . "Changes in design solely for the sake of progress—never for the sake of change alone."
This policy, as it applies to the two products of Olds Motor Works, is briefly . . .
. . . to give still greater value in the Oldsmobile Six, the Fine Car of Low Price . . .
. . . to provide, in the Viking, a modern 90-degree, V-type Eight of high quality, at medium price.
Certain changes have been made in Oldsmobile design. These changes are chiefly in the body of the car, although advancements have also been made in the chassis. In every case, the changes tend to add to Oldsmobile value, without affecting its fundamental design.
Naturally, no changes have been made in the great Viking Eight. The Viking is a new car—a thoroughly modern 90-degree V-type Eight, incorporating advancements in V-eight design that establish it as one of the outstanding engineering achievements of recent years.
Olds Motor Works is pledged in both Oldsmobile and Viking to four great responsibilities: to design progressively—to build faithfully—to sell honestly—to service sincerely.
Thus, while Olds Motor Works builds two cars, in two major price classes, each represents the most progressive engineering thought, the finest manufacturing practice, and the best value it is possible to give at the price.
Now is the time to see these cars . . . to compare them with the latest offerings of the industry . . . and to make your own decision on value.
