SENATOR TALKS WITH HOOVER ON NEW BILL

"We Will Have Tariff Bill," Watson Assures

PRESIDENT MAY FAVOR COALITION

Re-Vamped Rates May Be Approved by Republicans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—President Hoover made peace with the senate Republican leadership today on the tariff, Senator Watson, of Indiana, the party pilot, announcing after a White House conference that "we will have a tariff bill."

Mr. Hoover called Senator Watson to the White House after the flareup yesterday in the senate. Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, provoked the senate discussion when he called attention to a story in the Kansas City Star saying the president favored the tariff rates being adopted by the coalition of Democrats and Republican independents there.

This story, which aroused the Republican regulars, particularly Senator Grundy, of Pennsylvania, went undepicted yesterday at the White House and was disclosed at the Watson breakfast conference today.

Senator Watson, who has been leading the fight against the coalition in the tariff contest, would only say after the White House discussion that he "had a satisfactory talk." He said the Republicans would continue their fight against any reductions in existing tariff rates by the coalition.

What Mr. Hoover said about the story in the Kansas City Star remained unknown. Senator Grundy made inquiries about the story and told his colleagues, including Watson, that it appeared to be authentic.

Senator Watson repeated today what he had maintained previously, that the president should refrain from seeking to guide congress in the fixing of the 21,000 rates involved in a tariff bill. He seemed to have the assurance of the president that no action would be taken by the White House on rates until the tariff bill is presented to Mr. Hoover.

The announcement by Senator Watson that he would vote to send the tariff bill from the senate to conference with the house was taken to mean that the Republicans would vote for the measure, although it has been rewritten almost entirely by the Democratic Republican independent coalition.

The Republican regulars are making it clear that they are not sanctioning the bill as it now stands and will vote for it only to get it to conference with hopes of a compromise measure coming out of conference.

Mother of Three Children Jailed on Beer Charge

While her six-year old daughter wept in a new coupe parked in front of the courthouse yesterday afternoon, Mrs. "Blackie" Wooten was placed in jail by county officers on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquors for the purpose of sale.

Neighbors swore out a warrant to have her place searched Saturday morning. Sheriff Graves and Deputies Wilson and Guthrie, seized about 15 gallons of beer at her residence in the Bowers field.

Her husband was trying to secure bond for her at a late hour Saturday afternoon. She is the mother of three children. Her husband has not yet been tried on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was released from jail on bond.

New Boy Scout Troop Is Organized

A new Boy Scout troop which will be sponsored by the American Legion was organized Friday night at the Legion hall with eleven members. Dr. R. A. Webb was appointed temporary scoutmaster.

Since Boy Scout week, or in the last three weeks, about 50 boys have joined Scout troops here, Rev. Tom W. Brabham said. By next Friday Scout leaders in the city expect to have a Scout enrollment of 100. Previous to this year, the largest enrollment at any time was 35.

Plans are under way now to organize a troop at the First Christian church. The Lions club is also planning to sponsor a troop.

"Scout business is picking up here—in fact scouting is in better condition now than it ever has been," Mr. Brabham said. "There is good attendance at troop meetings. The boys are interested and new members are reported at every meeting. A realization that scouting is greatly needed here has revived interest in the movement and enthusiasm in promoting it."

School Needs to Be Program Topic at Big Luncheon

The need for more school buildings will be the topic discussed at the regular Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon in the basement of the Methodist church tomorrow noon. The civic committee, DeLea Vicars, chairman, will have charge of the meeting.

C. P. Buckler, member of the school board, will discuss the $200,000 bond issue to be voted on this year. R. B. Fisher, school superintendent, will tell of the need for additional school space at Central high and addition ward buildings. The luncheon will begin promptly at 12 o'clock and will last until 1:15. George Briggs said.

Crushed Bodies of Two Women Found in Pecos River

FORT STOCKTON, Feb. 22. (AP)—Officers of this section today sought to identify the bodies of a woman and a girl found in the Pecos river in an effort to find a solution for their deaths.

A large number of people viewed the bodies after they were brought here from Imperial, 35 miles north of Fort Stockton, near which place they were found yesterday.

The body of the girl, clothed in a street dress, was discovered by a Mexican, who notified the sheriff's department here. While officers were seeking clues at the scene of the discovery, the woman's body, clothed only in night clothes and wrapped in a blanket, was found.

The woman's head was crushed and the body showed signs of having been badly beaten. Officers said she evidently had been murdered and her body thrown into the stream. The girl's body showed signs of having been choked to death. The bodies had been in the river about 10 days.

Quarter of Taxes Still Delinquent

About 75 per cent of the taxes have been paid, according to Deputy Collector T. W. Barnes. Total amount of taxes due the county and state was $448,496.77. Of this sum, $336,207.57 have been paid.

Final figures on the poll tax receipts shows that 3,606 persons in Gray county will be eligible to vote in the democratic primary next July.

That the new oil pool north of Cuyler switch in Carson county will be rapidly developed was apparent yesterday when announcement was made that the McIlroy brothers of Amarillo had made seven locations in section 11, block 7, which joins section 13 where Empire Gas and Fuel company brought in Fields No. 1 two weeks ago. Despite the care exercised by Empire to lease all the likely acreage surrounding well, McIlroys, Phillips, and Operators Royalty company have leases within a mile of the well. Drilling of wells by each of these companies will compel the Empire to take care of its offsets.

The seven locations are on leases sold to McIlroy's by two Greeks, Bill Mitchell and John Doucas, W. P. Stephen and Bill Jones, all of Panhandle. The men received $100 an acre, and one-sixteenth over-riding royalty. The land is owned by Frank Simms of Panhandle. McIlroy started building a rig on one of the locations yesterday.

