BORDER PATROLMAN SHOT DOWN BY MEXICAN PRISONER

ASSAILANT IS SHOT 3 TIMES WHILE FLEEING

Slayer Is Identified As An Escaped Convict

NO SEARCH FOR PISTOL MADE

Suspect in Custody of W. P. McCaleb Is Slayer

CORPUS CHRISTI, Jan. 7. (P)—A Mexican, identified by Sheriff C. W. Price of Jim Wells county as Pedro Rabonido, fugitive from the state penitentiary, today shot and killed William P. McCaleb, border patrol inspector, at Alice, Texas.

The Mexican, shot and critically wounded by other officers, was placed under arrest by Sheriff Price.

When Buck left the car, the Mexican was sitting in the rear seat. They had not searched him for a gun, Buck said.

ALICE, Jan. 7. (P)—Shot through the back of the head, William McCaleb, 23, inspector of the border patrol at Laredo was instantly killed today by a Mexican prisoner arrested on the streets of Alice a few hours earlier.

The Mexican was arrested by McCaleb and Buck West, another patrol officer. Leaving McCaleb with the prisoner, West stopped at a house in Alice, going in to search for a suspect wanted by the patrol.

He heard a shot and rushed out, finding McCaleb dead and the Mexican running from the car. West shot three times, each of the bullets entering the Mexican's body. The Mexican seriously wounded, was arrested and taken to jail here, where he was identified by Sheriff C. W. Price of Jim Wells county as Pedro Rabonido, who escaped from the penitentiary at Huntsville in 1927.

The Mexican fired several shots at him, West said. He was said to be in a critical condition.

McCaleb was the son of the late Dr. McCaleb of Laredo. Prior to joining the border patrol 18 months ago, he was with the U. S. Public Health service at Laredo. He and West had been assigned to special work in Alice.

The body will be sent to Laredo for burial. W. R. Alford, chief of the border patrol at Laredo, was expected later today to make arrangements.

SENATOR SMALL IS TO CONFER ON PROBLEMS

Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington is scheduled to meet with the county commissioners and representatives of other organizations in the court house this afternoon for a discussion of the attitude he will assume in the coming session of the legislature on tax matters, the fee system, the state highway commission, and other questions that will likely be brought to the attention of the legislators.

Senator Small decided to meet with the Gray county citizens in a conversation yesterday afternoon with Commissioner M. M. Newman of McLean. He will arrive in Pampa early this afternoon.

The state senator from this district has very definite ideas on the fee system and policies of the highway commission, and he will discuss these conclusions in detail with the commissioners and civic workers this afternoon. It is said Mr. Small favors a complete reorganization of the highway department.

TEMPERATURE BUT 10 ABOVE EARLY TODAY

Snow Falls But Soon Quits in Plains Area

ROCKIES STORM SWEEP AND COLD

New Low Mark Is Set in Montana—25 Minus

King Winter, although crowded out of the picture recently by unseasonable warmth and springlike windy days, returned in fury last night to nip the green shoots that were observed in protected spots over the countryside.

According to the Santa Fe night trick operator, the thermometer dropped to 10 degrees above zero before dawn. Puffy snowfall which resembled frost more than snow on account of the low temperature, fell during the morning. Outdoor work was curtailed as much as possible, but there were still activities which had to continue. Telephone lines were obliged to repair damaged lines, and had one of the coldest jobs of the day. Automobiles that failed to start or that had frozen radiators were numerous. Frosted windshields made driving as hazardous as it was uncomfortable.

All snowfall had ceased early this afternoon, but the sky was overcast and the temperature stood at 19 above.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 7. (P)—The Rocky mountain area was storm bound today by a blizzard that stretched from the slopes of the Rockies eastward and south through Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas almost to the Gulf.

Clear and cold weather prevailed in Montana, where many points reported temperatures as 20 below. At Lewistown, 25 below was reported, a new low there for the season. Nearly a foot of snow lay on the ground at Helena. Automobile travel was difficult, even on the main highways.

Snow was general over Wyoming, and air mail service was hampered. Thermometers received six inches of snow and the mercury dropped to six below at Sheridan.

The snow was light in Colorado, but near-zero temperatures prevailed. Pilot M. O. Bowen, flying the Denver mail to Cheyenne, narrowly escaped with his life last night when his plane crashed after its landing gear hit a power line carrying no current. The ship fell to the ground on its back, a wreck. The pilot was essaying a landing in a cornfield. Bowen was unconscious when extricated from the wreckage, but was not seriously injured.

The storm brought sleet all over Oklahoma, with sleet and snow forecast for parts of Texas. Fair and slightly warmer weather was forecast for Kansas. Early today it was five above zero in Kansas City.

Movie Star Widowed by Air Disaster

The mid-air collision of two movie airplanes which fell, flaming, into the Pacific ocean near Santa Monica, Calif., with a loss of 10 lives, widowed Mary Astor, famous screen actress, shown above. Her director-husband, Kenneth Hawks, right, was among those killed. At the left is Roscoe Turner, surviving pilot, who was piloting a third airplane from which a stunt artist was to make parachute jump while cameramen in the other machines filmed him. The picture they were making paralleled the mysterious disappearance of Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier, from an airplane flying over the English Channel.

BAILEY IS COMING TO TALK OVER HIGHWAY 33

Final solution of Highway No. 33 problems in Gray and Roberts counties will be attempted next Monday when the county commissioners are scheduled to meet here with District Engineer Bailey.

The commissioners feel they should know the precise attitude of the highway department in routing No. 33 north to Miami before buying the right of way to widen the road between here and the Carson county line. The department has told committees from Gray and Roberts counties several times on visits to Austin that the matter of routing the road to Miami and north of Pampa is just an "engineering problem." This problem will be discussed at the meeting Monday.

Plans to have highway No. 4 designated will also be discussed with Mr. Bailey. The commissioners will set a date for hearing of complaints against widening No. 33.

