

ABOUT FOLKS

BY SLIM

Tom Dowell, one of the most picturesque successful oil men of the industry, has returned from an interesting mid-winter vacation of three weeks in Florida and Havana, Cuba. In his room at the Schneider hotel yesterday, he looked out on the snow-covered roofs of Pampa and shivered as he wished he was "in Havana right now," but said he was glad to be back playing the oil game again. Mr. Dowell made the trip to Havana from Miami by airplane, flying to the Cuban capital in a little over two hours. It's fine to fly over the Gulf—the bluest thing in the world.

The progress of the "Noble Experiment" can be observed best in Havana, Mr. Dowell says. Day in and day out before the hundreds of bars in that colorful city, thousands of vote-dry-drunkwet Americans down tens of thousands of drinks the while they toast Mr. Volstead, Andy Mellon, Bishop Cannon, Pussyfoot Johnson and the 18th amendment. Mr. Dowell reports. Most of the famed metropolitan bartenders of the U. S. trekked to Havana when the 18th amendment went into effect 10 years ago yesterday, we learn. There they serve cocktails and champagne with suavity and gusto to their old customers throughout the balmy winter days.

Havana is literally "working" with Americans at this time of the year, Mr. Dowell says. The Tropical Gardens, a beautiful suburban park where a Havana brewery furnishes beer free, is simply "lousy" with the native children of Uncle Sam. But excluding alcoholic drinks as an attraction, Mr. Dowell says that Havana boasts the Prado, the most famous and gay promenade in the world, an opera that ranks with New York's Metropolitan, and secluded tile-lined patios that exude romance and beauty. He mentions that the garbans and orchids of Havana are reasons enough to go there—at least once.

And speaking of weather, Floyd Shaw III who is now visiting in California, the alleged Land of the Sun, sends word back to his father Floyd Shaw, Jr., that he just ran into more snow when he left the Panhandle. A clipping from a California newspaper says that Ventura, the birthplace of Shaw pere and Shaw fils, and southern California were blanketed with the heaviest mantle of snow in a decade. Pioneer residents were consistently telling the Iowans and other visitors that "the weather is very unusual!" They were wrangling among each other over the report that it was the heaviest snow since the early nineties.

Grandma Sugarmonkey of the Salt Creek community says the ridiculous thing about these modern pioneer talking pictures is the kids who say "sure" instead of "yes mam" like they used to when men were cowboys and cows were longhorns. "Any 10-year-old yearling that would uv sed 'sure' to me would uv got stropped, lemme tell you," she piped.

"CENTRALS" INJURED
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Two telephone operators were slightly injured today when an antenna mast being removed from the roof of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company fell and dislodged a portion of the ceiling on the seventh floor, plaster showering on operators who were working below.

Russell Smith of Amarillo was here last evening.

Coolidge Will Write History of Nation in Stone

KEYSTONE, S. D., Jan. 17. (AP)—Upon the face of the imperishable granite of the Black Hills, Calvin Coolidge will chronicle in letters of stone the history of the nation.

The Mt. Rushmore National Memorial association has announced Mr. Coolidge's acceptance of its invitation to provide the historical data to be cut in five-inch letters, beside the rock-relief figures of four other presidents—Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, and Roosevelt.

The life of the country from the date of the declaration of independence until the present will be related in 500 words or less, and the inscriptions may be read miles away. The history will be embossed upon a tablet 120 feet in width and 80 feet high. Should expectations of the sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, be met, the figures of Washington and Jefferson will be ready for formal unveiling July 4.

Rev. Todd Is To Preach in LeFors

The Rev. James Todd of this city will deliver two sermons at union services in LeFors on Sunday, speaking at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 in the evening.

Mr. Todd occupies the pulpit at the union services in the neighboring town on the third Sunday of each month, when the First Christian church is in charge. The Methodist church supplies the minister for two other services of the month, and the Baptist church supplies the minister for the other.

Prohibition is Subject Today at Detroit Meeting

DETROIT, Jan. 17. (AP)—Prohibition was viewed from a variety of angles in addresses prepared for delivery at today's sessions of the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League.

Two officials of the prohibition bureau were numbered among the speakers. They were Commissioners James M. Doran and James J. Britt, attorney for the bureau.

Dr. Doran said he regards it as incontrovertible that progress has been made and profit gained through past errors in enforcement of the dry law. His forecast was inspiring to all officers and citizens.

"This organization can do no better work than to devote its efforts to building and strengthening sentiment, starting with the smallest community unit and going up," was the commissioner's suggestion to the league.