Tom Doswell, general manager for the new Operators Royalty company, has secured an 80-acre lease in section 32 which joins section 13 on the south. Mr. Doswell paid $250 an acre for the lease. The land is owned by R. Martin of Wichita Falls. Phillips Petroleum company has also secured acreage joining the producing section.

Fields No. 1, its production pinched in to a minimum, has been producing 10 barrels an hour during the past week. It will be opened up as soon as a loading rack was completed at Cuyler. A pipeline has been laid from the well to the switch and the Santa Fe is laying rails for the rack this week.

Salvation Army Drive Will Begin Here on Monday

The Salvation Army drive for $2,400 will get under way tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock following a meeting of the various committees in the Board of City Development rooms presided over by President M. K. Brown. There will be four committees at work to raise the necessary funds to carry on the work.

The committees will attend the Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the basement of the Methodist church at noon when the civic committee will sponsor a program on civic affairs.

Morning Daily to Start Soon

The Pampa Daily News announced Sunday morning, Dec. 22, 1929, that a morning daily would be published in combination with this newspaper in the spring. The News is pleased to tell the public again that the pledge made two months ago will be fulfilled in a short time.

Contract was let during the past week for an addition, 40 by 40 feet, at the rear of the present building. This addition will give increased press room facilities, a larger stereotyping department, job stock room and mailing quarters. Work will start tomorrow and the addition will be completed in a few weeks.

The Pampa Daily News owns its building. The enlarged structure will be 40 by 140 feet and will further demonstrate the faith of The News in Pampa and Gray County. The building will also enable additional space for the office supply department, which fills a real need in service to this community.

The News was elected for a morning franchise by The Associated Press at a recent meeting of the board of directors in New York. Associated Press dispatches, regarded as the most reliable in the world, will thus continue to be furnished exclusively in Pampa by The News to the people of this territory.

Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor, is The Associated Press member or The Daily News. Phillip R. Pond, manager, was elected member of The Associated Press for the new morning daily which will shortly begin serving this community.

BODY CRUSHED UNDER WHEELS OF OWN AUTO

Wife of Salt Lake City Physician First Robbed

MALE ASSAILANT NOT YET FOUND

Diamonds Valued at Thousands Are Taken

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 22. (AP)—Crushed repeatedly beneath the wheels of her own automobile after she had been brutally attacked in the machine on a lonely country road near here, the body of Mrs. Dorothy Moormeister, wife of a Salt Lake physician, was found early today by a smelter worker returning home from his night shift.

Several thousand dollars worth of jewelry, including diamond rings, bracelets and a wrist watch, were missing from her body, which had been almost denuded by the battering of the automobile wheels. The car, splattered with blood, was found by police, parked on a downtown street of this city.

Except for evidences of a struggle preceding the slaying, indicated by the erratic course of the wheel marks in the dirt road, and the prints of a man's shoes about the scene, officers declared themselves without clues as to what happened between the time the young matron left her home here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in her large sedan and the discovery of her body.

She told a maid in the home that she had an engagement with a woman friend, but would be back in time to keep an appointment with a masseur. Her husband, Dr. Frank Moormeister, said he talked with her at six o'clock, but he was unable to give the officers little on which to work.

The slaying was on a side-road off the Bingham Salt Lake highway, and the officers were inclined to believe she had been to the mining town perched along the sides of a canyon, and was returning to the city with a companion. As they reconstructed the crime, her assailant struck her over the head with a heavy fragment of copper ore and then threw her body, face down, upon the highway.

Then after stripping it of the valuable jewelry the woman customarily wore, he is believed to have driven

She Teaches Cowboys How to Ride

Here's one reason why young cowboys of the southwest have been suddenly smitten with a desire for higher education at the University of Texas. She is Helen Hall, 24-year-old riding instructor for university students, who was recently empowered to instruct boys as well as girls in the art of mastering a broncho. And they get scholastic credit for it, too.

Building Starts Brisk Activity as Weather Warms

Spring weather of the preceding week was probably responsible for the increase in building permits which amounted to $17,900. The year's total is now $73,200 and if good weather continues it is believed the permits for the year will aggregate $100,000 by the first of March. Bearing in mind the bad weather during January, permits issued in the first two months of 1930 compare favorably with the permits issued during those two months in any of the last five years.

Construction of the Taylor pasteurizing plant in Pampa was begun this week. It will cost $5,900, exclusive of equipment.

C. R. Nowlin is building a $2,500 residence in the White House addition.

H. W. Hickman started construction of a $4,000 residence in the Priest addition this week.

Pat Leverett is building a $1,000 house in the East End.

C. L. Todd is building an addition to his residence in the Cook-Adams addition. It will cost $1,000.

Construction of an extension to the Pampa Daily News building will begin tomorrow. Amount of the building permit was $3,500.

Pampa-Borger Road Is Assured

F. F. Reid, president of Oilfield highway 41, announced yesterday that the last obstacle for a "through" graded road between Pampa and Borger had removed. Permission to grade the road through the McIlroy and Burk Burnett ranches in Carson county was granted yesterday. Mr. Reid and the local Board of City Development have been working to secure permission to grade the road.

Carson county commissioners will send machines to that part of the county and within the next few days a graded road from Pampa to Borger will be a reality.

LYONS, Neb., Feb. 22. (AP)—An anti-freeze solution, rusted to the color and aged to the flavor of spoiled dandelion wine, has caused the death of five young men.