TACKLE USED TO LOAD IT IN CAR AT NIGHT

Men Dig Into Vault at Montgomery—No Clues

HAUL ESTIMATED AT ABOUT $12,000

Work of Professionals Indicated, Says Cashier

MONTGOMERY, Jan. 7. (P)—$12,000 and $15,000 in cash was taken by burglars who dug into the vault of the First State bank here today, rigged a block and tackle to load the safe into an automobile and drove away.

The robbers drove a hook into the wall of the bank on which to hang their block and tackle. T. L. Wilcox, cashier, discovered the robbery this morning.

"They got between $12,000 and $15,000 in cash and securities, the value of which are not known," said Mr. Wilcox. The bandits, digging their way into the vault, tore away bricks to make an opening large enough for a man to enter.

Once inside they evidently jacked up the safe, said Mr. Wilcox, and set up their block and tackle near the vault. Then they heaved on the ropes, he said, until they swung the safe clear. The safe then was dropped into the car, which was backed up to the entrance.

Tracks of the car found were the only clues.

"The job evidently was pulled by professionals," said Wilcox. "They evidently worked coolly to swing the safe from the vault to their car."

Sheriff Ben Hicks of Montgomery county, headed the investigation here. He asked the sheriff of Harris county and Houston police to be on the lookout for three men believed to have headed toward Houston.

Indiana Bank Robbed
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Jan. 7. (P)—Three unmasked men held up the Fairland National bank, 10 miles northeast of here, today and escaped with approximately $1,500. D. G. Gordon, cashier, and Robert Smith, owner of a store near the bank, exchanged shots with the men as they fled.

Charge Is Filed Against Man in Drug Store Case

A. G. Stovall who was held in the county jail for a week of investigation was charged with the hold-up of the T. & R. drug store in southwest Pampa on the night of Dec. 25.

He was identified Dec. 28 by J. J. Duckworth, who was in charge of the store at the time of the robbery, as the man who ordered him to "stick 'em up" about 10:30 p. m. as he sat listening to a radio.

Bond for Stovall who was charged with robbery with firearms has not yet been set. Stovall is alleged to have taken $8 from Duckworth and $13 from the cash register.

A man who was arrested in a South Pampa hotel room with Stovall is held in jail for investigation. Both men were arrested by Sheriff E. S. Graves one-half hour after the robbery just as the two were preparing to go to bed. Both men came to Pampa on the bus on the afternoon before the hold-up.

Public Will Be Asked to Support Local Library

Believing that funds sufficient to maintain Pampa Public library as a functioning public institution could be raised without difficulty, the library association last evening assigned the problem of securing money for a librarian's salary, the payment of a comparatively small debt on books, and reading room incidentals to the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar is chairman and Mrs. R. J. Kiser and Mrs. E. H. Hamlett, members.

Decision to place the responsibility with the committee followed a discussion with the committee followed a discussion in which many members expressed themselves as being of the opinion that public response for aid would be ready and generous, in whatever manner it was asked. Optimism and enthusiasm prevailed.

Provision was made during the session for the purchase of "The World Book," reference set especially adapted to the needs of high school students and younger boys and girls. The Rev. James Todd, president, was in charge of the meeting, which was well attended.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (P)—Arthur (The Great) Shires fighting first baseman of the Chicago White Sox, was suspended indefinitely by the New York state boxing commission today pending investigation of charges of fixing or attempting to fix bouts which have been made before the Michigan and Illinois commissions.

Dallas Man Is Shot by Robbers Who Kidnap Him

DALLAS, Jan. 7. (P)—An all night search for three men who kidnaped, robbed, and shot Lonnie Collins, 33, had failed today.

Collins, suffering from shock and loss of blood, was in a critical condition. His left hand, mangled with a charge from a shot gun, was amputated at a hospital.

Before lapsing into unconsciousness, Collins told officers he was kidnaped yesterday just after he received his pay check at a Dallas automobile assembly plant, made to drive to a lonely spot on a seldom used road, and there robbed and shot when he resisted.

CLYDE FATHEREE IS ELEVATED TO B. C. D. PRESIDENCY—JOINT LUNCHEON IS BEING PLANNED

Clyde Fatheree vice-president in 1929, last evening was elected president of the Pampa Board of City Development for this year.

Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, F. D. Keim; second vice-president, T. F. Smalling; finance officer, J. M. Dodson. The present board of directors is composed of the following: F. D. Keim, W. B. Sautsbury, Paul Shepherd, Tom Rose, T. F. Smalling, M. K. Brown, J. M. Dodson, Scott Barcus, Clyde Fatheree, DeLea Vicars, W. H. Curry, W. A. Duerr, Sam Fenberg, C. C. Cook, Roy McMillen.

General plans for the new year were discussed under the leadership of Manager George Briggs, who continues in office. One of the first activities probably will be a luncheon in which the Chamber of Commerce, or general membership unit, will be joined by the American Legion and the Rotary and Lions clubs.

Chas. C. Cook, attorney for the B. C. D., said that the brief of exceptions to the examiner's recommendation in the railroad "war" was practically finished and would be forwarded to Washington in a few days. Later, a local delegation will be sent.

Fred Cary Will Seek Office of County Attorney

Pledging fair and impartial enforcement of all laws if elected Fred Cary today announced his candidacy for county attorney, subject to the July Democratic primary.

Mr. Cary emphasized that he would make a clean vigorous campaign, and that whatever promises he may make will be rigidly observed if he is given the office. He said that he was backed by no clique or clan and that he believed in enforcing all the laws without fear or favor.

The local attorney has been a resident of Gray county for 23 years, and has a wide acquaintance. After being graduated from Pampa high school, he attended West Texas Teachers college at Canyon. Later he took his law degree at the University of Texas and did an additional year of post-graduate work in law.

He returned to his home county to take up legal practice. He was city attorney for a time. In the belief that his training and experiences fit him to fulfill the duties of the office he is starting the race for county attorney and asking the support of his many friends and all believers in good government and law enforcement.

Lyceum Program in Auditorium Will Be Given This Evening

A variety program will be given by the Vochestral party this evening at Central auditorium, the third entertainment of the season's lyceum course. It will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Beulah Franze-Crick, Patti Ray-Thornburg, and A. A. Thornburg compose the party. Their program will include vocal and instrumental ensembles, solos, crayon scenes, cartoons, impersonations, and monologues. A variety of musical instruments will be played, including the Italian harp and the concertino.