Approval of the stand of Admiral Billard of the Coast Guard as expressed in his remark, "we mean business," was given in a talk before the convention last night by Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Detroit, president of the organization.

The Methodist prelate, however, gave emphasis to the educational program of the league, especially as it seeks to develop public sentiment against the law violator. He said he doubted the wisdom of legislation to make the buyer of liquor equally liable with the seller, believing the buyer's guilt should be in the attitude of the public mind.

It happens in the best families

SUNSHINE poured in through the window. A fat sparrow twittered on the sill. It was a beautiful morning. Norma hummed happily.

Suddenly her husband barked. "Why in the world can't you make good coffee?"

Then he followed it up with the comparison that every bride dreads.

"My mother never made miserable stuff like this!"

Norma tried to fight back her tears, but failed.

"I make it just the way your mother taught me," she sobbed. "She showed me how to make all your favorite dishes. We never told you."

Gene was sorry. He put both arms about her and kissed away her tears.

"You haven't made any changes at all?" he questioned, puzzled.

"No," Norma told him. "Not one . . . that is, yes; one little one. I've been using a different brand. One of the neighbors said . . ."

"You go back to White Swan Coffee," her husband exclaimed with mock severity. "Darling, there is no better."

So, Norma went back to White Swan and now everything is serene again.

Senate Drys Are Ready for Vote on Liquor Amendment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (P)—Surreptitiously confident, congressional drys today snatched up the challenge of Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and passed the word they were ready for a vote.

Senator Borah of Idaho, a dry champion, said he welcomed the direct issue on the Eighteenth amendment and "I am ready to vote."

"I think it might be well to have congress go on record, and make it clear that this amendment is there to stay," he asserted.

Senator Blaine's resolution is before the judiciary committee, and Chairman Norris of that committee said he was ready to give it consideration at the next meeting Monday. He said he expected an adverse report, but thought it would do no harm.

"That is the courageous way to go about this question," commented Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, another dry leader.

"After all, that is the only issue. I have no objection to meeting it, and I have not the slightest doubt of the outcome."

The Blaine repealer did not get before the senate for discussion, but the drys were speaking freely of the floor.

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, co-author of the Eighteenth amendment, predicted the repealer "will never pass either house of congress."

"Nothing so represents the hopelessness of the wet cause," said the Texan in a statement, "as the prospect in congress for this amendment. It represents the only way in which prohibition can be repealed, and congress is so overwhelmingly against it it has no chance of passing either house.

Night football in many sections of the country has come to stay, for good and sufficient reasons, the foremost of which is that it is good business. This may be something of a shock to those credulous souls who still believe that the big college game should be directed toward less commercialistic ground, yet so long as the athletic plants and operations are to survive they must have the funds derivd from the gridiron.

Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, will play all its home games at night next fall after experimenting successfully with play under the arc lights last season. Drake also will play Oregon at night in Chicago this year.

"It all seems so simple now that the wonder is we did not try it before," remarked E. C. Lytton, Drake's business manager. "First, night football is just as logical an arrangement as night basketball or night boxing or evening performances in any other sport. Second, it permits thousands who work Saturday afternoons to see and enjoy the games. Thus, we please those interested besides attracting bigger crowds and, consequently, larger gate receipts."

"At Drake we doubled the attendance I am told that Marquette, at Milwaukee, increased home-game attendance 400 per cent by playing at night. "From the players' as well as the spectators' angle, the game and the ball is just as easy to follow under artificial light as it is in daylight. We had one of the greatest punters in the country last season in Nesbitt and at no time was he able to kick the ball outside the zone of light."

The East seems likely to follow the lead of the South and Middle West in conducting more games at night. Syracuse University tried the scheme with success last fall. Georgetown contemplates the departure next season. Several of the smaller colleges played night games at Pittsburgh last year.

In spite of the difficulties Florida horse racing has been experiencing, due to the anti-betting laws, Miami seems assured an uninterrupted stretch of thoroughbred sport when Hialeah throws open its gates Jan. 16. The backing of a wealthy group of New York and Philadelphia sportsmen, headed by Joseph E. Widener, indicates that turfmen are pretty sure of their ground. An injunction last winter failed to check the sport at the famous East Coast resort and legal interference is not considered likely to materialize again.

Tradition still favors New Orleans as the Southern racing ground but Miami has bid successfully for a good share of the patronage from wealthy turfmen as well as the rank and file of the sport's followers.