Three died yesterday, one this morning and one shortly after noon, and all rank into semi-consciousness before they died.

Half a dozen others, who took only a sip of the supposed "wine" passed around at a carnival at Oakland, Neb., Thursday night, are expected to survive. The dead:

Leon Jarvis, 18, football player; Hollis Cleveland, 17, also a football star; Nelson Jarvis, 20, employed at a pool hall, and a brother of Leon, Lawrence Kohlmeier, 24, farm hand; Reuben Roberg, 22, who worked on the railroad section here.

Lester Kohlmeier, 22, Phillip Going, 23, and Clyde Dotson, who took one drink each from the gallon jug, sat home tonight doing nothing, hoping for the best, on advice of physicians.

Roberg in delirium yesterday kept repeating "Snethen's basement." Then it was discovered that Ed Snethen, station agent, found that someone had gone into his basement and filled two one-gallon jugs with a radiator solution he kept there.

The boys returned to Lyons from Oakland about 2 a. m. Friday. They noticed they appeared pale but thought it was only a touch of off-color wine.

It was not until 11 a. m. yesterday, when Lawrence Kohlmeier became critically ill, that doctors were called.

He died at 3 p. m. Nelson Jarvis soon thereafter. Leon Jarvis at 11 p. m., Cleveland at 5 a. m., today, and Roberg at 12:30 p. m.

"Crash" of English Plane Is Explained

A report that the plane piloted by Harold English had a crash near Portales this first of the week and that one of the passengers, Joe Bowers, Jr., was injured, proved to be unfounded. English was forced down at Portales when an exhaust push rod came loose, but it was an ordinary landing on the field at that place. The plane was enroute to El Paso. None of the passengers nor the pilot was injured. A pilot adjusted the rod and flew the plane in the next morning.

RANCHER SHOT IN AFFRAY WITH HOTEL OWNER

Murder Charge Filed Against Irvan Killian

NO WITNESSES TO SHOOTING

Borger Man Slashed on Abdomen With Knife

LUBBOCK, Feb. 22. (AP)—The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal correspondent at Hobbs, N. M., reported tonight that Irvan Killian, 50, a local rancher, was fatally shot there last night. Irvan Killian, 40, Highway 1, and Hobbs, a local man who is in a critical condition here with stab wounds received in an affray at Hobbs.

The correspondent at Hobbs reported that murder charges were filed today against Killian by Sheriff Sam Cain, that there were no eye-witnesses and Killian only made a short statement to Sheriff Cain when he surrendered.

Miller was shot twice, one bullet entering the left arm and side, the other lodging in the stomach. He died almost instantly.

Killian was brought to a Lubbock hospital and underwent an operation today, for a wound six inches long across the abdomen, where he had been slashed with a knife. Physicians expressed belief he would recover, although his wound was serious.

AMARILLO, Feb. 22. (AP)—I. J. Killian, hotel man of Borger and Hobbs, N. M., was reported operated on today in a Lubbock hospital as the aftermath of a disturbance yesterday at Hobbs. Mrs. Killian went from Borger to Lubbock today with a physician to attend her husband.

Reports from Roswell said a man named Miller was reported shot to death in trouble at Hobbs last night, but details were lacking.

Couple Survives Train Collision; Auto Demolished

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Moore of Skellytown are lucky to be alive today. Their car was completely demolished when struck by a Santa Fe freight train on the Cuyler street crossing at 11 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Moore was cut about the head and Mr. Moore suffered an injured knee. They were rushed to McKean & Connor hospital in a Stephenson company ambulance where their injuries were dressed.

According to the injured people they didn't know what happened until a box car loomed up beside the car. Mr. Moore opened door of the car, a Pontiac coupe, and dragged Mrs. Moore free. The front end of the car was completely demolished.

Dilley Doughnuts Eaten by 2,000

The Dilley bakery, 308 South Cuyler street, demonstrated Dilley's delicious doughnuts to approximately 2,000 people Saturday, all of whom were loud in their praise of the new product.

It was by far the greatest advertising event of its kind ever held in Pampa, and demonstrated what advertising will do for a new product. In addition to the advertising that appeared in the News the three days preceding the demonstration Mr. Dilley distributed coupons on the streets, coupons being good for a dozen doughnuts. The coupons were distributed by the "mystery girl" clad in Dilley's driver's uniform with a placard on her back advertising Dilley's newest addition to the "Delicious" family.

Relief Work for Salvation Army Still Plentiful

During January the Salvation Army distributed among the needy of Pampa 4,000 garments, 345 pairs of shoes and supplied meals to 305 men, beds for 230 and groceries to 102 families. Employment was found for 26 men and 65 women, according to a report made public today by Ensign Edgar King.

"Although there is not so much relief work in Pampa now as in the recent cold weather, the Salvation Army officers are still kept busy attending to the needs of applicants for relief, helping the needy, finding work for the unemployed, and doing many other things that fall to the lot of a Salvation Army worker," Mr. King said. "The work of the Army is not merely a winter program but continues throughout the year."

Two destitute families recently helped by the Salvation Army, were found sleeping on old mattresses on the bare ground with not even a tent over them. This is just one of the many cases being assisted by the Salvation Army, Ensign King said.

Panhandle C. C. Banquet Is Large

George W. Briggs, C. Herbert Walker and Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Webb attended the annual Panhandle Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night as representatives of this city. More than 225 were in attendance, many of whom were from communities surrounding Panhandle and from nearby towns.

Henry Ansley of Amarillo was toastmaster. The speaker of the evening was J. E. Hill of Amarillo.