McMurry College Glee Club Will Sing on Friday

The Glee and Choral clubs of McMurry college, Abilene, now on a tour of the Panhandle and West Texas, will appear here in a public concert Friday evening at the First Methodist church. Their reputation as an outstanding collegiate musical organization, whose ability to present a pleasing program is widely recognized, gives promise that the concert will be one of the foremost musical offerings of the winter. The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admittance charge.

The two clubs, with a combined membership of 32, are directed by Mrs. Robert Wiley, dean of the fine arts department of McMurry college. Their tour is under the auspices of the board of trustees, which is bearing expenses of the trip. Other cities in which they have appeared, or will appear on the present tour are: Sweetwater, Colorado City, Big Spring, Snyder, Slaton, Lubbock, Lamesa, Plainview, Amarillo, Hereford, Dalhart, Shamrock, Wellington, and Memphis.

Mrs. Frank Keohn and little daughter, Frankie Lou, visited friends in Borger yesterday.

Taft in Hospital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (P)—Chief Justice Taft entered Garfield hospital today for treatment for bladder trouble, assured that relief would be obtained in a few days and he would be able to go south, probably to Asheville, N. C., for several weeks of rest.

Donkey Mangled

DALLAS, Jan. 7. (P)—Charcoal, pet donkey belonging to the small son of J. E. Barton and beloved friend of all children in the neighborhood, was hanged last night by an unknown executioner.

The donkey was found today, his neck twisted by a rope which had been thrown over a beam above his feed trough. His front feet had been tied together so that he could not brace himself against the manger and possibly break the rope.

Old Landmark Will Be Razed at Cuyler and Foster

Razing of one of Pampa's oldest landmarks will begin about Feb. 1 when the Gordon-Denebiem building now occupied by the K. C. store will be moved to make room for a $40,000 store building which will be erected on the site.

Contract for the construction of the building will be let about Jan. 15. W. R. Kaufman is architect. The structure will include one story and a basement but will be built so three more floors made be added when needed. It will be of steel construction and fire proof. The front of the building will be faced with terra-cotta. August Gordon owner of Gordons store here and J. J. Denebeim are the builders.

The edifice will be erected on one of the best business corners in Pampa. The building now located on the site is a frame structure that was built when Pampa was "a wide place in the road."

"We are going to replace the old building with a modern, brick, fire-proof one because the old one is a fire trap, and is rather an unsightly affair to grace one of the busiest corners in Pampa," Mr. Gordon said. "The new one will be worthy of its location and will add to the appearance of the town."

THE WEATHER VANE

COOPERATION OF CITY, PRECINCT, COUNTY, AND STATE OFFICERS WITH THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN CALLED THE NECESSARY STEP IN ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION.

That is a big order. Inevitable rivalries, jealousies, and other barriers make cooperation difficult. Some day the nation will come to the conclusion that we have too many enforcement agencies, and an integral unit will be worked out. Meanwhile, local enforcement will be relatively more important than federal enforcement.

Wisconsin is an example. Wisconsin withdrew state support of prohibition through repeal of the Severson act. Only a small group of federal agents represent the Eighteenth Amendment, and the federal law is useless in most respects. The dry agents are making raid after raid, but more spring up as it is seen that danger of getting caught is much less since the state law was repealed.

As might be expected intoxication and its attendant results have multiplied. Milwaukee police records show a large increase in the number of arrests for intoxication in recent months. In September of 1928, 890 arrests were made, compared to 1,225 for last October. Drunken drivers are on the increase, ranging as high as 25 per cent more arrested.

Communities of Wisconsin are alarmed by the turn of events, and local option laws are being passed by counties, fifteen of whom have such laws. Madison is trying a city law, probably unconstitutional, which makes $500 the minimum fine for conviction on liquor charges. Wisconsin's experiment, instead of being a comfort to the wets, is becoming a valuable illustration for the dries. The prohibition question is still largely a local one, and as such never won and never lost.

INCOME TAXES MUST BE PAID MORE PROMPTLY THIS YEAR, ACCORDING TO A LETTER FROM THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

"The commissioner of internal revenue has authorized me to advise all taxpayers and all representatives of income taxpayers that only in those cases shown to have genuine merit will extensions of time for filing be granted," Collector George C. Hopkins for the Texas district says.

Heretofore extensions have been granted on the plea that tax accountants were too busy during the week of March 15 to finish their accumulated work. The public is hereby warned that this practice is being discontinued.

DESPITE GENERATIONS OF STOVE BUILDING, THESE NECESSARY BUT DANGEROUS HOUSEHOLD IMPLEMENTS ARE STILL THE MOST PROLIFIC CAUSES OF FIRES.

Stoves caused 93 major Texas fires in last November. Defective flues caused 54 blazes. Faulty wiring is credited with having caused 48 blazes, despite the fact that most cities now have building inspectors. Gas explosions numbered 23, while sparks on roofs from chimneys accounted for 20 fires. Matches and smoking was blamed in 38 cases. Lightning caused but one conflagration.

The meaning of these statistics to the average person is that, on the law of averages, the likelihood of fire loss would be negligible if the causes mentioned were removed. The huge fire losses in this country are in a comparatively few blazes—if all the fires that start caused damage, the year's total would be more staggering than it is. The fire loss, plus upkeep of fire departments, water supplies, and fire alarm systems, cost the people of this country $1,112,000,000 last year.

TWINKLES

Many things we do not know, but we do know that Athens alone did not beat our Harvesters 41 to 3. Our lads beat themselves by going to pieces when their long shots failed. We doubt that they could have run up 41 points without another team against them, but of course if they had held the ball more the other team would not have had so many scoring opportunities. Aptitude for basketball is best cultivated in the grades through regular gym practices. We will have such training next year.

Twink was never any whiz at mathematics in college, but he had no trouble scoring the local basketballers Friday night. Really though, we like trouble of that sort. We are not chagrined over the defeat, and the Harvesters should not be.