Mesquite Agua Caliente, just over the Mexican border from California, takes rank as the third winter turf resort of prominence. It features the outstanding event of the season in the Agua Caliente Handicap, with $100,000 added and an approximate gross value of $140,000, to be run March 23 as the successor to the famous Coffroth Handicap. The books for this mile and 2 quarter classic have closed with 78 entries, including Display, the great Eastern cup horse; Nalshapur, Golden Prince and Crystal Pennant.

From this long range spot, the most interesting feature in the review of the University of California's fine athletic record for 1929 is that the Golden Bears have an ice hockey team. We might have been prepared for it by the strenuous battle the Golden State made for the 1932 winter Olympics, which finally were awarded to Lake Placid.

When the enthusiast thinks of California, he pictures brawny football teams, all conquering track squads or husky crews, yet the ice game was played by the Golden Bears for the first time last year. It gained favor rapidly and the first outdoor hockey meet was held in Yosemite Valley with Southern California and the Olympic club also among the competitors.

Believe it or not, but "Sharkey is through knocking down every unsuitable opponent that Madison Square Garden digs up for him."

So bellowed Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, at the height of an oration delivered in an attempt to justify the Boston heavyweight's refusal to fight Tuffy Griffiths in the star heavy weight engagement of the winter at Miami.

This observation post holds no brief for Griffiths or for the Garden but it seems that if better ways are to be found to lower Sharkey's prestige, Buckley will find them.

Sharkey himself might dust the resin with his trunks.

Perhaps Sharkey is critical of the Garden's persistency in picking opponents who decline to be bounced up and down.

The new fumble rule, which seems destined to stay in the football rules for 1930, nevertheless is far from satisfactory to many old-timers. Arthur M. Beale, a Harvard star in the 90's (playing four years at quarterback) focuses attention on these two points:

"(1) The present fumble rule is arbitrary and not logical. There is no reason why the defense may not run with a recovered fumble. The ball has always been capable of being carried by offense and defense. That is the original fundamental play in Rugby. "Why rule that the offense may recover their own fumbles and rush again and at the same time prevent the defense from doing the same thing while the ball is alive? There is absolutely no reason except that the Rules Committee are hard put to it to do something. American Rugby and its troubles and defects are the result of treating symptoms."

"(2) The rule is bad from a sporting standpoint. In the blind mass game, fumbles are often caused by temporary nerve paralysis, loss of wind, or consciousness. It is not in the least a sporting proposition to take a ball away from an unconscious opponent, yet the slogan since 1880 has been 'tackle low and throw hard' with the purpose (among others) of producing a fumble."

Quit a few coaches, among them Howard Jones of Southern California, feel that the present fumble rule is inconsistent in allowing the offensive side to advance a fumbled ball while not giving the defensive side this privilege, which it formerly enjoyed. But the Rules Committee's contention is that the offensive side suffers enough penalty, in either case.

Eielson Search to Be Resumed Soon

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 17. (P)—A forecast of favorable flying conditions and an unverified report that Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, missing aviators, were safe in the Anguema river district of Siberia, encouraged pilots of the Eielson-Borland rescue expedition here today.

Sister Cities on Border Jubilant As Business Resumed

LAREDO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Laredo and its sister city across the Rio Grande were the scenes of hustle and bustle today, as business men and government officials contemplated the release of the floodgates of commerce closed a month ago by the Mexican government.

Citizens of the two Laredos were jubilant that the paralysis which had spread over the business life of the communities since closing of the Mexican consulate was ended. Reopening of the consulate was set for 9 o'clock, and a full staff of officials and employees was on hand to care for the unprecedented business which had accumulated during the period of idleness.

Many carloads of commodities for export were entering Laredo, or were on route here, after lifting of the embargo railroad lines had declared against the city; beyond the river, officials of the Mexican national railways completed arrangements for quick movement of the 150 or more carloads of freight on hand as soon as they could be cleared through the customs house. Special trains were pressed into service to speed the goods to their destinations in Mexico.

American business men, however, were not the only ones rejoicing over termination of the controversy. In Nuevo Laredo, thousands eagerly anticipated trips to Laredo to make purchases of things they now could bring back into Mexico with them, a privilege denied them since Dec. 18.

So elated were some of the Laredo business men that they gave parties for their friends last night on the nether side of the river, preparatory to getting down to business today and the restoration of old-time business relations between the two countries. The dispute between this port and the Mexican government was precipitated by the threat of John A. Walls, district attorney, to arrest ex-President Elias F. Calles of Mexico on an indictment charging complicity in the murder of General Lucio Blanco and another Mexican officer. Bodies of the officers were recovered from the Rio Grande in 1922. Apparently they had been shot while handcuffed together and tossed into the stream. General Calles passed through Laredo on his way to Mexico from New York in mid-December, but Walls did not arrest the Mexican officer after the state department had granted him diplomatic immunity and announced it would protect him from molestation by force of arms if necessary.