The great work done by the county agent in Carson county was noticeable at the meeting, George Briggs said. At least six persons from each community surrounding Panhandle attended the banquet. He sees a great interest in Gray county when the county agent takes up his work.

Mrs. F. W. O'Malley, wife of the pastor of the First Christian church, has arrived in Pampa to make her home. She has been ill most of the time since Rev. O'Malley's coming here as minister, and has spent the last several weeks in Scott-White sanitarium at Temple. The Rev. and Mrs. O'Malley are at home at the parsonage, 114 North Starkweather street.

Miss Julia Mae Barnhart is spending the week-end with friends in Amarillo.

"I Found Right Medicine When I Took Konjola"

New Medicine Quickly Banished Ills of Stomach, Kidneys and Liver After Others Failed

MISS VIOLA HOELTGE
"I found the right medicine when I took Konjola," said Miss Viola Hoeltge, 6337 Suburban avenue, St. Louis. "For over a year I was in constant misery from stomach, liver and kidney ailments. No food would be properly digested and I suffered agony from bloating, stomach pains and shortness of breath. Back pains were frequent and painful and I became subject to frequent dizzy spells. Bilious attacks and constipation added to my misery. I no longer bloated after meals and my appetite is excellent. My liver and kidneys quickly yielded to Konjola and I am free from dizzy spells and bilious attacks. I never take cathartics and those splitting headaches are also a thing of the past. I shall always praise Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Pampa at the City drug store, and by all the best drug-gene stores.—(Adv.)

Rev. James Todd to Hold Evangelistic Meeting at LeFors

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., a minister of the First Christian church, and former pastor of the local church, is to open an evangelistic meeting at LeFors on Monday, March 3, holding services at the building used for union meetings.

The organization of a church in LeFors will be one of the chief objectives of the revival meeting, according to Mr. Todd. After several months in which the various denominations held services alternately under the auspices of a union organization, the Baptists, Methodists, and Presbyterians were able to organize their congregations. Buildings for the Baptist and Presbyterian churches are now under construction.

The Rev. Todd plans to be in LeFors two weeks or longer, working in the interest of the First Christian church and conducting the services.

BEEF IN SLOW MARKET DEMAND

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 22. (U. S. D. A.)—Increased receipts of cattle around the eleven-market circuit this week along with a slow demand for dressed beef resulted in a very slow trade on most killing classes, except well conditioned fed steers and fat light yearlings. The in between grade of fed steers slumped 25 to 50c while at some markets more drastic declines were shown on medium yearlings, heavy heifers and slaughter cows. Shipping demand was sufficient to maintain steady prices on fed steers selling above 14.00 and at most markets better grades of light yearlings held fully steady. Prices were unevenly steady to 25c higher. Aggregate 174,000 or 16,500 heavier than last week and 26,000 more than a year ago.

Moderation in the movement of fed lambs promoted firm to 2c higher prices on the desirable grades but additional weakness developed at some centers on heavy lambs. Mature classes of sheep found an uneven outlet, declines at some points being offset by moderate upturns at other markets. The supply approximated 267,000 against 322,787 last week and 255,434 a year ago.

Trade on hogs was marked by sharp price fluctuations, slight upturns on opening sessions were followed by sharp declines, but an advance on the close left values unevenly steady to 35c higher than a week ago. Chicago had a late top of 11.60. Total offerings of 278 alarms answered in 1929 by the fire department of Hibbing, Minn., 165 were false.

Henderson Says Let Allred Talk

James V. Allred, prominent Wichita Falls attorney, who has been a leading figure in the organization of independent merchants' associations in several Texas cities, is to speak in Pampa Monday night, March 3, under the auspices of the Merchants Minute Men. It was announced last night by A. P. Stark, secretary of the M. M. M.

The local merchants' group secured Mr. Allred as a speaker and organizer upon the advice of W. K. Henderson of Shreveport, La., whom the president, Wade Duncan, wired Thursday night, asking that a representative of Henderson be sent to Pampa to aid the M. M. M. in drawing up a constitution and framing a campaign program. A response from Mr. Henderson was received Saturday, and shortly afterward, Mr. Allred's acceptance of the invitation.

Announcement of a place for Mr. Allred's address will be made within a few days, Mr. Stark said. It is the desire of the officers to secure an auditorium large enough to accommodate a thousand or more persons.

Natural Gas Tax Vigorously Opposed

DALLAS, Feb. 22. (AP)—Karl Griffith, general counsel for the Lone Star Gas company, today issued a statement asserting that gas companies of Texas oppose the proposed tax on natural gas, pending before the state legislature, "because it is a tax on a necessity and because the companies already are paying two similar taxes."

He expressed the opinion that it would be just as reasonable to tax bread or coal or wood, and said that in the event the bill becomes a law, the tax would have to be passed on to consumers, especially in towns operating under a "cost-plus" franchise, such as Dallas.

Oil producing shale in the Utah basin is estimated at 92,159,000,000 tons. Lugs were around 575,000, a decrease of 90,000 from last week, but 6,000 heavier than the same period a year ago.

Figures Cited to Prove That Oil Prices Do Not Effect Gas Costs

Comparative prices of retail gasoline are furnished in the following statement submitted to the News by Dan Williams of the Deering Oil and Refining company:

"These prices amply prove that the price of gasoline in the United States would be the same whether or not it now is if the independent oil producer were forced out of business and were supplanted by a monopoly to control the production, refining and distribution and importation of crude oil and its by-products."