Well, we have paid our Christmas bills, our insurance premiums, our poll tax, car license, etc., and we are ready to face any other collectors with composure—and the assurance that if any worrying is to be done they will have to do it.

SPORT SLANTS
—Alan J. Gould

By ALAN J. GOULD

The gross athletic receipts from all sources exceeded $1,000,000 at three Eastern colleges in 1929—Harvard, Yale and Pennsylvania.

If they were not quite up to that mark, the figures at Michigan in the Middle West and at California, Stanford and Southern California on the Pacific coast were fairly close to the million-dollar level.

Football receipts contributed more than three fourths of the athletic income in each and every case and the ends of commercial enterprise, despite the Carnegie report, are not in sight. Pennsylvania within the past two years has substantially increased the capacity of its big stadium, Franklin field, and built a magnificent indoor Palestra. Harvard this year enlarged its stadium on a permanent basis besides installing a covered, lighted press box that brought three rousing cheers from the wandering correspondents.

Yale's complete athletic plant, made possible by huge profits from football in the bowl, is one of the best in the east, if not in the entire country.

Southern California alone of these major colleges has no exclusive stadium of its own but the Los Angeles coliseum, set in Exposition park adjoining the university, provides an ideal battleground at a reasonable cost.

Basehits, especially home runs, may be as decisive as any factor in modern big league baseball but the National League averages for 1929 reveal conclusively that something besides the big punch is needed to win pennants or even get into the first division.

The Phillies led the circuit in hitting last season with the remarkable average of .309, seven points better than either Pittsburgh or Chicago, but the Phils finished no better than fifth. Their pitching staff, or rather the lack of it, was the answer to where Burt Shotton's men finished.

The Phils pounded out 153 home runs as compared with 140 for the clouting Cubs. This mark was only five short of the major league record of 158, set by the Yankees in 1927.

Of the handful of players who missed not a single National League game last season, three of them were Don Hurst, Art Whitney and Lefty O'Doul, all big guns in the Philie attack and the latter batting champion of the league.

If old Grover Alexander can find a few more winning games in his aged arm and if another pitching find or two can be added to the staff for next season, the Phillies will give most any club an argument, if not a knockout wallop.

So great has been the golf rush for the $25,000 Agua Caliente Open the middle of January that the officials in charge of the Mexican resort's big money tournament have limited the field to 90 players. This makes it more exclusive than the National Open which is limited to around 150 performers.

Leo Diegel, the club pro, heads the list of eligibles, who will comprise the 32 qualifiers in the recent P. G. A. championship, the first 30 and ties in the last National Open and the leaders in the $10,000 Los Angeles Open.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
By HERBERT HUMMER

WASHINGTON—It is hard for Uncle Sam's fighting men, after they have laid aside their swords and gone into retirement, to resist the temptation to take up the pen.

In the service departments in Washington there are any number of army and navy officers who have attempted to write a book or else have definite plans to start on one as soon as they are free of the routine that goes with their assignments.

Some have one or more books to their credit.

There's Adm. Hugh Rodman, for example, old sea dog now retired, who at one time was in command of the Pacific fleet. He has written a book based on his experiences at sea which was not only given a good reception in this country, but received also with much enthusiasm in England.

And Brig. Gen. James Parker, who as a cavalry officer is reputed to have had no superior in the army up to the time of his retirement in 1918, has written two books.

A WAR NOVEL

His first, "The Old Army" is a familiar volume in military circles. His second, just printed, is "Old Army Memories," which promises to be as well received as his first.

Nor are those in retirement the only ones who have dicked with a book. Maj. John N. Neely member of the war plans division of the general staff of the aeronautical board is a good example.

Major Neely has just published the novel "War Breaks Down Doors." It is a cross section of army life at the front and at home, from a "San Antonio" honky-tonk to Paris and back to the swanky Chevy Chase club in Washington.

Jan Sienowicz is the hero. He is the son of a Polish coal miner in Pennsylvania—one of nine children. But Major Neely attempts to show in his novel that war breaks down doors, and so he has his principal character go into it as a lieutenant. He emerges as a major, a rich man and a skilled polo player.

President Hoover's military aide, Col. Campbell B. Hodges, is another army man in Washington who has a yen to write. Newspaper work appeals to the colonel tremendously.

His one venture in the field, however, ended somewhat disastrously. Colonel Hodges was a member of the Vera Cruz expedition in 1914. When it looked as if the American troops were going to spend a Christmas on the Mexican border, the colonel and a brother officer conceived the idea of compiling a souvenir history of the expedition to sell the troops.

But before the little books returned from the printer, the troops had been ordered home, and the two were forced to buy most of the books themselves.

Mrs. C. E. Akers arrived yesterday afternoon from Denver, where she had spent several weeks with Mr. Akers' parents. Previously she had visited her own parents at Miami, Okla., where her little daughter, Shirley Anne remained.

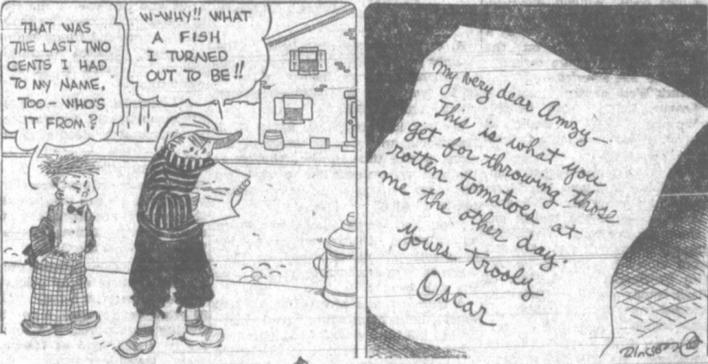

A daughter was born Sunday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas.

Large Gains in Production Seen in United States

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 7. (AP)—Increases in virtually all fields, with Oklahoma leading, and constant in the majority of the remainder during the week ending Jan. 4, added 46,301 barrels to the daily average production of light and heavy crude oil in the United States, according to the Oil & Gas Journal.