Darst Creek Has Over 80 Derricks

SEGUIN, Jan. 17. (AP)—Potential production of the 18 producing wells in the Darst Creek field east of here is reported to be 18,000 barrels. More than 80 derricks have been erected in the area. At least 8 new wells are expected in within the next few days, oil men say.

With the boom has come Gusher, one of three towns staked out when "Texas Gold" leaped high over derrick tops. Oil Pool another town is on the highway near the Humble tank farm and Darst is situated on the banks of the Darst Creek.

Gusher with its water works and two 30-room hotels nearing completion and numerous store buildings is said to be experiencing the biggest building boom. Four pipe lines are drinking down the daily flow of virgin wealth from wells already producing.

To prevent lawlessness experienced by other Texas towns in boom days special deputies are patrolling the area.

Bumblebee, a cat, is to receive $3.50 a week under the will of Miss Alice Judge of Bogota, N. J.

Aged Legislator Expects to Retire

HOUSTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Representative Walter Acker, 85, perhaps the last veteran of the war between the states who will sit in the Texas legislature, is going to Austin for the special session convening Jan. 20 believing he says, that after this time he will never cast a vote there again. He is determined, he declares, to fulfill his "contract with the people of Harris county" by opposing any effort to change the Confederate pension law he sponsored.

Then, unless there should be another extraordinary session, the aged representative expects to retire after almost half a century in public life in various posts. A wound in the knee, received in the battle of Decatur, Ga., has been troubling him recently. "It seems," he said cheerfully, "as if paralysis is trying to get my leg."

In 1874 Mr. Acker was sheriff of Jasper county, Miss. After coming to Texas he was district attorney of the seventeenth district and once was mayor of Lampasas.

Forty-seven years ago his voice was heard as chairman of the house judiciary committee. He also served in the nineteenth, the thirty-ninth and fortieth sessions to the legislature. At one time he was on the state appellate bench.

NEW PIPE LINE LAID

BIG SPRING, Jan. 17. (AP)—The western extension area will be served by the Shell Pipe Line company, one of the major purchasers of Howard and Glasscock counties' crude oil by the extension of their gathering line, from the western edge of the Settles pool to Shell Petroleum corporation's production section, a distance of three miles. Construction of the six inch line to the western extension field will more than double the buying capacity from that pool.

JAPAN SYMPATHETIC IN REGARD TO BATTLESHIPS

TOKYO, Jan. 17. (AP)—An official spokesman for the Japanese foreign office today said that while Japanese opinion in general hardly was ready to accept Prime Minister MacDonald's idea of eventual abolition of battleships, it was arousing sympathetic response in a wide influential circle.

He said Japan was agreeable to an extension of the holiday on construction of capital ships to 1936 and "if within that period American and British opinion approved the abolition of the ships the Japanese people probably would be ready to follow their lead."

UNBALANCED MIND IS PLEA IN ASSAULT CASE

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 17. (AP)—The state rested today in the case of Russell C. Arnold, 33, on trial on a charge of attacking Dorothy Camp, 14-year-old girl, and holding her prisoner in an underground chamber beneath his garage.

Arnold brushed tears from his eyes as his attorney made an opening statement to the jury. The lawyer, Irving Withings, Jr., former minister, said evidence would show Arnold suffered many years from illness that caused his mind to be unbalanced.

BIG ARMY TO TAKE CENSUS IN UNITED STATES

DALLAS, Jan. 17. (AP)—On the morning of April 2 more than 100,000 men and women, sworn and commissioned by the federal government, will start out on the task of taking the fifteenth decennial census of the United States. The work must be completed in two weeks in cities, within 30 days in rural districts.

The enumerators will canvass each house to collect the record of information required regarding each family, each individual and each farm in the United States. They will work under the immediate direction of 574 supervisors. Each supervisor will have under his charge an average of about 175 enumerators. But in some cases the number will range from not more than 30 in sparsely settled sections to as many as 450 in large cities.

The original purpose of the census was simply to ascertain the population of the several states as a basis for apportionment of representatives. But it extends far beyond this original requirement, and includes unemployment, agriculture, irrigation, drainage, manufactures, mining and distribution.