"This statement covers nine foreign cities and Washington, D. C., a representative city. Of the nine foreign cities the average retail price of gasoline is 33.6 cents while the retail price at Washington, exclusive of tax, is 18 cents per gallon.

"Please note that in some of these cities where the supply is controlled by a monopoly the retail price of gasoline is almost double the price in the United States."

The retail prices of various cities, in cents:

Buenos Aires, 35.1-48.1; Sydney, 46.4-48.6; Havana, 28; Paris, 34.3; Munich, 28.9; Genoa, 40.7; Vera Cruz, 31.8; London, 34.5; Caracas, 32.3; Washington, 18.

Comparative statement of prices of gasoline at the service station less gasoline tax of representative cities for 1929 and 1928:

City	Feb. 1926	Feb. 1929
Baltimore	18	18
San Antonio	15	15
Peoria	12.5	15.2
Savannah	16.5	18
San Francisco	18	18
Seattle	18	15.5
Reno	18	18

Washington	18	18
Spokane	18	18.5
Average	17.68	18.32

The price of mid-continent crude, principal gasoline supply, was $2.04 in Feb., 1926, and in Feb., 1929, $1.20. In 1926 a barrel of oil averaged 35 per cent gasoline in 1929, 46 per cent.

The above prices are cited to refute any argument that if price of crude oil is raised to the consumer line will be advanced to the consumer as gasoline is higher now with oil at $1.20 per barrel than when crude was selling at $2.05 per barrel in 1922."

Bonnie Rose returned yesterday from Dallas, where he has been visiting with his brother, Tom Rose, who is ill. Mr. Rose's condition is much improved.

Mrs. J. E. Chapman and her daughters, Mrs. T. E. Simmons and Miss Wilma Chapman, spent yesterday in Amarillo.

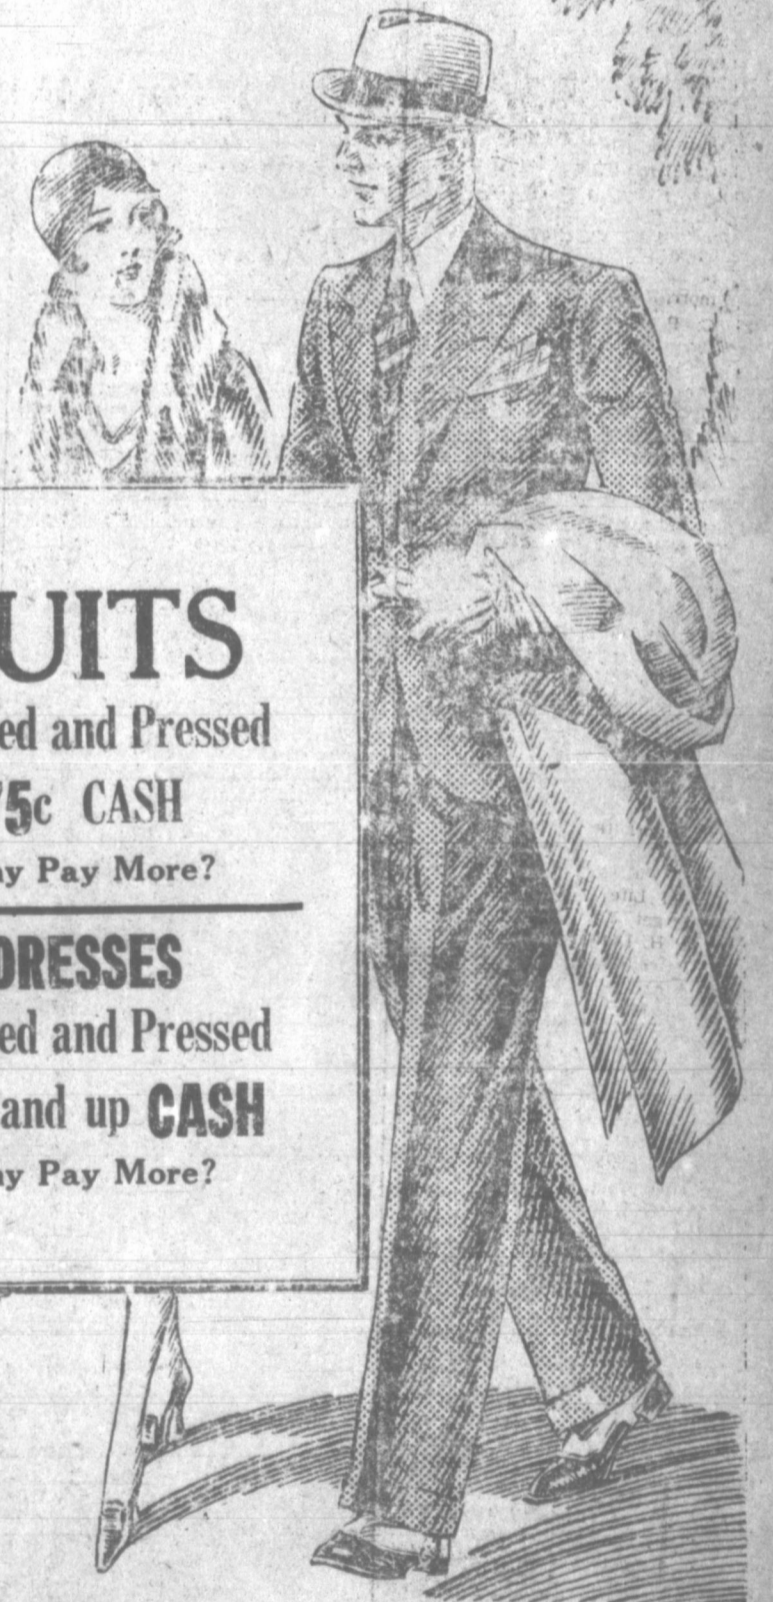

Georgia's income in 1929 from 10 truck crops was $5,221,630, an increase of 29 per cent.