The week's daily average was 2,641,621 barrels as compared to 2,595,320 for that ending Dec. 28. The light oil increase was 49,738 barrels.

Oklahoma City pool with a 20,155 barrel increase and Seminole with 11,555 boosted the state production 29,490 barrels above the average for the preceding week. The Midcontinent area averaged 1,448,987 barrels 27,315 barrels above the previous week.

West Texas area fell behind slightly with declines in Hendricks and miscellaneous pools. Yates pool gained slightly. Kansas remained virtually constant with 113,940 for a daily average, a decrease of 530 barrels.

Gulf Coast and Southwest Texas heavy, and the Eastern and Rocky Mountain areas all registered gains, the latter of approximately 6,000 barrels. Gains in Santa Fe Springs and miscellaneous pools pushed California production ahead 8,500 barrels.

An increase of 11,854 barrels was registered for the week ending December 28.

Surprise in Billiards NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—A surprising stand by Augie Klechhefer, Chicago southpaw, has knocked one corner off the triangular race for the national three-cushion billiards championship, leaving it a duel between Otto Reisel of Philadelphia and Allan Hall of St. Louis.

After breaking even in his first two games, Klechhefer last night defeated Johnny Layton of St. Louis, defending champion, 50 to 38 in 58 innings. It was Layton's first defeat in three years of tournament competition. Reisel and Hall still are undefeated.

Mrs. Artie Shepherd, Mrs. Pauline Thurman and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crawford were among those who attended Harry Lauder's concert in Amarillo last night.

How They Grew Thin

You will be surprised, if you look around, at how many people have grown thin in late years. It is evident that some new method has come into very wide use. It has been found that a weak gland is a great cause of obesity. So modern physicians have been fighting that cause, without starvation diets.

This right method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in almost every circle the delightful results are apparent. A book in each box of Marmola tells you how and why it acts. The formula is given. Go try this remarkable, this natural vitamin. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola. You owe that to yourself.

New Canadian Police to Become Prohibition Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—The treasury department has submitted to the Canadian government its detailed program for improving prohibition enforcement along the border and, although official advice is lacking, has been informed the plan is regarded favorably at Ottawa.

Five hundred new posts of entry would be established with the provision that traffic from Canada into the United States must cross the border at these places and the 100 posts of entry already designated. This with a consolidated and increased border patrol to prevent smuggling between these points makes up the program.

Before the scheme can be made effective an agreement must be reached with Canada as to the location of the posts on entry in order that the Canadian and American stations may be located at the same points. Officials were gratified by indications of Canadian approval.

The plan involves a marked departure from the present system. Under existing regulations persons may enter the United States from Canada at any point along the border with the restriction that officials of the nearest port of entry be advised at once if any merchandise is brought into the country or the crossing is made in a vehicle.

TO PROBE FINANCES

Dallas Amateurs Hear Byrd Radio Operator Today

DALLAS, Jan. 7. (AP)—The dream of every radio amateur came true today for Ward Allen and William Penn, students at Southern Methodist university.

Crackling through the air came the call "WFA-WFA-WFA"—followed by the cryptic jumble "GEOH, VGLDN JSO E TNX FER CALL!" The youths dozing before their receiving set at 2:30 o'clock this morning, sat bolt upright.

Translated, it meant Commander Richard Byrd's station at the south pole calling, and the opening sentence was, "Good evening, old man; very glad to get in communication with you. Thanks for the call."

Young Penn said he got the Byrd operator on a wave length of 42,7717 on his 50-watt crystal control set, which he built himself.

Rex Musical Comedy Big Hit

Now we can view Broadway's best musical comedies right here in Pampa. Paramount has opened the way to bring the high-priced Broadway shows home with its dazzling pictorialization.

Never before has anything like "The Cocoanuts" been seen in Pampa. Never before has anything like it been transferred to the screen.

Groucho Marx, the talkative member of the delightful quartette, a side-splitting jester; Harpo, with his dumb show, his expressive pantomime and his inspiring harp playing; Chico, with his manic antics, and Zeppo, the foil of his brothers' madness, keep the house rocking with glee.

Beautiful melodies from Irving Berlin start you humming. The theme song, "When My Dreams Come True," is a catchy, romantic tune that strikes a lifting chord in the heart.

Tom Love Says Party Pledge Not Binding on Him

DALLAS, Jan. 7. (AP) - Giving a resume of his political activities, Thomas B. Love, state senator and an outstanding Hoover Democrat leader in the last presidential campaign, yesterday filed his application with D. W. Wilcox, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee to have his name placed on the July primary ballot as a candidate for the nomination for governor.

The senator said in his letter to Wilcox that he voted for "the Hoover electoral ticket" in the last election and that once previously had voted for a Republican but he asserted that at the same time he was "a Democrat, affiliating with the Democratic party as I have all my life."

In participating in the presidential primary conventions of 1928 and '29 and in the county and state conventions and taking the required pledge, Senator Love said he expressly declared "neither in law nor in morals could any such pledge bind a voter to violate his conscience in casting his ballot at the general election."

In his application, Love said his occupation was that of a lawyer and a farmer. He gave Lancaster as his address, and said he was 59 years of age.

Jazz Age Seen in Crescent Movie Starring Ingram

Rex Ingram, breaks new ground in several directions with "The Three Passions," his latest picture at the Crescent theatre today. Novel as to story, treatment and characterization, the production is said to typify the present modernistic spirit expressed in the jazz-mad pace maintained by the world today.

With "The Three Passions" Rex Ingram turns modern. Discarded is the Oriental of "The Garden of Allah," the mystical of "The Magician," the historic of "The Four Horsemen," and the "Scaramouche" for a story of the jazz age, flaming with the fiery imaginations of men and women of today waging the war of passions that have ruled mankind from the days of antiquity.

Alice Terry (Mrs. Ingram) and Ivan Petrovitch, recognized to be among the leading romancers of the movies as a result of their appearance in recent Ingram successes, enact the leading roles. In keeping with the prevailing spirit of newness found in the film, Miss Terry has discarded her wig for her own shingled hair.