Statistics of agriculture, manufactures and mining have been collected since 1840 in every decennial census; a census of manufactures is now taken every two years and a census of agriculture every five years. Irrigation was added to the list of inquiries in 1890 and drainage was first covered in 1920.

Distribution is a new subject, included for the first time in the 1930 census. It is described briefly as a census of trade, to obtain statistics of goods sold by merchants and dealers, wholesale and retail, and of the number of persons employed in trade.

RADIO IN TWO NATIONS

MCALLEN, Jan. 17. (AP)—McAllen will have access to the largest radio broadcasting station in Mexico upon completion of a 5,000 watt station at Reynosa, Mexico, now under construction. A remote control studio for the station will be located on this side of the Rio Grande.

The new station, it is said, will be the first to operate in two nations. Completion is expected in 60 days.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK

NEW YORK—Hardly had the impoverished Provincetown Playhouse sadly released its hold on the torch of the experimental theater movement before a curious new theater-cabaret hybrid came to New York.

The latter is the Candlelight club on East Sixtieth street. The location is important.

On one side, just a few doors off Fifth Avenue where Central Park begins, is the fashionable supper club, smart in the gold-encrusted, black chinaware manner, where Rudy Vallee does his nightly crooning.

On the other side is an exclusive hotel residence peopled by sophisticates such, for example, as P. G. Wodehouse. It is safe, then, to assume that the Candlelight is modern, smartly sophisticated and perhaps a little high-hat. Preliminary investigation, at least, indicates as much.

The formal name of its entertainment is comedietta, an Italian word which, it was said at No. 12, "can mean almost anything." Here it means sophisticated sketches of three to five minutes, not unlike the black-outs of Broadway revues.

EAT, SEE AND DANCE

The club, to catch the after-theater crowd, opens at 11 o'clock for an hour of dancing. Then about midnight, the curtains that mask a stage are lifted and the first sketches are presented. Meanwhile supper is being served. Later there is more dancing and more sketches. The cover charge is $4.

The idea comes from Europe particularly that seat of sophisticated amusement, Vienna. The producers include Gertrude Cohan, daughter of George M.; Roy D'Arcy, the quondam movie actor; Marion Leffing, a Berlin girl, and a young Frenchman named Armand Kaliz.

For material they are calling upon such celebrities as Austin Strong, who wrote "Seventh Heaven"; Leslie Howard, the drawing room actor; Ferenc Molnar, the monocled Viennese; Sacha Guitry, the Parisian boulevardier, and Arthur Schnitzler.

Unconventional wit and gaiety is the aim of this new venture in the intimacy of a cabaret room that rivals, in its modern decors of mirrors, gold and black paint and crystal chandeliers, descriptions of the old French ballroom theaters, first established by Richelieu in 1641.

EXPERIMENTERS SCATTERED

The demise of the Provincetown Playhouse, removed here 13 years ago from the wharf of the Massachusetts city for which it was named, is further evidence of Broadway's withering reception of the drama's more tender upshoots.

The costly commercial air froze it out as it did the Grand Street Follies, when that bit of fresh effort moved uptown.

But the Provincetown folk leave a noteworthy record from their unpretentious Greenwich Village days. They brought out Eugene O'Neill, Louis Wolheim, Walter Huston, Charles Gilpin, and Jules Bledsoe, to name the better known just as the Grand Street group produced Albert Carroll, the imitator extraordinary now teamed with Fred Keating, the magician.

With those two organizations gone the way of the Neighborhood Playhouse and the Actors' theater, the future of the experimental theater in Manhattan is indeed uncertain.

Oklahoma Oil Cut

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, thru its subsidiary the Carter Oil company, has made price reductions ranging from 19 cents to 41 cents a barrel, depending on gravity, on crude oil in Oklahoma and Kansas. The minimum price under the new schedule is 66 cents a barrel for crude oil of 25.9 degrees, a reduction of 19 cents. The maximum price for 44 gravity and above is $1.44 a barrel, a reduction of 41 cents.

Would Fill Asylums

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17. (AP)—If all narcotic addicts were to plead insane the state asylums soon would be crowded with patients of that character, Judge Du Val West has ruled in federal court here.

He denied the insanity plea of Milton Applewhite, who sought to escape a sentence to Leavenworth prison by such a plea. The defendant pleaded guilty to charge of sale and possession of morphine, and was given a two year sentence.