Baker P.-T. A. Gives Colonial Tea and School Holds Open House

Baker Parent-Teacher association made the most of February's rare offering of occasions and inspiration for entertainment at once significant and attractive, by combining the ideals and the symbolism of St. Valentine's day and the anniversaries of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln in an enjoyable program...

Designation of the day as visiting day at the school and parents day by the P.-T.-A. resulted in an exceptionally large attendance of parents and patrons. Each guest registered in special visiting book, which was cut in the shape of a hatchet.

Both the entrance hall and the office were decorated in American flags, bunting, silhouettes of George Washington, and branches of flowering cherry. Tea was served in the office at a table of pretty appointment. Mrs. E. L. Reese presided, wearing a Martha Washington costume. She was assisted by Mrs. Roy Kilgore and Mrs. J. S. O'Brien.

Interesting exhibits of work specimens were on display in each of the class rooms, and were visited by the majority of those present for the tea and P.-T.-A. program. During the morning hours parents and friends of the pupils visited classes.

Mrs. Willard E. Taylor, president of the American Legion auxiliary, appeared before the association to announce that the auxiliary would present Baker school with a flag and flag-pole for the campus and a framed copy of the constitution for the entrance hall in the near future.

The following enjoyable program was given, with the pupils of Miss Gwendolyn Spradley and Miss Helen Anderson presenting the student numbers.

Songs—"America," by assembly. "Life of a Sailor Boy," by boys of the fourth grade. "St. Valentine," by Bobbie Twiford. "Thrift," by fourth grade pupils. "Little Boy Abe," by Burrel Erstep. "The Truth Always," by pupils of fourth grade.

Chester Hunkapillar and Glen Twiford won prizes in a series of amusing games. A number of attractive gifts were presented to the young celebrant.

The friends sharing the occasion with Billie and his sister, Doris Anne, were as follows: Janet Cole, Catherine Culberson, Frances Thompson, Fred Sloan, Jr., Charles Cook, Jr., Jack Kessey, John Edwin McConnell, and Mark Duncan.

McKinney was two-up on Carlton at the end of the first 18 holes. He wrenched a side muscle, however, and spent the noon hour in having a physician at work on him.

Kiddies Guests of Elks at Crescent

By way of commemorating George Washington's birthday with a public benevolence, according to an annual custom, the Pampa Elks lodge was host to 750 kiddies at a free picture show at the Crescent theatre yesterday morning.

All little boys and girls twelve years old and under were invited to attend and the long line of those who joyfully accepted the invitation stretched, four abreast, half a block down the sidewalk and around the corner, resembling very much the Pied Piper's charmed retinue.

The picture being shown was exactly to the liking of the audience. The breath-taking drama of the Royal Mounted and the great white north in the feature picture, "Tiger" Ross, was matched by the roaring comedy of the specialty, "The Dancing Clog."

Sam Penberg, social chairman of the Elks lodge, and C. B. Akers, manager of the theatre, arranged to have the crowd photographed, and a very good time was had by all.

The Tiger

A peculiar thing about Tiger Taylor (above) who figures in a finish wrestling match Thursday night at the Pampa with Otis Clingman, is that he has hair on his chest and back just like a bear. At any rate that's what Cal Farley says.

Cal also explained that sometimes in a match, Tiger grabs his opponent at the back of the neck with his teeth and shakes him just like a dog shakes a snake or skunk. Taylor wears a number nine hat and an 18 collar. He hails from Fort Smith, Ark. He weighs 165 pounds and is noted as a fast clean, emphasis on the "clean", wrestler. The time-limit match will be between Dotson and the referee of last Thursday night's match.

Clingman left Friday night for Chicago where he will wrestle Tuesday night in the final event of a widely-advertised match. He returned from Waco Wednesday where he won a finish match from Kohlus, the Greek. The first fall lasted one hour and seven minutes. He used an air plane spin to win both falls.

Rash Romance by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

JUDITH CAMERON, typist in a New York publishing house, marries ARTHUR KNIGHT, her employer. Knight is a widower with a daughter, TONY, and a son, JUNIOR. The girl ignores her stepmother. Later she tells Judith she must leave the house. Knight overhears and compels Tony to apologize.

The girl spends much of her time with MICKY MORTIMER, a blase amusement seeker, whom she met in Paris. He is separated from his wife and deep in a flirtation with Tony. As days pass a state of armed neutrality exists between Tony and Judith. ANDY CRAIG, a young man-Knight has helped through college, calls on Tony. He has been in love with her—rather hopelessly—for a long while. Craig comes to the house frequently and Tony, in a mood of spite, tries to convince her father the young man is carrying on an affair with Judith.

When Knight denies this angrily Tony tricks Judith and Andy Craig into a luncheon engagement and brings her father upon the scene. Tony and Mortimer are arrested for reckless driving. Knight begs his daughter home. For days the girl is sullen and rebellious. Affairs reach such a pitch that Judith appeals to Andy Craig. Knight sees the pair together but later Judith denies that she spent the afternoon in town. Knight tries to overcome his suspicions. Craig calls to see Tony. When Knight goes to announce his arrival Tony refuses to see the young man but makes her peace with her father. Knight promises Tony a trip to Miami with Judith, unaware that Mortimer has gone there.