At any event the long braids had been crossed in the back, drawn around and tied beneath her chin in a single knot. The wiriness of the hair had loosened the knot now, but the hands of the murderer had held fast to the ends of the braids until life had been extinguished.

Dundee drew a shuddering breath. He was glad the poor, discolored face was bowed down upon the grotesquely sprawled knees, so that he could not see it in all its horror.

"She's been dead for hours," he heard Sergeant Turner saying to Commissioner O'Brien. "Rigor mortis has already set in. I think it will be better for us to get the body to the morgue before we arouse the whole house, don't you, Commissioner?"

"Yes, by all means. Warn the boys to keep a sharp watch over the boarders' rooms, but not to answer my questions. You've got three men on the grounds, haven't you?"

"Four," Turner answered. "Routine precaution. They won't do anything, unless it's another Cuban cigar stub. We've got our man already. I guess Patrolman Callahan will rate a promotion out of this night's work, Commissioner."

"He left the room, carefully and noiselessly closing the door behind him, to give the necessary instructions to the silent men posted in the downstairs and upstairs halls. When he returned Dr. Price, the coroner, was with him.

"Nobody's awake yet, but Mrs. Rhodes, and I aroused her myself to break the news," Sergeant Turner announced in a low voice. "You came on the ambulance, didn't you, Doctor?"

"Yes. You want to get the body away as soon as possible, I suppose," the coroner answered. "As if through a deafening fog Dundee heard the doctor's brisk comments as he made his examination:

"Death due to strangulation. . . . No fingerprints on the throat. . . . Marks where the braids cut into the skin. . . . It was no weakening that tied this knot, Commissioner. "How long has she been dead?" Turner asked.

"Hmm. A little hard to tell. Rigor mortis has set in, but in some cases that happens more quickly than in others. But—at least three or four hours, I should say. I'll try to give you a more exact answer after I perform the autopsy—condition of stomach contents, etc. . . . I'll call the boys now. I've arranged a signal, to keep things as quiet as possible, and he went to the front window, stepped out upon the porch, and waved his handkerchief to the waiting ambulance below.

"THIS seems to be a pretty decent bunch of people, and since it's your home, temporarily at least, I want to spare the house as much of the horror as I can." O'Brien explained to his wife, Pat, Bonnie Dundee thanked him as silently as if they were in tribute to the dead, and he crossed the stairs and entered the rooming the stretcher on which body would be borne away.

"Let me help!" Dundee bent the dead woman. For sudden could not bear the thought only uncaring, alien hands should touch her. He sprang to the across which her kimono he then rejected the garment when saw that it was an old, silk-solled one. Cora would have a ter one, he knew—and he found in her closet.

There were tears in his eye he draped the pretty negligee orchid chiffon and ostrich feather about the poor, rigid shoulder. And regardless of onlookers stooped and laid his lips flat against the stiffening, thin, skinned hand which had aroused his compassion when Cora had been alive. He stood aside then the body was lifted to the stretcher and was about to turn his feet away when his eyes telegraphed an amazing message to his brain.

"Look, Dr. Price!" he called urgently. "Did you notice that Her mouth is bruised. . . . Please may I?" and he gently lifted the discolored upper lip, turned it back until it touched the nose. "I Price, her lips have been pressed so hard against her teeth that the print shows plainly. See?"

"You're right," Dr. Price answered slowly, as he bent to examine her lips. "But I don't quite understand."

"I do!" Dundee cried in a choking voice. "Don't you see—Uncle Pat, Sergeant Turner? Cora Barker was killed with a kiss!"

"What do you mean?" Sergeant Turner demanded incredulously. "Oh, can't you see? I thought it was odd that she could be strangled to death without making sufficient outcry to awaken anyone. Bert Magnus' room is the nearest, and yet he evidently heard nothing, or he would have investigated, and—found her like this. I'm glad he didn't! Thank God for that, at least. He was in love with her—was going to marry her, I think, when the Hogarth case was settled."

"STeady, boy!" O'Brien warned. "You're getting as hysterical as a woman. Tell us quietly just what you mean."

"I mean," Dundee forced himself to speak in a calmer, lower voice, "that whoever murdered Cora Barker strangled her while she was being kissed. The man pressed his mouth so tightly against hers that she could not cry out when he tied the braids of her hair. . . . Can't you see it all? He was so well known to Cora that when he called to her from the porch in a low voice she came instantly, recognizing him, of course."

Royal Wedding to Be Brilliant—Many Kings to Attend

ROME, Jan. 7. (AP) - Marie Jose, princess of Belgium, and Crown Prince Humbert of Italy tomorrow will be married before one of the most brilliant assemblages seen at any European court since before the war.

The ceremony will take place at the historic Pauline chapel of the Quirinal palace, scene of four conclaves for election of Popes. It will be the first time since April 9, 1923, when Princess Yolanda of Italy married Count Calvi di Bergolo there, that it has been used for a royal wedding.

One of the biggest achievements of the film is the manner in which interior scenes made at Nice "match" with the actual shots of these great works. The shipyard set is a reproduction of triumph, but scarcely less remarkable are the "futuristic" restaurant, the individualistic boudoir of Lady Bellamont—a forerunner of the vogue of tomorrow, and the hall and dining room of Lord Bellamont's mansion in Park Lane.

Princess Marie Jose of Belgium, who tomorrow becomes the bride of Humbert, heir to the Italian throne, was received in private audience this forenoon by Pope Pius XI.

With her were her father, King Albert, her mother, Queen Elizabeth, Prince Leopold and his wife, Princess Astrid, and Prince Charles her other brother.

It was the first visit of the Belgian royal family to the pope since 1922.

TWO TOURNEYS IN WEST WILL END GOLF NOW

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—The Far West is about to say adieu to professional followers of the winter golf trail with a shower of gold for a parting gift.

Two big tournaments—the Los Angeles and Agua Caliente opens—mark the end of the big-money winter events on the Pacific coast. Ten thousand dollars will find its way into the pockets of the pros at the end of the Los Angeles open, which begins tomorrow. Prizes totaling $25,000 will be distributed in the Agua Caliente open starting next Tuesday.