WILL HAVE AMENDMENT

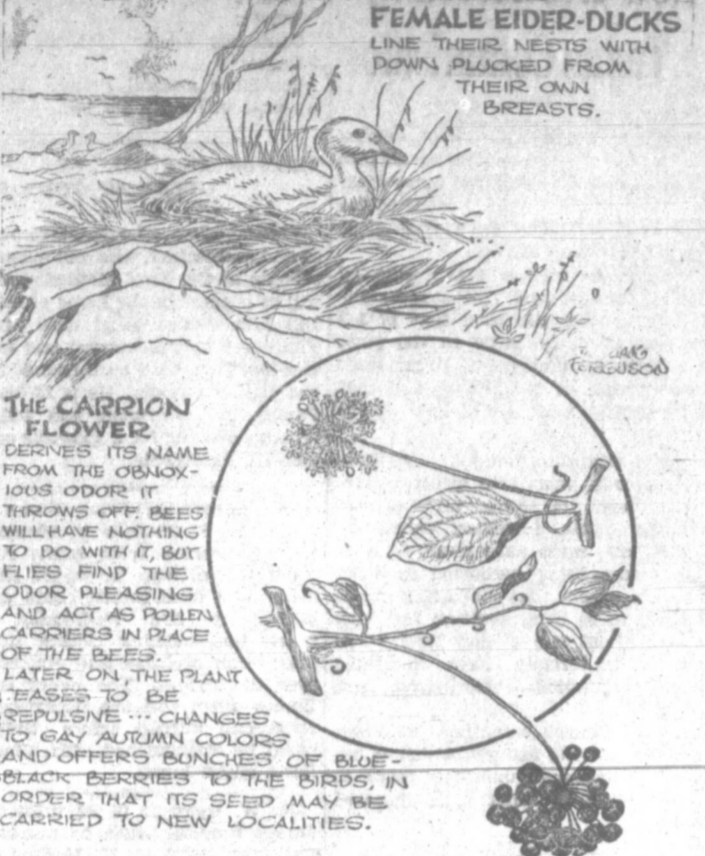

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Chairman Shoop of the senate finance committee served notice in the senate today that he would propose an amendment to the tariff bill calling for an increase in the duty on Cuban sugar from 1.76 to 2 cents a pound.

"The Miracle" Has Had Bad Season and Heavy Losses

DALLAS, Jan. 17. (AP)—Morris Gest's "The Miracle," familiar to theatergoers in Europe and the United States since 1911, came to a rather inglorious end of the season here Jan. 11. It was an apparently lackadaisical public that saw the pageant this season. Deficits on presentations in three cities, at least, were reported, and Gest himself said "this has been a tough season and I lost about $200,000 on the road."

St. Paul and Minneapolis appearances of "The Miracle" were reported to have put Gest "in the red" approximately $100,000 and Milton Stiefel, company manager, estimated the ten days in Dallas showed a deficit of approximately $20,000, despite gross receipts of more than $75,000.

Not only did the pageant run into financial difficulties here, but there was dissatisfaction among some 300 actors and actresses who stormed the box office the last night and demanded back pay. Two squads of police were called to disperse the crowd.

Two days after the finale, a St. Paul firm filed suit to attach properties and equipment of "The Miracle," alleging that Gest had failed to meet obligations in that city. A St. Louis firm had previously filed a similar suit.

The huge cathedral setting for the pageant and all accessories, said to be the most grandiose ever put on the road, were stored in the Fair Park auditorium, scene of the Dallas presentations.

Members of the cast have scattered to many sections of the country. Many were paid in full and proceeded to New York while a handful of others went to Hollywood to try their hand at talking pictures.

With New Orleans, Omaha, San Antonio, Atlanta and Indianapolis booked already for the 1930-31 season, the play's financial success seems assured. Dallas is the smallest city in which "The Miracle" has ever played," Stiefel said.

Beginning with the 1911 presentation in London, the pageant has given thousands of persons a story of a nun who went out into the world and then returned to her convent. The dramatization has carried with it a setting appropriate to olden times and members of its cast have devoted their lives to its success.

Right of Wives to Live Apart Is Upheld in Court

RANDALL COUNTY WHEAT CROP TO BE VERY LARGE

CANYON, Jan. 17. (Special)—Randall county bids fair to produce its full part of Texas' 3,000,000-acre winter wheat crop for 1930. In this county there are approximately 250,000 acres in cultivation; of this acreage nearly 100,000 acres are in winter wheat.

Land in cultivation in this county has increased 50 per cent in a four-year period, according to estimates worked out by county agent, W. H. Upchurch.

Most of the farmers in Randall county do all of their wheat farming with tractors and other power machinery. At least 50 per cent of the wheat farms are cultivated by tenant farmers. The machinery is sometimes owned by the tenant and sometimes by the landlord, sometimes jointly.