Preparations for the trip begin immediately. Judith encounters MRS. FRANKLIN MONROE WEST who invites her and Arthur to dinner. When Knight refuses flatly to go, Judith says she'll keep the engagement without him. Judith stirred uncomfortably. "Yes, indeed," she murmured, "just as soon as we return—" "Oh, you're NOT going to put us off that long! Please don't say that, Judith. Can't you and Arthur take dinner with us tomorrow evening?" "I'm sorry," the girl answered. "We have an engagement." "Then how about the next night?" "I'm afraid Arthur's arranged something—" "But the night after that?" "It was almost too much but Judith answered gamely. "Yes, the night after that—unless I find that Arthur has made other plans."

well! The sash was pink and wasn't I proud of it—" Her words broke as Judith Knight appeared in the doorway. Judith was not looking particularly well. Her eyes were suspiciously red-rimmed. Instantly Tony sprang to her feet. "Look, Judith," she said, sweetly. "Here's a picture I've been showing to Father. Isn't it quaint? Would you ever recognize me? And that's Junior of course, and Father and Mother. I remember. Father brought us all. Ice cream sodas after we left the studio." Judith took the faded card in her hand and studied it. She had never before seen a photograph of Arthur's former wife. She had wondered about that other woman, of course. Now a chilling, icy shiver crept down her spine. "Come over and sit beside me!" Without reply he came. Tony slipped one arm around her father's shoulders, pulled his head toward hers playfully and ran her fingers through his hair. "Tired tonight?" "Oh, I guess not. So—so! Your old father's losing his pep, Tony. What've you been doing all day?" "Father, you ARE tired! I wish you wouldn't work so hard."

He turned this aside with a laugh, was about to answer when suddenly a loud sneeze interrupted. "Picked up a beastly cold some where," Knight apologized. "Guess that's what's the matter with me tonight." "Darling, I'm so sorry! But you do work too hard and you stay in that horrid old office when you ought to be outside enjoying yourself with the rest of us. Listen, you must take a hot bath, and lots of medicine and liniment—"

He pushed her away in protest. "Not a chance! Little sleeps all I need. Say—with all that stuff you'd murder me." Tony giggled. "Here," she said, "I've got something I want to show you. Remember this? The girl had reached for an object lying on the coffee table. She picked it up, handed it toward her father and waited. It was a photograph made 10 or 12 years earlier. The gray photographic print was mounted upon a white card. In the group were a man, a woman and two children. The woman was seated with the boy and girl on either side of her. The man stood behind the wooden bench on which they sat. No doubt about it. The man was Arthur Knight and the little girl in organdie must have been Tony. "Well, well!" Knight exclaimed. "Yes, I certainly do remember this picture. Got one of 'em put away somewhere. Where'd you find it?" "I was looking through my desk this afternoon, hunting some things I wanted to pack. It was in with a lot of other old stuff and I got it all out and looked through it. Why, I can remember that white dress just as clearly as if it were yesterday." "Oh, Judith," she said, "all this must be awfully dull for you!" "There was nothing the miserable young wife could do but smile and voice assurances that she was heartily enjoying the evening. Knight should have noticed how affairs were heading. He did not. After they had left the table and finished their coffee Tony suggested a game of cribbage. It had long been a favorite pastime with Arthur Knight. Judith did not play. "Better make it bridge," he said. "Judith, we want you in on this." "Oh, no. Please! Go ahead and play, you and Tony. Really I'd much rather not. I'm not at all in the mood for cards this evening and I'd much rather finish my chapter." She picked up a volume she had been reading during the afternoon, leaving Knight and his daughter to their game. The contest had not progressed far when Tony suddenly laid down her cards. "Oh—I forgot! There's something I wanted to ask you, father. You know I sort of forgot and—well, I asked Andy to come around Thursday night?" "What's wrong with that?" "Nothing, only it's our last evening at home, you know. After I said he could come I was sorry."

"But why?" "Well, don't you think when Wednesday's the last night we'll be together for so long it would be nice to spend it without any outsiders?" Judith glanced up from her book. "You say you asked Andy to come over?" she said. "You mean for the evening or dinner?" "Oh, just for the evening. Only I'm sorry now that I did it." "That's all right," Knight cut in. "Andy won't interfere. Send him home again if you don't want him here." "Well—if you don't mind," said Tony. "I suppose it will be all right." From swift scrutiny it appeared to Judith that Tony Knight was entirely serious. Judith could hardly believe her ears. The uncomfortable evening came to a finish at last. Judith had brushed her hair for the night, dabbed cold cream on her cheeks, then dabbed it off again, and slipped a dainty orchid down over her head when she suddenly sought her husband. Her eyes were downcast as she spoke. "Arthur, I'm sorry—I mean I don't want to go to Mrs. West's dinner Wednesday after all. I'm sorry for what I said."

"Why, Judith!" "I'll telephone her tomorrow and say it's impossible for us to attend." Knight looked at her curiously. "But if you really want to go—" "No. That was just nonsense. Let's forget about it." They kissed and the incident should have been ended. Unfortunately not. "Oh, Judith," she said, "all this must be awfully dull for you!" "There was nothing the miserable young wife could do but smile and voice assurances that she was heartily enjoying the evening. Knight should have noticed how affairs were heading. He did not. After they had left the table and finished their coffee Tony suggested a game of cribbage. It had long been a favorite pastime with Arthur Knight. Judith did not play. "Better make it bridge," he said. "Judith, we want you in on this." "Oh, no. Please! Go ahead and play, you and Tony. Really I'd much rather not. I'm not at all in the mood for cards this evening and I'd much rather finish my chapter." She picked up a volume she had been reading during the afternoon, leaving Knight and his daughter to their game. The contest had not progressed far when Tony suddenly laid down her cards. "Oh—I forgot! There's something I wanted to ask you, father. You know I sort of forgot and—well, I asked Andy to come around Thursday night?" "What's wrong with that?" "Nothing, only it's our last evening at home, you know. After I said he could come I was sorry."