There are a score of golfers good enough to win these events but the lad who will be most closely watched, perhaps, is Horton Smith, "Joplin ghost," again showing the way to the winter campaigners. Victories in the Oregon open, the Berkeley open and the Pasadena open, with a second in the Hawaiian open, have netted Smith money prizes totaling approximately $5,000. His three victories have been won with a 72-hole score of 280, an average of 70 for each of 12 eighteen-hole rounds.

Leo Diegel, professional golfers' association champion, may decide to flash his best golf in the two last tournaments, especially at Agua Caliente. Leo is the pro at Agua Caliente and probably will be anxious, not only to capture the major share of the $25,000 purse but to show his employers he can tour his own course in better figures than any of the invaders.

Shires Is Dodging Commission Until After Next Fight

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires does not propose to permit meetings of state athletic commission to cause him to dis-appoint his public.

While he is more or less soured on the boxing business, the Great One still is after money, and decided not to attend a meeting of the Illinois State Athletic commission this afternoon so he might go through with a bout at St. Paul tonight.

C. Arthur said he could not attend the meeting, arranged for him to explain some things about his meeting with Dangerous Dan Daly of Cleveland and still have time to fulfill his engagement in St. Paul with Tony Faeth, baseball pitcher. Rather than disappoint the fans, he decided to pass up the meeting. Too, he still is considerably short of the $25,000 he hopes to get out of boxing.

Knesie Blumenthal, the shy one's manager, said Mrs. Blumenthal would notify the commission neither fighter nor manager could attend the meeting. Blumenthal also outlined Shires' itinerary for the next few days. The Great One will return to Chicago after the St. Paul fight, but will pause only as long as it takes to catch a train for Lansing, Mich., where the Michigan Boxing commission plans to delve into the circumstances surrounding Shires' proposed bout with Battling Criss of Rockwood, Mich. Criss' manager has charged a Shires' representative requested the fighter to fold up in the fight, and C. Arthur has been invited to explain.

If the Michigan commission is convinced nothing is amiss, Shires will fulfill the date with Criss. He then plans to return to Chicago, where he hopes to talk baseball contract with the White Sox management. Shires may encounter difficulty when he sees the Sox management, for Secretary Harry Grabner has said the first baseman must clear himself of all charges before the club will be ready to consider a contract.

Promoter Jim Mullen, who staged the Shires-Daly and Shires-Trafton bouts, also was summoned to attend the meeting today, as were Daly and Eddie Meade, who handled the Cleveland fighter in Chicago. None of the three had indicated whether he would attend.

Shires will appear in St. Paul in spite of the National Boxing association suspension, which has ordered him barred in 32 states.

Arkansas Athlete Gets Many Offers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 7. (AP)—Professional football and high school coaching are chief bidders for the services of Clyde Van Sickle, All-Southwest conference guard and sub-captain of the University of Arkansas football team last season.

Van Sickle, who graduate this spring, said today he had decided after a process of elimination to accept either an offer to play with the New York Giants, professional eleven, or to go to Okmulgee, Okla., as high school football coach.

He was offered a contract by Andy Andrews, Giant coach, after the Dallas classic on New Year's day between Southwestern and Mid-west stars.

HIGHER LOOPS IN BASKETBALL ARE PREDICTED

BY FORREST C. THOG' ALLEN
Perhaps the next bit of important extrication for the rules surgeons of basketball will be the elimination, or modification of the center jump-up-off play.

The national basketball coaches association has made definite recommendations to the joint basketball rules committee regarding this important feature.

Already high school, college and university teams have tried out these center play changes in regular games and reports coming in indicate their enthusiasm for a change from the old rule. However, tall rangy and versatile basketball players will always be at a premium.

I predict that within one or two years baskets will be raised to a height of 11 or 12 feet instead of 10 feet—the present height.

The coaches agreed that new plans should be tried in practice and match games during the coming season and that reports be submitted to the committee. It suggested two major plans as a basis for trial.

- Suggestion No. 1
1. Eliminate the center jump.
 2. Toss a coin for possession of ball out of bounds.
 3. The winner is given ball on defensive end line, out of bounds, within nine feet of basket on either side.
 4. Play then begins within five seconds as in the present rule on out of bounds ball.
 5. On all field or foul goal baskets the officials secures ball and gives it to a member of the side scored upon, out of bounds, under the opponents goal, or defensive end line.
 6. In case of double fouls or technical fouls it is suggested the official designate the two players who will jump for ball, at center.
 7. It is that this scheme may aid in curbing stalling by giving the ball to the team that is scored upon.

- Suggestion No. 2
1. Draw two circles on either side of the present circle.
 2. The player who is to put the ball in play stands in the circle which is farthest from his basket with his own team behind him.
 3. The other team must remain behind the other circle until referee calls, "play."
 4. The player in the circle must put the ball in play by passing to a team mate promptly after the referee gives the signal to start play.

Still another suggestion retains the jump at center, but some the other four men away from center.

This last suggestion comes from men who have had much experience with the professional game of basketball. Blocking is emphasized in the professional game.

Grubbs Has Impressive Record of His Own to Match That of Detroit Lad, Who Claims Big-Time Career

The ring record of Chuck Woods, featherweight puncher of Detroit, Mich., is not any more impressive than that of Pug Grubbs with whom he will fight a 10-round bout at the Pla-Mor Friday night.

The Borger youngster will be 16 in February. He has had 54 ring engagements and only one decision against him. In 1916 he was paralyzed from the hips down by antitoxin and was out of school and sick for two years. His father, a former jockey and a scrapper, now a Borger barber, began training his son in 1923. Very few champions pack the punch this Borger lad carries in both hands. He settles the fight with one punch at times. Pug always takes things easy in the opening; he waits for a chance to punch and when he does the fight usually ends. Besides that he's a genius when it comes to covering himself up.

In the Tucuman fight between Grubbs and Woods, Pug gave the latter an unmerciful beating in the eighth and ninth round. The crowd expected Grubbs to have an easy time from then on, but in the tenth, Woods came out of his corner and battered Grubbs all over the ring.