With light snowfalls all through this winter, and with the recent fall of eight inches, Randall county wheat is in the best possible condition.

Water Company Is Sued Because of Typhoid Epidemic

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. (AP)—A typhoid fever epidemic which raged in Richland Springs last fall today resulted in the filing of a $200,000 damage suit against the Texas-Louisiana Power company by 32 residents of the San Saba community.

The suit was filed in the federal court and is one of the largest civil actions ever brought in an Austin court. The plaintiffs allege the company which furnished water for the community allowed its supply to become contaminated with disease germs.

Prisoners' Plot at Farm Halted

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 17. (AP)—Frustration of a carefully planned prison break at the Wynne state prison farm today had resulted in a hunger strike among several score prisoners.

The planned delivery was discovered by Dave Wright, who recently took charge at the farm. Told of an attempt about three months ago, in which a long tunnel was dug with its ultimate terminal an oat field past the high farm fence, Wright's first official duty was to inspect this tunnel.

When discovered, officials had ordered blocks of cement poured into it at several points along its length. Wright discovered the prisoners had resumed their tunneling along the old route, detouring when they came to one of the cement blocks, and had reached a point just short of the projected end of the passage.

He immediately ordered a search of every prisoner, and a motley array of knives, shovels, daggers and digging implements of every kind were brought to light. The strike followed when several prisoners declared they would refuse to eat unless their knives were returned.

BLIZZARD—

(Continued from page 1.) An inch of snow, and the temperature stood just below 15 degrees. Some snow, with more moderate mercury readings, was reported from Fort Worth, and precipitation threatened Dallas.

For the third time this winter West Central Texas was blanketed with a three-inch fall it was said in Georgetown. In East Texas, the snow started falling at 10:30 o'clock with temperatures at Marshall around freezing. Nacogdoches and Corsicana reported continuing falls.

A drizzling rain accompanied freezing weather at San Antonio in South Texas, and on the coast the mercury stood just at the freezing mark.

Marking the continuation of the longest sustained cold spell in that cattle country for more than a decade, the mercury at Midland today dropped from 11 to 6 above, and was still falling. Highway traffic was hampered by the snow, blown by the wind.

At Lubbock the mercury stood at 1 above, and flurries of snow fell. A light snow was falling at Sherman, and a heavier fall was reported from Longview.

Mrs. Charles Duenkel underwent a tonsilectomy at Pampa hospital yesterday. She is progressing satisfactorily at her home.

Livestock Men Are Optimistic in Denver Sessions

DENVER, Jan. 17. (AP)—Inspired by optimistic phases expressing market improvement in the conditions of the livestock industry, 500 delegates to the third annual convention of the American National Livestock association today continued their program of speech making and discussion.

Livestock men, at their second session today, had before them expressions of faith in the future of the industry and were generally cheered by forecasts of material assistance from the federal farm board.

Three branches of the industry were represented at the gathering by cattlemen, sheepmen, and hog raisers. They were assured by federal officials, producers and packers at their opening meeting that scientific marketing and greater protection for the American stock man against Mexican and Canadian competition would aid in the growing prosperity of the industry.

Convention leaders expected today's meeting to be filled with important discussions on livestock marketing and production. On the program today was Joseph M. Dixon of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the interior, who was to answer the question, "what shall we do with public lands?" Another speaker was J. S. Fyeatt, president of the Denver & Rio Grande Western railway, to speak on "Transportation and Livestock."

Co-Defendant in Murder Trial Says Testimony False

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 17. (AP)—Judge Joseph A. Corio of Atlantic City took the witness stand today in the trial of Gladys May Parks, charged with the murder of two children, and denied the defendant's statement he had slain one of the children.

Miss Parks in a statement read in court yesterday said Corio came to her Camden home, saw Timothy Rogers, 2 years old, who was in her care, and became so angry he choked the child and then held his head under a faucet of running water. In other statements Miss Parks said the child had died of an accidental fall down stairs.

The child and Dorothy Rogers, four-year-old sister, were the children of Alan A. Rogers of Woodbury. Miss Parks is charged with murder in the first degree in connection with their death. Dorothy, Miss Parks has said died after she had whipped her.

Judge Corio, questioned by Prosecutor Baldwin, said he knew the defendant, but he had not seen her since the latter part of 1926. The boy died last August 22.

He declined to reveal what the audit had disclosed.