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Corner Francis and Warren
Faith is the greatest word that five letters can spell, and is one of the greatest things that one can possess. Let it alone will not save your soul. James 2:24—Yea, see that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

If your faith in the Son of God will not lead you to do His commandments, your faith is worthless.

When we become believers, we then are in a condition to be saved, though we are not saved the very moment that we become believers. John 1:12—"But as many as received Him, to them gave He the right to become children of God, even to them that believed in His name." Therefore, if we are saved at the moment that we believe, we are without being children of God, and that is impossible.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

"Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." It takes faith to build a business, to build a city, or to build a church. The man of the least value in Pampa is the man of least faith, "for by faith ye stand."

Faith is always a fit subject for a sermon and it will be the basis of our message Sunday morning.

Sermon, "Standing Boldly by Faith" 11 a. m.

Mrs. Charles C. Cook was a visitor in Amarillo yesterday.

No obligations are involved in the session, and no solicitation for funds will be made. The members of the church are asked to give this meeting as much publicity as is possible.

Farm Monthly Is Purchased and Moved to Plains

With the March issue, the Southwestern Stockman-Farmer, a monthly farm journal, now in its 47th year, formerly published at Phoenix, Arizona, and El Paso, Texas, changes ownership, management, and place of publication.

The paper has been purchased by the Nunn-Warren Publishing Company, Inc., with general offices in Amarillo, Texas, and will be issued from that point in the future.

D. F. Biggs, editor and general manager for the past three years, has retired to engage in other business and has been succeeded by Seth B. Holman, member of the staff and stockholder in the Nunn-Warren company. Virgil E. Hobby, assistant to Mr. Biggs, remains with the publication. R. C. Hughes will be the new advertising manager.

The Nunn-Warren company's group of newspapers consists of six dailies and eleven weeklies. The daily papers are located at Roswell, Carlsbad, and Clovis, New Mexico, and at Pampa, Borger, and Childress, Texas. The weeklies are all issued from various points in the Texas Panhandle.

The Nunn-Warren group originated in 1926 with the purchase of the Panhandle, Texas, Herald, a weekly newspaper and has steadily grown since that time to its present proportions.

J. Lindsay Nunn is president of the company. Dr. J. E. Nunn, vice-president, both of Amarillo; and David M. Warren of Pampa, is secretary-treasurer and general manager of the properties.

Judge Cary Goes to Veterans Hospital

If plans don't fall through, Justice of Peace C. E. Cary will walk on two legs when he comes home from Okmulgee, Okla., next week. Although one will be wooden.

He left Pampa last Wednesday for the Veterans hospital in that city to have a leg adjusted to the knee to his right leg. It was necessary to amputate the lower limb two years ago when he was accidentally shot with a gun. He spent two months in the hospital last fall when the leg was amputated to just above the knee.

Negro Prisoner, Falls Off Bunk; Fractures Skull

Jim Ferguson fell off the bed and broke his collar-bone, but J. E. Anthony, negro prisoner in the county jail, fell off his bed Saturday morning about 5 o'clock and fractured his skull.

The negro's bed on top of the cells was about six feet from the cement floor. He chose to sleep at the elevated position rather than in the bunks.

His head crashed against an aluminum bucket when he fell and crushed it flat. The negro was unconscious about two hours before a physician arrived, although several were summoned. The county physician, Dr. V. E. Von Brunow was ill Friday and Saturday. Anthony was taken to Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon where his condition is said to be serious.

Anthony was incarcerated about two weeks ago with four other negroes, all members of an orchestra from Shamrock. Charges of vagrancy and intoxication were filed against them. They were unable to pay their fines and Justice Cary ordered them back to jail. When arrested they were playing their instruments under a street lamp in South Pampa. Their instruments are being held at the sheriff's office.

City Hall Brick to Be Light Grey

Light grey was chosen as the color of the brick for the new city hall at a meeting of the city commissioners yesterday.

The face of the brick will be wire-cut with a slightly rough finish. The conventional leaf pattern face was not favored by the commissioners. The brick is a very individual and vital tint of grey and harmonized with the face-pattern.

At a distance, the building will give the appearance of a light, glowing marble. The commissioners were unanimous in favoring a light instead of a dark brick.

Definite plans for the building have not been accepted yet, although Architect W. R. Kaufman expects to have a sketch ready next week which he believes will please the board.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coffee and son, Wayne, spent yesterday in Amarillo.

her car back and forth over it, beating it into an almost unidentifiable condition. Shreds of clothing scattered along the road, as well as the wheel tracks themselves, told the story of considered brutality.

Dr. and Mrs. Moormeister were married here two years ago.

Sentenced for Theft

A 15-day sentence in the county jail was given Roy Moseley by Judge Ivy E. Duncan in county court Friday on a charge of stealing a fountain pen from a local drug store. A fine of $38 was also assessed against him. He paid $10 of the fine. Unless he is able to pay the remaining $28 he will be compelled to remain in jail 43 days before he is released.

L. R. West is seriously ill of pneumonia in Pampa hospital.

Mrs. Grace Higgins left last night on a business trip to Oklahoma City. She planned to return Tuesday morning.