Woods fought on the card of Sammy Mandell vs. Jackie Fields, which was a world's championship bout in Chicago. He was under the training of Carl Baggett of Chicago for a year and fought Eddie Shea to a draw.

Other bouts on the card include a six-round affair between Cliff Reagan and Kid Smith; a four-round bout between Kid Poe and Kid Arthur and a wrestling match between Pat Reagan and Red Michael.

AMATEURS ARE DUE FOR GOOD YEAR IN 1930

BY AVERY BRUNDAGE
(President National Amateur Athletic Union)

CHICAGO Jan. 7. (AP)—Reports from the chairmen of committees in charge of fourteen sports under jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Union indicate 1930 will be a banner year in amateur athletics in the United States.

With their minds already on the next Olympic games at Los Angeles in 1932, coaches and athletes are preparing for a strenuous year of competition, realizing all resources must be developed if America is to retain its place as leader in amateur sport.

Reports reaching A. A. U. headquarters reveal that development in athletics, particularly track and field sports, in foreign countries which have adopted American method has been phenomenal. Athletes from Finland and other Scandinavian countries have demonstrated their capabilities during appearances in this country, while Germany and Italy are well into national athletic programs, reaching every man woman and child. South American countries, South Africa and the Orient, all are in the midst of great programs for athletic development.

No More Bonuses for Babe
NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Babe Ruth's salary may be bigger this year than ever before, but he won't get a bonus for hitting home runs. General Manager Ed Darrow says that when the time comes the Babe and Col. Jacob Ruppert, the Yankees' president, will talk over the contract, but the bonus system has never been considered.

Mrs. Ralph Dunbar of Stamford, former resident of this city, and her infant daughter, Joan, are visiting Mrs. Dunbar's sister, Mrs. W. H. Nichols, her brother, F. M. Culberson, and their families.

every man woman and child. South American countries, South Africa and the Orient, all are in the midst of great programs for athletic development.

A remarkable growth in interest in amateur sports among industrial institutions and among women promises to provide new material to aid the United States in its effort to retain its world athletic leadership.

The A. A. U. is solidly behind all movements to enforce adherence of amateur rules, and will continue to take the initiative in problems concerning amateur athletics. Its programs also will include plans for wider distribution of amateur championship events, and for taking amateur hockey, one of the fastest growing sports, under its jurisdiction.

THE GRIM SPECTRE
of that future shadow may be avoided

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Every one knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Claude Teer Is New Chairman of Control Board

AUSTIN, Jan. 7. (AP)—Claude D. Teer, was elected chairman of the board of control today, succeeding R. B. Walthall who served in that capacity for two years. Walthall, whose term as a member of the board expired on January 1, will continue on the board until his successor is named by Governor Moody, he said. Walthall expressed a desire for one more year to be made chairman and nominated Teer for the place.

Walthall will take up preparation of the budget for the 42nd legislature, working with J. D. Hall, budget director. Roy Tennant will continue as the purchasing member of the board.

Teer was appointed to the board by Governor Moody a few months ago, having relinquished the secretaryship of the highway commission to take the place. He was a member of the 40th legislature and was chairman of the appropriations committee.

Hotel Blaze in Kansas Is Fatal to Two Guests

PITTSBURG, Kans., Jan. 7. (AP)—Two guests of the Wick hotel here were burned to death and five injured today by fire which forced 74 persons to flee from the hotel and which seriously damaged the hostelry.

Authorities were investigating reports of incendiarianism. Flames blocked the front stairway and entrance of the three-story hotel and guests leaped from windows and slid down ropes to safety. Few had time to dress, and many braved blizzard conditions in night clothing. The building had no fire escapes.

The dead are Clarence Parker, foreman in the Kansas City Southern railroad round house, and Ralph Dennis, 19, of Pittsburg.

Among the injured was James Davis, Amarillo, Texas.

SCOTT SEEMS ONE AVAILABLE FOR BIG FIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—The second annual "Battle of the Palms" at Miami, Feb. 27, may yet become an international struggle with Jack Sharkey, Boston job, in one corner of the ring and Phil Scott, London's famous fireman, in the other.

Back from Boston and their vain efforts to induce Sharkey to meet Tuffy Griffiths at Miami, Madison Square Garden officials have begun negotiations with Jimmy Johnston, Scott's pinstriped manager.

Financial matters have brought discussion of a Scott-Sharkey match to an impasse, but the wrinkles eventually may be ironed out to the satisfaction of everyone. Johnston has been holding out for a guarantee of $75,000 with the privilege of 25 per cent of the receipts. Frank Bruen, general manager of the Garden, has countered.

The Garden makes no secret of the fact that it would prefer Griffiths, as well as several others, to Scott, but Sharkey appears adamant on the subject of Tuffy, and Bruen despairs of bringing the Boston job around for the corporation's way of thinking. Scott may turn out to be the only heavy-weight available for the date and, at the same time, agreeable to Sharkey.

Pampa Central high school will send two teams to the annual invitation basketball tournament at Panhandle, Jan. 17 and 18. Coaches and players believe both the girls' and the boys' have an excellent chance for finishing well near the top of the lists, if not victorious. Fifteen teams are expected to enter each division.

Theatre Ushers in Snappy Dress

In uniforms as generously bedecked and almost as gorgeously impressive as those worn by the crown princes, grand dukes, and field marshals in the gay and dashing romances of the cinema, the door boys and ushers of the Rex and Crescent theatres are performing their duties with just a bit more snap than previously—or perhaps they only appear to be.

Anyway, their new uniforms of dark blue, trimmed with gold braid and some scores of brass buttons, lend an added note of smartness to the theatre foyers. To make use of an expression accredited to the gay nimeties, they are "neat but not gaudy."

The door men wear the rather military-looking double-breasted coat, with an equally military looking cap, the latter displaying the gold G for Griffith Amusement company. The ushers' jackets are waist-length and close fitting with cut-away fronts. The boys at both theatres wore the new uniforms for the first time Sunday.

Miss Mary Donaher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Donaher of this city, has returned to Wichita, Kans., where she is a student in Mt. Carmel academy, after spending the holidays at her home.