Cattle Shipping Now Restricted by Texas Commission

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17. (AP)—Shipment of dairy and breeding cattle into Texas was under restriction today after discovery that many dairy cattle in the state were afflicted with contagious abortion, or bang disease.

Tests made over a year's time by veterinarians of the live stock sanitary commission disclosed that 17 1-2 per cent of dairy cattle in the state were infected, that not a single large herd was free of the disease, and that dairy profits were being lessened as a result.

The quarantine, ordered by Governor Moody, went into effect yesterday. Under its terms, all dairy or breeding cattle, including calves six months old, must pass blood tests 21 days before being permitted to enter the state, except that cattle from herds certified to be bang abortion free may enter without the 21-day tests. Ten other states already have instituted similar regulations, veterinarians here asserted.

So far as known here, there is no certain cure for the malady, which is believed to transmit undulant fever to those who drink milk from diseased animals.

Oil Outlook Is Seen as Favorable By Texas Observer

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (Special)—Despite the fact that production of crude petroleum in Texas is considerably above output at this time last year, the outlook for the industry is a little more favorable, according to Beverly Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

"While production is still excessive—around 850,000 barrels daily—the trend has been downward since last August, when daily flow averaged 905,000 barrels," Mr. Nichols said. "Moreover, production in other leading states has been curtailed so that output has been brought more nearly in line with consumption. Field development also has been reduced in recent months.

"In the year just passed, many new fields have been discovered and old ones extended, indicating that potential supplies of oil are sufficient for some time to come. As a result, the petroleum industry is entering a period of stability, a situation which has been somewhat lacking in the past.

"Daily flow in Texas averaged 850,000 barrels during December, against 874,000 barrels in November, and 739,000 barrels in December 1928. During the month, 26,353,000 barrels were gathered, making a total of 370,010,000 barrels for the year. This compares with a total output of 259,279,000 barrels for the year 1928. The 301,010,000 barrels is by far the highest on record for the State. A similar trend has been in evidence for the entire United States, but recent curtailment measures over the entire country are likely to hold this year's flow to a smaller quantity.

"There were 576 new wells completed in December, which brings the total for the year to 7,677. In December, 1928, 569 wells were drilled, making a total of 6,744 completions in 1928. Of the 576 new wells completed in December, 299 were producers, where as there were 349 successful wells among the 569 completions in December, 1928. During the entire year, a total of 4,136 producers were brought in, compared to 3,744 in 1928.

"Prices for Texas crude were about unchanged in December. However, the price trend during the year was downward, and present quotations are considerably under those existing a year ago. Crude prices have been unusually steadily during the past few months. On the other hand, gasoline prices show further reductions. Cuts were put into effect during December which brings refinery prices to around 8 cents per gallon in some areas.

A SIMPLE STEP TOWARDS HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a Daily Essential and Millions Know Its Effectiveness in Relief of Constipation

Perhaps the one simple thing you are not doing to guarantee permanent health is having sufficient roughage in your food. Absence of this roughage is the direct cause of constipation which results in so many other ills—headaches, listlessness, general depression, indigestion and, sometimes, serious disease.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. It is positively guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or the purchase price will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily (in serious cases, with each meal) is the proper amount.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also helps you to health in other ways. It is rich in iron, practically all of which goes into the blood, bringing red, healthy color to the complexion. It helps prevent anemia. Be sure to include it in reducing diets.

Many eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with cream or milk added. It is a delicious addition to cereals, fruits and soups. In cooked foods, such as bran muffins, it is just as effective in the relief of constipation. Recommended by doctors. Ask your grocer for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

California Well Down 9,280 Feet

SIGNAL HILL, Cal., Jan. 16. (AP)—Man may never drill a hole entirely through the earth, but the Shell Oil company is making a good start with an oil well.

The well is Nesa No. 11, on the very crest of Signal Hill. It descends 9,280 feet.

Shell officials say that deepening of the well was more or less of an experiment to determine how far down oil may be discovered.

Drilling has been suspended temporarily, for the condition of the oil industry is such, Shell officials hold, that it is inadvisable to make any new discoveries which might result in increased production.

Some day Nesa No. 11 will be deepened. Drillers of the well found their greatest difficulty in shutting out water, which seriously interfered with the work.

So far the company has spent $200,000 deepening the hole. Deep holes do not go vertically, but zig zag on their downward course. The shaft of this well has never been surveyed, so the officials do not know just how much the hole wanders from the straight and narrow.

All the drilling has been done with rotary tools, rather than the old cushion system.

More than 500 cities and towns in Texas teach fire prevention in their schools.
